Captain, Refusing To Quit, Saves Ship Against Great Odds 66 Miles from Japan

The following account was written by Alvin S. McCoy, ace reporter of the Kansas City Star and the only correspondent aboard the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Franklin...

By ALVIN S. MCCOY Distributed by the Associated Press

ABOARD THE U. S. S. SANTA FE IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC, March 20 — (Delayed) — A full day after the carrier Franklin was bombed, bodies floated by us in the sea, dropped from the carrier ahead in a seemingly endless stream as burial services went on interminably.

(McCoy and 825 other survivors were removed by the cruiser Santa Fe a few hours after the disaster. Meanwhile the Franklin's remaining crew fought the seemingly impossible situation to save the stricken ship which had been taken in tow and headed away from Japan.)

At six o'clock tonight Captain Fitz of the Santa Fe announced over the public address system.

WASHINGTON, May 18 — (AP) — The aircraft carrier Franklin, which miraculously survived one of the severest ordeals of this or any war, is home.

She came home, sadly crippled but under her own power, her charred and battered hull manned by a skeleton crew of survivors. Now undergoing repairs at the Brooklyn navy yard, she will resume her place in the war against Japan.

"Today," he said, "the Franklin cast off its tow. I have just received a report that she is able to make 21 knots. We have come 207 miles from where the Franklin was hit, but we are still only 235 miles from places where the Jap airfields are located."

Each minute the Franklin's chances for survival seemed brighter, chances that appeared incredibly slim when she lay wounded off Nippon's shores.

The Franklin was blasted by more than 30 tons of its own bombs and rockets after the Japanese bomber struck it, and it erupted four hours yesterday off the coast of Japan to cause one of the most horrible naval catastrophes of the war.

Blotted out by smoke towering a mile high when she was hit, wracked by intermittent explosions of her own ammunition for four hours, dead in the sea sixty-odd miles from Southern Japan, and listing almost 20 degrees to starboard, the Franklin appeared a certain candidate for Davy Jones' locker.

Surviving more cruel punishment than any ship ever has taken before and still remaining afloat, the Franklin astonished everyone. First placed in tow and tugged painfully southward at three knots, the wounded flatfoot picked up speed while still smoking, got her engines started, and a day later was churning toward a friendly port at 21 knots under her own power, the tow cast off.

Engines and hull were almost intact.

Capt. L. E. Gehres, who would not give up his ship, and his small remaining crew brought the fires under control. Destroyers and cruisers scoured the sea for ten miles, picking up the men who had been blown, driven or who leaped overboard. It was in the American tradition of making every possible effort to save human lives, no matter what the risk. Superb seamanship was one of the major factors in making the dual rescue of ship and men possible.

Most of the casualties were sustained in the first few minutes after the bomb struck, as gasoline and explosives on the flight and hangar decks went up in blinding sheets of flame that seared many men to a crisp in a flash. The lone Jap plane dropped down out of the overcast to pierce a bomb on the busy flatfoot just before 7:10 a. m. as planes were taking off on a mission.

"For nearly five hours the Franklin lay dead as the crew struggled to get the flames under control, and save the ship. Meanwhile other ships removed all but a skeleton crew. The Santa Fe took aboard 826 persons, including 90 wounded. A destroyer, the Hunt, removed or picked up 417, the Marshall saved 212 and several other ships saved lesser numbers. The Franklin's pilots who were in the air landed safely on other ships."

Shortly after noon the tow of the Franklin began. Just then a Japanese plane, the first to slip through the protective cover of patrol planes helping the stricken Franklin, dove toward the carrier and released its bomb. The bomb missed, sending up a great geyser off the carrier's stern.

Ships in the convoy sent up a hail of fire. Survivors on the Santa Fe, their nerves shaken, dashed below, still wearing their life jackets and steel helmets. A second Jap plane appeared two hours later, but did not attempt a bomb run. Both were reported shot down by patrol planes.

Allies Reveal Nazi Plot To Murder 'Ike'

PARIS, May 18 — (AP) — One of supreme headquarters' top security secrets was public today with official disclosure that a picked gang of assassins under the leadership of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler's henchman, Lt. Col. Otto Skorzeny, had plotted last winter to kill Gen. Eisenhower.

Confirming capture of the giant 35-year-old political kidnaper, headquarters revealed the plot had kept the entire Western Front in a state of alert for months during and after the Ardennes battle.

Meanwhile, history's biggest manhunt for notorious nazis still at large was being pressed from Norway to the Bavarian Alps. A war crimes commission official said a decision on what to do with the German military hierarchy probably would be reached at the commission's conference May 31.

Other developments reported: 1. War Correspondent Henry Standish of the London News Chronicle said in a dispatch from Lauenberg that Himmler had been traced but not yet arrested, and that the British Second army could take him into custody at any time.

2. The London Daily Mail's Paris correspondent said Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of government, was brought back from Spain to France in a British warship and was on his way to prison.

3. A dispatch from Kitzbuhel, Austria, said the 42nd division of See NAZI PLOT, Page 5

Chief, Assistant Going to School

Pampa will have two representatives at the annual Firemen's and Fire Marshals' school May 27. It was announced this morning.

Chief Ben White and Assistant Chief New Stokes will leave here May 25 and will be gone a week. Captains Albert Fuller and Clyde Hoston will take charge of the department in the absence of White and Stokes.

It was explained that the fire department's key rate is maintained by attendance at this annual school.

A general course in fire-fighting, including all of the latest developments, is offered. White, who is also Pampa's fire marshal, will take the fire marshal course, while Stokes will take the course dealing with the general basis of fire training.

