Churchill Sees Doom Of Hitler

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Oct. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill pictured the United States, Russia, China and Britain today as moving "steadily onward from strength to strength" while Hitler's "prospects have darkened to an immeasurable degree."

In a belligerent and confident speech accepting the freedom of the city Churchill assured Edinburgh's citizens that "no weakness will be shown to the Germans" in the dispute over the chaining of war prisoners and reported:

1. August and September were "the least bad months since January" in allied shipping losses, and new building outweighs sinkings.

2. The same two months saw "the greatest tonnage of British bombs dropped upon Germany."

3. They also "marked the definite growth of allied air superiority."

And these months, too, he said, "have covered the most numerous safe arrivals of United States troops in the British Isles."

Speaking in the presence of United States Ambassador John G. Winant, Churchill said "we have reached a stern and somber moment in the war" but asserted "the country is pulling together better now than ever before in its history."

The prime minister disclosed that he came to Edinburgh from a visit to the home fleet. Speaking in the great Usher hall which was packed for the occasion, he lauded Scotland as an "example of national unity."

Quisling Takes Over Police As Norway Totters

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Moscow radio broadcast reports from Oslo today that Jonas Lie had been dismissed as Norwegian chief of police and that Major Vidkun Quisling had taken personal charge of the civil police.

The Germans, meanwhile, lifted a state of civil emergency imposed on the important Trondheim coastal region last Tuesday. Thirty-four persons were said to have been executed there as saboteurs or hostages during the period of strict control.

Norwegian circles in London said Quisling surrenders in Stockholm has issued a statement that:

"The state of civil emergency affected a large number of people who had nothing to do with the acts committed. Authorities desire that these people shall not be hit harder than is absolutely necessary for the security of the people."

Norwegian officials predicted that the Norwegians would react with continued outbreaks against Nazi overlords.

Far from stamping out rebellion, these circles said, the strong measures taken by the Germans probably will serve only to provoke new outbreaks.

"Undoubtedly, one source who must remain anonymous declared, 'The Germans have aroused some of the Norwegians in the Trondheim area, who have been passive heretofore.'"

Actually, it was said, the lifting of the state of emergency will mean little because of the normal restraints imposed on the Norwegian population by occupation authorities.

Radio reports from Oslo announcing the lifting of the emergency did not disclose what action the Germans had taken with respect to the 1,000 or more Norwegians they were reported to have arrested during the past few days.

A picture of the gradual deterioration of the morale of German occupation forces in Belgium was painted meanwhile by Antoine Delfosse, minister of justice and information in the Belgian government in exile, who recently escaped to Britain.

Delfosse maintained that Germany is on the verge of collapse on the military and home fronts and said it now is only a question of how long she can last.

Farm Benefits May Go Into Production

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Farm benefit payments, used in the past largely to discourage excess crop production, may be employed next year to obtain the largest possible food output for war needs.

A new production-incentive plan is cast for the payments in rules being made by the agriculture department for its 1943 "Food-Freedom" program.

It is not yet known how much will be available for such payments, since the money must be appropriated by congress. Officials said the amount might exceed $600,000,000, including soil conservation and parity payments. In some past years payments have totaled more than $750,000,000.

Heretofore, most of the payments were made for cooperating with production control programs affecting cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, rice and peanuts. A grower received maximum payments if he planted within acreages allotted him and carried out recommended soil conserving practices.

Under proposed new plans, payments would be made on the same basis, but farmers would be required to meet production goals for their products as well. The subsidies would be tied to production programs which would be worked out for each individual farm. These programs would include allotments for the basic crops normally grown on the farm and production goals for one or more of such products as hogs, cattle, milk, poultry, eggs, peanuts or soybeans for vegetable oil, potatoes and other food commodities considered essential for war needs.

In making up production programs for a farm, officials would take into consideration such factors as its supply of labor, land, machinery and other facilities. The program would be designed to make the most efficient use of all the production factors.

Chilean President Postpones His Visit

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Juan Antonio Rios has postponed his intended visit to President Roosevelt in the second stroke of official Chilean displeasure to follow Thursday's speech in Boston by acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles.

