

CIO Threatens General Strike Call of 150,000 Philadelphia Workers

GE Strikers Discard Plans For Parade

By the Associated Press
Striking CIO workers at Philadelphia's General Electric plant abandoned plans for another mass demonstration today after city officials barred parading without a permit and some 600 policemen were alerted to back up the edict.

About 200 strikers and sympathizers gathered in the early morning hours just across the city line in Delaware county, a few blocks from where police clashed with 3,000 pickets and sympathizers in a free-for-all fight yesterday.

PERMIT REQUIRED
James H. Malone, director of public safety, announced over a loud speaker from a police patrol car that the city would allow no parading without a permit and that the strikers had not made such an application.

Nearly 100 policemen were massed at the county line, 400 at the strikebound plant a few blocks away and another 100 in the area.

The strikers then requested permission to enter Philadelphia, and they were allowed to come back in small groups.

101-DAY OLD WALKOUT
The CIO, meantime, threatened to call a general strike of 150,000 workers in Philadelphia in support of the GE workers.

In Detroit, negotiators in the long General Motors strike planned to resume discussions amid unconfirmed reports that an agreement ending the dispute would be reached soon, terminating the 101-day city walkout.

The threat of a general strike call to all CIO workers in the Philadelphia area came from the CIO-industrial union council which claims 150,000 members. The council also voted at a meeting of 75 CIO locals to fight the injunction banning mass

U. S. Invites Soviets To Discuss Loan

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—The United States has invited the Soviets to come here and talk over a $1,000,000,000 loan.

This was disclosed today by a high ranking government official as President Truman told congress he soon would re-announcing $1,250,000,000 to the lending powers of the export-import bank to take care of loans to countries other than Britain.

Mr. Truman's message said treasury funds will be loaned only to Britain—providing congress approves a projected $3,750,000,000 credit. Other borrowers will have to go to the export-import bank.

The proposed British credit was described as a "unique case" which would "not set a precedent" for loans of treasury funds to other countries.

Expansion of the export-import bank's lending authority by $1,250,000,000 would give the government-backed institution a total of $3,250,000,000 to handle applications through June 30, 1948.

The declaration of administration policy on foreign lending came on the eve of arrival of representatives from France—which was voiced a need of $2,500,000,000—and revelation that Russia had applied for $1,000,000,000.

The foreign loan policy was outlined in a letter and a report on international monetary and financial problems which Mr. Truman said bore his "full endorsement."

The report was prepared by the national advisory committee, which includes the secretaries of state, the treasury, and commerce.

The committee's proposal for more lending capital for the export-import bank came on top of President Truman's budget estimate that net expenditures for the bank, British credit and the Bretton Woods monetary agreements amount to $5,368,000,000 in the fiscal years of 1946 and 1947.

The president's letter suggested

Hard Measures Seen Against Soviet Policy

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—An American showdown with Moscow over the red army's deployment in strategic areas of Europe and Asia was foreshadowed today by the stern new foreign policy enunciated by Secretary of State Byrnes.

Direct and vigorous measures likewise were indicated against the Soviet policy of stripping property from liberated countries of former enemy satellites.

TOUGHER POLICY
The Byrnes pronouncement in New York last night was generally interpreted here as heralding a tougher administration policy toward Russia all along the line, particularly with regard to soviet expansionist tendencies and the Kremlin's lone-hand maneuverings in neighboring nations.

Three countries seemed likely to figure in the soviet troop removal issue, according to information here. They are Iran, Austria and China, but there are other areas less urgently involved.

AGREEMENT SOUGHT
Efforts have been underway for some time, it was learned, to get the Russians to agree to withdrawal of Allied troops from Austria—but without success.

Tomorrow is the generally accepted

All Important Nips Barred From Office

TOKYO, March 1.—(AP)—Japan's cabinet and Allied headquarters have virtually agreed to bar from future public life all who held any important office at any time in the nation's eight years of war. Jiji news agency estimated today the broadened purge would disqualify 155,000 men.

New political factions simultaneously attacked the cabinet's draft of a revised constitution which permits the emperor to retain much of his political power—and Kyodo news agency said the opposition would force changes.

Whether this would relay public announcement of the final draft after the April 10 election was not clear. The election itself has been postponed once—from March 31—so that raft might be ready before the balloting.

Chief cabinet secretary Katani Narahashi reported today the tentative purge agreement. Other sources said that this last, sweeping interpretation of General MacArthur's broad decrees had received approval by proper Allied authorities and probably would be made formal and binding. Narahashi said this would "not be done" for some time.

Jiji's estimate of 155,000 to be excluded from government service included 128,000 professional militarists—87,000 army and 41,000 navy officers—as well as nearly 8,000 top government and government-corporation executives and approximately 2,000 agency bosses.

The tentative agreement would ban from office all government officials of bureau chief rank and higher since middle 1937, when the war began in Asia.

MacArthur's decree merely outlined a broad basis for this catch-all category, and a detailed definition was determined independently by the government and submitted to headquarters for approval.

Rail Official Asks Truman's Help in Strike

By The Associated Press
E. A. Craft, executive vice president of the Texas and New Orleans railroad, a property of the Southern Pacific railroad, asked President Truman in a telegram last night to take "positive and effective action to insure the continued operation of this vital transportation agency."

Craft's telegram was a move to avert a strike of 3,500 engineers and trainmen of the Southern Pacific system in Texas and Louisiana called for 6 a.m. tomorrow (Saturday) unless the company settles disputed issues before then.

"These issues the trainmen say are Southern Pacific's failure to settle awards and various grievances rendered by the national railroad adjustment board and various grievances and time claims of every description."

Elsewhere in the state telephone employees were voting on whether to take part in the national telephone strike set for March 7.

A threatened tie up of bus and street car transportation in Dallas was removed last night when the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach company employees of American (APL) and officials of the Dallas Railway and Terminal company agreed to terms of a new contract.

The old contract expired last night. Agreements were reached in two other labor disputes. A 16-cent-per-hour wage increase retroactive to Jan. 26 was granted to 300 employees of the San Antonio Swift Packing Co. Negotiations are still in progress on other steelworkers' contracts.

The strike of 105 CIO steelworkers at the Emco Derrick and Equipment company plant in Dallas was settled yesterday with agreement to a new contract providing for wage increases of 18 1/2 cents an hour for all production workers and union security.

France, Spain Break Commercial Relations

HENDAYE, France, March 1.—(AP)—France broke off all commercial relations with Spain today by closing the 300-mile long border between the two countries in protest against the continuance in power of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime.

DEVOID OF DREAMS
The official closure effective at midnight, was devoid of drama. As the hour passed, frontier guards patrolled both sides of the border as usual.

Actually, the frontier was closed two hours before midnight when the customs offices finished the day's work. The Paris express arrived an hour late, but was permitted to cross, carrying the last regular travelers, mostly Belgian, Portuguese and Spanish nationals.

PERMISSION REFUSED
The French action effectively severs all commercial intercourse between the two countries, including

If Necessary U. S. Will Use Force--Byrnes

NEW YORK, March 1.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes, declaring the United States intends to prevent aggression, by force if necessary, charted a course of conduct today for relations among the world's great and small powers.

He tempered his remarks with the assertion that he was "convinced that there is no reason for war between any of the great powers," and added that only on "inexcusable tragedy of errors could cause serious conflict between this country and Russia."

