WHEN A FELLA NEEDS A PRIORITY

W. R. Wolfkeil, one of California's "biggest" shipbuilders, is shown here comparing a pair of Wards baby pants with his new work pants which were made up for him after his special appeal to the President.

When W. R. Wolfkeil of Wilmington, California, urgently needed some new work clothes, he found his 386 pounds and outside measurements far larger than provided for in WPB size regulations for men's garments. Mr. Wolfkeil, who works for the California Shipbuilding Corporation at Wilmington, had no intention of becoming a bottleneck in the shipbuilding industry, so he took his problem directly to President Roosevelt.

Wolfkeil's wire read in part: "Do not wish to become California Mahatma Gandhi. Please instruct Leon Henderson send me priority and set ceiling price on pants. Rush. Need for pants is urgent."

His request was turned over to the WPB, which in turn ordered Montgomery Ward & Co. to rush an outfit for him. The tags were delivered to Mr. Wolfkeil by Les Warren, Assistant Manager of Wards store in Long Beach, California. They consisted of a pair of twill pants (57-inch waist), a twill shirt to match (59-inch chest measurement), and a pair of blue denim dungarees. Mr. Wolfkeil had written the WPB when he gave his measurements: "I am pretty well air conditioned at the present time..." To everyone's satisfaction, Wards rush order didn't turn out to be too little... or too late.

Churchill Blames Indian Situation On Japanese

LONDON Sept. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill charged today that widespread Japanese fifth column activity may have been behind the All-India Congress party's drive for immediate independence, but he told the house of commons that the course of events in India had been improving and is, on the whole, reassuring.

The prime minister's review of the India situation laid special emphasis on the turbulent events of the past two months and their bearing on the United Nations' war effort.

He minimized the influence of the congress, which he accused of discarding Mohandas K. Gandhi's non-violence principles, and declared that 90,000,000 members were "fundamentally opposed" to it—to which a member cried "Nonsense."

As a measure of the congress' influence, Churchill mentioned that more than 1,000,000 Indians have volunteered for war service and that 40,000 volunteers in the past two months made an enlistment record.

When he finished, Emanuel Shinwell, a chronic laborite critic of the government, told the house that Churchill's statement would profoundly disappoint and shock millions of people.

The prime minister said the principles of the government's declaration—basically the dominion status—which formed the basis of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India "must be taken as representing the settled policy" of Britain.

Service Men's Fund Gets Another Fiver

W. B. Weathered, county superintendent of schools, started something with his unsolicited donation of $5 for the benefit of the service men's entertainment fund, sponsored by the local Legion and V. F. W. posts.

This morning, W. C. deCordova, finance officer of Kerley-Crossman American Legion post and treasurer of the dances given for the benefit of the fund, was notified by the Diamond Club to call and collect $5 they wished to contribute.

Through public dances, with all expenses borne by the veterans, the Legion and V. F. W. have been seeking to build up a fund here for the entertainment of men that will be stationed at the bomber school, east of the city.

No donations have been asked or expected. Finance Officer deCordova was gratified with the donations and said he hoped other businessmen would follow suit.

Two Ships Torpedoed Off South America

The torpedoing of two more ships—an American merchantman and a Polish cargo carrier, both attacked off the South American coast—as reported by the navy today brought to 461 the Associated Press count of announced western Atlantic sinkings since America's entry into the war.

The captains of both ships were taken prisoner aboard the raiders, the navy disclosed, boosting to nine the number of merchant ship commanders reported held by Axis subs following destruction of their craft.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 10 (AP)—"I have a case coming up. Could you put it over until next week?" said the voice over the phone to Deputy City Attorney Don Eva.

United Nations Sink 25 Jap Ships, Smash 300 Japanese Planes

MELBOURNE Sept. 10 (AP)—Allied forces have definitely sunk 25 Japanese warships and transports and destroyed 300 enemy planes and perhaps 500 in less than five months, a review of communications from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today.

The operations all were in the Australia war zone, the area embraced in MacArthur's southwest Pacific command. Forty-one additional warships and transports were damaged, and a total of 177 enemy planes severely damaged or "probably damaged," making the aerial toll 477.

