Tom Braly, Local Attorney, To Seek District Office

One of the more important political jobs of the 31st district had an aspirant, as it was learned Tom Braly, ex-serviceman and practicing attorney here, will formally announce his candidacy tomorrow.

Other persons either seeking election for the first time or re-election, and the offices they seek are:

Charlie Thut—county clerk. Sherman White—county judge. B. S. Via—county attorney. James Barrett—county sheriff. F. E. Leach—tax assessor-collector. Dee Patterson—district clerk. Wade Thomason—commissioner, county precinct 2. Joe Clark—commissioner, county precinct 1.

Cabinet Shift Is Seen in Making

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—President Truman said today he is not ready to announce a successor to Interior Secretary Harold Ickes and spiked reports that a cabinet shift is in the making.

He told a news conference he had discussed the interior post with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, but left up in the air whether Douglas would get it or even whether he had been offered the job.

At one point, he appeared to have ruled out Douglas because he said he did not want to have two cabinet members from Washington state.

Commenting on another report that Schweilenbach might be appointed to the supreme court if Douglas went to interior, the President said emphatically that Schweilenbach is going to stay where he is.

He added that Clinton F. Anderson, another member of the cabinet, will remain as secretary of agriculture. That is definite, Mr. Truman said, as long as they want to stay.

Protection of Manchuria Is Being Sought

CHUNGKING, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A committee representing 10,000 Chungking students today demanded that China "protect Manchuria with blood and tears."

The committee called upon all students in China to demonstrate against Soviet activities in Manchuria and announced that 10,000 Chungking students would march in a protest parade tomorrow.

The students committee drafted a letter of protest to Stalin, a second "comforting" the people of Manchuria, and a third exhorting the nation to rise in protest against the secret Yalta agreement which gave a share in Manchurian affairs.

CHUNGKING municipal council simultaneously petitioned the Chinese government to adopt a stronger Manchurian policy.

The Yalta agreement, made official by the parallel sino-soviet treaty, gives Russia continued control of important Port Arthur, declares a free port, and gives Russia joint control with China of certain Manchurian railroads.

Marines Demoted For Circulating 'Gripe' Petition

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Three marine sergeants and three corporals were demoted to privates today because they circulated a petition which disapproved of marine corps discharge policy and demanded more information on leatherneck demobilization plans.

Announcing this as "the final action contemplated" in the week-old case, Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, Pacific fleet marine commander, said the demotions were not punishment for the six men.

"The individuals concerned have demonstrated their unfitness to be non-commissioned officers," he declared.

The six marines were demoted on the recommendation of a board convened by Maj. Gen. J. T. Moore, commander of the air fleet of the Pacific marine force and in charge of the EWA air station in north-west Oahu, where the six men were stationed.

The board ruled that the marines participated in the protest "in violation of navy regulations," that they acted without the knowledge or consent of their commanding officer and that they made no previous effort to obtain the information they desired through official channels.

The finality of General Geiger's statement indicated no action would be taken against any of the remaining 400 marines which the American veterans committee leader at Oahu declared had signed the protest.

Recess Is Called In County Court

Three cases on the county court docket were scheduled to be continued and the jury was recessed until further notice by County Judge Sherman White because of the absence of witnesses and attorneys in the Morgan case.

All three attorneys for the cases were trying other cases in other courts at the time the cases came up for trial this morning.

Cases continued were those of Julian Cooper and Herbert Veath, both charged with driving while intoxicated, and that of Roy Lee Archer, charged with threatening the life of H. P. Doser.

KPDN Granted Power Increase By Government

The federal communications commission today notified Radio Station KPDN, the Pampa Daily News station, that its application for an increase in power had been granted.

The station will go from 100 to 250 watts, and the change-over will be made within about three or four days.

John Michel, station manager, said this morning that new and more efficient equipment had been purchased some time ago and that it is ready to be hooked up at the transmitter here.

New equipment on hand are a Gates transmitter, Doolittle frequency monitor, new microphones and an RCA Console control panel. The control panel has been in operation for a few months.

E. J. Hanna, News publisher and business manager of the station, said "Our coverage map will be larger, and people who have already been within our range will have better reception. And other communities will be brought within our range. Expense has not been spared in getting the new equipment. It is the best, and it is the first available since the war."

Michel said: "Our programs will be better than ever before, and there is a definite increase in our ability to serve the public."

The local station was established in 1935, and has been under the present ownership since 1936. It became an affiliate of the Mutual Broadcasting System in 1944, and since that time the management has sought to go to 250 watts, but had been delayed due to the fact that equipment was not available nor were discharge policy and demanded more information on leatherneck demobilization plans.

It is now on the air daily, except Sunday, from 6:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. On Sunday the time is from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m.

Carl Haverlin, vice president of MBS, New York, said to KPDN this morning by telephone: "My deepest congratulations."

'Travel by Air' Is Suggested by Rotary Speaker

"You too can travel by air," stated Geoffrey F. Morgan, speaker at the second of a series of four lectures held last night in the Junior high school auditorium, being sponsored by the Pampa Rotary club and Rotary International.

Add with that Morgan gave statistics and advances made in air travel and transportation, along with what can be expected in the future.

"Constructive Use of Air Transport" within the next 10 years, said Morgan, there will be 10,000 passenger planes in the States in comparison to the 500 the 21 airlines existing today now have in operation. On Pearl Harbor day there were 360 transports.

Also in the next 10 years, 500,000 people will make use of travel by air each day; today about 15,000 travel by air each day, said Morgan, emphasizing the coming of the air age.

But, he said, there has been much publicity by air-minded "enthusiasts" with some "hot air," promising super-sonic speeds in transports, which is not probably for the next 10 years at least.

In describing an up-to-date passenger transport, Morgan said it could accommodate from 50-100 persons with all the facilities and comforts of a first class hotel.

From Pampa it will require about 5.5 hours to go to New York; 24 hours from here to anyplace in Europe, said Morgan, at a cost of four and one-half cents a mile which is

Kwajalein Is Exciting Place as Preparations Made for Atom Test

KWAJALEIN, Feb. 21.—(AP)—There is a strange story unfolding today in the sunbaked remoteness of the Marshall Islands as a joint army-navy task force prepares for "operation crossroads"—the atomic bomb tests against seapower.

Kwajalein no longer is merely a lonely Pacific outpost or a way-station on the aerial routes linking Asia and America. It is a busy, vital, exciting place where everyone present knows he will have a ringside seat at one of the greatest experiments of all times.

Army airmen who are to drop the bomb will arrive early in March to begin experimental flights and tests. Already, men gather each night under bright stars and surf-silvering moonlight to speculate what will happen when the new atomic

Pearl Harbor Probers Take Two Weeks Rest

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ten members of congress who have heard millions of words on the subject took a rest today before taking the job of trying to decide who was to blame for Pearl Harbor.

After a week or so, Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) told a reporter, there will be numerous closed-door meetings "and we'll all be working on it." The report is due by June 1.

Barkley said each member will be permitted during the next two weeks to draw up questions they want put to former Secretary of State Cordell Hull and former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

Both have been ill a long time. Stimson has not testified at all and Hull only briefly early in the hearing. Barkley said he will send the questions as finally drawn to the two ailing former cabinet officers.

