Russia Likely To Wait for Her U. S. Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia probably will have to wait until next year at least for a loan even a fraction of the size of the $3,750,000,000 credit congress okayed Saturday for Britain.

The Kremlin reportedly is interested in borrowing about $1,000,000,000 from this country.

Little has been heard of a Russian loan since the United States some months ago notified Moscow of a willingness to discuss it.

Only President Truman's signature is needed before London can start drawing on the money, in return for which the British have promised to work for freer world trade.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), who led republican support of the British loan, told newsmen today it would be most unfortunate if the administration asked for an increase in export-import bank funds at this time.

"Congress would treat such a proposal as if it were voting on a direct loan to Russia," Wolcott said.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) appealed personally for ratification of the loan last week.

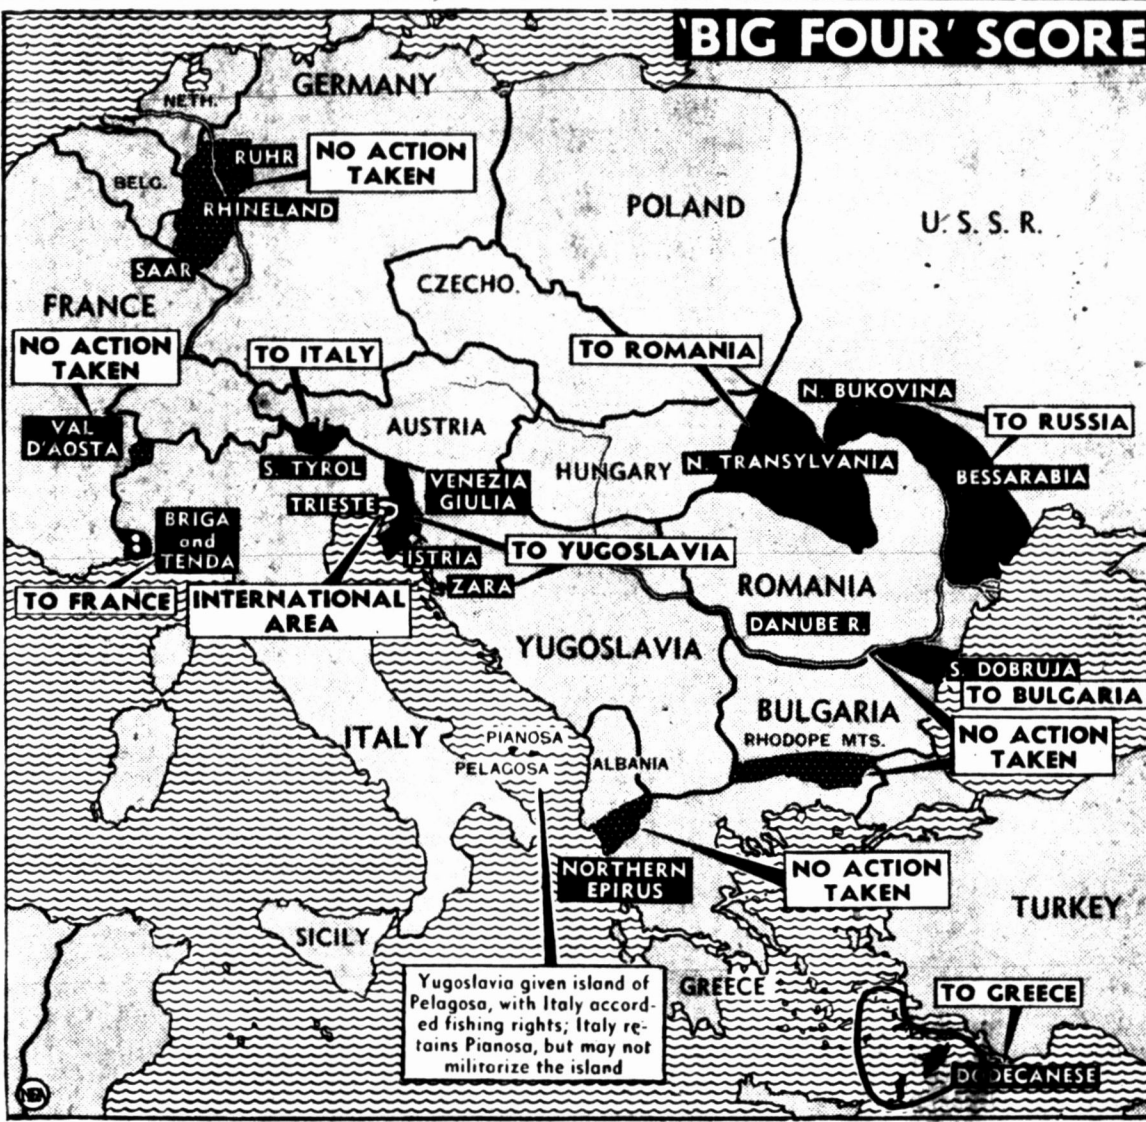

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), who led republican support of the British loan, told newsmen today it would be most unfortunate if the administration asked for an increase in export-import bank funds at this time.

City Manager Garland Franks said today, however, that the meaning of this was not quite clear, as only 10 voters took part in the last city election, in which City Commissioner Harold Wright was unopposed.

Franks said the law may mean one-fourth of the total registered voters or one-fourth the number taking part in the last election and he was therefore asking Gordon to make further check.

The committee which presented the petition informed the commission that it would have additional names this week so that a final check could be made.

House Fight Set Tomorrow On OPA Revival Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) indicated today congress is making its final effort to pass OPA revival legislation by telling reporters he hopes for adjournment by July 27.

Barkley's statement was made after legislative leaders held their customary Monday morning conference with President Truman.

The President indicated he would veto the senate-approved bill as it stands by commenting yesterday that it "couldn't be any worse."

Today Barkley said the remarks made before reporters at the airport yesterday did not constitute everything the President said on the subject.

Congressional leaders hope to remove, in a senate-house conference committee, many of the bans voted by the senate against the placing of ceilings on major commodities.

Barkley told the reporters that the "general legislative situation" had been discussed with the President.

As a prospective member of the OPA conference committee, he declined to discuss OPA prospects specifically.

Barring a last-minute change in plans the first test will take place on the house floor tomorrow.

The issue—with each side confident of victory—is whether any controls at all still be clamped back on dozens of more items in legislation to breathe new life into OPA until next June 30.

The senate, by top-heavy majorities, ordered these things kept free of any future price ceilings.

Procedure of Veto Termed 'Undemocratic'

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister, today attacked the veto procedure in the United Nations security council as "undemocratic and unjust."

