Byrnes and Molotov Agree!

PARIS—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in a speech today, called upon "democratic countries" of the world to put an end to the Franco regime of Spain.

He found qualified support in his fight in U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes, who, an American informant said, will propose tomorrow that a two-thirds majority vote be necessary for approval of essential and substantive matters.

Making his first public official conference announcement, the Soviet foreign minister told a meeting of the rules committee, "this a simple majority rule would place the Anglo-Saxons at an advantage because it would form a block of from 12 to 13 votes."

That a two-thirds majority vote be necessary for approval of essential and substantive matters. Molotov expressed fear that adoption of a simple majority rule would play the west against eastern Europe.

Life Had Not Been What It Will Be Now

AUSTIN—(AP)—Faith in the American way of life was renewed today for a destitute family of a mother and four children who have lived beneath a tree for the past two months within the city limits of Austin.

Help and offers of help have been pouring in ever since news stories yesterday told of the plight of the family of soldier Joe Sykes, who died in Europe.

Home for them has been two rusty bedframes under a tree a few yards from a railroad track. Their clothes are kept in cardboard boxes. Their allotment from the army stopped when the father was killed March 29, 1945.

Today their future seemed much brighter than the gloom of the past few months. "Sympathetic Austin citizens who first learned the story yesterday. The Kiwanis club is taking out groceries and a doctor at noon.

The Austin National Bank has accepted responsibility to serve as executor for the Veterans' Administration, one of the technicalities which have held up dependency grants.

Three Marines Die As Result of Ambush
PEIPING—(AP)—The Peiping marine garrison headquarters announced officially today that three marines had been killed and 12 wounded in the ambushing of a truck convoy by Chinese on Monday. Four were wounded seriously, eight slightly.

Earlier, unofficial reports had indicated four killed and 19 wounded in the four-hour battle with Chinese communists.

PROTEST GETTING TRIMMED
HAMMOND, Ind.—(AP)—A "no haircut club" has been organized following the raising of prices for hair cuts to $1.

"No baldies are eligible," said Donald Murphy, vice president. "A man has to have some hair to get into the club." He said any member who gets a hair cut will be fined $5.

The club will stage a recruiting drive for members Saturday in front of the courthouse.

Price Is Raised On Farm Machinery

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In its first official action under the new price control law, OPA today authorized an average six percent increase in retail ceilings for all farm machinery and replacement parts.

The increase, effective immediately, restores dealers' peacetime profit margins as required by the OPA revival act. OPA also restored the two percent margins of retailers last May when it granted a 10 percent increase in manufacturers' and wholesalers' price ceilings.

In the case of farm machinery, retailers were required to absorb half of this while on replacement parts they had to absorb the full 10 percent increase.

The 10 percent price boost previously granted to manufacturers and wholesalers remains unchanged under the new handling and transfer charge for distributors. This had been eliminated under the old law.

In the offering is a boost in cotton clothing prices. OPA has agreed to raise textile ceilings an average of about 16 percent.

This increase on fabric, the minimum required under the new price control law, is expected to boost cotton garment costs at least 10 percent, an OPA official told a reporter privately.

Other OPA officials have estimated that clothing increases may range from 15 to 20 percent, on top of price hikes for some apparel granted earlier this week.

Also in prospect, according to those who know but may not be identified, are these other increases:

1. A price boost of one to two cents a can in price ceilings on corn, peas and tomatoes.

2. A possible cent a loaf hike for bread, with proportionate increases for other bakery products.

3. A jump of eight to 10 cents a pound for coffee.

4. Higher ceilings on several kinds of breakfast cereals.

Department to Probe Ku Klux Klan Activity

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Justice department disclosed today that it is investigating Ku Klux Klan activities in seven states to determine whether federal laws are being violated.

The department said court action will be instituted against the Klan if such violations are uncovered.

Evidence involving any violations of state laws will be turned over to state authorities, it requested.

The investigation is being made under the direction of the department's civil rights section in New York, Michigan, Tennessee, Florida, California, Mississippi and Georgia.

However, complaints are being received from all parts of the country about the resurgent Klan's activities. The originators include individuals, labor unions, civil rights societies and other organizations.

Some name dates, places and persons involved in alleged Klan acts. All such complaints are turned over to the FBI which makes investigations for the civil rights section.

The department expects a sharp increase in Klan activity as a result of Negro voting in Southern primaries, the dislocation of populations resulting from the war, congested living conditions and the other aftermaths of war.

Commission Says Vets Are Working

AUSTIN—(AP)—Fewer than 1 percent of the eligible veterans have exhausted their readjustment allowances of $20 per week for 52 weeks during the past two years.

Harry Eugene Crozier, chairman of the Texas unemployment compensation commission, made the report, discounting complaints that veterans are loafing and refusing to work while they can receive compensation.

He said that only 5,000 veterans have used their entire entitlements since the program was established two years ago.

At this rate, 2,500 a year, the readjustment allowance program would have to remain in operation for 260 more years until the last veteran claimed his last $20, stated Crozier.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Paul A. Olson, former secretary to Rep. Coffee (D-Wash.), told the senate war investigating committee today that "the jails of America are going to be filled" if the justice department enforces a law barring government contractors from making campaign contributions.

"I warn you, you are treading on very delicate grounds," he told Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) in an angry exchange over the interpretation of the law. Specifically at point was how it affected a $2,500 check which Coffee received in 1941 from a Tacoma, Wash., defense contractor.

The six-year-old statute carries a penalty of $5,000 fine or imprisonment up to five years for violation.

Olson maintained that there is nothing in the law barring a person holding a government contract from making a personal contribution from his personal funds—a contention with which Ferguson sharply disagreed.

Ferguson also contended that the law applies to those who solicit a campaign contribution from a government contractor.

"If they (the justice department officials) had enforced that law," Olson commented, "there would have been many thousands of indictments involving a good many federal elected officials who innocently accepted campaign contributions."

Olson said that Elvind Anderson, the Tacoma contractor who sent the $2,500 check, tried to blackmail him into withdrawing last January from the race for mayor of Tacoma.

Anderson told him, Olson testified, "I will give you $2,500 if you will run for mayor."

National Skeet Shoot Scheduled In Indianapolis

By Dale Burgess
INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Skeet, a war orphan, may have a mother to guide it, after the first annual international and ninth national skeet championship Aug. 7-11 at the Capitol City Gun club.

The National Skeet Shooting association died during the years when shotgun shells were going to gunnery schools and skeet fields were going to weeds. Dave Arnette, L. S. Pratt and other Indianapolis scattershotters will call together the heads of state skeet associations, directors of gun clubs and interested shooters Aug. 9, to discuss forming a new national governing body for the sport.

Arnette, who manufactures shotguns as well as shoots them, predicts 400 contestants will enter the meet. The national drew 337 shooters to the Capitol City club in 1941. The last national was at Syracuse, N. Y., in 1942.

Except for the navy's five-man team and the average sub-junior, all defending champions are likely to defend their titles.

