

FATE OF EGYPT AND SUEZ RESTS ON BATTLE AT MATRUH

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

A great showdown battle for Western Egypt was believed raging on the Matruh front as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized army, climbing a 100-mile advance in two days, rolled up to assault main British forces.

Matruh, 130 miles inside Egypt, is a key British railhead 160 miles west of Alexandria.

A bulletin from British imperial headquarters said the vanguard of the Axis invaders, advancing in three columns, had reached within 30 miles of Matruh last night.

At their lightning pace of advance, the invaders presumably were now engaging the main British army, which was said to be drawn up about 20 miles west of Matruh.

Other major developments saw the British hurl another huge-scale aerial assault of more than 1,000 bombers against Bremen in the Reich, while Russia's Red armies lost ground in the new Kharkov battle but held fast in the Suez Canal region.

In Washington, the mighty strides of America's war effort were highlighted by President Roosevelt's disclosure that in the single month of May the nation turned out nearly 4,000 planes and more than 1,500 tanks.

These quarters said Rommel could throw approximately 100,000 troops into the attack on the main British defense line before Matruh, with the outcome perhaps involving the fate of Egypt and the entire Middle East.

"If Egypt goes, our control of the Middle East, and our chances of aiding Persia go with it," a former British war cabinet minister declared gravely.

"Defeat in Egypt would open the way for Axis control of Africa, Europe and Asia through possession of the eastern hemisphere's main crossroads."

These quarters said Matruh reported a last-ditch stand by the British west of the Nile, with "practically nothing" in the way of fortifications between Matruh and Alexandria and Cairo.

Dispatches from Cairo said Gen. Rommel, battered on a swift knockout of the garrison and weary British eighth army was throwing into action every ounce of his striking power. This included the German 21st and 15th armored divisions, and a huge supporting mass of motorized infantry.

In addition, the Axis chief train was reported using newly captured British and United States-built tanks, hastily dashed with swastikas on their sides.

While the British declared their army was still a formidable battle force, bolstered by fresh troops since the disastrous retreat across the Libyan desert, dispatches indicated that British hopes of a victory were pinned largely on geographical advantages.

Cairo military quarters said the first 48 hours of fighting before Matruh would probably determine whether Rommel's long-drawn communication lines were equal to the strain. Gasoline and other supplies for the Axis mechanized forces must be hauled back across 200 miles of desert from Rommel's nearest base at Tobruk, and from Bengasi, another 260 miles farther west.

As the three-day-old battle of Egypt flamed to a crescendo, an RAF armada of "over 1,000" bombers thundered over Germany before dawn today to smash at Bremen, Hitler's second largest maritime center, and left great fires leaping against the skies.

AN RAF communique acknowledged 52 planes missing.

On the Soviet war front, the Russians conceded a dangerous German advance below Kharkov, in the Ukraine, but declared that Red army defenders still held stoutly in the 22-day-old battle of Sevastopol.

A bulletin from Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's headquarters said the Germans had captured Kuybyshev, 60 miles southeast of Kharkov, and added troops:

RAF Bombs Bremen In Largest Raid In History Of Aerial Warfare

War In Europe May Be In Decisive Phase

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Military experts, taking a grave view of the Allied situation in North Africa, said today that the war in Europe was entering a potentially decisive phase with Germany at the point of making her long-awaited all-out drive against Russia.

The next few days, one authority said, should show whether the great battle on the Russian front has in fact already begun in the operations at Kharkov and Sevastopol or whether those were preliminary actions-in-force for the main campaign which would then certainly be undertaken by the Germans with little delay.

Germany, it was generally believed here, would try for a series of successes so smashing that by next fall or winter she would be able to follow up with either an attempt at invading Britain or a negotiated peace with her foes in Europe.

The end result of either course, if successful, would be to deprive the United States and the remaining Allied Nations scattered over the earth of both invaluable allies and effective bases from which to strike back at the Axis in Europe in 1943.

Offsetting this black prospect, as the United Nations point of view: 1. The heroic record of resistance made by the Russians to date in

Rommel Drives 100 Miles Into Egypt

By EDWARD KENNEDY
CAIRO, June 26 (AP)—The main armored force of Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel had driven at least 100 miles into Egypt today to confront the British eighth army today with a challenge to decisive battle.

Latest word from the desert was that the Germans and Italians, advancing despite bitter resistance of British covering units, had not yet snuck into the principal British force, which is expected to make its stand somewhere before Matruh, 130 miles within Egypt.

