Straw Poll Tests Location Opinions

By HENRY S. GORDON

"Where are they finally going to put the airport?" That question has been tossed about Gray County since flying became quite popular here. The issue became so hot that most of the time it was dropped and allowed to go by the board.

With the announcement late last year by the Civil Aeronautics Administration that Gray County was to receive at least $55,000 in government aid to improve its airport facilities, the bees started buzzing again.

This time, however, it will be carried through to a finish despite indications of a rough battle ahead by the opposing factions on location—the northwest field supporters vs. Pampa Municipal Airport supporters.

To attain this, the Chamber of Commerce's new Aviation Committee will take the issue to the property-owning taxpayers through an unofficial straw poll with the aid of the Pampa Daily News. Only property-owning taxpayers are given a voice in the eventual location because they will be the only ones eligible to vote on a bond issue that will have to come if either field is selected and approved.

The committee has discarded the old estimates and rebuilt new ones in accordance with today's costs. It took several weeks to build up the comparative costs for each field, the advantages and disadvantages of each (See AIRPORT, Page 11)

Federal Funds Due Texas for Bomb Defense

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas is in line for nearly $40,000,000 in federal funds to build bomb shelters in critical target areas.

Communities designated by federal authorities as areas most likely to be attacked will have to match the federal money to secure the grants, State Civil Defense Coordinator William L. McGill said Saturday.

McGill, who has been studying the new Federal Civil Defense Act with Gov. Allan Shivers, doubted that the state would have much to do with administering the money.

"Actual distribution of the money within the state would be handled by the FCDA," McGill said.

The act which President Truman is expected to sign within a week, would allocate funds to states on the basis of urban population in critical target areas.

McGill said Washington officials figured Texas had 3.54 percent of the national population living in those areas potentially most subject to attack.

Communities will not be able to participate in the fund-matching plan if the protective shelters are intended for other than civil defense.

Projects designed to pay for themselves in peacetime, while ineligible for federal allocations, will be able to borrow from a $250,000,000 revolving fund set up by the Reconstruction Finance Corp., McGill said.

The Federal Civil Defense Act allocates one million, 125 million dollars for protective shelters and other protective facilities, but Congress has not yet appropriated the money for distribution. Texas' exact share would be $39,825,000, McGill said.

Gov. Shivers has advised the mayors of all cities designated as critical target areas, McGill reported.

Civil Defense Here Discussed Tuesday

Joe S. Fletcher, assistant director of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, is slated to address the concluding class of the Pampa Police School on Tuesday.

Subject of Fletcher's talk will be civil defense and a number of top city and county officials are expected to attend.

Diplomas will be awarded to a large number of officers from Pampa and surrounding areas who attended the three-week course for traffic officers and criminal investigators. The school was conducted by the Dept. of Public Safety's Bureau of Education.

Airbase at Suwon Seized by Chinese

TOKYO — (AP) — The allies fell back all along the Korean front Saturday before a relentless Red offensive that reached 60 miles south of the 38th Parallel in one sector and was at the outskirts of doomed Wonju.

In the west, the Chinese and North Korean Communist drive forced abandonment of the big allied airbase at Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul, although action on that front was more desultory.

The Communist force of 210,000 smashing at Wonju on the east-central front was trying desperately to flank the U. S. Eighth Army retreating from Seoul and roll it up against the Korean west coast.

Red and allied artillery duelled over Wonju, a key road and rail point. Its entire civilian population had fled.

Texans Facing Tax Increases

AUSTIN — (AP) — The 82nd Legislature must raise 110 million dollars in new money to pay for state services at the present rate of spending.

That was the paramount point in Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's estimate of income and spending, laid on Gov. Allan Shivers' desk Saturday.

Two days in advance of the session, the comptroller's fiscal estimates reflected some bright spots. Calvert figured that there will be a general revenue fund balance of six million dollars at the end of this fiscal year, Sept. 1. That was based on the assumption that spending would not be increased.

It also contrasted sharply with the 28 million dollars deficit that previously had been forecast. Higher oil production was the answer.

Shivers, commenting on the comptroller's estimate, was non-committal when asked specifically whether or not new taxes would be needed to furnish the 110 million of new money.

The Governor said he was "hopeful" spending in total could be kept at the present level, but on where the money was coming from, all he would say was: "I'll have some recommendations on the subject of taxation for the legislature."

MacArthur's summary said Red troops were massing in the Hongchon-Kapyong area north-west of Wonju.

These forces were elements of Chinese and North Korean units that battled American and South Korean divisions on the Hungchon beachhead two weeks ago.

The Wonju airstrip, near the town, (location considered) was abandoned by the allies.

Correspondent Barnard, who fled from Wonju to Chungju, 27 miles south, said there was no fighting in the Chungju area. Chungju is another key road and rail town on the allied route of retreat. But Barnard said its airstrip was deserted except for two military policemen when he arrived.

Whether intentional or not, there was a striking similarity between the timetables of the first and second Communist invasions of the American-guided Republic of South Korea.

The North Korean Reds announced the first capture of Wonju on July 27 seven days before the fall of Seoul.

President Expected to Ask Support of Foreign Policies

Highway Span Work Moving

The 330-foot span over Chicken Creek along the partially constructed Pampa-Perryton Road is beginning to look like a bridge. Workmen, during the last weeks in December, completed pile driving and capping the substructure. Shortly after the turn of the year forms for the concrete decking began going up.

The forms, made of steel and plywood, were being completed over the weekend but were not quite finished.

Show Building Erection Due

Erection of the new Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders show building at Recreation Park will begin early Monday, according to Cliff Vincent, HBA president. The building will be completed in time for the HBA show and sale, Feb. 5 and 6. Vincent said.

The building arrived in Pampa Friday and was unloaded Saturday in preparation for the construction work. Foundations for the structure have been completed and a dirt floor has been laid and leveled by contractors.

Deadline Extended On McLean School

McLEAN — Bids on the construction of a new grade school building for the McLean Independent School District will be accepted until Jan. 17, instead of Jan. 10, as originally announced. The building is to be a one-story structure, which will include 14 classrooms and a cafeteria.

Howard Given But Four Days

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman is expected to sound a strong call for national support of his foreign policies in his State of the Union message to Congress Monday.

As a possible indication that the President is willing to meet his congressional critics part way in seeking unity, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee forecast that Congress will be consulted before any binding commitments are made to send further American troops to Europe.

Connally's prediction was made to reporters as Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed in a separate interview that the lawmakers limit in forthcoming appropriations bills, either the percentage or numbers of U. S. soldiers to be furnished for the North Atlantic Defense Forces.

Taft, who heads the Senate GOP Policy Committee, contended in the Senate Friday that President Truman has no authority to assign more troops to Europe without approval by Congress.

While the President said previously he did not need such approval, Connally said that as a practical matter he expects the European military aid program to be detailed to Congress as soon as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower completes a forthcoming survey.

After conferring with the president, Eisenhower left for Europe Saturday to make a preliminary survey of his task as allied commander-in-chief.

He left with Mr. Truman's assurance that he will have the "whole-hearted backing" of this country and other North Atlantic Pact nations.

Connally told reporters that he is certain Eisenhower's visit will do much to encourage the free nations of Western Europe toward rearming to build up their strength to resist invasion and aggression.

Then the Texas senator gave what amounted to further assurance to Taft and other Republican lawmakers who have been denouncing that Europe show its willingness to help arm itself.

"The general" Connally said, "will make clear in Western Europe that it cannot expect the aid of the United States."

Convict Identified In Mosser Search

WICHITA FALLS — Officers reported Saturday a short-curl haired Missouri ex-convict "definitely" had been with a missing Illinois family of five they believed was murdered.

Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas police bore down harder in their hunt for William Edward Cook, 22, five feet 4 1/2 inches tall, of Joplin, Mo.

The missing family is Carl Mosser, his wife, Thelma, 29, and their three children, Donald, Dean, Gary, Carl, 5, and Pamela, 3.

Martin Advocating 18-Year-Old Draft

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Basic military training for all 18-year-old youth and combat duty for many of them were advocated yesterday by Senator Martin (R-Pa.), only retired major general in Congress.

"The 18-year-old makes a grand combat soldier," Martin said, adding:

"There is no question that Congress must completely overhaul the present selective service act quickly."

Leaders in both the Senate and House announced that a public hearing would begin shortly on administration proposals for controls over manpower.

These include revisions of the draft act that would lower the induction age from 18 to 16, extend required services from 21 months to 27 or possibly 30 months, and cut down on deferments and exemptions.

Borger Votes To Slay Wet

BORGER — Hutchinson County voters told potential bootleggers Saturday they wanted to continue buying beer and whiskey legally by a special prohibition election that kept the county wet by a vote of 2,615 to 2,077.

The election climaxed two weeks of spirited campaigning carried on mostly through newspaper advertisements, posters and some radio talk.

The biggest surprise came yesterday when 58 percent of the eligible voters turned out to cast ballots to keep the county wet at least two more years. Public officials estimated that only a negligible number of ballots would be cast.

Falling snow kept many voters away from the polls during the morning, but the polls were kept busy during the afternoon hours and closed just before the 7 p.m. ballot box deadline.

The election came after a petition, signed by more than 800 eligible voters, was presented to the County Commissioners Court late last year.

Accident Victim Is Said Improved

Orville Palmer, Pampa, who was seriously injured in a collision with a automobile south of Borger Thursday morning has improved considerably, according to officials at North Plains Hospital in Borger.

With Palmer when he was involved in the collision with an Otton became truck, were three Pampa youths. He was the only person injured enough to require medical attention.

Dalhart Tries To Save Quail

DALHART, Texas, Jan. 7.—Panola County has been invaded while and here a group of residents were away and the vast tracts of land were left virtually wiped of quail. The club has offered $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons guilty of killing the quail. Kinard says the quail are particularly important because they always survive violent weather or food shortages which might wipe out the wild birds.

Netherlands Ship Is Overhauled

SINGAPORE — (AP) — One of the Royal Netherlands navy destroyers, the 1,750-ton Banckert, is getting a thorough overhauling here. The warship, which has been in service in Indonesian waters the last 18 months, is expected to have her refit completed soon. More than 100 Indonesian seamen have trained on the Banckert.

Brooke Hospital Opens 1951 With About 1,000 Wounded

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Brooke Army Hospital here started the new year with about a thousand American soldiers, sailor and marine casualties from the Korean war.

Brooke treated some 1,400 casualties from June when the conflict started, to the end of 1950. Some 400 have been returned to duty. Few have died here.

Brooke is a part of Brooke Army Medical Center, a colossal institution for healing, training and research. It has grown to overshadow old Fort Sam Houston since the first hospital unit was built in 1938.

Only those patients requiring 90 days or more of treatment are sent to Brooke. The less seriously injured are hospitalized in Japan, Lackland Air Force Base hospital here handles many Korean wounded, but only in a receivership capacity. Lackland acts as a resting point for casualties headed to eastern Army hospitals, and as a waiting to Brooke.

In mid-December, Houston Chronicle reporter E. L. Walls visited Brooke and saw 85 patients who had just arrived on the Mercy caravan which flies American casualties from Japan to Brooke.

