Fewer Job Orders Received by Office

New business activity in this area went into a sharp slump this week, according to L. P. Fort, manager of the local U. S. Employment office.

Fort said that the employment office had received fewer job orders so far this week than in any previous week since last July.

When asked the cause of this slump, Fort replied, "The first cold spell usually brings a temporary fall in business activity, however, this year's decline has been more prominent than usual."

Fort added, "Our first cold weather has also caused many people who were doing work out-of-doors to apply for jobs inside."

"The area's largest unskilled labor job, the dismantling of the prisoner of war camp at McLean, is almost finished. This jobs completion will add to the list of available unskilled labor," Fort said.

Control of Exports of Lumber Reported Vital to U. S. Welfare

J. W. Garman, chairman of Mayor Ferris Oden's emergency housing committee set-up, said yesterday he had been informed by Wilson Wyatt, federal expeditor and administrator of the national housing agency (NEA) that export controls on lumber are necessary to the success of the housing program in this country.

"These export controls substantially protect the veterans' emergency housing program from unwarranted drain on the supplies it needs," Wyatt was quoted as saying.

Exports to all countries except Canada are controlled.

It was said that lumber imports came into this country at the rate of nearly one and one-half billion board feet per year during August and September, which is one of the highest rates of lumber imports on record. Other materials registered similar gains.

Carmen said that Expeditor Wyatt will speak over Mutual and KPDM Pampa, at 9:15 p. m., Nov. 14, next Thursday.

Nine of Camp Fire Girls Awards Made

CLEVELAND—(P)—The Camp Fire Girls, Inc., today added nine new recipients to the list of persons awarded the National Whoopi Order, the organization's highest honor.

The national conference of the organization, at a banquet last night, made the awards. Recipients included:

Dr. Bernice Baxter, Piedmont, Calif., national president; Attorney General Tom C. Clark; Singer Patrice Munnell of the Metropolitan Opera; Irving Hart, Philippine representative and Mrs. Rita Holsapple Hall, Sherman, Texas.

Outstanding service to the Camp Fire Girls is the basis of the award.

recipient of such choice patronage posts in the house set-up as the clerkship, sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper. There will be candidates galore.

It will be called upon, too, to settle fights almost certain to grow out of conflicting bids for choice committee assignments.

In the senate, Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan has the inside track for election as "president pro tem" and also is slated to be chairman of the potent foreign relations committee.

Robert A. Taft of Ohio is expected by many to become senate majority leader and to head the tax-writing finance committee.

Should he decline the active floor leadership and retain his chairmanship of the republican steering committee, the leadership may go to Senator Wallace White of Maine, now minority leader.

Regardless of how the organization problems are settled, republicans will have a working majority in both the senate and the house.

Already they are assured of 246 house and 51 senate seats, 28 more than an actual majority in the house and three more than half of the senate.

British Plan

republicans. It was a big chance. But it wasn't complete, even if the voters had wanted it to be. No political change in the government is complete unless both congress and the presidency are changed.

Senator Fulbright, an Arkansas democrat, has suggested that Mr. Truman appoint a republican as secretary of state and then resign to become president.

Under the constitution a president can resign. And under law passed by congress the secretary of state automatically becomes president if there is no president and no vice president. We have no vice president.

The Chicago Sun, a newspaper which supports the democrats generally, also suggested that Mr. Truman quit in favor of a republican.

of the entire area if she desired to do so.

Other sweeping provisions of the agreement:

1. The United States, as the sole administering authority, could bar the aircraft of any other nation from entering the area, which is 1,500 miles long and 800 miles wide and contains approximately 1,500 islands of various sizes.

2. The United States would reserve the right to give certain economic privileges to American nations.

3. The terms of the agreement could not be altered, amended or terminated without the consent of the United States.

FALLOUT TENURE ENDS

Foreign Policy

will in fact remain unchanged, speculation about the significance of the elections developed along three main lines:

1. Vandenberg, because of his past record and his dominant position in the next senate, evidently becomes the strong man of the American mission to the Big Four council and the U.N. meeting.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the outgoing senate foreign relations committee moves into a lame duck position as far as the chairmanship is concerned.

Byrd, Vandenberg will be able to block any major Byrnes proposal if he disagrees.

2. What the republicans do with their leadership in congress about the day-to-day application of foreign policy is regarded by many foreign delegates as unpredictable.

While their party "internationalism" is not especially questioned, their congressional action to tariffs, foreign loans, foreign trade and the like will be of utmost importance.