Supported by mobile infantry, the Axis heavy armor is rumbling along a wide natural avenue about midway between the sea and a desert plateau 26 to 30 miles inland.

Smaller enemy forces were operating along the coast.

Further south, some were reported to have reached the western rim of the Qattara depression about 90 miles inside Egypt but were dealt with by British armored patrols.

There was scant reason to believe they would attempt to cross the depression, which is a vast stretch of soft sand below sea level.

While the swiftness of the Axis advance made it virtually certain that the main bodies of the two forces soon would be locked in decisive battle, United Nations sources said there was every reason to believe the enemy would be held.

Rommel, throwing everything he possesses into the advance, is operating on a shoestring fully as much

52 Of 1,000 Planes Fail To Return

RAF Loss Highest Ever Experienced In One Night

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—Great fires were set by the RAF last night, in the big German port city of Bremen, principal target of a devastating assault which probably was the largest in the history of aerial warfare.

Indications were that the number of planes participating exceeded the flights of 1,139 and 1,036 bombers which laid Cologne and Essen in ruins on May 30 and June 1.

An air colony communique told of one bomber force of more than 1,000; whose main target was Bremen and reported intensive attacks on air fields in the low countries by "a second force of bombers and fighters."

This force was believed to have been numbered in the hundreds. Fifty-two planes were missing, the highest one-night loss ever experienced by the RAF, but informed sources said this was less than 5 per cent of those involved.

(This would indicate that more than 1,940 planes were involved. The Germans, agreeing on the 52 figure, contended it represented 25 per cent of the attackers.)

In addition to the Bremen raid, hundreds of fighter planes and fighter-bombers were believed to have participated in intensive harass-

Yesterday's Rubber Drive Hits New High

From record high to record low, then from record low to record high, the scrap rubber campaign ran in Gray county today, with 15,518 pounds, daily high for the drive to date, reported by the Pampa Civilian Defense council.

This makes the total number of pounds collected 150,879, or 75 tons. Yesterday's report was 3,977 pounds collected, the record low; Wednesday's 11,534, which until today was the record high.

Wholesale oil dealers are admonished by the council office to keep closely in touch with their retailers, and to spur interest in the three contest awards.

There is still time to be eligible to receive the awards. Willard E. Dixon will give a $25 victory bond to the organization that brings in the most scrap rubber. Another $25 bond will go to the individual bringing in the greatest amount, and a third $25 victory bond to the scrap rubber turning in the most scrap pounds to a bulk station.

Today's total collection of 15,518 pounds will be supplemented by scrap rubber turned in by children up to the age of 14 in lieu of ad-

Owners Feel Sure Oilers Will Play Here July Fourth

With veterans organizations unable to secure fire works for a celebration of July display here, the big Fourth of July celebration will probably be at Lake McClellan where the McClellan Boat club will sponsor motor boat races, ski and surf board exhibitions, a casting contest, and a big dance.

The Pampa Oiler baseball team, under the original schedule, was to play a doubleheader here but following the withdrawal of Albuquerque and the Pirates the new schedule has not been released and it is not known whether Pampa will be home on the holiday or not.

Pampa Oilers, however, feel sure that the Oilers will be here, possibly with Clovis.

M. C. Johnson, chairman of the retail sales committee of the chamber of commerce, said today that general department stores and dry goods stores would close on July 4. He said he had not been notified whether grocery stores and other stores would close.

Boat races at the lake will begin at 3:30 o'clock. One hour later the casting contest will be held. Water ski and surf board exhibitions will close the water events. The dance will be at the recreation hall that night.

Veterans organizations will sponsor a dance the previous night at the Southern club.

Priority Clinic

Manufacturers of Pampa and vicinity who use affected by priorities attended a clinic this morning in the chamber of commerce board room, conducted by W. H. Bovee of the Dallas office of the War Production board.

Operators of supply businesses were scheduled to attend a meeting at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon while at 3:30 o'clock all retailers affected by priorities were to attend a meeting.

Mr. Bovee explained to the manufacturers the workings of the priority board, price and wartime regulations, methods of securing priority rating, and filing of necessary forms to secure equipment and merchandise.

Ship Comes Home Despite Torpedo Hole In Her Side

A GULF COAST PORT, June 26 (AP)—A sturdy American cargo vessel—with half her starboard side blown away by an Axis torpedo—has voyaged an incredible 12-day voyage home, the eighth naval district refitted today.

