FDR Demands Powers Bill

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Apparently at the urging of President Roosevelt, congressional leaders decided today to push legislation authorizing suspension of tariff and immigration laws in war emergencies before the next session begins increased Republican strength.

Speaker Rayburn announced after a conference of senate and house leaders the ways and means committee would go ahead Monday with consideration of the bill, introduced in both houses after the President requested emergency powers in a message Nov. 2.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said war department officials would be called to testify Monday morning before an executive session of a subcommittee, but made it plain that unless some compromise could be reached which would eliminate controversy, enactment by this congress was doubtful.

"We are going to see if we can trim this bill down to something we all can agree upon," Doughton told reporters. "If we can't do that, I don't see any chance of getting it through."

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee said it would avoid house action before considering the bill, adding that whether the measure was passed before January depended upon what kind of a bill came out of committee and how soon the house acted.

Much Opposition
Rayburn's announcement of intention to push the measure apparently carried with it abandonment of tentative plans for a Dec. 15 adjournment.

Rayburn disclosed he had discussed the measure with President Roosevelt Thanksgiving day. While he would not comment on the President's attitude, other legislators said they understood Mr. Roosevelt was insisting on immediate consideration.

There were indications that many Republicans and Democrats would be reluctant to support the measure. See F. D. R., PAGE 3

First Training Planes Land On Pampa Field

The first group of advanced training planes assigned to the huge Army Air Force advanced flying school 14 miles east of Pampa was greeted on the flight line at 4:15 p. m. Friday by Lt. Col. Robert C. McBride, director of flying training, a few smiling officers who could tear away from their work for a few minutes, anxious mechanics, and thrilled soldiers.

Lt. Col. Daniel S. Campbell, Commanding officer, was unable to be on hand.

First to land in the 30-mile-an-hour wind was Captain Clifford Nash, flight commander, who taxied his plane to the spot where Lt. Col. McBride was standing with a small group of officers. They shook hands. Waiting mechanics immediately took charge of the plane. Second in command, Captain Olen C. Cook landed shortly after.

Few were on the vast ramp three minutes before the arrival of the planes, which marks an important step toward the beginning of the intensive training program for aviation cadets not yet on the field. But as the planes circled the field, civilian workers craned their necks.

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, said today a campaign for $80,000 additional annual income for the school had been launched among Dallas and North Texas businessmen. He said the draft and declining interest returns on endowment had brought a drop in revenue for the university.

Court Test Of Oil-Water Order Is Plan

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—The railroad commission's order setting up a water-oil ration for the East Texas field was challenged in court today by a group of operators from the west side of the field, who contended the order confiscatory and a violation of the due process clause of the constitution.

An injunction restraining the commission from enforcing the order was sought in 98th district court by the Knowa Operating company and others, and Judge J. D. Moore set a hearing for Dec. 4.

The application for injunction claimed the water-oil ratio set up by the commission order of Nov. 19 violated the marginal well statute and would result for them in a 50 per cent loss of reserve due to the west-east migration of oil in the field.

Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson in a statement said the commission would welcome a court test.

Earlier in the week it had been unofficially indicated that such tests were in the offing. Commission See COURT TEST, Page 3

Mexico Orders Food Control

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 28 (AP)—A government food dictatorship which would establish strict control of prices and distribution of prime food products in Mexico was proposed today in a bill approved by a special subcommittee of the federal planning commission.

The bill would give a government control agency power to regulate sales and purchases by producers, wholesalers and retailers and to supervise distribution and fix both retail and wholesale prices on a scale allowing "a reasonable profit margin."

Germans Blasting Roads, Bridges

ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Germans today were trying to stem the Allied advance in Tunisia by blowing up bridges, railroads and highways after being hurled back into their defense line near Bizerte and Tunis.

The Germans fell back after losing 10 tanks in a futile counter-attack at Tebourba, 15 miles west of Tunis. It was the third such tank loss for the Germans in fights against the British in northern Tunisia. The Nazis were now believed to have retired into the lines ringing the two cities to await the Allied onslaught.

It is significant that the Germans now are definitely on the defensive while at first it was not sure whether they were strong enough for a planned offensive," an Allied spokesman said.

The destruction of four German planes in an attempted raid on Algiers by Allied night fighters was taken as a sign that the British and American air forces were beating down the German air force in the vital fight to control the sky.

Roving Reporter, 'On Leave' In Washington, Visits Ex-Pampan And Your Congressman

BY THE ROVING REPORTER (Archer Fullingim, 35th Batt. Hdqtrs., Co., N.C.T., Davisville, R. I.)
DAVISVILLE, R. L., Camp Endicott, Naval Training Center, Nov. 25—The Roving Reporter of the Pampa News, who is now in the U. S. Navy, last week took in Washington and New York on a seven-day leave, and while in Washington he visited Lt. Dee Clark Blythe of the U. S. Navy, son of Mrs. Lillian Blythe of the Pampa Independent school system, and Congressman Gene Worley, of the 18th Congressional district.

Lt. Blythe has a big job in Washington. He was commissioned before Pearl Harbor as a lieutenant, junior grade, and since then has been promoted to a lieutenant. It would be divulging military secrets to even tell of Lt. Blythe's work, but he is doing his job efficiently and admirably. Dee was graduated from Pampa high school about 1929. He then received degrees from West Texas State college, Canyon, and the University of Missouri school of Journalism. He worked in the editorial departments of newspapers at Pampa, Childress and Clovis, N. M. He was city editor of the Clovis News-Journal for several years, and built up a reputation as a fine photographer. Then he went to Washington, got a civil service job and went through Georgetown University's famous law school. He passed the bar exams in the district of Colum-

Soldiers To Be Taken On City Tour Today

Every once in a while someone pops up with an idea that makes everyone else say:

That's exactly what J. R. Martin has done; he's suggested a plan to show the towns to the soldiers on a motor sight seeing trip. But time is short and it has to be done NOW, this very afternoon, as gasoline rationing goes into effect Tuesday.

Here's what the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, sponsors of the trip, asks you to do: Drive your car to the Tex Evans Buick Co., Inc., 204 N. Ballard. Have it there, ready to go and leave that place at 1:30 p. m. Drive out to the air base, arriving there by 2 o'clock, a half-hour from the time you leave the N. Ballard location.

Arriving at the air base, take aboard your soldier passengers. Then follow the car ahead as the caravan makes a 15-mile circle of the city, starting again from 204 N. Ballard, and driving by Central park, the new high school building, past the Worley hospital, out Alcock and the Berger road where the soldiers can see a part of the vast Pampa oil field.

Over dirt roads the caravan will proceed past the General Atlas Carbon company plant, Cabot Shops, Inc., to U. S. Highway 60, thence east to Tignor, north on Tignor to the Danziger refinery, then come back downtown to the starting point on N. Ballard.

Here the cars with soldiers that wish to remain downtown will stop and unload; those with cars transporting soldiers who wish to get back to the post will drive back to the air base.

Russians Hit Across Don

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW, Nov. 28 (AP)—Giving the enemy no respite, the Red army hurled the last German forces back across the Don river west of Stalingrad today, and wheeled eastward in a mighty drive to smash the Nazi army before the besieged citadel.

By occupying the great Cossack settlement of Kletsakaya on the west bank of the Don, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, the Russians completed the first major part of their early-winter offensive, as German casualties mounted to 108,000 killed and captured.

Woman Killer Is Executed

LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 28 (AP)—Clutching a tiny crucifix symbolic of the Catholic faith with which she had consoled herself, Mrs. Annie Beatrice (Toni Jo) Henry, 26, was executed in the electric chair here at 12:12 p. m. (CWT), today for the cold-blooded murder of a man who had befriended her.

Her last request was that the crucifix be left in her hand when she is buried, probably in Potter's field. No relatives appeared to claim the body of the slim brunette woman from Shreveport, La., who was a prostitute at 13, a drug addict at 16, and a killer at 23.

10,000 Claimed Dead In Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press War Editor

The Russian winter offensive on the central front has struck the Germans with full fury northwest of Moscow, smashing through the Nazi lines in three places, cutting three vital railway lines serving the invaders and hurling the Nazis back to a point less than 90 miles from the old Latvian border.

In a special communique Sunday, the Soviets announced the new offensive, launched in conjunction with their mighty drive to relieve Stalingrad in the south, already had routed five German divisions, including one of tanks, and that 10,000 enemy dead littered the battlefield. Only 400 prisoners were reported taken.

The new offensive in the northwestern area, which was the scene of some of the most bitter fighting last winter, evidently was the one divulged piecemeal by German announcements during the past week, though the Nazis claimed to have repelled all Russian attacks.

The regular Soviet communique placed the fighting between the two important cities of Rzhev, 125 miles northwest of Moscow, and Velikie Luki, 140 miles west of Rzhev. The Germans were said to be counter-attacking all along the front, but the Russians said they were being beaten off with heavy losses.

The drive, which the Russians said began "several days ago," was reported to have cut the railway lines both from Velikie Luki to Nevel and from Velikie Luki to Novo Sokolniki, as well as the line from Rzhev to Vyazma.