Graduation Exercises To Begin on Sunday

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of Canaan high school begin with baccalaureate services at the high school auditorium Sunday evening, May 20.

Rev. Wm. E. Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist church will bring the message.

A reception in honor of the senior class will be held at the high school library Wednesday afternoon.

Graduation exercises will be Thursday evening. Jane Donaldson is valedictorian, and Letia Hill is salutatorian.

Opposition to Big-Five Veto Power Grows

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18 — (AP) — The outspoken opposition to many small nations to the big-power plan for a veto control of future peace-keeping machinery today nears a United Nations conference test vote.

It appears possible that the big powers—the United States, Russia, China, Britain and France—may accept some modification of the veto where peaceful settlement of disputes is concerned although Russia could block this, but they all stand firmly on the proposal that no force should be used against any nation except when all five agree.

Prospects are that on a showdown the powers can put over the voting formula as they want it with the agreement that unless they stick together on great international issues of the future no peace-keeping league can hope to prevent war.

Red Cross Women Begin New Course

Gray county women today began training in a course to become Gray ladies at the station hospital under the direction of Lt. Col. Euclid M. Smith, PAAF post surgeon.

Lt. Martha F. Hanlon, chief nurse at the hospital, with the assistance of other hospital staff members and Bjarne Wolding, Red Cross field director, will give the course.

During the past two weeks, a committee composed of Col. Smith, Mrs. James A. DeMarco, Mr. Wolding, Lt. Hanlon, Mrs. C. E. High, volunteer special service chairman, and Mrs. J. B. White, Pampa Red Cross executive secretary, have been making plans for this course.

On last Tuesday enrolled prospective members of this hospital and recreation corps reported to the station hospital for physical examinations.

The training course will include such subjects as medical social service, recreation, hospital ethics, psychology of the sick, medical and surgical emergencies, prevention of disease, general diseases, clinic service, laboratories, dentistry, nursing service in army hospitals, dietetics, occupational therapy, library service, chaplain service and volunteer service.

Loyal Is Believed To Be In France

PARIS, May 18 — (AP) — Pierre Laval was believed to be in France today, but no one was quite sure of the exact whereabouts of the former chief of Vichy government or in whose custody he was held.

Official spokesmen were unable to say whether Laval was in Spanish, British or French hands, but they said "he believed he was in France."

Jack D. Davis Dies In Okinawa Battle

Pvt. Jack D. Davis, 22, was killed in action on Okinawa island April 19, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Davis, 315 N. Gray.

Pvt. Davis, a graduate of Haskell, Texas, high school, had been in the army over two years and overseas for about eight months.

A brother, Billy, is in the Seabees in the South Pacific. Another brother, W. D., recently received a medical discharge and is now attending the University of Texas. Pvt. Davis is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Dwight Clements, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Durwood Boggs, Beville, Texas.

Harvester Field To Be Converted Into an Okinawa Monday Night

"Here's Your Infantry," Mr. and Mrs. Pampa.

Equipped with flame throwers, machine guns, rifles, bazookas and mortars, 78 officers and men who have fought the long fight and helped win victory after victory will put on a full scale act of battle as the infantrymen know it. It will begin at 8:30 p. m. Monday and will be held at Harvester park. There will be no charge to the public.

Each of the men who will put on the mock battle has seen at least 39 months overseas, S. D. Stennis, the Pacific American Legion, explained. The show is being brought to Pampa by the U. S. treasury department in connection with the Seventh war loan drive, now in progress.

A feature of the battle will be the attack and destruction of a Jap pill box. Part of the veterans will simulate Japanese troops while the rest will show Pampans—many of whose sons are doing the real thing—the dogged inch by inch war of the Pacific American Legion and VFW committees, have assembled brush and foliage which, with the camouflage brought by the soldiers, will be used to turn Pampa's football field into a miniature Okinawa.

The infantrymen, accompanied by a military band which will play during an intermission of Monday night's show, will arrive at the Pampa Senior high school gym, near Harvester park, Sunday about 4 p. m. The men and their equipment are being brought here in 17 trucks.

Monday afternoon from 8 to 5 p. m. the equipment will be on display at the Non-Commissioned Officers club, across the street from the fire station. Civilians will be permitted to handle the equipment and explanations of its use will be given by the soldiers.

Pampa is one of 600 cities in the United States where the show is being staged. The men, after their return from combat, were especially trained by the war department at

Woman Prefers Son To Rationed Foods

AMARILLO, May 18 — (AP) — A sober-faced woman entering a grocery store here carried her full supply of red and blue ration points.

She presented the books to the grocer, asked: "Will you tell me whether I have enough points to get my son out of the army?"

France Offered Zone To Occupy

WASHINGTON, May 18 — (AP) — President Truman told the French foreign minister today the United States is willing to relinquish to France a part of the American zone of occupation in Germany.

The President, following a conference with Minister Georges Bidault, issued a statement saying details of the relinquishment "have already been conveyed informally to the French government and are now in the process of being formalized."

Mr. Truman expressed a desire to meet General Charles de Gaulle, head of the French provisional government and said that "there was a full appreciation by the United States government of the part which France could and should play in the settlement of questions of world and European interests."

Bidault was asked if he and Mr. Truman discussed suggestions that France participate in the coming Big Three meeting, he replied the conversations were about political questions of the day, not especially about meetings.

President Truman added in his statement that the United States and its people "will continue to take such measures as will lie within their power to facilitate the recovery of France and of her people."

All-Night Debate Holds Lawmakers

AUSTIN, May 18 — (AP) — Groggy but still on their feet fighting after a 17-hour running battle over a bill revising the law on lease of tidewater school lands, the senate passed the bill to third reading and adjourned at 5:45 a. m. today until Monday.

