Visiting Foreign Diplomats Keep Eye on American Congressional Elections

Relief Shown At Bipartisan Foreign Policy

NEW YORK—(AP)—Foreign diplomats deeply engrossed in the gigantic task of building world peace kept a sharp but discreetly silent watch on the American congressional elections today.

Persons familiar with the views of many delegations to the United Nations assembly and the council of foreign ministers reported a general relief that present foreign policies are sufficiently bipartisan to rule out any major changes.

The Big Four foreign ministers moved into their second day's work on the Eastern European peace treaties amid mounting evidence that Russian Foreign Minister Molotov will stage a last ditch fight to gain special advantages for Yugo-

Possible Effect Of Vote on Racial Relations Viewed

By O. F. HANES
ATLANTA—(AP)—The possible effect of the result on racial relations was involved today as Southerners voted their traditionally straight democratic ticket to pile up an early lead for the party in the fight for control of the eighteenth congress.

Loss of democratic majority representation on committees could bring to the congressional legislation bitterly and successfully fought by the Southerners heretofore in committee with the race issue admittedly spurring them on.

The fair employment practices committee bill is an example. The present house vote is 219 to 207, up of eight democrats—five of them from the south—and four republicans, has kept the measure off the floor.

A switch in party representation on the committee, Southerners say, might mean the bill and the fight out in the open quickly.

Southern senators and representatives, with few exceptions, contend passage of such legislation would disrupt racial relations. They say it would require southern employers to hire Negroes for jobs held by whites since reconstruction days. This poses the question of the effect on the south's segregation laws.

While watching the national picture today and trying to weigh its possible results on their pattern of life, the south's whites and Negroes will be keeping an eye on Alabama as the ballot issue directly affecting the races.

Alabama's vote on a proposed constitutional amendment admittedly designed to make it more difficult for Negroes to vote.

The proposal, known as the Boswell amendment, would do two things:

1. Require prospective voters to be able to "understand and explain" instead of merely read and write, any section of the U. S. constitution and to be of "good moral character."
2. Eliminate the present provision that anyone who owns property taxable at $300 or more can vote regardless of whether he can read or write.

City Commission Meeting Postponed

A public hearing on the city budget for the coming year, together with the regular weekly city commission meeting has been postponed due to the absence of Mayor Farris Oden and Commissioner Ewing Williams.

Mayor Oden is in South Dakota while Williams was reported to have been stranded in Colorado by snow-blocked roads.

Lewis Seeks More Pay, Shorter Week

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The way John L. Lewis sees his wage dispute with the government: his 400,000 soft coal miners could get a 25 cent an hour pay boost and a shorter work week without adding to coal costs.

Economists for Lewis' United Mine Workers floated this possible trial balloon privately and cautiously today, telling reporters that Lewis is "convinced" the operators would not suffer under the higher-pay, shorter-hours arrangement.

They emphasized, however, that the UMW chief will specify his own demands in a showdown with Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug late this week.

The miners now get $1.18 1/2 an hour for the first 35 hours of work in any week.

Meanwhile, both sides took an election-day breather in the highly delicate and secret negotiations which have been under way since Nov. 1. So far, neither Lewis nor Krug, who is away on a western tour of inspection, has attended the meetings.

Negotiations are scheduled to resume tomorrow.

Wildcat shutdowns of mines in Southern West Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee spread yesterday. Conflicting opinions arose as to whether the shutdown resulted from genuine "unrest" among the miners, misunderstandings over a possible strike date, or pre-election turmoil.

Lewis wants to open the contract he made with Krug last May when the government seized the soft coal mines. Krug insists that the agreement covers the period of government possession and cannot be altered by the operators, some of whom have declined up to now to accept the terms of the Krug-Lewis contract as a basis for taking back their mines from the government.

With Lewis' new wage demands, the return may be delayed even longer.

The Netherlands Asks German Territory
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Netherlands today asked the Big Four nations to hand over 700 square miles of German territory to compensate Holland for damage inflicted in her economy by the Nazis.

The Netherlands ambassador, Albinus van der Grinten, delivered the note containing the request in a call on Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson. Similar notes were delivered simultaneously in London, Moscow and Paris.

In a summary of the note, the Netherlands embassy said the Dutch were asking for certain changes in their frontier with Germany which would eliminate bulges in the line, reducing it from 325 to 220 miles in length, and would involve a German population of only 119,000.

As outlined in the note, the frontier along the North Sea to Aachen would straighten out four German "bulges" in the present boundary, the largest of these being the territory of Bentheim-Bocht.

None of the larger German cities in the border area would be annexed. Such cities as Emden, Nordhorn, Emmerich, Goch, Gelden, Kaldenkirchen, Hemsberg, Gerlikenkirchen and Aachen would remain in Germany.

The new frontier roughly would run slightly west of all those cities.

U.S. Navy Reports Loss Of Spokane Sailor
PORTLAND, Eng.—(AP)—The U. S. navy reported today a crewman from the anti-aircraft cruiser USS S. S. Spokane was lost last night when a Liberty ship struck an unlighted buoy in Portland harbor and capsized.

Mrs. Charles Levitt, 84, Hemphill Pioneer, Dies
CANADIAN—(Special)—Funeral services were held at Allison, yesterday afternoon, for Mrs. Charles Levitt, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Bryan, here Saturday. Burial was at the Zephyrus cemetery, under the direction of Stickley Funeral Home, She was 84.

Maud Lorena Coggan was born November 1, 1862, at Kingston, Ont. She moved to Clay City, Ill., with her parents as a small child. She was married to Charles Levitt on Thanksgiving day, 1884, and to them were born four daughters and two sons.