"I talked with several walking miles through the corridors of the hospital to find them in this ward or that," Walls wrote. "Some had been here since the early days of the war. Others were hit after UN forces started surging northward. The newest arrivals shared the bitter retreat from the Manchurian border when the Chinese Reds swarmed across the Yalu River and stopped General MacArthur's end the war drive. "One thing the patients had in common — a stolid, matter-of-face acceptance of what had happened to them. Without a trace of heroics they told about their experiences. "Meeting the enemy in Korea is no figure of speech. He rises suddenly from the ground, opens fire at close range in some mountain defile; he is a con-torted Asiatic face around a screaming mouth in a banal charge, he strikes from behind in the stillness of the night," Wall quoted. Read The News Classified Ads.

America's Ten 'It's' Trounce Reducing Expert's Views

By SAUL PETT
 NEW YORK — (AP) — They howled from coast to coast. They protested, they denied, they loosed invective, they slashed with the broadsword and parried with the rapier.
 This was the collective reaction of the ladies chosen "The Ten Most Beautiful Women in America if They Would Only Lose Ten Pounds."
 Their sole target was Al Roon, body conditioner and reducing expert who took his life in his hands last week by selecting the "Ten Most Beautiful It's."
 And the girls came fighting back, led by Tallulah Bankhead, who, Roon said, has "too much around the rectus abdominis region (the waist)."
 "I really haven't got a minute, dahling," Miss Bankhead said, taking ten. "But I Never heard of this Roon person and furthermore he's the first man who ever said I should lose weight about my whatsis, and you can tell him for me, dahling, that such has been his utterly absurd opinions to himself, he might find himself losing a little weight around the ears, and besides."
 Lana Turner, for whom a general reduction was suggested, replied with icy brevity: "nothing is given so profusely as advice."
 Roon claims Jane Russell is four inches too big across the bust, or, as he called it, the pectoralis muscles, both major and minor.
 To which Miss Russell replied: "I don't know what picture Mr. Roon was looking at but in my last four films I weighed 14 pounds less than I did in either 'The Outlaw' or 'Paleface.'"
 To which her studio added: "Much has been said about her pectoralis muscles, but this is the first time we received a complaint."
 Denise Darcel disagreed with

Roon's contention that she is "10 pounds too sexy."
 "There is only one place I could lose 10 pounds and, if I did, I'd be flat and wouldn't be on Mr. Goon's list in the first place," (the incorrect pronunciation of Mr. Roon's name was Miss Darcel's.)
 Anne Jeffreys, star of "Kiss Me Kate," couldn't agree that her derriere needed reduction.
 "Mr. Roon," she said, "is looking at my bustle, not me. I wear one in the show because in one scene I get a violent spanking. I am spanked eight times a week. It's well pound-ed."
 Marguerite Piazza, opera star: "My weight varies but it's never 10 pounds more than it should be. Mr. Roon must be looking through a magnifying glass. I still wear a 12 dress — model size."
 Eloise McIlhonne, of television: "I agree about the 10 pounds but as usual with a man, he picked all the wrong places."
 Roon picked the thighs and calves. She didn't locate the critical areas.
 Roon said Eleanor Steber, opera star, could improve her figure and voice through intercostal breathing and exercise. Intercostal, he said, is through the chest.
 "I'm flattered," Miss Steber answered, "to be classed with such beautiful women. But what is intercostal breathing? Or did he mean inter-coastal?"
 In two cases where Roon had recommended a general trimming down, Frances Langford couldn't be reached for comment and Faye Emerson could but didn't. Miss Emerson suggested that other masculine opinions be sought.
 Skitch Henderson was asked. He said, "I couldn't agree with the man. Honestly, I couldn't."
 Henderson recently married Miss Emerson.
 Since Roon specializes in taking pounds off women, we also sought out a man who specializes in putting pounds on them. Said Niccolo de Quattrociocchi of the El Boraccho Restaurant: "The man must be out of his mind. Why that's the very reason those women are so famous—their extra weight is in the right places. Curves make a woman a woman."
 Well, that's it. The rest of you may fire when ready.

Nutria Keeps Lakes Clean

ATHENS, Tex. — (AP) — Cleaning out a lake or reservoir can be a tough job without a family of nutria.
 With nutria, it's easy. You just let the nutria chew away at the moss, lily pads and other plant growths. Pretty soon, presto, a clean lake, or city reservoir.
 Nutria are little animals. One authority says a nutria "has a head like a beaver, whiskers like a walrus, front feet like a monkey, body like a ground hog, hind feet like a duck, and a tail like a rat."
 But the main thing is the nutria's appetite. It just keeps eating.
 At least three East Texas cities have set up families of nutria in city reservoirs to keep them clean. Now Bill Richards of Athens has installed a family on his lake south of Athens.
 He started out with three. One, a female, disappeared, leaving a pair which settled down quickly to a humdrum life of bearing young ones and eating. Now he has seven.
 They built a modest little grass bungalow far enough out in the water to be protected from bank-walking varmints.
 Experts say it will take twelve nutria to keep Richards' small lake clean. He's waiting.

Rats Trouble South Plains

LUBBOCK — (AP) — There's one rat for every person in the South Plains, and that's 300,000 rats. Each rat eats about $2 worth of property a year.
 The figures are from E. G. Pope of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife office here. His office concerns itself chiefly with rodent and predatory animal control.
 Pope estimated rat damage in the South Plains during 1950 amounted to $500,000.
 "Rats have been on the increase during the past year and our control measures fell behind the last couple of months," Pope said.
 Large quantities of grain sorghum stored and stacked on farms will provide good diets for rats this winter, he added.

Sentences Given Two

Pleas of guilty on forgery charges before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich Friday afternoon brought a five-year suspended sentence for one man and a two-year stay in Huntsville State Penitentiary for another.
 Webb E. Miller was sent to the penitentiary for forging a $20 check on Garland Joston on Nov. 11, 1950.
 Miller entered a guilty plea shortly after noon Friday and was given the minimum sentence of two years.
 But Harry F. Webb, who pleaded guilty to forging a $25 check on J. C. McWilliams on Nov. 29, 1950, was given a five-year suspended sentence by the court.
 Webb pleaded guilty before the court shortly after 3 p. m. He was picked up Thursday in Amarillo and jailed for the night there until Gray County officers brought him back Friday morning.

Pampa Clothing on Slight Price Rise

By GEORGIA SMITH
 Spring clothes already have made their appearance in Pampa shop windows — and the lady-like look is luscious.
 Navy blue is the number one color and prices, compared to last year's spring clothes, are slightly higher. Woolens have taken a price leap, while pure Irish linen and shantungs have come down considerably.
 Lightweight gabardine suits have taken the spotlight during the first showings of the new fashions. Colors in these are mostly navy and neutral colors with violet coming up for an audition.
 A little more style has been added to the suits of 1951. Skirts are not necessarily straight and plain, although still good. Newest in design is the skirt with five or six gores in the back with a straight one-piece front. A softer, more feminine look is featured in the new suits.
 A new sleeve has been fashioned for the dressier suit. Very much like the late bell — seeve, these may be worn full length or folded to three-quarter length. Materials in the popular class are gabardines, shantungs, linens, organdy and the perennial cotton. A new herring-bone weave with a contrasting stripe has been added to the woolen fabrics for between seasons. This new material is used mostly in suit jackets with skirts the color of the stripe.

 Linen is no longer made up in strictly subtle colors. Until this year, pastel and neutral linens have held their own. Now, linens can be found in bright, new colors. Lilac and navy—even red—have found their way to the store.
 Organdies with taffeta underskirts are up in the sportswear department. Separate skirts and blouses with separate underskirt and camisole in contrasting taffeta, which can also be worn separately.
 Generally speaking, the new look is a soft feminine one with cunning little frills. Lengths are staying "just right" — not too long and certainly not too short.
 The larkspur is regarded as the flower for July and the ruby as the jewel for that month.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Pittsburgh Puzzle Judged by Jacoby

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"We have to put you on the spot," writes a Pittsburgh correspondent, "but somebody has to decide this sort of point, and you're elected. The East and West players in this hand are both good players and have been good friends for years, but they're a bit cool right now. Maybe you can straighten them out."

West led the seven of clubs, and East won the king. East then returned the three of clubs.

Opening lead—♠7

South played the queen and West won with the ace. West laid down the jack of clubs, expecting his partner to drop the ten—but East played low.

The result was that East had to win the fourth round of clubs with the ten. He returned the jack of hearts, but South took the ace of hearts at once and ran nine tricks before anybody could say Jack Robinson.

"You can imagine what followed. West said his play of the jack of clubs was a command to drop the ten. East said it meant that West wanted his partner to win the fourth club so as to lead a heart through.

"Who is right in this case?"

When West led the seven of clubs, East should have seen that South dropped the eight on the first trick. There was a good chance that the opening leader had the missing deuce—in which case he had led from a five-card suit. The play to the second and third tricks all led towards the same conclusion. Hence East could have and should have dropped the ten of clubs in the expectation that his partner could set the contract with five club tricks.

When East returned the three of clubs, West knew that this was either a fourth-best club or East's highest club. If it were East's highest club, then South had started with Q-10-8-4 and had played the eight on the first trick and the queen on the second trick. This is so absurd that West could be sure that his partner had the missing ten and four of clubs.

Hence West could have led the nine of clubs at the third trick to make sure that the suit did not block no matter what his partner did. East would have let the nine of clubs hold, whereupon West would lay down the jack of clubs and then cash the last club.

Technically, East was wrong. He could safely drop the ten of clubs. If West wanted his partner to win the fourth round of clubs, for some reason, he could lead the deuce of clubs at the fourth trick. In other words, the play of the ten would give West freedom of action; the play of the small club gave West no choice at all.

However, if West is a much better player than East, he should take all the blame. An expert should always keep his partner out of trouble when that

Merchant Registers Protest by Doorbell

TEL AVIV — (AP) — The postman always rings twice, but a rebellious kiosk owner here did it for hours on end. Joseph Ben-Tel Aviv was torn down into, 63 whose soft drink kiosk three times by policemen because he had no permit and was not likely to get one, rebuilt his shop each time and even slept in it at night.

Finally, to express his protest, he started an interrupted door bell concert at the town head's house. The police arrested him. He was charged with "maliciously annoying" another person, but was released when the main witness, Mrs Israel Rokach, the mayor's wife did not appear in court.

German Engineers Wary of the Future

FRANKFURT — (AP) — German engineering brains that built the Siegfried Line and the Atlantic Wall wonder what Allied rearmament may ask them to do in 1951. A survey of West German construction firms showed that many leading engineers, who served in "Organization Todt" in the last war, are again active.

Fritz Todt, who launched Hitler's vast military building program, is dead. And his successor, Albert Speer, is serving a 20-year international sentence as a war criminal. But most of the technical personnel that turned their blue prints into bristling fortresses, bomb-proof submarine pens, and impregnable under-

Weather Expert Says World Entering 50-Year Cold Cycle

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, a meteorologist of the Babson Institute of Business Administration.

The present weather changes fit war predictions based on weather which Dr. Wheeler, then a psychology professor at Kansas University, made seven years ago.

He had then charted 17,000 battles in world history, to find that world wars take place in warm periods. And he pointed out that both world wars and two came in a warm period. In cold periods, like the one now starting, he found that though wars continued, they were smaller, usually civil conflicts.