Rios, in a message to President Roosevelt announced last night, said that "the latest official information circulated in the United States about my country's international policy has created an unpleasant atmosphere."

On Saturday, Chilean Ambassador Rodolfo Michels presented Chile's protest against Welles' statements in a 45-minute call at the White House.

The Chilean president was scheduled to arrive Oct. 21 in Brownsville, Tex., and to reach Washington the following day.

County Ships 20 Million Pounds Of Scrap Metal

Out from Gray county for the month of September went 2,162,800 pounds of scrap metal, or more than twice as much as for any of the three months of June, July, and August, of this year, and half as much as in May.

Also shipped from Gray county last month was 46,787 pounds of scrap rubber.

These figures were released today by the office of the Pampa Civilian Defense Council, as the county-wide campaign gained increasing momentum as a prelude here to the patriotic assembly to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the

FDR To Talk On Draft And Second Front

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The White House indicated today that a presidential fireside chat tonight would touch the issues of a second front and the drafting of young men of 18 and 19 for the armed forces.

President Roosevelt gave over most of the day to finishing the address, scheduling only one conference. Significantly, that was with Paul V. McNutt, in charge of war manpower mobilization, and with Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early indicated that the problem of manpower would be covered in the address, along with selective service.

Asked about the drafting of 18- and 19-year olds, he replied: "I think you'll find that in there."

To an inquiry whether the speech would touch on European problems and a second front, Early answered: "I think you'll construe what he says as applying to a second front."

Early said there had been numerous requests that the talk include an appeal to the people to turn out and vote at the election next month but he said he did not know whether such an appeal would be made at this time.

Mr. Roosevelt already had called for heavy turnout of voters in a statement pertaining to politics in his own state of New York.

While the chief executive said at a recent press conference that the fireside chat would not be in the nature of a general war review, Early's remark about a second front suggested that the chief executive might have decided to broaden his subject matter to some extent.

The President will speak 30 minutes starting at 9 p. m., Central War time.

Jeffers Says We've Gambled Too Long

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers today said "we have gambled too damned long" already on the rubber situation in defending a WPB order to substitute rayon for cotton in heavy tire manufacture.

Despite a bombardment of questions from members of the agriculture committee, most of whom were critical of the change, Jeffers declared that if rayon did a "better job" than cotton "then I am for rayon."

"So far as I am concerned, and make no mistake about it," he continued, "I am not influenced by anybody or anyone."

Hatcher Called As Inquiry Opens

Grand jury investigation of the affray Friday night between Sheriff Cal Rose and Constable Jess Hatcher was in progress here today.

District Attorney Thurman Adkins said he did not expect any action to be taken on the matter today.

Constable Hatcher was the first witness to appear before the jury this forenoon.

As the grand jury reconvened District Judge W. R. Ewing addressed the jurors and advised that a thorough investigation be made.

He said that he was not attempting to tell them what this action should be and said it should be based on facts, and to "let the chips fall where they may."

"There are plenty of laws to cover the situation," the judge said. "Regardless of the merits of either side, peace officers, who hold the respect of the people and are elected by them, should above all people observe the law and are subject to the law even more so than the man in the street."

U. S. Air Engineers Vindicated By Raid

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Friday's punishing raid on Lille by big American four-motored bombers—fortresses and Liberators—in which at least 105 German fighter planes were destroyed or damaged was declared by the London Daily Express today to have been "vindication" of American aircraft engineering.

The Express, whose air correspondents have been most doubtful of the ability of the United States heavy bombers to carry out day raids, said in an editorial:

"There has been some criticism of American designers who, in producing the fortresses, sacrificed bomb load capacity for gun power and armor."

"This (Lille) triumph is vindication of their policy and an answer to their critics."

Single Nazi raiders attacking a southeast coast town about noon today killed at least four persons and injured several others when bombs hit houses and shops. Rescue parties dug into debris for others believed trapped in flattened buildings.

German raiders made their first night attack on Britain since Sept. 26 last night, bombing scattered localities on the northeast coast and causing some casualties and damage. The German radio said Sunderland was the objective of the biggest night attack.

