Perryton Highway Plans Progressing

Everything looks good at the Perryton end of the proposed Pampa to Perryton highway it was reported by Judge Dave Shanks, county judge of Ochiltree county who was in Pampa Thursday in the interests of the highway.

Leaders of the 175,000 General Motors strikers proposed yesterday (Saturday) a return to work and arbitration of their wage dispute while John L. Lewis raised the threat of a possible nationwide coal strike April 1 unless wage adjustments are granted his 400,000 soft coal miners.

The CIO United Auto Workers Union made its arbitration proposal to C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, Corporation officials, however, indicated there would be no reply to the union's proposal until after tonight.

Some 70,000 anthracite miners, whose contract must run for another month before it can be reopened.

Two strikes are scheduled. Ray Hackney, Texas plant division manager of the Southwestern Telephone Workers union, said union members voted overwhelmingly to authorize the executive committee to call a strike March 7, date for a national telephone work stoppage.

How ceilings will not be changed prior to Sept. 1, 1946, but consideration will be given to lowering the ceiling price on heavier weight butcher hogs after that date, and to lowering the subsidy on heavier hogs before Sept. 1.

The purpose of these changes, the official statement said, "would be to encourage farmers to finish hogs at lighter weights and thereby make more efficient use of our limited supply of feed grains."

Changes will be made in corn and processed grains regulations designed to aid in restoring normal distribution by country elevators and carload sellers.

Detailed changes will be outlined in a separate announcement by the OPA.

A conference of farm, trade and processing representatives also has been called to discuss a war food administration order designed to bring about a more equitable distribution and more complete mobilization of feed grain supplies, by means of use and inventory limitations and delivery preferences for users in greatest need.

Other business handled at the commissioner's court meeting Friday was primarily of a routine nature.

Synthetic Gasoline Plant To Be Built In Brownsville Area

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 2—(AP)—A $14,000,000 synthetic gasoline plant will be built in the Brownsville area to produce gasoline from natural gas.

Robert T. Wilson, president of La Gloria corporation, Corpus Christi, announced today.

Wilson, mayor-elect of this city, said he is one of the project's backers and that the plant will be completed in about two years.

Eight interests are supporting the project, he stated: The Texas company, La Gloria corporation, the Chicago corporation, United Gas corporation, Forest Oil corporation, Niagara Shares corporation, Gulf States Oil company and Stone and Webster, Inc.

Hydrocarbon Research, Inc., which developed the process to be used, will design the plant and supervise the initial operation.

Wilson said it was anticipated the Reconstruction Finance corporation would loan money to cover half the costs of the project.

One half of the natural gas utilized will be supplied by the La Gloria corporation and the other half by the Gulf States Oil company of El Paso.

Man once believed it was possible to make gold, and many men spent their lives working at the task. These men were the first alchemists.

cluded Dr. George H. Fancher of the University of Texas, H. H. Hill of the Dallas office of the bureau of mines, and R. C. Earls and E. G. Dahlgren of Tulsa.

Why a Shortage of Women's Hosiery

And What YOU Can Do About It

Over half of the women in the United States will not have sufficient stockings during the entire year of 1946. Many will not be able to obtain any. There will only be 54% of the total 1940 hosiery production in 1946.

Why?

DuPonts, sole makers of Nylon yarn, stated recently that only enough yarn to produce 30,000,000 dozen pairs of Nylon stockings will be available for the year of 1946. Production in 1945 of women's stockings of all kinds amounted to 43,000,000 dozens, and this quantity fell far short of the demand.

Where Are the Rayon Stockings?

On Oct. 1, 1945, the War Production Board threw out control-order M37-D under which rayon yarn was set aside and sold to the manufacturers of women's hosiery. This rayon yarn is now being used for other purposes. The hosiery manufacturers are unable to procure ANY rayon yarn. Consequently, you will get no more rayon stockings. We know you don't like rayon stockings as well as Nylons, but they're certainly far better than nothing.

If You Want Rayon Stockings - - -

during 1946, to help fill your hosiery needs until more Nylons are available, (which will not be until 1947)

then write a letter, addressed to—
HON. EUGENE WORLEY
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Mr. Mahon is surely interested in this matter. WRITE AND TELL HIM THAT YOU MUST HAVE RAYON STOCKINGS, and that order M37-D should be reinstated IMMEDIATELY, compelling the producers of rayon yarn to again sell to the hosiery manufacturers, who will then make rayon stockings. Write today!

We Received Nylons Last Week

They were immediately put on sale without advance notice to anyone. None were reserved. None were called. Our salesladies, along with our customers were allowed only one pair. We feel that this is a fair way of handling a difficult situation. Future shipments will be handled in a like manner.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Leading stocks continued their downward drift in today's market although real pressure was lacking and dealings among the slowest for a Saturday of the past six months.
 Bullish contingents found little if anything in the spot news to inspire the resumption of buying. Wall Street still was pessimistic over the labor situation.
 The OPA announcement of the long-awaited steel price boost failed of bringing any particular responses of stocks in this category.
 While scattered favorites managed to hold modest gains near the close, declines of fractions to more than 3 points predominated. Transfers were around 500,000 shares.
 Occasional improvement was shown by American Telephone, Woolworth, Bethlehem, Deere, Texas Co., Westinghouse and American Can.
 Bonds were irregular.

Pampa Grid Chart Nearly Completed With 9 Tilts Set

A nine-game football schedule for the 1946 Harvester grid team has been announced by Coach Otis Coffey and Superintendent Knox Kinard. Six of the games are at Pampa.

Three open dates remain on the slate. One will be filled from one of several schools being contacted, it was said.

One new foe appears on the schedule. The Harvesters will battle the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater Sept. 20, in the locals' second game of the year. Sweetwater is in District 3-AA.

Pampa will open the season playing the Electra Tigers here Sept. 13. Pampa opened the 1945 season here with the Tigers and won 14-7. Following the Sweetwater game on Sept. 20, the Harvesters will have an open date, which officials do not plan to fill.

Vernon's Lions of District 2-AA will play here Oct. 4. Pampa beat the Lions 14-0 there last year.

Norman, Okla., another victim of last year's team will play here Oct. 11. Pampa beat Norman 6-0 there last year.

Pampa will open conference play by playing host to the Berger Bulldogs here Oct. 18. Berger took a 33-9 lashing from Pampa last fall.

One of the two open dates, Oct. 25 and Nov. 1, will be filled by a non-conference foe before the Harvesters resume conference play. Lubbock's Westerners, with the veteran Coach Goobar Keys, at the helm, will play in Pampa Nov. 8. Pampa and Lubbock tied 0-0 at Lubbock last fall with the Harvesters winning on penetrations.

The Harvesters will go to Brownfield for a conference game with the Cubs Nov. 15. Pampa defeated Brownfield 25-0 here last year.

Plainview's Bulldogs, winners over Pampa 14-7 last fall at Plainview, will play here Nov. 22.

The regular season will close Nov. 28 with the Harvesters meeting the Amarillo Sandies at Butler field, where no Harvester team has won a game. Amarillo won the game here last year by a 24-10 score.

Cosches Coffey and Jiggs Whittington will open spring training April 8. Over 100 boys, including some members of last year's Harvester and Gorilla football teams are expected to report.

Betting Book Picks Yankees, Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, March 2.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees are favored to win the Major League pennant races this year in the first winter book released today by James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner.

A Cardinal partisan must wager $10 to net $7, under Carroll's odds while a Yankee supporter must risk $5 to win $7.

The world champion Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox are paired in second place in the American league with a bettor placing $2 on the line to win $4 on either club.

In the National league, the champion Chicago Cubs are ranged second with a Cub fan putting up $2 and collecting $5 if he's right.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Pampa high school athletic teams lost their greatest fan in the passing of Mrs. Belle Wells, 63, of San Antonio last Thursday.

Wherever the football or basketball team was, that's where she was—in spirit if not in person.

The mother of a former Harvester star herself, Mrs. Wells outdid herself in doing things for "her boys," because that's the way she looked on them.

Although she left Pampa almost two years ago, she came here all the way from San Antonio last December 1 just to see Pampa and Amarillo play their traditional football game and she was also in the stands cheering the basketball team at the state tournament last year.

We've often seen the little lady sitting in the stands at Harvester park in the coldest weather—usually without a heavy coat, but happy nevertheless, because she had the privilege of watching boys she thought so much of.

Mrs. Wells came to Pampa from Sapulpa, Okla., in 1926. Her son, Odell Walker, was a member of some of the teams that she watched on the local gridiron and on fields away from Pampa.

Members of last year's football team, the coaches and dozens of ex-Harvesters will be at the funeral services at the First Baptist church tomorrow, and you can be sure that the hearts of all former Harvesters and of all real fans will be there, too.

She will be laid to rest in Fairview cemetery, only a block from where she watched and cheered football teams of the past—and you can be sure her spirit will be with those teams of the future.

McCormick Homers In Intra-Squad Tilt

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. March 2.—(AP)—Frank McCormick's booming home run in the last inning of a six-inning intra-squad game today cheered manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia National league club.

McCormick, playing for Cy Morgan's "chow hounds," broke up a 2-2 tie with Pat Colgan's "pets" and gave the "chow hounds" a 4 to 2 victory.