Even the officers were amazed at the craft's performance when they viewed the damage in a Gulf port drydock. However, the ship will sail again as soon as the gaping hole in her steel plates is repaired. The officers and men of her crew are ready to take her out.

Only two men were injured, netted in the Caribbean. The missile from an enemy submarine, which was not sighted, struck amidships on the starboard side.

Crewmen said they began navigating on a zig-zag course along a reef after being hit.

The ship, running empty, ducked into a little bay for emergency repairs just before daylight the next morning and then for 12 days and nights pushed across the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico, riding steadily despite the great hole in her side.

"When I saw that hole I was more scared than I was when the torpedo hit," said Second Mate N. Smuckler, with a wry grin. "I don't see how the old girl brought us home. I'm telling you, half the ship was gone. The hole extended right down to the keel and the keel was twisted."

3. Formal creation of an European theater of operations for the U. S. forces in Europe. While in itself this was purely an organizational move, it indicates the likelihood of early and powerful American action against Germany directly.

4. The fact that American and Allied production is reported to have outstripped the total production of the Axis powers in important weapons, especially warplanes. The problem of getting these supplies to the fighting fronts in sufficient quantities and in sufficient time despite German U-boats and bombers remains as one of the most imperative facing this country and Britain.

5. The fact that, except for her advances into the western Aleutians which are still strategically inconclusive, Japan has been thwarted in every recent attempt to crack the American-Australian position in the Pacific and has paid a costly price in ships and planes for her failures.

against advancing German Fascist troops.

Soviet reserves were reported racing up to combat the new German threat as it became apparent that Field Marshal Gen. Fedor Von Bock hoped to score a deep break-through in the Kopyansk sector to disrupt Soviet communications to the south and pave the way for a German drive against Kharkov, northern gateway to the Caucasus oil resources.

Hitler's field headquarters said German and Rumanian troops, executing a familiar "encirclement movement," had captured 21,827 Russians in the Kopyansk fighting, as well as 100 tanks, 250 guns and other booty.

Russia's heroic defense of Sevastopol, the Crimean key to a short-cut route into the Caucasus, won acknowledgment from the Nazi command, which again emphasized the "hard fighting" but asserted that Axis shock troops had captured several more fortified heights.

Monday's heavy rain is keeping most of the farmers out of their fields today but harvesting in general is expected to start tomorrow or Monday.

Wheat brought to Pampa elevators today was testing slightly under 60 or less than first loads received before the rain. Market price here was 92 cents.

The Peace That Is To Come

While we fight a war, we must also plan for the peace that is to come. When the last shot is fired, this nation will face problems as vast, as difficult and as vital to its survival as those posed by the war itself.

On the credit side, we will have a productive machine greater than that of all the rest of the world combined—a machine which will be unparalleled in efficiency as well as in size.

When the war ends we will have, on the one hand, a colossal bureaucracy built up during the war. We will have, on the other, the incredible resources and installed capacity developed by private enterprise.

When the war ends we will have, on the one hand, a colossal bureaucracy built up during the war. We will have, on the other, the incredible resources and installed capacity developed by private enterprise.

We cannot progress in the future with a philosophy of scarcity. We cannot progress and meet our obligations if super-government is perpetuated and competes with private enterprise in many lines of endeavor.

In a famous address, Vice-President Wallace said that the post-war era must be the era of the common man. And that can have only one meaning. It must be the era in which all men are not only permitted but encouraged to go as far and as fast as their abilities and energies can take them, undeterred by the dead hand of bureaucracy.

This country is the leader in producing for war. It must also be the leader in producing for peace. All over the world, hungry and destitute people, living in ruined lands, will want and need what our American factories can provide.

The problem of the debt is not simply a problem in economics. It is a problem in philosophy as well. If it is faced in the typical American manner, and all private capital is encouraged to go to work and create maximum production, it can be solved.

After this war, free enterprise in America will be in a position to make an unprecedented contribution to the well-being of our own people and the peoples of all lands. It will be in a position to raise the general standard of living to unprecedented heights.

Behind The News In Washington

If the speed and the number of wartime orders, regulations, schedules, amendments, interpretations and explanations rolling from the duplicating machines of Washington has seemed to you a bit overwhelming, the answer is yes, it is.