The real total on enemy aircraft, it was believed, probably exceeds 500 planes since on many occasions when bombs were dropped on parked aircraft there was no means of determining the exact results.

Allied plane losses for the same period cannot be given with any degree of accuracy because many of the early communications issued by the southwest Pacific command, beginning April 21, did not give them. The highest Allied loss given in a single operation was four planes.

Hill To Deliver 'Speak Up For Destiny' Speech

With emphasis on the fact that history proves September is a month of destiny for America, Paul D. Hill will deliver the twenty-second of a series of "Speak Up For Democracy" broadcasts under the sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States on Station KPDN at 7:15 p. m. Friday, September 11.

It was on September 12, 1918 that the St. Mihiel offensive in France was launched by American troops in the first World War. Thirteen days later American troops crushed the Hindenberg line. The Armistice followed a few weeks later.

In September, 1939, Hitler marched into Poland. In September, 1940, lend-lease negotiations were concluded with the British. Compulsory military training was adopted by the United States during that same month.

The current "Speak Up For Democracy" series of programs was launched in December, 1940. It is heard on the eleventh day of each month by the radio listeners of 482 stations. The date commemorates the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918 when hostilities ceased in World War No. 1.

This series of Americanism lectures is but one phase of the general Americanism program being promoted by 6,000 local units of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. and its Ladies auxiliary. Through these radio talks, essay contests, patriotic posters and the distribution of pamphlets the V. F. W. and its auxiliary foster a continuous nationwide campaign of education on the subject of Americanism.

Mr. Hill, the speaker on the September 11 broadcast, is a member of the V. F. W. Post 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. in this city.

California Is Primed For Football Comeback In 1942

By RED GRANGE
The Original Man-in-Motion
California, which has been cuffed around the Pacific Coast conference since 1937 when the Golden Bears won in the Rose Bowl, looms as the club to bring order out of confusion in the Far West this season.

In 1941, the Far West failed to produce a team which stood head and shoulders above the rest of the league, although Oregon State was capable enough to take Duke in the transplanted Tournament of Roses. But there was no team like the Southern California varieties of the early '30s, the Stanford teams of '33-'34-'35 or Clark Shaughnessy's T-toters of '40.

Each team last season lost two games or more. Oregon State nosed out Washington and Washington State for titular honors. Stanford was fourth as the northern group, for once, dominated the league.

California is the choice over Oregon State by a shade.
Lon Stiner's Beavers lost 15 let-terms, eight of them regulars, and three assistant coaches.

Bob Dethman and Don Durdan leave a backfield gap and Martin Chaves will be missed in the line. George Bain, a 207-pound veteran, is a whale of a tackle and there are few better wingmen than George Zelik, Joe Day and Choc Shelton are more than adequate at fullback.

THIRTEEN SOPHOMORES BOLSTER BEAR VETS
California has 13 sophomores on the first two teams, and that is the tipoff. If they can play major league ball in their first year, the club will be hard to beat.

Jack Herrero, 185-pound senior, is one of the best guards in the country. John Ferguson at end and backs Bill Reinhard, Gene Pickett and Frank Porto provide the punch. Reinhard, brother of the Bears' All-America Bob, is a bright prospect.

Southern California has a seasoned squad of 28 veterans, some outstanding personnel and a new coach in Jeff Cravath, who moved down from San Francisco when Sam Barry was commissioned a lieutenant-commander in the navy.

The backfield will be built around the talented Paul Taylor, shift-shifty Mickey McArdle and Bob Musick, brother of the Trojans' famous Jim of a decade ago. A rock-ribbed line, bolstered by 235-pound Earl Andet, the Georgetown tackle transfer, should give the Los Angeles array plenty of power.

SHAWART INHERITS GOOD STANFORD LINE
Marchy Schwartz, who starred in the backfield for Notre Dame, is the new Stanford coach.

He inherits a good line, a backfield that carries a real size in Randall Fawcett and thin reserves. The center of the forward wall, with such stalwarts as Ed Stamm, Bruno Banducci, Chuck Taylor, Loren LaPrade and Milt Vuchinich, is just about the toughest in the west.