Picture of Top Game To Be Here

Pampans will get the opportunity within the next few days to witness full color, sound films of last fall's top service football game, according to Jack Hanna, Daily News publisher.

Hanna said it had been arranged to bring the complete Fleet City Bluejacket—El Toro Marine game film here for showings to various organizations.

Such stars, many of them All-Americans, as Paul Governall of Columbia, Buddy Young of Illinois, Steve Juzwik of Notre Dame, and many others were on the two teams. There were nearly 30 All-Americans on the combined squads.

Arrangements for the film were made through Eddie West, sports editor of the Santa Ana Register, and Tide Water Oil Associates, which distributes the films. Showing dates will be announced in the Daily News.

Roach Returning To Plainview To Promote Boxing

PLAINVIEW, Tex. March 2.—(AP)—LaVerne Roach, whose honors won in boxing would fill a book, has come home and will promote fights here during the next three months.

His boxing career started in 1938 and led him to the national AOU welterweight championship. Billy Conn, leading contender for the world's heavyweight title, wants to manage him.

Before entering the marines in 1943 Roach was considered one of the best fighters in Texas and he reached his peak while boxing for the leathernecks at Cherry Point, N. C.

Under the management of Johnny Abood, his team rose to No. 1 in service circles.

In March, 1945, Roach won the Eastern national and Puerto Rican Golden Gloves in Madison Square Garden and the following month was elected captain of the eastern team against the west in Chicago, where his team emerged victorious.

After a long string of impressive wins over highly-recognized fighters, Roach was presented the 1945 Golden Gloves outstanding fighter award for the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia area.

He also caught the attention of Nat Fleischer, noted sports author.

Twenty-two-year-old Al Besselink, a bus boy at a St. Petersburg hotel, slipped after his neat opening round of 66, and took a 70.

Long-hitting Snead gave the gallery its biggest thrill on the 571-yard seventh hole. He laced out a tremendous drive which was boosted along with tailwinds and needed only a No. 2 iron to spank the ball to the green. He was down in two for a birdie four.

Lord Byron Nelson of Toledo apparently had blown his chances of getting into a heavy winning. He said he found the Sunset course tricky and didn't like the way he was hitting his shots. The big money winner of the pro card carried a two-under 69 for 137.

Armed Runs Off From Concordian To Win Widener

MIAMI, Fla. March 2.—(AP)—They say that trainer Ben Jones "wins the big ones," and the gentlemen from Missouri proved it again at Hialeah park today when his Armed came through to beat the odds-on favorite, Concordian, by four full lengths in the $50,000 added Widener handicap.

Armed, carrying 128 pounds, was conceded only an outside chance of matching speed with the fleet Concordian.

After an outsider named Skytracer had given Concordian a terrific race in the early running, Armed calmly took command at the far turn and appeared to win almost as pleasantly. Jockey Joey Renick on Concordian took desperately to the whip when Armed went by him, but it was of no use.

The winner's time was 2:02.2, considerably off the Widener record of 2:01.4 held jointly by Mantagna and Columbiana, the 1936 and '37 winners, but that could have been due to the fact that the track still rains. Rider Douglas Dodson never appeared to be pressing Armed, a five-year-old gelding owned by Calumet farms. He took $47,000.

So entranced was the crowd of 25,000 with Concordian's victory in the McLennan that he went to the other starters. As a result, Armed post a 4-5 favorite over the seven paid a handsome $6.40 to win, $2.70 to place and $2.30 to show. Concordian returned $2.50 to each $2 bet on him to place, and $2.30 for show.

Mrs. L. B. Rabinowitz's Reply Paid, which finished a length behind Concordian, paid $2.50 for third place.

Strung out behind the leaders was Devalve, fourth by a length and one-half, and then Ommax, Skytracer, Chanceagain and Petrol Point, the latter Concordian's running mate.

At the half Concordian, trying to win his fifth straight at Hialeah, moved past on the outside when Armed came inexorably to the front, and quickly widened the gap between him and the lesser horses.

The gelding, which trainer Jones had said positively was running only for second money of $10,000, simply went away from there. Under the whip Concordian was able to hold his own down the stretch, but he didn't gain an inch on the flying son of Bull Lea, which won the Widener in '39.

Any golfer may start at any time during the day just so he completes the required 18 holes. Prizes will be awarded winners in all brackets. A 25-cent fee will be charged.

The four shooting brackets are 65-80, 80-95, 95-110 and 110-up. Defending champions of the tourney are Gus Howard, Dan Gribbon, Ray Hagan and Dan McGrew.

Girl Scout Brownies Have 2 New Leaders

After five weeks of being without a leader, Troop 27 of the Girl Scout Brownies has secured two leaders, Mrs. Phyllis McGrath, and Mrs. James Mitchell.

The former leader was Mrs. J. B. Ceward. Troop 27 will again meet at 2:45 Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting place, Sam Houston school.

Greenville Pointing Toward State Crown

GREENVILLE, Tex. March 2.—(AP)—Greenville went half way in the state schoolboy basketball tournament at Austin last year and sees signs that it will make the full trip this season.

The most potent sign is Marcus Freiberg's 6-foot-9 stature. This youngster, tallest schoolboy eager in the nation, has scored almost twice as many points as he did in 1945.

Freiberger has been the big reason why Greenville advanced to the state tournament its second year in a row. Rolling up 477 points in 27 games, he is probably the top scorer of Texas. Last year he got 267.

Greenville won fourth place in a field of eight in the 1945 tournament at Austin and Coach Ray Dorsett is quite optimistic over his team's chances this year.

Vet Announces for Lieutenant Governor

AUSTIN, March 2.—(AP)—Drew C. Nichols, 34 year old veteran, announced today as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Asserting that the "afe of atom demands a new type of public official," Nichols put himself into the race on a platform of "more science applied to human relations, within a Christian democracy."

Williams, Wakefield Are 'Only Kidding'

TAMPA, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, and Dick Wakefield, Detroit Tiger home run basher, said today they were "only kidding" regarding reports they had made bets on which one would have the better season in 1946.

Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, here on a tour of Florida spring training camps, asserted "I can only repeat that gambling in baseball is not tolerated" when asked to comment.

Nance Leads Cadets To Win Over Navy

WEST POINT, N. Y. March 2.—(AP)—Capt. John Nance wound up his collegiated basketball career today by pacing his army teammates to a 67 to 60 surprise victory over navy before 6,000 in the huge field house. The scoring total was a record high for the series that started in 1920. It was army's fifth straight triumph over the Middies and the Cadets now lead in the series, 14 games to 9.

Some 'Assets', 'Liabilities' of UNO Are Listed

PHILADELPHIA, March 2—(AP)—John Foster Dulles, alternate United States delegate to the United Nations organization, last night presented a UNO "balance sheet" in which he listed some of the "assets" and the "liabilities" of the recent UNO meetings.

On the credit side, Dulles pointed to the progress made toward a colonial trusteeship system and the "seriousness" with which the assembly took relief problems. A "divisive and discouraging" development, he said, was the present "trend toward disharmony."

Dulles said it "was particularly hard to find ways of working together with the Soviet Union XXX the Soviet leaders XXX keep up barriers of a kind which normally are used only against an unfriendly and dangerous outer world."

"While the Soviet idea of how the United Nations should work may be different from ours, at least it also, it can be taken as certain that neither the Russian people nor their leaders have any conscious desire to plunge into another war."

Later during a press conference, Dulles was asked if he thought the atomic bomb had had any effect on American-Soviet relations.

He replied that had the United States given the Russians the atom bomb secret, they "would only think we were slightly imbecile."

Largest Increase in Serious Crimes Took Place During 1945

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark reported today that the largest annual increase in serious crimes in 15 years took place during 1945.

Clark said an FBI crime showed serious crimes jumped 12.3 percent over 1944. The offenses considered in the survey included murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft.

These crimes totaled about 1,565,541 during 1945 compared with 1,393,555 in 1944, Clark said, adding that this represents a total of 4,289 serious crimes committed daily.

ACTIVE OZONE CREAM

Neglect a dry skin, and you invite that "years older" look. You tempt lines, and later wrinkles, and you encourage a noticeable scuffing of cuticle that simply won't take a smooth make-up. This dryness needs the action of Active Ozone Cream, with its balance of moisture, oil and nascent oxygen, because this skin type, so fine and fragile, with proper care can be so beautiful.

Notice the exhilarating tingling as this cream goes into action to lubricate and soften that dry surface... to relieve that tense pull of dry skin... to awaken a flower dewiness to make others say, "How well you look!"

Put them all together they spell Pampa. The home of "stronger more powerful" KPDN, which should mean "Keep Pampa Doing Notably."

A novelty in congratulatory message will feature Ken Bennett and Irma Francis, both musicians and voices heard over KPDN daily; and Pampino's barber shop four will be heard. The "Rusty Hinge" boys, as they are coming to be known here, are E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, Bunny Schmitt, Chick Hickman, and Dude Balthrop.

The lumbermen at the Fort Worth meeting said that actually the OPA policy of permitting prices to come up slowly deferred production because the producers of lumber would hold their stocks off the market "for anticipated additional demand."