Nations in the cold times turned to reconstruction. Love of liberty grew stronger. He said Christ lived in one of the cold periods.

To date, the weather war predictions have fitted current history. Wheeler's present predictions are concerned solely with the warm cycle, which he says is just ending, and the cold just ahead.

His studies show two important cycles, one of a hundred years between two warm peaks, the other a thousand years. We are now entering the cold half of a hundred-year cycle, Wheeler says.

The cooling signs, he says, began about ten years ago. Arctic explorer Donald MacMillan returned from the North last summer with a report that in years had there been so much ice. In recent years, winters have become sporadically much more severe.

The erratic weather last fall is explained, under his studies, as characteristic of periods when climate is shifting from warm to colder.

Wheeler says weather experts have been ignoring the ups and downs of the hundred-year cycle, and paying attention only to the thousand-year period. The last previous thousand-year warm peak was about 1000 AD. The next is due some time after 2000.

This thousand year shift, now on the warming side, has caused frost lines to advance northward in Finland, Norway, Alaska, Russia, Siberia and Canada. In Greenland, farms and cemeteries buried under ice and snow for 600 years, are now uncovered. Glaciers have been receding all over the world. Warm water fish have been migrating northward for several decades. Southwest winds have been increasing.

PAMPA NEWS SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1951 PAGE 3

Because of these signs, Wheeler says, the public has been told that world climate is becoming warmer. They have not been warned about the coming drop.

"There is not the slightest chance," he says, "of the world getting steadily warmer, nor is there the slightest chance that we will escape a long, severe cold period that is on the way now."

It is practically certain that within the next few hundred years it will get so cold at times that again several feet of snow will fall in Rome; rivers will freeze solid; ice will form on the Nile in the coldest winters; and the Baltic Sea will freeze over between Germany and Sweden.

The education of boys and girls together in the same classes is a comparatively recent practice.

Keep Your Eye On KPND

By PHIL SOLBERG

You know there is one fellow on our staff I would sure like all of you to meet, and he comes from the land of the laughing Swedes and the contented Norwegians. That fellow is Rudy Marti, your late evening disc jockey. Baptized Rudolph Otto Bendict Marti along with a few other pet names we call him just plain Rudy. He was born December 14, 1928 in New Ulm, Minn. He comes to KPND directly from the American Institute of the Air of which he is a graduate, way up there in Minneapolis.

Because he comes from Minneapolis, it is probably the reason for the many Scandinavian melodies slipping into the broadcast day on 1340 on your dial. Although Rudy is mostly of German descent, he favors these tunes of Scandinavian artists who record the same in Minnesota. But the main topic of discussion is of course his main show on KPND called Variety Time. This show is patterned after the popular jazz tunes of old time waltzes.

Actually though, you out there, the listener, are responsible for the type of music that comes out during that hour and half spurt, which starts at 10:30 every night seven days a week. And to hear the tune of your choice, just go to the phone any time of the day and call 1100 and say "I would sure like to hear this, or that" — and you can be sure that Rudy will play what you ask for. That includes all of you out there, not necessarily Pampa, but wherever you pick Variety Time up on 1340 on your radio dial.

KPND. Oh yes, I had better not forget, mail in your cards with your name and telephone number so you will be eligible for the prize winning telephone call. Just mail them to Staff Breakfast in care of KPND.

I'm sure that all of you know Uncle Coy, and listen to him on his three programs daily. But if you could watch some of things Uncle Coy has to do when bringing his shows to you it would keep you in stitches. I'm speaking of one instance in particular when he had a group of Brownies up to his program as guests one afternoon. You know the Brownies are the little Girl Scouts. Well, Uncle Coy had prepared them a little, so that each one would be able to take part in his reading of the funny papers. They all seemed very anxious and willing to go, but when it came to the actual test and the little part they were to read on the air it seemed that there were a lot of tongue-tied little girls, and it was like pulling teeth to get them to open their mouths.

Uncle Coy, being an old timer on the air, just broke the tension by acting just as though he wasn't on the air and engaged them in a friendly conversation like he did they ever want to talk then and it all went over the air. By the way, Uncle Coy records all his shows but his morning one so he is able to enjoy a full evening at home with his family.

An interesting note I thought was extremely funny and I will pass on to you as one evening Uncle Coy and Lullaby Lane was on the air (transcribed a couple hours before). Who should walk into the drug store himself but Uncle Coy. He strolled over to a group of young girls who were commenting on the show. He listened and then turned to stroll off when one of the girls noticed him and notified the rest of the troupe. Talk about a bunch of astonished ladies! I bet they are still wondering what happened. Well, that's radio for you, and that's all for this week. Don't forget to turn your eye to this column next week and we will introduce you to more of the staff and programs coming to you under the "better listening policy" now in effect at KPND, 1340 on your dial.

Light Tanks Due Off Assembly Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new series of American light tanks is due to start rolling off production lines early this spring. Army Undersecretary Archibald Alexander said last night the new model is designed to kill an enemy medium. He added that development of a new U.S. medium tank is well underway and that a new heavy tank is planned.

Alexander's statement during a radio broadcast followed by only a few hours a House armed services committee's report to Congress that the nation's tank program was "bogged down in lethargy" shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war.

Here is one program I would like to tell all day about, and that is Staff Breakfast, heard over KPND daily at 9:30 in the morning. The general outline of the program is just an old fashioned chat over the breakfast table at Johnson's Cafe. On that program you have heard your postmaster, your mayor, chief of police and just about every person in the civic light. During these programs a person is able to pick up a full scale civic education if he listens every day.

This coming week has in store for you something just a little bit new. Instead of the fire chief, there will be just one of the regular fire laddies; instead of the postmaster, there will be just the plain postman. Then such guests as long distance telephone operator and a representative from Western Union. I can guarantee a week full of those people behind the scenes that keep the wheels rolling. They will have some of their interesting experiences to tell as well as some of their gripes. Also some of their amusing experiences.

All in all it will prove to be a week jammed-packed with extra good listening. Remember, that's 9:30 every morning over

Harvesters Regain Childress Crown

Pampans Beat Cats In Thriller, 42-37

The Pampa Harvesters regained the throne of the Childress Invitational Basketball Tournament last night by downing the Childress Bobcats in the championship battle, 42-37. The Harvesters won the crown in 1949 but lost it last season in the semi-finals to Vernon.

The Harvesters had their hands full in the Bobcats, and not until the final minutes was the outcome settled. The game was tied three different times.

Children's biggest lead came early in the second quarter when the Cats led, 15-11. But two field goals by Tommy Smith and one each by Marvin Bond and James Claunch put Pampa ahead at halftime.

Five minutes deep in the second half the game was knotted at 25-all. But Bond ripped the nets and put Pampa into a lead that the Green and Gold never relinquished.

The Bobcats came out with a sone defense and didn't break out of it until late in the game, too late to stop the sharp shooting cagers of Coach Cliff McNeely.

The consolation championship went to the club the Harvesters downed the first day, Wichita Falls. The Coyotes rolled past Hollis, Oklahoma, by a score of 36-25.

The Harvesters placed two men on the all-tournament team. They were 6-5 center Duane Jeter and forward Buzz Tarpley, who earlier this week won the Fighting Heart award for his football ability and spirit.

Bond led the Harvesters scoring attack in the final game of the tourney, hitting for 13 points. Claunch was right behind him with 12. The final game ended a rough 36 hours for the McNeelymen, who had to play through four games in that length of time to gain the crown.

Harvesters Skin Coyotes, 35-28 In Cage Contest

The Harvesters stopped the Wichita Falls Coyotes, 35-28, in the opening round of the Childress cage tourney Friday afternoon to annex their eleventh win this year.

Coach Cliff McNeely's cagers hit a small percentage of their shots from the floor, but the elongated Coyotes couldn't find the basket either.

Wichita Falls enjoyed its only lead of the evening when Dave Fleming hooped in two points in the first 15 seconds of the ball game.

Buzz Tarpley and Tommy Smith knotted the game at 2-2 at the free throw line, and James Claunch drove down the middle for a fielder to put the Pampa quintet out in front.

Pampa built its lead to 8-2 at the quarter mark, and ran it to 10-2 before Fleming added a free loss for the Coyotes.

Tommy Smith drove in for a set up, but Richard Stone pushed in three straight field goals to pull the Coyotes up to 9-12 with six minutes gone in the second quarter.

SPECK SPECULATES

Coach Dutch Meyer said he didn't blame District I-A coaches for not coming to the Harvesters banquet Thursday evening in the high school cafeteria.

"You boys caused two coaches to be fired and the third one is hanging on the ropes," Meyer told the Pampa gridders.

The Dutchman wanted to know why the Quarterback Club and the CC Sports Committee had to do up and invite Randy Clay and Head Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State.

"After all the misery Kimbrough and Clay dealt me in the past," Meyer laughed. "You guys had to go and invite them to the banquet!"

The TCU mentor also said that he'd probably be on hand when Kyle Rote graduates at SMU.

"I'm sure glad to see him finish his grid career at SMU. He caused us plenty of trouble," Meyer quipped.

GOLF NOTES — Randy Clay toured the country club course last Saturday. The New York Giant grid ace shot at 83.

Russell Holloway plucked in six golf balls in the Amarillo tournament last Sunday. It happened on number 8 hole. Holloway said the ducks kept out of 'em.

The lake was frozen at country club last week. Shorty Haskell bounced one off the ice on number seven out of the green.

Shorty said it was the first time he has played the hole right since he started playing golf five years ago.

CAGE NOTES — The Childress Basketball tournament was the roughest I've ever seen.

Officials led the boys fight it out on the court, and a football game is tame compared to the rough contests during Friday's play.

Children's biggest lead came early in the second quarter when the Cats led, 15-11. But two field goals by Tommy Smith and one each by Marvin Bond and James Claunch put Pampa ahead at halftime.

Top TD Club Makes Awards

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Touchdown Club of Washington last night gave its 1950 awards to some of the country's top athletes at a gala dinner.

Vice President Alben Barkley, Cabinet members, Supreme Court Justices and other government notables along with top sports authorities were among the guests invited to the $15-a-plate black tie affair at a leading hotel.

Prominent men took part in presenting the awards which went to college football players, a college coach, a pro player and a pro coach.

For baseball, it was little Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, all alone as the outstanding back of the year.

To Vito (Babe) Parrilli, Kentucky quarterback, went the Walter Camp memorial trophy as the outstanding back of the year.

The Knute Rockne memorial trophy for being an outstanding lineman went to Lewis (Bud) McFadin of Texas.

Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma University walked off with the outstanding coaching job.

Shorty said it was the first time he has played the hole right since he started playing golf five years ago.

Minors Ask Vote in Naming Of Baseball Commissioner

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Texas League board of directors at their annual winter meeting here Saturday passed a resolution asking that the minor leagues be given a voice in the naming of the commissioner of baseball.

The resolution, which received the unanimous approval of the eight club presidents, called for the minor leagues to be given one vote for each active league classification.

This would allow the minors six votes to the 16 for the major leagues.

The minors now have no voice in naming a commissioner. They are forced to go along with the choice of the 16 major league clubs.

Taking an optimistic outlook on the 1951 season, club officials predicted that over two million fans will watch Texas League baseball.