He will not act and we cannot stand aloof if force or the threat of force is used contrary to the purposes of the (United Nations) charter.

LIST OF 'MUST NOT'S'
Calling for a "stop to this maneuvering for strategic advantages all over the world and to the use of one adjustment as an entering wedge for further and undisclosed penetrations of power," Byrnes in addressing the overseas press club last night, laid down this seven point list of "must not's" for the world's nations:

1. "We will not act and we cannot stand aloof if force or the threat of force is used contrary to the purposes of the (United Nations) charter."
2. "We have no right to hold our troops in the territories of other sovereign states without their approval and consent freely given."
3. "We must not unduly prolong the making of peace and continue to impose our troops upon small and impoverished nations."
4. "No power has a right to help

State-Financed Scholarships Give Negroes Education

AUSTIN, March 1.—(AP)—State-financed scholarships have assisted 624 qualified Texas Negro graduate students to attend out-of-state colleges and universities since 1939 for advanced education not available at state-supported Negro schools.

Financed through legislative appropriations of $25,000 annually, the scholarship aid is administered by a committee of the deans of the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college and the dean of Sam Houston State Teachers college.

The present Texas system of providing advanced Negro education has come under study of state and University of Texas officials after Herman Marion Swain, Houston Negro, applied to the university for enrollment in the law school. The university's acting President T. S. Painter has asked Attorney General Grover Sellers for an opinion on the matter, and Gov. Coke Stevenson said yesterday if there is a demand for advanced Negro education it should be provided.

Leaders Rally Forces to Fight For Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Administration lieutenants rallied their forces today for a tough battle to save President Truman's emergency housing program in the house.

It was a touch-and-go proposition. House Republicans, reinforced by a contingent of southern democrats, threatened to produce enough votes to scrap the administration measure and enable opponents to write their own ticket on what should be done to provide more homes.

Democratic leaders acknowledged the tight spot they were in by maneuvering an early adjournment yesterday, thereby postponing the showdown on the legislation until today.

Mr. Truman meanwhile emphasized the increasingly acute nature of the housing situation by an appeal to the nation's people to share any available living facilities with home-coming veterans.

Police Force To Use Motorcycles

Starting today, two motorcycle patrolmen will be on school and general traffic duty, Chief of Police Louie Allen said this morning.

The police department, which recently purchased a 1946 Harley-Davidson motorcycle, will also operate the old three-wheel motorcycle, which has been overhauled.

Motorcycle patrolmen will be on duty at the schools during the busy hours and will be on downtown traffic duty at other times. Harry Hubbard and Dewey Martin have been assigned to the motorcycle patrol.

Chief Allen also said that a replacement officer for Carl Willbanks, who recently left the department, has joined the force.

He is Max McKeen, 28-year-old marine corps veteran and son of Mr. and Mrs. Max McKeen, sr., of Fayetteville, Ark., former Pampans.

McKeen served in the Marine corps for seven years rising to the rank of platoon sergeant. He will probably be on patrol duty and desk work at the department.

Pauley Will Not Yield in Fight For Confirmation

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Edwin W. Pauley refused to yield at noon today and reiterated confidence of winning his fight for confirmation as undersecretary of the navy.

"I'm convinced I'm going to win," he declared to reporters.

This fresh expression of confidence followed up Pauley's flat rejection yesterday of a republican suggestion that he have his name withdrawn now.

One democratic strategist expressed the belief that Pauley has not won over any votes during the lengthy hearings, and may have lost one or two. The committee consists of eleven democrats and seven republicans.

Pauley conceded that the situation within the committee was "close," and said it might take some time to swing some of the members around to his side. He contended he has not yet had the opportunity to answer charges made against him.

Meanwhile, new obstacles threatened another of President Truman's recent nominees, Commodore James K. Vardaman, jr., faced additional delay in the committee investigation of his qualifications for a 14-year term as a member of the

Jaycees To Attend Regional Meeting

Several members of the Pampa Jaycees chapter of commerce are expected to attend the regional Jaycee work conference at Amarillo Saturday and Sunday.

Registration will begin at noon Saturday on the mezzanine floor of the Herring hotel but no formal business meeting will be held until Sunday morning.

The entertainment committee of the host club is making arrangements for a dinner and dance at the Herring Saturday night.

Conferences will begin at 9:30 Sunday morning with reports from the various clubs in the region and "Parking" signs for psychological effect, he explains.

Sign-saturated motorists who get into the habit of ignoring the painted notices are snapped to attention by the wrong-way "n." Hoeh claims. He says he makes the second "n" in the standard fashion so that people will know I know better."

Soviets Leaving Sections of Iran

LONDON, March 1.—(AP)—The Moscow radio announced today that Red army troops would start withdrawing tomorrow from those sections of Iran which are undisturbed, but would remain in the northwestern area, which includes the province of Azerbaijan.

The Soviet government has informed Iranian negotiators that the Red army troops would start withdrawing from all areas of Iran under an allied agreement will be limited to eastern areas of Soviet occupation in northern Iran "where the situation is relatively calmer," according to the broadcast.

An autonomous government was reported a month ago to have been set up in Azerbaijan province after Red army troops blocked off Iranian reinforcements ordered into the province to put down a revolt. Premier Ahmed Qavam Saitaneh announced Feb. 8 before he left for Moscow to negotiate Russian-Iranian differences, that he would not recognize the Azerbaijan re-eme.

Kaiser Believes Killing Controls Would Spell Ruin

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Henry J. Kaiser told congress today that removal of price controls would spell ruin for the great mass of mankind which has only limited purchasing power.

The West coast industrialist made the forecast while urging the house banking committee to approve legislation to continue OPA.

Kaiser declared that price controls would spell ruin for the great mass of mankind which has only limited purchasing power.

"The best way to increase production will be to stop bickering and go to work with all sides ready to give and take in the all-important effort to raise production to the level of demand."

Kaiser took sharp issue with the National Association of Manufacturers for its full-page newspaper advertisement urging abandonment of controls.

Hospital Plans Are Discussed

LEFORS, March 1.—W. B. Weathered, postmaster and president of the Pampa chamber of commerce, explained the proposed county hospital, its estimated cost, and tax rates before a group of Lefors people here last night. Several other Pampans accompanied him.

A brief program preceded the program. High-school students gave two dance and sing numbers, accompanied at the piano by Loyce Elliott, music instructor.

Students taking part in the numbers were Vesta James, Jackie Patterson, Marguerite Crawford, Billie Jean Pfeil, Bob Turner, Raymond Vanderlinden, Berrymann Briening and Ollie Breining.

Irma Francis, KFDN vocalist, was featured in number; and the "Rusty Hinge" quartet, of Pampa, sang a western number. The quartet was composed of Chick Hickman, Red Wedgeworth, Dude Balthrop, and Bunny Schultz.

Red Cross Drive Gets Under Way

Materials were distributed to workers who will conduct the Red Cross drive in the business district by Committee Chairman Morris Goldfine at a kick-off breakfast in the Palm room of the City hall this morning.

All of the business houses in the district are to be called on, Goldfine said, and it is hoped that every establishment will be 100 per cent in its contributions.

Goldfine said he hoped the business districts drive would be concluded by next Wednesday.

