

'Singing Sailor' From Dallas To Be In Naval Show Here Monday Night

By THE ROVING REPORTER
Buddy Harris, the famous "singing sailor," will sing the songs you hear on radio's navy hour each night from 6 to 6:30 p. m. at the All-Panhandle navy show here Monday night.

The show, featuring Dixie Dice's famous "Navy in a Telegram" musical comedy, will begin at 8:30 o'clock and will be held at Junior high school auditorium. Admission will be free. The show is sponsored locally by the chamber of commerce and civic clubs.

Lt. Rideout of the Dallas recruiting station today announced that Harris would sing at the Pampa show in a telegram to "Admiral" Pat Flynn of Amarillo who is working up the show and bringing it to Pampa.

Local people who are concerned about Gray county's progress in raising their August quota of 22 men, this time went to Amarillo for help.

"How do you do it?" the R. R. and Joe Gordon, chairman of the naval recruiting in Gray county, asked Mr. Flynn who handles the navy for Amarillo.

"Well," said Mr. Flynn who proudly boasts that Amarillo is far ahead of Pampa in raising Potter county's quota of 50 men, "Dixie Dice has done more in Amarillo to stimulate enlistments than anything. She has a great and inspiring patriotic show, full of pretty girls, patriotic tunes and stirring lines."

And it must be so because thousands were turned away from Amarillo's huge municipal auditorium when Miss Dice and her girls told the packed house about the navy in song and dance.

Of course, the fact that the singing sailor will be here does not shine Dixie and her girls, but it makes the show all the more important.

"Admiral" Flynn who issued the challenge from Potter county to Gray county—a challenge that Potter would raise its quota before Gray, says that the show will be a salute to Pampa and the eastern Panhandle for the excellent showing in recruiting men for the navy.

Vital Information

Residential rents in seven more defense-rental areas in the Dallas OPA region will be cut back to March 1, 1942, levels and brought under federal regulations on Sept. 1, Region Administrator Max L. McCullough announced today. The following areas will go under control on Sept. 1: El Dorado, Ark.; Baxter Springs, Kan.; New Orleans, La.; Pike, Mo.; Tulsa, Okla.; Dallas-Sunray, Texas; and Kansas City, Mo.

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, in a letter to R. Eugene Riser, regional director of the war production board, Dallas, today asserted that a movement to suspend production of garments by plants in Texas "would be fraught with the most serious consequences, not only to the particular enterprises involved but to our entire economic well-being."

All contract motor carriers, whether inter-state or intra-state operators, are now covered by the general maximum price regulation on motor rates they are allowed to charge are the highest rates they were charging in March, 1942, regional OPA officials reminded today. The effective date of GMPR as regards carriers has been postponed to Aug. 1, 1942, to give the carriers additional time to amend their schedules in conformity with the regulations if they had increased their rates since March 31. Common carriers are exempt from the regulations.

DALLAS, Aug. 20 (AP)—An oil industry committee has approved orally preliminary plans to expedite oil shipments from the Southwest to the East, and detailed instructions on the program probably will go out.

Absentee Ballot Record Smashed—345 Votes Cast

An all-time high on the number of absentee ballots ever cast in a run-off primary in Gray county has been established. County Clerk Charlie Tied said today.

Absentee voting for the second primary of August 22, Saturday, ended at midnight Tuesday. A total of 345 absentee ballots were cast.

Only one change has been announced in the list of names for the election officials. For precinct 10, Parris C. Oden will be the presiding judge, replacing Arthur M. Teed, who is out of town on a vacation trip.

For all the other 16 precincts in the county, the judges and clerks remain the same as in the places, as they were in the first primary held July 25.

In the first primary 4,500 votes were cast. It is estimated that less than half that number of votes will be cast in the run-off primary, as this customary "less" attention than the initial election.

Figures on the number of absentee ballots, however, may upset this rule. An odd feature of the run-off election is the record number of absentee ballots cast and the fact that only a few of these were mailed in by men now serving in the armed forces.

Reds Take Initiative On Four Key Fronts

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Red army has taken the initiative in battles developing on four key Central Russian fronts along the 400 miles from Bryansk to Lake Ilmen while holding doggedly before Stalinograd and in the Caucasus, battlefront dispatches reported today.

Centers of the Russian attack were listed as the Bryansk front, 210 miles southwest of Moscow; the salient 130 miles west of Moscow in the Vyazma area; the Kalinin-Khiv salted, 130 miles northwest of the capital; and the Lake Ilmen front south of Leningrad.

"This was the first specific mention of Red army offensives on these fronts in Russian dispatches, although German communiques for days have told of desperate resistance there by Nazi forces hurled onto the defensive by strong Soviet attacks."

No complete details of the central campaigns were given, but the Russians said they had taken a heavy toll of garrison troops left to man the central and northern battleline while the Nazis massed their greatest strength for the Don Bend and Caucasus offensive.

"Great losses were suffered by the Germans on the Bryansk, Western, Kalinin and Northwestern fronts where the initiative in active military operations belongs to our troops," said Red Star, the army newspaper.

The Russians apparently were striking out along this whole line in a carefully-timed series of sharp assaults.

Nelson Will 'Get Tough' He Promises

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Positive and prompt action to forestall any war production shut-downs due to lack of materials appeared imminent today in consonance with Donald M. Nelson's newly enunciated "get tough" policy.

The production chief was expected to give his regional directors throughout the country power to issue "quickie" priority ratings to provide needed small quantities of materials or parts.

Thus holders of war contracts threatened with stoppage or curtailment of output because of an interruption in the flow of materials or a breakdown of machinery, could obtain readily the materials needed to keep going.

Official Washington watched closely for more drastic action from Nelson, who yesterday made it clear that he had taken his gloves off for a finish fight on the question of his administration of the war effort.

"From now on any one who crosses my path is going to have his head taken off," he said in discussing statements from congressional and other sources that the

'This Farm Has No Scrap, It's Gone To Slap The Dirty Jap'

"This farm has no scrap—it's gone to slap the dirty Jap." That is the slogan you will soon see on hundreds of signs displayed on Gray county farms, as farmers clean out all scrap metal from their farms and turn it in on the national scrap harvest.

Coiner of the slogan was Mrs. Foreman Stubbs of Alameda, who will receive an award of $5 in Victory stamps, donated by R. G. "Dick" Hughes, Pampa insurance man.

