The latest dispatches from the war front indicate that Italy is shaking in its boots.

POSSIBLE NAZI WEAPON

The French battleship Dunkerque, one of the fleet units which had been interned in Toulon harbor, and which has been reported not to have been destroyed in the attempted scuttling of the fleet when Hitler's Nazis marched into that Mediterranean port, possibly may appear on the seas as an Axis raider. One of an estimated 20 ships which escaped destruction, the Dunkerque may in part be balanced by acquisition by the United Nations of warships now stationed at Dakar, and at Martinique. While her tonnage is only approximately half that of the giant New Jersey, her acquisition by the Nazis would be a serious increase of potential destructive naval power faced by the Allies.

F.D.R. Tariff Powers Bill Is Sidetracked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The house ways and means committee today formally pigeonholed President Roosevelt's request for broad wartime authority to suspend tariff laws and regulations. The action came after several members of the committee conferred with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.). Chairman Doughton (D-NC) reported the committee had decided there was "no reasonable possibility" that the bill could be enacted before the 77th session of congress expires.

Darlan Status Debated Today; Session Secret

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—While Prime Minister Churchill was explaining Britain's attitude toward Admiral Darlan in a secret session of the House of Commons, Gen. Charles De Gaulle obliquely suggested that the former Vichy collaborationist be dropped "as quickly as possible." The leader of the Fighting French made his point in this question which he asked during a speech to the Anglo-American Press Association of Paris: "If it happens that for a brief instant some obstacle leads a state to make some slight detour from her path don't you think it essential that state should abandon the detour as quickly as possible for risk permeating her effort with great moral anxiety?"

Commandos In New Assault, Berlin Suggests

BERLIN from German broadcasts, Dec. 10 (AP)—A "small British sabotage troop" was discovered by the Germans Tuesday at the mouth of the River Grance (near Bordeaux on France's west coast) and was annihilated, the German high command reported today. "On Dec. 8, a small British sabotage troop was engaged and wiped out in an engagement," the daily communique said. (No account of such an operation has come from British sources, but the Berlin version suggests that a British commando unit had gone ashore in the vital Bordeaux area, where the Germans have submarine bases, either for reconnaissance or to damage installations.)

Italian Output Of Arms Smashed

MOSCOW, Dec. 10 (AP)—A Tass dispatch datelined Geneva and attributed to reports from Milan said today Italian industry and transport had been so hard hit by British air attacks that Turin recently has produced less than one-tenth its normal quota of airplane engines. Italian industrial output has been halved during the last month, it said, due both to the destruction of important war plants and to the flight of workers from bombed centers. Some factories, including a number of war plants, were closed on their owners' initiative "for the period of evacuation," the dispatch added.

This Fellow Doubtless Will Be Sure When He Crosses Again

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10 (AP)—Policeman Melville Norton halted a pedestrian at a busy downtown intersection, shook the man's hand warmly and congratulated him. "You violated a city ordinance and walked against a red light, but you made it, and weren't killed," he said politely. "It's effective too, explained Norton later; even better than an arrest."

Yanks Holding Tenaciously In Philippine Posts

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Vichy radio broadcast today a dispatch datelined Tokyo reporting that certain of the Philippine islands still were "held by Americans." Major Jones of Winters, Texas, who won the Distinguished Flying Cross for his role in the bombing of Tokyo. Another veteran of the Tokyo attack, Lieut. Richard Miller of Fort Wayne, Ind., also participated. Major Jones reported after his return here "we sure plastered them, but never saw an enemy plane. We got some flak from the ground. We hit dock installations and started some good oil fires."

Here's A Whole Family Gone Off To Win The War

The whole family of six has gone to war. That's a record in itself, but when you learn that the father, who is 76, and the mother, who is 66, are working in a California war plant to help supply their three sons with materials to get the job done on the fighting fronts, that's another high of some kind. The reference is to the family of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Culbertson, Carson county pioneers, who live practically all of their lives in or near White Deer.

Li. Gov. Attacks Unions' Attitude

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Some of the boys lying on battlefields in Guadalcanal, in North Africa, in the jungles of New Guinea and in the skies over the Pacific are disgusted. Lieut. Gov.-Elect John Lee Smith said last night in a speech, adding: "They will be coming back some day, and what will they think about their fighting for $50 per month for many hours, while we shut our eyes to the powerful labor unions who refuse to work more than 40 hours per week?"

Tojo Forecasts Nip Eventual Triumph

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Vichy radio broadcast a Havas agency dispatch today quoting Premier Tojo as saying in Tokyo that "Japan is now in a position to face a long war until the final victory." The premier's statement was made in an interview with German and Italian journalists in observance of the first anniversary of Rome and Berlin's declarations of war on the United States, the radio said. These declarations came on Dec. 11, four days after the anniversary of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor.

ZERO HOUR NEARS ON AFRICAN FRONTS

Heroes Of Tokyo Air Raid Crack At Nazis

UNITED STATES 12th AIR FORCE ADVANCE OPERATIONS BASE, Nov. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Led by one of the heroes of Major General James H. Doolittle's raid on Tokyo, medium bombers of the Twelfth air force battered docks, warehouses, railroad yards and oil storage tanks in a night raid on the port of Sfax, in Tunisia, and then swooped to as low as 25 feet to machine-gun their targets. Fires visible for 75 miles were left burning among the oil tanks. Particularly heavy damage was reported done to the railroad yards and the warehouses on the quays of this important communications port, at the top of the Gulf of Gabes, 140 miles south of Tunis.

RAF Again Hit Mangled Turin

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Royal Air Force bombers flew last night into the smoke still rising from the destruction wrought Tuesday night at Turin, mangled Italian arsenal city, and loosed explosives ranging up to four-ton block-busters in a one-hour assault which left large fires spreading in the industrial areas. Great damage was acknowledged in the Italian high command communique broadcast today from Rome. The air ministry said that three bombers failed to complete the round trip from Britain across the Alps, but said "a strong force" participated—suggesting 200 or 300 planes.

Jaws Of Death Trap Closing On Japs Near Buna

By The Associated Press American and Australian troops, who learned jungle fighting in the wilds of New Guinea, and beat the Japanese at their own game, have occupied the Gona coastal base of the invaders, and crowded their remnants into a narrowing death trap at Buna, 12 miles to the south. The announcement was made today by Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia, who said Gen. Douglas MacArthur took to the field himself to direct this first cleanup in his campaign of vengeance for Bataan.

Plan For Post-War Era, Industry Urged

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Business and industry were urged today by Frederick C. Crawford, president-elect of the national association of manufacturers, to start planning for the post-war period rather than leave such plans to the government. Crawford's first major address since his election, prepared for delivery before the union league club of New York, paralleled in many respects the Post-War Suggestions Shipbuilder Henry J. Kaiser gave the NAM's congress of American industry last week.

Berlin Hints New Rift In General Staff

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—General Kurt Zeitzler, reputed protégé of Nazi Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, has been named by Adolf Hitler as chief of the German general staff, the Berlin radio disclosed today. Zeitzler is chief of the general staff from the rank of colonel at the start of the war to one of the highest military posts in Germany, succeeds the veteran General Franz von Halder.

These Scrap Men Were Exactly That

DENVER, Dec. 10 (AP)—A group of businessmen in Douglas, Wyo., really meant business about bringing in scrap metal. The trekked 40 miles into the mountains and spent five days wrecking a 20-ton steam engine. Then they had to build six temporary bridges and several miles of road to haul the pieces to Douglas. It cost them $280, but it boosted their salvage total to 250,000 pounds.

Controlled Materials Plan Is Explained

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The controlled materials plan, which will go into effect in the second quarter of next year and provides for prime contractors and subcontractors for the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, Air Corps procurement and Lend-Lease administration to get adequate supplies of aluminum, steel and copper, was explained yesterday to 500 manufacturers and suppliers of war materials from North Texas at a meeting sponsored by the Dallas Manufacturers and Wholesalers' association.

Crucial Battle May Explode Any Time

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 10—Allied forces apparently were set today to launch mighty new drives against the Axis in North Africa at any moment in both Libya and Tunisia, under formidable and ever-growing air power. Reports by the Morocco radio that the Americans and British already had sprung anew to the attack on both sides of the Axis' narrowing last foothold on the Mediterranean's African shore apparently were premature.