3. A question of American relations with Russia arises from the fact that during the pre-election campaign Moscow assailed Vandenberg and his influence, while in this country the republicans made an issue over domestic communism.

How Moscow will adjust itself to the new situation remains to be seen. One Western diplomat with much experience in Moscow said he believed the Russians had long since reconciled themselves to Vandenberg's influence.

The Big-Four sessions were in recess today because Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov wanted to participate in an embassy celebration in Washington of the anniversary of the communist revolution in Russia.

GOP Strategy

fort an issue, or challenge it and fight back with democratic-supported vetoes.

2. Whether he shall attempt to lead his own party back toward the more conservative line that appeared to be popularized by Tuesday's sweeping GOP victory or whether it even more forcefully toward the opposite side of center.

3. Whether he shall attempt to rally dispersed democratic forces around himself as a candidate for reelection in 1948 or prepare to step aside then for some other nominee.

Mr. Truman gave no indication that he is considering with any seriousness the outcropping of suggestions that he supplant Secretary of State Byrnes with a republican—presumably Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan—and then resign to permit that republican to become president for full GOP control of the government.

This suggestion, first made by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) and supported by Rep. Luther Patrick (D-Ill.), was taken up editorially by the Chicago Sun, a strong backer of the late President Roosevelt's administration but a sometime critic of the Truman course.

The Sun, in an open letter to Mr. Truman from Publisher Marshall Field, said it would be "a patriotic and courageous" step for the President to heed the "unmistakable verdict" of Tuesday's voters and turn all of the government over to the republicans.

But the Washington Post, independent in politics, asserted that any such action "would be a confession of pusillanimity of which Harry Truman has never been accused."

Associates of the President were inclined to agree that Mr. Truman, being a reasonably stubborn man from Missouri, will not quit. They said he is likely to follow the course of doing what he thinks is best for the nation in the next two years and letting the political consequences fall where they may.

Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece said it is "a matter between the President and his conscience" as to whether Mr. Truman should resign. The constitution mentions the possibility of a presidential resignation, but does not say to whom it should be submitted. There is no precedent for no president ever has resigned.

Simplest Footwear Styles Help Beautiful Legs Look Their Best

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

There are more ways than that obvious one of wearing light-colored sheer stockings to make the most of a pair of pretty legs.

What may surprise devotees of ankle-strap and platformed footwear is that the best advertisement of pretty pins is a pair of simple shoes. Let's perfect Elaine Kost. CBS star, unlike many girls who think that fancy footwear does the trick, wears the simplest styles that can be had.

Another rule to remember, if legs are a point of pride, is that glaring grooming faults are twice as glaring on yours as on a pair of non-descript pins. Why? Because well-turned legs attract more eyes and hold more glances of both men and women.

'Coalition' Is Repudiated

AUSTIN—AP—Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith said Wednesday that the national elections show "the American people have repudiated the democratic party for its coalition with the corrupt big city machines and the PAC of the CIO."

"The leaders of the party who sought to trade the birthright of free men for a mass of communists' potage have been soundly rebuked," Smith said in a written statement.

"Of the some 180 democrats in the new house of representatives, 110 of them come from the despised and conservative south. This democratic party has been driven to the home of its ancient fathers."

"It is to be hoped that its leadership will now take the party line from the South rather than from the CIO glunkies in Moscow. Only by such policy can it hope to regain the confidence of the American people."

Harvesters Go Through First Outside Session in Three Days

Army First Team Capable of Going Route Saturday

WEST POINT, N. Y.—(AP)—It will be a team of 60-minute football players against an all-star squad of players who can be shuffled in and out of a game at the coaches' pleasure when Army meets Notre Dame before 74,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium Saturday.

That's the impression you get from talking to Earl (Red) Blaik, Army coach, and the figures for Army's games so far bear it out.

Given good, cool weather that won't take too much out of his athletes, Blaik obviously expects his starting eleven to go through more of the game against Notre Dame just as it did against Oklahoma, Michigan and Duke.

"I have seen Army teams play 60-minute ball and win," was Blaik's only comment when asked how long he expected to keep his starting lineup on the field against Notre Dame.

So far this season, which never has given Army a chance to get down, there have been four 60-minute performances recorded. The two starting tackles, Goble Bryant and Shelton Biles, guard Art Gerometta and a halfback named Glenn Davis, who may be known to some football fans, went through the entire Michigan game without relief.

