SWARMS OF NAZI DIVE BOMBERS HIT STALINGRAD

General Winter Takes His First Rap At Germans

(By The Associated Press)

Swarms of German dive bombers and fighters resumed a full-scale assault on Stalingrad today after cold rains had driven them from the skies in a short foretaste of winter, but Red army headquarters declared the Russians still held their lines unbroken for the past 36 hours.

As the storm subsided, the German Transocean News agency asserted that only "a few square kilometers" of Stalingrad was left in Soviet hands.

German military quarters, however, emphasized that "the tenacity of Soviet resistance was evidenced rather by the number of (street) barricades and other positions obstinately defended by the enemy than by the area of the city not yet in German hands."

Soviet reports said that supplies and troop reinforcements continued to reach defenders of the ruined Volga metropolis and that German long-range guns were heavily shelling the river in an attempt to interrupt the crossings.

Despite the temporary relief afforded by autumnal storms, which forced the gigantic battle back to the World War tactics of artillery barrage and infantry assault, the Red armies were under savage attack by tank-led German shock troops in a northern factory district.

It was the 57th day of siege. Behind the battlefield, a Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from the Italian frontier reported that an Italian Alpine regiment had mutinied at Gorizia, in Northern Italy, when it was ordered to the Russian war zone.

Reuters said that the ringleaders were shot by Fascist military police and that the troops were embarked forcibly without arms.

At the same time, advices received London said Albanian mountaineers had proclaimed an independent Albania and now were fighting the Italians on three mountain fronts.

"A continuing revolt at Skappari menaces Italian control of Albania," said a dispatch to the London News Chronicle. "And it is planned to send additional planes, heavy artillery and infantry forces."

"In Central Albania, the patriots are reported to have engaged the Italians in particularly heavy fighting. There, too, the Italians sent reinforcements."

Patriots were also reported creating trouble for the Axis in Serbia and Yugoslavia.

The situation on the Stalingrad front appeared little changed since Sunday night, when the Russians made their last withdrawal.

German field headquarters asserted that Nazi troops had occupied another block of houses in the northern suburbs and said mopping-up operations in "in the ground of the gun factory 'Red barricade'" were continuing.

Meanwhile, roundabout Axis reports from Ankara, Turkey, declared that "United States troops which arrived in Syria were being sent to Persia (Iran) and Russia."

These reports, unconfirmed elsewhere, said the Americans were chiefly troops trained in special Arizona training camps for mountain warfare, thereby implying that they were being used to bolster Soviet forces in the Caucasus.

On the Stalingrad front, the Russian front line was unbroken. See GENERAL WINTER, page 8.

Gray County Is Second In Texas Scrap Per Capita

Gray county ranked second in the state in the per capita collection of scrap metal in the two-weeks drive which ended last night. Only Titus county, in the East Texas oil fields, exceeded Gray among 88 Texas counties reporting. Gray's per capita return was 25.14 pounds; Titus' 48.8.

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Per capita returns from 88 Texas counties reporting scrap metal collections in the two-weeks' drive ending last night, totaled 63.4 pounds.

This per capita poundage was compiled from figures sent to Thornton Hall, drive director, and to the Associated Press by newspapers sponsoring the campaign, which revealed a total of 255,582,502 pounds gathered in the reporting counties.

For the state as a whole, based on incomplete reports, the per capita return was 29.8 pounds. Titus county, near the East Texas oil fields, topped the list.

Use Those Nylon And Silk Stockings, Gals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ladies, use your silk and nylon hose, the government doesn't want them until you are through with them.

This advice was sent out today by the war production board to clarify a recent announcement asking the women to save their discarded silk and nylon hose until machinery can be established to collect the worn out stockings and salvage their threads for war purposes.

Pacific Battle Still In Doubt; U.S. Warships Blast Into Action

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press War Editor
Japan conceded that victory was still far out of sight in the Battle of the Pacific today as American warships were officially reported to have thundered into action against enemy forces on Guadalcanal Island in the Lower Solomons.

Secretary of the Navy Knox told newsmen he believed "The Japanese have by no means as yet exercised their maximum force" in the Solomons campaign.

"It is still a good stiff, hard fight," he said, adding that he had no late information to divulge.

President Gets Huge Tax Bill For Approval

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Congress completed ten months work on a gigantic new wartime tax bill today and sent it to President Roosevelt for his expected prompt approval. The senate wound up work on the measure by adopting a conference report which previously had been approved by a 130 to 2 vote by the house.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Congress was ready to submit formally to the American people today the biggest tax bill in history as the first great installment on the war.

The legislation adds an estimated $8,000,000,000 in new revenues, bringing to approximately $25,000,000,000 the total to be collected in federal taxes for 1943.

Both senate and house were expected to give speedy approval to the compromise draft adopted Saturday by a joint conference committee, thus routing it to President Roosevelt's desk in time for the new excise taxes to become applicable on Nov. 1. This would put $50,000,000 in the treasury next month over and beyond the excise levies now in force.

May Robson Dies In Beverly Hills

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 20 (AP)—May Robson, 78, veteran Australian-born stage and screen actress, died at her home today.