They include:
Two-man team—H. L. Brown and F. L. Brown, San Antonio, Texas, (497x500).
Father and son—H. L. Brown and F. L. Brown, San Antonio, Texas, (497x500).
Twenty-gauge—H. L. Brown, San Antonio, (100x100).
Professional all-gauge—Grant Hensing, Waco, Tex., (249x250).
Pro high-over all—Grant Hensing, Waco, Tex., (236x350).
Planet is a Greek word meaning wanderer.

KALAMAZOO, MICH.—America's most talented young tennis stars, led by Herbie Flam, the 17-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., schoolboy, fought it out here today for coveted positions in quarter-finals of the national junior and boys' championships, with only two seeded players on the sidelines as play reached the third round.

Six was the "jinx" number yesterday as sixth-seeded players in both junior and boys' divisions were the first of the favorites to tumble.

Don Mathey of Princeton, N. J., no. 6 in junior singles, fell before the expert play of Ed Davis, Baton Rouge, La., 6-4, 7-5, and Arthur Anderson of Hollywood, Calif., seeded sixth among the 15-year-olds in the boys' division, bowed by the same score to Phil Maloney, Quincy, Mass., darkhorse.

Flam, the defending junior champion who hasn't lost more than two games in any set of his first two matches, punted Bob Alexander of Waco, Texas, 6-1, 6-2, to strengthen his rating as odds-on favorite to retain the title.

First seeded Keston Deimling, Jr., of River Forest, Ill., led the way into the boys' round of 16 by trouncing Larry Goldbeck of San Antonio, Texas, 6-0, 6-0.

Wonder what, ever happened to Bing Crosby's plan to buy the Bucs.

'Twas a good story the way Big-O put it, anyway.

The corn-tassel smackers see next week's Hambletonian as a wide-open taffy pull, with Chestertown, Victory Song, Westfield Girl and Deanna all figuring to be there or thereabouts at the payoff window.

Today's history lesson: Penn State's Bob Higgins and Indiana's Bo McMillin are the only 1919 all-Americans still coaching college football!

Once A Dodger

Lima had two on base against Zanesville in an Ohio State league game. The batter grounded to Red Hughes at first. The ball went through him, and the runner on third came home. One error, one run.

Lou Ott, in right, retrieved the ball, threw wild to third. Another error, another run.

Left fielder Bob Sloss, backing up, threw to third, but Joe Stefano fouled it, and the batter headed for third. Error No. 3.

Stefano went after the ball and pegged to third. Shortstop Jim Maser, covering the bag, let it go through his legs. The third runner tallied.

Three runs, four errors—on one easy dribbler.

Nickname of the Zanesville club? The Dodgers, naturally.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) said Monday he is not interested in a movie offer of $500 a week and expenses.

Producer Bryan Foy announced in Hollywood he had urged Bilbo to take a part in a picture featuring the Senator Claghorn character portrayed by Kenny Delmar, with Bilbo appearing as a southern figure "in a manner you deem fitting and proper."

Foy observed that Bilbo had been quoted as "bitterly resenting" Delmar's way of depicting "southern office holders."

Foster White Notches 14th Limiting Hose to 7 Hits

By FRANK STALLINGS
News Sports Writer

Behind the seven hit chucking of Foster White, the Pampa Oilers evened the series with Amarillo by a 6-3 win here last night. The Oilers collected 13 hits and six runs off Frank Mekules, Sox hurler, as White, who won his 14th, limited the Amarilloes to seven scattered hits and no more than one run in any inning, and struck out six batters.

The final game of the series will be played tonight at 8:30 at Oiler Park with Ed Leiker the probable Pampa starter pitching against Chris Haskins. Leiker has won 10 and lost eight while Haskins is credited with nine wins against the same number of losses.

Al Johnston was the Oiler swat star for the game last night as he collected two singles and a double in four times at bat, driving in three of the Oiler runs. Richardson also had a good night at bat as he walked twice, singled twice, knocking in two runs and scoring two runs. Lloyd Summers, catching in place of Al Zigelman, who is injured, got two hits, both of which were seemingly easy outs when they bounced over the head of the second baseman and shortstop, respectively.

The Oilers were the first to score, with a run in the second inning. Riley fled out to center field. Richardson singled and Lortin was out at first, with Richardson advancing to second. Johnston then singled scoring Richardson. Summers singled through second, and Foster White grounded out.

The Gold Sox came back in the top of the third to even the score as Lamprich singled and reached second on a passed ball. Mekules struck out, Duarte grounded out and Johnson singled, leading to a scoring Lamprich. Wilson was chased down by Otey and put out when he tried to steal second.

No scoring was done until the Pampa half of the fifth. Otey fled out to the shortstop for the first time. Harman walked, Tony Range hit a double sending Harman to third. Riley also walked and Richardson's single scored Harman and Range. Fortin fled out and Johnson singled to score Riley, but Richardson was caught at the plate.

Amarillo also scored in the fifth when Sutch opened with a single, went to third on Moran's single, and Foster White scored on the throw to third. Lamprich struck out and Mekules hit to Otey who threw and caught Sutch at the plate. Duarte was safe on an easy roller and Moran scored on the throw. Gold Sox infielder fled out to third to cut off the rally.

Again in the sixth inning the Sox threatened to overcome the Oiler lead as they scored one more run, bringing the score up to 4-3. Williams, Gold Sox infielder, opened the sixth with a double and an error by Johnston sent him to third. Bauman walked and Cruces hit to force Bauman, scoring Williams. A balk sent Cruces to second. Sutch struck out. Moran grounded out, short to first.

The Oilers stretched their lead to two runs when they scored one in the seventh as Richardson walked with two out, Fortin singled with Richardson going to second and Al Johnston doubled, scoring Richardson. Fortin was out at the plate.

The final score was made in the last of the eighth as the Gold Sox committed all their three errors. Summers was safe on the third. Laseman's error White fled out but Summers was safe at second on the pitcher's error. Otey singled, sending Summers to third and Harman was safe on the shortstop's error, scoring Summers. Range then hit into a double play, short to second to first.

Felines Win Two From Exporters; Santone Loses

By The Associated Press
Jack Paepke and Eddie Chandler gave up only seven hits in 17 innings last night as Port Worth defeated the Beaumont Exporters, 2-1 and 3-2, in a twin victory that increased the Cat's grasp on first place to four and one-half games.

Second place San Antonio took a troubling from Oklahoma City, 10-2, while the Dallas Rebels won their first game in five days with a shutout over Shreveport, 5-0.

Paepke, hurling a three-hitter, won the first game for Fort Worth when Jay Haney drove in the clinching run in the seventh after the game had been tied, 1-1, since the third.

Chandler racked up his 15th win of the season when he squeezed home Monty Basgal with one out in the tenth inning of the nightcap. Basgal had led off the round with a double to right center and moved to third on a sacrifice by George Pfister.

The Rebels scored all their runs against Shreveport in a big eighth inning headed by a home run by first baseman Bob Moyer with the bags full. Until then it had been a mound duel between Walter Wilson of Dallas and Clarence Gann of the Sports. Wilson allowed only four hits and only two men to reach second. Gann gave up six hits.