Russian Fury Slashing On, Soviet Claims

MOSCOW, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Red Army has spearheaded seven miles deeper into enemy lines on the central front near Velikie Luki, recapturing 13 settlements, while the Germans still have failed in their six-day effort to regain the initiative on the Stalingrad front, Soviet dispatches reported today. Attacking with 82 troopers supported by tanks painted white to blend with the snow, the Russians, apparently are stabbing at Nazi communications on the central front, which extends northwest of Moscow roughly from Rzhev to Velikie Luki. ## He Didn't Need Any License For Hunting; And Had His Game

TOWANDA, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—A 65-year-old man answered readily when the hunting license clerk asked his age, address, occupation, color of eyes and nationality—but was stumped when she queried: "Did you report what you got last year?" "Say," he replied, "I'm applying for a marriage license, not a hunting license." She sent him to the recorder's office across the hall.

War And The Top O' Texas

Vital Information

Less than 50 miles of main-line pipe remain to be laid on the Texas-Illinois leg of the 24-inch war emergency oil pipeline. Petroleum Administrator for War Harold L. Ickes announced. Two construction crews already are moving equipment to working sites along the 837-mile "Big Inch" extension from Illinois to the East Coast. When completed the first leg of the line will move 300,000 barrels of oil a day from Longview, Tex. to Norris City, Ill.

With the announcement that 21 complaints alleging price and rent control and rationing violations have been filed within the past two weeks in the Dallas office of price administration region, Regional Administrator Max McCullough stated today that OPA's enforcement program was now getting into full swing in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Kansas.

Regional OPA attorneys filed complaints Monday in the United States district court for the Southern District of Louisiana charging five leading New Orleans hotels with violating maximum rent regulations. The New Orleans, Roosevelt, St. Charles, DeSoto, and Jung hotels were alleged to have charged rates in excess of the legal maximum rent and to have filed incomplete and inaccurate registration statements with the area rent office. Hearing on OPA's motion for a preliminary injunction has been set for December 28.

Pointing to new demands for pork products arising out of recent war developments, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today revised upward previously established 1943 hog goals and at the same time announced a program designed to support hog prices until September 30, 1944.

The revised 1943 goal calls for an increase of 15 per cent over this year's record pig crop. On October 16 the secretary asked farmers to increase their 1943 spring farrowings by 10 per cent. If realized, the new goal will result in a 1943 pig crop, spring and fall farrowings combined, of 121 million head.

ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman today expressed grave concern over the domestic transportation system's manpower crisis, and predicted that the industry would have to find and train by midsummer, 1943, approximately half a million new workers. He advanced a three-point program of recruiting, training and more efficiently utilizing labor to man the country's trains, buses, trucks, airplanes, streetcars and other carriers, urging use of women and older workers.

Announcement of the appointment of Secretary Harold L. Ickes as "Petroleum Administrator who shall be directly responsible to the President" came from the White House with the issuance of an executive order establishing the Petroleum Coordinator for War which Mr. Ickes had headed since its establishment May 28, 1941. The new order confers a broad delegation of war authority upon the Administrator.

Christmas trees will be exempted from wartime regulations affecting the production and sale of goods and services under a ruling jointly announced by WPB, OPA and OET. No restrictions will be imposed this year upon the production, distribution and sale of Christmas trees. It was announced that Mr. Ickes had directed that the prices be held at the level of last year.

Another 1,000,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol for military production will be exempted from OPA's general preference order which limits use of alcohol in toiletries and cosmetics, shoe polishes, cleaning glazes and deodorant sprays to 50 per cent of the amount used in a base period. Amounts of alcohol permitted for one product may be used in another similar product.

In reply to requests from nine Iowa school superintendents that school buses be exempted from the rubber conservation measures of the ODT could be continued this winter. ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman said that such use of buses would not be authorized because the "advantages of games-as-usual are unfortunately outweighed at the present time by the needs of war."

Commercial vehicles operators who are required to have obtained a Certificate of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation as a first step in qualifying for exemption from OPA rationing regulations, have been exempted from these requirements until January 1, if they have applied for the certificate and have had no final word from ODT as to the status of their application.

A statement of the records which restaurants, hotels, boarding houses and similar places serving food must keep during December and retain for the information of OPA was formally set forth in General Rationing Order 2 last week. Forms on which records must be kept can be secured from local war price and rationing boards.

Pampa Girls At Radio School Are Thankful To News

Frequently you read in this newspaper of training courses for war work and various other opportunities and occasionally of those taking advantage of these.

Now nine Pampa girls have written to The Pampa News thanking this newspaper for the story on radio training offered at NYA resident center at Sayre, Okla. Originally there were only seven from Pampa at the school but the number has now been increased by two.

The nine are Billie Martin, Velma and Thelma Maye Osborne, Betty Hardy, Vivian Woodridge, Norma Lee Lane, Tommie Close, Pauline Stewart, and Mary Frances Kiefer. In the letter, signed by each of the nine, work of the students is described:

"We would like to tell you something of our work here. We train in the radio shop from eight until five each day. In the shop we learn to receive and send code, to build and repair radios. We have a shortage of materials we operate by collecting old radios from the various communities, which people are kind enough to donate.

"In most cases, the American Legion has collected these radios for us. There are nine girls here from Pampa and we are all very proud if Pampa could make a radio drive and collect radios for our use. A government truck would pick them up.

"We take these old radios and dissect them. In this way we become familiar with the different parts in a radio. All parts are carefully sorted and stored in bins for future use in building our radio sets.

"In six months we will complete the course and take a Civil Service examination. Then we will be placed in well paying jobs in the FBI, the federal communications system, air depots, shops or where the government may need us most.

"You will find in the project at Sayre an unusually high class of girls. This is due to the fact that the radio course, while not an un-surmountable obstacle, does require quite a bit of stability and work on the part of the individual.

"General statistics show that men are more adaptable to radio than women, so we girls who are making good in the course feel that we are making progress in becoming the type of citizens that the American people can be proud of and that we have some of the stamina and determination of our forefathers.

"Our supervisor is very proud of the group of girls in her care and we in turn are proud of her and our dormitory. The dormitory is wholly ours and what we make it. The rising bell rings at 6 a. m. We dress and clean our rooms before breakfast.

"After breakfast things are in quite a hustle as each girl assumes her household duty before going to the shop. In less than thirty minutes our entire dormitory is cleaned and ready for the closest inspection. The National Youth regional director visited our project a short time ago and especially commended us on the cleanliness and homelike appearance of our dormitory."

Heavy Drains On Fuel Oil Supplies
NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Heavy drains were made on the nation's fuel oil supplies during the cold spell last week, the American Petroleum institute report showed today.

Sharpest decline was in stores of industrial fuel oil, which were down 2,577,000 barrels on Dec. 5 at 79,219,000 barrels. This compared with 94,128,000 barrels a year earlier.

Gasoline stocks declined 2,920,000 barrels to a total of 75,934,000 while gasoline production was off 104,000 barrels from the previous week at 11,165,000 barrels. A year ago stocks were 87,840,000 barrels.

Daily average crude oil production was down 43,750 barrels from the previous week at 3,834,250 barrels compared with 4,107,960 a year earlier. Refinery operations at 79.3 per cent of capacity compared with 77.8 per cent the previous week.

Shamrock Youth, Injured In Action On Solomons, Home For Brief Rest

Special to The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Dec. 10—Second Lieut. Henry W. (Billy) Hise is back in Shamrock after a period of night and day action in one of the nation's Number one hot spots of the war—Guadalcanal.

The 22-year-old Shamrock hero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Hise, has been granted a furlough to recuperate from a pelvis injury, and as is typical of the flight-infantry branch of Uncle Sam's armed forces, the U. S. Marines, is becoming restless and anxious for some more action.

Four years ago, young Hise was in the ring as a member of Shamrock High school's boxing team, and he knew then he was downright rough in a scrap, but he had no idea that within a few years, he would be participating in one of the greatest battles of all time, where death was always as near as the closest tree or clump of bushes.

Lieut. Hise, pilot of a dive bomber, was in one of the first squadrons to enter Guadalcanal and help set up Henderson field.