Russians Happy
The two breaks in the rail line from Velikie Luki put the Russians west and southwest of that important town, indicating that they might have by-passed it while pursuing the Germans.

More than 300 populated places were declared to have been "liberated" by the victorious Russians. Customarily sober in its announcements, the Russian radio revealed the latest drive with jubilation and singing.

The regular Soviet communique issued a short while later said the defenders of Stalingrad have regained the entire factory district of See 10,000 DEAD, Page 3

More Tires To Be Available

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Southwest regional OPA officials announced today expedited passenger car tire and tube quotas for December to meet needs in the first month of mileage rationing—a plan under which virtually all passenger cars become eligible for needed recapping services or replacement tires.

The quota of passenger tire recapping services for December, however, has been reduced moderately, since large quotas in October and November are believed to have provided recaps for a large portion of the tires in need of them, the officials said.

A quota of 115,630 grade III tires, a new category under the tire rationing regulations, has been set for December. This grade, which includes used tires, recapped tires and new tires made of reclaimed rubber, is for necessary replacements on cars with a mileage ration of 560 miles or less.

Plenty Quail Experts Report

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—A bumper crop of plump blue and bob white quail in West Texas, and an ample supply of the game birds elsewhere ripens this year the same day gasoline rationing becomes effective, leaving most hunters holding an empty bag at home.

William J. Tucker, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission estimated that only 10 per cent of the greatest quail population in many years in the West could be taken, even if hunters had abundant gasoline, new tires and plenty of ammunition.

Quail season opens Tuesday, Dec. 1 and closed Jan. 16, except in some counties where special laws vary the open season.

Faith men of the commission report that native claim there are more quail, both blues and bob whites, in the region extending See QUAIL, Page 3

Back School Pupils Buy $109 Worth Of Bullets For Japs

Under the slogan "bullets for the Japs in the Solomons," the pupils of the Back public school, located on the LeFors route, near McLean, have purchased $109.55 worth of Victory stamps in the past six weeks, with 22 pupils as buyers.

For the next six weeks the students will buy stamps with the idea of supplying the United Nations with ammunition against the Axis in the North African campaign.

Besides buying stamps, the pupils are also purchasing bonds. Buying bonds and thereby qualifying for this term's honor roll are Jimmie Cooper, Teddie Cooper, Darrell Wilson, and Jackie Gross. Jimmie received the four 25-cent stamps for having bought the greatest number of stamps.

Tons of scrap metal and a half-ton of scrap rubber has also been collected by the Back pupils.

W. E. Ballard is principal of the school, and he and Mrs. Ballard are teachers.

Back trustees are J. E. Cubine, president; J. J. Railsback, secretary; and W. R. Ferguson, member.

I HEARD . . .

Question after question asked in the city hall corridor outside the office of the Gray County War Price and Rationing board, as motorists mixed it with filling out applications, for gasoline rationing books, there were 17 persons waiting at one time around the table, and Friday afternoon, 200 kept the place busier than a swing shaft. The "line-up and sign-up" was still underway yesterday at the city hall and at the Lamar building. The great was the crowd that the board at the city hall had to close their office door and move an employee with a desk outside into the hall to get their work done.

Bing Crosby To Give Salute To Lubbock Air School Thursday

South Plains Army Flying school, where numerous men from Pampa and the surrounding area are now stationed, will be spotlighted on a nationwide NBC broadcast from Hollywood Thursday night, December 3, when Bing Crosby and the Kraft Music Hall salute the "Winged Commandos."

At the same time at SPAFS, the big post recreation hall will be dedicated with an elaborate program.

Representatives of SPAFS, one of the world's largest glider pilot training centers, will be in Hollywood to participate in this unusual tribute to the glider pilot and the role he is to play in the United Nations victory.

SPAFS is under command of Col. Norman B. Olsen, former Pampa air base commander, and is one of three such schools in the nation training men in Uncle Sam's large troop-carrying gliders. The other two schools are at Dalhart and Stuttgart, Ark.

Into these schools pour men from basic training schools over the nation.

Varied Services To Be Featured Today At First Baptist

"A Precarious Predicament" is the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. E. Douglas Carver at the First Baptist church this morning at 10:50 o'clock.

Special music at the morning worship hour will include a selection, "Breath on Me" (Edwin Hatch) by a girls quartet.

Those who are deprived of attending the service may hear it broadcast over Radio Station KPDN.

Rev. Carver will teach Everyman's Bible class at 10 o'clock in the club rooms in the city hall.

Tonight a memorial service of the Lord's Supper will be conducted in place of the regular service. Music for the evening will include a duet; "Nailed to the Cross"; "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" by a girls trio; and a special song, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," by the choir.

A fellowship hour for men stationed at the Pampa air base station will follow.

Christmas Shoppers Get Regulations On Wrapping Of Gifts

The real Christmas rush hasn't started yet but Pampa shoppers, whether they buy gifts now or later, are advised by the Dallas regional office of price administration to note the regulations applicable to gift packaging and gift wrapping by retailers.

Where the seller packages or wraps the commodity at or after the time it is sold, or offers to do so, the following rules are applicable:

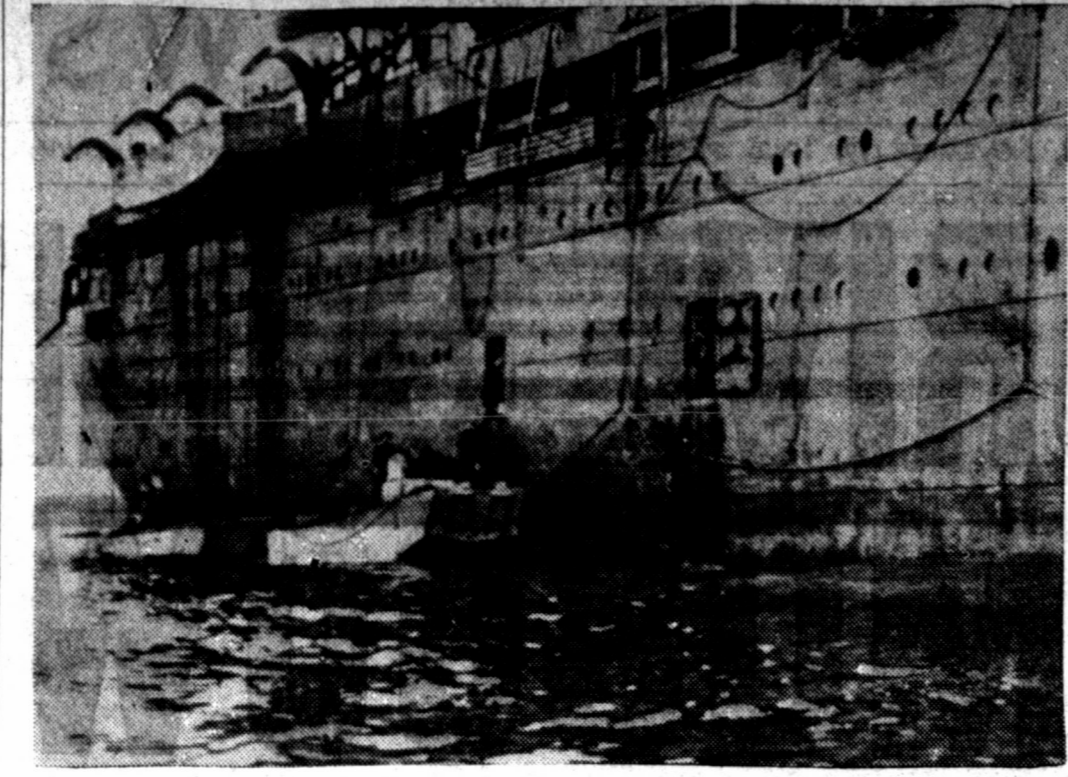

1. Gift packaging or wrapping can always be discontinued by the seller without any reduction in price. The packaging or wrapping is a mere "frill" and not a substantial portion of the consideration.
2. If gift wrapping or packaging was given free or without extra charge during the base period, no charge can be made for it now.
3. Where an extra charge has been made for the packaging or wrapping during the appropriate base period, the charge may still be continued at no higher than its ceiling price if the wrapping or packaging is continued. If the packaging or wrapping is discontinued, the charge must also be discontinued.
4. In cases where the seller had no definite practice with respect to packaging or wrapping during the base period the result depends upon whether he offered the service free or for a charge during the particular selling season next preceding the base period. The offer of the seller made during the next preceding season with respect to packaging or wrapping service will be deemed, in the absence of specific evidence showing a different offer between such last selling season and the end of the base period, to have been in effect during the base period.

7 Intentions Filed In Panhandle Field

Two oil wells and one gas well tested, seven intentions to drill filed, and one revision, summarized the Panhandle oil field picture of the past week.

One of the wells tested was in Gray county, the LeFors Petroleum company's West Bull 2, with a potential of 15 barrels. The other oil well was Skelly's Schater ranch 16 1/2 in Carson county, with a 168 potential.

In Moore county, Phillips brought in their Vanta 1 gasser for 12,500 million cubic feet with rock pressure at 378.