Tulsa also won its game with an eighth frame uprising. With the score tied, 7-7, first baseman Paul Richards barked out a home run into the park with two aboard when Houston's centerfielder, James Eason, missed a shoestring catch of Richards' fly.

The Indians took 10 hits off San Antonio's Lou Janicek and were never in serious danger after gathering a two-run advantage in the first. The Oklahoma City attack was led by Ray Murray, who homered and doubled, and by Dale Mitchell and Pat Ankenman who got hits each. Calvin Dorsett allowed the Missions eight hits.

Today's schedule:
Shreveport at Dallas.
San Antonio at Oklahoma City.
Houston at Tulsa.
Beaumont at Fort Worth.

Title Scrap May Be Transferred

NEW YORK—(AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs, who has come up with three world championship boxing bouts in Yankee stadium in September, has been asked to transfer the heavyweight title fust between Joe Louis and Tami Mauriello to Detroit.

Michigan Boxing Commissioner John Hetteche phoned Jacobs, asking the head man of the Twentieth Century Sporting club to consider switching the fight to the champion's home town.

Detroit fans haven't seen Louis in a title fight since he stopped Big Abe Simon in 13 rounds at the Olympia, March 21, 1941, in his 15th successful defense of the crown.

Jacobs said Hetteche painted such a rosy picture that he assured the commissioner he would consider the move, although it would require asking the New York American League Baseball club for a release from the contract already signed.

Bums Edge Cards In Series Opener

By Jack Hahn
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Leo Durocher's Brooklyn are riding high today. Bouncing along on a 3 1/2 game lead with Howie Pollet, the best St. Louis Cardinal hurler, out of the way.

When Lippy Leo's dandies dumped Pollet in last night's series opener, 2-1, they struck a mighty blow in defense of their world series aspirations.

Eddie Dyer needed a clean sweep of the three-game set at Ebbets Field to snatch first place from the precocious Dodgers but now the best he can do is get the margin to 1 1/2 games by tomorrow night.

Rube Melton, Durocher's long shot starting choice, got home with his first win of the season although he needed bullpen help from dependable Hank Behrman in the ninth.

The faithful turned out 31,446 strong to up the Ebbets Field attendance chart to 1,022,400, the sixth time the million mark has been reached in the club's history. Brooklyn's all-time high of 1,214,903 set in the 1941 pennant year seems almost certain to be topped.

Chicago lost ground in the race by bowing to the New York Giants, 3-2, on pinch hitter Goody Rosen's single with the bases loaded in the ninth. It was the fourth time the Outmen had topped the Cubs in 16 meetings. Junior Thompson taking the decision over Bob Chipman, another reliever.

Schoolboy Rowe chalked up his 11th triumph for the Phillies over Cincinnati, 3-4, with Andy Seminick's bat booming for four hits including a three-run homer.

A scheduled Pittsburgh - Boston night game was postponed because of rain.

Interest in the American League turned to the second place battle between the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers as the Boston Red Sox increased their lead to 12 1/2 games by blanking Cleveland, 4-0. The largest crowd of the Cleveland season, 56,900 watched Dave Ferriss rack up no 17 on a three-hit verdict over Steve Gromek.

Virgil Trucks fanned 13 Yanks in earning his 12th success, 6-5 to the delight of a twilight throng of 29,831.

The Bengals now are only one game behind the Yanks.

Jeff Heath's home run blast with two mates on gave St. Louis a 6-3 edge over Washington in 11 innings and a victory for Stan Ferenz over Marino Pieretti in a free-hitting contest.

Philadelphia chased Frank Papias with a six-run seventh inning to down the White Sox, 9-2.

Waco Moves Forward In Houston Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Conroe Wildcats and the Waco Dons moved forward in the Hous on Post semi-pro tournament last night, racking up their second straight victories to get spots in a four way tie for the lead with Texas City and Pinger Furniture.

Conroe turned back the La Grange Demons, 8-1, as Snooks Pressley cracked three doubles, Peck Vass smashed a homer, and the veteran Harry White pitched a four-hit game.

Waco recorded its second straight shutout conquest, whipping the Naval Air Technical training team of Ward Island, 10-0, in eight innings as Clarence Priel singled, doubled and tripled, and Gil Turner and Johnny Morrow each drove in three runs.

Three games are on today's schedule. The Magnolia Tigers play the Empire Room, Rapid Blue Print meets Shell, and Baytown plots the East End Merchants.

Miss Lois Black, Duane Turcotte Married Recently

MIAMI — (Special) — Miss Lois Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Black, was united in marriage to Duane Turcotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Turcotte, Monday at 9:30 a. m., at the home of the bride's parents in Miami.

Rev. Douglas Carver, of Pampa, read the double ring ceremony.

The marriage vows were said before an improvised altar consisting of a white trellis interlaced with honeysuckle and flanked by urns of pink gladioli, a candelabra held white tapers which were lighted by the bride's brother, Donald Black.

Miss Reba Jo Gill played "All-ways" and "Waiting for the Sunrise," preceding the ceremony, and the traditional wedding music was used for the processional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a powder blue crepe frock with pink accessories. She carried a small white Bible topped with a bouquet of split carnations and orange blossoms. Her head dress was a small wreath of the same flowers.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Jack Benton, who wore a pink shantung dress with a gardenia corsage. Jack Benton was the bridegroom's attendant. The bride's mother wore navy blue with a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore black with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. The three-tiered wedding cake rested on a reflector and was topped by a small bride and groom. The table was laid with lace cloth and white satin streamers bearing the words "Louis and Duane, July 29."

The couple left for a trip to Raton and Eagle Nest, N. M. The bride's going away dress was a white and black checked sharkskin with black accessories. The couple expect to be at their home near Pampa after August 2.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Converse, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edgewood and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Turcotte, all of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Craft and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Seitz, Mrs. Dale Low and Mrs. Orville McCaughan, Mr. and Mrs. George Black and Donald.

Methodist Youth Meet in Shamrock For District Rally

SHAMROCK — (Special) — A group of young people met in the basement of the First Methodist church last night for a district rally of the Methodist Youth fellowship. Young people from a number of Panhandle towns in the Clarendon district, including those from Lefors, McLean, Pampa, Mobeetie, Clarendon, and a number of others attended the evening of singing, playing games, and worship.

In the business session, with Taylor Douglas, district president, in charge, it was voted to send three delegates from this district to Mt. Sequoyah, to attend the youth meeting there. Douglas, Charles, Russell, and Harold Longins were selected to attend the meeting. Also, the district has been allowed one delegate to go to the National Convocation of Methodist Youth in Grand Rapids, Mich. the last of August. James Harrah of Pampa was selected to attend.

After the business meeting, games were played, and refreshments of cold drinks and sandwiches were served to about 125 persons. The program was concluded with a short worship hour in the auditorium of the church. Rev. Elmer Landreth, district superintendent told a story called "The Look Ahead," after which a short consecration period was held.