Every Marine in the Solomon's is on duty every minute, day and night. Hise declares: "One night as a Marine was walking to camp, he started to light his cigaret and as his match flared, a bullet hit him directly between the eyes. The shot came from a near by palm tree, and the sniper got away. The Japs are with us all the time."

Hise told of one incident in which a Japanese woman sniper was killed, and said that bodies of women had been found in downed Jap planes.

Wounded Sept. 1
"When we landed on the Solomons and bombs began to burst, it did not take us long to become 'fox-holes' conscious," he says. Neither did it take us long to determine the safest place to dig them."

He added that the first idea was that among the trees would be the most effective place for the "fox-holes" but that they soon learned that the bombs would burst when they struck the trees, causing the shrapnel to scatter dangerously. Open spaces were used after this discovery.

Lieut. Hise was wounded on September 1. His squadron had just returned from a bombing raid, and was leaving the field via truck when a bomb exploded nearby. In his haste to reach safety the driver lost control of the truck and the aviators were spilled on the ground. Asked if he scored any direct hits on the Japanese, Lieut. Hise stated that he had seen many ships destroyed by their bombs, but that the squadron flew in formation and no single ship ever claimed a direct hit.

Young Hise is reluctant to talk of his experiences. He definitely does not consider himself a hero.

"We were sent there to fight," he says, "and that was the only thing for us to do."

He volunteered for duty in the Navy on June 1, 1941, and began his aviation training on July 1, 1941, at Grand Prairie. He was next stationed at Jacksonville, Fla., then transferred to the Marines at Miami, Fla. He asked for foreign duty.

He lacks one year of study at the University of Texas to secure his degree. He likes art and his accomplishments in his hobby of sculpturing has created much comment.

His father, Henry L. Hise, is principal of the North Ward school in Shamrock, and his mother, an employee of B. and L. Department store.

Lieut. Hise will eat Christmas dinner with his parents and leave immediately for duty.

"I don't want to let you win this war by staying at home and reading accounts of it—I want to be in some of the action," Hise states.

Concert Will Honor Members In Service

In honor of all ex-choir members now in the armed forces, the Pampa High school will present a public concert of Christmas music at 8 o'clock Friday night in Junior High auditorium.

This is the third in a series of victory concerts being given by the music department of Pampa public schools. Similar concerts are being given throughout Texas this year. The admission is any war stamps or bonds that the patron wishes to purchase at the door. The stamps and bonds remain with the purchaser.

"A sum of over $350,000 in war stamps and bonds has been raised by the music departments of Texas in this series of victory concerts, held in October and November," Governor Coke Stevenson said in a letter to the Pampa public school music department. He also said that by May it is hoped that two million dollars worth of stamps and bonds are sold.

The Pampa High school and the glee club will sing the first part of the program together, beginning with the processional, "O Come All Ye Faithful." This will be followed by "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," and "To Thee We Sing."

"My Moonlight Madonna," "Clouds," and "Sing, O Heavens"

will be sung by the glee club preceding the girls' sextet consisting of Anna Barnett, Betty Holt, Joan Hawkins, Anna Lois Alford, Wynion Cox, and Joanne Holden. Their song will be "In My Garden."

Oden, insurance agent; Irvin Cole, farmer; and the Rev. Douglas Carver, pastor of First Baptist church. Attendance was 39. Lieut. Bill Beasley, New Haven, Conn., was a visiting Rotarian. Guests were Joe Schroedel, Isaac Huvall, Ernest Cabe, John Nutting, and the Junior Rotarian of the month, Billy Waters, all of Pampa.

the most ingenious German general staff officer, whose great efficiency has asserted itself since the campaign in the West (France and the Lowlands) and who therefore was promoted rapidly.

General Zeltzer, a comparative unknown among Nazi generals and apparently a newcomer to the top ranks of Hitler's war chiefs, is believed to be an expert in armored warfare.

How long he has held the post as chief of staff of the German army was not indicated in the "Transocean broadcast."

A Stockholm dispatch to the London News Chronicle reported last Oct. 28, however, that Hitler had appointed him to succeed General Franz Halder in another of the fuhrer's periodic military shake-ups.

tions effort is the beach-head at Buna, flanked on both sides by Allied troops, and pressed back almost to the settlement.

With their sea-borne reinforcements beaten off by Allied bombers, the Japanese made one last effort to break out of the trap at Gona. Their night attack was stopped cold. Allied headquarters, meanwhile, added another chapter to the lengthening accounts of the exploits of America's heavily armed long range bombers.

It was reported that Flying Fortress and Liberator bombers clashed in a furious aerial duel with Japanese fighter planes off the coast of New Britain. When the fight was over the bombers—without a single loss—had knocked down 10 of the enemy planes, and so greatly damaged four others that they probably were unable to reach base.

In Australia, Prime Minister Curtin told the House of Representatives, in a war review, that Australia must be prepared to fight a holding action until the Allies could turn their attention undividedly upon Japan.

Curtin said that even before the fall of Singapore Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt had decided that the first task was to defeat Germany.

A.P. Anti-Trust Suit Attacked On Floor Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P)—Describing the Justice Department's anti-monopoly suit against the Associated Press as "evidence of a determined effort on the part of the bureaucrats at Washington to freeze the Bill of Rights," Representative Plumley (R-Vt) asserted today there was "no justifiable excuse for an attack on freedom of the press."

"If press and political freedom are to live, this suit should be thrown out of court," the New Englander said in a speech prepared for delivery in the House.

"The people stand to be the big losers. If, by any chance, this suit is lost, the people will have been deprived of one of the safeguards of democracy."

He described the action as "more than a lawsuit" and said it was "an effort to take something away from the people that is needed now as never before in our history."

"The monopoly suit against the Associated Press seeks to accomplish a total governmental control, to constitute a greater monopoly, as it, under its guise of relief for the public, would allegedly destroy a lesser," Plumley said.

"In the attempt of the Administration circuitously and surreptitiously to throttle a free press, there is concealed a weapon even more potent and dangerous and poisonous than was its effort to control the court."

He said the government "already holds the power of life and death over radio," and gives orders to the motion picture industry, leaving the newspapers as "our bulwark, frank, free and fearless."

"The very nature of the Associated Press organization," he said, "guarantees objective reporting, an unbiased and uncolored report of the events about which it tells. That is what the New Deal hates."

of governmental agencies located in Amarillo and a rather extensive setup by the Farm Security Administration.

"I believe the action of the Potter county board in refusing to allow gasoline to the government employees living in the county was due to a feeling on the part of the members of that board that the further maintenance of the various governmental functions heretofore exercised by those government agencies was non-essential and unnecessary at this time. The action of the Potter county board has been sanctioned by many letters and telegrams received from citizens of this and other states."

"The people of this county with whom I associate feel that every non-essential activity and expenditure should be eliminated or reduced until this war is won. This practice should extend from the local units of the county and city government on up through the highest activity in the nation."

"May I state that the Gray county budget for 1943 was reduced $71,000 under the 1942 budget and since the approval of the 1943 budget many economies have been effected which will further reduce our expenditures for next year."

"The school and city boards of this county have made every reduction possible. The Pampa school superintendent, this week, has notified the Agricultural Marketing Administration that the four cafeterias of this school system could be maintained with the commodities heretofore furnished by the Agriculture Marketing Administration."

"I call your attention to these facts due to my proprietary interest in our government and in order that you may be fully aware of the attitude of the people in various sections of our state."

Alles.

When the British and Americans closed virtually to the thresholds of Tunis and Bizerte their drive was handicapped by the lack of adequate air bases close to the front. Now, however, Associated Press reports tell of ground commanders telephoning for air coverage as casually as calling for a taxi.

Again, British headquarters reported that Allied twin-engine fighters—probably American P-39 Lightnings—had pounced on an enemy air convoy northbound from Africa and had shot down two German transport planes near Lampedusa island, behind Sicily and Tunisia.

A Reuters report said Allied paratroopers had penetrated within 10 miles of Tunis, and carried out a series of demolitions southwest of the Tunisian capital.

Both Axis communiques reported heavier skirmishing between patrols in the Tebourba area. The Italian communique said an Allied armored car attack west of Tebourba was repulsed and the German communique said eight Allied tanks were set ablaze in another thrust southwest of the town.

slowly down by violent German counterattacks during the past several days, the Russians were reported still pushing gradually forward as their offensive there entered its fourth week.