She was a resident of Hemphill county for about 40 years. She is survived by Mrs. Myrtle Bryan, and Mrs. Martha Newton, of Canadian, Mrs. Ethel Scott of Miami, Mrs. Nora Blake Panhandle, and Lester and Malcolm Levitt of Allison, 14 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Her husband preceded her in death a few years ago.

Leftists Are Blamed For 14 Bomb Blasts
MADRID—(AP)—Spanish leftists were blamed today for 14 bomb blasts before Madrid food stores last night, which some sources described as a part of a "month of agitation" designed by leftists to coincide with the discussion of Spanish problems by the United Nations.

One bystander was injured. A semi-official source said that the more than 200 persons earlier reported arrested in the last fortnight during police raids included the entire central committee of the Spanish left communist party.

Army, Notre Dame Still Dominate Weekly Pigskin Poll

Irish Coach Is Ready To Battle Army Team Now

By SID FEDER
SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—There have been Notre Dame teams in the past that have been hot. There was, to mention one, the team that "win one for Gipp" back there in the twenties, when Rocke asked them the question. There was the one-play O'Brien outfit that hung on the Chris Sagle collections, just to bring up another.

But not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been a set of Irish Shillelagh pitchers like the current Notre Dame footballers. Never was one as "het up" and looking for a fight like the 1946 Irishmen as they prepare for their national championship game Saturday with the army, which has hung it on them 69-0 and 48-0 for the last two years. Just, for instance, this is what's going on around here:

The first team goes through a dummy scrimmage—no contact and nothing to get excited about except some plays Coach Frank Leahy hasn't allowed them to use all year because they're saving them for Army. Well, between each formation lineup, the Irish front-wall wallpapers go into a huddle to make with a cheer to "give us Army" until a fearful innocent bystander pleads with local authorities to "throw those lions some red meat and let's get out of here."

Jimmy Costin, local sports editor and semi-pro historian of Notre Dame doings, is somewhat amazed at how high this particular Irish set has worked itself.

Coach Frank Leahy scratched his head and said, "I wish I could see them 'lads' were so hot right at this moment, he's afraid they'll burn out some of their emotional fire before game-time Saturday, and he'd just as soon they burn it out where it will do the most good. And Leahy, having picked Army to win by a 27-14 edge—without saying positively—can't think of a better place for the Notre Dame team to hit than the Cadet Combustion company.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
Yesterday, we selected Lubbock over Pampa, Amarillo over Borger (by the flip of a coin) and Plainview over Brownfield. We haven't changed our mind and here goes with the rest of the week's forecasts. (Season total: 40 right, 19 wrong. Average, .678).

Southwest:
Arkansas—There's room for an upset here but the Owls get the blink. "A-pun my word."
Texas over Baylor—let me stay another hour mama, the party is getting r-o-u-g-h.
Southern Methodist over Texas A&M—The Mustangs are still not out of the title race.
Texas Tech over New Mexico—Tech does a reverse from last week's game with Rice.
Hardin Simmons over West Texas—Is there a doctor in the house? Yes, Little Doc Mobley.

Foreign:
Tulsa over Oklahoma Aggies—Tulsa remembers that 46-40 beating last year.
Notre Dame over Army—We've been trying to avoid this one.
The Citadel over George Washington—fooled you, didn't we?
Georgia Tech over Navy—Navy is anchored way down this year.
Alfred over Buffalo—Anybody wants argue.
Penn over Columbia—The critics dropped Penn like a hot potato.
Wake Forest over Duke—O bury me not, on the lone prairie.
Oklahoma over Kansas—go, and never look back.
U. C. L. A. over Oregon—the Uclans still aren't out of the Los Angeles city limits. And, there's no limit on this one.
Ohio State over Pittsburgh—the Buckeyes are coming, yo ho, yo ho.
Southern Cal over Cal—all SC is

Owls Move To 5th Ahead of Texas Steers

By BOB GRUBB
NEW YORK—(AP)—It didn't take a recout today to determine the results of the weekly election of college football's two most popular candidates.

Even before the ballot boxes were opened in the Associated Press weekly poll of sports writers throughout the nation, the outcome was certain. Army and Notre Dame had been awarded another of those landslide votes that kept the two teams in the forefront as the people's choices this fall.

The principals in football's national championship classic at Yankee stadium this Saturday have been up there with moutinous regularity every week but one since this year's poll started. That week the voters put the dark-horse candidate, Texas, over Army and dropped Notre Dame to third place.

Fenn, to the surprise of practically no one, lost its hold on third place due to the Quakers' 17-14 upset by Princeton and kept the two teams in Penn's former spot at No. 3 was filled by Georgia.

University of California at Los Angeles retained fourth place and Rice, No. 8 last week advanced to No. 5, with Texas moving up a notch to sixth place. Tennessee went from tenth place to seventh.

Georgia Tech went from 16th to eighth. After Penn at No. 6 came Illinois, up from eleventh last week. Northwestern sixth last week, nose-dived sharing position No. 17 with North Carolina which also slipped from the first ten.

Based on the usual system of ten points for a first-place vote, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so on, Army piled up 1,176 points, 41 less than last week. Notre Dame's point total of 1,140 was 338 under the previous count.

Standings of the top ten teams (first place votes in parenthesis; points based on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4 etc., system):

| Team   | Points |
|--|--------|
| Army (64)  | 1,176  |
| Notre Dame (51)  | 1,140  |
| Georgia (6)  | 920    |
| UCLA (3)   | 827    |
| Texas  | 491    |
| Tennessee  | 471    |
| Georgia Tech   | 237    |
| Pennsylvania   | 199    |
| Illinois   | 159    |
| Second ten: 11-Michigan 149; 12-Ohio State 85; 13-Wake Forest 71; 14-Southern California 68; 15-Wisconsin 67; 16-Oklahoma 65; 17-Northwestern 64; 18-North Carolina 50 points each; 19-Louisiana State 39; 20-North Carolina State 31. |        |

Honorable mention list: William and Mary 30; Cornell 20; Delaware 17; Alabama 6; Muhlenberg 4; Vanderbilt 5; Auburn 5; Tulsa 4; Mississippi State 4; Rutgers 3; South Carolina 3; Arkansas 2; Yale 2; Harvard 1; Miami "Fla." 1; Oklahoma A. and M. 1; Princeton 1; Iowa 1.