Not until the middle of next week will the results of scrap iron collections be known from the farmers, Glen T. Hackney, Gray county farm agent, said orders for the signs to be printed had been placed, but that he would not know until reports from community and neighborhood leaders what the results were.

Meanwhile, the industrial section of the scrap metal campaign is being continued under the direction of C. K. Trease, chairman, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are speeding up their drive to collect brass, copper, and bronze. Proceeds of the latter project will go to the service men's entertainment fund, but all metal collected will help in the campaign, which began Tuesday and will end Saturday, August 29.

Commandos Bring Back Prisoners

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—New assaults on Hitler's Europe, might attacks to make ruined Dieppe a mere sample of what full-blown invasion will be, already were being predicted today with the shock troops of four nations barely ashore again after the fiercest gun-studded coast.

Power-driven barges and other vessels arrived along the home coast throughout the night bringing tired troops back. The last wounded commandos were brought ashore during the morning, while squadrons of Spitfires and Hurricanes kept up their droning patrols overhead. Even after dawn small British fighter forces were seen streaking over the channel, some of them headed for Dieppe.

The Allied raiders brought back a number of German prisoners, including officers.

A Canadian officer said, "They gave in and came along quietly, which surprised us. We thought they'd fight until the end."

That Dieppe, once a bastion of German anti-aircraft defenses, and a salty port for Nazi submarines, lay

Titantic Blows May Soon Fall

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Secrets of Germany's anti-invasion coastal defenses were studied by the Allied command today amid predictions that titanic new blows would fall soon upon the jittery Nazis in the wake of yesterday's history-making attack on Dieppe, France.

As first fruits of the raid, informed London quarters declared probably one-third of Adolf Hitler's fighter plane strength in western Europe had been destroyed during the nine-hour assault.

Dieppe itself, once a famous spa, transformed by the Germans into a bastion of anti-aircraft defense, was pictured as lying in charred, shell-torn ruins today.

Eye-witness stories reaching Vichy by telephone said fierce hand-to-hand fighting raged in the streets of flaming Dieppe under a rain of British artillery fire.

Civilian estimates said about 10,000 Allied raiders, striking in a huge wave along 12 miles of the Dieppe coastline, landed in 300 to 400 small boats and self-propelled tank scows on the fortified beaches while 13 British warships hurled shells into the Nazi defenses.

The Berlin radio claimed that 35 transports stood by in reserve to get in action as soon as the first landing wave had succeeded in forming a bridgehead.

Descriptions reaching Vichy said Allied beaching parties, including American Rangers, fought through barbed-wire entanglements on the beach to destroy German bunkers, and forced an entry into the city.

Allred Comes Up With New Pension Plan

By J. B. KRUEGER

LUFKIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—James V. Allred struck out today for Jasper, Silsbee and Beaumont with a message designed to win some of the old-age pension support from his opponent, W. Lee O'Daniel, in the two days remaining before the runoff election.

He touched upon his old-age pension proposal in speeches yesterday and explained it in detail in a radio address at Kilgore.

"I am now convinced," he said, "that the only answer to the problem is a universal federal old-age pension paid from the treasury of the United States, and forever removed from politics and political maneuvering."

He suggested that "every aged person with an income of less than $200 a year, is in need within the meaning of the law. My plan is that to those aged persons each month from the treasury of the United States x x x there shall be mailed a check of no less than $30 a month."

He proposed that the term "need" should be defined as it is in the present income tax bill Congress has fixed $600 a year as the "need" for a single person and $1,200 per year for a married couple.

Allred entered St. Augustine deep in the heart of the piney woods, to find the stores closed in his honor. Mayor Alonzo Rushing explained that San Augustine owed Allred an eternal debt of gratitude because he sent Rangers there in 1935 while he was governor and ended a reign of terror and gathered the evidence which convicted 42 men of murder and lesser crimes.

At Timpanon Allred criticized an advertisement in a Houston paper recently which he said endorsed O'Daniel for signing a bill for tax remissions to Harris county (Houston) which Allred had vetoed two years before as governor.

Quoting from his veto message, Allred said that other counties would have to bear the burden if he refunded to Harris county $350,000 annually for 10 years to construct a flood-control system.

Explaining why he resigned a federal judgeship to enter the senatorial race, Allred told the crowd that many southern senators had resigned at the outbreak of the Civil War to fight for the Confederacy. Gable had elected to give up the emoluments of a Hollywood career to fight for his country.

He was applauded when he repeated that he was a street fighter and would "breathe the tape fur out in front next Saturday."

Niney-year-old Uncle Ben Whitton told the crowd at San Augustine that a vote for Allred was an investment in good government. In a wintry voice the old man commented that San Augustine was a law-abiding place since the visit of the Rangers in 1935.

In yesterday's talks Allred did not omit his attacks on isolationism nor on what he said was the harm such a stand had done the country before and after Pearl Harbor.

Pointing out that he had quit a civil-service job to enlist in the navy in the first World War, he added, "Someone slurmed me the other day, saying 'My little yes-man opponent hasn't got a boy in the army.' Don't you think it would have been fair, my friend, to say my oldest boy is only 12 years old?"

Labor Supply Not Adequate In War Production Areas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt said today that 19 per cent of the total volume of war production contracts awarded between May 1 and June 20 went to areas where the labor supply already was inadequate.

An additional 56 per cent went to areas of prospective labor shortages while only 17.5 per cent was directed toward areas where there was a surplus of workers, he reported, declaring that much greater attention must be paid to the labor supply factor in awarding contracts.

"To increase contracts and labor demand in shortage areas will inevitably result in excessive migration, aggravated housing problems, increased pressure on overcrowded transportation and other community facilities," McNutt said in a statement.

"The result may well be inability to meet delivery dates."

Newspapers Given Clean Bill Of Health

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune, the New York Daily News and the Washington Times Herald legally had a clean bill of health today after a federal grand jury investigation of their publication on June 7 of allegedly confidential naval information.

A statement by William D. Mitchell, special assistant to the attorney general, at conclusion of the five-day inquiry said:

"The grand jury considering the matter of publication on June 7 in the Chicago Tribune and other newspapers of an article relating to the Japanese fleet in the Midway battle, has decided that no indictment should be returned."

The statement added that "the jury has considered the case fully and its conclusion that no violation of law was disclosed settles the matter."