Despite failing health and eyesight, she had been active in moving pictures until less than a year ago.

At her bedside when she died were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gore, and her secretary-companion, Lillian Harmer, who had been with her constantly since 1910.

Her last feature picture was "Joan of Paris," made last year by RKO and released early in 1942. Last winter, she was before the cameras for the last time in a community chest short subject with Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres.

Not Many Women Seeking Office In These War Times

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Although women are expected by political experts to comprise from 50 to 60 per cent of the vote in this first World War II general election, there are fewer women candidates for congress and major state offices on the Nov. 3 tickets than in the past two general elections.

In 1928, the last off-year election, there were 92 women candidates, including four for the United States senate; 37 for the house of representatives; three for governor and 48 for other state offices.

In 1940, the last presidential year, there were 83 women candidates, including two for the senate, 28 for the house, three for governor and 50 for other state offices.

But this year of WAACS and WAVES and employment of women in many occupations heretofore closed to them, there are but 66 women candidates, including two for the senate; 28 for the house, one for governor and 35 for other state offices.

Why these decreases when women are being called upon as never before to come out of the home?

Answers were sought from Miss Marian Martin, head of the women's division of the Republican National committee; Miss Lorena Hickok, executive secretary of the women's division of the Democratic National committee; and Miss Alice Paul, executive committee.

'Congressional High Command' Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Sentiment for a "congressional high command" to coordinate war legislation gained impetus today behind a resolution to formalize such an organization.

The proposal was offered by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) at the suggestion, he said, of numerous associates who felt the present duplication of effort in many cases and the repeated calling of high government officials before congressional committees should be curtailed.

It would create a special committee of 21 senators and 21 representatives chosen from the military and naval affairs and the appropriations committees of the two branches.

To this committee would be sent all legislation dealing with the war, and its reports would be made to both houses.

Oil Men Seek Allowables On Monthly Basis

By BRACK CURRY
AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Before the Texas Railroad commission today was testimony submitted by Texas crude purchasers advocating a plan to fix allowables on a per well per month basis instead of the present per well per day system.

Attending a special called hearing yesterday to consider plans to conserve manpower and materials, operators advocated closing down wells making considerable water.

The commission will receive additional testimony at a hearing Oct. 29 on a proposed plan to permit transfer of the allowable of a well making large quantities of water to wells in other parts of the field producing without water.

A third plan permitting the transfer of the allowable of a well to another well on the same lease where it was impossible to obtain pumping equipment also was discussed.

Submitting the per well per month allowable plan, Chairman Ernest O. Thompson told the operators that it would permit shuttling of labor from lease to lease and would conserve reservoir energy.

Expressing opposition to the proposal, suggested that the plan "might invite a courthouse full of lawsuits if we were to let you produce your entire month's allowable in one day."

Thompson proposed an alternative plan under which the commission would not specify shutdown days and would fix the allowable per well with operators determining the days upon which the allowable would be produced.

Predicting the proposed change would cause drainage from one lease to another, Culbertson expressed "grave fears" that conditions which marked early development in East Texas would return and that the prevailing practice would be for operators to produce their entire allowable from wells offsetting the adjoining lease.

Endorsing the plan "as a means of conserving resources and manpower," D. H. Griswold, independent West Texas operator, told the commission that "manpower could be used when most convenient" under the plan and added that it

Zinc Jar Tops To Become Casualty

Zinc jar tops will become a casualty of war, when a War Production Board order prohibiting use of zinc in the manufacture of closures for jars and bottles goes into effect on October 29.

Housewives, however, will have still another opportunity to aid the war effort by doing without this fixture of home canning. Moreover, they can convert to wartime standards in this case with little trouble, for an excellent substitute for the zinc jar top is available in porcelain closure with a steel rim.

Zinc that will be saved through this WPB order can be used to make more than 35,000 tons of brass badly needed for ammunition and other war uses.

Fur is showing up in strange places this fall. It has been seen as insertions on either side of belt buckles, as lapels on dress jackets and as cuffs. The job of lapels and cuffs was done so cleverly it made one wonder if the dress jacket was not lined in fur.

Housewives Urged By OPA To Store Up Home-Preserved Foods

While farms and home gardens in the Southwest still are yielding pears and apples, tomatoes and cabbage, a wide assortment of root crops, and many other edibles, housewives are urged by OPA and the Department of Agriculture to take a leaf from the squirrel's book, and store up home-preserved foods for the coming winter.

Jars, shelves and storage bins should be filled up to supplement the nation's limited commercial supply. Every home-canned jar the homemaker adds to her shelves now will help her family to have one more nutritious meal this winter, and will save a can of tinned food for the time when no other supply is available.

So much of this year's commercial pack of fruits and vegetables will be required by our armed forces and our allies that the War Production Board already has limited the amount of canned food to be released for civilian use.

The provident housewife, if she has large quantities of surplus foods on hand, may select storing as the cheapest and simplest method of laying them by. Storing requires no crating metal, no precious rubber, and little time and labor, after the facilities are arranged. An attic, a cellar, or perhaps a large closet can be used. The important thing is that the place be damp enough to keep fruits and vegetables from drying out, and cool, without actually freezing. However, a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees is required for storing sweet potatoes, squash and pumpkins.

