Kellerville Girl Wed Sunday Night

The marriage of Miss Lela Hamlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hamlin of Kellerville, to Vernon Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hunt of Sunray, was solemnized Sunday evening in the Baptist church.

Rev. Rufus Strickland, pastor of the Kellerville Baptist church read the single ring services at 8:30 o'clock before an altar with ferns and begonias.

Miss Bettie Williams sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Miss Lela Mae Hughes at the piano. The "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was used as the processional. Miss Rosalee Hunt, a sister of the groom was maid of honor. Shirley Cotham and Barbara Jean Hughes were flower girls. David Hamlin, the bride's brother, was usher and Joe Hamlin, another brother was best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pink satin gown and carried a white Bible with ferns and white carnations and a shower of white streamers.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Cotham. The attractive serving table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake on a large reflector encircled with violets. In the receiving line were Miss Martha Mikkie, Miss Wilma Myers, Mrs. Thelma Cox and Mrs. LaVerne Bannister. Mrs. Mildred Scruggs had charge of registration.

Mrs. Hunt is a graduate of the McLean high school and until recently she has been employed in Amarillo.

Mr. Hunt served three years in the Pacific area and is now employed at Phillips. After a short trip the couple will be at home in Borger.

Pampa Teacher Weds Ex-Serviceman In Church Ceremony at Amarillo

In the presence of the immediate family and a few intimate friends, Miss Essie Mae Leaverton, Junior high school teacher here, and daughter of Mrs. B. L. Leaverton of Knox City, became the bride of Kenneth Paul Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Walters, Canyon.

Mrs. C. Cuthbertson, Central Church of Christ minister, read the double-ring service at eight o'clock Saturday evening, January 26, in the parlor of the First Christian church, Amarillo.

Floor baskets of white gladioli and palms, arranged between candelabra, formed the altar. Mrs. Fern Shepherd, sister of the groom, lighted tapers preceding ceremony.

Miss Inez Blankenship, pianist, sang preceding the ceremony "I Love You Truly," and during the ceremony played softly "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." The "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was used in the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional.

The bride was attired in a pastel blue wool dressmaker suit, accented by black patent accessories and a shoulder bouquet of American Beauty roses. For something blue, she carried a blue and white handkerchief, for something borrowed, she wore a yellow gold bracelet her mother had worn on her wedding day. The bride carried a white Bible.

Mrs. Davis Burrow, the bride's only attendant, wore a beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow jonquils.

Following the ceremony, Miss Hazel Williams and Mrs. L. G. Marshall were hostess at the Marshall home, 1306 Florida, Amarillo, at a reception honoring the bride party.

In the living-room, attractively decorated with Amaryllis, Miss Rachel Barnett presided at the guest register. The dining table was centered by a moon-shaped bowl filled with white and pink carnations, flanked by blue tapers in silver candle holders. The bride and groom were first to cut the three-tiered wedding cake.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a two-piece gaberdine suit. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 515 North Frost street, Pampa.

The bride, a graduate of West Texas State Teachers college, is a member of the Eastern Star and Delta Kappa Gamma and employed as teacher in the Pampa Junior high school.

The bridegroom, who was also graduated from West Texas State Teachers college, recently received his release from the army after serving four years, two in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. Mr. Walters will assume his former teaching position in Pampa at the beginning of the second semester.

Dancers Thrill Concert Audience

Pampa concert-goers enjoyed a treat last night when nearly a thousand members of the Community Concert association filled the Junior high school auditorium to see Rosario and Antonio, exotic Spanish dancers, and their company create the gypsy world of old Spain.

Taking the traditional Spanish music and dance steps, the young dancers have created a colorful kaleidoscope of rhythm and grace built on the classic ballet.

Miss Rosario, a diminutive brunette, thrilled the audience with her grace and perfection as she danced such difficult numbers as the colorful Andalusian gypsy dance, "Por Alegria." Her partner Antonio, dancing with the abandon of the born dancer and the technique of the perfectionist left the audience breathless at the ease with which he performed the difficult ballet forms or the vibrant heel work of the traditional Spanish dances.

With the two principals, the dance ensemble and musicians were excellent. The three dancers, Sandra Iberia, Pastora Ruiz, and Carmen Lopez were accomplished performers. Miss Iberia's bolero, in the classic ballet school, was poetry set to the dance.

Silvio Masciarelli, musical director, showed his talent in the interpretation of the dancers' moods and movements and his own ability in his two solo appearances. Guillermo, the guitarist, proved once again that classic music can be played on the guitar.

The costumes for the dance numbers and the lighting for the fiery bolero, "The Blue Bird" by Falla, added much to the dancers' success. The suggestion of flames in the latter number was effectively portrayed as Rosario and Antonio danced on a red flood lighted stage.

Many of the selections suggested the name of the interpreters, particularly "El Manisero," the peanut vendor in old Cuba. Antonio is a clever pantomime and with Rosario made the Spanish words they sang, as well as their dance interpretations, intelligible to the English audience.

Italian Sauce Makes Good Spaghetti Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Several readers ask for a genuine Italian sauce to use with spaghetti. Here's an authentic recipe prepared by Enrico Caruso, Jr., son of the famous tenor.

Two tablespoons olive oil, 2 tablespoons butter, 5 cloves garlic, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon oregano, 1 cup chopped (not too fine) mushrooms, large can Italian tomatoes (solid pack), juice of large lemon, salt, black pepper and red pepper to taste.

Heat oil and butter in large frying pan on heavy iron preferable, and allow garlic cloves to sizzle and brown slowly. Mash cloves lightly as they soften so that butter and oil can penetrate. After they turn brown, remove and throw away. Add oregano and let sizzle for a few minutes. Add mushrooms; add chopped parsley. Cook, stirring constantly.

Add can of tomatoes; keep stirring and turn up fire slightly. Blend in well until all ingredients are well heated and bubbling. Blend salt and pepper to taste. Turn fire down; cover; cook slowly; stir every few minutes. Stirring is most important. All ingredients tend to separate. Whites a little is cooking, add lemon juice, salt and pepper, being careful to add lemon juice in accordance with sweetness or sourness of the tomatoes. Cook for 2 hours, stirring every few minutes. Leave lid off during last half hour if you desire a thicker sauce.

Savory Cabbage (Serves 4-6)
One medium-sized head red cabbage, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tart apple chopped fine, 1/2 small minced onion, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 cup grape jelly or 2 tablespoons honey.