Against Oklahoma, Army's regulars were all in there 40 minutes or more with the exception of Joe Steffy. In the Duke game the starters played from 40 to 56 minutes each and even in the "breather" against West Virginia last week Davis and Doc Blanchard were in action for 43 minutes and 15 seconds each and the other regulars all played more than 30 minutes.

When Blaik gives out his three-deep lineup, the difference between the first and second teams becomes even more apparent.

"I wouldn't say Army has two top teams this year," says the Army coach, whose calmness belies his red cheeks. "Notre Dame has four top backfields and two top lines, plus a few other linemen who are equally good."

It is obvious from Blaik's conversation, which returns constantly to the quality and numbers of Notre Dame personnel, that he figures the game as a team vs. squad affair. He even goes back to 1944, when Army won by a lopsided score but was just about worn out at the finish, to show how the Irish may "run us into the ground."

Any pessimism which Blaik may display hasn't been transmitted to the Cadet corps. In their usual display of pre-game fervor, the would-be officers have decorated their barracks with signs which indicate a 1000 score would be nothing unexpected. They're really out loose tonight in the annual Notre Dame rally.

The test effect of wear on shoes, two Liverpool, England girls are employed to walk 12 miles on a new pair of shoes every day.

Irish on Edge as Lujack Goes out With Hurt Ankle

By SID FEDER SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the army after two long years of waiting. All of the long labor the Irish put in for a solid year of postwar reconstruction looking to this very weekend—everything rested today on one sprained ankle.

This was the ailing right angle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '42.

Lujack is so hot and so vital in the signal calling, forward passing and, especially, the defensive man-crunch, that Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy says he's better than his predecessor, Angelo Bertelli. And "Bert" you remember, was so good in his day they just about wrote songs and named their children after him around here.

Johnny hurt his ankle yesterday as the final full dress trial for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was winding up on Cartier field, and only a couple of hours after teammates elected him and Halfback Gerry Cowhir as the Army game co-captains.

Today all hands sweated out with fingers and thumbs anxiety the final word from Dr. Joseph Caton, the school physician, as to whether the 21-year-old ace would be aboard the train with the 36-man squad when it heads east at 4 p. m. (CST).

But just giving Lujack the railroad ticket and his lower berth isn't the part that has the Irish worried. Johnny must be on deck, ready to roll Saturday, or the best Notre Dame team in three years—the outfit even the assistant coaches believe might whip Army by 20 points to atone for the 59-48 point beatings of the 1942 and 1945—hasn't more than a prayer.

And he must be ready to go full speed for just about the full 60 minutes, because it's that kind of a ball game. Some of his studies might be able to handle the passing—Slim George Ratterman, for instance, or on the long ones, the Ashbaugh. Some, too, are better than green hands handling the "T" offense. Ratterman, as a matter of fact, steered the Irish to two touchdowns against Navy last Saturday. And Frank Trypanka, a Bloomfield, N. J. whizzer, isn't far behind Lujack as a ball carrier.

But it is on defense where he is as necessary as a parachute to a jumping flier—and especially in the secret defensive setups Leahy and his brain trusters have been working on to keep Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis from running the Irish out of the New York Yankee stadium.

And ironically enough, it was while practicing defense against an Army pass play that the quiet, likable ex-sailor from Pennsylvania coal fields, who only returned in June from a hitch on a sub chaser in the Atlantic, suffered his mishap. He said End Frank Kosikowski, the potential receiver, collided and went down.

The squad takes off today with the roof of the Notre Dame gym still shaky on its rafters from the wall-rattling cheers of the student body in the annual pre-Army game rally last night. The loudest and longest ovation of all came when a little, sweet-faced bespectacled woman stood up to take a bow. They introduced her as "Mrs. Knute Rockne—Mrs. Rock," widow of the famed Irish coach.

Porker Mentor Praises Owls

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Coach John H. Barnhill of Arkansas, after surveying scouting reports on the Rice Owls and likewise previous performances of both the Owls and Razorbacks, concedes Rice has a very wide margin in their game Saturday at Little Rock.

"We have neither linemen nor backs to compete with H. J. Nichols, George Walsmye, Weldon Humble, Charles Matberg, N. L. Nicholson and Huey Keeney, six all-Southern conference players dating back to 1942," said Barnhill. "The starting team will have nine lettermen on it."

It also recognizes, according to scouting and press reports, that Humble and Nichols, both on brilliant play this year, rank among all-America players, if the Southwest is justly recognized by the experts. Nichols made the all-America in 1944.

Barnhill paid high compliment to the coaching job Jess Neely has turned out, not only this year but throughout a long career.