Evatt, who is retiring as chairman of the United Nations atomic energy commission, broadcast from London, heard here and in Australia that the "illogical system of voting in the security council" is the "most serious disability under which the United Nations is now working."

Evatt, who sat in the security council and watched the Russian delegate invoke the veto power three times in one session on the Spanish issue, said:

"It is a travesty of democratic procedure when any one nation can block the unanimous opinion of the remainder of a council of eleven when it is endeavoring solely to conciliate and adjust international disputes and situations."

"Australia has therefore given formal notice that the general assembly will be asked at its next meeting to review the way in which the veto power has been exercised during the past year. I sincerely hope that good sense will prevail and that the special privilege of individual veto will never in the future be abused XXX."

The Australian cabinet member, who will leave later this week to sit in the Paris peace conference, said it is to be hoped there will be no attempt of "any kind, direct or otherwise, to reach settlements which have taken so long to draft."

Reporting on the work of the atomic energy commission, he said he had obeyed the U. N. general assembly's mandate to proceed with the utmost dispatch to such an extent that some of his colleagues had good-humoredly accused him of See U. N. VETO, Page 6

Violence Causes 12 Texas Deaths During Weekend

By The Associated Press

Weekend activities caused the death of at least 12 persons in Texas. Traffic accidents slipped out of the spotlight as other forms of violence caused nine of the fatalities.

Only three deaths were due to traffic mishaps. Two victims died of gunshots, two were burned to death, two were stabbed, one committed suicide and one was killed by a train, and one died of heat.

The death of Arthur Stinnett, 37, of Stinnett, died at Berger Sunday morning after suffering head injuries when the car he was riding collided with a truck on the Berger-Stinnett highway.

Manuel Flores, 20, of Santa Rosa, was killed early Saturday morning when his body was cut in two by a freight train.

Servando Rodriguez, 22, died following a stroke Saturday at a date near Brownsville Saturday night. His brother Ramon, 21, is in a hospital suffering severe injury from knife wounds.

Claude Vernon Burns, 45, died in Dallas Saturday night of a heart attack. He was riding in the Peace W. L. Stretted said. This is the first heat stroke reported in the state this season.

Robert Clyde York, 19, Tyler, was killed when his car overturned in a ditch late Saturday.

Witness Warned to 'Think Long, Hard'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph Freeman, a munitions manufacturer's Washington agent whose salary skyrocketed from $5,841 to $70,000 in four years, testified today that he asked Rep. May (D-Ky) for business help "six or eight times."

But Freeman told the senate war investigating committee, searching into the wartime operations of an Illinois munitions combine, that he "didn't know" whether May had ever visited his office.

That response came after Chairman Mead (D-NY) cautioned him to "think hard and long, and remember that you are under oath."

The committee has received testimony that May, chairman of the house military committee, interceded with the war department to give contracts to the munitions combine, May has declared his activities were solely in the interest of the war effort and that he did not profit.

The combine received wartime contracts amounting to more than $78,000,000.

"Was the congressman cooperative?" inquired Mead.

"Not always," said Freeman.

Under questioning, Freeman testified that sometimes he had to wait as much as a week in order to get May's help on problems involving the Erie Basin and Batavia Metal Products companies, two of the combine's largest units.

Before Freeman was called to the stand, Mead announced that the committee is examining the law "as to bringing Congressman May before the committee by legal process."

Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.) told newsmen that in view of May's latest stand he planned once more to bring up his motion for a congressional resolution to summon the chairman of the house military committee as a formal witness.

Mitchell is a member of the committee that is opening its third week of hearing into what Chairman Mead (D-Ky) has called "war profiteering" by a midwestern munitions combine.

May has acknowledged intervening with the army on behalf of some of the firms in the combine, but he emphatically denied any wrongdoing or any profit to himself.

Churchill Calls On All of Europe To Rehabilitate

PARIS (AP)—Winston Churchill, speaking in Metz yesterday at a Bastille day celebration marking the 157th anniversary of the French revolution, called on Europe to "rise from her ruins and spare the world a third and possibly fatal holocaust."

Churchill, who spoke at a dinner given in his honor by the municipality of Metz, referred to Russia as "our heroic ally."

The former British prime minister declared there could be "no revival of Europe or its culture without a strong France."

Emphasizing the necessity for British-French understanding, Churchill asserted: "You must never allow the slightest recrimination between Great Britain and France."

Mihailovic Is Convicted of Collaboration

BELGRADE (AP)—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, former Chetnik leader, and 16 of his 23 co-defendants were convicted today by a Yugoslav military court on charges of collaborating with the Germans and were sentenced to the before firing squads.

The bushy-bearded defendant, the first underground leader to attract wide attention during the war, was given eight and a half hours to appeal for leniency from the President of the Yugoslav parliament. The deadline is 8 p. m. (1 p. m. CST).

Unconfirmed reports said the executions would be private, provided the sentences were upheld and that the panelists would be executed swiftly.

Mihailovic became minister of war to former King Peter's exiled government in London. American and British officers served at his mountain headquarters as liaison officers during the last years of the war.

Prison sentences ranging downward to 18 months were imposed on the remaining defendants, and the sentences were upheld and that the panelists would be executed swiftly.

Enthroned to be shot with Mihailovic were: Redoslav Rade Radich, 56-year-old former commander of the Bratislav Chetnik unit.

Milos Glich, 36-year-old Chetnik leader.

Oskar Pavlovich, 54, former Zagreb police chief.

Dragi Yovanovich, 44, former Belgrade police chief.

American Marines Taken Prisoners By Armed Chinese

TIENSTIN (AP)—Seven American marines were taken prisoner Saturday by "an unidentified band of 80 armed Chinese" about 22 miles north of Chinwangtao, on the Gulf of Chihli, U. S. marine corps headquarters announced here today.

The announcement said that all marine garrisons in the Chinwangtao-Peishan area had been alerted and strong detachments had been ordered to search the countryside for the missing men.

An air search, which started at dawn Sunday but was halted by weather conditions, will be resumed as soon as possible.

The Chinese press asserted that the captors were members of the communist army and nationalist troops were ordered to join in the search.

The marine announcement said the capture was effected in Hsin-chuang village where the marines had gone to purchase ice. An eighth member of the detachment was in an ice house when the band struck and eluded capture.

The missing men were from a detachment which is guarding a bridge on the Peiping-Mukden railroad.

A woman tentatively identified as Mabel Ray Hopkins of Dallas was shot to death in a Dallas case last night.

A man questioned in the shooting said he playfully pointed a pistol at her. He said she grabbed the barrel and the gun discharged.