Wash cabbage; cut in half and then stand, cut sides down, in salted cold water for about 1/2 hour. Drain and shred quite fine. Measure remaining ingredients into rather large saucepan; bring slowly to boil. Drop in shredded cabbage and cook, uncovered, until tender (from 5 to 15 minutes). Add a touch of cayenne pepper if desired.

Curved Line Is Straight Fashion

Softly curving lines make the spring coats frankly feminine. A coachman's cape rounds the shoulderline of the bronze-colored wool coat, left, with fitted waist which is snugly fastened by gold buttons. Hips are emphasized in the two-toned gray herringbone wool coat, right, by enormous patch pockets. Luggage leather belt plays up the slender waistline.

New Coats Play Up Rounded Silhouette

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Coats follow the new curvy line of fashion which makes sleeves, capped shoulders or elbow-length capes cap a wallop, and hips look more frankly hippy.

Lines of this red taffeta-lined, dark-blue wool coat are rounded by the white drop yoke and hood and a tie belt to cinch in skirt fullness.

Sleeves elbow their way into the fashion picture with fullness as big as bellows, or with deep armholes cut down to here. Skirts make assertive claims as well by helping themselves to generous folds which are either belted or girdled in to give hips the new bar-el-curved silhouette. All of these curves above and below a waistline make it an invitation to span with two good-sized hands.

The hooded, belted coat is one of the belted-in styles which is getting a big hand from admirers. Made of heavy wool fleeces with a white drop-shouldered yoke, it boasts other claims to the spotlight besides its red-lined hood. The deep armhole sleeves and the draped skirt of this take-me-anywhere coat follow the trend of giving you a lot of fullness to tie in to nothing at the waist with a close-fitting belt.

Another signal example of the cinched-in coat is the popular Directors' topper, designed for dress wear. What gives these sleek woolen toppers, their "oomph" are trim coachman-like capes, and the flaps over slashed pockets, which are as hip-rounding as a peplum.

Capacious patch pockets are a device used on many coats to round out their hiplines. On one gray-striped herringbone wool designed for town-and-country wear, the big pockets, made to look bigger with flaps and pleats, are placed for hip accent below a luggage leather belt, which is reefed in to the last notch to create the ring-waisted look.

East Texas, Converting From War To Peace, Sees Much Construction

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

A few months ago we reported, after a swing through South Texas, on the birth pangs of peace. A drive through East Texas today makes it hard to realize there ever was a war.

A few buy-victory-bond posters and that's all. For example: Everywhere construction is underway. New homes, new stores, new civic projects.

On highways "Danger! Men at Work!" signs are numerous as the state busily repairs roads badly run down by the war-enforced neglect of the past four years.

There were few broken-down cars with flat tires on highways. A service station had tires for sale. You didn't have to sign up—you just paid your cash and took your choice.

In Kilgore, a music store had radio phonographs on display. Newspapers in Longview, Marshall, Kilgore and Tyler had men reporters again—veterans back from the wars.

Towns whose restaurants and service stations once folded up at dusk now look alive at night.

Longview was bubbling with optimism over its new Letourneau plant, a huge project which will increase the town's population appreciably and bring a lot of business there. Still in the hush-hush state was one of the items Letourneau will build. Publisher Carl Estes of the Longview News-Journal says he thinks it will make history.

The varied industries of East Texas—from oil to roses, from lumber to farm products—all were booming.

The streets of Marshall were crowded with shoppers, and the Marshall News-Messenger, with one of the newest newspaper plants in Texas, was humming.

Tyler was expecting a boom in its rose industry, and planned to revive the nationally famous rose festival.

Kilgore was wringing wet with oil and money. Almost everything was plentiful, including steaks. There is one glaring shortage—housing. Even East Texas, in the heart of the timber belt, doesn't have enough frame homes to go around.

There is plenty of room for a prosperous future in non-scheduled flight operations without seriously paralleling or duplicating existing air transport.

—William A. Mara, Bendix Aviation Corp.

WOMEN ASK SCHOOL Bible Reading Law

As a help in character-building, in curbing juvenile delinquency, and in lifting the moral tone of young and old, the powerful California Federation of Women's clubs has urged Governor Earl Warren and the California state legislature to write into the laws a requirement that the Bible be read in all daily schools. The women feel that issues important enough for a special session of the legislature if necessary.

Lefors Junior Art Club Hears Review

Members of the Lefors Junior Art and Civic club were entertained recently with a book review by Mrs. W. S. Daniel when they met in the home of Mrs. Tommie Jo Jordan. The book reviewed was "The Lepor King," by Zofia Kosk.

During the business meeting the club voted to have a "bake sale" the first Saturday of every month.

Refreshments of cakes and cake were served to Mmes. Alma Brown, Maxine Carruth, Velma Carter, Alta Brown, Marian Daugherty, Alma Cumberlege, Lorene Guyton, Dorothy Hyatt, Johnnie Mann, Loraine Mathis, Wynonne Osburn, Cleo Watson, Pauline Gotcher, Margaret Chastain, Mrs. Daniel and the hostess.

Jams and Jellies Popular With Family

Keep your family's "sweet tooth" in mind when you do the family marketing for nothing makes a bigger hit, from mother-in-law right down to little Johnny—completely, than a cupboard plentifully supplied with jams, jellies, marmalades and all kinds of "spreadin' stuff."

These sweet spreads for bread are available at the grocery these days in such wide variety that there's little likelihood of the family ever tiring of them. They're a wonderful and welcome addition to the table at every meal, but in addition they are popular for between-meal, after-school or late evening snacks when the lord and master, the children—or even you, yourself—want "just a little something to relieve that hungry feeling."

Keep such favorites as black raspberry jam and strawberry preserves readily handy the year around—there will always be a call for them. But mix them up with such others as tomato preserves, grape jam, apricot, pineapple, peach and red raspberry preserves. They're all delicious and the family will like to change off once in a while even from their very one-and-only favorite. And give them a choice of jellies, too. There's a wide variety at your grocery's.

Emergency Shelf
More and more families are adding preserves and jellies to their emergency shelves, too, apart from the family supply—those plentifully stocked shelves that supply the necessities when unexpected company drops in, or for use when you plan a dinner party or an afternoon bridge session with just a few friends.

Here's a novel idea you can use: Two Minute Bread Tart
6 slices white bread, 1 inch thick
Honey
Tart jam or preserves
Whipped cream.

Cut a large round out of each bread slice with a cutter, cut into each round 1/2 inch with a smaller cutter. Hollow out to make shell 1/2 inch thick. Spread each shell with honey and toast in the oven until light brown. Fill the center with a tart jam such as raspberry or blackberry, and top with sweetened whipped cream.