Sports Round-Up

By RUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—And the big nine lot of people are pulling for Ohio State to win the championship and go to the Rose Bowl. The idea is that it would be a grand sendoff for W. W. St. John, retiring Buckeye athlete-director who long has championed the Bowl game.

Ohio was turned down in a formal bid to go to the Rose Bowl in 1944. . . . Eight now the look like a good bet, off Saturday's Northwestern game, to come out on top of that tough title race. One observer reports that Coach Paul Bear pulled a greasy neale on Northwestern, using the formation of Texas National Guard units to the five-yard line and then switching to the single wing for greater power to push the ball across the goal.

REVEALING SECRETS
Dick Colman, Princeton assistant coach and scout, gives this as the lowdown on how Princeton beat Penn last week: "We put a 160-pound guard right opposite big George Savitsky—figuring he'd laugh so hard it would end down his efficiency." . . . And Boston college's Donny Myers plugs Quarterback Don Panciera. "I'll three quarters of the coaches in this room left their automobiles with the motors running, the cars likely would go right to Panciera's front door. I know mine would."

TEXAS FOX AND WOLF GROUP STAGING HUNT
PALESTINE—(AP)—Hundreds of enthusiastic hunters sloshed after 300 hounds near here today as the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association started its first big post-war meet.

Rain continued to fall on already soaked woodland, but the first of an estimated 1,200 hunters started at dawn.

Prize winning show hounds were named last night, with today's field trials narrowing the field for the champion hunting dog.

Schoolboy Titles on Line in Three Games

Harvesters Come Out of Saturday Game Unscathed

A dislocated finger suffered by End Bill Speer in Saturday night's game at Fort Worth was the only "major injury" reported from the Harvesters grid camp today as the local schoolboy eleven prepared for Lubbock.

The Westerners, 6-0 winners over Brownfield last week, met Pampa here Saturday afternoon in a District 1-AA conference encounter, the second title bout for Pampa and the third for Lubbock.

Both teams have played Borger, the district's current leader and only unbeaten team. Lubbock lost a 20-19 thriller to the Bulldogs while Borger romped over Pampa 34-7.

Cochs Orlis Coffey of the Harvesters reported this morning that he was well-pleased with the showing of his eleven at Fort Worth, even though the Harvesters were defeated 50-13, 12-12.

"We played 50 to 75 percent better ball than we have in any previous game," Coffey said.

The Harvesters' mentor also added the opinion that the entire Harvesters line showed great improvement. Coffey substituted freely at most line positions, although substitutions were not particularly made on offense and defense.

"We left a boy in until he started looking tired, and then gave him a rest. That way we are using as many boys as possible without differentiating in offense and defense," Coffey added.

Commenting on the North Side eleven, Coffey said the Steers played great ball despite the loss of key players.

"Their big backs fell down on the slipper turf several times, although it was mostly due to cutting in too quick. Our lighter backs perhaps had the advantage in that department."

Coffey and most of his squad saw the Lubbock-Borger game two weeks ago and the Pampans will work this week on stopping the tricky Western offensive plays worked out by Coach Goober Keyes and his staff.

A "spread" version of the double wing formation seemed to baffie the Harvesters, but the Lubbock eleven is expected to use it here.

Mustang "B" Eleven Leads SW Conference

(By The Associated Press)
Southern Methodist is setting a dizzy pace in the Southwest conference B football league, the Mustangs racking up five straight victories.

S. M. U. tumbled Texas 14-13 last week while Texas A. and M. and Baylor were battling to a scoreless tie and Arkansas was strapping Magnolia A. and M. 45-7.

Two games are scheduled this week. Southern Methodist meeting Baylor at Dallas and Arkansas engaging Ouachita college at Port Smith, both till Friday night.

The B league standings:

| Team      | W | L | T | Pts | Opp |
|-----------|---|---|---|-----|-----|
| SMU       | 5 | 0 | 0 | 79  | 29  |
| Rice      | 1 | 0 | 1 | 20  | 18  |
| Arkansas  | 4 | 2 | 0 | 102 | 52  |
| A. and M. | 2 | 1 | 1 | 40  | 13  |
| Texas     | 1 | 1 | 1 | 33  | 27  |
| TCU       | 2 | 2 | 3 | 73  | 54  |
| Baylor    | 1 | 3 | 1 | 57  | 41  |

Cowboy Back Has Not Had Throw Taken by Enemy

ABILENE—(AP)—A passer may set records for the number of completions and yards gained thereby but that fellow also may lose the big game by pitching one that falls into an enemy's hands.

You won't find Alvin Johnson of Hardin-Simmons listed among the nation's passing leaders although he has a respectable record of 417 yards on 16 completions this season. But you also won't find where a player on the opposing team has intercepted one of his throws.

Johnson is the new champion perfect passer. He has hurled the oval 35 times this year and none except those who are supposed to have "aukt the ball. This beats the all-time record of 46 in a season by George McAfee of Duke in 1939.

Johnson plays with the only undefeated, untied team left in the great south-west. His efforts have been quite important in keeping the Hardin-Simmons record intact. Eighty of his passes have been for touchdowns. Few of his pitches are short ones.

"Johnson is one passer who will let them tackle him for a loss rather than throw a bad pass," says his coach, Warren Woodson.