State Scoured for Boy Hiding in Cupboard

PUEBLO, Colo.—(AP)—A frantic mother's call sent police, sheriff's officers and state highway patrolmen into an all-out search for her missing son.

For 40 minutes the called at frequent intervals to see if any trace had been found. Then she closed the case shamefacedly with a final message that the child had been found at home—locked in a cupboard.

3 Big Games Mark Play in Grid Struggle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Big games dot the schedule in Texas schoolboy football this weekend, two of them matching unbeaten teams with district championships riding on the line.

Amarillo goes to Borger and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) to Austin Saturday for battles that are destined to determine the titles of District 1 and 15.

Out at Odessa Monday the Bronchos meet Sweetwater in a melee that will decide a season-long argument and the championship of District 3.

These are the stand-out contests of a week-end that has a card of 47 games, 36 of them conference affairs. All except one district has conference action.

District 12 has an important game with Jacksonville meeting Conroe. These are the only undefeated teams in the district.

Amarillo has been defeated—by Odessa—but Borger boasts an unblemished record. The Bulldogs are narrow favorites in most quarters to upset Amarillo's plans for another district title but Borger is crippled, with its star back, Milton Price, out with a broken leg.

Austin and Thomas Jefferson both are undefeated and so are Odessa and Sweetwater although Jefferson and Sweetwater each has been tied.

Austin enters the big game with Jefferson with both teams listing injuries to top players. This is the showdown for the big Maroon machine that has been rated No. 1 or No. 2 in the state all season. It is generally agreed that if Austin gets by tough Jefferson it will be long gone for the finals.

The week's schedule by district in the state (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

1—Saturday: Lubbock at Pampa; Amarillo at Borger; Brownfield at Plainview (Friday).

2—Friday: Gainesville at Vernon (non-conference); Gladeview at Electra (non-conference); Graham at Quarah.

3—Friday: San Angelo at Big Spring; Monday: Sweetwater at Odessa; Lamesa at Abilene.

4—Friday: El Paso at High at Mesquite, Ariz. (non-conference); Ysleta at Florence, Ariz. (non-conference); Saturday: Austin (El Paso) at Abilene, N. M. (non-conference).

5—Friday: Sherman at Paris, Ennis at Denton (non-conference); Paly (Fort Worth) at Bonham (non-conference).

6—Friday: Sulphur Springs at Denton; McKinney at Arlington.

7—Friday: Pecos (Fort Worth) vs. Amos Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth); Saturday: North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech.

8—Thursday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Adairson (Dallas); Friday: Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas); Saturday: Forest (Dallas) vs. North Dallas.

9—Friday: Mineral Wells at Stephenville; Monday: Cloco at Ranger; Brownwood at Breckenridge.

10—Friday: Bryan at Waco, Hillsboro at Temple, Corsicana at Waxahatchie.

11—Friday: Longview at Tyler, Texas at Marshall.

12—Friday: Nacogdoches at Palestine; Greenville at Lufkin (non-conference); Jacksonville at Conroe.

13—Thursday: San Jacinto (Houston) vs. San Houston (Houston); Friday: Reagan (Houston) vs. Left Lewis (Houston); Saturday: Milby (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston).

14—Friday: Beaumont at Orange; Galveston at Port Arthur; St. Thomas (Houston) at Goose Creek (non-conference); Pasadena at South Park (Beaumont).

15—Thursday: San Antonio Tech vs. Alamo Heights (San Antonio) (non-conference); Friday: Kerrville at Laredo; Brackneridge (San Antonio) at Corpus Christi; Saturday: Jefferson (San Antonio) at Austin.

16—Friday: McAllen at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo (non-conference); Harlingen at San Benito; Brownsville at Edinburg.

IT IS NOW TIME WE PROVE FREEDOM IS NOT A MYTH

What has just happened in America is to be expected sooner or later in a land of popular government. Certainly it must happen if that government is to survive. So it is that the people have just voiced their approval of a change in the political party that is to administer the affairs of this country for the next two—and possibly more—years. The people have voted to the right, perhaps not to such extreme as Henry Wallace would have wanted them to vote to the left.

It was Henry Adams, the American educator, who said "Modern politics is, at a bottom, a struggle not of men but of forces." There is little doubt that the struggle through which the people have gone over a period of years is one of forces—ideas—rather than men.

It is quite true, it seems, as some have observed, that the U. S. has turned to the right, surprisingly, while the rest of the world has turned further to the left.

The right, as most people understand it, means a system under which men exercise the theory of free enterprise—that is, men are left unfettered by the bonds of government control and regulation; while the right means a system of government under which men's lives are regulated for them, and lose their freedom.