The San Antonio Missions were the most optimistic. Charlie Witt estimated the Padres will draw 410,000 as the result of the new interest and confidence in the Missions.

League directors all expressed tribute to J. Walter Morris, veteran Texas baseball man, who this year completes 50 years in organized baseball.

The league unanimously approved a five year contract to A. G. Spaulding Co. for the official Texas League baseball.

The league has been using the Spaulding (National League) ball since 1888.

All eight clubs will permit broadcasting of games, but only Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston have definite plans for telecasting.

Telecasting will be done on a limited basis. At the suggestion of Charlie DeWitt, vice president of the St. Louis Browns and San Antonio Missions, the Texas League in cooperation with the Southern Association will attempt to build up into a more popular attraction the Dixie Series which is held each fall between the winners of the Shaugnessy Playoffs of the two leagues.

The Texas League also passed a resolution giving radio stations broadcast rights during the regular season in cities not participating in the Dixie Series.

Free radio rights for the series, subject to the approval of the Southern Association.

Bradley Extends Winning Streak

NEW YORK — (AP) — Remember the old gag about never betting against Notre Dame, Joe Louis or the New York Yankees? It's beginning to look as though the Bradley University basketball team has replaced Notre Dame and Louisiana.

The Peoria (Ill.) Braves ran their season's undefeated skip to 14 games without defeat last night in the process of whipping the University of Detroit, 69-65.

Bradley, voted the top team in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll, now has won 46 of 51 games in the last three years.

Irish Whip Tigers In Two Thrillers

McLEAN — (Special) — The McLean Tigers dropped two games to the Shamrock Irishmen here Friday night, but the McLean girls salvaged one tilt.

The girls, led by Justina Bailey who dumped in 24 points, downed the Shamrock Lassies, 48-22.

In the boys A game the Irishmen took an overtime thriller for a 40-36 score. The clubs were tied at halftime, 23-all and 35-all at the end of regulation time.

Dunlop led the Tigers scoring with 12 points.

The boys B game saw the Shamrock club come from a 5-13 halftime deficit to take an 18-16 win. John Taylor was high-point for the losers with 9.

Six Women Golfers To Play in Europe

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Six of America's top women golfers will make a trip to Europe this summer as a highlight of their 1951 campaign.

Fred Corcoran, tournament chairman of the Women's Professional Golfers Association, revealed the plan today as the girls began their first tournament of the year — the Ponte Vedra Club Open.

Selection of the women to make up the American team to visit England and France will be determined in the second annual 14-hole Weathervane Cross-Country Tournament this spring.

Corcoran also revealed that the Weathervane event will be played in Texas (site to be determined) April 14-15, in California (site to be determined) May 5-6, in Indianapolis May 19-20 and New York City May 26-27.

Killer Kyle Rote Misses All Conversions for North Team

MOBILE, Ala. — (AP) — Bucky Curtis, Vanderbilt's rangy end, staged a sensational pass receiving performance to lead Steve Owen's South forces to a 19-18 win over the favored North in the second annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday.

The six foot, three inch down passes from Tulane's Joe Ernst and Alabama's Ed Salem, to set up the third score with another long pass.

The North staged an aerial exhibition of its own featuring Nebraska's Fran Nagle and UCLA's end Bob Wilkinson and wound up on the South's one yard line as the game ended.

The North team blew a beautiful scoring opportunity in the third quarter that would have changed the result.

SMU's Kyle Rote slipped and fell on fourth down after his team had driven 72 yards to the South one-yard line.

A disappointing crowd of 13,232 turned out for the contest, played in mild weather under cloudy skies. Players share in the gate receipts, but the amount of the distribution wasn't immediately announced.

The South piled all its scoring in a furious second quarter, when it came from behind, and surged in front to stay. Then the North, which had relied on a bruising ground game in the first half, took to the air in the final quarter in a desperate effort to win.

Curtis' first touchdown catch was a 10-yard flat pass from Ernst. His second touchdown came on a 16 yard toss from Salem, after a 64-yard heave from the Alabama all-America passing ace put the ball in position for the score.

Curtis got a valuable assist from Missouri's Ed Stephenson, the second touchdown catch. Stephenson arm deflected the ball to the Vandy star, who was sitting on the turf when the ball landed in his lap.

Actually, a conversion by Kautsky's all-American, Bob Galt provided the victory margin. It came after the South's third touchdown, and was the only extra point of the game.

Georgia's Billy Mixon scored the South's third touchdown at the start of the second quarter on a four-yard sweep around end.

Oklahoma's powerhouse, Leon Heath, and Kyle Rote of SMU counted two of the North's scores to wind up long ground drives. A 15-yard toss from Nagle to the rangy Wilkinson brought Bob McMillin's North forces their third score.

Rote missed all three tries at conversions. With its big line outchasing the South, the North stepped out in front in the first five minutes of play, with Heath bulging over from the eight yard line to score.

Max Clark, Houston's speedy halfback, set up the scoring opportunity by intercepting Ernst's pass on the South 35 yard line. Nagle fired two passes to Wilkinson and SMU's John Champion for 23 yards, setting the stage for Heath's scoring plunge.

Toward the end of the first quarter Mixon and Mississippi's John Duttley alternated to run the ball to midfield, setting the stage for the South's Ernst-Curtis passing combination.

Two tosses of 13 and 22 yards carried the South to the North's five-yard line at the end of the first quarter. Mixon carried over in two plays to knot the count at 6-6.

With the time ticking away and the South clinging to a narrow 19-18 lead, the North cut loose with an overhead offensive from its own 27 yard line.

A pass from Nagle to Texas' Ben Proctor carried to the North 42 yard line. Rote fired a 22 yard toss to Arkansas' Buddy Rogers, and Nagle tossed to Rote on the South 13. Heath carried to the 11 yard line and fumbled. With Tennessee's Bud Sherrod recovering for the South.

In the final minute, Nagle fired three passes to Wilkinson, putting the North on the South one yard line as the game ended.

Babe Takes Big Lead in Florida

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Babe Zaharias practically nailed down another top golf prize Saturday when she pulled away from the field in the second round of the $3,000 Ponte Vedra Club Open.

The Babe shot a steady 38-36-74 for a 36-hole total of 149.

Her one-over-par round put her four strokes ahead of 17-year-old Marlene Bauer. They tied with 75 in Friday's opening 18 holes but the younger of the two Bauer sisters from Midland, had putting trouble yesterday and used 78 strokes over the par 57-36 Coconade course.

Patty Berg of Minneapolis went around the 6,715-yard layout in 38-38-76 and moved within a stroke of Marlene at 154.

Young Marlene was also right down the middle with her woods and irons but her putts were just coming close. She never made good on a long one.

Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., who has been hampered by blistered hands, said they were some better and her round of 77 indicated an improvement. She stood fourth at 156 and Betsy Jameson of San Antonio was next with 157.

District Golden Glove Meet Set for Pampa, Jan. 15-17

Plans were completed Friday for the 1951 District Golden Glove Tournament to be held in Pampa, Jan. 15-17, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the junior high school gym. The Boys Club swingers meet mittmen from Lefors and Shamrock in a triangular bout at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Lefors high school gym. Doctors appointed for the district meet here are Dr. F. J. Vendell, Dr. R. W. Laycock and Dr. M. H. Wyatt. J. C. Oakley and Doug Graham will referee the three-day tournament, and Floyd Watson will be time-keeper. T. J. Famed Gaels of St. Marys to Drop Football for Duration

MORAGA, Calif. — (AP) — A deluge of red ink washed St. Mary's famed Gaels from the national gridiron and coursed an angry warning today through the collegiate sports world. The first major football power to abandon intercollegiate competition for the duration of the national emergency, St. Mary's decision came as a stunning jolt to followers of the Catholic school. For an unbroken period of 43 years, on football fields from the Pacific Coast to the Polo Grounds in New York, the Gael teams have fought it out with the best of them. Not even during World War II did they give up the game. But now, confronted with a sports deficit for 1950 which some say may run as high as $150,000, the St. Mary's board of trustees "has with some reluctance reached the decision that intercollegiate football and baseball must be discontinued. Only basketball will be played until things straighten out. With many colleges concerned over declining gate receipts, television and an impending war economy which may slash deep into manpower, St. Mary's thus followed the course earlier by several smaller schools. Hartwick College in upstate New York dropped football indefinitely last fall after an indefinite season. Trustees said they lacked manpower and money to "finance the football program properly."

Cotton Bowl to Stay in 'D'

DALLAS — (AP) — The man who originated the Cotton Bowl football game 15 years ago says it will be played no other place but Dallas. J. Curtis Sanford, now a director of the game, Friday night made this comment after a published report that House of no seeking the game — at least on alternate years. "I would say," he declared, "that there is absolutely no chance of it being moved from Dallas." Jere R. Hayes, sports editor of the Dallas Times Herald, wrote in his column that Dallas' No. 1 sports attraction was in jeopardy. He said Houston businessmen had organized to secure the game and they were receiving cooperation from Houston city officials. Hayes reported the businessmen were ready to increase Rice's new stadium to 100,000 seating capacity if necessary to back up their bid. (The Houston Post reported Friday night that it knew of no such move to move the game to Houston.) Sanford said the Southwest Conference — which controls the game — is very well satisfied with arrangements here. He pointed out that he originally copyrighted the name "Cotton Bowl" and the copyright is still controlled by people in Dallas. The Cotton Bowl stadium at Fair Park has been enlarged and remodeled until it now seats more than 75,000 persons.