Russian reports said the Nazis apparently were trying not only to smash the Soviet offensive, but also to mount one of their own, presumably in the belief the Red army is exhausted after an advance said now to have retaken 63 towns.

Some of the Germans' counterblows have been in parts of Stalingrad itself, Red Star said, but they have been content with purely defensive fire in the factory district. There, the army newspaper added, the Russians systematically are destroying pill boxes and other fortifications in the still difficult task of clearing the enemy from the besieged city.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Is Britain's Indian Policy Jeopardizing Victory?

Moderated by FRED C. CLARK, General Chairman, American Economic Foundation

As debated by Norman Thomas, Chairman, Executive Committee, Post War World Council

Lt. Col. W. Stewart-Roddie, British Authority and Lectures on Indian Affairs

MR. THOMAS OPENS: Britain's Indian policy contradicts the democratic objectives of the war and is based on Churchill's statement, "We mean to hold our own." Morally India is not and never was England's own: in terms of power it is not her own because she cannot hold it except with American aid.

In the face of what happened in Malaya and Burma, Churchill holds India through the despotic powers of the Viceroy and governs largely by the machine gun and the bayonet.

The consequence is an enormous mass of sullen resistance, an indescribable handicap to the United Nations in the event of Japanese invasion, and short of that an immediate handicap to our own military victory this war will be a prelude to a third world war in which, even more than today, the issue will be white supremacy.

COL. STEWART-RODDIE'S CHALLENGE: Cripps' proposals clearly offered India freedom NOW with exception of "power to make a separate peace"; complete freedom at end of war, including rights to secede from the Commonwealth. Mr. Churchill officially declared, "From that offer nothing can be taken away."

Machine gunning was regrettable, but necessary on two occasions. Hindu Law authorized lashing of looters. In other countries they would have been shot.

Mr. Thomas grossly exaggerates the conditions and the consequences. India's war effort has increased enormously since Gandhi's Civil Disobedience campaign.

Gandhi has declared that there can be no peace until the Indians can solve their communal problem.

MR. THOMAS REPLIES: Colonel Stewart-Roddie by selective and partial quotation misrepresents Gandhi's position as badly as he does the Cripps proposals which did not offer India freedom NOW except for "power to make a separate peace."

The Viceroy kept his dictatorial powers. The British Government conditions promises of Indian freedom on India's achieving a degree of unity which will satisfy rulers who systematically cultivate and exploit dissunity. Winston Churchill says, "we

COL. STEWART-RODDIE OPENS: Britain's Indian policy is based on the reasonable truth that the Congress Party (not to be mistaken with Congress in the American sense, it being a political party predominant in India) would not remain in power without the aid of British bayonets.

Freedom now for India would bring about an attempt to force Hindu rule on 94 million Moslems who are determined to resist, and well capable of doing so. Neither would the depressed classes, Sikhs, princes and others submit to Congress Party domination. Freedom now would unleash age-old hatreds that would create disorder and seriously hamper the Indian war effort, which at present is not nearly as inconsequential as many propagandists would have one believe. Production and Army estimates have increased enormously. Production is very good considering the limited facilities and resources.

Obviously, the war effort would be better could an Indian government, whole-heartedly for war be formed. But Gandhi's position as the world's most determined pacifist, whose "inner voice" has been quite inconsistent, is not conducive to confidence.

The internal problems of India are admittedly a hazard to the war effort; but the risks involved in giving immediate freedom are infinitely greater than those now prevailing.

MR. THOMAS CHALLENGES: Anti-democratic censorship, British and American, operates to keep from the people of our two countries facts about British repression in India and an exchange of opinions about India and related issues. Evidently it does not operate against visiting propagandists. Cripps' negotiations broke on the issue of the Viceroy's powers, not on the Hindu-Muslim problem which the British exploit. Gandhi and Nehru both expressly accepted British and American military cooperation with a free India. Both would welcome mediation on detailed arrangements. It is the British Government which refuses for Churchill's imperialist reasons, disingenuously rationalized for American consumption.

COL. STEWART-RODDIE REPLIES: American journalists have frequently stated that British censorship is only exercised when information might be useful to the enemy. What is the difference between "visiting propagandists" and indigenous or resident ones? There has never been British exploit of Hindu and Moslem differences. Gandhi said: "Attainment of independence is impossible so long as we, i.e., Hindus and Moslems, 'do not solve our own communal tangle.' Gandhi will cooperate only with non-violence. He will urge disbanding of the Indian army 'negotiate with Japan. There is no room for negotiations with Britain; they recognize independence they don't."

Admiral Darlan, Center Of New Inter-Allied Storm, Opportunist

Editor's note: With news Tuesday from London that Prime Minister Winston Churchill will present a statement to Commons on the Darlan issue, this figure in the international scene assumes an increasingly spotlighted position. Generally accepted as a slick, astute, sailor-politician, nicknamed "the Great Rouge" in recognition of these talents, Darlan has survived 23 changes of government in France as chief of the French navy. His acceptance by American military authorities in North Africa stirred a storm of protests, in which Free French Gen. DeGaulle has been a leading figure. Henry Noble Hall, former journalist and secretary at the British Embassy in Paris after the beginning of World War II, has written for The Pampa News and NEA Service, his impressions of this man.

By HENRY NOBLE HALL
Written for NEA Service

Admiral Darlan, having proclaimed himself Protector of French interests in North Africa, is sitting pretty, despite President Roosevelt's assertion that the arrangement—made with U. S. consent—is only a temporary military expedient justified solely by the stress of battle and designed to save lives and time.

True, he handed over Dakar to the Allies. And he seemed to be the only man who could control the French Fleet, now scuttled at Toulon.

Let us see who Francois Darlan really is, where he comes from, what he has done, what he can do today and what he is likely to try for in the future:

Darlan's father was a typical French politician, a Gascon, whose natural ability was somewhat marred by his tendency to boast and exaggerate, by his love of intrigue and lack of principle. He was an opportunist, first, last and all the time. He rose to be a member of the Meunier cabinet in 1896, a famous coalition that in itself was a feat of political skullduggery. Senator Darlan married the daughter of a naval officer from Brittany. Young Darlan inherited his father's fame and intensity and his mother's tenacity and tactfulness. He was born on August 7, 1881, so he is now 61.

LONG DISLIKED BRITISH
Darlan entered the French navy in 1899 when anti-British feeling was at its height. His hatred of England is deep-rooted. He was a first-class naval officer and in less than 15 years rose to be a captain. During the last war he distinguished himself and was in command of the heavy naval guns at Point-a-Mousson that bombarded Metz. He also participated in the Salonika expedition and fought in the Balkans.

After the war he was given command of a battleship, but peace-time duties palled on this silent, scheming sailor, and he went to the Naval Staff College, where he so impressed everyone that he was attached to the naval cabinet of the French Ministere de la Marine. This was just about the time when Poincare, on becoming Premier after the franc collapsed in 1926, appointed Leygues to build the modern French navy. Darlan was 46 years old.

From that day to the war, Darlan remained at the Ministere de la Marine, deputy chief of staff and Chief of Staff of the French navy. He has proved himself the greatest sailor-politician in French history. It took something more than mere imagination and shrewdness to maintain himself as head of the French navy under 23 different governments and at least six different navy ministers. No wonder he was nicknamed "the Great Rouge." He is the world's prize contortionist. But—and this is important—there was not an officer of senior rank in the French navy who did not owe his promotion to Darlan, and who did not love and trust him.

Darlan hates the British and will never forgive England for having crippled his fleet at Oran. When he spoke over the bodies of the French dead, he said: "They would have doubtless preferred to die in a fair fight rather than to perish assassinated." But Darlan has little love for the French army either. His favorite expression to describe a naval officer who is not as bright as he might be, is to say that he has "la mentalite d'un general" (the brains of a general). So neither De Gaulle nor Giraud is likely to find favor with him.

FASCIST IN PRINCIPLE
In politics, if political convictions could mean anything to such a juggler of men, Darlan is a fascist. He has a profound distrust of democracy, and dreads communism. He probably thinks that France should be governed by a commission of admirals and cardinals.