"I never worry about the opposition getting to me," chimes in Johnson. "We have a good line and it gives me plenty of time to spot the receivers and get them off."

Another factor in his passing success is the clever manner in which he fakes after taking the ball from center on the T. Linebackers and halfbacks can't tell whether he's going to pass or hand the ball off.

Government Pay Will Be Awarded Rivers

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The secretary of navy said today the U. S. government would make a payment to the family of Lieut. Octavia Diaz Rivera, killed in the crash of a U. S. navy plane several weeks ago while it was en route to Corpus Christi.

Informed sources said the payment probably would be $30,000, the same amount asked by the U. S. in connection with the death of United States fliers shot down over Yugoslavia.

Championships of three districts go on the line this week-end as Texas schoolboy football pounds down the stretch.

Amarillo plays Borger in the game that should settle for all purposes the district 1 title. Sweetwater meets Odessa in the showdown test of District 3. Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) tackles Austin in the major battle of District 15.

In all cases there will be more conference games to be played but these games are the ones around which the titles appear to hinge.

Only six of the sixteen districts have undisputed leaders—North Side in the Fort Worth district, Ereckridge in District 9, Lamar in the Houston district, Orange in District 14, Austin in District 15 and Brownsville in District 16. However, in the case of District 15 Jefferson is only one-half game behind because of the with Laredo and is in as good a position to win the championship by beating Austin as if there wasn't a blemish on its record.

Ysleta appears to have the inside track in District 4 where it is in a tie for the lead with El Paso high. The latter can win the championship by finishing without a defeat, although Ysleta would have the same record, because El Paso made more first downs, with penetrations even, when El Paso and Ysleta played to a 12-12 tie. But El Paso must play tough Austin in El Paso where Ysleta has only often-beaten, Bowie (El Paso) to hurdle.

Army Assigns More Manila Area MP's

MANILA—(AP)—The U. S. army today announced the assignment of 430 additional military police to the Manila area with instructions to reduce traffic accidents and enforce a ban against rowdism and drunkenness—causes of Filipino complaints.

You've probably figured your present car won't have to last much longer.
We hope you're right. For our part, we're doing our best to get those grand new Packards to our customers.

• You know the situation
But, like every other motor car manufacturer, Packard is still struggling with parts and materials shortages.
This year, the industry as a whole has been able to build only 44% of its output for the same period in 1941.
Packard has done better than that, but we'd like to put in a word of caution:
It may be some time yet before you get behind the wheel of your new car.

• Don't take a chance!
Make sure your present car keeps rolling. Test your car with this easy quiz.
If you find any of these symptoms, bring your car in for a quick check-up.
Lots of cars are lasting longer and running better because our expert mechanics are trained to nip trouble before it takes hold!

WATCH OUT FOR HIDDEN TROUBLES! Some car troubles give no warning. Your battery—your electrical system—and your cooling system need a careful check-up at least once each year. The start of winter means a heavy rush for hard-to-get parts. Now is the time to let trained experts test your car.

P.S. Fenders, doors, running boards—in fact, all body parts are scarce. Don't let rust catch them away. Our protective treatment will add to your car's life, appearance and value.

Shade of Sycamore by PERCY MARKS

“MR. DWIGHT,” Gayle said sharply. “You set out to glorify Bart, didn’t you? You were the one that sent out all those stories about him.”
“No, Mrs. Bartlett; that’s not right. I sent out the original stories, but it was like touching a match to tinder. The fire of publicity was beyond my control in two days I haven’t fed the flames; I’ve been trying to keep them where they were safe.”
“I see,” Gayle believed him. “You were afraid the true story would come out?”

It was as if with one flick of her hand she had slapped three faces, Dwight’s, Mrs. Bartlett’s, and Alexander Barr’s. They all jerked erect in their chairs and stared at her.
“The true story,” Octavia Bartlett breathed wonderingly. “What do you mean, the true story?”
They didn’t know it. Gayle brought up short. She had taken it for granted that they knew of Bart’s disobedience to orders and of the tragic events that followed, but obviously they were as ignorant of what had actually happened as the public was. There was a blank terror in Mrs. Bartlett’s eyes; and feeling helpless, Gayle looked at Mr. Godfrey and silently appealed for help.
“I’m afraid,” he said smoothly, “you are misunderstanding. Mrs. Bartlett is referring to her marriage.”
Octavia Bartlett sank back in her chair, almost faint with relief, but both Barr and Dwight looked sharply at Mr. Godfrey. They were not deceived.
“I think,” Mr. Godfrey continued, “you had better explain what you want, Gayle. Or shall I?”
“No, thank you; I’ll do it now,” that the moment had come, she felt weak again and sat down in her chair. “I’m perfectly content face was hidden in her hands, and she was sobbing.

“Come, come, Gayle,” said Mr. Godfrey, patting her shoulder gently. “Buck up. You were splendid—splendid.”

THE sound of an opening door made her turn. Mrs. Bartlett stepped into the room. She looked like an old woman. Her eyes were dull with pain and defeat; her strong, broad shoulders sagged. She reached for a chair for support.

“Mrs. Bartlett will sign,” Barr announced coldly, “and Mr. Dwight and I will witness.”
Gayle felt no moment of triumph when Octavia Bartlett, her hand shaking, wrote her name. That poor, broken woman was no longer a powerful, ruthless enemy; she was just a mother, bereaved and terrified.

“Fity made Gayle speak. ‘Don’t worry, Mrs. Bartlett,’ she said. ‘Everything’s better now. Bart’s memory is safe—and I know that’s all you wanted.’”
“All I wanted?” Mrs. Bartlett looked up at her. Then she placed both hands on the table and pushed until she was standing erect. “I want my boy. He’s dead. I’ve just realized that. Nothing else matters.” Tears flooded her eyes. “My boy,” she whispered. “My boy.”