He also asked that workers keep careful check and make sure that all reports are carefully filled out so that much work in the Red Cross office on counting the donations can be eliminated.

Girl Scouts Receive Donation for Camp

Plans for the growth and development of the Girl Scout camp of this district are underway.

This week workers were dug for the planting of 12 Chinese elms around the main lodge. The trees, yet to be planted, have been donated by the Bruce Nursery, located between Alameda and Lefors and owned by Paul Bruce. The elms are about 8-10 inches in diameter, and are awaiting means of transportation. The holes for planting were dug by a crew of John Andrews.

At a recent business meeting of the Beta Gamma Kappa organization, members voted to donate $200 to the Girl Scouts for proposed sleeping cabins, according to Beth Mullinax, president. The BOK's simultaneously donated 20 to the current Red Cross fund raising campaign.

Mrs. Wells has been visiting in the home of her aged mother in San Antonio for the past several months. She was in Pampa for a few days last December at the time of the Pampa-Amarillo football game.

Besides her mother, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Louise Sain, Dallas, and two sons, Odell Walker, Dalhart, and W. J. Hatcher of Pampa.

The body will be brought to Pampa Saturday. Funeral services will probably be Sunday.

RELIGION IN THE NEWS A Day of Prayer to Heal the World

By DR. DOUGLAS E. NELSON

MANY OF US remember from our school days the dying words of Tennyson's King Arthur, "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

ON FRIDAY, March 8, Christian people here and in other lands will unite in a World Day of Prayer. Who cares? Not those who believe that God fights on the side of the heaviest battalions.

ABOVE ALL, we need this day just for what it will mean to us. In the hectic march of our days we need to pause for some vision as to where we are marching.

Faith Is Topic at Central Baptist

The pastor of Central Baptist church, Rudolph Q. Harvey, announces that the message Sunday morning will be on "Unstaggering Faith".

The church is planning to erect a temporary building to take care of the Juniors and Intermediates until the new plant is completed.

Christian Science Sunday Study Topic "Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ.

First Baptist Church Has High Attendance

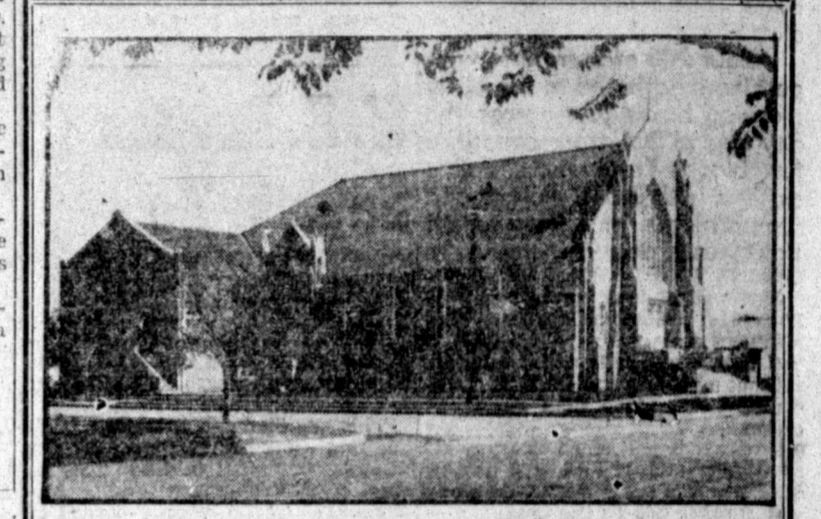

The average attendance in Sunday school in the First Baptist church, for February, 1946 was the highest ever in the history of the church for this time of the year.

The evening service will begin at 7:30, with the high school choral club singing several songs, some of which will be: "Heavenly Light," "Beautiful Saviour," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," a Fred Waring arrangement and a Negro spiritual "Were You There?"

be under the direction of Miss L. Nellie Scheinagen, who is the director of the high school chorus club.

Foreign Loans

The additional export-import trade, the council explained, would be used to help needy foreign nations until they can obtain help from the international bank established under the Bretton Woods agreement. The international bank will become "the principal agency to make foreign loans," the report said.

Representatives of 35 nations will set up the international bank, with capital of $7,500,000,000, at a meeting near Savannah, Ga., beginning March 8.

Russia, which has not joined the international bank, has been invited to send a delegation to Washington to discuss its application for a $1,000,000,000 loan from the export-import bank, a high-ranking government official said.

Scholarships

(Continued from page 1) Worley, executive secretary of the committee and director of the division of Negro education of the state department of education, show that in the past six years, 1,134 Negro students have applied for aid, 784 were approved for aid, and 624 actually used the scholarships provided.

No applications are approved when the education sought is available at Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College for Negroes. More applications are disapproved for that reason than any other, Worley's statistics show. High number of rejections also are incomplete applications, poor records and doubtful residence. Students must show eight years or more of Texas residence.

Approved fields of study run from A to Z; art to zoology. Included also are business administration, education, languages, library science, mathematics, music, nursing, philosophy, professions (medicine, law, etc.), science, and vocations (Agriculture, home economics, etc.).

Individual scholarships have ranged in amounts from as much as $1,241 for a medical student for eight semesters down to sums less than $50 to cover only one semester.

Among colleges and universities approved for advanced work are Northwestern, Columbia, New York University, Tuskegee, U. C. L. A., University of Chicago, Ohio State, University of Michigan, Colorado State, Cornell University, Howard, and University of Iowa. For the most part, students are allowed to attend the college of their own choice.

Writer Says-- Congrats to Fanny Brice!

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—(AP)—Congrats to Fanny Brice! She is celebrating the 25th birthday of her 8-year-old baby. I hasten to add that the child is the ageless baby Snooks.

Twenty-five years ago Fanny wheeled out the pestiferous brat on a Ziegfeld stage. It was just another characterization in her large repertoire until Fanny revived it for radio.

"Snooks came from 'Schnooks'," Fanny says, "meaning not a brat, but far from a goodie-goodie." But the kid has certainly been a goodie-goodie for the Brice bank account.

WAR ON NERVES
5. "We must not conduct a war of nerves to achieve strategic ends; we do not want to stumble and stagger into situations where no power intends war, but no power will be able to avert war."
6. "We must not regard the drawing of attention to situations which might endanger the peace as an affront to the nation or nations responsible for those situations."
He listed the program without specifically mentioning any individual power.

Byrnes outlined the course immediately after saying that the United States "openly, gladly and wholeheartedly welcomed" Russia as a great power "second to none," and that the two nations could live together as partners "despite the differences in our way of life."
He had earlier declared that the "status quo" of world affairs was not sacred and unchangeable but "we cannot overlook a unilateral gnawing away at the status quo."
Regarding America's role, Byrnes declared:
"The charter forbids and we cannot allow aggression to be accompanied by coercion or pressure or by subtleties such as political infiltrations."
"We must make it clear in advance that we do intend to act to prevent aggression, making it clear at the same time that we will not use force for any other purpose."

LOOK WHO'S TALKING!
(Fort Wayne News Sentinel)
Columnist Frank Kent was one of the first to see a kind of insane humor in the conditions which the United States Government recently set down in connection with a gratuity of $25,000,000 which it handed to Greece.

Along with the advance of this gift—"loans," as such things are called in this day of handily embroidered English—is attached a list of "conditions" which Greece must fulfill if she expects to tap Uncle Sam's till for a second or third helping.