Any attempt to be diplomatic with Darlan or to argue with him would be likely to end with his proving himself more than a match for this adversary. Now that he knows that the liberation of France is merely a matter of time, he is expected to try to attach himself to the American forces and, pleading that he alone can maintain order and prevent an uprising in France, try to take Petain's place.

Japs Arresting Many Americans In China

CHUNGKING, Dec. 10 (AP)—Large scale arresting of Americans in Japanese-occupied North China following the seizure of hundreds of Allied nationals in the international settlement at Shanghai confirm that the Japanese have adopted a severe policy toward Anglo-Saxons in occupied territory, trustworthy private reports reaching West China indicated today.

All citizens of Allied countries were arrested in Tsingtao and the majority of the British and Americans taken were interned in the Ilituz Hook district near that city, it was reported.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S SECOND STATEMENT TO NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT WAS SUBMITTED TO THE NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD AT ITS MEETING IN WASHINGTON ON DECEMBER 8, 1942.

The War Labor Board on November 5, 1942, issued an order that Wards "incorporate" in a contract with a C I O union at Chicago: 1. A clause establishing a form of the closed shop, called "maintenance of membership", together with a check-off of union dues from wages. 2. A clause providing for compulsory arbitration on any questions the union wishes to raise. 3. A clause guaranteeing in these uncertain times present wage and working conditions for a year. Wards rejected this order of the board for these reasons: 1. The board was without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the constitution, has not empowered the board to order any employer to do any of the things which the board demanded of Wards. 2. The order violated the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join or to resign from a union without jeopardizing his livelihood. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work. 3. The order was in itself illegal. The order required Wards, first, to interfere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union by a check-off of union dues; and third, to discriminate against employees if they resigned their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations act. 4. Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition. The imposition of the closed shop against Wards cannot be justified by reference to the so-called no strike agreement.

Wards was not a party to this agreement. Wards had no voice in the selection of those who, as representatives of industry, attended the conference in December, 1941, which formulated this agreement. Wards has never ratified the results of that conference. Furthermore, the conference itself did not agree that the War Labor Board might impose the closed shop principle. Those acting as representatives of industry expressly recommended to the President that this issue not be considered by the board. The board, in considering a form of closed shop at Wards, has acted contrary to these expressed recommendations of the industry representative. If Wards had had the right to test the legality of the board's demands in a court, Wards would have done so, but Wards was deprived of a remedy in the courts by the board's complete lack of legal authority to compel obedience of its order. The court will only act when legal rights have been violated. The courts have declared that the mere making of demands which do not have to be obeyed does not in the eyes of the law, violate any legal right. The board's very lack of authority thus resulted in a denial to Wards, as it has to other employers, of a right to relief in the courts. The President of the United States as well as the board is wholly without constitutional authority to order any employer to do the things demanded of Wards.

Nevertheless, in deep respect for the President and his great responsibility in time of war, Wards said, in rejecting the board's order: "If Congress imposes closed shop, compulsory arbitration or contracts for a year's duration on employers, or if the President of the United States, as commander-in-chief in time of war directs that Wards accept the board's ruling, which we earnestly believe are illegal and uneconomic, we will respectfully obey."

The President on November 18 wrote the company, saying: "As commander-in-chief in time of war, I direct Montgomery Ward and Company to comply, without further delay, with the National War Labor Board's directive order of November 5, 1942."

Wards immediately answered: "Your order of November 18th has been received and will be promptly obeyed." Wards thereupon altered the general form of its contracts with unions and incorporated, word for word, the clauses ordered by the War Labor Board. This document was offered to the union.

The company has fully complied with the President's direction and will continue to do so. The document which the President has directed Wards to sign is not a contract. The requisite of a contract is that there be a meeting of the minds or agreement between the parties. There has been no agreement between Wards and the union. The document which the President has ordered Wards to sign affects the rights and liberties of Wards and of its employees.

Therefore, in order that the document itself may be clear and state the facts, Wards informatively included these three sentences: "The following provisions are not voluntarily agreed to by the company. In the company's opinion they are illegal and unsound. These provisions are copied verbatim from the War Labor Board's order of November 5, 1942, and are incorporated herein, on the company's part, under duress and only because the President of the United States as commander-in-chief in time of war has expressly ordered that they be included." These three sentences are in all respects true. They do not alter the effect of the provisions ordered by the board—provisions which Wards will carry out. Nevertheless, the union has refused to sign the offered document. Wards will be happy to accept any improvement in the wording of this statement, but Wards will resist any attempt to hide the truth by a change in its substance. On January 9, 1941, the President said: "In the future days which we seek to make secure, we look forward to a world founded upon four essential human freedoms. The first is freedom of speech and expression—everywhere in the world."

Wards feels that it is bound by the rules of good citizenship to make sure that the single truth about these provisions and Wards' acceptance of them be not hidden from or misrepresented to its hundred thousand employees. Its sixty thousand shareholders, and its many millions of customers. The elimination of this statement would serve no purpose but to conceal the truth from readers of the document. Wards has cheerfully met with the union and with its board whenever requested. Wards has promptly obeyed the direction of the President. Wards insists that its right to tell the truth not be destroyed.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The stock market's steadily industrial leaders gave an unimpressive performance today as selective buying lifted a number of chemicals and specialties fractions to around a point.

Steele and motor were offered in sufficient volume to hold them in fractionally lower ground most of the time. This was also true of American Telephone and certain of the aerafrats.

On the residual side in the final hour were Allied Chemical, DuPont, Owens-Illinois, American Can, Air Reduction, Montgomery Ward and J. C. Penney.

A few of the copperes including American Smelting and Phelps Dodge were supported at slightly better levels but Anaconda and Kennecott were backward.

Rails held to a fairly even line and were subjected to no appreciable selling on the Chicago announcement of heads of the "big five" operating unions that they would ask for a 30 cent increase in wages rates calling for a minimum boost of $3 a day. Santa Fe and Chesapeake & Ohio worked moderately ahead.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART

There'll be a good deal less skidding this winter—and that's all the more reason why Miss Lucky who gets on a near-by slope should be prepared to make the most of it for health and beauty.

And you know the trick: exercise beforehand, particularly practice some of the motions at which you are unaccustomed muscles protest.

Miss Stay-at-Home too, can do herself a lot of good by massaging she is on skis in her own bedroom, and doing a few turns with these routines:

Standing with feet wide apart, as if on skis, and with hands in front of you as they would be if you were carrying your poles, bend the knees slightly. Twist your body to the left, putting more weight on the left foot, and then turn to the right, shifting weight. Imagine you're winding downhill, your body like a screw in a piece of wood. Turning to the right forces the screw down into the wood, turning left pulls it out of the wood a bit. Your motions should be rhythmic.

Now place hands lightly on the back of a chair. Keeping knees together, bend them and lower body till you're squatting on your heels, as you would do to prevent or break a fall. Do this deep knee-bend 10 or 12 times.

Those will limber and stretch your legs. And here's one for conditioning the stomach muscles: lie flat on the floor with arms at side, ankles together, and without moving shoulders, slowly raise legs until they are perpendicular to your body. Lower them just as slowly.

This will prepare you for reversing your direction when you're on skis, and will flatten your stomach, if continued faithfully.

16-Year-Olds To Register Friday

Sixth draft registration in Gray county will open tomorrow as youths over the nation who have become 16 since last June 30 start registering for induction into the armed forces.

Selective service estimates that the nation has more than a half-million in this age group but many of them already have enlisted.

In Gray county, there will be no special registrars. Employees of the Gray County Selective Service board will be able to handle the small number, estimated at 100, judging from past registrations, the board believes.

Place of registration will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at 301 Court House, Pampa, under this schedule: December 11 to 17, inclusive—those born on or after July 1, 1924, but not after Aug. 31, 1924.

December 18 to 24, inclusive—those born on or after Sept. 1, 1924, but not after Oct. 31, 1924.

December 25 to 31, inclusive—those born on or after Nov. 1, 1924, but not after Dec. 31, 1924.

Inductions of youths of these ages were expected to vary to some extent depending upon preparations made by local boards to meet draft calls with older men called on how rapidly the boards can classify the younger group for service.