The last formal witness was Geo. W. Brienkell, assistant military intelligence officer in Hawaii at the time of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack.

Eicknell gave the committee a summary of the 1940-41 situation in Hawaii as being one of helplessness from the standpoint of espionage. He said Japanese spies were free to go almost everywhere and see almost anything, "leisurely and minutely."

The military didn't like it, he said, but were powerless since the Japanese had "the protection of civil law."

Legion Barbecue Attended by 3,000

CANADIAN, Feb. 21.—Aside from the fact that there was not enough imported wood to finish some of the barbecue here yesterday, there was enough barbecue to treat an estimated 3,000 persons who came here for the entertainment sponsored by the American Legion. Besides barbecue, there were apricots for dessert.

Beans went with the barbecue and coffee. Onions could be had. There was a lot of bread left over, but there were plenty of people who accepted a loaf or two to take home.

The Zybach-Owens post gave the barbecue, followed later by a dance, as a homecoming event for the men of the second world war. Many uniforms were seen on the streets all day yesterday.

The high wind which began about the time the barbecue began at noon did not keep people from moving around and visiting with each other. There were many persons from out of town.

Most of the business concerns closed up at noon for the remainder of the day.

Olsen Is Speaker At Charter Banquet

Hugo Olsen, Gray district Scout executive, was the main speaker at the charter banquet of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the McLean Lions club Tuesday night.

Olsen spoke to the members of the club and troop on the value of scouting to the community.

The Rev. Floyd Grady, scoutmaster of the troop, made a report on the past year's activities, which include taking part in the Red Cross drive, old clothes campaign, bond drives, paper salvage and other activities.

Also included among the activities was the service of Scouts as city officials during one day in Boy Scout week. Elections were held among scouts to fill the various offices.

Lions Minstrel Opens Tonight At Junior High

Biggest thing in entertainment to hit Pampa since at least the Amarillo-Pampa football game is the Lions club Dixieland Minstrel being held tonight and tomorrow night, at the Junior high school starting at 8 o'clock sharp.

It's packed with deep and pulsating rhythm, moods and quips. It's a throw-back to the vaudeville era of Al Jolson, with local dark-faced boys and girls giving all they have, and it's worth the taking. It's a good deal.

At 8 o'clock 25 cent boxes of candy will be sold, with a prize given with each package. Yesterday it was announced nylon hose were to be among the prizes. Today the Lions say a $12.50 orchid will be given to a lucky lady each night of the two nights. Two automobile tires also top the list of 50 prizes to be given away each night.

Lasting about 1 and one-half hours, the Minstrel is a continuous two-act show without intermission. An intermission isn't required.

Last night the cast had its last rehearsal, not dress, but the Rotary lecturer Geoffrey Morgan, who had given a talk just before the rehearsal.

Officials Ready To Restore Some Wartime Controls

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The government is ready to restore some wartime production controls and grant higher prices to ease the acute shortage of cotton clothing.

OPA and the civilian production administration believe this double-barelled program eventually will boost by about 50 percent the output of shirts, shorts, pajamas, dresses, work clothing and other scarce garments.

Officials of the two agencies told reporters late yesterday that despite price increases to be authorized, the program will not cost the public more for clothing in general.

To assure greater output of cheaper clothing, the civilian production administration plans "soon" to reinstate a wartime regulation which required textile mills to turn out certain types of cotton fabrics needed for essential garments.

The price increase for cotton fabrics will be in two parts: 1. A general increase of about three and one-half cents a pound in recognition of higher parity prices for raw cotton and to offset recent wage increases. Mills which did not hike wages will get only about one cent of this.

2. An additional incentive increase of five per cent to apply on selected fabrics urgently needed for clothing and for certain industrial and agricultural purposes.

While the agencies sponsoring the program were unable to estimate the overall effect of these adjustments on retail prices, they said present ceilings on shirts, for example, might be hiked about five or six cents.

Government Offices To Close Tomorrow

All government offices, including the post office, the price panel, United States employment service, and the rent control board will be closed tomorrow in observance of Washington's birthday.

In addition, both local banks will be closed as all legal holidays are banking holidays. Pampa merchants, however, will remain open.

There will be no mail delivery or window service at the post office but mail will be put up in boxes as usual. Postmaster W. B. Weather-

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: TRAVELERS FIND PRICES HIGH IN MEXICO CITY

Ivey E. Duncan, who is vacationing with his wife in Mexico City, writes a thumb-nail sketch of the place on the back of a menu to the Pampa chamber of commerce.

"The rapid increases of prices here is going to discourage tourists," writes Duncan. "Also the gasoline racket or shortage," he adds in brief, man-who-is-busy-creating comments.

"There's plenty of building material here and lots of new construction. Lots of U. S. goods here that we are short of there."

200 Casualties Result Among Troops, Sailors

BOMBAY, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Striking Indian naval seamen trained the guns of a flotilla of warcraft on Bombay tonight after a day of fighting between troops and seamen ashore which one navy enlisted man said had cost the strikers 200 casualties.

Naval enlisted men barricaded in Castle barracks, a naval establishment in the Castle section in the heart of the downtown area, were besieged by British Tommies and Indian troops. The troops had orders to quell what the Indian navy's flag officer called a "state of open mutiny."

NINE WARRAFT USED. There were reports a truce ended the fight at Castle barracks shortly before 5:30 p. m. (6 a. m. Central Standard Time), but gunfire still echoed through the city at 8 p. m.

Nine warcraft, based by the strikers maneuvered into battle position in the harbor as the troops and barricaded seamen exchanged rifle and machinegun fire.

TO CRUSH REVOLT. Vice Adm. Sir John Godfrey proclaimed the existence of "a state of open mutiny." He promised to use every force at his command to crush the revolt of the seamen, who have protested that they were discriminated against under British regulation of the fleet.

Heavily armed British Tommies and Indian troops went into action when Indian seamen who had been staking a hunger strike in the Castle barracks attempted to break out into the streets, from which they had been banned following demonstrations earlier this week. The seamen responded with small arm fire.

GATEWAY TO INDIA. Whether there was any significance to the maneuver of the nine warships held by the strikers—of the sloop and frigate class—was not explained. They formed a staggered line within easy distance of the shore in front of the stout archway called the "Gateway to India." Seamen were seen at gun positions, working with the weapons.

Seven Answer Appeal for Blood

DALAS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Seven persons have responded to the appeal for blood donations for Jacqueline Moore, 4-year-old leukemia victim who has been given 20 transfusions at the children's hospital here, Miss Ann Brandner, superintendent, said today.

Additional blood donors will be needed if the child is to receive further transfusions from the Parkland hospital blood bank. Miss Brandner said. Any type of blood may be given, as the blood is needed to replenish the bank rather than directly for the child, she said.

The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore of Blackwell, Nolan county, in West Texas. The parents bring the girl to the children's hospital at Dallas at intervals for two or three days during which the transfusions of whole blood are given. Plasma cannot be used in leukemia cases, Miss Brandner said.

The child previously could go for periods of two months between transfusions, but recently the interval has dropped to three weeks, Miss Brandner said.

Southern Lumbermen Granted Price Raise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The OPA yesterday made immediately effective an increase of 3.25 a thousand board feet in price ceilings for most southern lumber.