Intentions to drill:

White Deer Raises $3,859 At V-Concert

WHITE DEER, Nov. 28—Sales of Victory bonds and stamps at the Victory concert presented this week under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association reached a total of $3,859.25, of which $203 was in stamps, according to an announcement by W. C. Hight, V. Powers, postmaster, and chairman of the bond drive.

Vernelle Crumpacker and Betty Jane Powers, both grade school pupils, won the prizes of $2.50 in stamps offered by the Parent-Teachers association and the school to the two pupils who sold the most bonds. Vernelle sold the largest number of bonds, 20 in all, for a total of $712.50; and Betty Jane sold bonds totaling the largest amount, $83.75.

The colorful program of patriotic music, based on the theme song, "Marching Along," was presented by the toy symphony, directed by Mrs. Glenn F. Davis; the grade school chorus, directed by Mrs. Roy Reeder; the grade and high bands, directed by Elton Beene; and the high school chorus, directed by Glenn F. Davis. Soloists in the grade school group were Geraldine Hester, Jimmie Kell, Carl Armstrong, and Gilbert Dickens; and in the high school group, Ralph Pauley, James Beck, Bob Musselman, Ann Arwood, and Billy Hest McDowell.

Two Pampa Men Hurt By Train

Two Pampa men, both painters, were injured when their car was in collision with a train backing across a crossing at the edge of Borger on the highway to Pampa at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

They were R. H. Elkins and R. S. Yankirk. Elkins suffered a cut on his forehead, Yankirk a broken collar bone. Both were given emergency treatment at the North Plains hospital, in Borger, and dismissed shortly after being brought by ambulance to the hospital.

The men were returning to Pampa from a day's work of painting buildings of the Huber corporation.

Alleged Draft Evader Held

After the busiest Thanksgiving the department has had in several years, the Pampa police settled back in the groove of what looked like a peaceful week-end late last night.

This year's Thanksgiving produced 17 cases for the police department over Wednesday and Thursday with speeding, intoxication, and disturbance of the peace as the major offenses.

Saturday morning the jail doors were wide open, but one man was held for the FBI in alleged connection with draft evasion.

Fampa's observance of the first wartime Thanksgiving since 1918 was otherwise marked with the community churches Thanksgiving service, special services at three other churches, the send-off party for Gray county soldiers, the Panhandle Amateur football game and the McClellan Boat club dance.

Cut Travel To Minimum, Asks Rail Director

It's no fun to travel now. We all like to travel, but not in overcrowded trains or buses. It is not pleasant to do without travel; but neither is war pleasant. In view of the shortage of facilities there will soon be no pleasure at all in traveling.

This was the keynote today of an appeal by Joseph E. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, asking Pampans, and all other Americans, to limit travel to the barest minimum.

Director Eastman said nationwide gasoline rationing will bring new problems to already heavily burdened rail and bus facilities; that no new railroad passenger cars are being built, and the same nearly true of new buses; railroads are moving over a million troops a month.

He then turned to the problem of a Christmas away from home and pointed out that while it was not a pleasant prospect, we must all remember this is war and war means sacrifice.

Wake Up, America!

"Is the $25,000 Salary Limitation Fair?"

As debated by
Mr. Benjamin Marsh
Executive Secretary of the People's Lobby
Dr. Alfred P. Haake
Celebrated Economist and Lecturer

MR. MARSH OPENS: A total war—the only kind that produces anything but regret—requires parity of sacrifice and socialization of income. The proposed $25,000 salary is fair. It provides for adequate deductions. It doesn't limit income from property, which is the principal source of large incomes. (Income from property has increased 237% since 1932; wages and salaries only 97.4%.)

It is true that such a limitation on salaries should be in advance, since admittedly, some people have made contracts, which would be affected, but the Treasury will unquestionably make allowances for such contracts, which are in the hands of people with large salaries usually have stocks and government bonds, which they can sell the first year of application of such salary limit.

An objection sometimes cited to this salary limit, is that it will freeze the status of people who get large salaries, but don't own large properties.

This can easily be rectified by a progressive capital levy, to equalize the situation.

We have got to pay most of the costs of the war by current taxes, or have a Spanish post-war inflation, which was one of the tragedies starting Hitler on his course.

DR. HAAKE CHALLENGES: If Mr. Marsh really wants parity of sacrifice, why advocate virtual extermination of large incomes while the unprecedented income of war workers remains relatively untouched? This is spite legislation. The whole year's income above $25,000 would finance the war for less than one day.

So far most of the burden of sacrifice has fallen on the well-to-do. To stop inflation and achieve genuine parity of sacrifice taxation must siphon off enough of the enormously increased war payrolls to bring purchasing power into line with stocks of purchasable goods. This would not reduce living standards of the worker and would effectively check inflation.

MR. MARSH REPLIES: People are disgusted with huge profits and salaries of beneficiaries of the war.

The $25,000 salary limit isn't spite, but tactics. No government except a dictatorship would dare levy a 5% Victory tax, with small exemption, without such limit on salaries. This is only the first step to socializing income, and that is the real animus against it.

There must and will be a limit through taxes, if not directly, on all income from whatever source derived, including property, but paying high salaries is a favorite device to escape corporation and excess profits taxes.

Patriotism involves willingness to sacrifice.

DE HAAKE OPENS: Even the Socialist recognizes that compensation should be in proportion to value of performance and in once Communist Russia differentials in pay are even greater than in the United States.

There are men, nearly all self-made, the value of whose services far exceeds $25,000 a year. Regardless of the envy of less able individuals, they cannot, in fairness, be limited arbitrarily to that amount. If we accepted such a limit, as fair, why not make it 15, 10, or even 5 thousand dollars a year? And to be consistent it would then become necessary to scale down all salaries and wages likewise.

It is also unfair to society as a whole. Most of the progress and higher standards of living enjoyed in our country are directly traceable to men who have qualified for more than $25,000 a year. To remove from them the incentive of higher rewards for greater service would destroy the initiative and competition which bring all of us higher standards of living.

Since reward is the symbol of achievement, we dare not refuse the reward if we would retain the achievement itself.

MR. MARSH CHALLENGES: Government underwriting of plant conversion, etc., removes the necessity for large compensation. Patriotism should inspire executives not to be as acquisitive as usual.

The wage ceiling in the armed forces is $50.00, food and clothing for privates, with great service and risk of life.

I favor a ceiling on wages and prices, and a floor under wages, but it isn't value of service today, it is the nation's needs that count. Income is not the real incentive, but helping the nation.

Britain has substantially the $25,000 total income limit. This limit will reduce spending for consumption goods, a war necessity.

DR. HAAKE REPLIES: Mr. Marsh adopts the "sparty line" trick of presenting a quarter truth to prove a point. When referring to England why not give the whole truth—that a married man receiving $1,200 is taxed $320 while here he pays nothing—that there is a moratorium on estate taxes in England while American estates must go under the hammer if owners can't pay the taxes. There is no equality of sacrifice here, the one idea being to increase labor's gains and to deliberately kill the incentive and morale of management—to reward manpower while punishing the brainpower responsible for our miracle of production.

Wanger Making Film About Texas A. & M.

Special To The NEWS
COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 28 (A&M)—Filming of the Walter Wanger Universal picture "We've Never Been Licked" is now under way on the Texas A&M college campus with a location party of over 115 principals, directors, cameramen, technicians, workers and 6,510 Texas Aggie students all busy at work on the feature picture which will tell the story of the spirit of Aggie and the part the college has played in the history of this country.

Richard Quine, who appeared in "My Sister Ellen" plays the lead with Noah Beery, Jr., the supporting star. The feminine lead is played by Anne Gwynne with Martha O'Driscoll supporting. Other important parts are played by William Frawley and Harry Davenport with Edgar Barrier, who played the Polish pilot in "Eagle Squadron," doing the main character role of Nishikawa.

The story was written by Norman Rilly Raine, who also did "Eagle Squadron" for Wanger. Raine was on the campus the past few days making minor changes in the manuscript which is portraying Texas A&M college life as it actually is.

Ruling Issued On War Truck Appeals

Truck operators who have already received their Certificates of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation were reminded Saturday that no appeal be filed until 30 days after the Certificate is received.

"The tires we are trying to save are being burned up all over the region by truck operators rushing in to the district ODT motor transport offices as soon as they get their Certificates," John C. Massenburg, regional motor transport manager for ODT, said. "District offices are working under terrific pressure in issuing all these Certificates for commercial motor vehicles, and everybody is human enough to make an occasional mistake. These are few, however. In most instances, the Certificate has been correctly tailored according to the application filed by the operator."

Appeals may be filed with the ODT district offices of motor transport 30 days after the Certificate of War Necessity has been received by the operator. His appeal must prove clearly, however, that the needs of the war or the maintenance of essential civilian economy require a change in the Certificate.

The appeal must also show records for a period of seven consecutive days within the 30-day period. These records, submitted under oath, must show the origin and destination of each trip, the miles operated on each trip, the total units of freight carried on each trip. The commodity transported and the use to be made of it, and the maximum capacity of the vehicle for that commodity must be shown also.