Fashion Dotages Shunned by Chic

Beware of dotages on clothes or hair styles which make you unwilling to retire the old in favor of the new. There are two dangers implicit in this over-weening fondness for old favorites. One is that they're apt to make a woman look like a back-number. The other, a touching finity for old pets is symptomatic of age.

Be faithless in any style—hair-do, clothes or foundation garments—if something new comes along which can make you look more up-to-date. Changes are going on at a feverish rate, and out of the yeasty ferment improved techniques are bound to come. A mental attitude of rejecting the new will date a woman's looks quicker than out-moded duds.

This is no brief for junking perfectly good clothes or techniques just because new ones come along. Nor does it mean that you should exchange a dependable technique of styling your hair or applying make-up simply because the bright-idea boys have brought out something new. But we do argue in favor of keeping your eyes open for what's new in the field, and of swapping the old for any which have more merits to offer.

Wedding Plans Told at Breakfast

Mrs. S. W. Kretzmeier announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her sister, Miss Bernadine Wehling, to Edward J. Holland, Jr., of Bangor, Maine.

The wedding will take place in the Holy Souls church on September 14.

The announcement was made at a breakfast in the home of Mrs. A. B. Zahn Sunday morning. In the receiving line were Mrs. Kretzmeier and the bride-elect. Each wore a corsage of daisies and blue delphinium.

The centerpiece for the table was an arrangement of white daisies and blue morning glories. Sliced peaches and cream, glazed pineapple on broiled ham, hot rolls and coffee were served.

The announcements were scrolls attached to corsages of white daisies tied with blue and yellow ribbons placed at each plate.

Touch-Up Rinse Aids Transition To Silvery Hair

Gray-haired women who want to give nature a whirl at their hair-tinting job after they grow tired of masquerading under false colors have a way out of their dilemma. In fact, they have a choice of two ways to go out.

One way is to use darkening rinses after shampoos. If the dark rinse is chosen to match the dye-color on the hair—most beauty shops have these rinses on hand—a woman can keep her growing out locks a secret.

For another way out, decide on a hair part, be faithful to it, and darken the grays as fast as they grow out with a touch-up pencil. Keep up this subterfuge for three or four months, and reverse your part. Darker hair can thus be hidden away underneath.

Have hair trimmed often so as to crop off as much dyed length as you can spare. In no time at all, hair will be all-gray again and you'll be out of your predicament.

Sellers Not Sure About His Support

DALLAS — (P) — Attorney General Grover Sellers said here Monday that he did not know whether he would support another candidate for governor in the run-off campaign.

"I haven't given it much thought," Mr. Sellers said, "I am busy now thanking my many friends for their efforts in behalf of my candidacy, and I just don't know what I'll do during the campaign."

Earlier, the Dallas Times Herald had said that friends of Mr. Sellers, attorney general who was defeated in his bid for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas, would support Beaufor H. Jester, railroad commissioner from Corsicana, in the runoff.

Communist Membership In U. S. Is Declining

Membership in the communist party of the United States has dropped from a peak of 70,000 in 1938 to about 50,000, Walter Davenport, editor of Collier's Weekly, writes in an article on the CPUS in the current issue of the magazine. He reports that the party needs 25,000 more members and $150,000 for "The Daily Worker" to keep functioning. "The impoverished Daily Worker has slipped to a daily circulation of 23,000—at five cents," Davenport reports. "The Sunday edition—ten cents—sells about 80,000. The editorial staff of the Daily Worker operates under a Newspaper Guild charter, of course, but it cannot maintain the Guild pay scale for unhappy economic reasons."

William Z. Foster and other communist leaders are said to lament the weakness of communism within the ranks of industry and are exhorting the membership—drive groups to concentrate on industrial workers.

Gas Price Increase Not Needed—Culberson

AUSTIN—(AP)—Oil refineries could have absorbed the 25-cent per barrel increase in the price of crude oil without increasing the price of gasoline, Olin Culberson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, commented here Tuesday. Culberson noted that the commission does not concern itself with market prices of petroleum products but said it was his personal opinion that the general one-cent per gallon raise on gasoline in Texas was high enough.

Sugar Shortage Is To Be Better Soon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—George Dice, head of OPA's sugar rationing division, told Congress Tuesday the nation's acute sugar shortage will be eased soon in most places. Testifying before the house committee on food shortages, Dice said that within about two weeks most housewives will be able to find sugar enough to meet their ration allowances.

Conference

recommendations it is going to make, and not in attempting to set off 12 countries against seven or eight countries."

He predicted there was every possibility the conference could reach each termination with every proposal adopted by a two-thirds rule.

"Is there any reason to believe that a decision reached by an 11-10 vote is better than a decision reached by a 14-7 vote?" he asked. "It would be hard to explain that."

Newspaper reporters of many countries, sitting in for the first time in history as peace conference observers, were in attendance as the committee plunged quickly into the troublesome question on which Molotov voiced his support of a Yugoslav proposal for a two-thirds voting rule. Sixty-seven newsmen from 26 countries were present.

Secretary Byrnes told the conference yesterday the United States was supporting draft treaty proposals prepared by the foreign ministers of Russia, the United States, Britain and France, but that if two-thirds of the 21-nation conference disagreed with the four-power decisions he would support the conference's recommendations for revisions.

The Yugoslav proposal plunged the committee into spirited debate, with spokesmen for Australia and the Netherlands arguing that a simple majority should be sufficient. Both Australia and the Netherlands said the two-third proposal would mean Big Four domination.

Molotov, vice president of the Yugoslav assembly, presented the motion, and also urged that Albania be admitted as the 22nd member of the conference, which is considering peace treaties for five former enemy nations.

LONDON—(AP)—Saudi Arabia has accepted Britain's invitation to attend a round-table conference on Palestine, the foreign office announced today.

tified, that unless he withdrew from the mayor's race in which they were both entered, Anderson "would use the check to injure me in some way in the March election."

Ferguson produced a letter marked "confidential and personal" which Olson wrote "Dear Elvind" on May 11, 1941. This date was shortly after Anderson visited the capital to obtain assurance he would be awarded a $936,517 contract for construction of an army hospital.

"Why," demanded Ferguson, "did you mark it 'confidential and personal' if everything was open and above board, as you say it was?"

Olson explained that he and Coffee made it "a matter of policy when writing to friends."

In that letter, Olson wrote that: "This financial strain and burden of putting on a campaign every two years, plus meeting all the demands heaped on a public official in the way of tickets, donations, etc., along with the terrific cost of maintaining a family in the national capital, does not deter any of us from making at all times the best fight we can in the interests of the Sixth district and the individual citizens like yourself who live in it."

"That was an invitation for a donation, wasn't it?" demanded Ferguson. Olson denied it.

"How many other letters did you write during this period that contained that language?" asked Ferguson.

Olson said he couldn't recall. He said that Anderson's action in sending the check came as a surprise.

Anderson has testified that the check was in payment for services he expected to receive from Coffee and Olson in connection with a defense contract. Coffee told the committee yesterday he received the money as a "campaign gift."