House Looted by Daylight Burglar

North Somerville street's daylight burglar struck again Saturday, this time at the home of Mrs. L. H. Greene, 510 North Somerville.

Mrs. Greene told the Daily News today that the burglar took a variety of jewelry from the apartment of Mrs. Jewell Carruth, which is in the Greene residence and ransacked the rest of the house, although he did not find any valuables belonging to Mrs. Greene.

She said Mrs. Carruth missed several rings and bracelets and a necklace. The burglar entered the house through Mrs. Carruth's apartment.

The residence of District Judge W. R. Ewing was the first place visited by a daylight burglar. This burglary was reported several weeks ago.

Mrs. Greene said she could not find a receipt for her jewelry until today, having thought the burglar had made away with it also.

Dallas Area Milk Truck Drivers Are on Strike

DALLAS (AP)—Milk deliveries will not be made to 20,000 families in the Dallas area due to a strike of about 70 truck drivers, Lindsay Waters, Jr., vice president of the Tennessee Dairies, Inc., said.

Agents of the striking union, Local 745 of the AFL Teamsters union, were not available for comment.

Waters said the company was first approached by two union agents Thursday and that they demanded immediate recognition as a bargaining agent. Waters said he told them that an election would have to be held by the National Labor Relations board.

Federal Economists See Manpower Shortage for United States by Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new manpower shortage by fall is looming large in the eyes of some federal economists.

Officials of the civilian production administration, who first reported the possibility in May, say now they are "even more convinced" by latest census reports on employment.

The census bureau found the civilian working force had risen to 56,740,000 in June, approaching the "sixty million jobs" level which Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace calls "full employment."

CPA officials interviewed said the manpower pinch might be felt as early as October or November, growing larger in the latter view.

war mobilization and reconversion say there is "better" than 50-50 chance for a manpower shortage this fall; others believe it will be severe in some industries and localities but not general.

The U. S. employment service holds mainly to the latter view.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Regardless of what Bobby Riggs did to Don Budge yesterday, the real world tennis championship will be decided at Forest Hills in September—that used to be Wimbledon's claim, but look at this prospective lineup for the U. L. Pash and E. R. Avory from Britain; Jacques Van Den Eynde and Philippe Washer from Belgium; possibly the Yugoslavian Davis cup team and, if the U. S. L. T. A. can get him, the Czech Jaroslav Drobny. Pancho Segura, who is almost "home folks" now will head a large Latin American delegation.

Amateur Stranahan Wins Kansas Tourney

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

For the past few weeks, baseball fans have been hearing little of the Mexican league baseball, headed by the monetary mountain, Don George Pasquel (the said it was George, not Jorge). We figure, however, that things aren't going to be quiet for too long. An ambitious, baseball-loving man like Don George isn't going to set around and be forgotten.

And you can count on this prediction that, when Pasquel does get his name in the paper again, Old Man Larry McPhail up at New York and "Not So Happy" Chandler out in Cincinnati are going to swell up like a couple of angry toad frogs again—but it won't do them any more good than usual. We always figured McPhail and Chandler were working together to get Vern Stephens to come back to the Dodgers instead of the Browns.

The bombastic McPhail and the stool pigeon Chandler have certainly done little to further the cause of good feeling between the United States and Mexico. Pasquel isn't being dishonest when he offers fans more money to come down and play in his "beezleb" league. This thing they call baseball contracted up here is about like being sentenced to serve five years on a Georgia chain gang, especially when it's McPhail, Griffith or Brendan Connor.

We hope Organized Ball will see the light someday and have a general housecleaning. We think the first to go would be the sulking Chandler, who has absolutely done nothing for baseball and has done too much against it since he took office.

When O-B gets really wise, it will also decide the Judge William Brannan, the capable head of the National Association of Minor Leagues, is the ideal man for Chandler's job with the minors. Our guess is he could do the same with the majors.

Another shot at McPhail.

We see that Little Larry took a flying trip out to California to tell the Pacific coast leaguers that they had no chance at all of becoming a major league and will have no chance in the future. We suppose he went as Chandler's representative. The boss has said nothing or done nothing on the subject.

We would feel mighty sorry for McPhail if he came to Texas and made such a statement.

Ted Williams Blasts 3 Homers As Red Sox Win Doubleheader

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Baseball's top box office draw is Ted Williams of the pennant-bound Red Sox—the logical heir to Babe Ruth's throne.

Failure of Joe Dimaggio to hit his prewar stride left Bobby Feller of Cleveland as Williams' chief rival as a turnstile magnet. But rapid Robert at best can work only every fourth day and Teddy is slugging every afternoon.

Williams' performance yesterday enabled Boston to stretch its lead to 11 full games by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 11-10 and 6-4. Teddy drove in eight runs with three homers and a single in the opener and doubled down the right field line in the second till despite Manager Lou Boudreau's novel defense.

Boudreau moved his infielders and shifted his center fielder into right field in an attempt to stop the lefthanded power hitter. They got him out once but he walked twice and doubled the other time.

At least twice the big day, Williams' batting average soared to .353, only four points behind the leader, Mickey Vernon of Washington.

Twenty-six home runs, 82 runs batted in and 89 runs scored, are other accomplishments of the lank Californian.

While Williams was joining the long list of players who have hit three homers in a game, Boudreau was trying a record, held by 20 players, by hitting four doubles in one contest.

The Yanks bowed twice to Detroit. After Hal Newhouse had hung up his 17th victory on a three-hitter, 5-0, but Kirby Oberlin earned his first decision of the season, 6-3.

St. Louis applied the tightener to the national chase by dumping C. millionaires, whose winning score of 274 in the Kansas City invitational golf tournament yesterday resembled a paper's bank account, to the monetary mountain.

Veterans Byron Nelson, Toledo, pre-tournament favorite, Jimmy Hines, Chicago, and Harold Gump McSpaden, Sanford, Me., each came in with 276's and $1,433.25 in the $20,000 victory fund.

Texas Leaguers Put on Regular 'Sunday Surge'

(By The Associated Press)

Texas leaguers began their regular Sunday spurge yesterday as heavy and frequent hits told the tale in at least five out of seven scheduled games.

The Fort Worth Cats, league leaders, pounded out 17 hits, including four doubles and two home runs, to take the opening of a doubleheader against Shreveport, 15-5. However in the nightcap, the Sports found the balling range for a 6-3 win.

Clint Conatser's home run in the fourth inning with one on base provided the Dallas Rebels with a winning margin in a 4-2 victory over Beaumont. It was Conatser's second homer in the short series.