Mr. Massenburg reminded truck operators who find their mileage allowance cut below their previous operations that the entire program was brought about by a rubber shortage, and that some reduction in mileage must be made to conserve this vital and irreplaceable material. There is no point in Order 21 unless some conservation of tires and equipment is effected, he pointed out.

"Your neighbor and your competitor are in the same boat," Mr. Massenburg said. "Get together with them and work out some way to get your hauling done."

District offices will continue all this week processing and mailing Certificates to all commercial vehicles operators who have filed their applications. Certificates are required for purchase of gasoline, parts or tires beginning December 1.

U. S. Aircraft Hit Jap Base

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—American aircraft, striking heavily at Japanese bases in the northwestern Solomons, were reported by the navy today to have destroyed all buildings in the Munda area of New Georgia island and blasted the Kahili airfield on the island of Bougainville.

Ground operations around American positions on Guadalcanal island were limited to local skirmishes. In a series of these actions our patrols killed 80 Japanese and captured a number of machine guns Friday about six miles west of the American airfield, a communique said.

Two enemy bombers made the third straight night nuisance raid on American positions on the island Friday night. They dropped bombs near the mouth of the Lunga river but caused no damage.

Today's communique, like all others issued in the last two weeks, indicated that the Japanese have been entirely on the defensive, except for nuisance activity, "since their greatest effort at reconquest of the southeastern Solomons was crushed by American air and naval power two weeks ago.

"That they are collecting for another big push, however, is generally accepted in high naval quarters here, and it is this fact that gave special significance to the destructive aerial attacks on Munda and Kahili—bases which the Japs would use in gathering their ships, planes, men and supplies for their next try. Munda, about 180 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, was attacked by U. S. aircraft from that island Nov. 23 and 24.

"All buildings in the vicinity were destroyed," the navy said.

barren steppes, the Red army's plan to hem in and destroy the 300,000 Germans stalled about Stalingrad slowed in its pace, and became less spectacular, but the warmly-clothed Russians proceeded methodically with the task.

By recapturing Kletskaya, which had been in German hands since last August, the Russian avalanche closed an important gap in its curving line and cleared one of the key points defending the Nazis' "escape corridor" out of Stalingrad.

Kletskaya, which dominates the northern side of the Don bend opposite Surovikino, was described as a heap of ruins, with 700 houses destroyed and only seven of its original inhabitants surviving the three-month battle for its possession. The Germans had erected a strong defense system about the city in the form of successive lines of trenches running back one to two miles.

As the Germans thrown back eastward of the Don, saw the giant Russian trap snapping shut and threatening almost momentarily to cut off their line of retreat to the south, they launched repeated counterattacks, but front line dispatches said these were smashed almost at their inception.

Member Olin Culbertson expressed the opinion that the order was discriminatory and would invite "a great deal of litigation."

Defending the plan, Thompson in a statement said today:

"This is a pure conservation and waste prevention order. It will save the East Texas field. It will mean that the East Texas field will produce four to six hundred million barrels more oil. When understood fully by the operators it will be looked upon with great favor. All advances in technology meet with resistance when first started. It was the same when we introduced the principle of a gas-oil ratio in Texas oil producing practice."

James Kilday Is Relieved Of Post

By The Associated Press
AUSTIN, Nov. 28—James Kilday of Houston today was replaced as chief of the Texas railroad commission's important motor transport division to climax a shake-up involving several officials appointed by Jerry Sadler when he was elected to the body.

Commission Member Beauford Jester announced that Wallace Hightower, of McKinney, former Collin county attorney and state senator, would succeed Kilday Dec. 15.

"Our political viewpoints are not reconcilable and I am so informing him in a letter," said Jester, who defeated Kilday and others in the Democratic primary for the post which Sadler had held.

Kilday was the center of a sharp political controversy following the resignation of Sadler to enter the army a few hours before the deadline for filing for a place on the Democratic ticket.

Expresses Hope Of Gas Increases

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—William J. Lawson, chairman of the state government transportation committee and secretary of state, today telegraphed Rubber Director William Jeffers hope that "orders will now go through authorizing local boards to carry out your liberalized plan" for gasoline rationing.

"Press dispatches quote you as saying it is largely up to a local rationing board to use common sense and liberality in granting supplementary gasoline," Lawson said. "OPA rules given to boards provide little or no authority, so the people of this and other states will be greatly appreciative if you carry out statements made publicly by officially directing the OPA to notify local boards of change of policy. So far our regulations are exactly the same as those given to Rhode Island. The chief difficulty here is the basic A books for four gallons, and if you direct that the basic amount shall be eight instead of four gallons this will prevent much hardship here."

204 N. Ballard to the air base, with the caravan, then back to the base, and back to town is 48 miles. It will be 11 miles less for those cars stopping at the N. Ballard location on the return trip, or 37 miles. For the caravan route proper the distance is 15 miles.

Time of the trip is figured at 4 hours, counting from 1:30 p. m., assembling time, to the time a car loaded with soldiers makes the trip to the base, with the caravan, back to the base, then back to town. Time, of course, is less for those cars whose passengers are asked to the N. Ballard location.

"The reason you are unable to come to the base in the first place, is that the soldiers will be at mess at noon and it requires time to feed the contingent stationed there. There are not sufficient buses running in the early afternoon to care for all the men at one time. That's why it is necessary to make the trip out to the base, and in some cases, to return the men to the base."

Need 300 Cars

You won't have to worry over following the route, for Mr. Martin will be driving the guide car, and all the rest will simply follow the car ahead. All will start, travel, and stop at the same time. When you near the army air base east of Pampa an army vehicle will guide the caravan to the point where the soldiers are assembled.

There will be 300 cars needed. Time required for the trip, after leaving the army air base, is 1 1/2 hours.

This will be your last chance to take part in such a hospitable gesture to the soldiers here, for with gasoline rationing drawing near, chances are you won't be making any long trips. Why not mark the last of the care-free gasoline days by using the gasoline in the tank of your car to give a treat to the soldiers?

It will impress them with Pampa's hospitality, and its beauty and resources. Having no cars of their own, the soldiers of duty only get to see downtown Pampa and have no idea of the size of the city and the industries of the vicinity.

Committee for the caravan today, will be L. R. Franks, Dan Williams, Dan Kennedy, W. C. de Cordova, and Mr. Martin.

that city.

The new Soviet success underscored the fact that in every corner of the globe the Axis either was desperately on the run or, at best, was absorbing a beating from superior Allied manpower and equipment. At no point was the enemy on the offensive, either by land or by water.

Gaining momentum as snow piled higher on the steppes, the Red army chewed relentlessly at battered divisions falling back eastward from the Don and reached the final stages of a vast maneuver designed to trap and destroy the entire German army of 300,000 before Stalingrad.

Already the number of Nazi dead and wounded was placed at 118,000 in the nine-day offensive, and eyewitness reports said the staggering amount of valuable equipment abandoned by the Germans attested to the demoralized character of the route. The Nazis' "escape corridor" southwest to Rostov was believed still open, but it was narrowing fast.

Tank Car Substitute

A method for converting ordinary box cars to carry liquid cargoes, such as gasoline, oil, etc., has been offered by a Chicago inventor, Mark J. Fields, as a solution to the tank car shortage.

Fields' invention was demonstrated in the Santa Fe Railway's yards in Chicago before a group of railroad and government officials, who expressed optimism over the idea.

His box car-to-tank car conversion scheme consists of dividing an ordinary box car into four compartments by means of wooden bulkheads. In each compartment, a canvas container, treated on the inside with a DuPont rubber synthetic, Faraprene, is suspended by through the Panhandle to the vicinity of San Angelo and possibly farther south than they have seen in over 35 years.

The hatch this year was 90 per cent of potential capacity, say the Biologists, who have been on the spot observing one of those infrequent but not necessarily rare occurrences in nature when a species after years of relatively unsuccessful breeding seasons, suddenly finds all factors such as rainfall, food supply, cover requirements and others, so favorable for reproduction that the pendulum starts swinging. West Texas quail hit a new low level in 1934, when the hatch was miserably poor. Ever since the hatch has been increasing, until this year it neared its full capacity.

Heavy concentrations in brush and woodlands near ranch headquarters have been reported, one Biologist asserting that flocks of 500 quail, mostly bob whites, were to be found with ease in well-sheltered situations.

office workers peered out of windows, and soldiers dashed out from nowhere. A photographer darted from plane to plane, excitedly snapping pictures, all the while fearing that he would miss some little incident that made up this great event.

Radio Station KPND broadcast an eye-witness account of the planes as they circled the city, preparatory to landing at the air base.

"Just look at those crew chiefs and mechanics!" Lt. Col. McBride was overheard saying to Major W. B. Marschner, executive officer. "They're just like kids with a new toy—thrilled to death. I feel the same way."

Landing one after another with the efficiency known only in the United States Air Force, the planes were soon tied down, and mechanics clambered affectionately over them.

A few more pictures were snapped by the photographer, to be used in the historical story of this great field. Then Lt. Col. McBride and his group of officers drove from the ramp. All except mechanics, already working went back to duty.

