15 Injured In Explosion At Coleman Field

COLEMAN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two persons were killed and 18 others were injured in an explosion which blew the administration building of the Coleman flying school to pieces today.

COLEMAN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Doctors and nurses from Camp Bowie, Brownwood, were being rushed here by ambulance after an explosion wrecked the administration building of the Coleman flying school at 10 a. m. today, sending at least 15 officers and other personnel of the army training school to the local hospital.

Harry Hammill, operator of the school was believed to be in a serious condition, and Lt. William Lackey, adjutant, received lacerations about the face. Names of other injured were not immediately available.

Cause of the blast has not been definitely determined, but it is believed to have been caused by an accumulation of gas.

Anxious Cadets To Pick Group Name At Meet Tonight

Army Air Corps Reserve cadets of Pampa and Gray county will select an official name for their organization tonight in a meeting at the city commission room in the city hall. The session will start at eight o'clock.

Special guests for the meeting will be an officer from the Air Corps recruiting and induction office at Lubbock, and Lt. Col. David S. Campbell, commanding officer of the advanced twin-engine flying school here. The officer from Lubbock is expected to arrive here sometime this afternoon.

All men in Gray county who have passed the examination for appointment as Aviation Cadets in the Army Air Corps and who have been sworn into the reserve are eligible for membership in the newly formed club and are urged to be present at tonight's meeting.

Eleven reserve cadets were present for the organization meeting last Monday night, and members estimate that there are at least that many more men in Gray county eligible for membership.

Reds Fight On At Stalingrad

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The German super-battleship Tirpitz was reported today to have left her refuge in the Norwegian port of Trondheim and to be patrolling Arctic lanes under the cover of Nazi warplanes in search of Allied convoys.

The report was the first intimation of activity by the great warship since last July 9, when the Russians announced that one of their submarines had scored two torpedo hits on her in Arctic waters, thus foiling a Nazi attempt to smash a big Allied convoy.

The Tirpitz was said to have holed up in Trondheim Fjord after this attack, hiding there during the long summer days when her movements could easily have been checked by aircraft had she ventured forth.

In a siege stand surpassing Sevastopol, the Red army fought on desperately at Stalingrad amid the shell and bomb-torn wreckage of that stronghold on the Volga, stemming the Nazi onrush for the fourth consecutive day and in some places hurling the Germans back by the fury of its counter-attacks.

Despite the disadvantageous position of the defenders, with their backs to the Volga, the outcome could not be foreseen. The stubborn street-by-street and house-by-house battle for the city of Stalin was of the same sort that saved Moscow and Leningrad last fall and early winter. Isolated Sevastopol fell in 27 days. Stalingrad is in its 28th day of battering by tanks and guns and the ruinous rain of bombs.

German long range artillery took over the work of destruction today, shaking the shell-pocked city from end to end in a thundering barrage which all but drowned the clatter of rifle and machine-gun fire of the troops locked in close quarter fighting in the streets of the suburbs.

In Moscow, Wendell L. Willkie declared he had found the Russians had "no idea of quitting."

Bearer of a written message from President Roosevelt to Premier Stalin, Willkie said the Russians appreciated the aid they had received from the United States and Britain but "they didn't think our aid has been enough."

He said the Russians think that a second front "is the kind of aid they are entitled to" and added: "The second front has become almost like a symbol to them."

The report heard in London that the Tirpitz was on the hunt again off Norway was the first word of the battleship since last July 9 when the Russians said one of their submarines scored two torpedo hits on her in Arctic waters where she lurked along the convoy route.

The great battleship is roughly comparable in size and guns to Britain's new King George class ships—

Garden Club Show To Benefit Army And Navy Relief

Garden shows are not new in Pampa, but this year's exhibition is something different. The show to be held in Pampa Friday and Saturday will be one of hundreds of similar shows all over the nation for the benefit of army and navy relief.

Reno Stinson, chairman of the Navy Relief society in Gray county, in a recent radio address over KPDN explained that 85 per cent of the proceeds of the sale of tickets to the Victory Garden Harvest show goes for army and navy relief.

Tickets sell at 25 cents each. The show will be held in the red brick school building on the junior high campus.

"Here at home," said Mr. Stinson, "we want to help in every way we can and we want to keep on helping until this war is won. We do not want the families of our sailors on the seas or the families of our soldiers in far-away places to be in want due to illness or misfortune, or to be without medical care."

"Recently our navy announced that we had lost the 19,900-ton aircraft carrier Yorktown, but, for—

Jehovah Witnesses' Meeting Broken Up

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—A demonstration directed against members of a religious sect left a multitude of black eyes and tender noses in Klamath Falls today.

Townpeople, reacting to three days of pamphleteering by 400 convention delegates of Jehovah's witnesses, the sect that refuses on religious grounds to salute the flag, surrounded the Witnesses' convention building yesterday.

They set up a war bond booth and called to Witnesses to make purchases. Sound equipment blared patriotic music. None of the sect members responded.

Small at first, the crowd grew to 1,000. A rock was thrown at the building. Windows shattered as a few stink bombs and rotten eggs followed.

Part of the crowd rushed an entrance. Sect members met them with sticks. After 15 minutes of battle, the crowd retreated. Minor injuries were numerous on both sides, but nothing serious was reported.

The crowd kept the hall surrounded, and eventually a few Witnesses filed out, bearing pamphlets, which promptly were seized and destroyed in a street bonfire. Witnesses' banners next were torn down.

Police efforts were unavailing, and it was only after four hours and an appeal from Gov. Charles A. Sprague in Salem that the crowd dispersed.

Departing, townspeople overturned 25 automobiles of sect delegates, mostly from California and Oregon. The delegates left town soon after, cancelling a scheduled night meeting.

Nazis Change Tactics In Stalingrad Drive

By HENRY CASSIDY
MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—Thwarted in their efforts to take Stalingrad by storm, the Germans began a mighty bombardment with heavy long-range guns that shook the city from end to end today, but still the Soviet defenders held and even gained ground at some points in hand-to-hand street fighting, the Russians announced.