It was a head-on collision between two hard-headed factions, one that persisted in the 49th legislature's first filibuster, and another that just as persistently refused to adjourn in the hope of wearing the filibuster down.

Opponents of the bill led by Sens. Weaver Moore of Houston, T. C. Chadick of Quitman and R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro had succeeded in holding the floor throughout yesterday when the measure was first brought up several days ago.

The bill had been set for special order of business, but a claims bill in which many senators were interested was interposed by a close vote. The opponents used it as a vehicle to delay consideration of the lease bill backed by Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe and others.

Man's Body Is Found on Tracks

CANADIAN, May 18 — Leslie L. Wriston, honorably discharged army veteran from Woodward, Okla., was found dead on the railroad near Mendota early yesterday morning, his body mangled.

A coroner's jury pronounced the death an accident.

Engineer Percy Williams of Amarillo was reportedly the first to see the body, which lay between the main line and the passing track. Sheriff E. R. Cloyd and Justice of the Peace H. B. Reed hurried to the scene.

An honorable discharge from the army and a letter instructing him to report to the veteran's hospital in Amarillo were found in Wriston's pocket. The return portion of a round-trip railroad ticket from Woodward to Amarillo was also found.

The body was taken to Woodward yesterday.

Attention Focuses On Russia's Moves

Tokyo worried today over American fleet movements which British commands reported the deepest slashes yet made in the campaign to regain Singapore, base for one of the largest remaining segments of Japan's broken fighting and merchant fleets.

Japanese ground forces suffered new reverses in China and made banzai suicide charges on two island fronts—Okinawa and Mindanao—their invariable acknowledgement they know defeat is not far off.

There was increasing interest in Russia's attitude toward the Pacific, although there was nothing to contradict a reported Japanese broadcast that the Mikado's empire is maintaining "completely friendly terms with the Soviet Union."

Moscow newspapers prominently displayed a letter from the people of the Soviet portion of Sakhalin Island, north of Japan, "on the day of the 20th anniversary of the liberation of northern Sakhalin from the Japanese invader." Southern Sakhalin belongs to Japan. The letter pledged continued efforts toward "strengthening the defensive power of Soviet Sakhalin."

Paris radio quoted British diplomats as saying "Russia might join the way by first addressing an ultimatum to Japan, demanding complete surrender and abandonment of continental conquests."

Japanese broadcasts reported increasing home defense measures, including the streamlining of the Tokyo police board for this purpose. It warned that "a powerful Allied fleet" leaving the Marianas Islands "requires rigid watching." Extent of Japan's defenses was indicated by a report from Mustang fighter pilots that they found Tokyo's Asagiri airfield loaded with planes despite repeated strikes at Japan's air resources. Thirty two were knocked out.

Kuhn, Ex-Bund Leader, Declared Undesirable Alien

WASHINGTON, May 18 — (AP) — Former German-American bund leader Fritz Kuhn has been ordered deported to Germany as an undesirable alien, the justice department announced today.

The order was issued by the board of immigration appeals.

The justice department said the 49-year-old native of Munich, who was convicted in 1929 of larceny and forgery involving German-American bund funds, will be placed on a boat at a time to be determined by American military authorities in Germany.

After being paroled from Dannemora prison, New York, where he was serving a two and one half to five year term on the larceny and forgery charges, Kuhn was interned as an enemy alien and sent to Crystal City, Tex., on July 8, 1943.

On February 21, 1944 he was transferred to a camp at Kennedy, Texas, and in August, 1944 was sent to Fort Stanton, N. M., where he and a number of other aliens still occupy a special "troublemaker's" stockade.

The department said that the one time German-American fuhrer probably will be returned to Germany on a repatriation ship along with other Germans.

All of them then will be turned over to American military authorities to be dealt with as the army sees fit.

Kuhn's deportation order follows a series of involved legal proceedings.

He was admitted to the United States for permanent residence in 1928. He was naturalized in 1934.

Christian Science Sunday Study Topic

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 20.

The Golden Text is: "They that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh, but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit." (Romans 8:5)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-lesson is the following from the Bible: "Wherefore laying aside all malice and all guile, and hypocrites, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby." (1 Peter 2:12)

The lesson-lesson also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (page 265)

Central Baptists Announce Services And Bible School

The Rev. Rudolph G. Harvey, pastor of the Central Baptist church will preach Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour on "The Joy of Soul Winning." There will be a special duet number by C. H. Ediger, and Mrs. L. L. Stovall, which will precede the sermon.

The evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m. with Training Union, and attention is called to the change in time from 7:30 o'clock to 7:30.

The church service will begin at 8:30, and sermon topic for the evening hour will be "Changing and Changeless." There will be a special song "The Old Fashioned Meeting" sung by the quartet.

The special effort of the church to cooperate with the Seventh War Loan was met with success by the membership of the church. There will be many more who will take part in this worthy cause, for the opportunity to give a bond or the cash in honor of mother or a son or daughter has been left open and can be paid any time this year. It is hoped that many more will join in this great move to help the war effort and to help in the building of a great church in this community.

Plans are being made for a vacation Bible school that will take care of children of all ages to correspond with the Sunday school plan. The date for the school had been set for June 11-22, giving the boys and girls a chance to relax from school for a week and then to be ready to enjoy the Vacation Bible school.

The school is open to all boys and girls, regardless of belief or denomination. Mothers are invited to bring their children and assist in the school.