He attempted to blackmail me into withdrawing from the mayor's race," Olson declared.

He added that he declined to withdraw, telling Anderson that "there was nothing wrong" about the payment and "if you want to use it, go ahead and shoot the works."

Anderson, Olson said, did not make the transaction public until about a week after the primary election and a week preceding the runoff. Anderson was eliminated in the primary, running last, the witness said, while Olson lost out in the final to C. V. Pawcett.

The story of the payment, Olson continued, was given to the press and radio in a statement by retiring Mayor Harry P. Cain. Olson identified Cain as the present Washington republican nominee for the senate.

Cain based his statement, the witness said, on an affidavit by Anderson.

The contrary stories of Coffee and Anderson were already in the committee record.

Anderson contended he paid the money for services he said he expected to receive from Olson and Coffee in connection with a $936,517 army hospital contract. Anderson declared flatly that he did not even discuss a campaign contribution with Olson or Coffee.

Coffee, on the other hand, denied that there had ever been a discussion of payment for services by either Olson or himself. The lawmaker asserted that Anderson had given Olson the $2,500 check as an unsolicited campaign contribution.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS
Are you blessed with everything except dates? That's how it is with Joan. She's no siren job, but she's attractive, popular at lag sessions, does all right in school and has a fairly active social life. But she draws a blank in dates while scores of girls no prettier, no nicer, have them. According to our mail, the world is full of Joans, so maybe the answer to her problem is also the solution to yours.

Human nature, masculine version, is the reason. Boys usually date girls who have dates and steer clear of girls who don't. Don't ask me why. It seems to be a "go along with the crowd" habit with them. If Betty has dates other boys seem to think she must be OK, so they date her, too. If a girl has no dates nobody seems to want to bother to find out whether she's fun or not. So try to make boys think of you as a date possibility. Here are some tips on how to do it:

Go to the next big school dance, by hook or by crook. Go with a cousin, an out-of-town guest or a blind date arranged by a friend, but go. Be seen in a dressy dress with stag-line appeal; let the boys know you can dance, sparkle, have fun and be fun. Once you have a date or two, more will come your way, so get into the swim as soon as possible.

Wear a ruffled blouse and skirt once in a while—dress-up clothes to make you look date-able instead of the same old school sweaters and Saturday dungarees. Brush out your hair—no pigtails—and wear shoes with medium heels on how to do it.

Crowds scare boys away, so don't always surround yourself with a mob of girls. If you and your best friend appear inseparable you'll find no boy wants to bring a sister or pal to any. Instead of listening sympathetically to his date troubles, casually mention the new boy you met last week.

Cities to Operate Fields Temporarily

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The war assets administration has granted 10 interim permits to allow municipalities to operate surplus government-owned airports pending their final disposition.

Included was the Blackland auxiliary field number 1 which may now be operated by the city of McClellan, Texas.

they will have to wait as long as four and a half years—until their present terms expire—before becoming eligible for any federal judgeship.

Under the constitution (Article I, Section 6), "No senator or representative shall, during the time for which elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during that time."

The last two congressmen to go on the bench until the constitutional prohibition expires are former Rep. Luther A. Johnson (D-Tex.), now on the U. S. tax court, and former Rep. John W. Murphy (D-Pa.), now on the Pennsylvania middle district federal court. They resigned their congressional posts just before house consideration of the bill raising judges' salaries.

Man Is Slashed to Death, Wife Hurt

WEIMAR, Tex.—(AP)—A Honey Creek man was found slashed to death and his wife was critically wounded yesterday at their home in Honey Creek, 12 miles south of here.

Mrs. Ben Housted ran to a neighbor's house after her 30-year-old husband had been fatally wounded by throat slashes. Mrs. Housted then returned home and neighbors found her a few minutes later in a critical condition, her throat slashed.

She was taken to a Schulenberg hospital.

the position, particularly as regards the economic and financial implications," both declared, adding pointedly:

"The situation in Palestine will not brook delay."

The four areas, it was announced, would include an Arab province and a Jewish province and each "would have the power to limit the number and determine the qualification of persons who might wish to take up permanent residence in their territories."

In addition to the Jewish and Arab provinces, said Lord Addison, dominions secretary, the joint commission of experts proposed to establish a district of Jerusalem and a district of Begeb.

The latter section is a piece of desert land lying in southern Palestine in which Jewish migration was permitted under the 1940 Palestine land transfer regulations.

Addison opened a Palestine debate held simultaneously in both houses of parliament.

He also announced that the British government had disassociated itself from a bitter anti-fraternization letter written by Lt. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker to the British troops under his command in Palestine.

our Texas way of doing things in a democratic manner," the statement read.

"I therefore do not feel it necessary to abet and encourage his futile effort to impress upon the people of Texas that any change is necessary in our democratic process by any joint debate, such as he refused in the July campaign."

"Since the electorate so overwhelmingly rejected a program which has its origin among radicals who would overthrow our democracy, I cannot see how any good purpose could be served in discussing them instead of my people's path."

Statisticians Report Germany Lost Population Gains During World War

NEW YORK—(AP)—Germany's loss of population during World War II, estimated at 3,000,000, was about twice that in World War I. This loss canceled the gain in population during the entire prewar period of the Nazi regime, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

The deficit was the combined result of the sharp decline in the birth rate during the war, the heavy military losses, and the large toll of civilian life from bombing.

On the other hand, in the United States the balance of births over deaths during the war produced an increase in population of about 7,500,000, and in England, of about 700,000.

"A spurt in the birth rate combined with a general decline in the death rate during the war gave the United States a sizable increase in its population, far more than canceling its military losses," the statisticians report. "The 7,500,000 aggregate population increase in 1941-45 was about 50 per cent greater than the increase in the five years immediately preceding 1941."

"The increase in England's birth rate was the main factor in bringing about an excess of about 700,000 births over deaths in 1935-45, in spite of the military losses and the deaths of civilians in air raids. Births during the war years were about 200,000 in excess of the number expected on the basis of prewar years, and in the latter war years rose to the highest level in nearly a generation."

"Serious population decreases occurred in Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia, and Greece. These people suffered so much unrecorded destruction of life that the numbers will probably never be known with any degree of accuracy."

France, too, had an unfavorable balance of births and deaths, and the statisticians point out that although the military losses there in World War II were only a fraction of those in World War I, a serious deficit in births arose through the retention of about 1,500,000 young Frenchmen in prisoner-of-war camps in Germany, the recruiting of French labor for work in Germany, and the lack of food to maintain the population in good physical condition. These combined circumstances resulted in an excess of about 750,000 deaths over births during the total war period. Even so, this was not as bad as in World War I, when France had a population deficit of 3,000,000.

"The impact of the war on population growth in many countries will be felt for generations to come," the statisticians conclude. "This holds true particularly for those countries which suffered the heaviest losses of young men and which experienced the most severe reduction in birth rates."

CLARK CLIFFORD

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Happy is the warrior, home from the wars:

An East Texas hero, veteran of several major battles in the Pacific, returned home unscratched. (This is one of those, but different. Wait until you hear what happens next!)