OLDEST COME FIRST
The war department announced that the order suspending voluntary enlistment will not interfere with the Army's volunteer officer candidate program. However, men who have passed their 38th birthday will not be accepted as candidates although those who had been ordered by Dec. 5 to report for induction will be taken for training.

The order in which 18-year-old youths will be classified for induction will be determined by their birth dates with the oldest coming first.

Those traveling during their registration period will register with a draft board in the place where they happen to be, but their cards will be forwarded to their home boards, which will include the registrants in their quotas and have permanent jurisdiction over them.

Those having more than one place of residence will register wherever they are at the time, but may choose between their residences for purpose of assignment to a local board.

Youths who become 18 after Dec. 31 must register on their birth dates. This group is expected to average about 100,000 a month.

Any 18 or 19-year-old registrant attending high school who is ordered to report for induction during the last half of an academic year may have his induction postponed until the end of the academic year upon written request to his draft board.

Addition of the new registrants to the list of draft eligibles will postpone to some extent the induction of childless married men, but their addition has been offset in part by the recent stoppage of induction of those 38 or older.

MacARTHUR TO INDUSTRY

Accompanying is a letter written by Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in which he, as spokesman for the men on the firing lines, calls on a united industrial front in their support. The letter follows:

"W. P. Witherow, President, National Association of Manufacturers (New York City)
"From out of Bataan and Corregidor, from our soldiers and sailors in the combat zone, from our Australian and Dutch allies, and from the souls of those who already have shown us how to die, anxious thoughts go to you who drive the wheels of war production. Without your help, blood at the front will avail little against an enemy rich in numbers, in planes, in guns and in ships. Industry is an indispensable factor in war. There can be no line of demarcation between the man who makes a weapon and the man who makes it. If one fails, the other must perish. Behind manufacturing management stands the rank and file of labor. The responsibilities of the one are as decisive as that of the other, and my appeal to you is collective. May God give you understanding of our needs, realization of our pride in your proven capacity and leadership, and inspiration to conquer the difficulties which beset you. We, your comrades of the firing line, to our past, rededicate ourselves; we bless you for what you have already done for us, and for the future, we wish you God-speed."

Man Burned In Berger Blast Is Brother Of Pampian

One man was killed and three others burned in an explosion and fire at the old Pantex gasoline plant of the Phillips Petroleum company near Phillips yesterday.

Losing his life in the explosion was C. E. Tennyson, 52, of Phillips. Suffering burns were P. H. Hall, L. J. Stamps, and E. L. Browning, all of Phillips.

Mr. Browning is a brother-in-law of Miss Wilkie Blakney, Gray county deputy district clerk. With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blakney, of Alanreed, Miss Blakney was in Berger today to see Mr. Browning, confined in Phillips hospital.

The blast, which occurred in an old compressor, disrupted electrical service at the Phillips hospital where doctors treated the injured men while nurses held flashlights.

Besides the men mentioned, several others were treated for minor burns.

Tennyson, the man killed, had been a resident of Phillips for several years. Survivors are the widow, three daughters, and two sons, one of whom has been reported as missing in action by the war department.

Mosquito Bomber Traps Paris Train

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—An RAF Mosquito bomber, shuttling between the entrances of a railroad tunnel 40 miles northwest of Paris in a dusk attack yesterday, apparently sealed a train inside, the air ministry said today.

The flier, it said, neatly laid one bomb at a mouth of the tunnel and then, noting that a train was entering from the other side, bombed that entrance also.

The ministry said the train was bottled up, at least temporarily, and did not appear from either end during the 10 minutes that the Mosquito hovered over the tunnel.

The flier said smoke poured from the first entrance bombed.

Law Officers At FBI Sessions

Pampa and Gray county were represented by six officers at the federal bureau of investigation school in Amarillo today.

Attending from this county were Sheriff Cal Rose and Deputy Ray Pearce; Chief of Police Ray Dudley. Paul D. Hill, night desk sergeant, J. P. Boswell, patrolman, and C. E. (Dan) McGrew, recorder.

At 1:30 p. m. today the officers gathered in the federal district court in the postoffice. The chief speaker was Jack Adkins, Amarillo attorney, who discussed the private citizen's viewpoint of law enforcement in peace and in war time.

Adkins speech followed showing of a motion picture this morning at the Capitol theater. The picture was pieced together from films smuggled out of Germany, and depicted the workings of Germany under the Kaiser and Hitler.

After the picture show, the officers lunched at Amarillo hotel. All persons who make a living enforcing the law in the 26 counties of the Panhandle were invited to the session, which is somewhat of a reunion for three FBI agents, R. G. Danner, new special agent in charge of the Dallas district, which included the Panhandle; Special Agent D. L. McCormick, of the Dallas office, and L. E. Kingman, the Amarillo agent, are attending the meeting. All these men have served at various times in the Panhandle.

It Will Be A Truly Merry Christmas, With Gifts And Happiness Plentiful, Is The Forecast Made By Santa Claus

Old Santa Claus is an unusually busy fellow just now; in fact, he has been so busy for the past several weeks he's scarce had time to pause and reflect how busy he really has been. Probably never before in his long, long life, has he had experiences quite the same as those of this year. He wonders what it will be next year. One is likely to find him meditatively stroking his long, snowy beard and lost in thought on that very subject.

Of one thing the old fellow is sure: This year his bag will be filled—perhaps filled as never before—but there will be many, many things almost as new to him as all this rationing business. There is another thing the reporter who seeks him out learns: More than ever an idealism will dominate the Christmas of 1942; it may eventually be that the brutality of war will beget in Pampanos something akin to cynicism which may in part stifle that idealism; but the Christmas of 1942 probably will be one of the most genuine in all the ages of its observance.

A reporter for The Pampa News set out to see whether he might find Santa himself and learn first hand what some of his observations have been. Men and women have plenty of money. Many, no doubt, more than ever in their experience. Christmas this year offered almost an adventure to some, no doubt.

Mothers Are Baking
Santa Claus first was found in one of the leading food stores of Pampa. He seemed thoughtfully contemplating the thronging patrons who filled every aisle.

"The greatest problem this Christmas has been getting things people could buy for those they wished to give to," he said. "The war which has given all of these people all of this money to spend, paradoxically, perhaps, has simultaneously taken away those things they might otherwise have bought—had they the money. It has, therefore, become almost entirely a problem of getting things for them to buy. "Now, in a food store like this, for instance, the demand has welled up from the range of staples which these people heretofore have been limited to, into the field of what to many of them were almost fabled delicacies.

"This is taking a turn which, in my mind is most interesting. The mother whose little boy is gone off to war—he is on her mind everlastingly. There was some particular dish he was especially fond of—a cookie, or cake, perhaps. No 'store-made' cake can take its place. Christmas, to her will be a day when he will have one of these again—made with her own hands, just as she knows he loves it best.

"Christmas for that little boy will not be a single day. His mother comes in to stores like this regularly, buys the things she needs to make those things—they may once have been rarities to him since she didn't have the money to buy them often—and sends them to him.

Family Parties
"Christmas this year will be very, very real. Over many homes, no doubt, the blight of sorrow will have spread. But the very fact that people cannot buy easily things which are costly—must make them themselves—will, I am sure cause a renaissance of the genuine Christmas spirit. I believe it will go far in achieving greater unity among the American people. People will have to return to the simple things, which after all, often are most gratifying to them."

The Christmas season in Pampa likely will see a greatly increased number of small family gatherings. With gasoline not easily had, with money plentiful, there already has been a noticeable trend in that direction, says Santa Claus. This is to be noticed in sales of costly cakes, especially fruit cakes, cookies, and all such delicacies. It likely will be a Christmas of more little parties than any in the past.

Up and down the streets of Pampa, Santa Claus led the way, from one store to another. Everywhere the story was much the same. People had money, and were anxious to spend it. Especially, they sought things to send to loved one in uniforms. Candies which in years past would have been difficult of sale, are like the proverbial hot cakes this year. Dealers can't get

RCAF Pilot Visits Friends In Shamrock

Special to The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Dec. 10—Sgt. Pilot R. L. Templeton of Wellington member of the Royal Canadian Air Force, visited relatives and friends in Shamrock recently and delivered an address at the high school assembly.