Pest Welch has a Washington squad streamlined by war and graduation. He has bright items in center Walt Harrison and halfback Bob Erickson, who are likely to be the coats' outstanding performers at their positions. Dmitri Tadich is a rugged guard. Welch will blend the T into the Notre Dame box, but his backs will not shift.

Washington State has the best end on the coast in Nick Susoeff, a 6-foot 4-inch, 206-pound Russian who ripped the Stanford T to shreds last season. Eligibility losses hurt.

PACIFIC COAST SEES SIX MAJOR COACHING CHANGES
Oregon finished the 1941 campaign by dropping a 7-7 affair to Texas, but the Webfoot staff off undaunted under Vaughan Corley.

Bob Koch, who was shifted from Stanford under a ruling by Commissioner Atherton, is a fine full-back prospect.

U. C. L. A. has Al Solari and a lot of question marks. Francis Schmidt is on the upgrade at Idaho. Santa Clara and San Francisco are the best of the independents. Jimmy Phelan faces a bleak outlook at St. Mary's.

Six major coaching changes took place between seasons. Four were the result of military service, two of the vicissitudes of the profession. After taking the blasts of synthetic slumber, you can't blame a coach for tackling a nice, easy assignment like fighting the Japs.

Missions Drub Exporters 4-1 At Beaumont

Although San Antonio held a one-game advantage over Beaumont in the first lap of the Texas league's Shaughnessy playoffs today, the Shreveport Sports and the Fort Worth Cats were prevented by the weather from starting their end of the series last night.

The Missions, who finished fourth in the regular season league standings, last night drubbed the first-place Exporters 4-1 before a crowd of 3,000 at Beaumont.

Manager Steve O'Neill of the Shippers probably will send Clarence Gann to the mound to oppose the Padres this afternoon. San Antonio expects Sidney Peterson to do the chunking against Beaumont.

Hank Gama, who had a sensational season after his conversion from an outfielder to a pitcher, or Veteran Earl Caldwell is expected to be assigned to hurl for Fort Worth in tonight's game at Shreveport. The Sports will use either Doyle Lade or Floyd Speer on the hill.

San Antonio scored in the first inning when Gregory's two-bagger brought Baker home; and Beaumont following in the same frame with its lone tally. With the bases loaded, Wood scored on Evers' base hit into a double play.

The Missions scored again in the fourth, Manager Winegarner singling to left field with the bases loaded to bring in Zarilla.

San Antonio scored its other two runs in the fifth. Hausmann opened by striking out. Baker drove one to left for a base hit, and Boken popped out. Gregory banded one through third, and Zarilla hit a bouncer to the box which Fuchs fielded. Instead of throwing to first he looked toward second and when nobody was there Fuchs held the ball while the batter was credited with a hit, loading the bases. Witte's single scored two runs and Mancuso popped out.

As Fuchs came in he hurled his glove into the water bucket and Manager O'Neill sent him to the clubhouse. Roy Clark relieved and pitched hitless ball for the rest of the game.

Johnny Whitehead, Mission pitcher, was in trouble often enough but was saved several times by double plays.

Army All Stars Take Lead Against Professional Teams

By WATSON SPOELSTRA
DETROIT, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Western Army All Stars have a couple of tough customers ahead in the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants, but Major Wallace Wade's soldier footballers will be hard to dislodge from their edge in the charity series against National pro league clubs.

The Army seized the upper hand in the series last night by employing every possible way football points can be scored to whip the Detroit Lions, 12 to 0, before 21,499 customers who paid an estimated $40,000, minus expenses, toward army emergency relief. Having beaten the Chicago Cardinals after losing the opener to the Washington Redskins, the army leads, two games to one.

Jarrin' John Kimbrough, former Texas All-America who had scored his team's previous three touchdowns, was held scoreless by the Lions, but two other Texans carried on exceptionally well in his place. Bill Conatser speared a second period touchdown pass in a 92-yard play with Ken Eakin of Arkansas and the New York Giants, and Bill Dawson booted the extra point and a fourth period field goal from behind the 12-yard line.