W. Lee Links Allred With Texas Hot Oil

By LEDGERWOOD LONAN

CARTHAGE, Aug. 20 (AP)—W. Lee O'Daniel pushes up into Northeast Texas today with the hard-driving vote "appreciation" tour which he hopes will send him back to the senate an overwhelming victor over James V. Allred in Saturday's runoff primary.

The senator last night told a radio audience that "The charge I voted to disband the American army is another charge so baseless that it does not merit an answer. Since we entered the war I voted for every war measure and every war appropriation."

O'Daniel referred apparently to statements by Allred that the senator "voted to disband our army four months before Pearl Harbor." At that time O'Daniel spoke and voted against a proposal by President Roosevelt to retain drafted men in service after their first year's training ended.

It was the third time during the day that O'Daniel digressed from his usual address accusing the "labor leader racketeers" of plotting to "change our American form of government."

He first got off this theme at Corrigan when he suggested that "if folks want to go back and study the hot oil situation in Texas I believe you will discover a good many things interesting to you."

The senator did not explain what he thought such a study would disclose.

He did add that he was "opposed to racketeering forces of every kind. I do not care whether it is the hot oil racketeer or the labor racketeer."

This statement was made after O'Daniel said he noticed that "my yes man opponent over in East Texas decided to raise the price of oil" and that he was "just thinking that while he was over there it would have been a good place to discuss the hot oil situation."

The senator's other digression was at Crockett where he read from "a slanderous circular."

"One of these circulars entitled 'Think Over' charges that the good people of Williamson and other Texas counties, all of German blood, are supporting me to the detriment of our country," he said.

Then he pointed to Admiral Chester Nimitz and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Texans of German descent.

O'Daniel spoke before enthusiastic audiences at Corrigan, Crockett, Alto and Carthage following his morning talk at Silsbee where war workers heard him in silence and oldsters cheered.

At Corrigan, "Right Way Corrigan," he called it, he called out that he used to sell flour there.

"I guess I won't stop my speech to sell a sack of flour, though," he laughed.

At Crockett, where the courthouse lawn was jammed with spectators, old men stood perspiring and beamed up at the speaker. Their cheers were led by J. F. Tunstall, a farmer who shouted amen after most of O'Daniel's statements.

After a brief address at Alto O'Daniel's loud speaker fell behind and he talked from the bandstand on the courthouse square at Center without benefit of amplifying equipment.

There Ney Runnels, a cattleman, almost stole the show by walking up waving a stick upon which he had tacked O'Daniel car stickers and a picture of the senator.

The crowd roared as Runnels informed them that he was having "more fun than I've had since the calves got out."

Mrs. Lester Johnson of Briscoe, Mrs. Glen King of Magic City, and Mrs. W. L. Walker of Pagan were chosen as alternates in a called meeting of the Wheeler County Demonstration council held in the district court room at Wheeler recently.

Contrasting Top

You may not make the school debating team but you'll rate as a girl who knows smart dresses when you show up in this slenderizing frock. Above, the torso is dark and smooth; below the skirt is patterned and billowy. Repeat the skirt fabric in the convertible collar and cuffs.

Pattern No. 8244 is in sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 10 years takes 1 1/3 yards 39-inch material for short sleeve top, 1 1/4 yards for skirt.

For this attractive pattern, send 15c in coin, your name, address, pattern number, and size to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20.—You've heard about a few movie villains who write music or raise dahlias or otherwise reveal incongruous and gentle virtues. But today we have Mr. Porter Hall, whose life is the greatest contrast of all. On the screen you're seeing him as a low-down, double-crossing, cold-blooded champion of evil. But here in Hollywood he's a deacon of the First Presbyterian church and an all-around, practicing Christian.

He not only raises flowers, but the Hall rose and the Hall dahlia, developed by his father, are horticulturally famous. The actor doesn't drink smoke. He long has been happily married. He hates guns. In his current role in Columbia's super-western, "The Desperados," Hall is a two-faced scoundrel who arranges with a gang to rob his own bank and then tries to commit a murder to facilitate his getaway with the townpeople's life savings. Off-screen, however, he is the highly regarded treasurer of the prosperous Screen Actors' Guild.

About the only comparable aspect of Porter Hall's professional and private life is his prominence. Everybody knows him. On Broadway, before coming into movies, he won the Critics Circle award for his work in "Night Hostess." Later, in Hollywood, he got the Screen Actors' Guild award for the year's best character performance, in "The Plainsman."

OIL DEATH
In the course of some 40 movies, Hall has died many times and has done-in lots of worthy citizens. He hasn't always been a villain, but his best roles were full of dark deeds.

The council voted to have a Victory Garden festival instead of the regular club fair usually held in September. There will be a small gate fee and 85 per cent of the proceeds will go to the Army and Navy Relief fund.

It was decided that girls over 15 would be allowed to attend the annual women's encampment at Lake 670, west of Shamrock, on August 27.

Women attending the council meeting were Patricia King, Davis; Evelyn Faceron, Wheeler; Mrs. Lester Johnson and Mrs. A. L. Price of Briscoe; Mrs. Troy Miller and Miss Doris Miller of Myrtle; Mrs. W. C. Zirkle, Mrs. Jim Trout, Mrs. J. H. Watts, Miss Lucille Chance and Miss Betty Sue Bownds of Wheeler; Mrs. W. L. Walker and Mrs. W. A. Allen of Pagan; Mrs. Luther Bullock and Mrs. H. F. Krug of Davis; Mrs. Floyd C. Lively and Mrs. C. A. Myatt of Liberty; Mrs. J. T. Reynolds of China Flat; Mrs. Grover Copeland of Bethel; Mrs. E. R. Blocker and Mrs. D. V. Vines and Miss Jeanette Blocker of Kellon; Mrs. Olin Davis of Liberty; Mrs. Gus Wagner of County Neighbors club and Mrs. J. G. Davidson of Sunshine club.

flaming and shell-torn was of secondary interest to the British.

What mattered was that assault forces—United States Rangers, Canadian, British and Fighting French commandos—had stormed that formidable coast and had achieved every goal in a nine-hour battle engineered with such precision that it wound up within six minutes of schedule.

What mattered was that the Germans had been dealt a jolting blow where they had boasted they were invulnerable, that the Allies had massed fighting men and tanks and ferried them ashore at a strong-point of the Nazi defenses under cover of perhaps the greatest aerial umbrella in history.