A perfect beginning that foretells a perfect ending.

every turn they ask him for advice. Texas and the Panhandle are fortunate in having Judge Jones in Washington. Of course, he is in the background, but he knows the ropes in Washington and few men know them, and the Texas congressmen, including Gene, don't fall to seek his advice and counsel.

Everything that is said at a Texas delegation luncheon is off the record, and they say there has never been a leak, so the R. R. is not going to break a tradition, but he can say that a certain matter presented by former Governor James V. Allred who had flown up from Houston the preceding day, was discussed for a few minutes by various Texas congressmen, and then Sam Rayburn said, "Mr. Chairman (referring to Rep. Thompson of El Paso) by whom the R. R. is) I would suggest that you appoint a committee to handle this matter and that that committee consult with Judge Marvin Jones."

Speaker Rayburn made the suggestion so naturally that I got the impression that it was usual procedure to ask the committee to consult Marvin Jones when similar problems were tackled. Judge Jones loves the Panhandle and he loves Texas and you could just see that he would be all the more anxious to do anything he could for Texas and our great Panhandle country. We should never forget that Marvin has been and is a great friend of the Panhandle and Texas, and there is nothing I like better than for Texans to look him up when they come to Washington.

Another guest of Rep. Worley was Lt. Walker, former professor in the University of Texas law school at Austin. Lt. Walker, U. S. Navy, is stationed at Newport, R. I. He is a great friend and admirer of District Attorney John Hamilton of Matador, former pupil, and he can tell some uproariously funny stories concerning the recreational activities of the Matador prosecutor, who by the way, is a brother of Howard Hamilton, former shop foreman of the Pampa News, who is now employed at the Pantex plant at Amarillo.

Jimmy Allred was given a big hand by the delegation, after he presented his problem. Neither Senator O'Daniel or Senator Connally attended the luncheon that day.

The R. R. however saw both of them in action on the floor of the senate. The R. R. sat in the senate gallery as a guest of "Tex" Fasley of the Associated Press whose signed articles appear in Texas papers, including The Pampa News.

That was the day that Senator McKellar of Tennessee heaped invective and abuse upon Senator Barkley of Kentucky, senate democratic leader. The two senators sit side by side in the senate, that is their desks adjoin, and McKellar with much desk-pounding and finger-shaking expatriated the Kentuckian for issuing a warrant of arrest in order to force the Tennessee to attend a senate session the previous Saturday. Washington observers said that the session was the most entertaining one since Huey Long used to filibuster McKellar and other southern senators were, and probably still are, filibustering against the bill to repeal the poll tax law in the southern states. The day the R. R. was there Senator Russell of Georgia talked for two hours, and McKellar talked for two more. Senator Bibb of Mississippi, barely visible behind a barricade of book and papers piled on his and adjoining desks looked ready to jump up any moment and begin filibustering against repeal of the poll tax. Senator O'Daniel and Senator Connally both were lined up with the filibusters.

I was surprised to hear O'Daniel express opposition to repeal of the poll tax because in his first campaign for governor he made a point of the fact that he did not pay his poll tax, and shouted for repeal of the Texas poll tax law. Senator O'Daniel made only one remark. He asked the senate to bear in mind that such native Texans as Gen. Eisenhower, native of Denison, and

Rate Hearings Are Rescued

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 28 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission has recessed until after Jan. 1 a series of hearings on virtually nationwide freight rate, classifications, George C. McConaughy, Ohio public utilities commissioner, reported today.

Scores of witnesses, mainly traffic specialists and rate statisticians, appeared before the six-member panel during the two-week session here. Previous hearings were conducted at St. Louis and Indianapolis.

The study of freight classifications in the nation's four major rate territories, comprised of the area east of the Rocky mountains, resulted from a petition from the southern governors' conference in 1939, complaining that current rates are discriminatory and retard the south's industrial development.

The date for resumption of the final hearing has not been determined," said McConaughy, "but it will be held at Washington."

After leaving Washington, the R. R. visited in New York and saw that fantastic city of skyscrapers from the top of the house, and the Empire state building. The people there were the friendliest he has ever met, and it is hog heaven for a man who happens to be both tall and from Texas.

COFFEE

Carolina is rumored to have once reminded his south Carolina contemporary, is quite a spell between gulps.

Last shelves stocked up during last week's freeze, there now should be what the office of price administration playfully calls "enough" coffee for everyone—by which it means the aforementioned one pound per five weeks.

However, folks have been urged not to stock up with all the family's coupons at first. It might mess up the distribution system and create temporary local shortages here and there.

So just buy what you need — don't be a drip and dry up your neighbor's dripolator. Besides, coffee isn't everything. (Who said that?) But was beside the bum who forgets himself on Monday and mumbles that old pre-war plea: "Hey, bud — how about a cuppa coffee?"

OPA Sels Down Rules On Beef Slaughtering

Farmers of Gray and other counties who slaughter animals for their own consumption are not subject to the OPA meat restriction order of October 1, but every person in the U. Animals covered by the order are cattle, sheep, lambs and hogs. Delivery of meat from these animals to civilians is limited so that there shall be enough for the fighting forces of the United States and its allies.

Why A Fire Chief May Blow-Up

It's a hot one, but doubtless a just one, said Fire Chief Ben White at the telephone. He has picked up the receiver and heard a timid voice say: "Is this the fire station?" "Yes," said the chief eagerly. "Well," continued the voice, "I've put in some new plants." "Where's the fire?" snapped the chief. "And some of these new plants are very expensive," the voice rejoined. "Look here," said the chief, "you want the flower shop?" "No, I don't," said the voice, "I was coming to that in a minute. My neighbor's house is on fire, and I don't want your firemen treading all over my garden when they get here."

British Sink 9 Axis Vessels

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Nine more Axis supply ships, including a tank carrier, have been sunk in the Mediterranean by British submarines fighting attempts to rush men and provisions to German and Italian troops now forced back within 15 miles of Tunis. Announcement of this destruction of Axis ships and supplies urgently needed by the Nazi defenders of Tunis and Bizerte came from the British Admiralty at the same time enemy sources described the mounting scale of the Allied assault on the North Africa, siege ports. In addition to the nine cargo vessels sunk, the British reported they had damaged three other supply ships and an Italian destroyer of the Eryone class that was escorting the relief convoy. The date of the sinking was not given. Among the ships sunk was a large twin-tunnelled passenger liner which was intercepted off the coast of Sicily. Another was a small tanker laden with benzene. A second tanker which previously had been damaged by aircraft was found burning and was sunk by torpedoes. The Admiralty said. The tank-landing craft, of medium size, might have been trying to reinforce Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps at El Achella. It was torpedoed off the coast of North Africa near Tripoli and burned for 24 hours before sinking. Others of the sunken ships were loaded with food stores.

Weather On Way Down

Keeping up the cold snap that started Thanksgiving day, the thermometer just wouldn't stop the down-beat and slumped from a high of 41 degrees to below 30 last night. It looked as though old man winter was here in earnest when the mercury stayed down in the lower brackets all day Saturday. To reinforce Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps at El Achella, it was torpedoed off the coast of North Africa near Tripoli and burned for 24 hours before sinking. Others of the sunken ships were loaded with food stores.

Two in Rail Collision

CHILDRESS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Two train crewmen were killed and between 50 and 60 passengers injured at least a half dozen seriously, when a motor-driven passenger train of the Fort Worth & Denver South Plains line collided with a main-line Fort Worth & Denver freight train 12 miles west of here this afternoon. The dead: A. V. Shepard, about 50, of Childress, brakeman. Bruce Hendrixson, about 40, of Lubbock, mail clerk. Word was received recently from Pvt. Bonham C. Lawson that he is now stationed overseas. He went into the army in February, 1942 and received his basic training at Camp Wolters. He is in an infantry division. Private Lawson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lawson of Pampa. For the past few years he has made his home with his brother, J. E. Lawson, and his uncle F. S. Parker, both of Miami.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—The stock market today finished its third consecutive declining week with peace issues providing the main buying interest. Leaders drifted apathetically over a slightly lower close. The modified Price average of 60 stocks was off one-tenth of a point at 89.8 and on the week showed a net loss of three-tenths of a point. The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 stocks was off 1/8 point at 229 and on the week showed a net loss of one-tenth of a point. A 25-cent dividend, first since May, 1932; Sears, Roebuck, First-Columbia, Coca-Cola, Western Airlines, and Pan American Airways. On the losing end were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, American Telephone and Telegraph, Kennecott, American Can, Allied Chemical and Texas Co. Bonds were as spotty as stocks. At Chicago wheat was down 1/4 to 1 1/2, and corn a bushel, corn ahead 1/4 to 1/2 and hogs steady. Cotton contracted 10 to 70 cents a bale.

French Sub At Barcelona

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—An escaping French submarine arrived in Barcelona today as the lone known survivor of the home fleet at Toulon which was destroyed, according to a communique broadcast from Vichy tonight, on instructions issued at the time of the Armistice of June, 1940.

There was no detail on the instructions, but it was assumed that they were probably meant to be put in operation when and if the Germans breached the Armistice terms, as they did in overstepping the demarcation line last Nov. 11 and in grabbing for the Armistice-bound fleet yesterday.