For without anyone's being particularly aware of it, a new law-making machine which is the equal of congress has been set up by the War Production Board and it is turning out—well, maybe not laws in the strictly Harvard sense of the word—but orders which are the equivalents of laws, and if you think they're not laws, Mister, just try getting funny with a few of them and see how fast they can put you in jail.

The average two-year term of congress, during the last couple of decades, has ground out from 500 to 1,000 laws per biennium. This is considered an "efficient" enough accomplishment by the average citizen, though it makes business good for the lawyer fraternity and frightens many otherwise normal parents into sending the progeny to law schools instead of exposing them to useful trades like bricklaying or truck driving.

and they figure out what they have to do. They call in representatives of the industry affected, and discuss it with them. No one is ever 100 per cent satisfied, but pretty soon a formula is worked out which causes the least inconvenience.

Then the WPB lawyers draft the order in good warlike style. When drafted, the order goes to a clearance committee of army, navy and WPB brass hats which sits four or five hours a day and okays or rejects. If okay, the order is published, and that's all there is to it. People meaning those inanimate things called corporations—who may get hurt by these orders can appeal back to WPB and maybe get relief. But there is no place where a people or a corporation can go and say, "Hey, you can't do this to me!"

The authority to issue these orders is all based on a law or an executive order which is based on a law, giving the WPB or any of its agencies the right to hand down these decrees.

NATURAL RIGHTS INDEPENDENT OF THE STATE As we see the state attempting more and more to abridge the natural rights of man there is nothing more important than that we come to understand who is the giver of man's natural rights.

"The essence of Americanism is the recognition of the sacredness of human personality, and the inherent inalienable rights which ever man possesses independent of the state. That is why, when our country began, our founders fathers were most anxious to find some basis of human rights, some guarantee of human personality which would be above encroachments of tyranny and abuse.

"They thought the foundation of man's rights and liberties so sacred and so unalienable that no state, no parliament, no dictator, no human power could ever take them away, the Declaration of Independence reads: 'All men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights,' and among these are 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' Note that the word used is 'unalienable,' that means that rights belong to the sacredness of human personality and are not the gift of the state or a dictator, either Nazi, Fascist or Communist.