Shells screaming into the city tore gaping craters in streets and squares and the thunder of the cannonading all but drowned out the clatter of machine-guns, rifles and mortars manned by opposing forces locked in close quarter fighting in the suburbs, Pravda reported in a Stalingrad dispatch.

The bloody struggle increased in ferocity by the hour and Pravda said German dead were piling high in the streets, with the frantic Nazis not even taking time to remove their seriously wounded from the battlefield.

In the northwest suburbs, locale of the heaviest fighting, the Russians and Germans were fighting it out house by house with the Soviet forces putting up the same valiant resistance that saved Moscow and Leningrad.

But despite frightful losses in dead the Germans hurled new divisions of tanks, armored cars and infantry and swarms of planes into the battle.

In the haze of smoke from flaming buildings and bursting shells and bombs the Germans were "at times able to advance," Pravda reported, but only a matter of yards and at a frightful price in blood.

The countryside around Stalingrad was littered with piles of scrap metal

Signed by Commissioners Beauford Jester, Olin Cuferson and Ernest O. Thompson, the allowable compared with an office of petroleum coordinator recommendation of 1,407,600 barrels.

With distillates and condensates considered, the Texas allowable almost exactly hits the O. P. C. recommendation.

Vital Information

Sale of new farm machinery and equipment was temporarily "frozen" effective Thursday, September 17, on orders of the United States Department of Agriculture, according to advices received by the Office of War Information news bureau here.

The prohibition of sale will remain in effect until machinery for rationing can be set up by the USDA, delegated by the War Production board and the Office of Price Administration to handle this type of rationing.

The manufacture of woolen lounging robes for men and boys is prohibited in an order, L-130, issued by WPB. Manufacturers may use woolen fabrics they owned or had in their possession on the date of issuance of this order but when that is gone they may not use cloth containing any wool in men's and boys' robes, bathrobes and beach-cots.

Allies Bomb Jap Bases Without Air Opposition

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Operating without interference from enemy planes Allied fighters yesterday attacked the vital Japanese base at Lae on the northeast coast of New Guinea for the third successive day, burning five barges and a tugboat and damaging shore installations.

A communique announcing the raid said Allied fighters and bombers also had blasted Japanese supply lines extending inland from Buna, 175 miles below Lae, to Kokoda, on the route of the Japanese drive toward Port Moresby.

The assault on Buna, which touched off fires and heavy explosions, was the thirteenth on that target since Aug. 25.

On the New Guinea ground front Allied headquarters reported "no change in the general situation."

Communists Gain In Swedish Elections

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Berlin propagandists who have called Sweden "the Communist center of Europe" in an increasingly violent anti-Swedish campaign aimed a sharp new attack at that Scandinavian neutral today following Sunday's Stockholm city council election in which Communists registered the greatest gain. The Communists won nine of the 100 seats, a gain of six.

Declaring that the election results had been foreseen in Berlin "for some time," the German radio declared Communist activities in Sweden "will have to be carefully watched by European powers fighting against the common bolshevik enemy."

"Not even attempts made by leading Conservative papers in Sweden to disguise this development were able to shake the Wilhelmstrasse's conviction that bolshevism has been able to establish new bases in Sweden and tries to consolidate them by all means," the Nazi broadcast went on.

In the midst of the German propaganda attacks the Swedes have been going ahead with extensive defense preparations, including anti-landing maneuvers along the southern coast, across the Baltic from Germany.

Whether all these preparations are being made in anticipation of German attack has not been explained by Stockholm, but they do reflect the feeling of the Swedish government that such a development cannot be overlooked.

Unfortunately, with small loss of life. We all remember the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor; then came the battle of the Coral Sea and the loss of the aircraft carrier Lexington.

Later followed the battle of Midway and the Solomon Islands campaign. During this time our navy had dealt the Japs some telling blows, but not without loss of ships and lives.

"Every day we see in the news names of towns we cannot pronounce, read of islands we have never heard of before. Places which previously did not interest us now become of utmost importance because our boys are fighting in these strange and distant lands.

"As sons or brothers, nephews or cousins leave for unannounced destinations and as we hear of friends stationed in Iceland, Australia, Ireland, Egypt, Iran, India, China, New Zealand or the Solomons, this global war comes close to home and we realize that our army, navy and marine corps have a big job to do, a job which is made more complicated by long and treacherous supply lines.

average rate of 1.1 per cent per month. "Unit labor costs will unquestionably increase still further, even apart from increases in wage rates, as a consequence of the loss of skilled workers, introduction of less skilled labor and inevitable less production and other delays."

Control of wages and salaries must proceed simultaneously with control of food cost. The senate prepared to start debate during the day on a measure authorizing and directing the president to act before Nov. 1 to stabilize prices, wages and salaries at Sept. 15 levels, so far as practical.

The house, awaiting a decision by its rules committee on the length and scope of its prospective debate, scheduled consideration of a somewhat different version tomorrow with leaders counting on a final vote late Wednesday or Thursday.

Senator Brown (D-Mich.) expressed hope the senate would pass the bill Wednesday. A speedy adjustment of senate-house differences would be necessary to put the measure on the president's desk Saturday, five days before the Oct. 1 deadline he set in his you-do-it-or-I-will message to congress of Sept. 7.

With this rapid-fire timetable in mind, the administration mustered forces in a confident attempt to beat off expected farm bloc amendments which would boost by 4.6 per cent the lowest level at which price ceilings could be applied to agricultural products.

at least two and possibly four of them ready for action—and the United States navy's new battleships Washington and North Carolina.

Observers in England said that the risk of the Tirpitz showed the Germans were calling upon every means at their disposal in an attempt to cut the Allied sea route to Murmansk.

The German high command claimed only yesterday that their submarines and planes had sunk 38 merchant ships totaling 270,000 tons and destroyed or damaged six escort-warships in a six day attack on a British and American convoy in Arctic waters.

The claim was characterized in London as exaggerated, although unofficial British sources said losses on the Murmansk route over many months undoubtedly had been considerable.