It continued: "Government bureaus to control business thrive on scarcities and emergencies. By creating scarcities we have emergencies. The present scarcities in our nation are the result of unnatural, unrealistic pricing policies maintained ostensibly to stop inflation but actually to foster an economy of scarcity which is needed to perpetuate conditions requiring government controls."

Lumber Deal

Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas), urging adoption of the full administration plan, reached the house yesterday a few minutes after that body voted 154 to 68 to kill the provision for ceilings on the nation's 40,000,000 existing homes.

Administration supporters then adopted delaying tactics. They caused adjournment until Monday before a vote could be reached on the question of subsidies.

The lumberman opposed subsidizing the industry in these "XXX" Subsidies are undemocratic and fail to solve fundamental problems and constitute largely a shot in the arm for artificial stimulation.

The lumbermen Association of Texas that is so in record as exploring the situation with reference to the availability of lumber and building materials as well as the price situation connected therewith as these conditions exist today and that we urge our senators, congressmen and other public officials to immediately do the things necessary to remove these discriminatory and un-business-like practices and be it further resolved that we petition our senators and congressmen to eliminate immediately all ceiling prices on lumber and building materials.

Housing Plan

The labor department reported about 37,900 new city dwellings were started in January, five times the total started in January a year ago.

The Producers' Council, Inc., announced its "full support" of a commerce department drive to alter outdated and state building codes.

The new-home grants proposed in the Hartley-Peterson measure are intended to give veterans enough money to compete successfully in the real estate market.

They would substitute, in the view of the sponsors, for the price ceilings and suppliers' subsidies which the White House declares necessary to keep home prices within the average veterans' reach.

The White House plans, said the property owners' group, puts too much stress on rental homes and "lacks adequate emphasis on opportunity for home ownership by the veteran."

Eric attacked what he called the "rigid and unworkable" price ceilings called for by the White House, and declared the "premium payment" subsidy plan for building supply dealers could stifle competition.

A letter sent by Mr. Truman to

Beauford Jester

in building a greater state, to disregard the bickering of political extremists and go forward with me along the straight and constructive people's path that leads to the advancement of Texas," Jester said.

"Two conflicting theories are being thrust upon the people of Texas. One, extremely far to the right, would crush labor. The other, equally far to the left, would subjugate management and destroy free enterprise in the conduct of Texas business. The common people of Texas are given scant consideration in either of these high pressure political programs. They are in between, their only privilege being to foot the bills caused by ever increasing tax burdens, increased living costs and encroaching inflation. They are squeezed in between labor and management in many strikes and are victims of the delays, inconveniences and disruption of their living and business due to such strikes. There should be a people's path. The people of Texas are entitled to first consideration in all public matters."

As your governor I hope to promote the welfare and prosperity of every Texan rather than set class against class and promote disunity among our people for political expediency.

Jester's platform calls for the revitalizing of Texas agriculture and endorses the rural planning program of the Texas Centennial for Statehood committee. He opposes any price ceiling on cotton and favors the removal of all price ceilings on agricultural products.

As to labor, Jester is determined that labor and management shall accept and discharge their full responsibilities to the people of Texas, and rid themselves of the "radical fringe which is causing so much industrial strife today." He says he will "strive for a fair deal for both labor and management," but with notice to both that "as governor I shall do everything possible to protect the living conditions, the lives and the property of the citizens of Texas against the excess of either."

Checks Mailed for Livestock Sold

Checks to the 4-H and FFA club boys who sold stock if the recent Top of Texas Junior Livestock show were mailed yesterday together with prize show money, said Clyde Caruth, superintendent of the show, yesterday.

At the same time he expressed his keen appreciation to the business people who purchased junior livestock animals, pointing out the fact that without the support of business people such an exhibition could not be made possible.

U. S. Strikes

were not involved in Lewis' moves. However, a union spokesman predicted the UMW chief would follow the same procedure next month for the hard coal miners.

In his strike notices Lewis interjected an issue almost as thorny as the wage question. It covered the right of mine foremen and other supervisory employees to join the union. Coal operators have bitterly opposed such proposals.

NEGOTIATIONS RESUME

Soft coal miners receive a basic wage of $1 an hour for a 35-hour week. With overtime and other allowances they can earn $63.50 weekly, although the union said the pay has averaged $52.

Despite the opposing stands of the disputants in the General Motors strike, negotiations were scheduled to be resumed Monday. A short parley yesterday was adjourned without any progress reported.

Anderson charged that politics within the UAW "stood in the way of settlement" but this was immediately denied by R. J. Thomas, union president.

The GM executive expressed the opinion that any action the union leaders would take now on the corporation's wage offer would be "prejudicial to their political position" when the UAW holds its convention in Atlantic City March 23.

Thomas accused Anderson of seeking to cause a "split in the union" and called the statement "very much an over-simplification of the entire situation."

Anderson said he believed the principal obstacles still present were the union's demand for a 19 1/2 cents an hourly wage increase and the clause in the terminated contract governing transfers and promotions.

Meanwhile, the union announced that agreement had been reached with the Hudson motor car company, providing an 18 1/2 cents hourly wage increase for 10,000 workers.

The number of strike idle throughout the nation remained at slightly over 800,000.

Pampa Pilots Form New Aviation Club

A preliminary meeting of interested pilots for the purpose of forming an aviation club was held Friday night and Roy A. Webb, Jr., was elected temporary president.

A second meeting is to be held next Friday night to discuss the matter, Webb said. All those who are actively interested in aviation are invited.

Approximately 12 local fliers attended the Friday meeting. It was said that there may be as many as 50 persons who would be able to take an active part in the club.

Marriage Vows Exchanged at Nuptial Mass Thursday

The nuptial mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Father William J. Stack before an altar decorated with palms and urns of white gladioli tied with pink satin streamers, and candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Bride-Elect

Mrs. Edmund J. Kerkvliet was honored before her marriage Thursday at several pre-nuptial parties. The former Miss Blanche McMillen was guest of honor at a heart party Monday evening, given in her honor by Mrs. A. A. Tiemann, Mrs. Grover Stark, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall and Mrs. John Zuercher.

A refreshment plate of sandwiches and salad with coffee was served to Mrs. Dale Pinson, Mrs. Burt Graham, Jr., Mrs. Bert Stevens, Mrs. Gladys Acklam, Mrs. Ervin Thompson, Mrs. Charles Maderia, Mrs. C. Borger Shriners Plan Formal Dance

The Borger Shrine club is arranging a formal dance for all Shriners and their ladies to be given Tuesday evening at the Phillips community hall in Phillips, Texas. Shriners in the Pampa area have been invited to attend the dance. Marie Hedrick's all girl orchestra from Amarillo will play for the event.

Engagement Told At Luncheon Sat.

Mrs. Newton P. Willis of 405 E. Browning entertained Saturday with a luncheon announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Lonna, to Mr. Thomas P. Chapman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Chapman of Minneapolis, Minn.

A color scheme of cornflower blue and white was carried throughout. The table was set with a centerpiece in the form of a slipper made of cornflowers with a satin buckle. From the centerpiece white satin runners with the names "Lonna" and "Tom" in blue letters formed a setting for a wedding ring of cornflowers at each end of the table. The place cards were also in the form of a slipper and at each guest's place was a miniature Dresden slipper containing a scroll which revealed the date of the wedding, April 30.

Covers were laid for: Mrs. John F. Studer, Mrs. Thomas L. Wade, Mrs. Howard Buckingham, Mrs. J. H. Torvie, Mrs. Don M. Conley, Mrs. Hugh Burdette, Mrs. R. M. Bellamy, Mrs. Walter E. Rogers, Mrs. K. WE, THE WOMEN

Radio's No Escape From Hores

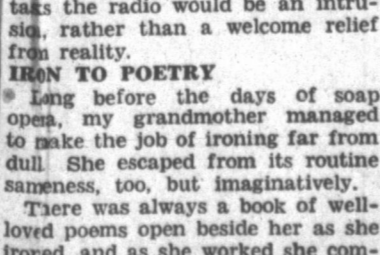

By RUTH MILLETT, NEA Staff Writer

A news magazine, in attempting to explain the hold radio soap operas have on American housewives, quoted one addict's tribute to the escape dramas as typical of thousands of feminine distillers. "I am confided," she says, "I always listen while I'm ironing. It makes me forget I'm ironing."

If homemaking is such a dreary, depressing job that thousands of American women try to blot reality by daily living vicariously through the struggles and triumphs and romances of soap opera heroes, hasn't the education of women failed pathetically on its counts?

The first: to make women that the job of homemaking is as interesting, as full of creative opportunity and job satisfaction as any other career of women.

The second: to arouse in women

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe your own. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcinate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Clothes Perfectionist Has Band-Box Look

JOAN CRAWFORD: Anchors her posies.

ALEXIS SMITH: Super-ensembling.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Be a "perfectionist" about your clothes—their ensembling, fit and smartening up—and your looks will reflect the infinite care that you take.

Milo Anderson, Hollywood studio designer, says it's this painstaking care the stars take to perfect their looks which helps put across their box-office appeal.

Joan Crawford, he says, likes out-of-the-ordinary tricks of tying in her costume effects. To integrate flowers into a costume, for example, she has twin silks cut and buttonholed into a suit jacket especially to give anchorage to the stems of her posies.