NO. 4—FILLING OUT FORM W-2:

WHAT, WHY AND HOW OF INCOME TAX EXPLAINED

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of 12 stories explaining what does what about his 1945 income taxes.)

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Don't send money to the internal revenue collector when you mail him your 1945 income tax return on Form W-2.

Form W-2 is the receipt a boss gives a worker to show how much he earned in 1945 and how much tax was withheld from him.

The collector checks your return. Note to husband and wife: If you both had income in 1945 and are within the requirements for using Form W-2 then—

Don't worry whether to file separate or combined returns on Form W-2. The collector, by law must figure out the cheaper way for you. If you worked for more than one boss who withheld taxes from your 1945 wages, get a Form W-2 receipt from each.

Without all the receipts, you can't make a return on Form W-2. You'll have to use Form 1040.

If you have them all, attach them to the receipt from your last boss. That's the one you fill out and file. Don't fill out the others.

On the "original" the boss already has written your name and address, his name and address, how much money you earned, how much tax he withheld from you.

You answer the other questions on the "original."

Here's a point to remember but don't let it confuse you. Just follow the questions on the Form W-2 which you happen to have.

During 1945 the internal revenue department sent out loads of Form W-2 to employers. Later in the year, to simplify the form still further, the department sent out slightly different forms.

No matter which one your boss gives you, you can file your return on it. On one—under "exemptions"—you list yourself first, then your wife, then your child.

On the other—under "exemptions"—you list only your child.

On this form—without specifically listing yourself and wife as exemptions—you automatically are credited with exemptions for yourself and wife.

The difference between the two forms is given here only because some readers may have one kind, some of the other.

Wheat Loans To Be Called Soon

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 21—(AP)—Approximately 2,000,000 bushels of Texas wheat are affected by the order that all government wheat loans be called March 1, B. F. Vance, state director of the production marketing administration's branch office here estimated.

He said that the present heavy demand for wheat prompted the calling of the loans and that the action was a part of a national program to get wheat into trade channels. Farmers with wheat in the loan, either in warehouse or farm storage, have until March 1 to pay off their loans or deliver the wheat to the commodity credit corporation, he said.

Standard Measure

Now we can all make a good cup of coffee every time, thanks to the standard coffee measure developed by the National Coffee Association. The new, plastic measure holds just the right amount of coffee for 3/4 cup of water—proper proportion for a good brew. Handle of the measure is long enough to dip easily into vacuum-packed jar of coffee. Available in various colors to match kitchen decorations, the new measure will be distributed by coffee roasters and coffee-making equipment manufacturers.

The order of Rainbow for Girls has planned an initiation service for their meeting Friday evening. The girls will meet in the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Hopkins P.T.A. Sees Founder's Day Play

A play by the sixth and seventh grades of Hopkins school portrayed the Founder's day theme at the meeting of the Hopkins Parent-Teacher's association Tuesday night. The play was entitled, "Burn Candles, Burn."

A. W. Wakefield opened the meeting with the invocation and led the group in repeating the Lord's prayer. A nominating committee was elected with Miss Winnie Taylor as chairman, and serving with her, Mrs. Leo O'Borman, and Mrs. George Parks. Mrs. Moore Jones and Mrs. Milo Bird made reports from the Tri-county P-T. A. council meeting.

R. B. Johnston, Lefors teacher, was the principal speaker, taking as his topic, "Managing Your Moods." "Our emotions cause most of our ill health," he said, citing for an example the fact that "90 per cent of the accident cases taken to hospitals happen to 14 per cent of the people."

Rotarians Discuss First President Of United States

George Washington and the many problems that faced him as president was the subject of a talk before the Pampa Rotary by Rotarian Travis Lively at the club's regular weekly luncheon yesterday.

Lively, well-known local historian and world affairs enthusiast, said there were many "debunkers" whose tendency is to slur the names of famous persons but Washington's qualities as president far overshadowed any personal faults.

Among the problems that faced Washington, Lively said, was the payment of the national debt of nearly $85,000,000, which was a staggering figure to the 13 small colonies.

Washington so wisely chose his cabinet that the country was put on a sound basis only a few years after the first president's death.

Such a man as Alexander Hamilton, whose efforts to bring about the settlement of the debt, was a prime example of Washington's ability to judge men, Lively continued.

Under Washington's guidance, a vicious "lynch" tract that threatened to disrupt America's relations with other countries was quelled by men under Washington, even though it was necessary to call out troops.

Lively pointed out that no other man could have commanded the respect and confidence of 13 disjointed states and bring them together as a nation.

He concluded by urging Rotarians to further study the great acts of Washington and to carry out his ideals in their work and associations.

Geoffrey Morgan, Rotary Institute speaker, gave a brief talk on aviation as a prelude to his main address last night. In his talk he cited the great work of General H. L. George, whose efforts brought about the organization of the air transport command.

Morgan also said that some system of retaining the right to use air bases built by the United States in foreign lands should be worked out immediately.

Winston Savage, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 20, which is sponsored by the Rotary club, made an announcement concerning the annual banquet to be given Monday night in the Palm Room for the troop.

Each Rotarian will bring as his guest one member of the troop.

DeLea Vicars, club president, reminded members of the regional meet in Amarillo and asked all who planned to attend to notify the club secretary.

DAV Chapter

(Continued from page one) erans of the World War." So effective did the DAV become in causing congress to adopt remedial legislation, in causing a "house cleaning" of the then predecessor of the present veterans' administration, and in representing thousands and thousands of disabled veterans and successfully handling their claims, that in 1932 congress chartered the DAV as the exclusive spokesman and representative of the disabled of World War I, and their dependents. It was but natural that in 1942, congress amended the DAV federal charter to eliminate the words "Of the World War" and broadened its eligibility and representation to include all of America's disabled, of all its war and campaigns.

The DAV, as of December 1, 1945, had 80,000 members, of which over 25,000 were life members. More than 50 per cent of the total membership are World War II veterans. As of that date, there were nearly 40 active state departments and 1200 DAV chapters, with more being formed every day.

Each chapter determines for itself who it will and will not accept into membership, but all members must be eligible. The DAV, as an organization, is non-political and non-sectarian, and offers aid and assistance to any disabled veteran and the dependents of any deceased veteran, without regard to race, color, creed or station in life.

The DAV is nationwide, and represents its members in Washington as well as in the legislative bodies of every state, in all matters affecting their rights and benefits as disabled veterans. Every law which congress has adopted of direct benefit to the wartime disabled veterans, was fought for by the DAV. Its expert staff in Washington is today pressing for additional legislation to cure existing inequalities and injustices.

DAV national service officers, throughout the nation, have advised and assisted thousands of war-disabled to prove the service-origins of their disabilities, obtain needed medical treatment, hospitalization, vocational training, monetary benefits and suitable employment. The DAV has and is training more paid national service officers than all other veterans' organizations, combined.

Ban on Peacetime Draft Developing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A proposed international ban on peacetime draft armies developed strong support today in the house military committee.

Growing favor for the idea came to light as the committee passed the end of three months of hearing on legislation for a universal military training program for the United States.