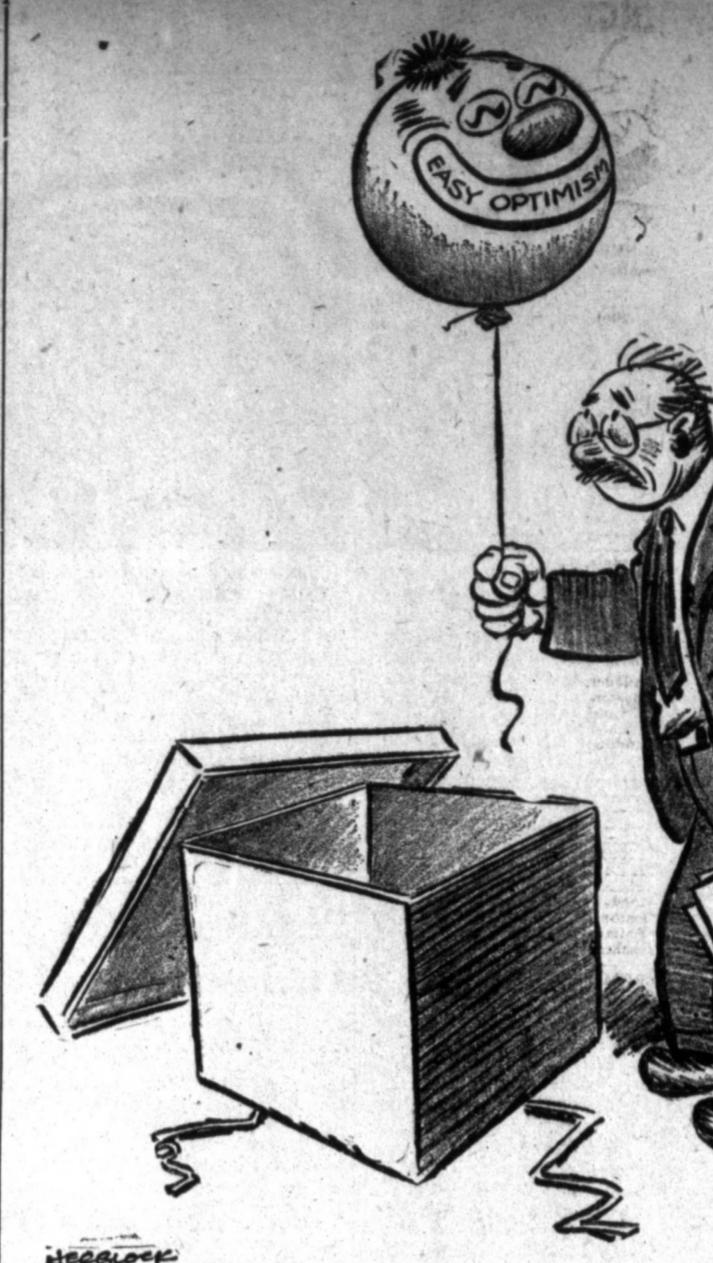

"There was, then, no question of ceding rights. Man had rights and liberties previous to any constitution, and because they are God-derived, and not man-derived, it follows that no state can ever take them away.

WHAT CAUSES, MR. WILLKIE? News dispatches quote Mr. Wendell Willkie as saying he doubts if he will ever aspire to public office again. That is good news. He is also quoted as saying that he is interested in "causes" and he will never miss an opportunity to declare himself "in favor of their preservation."

THE ONLY cause that Mr. Willkie has ever demonstrated that he was interested in was that Mr. Willkie be seen and heard of men. When a man says he believes in the Wagner law as Mr. Willkie said he did he is giving evidence that he is so confused that he does not even know what a principle means.

If we have faith in this country, if we understand this country and all it stands for and all it is now fighting for, that will be done.

Sunday School Lesson

FRANK, OPEN DISCUSSION OF TEMPERANCE CONTROVERSY SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED Text: Proverbs 21:17; 23:32; Isaiah 5:20-23; Hosea 4:11; Joel 3-2, 3; Ephesians 5:18

It is obvious that alcohol is the occasion of an immense amount of propagandism. For many years those who favor total abstinence and who have been opposed to the liquor traffic have carried on extensive and highly organized propagandism, while of late years propagandism in defense of the traffic or in advocacy of moderate drinking has also been extensive, if not on an equal scale.

Propagandism in itself is neither good nor bad. Education, the preaching of the gospel, movements for better social conditions, advertising and publicity are all forms of propagandism. The difference between true and false propagandism is that the one is concerned about establishing the truth and the facts while the other is intended to mislead, and the one legitimate question to be asked in relation to all propagandism is, What are the facts?

Effort to distort or to over-state the facts either against, or in favor of, the drinking of alcoholic beverages will in the long run defeat the purpose of the propagandist. The speedy enactment of prohibition to remind us, whatever our viewpoint, how great and quick reaction can take place where people are influenced by high pressure propagandism without being fundamentally convinced.

THE QUESTION which is the better practice must be settled on wider grounds than individual habit or experience. The Bible as a whole undoubtedly commends total abstinence, though some passages are and have been of disputed bearing. History confirms what the Bible has to say about the effect of strong drink and its associates with other evils.

NO amount of argument has ever been able to set aside the Biblical denunciations and warnings upon which the "temperance lessons" are based, but the fact that even among church people drinking is much more common than it was a few years ago makes it difficult to write about such lessons, with realism, and to teach them without recognizing changed conditions.

What should we do? Face the facts. Encourage frank and open discussion. Avoid censorious judgments, but do not compromise the truth. No habits that are sound, and no cause that is right, has anything to fear from the fullest investigation, inquiry and discussion.

THE PEACE WILL NOT BE OF OUR SOLE devising, for we have partners. But we need discussion and debate on broad principles before we go to the peace table.

Cooper Hurls Two-Hit Shutout Against Braves

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The success story of the year in baseball concerns Morton Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is most likely to be the National league's starting pitcher in the all-star game in New York July 6.

Cooper captured his 10th victory and sixth shutout yesterday, 4-0, with a stunning two-hit performance against the Boston Braves in an army-navy relief game that raised more than $28,500 at Boston.

It was only the third victory in the last nine games for St. Louis and Cooper won all three with shutouts—pitching a skein of 32 consecutive scoreless innings.

Lubbock Overcomes Oilers In 7th To Win 10 To 8

LUBBOCK, June 26—Little Eddy Rossi, newcomer to the Pampa Oilers pitching staff, tamed the Lubbock Hubbers for six innings last night but in the seventh saw a six-run lead evaporate.

Timmons, another newcomer to the staff, relieved, but was nipped for two more runs in the eighth, Lubbock winning 10 to 8.

Four Pampa errors didn't help and Rossi's eight walks also proved costly.