Second place San Antonio took a 9-0 licking in the opener of a doubleheader with Tulsa but retaliated with a 5-1 victory in the second game. The Oilers touched Chlie Wagner for 13 safeties in the opener, and the Missions took eight hits off Mack Stewart for the second game triumph.

The Houston Buffs took both ends of a header from Oklahoma City, 2-1 and 5-3 for a sweep of a three-game series with the cellar club. The double victory lifted the Buffs back to sixth place in league standings. Les Studener gave up but three hits in the nine opener and Art Nelson scattered seven hits in the second game.

ing number of fishermen and hunters.

If we are to achieve success in conservation, it will require sincere effort in every locality of this country. It will require national and state legislation that sets the framework within which authority is enabled to proceed on a sound basis. It depends on efficient fish and game departments with sufficient power to carry out their programs, and funds to do the job free of political entanglements.

It requires the co-operation of state and federal forest, soil and agriculture agencies, an integrated national program considering all the factors of wateruse, public education in the values of conservation and mutual understanding between the farmer-landowner and the sportsman. It depends on a well organized sportsman-conservation organization in every locality performing day to day conservation service, as well as the sum total of individual efforts considerable years.

It has been estimated that about 75,000,000 meteorites enter the earth's atmosphere daily from outer space; most of them are vaporized before reaching the ground.

Michael Hudobis, who is well known for his observations on conservation developments in Washington, has issued this warning to all who are concerned. We are faced with the decision of taking active interest in state and federal policies of natural resources management, or of assuming an attitude of unconcern, allowing continued encroachment by selfish exploitation that eventually will spell not only reduction, but loss of these resources. It is a responsibility that cannot be shirked. Such interest is as necessary to the future of fishing and hunting as is the care of firearms after a trip in the field, or attention to tackle on return from fishing waters. Neglect of either reduces their value and usefulness.

Conservation is not gained by strict rules or no-can-do laws. The fisherman cannot expect to catch fish in a polluted stream, nor the hunter to get game on barren, highly eroded land. And good fishing and hunting cannot be the automatic result of dumping fish into the water, and game on the land. Our basic resources of soil, forests and water must be restored. Without these, wildlife cannot be expected to survive or produce a surplus for harvest by an increase-

Chinese Girl Is Author of Books

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeature Writer

IN TAIPEI, 20-year-old daughter of the Chinese author Lin Yutang, led her jade bracelet around her neck and talked of the two books she has written, the one she is now writing, the process of growing up, the young generation in China many other things.

The black dress, which molded her little figure, was a classic Chinese design. But her hair was modern American and so the lipstick which matched the braid on her dress. Her English flowed with the swiftness of a rill and her bright black eyes shined out on the world with eager rapture.

"The process of growing up has been very disillusioning," she said, "you are little you are taught pink is pink and blue is blue a villain is a villain. But when you grow up you find that many of the villains have lot of good in them. I don't know one really person except Hitler and other from headlines. Yet there is his trouble! I think it's because are all human. There's good in villains—and I suppose 'villain' is the middle one of Lin Yutang's three daughters—has covered a territory that most people do lifetime. She was born in Peking during the war years, the Chinese at Yale University, and in the spring of 1945, served secretary to its surgeon general, Dr. Lim, and returned to New York, where her parents now live. She loves dancing and the less. To her two novels—"The Ten Coins" and "War Tide"—she sets to add a third this fall. "I want you to go to college," she said, "but I just want to write. The secret of success is just plain hard work—don't want my new book to exist! problems the new generation in has to face. You see, the old

Best Dress Wins Clerk's Service

Wear your best bib and tucker when you go shopping, if you want to—perhaps needs to, in these days of scarce merchandise—impress the saleswoman.

As startling as this sounds, it's the advice of a noted New York personal shopper and style consultant, Hanna Sherman, so advises her clients and the women before whom she lectures.

"Because a saleswoman can only judge a new customer by the clothes that she wears," says Miss Sherman, "these become her standard of comparison when she marches out new merchandise."

There was a time when "impressing" the saleswoman that you are a woman of taste and discrimination was not so important. But it is now. Miss Sherman insists, if you want an even break in getting your share of selective merchandise from scarce stocks.

She says that the way to avoid the necessity to sport your best finery for a shopping jaunt is to become acquainted with and make a friend of your saleswoman. Obviously, it doesn't matter what you wear when you shop, if she knows who you are.

Reports Show Local Women Plan To Help in Food Preservation Week

The 25 million housewives who put up more than four billion jars of food in one year must swing back into action and steer toward the greatest season of home food preservation in history!

Today marks the beginning of National Food Preservation Week, but this is only the beginning. Home and community preservation activities, already underway, must be continued clear into the fall months.

Locally, women are canning a high percentage of the fruit and vegetables produced in home gardens. The Merton Home Demonstration club, one of the typical clubs in this locality, has 14 members and of that group, 12 have productive gardens this season. Mrs. V. Smith, president of the Merton club, estimates that 3500 cans and jars of fruit, vegetables and pickles will be canned by members of her club.

The canning season has been successful to date, according to Mrs. Smith. She asserts that they have not had one spoilage. The club members use the latest methods and devices in canning.

Calculating notes of the club members show that several are growing potatoes with a four inch diameter and onions with a 4 1/2 inch diameter. In one garden, 68 bunches of onions have been produced with an average of eight to nine large onions in each bunch.

The following report, compiled by Mrs. Smith shows the average number of jars canned for two families: greens, 148 pints; asparagus, 6 pints; English peas, 125 pints; strawberries, 24 pints; carrots, 48 pints; beets, 32 1/2 quarts; beans, 71 1/2 quarts; apricots, 14 quarts; pineapple, 11 pints; squash, 7 pints; plum juice, 6 quarts; potatoes, 8 bushels and onions, 4 bushels.

Expectations for the rest of the canning season include the following: black eye peas, okra, corn, cream peas, cucumbers, horseradish, tomatoes, radishes, cantaloupe, lettuce, swiss chard, salsify, squash (yellow and white), parsnips, butterbeans, parsley, sage, summer savory, dill, bell and hot pepper.

Reports from women living in town show that they are canning and preserving although not on as large a scale as women who have their own gardens. At present many are preserving peaches and although the heavy season for strawberries is over, traces of them are still expected for preservation.

Industry, business and employee groups all over the nation, have a big stake in this important food

Many Movie Menaces Await Elimination

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

One problem has been solved for the movie-going public. Some public-minded citizen has invented a silent paper-bag for the popcorn, peanuts, candy, etc. that so many movie-goers like to munch on during tense moments on the screen.