Russ Defenders Still Hold Out At Stalingrad

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH Associated Press War Editor

At the end of seven weeks of terrific attack and epic defense, the indomitable defenders of Stalingrad have forced the Germans by the sheer tax on flesh and blood to halt mass assaults on that ruined but strategically valuable city.

With signs of a great defensive victory emerging, the Russians themselves reported capture of "advantageous positions" in their flanking action northwest of Stalingrad—to the further peril of the immobile Germans—as well as gains by counter-attack in the Mozdok area of the Caucasus.

Adolf Hitler's time table for 1942 seems to have been beautifully scrambled.

For the third day the Germans and the puppets were largely confined to artillery and air assaults on Stalingrad. The Russian communiqué said that artillery and mortar duelling continued in the immediate area. The Germans actually won positions inside the Volga city but failed to reach the city.

The reiterated thump of the German Minon Wehrer and the grumble of siege cannon while Axis troops dug in to hold their Stalingrad wedges were nothing like the fuherr intended when on Sept. 30 he declared:

"We shall take Stalingrad, you may depend on that."

Even then 15 days had passed since the Germans announced that the battle of Stalingrad had entered its "final phase."

Typical of the price levied by the Russians on the Germans' mad effort to save the fuherr's face at Stalingrad was today's communiqué report that two companies of German troops were wiped out when the Germans attacked the outskirts of a Stalingrad workers' settlement.

This German action nowise rankled with the strength of previous mass assaults.

For the first time in weeks Saturday's battle took a secondary place in the Russian communiqué—the Germans had been playing it down for days. The Russian communiqué took a broad approach by reporting continuing action on the whole Russian-German front.

In the Caucasus the Germans still were striving to take the valuable Grozny oil fields southeast of Mozdok, but the Russians reported a counterstroke with which they disrupted the German offensive and recaptured defense positions.

The Russians were reported advancing also in the zone southeast of Novorossiysk, a Black sea port which the Germans now hold, storming a town house-by-house after the German garrison was surrounded. American-made jeeps were delivering anti-aircraft guns to the Caucasus front.

The Germans said that Russian forces encircled on the road to Tsipa, another Caucasus port on the Black sea, southeast of Novorossiysk, had been "annihilated."

While Stalingrad seemed more than German ground forces could handle, the air battle of Western Europe had demonstrated the weakness of German aviation against the mounting bomber power and fighter-bomber tactics of the British and Americans.

Last Friday's daylight raid on the German-held Lille area in which United States flying fortresses and Liberators accounted for 105 German fighters—48 destroyed, 38 probably destroyed and 19 damaged.

British bombers, meanwhile, were credited with scoring a direct heavy-bomb hit on an enemy depot near by night in the eastern Mediterranean, and two near misses on another.

Stiff Spending Tax Plan Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The treasury may recommend increases in social security payroll levies, linked with a stiff spending tax, before action is completed on the pending revenue bill.

The new tax measure, called "a very notable contribution to the tax system" by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee, went to the house today where a conference committee was expected to be appointed to meet tomorrow with seven senators to begin the work of bringing into line the conflicting versions passed by the two chambers.

George expressed hope this committee might finish its work within a week and congress already had notice from Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau that he would be back to combine such a tax with a proposed increase in social security levies in a new war financing program.

DEFENDERS

In the air, however, heavy bombers attacked Bengasi, Axis Libyan port, on Saturday and Rommel's intermediate supply base, Tybaki, Crete, on Saturday night.

There was an increase yesterday in air activity over Malta, the enemy carrying out five heavily escorted bomber raids, but the defenders of the British Mediterranean island destroyed at least 15 of the attackers and damaged many more as against the loss of one fighter.

This was the only Allied loss reported. The Italians nevertheless claimed that seven Allied planes were downed over Egypt yesterday and that 15 more were destroyed over Malta as against the loss of three Axis planes.

Churchill's Edinburgh speech today was a broad review of the war and included the statement that "the Australians, with their American allies, have made a good advance in New Guinea."

He referred to the pursuit of Japanese forces which only a few days ago were less than 40 miles from Port Moresby, Allied base on New Guinea's southern shore facing Australia.