For the past 14 years, our nation, which in 50 years had grown strong and wealthy under laissez-faire (free enterprise), has experimented dangerously with new political concepts—new, we should say, in the American way of life. An old political maxim was reaffirmed for its truth during those years. It was voiced anew recently in the Saturday Review of Literature, by John Wharton under the title "The Anatomy of Cooperation."

It said: "If any lessons can be drawn from history, one that seems clearest is that when people obtain any kind of economic security, the non-economic problems begin to rise in importance."

That is what our government has sought to do for 14 years—it has sought to delve into the social and personal lives of our people—it has sought to give them more economic, social security. Although we had grown strong under one system, another system had been put into effect to destroy our personal freedom in the name of economic security. That is the way the Holy Roman Empire died. People sought, and government granted, "securities" which men did not earn by their own physical dexterity and mental prowess.

Our great empire here could still be lost through that sort of defective search for security. If we fail to remember that the real, untarnished sort of security we want is born through personal effort, we can again fall back into bureaucratic confusion.

With great victories go great responsibilities. That of the Republicans has been a great victory; it is now theirs to prove that freedom in America is not a myth, theirs to prove that a turn to the right is right. Other than that, we will have gained nothing by this change.

Rejoinder Stricken From Court Records

DALLAS—(AP)—Federal District Judge William H. Atwell has stricken from court records a rejoinder which government attorneys said attacked the war contracts renegotiation act as CIO-instigated and an appeasement of communists. Hickey and company of Dallas had filed the rejoinder in a government suit to recover $85,000 in alleged excess war profits from the firm.

Valley Ships Out 97,515 Cars Fruit

WESLACO—(AP)—A total of 97,515 cartons of citrus fruit and fresh vegetables have moved out of the Rio Grande Valley during the 1945-46 season. The figure does not include cartons of vegetables that went to canneries of other vegetable and melon shipments marketed by truck.

ATOMIC POLITICS

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—First big job for the Atomic Energy Commission headed by David E. Lilienthal will be the general manager, who will run the works. The commission itself is more like a board of directors. The law says the general manager shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the senate. But the commission may make recommendations to the President. Naturally, the commission will want someone with whom it can work in harmony. This again brings into the limelight the name of Maj.-Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who was in command of the entire atomic bomb project for the army. At first General Groves was openly a candidate for the general manager's job. Then, when he got tangled up with congress and the politicians on drafting the atomic energy legislation, he said he didn't want any part of it. His latest position is said to be that he can't comment on the subject. Whether or not General Groves could get senate confirmation if he were appointed to the job will be a question for much speculation. Sen. Brian McMahon of Connecticut, chairman of the senate committee on atomic energy which drafted the atomic energy law and also chairman of the new joint senate-house committee on atomic energy created last week, openly hostile to General Groves, has been named as a possible candidate for the job of director of military application. The senate could never understand why, but the feeling is growing mutual. COMPROMISE MAY PRODUCE CIVILIAN Atomic bombs have to be dropped from army bombers of the B-29 or bigger type, however, so the air

MACKENZIE'S Column

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst (Subbing for Mackenzie) Every time Stalin varies his routine, as he did yesterday by letting Andre Zhdanov occupy the rostrum at the eye of the anniversary of the bolshevik revolution, it stirs speculation abroad.

You can hear rumors that he is dead, that he is retiring and that his substitute has been chosen as his successor, that he is en route to the United States to confer with Truman, or that his 180-or-90-odd million non-party subjects are in revolt.

A little later you are likely to hear that he was home wielding a ulfa spray on a sore throat like an ordinary human.

Yesterday, talking like most any Moscow radio commentator who is on a "mad" against capitalistic enemies to remind that there are two stars in the Soviet sky which seem to be traveling converging orbits toward the master's chair.

Zhdanov has been considered for six years as a fair-haired boy and, because of his position as well as his flesh, has been referred to as the "Goering of the Soviet"—the No. 2 man. Starting at 16 after war service in the czarist army, Zhdanov has been climbing the ladder of the communists until now, at 50, he is a member of the powerful politbureau, secretary of the central executive committee of the party, chairman of the foreign affairs commission where for years he has played a major role in capping foreign policy, and head of the propaganda bureau. He is a national hero as the "defender of Leningrad" and the 1939-40 war against Finland to secure the strategic position which later kept the Germans out of Northeast Russia was peculiarly "his" war in planning and organization.