Admiral Jean Darlan issued a proclamation in Algiers declaring that all the French fleet at Toulon had been "sunk or scuttled," and this was officially termed "welcome news" at Allied headquarters in North Africa. But hope was held out that some of the units got away, as did the submarines at Barcelona, and would join the Allies.

Lieut.-Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters still lacked official confirmation of the destruction of the fleet, but censored French newspapers at Algiers, without giving their sources of information, published a list of all capital ships at Toulon as destroyed. The only ships not listed were some smaller craft and submarines.

Has 48 Hours
At Barcelona, the escaped submarine was given the customary hospitality of the port for 48 hours during which she could take on fuel and supplies sufficient for her to reach the Allies in Africa.

Under international law, a belligerent warship must leave a neutral port within 48 hours of arrival or submit to internment.

The arrival time was fixed by the Spanish authorities at 1:30 p. m., meaning the submarine must be clear of Barcelona early Monday afternoon.

Admiral Jean Darlan, in Algiers, who had appealed to his old fleet to join him, broadcast a new plea for any fugitives from the Germans to come to the Allies in Africa.

The Axis yesterday reported that two submarines had escaped from Toulon and that a third struck a mine dropped from a German warplane. Unconfirmed reports said some other small warships, such as destroyers, might have gotten away, too.

In the Toulon area, the Germans were reported talking punitive measures against the French who held out against the Axis to the last and blew up their ships in the faces of the occupying Axis troops.

Defense Groups Will Take Part

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson announced today that many local defense organizations over the state plan practice drills simultaneously with the statewide test of civilian air raid warning communications Dec. 7.

Sometime during daylight hours that date, Army information centers at Houston and San Antonio will give a series of test calls to each of the 23 district warning centers. These centers, under the direction of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will send the warnings to 100 sub-district centers from which they will be transmitted to approximately 900 local control centers.

Umbrellas Will Be Hard To Get, But Easier To Lose

By ANN FRANCE WILSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The perennial umbrella-loser is going to be out of luck if the war doesn't end before existing stocks of umbrellas are used up. There will be a WPB order soon curtailing production of umbrellas to a third of last year's output.

Umbrellas will be simplified, too. There will be different sizes for men and women, but otherwise they'll be uniform in size, shape and weight. So telling your own umbrellas from the new look-alikes is going to be quite a trick.

GAS "Bottleneck" Causes Action
FORT WORTH, Nov. 28 (AP)—Texas OPA Director Mark McGee issued emergency instructions today to all county war price and rationing boards in Texas, designed to relieve a "bottleneck" in the issuance of gasoline ration books in time for the start of mileage rationing next Tuesday.

BUY VICTORY BONDS
By telephone and telegram he advised them: "If you can not process all applications for transport, fleet and official rationing by December 1, please see that all such applicants in your county are advised immediately by radio and newspaper that pending the issuance of their ration books, such applicants may obtain necessary gasoline by signing OPA form 4-555 at any filling station."

McGee also instructed the boards to advise all filling stations that where the proper OPA form is not available, needy truck operators and operators of fleets of passenger cars can obtain gasoline by signing their names to any sheet of paper on which is stated the license number of motor vehicle and the amount of gasoline obtained for it.

Will Oppose Refund Repeal

Vital Information

A provision for granting temporary transport rations of gasoline to trucks, buses, taxis and other commercial vehicles for which ODT certificates of war necessity have not been issued was announced by OPA. Any gallonage provided through a temporary ration will later be deducted from the allowance provided on the ODT certificate.

Persons who do not have copies of War Ration Book 1 were notified by OPA that they must apply for the book by December 15 at their local war price and rationing boards. Ration Book 1 will be used for coffee rationing to consumers, beginning November 29. In addition, Ration Book 1 must be presented to local boards around the first of the year in order to receive War Ration Book 2. Local boards have received instructions to examine carefully those who claim never to have applied for Book 1.

Can you guess the Answers?

A QUICK QUIZ FOR THE PEOPLE WHO ARE WORKING HARDER BECAUSE OF THE WAR!

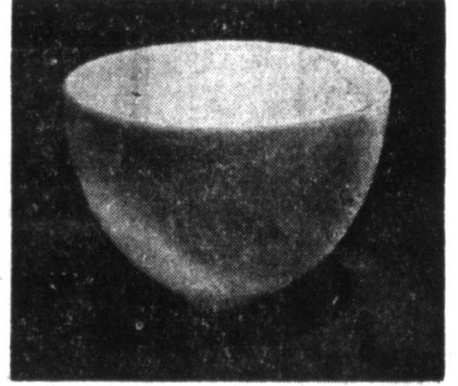

1 This happens to be (A) a firebrick, (B) a whetstone, (C) a method of getting more light from existing lamps or fixtures.

2 There's a clue here which shows whether this young lady is (A) playing peekaboo, (B) just waking up, (C) suffering from eyestrain.

3 Here we have (A) a raindrop magnified 150 times, (B) method of making reading or studying easier, (C) glass baking dish.

4 This is (A) a mixing bowl, (B) part of new all-time glass automobile headlamp, (C) device for removing glare from reading lamps, (D) eye cup.

Check your score with these right answers!

1 (C) It's a cake of soap! Dust and dirt build up on bulbs and reflectors almost before you know it! Soap and water can often double the light you get from the same current.

4 (C) An IES Better Sight Lamp Reflector—the glass or plastic bowl which has revolutionized lighting in millions of homes by providing abundant light without annoying glare.

2 (C) The clue, if you look closely, is the thimble on her finger. She's suffering from eyestrain because she's been doing her mending and sewing in poor light.

MORAL: DON'T BE A LIGHTWASTER!
Eyesight and electricity are vital to the war effort. Conserve both! When you read, work or study, have enough light to guard against eyestrain—but don't waste it! When you need bulbs, buy carefully. Get the right sizes! They'll help you avoid being a lightwaster!

3 (B) An eyeglass lens. Symbolic of the important part eyes must play in winning the war. If you're using your eyes longer and harder these days, have them examined.

THE PAMPA NEWS

JUST BETWEEN US GIRLS

By JOHNNIE DAVIS

One of the biggest mistakes you can make today is to worry about the mistakes you made yesterday.

With the arrival of December on Tuesday, Pampans will become more aware that there are fewer shopping days before Christmas than they thought. Each day that Christmas shopping is postponed, the chance of obtaining what you're looking for will be less. Because of general wartime conditions, no one should have to be urged to "shop early for Christmas." Pampa women might help relieve the shopping situation this month by doing buying before five o'clock in the afternoon since working men and women have only the hour between 5 and 6 to purchase their Christmas gifts.

Miss Mary Margaret Gribbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gribbon, 1206 Mary Ellen, was recently elected to give the tree planting address at Saint Mary college, Xavier, Kansas. A senior, she was elected to this honor by the student activities board of the college, who meet annually to choose a girl to represent the student body on Founders Day. Founders Day marks the 84th anniversary of the Sisters of Charity of Leavenworth and each year the student group presents them with a tree in memory of their pioneer sisters. This year, the tree, a white birch, will be planted in front of the new Motherhouse on the south campus. A prominent student about the campus, Miss Gribbon is chairman of the social service and defense committee of the Sodality. She is an education major and will be graduated the last of May.

You'll never develop eye trouble by looking at the bright side.

Another newcomer who has arrived in Pampa to make her home permanently is Mrs. Carl J. Wright of Staten Island, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Wright soon will move into the H. W. Waddell home, 1229 Christine street, which they have purchased, but at present they are residing at the hotel. Mrs. Wright, whose executive talent will be appreciated at local club women, was a member of the state board of directors of Camp Fire Girls and several similar organizations in New York. Mr. Wright is vice-president and general manager of General Atlas Carbon division, whose New York offices recently were moved to Pampa.

Katherine Reynolds has gone to Stamford to join her husband, Burton, or "Topsy," as he is better known. When Topsy left Pampa, Katherine planned to remain here for some time but by the end of the first week, she was anxious to join her husband.

Luxuries are the things that make people go without necessities.

For the first time in several years, there is not a single member of the W. D. Price family of Pampa among the list of candidates for Laventana beauty honors at Texas Technological college at Lubbock. Mary Price, who is now Mrs. Bob Patterson-Martin Price, who is Mrs. Vestie Smith; and Harriett Price, all are former Laventana beauties.

"Think twice before you speak" may be good advice, but usually it enables the other fellow to beat you to the draw and monopolize the conversation.

The two happiest looking young matrons in town last week were Mrs. Roy Kay and Mrs. Everett Gray, whose husbands were among the Pampa men stationed at the local flying school base.

What a world! Optimists haven't any money and pessimists won't lend us any!

It takes more than a linguist to teach the Red Cross home nursing course to Mexican women at El Paso, Mrs. Violet Cooper, home nursing instructor, has learned. Mrs. Cooper, in addition to having to speak in Spanish, also found it necessary to break down a number of superstitions that her class had with regard to health and sickness.

Young Shirley Ann Jordan observed her eighth birthday recently when she had the choice between the usual birthday party and a winter roast, she chose the outdoor celebration. But Shirley was rather disappointed when her mother, Mrs. Rufe Jordan, didn't get to bake a birthday cake because she was asked to assist with the registration for gas rationing. This was the first time Shirley has had a birthday without a cake.