Daily farther behind schedule in its hopes to announce a victory at Stalingrad, the German high command said bitter resistance by the Russians continued, with their forces bolstered by new reserves from the east.

In the Caucasus, however, the Germans claimed gains. They said they had captured the towns of Terek and Vladimirovka in their thrust toward the oil wealth of Grozny. Terek, although it does not appear on available maps, probably is along the Terek river in the Mozdok region some 55 miles west of Grozny where the Germans have been fighting for days for bridgeheads. Vladimirovka is 90 miles northwest of Grozny and approximately the same distance from the shores of the Caspian sea.

Russian accounts said repeated German attacks in the Mozdok region along the Black sea coast road south of Novorossisk had been repulsed. Russian forces kept grimly to their diversion assault on the German lines from Voronezh to the Leningrad front, but it was at Stalingrad that the fiercest positions of the great battle-locked armies was being determined.

As lengthening nights of the approaching winter brought the air war of western Europe toward a new climax, British pilots back from the RAF's last big-scale attack of the reich told of laying waste to whole blocks of Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party, in a Saturday night raid which touched off fires that could be seen for 100 miles.

Other British bombers attacked the Sardinian industrial region the same night. A few German planes were over England last night.

Opposing land forces were quiet in the Egyptian desert war. Air activity continued on both sides. The British announced that fires visible 30 miles were set in a Saturday night bombing of the Axis supply port of Tobruk. The Italians said Sicily also was raided.

Female Dogs Running Loose To Be Shot On Sight, Chief Orders

If you own a female dog, don't let her run loose on the streets, unless you want her shot on sight. That was the warning issued today by Police Chief Ray Dudley who said the department had received numerous complaints of dogs roaming the streets.

Pampa has no dog catcher, as the man who formerly had this job quit to take work on a defense project, and the difficulty of obtaining tires forces discontinuance of the dog "rounder-upper" job.

Chief Dudley doesn't want to kill any dogs, but that is what he's going to have to do if female dogs still run at large. The penalty applies regardless of whether the dog has been licensed by the owner and regardless of whether the dog is tagged or not.

A sawed-off shotgun is the police department's weapon for ending the roaming of female dogs—and cooperation of Pampa dog-owners is asked by the chief so his department won't be forced to use it.

Three More Pampans Volunteer For Army. Three Pampa men are among the latest group of recruits accepted at the West Texas recruiting and induction district headquarters at Lubbock.

The three, all volunteers, are Wesley B. Fleming and Jimmy C. Termin, both air corps specialists; and Clarence Odell, army of the United States.

Men who cannot pass the physical examination for general military service can be used in the army air force, according to Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durrette, district recruiting and induction officer at Lubbock.

Sgt. R. D. Short is the recruiting officer in Pampa. His office is located in the basement of the post-office.

Age limits in the air corps are 18 to 50 and the applicants should have some mechanical or radio experience. Those who have been placed in the I-B classification by their local boards are eligible for enlistment now.

Anyone mechanically inclined who has been making a livelihood through some mechanical trade, even though he has some physical defects, is thus eligible for enlistment in the air forces where he is needed to "keep 'em flying."

Temperature Drops To 36 Degrees Here. Pampans and other Texans did a quick change this week-end from flimsy summer garments to heavy clothing as a premature cold wave caused temperatures to drop.

Technically, Thursday was the first day of autumn but it wasn't until Saturday that the mercury became synchronized to the new season.

Lowest temperature over the week-end here was 36, but the thermometer was at 60 this forenoon and rising.

The sudden chill extended as far south as Laredo, where the thermometer registered a minimum of 66, in contrast with a maximum of 92 Saturday.

At Fort Worth the mercury dropped to 57 degrees; Dallas had a low of 59.

Clarendon, Donley county, reported 39 degrees; Amarillo, 40; Wichita Falls, 49; Abilene, 53; and Austin, 55.

Partial deafness, insufficient teeth, loss of a thumb loss of as many as three fingers on one hand, defects of the feet and other physical disabilities are thus waived.

There is a priority on time these days, just as on everything else.

CHUNGKING, Sept. 21 (AP)—American airmen made 23 bombing raids on Japanese installations in occupied China, French Indo-China and Burma in July and August, shot down 28 Japanese planes and probably six more and destroyed 30 enemy craft on the ground without the loss of a single bomber in combat.

These figures were given in a summary today by Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's headquarters which listed the loss of five American fighters during the two month period. The pilot of one fighter was known to be safe, it added.

Common Ground

"I speak the pass-word primer, I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms." —WALT WHITMAN.

THE NEW DEAL CHAINS WORKERS TO JOBS

The rapidity with which we are going to a Hitlerite government is astounding. The latest Hitlerite move is the declaration by Paul V. McNutt that workers in the lumbering and copper industries in certain states cannot leave their jobs to get more wages, without getting the consent of some government bureaucracy.

This means that the government will have to determine the value of each individual's services. This, of course, is impossible. Untold injustice and corruption can be worked by permitting a government agency to have the right to compel a worker to remain with an employer, when he believes other employers will treat him better.

In order to lick Hitler, we do not need to copy him, and use the same totalitarian tactics used by him. We will lose less lives and property and win the war quicker if we treat our own citizens as honorable, intelligent, human beings who have inherent rights rather than as dummies who have to be handled like serfs or cattle.

5-And-10 Cent Bond Drive Whips A Movie Actress Today's War Analysis

(Peter Edison is on vacation, during which time his column is being written by Robert Ruark.)

By ROBERT RUARK

Miss Greer Garson, the moving picture lady, has very beautiful features, apart from the red hair and the eyes and other things, she is a normally healthy, if not exactly strapping female. She is healthy to a point where it takes a fairly harrowing experience to fluster her into a hospital bed for a week.

Miss Garson, whose new film Mrs. Miniver currently is responsible for an immense number of sudden handkerchiefs, went out on a slight difference from the folks who are usually traveling the better average moompitches war bond salesman. She wasn't shooting for the big five thousand and ten thousand-dollar bond buyers who, you gather, are really the easiest to separate from their dough.