The other star among the generalissimo's younger satellites is Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov, 45, who has just been shifted from the legislative to the executive branch of the government—from the presidency of the supreme soviet to vice chairman of the council of ministers. He, too, served in the Red army after World War I, held increasingly important party organizing jobs, was for some years Stalin's personal secretary, a member of the party's central executive committee and a member of the state committee for defense during the recent war.

But if, on that day when it is no longer merely a sore throat for the master, if Zhdanov's Malenkov for the horizon-eying Malenkov for the scepter, the fur's going to fly in Russia.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN Well, it may have escaped you frivolous people who just read the funny but recently noticed an item that seemed to rank historically along with the Declaration of Independence, the Boston Tea Party and the time Molly broke her pitcher. A solemn British judge admitted that the word "oomph" had become part of the English language.

The poor English managed to drive off the invasions of Napoleon and Hitler, but they've been helpless before the Americanized slang that parades into England every day. Instead of "very good, m'lud," English Brits are saying "m'lud, Mac." And English people, instead of "having a spot of tea," are "getting their noses wet." Taxi drivers who used to have "a bit of a tiff" are telling each other to "pull in their ears."

I guess the only thing needed to complete the Americanization of Britain is to have Queen Mary turn up at Buckingham Palace with an armload of Sinatra records.

In this period of history when more and more people seem to want to have the government do everything for them, it is imperative that every area of our living be brought outside the state should be encouraged.—Dr. Kimball Young of Queens college.

Denazification Men Offer Resignations

STUTTGART, Germany—(AP)—The denazification ministers of all three states in the American occupation zone of Germany have tendered their resignations as a result of sharp criticism by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay of the work of German denazification courts, German governmental officials said tonight. Their resignations have not yet been accepted by the German minister-presidents, the officials said. Clay, deputy military governor of the American zone, charged yesterday that German denazification courts were "whitewashing" nazis and told the German council of states that the military government would take back control of the denazification program unless the Germans showed improvement within 60 days.

The Errors in Our Educational System

I have just read a great book, "The Theory of Education in the United States," by the late Albert Jay Nock. I had read it several years ago but wanted to reread it recently because I could constantly refer to it. The book has been out of print for some years, so I asked my book store to advertise for it. The best price the book store could get for a second hand copy was $14.50. It is a small book of only 160 pages, but I wanted it so badly that I ordered it and paid the $14.50 for it. It is a series of lectures given in 1931 by Albert Jay Nock at the University of Virginia. It is because I have had so much to say about public education that I especially wanted this book. While it does not specifically differentiate between public and private educational institutions, it very severely criticizes the premises on which our educational system is based. Mr. Nock contends that our educational system is based on Roman erroneous notions: first, the misinterpretation of equality; second, the misinterpretation of democracy; and third, the idea of great assurance of good public order home government lies in a literate citizenry. Mr. Nock said there was little need to remind people that Jefferson's general intelligence in literacy improving political affairs, was not borne out by conditions at the time of his lecture in 1837. In his own evidence he quotes Ernest Renan who said: "Countries which, like the United States, have set up a considerable popular instruction without any previous higher education, will long have to expiate their error by their intellectual mediocrity, their vulgar spirit, their shallow and superficial spirit, their lack in general intelligence. This prediction of Renan seems to have come true. He quotes Bishop Joseph Butler saying, "Considerable kind of things we read and the kind of attention we bestow on it, very little of our time is more idly spent than the time spent in reading."

It is Mr. Nock's contention that an educational system based on these erroneous concepts is bound to be a failure, and the recognition of this failure, he says, was the cause of changing the structure of our educational system about the beginning of the century. It was then, he contends, that we started training our instruction in various lines for education. He claims that we never attempted the kind of education used by the Greeks and Romans, the study of the classics, the fullness of which was the fullest continuous record available of what the human mind has been busy about in practical, every department of spiritual and social activity. Attention to this, he contends, is what makes a truly educated man. He continues: "Hence the mind that has attentively canvassed this record is not only a disciplined mind but an experienced mind; a mind that instinctively views any contemporary phenomenon from the perspective of an immensely long perspective attained through this profound and weighty experience of it. It is not merely a matter of 'I may paraphrase the words of Emerson, this discipline brings us into the feeling of an immense longevity, and maintains us in it. It is not merely a matter of being mature, because they powerfully inculcate the views of life and the demands of life that are appropriate to the mature man. They are indeed the specific marks, the outward and visible signs, of the inward and spiritual grace of maturity."