"Home Storage of Vegetables," a bulletin published by the Department of Agriculture, gives complete instructions on making and using home-storage facilities, and tells how each kind of vegetable can be stored.

Drying is another method of preservation, particularly suited to fruits. Shell beans are favorites among dried vegetables, but green leafy vegetables such as spinach also can be dried, as can peppers, pumpkins, beets and sweet potatoes.

In some parts of the Southwest, where continued dry weather and sunshine can be predicted, drying may be done out of doors. Instructions for making and operating various indoor driers are given in a new Department of Agriculture bulletin, "Drying Foods for Victory Meals."

As for canning, which is the way of preserving fruits and vegetables most familiar to the majority of women, it must extend this year to the saving of imperfect fruits and vegetables, as well as those of the best quality. Imperfects can be made into peach and apple butter and applesauce, or canned assorted. Cut-up fruits will be tasty this winter for salads and fruit cups, mixed vegetables for winter soups. Grape juice can be bottled with little or no sugar, and kraut made of late cabbage. All these will be welcome additions to the family's larder of home-grown and home preserved foods.

Busy Job Will Help "Duration Widow" Overcome Loneliness

By RUTH MILLETT

Being a "duration widow" is going to be a dreary business—but there are things a wife can do to keep from being completely lost in loneliness.

First off, if she isn't completely taken down by small children, she can get a job. If she can get one directly related to the war effort—so much the better. A job will keep her busy all day—and leave her so tired out at night that she'll go to bed early to get ready for another day, instead of sitting up worrying about her husband or feeling sorry for herself because she hasn't anywhere to go.

She'll look up her old friends, too, and exert herself to make new ones. She'll get along better if the woman with whom she spends most of her time are either duration widows, like herself, or unmarried. It is sure to make her feel envious to have Anne—whose husband is still with her—say:

"I really must run along. Bill always wants me to be at home when he gets there."

WAR WORK IS A TONIC FOR "DURATION WIDOWS"

She will do some kind of volunteer war work, because there are so many jobs to be done. Incidentally, doing war work will do something for her morale. If it is work that requires studying and preparation—so much the better.

She'll get to know her neighbors if she doesn't already—so that she won't feel quite so alone. She will help them out whenever she can, and then if she ever needs to call on them for help she won't feel hesitant about it.

She will keep in close touch with her own family.

And the time will finally pass—not a happy time, but not unbearable, either.

Simplified Work Clothes Will Get Hardest Wear Ever

The letter "S", signifying that the garment complies with War Production Board simplification orders, soon will begin to appear on labels in men's work clothes. Similar simplification orders are expected soon for the work clothes to be worn by women who are stepping into production line gaps left by men going to the armed forces.

These new simplified work clothes are going to get the hardest wear work clothes ever had. While the Office of Price Administration has set price ceilings for the garments and has acted to maintain quality standards at the various price levels, OPA experts offer the following tips on buying:

Check the weight of the fabric. Denims lighter than 2.20 should not be purchased for heavy duty work. Close, even stitching is important. Seams should be well lapped. Buttons should be sewed securely on reinforced fabric.

Finally, don't let work clothes get too dirty before laundering. The dirtier they are the harder they must be laundered, and the shorter their life.

2 More Merchant Ships Torpedoed

(By The Associated Press) Two more American merchant ships have been sunk by torpedoes in the Western Atlantic, with the loss of seven men; one of them a convoy commodore, the navy announced yesterday.

The announcement raised to 496 the Associated Press count of officially reported Allied and neutral nations cargo ship losses in submarine action in those waters since Pearl Harbor.

One of the vessels was torpedoed in the North Atlantic in July. Six crew members were missing.

Lieutenant Commander Van Rensselaer Moore, U. S. N. retired, of San Diego, Calif., was killed by one of the torpedoes that destroyed his ship, which was in a convoy, about two months ago in the Caribbean.

Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, told the annual meeting of the Investment Bankers association of America that the submarine menace would grow progressively worse as winter came.

"We can't lick the submarine menace," he declared. "You can get on top of it, maybe ameliorate it, but you can't lick it."

Land estimated that merchant ship production in the United States would be at the rate of four-a-day by next January, compared with three now and two last April.

Every tanker sunk last spring in the Axis submarine drive along the Atlantic coast cost us enough gasoline to drive 13,000 cars from New York to San Francisco.

Air Forces Give You Chance To Select Your Own Post

Advantages of being in the army after victory are cited in the latest announcement of the army air forces seeking enlistment of men with mechanical skill and young men 18 and 19 years old.

With a goal of 7,500,000 men in the armed forces by 1943, the recruiters are asking for prospective volunteers:

"Why not pick your own assignment and the place you would like to be stationed?"

Opportunities in the army air forces are listed:

specialists will be promoted quickly to be non-commissioned officers, which means extra pay.

To train on the job. Most men will be sent directly to air fields, will start right out on the job.

To build for your future. After the war aviation will be the industry with unlimited opportunities. Prepare for them now in the army air forces.

To win the coveted air crew wings. Some men, who request it, will be trained as members of flight crews, entitling them to 50 per cent extra flight pay and to wear their wings.