Chairman May (D-Ky) told reporters the committee would take no action on universal training bills until it has considered a separate proposal urging the president to use his influence to bring about an international agreement outlawing conscription.

The chairman may have as many as 100 members on his back.

Pauley Fight

A second legislator today urged Pauley to withdraw. Senator Morse (R-Or.) told reporters he had just returned from a speaking trip which took him through several states and that "this Pauley case has the country rocked."

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss), however, sided with Pauley. In another statement he congratulated the President for "standing pat" on Pauley "because I want an opportunity to vote for his confirmation since this is the best way that I know of to show my utter contempt for Harold Ickes."

Ickes resigned as secretary of the interior after taking caustic issue with the President for saying Ickes could have been mistaken about his testimony on Pauley. Ickes said Pauley told him in 1944 that $300,000 in democratic campaign contributions could be obtained from California oil men if the government would drop its efforts to establish federal ownership of oil-bearing tracts.

Manchuria

(The Chinese said they saw pictures of Russian bodies beside those of Chinese communists. Some 300 rounds of light artillery were fired at government troops, two of whom were wounded.)

(Chinese also said the Russians were heavily reinforcing the garrison at Dairen with "several tens of thousands" of troops.)

(A Chinese source in Changchung, the Manchurian capital, reported having seen communist Eighth army soldiers armed with Russian tommy guns. The report was not confirmed by any other source, but Changchung reports yesterday that communists in Manchuria were equipped with Russian tanks and guns.)

Mexico City

Pampa tops that too. Who is it who says its the dust in the air in the Panhandle which makes the Panhandle Texas a Panhandle Texas? via vitamin E?

Prices on the menu on which Duncan wrote list tea or coffee at Hotel Geneva in Mexico City at 12 cents a cup (60 cents Mexican money); Mexican bean soup 30 cents; road pork with apple sauce, 80 cents; or Irish stew and dumplings, breaded and fried liver and onions, served with a baked potato, rice pudding and sweet peppers.

Chocolate tapoca cream costs 16 cents at the same hotel, also peach shortcake with whipped cream and conserved pears with cake.

"It's difficult to eat any meal anywhere for less than $1.25," Duncan inserts on the colorful Mexican-decorated menu, illustrating "Mexican Culinary Utensils," none of which remotely resemble the spindly did mix-master to be given away at the Lions Minstrel show tonight and tomorrow night.

The trip to Mexico City is one which has been planned by Duncan for the past 10 years, it was reported by a friend of his. Not until now has the Hughes-Pitts, insurance man been able to make it. It is believed that the Duncans will return to Pampa when they are ready.

Minstrel Show

There's a 40-member chorus of the best mixed voices in Pampa. There's the suave interloper, Carl Benfield; a host of talented dark-faced chills; and then there's the end man and Jimmy McCune, and the inimitable Red Wedgeworth directing the show, seemingly drawing a steady flow of rhythm from the shoestrings of every last member of the entire cast.

The chorus opens the program in rising version of "Are You from Dixie?" With endmen interchanging witticisms with Mr. Interloper between acts, the next feature is "Can't You Hear Me Callin' Caroline?" by Chick Hickman.

Watch this, particularly the Mills Brothers' leg action in Hickman's torso.

"Moonlight Bay" will be sung by Emma Lena Horn, with "Dapper Dan the Minstrel Man," Max Pressnell, giving support, including support of morale, to Miss Horn with a soft-shoe tap dance.

Jackie Dunham really goes to town along with LaNelle Scheelhaugen in "Darktown Strutters Ball."

The lighting of the stage is effective throughout the show.

G. F. Brunson will sing "Mighty Lak a Rose" which no lover of the Irish could miss, and everybody loves

Atom Test

They speculate whether a tidal wave will sweep through the islands when the bomb explodes at the surface, and if waters will surge across the low coral atolls liberated from the Japanese two years ago.

Eniwetok, as well as Bikini, will be evacuated—because, even though it is 180 miles from Bikini, winds might strew it with radio active particles. No one can foretell what will happen, so no one is taking any chances.

The islanders know that the atom bomb will be in the grove when Dr. Malcolm Brown sitters "Blackeyed Susan Brown" on his trumpet.

Then there's "Swanee," by Jackie Dunham in the best amateur reproduction of the famed Al Jolson song we've ever heard.

Numbers at the Minstrel pass more quickly than it takes time to read about them, and its much more enjoyable.

Tickets may still be had at the Harvester, Berry, Richard and Wilson drugs. If you already have a ticket for tonight you may want to purchase another for tomorrow night's performance. Reserved tickets may be obtained at the door of the Junior high school auditorium at 7 o'clock.

All proceeds are for the benefit of the Lions club park fund.

Travel by Air

(Continued from page 1) will probably be reduced to three and one-half, probably three. Long distance rates are less, about the same as that of traveling pullman plus lunch money, said Morgan.

Not only passenger service, but cargo service is available emphasized Morgan. Air mail rates will probably be reduced in the near future, he added.

Individual planes will probably reach a total of 500,000 within 10 years, he added.

The Bikini folk are preparing to leave, perhaps never to return. They accepted philosophically the selection of their coral islands for the tests, and on March 1 navy ships will begin moving them and their household belongings to the island of Rongerik, 135 miles to the east. There they will be re-established in new homes provided by the Americans.

The story of this overwater migration of Bikini's 167 natives will be a saga in itself.

New York Yanks 'Delighted' With Panama Camp Site

BALBOA, C. Z., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The New York Yanks have made such remarkable progress in their baseball training and are so delighted in general with their Panama camp they are virtually certain to return here next spring.

To a man, the veterans just out of the service about whom manager Joe McCarthy said his most serious doubts have told his writer that training here has been extremely beneficial.

Joe Dimaggio, Joe Gordon, Tommy Henrich, Ken Sears, Phil Rizzuto and others unanimously say they are rounding into shape much faster than they had hoped.

The two prominent Panamanians who put up $30,000 cash to bring the first big league club to Isthmus figures to begin getting their money back in large chunks today when the Yanks play their first exhibition game against the Panama all-stars in the Olympic stadium at Panama City.

The arena accommodates 14,500 persons and the promoters expect it to be jammed at prices ranging from $1 to $3. It will be the first of 11 games the Yanks will crowd into their remaining days in the Canal Zone before they head for St. Petersburg, Fla., to continue their training.

Panama's four professional clubs don't possess many home run sluggers and while the crowd cheered every time a Yank sailed over the fence in the club's early batting practice, they have become so surfeited with the sight of the Yankee power that there was scarcely a peep when Charley Keller banged out three homers in a row yesterday.

Dyer Grooms Dusak For Kurowski's Job

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old

Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasure, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASSELLA stimulating tablets. Take an direct as label. Don't feel you've worn out at 40, 50 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASSELLA tablets and regain the vim and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula.

POLISHES SILVER Without Rubbing

RAIN DROPS
America's Wash Word

By CHUCK HOSCH
PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Still seeking his first major victory in five months, Sammie Snead, the slammer from Hot Springs, Va., teed off as the defending champion today in the opening round of the $7,500 Pensacola open golf tournament.

Play will be limited to four daily rounds of 18 holes with the great Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and other notables out to dethrone the Virginian. The 105 contestants, 90 of them professionals, are playing in three-somes, without benefit of improved lies. Last year, players were permitted to improve the lie.