The conditions are that Greece must first "quickly put its house in order." Then, with what Mr. Kent refers to as "impressive solemnity," the American state government must, in order to accomplish economic recovery, "undertake vigorous measures to control inflation, to stabilize the currency, to reduce Government expenditures, to augment revenues, to increase efficiency and revive industry and trade."

It is truly a wonder that some Greek official didn't say, "You are telling me?"
Indeed, Uncle Sam is telling the Greeks, Uncle Sam, whose very own country has not discovered how to stop inflation, whose Government expenditures are the most fantastic in the world, whose government is not only largely inefficient but is being run by the most bewildered set of opportunists and neophytes in its history; whose government is faced with what amounts to a general industrial strike which has literally stopped revival of peacetime manufacturing.

"We are telling the Greeks, and it is, as Mr. Kent said, 'a colossal piece of effrontery.'"
Before we start telling other people how to run their countries, it would behoove us to learn how to run our own.

Byrnes' Speech Sure To Receive Nippon Comment

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO, March 1.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes' strongly worded statement on foreign policy is sure to receive wide attention by the Japanese.

The Russian situation has become increasingly important in recent weeks among these people. They are affected directly by every Soviet move southward.

So the most prevalent question recently asked foreigners by Japanese in all walks was "is America going to back down before the Russians?"

Some Japanese probably will take the view that the Allies must not prolong making peace or continue to impose troops on small impoverished nations. They doubtless will be quick to interpret Japan as one of the latter.

The question of the American attitude toward Russia is one of the basically important yet hidden factors of the occupation.

The Japanese freely worshipped American strength from the outset of the occupation. As the American force melted away—homeward bound—and Russia seemed to them to be enforcing demands on the United States, there was a subtle and only partially defined change among the Japanese.

Such a trend had potentialities of a future stiffening attitude toward the occupation, or of providing ploughed mental fields for jingoists who might preach their doctrines secretly.

There was a practical basis for Japanese concern. The already cowering Japan as the future Balkans of Asia, or potentially an active battleground. Russia seemed to be encroaching upon their islands.

The United States appeared to be Japan's major hope for protection as their old fear of Russia grew stronger.

Ten leaders of the CIO electrical union, whose members are participating in a nationwide strike in support of demands for a $2 daily wage increase, faced contempt charges for ordering workers to defy the injunction.

Hopes that a settlement of the General Motors strike were near came yesterday after announcement that the negotiators would hold a night meeting, which was followed by an interview by union negotiators with G. E. Wilson, General Motors president, who was confined to his apartment by illness. Later he was removed to a hospital for what was described as a "thorough check up." Associates said he was suffering from a stomach ailment.

As the negotiations were to get under way today, the UAW-CIO General Motors council, representing locals in GM plants throughout the country, were scheduled to open a two-day meeting. The council, which authorized the walkout of 175,000 production workers last Nov. 21, would have to act on any settlement formula developed in the management-union sessions.

One of the principal issues unsettled is wages, with the union holding out for a pay raise of 19 1/2 cents an hour, while the corporation carries the figure at 12 cents.

Although a threat of a nationwide strike by some 250,000 telephone workers on March 7 remained, federal conciliators were successful in arranging for resumption of negotiations in New York Sunday between the American telephone and telegraph company and the federation of long lines telephone workers.

The country's continuing labor disputes kept idle approximately 983,500 workers.

LEFTOVERS
CHICAGO, March 1.—(AP)—Police expressed the belief that the burglars who broke into the Goldenberg furniture company store were clumsy and hungry.

They gained entrance by sawing their way through a second floor window in the rear. After looting a box in the safe of $1,400, they made a ground floor exit by sawing their way through a rear door.

But they were so busy cleaning out a refrigerator of food they overlooked $7,000 in an inner compartment in the safe.

THE ONLY PATH TO TOMORROW

By AYN RAND
Condensed from "The Moral Basis of Individualism"
(Copyright 1945 by the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc.)
Reproduced by special permission.

The greatest threat to mankind and civilization is the spread of the totalitarian philosophy. Its best ally is not the devotion of its followers but the cessation of its enemies. To fight it, we must understand it.

Totalitarianism is collectivism. Collectivism means the subjugation of the individual to a group—whether to a race, class or state does not matter. Collectivism holds that man must be chained to collective action and collective thought for the sake of what is called "the common good."

Throughout history no tyrant ever rose to power except on the basis of the "common good." Horrors which no man would dare consider for his own selfish sake are perpetrated with a clear conscience by altruists who justify themselves by—the common good.

No tyrant has ever lasted long by force of arms alone. Men have been enslaved primarily by spiritual weapons. And the greatest of these is the collectivist doctrine of the supremacy of the common good over the individual. No dictator could rise if men held as a sacred faith the conviction that they have inalienable rights of which they cannot be deprived for any cause whatsoever, by any man whatever, neither the government nor the majority; that no cause is higher than these rights.

Individualism holds that man is an independent entity with an inalienable right to the pursuit of happiness in a society where men deal with one another as equals in voluntary, unregulated exchange.

The American system is founded on individualism. If it is to survive, we must understand the principles of individualism and hold them as our standard in any public question, in every issue we face. We must have a positive credo, a clear, consistent faith.

We must learn to reject as total evil the conception that "the common good" is superior to individual rights. General happiness cannot be created out of general suffering and self-immolation. The only happy society is one of happy individuals. One cannot have a healthy forest made up of rotten trees.

The power that tyrants must always be limited by the basic, inalienable rights of the individual. Such was the conception of the founders of our country, who placed individual rights above any and all collective claims.

The right of liberty means man's right to individual action, individual choice, individual initiative and individual property. Without the right to private property no independent action is possible.

The right to the pursuit of happiness means man's right to live for himself, to choose what constitutes his private personal happiness and to work for its achievement. Each individual is the sole and final judge in this choice. A man's happiness cannot be prescribed by any other man or by a number of other men.

These rights are the unconditional, personal, private, individual possession of every man, granted to him by the fact of his birth and requiring no other sanction.

From the beginning of history, two antagonists have stood face to face, two opposite types of men: the Active Man and the Passive Man. The Active Man is the creator, the originator, the individualist. His basic need is independence—in order to think and work. He neither needs nor seeks power over other men—nor can he be made to work under any form of compulsion. Every type of good work—from laying bricks to writing a symphony—is done by the Active Man. Degree of human activity varies, but the basic principle remains the same; the degree of a man's independence and initiative determines his talent as a worker and his worth as a man to the general welfare of society.