Icelandic Airmen Knock Off U-Boat

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The United States navy's air force operating from Iceland has made its first definite claim of a U-boat kill, reporting the accurate bombing of a submarine by a Catalina flying boat, the British air ministry said today.

A few hours after the bombing, the report said, the U-boat's crew of 52 abandoned their sinking submarine and went aboard an Icelandic fishing boat. It said an Allied destroyer later captured them.

A new and glorious chapter of American history is being written. It is a chapter of adventure—the supreme adventure of all time for young Americans.

There's a place on those pages for your name, and the glorious achievements for which you will be honored all the balance of your days.

THE War Department has announced new enlistment opportunities for men of 18 and 19. You can now select and serve in any of 13 different branches of the Army.

There's a good reason why you young men and only you are given that privilege. Men of your age make first-class fighting men. You learn fast. You think and act fast—and in battle that saves lives.

Finding Reserves Now Called Big Job Of Oil Men

WICHITA, Kans., Oct. 20 (AP)—Oil men were warned by Wirt Franklin senior director of the office of petroleum coordinator, District 2, that their biggest problem today was finding of new oil reserves, "not for the future but for now."

Addressing the convention of the Independent Petroleum association of America he said that in District two "there is right now an actual shortage and there must be discovery very soon to meet war needs."

Frank R. Buttram, Oklahoma City, IPAA president declared the industry must have a price increase and additional materials to do additional drilling.

Gov. Payne Ratner of Kansas called for a central authority to "coordinate and simplify war regulations pertaining to the oil industry" and charged that the industry "is hampered by Washington's overlapping and duplicating control."

The National Stripper Well as association, at its annual meeting, asked in a resolution that government agencies with control over prices "take immediate effective action and direct a substantial increase in crude oil prices."

Glider Cadets Build Airy Vocabulary At Texas Flying School

LUBBOCK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Glider Cadets at South Plains army flying school are building their own airy vocabulary.

The commanding officer, Col. Norman B. Olson of Chicago, coined the term bird brains. It means: What it takes to be a good glider pilot—ability to feel air currents and trace the blind sky trails by instinct.

Other terms just as new in the growing glider lingo:

Airknocker—Aeronica three-place training gliders.

Sweat out a thermal—Try to find a rising current of warm air so the glider will soar.

Flying freightcar—Big troop-carrying glider.

Kangaroo landing—Landing in which student bounces glider along runway.

Thread or jostling—Towrope used to tow gliders.

Leadleg—Pilot's leg when he's on the right or left side of a three-glider tow and must hold full right or left rudder to prevent collision.

gliders all trying to land at once.

Gravy slot—Center position in a three-glider tow where pilot can relax and enjoy the scenery.

Erad the rope—Occurs when gliders swing in toward each other on the tow, causing towrope to bend and stiffen. (Too many braids and you're washed out.)

Riding the prop wash—When glider gets too low and falls into the wash from the towplane's propeller, causing glider to bounce roughly.

CD Workers Learn Patriotic Service

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Civilian workers have learned the meaning of the word expendable, Ames M. Landis, National Director of the CCD told several thousand Harris county voluntary civilian defense workers here.

He explained the word as meaning that the volunteer was willing to spend hours of time and energy in study and work to prepare his neighborhood against air attack and against loss of morale. "It means teaching your neighbors that 'little things' will win the war on the home front," he said.

These "little things" were described as conservation of transportation, salvaging scrap, encouraging wise consumer habits and maintaining the health of families.

U. S. Convicts 24 German Bundists

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Twenty-four erstwhile German-American bund leaders, who Assistant U. S. Attorney Harold F. Corcoran said preferred the German fatherland to this country have been convicted of conspiring to advise resistance of selective service.

The 24 men, each of whom may be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000, appeared calm in federal court last night as a Manhattan housewife, Mrs. Marguerite Casey, chairman of a six-man, six-woman jury that deliberated nearly six hours, announced the guilty verdict.

Another defendant, Ferdinand Callisen, 57-year-old deaf proprietor of a South Bend, Ind., grocery store and a former bund unit secretary, was acquitted.

Among those convicted were former National Bund Chief Gerard Wilhelm Kunze of Camden, N. J., and Dr. Otto Willemet, both of whom previously were indicted in Hartford, Conn., on charges of conspiring to send military data to Germany and Japan.

Kunze had pleaded guilty to the charge and Willemet had been convicted.

Gustav Hildebrand, former secretary-treasurer of the St. Paul, Minn., unit, who was not defendant, testified for the government.

The indictment also had been brought against these three, who pleaded guilty: William Letiche of Saddle River township, N. J., former bund national secretary who was the government's main witness; Karl A. Bachmann of Buffalo, N. Y., and John August Grill, Brooklyn.

Six Million Tons Of Scrap Salvaged In Newspaper Drive

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The newspapers' united scrap metal drive committee today set its sights on 6 million tons as the likely total of old iron and steel salvaged in the newspaper-sponsored campaign which ended in most states Saturday.

The committee believed the 3,200,484 tons already reported collected by 47 states may be doubled when the last figures are available, probably several weeks from now.