Snead toured the par 72 Pensacola country club layout last year in four sub-par rounds, 67-64-68-68—267, to finish seven strokes in front of Nelson. The victory was his fifth, against four for Nelson, of the 1945 winter tour.

In contrast, Nelson has won three of the four meets in which he has competed this year, his latest being the New Orleans open which ended Sunday. Hogan has won two of the seven 1946 tournaments. Tony Penna of Dayton, O., copped one and Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Texas, bagged the other. Demaret and Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Me., second in total winnings last year, at the last minute said personal business affairs would keep them from competing here.

Freddie Haas, Jr. of New Orleans, the leading amateur here last year, will be competing this time as a pro. He finished fifth in his professional debut at New Orleans, winning $475. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, a protege of Nelson, and among the game's top amateurs, is not entered. He passed up the meet here to play in an invitational affair at Houston.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Jockey Gordon Richards, who has ridden 3,000 winners, was named Great Britain's outstanding sports figure in a recent vote—just wait until he blows a race with the favorite and see what the vote would be.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
Ray Lumppp's return to the New York U. basketball lineup seems to be a sure indication the Violets will be in one of the post-season tournaments, probably the invitation. He would hardly use up a year's eligibility for the few regular season games NYU has left. The minor leagues have almost run out of colors for the contracts of their numerous classifications—which won't worry the club owners much as long as a few players have color—L. Comdr. Mickey McQueen, the coast guard academy's boxing coach and football trainer, has been put on the retired list and may soon turn up as a trainer for one of the all-American pro football clubs.

PRACTICAL VIEWPOINT
When Jimmy Simms was reading off entries for some of the events in Saturday's A. A. U. meet at Tuesday's track writers' meeting, Bob Giegengack, the Fordham coach, commented: "At two bucks an entry, they won't have to sell any tickets."

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS
Jimmy Johnston's latest open letter, written in the interest of getting his boy Archie Moore a fight with Gus Lesnevich, contends: "After meeting Moore, Jake Lamotta will go back to selling bananas and Billy Fox will crawl into the fox hole where he belongs. And he can have Nite Bolden for company."—Mike Gonzales' report to manager Eddie Dyer on Dick Sisler's first-basing ability: "He can do. No sell him."

Carver Cagers To Meet Lubbock
Carver school basketball will tangle with Dunbar high school cagers of Lubbock tomorrow night in two games, the first beginning at 8 p. m. in the Junior high gym.

The two schools have met before in cage competition. Carver girls have not lost to a Lubbock team in the last two years. On the other hand, Carver boys have never defeated a team from Lubbock.

The Carver girls will be out to keep the record clean and the boys will be seeking a first victory over the Lubbock five.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Santa Anita Turf In Strike Threat

By FRANK FRAWLEY
ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 21.—(AP)—With its two $100,000 races the derby and the handicap, coming up within two weeks, Santa Anita race-track today was faced with a strike threat that could conceivably close down the plant.

A group of owners and trainers informed Santa Anita officials yesterday that it would not enter its horses in any more races unless the Los Angeles turf club, conducting the 55-day meeting, paid grooms and exercise boys and agreed to run races when only six horses are entered.

The group, organized as the California Thoroughbred Owners and Trainers Association, wants the track records this season, to pay the grooms and exercise boys, instead of the money coming from the purses to owners and trainers.

The association claims to represent 75 percent of the owners and trainers at Santa Anita. Karl Becker, field secretary, said the owners had agreed not to enter their horses today for Friday's races. He said grooms would not lead horses to the saddling paddock this afternoon.

Chairman Loyd Wright of the California horse racing board attempted to forestall the strike last night but failed. He said the owners were barred under racing rules from conferring with proper authorities about grievances. Becker said attempts to have various grievances adjusted have failed "and we're tired of being pushed around."

The department of agriculture will develop additional ways in which grain now being used in the feeding of livestock and poultry could be conserved for use as human food.—President Truman.

Firmer Chinese Policy Toward Russia Is Seen

By JAMES D. WHITE
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—(AP)—When troops begin to move in China, it usually means decisions have been reached, policies laid down.

Troops are moving in China—or are going to, with American help. The Chinese government requests the movement of additional Chinese armies into Manchuria. General Marshall approved.

That approval, apparently, is the backbone of what looks like a firmer Chinese policy toward Russia. Two Chinese armies, the 5th and 6th, already are reported in Manchuria. Unofficial reports from Nanking say six more are to be taken there.

Going on the basis of a report that the 8th is made up of 30,000 troops, this would mean that perhaps as many as 240,000 troops are to be moved in.

That probably would be a minimum to establish order in Manchuria, where the Chinese communists are said to claim 300,000 armed men themselves, and where things are in such a state that one report says 8,000 Japanese still operate as guerrillas south of Mukden.

The reported decision to move more troops into Manchuria came out of the highly important military conference in Nanking, where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek met some 500 of his generals in what was previously announced to be a decision of the unification of armies.

Over the same week-end a number of things happened which suggest that after six months of almost complete official silence on Russia, the Chinese are opening up.

Today, news came through that at least American correspondents had got to Mukden through the Chinese lines, beyond which they hadn't been able to proceed up to this time. In Mukden they will find either confirmation or denial of the persistent Chinese reports about Russian looting there.

None of this means that the Chinese suddenly have learned what Russia has been doing in Manchuria. They have had their observers there and have known all along. What it does mean is probably that fresh American support has enabled them to see their way clear toward a firmer policy toward Russia. The signal for the turning point probably was the appointment last week of Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as the new American ambassador to Moscow.

One question went unanswered today, and that was whether the Nanking conference of generals meant a stronger policy toward China, who under present agreements are supposed to be "united" peacefully.

A possible hint came from the communists themselves, who began playing down talk about the danger of civil warfare in southern Manchuria because of the advance of central government troops.

Whether this meant a new line for communist tactics wasn't clear, but the communists have said many times that they cannot win in a knock-down, drag-out civil war against Chiang Kai-shek.

RECONVERSION
OXNARD, Calif., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The navy has a new peacetime target—it's going to bomb crows.

County Agricultural Commissioner Chester Barrett says the navy base here has promised to enter the "war against crows" and use its planes and personnel in dynamiting a nearby willow grove where thousands of crows roost.

New Weed-Killer Costs Only $1
COLUMBUS, Ohio.—American homeowners now keep their lawns free of weeds at an average cost of $1 a season as the result of a new development in 2, 4-D weed-killing plant hormone, scientists at the Ohio State agricultural experiment station revealed today.

Development from an ester of 2, 4-D-chlorophenoxyacetic acid, this chemical has been named Weed-No-More kills most broad-leaf weeds cut is harmless to common lawn grasses. Instead of back-breaking digging every summer the average householder can now merely spray on this chemical and enjoy a smooth and weed-free lawn. Weed-No-More is manufactured by the Sherwin-Williams Co., world's largest makers of paints and insecticides.

The preparation is particularly effective against dandelions, chickweed, bindweed, poison ivy, plantain, thistle, and many other weeds, the scientist said. It will not injure the soil and is harmless to humans and animals when used according to directions. It is odorless and non-staining.