SOCIAL MEETING

Members of the Clara Hill class of the First Methodist church at was entertained at their regular social meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Whitten with Mrs. J. C. Payne as co-hostess, recently.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Dudley Steele recited the entertaining reading, "Mr. Covington," and the group joined in singing led by Miss Elizabeth Sewell. Refreshments, carrying out a Valentine theme, were served to the thirty guests and members present.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The meeting of the Thursday evening auxiliary of the Presbyterian church, which was originally announced as being held in the church, will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. O'Keefe, 1109 Charles.

Mrs. Traylor Price will be hostess and Mrs. Frank Dial, leader. The devotional will be given by Mrs. John Nutting.

In the Pacific Isle of Malekula brides must have the two upper incisor teeth knocked out before the wedding ceremony.

NOT A FREE COUNTRY

(From Oklahoma City Oklahoman) The three Miller brothers of New Canaan, Conn., only a short distance from the "cradle of liberty," started a small dairy four years ago. They were brought up on a farm and knew dairying so well that they put all their money into the project.

Local No. 338 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers moved in. The seven or eight drivers were called out on strike, on a demand for 23 percent more pay and a five-day week which would boost the payroll more than 50 percent. The union also called for a 66 2/3 increase in commissions.

The contract also would forbid the Miller brothers from doing any work around their own property themselves. A few days ago the union sent 200 pickets from town to picket the dairy. Women customers who came in their own cars to get milk for their babies had their tires slashed.

The employees who had refused to join the union quit. Then the Miller brothers quit. They are through. William C. Miller wrote a letter to the union, explaining that the contract would mean bankruptcy in advance. He closed with these words:

"You have won a brilliant victory. I applaud you, but the golden goose is dead, the eggs are no more."

The same thing, in a modified form, is going on throughout American industry today.

The United States had a chance to get a good start after the war, but the chance is rapidly slipping away. The labor bosses seem to be determined to kill the golden goose everywhere.

Government of the people, by the people for the people—where is it? And what has become of the liberty that was proclaimed on July 4, 1776?

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLLES

There is Always a Cause For Labor Unions' Say Apologists

One invariably hears from people, who are governed by desires rather than by reason make the statement that "there is always a cause for labor unions."

Of course, there is always a cause for everything. That part of the statement is absolutely true. Every rational person is a causalist, as Emerson said. These people who use that expression invariably point to the wrong cause for labor unions being formed.

They invariably would leave the impression that the employers have hired the workers for less than they were worth; that they have ground them down. But when these men are asked how any employer can get all they want at a certain time and at a certain place at less than somebody else will pay him, they cannot answer.

And when they are asked by what impersonal universal rule they determine what workers should receive, their evasive answer is they should get all they produce. But they cannot define an impersonal rule by which to measure the value of what they produce.

Certainly they should get all they produce. They should get all their production will exchange for at that time and at that place. But the only measure of establishing value is to permit all people to bid for the service of the item. Then you have the correct value of what the worker produces at that time and that place.

We need not fear the Communists in this country. They are not the ones to be guarded against. What we need fear is these people who think they believe in free enterprise, who think they believe in the competitive system, making such remarks as, "labor unions are the result of unfair employers."

Our danger is well-meaning meddlers; men talking who will not answer questions without contradicting themselves. They are spreading the poison that is leading to collectivism and the loss of individual freedom. These men have no impersonal universal rules by which to measure wages or conduct. They are like Hitler and Stalin—they are a law unto themselves. They use themselves as a norm by which to determine human relations. They have no fixed standard by which to judge right and wrong, except their own changeable, or whimsical will or desire.

We can no more measure justice or right without a fixed standard than we can measure distance without a unit of measure. We can no more have peace and harmony in business without impersonal, universal rules of conduct than we could play a game of ball without fixed rules of the game.

I know a man who says he will give $100,000 if any man will tell him how he can hire men at 10 cents a day less than they are worth at that time and that place. He says he will hire 100,000 men and thus make $10,000 a day profit. No one has ever been able to tell him how to do it. When a man tries to hire men for less than they are worth, at that time and place he is constantly changing his mind. The result is his unit cost is more than it would be if he did not try to hire people for less than they are worth and paid them in proportion to what other people paid for the same service.

Real Cause of Present Labor Unions: The real cause of labor unions is not the employers trying to hire them for less than they are worth but it is people's desire to get more for doing a job than other people are willing to do the job for. It is their attempt to do this by combining to restrain other people from competing. That is the cause of labor unions. That is the cause of collective bargaining. That is the cause of wars. When these laws were passed should be socially sound, legally sound, enforceable and practical.

In brief, he seemed to be afraid of fact-finding. The procedure would interfere with collective bargaining and it might start finding principles. Principles were apparently bad. STILL ASTRADDLE OF THE FENCE. Senator Ellender wanted to know more, but I was wondering where Pen Downes had been that day, and I knew Miss Jenny was thinking the same thoughts. After a while, Miss Jenny said, "I haven't been a very good mother, have I, Nana, and I saw two tears squeeze reluctantly from under the closed eyelids. "That," answered, "depends on what you are using as a standard. There are many ways of measuring a good mother."

She didn't reply to that for a minute and then she said, "They say the sins of the fathers fall upon the children. What about the sins of the mothers, Nana?" I said, "For goodness' sake, Jenny Stites, what are you talking about?" SHE reached in her bag then and fumbled for a letter. "This came today, Nana. I haven't shown it to Stephen. I can't bear to."

I took the note. It was on good paper but was crudely worded and printed. "Mrs. Wilson," it said. "A nice girl like your Betsy shouldn't be carrying on in Mr. Downes' house the way she is. No good will come of it."

I said, "Of all the rotten things!" My Miss Jenny held up her hand. She said, "Do you remember Carrie?" I did. Carrie had worked at Cliff's Edge for eight years when Betsy and Fletcher were small. She had left to marry the Barclay chauffeur and recently been widowed. She had asked Betsy; had named her own child Betsy.

My Miss Jenny said wearily, "She does laundry now by the day. She goes to Long Meadow one day a week. If it wasn't for that, I would have burned this."

She began to cry. "Nana, Nana," she said helplessly, "I know what is happening and I don't know how to stop it. Betsy isn't a child."

I felt shaken and frightened. My Miss Jenny said, "Will you talk to her, Nana?" "I'll try," I answered, "but one word too many now would push her into the very thing we don't want."

I knew—for once I had said too much to my Miss Jenny. (To Be Continued)

Speaking Of Skeletons—

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

DEFENSE — Although the initial shock of the atom bomb's potentialities for annihilation had worn off in so far as the public mind is concerned, Washington's appreciation of its eventual effect on all world relationships has given pause and a new approach to many problems and activities. The strange weapon is acting as a sort of cosmic flubuster here and elsewhere.