The various states were revising their totals upward daily as additional scrap heaps, gathered during the campaign, were reported to central agencies. Their returns were still flooding the committee.

Several states began their drive after the general start of the 21-day campaign Sept. 28. Their totals will be included, too, in the final figures showing the results of the nationwide effort to gather scrap for the steel mills.

Wyoming led the nation to date with collection averaging 104.2 pounds per person and a tonnage of 13,098.

Treatments Enable 652 To Join Service

There are 652 young men who are thankful that eye specialists of zones 1 and 2, of which Dr. R. J. Benson of Amarillo is chairman, are so skilled in their work that it enabled them to pass tests to get into the army and navy.

Case records show that 652 young men were able to pass army and navy requirements after they received treatments, of whom 379 were accepted for the air corps, 109 for the army, and 164 for the navy.

Work of the specialists followed the army and navy's rejection of several thousand selectees because of poor vision.

MEATLESS TUESDAY IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Today was the first meatless Tuesday in New York City, restaurants, hotels and homes. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia urged restaurants and housewives to serve dishes without beef, mutton, lamb or pork.

Rifling a gun barrel, a delicate machining job, is being done 30 times faster than a few months ago.

"I've been saving up for a coat like that for years and now I've got just enough to buy it—but with the war and everything I wonder if the neighbors would talk."

Farm Problem: How To Retain Wartime Gains

By PETER EDSON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

U. S. Department of Agriculture economists are now working out their detailed estimates of farm crop requirements for 1943 while American farmers, handicapped by a shortage of labor, are still harvesting the biggest crop this country has ever produced, yielding $1 billion more farm income than ever before.

MECHANICAL WORKERS

Tractors were displacing farm labor. The work required to produce an acre of wheat was half what it had been a generation before. Better seed gave larger yields. There were nearly a million people unemployed on the farms, and two million more rural families were merely subsistence farmers, consuming everything they produced, having no surplus to sell and having no market in which to sell them if they did.

PROBLEM UNSOLVED

This change in the picture has by no means solved the farm problem nor has it put the farm planners out of work. Their problem now is to find ways to hold the gains that have been made and to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the war to make some of the changes which have been hoped could be made within the next generation.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, Oct. 20—What would you give if you should be assured that this time next year Herr Hitler would be swinging sweetly from the end of a hangman's rope? Plenty, of course. And I believe we can have this assurance if the Anglo-American Allies aren't compelled by circumstances to deviate far from the fundamental strategy which they laid down long ago. This is the Nazi anti-Christ is the main enemy and that we must concentrate on crushing him.

We have now reached the crucial moment when American and British moves of the immediate future may determine whether the European section of the world conflict will be greatly protracted or whether we shall be able to dictate peace, say, in 12 months. That mark can be made under favorable conditions for the fuhrer is trying to maintain his footing on a mighty greasy spot.

The trend of the Hitlerian war, to my mind, depends heavily on the striking power of the United States and British air forces over western Europe and Germany.

That conviction is no sudden conversion as a result of a great white fight. It is a conviction previously formed and one of the main reasons for my visit abroad was to study this question further. My belief in the air possibilities increased and crystallized as a result of the valuable information here in this vast Allied airbase, for that's exactly what Britain is.

Now, I'm not one of those who claim the war can be won in the air alone. I don't believe it can and don't know many who do believe so.

However, it does seem clear that Hitler now is in a position where he can be rendered entirely impotent by bombing in a comparatively short time and thus be made vulnerable to land attack. That is, we can reach this happy day provided both the British and American commands in Britain have a reasonable increase in air strength. That is the consensus of many military experts.

Here you probably will point to the Royal Air force's 1,000-bomber raid on Cologne and other great assaults, both by the British and by our own very destructive air force, and ask why these cannot be continued. Well, the answer to that is the thing in a nutshell.

You cannot keep up 1,000-bomber assaults without stiff reinforcements and replacements. And unless the heavy raids are continued it will take a long time to iron out the boche.

Unfortunately, so far as concerns the air, Uncle Sam and John Bull haven't been able to practice, to adhere to their policy of concentrating power against Hitler. A great number of bombers, which under normal circumstances would have been available here to strengthen the British air, are being sent to other places, has had to be sent to other places.

The United States has had to provide warplanes for Alaska, the far Pacific, China, India, the Middle East and where-not.

Britain also has been diverting bombers and fighters to Northern Africa and other areas which have been under pressure. As a result, Allied bomber air strength in Britain has not obtained the increase in strength which they would normally expect or which they need now to smother the Nazi all highest. The necessity of diverting this air strength must provide, it seems to me, the reasons why the Anglo-American Allies have not felt able to open a second land front in western Europe thus far. Indeed, establishment of such a front must depend on intensive air preparation. You cannot land a great army on the sea otherwise without terrific losses.

The Russians are calling for quick help. The sooner we get busy plowing up the fuhrer's front yard and sowing our dragon's teeth there the sooner we can get the reasons for spring from the soil to attack him and so relieve pressure on the Allies on the Eastern front.