Sgt. Templeton, son of Mrs. R. H. Templeton of Wellington, and cousin of Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. J. R. Benson of Shamrock, is a veteran pilot of 16 of England's most devastating bombing raids on Germany. He was injured in an airplane crash near Salisbury on September 2, and was in an English hospital for some time.

The flyer told his audience at the school assembly of many of his exciting experiences and of his training preparatory to his flying with the RCAF.

The late Sgt. Pilot Pat Templeton, a younger brother of R. L., was killed in action following a raid on Germany a few months back. The younger Templeton visited his brother in the English hospital the day before he was killed.

Sgt. Pilot Templeton has been overseas since February of this year.

It is believed that the "fiery serpent" of the Old Testament was the guinea worm, an Oriental parasite.

enough of them. Price is small matter.

Toys, one of Santa's old standbys, simply cannot be had in sufficient quantities. It's true that most children will have toys this year, but they will likely be more simple ones than in the past.

Santa Claus has found that American manufacturers seemed to have been able in some manner in the long months he was occupied at the North Pole and learned of some of the problems he feared might develop.

This price ceiling business, for example, might have created a difficult situation, indeed. With plenty of money to spend, folks likely would all insist on the very finest, turning in scorn from the cheaper grades. The fact that Leon Henderson said that prices which he prevailed last March would be the top one, caused the manufacturers to pattern their production on that basis. Since a merchant who, perhaps topped women's garments at $10, as an example, could not sell merchandise at a figure higher than that, the manufacturer turned his production to an approximate middle of the road level. Thus it has, in large measure, come about that the buyer will have to be content with some such approximate middle level price. The extreme high levels are gone; and the manufacturers simply have considered it wasteful to use rare raw materials in low cost products.

There simply are not such things as nominal cost photographic equipment, clocks, electrical appliances, radios, phonographs. They are gone with unlimited gasoline.

Bond Sales Up
Santa led the way into a leading drug store which stocked quality camera equipment. There was none left in the $12 to $15 ranges. There is lively interest in home movie equipment; but here there, is a catch. One can get a camera, but projectors simply cannot be had.

It may be possible, this dealer suggested, that there will be some pooling of projection equipment—a joint buying and maintaining arrangement—which would make a projector available to several, just as motor cars are used jointly. That, if it developed, will send the movie equipment business buzzing.

Santa Claus suggested he'd like a cup of coffee, and led the way to a nearby cafe.

"It's a tragedy," he commented sadly, "that when the bells of Christmas ring this year they so often will be drowned by the sobbing of little children, and the weeping of their parents. Many of the chimneys down which I have scooted in the years past, where there were only laughter and happiness, will be gaunt, scarred spectres thrusting up from the silence of destruction.

"However, I believe there will be more real happiness in many ways this Christmas than there has been in a long time. The day will have a deeper meaning to many, many people.

"Another thing—'Santa Claus smiled as he spoke—'The bag I carry this year will have something quite new—a lot of it. There are a great many people who, unable to buy other things as they would, are spending their gift money for Victory bonds. You would be surprised at their number. I am going to have a big job getting them all delivered."

Another interesting thing about this Christmas season has been that it got well under way much earlier than in past years. People not only had money to spend, but seemed fearful that if they waited they would not be able to buy. The result has been business without precedent for the same period. This may mean, dealers agree, that the peak will have been reached and passed before Christmas Eve, and for once, the hard-worked store employes experience a Night Before Christmas when they won't truly be worked to death. That's mere conjecture. But it may well enough prove the fact.

'Good Old' Terms Won't Be Heard On U. S. Screens

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 (AP)—Noel Coward's British-made motion picture, "In Which We Serve," will be shown on American screens—minus certain profane words in its dialog.

Information Minister Brendan Bracken told the house of commons that American censors are too 'old maiden aunt-like' to appreciate two salty adjectives in the picture. And so, he said, the picture is banned from American theaters.

"We don't need that kind of language in our films," said a responsible source today. The speaker is a member of the American industry's official reviewing committee, the production code authority.

"If we permitted those words to get by in one film, we'd have to go a step farther the next time. Those sponsoring the film told us the words were 'just a couple of good Anglo-Saxon terms.' Well, there are many good Anglo-Saxon terms we don't use in our conversation."

Bowling Tourney To Be Held Here For Red Cross Benefit

Gray county bowlers will make special contributions to the Pampa chapter, American Red Cross, in a bowling tournament to be held December 19 and 20 in Pampa Bowling alley.

Hogan, Nelson Credited With Golf's Beauties

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 10 (AP)—Belting Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson get credit for hitting golf shots of the year in Fred Corcoran's roundup of highlights on the professional tournament tour for 1942.

Corcoran, since his job as tournament director for the Professional Golfers' association, made his annual roll call of superlatives while he awaited orders to go ahead on an assignment for the American Red Cross.

His nominations: Best Shot—Hogan's long iron to the green on the par five 18th hole at the Hillcrest course. The ball hit three feet from the pin and rolled 15 feet past, enabling Hogan to get down his second putt for the birdie which gave him a tie in the Los Angeles Open.

Real Hard Luck—Most Spectacular Shot—Nelson's hole in one at the 11th green in the Tam O' Shanter Open, at Chicago.

Hardest Luck Player—Ed Dudley, who lost to Sam Snead in the quarter finals of the PGA championship at Atlantic City, when his shot on the last hole hit a spectator and bounced back into the woods for an impossible lie.

Biggest Upset—Jim Turnesa's feat of defeating Hogan and Nelson in successive rounds to enter the finals of the PGA tournament, only to lose to Snead.

Most Popular Victory—That of Craig Wood, 41-year-old United States Open champion in the Canadian Open, at Toronto.

Biggest Blow Ups—Jimmy Demaret's in the Tam O' Shanter, when he was leading the field after 68 holes, but finished 6-5-3 to tie for second. A long wait at the 15th tee, and a missed drive cost him first money. Also Snead's eight on the last hole of the Los Angeles Open, when he needed a four to win and a five to tie.

Most Costly Putting Failure—Charged against Nelson, who could not get down a 22-inch lie on the 36th hole of his match against Turnesa in the PGA tournament, and thus allowed the latter to go on to beat him on the first extra hole.

Most Tournaments Won—Five by Hogan.

FEELER'S LOST TOE RECALLED BY MEMORIAL GRAVESSEND, Eng. (AP)—In Cobham park stands Britain's quaintest monument—recalling a peer's lost toe. On that spot in 107 years ago the Earl of Darriby became dissatisfied with the way a woodcutter was wielding an axe. The Earl took the axe and loped at the tree, but the blade struck a glancing blow and severed one of his toes.

JUMPS HIGH

HIGH FOR BRIGHAM YOUNG—Dale Rex, senior center gets up in the air for Brigham Young's basketball team which helps open-college season at Madison Square Garden by meeting Long Island University, Dec. 12.

HERE IS NEWS' 1942 ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

NEW YORK—This is the best way to start a story having to do with the selection of an All-American team. It is still the most miserable task confronting the sports editor. He hangs on to several telephones while being flooded with telegraphed recommendations.

Making the job considerably simpler this trip were the frank statements of Texas and Pacific coast operatives; that there were no athletes in those sections worthy of first team consideration.

So, having counted the ballots, we present NEA's All-American team of 1942—five from the midwest, three from the south, two from New England and one from the southwest.

Out of an avalanche of names submitted, and which were accompanied by a truckload of adjectives, these marked men stood up under all TWO REPEATERS.

Backs: Bill Hillenbrand of Indiana, Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia, Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa and Mike Holovak of Boston College.

Ends: Don Dove of Notre Dame, one of two NEA repeaters, and Dave Schreiner of Wisconsin.

Tackles: Don Whitmire of Alabama, and Dick Wildung of Minnesota, the latter the other man making this all-star varsity for the second year.

SECOND TEAM: George Foschner, Georgia; Lou Ryankus, Notre Dame; Chuck Taylor, Stanford; Walt Harrison, Washington; Julius Franks, Michigan; Frank Merritt, Army; Al Hus, Tennessee; Clint Castleberry, Ga. Tech; Bob Steuber, Missouri; Fat Harber, Wisconsin; Roy McKay, Texas.