In 10 days the Garson caravan touched more than 20 towns, always hitting as many as two a day. She rarely traveled less than 250 miles between stops, and she never made less than two appearances in each town. Her all-time high was eight separate functions, touching everything from radio broadcasts to talks in public squares and a cozy little 300-woman club with the local housewives.

So strenuous was the routine that the Garson maid got a pitcher's elbow from shaking perspiration-soaked clothes from Mrs. C's shapely chassis and tossing fresh garments on that chassis. Greer started out with a fancy evening dress wardrobe and ended up by working hatless in the roughest rag she owned.

When the tour began, Miss Garson was speaking from a short 10-minute script, prepared by one of the Hollywood press boys. As she hit her stride, she threw away the script and talked on an ad lib basis. Toward the end, she was giving out with something like 25 minutes of impromptu oratory, and laying the ladies in the aisles. Like the excellent actress she is, she delved into the vital statistics of each town before she appeared in it, and she used every opportunity for ad libbing.

And what a lovely lady did! Papers all over her territory are still writing headlines about the Garson-inspired bond buying fever. She showed so much real sincerity in her stuff that one soldier, hitchhiking 500 miles home because he was almost broke, took her $18.75 bond and some roses for Greer. That kind of thing is what you call real audience response.

The lovely smooth Garson voice declined into a sort of guttural croak, like Marlene Dietrich with a bad case of cough. But she kept talking. At the end, when her legs, legs and nerves all collapsed, her studio representative pushed her on to a hospital cot and then went to bed himself, in a nearby hotel.

ALL DOUBTS DISPELLED If you've been gripped by the words of this movie star promotion of war bonds, a short confab with a gal like Garson pretty well dispels your doubts. She has been working on her own time, off the studio payroll, time that had been designated for the first vacation she'd have had in a long time. She has probably ruined the most important implement of her trade—her voice—and whipped her nerves to a frazzle.

And the only thing she wanted to do was to get back on the sawdust trail and peddle some more bonds. She has a great mind to ask for a release from her new movie contract, to devote all her time to bond campaigning, when a Treasury official tactfully pointed out that her value as a stimulant to bond buying was high only so long as she continued to give the movies. So she is working on an arrangement whereby she can make pictures half the year and work the bond business during the other six months.

It is a hard thing to explain, but one movie star actor or actress can arouse more patriotic feeling in the mass mind than nine generals. The crowds that have been turning out for great Hollywood emissaries have been tremendous, and the response terrific. Millions and millions of dollars worth of bonds were bought during this war as a direct result of the actors' harangues.

A gal like Garson, or a guy like Gable—who is in the Army as officer candidate—is more valuable to the industry out of uniform than in it. We must have money to beat the war and the actors are bringing in the sheaves.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Finnish minister to Washington, Hjalmar J. Procopé, has dropped a bomb big enough to reverberate in many capitals, both Axis and Allied, in his announcement that Finland wants to cease fighting as soon as the threat to her existence has been averted and guarantees secured for her lasting security.

If we label this extraordinary move as a fishing expedition for a peace offer, we probably shall encounter an official denial from Helsinki. Still, that's exactly what it looks like—a trial peace balloon. Between the lines there seems to lurk the hope that Uncle Sam will overlook that Finland is an ally of Hitler he has sworn to crush, and will persuade the Russians to make some proposal.

Peace would be calculated to relieve the pressure on the Red line in the port of Murmansk which the Nazis are attacking from Finnish soil, and the railroad which runs southward. It would ease the whole situation in the Gulf of Finland around the long beleaguered city of Leningrad and the great Red naval base of Kronstadt.

It's likely too, that Finnish peace would help the Allies meet the Nazi men's ace to vital shipping thru the Arctic ocean to Murmansk. That is a big item, for the Germans are making that a tough route. Only today Berlin claims jubilantly the sinking of 28 merchantmen and the destruction or damaging of six warships (a claim denied by the Allies' quarters). At the same time London announces that the Nazi super-battleship Tirpitz is reported to have been repaired and be on the prowl again along the Arctic route.

Of course, we can't say in advance whether the Nazis might not be able to circumvent peace in some manner, since they have troops in Finland. However, a passive or unwilling country would place one more obstacle in Hitler's way. Why should the Finns suddenly decide to get from under? It's only fifteen months ago that they cast their lot with the Nazi ally highest in the esteem of American and British warnings. That was when Hitler's troops were grinding all Europe under their hob-nailed boots, and there was nothing in sight to stop them.

Finnish Field Marshal Baron Mannerheim's chest even now is jangling proudly with metal which Hitler and Mussolini awarded him recently as an honored ally. Well, one can see several reasons why the Finns want peace. One of them is that the tinkling of Mannerheim's decorations can't drown the sound of the hurricane which is rising to destroy the Nazi anti-Christ. In short, the Finns ally themselves with a loser.

Then, too, we have the notable coincidence of heavy Red attacks against the Finns recently. The resources of the little country must be running very low, and there has been a terrible drain on their manpower. And the Germans can't help them with supplies.

The Finns further thought that the Finns undoubtedly are anxious to regain the friendship of the United States. It was a sad day when our little colleague, whose loyalty we had boasted and toasted, joined hands with the arch enemy of Christianity. The Finns said they had to do it to adjust their might to the new world order.

Aussies On Timor Ambush Jap Troops

MELBOURNE, Sept. 21 (AP)—High up in the mountains of Portuguese Timor in the South Pacific a force of Australians well stocked with good food and tobacco is still defying the Japanese, who announced occupation of the island Feb. 19. A mixed force of native troops from Dutch Timor, the western half of the island, and Australians moved into Dili in the Portuguese colony 10 days after the attack on the harbor to force the Japanese to evacuate. Portugal protested against the Allied action and it was agreed the Allied troops would leave when Portuguese reinforcements arrived.

The first Japanese landing was made by 4,000 troops. The Australians were quartered outside the city of Dili, which fell easily to the Japanese on Feb. 19. The Australians, with the Dutch troops which escaped Dili, moved into the interior. Reports reaching Australia say that the Japanese repeatedly have conducted search parties into the interior after the Australians and each time the Japanese have been ambushed and have suffered severely.