The strength in manpower and air-naval might sent against Dieppe still is an Allied secret but the British announced in advance that the time still had not come for the liberation of France and that only a commando raid was intended.

Only the Germans, apparently to sugarcoat the bad news at home that the Allies were showing their strength in greater measure than ever before, pretended to believe that this was the actual start of the second front.

The RAF reported the loss of 98 planes, representing the total Allied loss so far announced out of probably 1,000 aircraft in action in the Allied side. Thirty of the RAF pilots who were shot down are known to be safe.

It was reported that American aerial participation was limited to Flying Fortresses.

All of 24 United States army air force Flying Fortresses which pounded the big Nazi air base at Abbeville returned, with only a few bearing scars and one man slightly wounded.

But many of the commandos, whose bulk apparently was supplied by Canadians, came back with wounds, the majority minor. This, too, was to be expected; the storming of an enemy shore is one of the most difficult of all military operations—so forbidding that the Germans, even at the crest of their strength and at the depth of British power, never ventured such a channel crossing.

The Americans were all volunteers from the Ranger battalion, specially hardened and trained, and were believed to have been relatively few in number, fighting as individuals rather than as a group, attached to the other outfits.

Although ambulances and hospital trains carried off some of the men from the waterfront, and the floor of a former dance hall soon was filled with the slightly wounded, many of the others slipped ashore from their power-driven, sea-going barges elated and singing despite their fatigue and the grime of battle on their torn uniforms.

Allied military leaders already have begun analyzing the results and British military experts said that if investigation bears out the first indications of success, the uneasy Nazis on guard along the coast-line of western Europe might be pounded by more heavy attacks by land, sea and air.

Each assault, they said, probably will seek to eliminate a nodal point of German defense—like Dieppe—in preparation for the day when they cross the channel to stay across.

These experts discounted the importance of having destroyed a radio-location base at Dieppe and the demolition of coastal defense and anti-aircraft batteries.

British Praise Performances Of Fortresses

By WES GALLAGHER.

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY FORCES IN BRITAIN, Aug. 20. (AP)—While flying fortresses of the United States army were knocking out the largest German fighter field in the Dieppe area yesterday, United States fighter pilots scored three probable victories in one of the war's biggest air shows.

Altogether the Allies made 2,500 sorties from dawn to dusk yesterday. (In aviation terms, a sortie is one flight by one plane.)

The American fighter pilots came home with score necks and experience crowded into one day which might have taken weeks of non-combatant training to match. They made four trips across the channel, spending more than six hours in the air, much of that time in combat.

Veteran RAF fliers were full of praise for the behavior of the American pilots under fire in a battle which the British agreed "far exceeded any show put on in this war by the fighter command, even including the dark days in the battle of Britain."

Captain Frank Hill, 23, of Hillsdale, N. J., shot down a Focke-Wulf 190, Germany's fast new fighter, for the first American fighter victory of war but did not see it crash and so claimed only a "probable." The names of the other two pilots claiming "probables" were not immediately available.

"We were flying top cover (in the highest layer of the covering planes) and could see the whole show," the pilot said.

"Those fortress fellows hit everything on that airfield. Their bombs fell perfectly, from a great height, directly on the hangars, buildings and key spots, with only one stick wide, and that hit a runway.

"I didn't think they could do it. It was better bombing than anything I've seen in the war, even by planes flying thousands of feet lower."

THIS FAR

and of the salvage committee, said today:

"It is high time that we residents of Gray county stopped being complacent about salvaging materials without which the war may be lost.

"This is no time for half-measures and unpatriotic shirking. Unless every individual does his share unstintingly and unselfishly, our arms factories will be unable to get all the scrap they need in addition to the raw material from regular sources, to produce the weapons that will win the war.

Furrow Adolf's Brow

"You can dump your debris on Yokohama.

"You can satisfy that longing to furrow the brow of Adolf with an old waffle iron.

"Anything metal that you have lying around will go into bombs, shells, bullets.

"If you want to work up to a climax start in the cellar and look for worn-out stoves, refrigerator parts, any plumbing from a lead pipe to an old bathtub, old tools, old fire extinguishers.

"But in the attic is a real treasure trove. There are old metal toys, broken vacuum cleaners, fans and porch furniture, worn-out radios, old brass and copper screens, even old metal beds and springs. You know what's in the garage—old car parts, worn out batteries.

"As the war becomes more intensive on the various foreign fronts," Mr. Hanna said, "the need for scrap materials has steadily increased." He declared that while vague have already been made here from time to time, the expanding requirements of the war program have made it necessary to obtain much larger amounts of materials.

Three Tons For Two

"The American steel industry this year hopes to produce a record-breaking 85,000,000 tons of steel—as much as all foreign countries put together can make. Our country alone this year is going to produce three tons of steel for every two tons the Axis can turn out.

"To bring steel production up to the industry's full capacity of 90,000,000 tons in 1942, however, our steel industry needs an extra 6,000,000 tons of scrap steel for its furnaces. Every ton of scrap we can send them will swell our national production of tanks, ships, planes and guns."

Mr. Hanna said that many local civic organizations would be called upon to assist in the drive.

"An increasing number of boys from this city are already seeing active service," he said, "we on the home front must see to it that industry shall not lack the materials needed for adequately arming and equipping them.

"Every housewife can play an important part in this drive. She should carefully inspect all of her house furnishings—to find out what equipment she has that has outlived its usefulness.

"An old iron pot or a knife in the kitchen, the steel springs of an old upholstered chair in the attic, some discarded pipe or heating equipment in the cellar, unused wire clothes hangers in a closet—these are a few of the items that will provide pounds and pounds of scrap.

Public Indifferent But Legion Gives Selectees Huge Time

If it hadn't been for the American Legion, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, about as much notice would have been given to the latest group of Gray county selectees last night as a German might give to a swastika in Berlin.

From the same number of Pampans who attended the dance given at the Junior high school gymnasium the selectees might have gathered that they rated about as high as a bargain sale.

Unaided, and at their own initiative, the Legion and the V. F. W. put on a Dutch supper at the Legion hut that was real he-man entertainment and then followed it up with a dance. In connection with the dance, due recognition must be accorded Bill Jesse's orchestra that provided the music for the dance free of charge.