The action of the chemical is such that weeds literally strangle themselves to death because 2, 4-D is a plant hormone which effects the growth factor of broad-leaf plants and can be used to destroy them as well as stimulate them.

Federal Intervention Promised to Veterans
DALLAS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Unless the educational needs of war veterans are met the federal government will step in, Dr. Thomas N. Barrows, director of the American council of education's commission on accreditation of service experience, warned Texas school men meeting here.

Gordon Worley, in charge of high schools and curriculum, Texas state department of education, urged the school men to "capture a hold on veterans' education right now. Don't let it get into the hands of civil service or industry."

Opposition was expressed at the meeting to acceptance of general educational development tests to determine the equivalent of formal education a veteran has.

School representatives from Fort Worth and Dallas however, agreed to give the tests a trial.

The CED tests are based on the theory that a veteran who has the equivalent knowledge of a high school graduate is entitled to a diploma to better his job chances and to continue his education.

Centralia Ill. Feb. 21.—(AP)—The stark has been overly-busy at St. Mary's hospital and arrivals of 21 babies in eight days over-taxed the maternity ward's facilities.

Child Star's Role As Housewife Is Worthy of Award

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Shirley Temple, housewife. That's the former child star's latest role and her performance is on Academy award caliber.

Shirley would just as soon be known as Mrs. Agar and she is serious about her new capacity. She is doing all the housework for her husband, just out of the army. "And he loves my cooking," she admitted modestly.

The handsome ex-sergeant confirmed this statement, although he may have been under duress with Shirley standing nearby.

The Agars are living in the guest home of a friend while Shirley's playhouse is being made over for them. The playhouse, incidentally, would be a mansion for many folk.

John's plan for the future are undecided. His last job was as a messenger for a Chicago chemical company.

With the Academy balloting coming down the home stretch, the pressure is on press agents to get the elector's eyes. By a strange coincidence, Cornel Wilde, Ray Milland, Alfred Hitchcock, Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder, Oscar contenders all, made guest appearances on the radio last Sunday.

Irene Dunne phones that she is definitely set for "Life With Father" but will take a month's vacation first. Martha Vickers is dating Fred de Cordova, her director in "A Very Rich Man."

GI Was Told To 'Forget' Radar Warning in '41

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—An ex GI told yesterday how he discovered Japanese planes sneaking up to attack Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, and how a superior officer advised him and his buddy to "forget it."

The account was related to the senate-house inquiry committee by George A. Elliott, one time buck private who detected the enemy planes on a radar set almost an hour before the bombs fell on the Pacific fleet base.

Elliott, 28, of Long Branch, N. J., left the army as a sergeant four months ago.

On the morning of the attack he and another private, Joseph Lockard, were along with the mobile radar station in the northernmost tip of the island of Oahu.

Elliott said that at 7:02 a.m. their radar scope picked up a large flight

He said that within seven or eight minutes of plotting he tried to raise the aircraft warning center by a direct telephone but got no answer.

Elliott then used another circuit and raised a Private McDonald who said there was no one around who knew what to do with the information, Elliott testified.

"Two or three minutes later," he said, a lieutenant called back and talked to Lockard. He quoted Lockard as saying the lieutenant said to "forget it."

(The army Pearl Harbor board has identified this lieutenant as Kermit A. Tyler, later promoted to lieutenant colonel.)

Elliott said he and Lockard left the station about 7:45 a.m. and that he delivered his log of the flight to Lt. John Upson on his return to camp nine miles away.

Under questioning by Committee Counsel Seth Richardson, Elliott testified that he and Lockard went back to the station but that no one called there that day to check on their findings.

When Cantinflas comes to town, it's a major event in Mexico.

Cantinflas (pronounced Kahn-teen'-Flas and meaning barfly) is a young and very handsome Mexican movie star whose real name is Mario Moreno.

His parents were poor, but Cantinflas certainly isn't. He's a millionaire.

He is Mexico's biggest movie star, and has been called one of the greatest of all Pantominists by the old mester, Charlie Chaplin.

Like Chaplin, he, too, depicts the common man. He wears a peon's costume with baggy trousers, white undershirt which also serves as a shirt, badly-beaten hat with no brim, a tattered serape, and over-size shoes.

But he still risks his life fighting bulls. Not only that, but he'll stage fights in small border towns, inland villages, almost anywhere his fans call him.

Can you visualize an American movie star doing that? Recently he fought in Matamoros, Mexico, across from Brownsville.

'Flare Gas' Is Under Discussion

HOUSTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Far reaching plans for the conservation of oil field flare gas now largely wasted in Texas Gulf coast fields were under discussion at an all day joint meeting of the Texas Railroad commission, oil companies and operators here yesterday.

The Humble Oil and Refining company, king-pin operator on the Texas coast, immediately moved in to the spotlight when Rex Baker, director and general counsel, announced definite plans of his concern to spend $4,783,000 for conserving waste gas.

He revealed that his concern already had expended in excess of $1,900,000 in gas conservation projects in railroad commission district 3 on the coast, largely in the Houston area.

In the course of his remarks, Baker and members of the railroad commission, exchanged views on the current menacing situation with respect to the possible interference of the federal power commission in connection with plans to conserve gas.

"Any move on the part of the FPC to extend its powers over the oil and gas business in Texas," Baker said, "will sound a death knell for conservation of flare gas, because no oil concern wants to run the risk of being declared a public utility and be allowed a return of only six per cent on its historical investment, or the original cost of a piece of property."

All members of the railroad commission concurred with Baker's sentiments.

Person, 20, May Run For District Clerk

AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The attorney general in an opinion directed to Clifford S. Roe, county attorney of Panola county, held that a person 20 years old who will be 21 on Dec. 24, 1946 is eligible to run for district clerk in the coming election.

The attorney general said that under present statute a candidate for this office is authorized to run if 21 by Jan. 1, 1947.

In answer to a question from T. M. Trimble, first assistant state superintendent, department of education, the attorney general held that a common school district that shows a budgetary need, using either the 1944-45 or the 1945-46 assessed valuation is entitled to such aid, providing it meets all requirements of senate bill 167 passed by the 49th legislature.

SOCIALIZED INDIVIDUALS

If Herbert Morrison can be credited with speaking for the British labor party, of which he is a leader, then it may be said that the present government in London is alert to the dangers inherent in its program of socialization.

Mr. Morrison recently outlined to Parliament a general scheme of educational reform in primary and secondary schools which would put more emphasis on individuality and lessen implicit belief in what the teacher tells the pupil.

"The more we socialize industry—and we are going to socialize a lot—the more determined we must be to produce individuals," he said. "We'll need individuality more than ever . . . Britain, however far her industry may go on a collective basis . . . shall nevertheless be a nation of individuals, of pioneers who are showing that British character is as strong, powerful and individual as ever it was in the past."

That, of course, is a frank admission of the evident fact that collectivism is and has been the foe of individualism elsewhere. In Italy and Germany and Russia, government control of industry has been accompanied by government control of thought and speech and action.

The latter may not be inherent in the former. But it has happened to work out that after the leaders of collectivist governments in those countries had sold their program as the ideal and most beneficial way of life, they used the most violent means to squelch any suggestion by their citizens that things were not precisely as advertised.