It is hard thing to explain, but one movie star actor or actress can arouse more patriotic feeling in the mass mind than nine generals. The crowds that have been turning out for great Hollywood emissaries have been tremendous, and the response terrific. Millions and millions of dollars worth of bonds were bought during this war as a direct result of the actors' harangues.

QUALIFYING FOR CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT TO END FRIDAY

Dutch Lunch To Be Held At 8 O'clock

Qualifying in the Pampa Country club golf tournament will end at 8 o'clock Friday night instead of on Saturday as the Dutch lunch and California pool will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night instead of on Saturday night as originally scheduled.

The change was made because of the Saturday night football game between the Pampa Harvesters and the Sunset Elsons of Dallas. In the past, football games have been played on Friday night but the Sunset team will be unable to reach Pampa until Saturday.

Thirty-one golfers qualified for the tournament yesterday, one of the biggest single day entries in club history. The grass greens were in excellent condition. In fact they were so good that gone were the sub-par scores, gone were par scores and gone were scores in the 70s, excepting by Marvin Harris who is medalist so far with a 76.

Pampans aren't used to grass greens, yet. But according to Frank Baker, new pro, they're learning fast and it won't be long until the hotshots are blistering the course again.

In this year's city tournament there'll be flights for every type of golfer from the best to the starter. Scores yesterday ranged from the 76 shot by Harris to the 113 registered by A. F. Hawthorne.

The Dutch lunch will be open to every man who has paid his $1 entry fee and qualified.

Qualifying scores yesterday included: Haskel Maguire, 87; C. O. Bridges, 88; Ralph Johnston, 88; A. F. Hawthorne, 113; Frank Shotwell, Sr., 87; J. B. Latham, 97; C. F. McGinnis, 82; Bill Smith, 86; Marvin Harris, 76; G. C. Austin, Sr., 100; W. R. Wanner, 105; Mark Heath, 84; Carl Snow, 94.

V. B. LaSalle, 92; D. M. Dickie, 82; Fred Thompson, 95; Charlie Thut, 97; R. G. Allen, 93; Gene Green, 87; Mack Graham, 94; Lynn Boyd, 100; Henry Williams, 98; R. A. Baker, 99; Bill Grayson, 100; F. E. Hoffman, 92; Bob Curry, 95; O. M. Griffin, 90; Dan Gribbin, 101; A. J. Coombs, 97.

Minnesota And Pitt Clash This Week

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Service teams, the something new that has been added to the 1942 football program, dominate this week's schedule although such collegiate tussles as Minnesota vs. Pitt, Notre Dame vs. Wisconsin, Southern California vs. Tulane and Louisiana State vs. Texas A. and M. also are carded.

Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman's Iowa Seahawks, after crushing Kansas 61 to 0 in their first outing, go after the Wildcats of Northwestern and it isn't likely that they will have two such soft touches in a row.

The powerful Free Lakes Naval outfit collides with Michigan, North Carolina's Cloudbusters invade Harvard's fair precincts, Georgia will try to devise a defense for George McAffee and his Jacksonville, Fla., Air Station Mates and Tex Oliver will send his St. Mary's Pre-Flighters against Oregon—where he coached last season.

In other battles involving military teams Columbia entertains Fort Monmouth, N. J., in a war charity contest, Ohio State opens its season against the Port Knox eleven, and Pennsylvania will play host to the Georgia Pre-Flight Naval Cadets in Philadelphia.

But the collegians don't have to take a back seat in such company. Notre-Dame, Minnesota and Texas A. and M. were among the nation's best a year ago and have been awarded similar ranking this year in pre-season gossip.

Wichita Falls To Meet Breckenridge This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
The championship race opens in two districts but a couple of inter-district battles top one of the biggest weeks of the Texas schoolboy football season.

Wichita Falls' defending state title is run into a powerful Breckenridge team and Temple's mighty Wildcats meet the heralded Austin Maroons in games packing the most interest.

As far as the championship is concerned, the racing begins in districts 7 and 11 with Amon Carter Riverside clashing with Fort Worth Tech and Tyler meeting Athens.

Wichita Falls showed class last week in turning back a fine Masonic Home eleven 7-0 while Breckenridge was beating North Side, one of the ranking teams of the Fort Worth district, 13-7.

Temple rolled up the highest score of the week in blasting Ennis 74-4 while Austin did not look particularly impressive in downing Harlandale (San Antonio) 20-0. Austin, however, has long been regarded as the team to beat in South Texas and the defeat of Corpus Christi verified that.

Corpus Christi, in the same district as Austin, fell before a surprisingly strong Lutkin eleven 21-0. There are plenty of other attractive games such as Sunset (Dallas) at Pampa, San Angelo at Lubbock, Amarillo at Abilene, Gainesville at Poly (Fort Worth), Kilgore at North Dallas, Goose Creek at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Jefferson (San Antonio) at Port Arthur and McAllen at Breckenridge (San Antonio).

Of that group the San Angelo-Lubbock tilt should be the stand-out. Lubbock turned back the well-ranked Odessa team 7-6 last week while San Angelo was beating a fine Ballinger eleven 30-14.

There are 56 games on the schedule, including four inter-sectional tilts topped by the visit of Reagan (Houston) to Oklahoma City to battle Classen High, always a power in Oklahoma.

Other inter-sectional games send Yaleta to Carlisbad, N. M., El Paso high to Roswell, N. M., and Texarkana to Bossier, La.

The record against teams in other states shows Texas eleven to have taken six decisions, lost two and tied one to date.

Faurot Has Big Backs, Linemen And Headache
By FRANK HOOD
COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 21 (AP)—Don Faurot, University of Missouri's football coach, has big backs, big linemen and a big headache.

Of that group the San Angelo-Lubbock tilt should be the stand-out. Lubbock turned back the well-ranked Odessa team 7-6 last week while San Angelo was beating a fine Ballinger eleven 30-14.