Legislators believe that pending plans for a permanent national defense establishment should be held in abeyance until after the Marshall islands tests on warships. Many will advance the unknown results of the experiment as a pretext for voting against President Truman's proposal for universal military service on a compulsory basis. They fear the political reaction to their vote on this measure, anyway, and have sought refuge behind the bomb.

Mr. Truman's huge budget proposals for the army, navy and related activities have drawn fire for the same reason. Capitol Hill budgeteers think that 16,000,000 should not be turned over to the armed forces until after the May-July trials. They certainly can see no immediate need for haste in continuing the construction of surface ships.

SECRET — Despite the difficulties besetting the first meeting of the United Nations at London, our delegates report that breaking of the atom has had a sobering effect on the smugbling powers, especially the Russians. The devastating missile serves as a reserve weapon in the armory of the western nations.

Moscow's willingness to agree to a system of international control convinces our emissaries that the soviet has not yet hit upon the secret. Foreign Affairs Commissar Andrei Y. Vishinsky surprised everybody when he heralded the agreement on internationalization as a "noble work."

It is obvious that world supervision will require minute inspection of plants, mines and laboratories to make it effective, and it had been expected that the suspicious Russians would protest against any form of prying into their affairs.

SIGNIFICANCE — Major credit for initiating the movement for international control as against withholding the secret from other nations falls to Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut, chairman of the senate committee now investigating the whole problem.

Although vacationing on a mountain top in Vermont when the bomb destroyed Hiroshima, he immediately grasped its significance. In presenting the original bill for a congressional study on September 8, he rocked army-navy brass hats when he said bluntly:

"When that bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, a new era opened up, and the waging of war basically, fundamentally and completely changed. . . . Airplanes, battleships, aircraft carriers and tanks may well if Wilson entertained the view that congress should do nothing. Answer—Oh, no, but the primary trouble now came out of the war. The relation of government to industry and labor got away from the free competitive principle.

Senator Taft wanted to know if Wilson was opposed to contracts preventing strikes. Well, it was hard to generalize. The trouble was that there were two policies.

Which policy did Wilson want congress to declare, Taft wanted to know. Wilson said he thought we could do it if we went back to work. That was the way to do it. We ought to work more. Then we ought to decide what we're going to do on the work week, union security, inflation and the wage policy.

Later, Wilson said either side would agree to arbitrate on hours, wages, union security or the right of management to manage.

Senator Donnell then tried to pin Wilson down on the idea that where bargaining failed, congress should legislate for compulsory settlement.

If we have the free competitive system, Wilson replied, we must have strikes. If we believe in free enterprise, we should go down that road.

Note—If this column is a bit incoherent, you've got the idea.

MACKENZIE'S Column

AP World Traveler

BRUSSELS, Feb. 6.—Little Belgium is one of the earliest of the countries to show signs of recovery among those who were trampled under the hob-nails of Hitler's soldiery.

You won't, I am sure, allow our happiness to give you the wrong slant. We must recognize that Belgium still is having a fierce battle with the economic elements although there's a rainbow in the sky.

Full recovery is a titanic task at best. Anyway, it's good to be able to report that this country has its chin up and is getting ahead with the job. You wouldn't expect DEWITT MACKENZIE such a quick development in view of the fact that Belgium's economy has been so closely interlocked with the welfare of its neighbors, especially Germany and France.

Belgium on the whole has a healthful diet, and food is plentiful enough so that there are few if any beggars — an excellent sign. There is unemployment excepting where bomb damage has affected such skilled trades as the diamond cutting of Antwerp, the glass blowing of Liege and the lace making of Bruges.

Wages are, at rough estimate, some 300 per cent above the pre-war scale. This gain is more than offset, however, by an increase of between 400 and 500 per cent estimated in the cost of living.

While the price of food is high, it's said to be plentiful enough so that, with the exception of meat, sugar and fats, rationing could be abolished. Meat runs about 65 cents to 95 cents per pound at the official rate, and is about three times as high on the black market.

Textiles are about three or four times prewar costs, but are fairly plentiful and the prices are coming down. Shoes are three times prewar level.

As would be expected, the black market operators have been fattening on the sufferings of their fellow-citizens. However, the government has been giving these sharks a hot run for their money that they are beginning to disappear and black and auto unions he had founded, friends of the chief executive suggested that he use his good offices. Mr. Murray did not like the tone of the Lewis reply.

"As long as the President is trailing along with that C. I. O. bunch of radicals, there is no help or advice I can give!"

BLAME — It was no accident that the Murray-Reuther forces within the C. I. O. hastened to settle major strikes — Ford, Chrysler, meat — within twenty-four hours after the announcement that John L. Lewis had led his United Mine workers back into the American Federation of Labor. The remarriage of the two old-line organizations succeeded where the White House had failed to compose these industrial disputes.

In squaring off for the expected finish fight with his adversaries, Mr. Murray figured that it would be wise to put his house in order and discipline his brawling family. He had detected signs that Mr. Lewis and William Green, whose unions have had only a minor part in the recent unpleasantness, schemed to shift the blame for industrial disturbance to get him in wrong with a consuming public hungry for automobiles, radios, meats and other goods.

REFUSAL — Mr. Murray had heard of Mr. Green's visit to the White House and his reminder to President Truman that the A. F. of L. members, with only a few exceptions, were staying on the job. He also noted his rival's report that he had negotiated increases from 10 to 20 per cent for his more than 2,500,000 workers without resort to a walkout.

He may also have heard John L.'s refusal to intervene in an attempt to terminate the C. I. O. strikes. Thinking that the U. M. W. head could exert pressure on the steel

"Murder!" They Cried

By DOROTHY STALEY

THE STORY: Arrogantly beautiful Phillipa Wilson, Fletcher's wife, announces to the gathered crowd that she has sent her small twin sons away so that they will not have to march in the town's independence day parade. This is an annual affair, sponsored by the Wilson family, her riding the Wilson mill, Phillipa's gesture is one of defiance toward her in-laws. Old Mr. Wilson asks his secretary, Dru Ellis, if she thinks Phillipa can be bought off. Dru says so, that "position" means too much to Phillipa. Incidents reveal that Dru and Fletcher are in love with each other. Fletcher says there is nothing to be done about it now, that when he is back from the war things will be different. "The will, will they?" exclaims Phillipa, suddenly coming upon them.