The ex-service men want to do something about these men who are joining the army to fight World War 2. Not only want to, but they're doing something about it without waiting for someone else to make a move.

They can't keep it up alone, however. It takes money to put on suppers like the kind held last night, and it is from the dances that the money must come. If the send-off parties the ex-service men plan to continue, can be given for selectees in the future.

That is why the Legion and the V. F. W. asked the help of all other organizations and of individuals. They asked them to turn out for this dance, and some did, but only a disappointingly few.

Admission to the dance was free for the selectees and their dates, and for men in the uniform of the armed forces and their dates. For all others, it was 45 cents a person.

The Gray county selectees, 32 in all, will report at 9 a. m. Friday at 301 Court House and leave shortly after by bus for Fort Sill. Date for the next group to leave from this county is September 13.

Texas Labor Speaks . . . and, in Speaking, Apologizes for Staying Silent So Long!

Urgent calls for speed and more speed, lest our nation be there too late with too little, have afforded scant time to notice disparaging references against Texas Labor from those whose Victory programs were apparently not as full as ours.

When ill-advised references to organized labor slowing up our defense efforts are made, through ignorance we charitably hope, we realize it is probably high time that we report to you, our neighbors, that our silence be misconstrued as admission of these reflections against us.

1. Every Texas project of our military program is on schedule or is ahead of schedule
2. There has not been a single labor stoppage on a Texas military or defense project
3. Much of our time has been invested without pay—but without complaint
4. Every overtime hour has been at the insistence of the contractors responsible to the U. S. Army engineers for maintenance of schedule

Suppose You Were a Contractor and Had a Blue Print and a Building Site . . .

... and an army contract calling for an immediate need of 3,000 capable carpenters and 500 qualified plumbers . . . and you were two hundred miles away from a town that never had more than twenty carpenters and five plumbers . . . and the lumber was moving in . . . and you needed these men day after tomorrow . . . and all over Texas other contractors with equally urgent schedules were likewise calling for carpenters . . .

WHERE WOULD YOU GET THOSE CARPENTERS?

How would you know you were getting qualified workers instead of well-intentioned amateurs who might be patriotically inclined but unskilled?

Where would our critics get them?

They'd get them from the same source that the contractors get them . . . utilizing the services of the much-maligned "organization" facilities of Organized Labor, that are provided the contractor, and the Army engineer, and the Victory program—and that means you . . . absolutely free of charge to anyone except to workers who are glad to be affiliated with an organization that for more than seventy-five years has insisted upon the maintenance of standards of capacity and performance from those professing skill in the construction crafts.

It's that same organization that, knowing through our affiliation of our capacities, advances us money to make the trip clear across the state . . . lends us a stake to send to the family back home when the pinch comes . . . stands behind us with medical aid and hospital attention, if illness cuts us down when we're away from home.

Put yourselves in our shoes—

Around one town, there are seven big army projects, all crying for speed. All of these are twenty to eighty miles away from town. In one of them, alone, there are seven separate contractors, whose combined operations extend over 25,000 acres, or ten square miles. A man could walk all day after he got out there to visit their various field offices . . . and then might find that they didn't need him, while at the same time other contractors were crying for men at some project thirty miles away on the other side of town.

To head off this waste, and to prevent contractors "pirating" workers from each other, the contractors approach the "organization" end of organized labor, and ask for fifteen hundred men. By telegram and long distance, the business agents of Carpenters' Local Unions all over the state are checked as to the available number of workers that can be spared . . . and they're sent through, with money advanced to them for the trip, if they need it.

These business agents are parts of this organization, chosen by the workers themselves. In the town in question, the local union no longer has just one business representative. There's a resident field agent at each project, checking constantly the labor needs of the contractors on that project. Their reports make possible the use of every available man-hour, and head off expensive time-wasting water-hauls by the craftsman in search of work.

Now those of us who support the organization—

We feel that it has meant so much to us that any other worker equally well-qualified as ourselves ought to be glad to join us in moving the Victory program along, and help carry the cost. If he hasn't the money, but does have the capacity and sincere intentions of joining when he can, we give him a certificate that entitles him to just as much help, financial aid and hospital assistance, as though he had been a member thirty years, and he can pay when he gets paid. What's wrong about that?

Now about this big money—

In that town with the seven projects and the seven field men, where every schedule is being met with up-to-the-moment precision, and few, if any, precious man-hours wasted, there's a Carpenters' Union that has been in existence for over eighty years. There has been social life in their program. Do they have to have any more of a permit for that than if they were a Bar or a Medical Association?

There are two hundred members there, and there have been many years in the past when dues were hard to keep up—and there will probably be others in the future, although we aren't thinking about that just now.

During those eighty years, such surplus as they have managed to set aside has been invested until it now reaches a fair sum. They've just re-invested it—$53,000—and as evidence of the way they feel, they put it in War Bonds!

Brother Texans, you have no call to feel ashamed of us, your union brethren. While we're away from homes on this urgent work for you and me, of providing the housing and mechanics for our works of war, we know your sense of fair play will not permit the attacks of those whose contribution to victory will be from the political stump to tarnish the reputation of taxpayers who are too busy at war work to defend themselves.

More than an Election Year . . . This is a War Year . . . a Victory Year!
LET'S THINK OF AMERICA First . . . ALL OF US!
To such an appraisal we subscribe.

Mrs. Wayne Kelley underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital yesterday. Her condition today was reported fair.

Private Jimmy Weir of Fort Riley, Kansas, is spending a 10-day furlough in Pampa.

MIAMI—Judge J. A. Mead, county chairman, has announced that Roberts county went over the top last Saturday in Victory bond and stamp sales, purchasing $71,621.25. The county's quota was $69,900.

Three men charged with being intoxicated and one for vagrancy were fined a total of $45 in city police court today by Recorder C. E. McGrew. Three paid their fines. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Agie are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Beckham.

WELLINGTON—Hansell Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Carter, Route 1, Wellington, is the youngest commissioned officer of the VIII corps area. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the army air forces at Miami Beach, Fla., August 5. He is 19 years old. Lieutenant Carter graduated from Dodson High school in 1941, enlisted in the air corps, and received his sergeant's chevrons at Lubbock, before he was sent to Florida.

Private Tommie Bowerman, who is stationed at Fredericksburg, Virginia, is spending a furlough in Pampa.