Missouri averaged more than four touchdowns per game last fall in romping to the Big Six championship. Outside of the league they plastered New York university, Michigan State and Colorado, and lost to Ohio State and Fordham by a total of only seven points. The Ram defeat was of the 3-0 variety and was administered in a Sugar Bowl setting.

The Tigers have 20 lettered veterans back from the Bowl squad, and these old hands are backed by a group of squadmen who likely would have won major awards in other Big Six camps, and some very capable sophomores.

It is that situation that is causing the Faurot migraine. Missouri will be good—probably one of the best in the nation—but the Tiger opponents will be gunning for keeps with each Saturday bringing a rival shooting the works in an effort to register an upset.

Notre Dame builds around remarkable arm of Angelo Bertelli

Notre Dame T Formation Makes Bertelli Dangerous

By RED GRANGE
The Original Man-in-Motion
SOUTH BEND, Sept. 21—Frank Leahy, the quick change artist, has switched to the T at old Notre Dame to take full advantage of the remarkable ball-handling and passing of Angelo Bertelli.

Bertelli, as a sophomore, quickly established himself as one of the greatest passers in the history of the game.

Bertelli's running and blocking does not compare with his ball-handling. Thus the change from the traditional Notre Dame shift to the T, which was used in the early days of the late Knute Rockne.

Tailback in 1941, Bertelli will be at quarterback this trip, feeding the ball to other backs and tossing forwards and laterals.

Leahy is no green hand with the T. He ran plays from a sort of a lopsided T at Boston College and at Notre Dame last fall.

DOVE AND WRIGHT SWITCH TO GUARDS
This year Notre Dame varsity stacks up probably with last year's unbeaten unit which was tied only by Army.

Dippy Evans is back at left half, having been at fullback last season, when he led the Irish in rushing and scoring.

Jerry Cowhig, fullback, is the only sophomore likely to break into the starting lineup despite outside claims of a great ex-fresh array. If Cowhig doesn't succeed, it will be because of Jim Mello or Corwin Clatt, also soph.

Veterans have all the other positions nailed down. Stressing the importance Leahy puts on downfield blocking speed, Bob Dove, All-American end of '41, will be at left guard and Harry Wright, blocking quarterback of last fall, at right guard. Wright previously was a guard.

Beaumont Leads Sports In Texas League Playoff

BEAUMONT, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Beaumont Exporters, defeating the Shreveport Sports 4-0 yesterday and with three wins to their opponents' one, hoped to take today's contest and close out the final Texas league playoff.

The winner of the Texas league series will clash with the victor of the Little Rock-Nashville Southern association playoff for the organized baseball championship of the South.

The Exporters were expected to send Earl Cook, winner of 19 games during the season, to the mound today. The Shreveport pitching selection was doubtful because the entire staff has been overworked during the playoff, but Al Bronkhurst was believed a likely choice.

Beaumont lost no time yesterday, pushing across all four runs in the first two innings on a mere three hits and holding the Sports at bay throughout the rest of the game.

Little Rock 1 to 0 in ten innings yesterday to put Nashville one game up in their series.

4 Southwest Teams On Flier's Schedule
CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 21 (AP)—Corpus Christi's naval air station has already put aside any ambition of becoming uncrowned champion of the Southwest but that bristling schedule should meet the primary purpose of football at the base: Conditioning men for the greater battle ahead.

Brother, if the Comets come thru their grid campaign in one piece they should really go places on foreign battle field!

A 40-0 defeat by the University of Texas Saturday in the opening game of the season took care of all details.

Before meeting the Longhorns, the Comets were given serious consideration for claiming some kind of championship inasmuch as they had scheduled four of the conference powers.

Cards Worried? Yep, About Getting Tickets For Friends

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
If the St. Louis Cardinals are worrying today it must be about how to get world series tickets for their friends or how to keep their wives from buying any new furniture before the end of the week.

The struggle for the National league pennant has been reduced to the point where the Redbirds can clinch it with any combination of five victories of their own or five defeats for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Since the Cardinals have six games left to play, that means they can lose one of them and still win even though the Dodgers capture all seven of their remaining tussles.

There doesn't seem to be much prospect of Brooklyn turning the trick. The best they could do against the futile Phils yesterday was have a doubleheader and all that saved them from winding up even deeper in the rut than their present 2½ games was a truly great pitching performance by Claude Passeau.

The ace of the Chicago Cubs pitched a five-hit 3-0 shutout against the Cards in the second game of a doubleheader for his 19th victory after the Cardinals' Morton Cooper had given the Cubs a four-hit 1-0 whitewashing.

Brooklyn was beaten in the first game 7-3. Then Buck Newsom, self-styled pennant insurance for the Dodgers, pitched six-hit ball to win the nightcap 4-2 and kept Brooklyn's pennant hopes from dying.

Today Brooklyn has another date with the Phils at Ebbets field and the Cardinals returned home for the first two of two encounters with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

All the other major league action yesterday involved doubleheaders and all were divided except Cincinnati's clash fifth the Pirates. They battle 13 innings in the first before the Pirates won 2-1 and then played 3-3 tie in the second, which was halted at seven innings by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew.

The New York Giants' games at Boston were postponed. In the American league the New York Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox 2-1 and then lost 3-2 in eight innings when darkness halted play.

The Philadelphia Athletics closed their season a week ahead of time, by a quirk of the schedule but no doubt to the relief of all concerned. Washington beat the As in the first game 11-9, and Philadelphia salvaged the nightcap 2-1.

Old Mel Harder pitched a two-hit shutout against the Detroit Tigers but the Cleveland Indians dropped the second session 6-5. The Chicago White Sox took advantage of four errors by the St. Louis Browns to win their first game 6-5, but the Browns' copes the afterpiece 4-2.

All Star Gridders On 10-Day Furloughs
BOSTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—What was probably the greatest array of all-star footballers ever assembled in the gridiron sport's long history, a total of 52, today took off to spend 10-day furloughs in 22 different states before returning to duty in 45 widely-scattered army posts.