VI PHILLIPA turned on Dru and her voice was now neither cool nor arrogant, "You rotten, little cheat."

Dru said quietly, "I have taken nothing that was yours, Phillipa. I thought, 'Oh, Dru, Dru, don't let her bully you.' But apparently this time I had misconstrued Dru's attitude, for she continued, still calm and quiet.

For which I assure you I am very sorry. You aren't fit to be a wife to Fletcher nor mother to the boys. I can do both jobs better, and believe me somehow or other, I'm going to."

I wanted to stand up and cheer, but in the next instant I had neither the power of speech nor motion, for in that instant Phillipa had lashed out with her riding crop at Dru, and Fletcher, before it could even touch her, had struck Phillipa's arm with force enough to send the crop spinning and Phillipa staggering up against the huge library desk. At that moment I first saw Frank, one of the farm hands, standing goggle-eyed at the long window leading on to the terrace. He had been clipping the grass at its edge and his shears hung half open like his mouth.

I didn't want to leave, but I got up and went to the window, market prices are falling. But the black market operators are dying hard. Mrs. Mack and I saw an amazing demonstration of their tenacity in the Rue Des Radis — the black market street — where dozens of dealers hawk their wares openly from the sidewalks and roadway. Both men and women engage in this illicit trade, and they carry their wares on their arms or in their pockets, so that they can make a quick getaway when the police raid them.

Men's cotton underwear, which was hard to find in New York when your correspondent left there at the end of November, was selling on this black market for three dollars.

American cigarettes, which cost about 50 cents for a carton of ten packages in army stores, were to be had at $1.10 per package. You could even buy penicillin. In fact, were told that one could purchase a jeep for $1.00 or even buy a 2 1/2 ton army truck through these dealers. The machines obviously would be stolen.

However, these racketeers are on their way out, for they thrive only on hard times.

Great states as well as small states must come to view their power as a sacred trust to be exercised not for selfish purposes, but for the good of all peoples.—Secretary of State James P. Byrnes.

surplus government planes and propose to fly Texas buds to eastern markets. Several Tyler nurserymen are backing them, on the experiment.
If it works, a new market will be opened and the sale of roses, now a secondary source of revenue, may be profitable. Tyler's rose industry today makes most of its money from sale of plants.
There is talk, too, of reviving the nationally famous rose festival this year. The first festival was held in 1933, grew rapidly until it became known all over the United States, then was abandoned during the war. The first postwar festival may be held this fall.
Tyler's rose industry was an accident. The rich sandy soil attracted nurserymen shortly after the Civil War. They raised fruit stocks. They were successful until a brown rot attacked roots and almost wiped them out.
A few turned to roses and ornamental shrubs. The demand grew for the glorious East Texas roses. Today, about 200 nurserymen grow some 20,000,000 rose plants a year on 2,000 acres of land.
Each fall they are shipped to market all over the nation in refrigerated cars, by express, by parcel post and by truck. The selling season now is confined to fall and winter, when stocks are dormant.
But Breedlove Nurseries, one of Tyler's largest, is planning to experiment with a refrigeration plant that will keep plants dormant twelve months a year and double the selling season.

The Breedloves started their nursery in 1927 on one acre of rented land. Today they own 1,200 acres, a beautiful home, a large nursery. But growing roses is a rough racket. It takes two years to develop that little plant you buy for a few cents and set out in your front yard. And during that two years, it's not just a matter of letting the thing grow. Each plant goes through a dozen or so steps or handling.

One thing immediately strikes the visitor to Tyler, the nation's rose capital. You see very few roses in the yards of those who live there. The homes are neat and pretty and landscaped—but no roses.

WE'RE ON THE MOVE

... WITH EVERYTHING IT TAKES!

The great Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area is really going places and we've got everything it takes when it comes to industry and agriculture. This area is the land of NEW opportunities. This is the land that is making industrial and agricultural history, and everyone who lives here is a definite part of it. There are great possibilities here for all of us and our company is doing its part by expanding its facilities to those who want and need our service—which is low cost, dependable electric power—a necessary adjunct to all industrial and agricultural progress—and better living in the home.

FARM—There is no better soil than in this territory for growing any number of important and profitable crops—including cotton, wheat, potatoes, alfalfa—and there's a ready market for everything you grow. In the Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area we grow a large percentage of all the wheat and cattle in the entire Southwest. There's a great opportunity here for the progressive farmer.
OIL—Oil fields in this vast area are world-known. Everyone knows that our great petroleum industrial growth will demand more and more oil and natural gas. Even now, this territory is producing high octane gasoline, synthetic rubber and carbon black. There's a great future for the petroleum industry in the Panhandle-Plains and Southeastern New Mexico area.
DAIRY—The Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area is now producing vast supplies of dairy products including millions of dollars in butter and cheese. Milch cows thrive in this climate and of course there's plenty of good feed for them, and an abundance of fresh, wholesome water. If you are interested in dairying, this is the area in which to start.
INDUSTRY—You will be amazed at the fine industrial opportunities in this area. Already we have scores of large and important industries in this area and from all indications, there will be many more industries attracted to this section of the country. If you are interested in the industrial opportunities offered here, see your nearest Chamber of Commerce or our local representative.
SORGHUMS—Every year finds an increasing demand from all parts of the nation for sorghums from this fertile area. Extensive tests have been made of our sorghums and experts tell us that they're the finest in the world. Heavy beef is being profitably finished on sorghums raised here. There's a good living in raising sorghums. Why not try it?

CATTLE—The ranches in the vast Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area are turning out highest quality beef cattle... and good solid beef that's marketed all over the U.S.A. This territory now produces far more than two million head of beef cattle annually. Many agricultural experts say that our territory is ace-high for beef production, so if you are interested in raising beef, the Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area is the place to start.
POTATOES—Here's another important crop in some sections of our territory that has come to the front. Potatoes are easy to raise and surpass in quality the northern potatoes we have heard so much about. Potatoes are easily marketed and bring a handsome income to enterprising potato farmers. There's a good living in raising potatoes. Try it when you diversify your farming.
CLIMATE—Everyone knows that the climate in the Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley is ideal. Cool, invigorating summer nights and our moderate winters keep us comfortable and healthy the year round... and the scenery is gorgeous. Yes, we really have something to talk about in the Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley. You would be surprised to learn of the many thousands of tourists who are beginning to come here and feast on our fine weather and scenery. There will be more.
AN ABUNDANCE OF ELECTRIC POWER, GAS AND WATER—Wherever you find a progressive territory, you'll always find an abundance of cheap electric power, natural gas and water. The Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley area is no exception. Our interconnected electric system provides adequate and reliable electric power to farm, home and industry. Natural gas flows in abundance as does our fine, healthful water. Irrigation projects are developing rapidly. Yes, we have everything it takes to go places... and we're on the move.