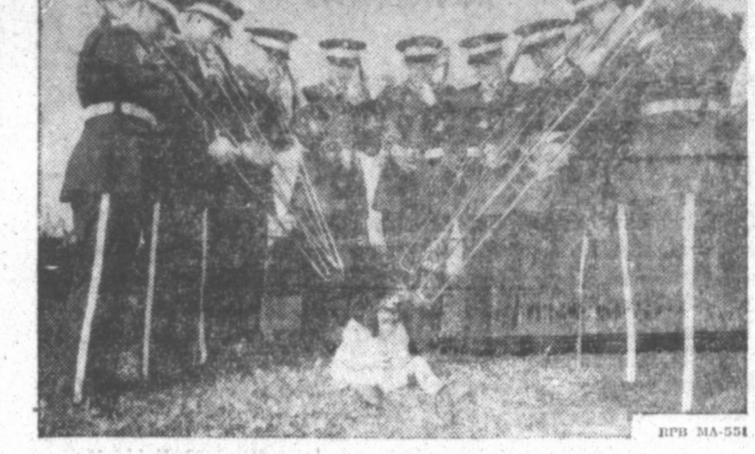

When a society is based on the needs of the Active Man, he cannot survive. When a society is based on the needs of the Passive Man, he destroys the Active; but when the Active is destroyed, the Passive cannot survive. When a society is based on the needs of the Active Man, he carries the Passive ones along on his energy and raises them as he rises, as the whole society rises. This has been the pattern of all human progress.

Some humanitarian demand a collectivist state because of their pity for the incompetent or Passive Man. For his sake they wish to harness the Active. But the Active Man cannot function in harness. And once he is destroyed, the destruction of the Passive Man follows automatically. So if pity is the humanitarian's first consideration, then in the name of pity, if nothing else, they should leave the Active Man free to function, in order to help the Passive. There is no other way to help him. The Active, however, are exterminated in a collectivist society.

The history of mankind is the history of the struggle between the Active Man and the Passive, between the individual and the collective. The countries which have produced the happiest men, the highest standards of living and the greatest cultural advances have been the countries where the power of the collective—of the government, of the state—was limited.

Regular Army Bandmen Teach Youngster "Jive"

This trombone section of an Army band in Europe turns all-out to entertain an "adopted" friend. Music is one of the many subjects which the Regular Army man may learn while serving as a "Guardian of Victory." Qualified civilians may enlist in the Regular Army and reap the benefits of a good job plus adventure, travel, and education. Men must be 17 to 34 years of age, inclusive.

and the individual was given freedom of independent action. As examples: The rise of Rome, with its conception of law based on a citizen's rights, over the collectivist barbarism of its time. The rise of England, with its system of government based on Magna Carta, over collectivist barbarism of its time. The rise of the United States to a degree of achievement unequalled in history—by grace of the individual freedom and independence which our Constitution gave each citizen against the collective.

While men are still pondering upon the causes of the rise and fall of civilizations, every page of history cries to us that there is but one source of progress: Individual Man in independent action. Collectivism is the ancient principle of savagery. A savage's whole existence is public, ruled by the laws of his tribe. Civilization is the process of setting man free from men.

We are now facing a choice: to go forward, or to go back. Collectivism is not the "New Order of Tomorrow." It is the order of a very dark yesterday. But there is a New Order of Tomorrow. It belongs to Individual Man—the only creator of any tomorrow's humanity has ever been granted.

For a thrilling, modern story of "individual man in independent action," read Ayn Rand's long-time best-seller, "The Fountainhead"—one of the great books of the 20th century. It exerts a growing influence because it is personalities not only the deepest ideological conflict of our times but the triumph of that same spirit that built and made America great. You will never forget the gripping picture it unfolds of individual man's greatness in action, and you will hope some day to see it vividly portrayed on the screen.

President and Hoover Confer

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—President Truman arranged a personal meeting with Herbert Hoover preliminary to the launching of a food conserving drive to prevent starvation abroad.

The former President and food administrator during the first World War planned to call at the White House at 11:45 a. m. (EST), to talk over the desperate food plight of war-torn Europe and Asia.

He was to participate later today in a White House conference of 12 persons invited by Mr. Truman to work out details of a voluntary program aimed at getting Americans to eat less during the world-wide food crisis.

Another former wartime food administrator, Chester C. Davis, who served during a part of World War II, was invited to the meeting.

"The eat-less" campaign will be carried on through the press, radio, speaking platform and in civic groups.

Mr. Hoover said on his arrival here last night the main problem is to feed starving Europeans until June.

In the meantime Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, taking another approach to the problem, sought ways to speed movement of wheat from midwestern elevators and farms to seaports for export.

Good tires are more important in winter than any other season of the year. Don't take chances driving on "smoothies." Let us give you a modern recapping job now.

ed deadline for evacuation of soviet forces from Iran. At the time Byrnes spoke, there was no official indication the Russians would get out by then. However, Truman Undersecretary of State Prince Pirous announced in Tehran today the soviet troops had received orders to begin leaving tomorrow.

Meanwhile there is growing concern among many officials as to soviet intentions in Manchuria in view of recent reports that red army forces there show signs of staying on indefinitely.

The Manchurian situation is not considered by many authorities here to be critical at the moment, but private comment underscored Byrnes warning that we do not want to stumble and stagger into a situation where no power intends war, but no power will be able to avert war.

The main points of the speech which diplomatic officials stressed as of great importance in the development of a more vigorous American leadership in world affairs were these:

1. The United States intends to live up fully to the principles of the United Nations charter and to use all its influence to see that other nations do the same.
2. To that end the United States must be mightily armed until such time as reduction of armaments among all the powerful nations becomes possible.
3. The United States believes that no nation has a right to keep its troops in an independent country unless that country wants them there.
4. There is no danger of war as long as each nation lives up to the obligations of the United Nations charter not to employ forces except to prevent aggression.
5. The big powers may hold special conferences among themselves to solve their own problems. This statement by the secretary was interpreted to open the way again for designed Big-Three meetings.
6. No nation has the right to "help itself" to property in conquered or

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, a group of ladies in San Francisco have organized a movement to replace young screen lovers with men of a more mature type. They claim that older actors give more thrills to women who are "frankly over forty," but I don't believe their opinion will have much influence on the movie industry.

In the first place, movie producers are in business to make money and they can't make money unless they get audiences. And where in the world would they find enough women who admit they're "frankly over forty" to make up an audience for the tinliest theater?

I agree that some of the young screen lovers who have but a boyish grin and six freckles are about as thrilling as rice pudding, but all young girls don't prefer them. Some are adult enough mentally to appreciate Charles Boyer. I know, because I do.

Liberal Loans Go Into Law Today

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—The liberalized loan terms of the GI Bill of Rights as revised last September by congress become effective today.

Where veterans used to sign eight forms to obtain a government guarantee of a share of their loan under the GI act, they now will sign only one or two, an administration statement said.

Changes in the act include:

1. Increasing guarantee on real estate loans from $2,000 to $4,000.
2. Allowing ten years for the veteran to act under the law, instead of two.
3. Extending real estate repayment terms to 25 years, and on farms to 40.
4. Broadening construction loans include cost of the lot.
5. Refinancing of certain delinquent debts.
6. Broadening of farm loans to allow for improvements, purchasing of stock and seed, or for working capital.
7. Broadening of business loans to cover purchase of inventory and working capital.

Ollie Mapes and The Streamlined House

The other day a construction firm set up an exhibit in the courthouse square. They built a new "house of the future"—and invited folks to see it.

Drew quite a crowd—with the women sighing over the shiny kitchen, and the men admiring the heating units and insulation.

All except Ollie Mapes. He looks around a spill and goes home. When I get there, he's sitting before his old dutch fireplace, with his feet on the screen, and a melon glass of beer in hand.

NO. 11—THE 1946 TAX ESTIMATE: WHAT, WHY AND HOW OF INCOME TAX EXPLAINED

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Will the full tax be withheld from your 1946 income?