Scripture: The Books of Ezra and Nehemiah

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
There are portions of Scripture that seem to have little relation to our life today. They are of interest for the light they throw on the past, and for the help that they give in the study and interpretation of the Scriptures, but they stand chiefly as ancient records.

But other portions, and this is true of the greater part of the Scriptures, are as vital and applicable for the life of today as if they had been written yesterday, or were coming as fresh from the press as our morning paper. And this is particularly true of the stories of the return of the Hebrew exiles from Babylon, and of their rebuilding of Jerusalem, and reestablishing themselves in their homeland, under their great leaders, Ezra and Nehemiah.

Thousands, if not millions, today are in the situation of these ancient Babylonian exiles. They, or their successors, have been cruelly uprooted from their homes and homelands. Thousands have been killed, and other thousands have succumbed to their sufferings and burdens. But others, and children of those who have perished, survive and the day of deliverance has come.

They will have new perils, and new enemies, as they take up the task of returning and rebuilding just as the Jewish exiles who returned from Babylon had to meet strong opposition from enemies in Babylon, and from those of their own people who had escaped from exile. Selfish interests will seek to prevent their interests of justice and humanity. The situation will call for all the help and inspiration available.

And there will be no source of help and inspiration more available, or more effective, than that to be found in these Books of Ezra and Nehemiah. They ought to be read in their entirety, read and re-read. The reader will find himself baffled a little by the chronological order of events. He may not always be clear just as to where the work of such of these great leaders, Ezra and Nehemiah, begins and ends, or just how much their tasks of leadership were related or overlapped; but he will get a clear picture of their problems and difficulties, and a strong grasp of the faith that inspired them, and of the indomitable courage with which they built and fought—and also of the resourcefulness and personal initiative and daring with which they achieved their ends.

Along with these Books of Ezra and Nehemiah, which give the historical record, must be put the great prophecies of the Exile—the record of the words of life and hope that kept alive faith, and inspired men to great tasks. The nature of these prophecies may be seen in the work of the so-called "second Isaiah," the chapters of that Book from the fortieth to the end.

Here are the words of truth that with banner-like precision set forth the high ideals of those who saw God's call to Israel, and in God's dealings with Israel, not some preference and privilege of a master race, chosen of God with arbitrary disregard of the rest of the world, but a people chosen of God to make known His grace and goodness, and to bring blessing to all mankind.

Houston Oil Man Is 'Drafted' To Job

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Jubal R. Parton, Houston, Texas, oil man who was appointed industrial advisor on the Allied reparations commission, has gone to Texas to attend to personal business affairs before going to Moscow.

Edwin W. Pauley, head of the American section of the reparations commission, said he had virtually "drafted" Parton because of the latter's reluctance to leave the country in the face of previously scheduled business appointments.

Pauley described the appointment of Parton, former director of transportation for the petroleum administration for war as a "gratifying addition to my staff."

Citizens Asked To Buy Poppies To Pay Tribute

Once again on Poppy Day, May 26, the members of the American Legion auxiliary will dedicate their best efforts to the distribution of memorial poppies to the citizens of Pampa.

Mrs. Vance Rhea, the poppy chairman, announced today. It is one of the ways in which they pay tribute and keep faith with those who died in the nation's service, saying as they fell:

"Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch—be yours to hold it high;
If the warning of the poppy has become a silent pledge, renewed each year, that the people of America have not forgotten the responsibility they have been given by their fighting men of both wars."

"Many of these men have given their lives for their health for us, and it is with deep gratitude to them that we set aside a day on which to honor them and assure them that we remember our promise."

On Poppy Day the women of the auxiliary will offer poppies to everyone in Pampa. There is no fixed price for poppies—whatever is given is welcome. The little boy's pennies and the business man's dollar are equally acceptable. It is hoped that every citizen will be wearing the crimson badge by nightfall of May 26th.

Every cent that is given for a poppy goes toward the rehabilitation of disabled fighting men and to aid of the children of the dead and disabled. These victims of war's disaster will be glad to see the poppies blooming on lapels again this year.

Style Show Is Featured at Meeting Of Junior Matron's League Members

Principal feature of a meeting Wednesday evening of the Junior Matrons' League in the Cadet club, Combs-Worley building, was a style show in which wives of officers acted as models under the supervision of Mrs. James A. De Marco, wife of the PAAF commanding officer.

The show was divided into four parts, with models wearing costumes appropriate to morning-coffee, soft drink party and committee meeting; club luncheon, town and travel; afternoon tea or reception, and dinner dance or formal evening reception.

In the first group, morning dresses were displayed as follows: black and white, Mrs. Clay; black and yellow, Mrs. Mattox; dusty pink, Mrs. Terwilliger; navy and white, Mrs. Rumsey; and off white, with red accessories, Mrs. Crane.

Costumes suitable for club luncheon, town wear, or for traveling were shown in the second group, as follows: shrimp and aqua dress with white accessories, Mrs. Clay; grey and black stripe dress with black accessories, Mrs. Mattox; two-piece juggle tan dress with brown accessories, Mrs. Terwilliger; tweed suit, Mrs. Rumsey; and checked navy suit, Mrs. Crane.

In the third group, afternoon gowns were exhibited as follows: yellow and black eyelet dress with black lace, with black accessories, Mrs. Clay; navy blue dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; blue and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; black and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; black and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane.

In the last group, the models wore evening gowns as follows: blue and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; black and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; black and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane; black and white eyelet dress with white eyelet hat, Mrs. Crane.

Eleven members of the Junior Matrons' League have joined the National association of Air Force Women.