Now if someone can just get rid of a few more distractions the movie ought to become the perfect place to relax when one is running away from the kids for an evening.

For example:

The six-foot-plus giant who always moves in to take the seat directly in front of you, occupied by a shifty when you arrived.

The love-birds who put their two heads together and completely blot out the screen for those behind them, and who don't seem to know that a couple who plan to use movie seats for a parlor sofa should sit in the back row.

The giggling girls who go to the movies in threes or fours, and start to gossip whenever they find the picture boring.

The small child for whom no baby-sitter was available, and who must be hushed continually during the performance.

BEWARE THE KNOW-IT-ALL

The fellow who has seen the movie before, and who, in an effort to impress his date with his clairvoyance, lets everybody within earshot in on what is going to happen next.

Electric Fingers Give Easy Facial

Now you can give yourself a home facial for the routine job of keeping skin young or for the emergency business of pre-date radiance without lifting a finger.

All the needed laying-on of hands is done for you, after you pave the way with a lubricating or cleansing cream, by a postwar gadget boasting two mechanical "fingers." These pat your skin at the rate of 100 strokes per second.

This gadget is the push-button answer to a lady woman's dream. It's an electric vibrator which brings along two sets of rubber tips. One is for face and throat massage. The other can be used to make tired feet slap-happy or a scalp tingle with delight.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(AP)—Regardless of what Bobby Riggs did to Don Budge yesterday, the real world tennis championship will be decided at Forest Hills in September—that used to be Wimbledon's claim, but look at this prospective lineup for the U. S. amateur championship: Three American champions, Frankie Parker, the defending titleholder and ex-champion Ted Schroeder and Don McNeill, plus Jack Kramer and Bill Talbert for the home side; Yvon Petra, France's newly-crowned Wimbledon champ; Harry Hopman and the youthful Bobby Barnes representing Australia, Tony Mottram, G. L. Falsh and E. R. Avory from Britain; Jacques Van Den Eynde and Philippe Washer from Belgium; possibly the Yugoslavian Davis cup team and, if the U. S. L. T. A. can get him, the Czech, Jaroslav Drobný. Rancho Segura, who is almost "home folks" now will head a large Latin American delegation.

THEY CAN'T HURT US
Apparently the nickname "Dogger" is sufficient excuse for odd happenings to a ball club, but the Newport News, Va., Dodgers couldn't dodge those troubles that struck within one week—the entire reserved section of the home park burned down, three leading players were benched with injuries, the trainer was bedded with a rash of boils, the groundskeeper broke his nose when a foul clipped him and the team dropped a rung in the standings—the last item is what hurt.

"You've got to give him credit. No matter how tough the shot he's always willing to play it."

Amateur Stranahan Wins Kansas Tourney

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Amateur Frank Stranahan, son of a Toledo, O., millionaire, whose winning score of 274 in the Kansas City invitational golf tournament yesterday resembled a paper's bank account, today had the world's greatest professional golfer on his hip for the moment at least.

The 23-year-old Ohioan had the shot for every pin during four days of blasting on Hillcrest country club, the 6,792-yard course that ended with several of the big name money-players running out their string.

White Stranahan settled for the title trophy after making the final round in a 31-28-89 for a 72 hole total of 14-under par 274, big John Bulla, Chicago, was only one strike away and collected the professional's prize of $2,500.

Veterans Byron Nelson, Toledo, pre-tournament favorite, Jimmy Hines, Chicago, and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., each came in with 275 and $1,433.23 of the $2,000 victory bond pie.

U. S. open-champion Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, was ninth at 280, and the game's leading money winner for the year, Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., finished in a tenth place tie with four others.

Ben Hogan, who collected his smallest check in many months, $220, still was the money-man for the year.

Ben's total stands at $25,214.50.

Texas Leaguers Put on Regular 'Sunday Splurge'
(By The Associated Press)
Texas league outsmen had their regular Sunday splurge yesterday as heavy and frequent hits told the tale in at least five out of seven scheduled games.

The Fort Worth Cats, league leaders, pounded out 17 hits, including four doubles and two home runs, to take the opening of a doubleheader against Shreveport, 15-5. However in the nightcap, the Sports found the batting magic for 4-3 win.

Clint Conzater's home run in the fourth inning with one on base provided the Dallas Rebels with a winning margin in a 2-1 victory over Beaumont. It was Conzater's second homer in the short series.

Second place San Antonio took a 9-0 licking in the opener of a doubleheader with Tulsa but retaliated with a 5-1 victory in the second game. The Oilers touched Chile Wagener for 13 satellites in the opener.

The Houston Buffs took both ends of a header from Oklahoma City, 3-1 and 5-3 for a sweep of a three-game series with the cellar club. The double victory lifted the Buffs back to sixth place in league standings. Les Studener gave up but three hits in the nine opener and Art Nelson scattered seven hits in the second game.

Today's schedule:
Dallas at Shreveport.
Fort Worth at Beaumont.
Tulsa at Houston.
Oklahoma City at San Antonio.
(All night games).

Ted Williams Blasts 3 Homers As Red Sox Win Doubleheader

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Baseball's top box office draw is Ted Williams of the pennant-bound Red Sox—the logical heir to Babe Ruth's throne.

Failure of Joe Dimaggio to hit his prewar stride left Bobby Feller of Cleveland as Williams' chief rival as a turnstile magnet. But rapid Robert at best can work only every fourth day and Teddy is slugging every afternoon.

Williams' performance yesterday enabled Boston to stretch its lead to 11 full games by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 11-10 and 6-4. Teddy drove in eight runs with three homers and a single in the opener and doubled down the right field line in the second tilt despite Manager Lou Boudreau's novel defense.

Boudreau moved all his infielders into the hole between first and second and shifted his center fielder into right field in an attempt to stop the lefthanded power hitter. They got him out once but he walked twice and doubled the other time. As a result of the big day, Williams' batting average soars to .353, only four points behind the leader, Mickey Vernon of Washington. Twenty-six home runs, 82 runs batted in and 89 runs scored, are other accomplishments of the lank Californian.

While Williams was joining the long list of players who have hit three homers in a game, Boudreau was tying a record, held by 20 players, by hitting four doubles in one contest.

The Yanks bowed twice to Detroit. After Hal Newhouse had hung up his 17th victory on a three-run 5-1 score, Stubby Overmire earned his first decision of the season, 6-3.

St. Louis applied the tightener to the national chase by dumping Brooklyn twice, 5-3 and 2-1. The double loss reduced the Dodgers' margin to 2 1/2 games.