The American coffee-lover, beginning with breakfast this morning, must face the choice of a cup of coffee, but he will be far better off than the peoples overseas. While Americans may buy a pound every five weeks under rationing, or about 32 ounces a week, of the finest product of Latin-America, the average European is hard pressed to find any coffee at all at any price in this fourth winter of the war.

In Belgium as of June 1, 1942, according to data compiled by the government, coffee, tea and cocoa were not to be had at any price in the legitimate market but the coffee-lover might still manage to find a little in the cupped hands of a black marketeer. In occupied France last summer you might have achieved three cups of real coffee if you knew where to find it, or seven to eight cups of unpalatable "coffee mixture." In the Netherlands, those who could afford it and could find it, might drink as many as 20 cups per month of coffee, tea, cocoa or substitutes. The average Briton, no great coffee-lover, was down to a few cups a month but he was comparatively well-fortified with tea.

Germany, draining off the surplus from the conquered lands, was drinking about 25 cups of coffee, tea and cocoa per capita, but little of it was genuine. Italy does not ration these beverages but they are known to be so scarce as to make rationing pointless. Real coffee is reserved for the army and hospital patients. The same is true of Hungary and Bulgaria. Greece, Poland and Yugoslavia had literally no coffee, tea or cocoa at all. It should be borne in mind that above figures are rational, and that in many countries they are merely grim jokes since supplies are non-existent.

Among those whose names have been associated with the activities of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church is Mrs. W. Purviance. When officers for the new year were elected last week Mrs. Purviance was named president to succeed Mrs. H. H. Boynton. As part of the W. S. C. S. program, Mrs. Boynton read the following poem on Thanksgiving. Even though the holiday has past, thoughts suggested in the poem are worth remembering.

Not for the plenty, the wealth, or the food,
Not for the comfort or ease,
Not for the blessings alone called 'good,'
My thanks is for more than these.

I'm grateful that there is enough, King Lord,
Enough and a passion to share;
I'm thankful for the strength and the heart, Dear Lord,
The heart with a love to care!

One of the most individual houses in town is that owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanna, who are just about to complete the remodeling work. The most unique feature of the house is the round, rather than square or oblong, living room. Adding to the individuality of the home are numerous beautiful paintings and hand-painted vases done by relatives of Mrs. Hanna.

Brooding over troubles only results in hatching out a new batch of 'em.

When events start happening in Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Burton's family, they happen all at once. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Burton received word that their son, John C. Burton, had been commissioned as a captain in the Army Air Corps at Randolph field. In September, Captain Burton received his flight commander appointment. On the same day that the Burtons heard of their son's promotion, their daughter telephoned from Harrisburg, and they received word that a nephew, who has been in the hospital in Honolulu, arrived in the United States.

Clothing and other supplies sent to needy Britons by the American Red Cross were inspected in London by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as she made her tour of war-torn England. Accompanied by Mrs. Winston Churchill and Lady Reading, director of the Women's Volunteer service, Mrs. Roosevelt visited three warehouses where she saw thousands of bundles destined for persons who lose their belongings through German air raids. A batch of the clothing was part of the shipment of 6,000,000 garments sent to England by the American Red Cross for distribution to civilian air-raid victims by the Women's Voluntary services. Many of the garments inspected by Mrs. Roosevelt are for children, and the First Lady read many little notes which American children had attached to the gifts.

Mrs. Roosevelt visited every floor of the warehouses, meeting the head of each department. Unable to keep pace with her, Mrs. Churchill finally sat down on the stairs and admitted that "Mrs. Roosevelt is too good for me."

"She is a wonderful woman," the wife of the British prime minister added. "While in London, Mrs. Roosevelt met many victims of German bombing raids, some of whom expressed their appreciation for the supplies sent by the Red Cross."

Miss Iona Hale Becomes Bride Of Noble Lane Here

Mrs. Roberts To Review Werfel Novel Tomorrow

Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the city club rooms, Mrs. Fred Roberts will review Franz Werfel's stirring novel, "The Song of Bernadette." This novel is the very real story of Bernadette Soubirous, recently declared a saint by the Catholic church, who performed miracles and healings at Lourdes, France, just 80 years ago.

One day while gathering firewood in one of the deserted grottoes, Bernadette saw the Lady, white of stature and blue of gown, who smiled at her and beckoned her to come nearer. To Bernadette she was utterly real. "Drink from the spring," the Lady said, but there was no spring. The next day a spring had appeared. For 15 days, obeying Bernadette came to the grotto, knelt in front of the lady, washed her hands, and drank of the water. By that time the Lady had spoken further to her, and hundreds were watching the child.

To her, as Werfel succeeds so admirably in telling, there was something nothing miraculous in the happenings. She had merely seen the Lady, and had obeyed her orders because she was the most beautiful thing she had ever seen and because it made her blissfully happy to be with her. She was interrogated again and again about what the Lady had said to her.

The clergy, it must be noted, were not easily convinced of the miracles of the grotto. But while they continued to examine and to question, diseased and suffering souls were making pilgrimages to drink of the spring that had healed so many.

The bulk of the novel describes this battle waged against Bernadette. Werfel devotes many chapters to a small admission will be charged for this review, to which the public is invited.

Couple At Home In Pampa After Week-End Trip

In an impressive ceremony solemnized Thanksgiving morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Iona Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hale of McLean, became the bride of Noble Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lane, 1208 North Russell street.

The double ring service was read in the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. E. Douglas Carver, of the First Baptist church.

The bride was attractive in a black frock fashioned with a fitted bodice, small peplum and lace trim. Her hat and other accessories were in black. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

Attending Miss Hale as matron of honor was Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, who wore a fur-trimmed blue suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

W. L. Davis, Jr., served as best man.

Present for the ceremony were Mrs. Hale and Mrs. Lane, mothers of the bride and bridegroom. Both wore corsages of gardenias. Mrs. Hale was dressed in black with matching accessories and Mrs. Lane wore brown with green accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Silver wedding bells arranged on a reflector encircled in silver metallic leaves decorated the lace covered table which was lighted with pink tapers. Mrs. Kermit Lawson, sister of the bridegroom, poured coffee which was served with small sandwiches, and fruit cake.

Attending the reception were the bridegroom's parents, the bride's mother, Mr. Lawson and daughter, Kay; Don Lane, brother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, and W. L. Davis, Jr.

Following a short trip, the couple is at home at 212 North Star-weather street.

Mrs. Lane was graduated from McLean High school and from Wayland junior college at Flatview. She is employed in the local office of the Texas Railroad commission.

Mr. Lane was graduated from Pampa High school where he was

First Comfort Kit Shipment Sent By Local Red Cross

The first shipment of 150 comfort kits was made Saturday from the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Contents of comfort kits include a small soap box and soap, a package of cigarettes, stationary, a shoe polishing cloth, pencil, a deck of playing cards, a pair of tan shoe-laces, a water-proof match box, a package of razor blades, a pocket-size edition of a popular novel, sewing case, and a package of chewing gum.

The kits are distributed to members of the armed forces embarking for foreign duty.

Comfort kits were also distributed recently to survivors of the United States cruisers, Astoria, Vincennes, and Quincy. The supplies were doubly important because the men had lost all their personal possessions and could not obtain any of these articles.

Betty Ann Culbertson, Margaret Burton, and Virginia Ipe West packed the comfort kits Friday under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Farrah, chairman, and Mrs. Don Hurst, co-chairman.

The quota of comfort kits for the local Red Cross chapter from September to April is 400. One hundred and fifty of that number have now been shipped.

The Garden club still leads in the number of comfort kits pledged with a quota of 80 for the year.

The Rebekah lodge has pledged 59 kits, and leads other lodges in the number pledged.

Delta Kappa Gamma leads the Greek letter sororities with a pledge of 37. Among the young girls' social clubs, the Kit Kats lead with 24 comfort kits promised.

The First Christian Women's council heads church groups with a total of 48 kits pledged.

Clubs and individuals who have agreed to pay the necessary $1.00 for each comfort kit are: High School P. T. A., 15; B. G. K. club, 10; American Association of University Women, 8; Beta Sigma Phi, 8; Business and Professional Women's club, 8; Delta Kappa Gamma, 37; Sub Deb club, 8; Kit Kat Club, 24; La Rosa sorority, 9; Sigma Tau, 18; Pythian Sisters of Temple 41; Order of Eastern Star, 10; Auxiliary of Doherty Men's Fraternity of Cities Service Co., 4; Civic Culture club, 9; Wilcox Sewing club, 8; Entre Nous, 11; Varietas club, 16; Junior Art and Civics club of LeFors, 40; Holy Souls P. Cookies, perennial favorite of sweet-toothed America, this year assume new importance as possible Christmas gifts for the boys in camps, and for friends and neighbors wherever they may be. So let's brush up on our cookie facts in two short and tested lessons.
Stene Jar Molasses Cookies (Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies)
Two and one-half cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons combination baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter or other shortening, 1/2 teaspoon soda.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and ginger, and sift again. Heat molasses, remove from fire, add shortening and soda. Add gradually, mixing well. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll very thin on lightly floured board. Cut with floured 2 1/2 inch cutter, or fancy cutter. Bake on greased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Remove from pan carefully. Cool store in cooky jar.