Mr. Morrison's party knows, of course, that such methods would not work in England. And so, while Mr. Morrison may sound as if he were about to create or recreate individual freedom, he is only going on record as guaranteeing its preservation.

It cannot be said that the British people are sheep. The exaggerated social and economic division between upper and lower classes has not stopped the voice or quelled the spirit of Britons within their particular sphere. It was a free, independent, thinking majority that voted last summer for a government which it hoped would narrow that class division.

Mr. Morrison told Parliament, "I have notices put up in every classroom saying, 'The teacher may be wrong. Think for yourself.'" That freedom applies to the children of anti-labor families. And it gives implied assurance that their parents may also think for themselves and say, "The government may be wrong."

So it appears that socialized government and individual liberty may work as well together as domestic socialism and a conservative foreign policy seem to have worked in Britain to date. Americans as well as Britons may hope that it does, but we as yet, like the man from Missouri, have to be shown.

What Answer To The Returned Veterans?

The treatment of the veterans are receiving throughout the country should make the administration and those who endorse the administration bow their heads in shame.

I want to quote from a letter I received from a young man who just returned from the navy and had made application for a position with this organization. It shows the unfair treatment we are giving the youth of the land. It shows the end results of our growth into a socialist society. I quote:

"I was finally discharged from the Navy last Wednesday, January 9th. The following day I accepted a position with Westinghouse and went to work immediately. As you know, these electrical workers started their strike this morning. When I left the plant yesterday I was asked to return today and try to gain entrance to the plant by the head of my department.

"As far as the management is concerned, Westinghouse is open to all who wish to work. I approached the picket line this morning to gain admittance, but to no avail. I talked with the president of the local union and he said that I would have to join the union before they would let me in to work. He also stated that I would have to give twenty percent of my wages to the union strike fund for the work they are doing during the strike. My only remark to him was to say that I have been out of the service less than a week and I was not ready to join anything.

"Later today I went to the unemployment office in hopes that I could find a temporary job during the strike. It seems as though they were more interested for me to apply for the twenty dollars a week unemployment compensation I am eligible for as a returned veteran than helping me find a temporary job. I have come to the conclusion that not only are more and more people trying to get something for nothing, but they are being encouraged to do so. Thus you have a pretty good picture of the situation in which I now find myself.

"I have related it to you with the thought that it might perhaps interest you.

"The biggest question in my mind today is, as an individual, can I continue to fight for some of the things I spent four years in the service to achieve. While the enemy from without has been conquered, we are still such a long way off from what I feel to be the truly American way of life."

This man certainly has a just claim. It was brought on by older people who disregarded God's impersonal laws and tried to substitute our own laws as nostrums superior to the eternal rules and laws of God. We are reaping exactly what we have sown. Older people should bow our heads in shame that we are treating the youth of the land in the way this young man has been treated.

THE DAIRIES' APPEAL AGAINST OPA

The Santa Monica (Calif.) Outlook

Delays in Southern California are facing a grave problem created by the shortage of fiber milk bottles to supply the deficiency. Estimated that between 2,000,000 and 5,000,000 bottles are lying idle in homes, garages and storehouses, the industry is appealing to the public to turn in all milk bottles regardless of brand or condition. Millions more are needed to permit the delivery and sale of milk at the present volume.

In this situation the dairy industry has an appeal to the Los Angeles office of OPA, which has ruled that the sale of milk must be placed on a "bottle-for-bottle" basis. The dairymen are defying this ruling because they contend that bottles-for-bottle sales offer the only means of conserving their inadequate supply of glass containers. Unless they can get glass bottles back, they see no way of continuing deliveries. The OPA has suggested as a possible remedy that the dairies increase the deposit on bottles from 1 to 5 cents. This proposal, which is indefensible, and the dairymen are to be commended for their stand against it.

Here is another instance of unjustified and harmful OPA meddling in a situation where the public interest is being served. By the dairymen's stand, the OPA will be forced to support the public opinion which is in favor of the dairymen and compel the OPA to consider the stupid bureaucratic interferences.

army, troops get permission from union leaders in order to drive through a picket line, one is inclined to lower his head in shame that the Army has so deserted the American principles that they are subservient to a group of labor racketeers.

What is the Army for, if it fails to protect the rights of all citizens to peacefully exchange goods and services?

And if the Army is thinking so much about politics and favoritism and votes and getting officials' commissions, as to lobby for unions then we are rapidly approaching a dictator form of government. And when the Army begins to be subservient and have to ask any group of people whether they can go hitler and yon, the decent American citizens begin to have mighty little respect for the higher up. Army officials responsible for this disgrace.

This idea of Americanism is so distorted that they do not even blush with shame that they are doing this thing. They frankly admit it.

Very few people realize that we have so far departed from the American system that the Army is obliged to take orders from private exploiters. We have more nearly lost our freedom and our self-respect than most of us realize.

Before Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes appeared before the senate naval affairs committee to testify against Pauley, however, Ickes went to the White House to clear his testimony with the President. Where that leaves Truman in this fight is hard for political dependents to figure. Though Truman nominated Pauley, he still let Ickes speak his piece against Pauley.

Honest Harold Ickes' slap at Ed Pauley evoked an old political score. Several months ago, Judge Webster Mayock of California went to Puerto Rico for an inspection. It was generally believed Mayock was sent to Puerto Rico by the democratic nation committee, though it was announced he went as a private citizen. Anyway, when Mayock returned to Washington he let out a blast against Ickes and Puerto Rican

The Long Count

When you get a close view of the relations between the democratisation of Germany under allied supervision, you wonder whether on the whole this task doesn't present even greater problems than the smashing of the mighty Hitlerian military machine.

Here in the British zone, we find the problem being attacked along the same lines. One has as its objective the raising of the standard of living to the level laid down by allied agreement—a long term job. The other is the re-education of the German people.

The administration bears the hallmark of Field Marshal Montgomery, who only recently relinquished supervision here to become chief of the imperial general staff.

It is noticeable that there is no coddling of the Germans. The toughest spot in the vital educational program is the group of people between the ages of 14 and 25, for they are the Hitlerized element.

So the British are setting up democratic institutions. These include universities and schools. The creation of trade union on craft basis is being encouraged.

New text books are being provided throughout the zone. The old arithmetic books instead of presenting problems in the form of how many apples are two and three, substituted SS soldiers, or maybe tanks, for apples.

More than incidentally, the scholars are given midday meals with calories daily beyond the normal ration of 1550.

Another phase of the democratization is the fostering of youth movements, and there are now some 1600 youth clubs with a membership of about 75,000.

At the outset an effort was made to introduce the Boy Scout movement, but this idea had to be discarded because the Germans took it as being a military organization because of the uniforms.

One of the most interesting projects is the establishment of town council everywhere. These are rather like the American town meetings.

Education of the general public is of course being carried on intensively through the radio, the press, the cinema, and the theatres and book publishing.

The newspapers, by the way, are having difficulty in finding newspapermen because all but nazis were thrown out under Hitler.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD.—When 17-year-old Ann Blyth steps forward to accept her Oscar (she's a cinch) for the best feminine supporting performance of the year as Veda, the girl who did what Mildred Pierce was supposed to have done, she will whisper a silent, "Thanks, Fate."