He and some friends were driving along a country road and passed a field of watermelon. He hadn't had a watermelon in years, and the sight made him drool.

He stopped the car and got out, climbed a fence and leaned over to pick a melon. Unfortunately, others had been doing that too, in this same field. An irate farmer was waiting.

He heaved into sight, lifted his shotgun and fired. A load of buckshot peppered the hero in a spot which made sitting down difficult for days.

A Dallas veteran named Hal Collins, Jr., has a British war bride. She's learning American ways fast, but now and then things bewilder her.

Like Collins, for instance, he has little sales resistance. He told his wife he was going to the store to buy an electric razor. They didn't have an electric razor, but a super-salesman gave Collins the works. He returned home with a $300 electrical exercising machine.

His wife took one look at it and gasped:

"Do you mean to say you shave with that thing?"

But we have to have a tale with a happy ending, to end this:

Tom H. Prestridge of Van Zandt county, a marine, decided he'd enter politics. He ran for district attorney.

ney, a very crowded race.

But before election three other candidates withdrew, leaving him lone man on the totem pole.

Little Progress Is Made To Get Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Following conferences with war assets administration officials yesterday, Rep. W. Poage of Waco said little progress could be made on the proposal that Texas A. & M. college take over the 18,000-acre Bluebonnet ordnance plant at McGregor until WAA authorities who inspected the plant last week return to Washington, Poage, who attended the conference with President Gibb Gilchrist of the Texas school, said the inspectors are expected back within a day or two.

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Rapturously Peter Lorre has an answer for everything.

A garrulous lady visitor, meeting him on the set of "The Chase" recently, asked him coyly: "Oh, Mr. Lorre, have you killed anyone today?"

"No, Madam," Lorre replied acidly. "Fortunately for you, I'm just resting."

A tourist, apparently having been told the boy was the son of some movie star, asked the lad: "Who is your father?"

Dave, reflecting a modesty that has endeared him to many, answered: "The man up at bat."

Daughter Of Mine

By R. Louise Emery

Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Cecily's wedding is over at last. But never will I forget the cruel thing I did to her. And Della, Cecily's mother, will never forgive me. I have adored Cecily since she was a baby—just on adoring her even after I married Robert and my daughter Corinna was born. Long ago, too, I knew that Della was raising Cecily to be an insufferable snob, and that she was jealous of my love for her.

VII
 ROBERT had finally made a place for himself as director of the Marlin Playground—the town had seen the value of his volunteer work in the "tough" district and had voted him a small salary to continue it. We could not have lived on it but Robert was so full of his job that articles on underprivileged children, junior health and morals problems spilled out of him into magazines all over the country. As his name became familiar to the reading public offers of better positions in his field came to him but he declined them, knowing that I would not leave the town that held Cecily.

The checks, though, solved our financial problems. We remodeled our old bungalow and it was possible for me to give Corinna ballet and tap dancing lessons so that Cecily should not outstrip her in everything. Corinna had a definite talent for dancing and, unlike Cecily, she could devote all of her attention to it. To Della's consternation Corinna caught up with Cecily in short order.

Cecily was undisputedly prettier than Corinna, but Corinna had a pertness and charm of her own and in the gay costumes I made her she captivated her audiences. There were numerous opportunities for her to appear before P.-T.

A's and the civic clubs in which Robert held honorary memberships. Although Cecily's educational program was designed to enable her to shine before the town and especially the Ralstons, the invitations came to Corinna. Della seethed over that, not too privately, until I suggested that we team the two children. Both little girls were fair and Corinna was large for her age so that they were evenly matched as to size. I had always wanted them to see more of each other than Della permitted and this offered such a perfect chance that I feared Della would refuse it. Della, however, wanted Cecily brought to the town's attention and although it touched her pride to have Cecily share any glory, she was glad enough to let her ride into public notice on the tide of Corinna's popularity.

FOR once Della seemed to play right into my hand. "You'll have to bring Corinna over here to practice with Cecily," she instructed. "Corinna will have to learn Cecily's routines if they're to go on together." Hours with Cecily! It was the consummation of years of desire. I should have been forewarned after my long knowledge of Della. Nothing was trivial to her where Cecily was concerned. First off there had to be new costumes—made by a professional, Della insisted. At least four changes, with plenty of sequins and brilliants.

"If Cecily is going to appear in public everything has to be perfect, that's all there is to it." As if SHE were the one conferring largesse. "Della, I can't afford it!" I protested. "It isn't as if these were paid programs—" "Well, you'll have to afford it or do without Cecily," Della said. She had a pretty fair idea that I wouldn't risk losing Cecily now. "Call her bluff," Robert said lazily when I repeated the conversation. "It's to her advantage to team the kids. Corinna's doing all right alone."

"You don't understand Della," I answered. She had by this time convinced herself that she was doing me a favor and if I didn't give in to her she'd make occasion to hit back at me—through Cecily. "There's the check from your last sale—" I hinted.

"I wanted to use that for a brush-up course at the University this summer," Robert said slowly. "It's a long time until summer." "That's right," Robert conceded. "I can write other articles—"

BUT they didn't sell in time for him to go to summer classes. Corinna had the costumes, however, and the first sight of the fairy creations brought forth an outcry of pleasure that was half pain. Corinna had never dreamed of owning anything so expensive. "Oh, mother, may Mercedes try them on, too? She never gets anything pretty to wear. We'll dress up and surprise daddy," she coaxed. She and Mercedes raced into her room to comb their hair and indulge their passion for lipsticks before getting into the costumes. I telephoned to Della. "Bring Cecily over to join the fun." "You know I don't want her playing with those Marlin street kids!" Della snapped. "And if you're going to let them wallow around in those costumes Cecily can't dance with Corinna—I don't want her catching something." "Mercedes is as clean as Cecily," I retorted. "That may be, but there's no use letting Cecily play with her—she doesn't belong in our class and Cecily hasn't any time to waste on her." I think I had the prescience then of that blow I was to strike Cecily. My hand was trembling as I hung up the receiver. How could Della—how could anyone be so heartless?