THIRD TEAM: James E. Kelleher, Army; Albert A. Wisert, Michigan; Alex Agase, Illinois; Buddy Gatewood, Baylor; Lindell Houston, Ohio State; Gil Bouley, Boston College; Donald Currievan, Boston Col.; Paul Governali, Columbia; L.Q. Blundy Black, Mississippi St.; Bill Daley, Minnesota; F. Joe Muha, Virginia Military I.

Guards: Harvey Hardy of Georgia Tech and Mervin Pregulman of Michigan. Center: Spencer D. Moseley, the Yale captain.

Hillenbrand, who also quarterbacks, is the best back in the Big Ten. Sinkwich is the nation's leading ground-gainer and an amazing forward passer. The Youngstown Flyer does everything so well that Wally Butts shifted his key man to fullback when Dick McPhee suffered a knee injury.

Statistics compiled on Dobbs, 6-foot 4-inch, 190-pound triple threat of Tulsa, knock you out into the aisle, and I speak conservatively. When the phenomenal Boston College team needs a few yards, the stands shout: "Give it to Mike!" Holovak is a terror in all departments.

NOT FAR BEHIND

UNAPPRECIATED PROPHECY Ed Shagrine, of The Bridgeport (Conn.) Post, reports he recently received a letter from Pvt. Pat Beale of the Marines, who is collecting autographs of sports writers from all over the country.

A bit proud, Ed showed the letter around the office only to have his boss chime in with the unkindst comment of all—never knew the Leathernecks were also collecting scrap.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE One reason why visiting basketball teams will stay at a hotel right across the street from Madison Square garden this winter is that they're not sure the Garden will be able to heat the dressing rooms.

Three of the eight schools in the Northern Minnesota Junior college conference gave up basketball this year because of transportation and lack of players, but Ely Junior college decided to keep on with only eight candidates for the team.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR Whiskey Graham, Atlantic City (N.J.) Evening Union: "The office of defense transportation suggests the major leagues explore some means of curtailing travel in 1943. That's easy. Why not cut out second base?"

DETROIT Tigers Quit Chain Store System DETROIT, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers had the sole remaining piece of property from a once extensive farm system up for sale today, and from all indications the club was through with chain store baseball for keeps.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed that the Tigers would sell next Tuesday their Texas League franchise at Beaumont where, in a dozen of years of operation, Detroit developed Hank Greenberg, Schoolboy Rowe, Barney McCosky and other talent for three American League pennant winners.

Zeller said the Tigers already had liquidated their Piedmont League holdings at Winston-Salem, N. C.

While the Detroit action in part stems from war-time uncertainties in the game, particularly in the minor leagues, it also means that the Tigers are through with outright ownership of farm clubs, a principle on which Branch Rickey built the famed chain store system of the St. Louis Cardinals.

There Wasn't Any Bronze, So Trophy Will Have To Wait SEATTLE, Dec. 10 (AP)—A couple of University of Washington men put on a fund-raising stunt that fairly smacked of patriotism.

The two—Roger Ryan and Barry Rogers—capitalizing on the patriotic fervor of the crowds and the imminent man shortage prospect, set up a booth in which they sold kisses to the gals for a dime.

All profits they were not reported were to go to the coed-sponsored fund for purchase of a jeep for the Army.

Like butterflies, fleas pass through distinct stages during their lives—egg, larva, pupa, and adult.

The pledge to the flag of the United States originally was written by James Upham.

WAR TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS NOT TO HOLD UP CAGE TEAM CAMPAIGNS Stillwater to engage City college of New York. Other Garden importations during the campaign will include Oklahoma, Oregon State, Colorado, Southern California, Kansas, Washington State, Wyoming, Creighton, the North Carolina Pre-Flights, West Virginia, West Texas State, Western Kentucky, Notre Dame and Toledo.

The average basketball party numbers 14, so it is easy to see that considerable valuable wartime space will be taken up by Garden combatants alone.

The Big Ten, which up until now has insisted upon its teams playing in their own gymnasiums, is permitting them to show in the Chicago Stadium this winter.

With the people unable to get to the game, Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern and others are bringing the game to the people.

AGGIES A TRADITION Basketball junkies can be made highly profitable. Enroute to New York, Oklahoma A. & M. and Brigham Young stop off in Buffalo to tackle Niagara and Canisius, respectively.

Drilled by blond Henry Iba, the Oklahoma Aggies represent a southwest court tradition. They are perennial rulers of the Missouri Valley Conference.

This is Coach Iba's ninth season at Stillwater, and over the last seven his squads have never finished worse than second. They have won three titles and shared three others, including last year's with Creighton, another high-powered Garden visitor.

This being the fifth successive Garden season the Aggies have helped open is a tribute to the consistent and colorful quality of Oklahoma A. & M. basketball.

BRITISH MUFFLERS MAKE CAPS FOR AEF SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, (AP)—American soldiers in England and have devised a new use for British-made woolen mufflers now being issued them. By doubling under one end of the thick olive-drab scarf and rolling the fold to desired head size, the Yanks have converted them into first class stocking caps.

So versatile is Dove that Frank Leahy started the All-America end of a year ago at guard this autumn, but had to switch him back to his original position in a hurry.

Whitmire is 220 pounds of trouble in the Alabama line. Wilking gets the call at the other tackle on the strength of three seasons of outstanding performances.

Hitting his stride late last season, Hardy this year was a 60-minute man against Auburn, Notre Dame, Navy, Duke and Alabama. He runs devastating interference and is considered the smartest defensive guard in the south. He has more variety to his game than any man many competent observers have seen in years.

MOSELEY INSPIRING Pregulman played center before being converted to guard to be the most formidable hand at the position in the Big Ten last year. The six-foot three-inch, 207-pounder is back at center this year and on top, but is stationed at guard on this All-America.

This is to make room for Captain Spence Moseley of Yale, who makes up in fight what he lacks in weight. The son of a football-playing father—his dad was a famous Eli end in 1916—Moseley, who doesn't weigh 180 pounds, would inspire any team. He played all last season with a brace protecting a broken jaw. Few back up the line with such mobility and viciousness. He did a full share in restoring New Haven football to respectability.

Well, there it is. There will be dissenting voices, of course, but you don't have to apologize for this outfit, so—Hail the All-America of 1942!

SEAMEN'S SERVICE OPENS NEW CLUB GLASGOW (AP)—The United Seamen's Service, an organization that does for American merchant seamen what the Red Cross does for men of the Army and Navy, has set up here the first of the clubs it will establish in foreign ports.

Its headquarters here has accommodations for 150 men. There are beds, recreation rooms and other comforts for men who can get a night off from their ships. Clubs similar to the one here —the headquarters for the United Kingdom—are to be opened in other ports of the world.

East Coast Gas Refineries Essential

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Brig. General W. B. Pyron, liaison officer for the army's petroleum supply service, told senate investigators today operation of east coast base refineries was imperative in the war program to assure "maximum output of aviation gasolines and fuel oils."

The special defense investigating committee has received complaints from the Mid-West and other sections over the threatened closing of refineries in those areas while a large volume of crude oil is being moved to the East for refining.

Blind Turn Their Handicap Into An Asset For War Work

By NEA Service

BROOKLYN, New York — If you want a good definition of "all-out war effort," look at the job the blind are doing. A good place to look is Brooklyn's Industrial Home for the Blind, probably the oldest shop of its kind in the United States.

More than 350 blind men work in its shops, turning out war materials for the Army and Navy. Brooms and mops are an old story to the blind, but the war has brought them a new job—splitting mica, vitally needed for such things as condensers for radios.

"CALIPER" FINGERS
Here the blind man's handicap is turned into an asset, for his extra-sensitive fingers are able to judge by touch paper-thin tolerances which a sighted person would have to measure with a caliper.

The sightless at the Industrial Home are splitting mica "nuggets" into hair-thin sheets within tolerances of three-quarters of one-thousandth of an inch. They can work to any thickness at which mica maintains its flexibility, and are actually sorting their output in grades running from one and one-quarter to two one-thousandths of an inch, from two to three one-thousandths, and from three to four one-thousandths.

Spot checking of the blind man's production at the factory has revealed incredibly few errors.

Production figures for mica are a government secret. Suffice it to say that the Brooklyn Industrial Home is only one of 54 shops for the blind affiliated with the National Industries for the Blind all over the country. All these shops are working 100 per cent on the production of war goods. That's "all-out."