If not, you must estimate what the full tax will be and start paying the difference between the tax withheld and the tax due.

You must file the estimate and make the first of four tax payments by March 15. Other payments are due June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15.

Three main groups of people will have to make estimates. You will:

1. If your income from salary or wages in 1946 will be more than $5,000, plus $500 for each exemption besides your own.
2. If you had income of more than $100 from which tax was not withheld—and if it was in addition to income from which tax was withheld—and if the two incomes totaled $500 or more—you'd have to file an estimate and make the first payment on the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax due.
3. If you expect to make $500 or more from which no tax is withheld—like a doctor or lawyer paid in fees or a landlord living off rents—you'd have to file an estimate and start paying the tax.

If husband and wife both have income, one cannot use the other's exemption in deciding whether or not filing an estimate is necessary.

If husband and wife both have incomes large enough to require an estimate both must make an estimate.

They can do it separately or jointly. At the end of the year they can decide whether they want to make their final return jointly or separately.

Suppose now you are not one of those required to file an estimate but later in the year find that you are because of changes in your income or for some other reason.

In that case, file your estimate by the next payment date, June 15, Sept. 15 or Jan. 15, 1947.

Congress late in 1945 made changes in the tax law to reduce the tax on all incomes.

So in making your 1946 estimate, you can't use the method you used in figuring out your 1945 tax. The new procedure will be explained here tomorrow.

Opponents of the dissolution are preparing an appeal to the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals.

Most of Wartime Food Subsidies Being Continued

Most of the government's wartime food subsidies will be retained until at least June 30, Stabilization Administrator John C. Collet has announced, according to Miss Evelyn Mason, secretary of the Gray county agricultural adjustment agency.

Simultaneously it was reported that sheep and lamb production subsidy payment rose to its highest point of the year on February 1 and will continue during March and April. The rate is $2.50 a hundred pounds for May and June the rate will drop to $2 for the first class and $2.65 for the second. The third rate is to remain the same.

Any person selling lambs to slaughterers is eligible for payment. This subsidy program was started last August to encourage marketing of more lambs in a move to improve the meat situation.

Subsidies after June 30 will depend upon action by congress which is being asked to authorize their payment for the 1947 fiscal year.

The change in plans for terminating subsidies was made necessary because expected price declines in non-subsidized elements of the cost of living are not materializing, according to Collet. Those declines had been counted on to offset price rises resulting from subsidy removal.

While the government wants to reduce the subsidy program as rapidly as possible, said Collet, the program is still governed by the policy of making termination of subsidies subject to general stabilization of the cost of living.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A number of stocks managed to negotiate modest gains in today's market although many leaders drifted indifferently to lower territory.

Wall Streeters, searching for signs and omen, talked of forming a club called "Guts," which, literally translated, would mean "Goodness, Am I Confused." At any time, the question of whether the market could extend its technical recovery after its recent sharpest slump in more than eight years served to restrain customers. Dealers reported to sluggishness after a moderately active opening and transfer of about 1,300,000 were among the smallest for a full session this year.

Better performers most of the day included Shamrock Oil, Texas Co., Standard Oil (N.Y.), Santa Fe, National Distillers, U. S. Rubber, Du Pont, General Electric, Woolworth, General Motors, Union Carbide, Douglas Aircraft, North American and Republic Steel. Laggards were Chrysler, Scoville, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Kennecott, International Harvester and United Aircraft.

Bonds were uneven.

40 MILLION TIMES the choice was RIVERSIDE TIRES

"RIVERSIDES didn't come on my car; I CHOSE THEM"

... And I See Millions of Others Are Switching to Riversides!

That's right! All over America, more and more people are putting Riversides on their cars. And it's important to remember that each and every one of those 40 million Riverside tires was a "replacement" sale... the careful choice of a person like yourself! (That couldn't have happened 40 million times without some very good reasons!) Think what this means to you. When you buy Riversides, you're buying a tire that millions of people before you have picked in preference to the brands that come on new cars... in preference to any other well-known make of tire! Yes! You get more for your money with Riversides... more wear... more safety, (Riversides are now even stronger than our pre-war tires!). Come into Wards today and "talk-it-over" with Wards tire man.

If we are temporarily out of your size, remember—new tires are arriving at Wards every week. (And selling fast!)

Harvester Thinclads Beat Buck Tracksters

Taking first place in every event, the Pampa Harvester track and field team won over the White Deer Bucks here yesterday afternoon. The inexperienced White Deer thin-clads were no match for the Harvesters.

Randall Clay of Pampa took three first places to take top honors in the dual meet, although no points were counted.

Clay took first place in the high jump, going 5'6", in the broad jump, with a jump of 18'3", and in the discus throw, in which he is defending state champion, with a heave of 145'0".

Brown won the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles for his two first places.

Mayes, first-year man on the track squad, showed his possibilities as a great point-getter as he won the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds and the 220-yard dash.

Other tracksters who showed up well were Lonnie Williams and Jack Olinhart.

The team is scheduled to enter the Fort Worth Exposition track meet March 15 and 16. Clay is the defending champ in the discus throw in that meet.

Other meets on the schedule include the district affair at Amarillo April 6, the regional at Lubbock April 18, and possibility two or three more dual meets.

Winners by events: 120 high hurdles—Bernie Brown, Lonnie Williams and Russell Neef, all of Pampa.

100 dash—Carl Mayes, Randall Clay, Pampa; Taylor and Thornburg of White Deer.

Sandies Triumph Over Graham To Advance to State

Six of eight representatives to the state tournament from the Class AA division of Texas school basketball have been determined and the Class A and Class B divisions start their eliminations today.

Each class will have eight teams battling for state championships at the Austin meet next week-end.

Amarillo, Greenville, Crozier Tech (Dallas), Lufkin, Jeff Davis (Houston) and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) have qualified for the state tournament.

All swept district playoff series, Amarillo taking on Graham, Greenville eliminating Sulphur Springs, Crozier Tech tumbling 1945 champion Paschal (Fort Worth), Lufkin downing Henderson, Jeff Davis clipping Goose Creek and Thomas Jefferson knocking down Kingsville.

Abilene and Brownwood and Waco meet in the remaining series with Abilene and Brownwood each one-up. Last night Abilene defeated El Paso high 22-18 and Tuesday night Brownwood won over Waco 45-36.

Defending Champs Go Into Action Tonight In Border Conference

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. March 1.—Defending champions Arizona university and West Texas State go into action in the border conference basketball tournament tonight.

Seeded into the semi-finals on the strength of season records, Arizona meets Texas Tech in the first game and West Texas takes on New Mexico in the other.

Texas Tech advanced last night at the expense of Texas Mines, 52-39 after a close first half; and New Mexico surprised Arizona state at Tempe 44-32.

Only the two top teams from the conference's three divisions qualified for tournament play.

Widener Handicap Threatens To Be Complete Fiasco

MIAMI, Fla., March 1.—(AP)—Because tomorrow's running of the $50,000 Added Widener handicap threatens to be a fiasco, strong pressure already is being brought on Charles J. McLennan, racing secretary at Hialeah, to change the present rule which provides for assignment of weights nearly two months before the big race.

The situation is that Concordian, which will carry the feather impost of 109 pounds, against the 125 pounds assigned to Calumet Farm's crack Armed, will go to the post such an odds-on favorite that the betting probably will be very light.