Talboom Explains Diaper Play to Killer Kyle Rote

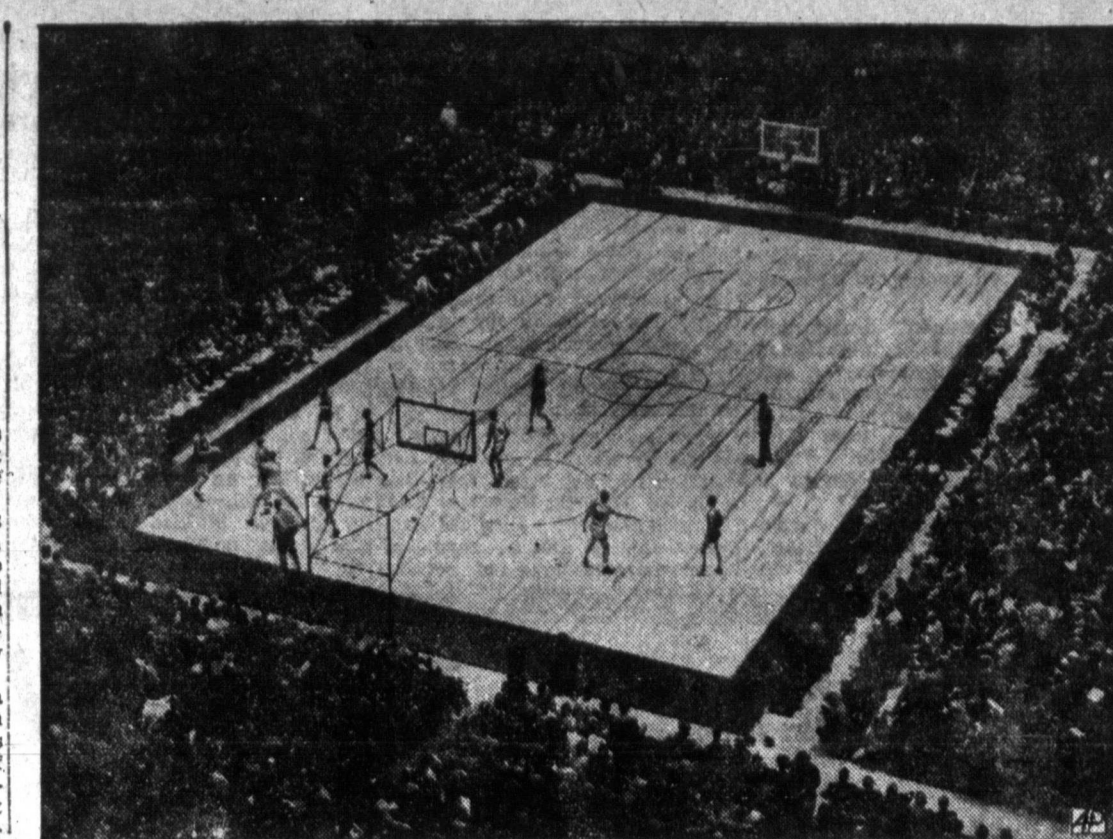

MOBILE, Ala. — (AP) — SMU's Kyle Rote stepped out of a huddle today with senior teammate Eddie Talboom of Wyoming. "You know," said Rote, "I had that play figured out wrong all the time. I figured it would shape up something like the T formation." "No," said instructor Talboom. "The T went out long time ago. The newest thing is more like the old box play. It's much easier and more comfortable." "I guess I never will get the hang of it," Rote commented, clutching a hotel guest towel they were practicing with. Rote, a brand new father, was taking his first diapering lesson from Talboom.

Many Problems Confront NCAA

NEW YORK — (AP) — With the government talking about an armed service force of three and a half million, the nation's colleges have a right to wonder about how this mobilization is going to affect athletics. The draft call for March is 80,000. An increasing call to arms can be expected as the year progresses, leaving the status of next fall's football very much up in the air. This is one of the major problems to be discussed by athletic leaders at the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Dallas next weekend. The meeting is Jan. 11-13. The Southwest Conference has jumped the gun and restored the wartime eligibility rule. This protects the eligibility of a player at a certain institution even though military service may send him to another college. The Southwest group didn't do anything about making freshmen eligible to play in World War II. The directors decided present conditions didn't demand it and, besides, this was something the NCAA nabobs should work out together. Wartime eligibility and freshman play are scheduled to get a thorough airing at the general meeting of the NCAA Jan. 13. Meanwhile, military circles in Washington say they anticipate no drastic change in the policy of the draft, which allows college students to complete their regular courses and reserve officers to finish out their current semester. Opinion in the nation's capital is that the policy will depend largely on how many men are inducted under present machinery. Besides this and such major issues as the parity code and live television, the athletic chiefs bump against some other vexing matters. Certain for renewal is a discussion on present-day "high

Great All-American Guard With Yale in 90s Moves to Texas

By WILBUR MARTIN It was a small item in the newspapers not many days ago, a story that said Pudge Hefelfinger was moving from Minneapolis to Blessing, Texas. Blessing is a tiny town in Matagorda, on the Coastal Plain of Texas. When Hefelfinger takes up residence, the town's going to have quite a citizen. "The greatest guard in football" is only one of the milder descriptions of this huge fellow, now 85. He was a terror at Yale, in 1889 and 1890, and he made football news for quite a few years afterward. Pudge, of Hefelfinger of Yale, as he is best known, is the only football player you'll find on everybody's "All-Time All-American" list. Some football record books list him as "P. W. Hefelfinger, Yale, 1888, 1889, 1890," and others as "W. W. Hefelfinger, Yale, 1889, 1890, 1891." His name is William. Hefelfinger's strength is legend and some of the stories they tell about him are hard to believe. One author's favorite is the time Pudge went back to Yale, put on a uniform, lined up with the scrubs and promptly tore the varsity line apart. He was 60. He was honored on one writer's "All-Time" team for "his feats at Yale and elsewhere after 60." "No matter how old a man gets, he ought to be in shape to play one football game a week," Hefelfinger is quoted as saying in the same story that announced his impending move to Texas. Well, according to various sportswriters, Hefelfinger played a good deal in "one football game a week" for years after he left his imprint at Yale. "A giant of a man who would have been equally as great today as he was in that era before the turn of the century," wrote one well-known sportswriter of Hefelfinger. That's quite a tribute to a man who played his football before the dippy-doodle was added. But Hefelfinger is quite a man. Ask anybody from Yale.

Their last game was played Dec. 19, with Canadian when the A-string lost, 36-12, and the B-string lost, 34-11. Carolyn Evans was high scorer for White Deer with four points and Tysene Cox was high pointer for Canadian with seventeen points. For the B-string, Guyda Baten was high scorer for the Does with four points and Hunter scored twelve points for Canadian. The Does' basketball schedule for the rest of the season is: Jan. 12, Claude, Here; Jan. 16, Groom, There; Jan. 23, Canadian, Here; Jan. 26, Panhandle, There; Jan. 30, Claude, There; Feb. 2, Groom, Here; Feb. 6, Panhandle, Here; Feb. 9-10, District playoff, Here; Feb. 16, Canyon, There.

Carver Quintets Roll Past Four Cage Opponents

Pampa's Carver High School cagers measured four cage opponents Thursday and Friday nights on the junior high gym hardwoods. Carver's "A" and "B" team cagers tripped Shamrock's Negro High School twice in games played Thursday night, 44-11 and tipped Paducah's lassies, 11-3, and the boys routed the "A" team, 41-17, Friday night. Roger Roland hooped 16 points in the "A" game against Shamrock for high point honors. Carver's James E. Morris scored 11 points in the "B" game. Billy Joe Thomas led the Carver five past Paducah, scoring 12 points. Athly Rowland of Carver hit for six points in the girls' game. Carver's next cage date is Friday night with the tough Booker T. Washington High School basketballers from Borger. Borger is the only team to check Carver this season.

Ike Proves He Hasn't Slipped

NEW YORK — (AP) — How much has Ike William's slipped? How much fighter is Jose Gatica? The answer both times is "not much." It took only 2:06 of the first round to solve both riddles Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Williams, sharp and trim, chopped down the swarming little Argentine with ease, knocking him to the canvas three times in a non-little bout. Gatica's dreams of becoming the first South American to win a world title exploded before he ever got a shot at the crown. Four left-hooks and a jarring right did the trick. Now he's ready to return to Argentina.

Rod & Gun by ED FOSS

The long awaited moisture finally arrived this week. The only trouble was that it came too late and too little. The quail hunting was improved considerably, but the farmers found little consolation in the sprinkling of moisture. The hunters I talked to who went out the day following the snow did exceptionally well, in comparison to the part of the season which is past. Birds were easily found, and the dogs worked 100 percent better. One hunter, who was convinced his dog wasn't worth the powder to blow him up, discovered he owned a bird dog after all. Ray Pollard tells me he went out and filled up. He and his party tracked some birds as far as a quarter of a mile through the snow before they flushed. I mean they tracked the singles after the covey had broken. This explains where the birds have been disappearing to. The season in Oklahoma closed on January 1st. A good many hunters from this area hunted in Oklahoma this year. Most of them found more birds over than they did in the Panhandle. It seems, also, that there isn't as much posted land there as here. I was asked this week as to the advisability of eating cotton-tails. As far as I'm concerned, you have to get up pretty early in the morning to beat a well prepared meat of these rabbits. The thing most sportsmen are afraid of is tularemia. This disease has caused a lot of hunters to forget about eating rabbits. In the last few years this rabbit fever, as it is known, has steadily declined. However, there is still enough of it around to make it wise to observe certain precautions. The disease is not transmitted through the eating of the infected game. It is contracted by skinning an infected animal and having some of the poison enter your bloodstream through an open cut or abrasion on your hands. The best precaution is to wear rubber gloves when you skin the rabbit out. Unless I have some open skin breaks on my hands, I don't bother with the gloves. Of course you may read of my having contracted the fever some day. An infected rabbit or squirrel is easy to recognize. There will be blisters or sacs of a watery pus between the skin and the meat of the animal. The liver will also be spotted. Don't let this easily prevented disease stop you from enjoying the cottontail. There are numerous ways to prepare rabbit, all of them excellent. I like mine chicken fried, baked in a rabbit pie, barbecued, or any one of several other ways. One of my favorites is this old fashioned Gypsy rabbit dinner, as explained in the book "Cooking Wild Game" by F. G. Ashbrook and Edna N. Sater. Skin, clean, and cut in serving.

Sift together 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, and 1 pinch salt; then add alternately 1 whole fresh egg beaten until light and enough cold milk to make a stiff batter. Drop by small tablespoons atop the rabbit ragout and let rise. Then cover and cook for 15 minutes. There you have it... rabbit fit for a banquet. Talk about good eating, you'll never believe how delicious a lowly rabbit can be until you try small potato balls. Drop me a card about your last trip, and we'll talk about it. See you all next week.

Doaker Not Against Bo

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The all-pro rookie of the Detroit Lions, Doak Walker, said he had "no reason for complaint" against former Coach Bo McMillin of Detroit. The former Southern Methodist three-time all-American back here for the pro bowl game Jan. 14, explained, "McMillin had a pretty good year and so did I." He said he would be happy to play under Buddy Parker, who recently replaced McMillin as Lion coach.

Texas' Industry Already Mobilized

By JOHN KAY ADAMS

Corsair. Some of the Corsairs being used in infantry support in Korea were built in Dallas. But most were made in Stamford, Conn., before the factory moved to Texas.

One of the most robust war babies in the North Texas aircraft industry is Texas Engineering and Manufacturing Co. TEMCO can hardly remember the last all-out war. It's only five years old.

Yet the firm won an Air Force contract to convert 200 F-51 Mustang fighters for Korean continental bombers to carry atomic bombs. Just how far the work has gone is a military secret.

TEMCO began last year with building high speed Cutless fighters to help the Navy defend our sky frontier.

Major sections of Lockheed's P2V-7 Navy patrol bombers. Boeing B-47 jet bombers will get tail sections from TEMCO this year.

A contract now underway calls for conversion of Air Force four-engine C-54 transports to flying hospitals. TEMCO adopted Luscombe Aircraft in 1950 and put that plant to work subcontracting doors and elevators for B-36's.

In 1950 the state moved closer to its goal of a large iron and steel industry based on East Texas ore. By purchasing additional plants from the War Assets Administration, the Sheffield Steel Corp. on the Houston ship channel has become a completely integrated steel operation. Its hearth furnaces and mills melt and roll Gulf Coast scrap.

East Texas ore and central Texas limestone into finished steel. The O. Smith Corp. and Sheffield put their new welded steel pipe plant into full production last year.

Lone Star Steel also has a 1950 model plant at Daingerfield. The $50,000,000 factory turns out increased its working force by about one-third last year. Eight thousand persons were hired to complete a new rolling mill plant. The working force now is approximately 25,000.

Consolidated Western, a subsidiary of U.S. Steel, has converted the 61-acre Orange shipyard to a steel fabricating unit. In World War II the shipyard turned out 37 heavy destroyers, 102 destroyer escorts and 106 infantry landing craft.