Alexis Smith's super-ensembling is another case in point. Anderson says. If her suit lapels are faced with contrasting aiffeta, that trimming is Alexis' cue for a matching hat or a snood. This idea—or variations played upon it—is a good one to remember when you want to make your suit and your accessories look as though they were made for each other.

Stars who want to score wardrobe hits are just as exacting about the fit of their clothes, says Anderson, citing the self-originated Jane Wyman trick of strapping shoulder pads to her slip-straps for wear under sweaters. Jane also snaps up her lingerie straps for wear with play clothes which don't come equipped with shoulder-building devices.

ROUNDED WAISTLINE

To keep slim skirts from buck-

ling across her hips, Joan Crawford had the waistline rounded in the back as much as three inches. This trick—its particularly helpful if your skirt is topped by a brief jacket—is a good one to use for minimizing hip curves. Joan's idea of weighting her hemlines to make them hang as evenly as a carpenter's level is also one to add to your own repertoire.

So is Alexis Smith's pet trick of sewing a hooked tab fore and aft to the hems of her shirtwaist blouses. Hooked to thread loops sewed into slips, these anchors keep tuck-ins where they belong.

THERE ARE SOME THINGS WE MUST ADMIT

One would be led to believe, after examining some of the developments during the past week, that America is again returning to its wishful-thinking, which was one of our characteristics during those years just prior to the inception of war in Europe.

Developments are taking that inevitable turn toward a state of confusion and ignorant expectancy, against which we in a democracy must always be on guard.

A segment of the congress, led by House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin (Mass.), is advocating that the United States take the initiative in banning compulsory military training throughout the world. As a result, some of our people instantly grasped this news as the accomplished fact.

This week a lecturer here followed the argument being laid down by the so-called experts on international politics—and including the eminent columnist Walter Lippmann—namely, that the Russian and American interests touch but don't overlap, and, therefore, why should we clash militarily?

We should like to point out to the reader that we are not opposed to the effort of banning compulsory military training in the world (and wish it were possible), nor to the idea of saying that there is no reason that Russia and the U. S. should fight. It is against the results of the arguments which we oppose. For instance, when the congress moves to seek the ban of this training, our people at once assume that it is a fait accompli, and that all is well with the world. There will be, they think, no chance for war. In the second case, our people get the idea that because there is no apparent cause for war, according to the experts, between the U. S. and Russia, there will be no war.

This is defective thinking—wishful thinking, we believe—and we should guard against it, if we are going to remain a free people.

Nevertheless, we should like to point out that we are not among those who think we are about to go to war with Russia just because there has been some rather strong language used on the diplomatic level. No country, we believe, would be ready to go to war with the Soviet because it announced yesterday that it would keep some troops in that part of Iran where there is still an upheaval. We do think there is a definite breach of contract on the part of the U.S.S.R., in not getting out of Iran, lock, stock and barrel. But, we wonder, are our own skirts entirely clean?

Moreover, we should like to point out that we are not among those who think we are about to go to war with Russia just because there has been some rather strong language used on the diplomatic level. No country, we believe, would be ready to go to war with the Soviet because it announced yesterday that it would keep some troops in that part of Iran where there is still an upheaval. We do think there is a definite breach of contract on the part of the U.S.S.R., in not getting out of Iran, lock, stock and barrel. But, we wonder, are our own skirts entirely clean?

In saying these things, it is necessary to point out that our country should stand vigil over its holdings, its sovereignty. We deplore the disintegration of our armed forces to such a point that we could not adequately defend our position as a nation and as an influential voice in keeping the peace of the world.

We are somewhat like the speaker who appeared here this week. Some of those who heard him may have misinterpreted his discussion of power—as represented by large armies and natives and productive potential. This man did not applaud power; he admitted the existence of power, and every sane, reasonable man must do that.

Does this mean, you may ask, that we are advocating the use of force as a medium of adjusting the world the way we think it should be adjusted? Not at all. But if the forces of diplomacy and persuasion fail, where do we go from there? If diplomacy and persuasion fail to move our opponent, and our substitutes force against us, what do we do then?

Our apparent confusion and wishful-thinking should be tempered by these questions. Because we Americans do not believe in compulsory military training from the democratic viewpoint, it is apocryphal to conclude that the rest of the world will believe that as well. And we are still inhabitants of the world, and, indeed, an unpredictable world at that.

Christian Century Publishes

Articles Based on Errors

In the last issue I attempted to show the great disservice the Christian Century is rendering to their fellow men by publishing articles written by Kermit Eby of the CIO which use false premises from which to draw conclusions. As I pointed out in the former issue his whole theory of raising wages levels is based on the error that increasing purchasing power for one group by artificial wage increases total purchasing power.

His whole article is based on the theory that the workers are responsible for increased production, and that therefore they are entitled to the increased production. They are certainly entitled to their share of the increased production if they were responsible for the increased production, but the workers could not raise their production one iota if they did not have better tools or better methods of saving human labor.

The reduced cost in automobiles, in radios, in everything is due to better and more efficient tools and better knowledge. The increased production should go to the consumer, not to the worker and permit all people to help establish values. And if one group of workers are more efficient than another group, then employers will bid against each other to get the more efficient group. They will not need a collective bargaining group to help push up their wages. Competition will push it up.

Under a free market the benefits of efficiency are fairly distributed. They go to the entrepreneur, the man that has the idea, the man that furnished the capital and runs the risk, to the worker and to the consumer. All of them benefit; all of them have their standard of living increased in proportion as they contribute to the increase in production.

If it is not done by a free market, then it is done by force, by coercion, by some form of tyranny by a dictator. The incentive is crushed, production goes down and everybody suffers. Yet the Christian Century publishes an article that the workers are responsible for the increase of 30 per cent of production. If they are, let them raise the land, hire the capital and run the labor, and get their 30 per cent of increased efficiency.

Mr. Eby has written and the Christian Century has published. It is bound to result in more poverty, misery and destitution to the degree such a collectivistic theory is put into practice. All history is evidence of that fact.

I subscribe to the Christian Century simply to know how people who read it are being miseducated and taught anti-Christian nostrums.

This would put an end to the

The Boy Who Shouted—

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

FORTUNE—Federal economists' long-time prosperity forecasts bear a striking similarity to Joseph's Biblical dream and the subsequent advice which he gave Pharaoh on Egyptian national planning. Although their estimates vary, the average of their guesses is that the United States will enjoy about seven years of unbroken good times.

Mordcaai Ezekiel, the well-known department of agriculture wizard, anticipates a high level of production and purchasing can be maintained for at least five years. Prominent industrialists, businessmen and some who have quit the cabinet and war agencies only recently, agree on seven.

More optimistic persons with reputations as prognosticators suggest we have a full decade of comfortable living ahead. It is almost impossible to find anyone justifiably who will hazard good fortune for more than ten years. That is their top estimate.

DATE—The augurs date the start of the "Happy Days Are Here Again" era from January 1946. In their opinion, industry will be reconverted and will be pouring out a vast volume of heavy and light articles by next New Year's. There will be present the three basic factors for prosperity—plenty of money, consumer goods and employment.

The length of this golden period, which should outshine the Texas Guinan-Al Capone days of the middle 'twenties, will depend on how long it will take for the new army of buyers to fill needs created by the war's lack of peacetime manufacturing.

The surveys differ on the number of years that will be required to meet the backlog of homes, repairs, autos, house furnishings, new services, clothing, etc. The expected speedup in the facilities of production and distribution may shorten the time in which reaccumulation will saturate the market.

When the hunger for things long deferred has been sated, whether it be in five or ten years, it is feared that output will have reached such a peak that it cannot be absorbed. In the 'twenties it took about seven or eight years, from 1921-1929, in the 'thirties, after the 1933 depression, it required about the same time.

Then, so every school thinks, will follow the same old cycle of closed shops, layoffs, and a swift decline. And the higher estate we reach in the interim, the faster may be the slump.

Incidentally, even the new dealish "brain trusters"—the few who are left—and about convinced that their reforms have not changed and cannot change the laws of economics any more than Joseph's foresight could.

Social security, banking, labor and agriculture advances may soften the shock, but that is about all. And the public debt will be so swollen that it may be difficult or impossible to finance a federal rescue act on a cast scale.

COMPLICATIONS—William O.

THE MIDDLE WESTERN ATTITUDE

The typical midwesterner is not "isolationist" in the sense of being blindly ignorant of the outside world or indifferent to the impact of its problems. Not only the larger cities, but the smaller towns get their full quota of lectures on international subjects. But the midwesterner seems to have more of the Missouri "Show Me" spirit of buyers to fill needs created by the war's lack of peacetime manufacturing.

Mr. Eby ends up his article by saying, "We must dig down and remove the economic root of this complex." We must provide full employment and see that Mr. X gets a decent job at decent wages. Of course this does not sound dangerous unless we analyze who Mr. X means by "We." If he means by "We" the state, as he undoubtedly does, then he is advocating collectivism; then he is denying the Christian right of an individual to pursue happiness according to his own conscience; then he is entirely repudiating Christianity. He is implying by this statement that he and his associates through the state by force have some way of giving all people in the United States and the world a decent job at decent wages. He is insinuating that the state can take a slow, inefficient, inexperienced, lazy, irresponsible person and give him a decent job at a decent wage. No rational person is ever foolish enough to make such an absurd statement.