Committee members in charge of arrangements for the meeting and who served refreshments were Mrs. James Hegg, Mrs. Robert Eubank, Mrs. R. E. Brown, Mrs. Ray P. Merritt, and Mrs. Glen E. Ballowe.

Children's Designer Sewed for Own Girls

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—What gives small fry fashions a Grade A rating today are styles which satisfy little girls' love of fun and excitement and their moms' pleas for sturdy frocks that ease the laundry load. If, in addition, little-toe fashions can survive several "generations" of active children without being regarded as hand-me-downs, they're something to shout about.

While toting out her own two small daughters at home, Mrs. Karas developed talents which she turned into a profitable custom-made business. From first-hand experience she learned that little clothes must be sturdy and easy to handle—easy for youngsters to get in and out, and for moms to wash and iron—if they are to click with mothers. If they are to make a hit with the youngsters, they must be charming to look at and exciting to wear.

Mrs. O. A. Wagner Entertains Club Clothing Exhibit
Worthwhile Home Demonstration club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. O. A. Wagner. In the absence of the president Mrs. D. L. Lunsford vice-president, conducted the meeting. The program opened with the club prayer and a song.

Mrs. Wagner was appointed to assist in the clothing exhibit, May 26. Miss Millicent Schaub, agent, gave an interesting and instructive demonstration on clothing construction, showing the proper method of straightening the material before cutting, so the garment will hang properly, also the proper way to sew on buttons, put a hem in a dress, and tailor tuck.

The next meeting of the club will be June 5, with Mrs. Margaret Taylor.

Mrs. M. E. Rosser Is Honored by Members Of Beihany Class
Bethany class members of the First Baptist church met Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Doshia Anderson, to honor Mrs. M. E. Rosser, who is returning to her home in Abilene, after a visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Douglas Carver.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames D. W. Slaton, A. J. Young, Mamie C. Hartgraves, J. B. Barrett, Rosser L. A. Sanders, Eugene Phelps, L. M. Magnon, L. A. Baxter, A. Pollock, J. H. Richey, and the hostess.

Too Simple, Maybe: An article in the War and the Working Class reprinted by the Russian Embassy in Washington, admits the obvious difference between the Russian and Anglo-American definitions of "democracy."

The obvious solution, of course, should be to let the citizens of Europe's various countries decide for themselves what type of democracy they want. Such a solution was implicit in the Atlantic Charter...

Well, maybe that is the trouble with simple solutions—they are so simple. However, we hope that all concerned will get used to the idea of simplicity as time goes on.

The Nation's Press

PRICE FLOORS FOR FARMERS (The Wall Street Journal)

In miniature, the situation confronting dry pea farmers of the recent issue of this newspaper is the same as that in prospect for nearly all farmers of the United States. The end of their happy time of great demand and good prices seems to be approaching. Present federal law guarantees them price support at 90 per cent of "parity" until two years after the war, but the War Relocation Administration has decreed that price support shall apply to only 57 per cent of the 1934-44 average crop.

Price support in the face of prospective shortage in demand makes difficulties for the price guarantor. In this dry pea case the guarantor—the Government—has a stake in the price of the crop. It is a stake that is not shared by the farmer. Evidently they will be forced to divert part of their acreage to other crops. Not all crops will be exposed to the same degree of lessened demand as in Europe. Return from the battlefields to the farms, still, acute world shortage of food will pass, even though inadequate distribution resulting from the war means that severe local shortages are to remain for many months.

It is already plain that the promise of price support for so long as the "two-year period" beginning with the first day of January immediately following the termination of the war by the President by proclamation or the Congress by concurrent resolution declares that hostilities in the present war have terminated, will make trouble for the Government and farmers alike. Just now the Government can extend price support through its buying for the Army and Navy, but requirements diminish, price support will be extended mainly or solely through crop loans. But supported prices make production of a crop difficult, since yield per acre can often be increased. Hence, apparently, the decision to support prices for only limited quantities of dry peas.

Politically it is doubtless not feasible to attempt any substantial change in the farm price floors policy. While the farmers' reaction would be to so great a curtailment of guaranteed prices for major crops as has been announced for dry peas can only be imagined. Yet without some means of sharing the cost of the price floors policy to the Treasury could run to some billions a year and would become harder to abandon the longer it lasted.

We have no solution for this problem to offer that seems at all practicable under present conditions. The conditions themselves are changing and will change more rapidly as commercial cargo space becomes more plentiful and the use of surplus farm commodities can expand. But when and as hostilities subside we shall probably find that farm commodities are the most vulnerable sector of our war-made price level.

Consolidated News Feature: My goodness, I just had a thought. With all the babies being born in hospitals these days what are we going to have for national shrines in years to come? Millions, have you ever thought of the night of the hum-ble log cabin where Lincoln was born? The birth-places of the present generation are changing and will change more rapidly as commercial cargo space becomes more plentiful and the use of surplus farm commodities can expand. But when and as hostilities subside we shall probably find that farm commodities are the most vulnerable sector of our war-made price level.

On second thought, though, that's a very common sight these days.

A State's Foreign Policy

Is Simply Its Way of Using Its Military Force

By ROSE WILDER LANE

(Author of "Let the Hurricane Roar," "The Discovery of Freedom.")

Any state's foreign policy is simply its statesmen's way of using its military force (as bribes, threats and war) in dealing with other states. Its internal policy is their way of using its police force in dealing with their subjects—or with their fellow-citizens. Of course, both their use of military force and their use of police force come from the same cause: the political principle upon which men have established that state.

Domestic affairs, such as depression, or an increasing prosperity, a "need for raw materials" or "the need for ports" may seem to compel statesmen to follow a certain foreign policy. Or their use of police force may seem to compel them to adopt certain domestic policies, such as slave-labor, rationing, military conscription. But this is a shallow view.