Now, during the present century, instead of disciplining the minds along these lines, our colleges and universities are filled with uneducated men and women, and the result is that all the colleges and universities can do is to train them in various skills, such as the writing of advertisements, copy, real-estate writing, business English, elementary stenography, newspaper practice, reporting and copy-editing, feature-writing, book-reviewing, wireless telegraphy, and the features of cookery, fundamental problems in clothing, family meals, food etiquette and hospitality, principles of home management, gymnastics and dancing for men, including practice in clog-dancing, etc., etc.

I will quote further from "The Theory of Education in the United States" in the next issue.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—If anyone gets around to watching an Oscar in a bathing suit, or something, to Hollywood's champion, pin-up girl, blonde Adele Mara should win it with a couple of photographic plates to spare. Adele figured out for us the other day that in five years in Hollywood she has spent 293 more hours posing in bathing suits for pin-up pictures than acting. The figures read, 29 screen roles—1049 hours. Four thousand pin-up pictures—1333 hours.

And figures of course, don't lie. Especially not Adele's, which is very easy on the eyes. Her presence on the covers of a couple of national magazines every month and the resultant arrival of a couple of thousand fan letters are foregone conclusions out of Republic studio, where Roman Freulich, who has photographed all her pin-ups, says: "She's the best pin-up subject I've ever had. She's got that 'Come hither' look in her eyes."

Of course Roman may be prejudiced. When we first met him he was working for the old Universal film company, and his No. 1 job

Concern Says 5 of 6 Persons Favoring Military Training

MINNEAPOLIS—Universal military training for American youth is now favored by slightly more than five out of every six persons linda Delgado, and both her parents were born in Spain. But Adele was born in Highland Park, Mich. 24 years ago, was raised in Detroit and is an American as apple pie.

Seven years ago she was a black-haired Spanish dancer with Xavier Cugat's orchestra. Cugat introduced her as "My latest importation from Spain—Adeleida Delgado."

Then Hollywood discovered her. Now she's blonde, portraying American girls on the screen with only a pair of black flashing eyes attesting to the fact that once she could have been passed off as a curly Spanish dancer in black-haired Rita Cusimto, the black-haired Spanish dancer who became Rita Hayworth, the red-haired (now blonde) movie star.

Adele bleaches, too. She goes to the beauty parlor twice a week. "In fact," she said, "I spend more time in front of a still camera and in the beauty parlor than acting."

Stray Mines Damage American Freighter

TOKYO—(AP)—An American freighter, two Japanese tugs and a landing craft were damaged by exploding stray mines in Japan's inland sea and Shimonoeki straits area in October, the U. S. Naval activities command announced today.

in a canvass of 30,000 policyholder families being conducted by Northwestern National Life Insurance company. Preliminary returns in the survey reveal 86 percent of the ballots favoring at least a year of military training for all able-bodied young men. This compares with 81 percent favoring universal postwar military training in the autumn of 1944, when the company conducted a similar survey.

Of the 86 percent favoring military training in the current survey, slightly more than half, or 46 percent of the whole vote, express a preference for a program of military training administered along ROTC lines throughout the four years of high school. The other 40 percent in favor feel that better results would be obtained from a year of training administered in a separate program after graduation from high school.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-fermentable, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so clearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. ### Big City Dazzle Beats U. N. Babel

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Speaking in six languages doesn't faze Violeta Van Ronzelen, blonde, green-eyed Peruvian interpreter of the U. N. Assembly, but the ruckus and hubbub of New York City does.

The 25-year-old stewardess of Pan American Grace Airways was given special leave of absence to interpret for the South American delegates. At first she was thrilled by New York, but now the constant hurrying to keep appointments has nearly driven her frantic. Miss Van Ronzelen speaks English, Spanish, French, Portuguese, Italian and German.

Bogota is called the Athens of South America.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—The question most often asked a traveler returned from a world tour is: "What are those foreign girls like—really?"
 People aren't greatly interested in what the folks on the other side think of the atom bomb or what you learned about Indian riots or who is doing what to whom in the Palestine imbroglio.
 Nay, bears to the serious side. They have read all that.
 What they all want to know is the "real inside stuff" on romance around the globe.
 "What do those overseas creatures have—if anything—that we don't have?" Sniff the wives.
 "What are we missing?" The hen-pecked husbands ask when their wives go into the kitchen to stew up another marital.