Chicago also closed in on the Durocher gang, knocking over New York 7-4. Boston clung to a first division berth by one percentage point when it divided a pair with Pittsburgh, 4-1 and 2-5.

Johnny Vander Meer capped his fourth straight and his first shut-out of the year against the Phillies, 3-0, but Ken Rifenberger squared matters by silencing Cincinnati Reds, 8-2.

In the American league, Washington trounced St. Louis 5-3 and 4-2.

Connie Mack's Athletics split with Chicago, 5-4 and 3-4.

Henderson Adds To League Lead
(By The Associated Press)

Henderson, Jacksonville, Texarkana, and Greenville waved the victory banners in the East Texas league yesterday.

Elton Davis chalked up his 18th mound victory of the season when Henderson hung an 8-6 defeat on Lufkin.

Jacksonville took a two-run lead in the second inning and stretched it into a 7-3 victory over Tyler. Texarkana swamped Sherman 8-2.

Greenville rode roughshod over two Paris pitchers to a 10-5 triumph.

GET THE NEW B.F. GOODRICH SILVERTOWN AND KNOW YOU'RE SAFE!

The new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown has been tested by experts! By experts like Col. A. R. Killam (shown here), Superintendent of Indiana State Police, who helped put the tire through miles of carefully recorded road tests. Millions of miles of tests proved the superior construction of the new B.F. Goodrich tire.

Come in and see us today for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

You can get earlier delivery if you see us NOW!

"Outwears Prewar Tires!" Those magic words have made the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tire the most wanted tire on the market—because those words state an honest fact conclusively proven by millions of miles of carefully recorded tests and millions more miles of consumer driving!

What does the new B.F. Goodrich tire have? It has B.F. Goodrich's own "road level" tread to give you more rubber to share the wear... more tread to stop on... more traction to hug the curves. It has tougher cords and more of 'em to give it a far stronger body.

Even at high speeds, the new Silvertown OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

Chinese Girl Is Author of Books

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

LIN TAIYI, 20-year-old daughter of the Chinese author Lin Yutang, twirled her jade bracelet around her wrist and talked of the two books she has written, the one she is now writing, the process of growing up, her secret of success, the problems of the young generation in China and many other things.

"The black dress, which molded her lissome little figure, was a classical Chinese design. But her hair-dress was modern American and so was the lipstick which matched the corse braid on her dress. Her English flowed with the swiftness of a waterfall and her bright black eyes looked out on the world with eager appraisal.

"The process of growing up has been very disillusioning," she said, giving the bracelet another twirl. "When you are little you are taught that pink is pink and blue is blue and a villain is a villain. But when you grow up you find that many so-called villains have a lot of good in them. I don't know one really bad person except Hitler and other people from headlines. Yet there is all this trouble! I think it's because we are all human. There's good in the villains—and I suppose 'villain' is some of the good people."

Taiyi—the middle one of Lin Yutang's three daughters—has covered more territory than most people do in a lifetime. She was born in Peking, traveled in Europe, lived in New York during the war years, taught Chinese at Yale University, joined the Chinese army as a lieutenant in the spring of 1945, served as secretary to its surgeon general, Robert Lim, and returned to New York, where her parents now live, last May. She loves dancing and the movies. To her two novels—"The Golden Coin" and "War Tide"—she expects to add a third this fall.

"Mother wants me to go to college," she said, "but I just want to write and write. The secret of success is just plain hard work—isn't it? I want my new book to express what problems the new generation in China has to face. You see, the old

Wear your best bib and tucker when you go shopping, if you want to—perhaps needs to, in these days of scarce merchandise—impress the saleswoman.

As startling as this sounds, it's the advice of a noted New York personal shopper and style-consultant, says Miss Sherman, who serves her clients and the women before whom she lectures.

"Because a saleswoman can only judge a new customer by the clothes that she wears," says Miss Sherman, "these become her standard of comparison when she marches out new merchandise."

There was a time when "impressing" the saleswoman that you are a woman of taste and discrimination was not so important. But it is now, Miss Sherman insists, if you want an even break in getting your share of selective merchandise from scarce stocks.

She says that the way to avoid the necessity to sport your best finery for a shopping jaunt is to become acquainted with and make a friend of your saleswoman. Obviously, it doesn't matter what you wear when you shop, if she knows who you are.

One problem has been solved for the movie-going public. Some public-minded citizen has invented a silent paper-bag for the popcorn, peanuts, candy, etc., that so many movie-goers like to munch on during tense moments on the screen. Now if someone can just get rid of a few more distractions the moviegoer ought to become the perfect place to relax when one is running away from the kids for an evening.

For example:

The six-foot-plus giant who always moves in to take the seat directly in front of you, occupied by a shorty when you arrived.

The love-birds who put their two heads together and completely blot out the screen for those behind them, and who don't seem to know that a couple who plan to use movie seats for a parlor sofa should sit in the back row.

The giggling girls who go to the movies in threes or fours, and start to gossip whenever they find the picture boring.

The small child for whom no baby-sitter was available, and who must be hushed continually during the performance.

BEWARE THE KNOW-IT-ALL
The fellow who has seen the movie before, and who, in an effort to impress his date with his clairvoyance, lets everybody within earshot in on what is going to happen next.

The seat-changers who are forever improving their lot by moving whenever they spy two vacant seats a little farther front.

Taking the crunching noise out of the paper bag is a start in the right direction. But there are a few more movie menaces that somebody ought to do something about.

Refrigerators equipped with heat to counteract the temperature changes experienced in a run from South Africa to New York are being installed aboard six combination car-passenger vessels.

Reports Show Local Women Plan To Help in Food Preservation Week

The 25 million housewives who put up more than four billion jars of food in one year must swing back into action and steer toward the greatest season of home food preservation in history!

Today marks the beginning of National Food Preservation Week, but this is only the beginning. Home and community preservation activities, already underway, must be continued clear into the fall months.

Locally, women are canning a big percentage of the fruit and vegetables produced in home gardens.

The Merten Home Demonstration club, one of the typical clubs in this locality, has 14 members and of that group, 12 have productive gardens this season. Mrs. V. Smith, president of the Merten club, estimates that 3500 cans and jars of fruit, vegetables and pickles will be canned by members of her club.

The canning season has been successful to date, according to Mrs. Smith. She asserts that they have not had one spoilage. The club members use the latest methods and devices in canning.

Gardening notes of the club members show that several are growing potatoes with a four inch diameter and onions with a 4 1/2 inch diameter. In one garden, 68 bunches of onions have been produced with an average of eight to nine large onions in each bunch.