Actually, the statesmen's use of military force and their use of police force come from their own State's political principle. Just as a man's treatment of his neighbors and his family both come from his own moral principle, his character.

It is only as a chain of resulting events that one leads to the other. A man's beating his wife leads to his quarrel with his neighbors. He wouldn't quarrel if he didn't beat her. His fighting a neighbor—or inviting him to dinner—leads to an encounter with his wife that is not so pleasant.

Well, maybe that is the trouble with simple solutions—they are so simple. However, we hope that all concerned will get used to the idea of simplicity as time goes on.

Successor To Hitler

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

CRISIS—The stability of the stock market during the world-shaking happenings of the last month has amazed even Emil S. Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange. Although he resisted Roosevelt's death and the German surrender, that he close down, brokers and customers reacted so calmly to the events that there were no great losses from catastrophic ups and downs in the price levels.

The market has been extraordinarily lucky in the timing of international and national crises which might have demoralized the dealers, in the opinion of the former RPC official. Hitler staged most of his major coups on Saturday in the hope of catching London's statesmen off guard while they indulged in the long British week end. Sellers and purchasers recovered from their surprises over Sunday, and there was no wild trading on Monday.

FDR's death was not announced until after the market had closed, and that prevented any panicky developments. But the greatest break was that the false San Francisco flash on "unconditional surrender" came over the wires on a Saturday night and that President Truman nipped the rumor immediately.

Referring to the newspaperman who sent the story from the California city, Mr. Schram said, "I ought to give him a reward."

As a result of this inaccurate report, the market was able to discount the actual capitulation and to stay on a fairly even keel. Now the exchange boss prays that news of the Japanese eventual defeat will be broken gradually and in dribbles. He will not guarantee the same kind of unemotional response if Tokyo collapses overnight and without any advance warning.

SPECULATION—Mr. Schram takes mild issue with certain federal financiers who maintain that the values of some stocks have reached "historic" levels. Reforms and regulations sponsored by his regime and the SEC have prevented an orgy of speculations during the most momentous periods in world history.

In view of the scarcity of securities for buyers because there has been practically no new issue of stock for fifteen years, he is surprised that the pressure of purchasing power has not had a skyrocketing effect.

In 1937, he points out, price levels were at the highest since before the 1929 crash. Temporary prosperity had returned through a slight restoration of confidence and the government's huge expenditures for WPA and PWA projects.

Prices have increased approximately seventy per cent since 1937, and the advances have mainly affected securities which were directly benefited by defense and war activities. But the larger national income and savings of today, as compared with 1937, appear to justify an even greater boost in market levels.

Although Mr. Schram did not disagree with the view that the Central Valley was still semiarid, he brought back information about the work of less than a generation in drawing up Salvation army plans for post-war relief.

UPTON CLOSE:

Pres. Truman Is Not a Man To Be Pushed Around

Evidence is growing that Harry Truman can neither be wheeled nor pushed around in foreign affairs, and certainly that he cannot be frightened. That may, with all honor to the man from Missouri, be equally true in domestic affairs, although the answer there is not yet so clear.

It is crystal clear in the foreign field. Harry Truman's personal friends—and he has as many as a traveling salesman or a hotel greeter—will all testify that the new President remembers with extraordinary vividness his impressions of youth and early manhood, and acts upon those impressions. Harry was more man than youth when he came back from service as a captain in the First American expeditionary force to Europe—he was in his thirties, and was numbered among the more thoughtful veterans at the rather gay and unthoughtful American Legion conventions. His combination of glad-handing, surface frivolity and actual thoughtfulness and his rapid rise as a Legion official.

Harry Truman remembers the returned Yank's attitude toward things European: a fullsome sense of the greediness and quick suspicion and bias of European statesmen, and he feels the confidence of the American fighting man turning back home at last after long wars abroad—confidence in the ability of Americans to take care of their own matter how the rest of the planet may drift.

Harry Truman's memories of himself and his buddies in 1918 and his extraordinary youthfulness in the days of the "Great War" are turning G.I. of today than almost any other man in office. That should be a great help in the difficult business ahead of settling twelve million soldiers into civilian life, beyond that Harry Truman's memories will probably be the determining influence in shaping the foreign policy of the United States at the moment when we begin to find out, once again, that foreign powers are not saints and seldom in history have problems of such weight and scope been transferred from one man to another so suddenly and in so critical a time. But from every side there has been a closing of the ranks.

There has been grief and mourning, but not confusion, uncertainty or pause in the orderly functioning of government.

President Truman has assumed his responsibility with inspiring calm and confidence, and all parties and groups have lived in extending their support and in submerging their differences, so that the President will be free from the embarrassment of factional dispute in such a time.

EXCEPTION—The bankers' statement includes a liberal quotation from one of the Truman committee's reports, on how to handle the war in the future. It is the economy. They apparently relished the following suggestion:

"Some people," said the senatorial document, "favor attempting to formulate blueprints so as to regulate every step by which we attempt to reconvert from war to peacetime operations." Next, it listed proposals under which the government would regulate production through use of wartime controls over supplies and materials. To these plans Chairman Truman took violent exception.

"Even in wartime," he said, "it was the flow of private initiative that made possible the success of the war program. This flow must be encouraged in the future. It is the job of government to devise rules of the road, but not to tell the driver where he must travel."

AF Foreign News Analysis: It isn't all surprising to learn that Japanese diplomats and business men in neutral countries are busy unofficially seeking some loophole for peace short of the unconditional surrender demanded by the Allies.