Barr led her from the room, but Dwight held back to speak to Gayle. “I hope you understand my position, Mrs. Bartlett,” he said earnestly. “I assure you I acted in good faith. There was no trick. I did not know.”
“I see that now,” Gayle assured him and offered her hand. “I’m sorry it had to come to this.”
“So am I,” he pressed her hand in gratitude. “I suspect you have been very generous actually.” He turned to Mr. Godfrey. “Fame is so dangerous. People never understand that.”

“I didn’t understand either,” Gayle confessed. “Mrs. Bartlett said everything when she said she’d lost her boy. That’s all that really matters. She’s lost hers—and I’ve got mine. No matter what happened, I was sure to win. I didn’t understand; I didn’t understand at all.”

81% OF THE PEOPLE have faith in their family Doctor, and the great majority believe that his personal interest in them makes him a better Doctor... according to a recent unbiased survey made by Opinion Research Corporation.

FAITH that benefits of health and medical science can be ours, through cooperation with our Doctor and Nature's laws.

Generations of unstinted service and work have earned this FAITH. It's high time all of us were dedicating ourselves to a few "tried and true" faiths, for wholesome peace and balance.

FAITH that work and responsibility are part of our God-given privilege.

Bell HD Club Plan Community Center for Group

A gala Halloween party given at the Bell school house Saturday night by members of the Bell HD club, for their families and friends.

This was the first party given by the club, to try out a new recreational program. They plan a program for the coming year, which will make Bell school a community center, with both adults and children participating. Special programs for the "teen-age" group and for the HD clubs are part of the program.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and whipped cream, cocoa and coffee were served to about fifty five people.

FALL FASHIONS FROM FILMLAND

Striped Motif Black and White Satin Featured

Hollywood style note from Arlene Dahl of the film capital. The long-loriso bodice of her stunning afternoon dress is made with alternating bands of gold lame and black crepe. While posing on the set of "Life With Father" Miss Dahl enjoys a refreshing drink of milk from a handi-square milk bottle—another new style note out of the kitchen.

Winsome screen star Diana Lynn poses in a new fall costume against a background of gleaming Insulux glass block. Black and white is a perennially striking combination. It is especially attractive when the white touches are used as an accent in the hat, blouse and shoes. The classic black pumps have new, white plastic sole.

A forest green satin overblouse gives a 1946 look to a brown crepe dress, worn by movie starlet Joana Winfield. Two large gold pins add drama to a pretty shirred front and set off a deep V-neckline. Note the new, natural looking shoulders and attractive, wide-cuffed sleeves of Miss Winfield's charming afternoon costume.

Mrs. Nellie Wentz of Tulsa, Okla., arrived Sunday morning to attend the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Pete Smith. She is visiting her sister, Mrs. Luke Graham and family.

Sammy Haynes, Johnnie Vineyard and Leroy Langham were injured at the football game Friday night.

Miss Eulamae Lively of Shamrock spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lively.

Members of the seventh grade enjoyed a vagabond party Thursday night. They went to the Clyde McGee farm where they were served weiners, potato chips, bread, cookies and candy. The room mothers and their teacher, Mrs. Charles Weaver acted as chaperons.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker were Shamrock visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Montgomery and sons, Mike and Pat, spent the weekend at Clovis, N. M., at a family reunion. The occasion was the birthday of Mr. Montgomery's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDonald were in Pampa Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Odie Keltner enjoyed a recent visit from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marshall and children of McGrew, Neb. They have been visiting in Corpus Christi.

Miss Darlene Shadid entertained Norma Joyce Mercer, Marsalee Ferguson and La Wanda Shadid one night last week with games and refreshments.

The fifth grade with Miss Sussie Bledsoe, as teacher, were entertained at a Halloween party at the school.

Mrs. Buddy Hicks and son of Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon, were here for the funeral of Mrs. Geneva Graham.

THE HIGH COST OF CHAOS

In a recent series of articles S. Burton Heath spelled out some of the costs of our postwar industrial upheaval—loss of pay by idle workers which wage increases will not repay for many years; loss of profit to industry; loss of sorely-needed goods to consumers. Now comes Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, to add another item on the bill.

In an article in Collier's magazine called "You've Got to Make a Profit," Mr. Wilson computes part of the General Motors strike losses in Taxes. The corporation originally estimated that reconversion would cost about $500,000,000, and that enough cars and profits could be made in the first postwar year to avoid using the "carry-back" provision of the wartime tax law, which was a credit on the excess profits taxes of converted industries that might be used to cushion the cost of reconversion in the first postwar year.

But, says Mr. Wilson, it will cost $100,000,000 to keep the company going during the unproductive strike period. That and subsequent delays have raised the estimated reconversion cost to $750,000,000. GM has borrowed $125,000,000 and will have to use accumulated reconversion funds and yet undetermined millions of carry-back credit.

That carry-back is a sum of tax money that would have been paid if reconversion had been speedier. Doubtless other similar sums will be employed by other companies for similar reasons. It all adds up to a lot of taxes that haven't been paid but will have to be paid some day by you-know-who, commonly referred to as little John Q. Public.

JOB FOR SANTA CLAUS HIMSELF

Now is the season of the year when the not-always-pleasant spirit of Christmas shopping is abroad. Some prudent people are already at their gift buying, and the stores are urging the laggards to do likewise. And to the prudent and hesitant alike the worry of what to buy, where to find it, and how to pay for it, has been added to their chronic troubles.

Being afflicted with the same worry, we can pass along only one comforting thought. We are glad, at Christmas time, that we are not Mr. and Mrs. August Wickey of Berne, Ind., who the other day were blessed with their 106th (and 98th living) grandchild.