Police Chief Ray Dudley needs a good dog catcher. The dog catcher receives a fee on all dogs caught and is given living quarters at the swimming pool where he also has a barn and place to keep a cow and chickens.

CLARENDOON—Less than six hours after he became a blazing torch when gasoline exploded as he was filling a stationary engine, Joe Wesley Johnston, 38, member of a pipeline crew working near Clarendon, died here recently in a local hospital.

Mrs. Alvin Bell has returned from Eagle Nest, New Mexico, where she has been vacationing.

Frank Thomas, who has been working in Kentucky, is visiting friends here for a few days.

PANHANDLE—L. C. Graham of Pampa has been awarded the contract for the remodeling of the Panhandle grade school. Amount of the contract is $17,288.50; time to complete, 90 days.

Joel M. Condit has gone to Rochester, Minnesota, for a major operation.

Ralph Kenniston of Amarillo transacted business here today.

FERRYTON—Garland Redfern has taken employment as maintainer of all the county's road grading equipment and other vehicles.

Miss Nell Roach will spend the next two weeks visiting with a cousin in Mexico.

FORT BLISS, Aug. 20—The promotion of James W. Franklin of Pampa to be a technician, fourth grade, in the service here was announced today by the public relations officer. The promotion is effective at once, and comes in recognition of his meritorious application to duty.

Soldier's Good Night Kiss Not Disorderly, Rules Georgia Judge

MACON, Ga., Aug. 20 (AP)—The good night kiss of a soldier and his date is not disorderly conduct in Macon, ruled Recorder George M. Nottingham, a World War One veteran.

An 18-year-old Macon girl and her 22-year-old army air corps soldier date were charged with disorderly conduct by the girl's landlady who observed the couple kiss good-night after returning from a movie.

"If I'm guilty of being disorderly, then every man in Uncle Sam's army belongs in jail," the young soldier told reporters as he waited to be locked up. "And if every girl who kisses a soldier-sweetheart good night is going to be locked up, this is going to be a mighty dull war."

After hearing the evidence, Judge Nottingham smiled and then ordered "case dismissed."

Without Painful Backache—Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, unnecessary by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Important Announcement To Our Customers

Conditions over which we have no control force us to discontinue general machine work in our plant. Being unable to obtain war contracts ourselves we have sold most of our machine tools to plants needing such equipment to further their all-out war efforts.

We will, however, continue a limited amount of machine work with equipment not sold, also blacksmithing, forging, electric and acetylene welding, pipe threading, fishing tool service, etc.

Our supply store will also continue business with the same courteous and efficient service as in the past.

We want the public to know we fully appreciate their generous patronage since the establishment here in 1926.

TEXANS IN Washington

By L. T. EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Congress may be an unofficial recess enabling most members to go home for a rest, but more than ever work is heaped on Texas senior Senator Tom Connally.

The Marlin statesman has two important committee posts, either of which would detain him here when most of the legislators can get away. He's chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate and must be ever ready for deliberation of matters concerning foreign policy. He's on the senate finance committee, and the big new tax bill now has him and the others on the committee deeply engrossed.

Even if it weren't for the committee assignments, the Texas would be kept busy handling matters concerning the Lone Star state. With most of the Texas congressional delegation home, including the junior senator, W. Lee O'Daniel, Connally's office has to take care of more than the normal amount of work relating to the state. He doesn't come up for re-election this year, so he at least hasn't had to worry about politics or feel any necessity of going home this summer so long as there is work to do here.

Head of Connally's secretarial staff is Mrs. A. S. E. Carr. "He's kept busy enough for three men," is the way she sized it up. She said the senator comes down early in the mornings to look over mail and get to the tax hearing by 10 o'clock. He works until 5 or 6 o'clock each afternoon, including Saturday, and sometimes comes to the office on Sunday to catch up.

The senator and his recent bride, the former Mrs. Morris Sheppard, so far have been unable to get any week-end recreation. They've spent most of their spare time lately house hunting. Since their marriage they have lived in the senator's 11th floor suite of a Connecticut avenue apartment hotel.

One of the few Texas house members remaining here at least a week after the recess got under way, and contemplating no trip down home soon, is Representative Nat Patton of Crockett.

The genial East Texan said he had a number of matters for his district he wants to handle, and that he believed the urgency of the times made it advisable for as many members as possible to remain in the capital. Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls also remained in the city long after most colleagues went home, but planned to be in Texas the middle of August for a brief visit.

Decision of Representative South of Oklahoma in the Democratic run-off primary for re-election after trailing O. C. Fisher, San Angelo district attorney, in the July election will cause a turnover in committee assignments of Texas house members.

The late West Texan is on the important interstate and foreign commerce committee, which considers legislation concerning the railroads, buses, and the petroleum industry as well as matters generally relating to commerce among the states.

The two Texans equally in line for South's committee assignment are Representatives Gossett and Linnie Beckworth of Gilmer, both of whom entered congress on Jan. 3, 1939. Though the assignment could go to someone from another state, Texas customarily is allowed to fill one place on the group. Bonham's Congressman Sam Rayburn was chairman of the committee before becoming first house majority leader and then speaker.

The results of the general election next November could cause a change in house membership that would leave both Gossett and Beckworth in line for chairmanship of so-called "minor committees" on which they now serve. Gossett possibly could find himself being offered leadership of the insular committee, and Beckworth the chairmanship of the Civil Service committee.

In that case, either or both might desire to accept such positions rather than go on to the interstate commerce committee as its newest and, consequently, comparatively unimportant member. The insular affairs committee might in the post-war period turn out to be one of the most important in congress, and the Civil Service committee always handles legislation vitally affecting millions of persons.

(The commerce committee is one of the "major" house groups. Members on a major committee serve on only the one group, theoretically because the work they handle is so important they cannot afford to divide their time. Members not on major committees usually serve on several "minor" committees.)

If by chance neither Gossett nor Beckworth should care for the interstate commerce assignment, the next in seniority for the post among the Texas delegation would be Representative Sam Russell of Stephenville.

The assignment would be of interest to every section of Texas for at least one important reason, and that is railroad freight rates. The committee handles legislation affecting both the railroads and the interstate commerce commission which regulates rail traffic. Texas long has contended it has been severely discriminated against by freight rate differentials, and the Texas assigned to the committee would be in a position to render a service to the entire state.