Harvesters Defeat Bulldogs, 25 to 18

With two minutes to go, the Pampa Harvesters decisively 'broke' the ball and edged the Plainview Bulldogs 25-18 here last night to break their four-game losing streak.

Pampa took the lead at the first of the game and was never seriously threatened, holding a 6-2 margin at the end of the first period and a 13-4 lead at the halftime intermission.

Sparked by Bill Speer, Pampa drove a 23-8 lead in the third period and coasted in the rest of the way, although Randall Clay went out on fouls, playing it a little too rough.

Clay was the high scorer in the game with eight points, trailed by Speer, who made six, all of them in the third period. Allen James was high for Plainview with five points.

Although they were playing without the services of Guard Frank Green, who is in the hospital with pneumonia, the Harvesters "B" Cagers won their 12th straight victory over the season, snapping the Bulldogs' reserves 36-20.

Charlie Laffoon, who saw a lot of action in both the "A" and "B" games last night, poured 14 points through the basket to pace the reserves to their win.

Not since the season of 1942 has a Pampa "B" team lost a game and the pace kept up by this year's team show that they intend to keep the record clean.

Center Zeke Griffin and Forward Bob Boyles of the Gorillas fouled out early in the fourth period and had to be replaced by Regulars Bernie Brown and Bill Speer because no more subs were available.

Friday, the local team meets the Borger Bulldogs in a conference game at the Junior high gym.

Amartillo currently leads the Northern division of District I-AA with a 36-28 win over Borger in Amartillo last night, giving the Sandies two wins, the first a 19-14 win over Pampa.

Borger came back from an 8-4 deficit at the end of the first quarter to hold a 13-10 halftime lead but the Sandies began pulling away and had luck hit the Bulldogs when three regulars, Cope, Daley and Metheny, fouled out.

Jimmy Carter led the Sandies scoring with 14 points while Cope was high for Borger with eight.

If Borger wins from Amartillo at Borger, losses to Pampa at Pampa and Amartillo loses to Pampa here, the Northern division would end in a three way tie and a playoff would be necessary.

Pony Football Prospects Are 'Very Bright'

DALLAS, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Things look mighty bright in football out on the hilltop these days. Southern Methodist university is due to have a squad jammed with veterans, new fall unless there are too many army calls.

Nineteen lettermen from last year's southwest conference runner-up are still eligible and in school and at least a half-dozen stars of former years are back from the service. Others are likely to be present when spring training opens March 4 and a squad of 60 candidates reports.

The only regulars of 1945 to complete their eligibility were tackle Tom Dean and fullback Howard Maley. The other nine are back: Gene Wilson and Harold Clark, ends; Pete Kodrich, tackle; Claud Hill and Earl Cook, guards; Leon Schultz, center; Eugene McClintock, blocking back; Doak Walker, tailback; and Paul Page, wingback.

Other returning lettermen from the team that ended its season by crushing Baylor and Texas Christian include Dick Retnik, end; Jack Elliott, tackle; Ted Leverage, guard; Cecil Sulphin and G. B. Cyrantill, centers, and Cecil Miles, David Moon, Billy Misset, Lendon Davis and George McOrstin, backs.

Among the pre-war lettermen who have returned from the service and are expected out for the team are E. L. Keeton, star pass-receiving blocking back; Johnny Collings, speedy tailback; Jimmy Kondrick, veteran wingback, and Jim Swope and Rhea Keele, tackles.

Pre-war freshmen and squadmen expected to report include Jack Carter and Paul Kasch, centers; Les Withrow, guard; Jack Lindsey, tackle; Ray Coulter, end, and Carroll Parker and Charlie Weber, backs.

And there are a flock of 1945 squadmen due to return to football on the hilltop.

Toledo Fails To Meet Pete Gray's Demands

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 6.—(AP)—One-armed Pete Gray, shunted out of the major leagues by the St. Louis Browns after one season in the big time, says he will not play for Toledo of the American association — unless that club meets his salary request.

Gray, who resides in nearby Nanticoke, would not say how much money he sought, but added "I'll give up the game before playing for less."

The 29-year-old outfielder, voted the outstanding player in the Southern association in 1944, failed to win a starting berth with the Browns last season.

TRIES FOR OLMO

HAVANA, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Ernesto Carnovio, former manager of the Mexico City baseball club of the Mexican league, was reported on his way to Puerto Rico today to offer holdout Brooklyn outfielder Luis Olmo "a fat contract" to play in Mexico.

Bill Hall Has 40-Pt. Lead In Cage Race

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Bill Hall of Marshall increased his lead over George Mikán of DePaul to 40 points last week in the national collegiate basketball individual scoring race.

The latest tabulation by the Associated Press showed today that Hall now has 418 points for 26 games, compared to Mikán's 378 for 177 tilts. Hall tossed in 50 points in two games against Mikán's 40.

Close on Mikán's heels is Fred Lewis of Eastern Kentucky, who rimmed 60 points in three games to jump from sixth place to third at 378 points for 16 games.

Others with 250 or more points included: Tony Levelin of Yale contributed the week's top performance. The star of the once-beaten Eli quintet poured 62 points through the hoop in two games to jump into the list of the top 15 scorers of the country at 282 points.

Hogs Move Into First Position

By The Associated Press
Arkansas held undisputed possession of first place in the southwest conference basketball standings today after defeating Rice 68 to 25 last night at Fayetteville.

The victory gave the Razorbacks a clean sweep of their series with the Owls and a full game lead over Baylor.

Baylor returns to the court tonight, opposing Southern Methodist in Dallas. The Bears must win this game to stay in the race.

George Kok, the big Arkansas center, was again the star of last night's game with 18 points.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—For years you've been hearing about "it's mechanical men (and probably laughing it off because there's nothing mechanical about the way you and I play). Now along comes Greensboro George Corcoran with evidence to show that Byron Nelson's supremacy among the golf pros is merely a matter of mechanics and materials—plus mentality.

Using terms like "pronation and supination" and "square swings" George points out that most of the links leaders learned the game in the hickory shaft days—Hickory has more torsion than steel, but when they switched to steel shafted clubs, they continued to use their wrists in the way they learned to offset that twist—Nelson was one of the few pros smart enough to change to a "hinge" swing without that wrist action, and as a result he's outplunging all the rest—the result has been a "revolution" in golf teaching, Corcoran adds and the younger golfers are taking up the Nelson style. Eventually they'll catch up with him.