The following report, compiled by Mrs. Smith shows the average number of jars canned for two families: greens, 6; asparagus, 6 pints; English peas, 125 pints; strawberries, 24 pints; carrots, 48 pints; beets, 32 1/2 quarts; beans, 71 1/2 quarts; apricots, 14 quarts; pineapple, 11 pints; squash, 1 pint; plum juice, 6 quarts; potatoes, 8 bushels and onions, 4 bushels.

Expectations for the rest of the canning season include the following: black eye peas, okra, corn, cream peas, cucumbers, horseradish, tomatoes, radishes, cantaloupe, lettuce, Swiss chard, salsify, squash (yellow and white), parsnips, butterbeans, parsley, sage, summer savory, dill, bell and hot pepper.

Reports from women living in town show that they are canning and preserving although not on as large a scale as women who have their own gardens. At present many are preserving peaches and although the heavy season for strawberries is over, traces of them are still expected for preservation.

Industry, business and employee groups all over the nation, have a big stake in this important food

INDUSTRY FOLLOWS POWER - AND WE'RE ON OUR WAY!

Industry needs a lot of electric power and we're ready to supply it. We started long before the war ended. Our expansion program which includes additions to six power plants, an entirely new plant in one location, and miles of new transmission lines, makes it possible for industry to settle in practically any section of the territory we serve. We can offer ample electric power for any industry, large or small.

The effort we are making to help develop the territory we serve proves our faith in the future of the people we serve.

No. 27 of a series of advertisements designed to help build this fast growing territory in which we serve.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

REWARD

President Truman's complaint about poorly paid and poverty-stricken federal officials does not apply to a former distinguished member of the Roosevelt-Truman household—silver-haired Leo T. Crowley, 57, while head of the foreign economic administration, alien property custodian and president of the Federal deposit insurance corporation.

Like George E. Allen, whose work enabled him to progress from assistant hotel manager to the directorship of twenty-five corporations, and eventually to membership on the RFC, Mr. Crowley made politics pay well in dividends to himself.

It is true that he deserved a reward from the late President Roosevelt, for it was the suave diplomat—Mr. Crowley who personally negotiated the alliance of the democratic organizations in Wisconsin and Minnesota and the La Follette progressive and farmer-laborites, respectively, in the presidential campaign of 1932.

INFLUENCE

The Wisconsin man's first job at the Capital, as president of the FDIC, paid him only $10,000—the sum President Truman says is too low to enable him to obtain able officials for government service.

An examination of the Crowley income tax returns by enterprising reporters of a Madison newspaper, however, shows that he ended up by making a larger salary than the President of the United States.

The records reveal that between 1939 and 1944 Mr. Crowley drew $432,770.43 in salaries and dividends from private utilities and other corporations in which he served as a director.

It is alleged that he was given these extracurricular posts because of the political prominence and influence in Washington.

INCOME—His 1938 tax returns disclose that his income that year was only $13,225.34, of which the sum of $3,225.34 was paid by private power interests. The balance came from Uncle Sam.

In 1944 he was receiving $81,000 from outside sources, including $75,000 from utilities. Thus, with his $10,000 federal pay, he was making about $91,000 annually.

His only known utility connection at that time was his association with the Standard Gas and Electric company. He received $50,000 from that firm, which had a series of difficulties with the SEC that led to Mr. Crowley's appointment.

SMART

Another disclosure by the Madison Capital-Times is of Mr. Crowley's dealings with the Wisconsin Bankshares corporation, a multi-million dollar banking institution in Milwaukee. In 1938, when he was still head of the federal deposit insurance corporation, he owed $81,830.44 to the bank. In that same year the corporation reported that it had charged off the indebtedness.

In the following seven years, according to the Madison newspaper, Mr. Crowley paid off only $3,495.24 of the loan. In that same period, according to his income tax returns, his total income before deduction exceeded $500,000.

Mr. Crowley was always regarded as a smart business man and politico. But nobody knew he was that smart!

WITLESS

The indignation voiced by house members, including Speaker Sam Rayburn, an army recording of telephone conversations in the May-Garrison contract "scandal" caused a lifting of eyebrows in congressional cloakrooms. Such telephone checkups are standard practice at the Capitol, although the custom came into more general use with the advent of the new deal.

Every cautious official, including many members of house and senate, uses this kind of tap. The government has spent millions of dollars for the apparatus, showing that the system had high approval.

Few M. Cs own machines, but many legislators have their secretaries listen in and make stenographic reports. It provides a safeguard against misrepresentation by lobbyists and other hangers-on whose business might be suspect.

One army witness before the Mead committee gave the reason for this kind of tapping. "We knew that some day we would be investigated," he said. Dealing in billions of dollars of munitions contracts when speed rather than economy was the main object, an officer of official at Washington who did not protect himself in this way—against friends as well as enemies—would have been witless.

CLUB—House members will probably leave Andrew Jackson May of Kentucky, military affairs chairman involved in the Garrison war contract scandal, to the voters instead of making any move to censure or expel him. Few believe that he can be re-elected next November.

Mr. May has always had a tough time in off years. Aided by F. D. R. at the head of the ticket in 1940, he won by approximately 10,500 votes. But in 1942 he squeezed through by a mere five hundred and forty. In 1944, when Mr. Roosevelt's popularity was waning even in Kentucky, his majority was only 3,241.

The man who may have trouble is Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi. In urging voters to "use any means" to prevent colored registrants from voting in the recent primary, he is held to have flouted constitutional guarantees.

But whether the senate, which is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, will muster the courage to question his credentials is doubtful. In some respects the U. S. senate is still a sort of private club, and few members want to be unclubby.

Violent Deaths

Brother of Pampa Is Accident Victim

Capt. Robert F. Bradley, 24, brother of R. N. "Dick" Bradley of Pampa, died Friday night of gangrene at a Santa Fe army hospital, it was learned here today.

The infection set in following an automobile accident near Albuquerque last Monday, in which Bradley's car was sideswiped by a truck.

It was reported that Bradley, a native of Amarillo, was en route to his home at Cedar Crest, N. M., and had his arm outside the car when the accident occurred but that he turned around and pursued the truck until the pain of his injury forced him to stop at a service station.

Highway patrolmen joined the chase and apprehended the driver of the truck who, according to latest reports, may face a charge of manslaughter, instead of the hit-and-run charges filed before Capt. Bradley's death.

Capt. Bradley was stationed at Kirkland field, Albuquerque, before his death. He was flown to Santa Fe after the infection set in.