The foe now has been driven back across New Guinea's mountain divide, about 70 miles from Port Moresby. Japanese and installations between their north shore base, Buna, and Kokoda are being repeatedly bombed and machine-gunned from the air.

Meanwhile Allied bombers, having laid waste to Rabaul, New Britain, a Japanese base on the island fronting Australia, in two successive night assaults, scored two direct hits on a 10,000-ton Japanese sea-plane under southeast of New Britain on Sunday. The vessel when last observed was motionless and apparently severely crippled.

Twelve planes were visible on the tender's deck when the attack was delivered so it was likely that the raiders put a crimp in Japanese efforts to bolster the air support for the invasion forces in New Guinea, the Solomon or elsewhere.

Blind Workers Doing Efficient Job In Many Industries Of State

(By The Associated Press) Blind workers, with a highly developed sense of feel, are performing delicate tasks in Texas industry. Here are a few cases: A Dallas man, totally blind, is working for a motor-manufacturing plant at Garland. His job is to salvage metal parts by running his sensitive fingers and his mechanical vision over the parts for rough spots and removing the spots. An aviation manufacturing plant has a man and a woman, both blind, whose job is to smooth off the rough places or burrs left on metal parts by swift-boring drills. A dress-manufacturing company employs two blind girls to pin up finished dresses and, in case of two-piece garments, to make sure the sizes match.

At another Texas plant a totally-blind young man is packing shells—and he does it so well and his example is such an encouragement to fellow-workers that his employer says "I feel that, for psychological reasons, every plant, especially a defence plant, should have a blind person."

"It was apparent to me," he went on, "that this bad man saw quite clearly the shadow of slowly and remorselessly approaching doom x x x."

"Fear," he added, "is also the motive which inspires Hitler's latest outrage."

Churchill said that Norway, Denmark, Belgium and France "all are seething with the spirit of revolt and revolution" and that commando raids "inspire the author of so many crimes and miseries with a lively anxiety."

If he fell short of any of the goals, his payments would be subject to deductions. Allowances would be made, however, for bad weather and other factors beyond control.

This plan was brought forward after opposition developed in congress and among some farm officials to a proposal—since abandoned—to change the entire basis of making payments. Under the rejected proposal, payments would have been made on hogs, cattle, milk, poultry, eggs, soybeans, peanuts and other war crops.

Schooner Backtracks Northwest Passage

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 12 (AP)—A new chapter has been added to Arctic history by eight hard Royal Canadian mounted police who completed the first west-to-east voyage across the top of America 28 months after their 80-ton auxiliary schooner set out from Vancouver.

The bearded adventurers sailed quietly into this port yesterday to accomplish in reverse the feat which explorers of a bygone era had attempted unsuccessfully in their search for the Northwest Passage—short cut to the fabled riches of the Orient.

Only once in history has the East-to-West passage been sailed—by Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and five other men who crossed the North Atlantic in 1903 and emerged into the Pacific three years later.

Details of the mounties' voyage were cloaked by official secrecy, the members of the expedition declining to disclose their purpose in undertaking the hazardous journey.

They revealed that one member of the original crew had died on the way, but was replaced by another man picked up at a lonely R. C. M. P. post at which they passed en route.

During most of the time since they left the west coast in June, 1940, the mounties only contact with the outside world was by radio. Though they carried a goodly load of provisions when they set out they were forced to forage for their food during their lonely wanderings among the ice floes—depending partly on seals and fish for subsistence.

Allied far eastern raids this month cost the Japanese nine vessels, including five fighting ships and four merchantmen.

United States submarines, in 10 months of war patrols extending throughout the western Pacific, successfully attacked 113 enemy ships in all categories, counting 74 craft sunk, 19 probably sunk and 22 damaged. The cost of inflicting this damage has been five American submarines.

Here's Simple Plan To Get Plenty Meat

HINCKLEY, Ill., Oct. 12 (AP)—Laverne Stahl, dirt farmer, has come up with a plan to keep a steady flow of meat going to the butcher shops—a program so simple that marketing experts wondered why nobody had done it before.

He merely raises four big crops, instead of the usual one or two each year. Simple as Stahl's idea is, it appeared to startle market men who have been worried about the problem of market glut of live hogs.