OHIO STATE REMAINS AT TOP IN SECOND AP GRID POLL

Georgia Holds Second With Alabama Next

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ohio State, with a record of four straight victories this season, remains the choice of the football experts as the country's No. 1 team in the second of the Associated Press' weekly polls.

Fifty-eight of the 119 sports writers gave the Buckeyes, who blanked Purdue while getting 26 points for themselves in their latest outing, first place on their ballots but 38 others decided the honor belonged to Georgia, a 40 to 0 winner over Tulane last Saturday.

The Dixie Bulldogs, second a week ago, held onto the runnerup position, 1,030 votes to 973, but Alabama, which stopped Tennessee, 8 to 0, exchanged places with Michigan and occupied third place while the Wolverines skidded to fourth despite their 34 to 16 win over Northwestern.

That was the only change among the first seven of a week ago with Illinois, Georgia Tech and Wisconsin keeping the fifth, sixth and seventh runs.

The remaining three places in the top 10, however, went to newcomers with Notre Dame climbing from twenty-second to eighth on the strength of the 28 to 9 shellacking administered the Iowa pre-flight cadets; Santa Clara moving up from a tie for fifteenth to ninth by beating California, and Boston College nudging up from eleventh to tenth following the Eagles' 7 to 6 win over the North Carolina pre-flight.

Pennsylvania, tied by Princeton; Colgate, drubbed by Duke; and Washington State, loser to Southern California, were eighth, ninth and tenth a week ago.

Army and Texas Christian, neither defeated this season, failed to make the first 10 by 21 and 23 votes, respectively. They are in the second group along with Minnesota, UCLA, Texas, Mississippi State, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, North Carolina and Syracuse.

The service teams, which have been outstandingly successful against college elevens, are not eligible for consideration in the poll.

The four victories the Ohioans have annexed this season—brought Coach Paul E. Brown's personal record to 106 triumphs out of 18 games played in 12 and half seasons of masterminding. A majority of those wins were compiled at Massillon High school, where Brown tutored until coming to Ohio State two years ago.

The 1941 Buckeye squad, first under Brown's coaching, won six times, lost once and was held to a tie in the eighth game.

Gene Fekete, a 192-pound bruising fullback, is the wheel-horse of the present Ohio State machine although he is only a sophomore and was troubled at the start of the season with leg injuries. He recovered quickly enough, however, to score 52 points, good enough to place as the runnerup behind Bob Steuber of Missouri, in the national scoring race. Steuber has 63 points.

MALEY'S SHILLALAH

HIGH, WIDE AND HAND-SOME is the way Southern Methodist's fine back, Howard Mailey, above, boots them. But it's the kicking after the touchdown that counts, opines Charlie Brickley, Harvard's old-time "never-miss," who thinks coaches should either develop kickers or have the point after touchdown abolished.

Brickley Wants Better Kicking

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—The chunky fellow with the scars on his bald head was emphatic:

"They should abolish the point after touchdown if the coaches are not going to teach the boys how to kick them because most of them just don't know or don't care. They say: 'What's the use? We can get touchdowns.'"

Not just a rabid football fan who had lost ten bucks on a game because his team didn't add the vital point.

But a man qualified to speak on the subject because his name happened to be Brickley—Charlie Brickley—and back in football's yesterday he didn't miss.

Present day fans look on Charlie Brickley as something of a myth—if they ever heard of him. But the record books bulge with stories of his kicking prowess when he played for Harvard before the twenties.

That's when he got those scars on his head. He never played on a losing team and he kicked 35 field goals in 37 tries in four years with the Crimson.

Brickley stopped off in Dallas on his way from Los Angeles to his home in New York. He had seen his son, Johnnie, off with the marines. Another son, Charlie, Jr., is overseas with the artillery.

"I've checked the records for years and watched the amazingly large number of misses after touchdowns," says Brickley. "If the coaches have time to develop fellows who can pass for touchdowns like Sammy Baugh—the greatest passer I ever saw—surely they have time to practice their boys at kicking goals. What's the use of scoring five touchdowns if missing a point after one loses the game?"

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—How can you figure out anything about this football season? . . . You just decide those navy-pre-flight teams are unbeatable when one of them get bumped off on one day—and the Iowa bunch by Notre Dame, which had been tied by Wisconsin and beaten by Georgia Tech . . . then a team like Duke, with no great record, comes up and pastes Colgate (just incidentally, this corner picked Colgate to win) by scoring one touchdown on an offensive play and four on things like pass interceptions and blocked kicks . . . it may be that the boys aren't taking football as seriously as they used to, but when

Brownfield Game To Test Pampans

You ain't seen nothin' yet was the way the football schedule looked to the Harvesters this week as they prepared for their game at 8 o'clock Friday night with Brownfield, a team that has held its opponents scoreless thus far this season.

It will be the first time Pampa and Brownfield teams have played each other in a conference game as Brownfield is a newcomer to Class 1-A.

A 145-pound fullback who is a one-man team all in himself, who in the last game ran back a punt 65 yards for a touchdown; a 170-pound center who is called the best Brownfield has ever had; and a pair of tackles, one weighing 210 pounds, the other 180—this is a sample of the competition Coach J. C. Prejean's boys will have to meet.