Jesus, the greatest teacher of all time said, "The poor you will always have with you" and yet Mr. Eby who poses as a minister of the Gospel and as a director of education and research absolutely repudiates the teachings of Jesus Christ and proposes an economic miracle of men having a fine living and a living security whether they produce it or not.

No magazine, no writer can do a greater disservice to humanity than to publish such articles as Mr. Eby has written and the Christian Century has published. It is bound to result in more poverty, misery and destitution to the degree such a collectivistic theory is put into practice. All history is evidence of that fact.

I subscribe to the Christian Century simply to know how people who read it are being miseducated and taught anti-Christian nostrums.

"It is for me to utter that which is sincerely believed to be true, and to use all influence to let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributions one cent to confine their articles to 800 words.

To the Editor:

In your issue of Feb. 20, Mr. Joseph E. Kent says my viewpoint, as he says, is for lower wages.

If he can find anything in my column as evidence of that, I would be under great obligation to him if he would point it out. He might jump at that conclusion because I am opposed to wages being established by coercion or by law.

I am opposed to artificially raised wages for special groups because I am convinced that any such practice will mean lower wages for the people as a whole in the long run. I am opposed to it because I want a constantly increasing wage for all workers and I know that can come only from one way—more production. And more production will come from a competitive system than from a system in which wages are planned by people who have special axes to grind in establishing special wages for special groups.

He asks if I would work for $20 a week after I had graduated from college and taught school. The amount of wages a man gets does not tell the whole story. If he had had an opportunity to learn, that is part of his wage. I quit working for the same $20 a week after 12 years and I was getting $200 a week. The $2 a week I got when I started was all I was worth at that time and at that place.

Mr. Kent seems to think that wages are based on needs rather than on what someone else thinks the worker's production is worth. His religion and his not being nationally popular to develop within or without his administration for more than twelve years.

There is no senator or governor of sufficient prominence or vote appeal to be rushed in as a substitute! Even should "Jim" Mead win the New York governorship next fall, his religion and his not being nationally known might prove effective bars.

A new figure has appeared in recent speculation, but his availability is doubted. He is associate justice Frank Murphy, former governor of Michigan and governor general of the Philippines. For all his seeming otherworldliness, "Our Frank" is astute and ambitious.

He has carried the liberal torch in many of his judicial opinions. He has not led a cloistered life since he donned the black robe, appearing at many public and political functions. But there again his religion may be a handicap. For more than one reason the politicians would like to think the contrary, but they hate to take such a long chance in a critical contest.

"KITCHEN—Uncle Sam's system for discharging surplus workers is not setting a good example for private employers in the permanent postwar employment of women in business and industry. The ladies in Washington offices and elsewhere have staged quiet mutinies over the number of pink slips that have been handed out since V-J day.

It is estimated that more than 300,000 of them have been separated from their homes, just to joy-ride against their will. They wanted to remain on the pay roll.

Another factor handicaps their permanent retention. The nation's Capital and other municipalities are closing down the facilities for "carrying" children while their mothers spend the days in offices or factories. They must go back to the kitchen, whether they like it or not.

Herlingen Field Declared Surplus

HARLINGEN, March 2.—(AP)—Efforts of citizens of Herlingen to keep the Harlingen army air field on an active status apparently were balked yesterday when Coy. W. J. Seldon, commanding the field, announced the field had been declared surplus.

Government property at the installation is estimated to value $15,000,000.

Peter Edson's Column: SOME MORE LITTLE NEWS ABOUT BIG PEOPLE

By PETER EDSON

NEA WASHINGTON Correspondent WASHINGTON. (NEA)—Harold Ickes had quite a time with photographers on the day he left office as secretary of the interior. They wanted to pose him cleaning out his desk, packing his brief case to take home for the last time, etc.

"This is too realistic to suit me," cracked Ickes, but that didn't deter the cameramen in the slightest. "Take a letter and act like you were stuffing it in your brief case," directed one photographer.

Ickes reached for a letter and came up with one signed by Truman. "Wait a minute," Ickes ordered. "I'll dig down and get one signed by Roosevelt."

All during the war, General of the Army George C. Marshall drew pay and allowances of around $14,000 a year as chief of staff while his subordinate, General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, drew $16,000 as chief of the air forces.

The difference came from the fact that Arnold was able to qualify for flying pay. Congress, however, is now preparing to move in and curb the flying pay "racket." If the reform goes through, only personnel assigned to aircraft for regular flying duty will be entitled to the extra pay.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is still awfully shy when the press is around and doesn't hesitate to show it. In the press conference at which he was pinned the Legion of Merit on the retiring ambassador to Moscow, Overall Harriman, Byrnes insisted that Harriman "take the hot seat," meaning the chair which Byrnes usually occupies.

After the award, Byrnes prepared

Regulation of Lumber Costly To Everybody

Editor's note: The following article is reprinted from the column "The Home Towner," by Walter R. Humphrey, as it appeared in The Fort Worth Press.

By WALTER R. HUMPHREY

The lumber dealers of Texas figure they have the best answer to the demand for more housing. And I wouldn't be surprised if they're right.

They contend that the black market already has brought inflation on lumber could be removed without any considerable over-all increase in building costs.

They strongly oppose subsidies and so should we. They feel that subsidies and priorities to the manufacturer and pre-fabricator are harmful to the building industry. Will injure the home-builder and will not speed the home construction program.

It is their strong conviction, also, that people in the lumbered building business can do a better job of quick building than the government can, that they could get into high gear if they had the opportunity.

THERE IS A REAL likelihood that the lumbermen have a sound case for the OPA. Because of the lumber black market which is penalizing severely the legitimate dealers who are attempting to observe the law and the regulations.

It could be well established, I am sure, that the large lumber mill operators have been pretty well hamstrung by the OPA since the beginning. They certainly make that contention and have all along.

They have obeyed all the rules and regulations. They report that lumber is up in price an average of 24 per cent over the price before the war, while labor costs in the mill districts have soared 93 per cent, maintaining and operating costs 130 per cent.

So, in the main, they have quit producing lumber, in quantity anyway.

They say they simply can't afford to operate on that basis. Several large Texas and Louisiana mills have closed since Jan. 1 because "OPA regulations won't permit them to operate at a profit." And while lumber is needed desperately.

One such mill, Tremont Lumber Co. at Rochelle, La., which has been operating continuously since 1908 and its timber available to operate indefinitely, has closed its doors recently, throwing 425 men out of work and cutting off another source of supply for the building program.

SO SMALL MILLS, operating on a black market basis, have taken over the majority of the lumber mill sales in Texas.

It was estimated at the Lumbermen's association board meeting here Monday that 60 per cent of the entire low pine production in Texas—Louisiana timber belt is now going through black market channels. Several lumbermen told me the percentage was nearer 90!

So we have an unhealthy kind of lumberodolphia which costs everybody concerned.

The builder now goes to all these mills to get his lumber. He pays what he has to pay. There is no such thing as a ceiling.

These black market operators are doing so well that a stiff fine under the price control act, if it were levied against any of them, wouldn't be the slightest deterrent.

So, with 60 to 80 per cent of the lumber being sold in black market channels without regard to ceilings, it is easy to see why the legitimate lumberman has a squawk and has it coming.

The inflation is here in lumber because of that situation.

And for those who have been honest, honesty hasn't been the best policy for their own welfare. It is a sad situation in which, maybe the lumbermen's answer is the best answer.

Where Is Your New Home Now?

RIGHT NOW THE HOME YOU WANT TO BUILD IS IN THE TREE, THE IRON ORE PITS, THE CLAY BANKS AND THE QUARRY.

Legislation, HH priorities, allocations, preference rating, will not build a home. Neither will such legal juggling of a meagre supply of materials produce building materials. An HH priority may mean little more than a license to hunt home-building materials

Lumber and building material dealers and contractors can build all the homes America needs--if building materials are available. But unless production of materials is unblocked, no one can build homes. Whether a house is labeled "Public Housing" or "Prefabricated Housing" or a "Privately Built Home"--all are bidding for the same supply of materials.

Here are the materials that must be produced. These are the materials in short supply which are subject to distribution controls through priorities:

- |                             |                     |
|-----------------------------|---------------------|
| LUMBER               | MILLWORK     |
| CONCRETE BLOCK       | COMMON BRICK |
| CLAY SEWER PIPE      | FACE BRICK   |
| STRUCTURAL CLAY PIPE | GYPSUM BOARD |
| CAST IRON SOIL PIPE  | GYPSUM LATH  |
| CAST IRON RADIATION  | BATH TUBS    |

What has happened that all these essential building materials are lacking? Have we exhausted raw material supply? Or plant production?

NO! But the irresistible force of industry has run into an immovable body!

In the case of Brick and Tile, for example, it took the OPA six months to grant a price adjustment that allowed 125 of 400 closed plants to reopen. This action resulted in a 35% increase in production within the following three months.

Similarly, OPA's unrealistic pricing policies blocked adequate production of Gypsum board and lath, cast iron soil pipe, and clay sewer pipe for months.