Winning pitcher was Monty Montgomery, former Pampa Oiler who pitched the first inning and one in each of the succeeding five innings.

Marshall Brown tried to keep the Oilers in the game with a double and two singles on his four official trips to the plate.

Manager Dick Ratliff tried all the tricks in the book but couldn't pull the game out of the fire.

The Oilers jumped on Montgomery for three runs in the first inning and one in each of the succeeding five innings.

The Oilers and Hubbers play here again tonight after which the Oilers move to Borger for two games.

Schedule for the rest of the season has not been released from the office of President Milton Price in Dallas.

Seven Dodgers On National's All-Star Team

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The National league announced a strong all-star squad today with seven of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the cast that will face the American league's best at the Polo grounds July 6.

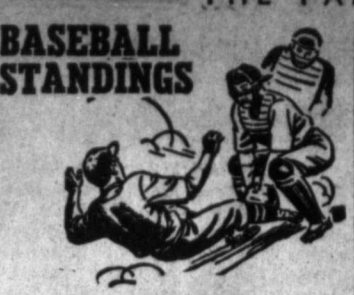

The selections of the eight managers of the senior circuit included some surprises such as the choice of catcher Walker Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals and Rookie outfielder Willard Marshall of the New York Giants while passing up infielders Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs and Billy Jurges of the Giants.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers, who will lead this year's National league array by virtue of winning last year's pennant, will have all of his own regulars in the field except first baseman Delph Camilli and outfielder Dixie Walker.

Camilli, last year's most valuable player and leading home run slugger, has been far below par in batting this season although still among the home run leaders.

The complete squad in the order chosen by the league: Pitchers—Morton Cooper, St. Louis; Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn; Claude Passeau, Chicago; John Vander Meer, Paul Derringer, and William Walters, Cincinnati; Clifford Melton, New York.

Catchers—Arnold Owen, Brooklyn; Walter Cooper, St. Louis; Ernest Lombardi, Boston. Infielders—John Mize, New York; Frank McCormick, Cincinnati;

The Diamond Shop jumped on the offerings of Jordan in the first inning and kept up the barrage the rest of the way. They bagged 21 hits and the Jaycees booted six. While Brown was hurling six-hit ball and registering his fifth win against two losses, his teammates made three errors. Weathered and Tidwell homered.

The Ideal kids, and kids they are, just didn't realize they were playing a team of veterans when they tangled with Phillips and they kept swinging and running to outlast the older players. Clemmons was on the

Whitehead Denies He Ate Himself Out Of Majors
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
BEAUMONT, June 26 (AP)—Big John Whitehead says it ain't so about eating himself out of the big leagues.

In fact, declared John as he awaited his turn to pitch for the San Antonio Missions of the Texas league, his appetite always has been quite normal and he weighs 218, about the same as usual.

Moreover, mused ex-big leaguer Ralph Winegarner who manages the Missions, if John continues to get the job done as to date food certainly would be no objection.

John declared his intentions of going back to the big show if anybody would have him—and he can't understand why somebody wouldn't have him.

Do you know the three great services advertising renders

You?

To SURVIVE, an industry must serve the people and serve it well. There are many ways in which advertising serves, but here are three of great benefit to you.

Advertising constantly operates to improve our standards of living by lowering prices. It does this by making the economies of mass production possible. You can make 500,000 of an article for much less per article than if you made only, say—100. So you can sell it for less. With these lowered prices, more people can buy things and the standard of living of all the people goes up. In other countries automobiles are almost unheard of in middle-class families. But, today over 20 million automobiles are driven by our people because with the aid of advertising their prices have been brought down within the means of more people. Advertising makes possible free competitive enterprise. Through advertising a small business man can expand to the full limits of his value to society. He can take his case before millions, whereas without advertising only a few hundred could be reached. This creates healthy competition between business.

The consumer is always the gainer because competition forces quality and service to be better and prices to be lower. Consider the automobile, radio, mechanical refrigerator or almost any product of 15 years ago and these products today. In every case you'll find quality improvement along with the lower prices. Advertising helps vitally to perpetuate our Bill of Rights—our Freedom. It does this by helping newspapers, radio stations, magazines, and other means of expression to remain solvent from the advertising revenues received. Without a free press our Bill of Rights would be next to worthless, because we would never be sure of what was going on. This would leave us wide open for the dictators—much the same as in Germany, Russia and Italy today.