NO SOONER SAID
A couple of red hot Oklahoma football fans, Earl and Red Hall, recently made hotel reservations in Los Angeles for next New Year's day—Even a California innkeeper was surprised at such an early request and inquired the reason—why, the brothers explained, we plan to be on hand to see the Oklahoma Aggies in the 1947 Rose Bowl game.

Gorillas Take Game From Lefors, 24 to 23

Pampa's Junior high Gorillas, led by Gambin with 10 points, scored a 24-23 win over the LeFors Pirates, but the local Junior high Razor Cagers were not so fortunate, losing to the LeFors "B" 32-30.

The Gorilla game was tied up at the half 10-10 and the Pampans held only an 18-17 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Reapers also tied their game up at the half, coming from behind to pull up to 18-18, but were behind 25-24 at the end of the third. Donald Tull led the Reapers with 13 points.

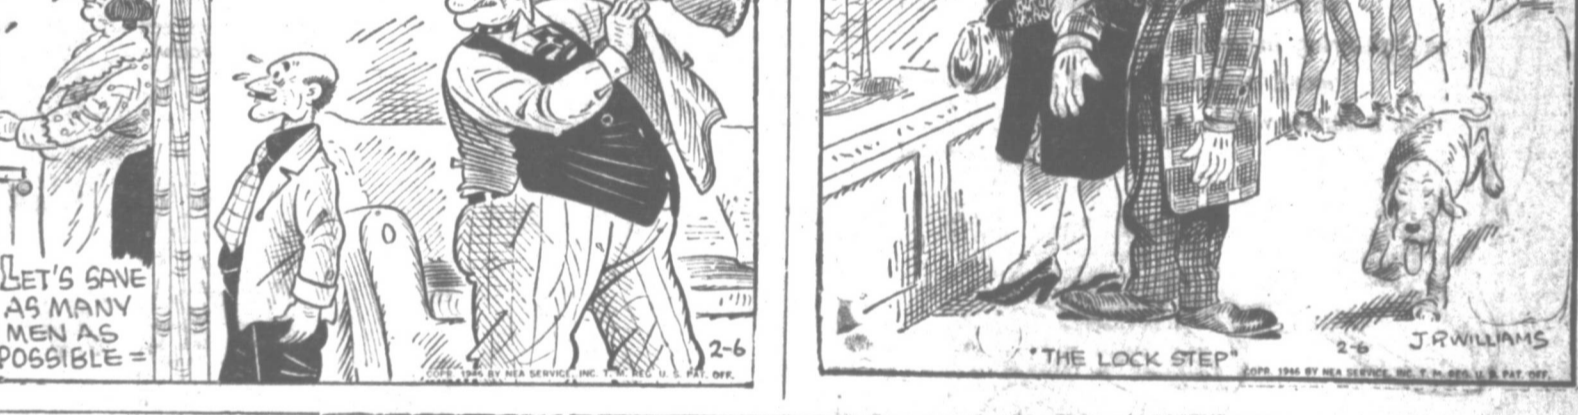

Montgomery, Rodak Will Meet Feb. 15

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Bob Montgomery, who holds the New York state version of the lightweight boxing championship, will meet Leo Rodak of Chicago in the 10-round main event of a fight card in Chicago stadium Feb. 15.

The bout was arranged after Arturo Godoy, South American heavyweight who had been scheduled to meet Leo Savold in the headliner, told promoter Jack Begus he would be unable to appear because of illness. Godoy and Savold will meet here March 1.

MIZE HAUSMANN SIGN

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—First baseman Johnny Mize and second baseman Johnny Mize and second return their signed New York Giants contracts to the office of secretary Eddie Brannick.

River and Harbor Projects Bill Is Before House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—First postwar measure of its kind, a $300,877,498 appropriation bill devoted chiefly to river and harbor and flood control projects went to the house floor today.

As approved by the chamber's appropriations committee, it finances work on scores of projects sidetracked during the war and carries funds for the Panama Canal and for the army's cemeterial expenses.

One of the largest and most controversial projects recommended is the cross-Florida barge canal over which congress has battled for years. The bill carries $15,000,000 for work on the canal.

Funds approved for cemeterial expenses include $71,340 for new grave markers. For continuing construction work on 21 river and harbor projects, the bill provides $42,776,250, a reduction of $7,803,250 from budget estimates.

Maintenance and operation of existing river and harbor projects account for $67,871,500 of the bill's total.

Largest lump allotment is $110,814,000 for general flood control work on 62 projects throughout the country. This is exclusive of $46,000,000 for flood control work on the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

For the Panama Canal, the committee recommended $19,801,000, including $2,010,000 for sanitation work.

Portion of FDR's Stamps Are Sold

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Auction of the first section of the personal stamp collection of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt brought $134,610, which was $35,000 more than had been expected.

In all 885 lots were sold in three sessions at the Parke-Bernet Galleries, Inc.

new levee, cump up ceilings on them.

In the end, No. 1 could have the same effect as No. 2, except that it would delay the general price rise longer.

Remember: Stalling off a general rise in prices would be desirable to the administration.

It fears that general price increases will mean inflation.

The closer it comes to June 30 without a general price rise, the longer it keeps down living costs and the country gets closer to normal conditions.

At least, that's what the government has been thinking.

Ever since the Japanese surrender—in a message after message to congress—Mr. Truman has banded away at the government's determination to keep down prices.

It's possible that—if he grants some sharp price increases to industries like steel—Mr. Truman will say they are necessary but not necessarily inflationary.

The reason so many earnest eyes are turned toward the White House today is this:

The decision made there may mean the difference between higher living costs (inflation) or no inflation.

taken—that he got the wrong impression of any conversions we had about raising money," the nominee said.

"Well," snapped the cabinet member without turning around, "then I don't understand the English language."

One democratic lieutenant, who did not want to be quoted by name, told a reporter that he believed Ickes' testimony might have made it impossible to obtain senate confirmation of Pauley.

The White House had indicated previously it would not withdraw the nomination, but there is a precedent in the case of Edward J. Flynn, former democratic national chairman who was nominated by the late President Roosevelt early in 1943 to be minister to Australia.

Flynn asked, and Mr. Roosevelt complied, that his name be withdrawn after it appeared likely that the senate would reject the nomination.

Yukon Wreck

reports said all the passengers and crew were believed safe in the firmly grounded forward section. Three men were washed overboard when the liner broke, but a tug saved all three.

The survivors were taken to Seeward, where medicines and doctors and nurses were rushed by plane and train.