Consolidated Western bought the yard from the War Assets Administration a little more than one year ago. Steel plate, pipe and other products are fabricated in the expanded yard.

Two other U.S. Steel subsidiaries have new factories ready to produce this year. In Garland, the Oil Well Supply Co. will modify oil field equipment to southwestern customer specifications. The U.S. Steel Products Co. plant, nearing completion in Port Arthur, replaces an installation that burned in 1945. It will fabricate oil drums and steel containers for the chemical industry.

Steel is growing up to help its big Texas brothers — oil and chemical processing. These

Other influences are drawing consumer goods factories to Texas. General Manager W. C. Saffarans of the North Texas division of the Texas Manufacturers Assn. credits a favorable state tax structure and good labor relations.

Among prominent immigrants last year was the Eastman Kodak Co. The firm moved into a Dallas plant. Tennessee Eastman now occupies a large plant in Longview. Saffarans says Eastman officials tell him they "have just started to move to Texas."

Mobilization will make contracts for shell casings, unit forms, tents and a thousand other items available to smaller Texas firms. For this reason, Saffarans says the T-M-A, for the first time, is going into the business of trying to get business for its members. A plan is underway to send a representative to Washington. He will help smaller Texas manufacturers arrange government contracts.

A prominent peacetime producer now retooling for military sub-contracting is the Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo. The firm usually makes refinery equipment and pipe.

Garment manufacturers are looking forward to clothing contracts such as those they had in World War II. However, Cecil Higginbotham of Higginbotham-Bailey Co. of Dallas, says military contracts have not yet dis-

Moonshiners at Work Throughout Singapore

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Moonshiners are still at work in this British crown colony.

Refugee officers raided a big illicit distillery here. They seized five large stills, 742 gallons of fermented rice and 24 gallons of another liquor.

If all-out industrial mobilization comes, Texas garment manufacturers probably will join the effort. For an army operates not only on oil, guns, planes and explosives. It also needs what the Army quartermaster orders as "shorts, cotton, khaki."

Moslems to Meet At Asia Conference

KARACHI, Pakistan — (AP) — Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan will inaugurate the second annual conference of the World Moslem Conference in Karachi.

Two special sessions of the conference will be held. One is the conference of the youth of the Islamic world, to be presided over by Dr. Abdul Wahab Az-zam Bey, Egyptian ambassador in Pakistan. The other session will be a ladies conference, which will be led by Seyda Mah-E-Muneer, wife of the education minister of the Persian Government.

Con Men Linked to Carnival Barkers

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — When you hear someone say: "You should have piped the squash on that mark when he left the lattice all tapped out," you're listening to either a carnival hawker on a con man.

So says a University of California sociologist who reports that research on the subject reveals the two are linked by a striking similarity in their language.

Dr. Edwin M. Lemert says his studies indicate that the language similarity seems to have arisen in the past out of a common origin and association of the two groups, though present day con men, in contradistinction to the carnival worker, generally operate outside the law. He translates the above phrase as "You should have seen the face on that person when he left the gambling game broke."

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

By DAVID BAXTER

The next socialized medicine bill after the defeat of the Copeland-Lewis-Fishbein one, was brought out by Bruce-Edwards Senator Wagner, of New York...

In 1946, undismayed by past defeats, the collectivists tried it again with the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill. Fishbein was opposed to that one also. Like the Wagner one, it provided for the surgeon-general to be the Hiller of health and Fishbein had somehow neglected to get himself appointed surgeon-general...

But the 1940-1949 period now has become the 1941-1950 decade, inclusive, and prices over the latter period showed an increase that will be reflected in any new party base...

Politics as well as Capitol Hill economics seem to indicate that these boost-the-cost-of-living clauses will be carried over into any stabilization act enacted for the duration of a cold or hot war...

Both major parties are angling for the farm vote, especially the Democrats. They want to win back the eight farm states that elected Mr. Truman in 1948, but which slipped back to Republicanism last November...

Dr. Fishbein seems to like this one, though. There must be something in it for him. At least, during the 1949 convention of the A.M.A., he introduced a resolution which reads: "The American Medical Association advocates creation of a federal department of health of cabinet status with a secretary who is a doctor of medicine and the coordination and integration of all federal health activities under this department, except for military activities of the medical services of the armed forces..."

 Here is how the committee has drawn up the estimated costs of each field:

Northwest Field

Total cost: $267,400 of which the CAA would contribute $91,200. Of this figure $20,000 has been included for an access road from State Highway 70 to the field in which the government would not participate.
 (However, in the case of either field an additional $20,000 must be considered in the bond issue for improving the small airport at McLean — making an overall total cost of $287,400.)
 The estimated bond issue to improve the northwest site would be approximately $200,000. For which Gray County would receive an airport with three paved runways, serving all directions, and containing one square mile of land.
 The land would cost nothing. The county already owns it. It was purchased from the government in 1947 at the legal $1 fee.
 An administration building to house the business end of running the airport, waiting rooms for airline passengers, lavatory facilities etc. This would run an estimated $25,000. CAA participating 50 percent and the county 50 percent, or $12,500 each.
 One large hangar, 112 feet by 180 feet by 20 feet high. The county would have to foot this estimated $65,000 project alone.
 No government aid.
 A concrete apron for loading and unloading would cost the county $3,200 and the government $8,200—total cost $11,400.
 None of the three runways have to be graded.
 To drill a water well and install a pump tank would cost an estimated $12,000 — the government and the county splitting 50-50.
 The government would also go 50-50 in the cost of fencing the one section plot. Estimated fencing cost, $3,000.
 An entrance road from the main road and car parking area would cost $6,000, the county and CAA splitting the cost 50-50.
 All three runways are paved and there would be no initial cost there.
 But seal coating the three runways with double surface treatment of asphalt and rock would run an estimated $67,000. This would be halved by federal participation.
 The government would also have the runway light cost that would cost an estimated $15,000.
 To plan the field and engineer its construction would take the services of a professional civil engineer at an estimated fee of $15,000 in surveying, laying grades, blueprinting and drawing up plans.
 Allowing for unforeseen increases in costs of the above, the committee set up a contingency allowance of $22,500 — the government sharing equally.

E. Browning Site

Total cost: $463,250 of which the CAA would contribute $152,667. There would be no need of an access road since E. Browning runs adjacent to the field.
 (To this add the $20,000 of an access road since E. Browning strip — an overall cost of $483,250.)
 The estimated bond issue then would run approximately $400,000, for which Gray County would receive an airport with one paved runway, and 268 1/2 acres of land.
 The land would have to be purchased from W. T. Wilks and C. P. Buckler at an estimated total of $185,760. Of this the government would contribute $46,497 while the county would have to pay $139,313. The land is now under lease and the lease expires on June 30, 1952.
 There is no actual administration building here. A new one costing $25,000 would have to be built, cost of the project being split evenly by the county and CAA.
 A large hangar 112 feet by 180 feet and 30 high is needed. Cost $65,000. No government aid.
 Concrete apron in front of hangars and administration building, $16,400 — government aid halves the price.
 Grading new northwest-southwest runway, $7,500 each for county and government, total, $15,000. This would give present site three long runways plus the short east-west runway.
 There would be no cost for installing water and sewer facilities. They are already on the grounds. About the same amount of fencing would be required at a cost of $3,000 — government and county splitting 50-50, or $1,500 each.
 Building up the short entrance road and improving parking facilities, $5,000 or $2,500 each for county and government.
 One runway would be paved, in all probability the north-south strip, at a cost of $94,600. County and government splitting the cost 50-50 there.
 No seal coating of remaining two sod runways would be entailed.
 To take up the present boundary lights on the north-south runway and replace them with regular flush runway lights, $12,000 or $6,000 each for county and government.
 Engineering for grading, blueprinting, planning etc., $16,500 — the cost split 50-50 by county and CAA.
 Allowing for unforeseen expenditures, contingency, $25,000. This would also be split 50-50. It is designed to take care of unestimated price rises between now and eventual construction or improving.

In addition, some anxiety exists among local flyers that the government may step in and take over the auxiliary field again at Pampa Air Force Base is reactivated. Where, then, they ask, would Pampans go to do their flying and what would happen to the airline service afforded Pampa now.

On this question Aviation Committee officials, city officials and Chamber of Commerce leaders said they believe that in the event of reactivation of PAFB, the government would take steps to make the necessary provisions for continuation of private flying in and around Gray County from either site.

So, the property owning taxpayers are going to be polled to see which of the two sites they prefer.

They are being asked to mark the ballot, sign their name to it — to be sure no person votes more than once — then mail the ballot to the Chamber of Commerce office in care of the Aviation Committee. The envelope should be plainly marked "Airport Ballot." The ballot will remain sealed in the envelope until 2 p. m. Saturday when three impartial election judges will open and count them in the presence of this reporter and other newspaper and Chamber of Commerce personnel.

Deadline for balloting is midnight, Friday, Jan. 12, meaning the envelope cannot bear a postmark later than that time.

Election judges will be County Commissioner J. W. "Bill" Graham, Ed Myatt, commander of the Pampa Civil Air Patrol, and Wayland Marrison, one of the Panhandle's leading consulting engineers.

Chamber of Commerce officials and Pampa Daily News officials have assured each person voting that their name WILL NOT BE PUBLISHED AND WILL BE KEPT CONFIDENTIAL. The ballot is not to be construed as binding on any person who takes part in the straw poll. The poll is being taken for the purpose of learning how the "wind blows" and obtaining the sentiments of those who will have to foot the bill in county taxes.

STRAW BALLOT

I, the undersigned property owning taxpayer, prefer to have Pampa's permanent airport located at:
 (Make an "X" in the box opposite the name of the site you prefer.)