There's no secret about the fact that Nippon is following Germany's trail of disaster. We know now that it's only a question of how long it will take to deliver the goods. Even for Japan already is beaten. Hence, the Mikado's ministers of state admit the gravity of her position.

However, this peace development is a circumstance which we should regard with great caution. While the Japs probably would be glad to secure a peace that would save them from complete knock-out and allow them to hang onto some of their plunder, yet they have no present intention of unconditional surrender and are capable of making a long and fierce resistance.

The appearance of peace-feelers is a sign of weakness which is our cue to hit the enemy with everything we have. This is the supreme moment which calls for the greatest effort of both the fighting forces and the home front. We have proof of this in facts learned since Germany collapsed. We don't know that if we had been a little bit later with our great invasion of the continent, the Hitlerites would have put into action new weapons which they had almost ready, and which might have proved a grave crisis for the Allies. We hit the Nazis just in time—and now is the moment to crack Japan.

Japan's greatest immediate worry undoubtedly is whether Russia is going to enter the war alongside America and Britain.

Well, the Japs can have the doubtful satisfaction of knowing they have just as much information about Moscow's intentions as does any other foreign nation—which seems to be pretty good. There is no indication that either Britain or the United States has any knowledge of what the Sphinx of Moscow has in mind in this particular.

Having obtained his citizenship fraudulently, therefore, he is considered by immigration authorities as never having been a citizen.

On this premise his last entry into the United States, when he returned from a visit to Germany in 1938, was an alien.

His subsequent conviction thereupon made him subject to deportation.

Boys on Morotai Declare Army Is Rated on Tidiness of Its Stove

By HAROLD STRIETER
 MOROTAI, Moluccas.—(AP)—This mosquito-plagued, jungle island is the tail which wags the dog.
 Burst open little more than seven months ago by American invasion forces as the trapdoor to the Philippines, its 1,200 square miles and several hundred Japanese are dominated by a perimeter of around 30 square miles held by Yanks on the south.
 Transformed into a bustling air base both for American and Australian planes, those 30 square miles also hold at Bay Halmahera, an octopus island 12 miles across a channel, which has more than 16,000 square miles and more than sands of Japanese.

 Aerial domination far-wise south of the Dutch East Indies is so complete that the boys of the infantry have time for brass polishing. And what polishing.
 A sergeant, showing off the kitchen to a group of touring American war correspondents, briefed them on the care of the spotlessly clean stoves with the same serious pride that Maj. Gen. Willis Hale briefed us at Guam on the B-29s.
 "Our general tells us the way we keep our stoves shows what kind of a soldier we make," the sergeant said.
 A little later the commanding general ordered a line of jeep drivers to lift up the hoods of their vehicles.

Every engine, all its detailed parts, would be the envy of any motorist in America. It was as clean as the kitchen stoves.
 The rousing spirit of Texas is so prevalent that when Master Sgt. Billie Kyle, who once played with John Kirby's orchestra at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, tickles the ivories with "The Eyes of Texas," the loud notes rain down like fragmentation bombs on the hapless enemy.
 Their general says the "Nap hereabouts has lost all will to fight."

Germans Enlist Women To Cause More Confusion

By KENNETH J. DIXON
 WITH THE AEF IN GERMANY.
 May 18.—(AP)—Early as it is in the occupation of Germany, the American army already appears to have won one major battle against an evil troops might have seriously undermined its authority.

It was the battle of the fake rape cases.
 As yet, few level-headed high army officials are certain whether it was an organized campaign of subtle sex sabotage or merely a sort of individual feminine guerrilla campaign.
 Whatever its origin—either individual or collective—it has pretty definitely failed.
 To understand the seriousness of the original situation when American troops first swept into Germany it must be realized that, for both moral and disciplinary reasons, our army views rape as a civilian courts view murder.

American soldiers have been hanged for rape in several European countries where this war has been fought.
 Word of the American army's penalty for rape obviously filtered into Germany. That at least some Nazi-minded frauds heard of it and made their plans is now a matter of record. Others perhaps innocently—if that word is fitting—fell into the scheme.
 Suddenly in Germany the military police began to be approached by numbers of women crying "Rape!" Arrests were made immediately, but investigations prior to court-martial began to unearth many discrepancies. For instance:
 Out of three such complaints to one division, medical investigation revealed that two of the girls were virginal and civilians testified that the third was a known prostitute.
 All three finally admitted they had been prompted by the departing Germans to try the rape racket as a means of harassing American troops.

Several cases of German girls found fraternizing with doughboys first appeared as sex cases. The frauds realized they had been Small wonder.
 Morotai, expanded with air strips roads and encampment areas, also is noteworthy for the strong camaraderie between the Yank and Aussies fliers.
 Truly Allied warfare in the Pacific war was born in this southern theater. In the early days of the war, American's knocked about air force was so denuded of personnel that mixed crews of Aussies and Yanks manned many planes.
 "We found" after all we were jolly much the same except for our slang and we soon learned each other's "speak."