 Well, I have been a happy marital prisoner for nine years—too long in harness to kick against the traces. So, please understand that the summary which follows is based purely on conversations with American bachelors in some 30 countries around the world. They tell me that:
 English girls are most ardent in the chase. They court you with kindness—"your slipper, milord"—but once they haul you to the altar they think the honeymoon is over. They tend to let their hair grow scraggly and their dress to collect wrinkles on the theory: "I've got you, clam—now I'll relax."
 French mademoiselles are tremulous and tender before the noose tightens. Then—say their critics—they often become petty household tyrants. But they will sell away your francs against a drizzly day.
 No spendthrifts either are Dutch girls, but generally they are homely as homespun. Great girls to take back to the farm though, if you are hit by the help shortage.
 Tradition to the contrary, Scandinavian girls go in for more torrid romancing—maybe Garbo "wants to be alone" but not the rest of them. Italian and other Mediterranean lassies. Fair warning: The rights are months long.
 In Germany you can still be a ladies' man with a pocketful of candy bars, but if you show up late for a date the fraulein is likely to complain about the four-power occupation.
 In the Arab states the femmes are dressed like the woman's auxiliary of the Ku Klux Klan, and their papas carry daggers. Anyway, going out with a veiled lady is like buying a package without a label.
 Egypt? Well, the Turks made it a fat lady's paradise.
 India? Here, too, beware of old-fashioned girls with old-fashioned fathers who don't like an English accent around the house. The modern girls are mostly vegetarian and talk nothing but politics.
 Australia—tops down under! Gay and pretty, the Aussie lassies are the ones most likely to make you forget the unforgettable girl you left behind.
 The Chinese girls make the best cooks, but they do giggle at the oddest times.
 Japanese women are the world's perfect wives from the viewpoint of service. You won't need a maid because they'll do all the work and save the price of a baby buggy by packing junk around on the back of her kimono. But madame butterfly is bow-legged and apparently built to go under low bridges. And could you love a woman who served you raw fish for dinner?
 The nearest to an ideal helpmate is the Balinese beauty. She wears only a half-size sarong stretching from her hips to her ankles—low waisted! Small laundry bills—and she will carry her groceries home on her head. If she complains, you can't understand her language.
 She will keep chickens, live in a straw hut, and never ask you for a facial, a motor car or a new hat. She is too small ever to beat you up, and at the wedding you can collect enough rice to keep her in calories for a year.
 Brother, if some American girl is giving you trouble, take off at once for beautiful Bali and wed one of these wonderful women. Grow your own rice and wed two or three.

OPA Decontrols Cleaners and Bedding

WASHINGTON—(P)—OPA removed price controls today from household vacuum cleaners and attachments as well as certain items of bedding and home laundry equipment.
 Decontrol was effective immediately on all of the items, which included feather and down, feather-filled pillows, domestic ironing machines and domestic clothes dryers.
 OPA said vacuum cleaners were removed from price control because supply is in approximate balance with demand. It added that these appliances are already being sold by some manufacturers at less than ceiling prices.
 Decontrol of the other items was based on unimportance to living costs.

Ancient Chandeliers Bought for Commons

LONDON—(P)—Five great bronze chandeliers, with 400 candle holders, which lighted the house of commons before it was burned down in 1834, will be used in the new house of commons now being rebuilt after the bombing of 1941.
 The chandeliers have been bought by the Ministry of Works from Baron's Manor, near Tealby, Lincolnshire.
 Charles Tennyson, d'Eyncourt, M.P., uncle of the poet, Lord Tennyson, bought them after the 1834 fire for the 60-room battle-mounted mansion he was building to outdo his brother-in-law's castle on the Scottish border.
 There were eight chandeliers then but three were destroyed in the fire. All the glass shades are there, however, carefully looked after for 112 years, and they will go back to Westminster.

British Expert Sees Smaller Battle Wagons

LONDON—Battleships of the future may be smaller than they are today and resemble surfaced submarines in appearance, according to Rear-Adm. H. O. Thursfield, writing in "Brassey's Naval Annual for 1946" which was recently published here.
 The atomic bomb and rocket weapons are likely to bring about such a tendency, he suggests, pointing out that heavy ships are not needed to launch terrific rocket bombardments. Formerly, he says, the design of a battleship was governed by the size of her principal armament; but rockets, having no recoil, can be launched from comparatively light vessels.
 Though Adm. Thursfield anticipates changes, he says "the atomic bomb is, in fact, nothing but a 'bigger and better bomb,'" and "there is no reason to accept the prophecy" that it is "likely to have any great influence on the design of battleships."
 Nothing happened in World War II, he states, to justify the abandonment of sea forces, though it is not yet possible to predict exactly what form the successors to present battleships will take.