Though Diseases Still Problem In U. S., Progress Being Made

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—The problem of controlling venereal disease still is a national problem, and a big one. But the treatment of gonorrhea and syphilis, the two main venereal diseases, has been speeded up amazingly since 1943. This is written to state the problem and explain what people with venereal disease can do to be cured. If everyone infected with a venereal disease would get prompt treatment, the problem would become very small. A person who goes untreated for venereal disease, later may be crippled or killed by it. This is what the U. S. public health service says about the two kinds of venereal disease: 1. Gonorrhea. It takes from a few minutes to three or four hours to cure. The treatment is one to four shots of penicillin. The treatment can be given in a clinic or by a private physician in his own office. (Curing gonorrhea used to take a week to three or four months. The treatment was with silver salts and other slow methods.) 2. Syphilis. The treatment is 9 to 14 days. To have it cleared up in that time, a patient must stay in a hospital those 9 to 14 days. For this reason, every three hours the patient must get shots of penicillin and small amounts of arsenic and bismuth. The shots are in the hip. (Clearing up syphilis used to take 18 to 24 months. The old treatment, before penicillin, was with arsenic and bismuth.) What should a person do if he thinks he has gonorrhea? If you have money, go to your private physician for examination or treatment. He can cure you in four hours with those penicillin shots. If you have no money, go to your local health department or public clinic. What should a person do if he thinks he has syphilis? If you have money, go to your priate physician who can either give you a blood test or recommend you to a place for the test and the 9-to-14-day treatment. If you have no money, go to the health center in your city or county. You can get a blood test there and be sent to a hospital for the 9-to-14-day treatment. If a person has syphilis but no money, how can he get that 9-to-14-day treatment in a hospital? Doesn't that cost money? The U. S. health service says that, if he has no money, he can get the treatment in a hospital free, that there are enough general and special hospitals in this country to take care of such cases free. There are two main problems in fighting venereal disease: 1. Getting the person who has the disease to come in early for treatment not only for his own sake but so he won't spread it. 2. Finding the person who gave him the disease and the person or persons to whom he may have spread it. The local health services can find these people, all can be treated and the spread of the disease cut down.

He Turns His Back, And Watch Is Gone
 DALLAS—(AP)—John Henry Williams of Dallas says things have come to a pretty pass these days. Williams took off his wrist watch and placed it on the front seat of his car while he tinkered with the vehicle's engine. While Williams had his head under the hood of his auto, someone stole the wrist watch, he told police.

What! No Rice For the Wedding!
 CROWLEY, La. (AP)—You wouldn't throw a sirlin steak at a bride, would you? Then why, asks the executive committee of Louisiana's international rice festival, do you throw rice—which is needed for food just as much as beefsteak is? The committee claims at least 1,577,000 pounds of rice was wasted at wedding in the United States during the last year—"enough to feed thousands of starving Chinese." The ancient custom of rice-throwing "has no place in today's food crisis," declares the committee. The thorns of a locust tree are branches.

Three Used Trucks At PAAF To Be Sold
 Pampa Army Air Field, with a concentration of three surplus used motor vehicles, is one of sixteen locations set forth in a newly issued disposal catalog in the hands of in excess of some 12,000 certified veterans on the lists of War Assets Administration's Fort Worth regional office. A total of 648 surplus vehicles, all on the "set aside" list are available for inspection by ex-servicemen between now and August 13 in a mail-order sale. The offering at Pampa includes a 1941 Dodge ambulance truck, a 1941 1/2-ton Dodge pickup truck, and a 1942 Dodge carryall truck. All vehicles are being offered at fixed prices and veterans, following inspection, are invited to submit their orders by mail, listing alternate choices for each type of vehicle for which they hold certification. Other locations listed include Camp Berkeley, Big Springs AAF, Dalhart AAF, Fort Worth AAF, Amarillo AAF, Lubbock AAF, Abilene AAF, Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, Camp Bowie, Camp Hood, Camp Wolters, Panzer Ordnance Plant, Amarillo, and Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot. Awards will be made August 14 and 15 by WAA on the basis of the oldest dated certificate for each type of vehicle. Passenger sedans, station wagons, motorcycles, weapon carriers and scooters are included in the listings in addition to trucks and trailers.

Bill Provides for Sale of U. S. Lands
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Tuesday signed legislation providing for the liquidation of federal rural rehabilitation projects through sales of the land to veterans and to present occupants. The land will be sold during the next three years in "economic farm units" or not more than 640 acres. Preferential treatment is provided for present occupants who have contracted to buy the land or to whom previous commitments for sales have been made.

Visible Supplies of Wheat up for Week
 CHICAGO—(AP)—Visible supply of wheat increased 7,843,000 bushels this week to 61,929,000 bushels, the board of trade reported today. Corn decreased 778,000 bushels to 10,315,000 bushels, oats increased 1,181,000 to 3,967,000, rye decreased 9,000 to 155,000 and barley increased 96,000 to 3,042,000.

INDIVIDUALISM TO THE RESCUE

Despite all the speeches about democracy and dictatorship, and all the talk about national strength, geographical position and spheres of influence, international relations are determined in the end by the nature and character of the men who conduct them. This has been true throughout recorded history and remains true today. It is alternately a frightening and a comforting fact. And nowhere has it been better illustrated recently than at the Paris conference.

The foreign ministers' deadlock had held fast since last September, and showed no signs of breaking. Reasons of ideology and policy were cited to support the contention that an agreement was impossible unless a miracle happened. No one expected the miracle, or could predict its nature. But apparently it has come to pass in the shrewd, persuasive personality of Georges Bidault, Premier and President of France.

Thanks to M. Bidault, the impasse over Trieste is dissolved and the prospects of peace treaties and a general peace conference at last definitely scheduled are, for the first time, bright. Thanks are also due the other three ministers for their amenable attitudes. But those attitudes seem to have been induced by M. Bidault's arguments.

Who is this political newcomer, and how did he do it? Common information on this side of the Atlantic is sketchy on both questions. But apparently M. Bidault is a small, quiet, reserved man who rose from obscurity through his leadership of the French underground during the occupation.

A relatively unknown professor, editorial writer and small-time politician, he seems to have attained eminence quite by accident as a result of his patriotic efforts. These efforts, carried out with a shrewdness and disarming innocence of manner, permitted him to direct and maintain the work of the underground without detection, while some of his closest associates were arrested, tortured and killed by the nazis.

His patriotic service brought him to the attention of General de Gaulle. And through the intricate ramifications of French politics he found himself first in the French foreign office and then in his present eminent position.

That, briefly, tells who he is. But how he managed, as the weak junior member of this powerful foursome, to bring accord out of deadlock is a question whose complete answer is hidden within the walls of Luxembourg Palace.

He inherited a canny, conciliatory policy from General de Gaulle and improved on it. Representing a country important enough to receive consideration but not strong enough to force an issue, he seems to have played both ends against the middle. Or to put it more politely, he apparently could see and appreciate the intransigent positions of Russia on the one side and America and Britain on the other, and by this longer perspective suggest solutions acceptable to all.

In budging the three greatest powers from their formerly immovable positions M. Bidault has not only illustrated again the force of an individual in world affairs, but has also presented the future roles of the smaller nations in a new and hopeful light.

There will be future grave difficulties, certainly. But a way has been shown of solving the first and greatest, and as a consequence the world can breathe more easily. It can also thank M. Bidault, even though it does not know him very well as yet.

Decrease in Polio Cases Being Noted

NEW YORK—The death rate from poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) has had a distinct downward trend during the last 35 years, interrupted only by periodic epidemics, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Girls have benefited more than boys from this improvement in mortality among white children, report the statisticians. For the period 1911-1915, the death rates for both sexes at ages 1 to 14 were practically identical. By 1941-1945, the death rates for the girls were only half those for the boys, the rates being 1.1 and 2.2 per 100,000, respectively.