And maybe she'll be right, too. Still wearing a cumbersome steel and leather brace on her healing broken back, Ann told us today why she thinks Fate should share her Oscar—if she wins an Academy award.

A few weeks after completing her role of Veda in "Mildred Pierce," Ann went to a Southern California mountain resort and suffered a broken back when she was thrown from a toboggan. The injury kept her out of the screen for a year.

But it could have happened BEFORE she started work in the picture. NOT YET.

A week before filming of "Mildred Pierce" started, Ann went to the same mountain resort. She was riding the same toboggan and was thrown off at exactly the same spot where later she suffered the broken back. Only that time she jumped to her feet laughing, not torn with pain.

If it hadn't been for Fate, Ann is convinced, she wouldn't have played the part.

As for the Academy award: "Well," says Ann, "just getting the role was reward enough."

Getting that role, you see, was very important in the life of Ann Blyth. She had been under contract to Universal studio for almost two years. For the first seven months she did nothing. Then the studio typed her as a goodie-goodie girl and cast her as a sweet-faced school kid in three Donald O'Connor-Patry Ryan juvenile comedies.

Ann wanted a chance to act. She had been acting a meaty role as the daughter of Paul Lukas in the stage play "Watch on the Rhine" when the studio discovered her. But Hollywood, well, you know how things sometimes happen. Ann wanted to play some stinkers. The studio thought of her only as a sweetie and light girl. There was even talk of giving her Deanna Durbin type role, because she has a beautiful singing voice.

But Ann and her agents kept pounding on people's desks. Finally they pounded on the right one at Warner Bros. studio. Warner Bros. borrowed her for "Mildred Pierce." She played the greatest juvenile stunner of all time and now Universal will star her in a new picture, "Swirl Guy."

That's how it sometimes happens in Hollywood.

Universal Training Again Debated Before Congress

The universal military training bill was brought up before congress the first of the week. To further an understanding of the proposed bill calling for universal military training, Lt. Antony Dabov, public relations officer for the Amarillo-Lubbock recruiting area explains its important provisions.

TO PROVIDE GENERAL RESERVE
President Truman recommends one year of military training for all men, 18 to 29, as civilians, to build up a general reserve force to meet the fundamental need and basic reason is national security—"To guarantee the safety of our homes and loved ones."

CALLED BY CONGRESS ONLY
Under the plan, military training alone is involved and not military service. Therefore it is contemplated not to defer anyone for dependency, occupational, physical, mental or other reasons. The service is found physically unqualified for military training would be trained in industrial skills. Men completing the year of military training would become members of the general reserve for six years, subject to call into the regular military or naval establishment only by act of congress. The whole post-war military organization proposed by the President consists of the regular army, navy and marine corps, a strengthened national guard, and the organized reserve for the army, the navy and the marines; and the general reserve.

NOT TO REPLACE SELECTIVE SERVICE
Universal training is not intended to take the place of the present selective service system. The selective service system is now being used to furnish replacements in the armed forces for veterans of this war," explained President Truman who is submitting the plan. (However, at present, volunteers for the regular army are doing this almost entirely because of the benefits of joining the "regulars.") When training in the general reserve, men can be called into active military service only in the event of an emergency, under act of congress, and much similar to the manner that the selective service system works. The great difference, however is that these men will already have had

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Stock prices completed further today in a reversal of fluctuation that brought losses of one to seven points to an extended list of stocks, rubbers and rubbers.

Concern in some quarters over effects of individual companies of the application of price adjustments under the new government wage-price policy was reflected in selling of industrial shares. Other factors in the market's third successive drop were seen by brokers in continued wage dispute deadlocks and threats of further walkouts.

Transfers approximated 2,200,000 shares made it one of the most active days of the past two months.

Outstanding in the downtown were Union Pacific, Youngstown Sheet, Sassafras, Great Northern, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, General Motors, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Bethlehem, U.S. Steel, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Sears, Roebuck, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Western Union, Du Pont American Can, and Cerro de Pasco. Bonds declined but commodities made gains.

Warning Made as To Tuberculosis

AUSTIN, Feb. 21—Speaking of children and their susceptibility to tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said, "Few people realize that babies and young children are very likely to catch tuberculosis if they are kept in the rooms with persons who have the disease in an infectious stage, or use the same dishes, sleep in the same beds, or are handled and kissed by people who have tuberculosis."

"Babies and young children pick up the germs of tuberculosis just as readily as they pick up the germs of measles, whooping cough or any of the so-called children's diseases. But tuberculosis is different in certain particulars. Unlike most diseases, it has more than one form. Babies who get tuberculosis may not show the symptoms we associate with the disease in older people. But the disease in most cases develops rapidly and is likely to end fatally. Tuberculosis in babies and young children is a very serious matter, but recent studies have shown that if young children are removed promptly from contact with the disease and given the necessary care, many lives can be saved."

"A great deal can be accomplished whenever tuberculosis develops, whether young or old, if the presence of the disease is recognized when it is in its early stages and if medical attention is secured promptly."

"Tuberculosis does not just simply happen. Nobody is born with the disease. Everybody who develops tuberculosis gets it from some other source. Children and young people who have been in contact with persons ill with tuberculosis are especially likely to contract the disease."

and Mrs. L. A. Barber, Pampa, has been honorably discharged from the army air forces.

He entered the service January 15, 1942, and has been stationed at Kessler Field, Miss., Roswell, N. Mex., Lowry Field, Colo., and Grand Island, Neb.

He was a student at Pampa high school before entering the service.

Pfc. Cecil T. Roberts, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, 601 E. Short, was to arrive home today after being honorably discharged.

Cecil landed in New York last Friday from 32 months service in the European and South Pacific theaters of war. He was last attached to the 532nd ordnance maintenance company.

He was a senior in high school at the time he entered the service.

Pfc. Stanley E. Gordon, 525 N. Cuyler, was recently discharged from the army air forces at the Sam Houston separation center, San Antonio.

Stanley was a civilian employee at the local air base before entering the service about three years ago. He served 21 months in the African-European theater of operations, connected with the 21st depot repair group, 10th air drome, eighth air force.

The former private, first class returned to the States Sept. 2 on the USS Mingukin.

UNO Is Facing Greater Tests

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—The United Nations organization faces even greater tests in the future than those it met at the recent London conference, says Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., head of the American delegation to the UNO.

In a statement Tuesday upon his arrival by plane from London with other members of the American delegation, Stettinius said: "London was the first test of the United Nations. What happens in the immediate future in the direction of effective international economic action will be a greater test, both for the United Nations and ourselves. We cannot fail to meet it."

"Recovery from the war would be possible 'only with the most effective and vigorous action by the United States, especially in the economic field, both at home and abroad,' he former secretary of state added.

He declared that UNO at the London meeting not only demonstrated the strength to deal with such disputes as those involving Iran, Greece, Indonesia, Lebanon and Syria but actually "gained strength by doing so."

We all respect freedom of speech, but we didn't win the last war to preserve freedom of speech, for fascist or semi-fascist propaganda under the protection of democracy, when it will only lead to a new war. — Prof. Amazasp Arutunian, Soviet UNO delegate.