The game will be played Friday night on the Brownfield gridiron. Pampa's Harvesters will leave here Thursday morning and work out at Brownfield before the game.

Deverell Lewis, the one-man gridiron blitzkrieg, is captain of the Brownfield eleven, with Harold Dalton, tackle, as co-captain. Billy Joe Snodgrass is the other Brownfield tackle.

Against the Harvesters record of three games won, one tied, and one lost, the Brownfield team can show an unbeaten, unscored on record for five games.

Opening the season Coach John A. Best's boys whipped Midland by three touchdowns, repeated against Lamesa, beat Colorado City 53 to 0, Tahoka 50 to 0, and last week trounced Levelland 35 to 0.

Against that sort of record, the Harvesters will open their conference race with a very loud bang. The going has been tough before, however, and the Harvesters have come through, so there's no use being faint-hearted about their prospects of winning now.

After the Brownfield game, Lubbock comes here on October 31; November 6 is an open date; Plainview will meet the Harvesters at Pampa on November 13; and then the locals will wind up the season away from home, playing Borger at Borger on November 20 and Amarillo in the Helium city on November 26.

Pre-Season Cage Game Held At WTSC

Special To THE NEWS
CANYON, Oct. 20—Without benefit of coaching, varsity basketball players got together the other night and played the freshmen at West Texas State College. Freshmen are eligible to compete in the Border Conference season approaching.

The varsity won, 77 to 46.

There is nothing in this score to remark about, as far as figures go. But those who saw the game went away convinced that the new edition of the "World's Tallest Team" has the best reserves of local cage history.

Missouri's Steuber As Outstanding As New Set Of Tires

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 20 (AP)—Around the University of Missouri campus they'll tell you Bob Steuber, leading college scorer in the nation, is just another guy—until he gets a football in his oversized hands.

Then Bob stands out like a new set of tires. He has scored a total of 63 points in five games, completed nearly 40 per cent of his passes and does much of the Missouri punting. In 62 ball carrying tries Steuber has averaged 8.03 yards—a fraction better than his mark of last year which was good enough to top the college field.

Steuber scored four of his 10 touchdowns last Saturday against Kansas State in the Big Six conference tilt which Missouri won, 46 to 2. Three of his markers came on dashes of 70, 44 and 35 yards, and he gained more than 200 yards in 10 rushes with the ball.

'Sugar' Robinson Decisions Jannazzo

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Unbeaten Ray "Sugar" Robinson won his 37th straight bout at the arena last night, but Tough Izzy Jannazzo shared the crowd's cheers by absorbing all of Ray's Sunday punches without once hitting the canvas.

Robinson hit Izzy with everything in the book, from left jabs and right crosses to right uppercuts to the chin and body, but outside of seeing the Birmingham, Ala., veteran totter in the first, third, fourth and ninth rounds, the Harlem jolter had to be content with a 10-round decision. Robinson weighed 143½ and Jannazzo 147.

SERIAL STORY PLAY BY PLAY BY PAUL DAVID PRESTON

THE STORY: The Miller family is having its troubles on the day of the football game between the Lincoln Field and the...

GENEROUS GESTURE CHAPTER IX

BIG Duane Hogan had stepped the last Aggie tackle at about his own 40-yard marker. And that first diagonal run had placed him well over toward the Lincoln sideline.

This was lucky for the stands, the Lincoln rooters, the newsreel and the press men. Hogan was about to break the 0 to 0 deadlock in a sensational 92-yard run!

Scouter Hale, age 2 years, wore a diminutive Lincoln football uniform. Technically he made a twelfth "man" on the field (as some sports writer later wisecracked). Actually he was no more than a toddler, of course, but in this impulsive play he was engineered by his puppy, Link.

Glancing back warily at pursuing tacklers, Duane didn't see the little ones. "Duane, Duane, look OUT!" Blythe Miller shrieked that. And her warning carried, too, because the 60,000 other spectators were momentarily spellbound.

Duane turned, saw the babies. In that same instant the puppy leaped. "Yap-yap!" it shrieked in ecstasy. Furry paws struck Duane. The string leash entangled him.

Duane's momentum could have carried through, but then—"Scouter!" He himself yelled that. To avoid hitting the little boy, he threw himself aside, stumbled, fell. Jerked by the leash, Scouter sprang, too, unhurt. Only Link kept his balance, but just for sociability he rolled on his ears and came up barking and playing.

THE hullopaloo that followed lasted 10 minutes. Rooters on both sides of the stadium were wild. And so, for that matter, were players, substitutes, coaches, assistants, water boys. Plainly, Hogan of Lincoln Field had headed for a touchdown. But the football rules were clear; Hogan's friendship with the two babies was, for once, just his hard luck.

Coolest man in all the 10 minutes of excitement was Duane Hogan himself. He just stood on the field holding Link and Scouter cupped in one arm, while everybody else gesticulated and shouted. Blythe saw Nancy Hale, crying, run out toward Duane, then Blythe herself was busy helping dress a minor injury on Norman Dana's leg. She didn't even notice the newsreel men gridding in their record of everything. She had trouble keeping back her own sobs for what had happened to Duane.