Like Kimbrough, both Conatser and Dawson are former Texas Aggies. To round out the scoring, the Lions kicked in with a safety four minutes from the game's finish when a snapback eluded Harry (Hip-pity) Hopp and rolled out of the end zone.

While Kimbrough was blanked at the goal line, it wouldn't be correct to say the Lions bottled him up. Big Jawn smacked through for 63 yards in 20 tries, nothing sensational but easily the best his club could offer. On the statistical side the soldiers were out-matched, but the Lions never got within 20 yards of pay dirt.

Weatherred And Braly To Coach Reapers

The Pampa Junior high Reaper football team has two new coaches—W. B. "Red" Weatherred and Clifford Braly. Twenty-six young hopefuls reported to the two volunteer coaches yesterday afternoon and that number is expected to reach 35 today.

When Pampa schools closed for the summer vacation there were nine coaches in the system. When school opened last week there were two, Coaches Buck Prejean and George Scott of the Pampa Harvesters.

The Gorillas had no coach so they will be absorbed by the Harvesters. The Reapers also had no coach. The Pee-wees had no coach, and still don't, and there were no ward school coaches, and there still aren't any.

SERIAL STORY OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

But true to him, who left to moon, Reviews the hours of brightness gone.

CHAPTER I

WHAT little of her personality Candace had allowed the apartment to take on during her stay there had practically disappeared; except for her trunks, packed to go, and the cheerful litter of new clothes and their wrappings the room had already reverted to Mrs. Flint's second-best For Rent, bare and cheerless. It looked now much as it had on that first day, when she'd stood surrounded by newly arrived trunks and boxes, wondering wearily where to begin, and Mrs. Flint had come barging in. "I never thought looking at you, so quiet and ladylike, that you was a nurse," Mrs. Flint said angrily. "If you'da told me that you'd never have gotten into this house. This is a quiet house. I want no young nurse, leavin' rings on furniture and drivin' out my other tenants with her drinkin' and carousin'."

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

"So that's it," Candace murmured. She almost laughed, then annoyance got the better of her. "Since you're so frank," she said, "I will be too. I don't like you. I think you're an old battle-ax. You'd probably be the kind of patient that drives some nurses to 'drinking and carousing,' as you put it. But I do believe your house is quiet, and that's what I'm looking for. Let's put the innest girls there. Belle could forgive the child a lot, even her mother's ridiculous marriage, if she were to make it possible for her to say casually, 'My niece, Mrs. Somebody-or-other-Important.' Belle had apparently given up hope at last that Peter, his own way, a former wife, would endow her in any similar fashion. Peter was a medical student, and 'actually grubbing at it,' Belle said in disgust. And likely as not, she would add, to marry some little nobody, he might even marry a nurse."

BUT Candace, he thought, realized none of those things, nor did he want her to. He was sorry for even that slight slip. He said lightly to cover it, "Your aunt is old-fashioned. The only care she can see for a woman is marriage."

"Oh, I'll probably marry," Candace conceded, "but years from now. After I've worked, after I've paid it all back."

"Don't think I haven't realized what an expense I've been to you all these years," Candace flushed. "Don't think I haven't realized what an expense I've been to you all these years."

"Who has ever said anything about expense? Have I ever said 'Oh, no,' Candace said hastily. "Oh, no. It's just myself, just what I've felt. I'm only Aunt Belle's sister's child, I'm not really related to you at all. And yet, all these years—I've been a nuisance to everybody all my life," she added.

There was no hint of self-pity, she gave it simply as a statement of fact. Behind her seeming placidity, her quiet dignity, there had always been this awareness of the unwanted, unloved child. He had felt that it must be so, but he had been busy. His conscience rebuked him, and the paths of her position twisted her sensibilities; and because he was uncomfortable he spoke sharply.

"We've loved you, we've done what we could. And to speak of paying back, of money—it's ungracious of you, it's insulting."

Slowly, remembering, she walked closer to the mirror and studied her reflected face. . . . The Candace staring back so gravely now was disciplined, controlled.