Fisher probably will have to take assignments on several minor committees when he enters the house. However, once in a great while a new member is fortunate to get placed on a major group in his freshman year in congress. That was the experience of Representative

22 Agricultural Leaders Presented Certificates

Certificates attesting their patriotic service in time of war were presented to 22 victory agricultural leaders yesterday by County Judge Sherman White.

The presentation was made during the national harvest scrap meeting, held at 3 o'clock in the district court room. Those receiving the certificates are community and neighborhood leaders, operating under the communication system set up by the county farm agent's office for efficient participation of farmers in all war projects.

Signatures on the certificates were those of Governor Coke R. Stevenson, T. O. Walton, president of the Agricultural & Mechanical College of Texas, and M. L. Wilson, director of extension, United States department of agriculture.

More than 22 certificates have been received for Gray county leaders, but the 22 were all that were present to receive them yesterday. They were: Gus Greene, R. M. Gibson, Mrs. Forman Stubbs, R. A. Dorsey, Mrs. W. A. Glass, Mrs. J. E. Roberts, B. L. Webb, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Phil Parley, Henry Urbanczyk, Park Brown, E. C. Barrett, Mrs. James A. Hopkins, E. P. Vandenberg, Jack Stephens, Mrs. John R. Spearman, Mrs. W. D. Denton, E. A. Shackleton, Mrs. Joe Lewis, N. M. Kite, W. S. Tolbert, O. S. Epperson.

Miamian Represents Aggies At Chicago

MIAMI, Aug. 20—Wallace L. Locke, freshman last year in Texas A. and M. college and winner in the livestock judging contests among freshmen and chosen to represent his college in the national contest to be held on Lake Michigan near Chicago between August 16 and 30, left last week for Chicago.

He was awarded a scholarship and a free trip to this national event. This scholarship and trip comes as a climax of a year of worthwhile achievement in Texas A. and M. where he won first place in the Little Southwestern. A. and M.'s own show, and named grand champion showman, and eventually led to him being named as outstanding Aggie freshman in the vocational agriculture department. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Locke of Miami, and a graduate of the 1941 high school class here, having received his vocational agriculture training under Prof. Hood G. Wills, now of the Pampa High school faculty.

District Rotary Governor Visits Canadian Club

CANADIAN, Aug. 20—Charles E. Paxton, district governor of Rotary, Sweetwater, was guest of honor at a steak fry Monday night at the White House Country Club on the north side of the Canadian river.

This was in the nature of an assembly meeting for directors and committee chairmen of the local Rotary club with the district governor. Governor Paxton attended the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon and talked to the Rotarians.

Chamber Embarrassed

PRATT, Kas., Aug. 20 (AP)—The chamber of commerce is embarrassed. A jackrabbit loped down Main street, stopped to nibble at grass growing through joints of the concrete walks, then hopped away undisturbed.

New Navy Board Leaves Air Arm Up In Air

By PETER EDSON
Pampa News Washington Correspondent
Checkup on the seven high officers just named to the new general board of the navy reveals that not one of these officers is from the navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, and not one has had training as a naval aviator. Several have commanded naval forces which have had air arms in the command, but none is considered an authority on aviation.

According to naval aviation enthusiasts, this is typical of the representation which aviation has in the top command of the U. S. navy in the predominantly aerial warfare of today. Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, is entitled to wear the pilot's wings. But on the staff of CINCPAC and in the Office of Naval Operations, only about one officer in 12 has come up through naval aviation. Contrast that with the general staff of the army, where one-half of the officers are aviators.

Makeup of the navy's general board may in one manner of speaking be considered unimportant. It is a group of advisers to the secretary of the navy, a kind of board of directors, council of elder statesmen. But the navy regulations prescribe for this board some rather important responsibilities.

Regulations say the board shall be made up of not less than five line officers, none below the rank of captain. A marine general may be named, but nothing is said about an aviator. None of the officers may have other executive or administrative abilities.

NETO POWER
The board shall recommend to the secretary of the navy the number and types of ships and aircraft proper to constitute the fleet, and the building program shall be recommended to congress each year not only for ships and planes but also for naval yards, stations and bases. The duty with regard to aviation is elaborated upon:

"The general board shall consider and recommend to the secretary of the navy the general military characteristics which should be embodied in the design for new service classes (types) of aircraft."

There you have the crux. This is the board that even if it does not originate the designs and organization for the Bureau of Aeronautics, at least has the veto power over such matters as far as making recommendations to the secretary and to congress is concerned.

Who has been appointed to the board? Three full admirals, Hepburn, Hart and Bloch, all of whom were retired and called back to active duty by the war emergency; two rear admirals, Sexton and Rowcliff, of whom the former was retired; two captains, Pence and Mahoney; and the latter is secretary. Only the two captains are under 60. Five of the seven officers are retired, men who may have been considered great stuff back in World War One, but who are now called upon to determine naval policy for the somewhat different World War Two.

"The UNPROBABILITY"
There is another recent instance of how this navy hangs onto its traditions and has a bearing on this subject of reluctance to give the air arm its full and proper recognition. This may be unfair to the extent that the ideas of a lot of people have changed considerably in the last 20 years.

SERIAL STORY LUCKY PENNY

By GLORIA KAYE

A TRIP TO KANSAS
CHAPTER XII
The campaign for an honest city government was a triumph for the Courier. Never had there been such interest in an election. Jim worked endlessly, tirelessly.

Absorbed in the campaign, Jim found little time to check activities on the plateau above Kirktown. Steam shovels were busy now, digging foundations, clearing the land for the ambitious project Charlie Jones had undertaken for Penny.

"Why don't you take a little vacation?" Penny suggested. "You certainly have earned one. Now that the election rush is over, I can handle the paper. You really should take it easy—for your own good."

"I wish I could get back to Kansas," Jim chuckled. "Mom would fill me full of corn I'd cluck like a chicken. And speaking of chicken, Penny, you should taste the ones she fries. Nothing like it in the world!"

"Visit your folks. Forget the paper. You'll be better for it when you come back."

"Penny," Jim said, "I will go back! I want to tell the folks about you. This time I'll go alone. Next time, you're coming with me." He babbed happily, excitedly, about his folks and the scenes of his childhood. Once he had made up his mind, he couldn't bear the delay of packing and waiting for a train.