They were members of Colonel Bob Neyland's Eastern Army All-Stars, a group that defeated the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers before being toppled, 14-7, by what is considered the greatest of all National Professional league outfits, the Champion Chicago Bears, yesterday before an overflow crowd of 35,000 at Fenway park the soldiers lost the final game, their third in the short space of eight days.

McClellan Boat Club Holds Last Races Of Year

The motorboat racing season at Lake McClellan closed yesterday with the McClellan Boat club staging some of the best races of the year for one of the largest crowds.

Races were hotly contested and there was an accident with no one hurt. After the men had battled for honors they turned their boats over to the women who staged a free-for-all race. The women really went places with Mrs. W. A. Noland crashing into the rear of Mrs. Roy Kretzmer's boat, which was put out of control. The boat went round-and-round until Mrs. Kretzmer was able to stall her motor.

Mrs. Alva Phillips won the race with Mrs. Noland coming in second. Despite the chilly weather Bert Howell and Olga Thorpe gave water-ski exhibitions.

Results of the point races, Pete Colgrove starter, were: 8 h. p.—Ray Barnard; Pete Sitton; 16 h. p.—Carl Baer; Roy Kretzmer; Alan Thorpe. 22 h. p.—Alva Phillips; Albert Noland; Carl Baer. 33 h. p.—Mrs. Bobby Pyle; Alva Phillips; Roy Branscum.

Free-for-all—Mrs. Bobby Pyle; Alva Phillips; Walter Pyle. Grudge race—Mrs. Bobby Pyle; Walter Pyle.

Southeastern Teams To Play Freshmen

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Whether Southwest conference football teams allow Southeastern conference schools to use freshmen against them this season is up to the individual members.

There is no conference rule against it and it is pointed out by James H. Stewart, athletic director at Southern Methodist university, that his school had followed such a practice for some time.

This year S. M. U. has games with Pittsburgh and Temple, which are going to use freshmen, Stewart said.

The Southeastern conference last week voted to use the first-year men. Louisiana State, Mississippi and Tulane of that conference play and the Southwest conference teams, L. S. U., meeting Texas A. and M. next Saturday and Rice Oct. 3, Mississippi playing Arkansas Oct. 24 and Tulane engaging Rice Oct. 10.

Director of Athletics Eugene Lambert at Arkansas said his school always played members of other conferences according to their own conference rules and that Mississippi would be entitled to use freshmen.

Coach Homer Norton of A. and M. said he had received no formal request from Louisiana State for use of freshmen in their game at Baton Rouge Saturday.

A meeting of the committee on outdoor sports at Rice will be held tonight to decide whether permission will be granted to L. S. U. and Tulane to use freshmen against the Owls.

Increasingly, under war conditions, the railroads must furnish mass transportation, military and civilian, for the nation. The load is already great—and growing steadily. Military movements come first, without question. You can do much to help us maintain adequate rail service for civilian needs as well, in these ways: When you travel, make your reservations and buy your tickets early; cancel reservations promptly, if necessary; check all personal baggage and actually needed in passenger cars; and spread the travel load by avoiding week-end and holiday rush periods. When you make shipments, order freight cars only to your actual current requirements; load them to capacity; and release them promptly.

SERIAL STORY

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS STORY: Peter Frazier is in the unhappy situation of being in love with Candace Rich, who is engaged to Martin Corby. Peter's roommate in medical school, she and Peter have been raised together, for Belle, the second wife of Peter's father, is an aunt of the girl's. Candace's father has returned from a summer's hospital job to find Candace engaged to a man he has known since she was a baby. He is almost penniless and is expected to turn over their country home to her husband to satisfy creditors.

THREE'S A CROWD

CHAPTER X

EARLY in the summer Peter had promised himself that his first act for the fall would be to get himself a single room. It would be more expensive, but there was no reason then to think that his allowance would not cover it.

He had had another reason, only half-admitted to himself, for wanting to make a change: in June at Tuckaways he had felt that he would have given anything to be able to erase his original mistake in having brought about a meeting between Candace and Martin; he did not intend that they should be thrown together again through him. And if he continued to live with Martin that would be almost unavoidable.

All that had now been changed. Rather than increased, expenses would have to be pared down to a minimum, for one thing. And for another, he meant to stick closer to Martin than a brother.

But he was due for some bad times because of the arrangement, he knew that. Having to congratulate Martin had been tough enough. He had been afraid that he might not get through it decently, that her mouse somehow slip and Martin would realize the true state of things. But Martin was too wrapped up in himself at the moment, too far gone in a delirium of rosy dreams to have noticed anything.

Having to see them together, however, was something else again. He most dreaded the first occasion. He spent hours speculating on the best way to carry it off, whether to be out when she was expected and casually walk in later, whether to be there in the first place, or what. It turned out to be easier than he'd dared hope.

They were all there, including Chip Wilson and Bill Ward and the landlady, Mrs. Prosser, who was very particular about what went on in her house and who must of course be introduced. And they were all charmed. They made a party of it. The boys went out and got wood and made a fire in the fireplace and Mrs.

Prosser sent up hot cocoa as a mark of favor. Candace sat there looking all that was lovely and beautiful, she was delighted and delighting, and the boys were willing jesters and everyone was very gay.

DURING the week Martin, whenever possible, would go over to New Jersey to Candace, but on her day off she usually came to Manhattan. Occasionally they managed a movie, but for the most part they sat in the alcove and just talked. The two younger boys were frequently away, but Peter, in spite of hints from Martin, refused to absent himself. He would sit in the other room, honestly trying to lose himself in his books; and all the time he would be achingly conscious of the whispered conversations in which he could have no part. Or of the sudden pregnant silences that were even more difficult to bear.

One evening when they came in Peter thought Candace acted worried. She seemed to be wanting a chance to talk with him; she loitered about the desk where he sat, picking up and idly looking at the titles of his books, and when Martin tried to lure her away her tone when she answered him sounded slightly sharp.

The old camaraderie of the brother and sister relationship again existed between Candace and himself. He asked now, adopting the old familiar tone of rally, "Just what weighty problem is on your mind this moment?"