Stahl breeds his live sows to farrow in January, the other half in March. Then the sows which farrowed in January are bred to bear another litter in June and the March sows farrow again in September.

News Behind The News The National Whirligig

WHISPER: In certain military circles weight is given to the possibility of a second front in what previously was considered one of the least likely spots—Denmark. Its flat and unlimited terrain presents handicaps but it permanently held the location would offer distinct advantages: The people are antagonistic to the Nazis; the presence of United States soldiers there would sever Scandinavia from the Reich; the path to the Baltic would be unsealed and Germany could be hit in the back.

New York banks receive word from Copenhagen by way of Lisbon that the Danes are becoming completely disillusioned. Cost of living has skyrocketed. The nation's world famous livestock has been slaughtered by Reichswehr quartermasters. Thousands of unemployed are leaving to work in the Rhineland rather than face a winter of starvation. Many well-known concerns are closing their doors, the latest being a great class manufacturing plant. What firms fear they must quit operations because smelting coke is no longer available.

Across the Categat the Swedes also are beset by economic topsy-turvy—swept the yards, consumed dispute openly. Exporters in Sweden's lumber industry are being slaughtered by suddenly a mysterious fire—one of the biggest in Swedish history—swept the yards, consumed five ships and burned a fortune in logs. The authorities hush-hushed the affair but folks whisper that it was an act of sabotage to keep the valuable wood from Hitler's clutches.

JUNKET: Tidings come to diplomats that all is not well with us in Istanbul. The Swastika juggernaut is advancing closer and closer to the Caucasus frontiers and Turkey is beginning to veer toward the Axis again. Although the hearts of the people may not be in the new move, this attitude does not make the threat less acute to the United Nations, especially to those American soldiers serving with the British army in Palestine and Persia.

Asia Minor's government has signed a trade agreement with Berlin through which the neutral will supply the belligerent with chrome. The Allies have urgent need of this metal in the production of armaments, especially to those American soldiers serving with the British army in Palestine and Persia.

More Rent Areas Are Designated WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Residential rents in 97 additional defense-rental areas throughout the nation and including Alaska will be frozen effective Nov. 1, the office of price administration has announced.

In 96 of the Newly-Affected areas—including the 12 designated in Texas and the five in Oklahoma—rents were ordered cut back to the levels which prevailed last March 1. In the Orlando Fla., area, where a March 1 date would have placed rents at the height of the winter tourist season, the maximum rent date was moved back to Oct. 1, 1941.

OPA action will bring rents in every large city except New York under federal regulation.

Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston were included among the nation's cities affected by the latest ruling. The 97 areas with rent control was extended have a population of nearly 20,000,000 and from a supplement to the 197 areas with a population of more than 50,000,000 already covered by the orders.

Alaskan Scouts Praised For Blazing Trail To Audreanols

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN HEADQUARTERS, ALASKA DEFENSE COMMAND, Oct. 12 (AP)—A rough, tough band of Alaskan scouts, who can go farther on a chunk of dried salmon than most men can go on full field rations, drew praise today as the heroic trail blazers for the landing of American forces on one of the Andreanof islands in the Aleutians.

The landing was announced by the Navy Saturday.

The scouts are home now, getting a bit of relaxation by climbing mountains or shooting mountain goats, so their story can be told. They are known officially as the combat intelligence platoon of the Alaska defense command, but the designation leaves Alaskans cold.

They faced a stormy and treacherous sea at night in rubber boats; they slept on a rocky coast without fires or the protection of a tent as a pup tent in the driving rain, and they went ashore on a foggy island when they didn't know but what the enemy might be there in force.

"Castner's cutthroats" got their name from their commanding officer, Col. Lawrence Castner, son of the famed Maj. Gen. Joseph C. (Bull) Castner, of World War I. The Colonel, as a veteran Alaskan officer who knows the far stretches of the territory intimately, lauds them as the greatest unit in the army. Beside them, he contends, the commandos seem soft.

The backbone of the platoon is composed of volunteers from the Alaskan back country, both natives and whites. Late in August, after months of training, the scouts set out across Bering Sea for their island destination, with home-made boats lashed to the decks of their vessels and rubber boats inside, ready for in-