The referee was clearing the field when people there heard Duane calling, "There's still a minute left, Dana. I'd sure like another chance."

The interference was leading out. And to spite the obvious play, the Aggie men were rushing across in a body. That's the moment when Duane's heels dug in.

Duane halted and turned with all the skill of a ranch pony cutting out wild steers. In a split second he had left the interference and was going back! He half-turned once more. The ball was there, by appointment! It had come from Norman Dana at low altitude, knee height in fact, screened perfectly from enemy eyes.

Duane bowled over an astonished Aggie end, only man who saw the quick maneuver. A simple stiff-arm did it. Seconds later Duane was streaking for victory while in the stadium new pandemonium reigned.

It was on the following afternoon, Sunday, that the Lincoln team went downtown for a theater showing of the Aggie game newsreels. Norman Dana took Blythe. In spite of the 7 to 0 victory Blythe felt spiritless, sad.

They were quiet while the usual play-by-play sequences were shown, and then when the big moment was re-enacted for them, Blythe just had to be generous. "Norman," said she, "that was not only a very shrewd bit of quarterbacking, that last play; but it was exceedingly generous of you, as well. I mean—it was! I think I—maybe understand what you—how you really reasoned. Better than most people would."

He patted her hand. "Kid, little kid," said he, tenderly. "I know what you mean. Yump. People say I'm condescending. Guess I am. Thought I might as well take advantage of it. Not much of an asset otherwise, conceit isn't."

It was a rare moment and Blythe knew it. A man doesn't often bare his soul. She squeezed his hand in return. And then there was a newsreel flash of Duane Hogan holding baby Scouter with puppy Link just after Duane had been tripped. This time, Nancy Hale was shown crying and Duane's other arm was around her, comforting her as best he could.

"Cinderella girl with Lincoln here?" the newsreel commentator said. Then hinted further, "Is romance budding on a football field?" "They'd make a swell match," Norman murmured, snuggling Blythe with his shoulder there in the theater dark. "Nancy certainly is beautiful!" Blythe swallowed hard. She didn't want to cry again. Not here.

ON the third hike the ball flew back to him. He was smiling big, in that happy handsome way of his. Blythe gritted her teeth. The four backfield men swung left, as expected. Norman was stooped over hugging the ball. His knees could be seen churning.

successful in that undertaking, it would have been impossible for the petroleum industry to continue to produce oil for consumptive needs."

In a statement outlining issues before the convention, Buttram said the discovery effort was falling behind, and pointed out that the demand for crude oil has increased greatly and promises to increase further because "the western hemisphere is carrying the larger part of the burden of supplying oil for the Allied nations."

Overnight Ousting Of Tenants Halted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Regulations to halt overnight eviction of tenants and sales of houses to evade rent control have been issued by the Office of Price Administration.

Beginning tomorrow, these two requirements must be met before a purchaser can obtain the right to occupy the property: 1. Payment of one-third of the purchase price must be made (not including borrowed funds) before a certificate authorizing eviction will be issued by an area rent director.

"Necessity for this action has been growing daily," Price Administrator Leon Henderson said. "In order to maintain the morale of the workers in war production industry and of the families of members of the armed forces who pay rent, it is vital that they remain free from the threat of overnight eviction for the duration of the national emergency. Elimination of the apprehension of immediate eviction will make it possible for a worker to maximize his contribution to the war."

U. S. To Turn Out Greatest Navy In World, Knox Asserts

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 20 (AP)—"This country in 1943 will turn out a greater navy than any nation in the world ever possessed," Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox told "Manchester's Own" naval aviation unit as it was sworn in.

"That will be true both in number and balance of type of ships," Knox asserted. "Its only equal would be the combined forces of the United States and Great Britain at the start of the war."

The last letters from the men on Bataan and Corregidor were rescued from the Pacific ocean in a mail pouch after the freighter on which they were being sent to the United States was torpedoed.

Last year's toll of industrial accidents was 250,000,000 man days, ten times the number lost in strikes.

Every day War Bonds are Grade A. Tenth added to tenth Builds bomber strength. I can't fly— But boy, can I buy!

MOORE FIELD, Hidalgo county, Oct. 20 (AP)—The officer of the day approached a soldier new at sentry duty.

"Sentrying the O. D. to a halt, the sentry ordered his officer to approach for recognition but forgot to bring the renewed advance to an end."

The O. D. marched up to the officer and jerked his rifle away. "Now," he demanded, "Just what would you do in a spot like this?"

The sentry exploded: "This is what I'd do!" and snatched back his rifle.

Shortage Of Oil Reserves Likely, IPAA Head States

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 20 (AP)—Independent producers were told yesterday that if the petroleum industry is "not to be derelict in its full duty and responsibility" in the war effort we must retain the depletion clause, we must have a price increase, we must have additional materials in order to go out and do additional drilling.

Speaking at a breakfast meeting, Frank R. Buttram, Oklahoma City, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, told the group's 13th annual convention that a shortage of available underground crude oil reserves appears imminent unless higher crude prices and sufficient materials are gained by the industry.

Despite our excellent record even the treasury tried to take away from us the depletion clause (in the tax laws) and if they had been