Although price adjustments have been granted in the above-mentioned fields, lumber production still remains under wartime pricing formulas.

It is still more profitable for the lumber mill to cut items for export to foreign countries, or to cut logs into size used by industry than it is to manufacture lumber for home construction. Premium prices for industrial items have been granted in some instances during the war, but now that peace has come, price adjustments encouraging home construction lumber have not been made by OPA.

Price adjustments are needed to obtain maximum production of hardwood flooring, millwork, ceiling, siding, and plywood.

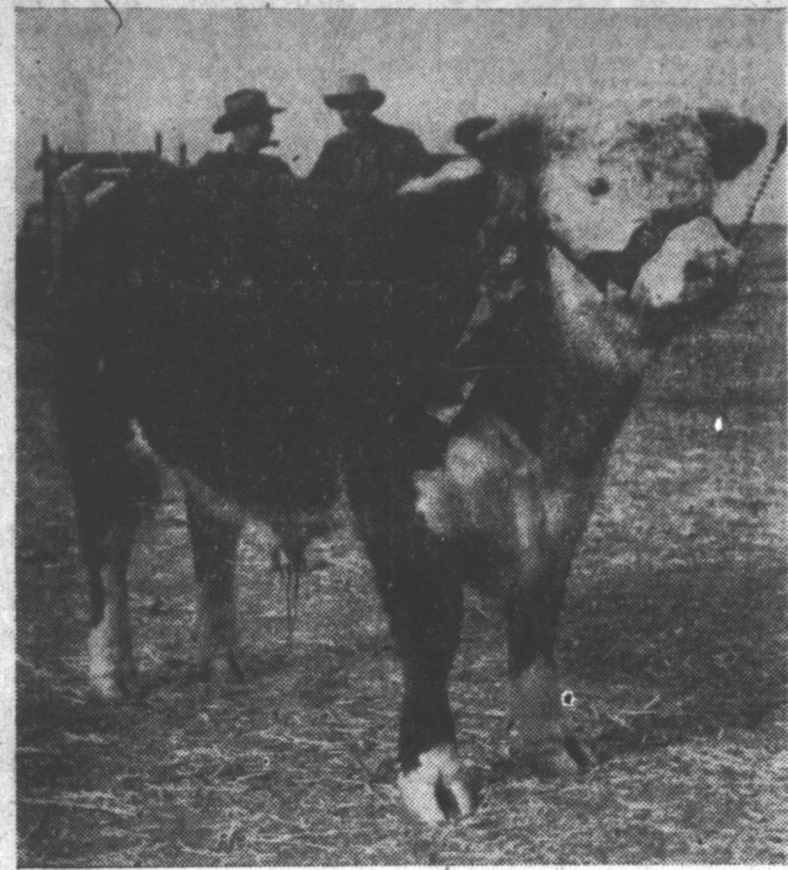

Recommendations have been made to the OPA repeatedly, but action is not forthcoming.

The Building Industry stands ready to build the homes Americans need. But until the production and flow of materials is unblocked by OPA, thousands upon thousands of homes for Americans and veterans will go unbuilt!

★ Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry. ★

Wheeler Coach Named School Superintendent

WHEELER, March 2.—Election by the Wheeler school board of W. O. Carrick, popular young athletic director, as superintendent of the city schools to succeed L. G. Kammerdeiner, resigned, was greeted with enthusiastic approval by students, patrons and faculty members alike.

Carrick who came here as coach and science instructor last October following his discharge by the navy, was named to head the Wheeler schools at a meeting of the board of trustees on February 18. He assumed charge immediately.

Temporarily, at least, Carrick will continue as boys' athletic coach. J. E. Osborne, high school instructor, has taken over the duties as girls' coach, and Miss Melba Wiley, has been employed as science instructor to replace Carrick. She assumed her duties Monday.

The new superintendent's home was at Childress before entering the service in June, 1942. He is a graduate of Carey high school and Sul Ross college at Alpine where he received his B.S. in economics and physical education.

Carrick coached at Northfield two years and played semi-pro basketball at intervals following his graduation. He was assigned to physical education and athletic coaching during his two-year tour of duty in the navy.

Panhandle Briefs

Publication of the Groom News was resumed this week after having been suspended since Jan. 1, 1945. Plans for modernizing the News equipment are underway. Max Wade, editor and publisher, states in his initial reinstated issue. The News will be published on Thursday.

An election has been called by the city commission of Groom to vote on the installation of a $40,000 sewer system. The election will be held March 9.

Dr. John L. Witt, who recently purchased the hotel 66 of Groom, has remodeled the ground floor of the building and installed a modern hospital in the east wing of the building adjoining his offices.

The new hospital is staffed by four nurses, Mrs. Cornell of Clarendon, Mrs. Underwood of Seagraves, Mrs. Callihan of Pampa and Miss Brown.

The past 10 days of warm weather following recent moisture has caused wheat fields to start growing again, reports the Groom News, and prospects appear normal in that community.

Among those celebrating birthdays in McLean today are Mrs. R. A. Burrows, Mrs. Pete Fulbright, Virginia Hale, Viola Clemmons and Damon Wade, states the McLean News.

Carson county set a goal of raising their $3,850 Red Cross quota in one day, reports the Panhandle Herald. The county drive is under the direction of H. B. Skelton. Around $12,000 in gifts were made to the Red Cross a year ago by Carson county residents.

Aloys Paul Bichsel, 48, Panhandle, for 18 years a member of the St. Francis Parish, died Feb. 21 after a short illness resulting from an accident the previous week. He was knocked down and injured by a cow that had been frightened by his dog.

Mr. Bichsel was taken to St. Anthony's hospital, Amarillo, where his injuries were not considered critical until the fifth day when he turned for the worse, suffered painfully and hysterically until his death. He is survived by his wife and four children.

The Carson county junior livestock show was held yesterday at Panhandle. General arrangements were under the direction of County Agent J. P. Smith.

David M. Warren, editor and publisher of the Panhandle Herald, marked the 20th year of being associated with the Herald last Friday. For 16 years he has been actively associated with the paper, living in Panhandle. He writes in an editorial:

"In these two decades the Herald editor has seen Panhandle go from the oil boom days of 1926 to the hard times of the drought and depression of the early 1930's; then, he has seen improved conditions with war boom days—Good crops and high prices have brought prosperity to the farmers the past six or seven years. Conditions are the best in the history of Carson county. When the 'lean' years come at some future time, indications are that Carson county residents will be in financial shape to stand them."

Contributions of the teen-age boys and girls to Collingsworth county's farm economy were to be featured in the annual Youth's Feast show held at Wellington yesterday. Approximately 100 head of livestock were to be entered in the show. Walter Todd was general superintendent.

By an overwhelming vote that far surpassed even most optimistic predictions, says the Wellington Leader, county property owners voted for the $60,000 road bond issue to buy the right-of-way for the four proposed hard surfaced farm to market roads.

M. P. Watkins, 66, pioneer Wellington miner and beloved resident, died unexpectedly Tuesday night. He is survived by his wife and son. Mr. Watkins had lived in Wellington for more than 40 years. During much of that time he had engaged in the gin business, doing much to bring modern ginning methods to the region and encouraging cotton improvement.

Phillips Petroleum Co. is constructing a dam across the canyons northeast of Canyon, states the Canyon News. The dam is to be about 100 feet long, two feet high and four feet wide. It is not intended to hold water, but to act as a protection for the pipeline that crosses the canyons at that place.

Canyon has reached the point where it must expand its water supply or be penalized by having its insurance rate increased, stated Mayor W. A. Warren, at the Canyon Rotary club luncheon Tuesday.

All students of Gray county attending West Texas State college, Canyon, were called together in a mass meeting last Thursday to reorganize the county clubs of pre-war years.

Canadian and Hemphill 4-H Boys Show Prize Livestock at Show

CANADIAN, March 2.—(Special)—Friday was the big day for the 4-H Calf Club boys of Canadian and Hemphill county. It was show day, and the chamber of commerce with Guber Lee Mitchell and Walter Crist, county agent, heading the chamber's committee for such generous financial support from the business men of Canadian that the prizes were definitely worthwhile.

Eighteen calves were entered in the show—nine in the heavy class, and nine in the light class.

Truman Whitford's entry won grand champion, Herman Nortrum's won reserve champion, while Johnnie Morris, and Willie Earl Morgan won first and second, respectively, in the light class. Billie Morris won the showmanship award for doing the best of showing his calf.

All eighteen of the calves in this show were taken to Ambarillo this morning to be entered in the fat stock show there. Earl Blackmore, local livestock transportation man, hauled the calves for the boys without charge as his contribution to the "encouragement" of the exhibitors.

New Officers of White Deer Lions Club Installed

WHITE DEER, March 2.—(Special)—Members of the Panhandle Lions club, directed by Jack Griffith and Ralph Dandall, installed the officers of the newly organized White Deer Lions club, Thursday evening, in the high school cafeteria.

The officers are Dalton Ford, president; McHenry Lane, first vice-president; Biggs Horn, second vice-president; T. C. Jackson, third vice-president; W. L. Thompson, secretary; B. R. Weaks, treasurer; H. T. Dickens, lion tamer, and J. P. Weatherall, tail-walker.