WAR -- Between The Lines

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles on the human angles of the war.

Nothing makes the patriotic citizen feel quite so worthless as an application blank. I felt fine and healthy and intelligent when I sent for information on the navy's navy. The navy appeals to me. I am a good sailor, I have good health and the will to do. But it takes a lot more than that to make the Waves. The blank wants me to check for information on the navy's navy; a cost-plus pricing system has been developed for goods imported into Alaska. . . . Juries and prisoners may still be transported in chartered buses. . . . 2,902 war production workers were killed in the first half of 1942. . . . Office of Defense Transportation now has control over a fleet of several thousand new buses, which will be used to relieve transport bottlenecks in congested war production areas. . . . Plywood is now being used for lifeboat construction.

Californian Named Texas School Head

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Wichita Daily Times today says it has learned from authoritative sources that Dr. Chauncey D. Leake of the University of California has signed a contract as executive vice president of the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston.

The university board of regents recently dismissed Dean John Spies and stripped titular heads of departments of administrative powers, effective Sept. 1, and it is expected that Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the university, will announce officially within a short time the selection of Dr. Leake, the newspaper says.

The school's governing board created the position of executive vice president at the medical branch, which has been placed on probation by the American Medical Association's council on medical education and hospitals.

Dr. Leake organized the department of pharmacology at the University of California in 1928, and has been connected with the institute since that time.

Born in Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 5, 1896, Leake attended Princeton and the University of Wisconsin and at the latter institution earned his Ph. D. degree in 1923. From 1919 to 1923 he served as physiology instructor in the University of Wisconsin, and from 1923 to 1928 as professor of pharmacology.

Vote Saturday Due To Be Smaller Than In First Primary

A big factor in the outcome of Texas' U. S. senate run-off Saturday will be whether the total vote is large or small.

Political observers opine a big drop from the 983,700 ballots cast in the July 25 primary might be the most important element in swinging the nomination to either James V. Allred or W. Lee O'Daniel.

Should one of several large groups—the Dan Moody supporters, the rural bloc or the old-age pensioners, for instance—abstain from voting, either Allred or O'Daniel might find basic strength weakened seriously, observers predict.

Current speculation is whether a slump in the run-off vote—predicted by Gov. Coke Stevenson and others—would cut most deeply into the strength of Allred or O'Daniel.

Observers generally agree that should a majority of the Moody supporters remain away from the polls, Allred's net loss would be greater than O'Daniel's, since many Moody leaders have publicly swung to the Allred camp and former Gov. Moody has stated he would vote for the ex-federal judge.

Absence of local races in the smaller communities to attract rural voters was cited as a factor weighing against Senator O'Daniel.

Smallest country on the American continents is El Salvador, a land of 13,000 square miles.

Wheeler To Collect 160 Tons Of Scrap

Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, Aug. 20—Shamrock is cooperating with every patriotic citizen of Wheeler county in a campaign to collect iron and steel scrap to be made into implements of war.

The National Harvest of Scrap will come to a climax all over the nation on Saturday, Aug. 29, with a Junk Rally day.

Clarence Zybach of the Wheeler County Farmers Salvage committee, is directing the county campaign, with J. O. Strubling and R. C. Hawk in charge of the Shamrock area.

Other sub-chairmen who will serve in their respective precincts are: Lee Barry, Briscoe; Jack Miller, Moebette; L. Jones, Allison; Jake Tartar, Wheeler; Henry Hink, Kelton, and Dusan Pakan, Pakan.

"Wheeler county's quota has been set at 160 tons, and Wheeler county citizens can be counted on to meet it," said Chairman Zybach.

Political Calendar

For Constable Precinct 1: GEO. HAWTHORNE

U. S. Facing Food Shortage, Says South Carolina Senator

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The United States and the other United Nations are headed straight for an acute food shortage, Chairman Hampton Fulmer (D-S. C.) of the house agriculture committee said today, and nothing is being done about it.

It will come about the end of 1943, the outspoken Carolina farmer predicted in an interview, and "the officials and bureaucrats handling the program won't do anything about it until it smacks them right in the face."

Fulmer said he based his belief on a growing shortage of farm labor and what he described as an increasing tendency to disregard the problems of the farmer.

Meanwhile, the war production board's food requirements committee headed by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard recommended government allocation of meats to butcher shops and other retail outlets to permit equitable distribution of limited supplies.

The plan, the committee reported to WPB, would tend to give every area a fair share and prevent some sections such as those close to meat producing centers and others with high ceilings from obtaining larger portions.

The recommendation resulted from an unprecedented war demand for meats during a seasonal shortage that developed in several sections of the country, particularly in the East.

Vote for JUDGE E. C. NELSON for CHIEF JUSTICE of the COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

Saturday, Aug. 22nd

DOES TRAINING COUNT?
If not, why have schools and colleges? Judge Nelson has had the best literary and legal training our country affords.

DOES EXPERIENCE COUNT?
Should a Chief Justice have had some actual experience as a practicing lawyer? Should he have had some experience before the Court he seeks to preside over? Judge Nelson has had years of experience, both as a practicing lawyer and as a trial judge.

SHOULD REPRESENTATION BE EQUAL?
The Lubbock area already has one of the Judges of this Court; and the Vernon area has one. Isn't it fair for the northern part of the district to continue to have a representative on the Court?

WHO SHOULD CHOOSE THE CHIEF JUSTICE?
The people? Or a group of Lubbock lawyers? Judge Nelson did not ask any group whether he might run for the office; and he has not sought any endorsements. If elected, he will be under no obligations to any such group. He will be able to chart the course of the law fairly for all. Is that what you want? If so,—VOTE FOR JUDGE E. C. NELSON.

Lieutenant Loses Girl To Private

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 20 (AP)—Rivalry between the army's Drew and MacDill fields here has been heightened a bit by this:

A Drew field private struck up an acquaintance with a girl on a Tampa bound bus, found she was headed for Tampa to marry a MacDill field first lieutenant.

In a swift-rolling romance, he won her away from the officer and they were married two days after reaching Tampa.

Meantime, she had failed in her efforts to communicate her change of heart to the lieutenant and he reported her missing and enlisted police aid.

A reporters' check of marriage license records set the lieutenant straight. So he called on the newlyweds, retrieved his engagement ring and withdrew as gracefully as possible.

After all, the winner wasn't a sailor or a marine.