Candace started. The frown-lines disappeared from her forehead and he saw she made a deliberate effort to smile. "Nothing," she said.

Martin grinned at her. "If anything, I'd say indignation, probably. We ate at the Greasy Vest." She said, "Sir, you jest. My digestion is such that it could take care of a grand piano, swaldered whole." But she sounded absent-minded, her thoughts obviously weren't with Martin. After an instant she said to Peter, trying to make it sound very casual, "When did you last see your father, Peter?"

She said seriously, "Not since the day I told you about when he stopped off at the hospital. I haven't been able to get him on the phone, either. I've phoned him several times when I've been in town during the day and his secretary would always tell me that he was busy, or away, or something." She apparently decided to plunge. "I phoned again today. A strange man answered who said he represented receivers or something. Peter, there's something very wrong, isn't there?"

"I'm afraid so," he admitted quietly. "Dad is, at least temporarily, busted."

MARTIN looked shocked and sorry. "That's tough lines, Pete."

"For him, sure, Peter said. "But he'll come through all right."

Candace realized from his manner that Peter didn't want to talk about it; she asked only, "How can I help?"

Peter smiled. He said cheerfully, "By working hard, and by being a good girl so that you won't be a worry on his mind."

She started for home soon afterward. The brownstone where the boys roomed was on West 15th street and the understanding was always that Martin would put her on the Tube at West Ninth street and she would take a taxi when she got off the train at the other end. When he came back from the walk, Martin was looking thoughtful.

"Do you suppose this will make any difference with the Good Samaritan appointment, Peter?" he ventured finally.

Peter was annoyed. He said testily, "I don't see why it should, do you?"

Martin looked surprised at his tone. He said reasonably, "Well, it was such a cinch before. All your dad had to do was to put in a good word with old Hartshorne and you were all set."

"There's nothing to stop him doing it now," Peter said, "if I wanted to work that way. I don't. Where the hell'd you get the idea I'd use my father's connections to get me an appointment, anyway?"

Martin was annoyed in his turn. "You don't have to jump down my throat when I ask you a civil question." What he felt to be Peter's superior attitude irked him. "A guy who has a liveried chauffeur toting him around in a Cadillac can afford to look down his nose at the bird who has to fight for a seat in the subway, too," he said, "but you must admit that there aren't many who can afford such a luxury. There are lots more of us who have to fight."

"As for me," he added, "I've had to fight for everything I ever got. I can't afford to be squeamish. I go out to win, and I fight with no holds barred."

Royal Family Bathes In 5 Inches of Water

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP) — King George, the royal family and anybody else at Buckingham palace and Windsor castle will bathe in no more than five inches of water from now on.

It is a part of Britain's fuel conservation plan in which the king is taking a leading part.

The monarch ordered every bath tub in the royal households painted with a black or red line at the five-inch level and a notice posted calling attention to the necessity for fuel economy, the British Press association disclosed today.

Likewise, the king directed that not more than one small bulb shall be lighted in a bathroom or in any of the palace bedrooms and that all additional bulbs shall be removed.

Nazis Claim Sinking Of Three More Ships

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Sept. 21 (AP)—The German high command said today that Nazi airmen hit three more ships yesterday out of a big Russian-bound American and British convoy in which it claimed previously that 38 merchant ships totaling 270,000 tons were sunk and six accompanying warships destroyed or damaged.

The Nazi war bulletin said this latest action occurred in Drinskaya bay, near the Soviet port of Archangel. Both German planes and submarines were declared to have taken part in the running fight starting a week ago and covering hundreds of miles of Arctic waters.

(There was no confirmation of these enemy claims from any Allied source.)

Indians Instruct At Camp Bullis

CAMP BULLIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Three full-blooded Indians from Oklahoma are giving instructions in defense of the country.

The keen-eyed, soft-spoken athletes who are helping teach defense guard officers here how to protect their homes from invasion are Corp. Richard Johnson, Pl. Noah Abbott and Corp. David Wright.

They are soldiers from Company B, 746th Battalion, Corps of Military Police, which is acting as a demonstration unit at the Eighth Service Command State Guard school.

Johnson is a Cherokee, from Claremore, Okla.; Abbott is a Shawnee, from Tulsa, and Wright is a Choctaw, from Muskogee.

All three came into the army thru the 180th infantry, of the 45th division, national guard. They have been in the regular service for two years. The original national guard regiment was almost entirely composed of Indians.

Skilled at athletic activities characteristic of Indians for thousands of years, these boys are uncanny at throwing, bayonet combat and military exercises requiring agility and quickness of eye.

Any one of them can drop a hand grenade into a trench 50 yards away, or into a fox hole, three feet in diameter, from 35 yards.

Corporal Johnson is the only one of the three boys admitting an Indian name. His is "Segwah," which translated means "The Morning Star."

Johnson was middleweight boxing champion in the Tri-States Golden Gloves tournament, involving New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. He also was champ of the 45th division in the 175-pound class.

Johnson's father is Richard W. Johnson, an executive in the finance department of the war de-

Tons of Scrap "Produced" by General Motors

Enough old metal to provide the scrap necessary to build two 35,000-ton battleships has been gathered by GM "waste wardens" since the first of the year. Including the flow of production scrap from metal finishing machines, the total haul from GM's intensive scrap drive amounts to 231,000,000 pounds of iron, steel, copper, aluminum and other metals essential to the war effort. Pictured above is a scrap pile at one of GM's 90 war plants. A worker is engaged in cutting up the large pieces with a torch prior to shipment.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—Pepper Martin, who pitched and won his first professional baseball game despite a case of poison ivy and a sprained ankle, didn't work any harder that day in Oklahoma than he did yesterday in directing Sacramento to its first Pacific Coast league championship.

Los Angeles led the Senators by two games as the teams opened a seven game series here last Tuesday. Immediately Sacramento dropped the first two games. That meant the team had to take every one of the last five contests—which it did, including yesterday's doubleheader with Los Angeles.