And if you haven't heard "America, the Beautiful," rolled out by chunky white mustached Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, GBE, KCB, CMG, DSO, ED, commander-in-chief of Aussies ground forces, you have a treat in store.
 Temple, May 18.—(AP)—After a force of comparatively easy going on Okinawa, Sgt. Tommie Thomas, as of Marshall, Tex., and the men of the 96th division hit the Naha line.
 "The Naha line extends all the island and is the main Jap defense line. For almost a month our gains were measured in yards. It took three weeks to take two little hills. The Japs are using lots of artillery in the campaign. They shoot their mortars like we shoot our rifles and with the same accuracy," says Thomas.
 "It is estimated that the Naha line is comparable to the Siegfried line in Germany. The fighting is about as tough as that on Iwo Jima—the difference is that Okinawa is bigger.
 Thomas was wounded April 12, during a heavy mortar barrage. A month later to the day he arrived at McCloskey general hospital here.
 "I was checking up on one of my squads," he said, "and was going back to the command post. A mortar shell hit about two feet from me and the fragments hit my left leg. The concussion was so great that I was stunned; however, I managed to crawl into one of the tombs we used for cover. Later another man helped me get to an aid station."
 Thomas received a bayonet wound in the Leyte campaign, but returned to duty after a short time. He has been with the 96th division since it was activated in 1941. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Thomas, reside in Marshall.

"All I know is that he says he won it in a poker game with the major!"

found out and mistakenly thinking they too would be punished for such fraternizing they immediately cried "Rape!" in hopes of saving themselves.
 The soldiers were punished for such fraternizing—but there's a difference between a $65 fine and hanging.
 There probably is less promiscuity here in Germany than in any other country where the army has camped or garrisoned—including America.
 It definitely can be assumed that the army itself has adopted and extremely headstrong policy concerning seemingly frantic frauds who cry "Wolf! Wolf!"
 Rape remains a hanging offense in the American army—but no doughboy is going to the gallows simply on the word of a clever German girl.

Gen. Donovan To Help Prosecute Criminals
 WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, chief of the highly secret office of strategic services, will help prosecute Europe's war criminals.
 Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, designated by President Truman as this country's chief war crimes prosecutor, has announced the selection of Donovan and two other top assistants:
 Sidney S. Alderman, general solicitor for the Southern railway, and assistant Attorney General Francis M. Shea, both of Washington.
 Jackson's announcement, issued by the war department, referred to the three as "experienced trial lawyers."
 Donovan, a congressional medal of honor winner in World War I as leader of the famous "fighting 69th," long was referred to as the "mystery man" of World War II. The title grew out of his extensive European travels in 1940-41 and the hush-hush air surrounding O. S. S.

Rough Riding on Rails Is Studied

MONROE, Mich., May 18.—A 75-ton "gumbe pig" here is preparing the way for the perfect railroad ride.

A standard private railway car is being used by the Monroe Auto Equipment company, producer of shock absorbers and ride stabilizers for railroads and automobiles, to try out its half-don new device that iron out creases of jarring, bumping and swaying on high-speed trains.

Set up here just as it has been used on leading railways, the car is tested for the degree of all types of riding faults. As each new device is tried out the reduction in vibration and jolt will be measured. By adding horizontal and lateral shock absorbers, anti-galloping devices and others to the equipment already perfected, Monroe expects to make this car the smoothest riding ever used.

Test runs will be made on regular trains meeting normal schedules, with railroad experts along to note the riding quality, according to Brouwer D. McIntyre, Monroe's president.
 "There is no reason," declared

HARRY CRAIG SHOWS and CARNIVAL
 STARTING
Pampa All Week MONDAY, MAY 21
 Southwest of the Ball Park, Near Intersection of Highways 18 and 152

Harry Craig has been a member of the American Legion, in Colman, Texas, for years. Harry Craig is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Cootics, in Brownwood, Texas. Harry Craig spent fourteen months in France as a part of the American Expeditionary Force during World War I. Harry Craig knows the Hell our boys are suffering and without complaint, has tried to obey every Government ruling that might hasten the end of World War II.

Harry Craig married his wife more than 25 years ago and is rather proud of the fact that Mrs. Craig never had another beau. The only time they have been separated was during the period he was in France. Harry and Mrs. Craig have one child, Harry, Jr., aged 7, who travels with the show and goes to a different school each week during the spring and fall months. There are many other parents on the show. Children and their pets are under one's feet constantly during the day and night. The certain way to get into trouble is to deliberately hurt a child or pet.

HARRY CRAIG ASSURES PARENTS THAT THEIR CHILDREN MAY SAFELY ATTEND HIS CARNIVAL UNACCOMPANIED. HARRY CRAIG CARRIES INDEMNITY INSURANCE TO PROTECT HIS PATRONS WHILE ON THE MIDWAY. THE RATE IS HIGH BUT HARRY CRAIG BELIEVES HIS CUSTOMERS ARE ENTITLED TO THAT PROTECTION.

Harry Craig was a sergeant during World War I. His early education did not permit him to try to be a commissioned officer. At the end of the war, through force of circumstances, Harry Craig entered the carnival business and has been in Pampa several times with various shows. Harry Craig's personal habits are good, his credit standing good. In 1943 Harry Craig was enabled to buy his present carnival by selling a farm he cumulated and borrowing money from friends. Harry Craig's ambition is to give his boy enough education that he will not have to undergo the hardships of an outdoor showman.

Harry Craig has had his carnival in Pampa twice. One time in 1943 and again in 1944. Since last year, Harry Craig has enlarged and improved his show. Harry Craig thinks that the principles and liberties for which he fought should allow any American citizen to select the place he wants to buy his amusement, just as he should be allowed to select the place where he buys his groceries, gas, beer, clothing or any other need. Harry Craig believes that if he does not give full value in entertainment for the money spent with him, the citizens of any community will show him his error by not attending his show.

There will be a peace officer on Harry Craig's midway at all times to keep order. Harry Craig realizes that an account of the labor situation, some inexperienced employee might make an error. Harry Craig's office on the midway will be open at any time to anyone with a grievance, real or fancied. Harry Craig or one of his staff will be glad to adjust any legitimate complaint.