All over America this year high school newspapers are playing an increasingly important role in aiding the nation to achieve its war aims here on the home front. The Little Harvester has joined the other schools of America with Victory our goal. Four things we try to do (1) to serve the school and community effectively, (2) to sway student opinion, (3) to salvage for the war effort, (4) and to strengthen national morale. This is the policy of all, or most, of the school papers of America. We serve the school and the community by cooperating with the national and local agencies to advance the war aims of the country by educating and uniting American youth for Victory on the home front. By reporting all school news accurately, thoroughly, and regularly we keep students informed as to what war work they may participate in. Priority is given to stamp, scrap, salvage drives and, similar activities. Stamp and bond drives are urged not only through the news columns, but in the editorials. Through our editorials we try to influence student thought and action constructively by supporting the various drives and activities covered in the news columns, advising students to take education seriously while doing their share of civilian defense work, and by interpreting new policies and projects undertaken because of the war. As one of our pre-war activities we try to solve normal school problems. Discussing the war all the, however, tends to lower the school morale; therefore the lighter aspects of school life are touched upon in feature stories of humorous incidents around school. But even in the "gossip" column, slogans for the purchase of war stamps and backing other drives are inserted. Our high school paper, after all, plays only a minor part in the war effort, but it is our way of doing our bit to help preserve the democratic standards of the American way of life and all they stand for.

We, the Little Harvester staff, take this opportunity to show ourselves to the public. Our staff consists of six seniors and five junior. Three of us are not pictured above. They are Georgia Reeve, Scott Rafferty and Frank Friauf. Each Wednesday afternoon we meet with the purpose of writing and editing our page. To be a member of this staff a student must have a semester of journalism and show interest and ability. The editor is chosen by the sponsor, Miss Margaret Tomberlin, or elected by the staff. Like Walter Williams, author of the journalists creed, we believe in the profession of journalism, in accuracy, fairness, thorough coverage of the news, and activity. Most of the high school is represented at staff meeting. The most recent activity of the staff is the broadcast each Friday at five o'clock. In High school a student may take only one year of journalism and receive credit for it. This year as in past years it has been a practice to have as few sophomores as possible on the staff in that we have a better staff as the experience mounts. Although the class of mostly sophomores helps edit the page and makes worthy contributions of material. Our staff in the future may not all become reporters but we shall value our past work. The necessary work in a finished paper begins with gathering the news, arranging it into the proper form, copy reading, proof reading, into the presses, and into the home. This involves many more people than our staff. To the editorial, advertising, and mechanical departments we extend our appreciation for their cooperation. In past years the Little Harvester staff has been larger, but many more papers have been edited since the staff decreased. The high school paper is a member of the Panhandle High School Press Association and the West Texas State Press Clinic. It has had several staff members to become officers in these organizations.

Coffee Goes On Rationing List

From the palm trees in the lower Rio Grande to "The Pass" in the Upper Valley, from metropolitan Houston to old Tascosa, there was melancholy in Texas today for coffee joined the rationed list. Coffee, the favorite Texas drink, enjoyed by all Texans whether the temperature is 100 degrees in the shade or 10 below zero, has been taken off the "fresh and easy" way of Texas life.

Beginning at midnight Saturday, Texas and other American coffee drinkers were forced to cut their consumption 50 per cent under nationwide rationing. They were cheered, however, by the possibility that the coffee they do without, about one cup per day, will be warming the bones of an American pilot over New Guinea or cheering the spirits of a soldier in the North African desert.

Pampa Sailor Eager For Mail From Home

Edward Lee McCormick, a former Pampa, now in the 55th battalion, Camp E, Davisville, R. I., is eager for letters from friends he used to know here.

In a letter to The News, the sailor asks that his address be published so his friends can know where to write him.

"Hello, folks at home. How is everything back there? Is Pampa a prosperous and booming city by now? Is Archer the Roving Reporter, doing well in the navy now?"

"It sure is cold up here in Davisville. It is only a mile to the edge of the Atlantic.

"This sure is a large camp up here. It started from an old C. C. C. camp. Now it covers four square miles of ground. In four months it has grown from a few hundred Sea Bees to a camp of 27,000 fighting sailors, and construction workers plus several hundred officers.

"The first thing we learn here is to take orders from our superiors. No matter how hard that may be for you to do you will soon become accustomed to it here, or else you eat bread and water and look out through the bars.

"We had a practice air raid drill here last night. The air vibrated with the dull and deadly sound of the raid sirens. As I stood in the doorway of my barracks, I could see the tracer flares as they shot them high in the air with trench mortars. Bombs were shot off, timed to explode in the air."

"I am a long way from home and am very lonely. I would like to receive letters from many of you. Please write me."

T-B Cross To Go On Sale December 19

Sale of bangles, the celluloid double-barred cross of the National Tuberculosis association, will be started on December 19 through parent-teacher associations over Gray county, directed by Mrs. Roy Holt.

Proceeds of the bangle sale, as well as from the sale of Christmas seals, go into the annual fund collected by the Gray County Tuberculosis association, for the correction and cure of tubercular conditions, payment of hospital fees for tubercular patients from Gray county, and related activities.

Through the mail last week went thousands of letters from the county association containing the annual appeal and sheets of Christmas seals, which sell at $1 a sheet, were:

E. J. Hanna, L. C. McConnell, Veri Hagaman, Ola Gregory, John W. Prescott, Frank H. Yealy, Vance Rhea, Bob McCoy, Minnie F. Long, Mrs. Jewel Seeds, Albert Combs, Carl E. Anderson, J. E. Yoder, J. A. Meek, Sherman White, Dick Walker, Diamond Shop, Charlie Thut, and E. B. Emerson, all of Pampa, and J. W. Angle of Groom.

Whipping cream disappeared from the American scene with issuance by WPB of an order prohibiting dairy producers from distributing whipping cream or any cream having a milk fat content in excess of 19 per cent. The order was recommended by the Food Requirements committee to conserve fluid milk for consumer use and for the manufacture of dried whole milk, cheese, and some other manufactured dairy products. Coffee cream is not affected.

Patriotic And Folk Songs On Program

Polk and patriotic songs, as well as religious selections, will be sung when the district fifth Sunday community sing is held at Harrah Methodist church, 709 Barnes, today.

The Rev. E. L. Nangle, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. After the congregation has eaten lunch, the singing will begin in the early afternoon.

Everyone, especially soldiers, are invited to attend. All are to bring their own lunch.

Soldiers will be given a share on the program, James Miller, secretary of the sing, announced Saturday.

It Was All Too Exciting While It Lasted, But Bomber Didn't Crash

Somebody got an army bomber mixed up with a navy trainer. Along with that, they had several soldiers killed.

It was lots of excitement, but it just didn't happen. What did happen was an amended out of the ordinary than an amended OPA order, something else to be rationed, or "boy meets girl."

A navy trainer was forced to land at Codman 16 miles northeast of Pampa yesterday afternoon. It landed safely. No one was hurt. Gasoline was obtained, for even planes won't run without it. The plane resumed its journey.

Then someone told someone who told someone else and a neighboring city became all agog, and that "agoginess" caused more than a dozen telephone calls in Pampa to be placed in rapid order.

First call revealed that ambulances guided by a plane were out trying to locate the "crash." The last call, late last night, came from Charles A. Ballard, of the Texas Highway patrol. With his fellow patrolman, W. J. White, the state policeman had been in Canadish yesterday afternoon. They heard of the incident and drove "past the scene of the purported 'crash.'"

At that time the plane was gone. Mr. Ballard's call was in response to one made earlier yesterday for any information he might have on the plane.

The "crash" provided the inquirer with an insight into the "telephone voices" of several at the Pampa air base, all the way from the doubtless youthful, and certainly obliging, private who answered in a most cordial tone, "454th base headquarters and air base squadron, Private So-and-So speaking," to the just as obliging but staccato voiced adjutant, who thinks faster than a Spitfire file and talks at a speed double that.

"Anybody ready with the $64 runway?"

Rancher Complains Of Rodent Trouble

Been bothered by rats? One Gray county rancher apparently has been the object of "total war" from rodents.

He wrote to County Agent Glenn T. Hackney asking when it would be possible to put on a rat eradication campaign as was being done in other counties.

In his letter he said "rats were carrying off Gray county" and if he couldn't kill them soon, he would use them for "farm power" in the spring.

Vaccination To Be Compulsory At Tech

LUBBOCK, Nov. 28—Smallpox vaccinations for all students and faculty of Texas Technological College will be compulsory the second semester, officials have announced.

Students to register next semester must present the medical examiner with a certificate showing vaccination within the past seven years. Those not presenting certificates will be vaccinated before admission.

Letters are being sent parents explaining the new policy, and urging family physicians to administer the vaccine. Students unable to visit their own doctors may call on the college nurse for assistance, if they bring the vaccine and seek the aid prior to registration.