Despite all this, McLennan is inclined to doubt that the rule will be altered. At present, only the Widener and the Santa Anita handicap follow the custom of publishing weights long in advance, but McLennan is convinced it is necessary to do so for a winter classic.

Since the Widener weights were announced on Jan. 5 Concordian has won four straight at Hialeah, including the $25,000 McLennan memorial, in which he set a sensational pace and beat Armed by four lengths. Tomorrow Concordian will be carrying seven fewer pounds than he did in the McLennan, so it is all the more surprising that he is so favored.

First Negro in O.B. Scheduled To Report To Montreal Royals

SANFORD, Fla., March 1.—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to crash the gates of organized baseball in modern days, is scheduled to report here today for the first training drill of the Montreal Royals, Brooklyn's farm link in the international league.

The talented infielder, who was a football and basketball star at the University of California at Los Angeles in 1929 and 1930, was reported enroute from Los Angeles with his bride a few days.

President Branch Riskey, delivering his daily lecture to the Dodgers' diamond school, had paced the way for Robinson's arrival yesterday. He asked the other players to treat Robinson and Pitcher John Wright, also a Negro, the same as any other athletes on the squad.

"Murder!" They Cried

BETSY raised her eyes from the spot on the rug and in a strangled voice asked, "Uncle Andrew has killed himself?"

Hendricks nodded. "There was a letter. I guess I hadn't ought to have touched it, but it had your name on it, Mr. Willson, so I brought it with me."

"Thank you, Hendricks," Mr. Willson said. His voice was taut, partly in gratitude for Hendricks' loyalty.

He read it while we all waited. Then he said to Fletch, "We'll have to get down there right away, and we'll have to call Jeffrey Hazlett—again." I knew how much of an ordeal it was for him by the way he said "again." He came over and put his arm around my Miss Jenny and squeezed her shoulders gently. "It's pretty bad, Jenny."

She patted his hand where it rested on her shoulder, and said, "It's all right, darling. Don't worry about me."

He handed her the letter. It was indeed pretty bad. It was a long letter, the gist of it was that Andrew Stites had been paying Phillipa for—of all things—not suing for a divorce from Fletch.

The queer, bitter remarks he had made from time to time sounded in my ears.

"Women amuse me," he had said, and when Mr. Willson had remarked that that was one amusement on which he wouldn't have to pay tax, he had answered shortly, "I wonder."

Then there was that remark on the terrace the night that Phillipa had died, "Remember, will you, Nana, that what I have done, I have done for Jenny," and his remarks about saving Jenny heartache but it's being the wrong way.

Then that morning he had said that the twins were "money in the bank for Phillipa."

HE had been paying Phillipa since shortly after the birth of the twins—he was the "uncle from California"; Phillipa had no family—when she had told him that she proposed to sue Fletch for a divorce charging fraud in their marriage because she had not been told prior to it that he was the adopted son of Stephen Willson. Legally, I am firmly of the opinion that she would not have had sufficient grounds, Uncle Andrew had written, "but it would have meant heartache for Jenny, and for Fletch and Betsy, too, in the revival of all the scandal that should be left decently dead."

"But aside from the revival of an old scandal, I had to consider the boys, one of whom Fletch paid me the compliment of giving my name. Undoubtedly their custody would, under the circumstances, have been given to Phillipa, and that not only would have been harmful for the boys, but would have broken Jenny's heart. You see what I have done, I did for Jenny."

His letter went on to explain that some months before the twins were born, he had been without a secretary and Phillipa had volunteered to come to his office and help him. He had been called hurriedly from the office one day and had inadvertently left the strong box containing a lot of family papers open in his safe.

The twins were three months old when Phillipa had come to see him, showed him the copies she had made or obtained elsewhere, and told him what she proposed to do. She had not had to go any farther. "Satisfactory arrangements were made," Andrew Stites had written, "but unfortunately I could not control her perversity; her delight in tormenting in so many devious ways the members of our family. If I threatened to cut her off, she threatened publicity for the family."

HE must have written the letter long before he went to the office, for there were many pages. He went on to apologize for the difficulties which would be had in settling various financial matters. He had been trustee for a half dozen different estates. He had had some money of his own "but that was gone. I haven't long to live anyhow—Dr. Bertelette will tell you what he told me two months ago—and I figured that my mother's estate, which is not under my control, but will have to be distributed on my death, will take care of what I had to 'borrow' from the various trust funds in my care. So I am simply taking time by the forelock and advancing the date of my demise, knowing that if sufficient funds are not available to reimburse those from whom I have 'borrowed,' you will handle the matter, Stephen, so that no one suffers."

I realize now that I should not have tried to handle this thing with Phillipa alone. I have worried about the outcome ever since Bertelette told me how long I had to live—two years at the most, he said—knowing that Phillipa would probably go to you and you would have to take on the burden of keeping her quiet for Jenny's sake, keeping the twins under your care for their sake, and daily seeing Fletch more and more unhappy. And then a Divine Providence removed Phillipa from our midst, and my only regret is that I did not assist."

Dr. at my Miss Jenny's request, had been reading the letter aloud in a very shaky voice to the four of us. Her voice broke completely on those last lines and so did my Miss Jenny.

"Nana, Nana," she cried, "what have I done! What have I done!"

Sports in Red Cross Praised

The contribution of sports and sportsmen to the American Red Cross program of service to our armed forces, though measurable in many cases in dollars and cents, represents a devotion of time, effort, and materials that can be calculated only in terms of the pleasure and companionship the Red Cross sports program has meant to thousands of servicemen.

From the time hastily rerouted transports disgorged their load of surprised soldiers at Australian ports in 1942 and the first detachments of troops landed in the British Isles and Iceland, sports followed the setting up of Red Cross overseas recreation programs.

Golf was made readily accessible when resort courses were opened for GI visitors to American Red Cross clubs. Professionals gave their time, and local players challenged the Americans.

At the Red Cross Hans Crescent club in London golf lessons were a part of the recreation program. Yank visitors played challengers from Scotland Yard, from neighboring country clubs and government Variated Sports Program.

Swimming, boxing, tennis, horse-back riding, baseball, fishing, hunting, all have been part of the Red Cross program of sports.

Supplies—or, in the early days, lack of them and local terrain have been important factors in shaping the program. But frequently both have been overcome.

In Iceland, early in the war, an American Red Cross woman, a former Olympian star, defied the ruggedness of the island to coach winning baseball teams. A Red Cross man on Ascension Island provided a baseball diamond with the help of a steam roller, GI muscle, and surfacing material carried from the mountains. A field director on Antoin, in the British Isles, made softball bats of pick handles, and a Red Cross woman stationed in the Southwest Pacific made her own water sports equipment.

Make Most of Opportunities

The American Red Cross sports program makes the most of local opportunities, many provided with the help of local sportsmen. In India, for instance, tiger hunting on elephant back has offered an unusual and extremely popular novelty.

To help make such a varied and extensive program possible, outstanding sportsmen give their time. Many give exhibition performances. Some serve with the Red Cross as field directors and recreation workers. Others work ceaselessly to raise money for the Red Cross. Sports equipment dealers and manufacturers have donated supplies. Many private clubs have opened their facilities to the visitors.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

BOMBAY, March 1.—(AP)—Krishvanu is a young Indian who has given up hope of ever swallowing Western culture—all because of eggs.