Terse messages from the scene wasted no words on deeds of heroism, but the story was between the lines which told of carrying terrified children down cargo nets from the fractured Yukon river power boats bobbing in the 20-foot waves, which said "work is continuing by life raft" and which said Breches Broys were being rigged to the bow section of the dead ship.

The three crewmen washed overboard said they believed 20 or more others were missing, but no reports from the vessels standing by verified the belief.

When the 165-foot coast guard cutter Onondaga took its load of 48 survivors to Seeward the coast guard's lightship cedar cedar took charge of the operations, with army vessels and merchant ships aiding in the work. The Onondaga was back before nightfall.

Tugboat Strike

questioned regarding the union's reaction to the seizure order—which was announced early yesterday evening—declared:

"We don't like it, but we will leave it up to the membership at their meeting."

The strikers want a 40-hour week in place of the present 48-hour week; hourly wage increase from $1.10 to $1.57 and from $1.42 to $1.85 for licensed personnel.

The employers, who previously agreed to a 10 cents an hour rise, reverted to a live-or-let-die when the union rejected the higher rate.

President Truman's order directed government management under the same conditions and terms of employment in effect at the time of the seizure, which meant no increase in wages or lessening of hours unless ordered by some agency dealing with those matters.

Churchill To Get Grand Champ Turkey

HOUSTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A $500 turkey hen, judged grand champion of the Houston Fat Stock and Live-Stock Exposition, today is being flown to Miami, Fla., for Winston Churchill.

The 18-pound turkey was raised by Milroy Gregor of Brenham, Texas, and was bought by Uncle John's Mills for presentation to Churchill, now vacationing in Florida.

War Veteran To Operate Taxicabs

Nelson L. Day, 24, a war veteran, was granted a permit to operate two taxicabs in Pampa by the city commission yesterday.

Day, who has resided in Pampa for 17 years, said his company to be known as the Veterans Cab company, would be located at 309 S. Caylor.

In addition to granting the cab company permit, the commission yesterday granted permission to the American Legion to go ahead in its efforts to build a memorial park at Recreation park east of Pampa.

Wage-Price

tomorrow, but there was no indication from the White House when he might announce a possible new wage-price program.

Even Ayers, assistant press secretary, told his own news conference that he did not know of any price statement in sight for today.

A reporter asked whether Mr. Truman would leave Monday as planned for a Florida vacation if the labor situation has not been adjusted by that time.

"That's an if question," Ayers replied. "I'll answer when the time comes."

Bowles had been scheduled to testify on wage-price policy before the house banking committee tomorrow but word came from the committee that his appearance had been postponed until Monday.

Lending weight to belief here that a major break is due in the strike situation, CIO President Philip Murray summoned a strategy conference tomorrow between leaders of the CIO's "Big Three" unions—automobile, electrical and steel workers.

These together represent 1,125,000 striking workers and have adopted a "stick together" policy in considering wage settlements.

An official close to the government policy makers said the new wage-price statement would include relaxation of the present regulation which prohibited management from seeking price relief in less than six months after making a voluntary wage increase.

Industry leaders have made particular point of price problems in the electrical and meat packing wage demands, as well as in the steel case. A federal fact-finding board is expected to make recommendations soon for a wage increase in the meat industry, combining it with specific proposals for a corresponding increase in meat prices.

The government's "last word" on steel price increases has been generally reported as around $4 a ton. The steel industry has asserted that an increase "greatly in excess" of $6.25 a ton would be necessary to put in effect the 18 1/2 cents hourly wage increase proposed for steel workers by President Truman.

Since last Dec. 4, shipbuilding management and labor, with government representatives participating, have been unable to agree on a wage increase for 450,000 AFL and CIO civilian shipyard workers. Conferences say the deadlock could be resolved if the steel industry set the wage pace.

Greek Dispute

Bevin's strong demand for complete expatriation of Russia's charges that British troops in Greece were endangering peace, might find unacceptable the compromise proposal made by Norman J. O. Makin of Australia, chairman of the security council.

Answers from both the British and Russian governments were expected before the council meets at 9 p. m. (4 p. m. EST) tonight for its fourth attempt to settle the Greek question.

Authoritative sources said the proposed formula for solution, suggested to the major powers by Makin during a recess of last night's council meeting, provided that:

1. The council would adopt no formal resolution—a proposal designed to avoid the possibility of a Russian veto.

2. The council president would make a statement taking note of the arguments put forth by the various members of the council and stating that the issue had been removed from the agenda.

Under such a formula, official informants said, both powers would have to "give way" somewhat, but the wartime unity of the Big Three would be preserved and the new peace agency would survive what all agreed was its first important crisis—a term justified, officials said, because the UNO's success hinges on the unity of the key powers.

FARMERS MIGHT STRIKE
Those backing Case's proposal were spurred yesterday by an assertion from Rep. Pace (D-Ca) that the nation's farmers might go on strike if congress didn't pass stiff legislation to regulate labor controversies.

Opponents of the measure said, however, that it would take away labor's rights and promote industrial discord.

In the voting, the strong coalition of republicans and southern democrats backing the bill shouted down these proposed amendments:

By Rep. Patterson (D-Calif) to kill the measure by striking from it all except a policy declaration.

By Rep. Landis (R-Ind) to eliminate the boycott ban.

By Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) to strike out a section giving courts the power of injunction to prevent picket line violence.

By Rep. Bell (D-Mo) to substitute temporary fact-finding boards for the proposed permanent federal mediation agency with approval of the coalition, however, the house accepted these amendments:

By Rep. Bennett (R-NV) to require the proposed board to make a complete study of labor-management problems and report its findings to congress.

By Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) to include under the measure only employers with 250 or more workers. Fifty was the original figure.

By Landis to prohibit disclosure of confidential information to the proposed board.

By Rep. Robinson (R-Ky) giving state courts jurisdiction in breach of contract suits.

By Hoffman to deny courts injunction power in enforcing the boycott ban.

called for additional light on Safford's efforts in pushing what the naval officer termed his "unofficial interest" in behalf of Kimmel.

Their demands held over for the fifth day Safford's appearance before the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941, disaster.

Winding up his fourth day on the witness stand, Safford testified:

(1) He realized he had made some strong charges against Washington officers which might militate against his naval career.

(2) He had no personal interest in exonerating Kimmel (who was removed from his post as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet) "except that I started it and have to see it through."

Safford, a naval intelligence officer at the time, has insisted de-

Under questioning about his efforts in behalf of Kimmel, Safford said he was only "distantly acquainted" with the admiral but had seen and talked with him about a half dozen times since a naval court of inquiry in 1944.