EAST BROWNING SITE

NORTHWEST FIELD

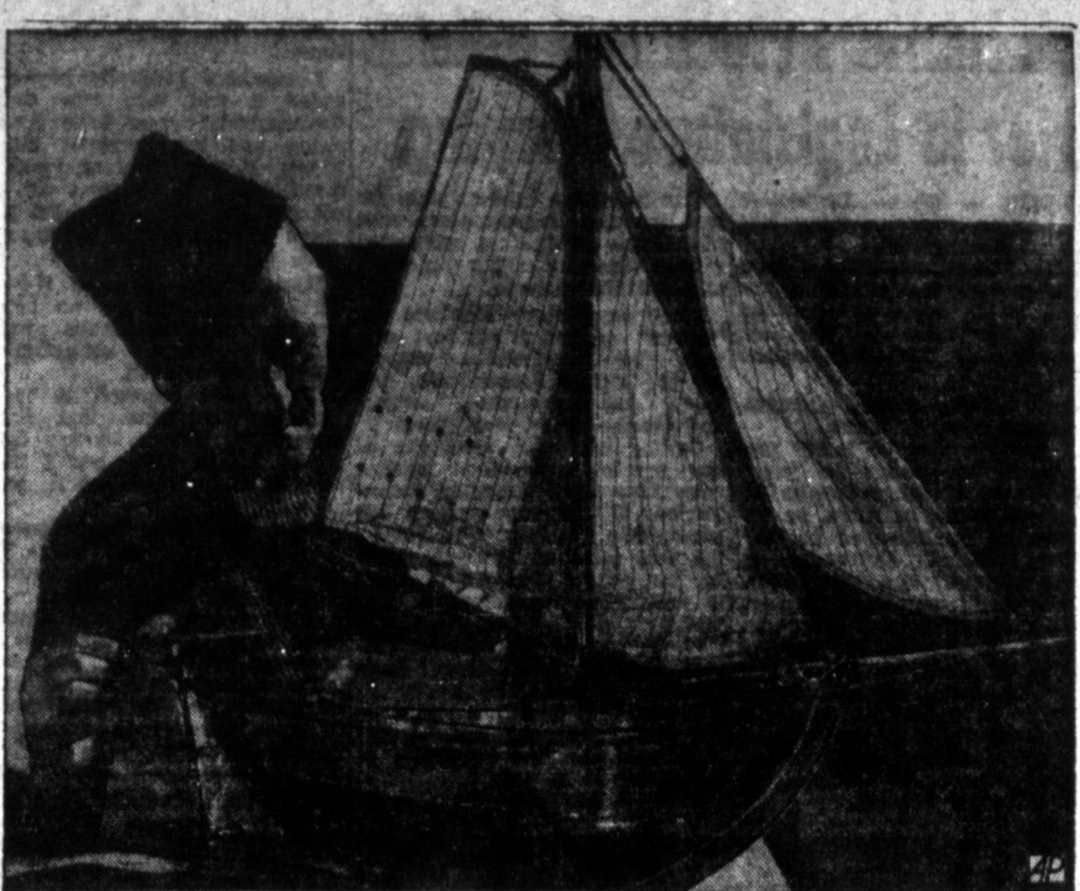

I understand that this ballot is not binding and in no way obligates me in connection with any forthcoming bond election. I also understand that my name will be kept confidential and that it is hereby signed solely for the purpose of authenticity.

Local Soldier Escapes Trap

Another Pampa parent was made happy this weekend when Mrs. W. C. Dillman, 514 N. Sumner, received a letter from her son, Marine Cpl. Richard James Dillman. The letter was written Dec. 23, and was the first news from him since Nov. 23. Cpl. Dillman is a member of the Fifth Regiment, First Marine Division, a group that was trapped by the onrushing North Koreans.
 "Forgive me for not writing sooner," wrote Cpl. Dillman. "I guess I have been lazy and a little tired. We were out for 13 days in weather 20 to 30 degrees below zero. We were trapped for five days before we could start out. We walked for 24 hours and rested 24 without sleep, then we walked another 14 hours. Then we were stopped for three days again before walking another 23 miles in 20 to 22 hours. I came out with frostbitten toes and fingers. They are better now, but still have a terrible cold."
 "That's enough talk of war — we got out, and that is more than we expected to do."
 Cpl. Dillman was home in June to attend his sister's wedding and was sent overseas immediately upon his return to his base.

Outlook Is Bright For TV Over Texas

By ARNO C. ADAMS
 Associated Press Staff
 How do the new year and other years ahead look to the radio and television industry in Texas?
 In the words of a man who should know — "very bright."
 Clyde Rembert, director for District 13 of the National Association of Broadcasters, which includes all of Texas, stressed that any prediction must be pegged to the international situation.
 But barring all-out war, he said, the years ahead should be "great ones" for telecasters and broadcasters.
 "Radio hasn't reached its fullest development, and is constantly improving both from a technical and programming standpoint," he said. "The outlook for television is very bright. It has had time to prove itself in Texas as an outstanding medium both as to public service and advertising."
 Rembert, station manager of KRLL, KRLL-FM and KRLL-TV here, saw statewide video networks in the future. He believes television will be made accessible for even the remote sections of the state. He saw TV programs extending through the day and night, and improvements in telecasting and broadcasting methods.
 "A state television network unquestionably will be a reality in Texas by some future date, either by micro wave or coaxial cable." (Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. already has announced plans to begin construction in January of micro wave network linking Austin and San Antonio. The network is planned to carry long distance telephone messages through the air via sending towers spaced about 27 miles apart, but could transmit television programs.)
 "A coaxial hookup with the national television networks is a

Bullet-Proof Plates Now Popular Items

SINGAPORE — (AP) — The Government of Thailand wants to get the permission of a Singapore technical engineer to use his patent for the process of bullet-proof steel plates. F. Baldwinson, attached to the Hume Industries of Singapore, perfected his process in December, 1948, and offered it free of charge to the Federal Government of Malaya for use by rubber planters and tin miners.
 Baldwinson's plates have a thickness of one-eighth and one-fourth of an inch. They can easily be mounted on cars, trucks and other vehicles used on rubber estates and around tin mines for protection against Communist terrorist attacks. Tests by Kuala Lumpur police proved the plates successful against heavy rifle and Bren gun fire.

 interview in Tel Aviv, he was sure the American public would receive the orchestra with enthusiasm.

WHEN WE HUNG up the new calendars, I got an immense thrill out of being around to start the second half of the 20th Century. And, you know, scientists say that most of us might be here to welcome the 21st Century (due to increasing longevity.) But say, even if we're going to live longer, Peg thinks there should be more months in a year, more weeks in a month, more days in a week, and on and on, more time, more time. And the folks who say we've turned into a dead-end street seem to forget their hopes and dreams of the future. And even so, maybe at the end of the dead-end street we'll find a peace that's serene and sweet, and worth a half century of waiting. Let's pray it's not that long.

BUILDING BUG has got Pampa, looks like. The Chick Hickman's sumptuous red brick looks about ready for a housewarming! That little bit of grey trim lends just enough color to the appearance. And right next door to the Hickmans, the Lynn Boyds have laid their foundation. By summertime the Boyds should be well settled in the new place and then have their pretty niece, Edwina, home from Incarnate Word. Which all adds up to this: Edwina learned to cook last summer while her aunt was abroad, and this year she'll have a dreamy kitchen for experimentation. Also hear the Ed Hollands have started on their new house—in the Fraser Addition, I think. Haven't learned the details.

NICEST PERSON I met all week was the fine gentleman who keeps the windows of our postoffice boxes polished and bright. He does other useful things around there that I hadn't noticed and appreciated before now. Always a friendly word, and definitely one of Peg's pals.

SURELY WAS a big thing for four Pampa youngsters who were in the nation's Capital Wednesday to see their dad sworn in as a member of the House. Mrs. Walter Rogers was there, too, and all of them so-o-o proud and happy. Can see young Tommy, wide-eyed and I can remember when he wasn't so wide-eyed. Back in the campaign he'd sit up with the other children listening to the radio returns until, eventually, unnoticed, he'd doze off to sleep! "Ready for bed?" someone would ask. "Ummm? No! I wasn't asleep!" and he would sit up straight for a bit, but a little later he'd be nodding and dozing again! Plucky little fellow.

PANORAMICALLY: My! my! one of my main resolutions last week was to learn to tell those Swafford twins apart ... and right off the bat I called Ava, Eva ... Also, I "plump" forgot to diet ... have some friends in the same boat, but no names ... Saw Mrs. Henry Thut at the movies the other night ... isn't she a pleasant person? ... and if she ever loses those blue-like earrings she has, I hope I find them ... very stunning ... sort of aquamarine like that new lotion everyone is trying. Ruth Sewell had a pretty pair of those dangling earrings the other day ... sort of loop-de-loop things ... the kind I love, but invariably some man would quip "Where's the ring for your nose?" ... honestly, these creatures with a Mr. prefixing their names, just don't know what looks Rue de la Paix ... most of them anyhow ... Just noticed what a lovely lamp Mrs. W. H. Burden has in wooden, carved bases ... Spied that adorable Jewel Beckman skipping along the street, arms hugged close, to beat the cold ... she's wearing a new hairdo that's very becoming and also sporting a new automobile ... And you should take a gander at the beautiful new wedding band Bert Howell gave his wife for Christmas ... Heard about a nice little gathering at the Ray Dudleys Thursday night ... And I failed to wish Dick Walker a happy birthday last week ... Peg's stopped having those things so it's nice to know they still exist ... so many happy returns, friend ... The E. L. Gallenores took son James back to school last week ... understand he was high point man in the Texas A&M Fish's first basketball game ... Irene and Del Beagle were making plans to see the Cotton Bowl ... daughter Donna was going that far with them on her way back to the U. of T. ... Paul Carmichaels were down for the Cotton Bowl, too.

THE FOOTBALL BANQUET was a very big occasion, and everyone liked the affable Dutchman from Texas Christian. The Harvesters must surely get half of their energy from their mothers who were bustling all over the place, keeping coffee cups full and hot rolls on the table. Mighty pretty in the process, too! Noticed a lot of unfamiliar faces ... it's surprising how many people we don't know at such an event ... Pampa's either growing or we aren't getting around enough any more! But we did see the Ralph Thomases, Gene Fathores, Dr. Ashbys, T. J. Watts, Frank McKinneys, Bubba Hills, Ham Lunas and Coach Nooncaster and his glass of milk. Congratulations to the Stanley Brakes' daughter ... a very lovely queen ... and the L. W. Tarpleys who reared the fightingest Harvester of them all!

THE BEST SPORTS of the week were the grade school teachers, indulgent souls, who welcomed back their feminine students and their Christmas dolls to boot. Saw a whole swarm of these pig-tailed, skinned-kneed mothers, and all of them had their babies swathed in blankets with a couple of changes thrown in. "But mu-ther, wailed the girls, "we've got to take these extras as long as our babies do what comes naturally!" Honestly, kids, talking about longevity (See PEG Page 14)

Home Ceremony Weds Miss Bundy, J. M. Poynor, Jr.

Miss Ethel Bundy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bundy, 905 E. Murphy, became the bride of J. M. Poynor, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. James M. Poynor of Wewoka, Okla., at 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 24.

The Poynor home was setting for the double-ring ceremony, with the bridegroom's father and brother, the Rev. James M. Poynor, and the Rev. Lory Poynor, reading the marriage rites.

Maid of honor was Miss Junita States of Prague, Okla., and the best man was Richard Peoples of Wewoka. The bride wore a chapel-length dress of white slipper satin with fitted bodice and an overskirt of chiffon appliqued with white satin flowers. Her accessories (See HOME Page 14)

Business-Like Sessions Seen When Legislature Meets

AUSTIN — (AP) — Three major must tasks and an overwhelming host of lesser problems face the 52nd Legislature when it meets Jan. 9.

Whether or not the threat of war will make it a serious-minded, businesslike session devoted to essentials and not inclined to bog down in fruitless controversy is the biggest "if" in the legislative future book.

The legislators must decide how much money they will spend on state services; they must raise the cash; and they are charged with redistricting. Those are the imperative assignments.

The state government can't operate if the arena isn't cleared, and under the Constitution, redistricting will be disposed of by a non-legislative board if the lawmakers fail to act.

Those are the musts. Each is packed with explosive potentials enough to keep the legislature in session for the full 120 days suggested by the Constitution. Add to them scores of additional tough issues that have developed since the last regular session and the special session, and the outlook is for a long grind.

The threat of war, or grave difficulties growing out of complicated international problems as they affect Texans could change the whole picture overnight.

Gov. Allan Shivers may have pitched the tune when he called off the usual inaugural frills such as parades, balls and receptions for a strictly-business induction to his first full elective term.