WHAT TO DO

Mention these points if you run across an uninformed fellow who misunderstands the importance of advertising in our American Way of Life. And make advertising your daily buying guide—because if you see a firm or product consistently advertised you can be pretty sure that firm or product is delivering you the greatest value for your money in quality, service and price.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWitt MacKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst
The fate of Egypt, and the broader interlocking issue of control of the all-important Middle East, is being written in the hot sands of the desert before the British coastal stronghold of Matruh which guards the approach to the mighty naval base of Alexandria and the Suez canal.

Nazi Marshal Rommel, racing eastward against time in an effort to trap the defeated British eighth army before it has a chance to reorganize, contacted the enemy covering forces 30 miles west of Matruh this morning pressing a quick joining of the main battle. We should know soon whether General Ritchie has had sufficient time to realign his weary forces after their retreat and to move into his defensive line the reinforcements which reportedly are arriving.

It is a momentous hour. British Premier Churchill is quoted as having said yesterday in Washington that Britain would hold and that there is no danger of losing Egypt and Suez. One takes the liberty of assuming that the prime minister didn't mean literally that the danger didn't exist, but that he expected it to be overcome.

Certainly Ritchie's position at the fortified and well-served base of Matruh is far better than it would have been had he tried to make a stand at the Egyptian border. Rommel, on the other hand, suffers the disadvantage of greatly extended and highly vulnerable communications, which must give him much concern especially as regards the supply of drinking water, for without it men die quickly in the awful heat of the desert.

Rommel—our enemy but one of the most brilliant commanders this war has produced—again has dared greatly in his tactics. The major portion of his army undoubtedly was fagged out from long and steady fighting in the Libyan blast furnace.

Exhibiting one of his outstanding characteristics, Rommel has chosen the short cut to contact the foe. That route lay along or in vicinity of the military highway which skirts the Mediterranean, with the endless sands of the desert on the south. In taking this line, Rommel exposed himself to heavy Anglo-American air attacks and to possible shelling by British warships which frequently have rendered the support of their big guns to the land forces.

Rommel's alternative would have been to make a long and arduous trek southeastward into the desert and then swing northward again towards the sea.

Much depends on those long communications of Rommel's. Some way he must keep them open as he goes into this crucial battle. Here is where the opposing airforces presumably will enter the picture in a big way. Already American and British warplanes have been blasting at Bengasi, chief German port for supplies on the military highway, and they also must be bombing Nazi supply lines.

One would expect too that Hitler would fling heavy air reinforcements into the engagement, and may even move fresh troops to Rommel's assistance by air. As remarked in previous columns, the outcome of this battle is likely to turn on control of the air.

Two War Heroes From North Texas College

DENTON, June 26—This week North Texas State Teachers college heard from two of her boys who are making history on the far-flung battlegrounds of World War II.

They are First Lieut. Robert O. Pate of Dallas, who made the headlines as one of the United States flyers who helped paste the Japanese armada off Midway, and L. A. Berry of Dawson, who was saved after the destruction of the aircraft carrier Lexington in the battle of the Coral sea.

Both boys were in school at the same time, both worked to finance their stay in college, and both belonged to the same campus social club.

Berry left the campus to join the navy, receiving his training in California, from where he recently sent word that he had survived the Lexington sinking by jumping overboard at the command of a superior officer.

Pate left North Texas in October, 1940, to train as a United States flyer. He was commissioned at Brooks field, San Antonio, and was at Hickam field in Hawaii at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

'Accept Principles Of Democracy Or Quit Teaching'

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—Teachers who cannot accept the principles of democracy should quit teaching, in the opinion of Dean B. F. Pittenger of the University of Texas school of education.

The dean made the statement yesterday at the third annual Texas institute on professional relations, sponsored by the Texas P. T. A. Texas State Teachers association, National Education association, state department of education and the university.

Those who teach are accepting the responsibility for teaching democracy," Dr. Pittenger said. "In a democratic society, schools and all educational institutions are established for the purpose of furthering public welfare and teaching democratic principles."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—While aircraft, rail and selected industrial edged upward in today's stock market, many leaders elsewhere failed to get a toe-hold.

In addition to the usual reluctance to expand commitments at the approach of a week-end, the war news just about balanced so far as buying or selling incentives were concerned.

In front of the greater part of the time were Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, American Airlines, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Norfolk & Western, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Woolworth, and Dow Chemical. U. S. Leather "A" touched a new top for the year.