Directors are J. C. Freeman, W. J. Stubbfield, Tom Sherrin, and F. A. Holmes. These men will meet next Thursday evening at 6:30 in the cafeteria to make further plans for the organization.

McHenry Lane has been appointed chairman of the Chapter Night program on March 25, at which time Charles Dean of Plainview, district governor, will deliver the charter to the White Deer club.

The club was organized last week by Orlando Hickey, of Herley, Mo., with 48 charter members, and six others have been added since that time.

Canadian Hospital Is Open for Service

CANADIAN, March 2. (Special)—Canadian's hospital situation is now well in hand, Dr. E. H. Morris, owner of the hospital, announced yesterday that a staff of trained personnel has been secured, and the hospital can again render full service.

Incomplete returns in the poll being conducted to determine the wishes of the citizens of Canadian and Hemphill county, the majority favors a bond issue to purchase the old high school building and its half block of ground, salvaging the materials in the old building, and erecting a new hospital on the site.

Thundering Saga of 'San Antonio' Opens 4-Day Run at LaNora Theater

"East meets West" in the year 1857, from a scene of "San Antonio." Starring Errol Flynn and Alexis Smith with S. Z. "Cuddles" Sakall and Florence Bates.

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Today, San Antonio is a modern, cosmopolitan city of over 300,000 persons that still retains something of that old-time flavor so realistically pictured in Warners' "San Antonio," showing at the LaNora Sunday through Wednesday.

Reminiscent of two other pictures of this type, "Virginia City" and "Cedar City," the latest historical film may not be as good as those, but it is of the "crash-bang" variety with a lot of shooting, laughs and beautiful girls.

In the starring roles are Errol Flynn, just as his fans like to see him, and Alexis Smith, a supporting cast that includes such veteran actors as Paul Kelly, Victor Francen, John Litel and the unforgettable S. Z. Sakall is bound to be good.

"San Antonio," the story of the city that made Texas great, is sure-fire Technicolor entertainment.

A double-feature program is offered at the Rex today through Tuesday and one of the features is something every Panaman ought to see.

We're speaking of "Appointment in Tokyo," which tells the story of the island-by-island strategy that took us to Tokyo.

Also included in the combined efforts of 1,000 combat cameramen, "Appointment in Tokyo" almost equals the famed documentary film, "The Fighting Lady," in its down-to-earth magnificence.

Also included is the first-time showing of captured Jap film and much never-before released War Department film.

The companion feature, if you can call it that, is a little epic called "Hit the Hay" and you'll probably wish you had by the time you've seen it.

According to Darwin, man was descended from the monkey, but we think Judy Canova is an exception.

She must have come from the roo-and-grant variety of barnyard animal because she's done a better job of hamming this one up than anyone possibly could.

Miss Canova, (she's probably old enough to be this writer's grandmother), shows her goocoy affections on such unfortunates as Fortunio Bonanova, Rose Hunter (he's a new discovery consigned to a dog's life) and various and sundry other well-meaning but completely domesticated characters.

Our pet gripe, however, is the way this little hillbilly epic scrambles up some of our operative favorites, such as selections from "Martha" and the immortal "William Tell." The climax (or worse comes to worse) comes when Columbia maliciously allows Judy to yodel the arias from "Martha." We give up.

No, much better, but still popular, are Abbott and Costello in "The Naughty Nineties," showing at the Crown Sunday and Monday.

This one has a lot of good laughs in it but our favorite is the comedians' famed "baseball act," which is worth the price of admission.

We won't go into the story, but you can be sure everything turns out alright for the boys.

Officers Seeking S. S. Bodyguard Of Adolf Hitler

By TOM REEDY

HERFORD, Germany, March 2.—(AP)—British intelligence officers, working on a new clue, have started to comb Germany for an S. S. bodyguard who may have witnessed the suicide of Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun.

The information was developed in a new interrogation of Hitler's air force adjutant, Col. Nicholas von Below, who escaped from the Reich Chancellery bunker April 29, shortly before the fall of Berlin.

Von Below said he met the bodyguard May 6 and the soldier told him: "Hitler and Eva Braun committed suicide on the afternoon of April 30, Hitler shot himself and Eva Braun took poison. Afterward the bodyguards burned the two bodies."

(The bodyguard's version confirms with a report on the case announced by British headquarters in Berlin last Nov. 1.)

The soldier himself escaped from the bunker May 1, von Below stated. Intelligence offices have obtained his name and other identification.

Von Below said he believed it would have been impossible for Hitler to have escaped from Berlin or to contain himself sufficiently to live incognito. He declared further that he considered the fuhrer without the physical or moral strength to go on living.

Too Many of Us Don't Know What We Mean by It

I want to state a very important truth. There is much real "anti-ism" in the world and there is much FAKE "anti-ism." The fake "anti-ism" is that which is pinned on people because they do not run with the herd or because they express honest opinions and report unpleasant truths. For doing this men are called "anti" persons and nations, when they really are anti the things which are destroying those very persons and nations in the long run.

I will illustrate. Fine older people are called "anti youth" because they oppose or expose trends and habits that are building sorrow for the youth. Or, if I do not endorse everything that is done in the British empire by its rulers some people will start calling me "anti-British." If I do not submit to the Russian push on small nations, a good many people are going to call me anti-Russian. If I object to the attempts of a few communists in my own country to take over a majority political party and the administration and the big labor unions and our educational institutions and our churches a lot of the mean press is going to call me anti-soviet and anti-allied-unity. If I am a taxpaying American citizen who does not believe that my country's national debt should be increased by four and a half billion dollars to help an outside country buy my country's goods when I can't get enough of those goods myself, and neither can my fellow Americans, because not enough of them are being made for even ourselves, a certain number of persons are going to jump up and yell "isolationist and anti-internationalist" and there is a certain section of the smear press and a certain coterie of whisperers and poison-pen wielders who will manufacture smear phrases compounded with the word "anti."

They likely are, like Hitler, utterly brazen liars. They fling at persons who never had a twinge of racial intolerance, the manufactured phrase "anti-Semetic," or they call them simply "anti-Jewish." They make up out of the whole cloth the false accusation that a certain person is anti-Negro or anti-democratic or anti-labor or they start yelling "fascist" or nazi at someone who is much more truly opposed to totalitarianism than they are.

Now I want to suggest that this idea of smacking down an opponent or winning an argument or of covering up the holes in your own argument by calling somebody anti-something or other is worn threadbare. At least, among us of the English-speaking peoples, who uphold sportsmanship, let no one call me "anti-British" because I may speak frankly of the continuing faults in Britain's relationship with certain races and nations. There must be a lot of relationships of my country that a great many Englishmen do not like, or that those who love Englishmen over here do not like, but they are not to be called "anti-American" on that account. I submit that there quite as many Englishmen whom I like and perhaps even as many whom I love as there are Americans whom any Britisher may like or love.

There were a great many things about my rugged father and there were things about my sainted mother that I did not like and the effects of which I had to deal with, but that did not make me "anti-parental." There are a great many faults to be corrected and exposed in Christianity, but I am not "anti-Christian." I oppose the communist effort to make of the Jewish people a left-wing minority group, but that does not make me "anti-Jewish." I hate the hypocrisy that has been revealed in the new deal, and I fight the frustration that has been brought upon the free spirited effort to make of the Jewish people a left-wing minority group, but that does not make me an "anti-American."

Now I am saying these words not for myself only, but because they fit the experience of so many of you readers. If you have to talk of things that need change in the British empire or any other empire that does not make you anti-British. If the things that are wrong and are keeping the world upset in the British empire cannot be given up without sacrifice on the part of certain British classes, or without shrinking the map of the British empire, that still does not make you anti-British. If some of us conclude that empire itself must be given up, including the British empire, that still does not make us anti-British. If we should not advance American government credit to an empire organization which is in such a precarious condition in its own branch offices, so to speak, that still does not make us anti-British. If a banker should tell me that I am not the risk to which he should lend the bank's money, that does not make the bank "anti-Upton Close," even though in my petty self-pity I might temporarily feel that way about it.

So, with a definite understanding that nobody here is anti-anybody, but what we are all anti-those causes of trouble that keep boiling up in the world, let's get on with our thoughts, our work and our lives!

(Copyright, 1946)

Mayor Oden Issues Proclamation About World Day of Prayer

The following proclamation was issued this week by Mayor Farris Oden, in connection with the World Day of Prayer program, to be observed next Friday.

"WHEREAS, World Day of Prayer is totally international, totally interdenominational, totally interracial and totally necessary if we are to maintain the previous work of our hands.

"WHEREAS, we know that more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of, that it is with such creative beauty as prescribed by God that we persuade the casual worshipping to touch upon reality.

"WHEREAS, it is the mission of the church to proclaim the Glory of God. The church has a significant part in the days that lie ahead and must exert practical witness to the fact that God's purpose in human affairs. The gospel must be preached more vigorously both by word and in our lives.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I do hereby proclaim Friday, March 8, 1946, as World Day of Prayer in the City of Pampa, and do hereby call upon the citizens of this city to observe this day as an individual invitation to attend a specific World Day of Prayer meeting, and if the duties of some are such as to make this impossible, I do then ask that these people pause in their work for one minute of prayer to ask that God give us light to guide us, courage to support us and love to reunite us, in the world conflict of today."