Think of being haunted annually by the voices of a chorus, nearly a hundred strong, saying, "Wonder what Grandpa and Grandma are going to give me!" And think, if you dare, of the birthdays!

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—We have with us today Miss Paula Drew, movie starlet and self-assured authority on Hollywood wolves, who says: "All Hollywood wolves use the same tired approach. They all sound as if they're reading dialog out of 'East Lynne.'"

Paula, a very attractive young lady, said she could qualify as an authority on Hollywood wolves because she's new to glamourville and "any newcomer starts the wolf pack howling."

She just signed a contract with Walter Wanger after a New York modeling career. Detroit is her home town.

With less than a year's experience knocking down amoros passes, Paula has all the Hollywood wolves neatly typed. As she classifies them, they are:

HERE THEY ARE: Type 1. The leading man—usually married—who says: "I know you're new to Hollywood, Paula, but you have great possibilities. Let's get together some night and discuss your career. I can give you some good acting tips."

Type 2. This fellow starts off by saying: "My wife was G. K. in a small town, but she's not hep to Hollywood. You understand me. I can talk to you."

Type 3. He sees you at a night club and stares at you all evening. For a week you receive a dozen roses every morning from "An admirer." Then he calls you on the telephone and asks for a dinner date. If you go with him you will be explaining, but if you don't have to get up at 6 a. m. I'm making a screen test at 8."

Type 4. He tries everything—flowers, dinners, jewelry. Finally he says, "Paula, dollkin, I love you." "That 'I love you' routine is a

PASSENGER SHIP SHORTAGE... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The great, sea-going-sized irony of the present messed-up maritime situation is that the United States—the number one maritime power of the world—has only 20 passenger liners in operation.

In 1940 American shipping companies had a combined fleet of 154 passenger vessels. All were converted into troop-carriers. Fifty-four of them were lost in action, scrapped or sold.

Of the remaining 100 which were floated a year ago, 59 were over 20 years old and may not be worth re-converting. Of the 41 less than 20 years old, only one has been reconverted. It's the America, largest liner ever built in this country. She's ready for her reconverted maiden voyage but was tied up by the recently ended maritime strike.

The only liners not tied up were the Matsonia, cleared for emergency food-carrying to Hawaii, and the Vulcania, which had an Italian crew. But when the Vulcania gets back from Italy, she will be given back to her former Italian owners and the U. S. passenger fleet will be cut that much further.

When the first maritime strike hit last summer, passenger-carrying ships flying the U. S. flag lined up like this: Six ships on the Atlantic, four on the Pacific, two to South America, one each to Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Bermuda.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER REPRESSION—Official talk of a slight business recession in early 1947 persists at Washington among economic experts, despite Snyder-Small pronouncements deprecating pessimistic forecasts.

Common Ground

By R. C. BOILES Business Men Should "Tithe"

I just read a copy of an address made by Don Belding, chairman of the board, Focle, Cone and Belding Company, before the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

In this address he goes on to treat the precarious position of our free enterprise economy. He tells the forces at work to undermine belief in the American way of life.

Then he points out that it might be wise for every industry to spend one-tenth of its advertising appropriation, not in trying to sell the people the American way of life, the private enterprise system.

He says not only should they spend one-tenth of their advertising appropriation to advertise things not directly pertaining to their business but their salesmen should spend one-tenth of their time in selling the idea of Americanism.

This is a mighty good idea, but it does not go far enough. Informing themselves of the business man, or each man who makes any pretense of being a leader, should do so in order to understand the man whose principles he is trying to learn, himself, what the American way of life is.

He should spend one-seventh, or at least one-tenth, of his time in trying to understand the nature of God's laws, laws that no man made and no man can unmake.

The business man cannot advertise or sell the American or Christian way until he first becomes informed and begins to understand it himself. He cannot expect to understand it until he understands what he himself does not understand.

He must become informed himself so that he is not a compromiser, so that he believes in certain immutable laws that govern all human relations.

It is because too many men who pose as leaders have compromised their principles that the Republic has become a democracy of compromise. Democrat parties have compromised the principles that the original parties stood for, that we are in the precarious position we are in today.

We are likely to lose more and more of our freedom unless more people come to realize that we must have a starting point, a rule of conduct, if we are to have a harmonious, peaceful, prosperous society.

Yes, we should tithe, but the best form of tithing is a part of our time to study so that we can put ourselves in harmony with God's or nature's laws. To do this we must read and understand the consistent and non-compromising men of the ages.

We cannot become informed by reading only for entertainment. We must read for information. We must read to learn to know God's immutable laws. That is the kind of tithing that will save the country. And when we understand these laws nothing can keep him from using at least a tenth of his energy in trying to get others to understand them.

On Teaching The Ten Commandments

Recently I listened to a person defending the expansion of city recreational facilities. The contention was made that the growth of city recreational facilities would reduce juvenile delinquency more than any other method.

This person was asked whether teaching the youth of the land to believe in the Ten Commandments would not reduce juvenile delinquency more than the expansion of the activities of the state. The defender, who happened to be a woman, answered that she was teaching her children the Ten Commandments.

But how can anybody teach their children the Ten Commandments when they are advocating that the majority have a right to coerce the minority to help support the majority's ideas of doing good?

Almost all teaching is done by example. Children imitate their parents, and when their parents are coveting the power, by way of state, to compel what people to comply with their will, they certainly are not themselves living in harmony with the Ten Commandments. The only thing to do is to teach them to live by them.

All parents cannot teach their children to live by the Ten Commandments when they themselves are not living by them.

It does little good to teach children to repeat the Ten Commandments. The only thing to do is to teach them to live by them. All parents cannot teach their children to live by the Ten Commandments when they themselves are not living by them.