The improvement in mortality has been concentrated among children under five years of age. The death rate among girls at ages five to nine has also been reduced. No definite tendency toward improvement is observed at any other age. The point of highest mortality has meantime shifted from the age group 1 to 4 years to 5 to 9 years among boys and 10 to 14 years among girls.

It is difficult to account for the decline in "polio" mortality. Both improvement in diagnosis and improved methods of treatment have no doubt contributed.

Effective measures to prevent the spread of this disease have not yet been found, but the statisticians hold out the hope that continued research will bring it under control, just as the more common infections of childhood have been greatly reduced.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Hats off to the rules committee of the Paris peace conference for its action in voting to allow the press free access to proceedings of this meeting which is so important to the rehabilitation of Europe and consequently to world stability.

It was Secretary of State Byrnes who made the motion for freedom of the press, and he was immediately supported by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov. It hasn't been known that the American and Soviet statesmen have found immediate agreement on any subject, and so

Peter Edson's Column: HE'S JUST A FOOL ABOUT LAW

NATIONAL HIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The characterization which Congressman Sam Hobbs of Selma, Ala., applies to himself is that he's a "fool for law."

A group of congressmen called on Attorney General Francis Biddle a few years ago to recommend Hobbs' appointment to the Circuit Court of Appeals. A member of the group was his colleague, Congressman Frank Boykin of Mobile.

After the formal tribute had been made, it was Boykin's turn. "All the time we're fussin' around with blondes," said Frank. "Sam Hobbs has got his nose in some old law-book. He thinks that's fun."

Boykin's testimonial made no impression on Biddle, but that's beside the point. Hobbs today is registering as much impact on the federal judicial system as is anyone in the business.

It is best known for the so-called Hobbs anti-racketeering amendment recently signed by the President. This law makes it a felony to interfere with interstate commerce by robbery or extortion. It has been denounced up and down both sides by labor leaders. They claim that Hobbs is anti-labor and unions only to bust the unions. It's too early to tell what the Hobbs law is going to do. No test cases have come up under it, though several may be in the making in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, California, and other big food-marketing centers where trucking unions have long charged tribute against truckers from other areas.

"We haven't got any of these cases down in Alabama," Hobbs explains. "We're a different kind of hainp down there."

Similarly, when federal courts hand down decisions which reveal a weakness in the law of the land, it is the job of the Judiciary Committee to correct the law. In the Hobbs bill, Hobbs was merely trying to correct a decision written by the then Justice James V. Byrnes.

VACILLATING Washington's vacillating foreign policy in Latin America is held responsible by diplomats from that area for the present and prospective governmental conflicts threatening their countries.

The so-called good neighbor program appears to be another war casualty, despite President Truman's sincere desire to adhere to it.

While proclaiming his enmity toward Hitler, Mussolini and dictators in general, the United States backed and approved the militarists in Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay and Chile. The army juntas told us in contempt, and the democratic factions question our professions of democracy. They realized that many of their rulers were placed and kept in power by American weapons.

Despite official and unofficial attacks by state department spokesmen on the strong-arm Farrell regime at Buenos Aires, Washington eventually gave its approval to President Peron.

It is now known that he had been a virtual Nazi satellite for years. Only recently Peron asked the Russians for help when they seized from the defeated Germans. He had to admit that his forces had been equipped with made-in-Berlin weapons and, therefore, received the same type of replenishment.

INFLATION—The Bolivian government, which was recently overthrown by rebellious students and labor groups, was raised in power by Argentine and German plotters, according to captured Nazi records. Naturally, the common people throughout South America cannot understand why Uncle Sam should show even official sympathy for such regimes.

Our financial and commercial practices during the war have also contributed to our present lack of understanding. The various agencies headed by Henry A. Wallace and Nelson A. Rockefeller spent billions of dollars in S. A., with the consequence that the people suffer severely from inflation. Now that we have stopped the flow of gold, the South Americans regard Washington as the source of their woes.

BENEFICIARIES—Great Britain and Russia will become the beneficiaries of the anti-American sentiment now sweeping through almost all Latin America except Mexico. London and Moscow have had commercial missions in all the important capitals, since V-J Day, and our rivals are promising delivery at the very time when our industry cannot satisfy the domestic demand.

Diplomatically and commercially, it is believed here that the Kremlin aims to fill the vacuum that Germans from positions of power left before the war. Stalin's new Five-Year Plan is designed to produce goods for export rather than domestic consumption, and he has cast his eyes on the rich South American market.

Even before the war, "Uncle Joe" kept his ablest diplomatic representatives in Mexico City biding the day when he might gain a stronger foothold in this part of the Western Hemisphere. It is this prospect which makes so important the apparent breakdown of the "good neighbor" policy, and forces Secretary Byrnes to turn to the problem of repairing it, if possible.

UNHAPPY—Poor Henry A. Wallace is undoubtedly the most unhappy man at the nation's capital, according to his closest friends.

He has lost his prestige, considerably, and he is pondering retirement from public life. Buffeted by both conservatives and the very "liberals" who used to consider him their private champion, he would undoubtedly drop out of the Truman family save for the fact that he is still bitten by the presidential bee. He also has a strong desire to keep his resignation to the White House.

He was retained originally because, with the passing of F. D. R., it was thought that he would serve as a link with the radicals in the farm and labor camps. But the ironic fact is that Mr. Wallace was primarily responsible for the recent deterioration of the powerful and important National Farmers' Union.

The White House has always hung low for James Patton, the head of this organization.

APPOINTMENT—The Union's official publication recently served a strange indictment against a man who was once the darling of the left-wingers. It charged that he was stringing along with the "conservative" and business groups for the sake of his presidential ambitions.

The Patton crowd's immediate anger flared against his appointment to the Continental Baking Company, as executive director of the Emergency Food Collection. Alleging that Mr. Marshall, an official in the War Food Administration, has spurred the scarcity program which helped to precipitate the present world famine, the publication said:

"Wallace knew Marshall's record well. Well, then, did Wallace select this man to run the drive, which the man's own track policy in prior years had done so much to make needed?"

BUG—Wallace's sorely troubled staff tries lamely to explain that Marshall is a crack administrator, despite his weakness on policy. Kidding for advancing such a weak argument, they sorrowfully concede that Henry still has the White House bug, and is being pleased to the big boys of the food trade, just as he reckoned on getting labor party and extreme left-wing favor in New York by supporting Johann Stoen, communist-backed candidate for congress, against the democratic incumbent, Congressman Klein, who has a well-nigh perfect record on labor and social and economic reform legislation."

Must Have Wild Imagination
To Be Enthusiastically Happy

One has often heard the statement that one must be dumb to be happy. I never saw better evidence of this statement than that exhibited by Mrs. A. Krug, Secretary of the Interior, in the Sunday magazine sections of a number of newspapers in an article entitled, "Why I Work for the Government."

Mr. Krug says, "We are interested in our work because we feel that we are doing something for the people." He also says, "I have yet to see the salary which could buy the satisfaction I've had from being one of the hired hands of the people of the United States."