FARRIS ODEN, Mayor.

In some areas (of Europe) infant mortality is now more than 50 per cent. Peace and progress will not be restored if those who survive are to be infected by a generation of men and women stunted in body and distorted in mind. — Herbert Hoover.

PHS students made an all time record of two hours and forty-five minutes in taking the tuberculosis test Friday. The test was given to 866 students by Mrs. Joe Stephens, B. N. Mr. Carter stated that very good cooperation was shown. Those aiding Mrs. Stephens were Helen Hagerty, Leona Mills, Junice Ann Fahle, Emmett Forrester, and Emory Menefee.

The choir is to sing at the First Baptist Church tonight. Under the direction of Miss LaNelle Schei hagen they will present a 25 minute program.

Boys Hear Talks On Armed Forces

Problems of joining the armed forces and the discussion of the G. I. Bill of Rights was the purpose of the meeting of all the boys in school Monday afternoon. Some of the things discussed by the returned veterans of Pampa High were the chances for promotion in all the armed forces, the draft law and its connection with what good they are to the school in service, the glamour of being in the armed forces, duties of boot camp and basic training, and the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Pick Up Waste Paper

Every student council representative who returns from his visit to another school remarks on how free from paper and other items are the halls of the school he visited. Why does he notice this in particular? The reason is because the halls of PHS are not clear of waste paper, chewing gum wrappers and anything else the Pampa student might decide to throw down. We could help keep our halls spick and span if we would (1) not throw any waste paper on the floor but put it in the nearest waste paper basket, and (2) pick up any paper we see and dispose of it in the proper place, not on top of the lockers. We should be proud of our building, one of the most modern school buildings in the State of Texas, and keep it clean. A small effort on our part will go a long way in helping keep our building clean.

'Borrowing' Is Habitual

Borrowing and not returning things or just taking them seems to be getting quite habitual with a few students of PHS. Money, fountain pens, books, and other things have been disappearing out of lockers and even off the desks. Manners and courtesy to others should be practiced at school as well as the home and other places. If things are not yours, they should not be taken without the owners' permission.

Sagebrush - by the Sage

This week Sage has noticed that practically every romance has at least one complication. Look, boys, Jessen Coonrod is still going steady with that man that is just a trifle bigger than you. From the sound of the telephone, anyone would think it was Grand Central Station. Irene Hoggatt is on the loose, men. You had better "make hay while the sun shines." Charlie Lockhart has found new interests in Bonnie Shelton. Charlie isn't the only one who has found Bonnie alluring. Dorothy June Johnson, Bob Cochran and Harold Rinehart, ex-students, visited in the halls last week. Also visiting was Bud Loran who is home from the Merchant Marine, lately. Bernese Bond has her eye on Gene Howell. Picking them young aren't you Bernese? Yvonne Inmon and Bob Luts are to be married sometime in August. Congratulations! Miss Torvise LaRue, what do you think the bottom of the ocean is like? LaRue Kessler: Wet. Nita Taylor seems to be "that way" about a certain boy. Just what do you think of that, Bobby Hunt? From the looks of this nice spring weather, there should be some new romances. See what you can do for next week. Wayne Donnell, tall, dark and handsome senior, is on the loose as far as the Sage knows. He would make some lonely solo a nice catch.

In making his announcement for the office of sheriff for Gray County Mr. Jordan says: "I wish the people of Gray County to know that I have lived in Gray County for the past thirty years and have been in the employment of Danziger Refinery for the last twelve years. I have a wife and one child and am a property owner and tax payer in Gray County.

"In making this announcement I wish to say plainly that I am not obligated to any clique or clan, and that if elected I will do my best to enforce the law fairly and impartially without fear or favor."

Mr. Jordan states that he has not previously solicited the support of the people of Gray County for a public office, but has been urged by friends to enter his name at this time. Mr. Jordan says: "I wish to thank the citizens of Gray County in advance for their consideration and support in the primary of July 27, 1946."

"Murder!" They Cried

By DOROTHY STALEY Copyright, 1946, NEA Service, Inc.

XXX

ALMOST before Jeffrey Hazlett said to go and get Penfield Downes, Straub and Zern were on their way. Stephen Willson said gently, "Come, Betsy, come over to the library and lie down until they come back." She went off silently between her father and Fletch, his arms still around her, Dru and I trailing along behind them. Some one had closed the library door and as Stephen Willson pulled it open, I heard a voice saying, "They told me you were all engaged and I should wait here, sir."

Then the same voice quickened and became warm and eager, "Heavens to Betsy!" it said, "I'm Travers. With his old greeting for Betsy that was a formula over the years. She stopped so quickly and so suddenly that I almost bumped into her. Travers came toward her swiftly. "I came to you, Betsy, when I heard, just as quickly as I could."

Betsy said fiercely, "Don't touch me, Travers. You don't know."

"I know you're in trouble," he answered. "That's all I need to know."

He gathered Betsy to him possessively and with one impulse we all turned and left them alone.

Dru dropped into one of the hall chairs and began to cry as though her heart would break. Fletch just stood looking at her, clenched and unclenched his hands, wanting to go to her and hold her to him as Travers had held Betsy—and Phillipa was between them. More effectively than he has been in life. He looked at her as though he thought I were crazy when I said to him as I put my arms around Dru, "Don't worry, Fletch. This is the last summer storm." But his father understood. He took Fletch's arm and said, "Come on, son. Everything works out in time."

decided I'd better go after her. She had a crazy temper. I called and ran but she was running madly and she either wouldn't listen to me or couldn't hear me from the wind and the rain. Then there was a terrific flash of lightning. It was like running into hell and the oak started to fall. I saw in the light that Phil had veered her course. Then I couldn't see her for the branches of the oak tree. I was soaking wet, and I felt shaky from the crash of the tree so close at hand, and I turned and went back to the house. That is all I have to tell you, gentlemen.

THEY went out then and measured. They called in experts from the weather bureau and professors from the University in Philadelphia and "Science Providence" the largest electrical company in the country. They all agreed with Pen Downes, Phil, either terribly frightened by the crash, or even stunned by the lightning, had veered her course, and in doing so had become completely confused and had dashed forward over the quarry bank thinking she was running toward the house.

"Murder!" they had cried, and then our murder, as had others, peered out. "Accidental death," Uncle Andrew had said. "Divine Providence," Uncle Andrew had said. "For three days we had cried 'Murder!' and in those three days the structure of our lives had tumbled about us. But my family is proud; they'll hide their scars and in time people will forget.

And in time Stephen Willson will know the day he has waited for; the day when his children would come home with their families. At lunch on Sunday, I saw its foreshadow. Mr. Willson was at the head of the table and my Miss Jenny was at his foot. Between them on the one side were Fletcher and Dru with the twins seated behind them. On the other side were Betsy and Travers, and I between them. And I just think I'll save my place at the table, and Andrew Sites' place, too, until there are two others to sit between Betsy and Travers.

For there will be, you know.

Cattle Raisers Faced With Problem Of Cutting Down Number of Livestock

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Still the foremost problem confronting cattle raisers in Texas and elsewhere throughout the west, the agriculture department reported today, is the need to trim down the numbers of livestock on farms and ranches.

Meat shortages over the retail butcher's counter is no barometer of supplies back at the original source. The feeding of hungry people overseas, in addition to military demands, has only slightly affected the overall picture.

There were still nearly 80,000,000 head of cattle in the country at the beginning of 1946, a drop of only 2,500,000 below the all-time peak counted at the beginning of 1944. The slaughter goal which the department has set for the current year is 35,000,000 cattle and calves. Considering the new calf crop, this would reduce the total population to about 78,000,000 head.

In Texas the goal calls for marketings which will leave the number of cattle on farms and ranches at about 7,600,000 head. The estimated population on Jan. 1, 1946, was 8,058,000 head. The number of Jan. 1, 1945, was 7,900,000.

The biggest cattle gain in the past few years has been in beef cattle. The Jan. 1, 1938, population of all cattle and calves was 65,000,000 head. Nearly 41,000,000 of the Jan. 1, 1946, total were beef cattle, the balance representing dairy herds. In the 17 western states, including Texas, the increase in beef cattle has been 30 per cent compared with the five-year average from 1935 to 1939.

Urgent present requirements for meat the department declares, has prompted the production goal of at least 23,000,000,000 (billion) pounds of meat in 1946. This is needed for both civilian and military requirements of the United States and to fill commitments for foreign relief feeding.

In several of the 17 western states available for cattle, especially in the western states.

The suggested goal for sheep and lambs in 1946 is for a total slaughter of about 20,000,000 head, compared with an estimated slaughter in 1945 of 24,300,000 head. This would leave sheep numbers at the end of 1946 little changed from the estimated 44,200,000 head on farms and ranches on Jan. 1, 1946.

In Texas, the largest sheep producing state, numbers continued to increase until 1943 and have since declined 9 per cent. The Texas goal calls for some reduction in sheep and lamb numbers in 1946. The goal is for 9,425,000 head, at the end of the year, compared with the 9,900,000 head on farms at the end of 1945.