It is the terrible shortage of passenger ships which is making it impossible to handle the repatriation of American refugees in Europe, and to start the commercial and tourist trade going again.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—It might be that the best way to enjoy travel abroad is with your shoes off.

"Museum feet" become a holiday disease with the average vacationist because he falls victim to foreign guides who try to inflict ten centuries of culture on him in ten days.

Emer J. Tourist goes overseas with the wishful hope of having a good time. Instead he gets caught in a travel mill that makes his trip a day and nightmarish marathon of climbing monuments and walking through endless art galleries.

Why does he do it? Because he's afraid somebody will think him a lowlow—which he really knows he is anyway.

So Elmer becomes an unhappy prisoner in a small flock of fellow Americans cheeping and chirping as their despotic guide shepherds them from one pigeon target to another. All he learns is what he reads in his guidebook: "St. Paul's church is a dignified edifice in renaissance style and has an area of 59,700 square feet," it says here in small print.

Nuts to that! Be your own Marco Polo.

Make a rule never to visit more than one church, one monument and one art gallery in any one country. These places are just cultural cemeteries with long staircases largely frequented by people who don't know what to do with themselves.

In most cases you can have more fun reading about them in your guidebook while lying in bed in your hotel room in your stocking feet.

Then, when you've finished reading how the people used to live, you can rise fresh and rested and set about seeing how they live now.

You want to be where things are happening. If Pierre, the guide, tries to steer you to Napoleon's tomb—play hooky and take a walk along the left bank. Napoleon's tomb is in France in Permant.

The Eiffel Tower, which looks like the Washington monument with its clothes off, is worth a gander. But so is a French department store.

The best way to see a strange city is to hop a bus and ride around till you see a neighborhood that interests you and then bail out and give it the once-over up close. As to eating and drinking: If you can recognize a dish on the menu, order something else.

If the diner at the next table speaks your own language, go to another restaurant.

If they serve you steak in a small low-priced restaurant, don't whinny. The meat may neigh back at you.

Don't drink many "French 75's"—champagne with a cognac kicker—unless at home you enjoy mixing gin and buttermilk or bourbon and hair tonic.

You'll be sorry if you don't go to at least one night club and stir up your stomach with a $17.50 bottle of green champagne. It's fun to be a sucker—once.

Workers Discharged From Army Engineers

DALLAS (AP)—Nearly 3,000 persons have been notified of termination of services in the southwestern division of the army engineers, Col. Henry Hutchings, Jr., division engineer, said today.

A one-third cut-back in funds was given as the reason for severance of the 2,941 workers. Postponement on starting new projects and probable curtailment of work on present projects were announced last week.

Texas Leads Nation In Army Inlislments

Texas accounted for 7.12 percent of all army enlistments in the continental United States, a higher percentage than any other state in the nation at the close of the first nine months of the current recruiting campaign, according to statistics quoted from the "Fourth Army Recruiter" in an article published recently.

"Each state in the Third Army Fourth Army area exceeded its quota of enlistments, based on population. Pennsylvania, Texas and New York led the states in the number of enlistments during the first nine months with 58,859, 54,217 and 52,759, respectively. However, Pennsylvania enlisted 4.1 percent below its share, New York enlisted 3.9 percent below its share, while Texas showed 2.1 percent above its share," the Recruiter stated.

NORTH BEND, Ore. (AP)—The city police officer isn't quite sure what would be the best thing to do if he arrests a drunk and finds it necessary to give the offender a place to sleep it off.

When the state liquor store's lease expired here recently the city council voted to allow the store to use the jail temporarily.

HERE'S A FARMER THAT IS HAVING SOME TOUGH LUCK

And I'm going to try and help him sell his farm, even if we have to make quite a little bit of a sacrifice. Due to circumstances beyond his control, this man is going to have to sell out. He has a good farm in a good farming district. He doesn't have too good improvements but the land is good. It's just a small farm, and would make someone a real dairy and poultry setup. I don't think a person would ever get rich on it as it doesn't have enough land, but it would make someone a good living. We discussed about how much we thought we could sell it for, and taking the neighbor's prices that they would have to have for theirs, we figured right down to the rock bottom and are asking $42.50 per acre, which would be around $6,400 for the place. I've talked to the Federal Land Bank man and he would be glad to make a loan of $3000 on it and might do a little better. Would be glad to show this place, as the owner is going to have to make a change and make it quick. We also have some pretty good buys in houses here in Pampa, also lots of land. In the next few days I think we are going to have one of the best Hereford cattle herds in this entire country for sale. We are working on it now.

vige for a retirement, disability and death fund for appointed state and county employees.

Elsewhere in the Panhandle, according to the Associated Press, muddy roads, cold weather and sympathy had cut down interest at Perryton.

The Worley-O'Brien race was drawing the most interest at Perryton.
Bad weather all over the state slowed down voting in other cities, although a pre-election forecast of 50,000 voters at Houston was upped to 60,000 because of the sizable majority race.

Dallas and Fort Worth, where heavy rains have fallen in the last three days, predicted that only 25 percent of the voters in the cities would turn out while muddy roads would cut rural voting to a minimum.

Snow at Dalhart was expected to knock large-vote hopes in the head as only 33 had turned out in the first two hours of voting.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE AP Staff Writer
For well over half a century an exciting outdoor pastime of many Texans has been looking for the buried treasure Santa Anna is supposed to have hidden before the battle of San Jacinto.

It was pay for his troops, about $200,000 in gold coins.
You can save yourself a lot of unnecessary digging if you'll listen to the Kibbe of Brownsville. He says the money was found in 1893.

"Only three people in the United States know about it," he says. Then he tells his story:
The money (there really was money) was buried, in a large copper pot three feet in diameter, on the west side of the San Antonio river near Goliad. That was back in 1828.