Survivors, besides the brother in Pampa, include his wife and two-year-old son, Robert Franklin, Jr., mother, Mrs. J. C. Allen, Lynnwood, Calif., and another brother, Furee Bradley, of Amarillo.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Blackburn-Shaw funerals home in Amarillo tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

State Politics

Said the date was "on or about July 27."

Where they are today:

Beauford Jester—Houston area, Beaumont. Homer P. Rainey—Loveland, Littlefield, Hereford, Canyon, Amarillo. Jerry Sadler—Houston. Grover Sellers—Fort Worth. John Lee Smith—San Angelo.

At last three of the gubernatorial candidates plan radio broadcasts today. Sadler will speak over KPRC, Houston, tonight. Sellers will broadcast from Fort Worth tonight. Smith speaks from San Angelo over the Texas Quality network.

Taking the stump for Rainey today will be Mrs. J. B. Palmfield, former member of the board of regents of the University of Texas and a supporter of the university president's policies. She will speak over the Texas Quality network.

Price Daniel, candidate for attorney general, plans to extend his campaign into West Texas this week. Yesterday he was in Lubbock for conferences.

Pat M. Neff, Jr., candidate for attorney general, spent the weekend at his Houston headquarters and will campaign in the southeastern part of the state for the first few days of the week.

Casa March appears today in Mexia, Palestine and Jacksonville. Later in the week he plans a radio broadcast and an appearance at a rally in Houston.

War Profits

Mitchell's motion—which would require action by both senate and house—has been pending within the committee since early last week. Since then there has been a double exchange of correspondence between the committee and the house member.

May's most recent word on the subject was a letter Saturday in which he agreed to appear if he could be "fully and completely accorded" what he termed "conditions conforming with the established concepts of judicial fairness."

He previously had requested permission to cross examine witnesses and to call up additional witnesses and documents.

The restatement of conditions was in reply to a letter earlier the same day which declared the committee had concluded that May was "unable to explain or contradict" testimony linking him with Washington activities of the bombing.

May termed this conclusion "unwarranted."

Republicans who claim some democratic support want to accept the senate bill "as-is" and send it along to Mr. Truman without following the usual procedure of referring it first to a senate-house conference.

Mladen Zujcich, 51, former Chetnik commander believed to be in Paris and sentenced in absentia. Among those receiving prison sentences was Konstantin Potich, former Yugoslav ambassador to the United States, who was sentenced in absentia to 20 years.

The crowd cheered when the verdict was announced against Mihailovic, who took the decision with outward calm.

The verdict against the Serbian Chetnik leader and his fellow defendants climaxed a trial which began June 10. Mihailovic maintained stoutly throughout the proceedings that he was innocent of collaboration with the nazis and that he had fought to drive them from the country.

The trial was marked by the refusal of the Yugoslav government to accept the testimony of U. S. soldiers who were forced down in Yugoslavia during the war and who were ready to swear that they owed their lives to his men.

Mihailovic was sentenced in a courtroom crowded with spectators, many of whom had waited for hours to gain admittance. In contrast to the throng of peasants who had made up the spectators during the 28 days of actual trial, the crowd included hundreds of uniformed partisan fighters, high ranking Yugoslav officers and intellectuals.

BERLIN—(AP)—The American officer was late in arriving.

Irma waited for him nervously. It had been an hour since she and her parents had finished their evening meal of potatoes and cabbage. It had been followed by a rare luxury—real coffee, supplied by the American officer.

Giving the coffee had meant nothing to him, because he had never had to forego coffee and other small luxuries long enough in his own lifetime to know what the gift meant to the German family.

As the moments passed, Irma looked more and more un-easily at the small clock. He had been late before, but never this late. She wondered idly again, as she had a hundred times, what it would all come to—this relationship between her and the young American.

Marriage, she knew, was at present out of the question. And what else was there left for her? She liked to be with him but she never felt quite at ease with him as she had with German boys. He was gayer, quicker, kinder, than anyone she had ever known. But sometimes the laughter evaporated by quick clouds of anger. Like last night, when they had got started on that foolish political argument. She had spoken passionately of her love for a strong new Germany, and he hadn't quite understood just what she meant—she had to speak in his language. And he had told her bitterly: "You're nothing; but an unrecruited Nazi after all—just like all the others."

They had parted unhappily with stinging words and his half-hearted, "See you tomorrow." And here she was waiting.

Behind her back her mother nodded at Irma and lifted significant eyebrows to the father, who was quietly reading his newspaper. He immediately began to talk to Irma casually, trying to draw her into a discussion of the Paris conference. "I don't want to speak about it tonight, daddy," she said. "With a sigh she didn't hear he laid

China UNRRA Office Is 'Slapped Down' for Act

SHANGHAI—(AP)—The Shanghai United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration employees who released of their own accord a recommendation that China's relief supplies be cut, have been officially "slapped down" for the act.

Director General LaGuardia, it was disclosed today, cabled J. Franklyn Ray, acting director of the China UNRRA office, that the release "doesn't meet with my approval and such conduct must not be repeated."

The director general's attitude toward the recommendation itself was not mentioned.

Hughes Is Still in Critical Condition

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—His temperature and pulse still above normal, Howard Hughes remained in critical condition this morning in Good Samaritan hospital, where the famous plane builder was taken a week ago yesterday after crashing his experimental photographic plane.

Last night Dr. Verne Mason said he was acting director of Hughes' chances for complete recovery.

For the year 1945, $35,000,000 in addition to wages was spent by General Electric in extra benefits for employees

It isn't a new thing for General Electric to put more money into pay envelopes for its employees. "Job dividends"—these extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—have a sound business reason. To be successful, a company must be efficient. A man with fewer worries can produce more efficiently, which makes further benefits possible.

Profit-sharing plans, relief and loan plans began over 10 years ago at General Electric. Life insurance for employees, cash for suggestions began over 20 years ago. Pension plans were started 33 years ago. And vacations with pay began 53 years ago.

Every employee has a stake in the future of General Electric. For out of its success—and only out of success—can come further advances in living standards. That is the aim of General Electric, not alone for its employees, but for the public, who gain by new and better products, continuously improved.

Mitchell's motion—which would require action by both senate and house—has been pending within the committee since early last week. Since then there has been a double exchange of correspondence between the committee and the house member.

May's most recent word on the subject was a letter Saturday in which he agreed to appear if he could be "fully and completely accorded" what he termed "conditions conforming with the established concepts of judicial fairness."

He previously had requested permission to cross examine witnesses and to call up additional witnesses and documents.

The restatement of conditions was in reply to a letter earlier the same day which declared the committee had concluded that May was "unable to explain or contradict" testimony linking him with Washington activities of the bombing.

May termed this conclusion "unwarranted."