A prominent backslider was American Telephone. Others lacking climbing power were Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, General Electric, and U. S. Gypsum.

WTSC To Have Revised CAA Training Plan

CANYON, June 26—A drastically revised Civilian Pilot Training program which will be launched at once by West Texas State college will include provisions for furnishing board, lodging, transportation, and insurance to trainees. Applications are being taken by Dean R. P. Jarrett.

Under the new plan, the training will produce flight instructors, service pilots, and material for highly specialized personnel needed to maintain the nation's vast system of military training and air transportation lines. Eligible men may be between the ages of 18 and 37 years in three categories. One group includes those between 18 and 27 years of age, and the others are those, regardless of age, who have had flight experience.

Applicants will be given a mental test similar to that used by the army. Those who pass this test will then be given physical examinations. Prof. Mitchell Jones will give the mental tests, then the papers will be graded at Rochester, N. Y. Results will be telegraphed to Dean Jarrett, the coordinator of college aviation courses.

Applications for enlistment will be taken by Dean Jarrett. When the mental and physical tests are passed, certificates of acceptance will be issued. These certificates will then be taken to the Amarillo recruiting station, where the young men will be enlisted in the air corps enlistment reserve. Flight and ground training will then be authorized.

To cover expenses for the trainees' board, lodging, and transportation, the government will pay the college for each man who completes a CPT course. The ground instruction to be furnished by the college will include 240 hours of instruction, including 26 clock hours of mathematics, 20 hours of physics, 20 hours of civil air regulations, 36 hours of navigation, 10 hours of aircraft service and operation, 22 hours of radio code, 58 hours of military and physical training, 12 hours of aircraft identification, 12 hours of military science and discipline, and 24 hours of meteorology. A secondary course which will follow this one likewise will include 240 hours of advanced instruction in these subjects. A trainee who fails on the final written examination may be re-examined after a period of additional instruction.

Under the new program, the navy will cooperate by making this CAA training available to enlisted reservists and the army will use the

Tokyo Thrown Into Panic By Bombing

ANKARA, June 26 (AP)—An eyewitness to the United States air attack on Tokyo last April 18, who was in a Tokyo street when the raid occurred, said today the Japanese were thrown into panic and depressed by the feeble defense.

The story was told by a national of a neutral country who has courses to train instructors, glider pilots, co-pilots, and liaison and service pilots. The courses will be available to applicants for army aviation cadet training who failed to meet the stringent physical requirements of the army for combat pilots.

The new courses will be on a full-time basis, lasting eight weeks, with subsistence and health and accident insurance provided. About half of the trainees will be given courses lasting a total of 24 to 40 weeks to make them eligible for jobs as civilian instructors, service pilots, or airline co-pilots. New classes will start each eight weeks.

Flight training to be given at the same time presumably will be directed by the Amarillo Air Service at the college's airport.

"The daylight raid," he said, "was a complete surprise and shook the people's confidence as the government had boasted that American planes would never be seen over the capital.
"Tokyo's close-packed, highly-inflammable buildings were spared as the planes went on to bomb targets between the capital and Yokohama and other important industrial centers."

He said foreigners were not permitted outside of Tokyo to inspect the damage which, he said, apparently was heavy.

"I was on the street when the bombers came over," he related. "Sirens sounded and red warning flags and balloons went up.
"Many persons showed panic, rushing for cover.
"I heard no anti-aircraft guns. Japanese pursuit planes were out-distanced."

"Some Japanese commented on the superiority of the American aircraft, Japanese newspapermen, questioned why the Japanese could not locate where the planes came from and intercept them, replied that they flew too fast and too high.

"The people insisted that Japan was going to win the war, but I got the impression that they were very much afraid of the United States. The press spoke of a long war and some people talked of it lasting ten years."

The traveler was in Manila when the Japanese entered the Philippine capital and went to Tokyo from there by air, ultimately reaching Turkey by rail by way of Manchukuo and Russia.

Of his observations in the Philippines, he said the invaders appeared nervous when they entered Manila and that there was considerable looting, even of the customs-house. He said he lost trunks and books himself.

Within Manila, he added, he saw soldiers slap pedestrians for disregarding traffic lights, and heard reports that the situation was much worse in the country, where there were cases of violence and rape."

The first two days of the occupation foreigners were interned in hotels with almost nothing to eat, he said. Then the neutrals were released and others, except elderly persons and those with small children, were sent to concentration camps.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the Filipinos are still with America," he said.