A Mexican named Juan Gonzales, working for a Judge Claburn, was plying in the area in 1893. His ploy plan struck the copper pot, and he investigated.
He immediately went to the ranch house. He told Judge Claburn that he wanted a few days off because his folks were sick. He borrowed a wagon to make the trip "home."

That was the last ever seen of Juan Gonzales.
But several days later the Judge riddled up his horse and rode into field where Juan had been working. There the judge found the copper pot, and a few pieces of gold which the Mexican, in his haste, had left behind.

"Judge Claburn and my father were good friends," Kibbe says. "He told him about the find, and brought the beautiful copper pot to my dad's office. Judge Claburn had it filled with pecans, and shipped it to some friends in Tennessee."

Kibbe said that only the official records in Mexico City will reveal just how much money was in the pot. But, he says, old Juan probably got the largest payroll that the Mexican army had up to that time.
As for the treasure hunters, Kibbe says they've been digging in the right location—but about half a century too late.

lavis at the Adriatic port of Trieste.
The U. N. assembly appeared to be headed for a wide open fight over selection of a permanent home. One report was that the Russians might reverse their former stand against a site in Western Europe to favor Geneva, old League of Nations headquarters, as a home. Word of this possibility follows an American move to have San Francisco and New York as well as Westchester county considered for the permanent headquarters.

A formal 51-nation debate also was assured on proposals to take United Nations action against the Franco regime in Spain.
The security council yesterday dropped the Spanish issue from its agenda so the assembly might act.

While the United Nations continued a heavy schedule of committee work at Lake Success, L. I. the foreign ministers of America, Britain, Russia, and France, meeting in a Manhattan hotel, rapidly came to grips with the basic issues of making peace in Europe. Their second session was scheduled for 3:30 p. m.

Molotov, Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Bevin met at yesterday's opening session, over which Byrnes presided.
Trials are quickly decided to take up the Italian peace treaty first and then, in order, treaties with Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

The treaties were originally drafted by the Big Four. Then the Paris peace conference, which closed Oct. 15, made recommendations on the basis of Big Four's effort here to write final drafts.
Discussion had hardly begun on the Italian treaty yesterday when the Trieste issue was raised, emphasizing the split between Russia and the Western powers.

U.S. Elections

ies, are 35 senate places, 432 house seats and 33 governorships.

The republicans need a net gain of 10 seats to win control of the senate and 36 to take over the house. The democrats could lose seven in the senate and 17 in the house and still hold the legislative whip hand.
The possibility of a divided congress, with the GOP winning the house and the democrats keeping the senate, already had started Washington's rumor factory talking of the possibility of a special session call immediately after the election.

But one responsible democratic official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said President Truman has given no intimation of any such plan.
This office holder said republicans undoubtedly would be able to block any administration-sponsored legislation in such a lame duck session. And he noted that there are no highly controversial nominations pending on which the President might want the present senate to act.

The official added that there has been no recent discussion of possible cabinet changes, although there are reports that Robert E. Hannegan may quit as democratic national chairman next winter should the election results prove severely adverse to his party. Hannegan is expected by all concerned to remain as postmaster general.

President Truman and his family arranged to vote in their home town of Independence, Mo., after which Mr. Truman planned to board his train to return to Washington.
Because of his residence in Independence, Mr. Truman votes in the fourth congressional district. Hence he could not participate in the fifth (Kansas City) district race which he lifted to top billing among the congressional fights by personally endorsing Enos A. Axtell in the primary over Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, the democratic incumbent.

Axtell, who received the nomination, is opposed by republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr. in what is regarded as a neck and neck race.
Otherwise Mr. Truman has kept personally aloof from the general congressional battle, even though the outcome may have much to do with whether he is a candidate for reelection in 1948 and whether he can win if he is. Almost traditionally, the party which wins an off-year election such as this takes, or keeps, the White House two years later.

The Axtell-Reeves battle shares interest in Missouri with the ding-dong senate contest between Senator Frank P. Briggs, democrat incumbent and republican James P. Kenn. A loss for Briggs would dim some of Mr. Truman's home state prestige.

Do you have any questions on the United Nations? To help the people of this country better understand the Charter and their responsibilities to world organization, the American Association for the United Nations is answering questions received reflecting the tremendous interest today and always for lasting peace.

QUESTION—Are there any figures comparing the cost of the U. N. to the cost of armaments?
ANSWER—The U. N. provisional budget for 1946 is $21,500,000. The cost of a battleship is $77 million.

QUESTION—Have the World Bank and Fund started to function yet?
ANSWER—Yes, both are going concerns. The Bank is ready to finance loans; the Fund is beginning its job to stabilize world currencies.

QUESTION—Where can I find the quotation about peace or war is made in the minds of men?
ANSWER—It is the opening sentence of the Preamble to UNESCO's Constitution: "Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the defenses of peace must be constructed."

QUESTION—How international is the Secretariat of the U. N.?
ANSWER—The Secretariat, numbering about 2,200, is made up of people from 51 nations.

officials usually assemble before entering the chamber of auspicious occasion.

Then, there is a three-room suite in the back center of the building near the town, where matters of the speaker's congressional district are handled. Little known to the public is a private sanatorium on the first floor where private conferences are held by administration leaders, and friends of the speaker something gained for relaxation after a long day's work.

In addition to these accommodations, there is an official "speaker's dining room." Richly decorated and located just across the corridor from the house restaurant, where most of the representatives and their guests dine, the room is available to the speaker or those to whom he relinquishes it.

Here for years Rayburn and his fellow Texans in congress have met each Wednesday for a private luncheon; it is an impressive spot to bring prominent visiting constituents on the days when the luncheons are not "executive" for discussion of delegation matters in private.