"Oh, that's just a thing," she held her jaw rigid, he guessed, in an effort to keep from tears, and her hands twisted together. "But if my own mother didn't want me—"

Bruce swore. "Who ever said such a thing?" She pointed out with simple logic, "She gave me away, didn't she?" Bruce became aware that his voice had been rising and that the waitress was taking an interest in their conversation. He leaned across the table, spoke low, quietly. "Let's get this straight, your father, too. They loved you so much that they could bear to part with you—but only to your mother's own sister, mind—so that you could have better care than they could give you."

She was quiet, digesting that, and making a pretense of eating while she fought for self-control. She asked finally, painfully, as though only a desperate need could drive her to mention it. "Uncle Bruce, I've always wanted to know: were they happy together? Was she glad she did it?"

He thought back, remembering the shabby, sick little woman in rusty clothes, with only the fine eyes left as a remnant of her youthful good looks; he thought of the man with the face of an ascetic, singing to her, because his crippled fingers could no longer coax music from his violin, the melodies which he had once taught her and which she had always loved. And he remembered their faces as they looked at each other. . . . He said, "They were very much in love. They were poor, and sick, but they were happy together."

He couldn't stand much more of this. He prepared, briskly, to leave. He said firmly, "You'll take your college entrance examinations. You'll spend the summer home with us, and you'll enter college in the fall."

He couldn't know that in June she would be meeting Martin, and that then everything would be changed.

TDG Officers Not Discouraged By Downpours

CAMP BULLIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Enthusiasm of the 230 Texas defense guard officers here hasn't been dampened one bit by the torrential downpours that have made sleeping under canvas clammy business and marching through deepening mud sticky business.

The eighth service command state guard school has followed schedule, barring only times when the weather would have been injurious to guns and made experiments with explosives impossible.

Postponed from earlier in the week, a demonstration of the "hedge-hopper" Wednesday had the student officers "bug-eyed."

Lt. Col. H. A. Pollock, D. S. O., of the British army, who has been imparting the tricks of the guerilla warfare to the guardsmen, supervised the construction and firing of a "hedge-hopper."

It consisted of a steel drum of diesel oil, situated behind a hedge bordering a road along which enemy troops supposedly were expected. At the downward plunge of a charge, a 4-in. dynamite bomb blew the drum over the hedge. In mid-air the drum exploded and its contents ignited at a point directly above the heads of the theoretic troops, enveloping them in a white-hot flame that could be uncomfortably felt by the observing student officers 300 yards away.

Earlier Wednesday afternoon guardsmen distinguished themselves on the target area by firing an average score of 45 out of a possible 75 with the Thompson sub-machine gun at 50 yards. First Lt. Robert F. Thompson, of the 74th battalion, CMP, said the record was "excellent" that the average was 33 out of 75 for the first time.

During the evening, the guard students, welcoming a chance to be seated if not relaxed, saw training films on map reading, detection of "booby-traps," incendiary bombs, road blocks and armored combat vehicles. "Booby-traps" are the explosive devices planted, usually by retreating troops, to blow-up the unwary advancees who touch the innocent objects which set off the charges. They have been used with excellent success by the Russians, it has been reported.

BUY VICTORY BONDS. Flood Loss Counted In Many Thousands

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Southwest Texas today counted its flood losses in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

No deaths were reported, though hundreds were driven from their homes as streams in this area rolled from their banks after nearly a week of heavy rain.

Hundreds of acres of unharvested crops were destroyed. Highways in certain sections remained inundated. Kennedy, 62 miles southeast of San Antonio, was hardest hit. About half the residential section was flooded when Esccondido creek went on a rampage. A portion of Pleasant also was flooded.

About 200 persons in these areas were evacuated from their homes. A few houses were washed away.

Butadiene Production To Start This Month

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 10. (AP)—Synthetic rubber will be rolling out of new American plants at the rate of 950,000 tons a year by Nov. 1 next year, a war production board report on butadiene to the American Chemical society disclosed today.

Butadiene forms three-fourths of the synthetic rubber and styrene the rest. Only two or three days are required to complete the transformation from butadiene to rubber.

The report, made by Dr. Albert L. Elder of the WFB, showed that butadiene production will be scattered through seven states, 11 cities