He is a typical young Indian intellectual. He is very proud of the fact that he can speak six languages. He wears Western-cut clothes and likes American movies, although he doesn't believe they are serious enough.

There are two things in life that Krishvanu cannot tolerate. Great Britain—and eggs.

His hatred of all things British is the ruling passion of his life. Like most Indians of his class he thinks that all things evil in the world originate in London. He sees the British rule of India as one continuous black record of brutality, extortion and degradation for his people.

Yet Krishvanu dresses as much as possible as if he had just stepped out of Saville Row, and he hopes to speak the English language.

For all of his advanced views on life and his yearning to be free of the shackles that have chained his people for centuries, Krishvanu is an unhappy orthodox at heart. He is a Brahmin, highest caste in the Hindu religious hierarchy.

The Brahmins are forbidden liquor and meat.

They are strict vegetarians because of the rule they must never contained animal life—such as porcupine life or eat anything that ever touches a fork.

But Krishvanu decided he must abandon all of these old standards, as many educated Indians have done. He took to tasting wine and liquor and now he likes a Scotch highball as much as any Briton. He sampled port and mutton but found the meat not to his liking. Then he tried eggs—completely unconscious of their full horror.

"My first one was fried," he said, "and when I cut it in half and the yolk ran out I thought I would faint. But I forced myself to sit there and eat it all."

Fifteen times since then—Krishvanu keeps scores on his egg-eating—he has forced down an egg and each time it has bounced back up.

I asked Krishvanu how the egg tasted to him.

"It is impossible to describe," he said, "except to say that it is horrible."

"Well," I suggested, "why don't you try an egg beaten up in a chocolate milkshake? Then you couldn't see it, smell it, feel it or taste it?"

"May be," said Krishvanu, and then he asked doubtfully, "would that be entirely fair?"

Texas Business Activity Is Up

AUSTIN, March 1.—(AP)—Texas business activity rose 21 percent in January over December in the third successive month of increasing activity since the 1945 low in October, the University of Texas bureau of business research has reported.

The composite figures for last month are 24.8 percent below the all-time peak month of January, 1945. Dr. R. W. French, director of the bureau said.

Dr. French pointed out there was a sudden drop in activity in September and October after V-J day, followed by a snarlback and what appeared to be comparative stability during the past three months.

He said, however, that it "would be a mistake to assume that the present level of business is stable." The apparent stability, he said, is the net result of many forces affecting business in this state and nation which are covering up the effects of labor troubles, reconversion, demobilization, shortages and a wide variety of postwar readjustments.

Dr. French said the level of activity last month was 65.1 percent above the base period (the average month of 1930).

"The question at present is whether postwar business can be measured with a prewar yardstick. At the moment there are indications that business is reaching out for a new base, but it is not yet clear what that base will be," he said.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
AP Staff Writer

There are 26 state and regional chambers of commerce in the United States.

They came into being and grew when business men realized that groups of towns and counties could accomplish more by united effort than by bucking things alone.

The largest regional chamber in the South is the East Texas chamber of commerce.

This month the East Texas chamber will celebrate its twentieth anniversary.

On March 24, 1926, a mass meeting of progressive East Texans was held at Longview. It was called by R. M. Kelly of Longview, Gus Taylor of Tyler and the late Eugene Belmont of Nacogdoches.

Two other regional chambers had been operating in Texas for some time but East Texas had not been successful in organizing one that stayed put.

The 1926 meeting surprised even its originators. The time was ripe for aggressive organized regional effort.

A few counties in deep East Texas were first to sign up.

Today the East Texas chamber is the largest in the South, serving 71 counties and one parish, according to the organization's magazine.

It has a staff of 12 persons, a 1946 budget of $100,000, about 200 affiliated local communities, a membership of several thousand individuals and firms, and a "grass roots" organization of local leaders.

"We have developed a voice for East Texas which can be heard in Austin and at Washington in the interest of good government and sound economic progress," the magazine says.

Other Texas regional chambers are alert and progressive and successful—particularly the West Texas group—and deserve praise and respect.

But this is an anniversary salute to the East Texas chamber of commerce on its 20th birthday.

Shamrock Service Plaque Will Bear 285 Students' Names

SHAMROCK, March 1.—(Special)—The service plaque, given to the Shamrock schools, by the 1945 graduating class will bear only 285 names of ex-students of Shamrock high school who served in World War II unless additional names are turned in soon.

Mrs. Smith is making a final appeal for additional names. "The only requirements are that the boy or girl at one time or another attended Shamrock high school and later served in World War II in some capacity. If your son or daughter is entitled to this honor, please see that his or her name is turned in to me at once," Mrs. Smith asked.

The service plaque is now on display in the show window of Hunter's Department Store.

Daughters Make Writer Fortune

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—(AP)—Next time you are irritated by the young daughter's gyrations, don't be too hasty with your reproof—she may be a gold mine.

That's what happened to F. Hugh Herbert, who is not to be confused, although he often is, with the wood-woo comic. For years Herbert was merely a successful screen writer. His daughters made him a capitalist.

He has long been amused by the antics of his daughters, Diana and Pamela, who are 17 and 16.

"I got such a kick out of the girls' trying to appear older than they were that I wrote a short story about it."

He combined the girls in a character he called Corliss Archer and sent the story to a magazine. The magazine liked it and asked for more. The stories were combined in a book. A radio version, meet Corliss Archer, was devised. Then Herbert wrote the play, "Kiss and Tell." Then came the screen version with Shirley Temple which he produced with George Abbott.

"So far the play has netted me $500,000," he estimated, "and the royalties from the amateur productions are just starting. I should make about $750,000 from the picture version. It should all amount to $1,500,000 before taxes."

Meanwhile, Herbert is planning a movie sequel, "Meet Corliss Archer," and he is keeping a weather ear cocked to his daughters' remarks. He hopes to capture some gems such as the line one of the girls contributed to "Kiss and Tell": "Ever since I started wearing brassieres, you've kept a hawk eye on me."

Bollworm Control Is Discontinued

SAN ANTONIO, March 1.—(AP)—The pink bollworm control branch office at Monterey, Mexico, has been discontinued. L. F. Curt of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, has announced.

Cooperation with Mexico in bollworm control will continue, Curt said, with offices operating at Juarez, Torreon, Matamoros and Delicias, the Monterrey office was closed Jan. 31.

Curt, who is chief of the bureau's pink bollworm control work, also announced that headquarters for control between the United States and Mexico have been established in San Antonio.

Curt said he has requested additional funds for the control program which begins July 1 and to extend the work to Mexico.

He announced transfer from Juarez to San Antonio of Theodore Roosevelt Stephens, who will cooperate directly with Mexico's director general of agriculture in the cotton areas.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

OLD JUDGE: "Hank, you're a big grain producer. . . let me ask you a question or two?"

HANK: "Glad to have you, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Do you think the grain used by distillers is wasted as some folks are saying?"

HANK: "I certainly do Not! As a matter of fact, it is just the opposite."

OLD JUDGE: "How do you figure that, Hank?"

HANK: "I blend them in with original grain. This balanced ration has far greater feed value than the original grain itself. I can cut down on my whole grain feeding about 20% and still get better results."