The fiscal outlook for the legislature is clear only in general terms.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert still is working on estimates of income which will be submitted to the Governor and the legislature. The Board of Control and the legislative budget board are not yet ready to announce their recommendations.

But no matter how much economy is exercised, it is certain that new income will have to be raised. The fundamental reason for that is that priority drains from established sources were set up by the 51st Legislature. That necessity would indicate more taxes, and proposals for new taxes are sure to draw lightning. Operating fund increases ranging as high as 418 percent over current appropriations, and an average departmental request for a 20.7 percent boost, are likewise bound to produce sharp demands for economy. It isn't likely, however, that there will be drastic cuts affecting education, highways and roads, and welfare where about 90 percent of the general revenue tax money goes now.

Redistricting to equalize representation in the legislature after a 30-year lapse can snarl the session in hopeless controversy. It can quit and check the matter to a board provided by a constitutional amendment designed to guarantee redistricting every 10 years.

These are some of the dozens of other potentially-controversial topics: election law changes, revisions of the water laws, the criminal code, and the insurance laws; suggested coordination of higher education to eliminate duplicated or unnecessary services; revision of the Gilmer-Aikin school laws; bus and truck regulation; abolition of the 35-million dollar ceiling on welfare spending; re-examination of the state hospital situation.

Moslem Leader Suggests Unity

ROME — (AP) — Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab league, was quoted today as saying that a spiritual alliance of the Moslem and Christian world would group more than half of the men of the earth together against a common enemy.

"The two religions," the Arab leader was quoted as saying in an interview published in Il Tempo of Rome, "are founded upon an exquisite high spirituality and are menaced by the same enemy, atheistic materialism."

SPEAKING OF Furniture

By DON FOSTER

THERE'S ALWAYS A WAY

If we've heard this once we've heard it a hundred times: "I just can't do a thing with the room because of that window." Is the song a familiar one?

There are many ways to solve the problem... attractive ways. And money isn't the answer. Good taste, imagination and ingenuity will work wonders with a problem window.

In the illustration above the unwanted window becomes the center of interest in the room. It was used as a recess for a family picture and the huge chests keep it in perfect balance. Does it give you an idea of what you can do? A window valance with billowy drapes might solve your problem

Ants May Be Used To Control Termites

SYDNEY (AP) — Ants could be used to control termites, says Dr. William Brown, an entomologist who is visiting Australia on a travelling fellowship from Harvard University.

Dr. Brown said here that as far as he knows there is no research being done on the possibility of using ants to control termites. Biologically, he said, ants are their main enemies. Dr. Brown is studying obscure groups of ants in Australia on his fellowship.

Bill Threatens GI Insurance Rights

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — An estimated 10,000,000 World War II veterans are in danger of losing their GI insurance rights. This threat is contained in a bill which was passed by the House during the final special session of the 81st Congress. Although it didn't pass the Senate, it is all set for reintroduction and quick passage by the new 82nd Congress.

The bill also marks a sharp cutback from the World War II standard in the amount of benefits to be given many Korean vets and all future veterans. It would give a free $10,000 policy to every man in service. And it would permit every veteran who had been made uninsurable by his service to buy a non-participating GI policy for the future.

But it would not permit the vast majority of veterans to hang onto their government insurance after they get out of service. Veterans organizations consider GI insurance, after service, to be one of the most valuable benefits which Uncle Sam has provided. This benefit has also been used as a prime recruiting argument by the services.

The most serious impact of the bill, however, would be on the estimated 10,000,000 World War II veterans whose GI policies have expired, but who have the right under present law to get new GI policies in the future. The bill which passed the House before Christmas eliminates that right by prohibiting the issuance of any more National Service Life Insurance policies.

It is the opinion of most insurance experts of the veterans organizations that the great majority of GIs who dropped their polices when they got out of service did so with the express plan of getting new GI policies some time in the future when they might get married or could better afford it.

Also in doubt in the House-passed bill is the future of the policies which have been kept in force but which haven't been converted to a permanent plan. There is some opinion that the bill would also eliminate that choice by GI policy holders.

Main supporters of the bill are the Bureau of the Budget and groups of private insurance company executives. It is the theory of budget officials that giving the men policies, without charging premiums, would eliminate much of the costly administrative problems which were involved in NSLI. And it would help take the government out of the insurance business inasmuch as the men would lose their policies as soon as they were discharged.

In answer to this, an American Legion spokesman points out that a record would have to be kept of the date every man left service. There would be costly litigation for the men who claimed that they were rendered uninsurable by service. There would have to be machinery to pay beneficiaries: the $10,000 which would be spread over 10 years. And, further, opponents of the point. While the men are in service, they wanted it will not be cheated. But as soon as they got out they would have to buy insurance from a private company if they wanted it.

The insurance experts of the veterans organizations hope some compromise will be worked out. They are for the free insurance while the men are in service, they would also be given the survivors of the Korean dead. And they might go along with having insurance end with a man's discharge. But they hope that the 10,000,000 veterans who have been thinking they could get a new GI policy any time more year. If you have such a house and it looks good for another 20 years, then use the longer period. Put the number of estimated years in Column 7. Now divide the amount you put in Column 3 by the number of years in Column 7. This will give you the depreciation to show in Column 8. This same amount is then shown in Column 3 of Schedule F.

 2. When renting something like home furnishings, trailer or bicycles, put the cost in Column 3 of Schedule H after filing out Columns 1 and 2.
 Estimate the number of years in Column 7. Divide the amount in Column 3 by the number of years in Column 7. This will give you the depreciation to show in Column 9 of Schedule H and to deduct in Column 3 of Schedule F. Ten years is about the average life of home furnishings. If, in prior years, the sum of the depreciation you have deducted equals the cost or other basis of the rented property, then you can no longer deduct depreciation on that property.
 Column 4, Schedule F, shows

everything you spent repairing the property during 1950. Column 5 is for listing all other out-of-pocket costs of keeping up the property, not charging for your own work or your wife's. In these columns show only the total costs. Details should be given in Schedule I shown here.
 Repairs include redecoration, but not major improvements such as a new roof or an additional room. Major improvements are considered capital investments which can be added to your cost for depreciation. Column 3 of Schedule H, and used also to decrease taxable gain or increase the loss when you sell the property.
 If you rent the entire property, then you can deduct all your expenses. If you rent only part of your property, you can deduct only a similar portion of the expenses. For example, if you rent one room in a five-room house, only one-fifth or 20 percent of your expenses for the whole house can be deducted in Column 5 of Schedule F.
 Now add the amounts in Columns 3, 4, and 5 of Schedule F—subtract their total from the rental income shown in Column 2. The difference is your profit or your loss, shown in the right-hand column of page 2, Form 1040.
 Schedule G is the place to report income from partnerships, estates and trusts, and other sources. If you cannot find any specific place on your tax return to list some items of income, put them in this schedule.
 In Lines 1 and 2, show only the amounts received from either source. The partnership, syndicate, estate or trust is required to report the details.
 Line 3 is the place to report alimony or separate maintenance received under a court order, rewards or prizes, recoveries of bad debts, taxes and losses which reduced your tax in a prior year, and health or accident insurance payments received by you as reimbursements for medical expenses which reduced your tax in a prior year.

PAMPA YOUTH—Cpl. Wilburn Stevens, 20, relaxes in civilian clothing while waiting for his orders which will send him to Walter Reed Veteran's Hospital, Washington, D. C., where he will be fitted with a new plastic left leg and a left eye. Stevens lost his leg and his eye in a freak explosion of a high explosive shell, Nov. 6, while engaging in gunnery practice at Camp Hood. His wife, Betty, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kyle of Pampa. (News Photo and Engraving)

Lady Luck Looked the Other Way But Pampan Has Spirit

By ROBIN TIBBETS
 The high school cheer leader's well, "Have you got that spirit?" need not be asked Wilburn Stevens, 20, who, despite the loss of his left leg and eye, still has enough spirit for himself and several others.
 Stevens, the husband of the former Betty Kyle, daughter of the former sheriff of Gray County, G. H. "Skinner" Kyle, lost his leg and the sight of his left eye in an explosion on Nov. 6, 1950. The accident occurred when a high explosive shell being fired from an M4 tank, backfired and exploded inside the vehicle. The unexpected blast was almost fatal to Stevens.
 "Funny, but I never was unconscious," Stevens says, "at least, not until after they got me to the hospital."
 Frankfurter into the intellectual and ideological career of William W. Remington, his second impication in the preparatory experience of a man inferentially charged with traitorism.
 "While they were taking me out of the tank, I remember giving them Betty's address and I remember everything that happened. Of course," he continues, "I didn't know about my leg then and I didn't find out it was gone until about four days after it happened."
 Stevens, a corporal in a tank company, in training at Camp Hood, Texas, stopped off in Pampa during the last days of 1950 enroute to one of the larger veterans' hospitals, probably Walter Reed, where he will be fitted with a plastic leg and a new left eye.
 His leg was taken off about half way between the knee and the hip. Other injuries he received in the explosion included second and third degree burns about the head and body, a broken left wrist and a smashed left hand. Although his face on the right side was burned, no permanent injuries to that side resulted.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Expert Plays the Percentages
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"The other day I had the pleasure of playing as the partner of a really fine canasta player," relates a reader of St. Paul, Minn. "We beat our opponents five straight games. However, he made one play that I am curious about."

"We had a good hand going, but our opponents were close to out, and we were therefore making our canastas as fast as we could. Eventually we were left with four canastas, a couple of small melds and two six-card melds.

"One of them consisted of six natural eight-spots; the other of four aces and two wild cards. My partner drew a deuce and included it with the six natural eights. He thus gave up the natural canasta when he could have added the deuce to the aces, which were bound to wind up as a mixed canasta anyhow. "Was there any good reason for this play?"

My correspondent really answered his question himself. He stated that his partner was a very fine canasta player. Such a player always has a reason for a play, particularly an unusual play.

Although the situation is not fully described in the letter, I imagine that most of the wild cards had already been accounted for. The expert was making a percentage play. He could complete only one canasta, and wanted to leave himself with the best possible chance to complete another canasta later on.

If no additional wild card came along, the second canasta could be completed only if one of the partners drew a natural e a r d. With six eights down on the table, there were only two eights left to draw but there were four aces. In other words, there was twice as much chance to draw an ace later on as to draw an eight.

Most players would leave the eights alone, but the true experts would do just as my correspondent's partner did.

Incidentally, there are many other ways of playing percentages when you have a choice of canastas to complete. Whenever you have a choice of canastas, you should complete the ace with the greater number of natural cards in it.

For example, suppose you have a deuce to add, and the melds on the table include five naturals with one wild card and another of four naturals with two wild cards. Add the deuce with the five naturals. That will leave you with your best chance to complete the other canasta later on.

Another thing: Don't overlook the opponents' melds. To take an extreme case, suppose the opponents have already melded three sevens and that you have four sevens down on the table. If you pick up a discard pile with several wild cards in it (which sometimes happens), you can cheerfully add deuces to those four sevens. It would be foolish to add the deuces to a meld that you might later turn into a natural canasta.

Slight Cut Seen in Auto Production

DETROIT — (AP) — Passenger car output during this year's first half may total 2,950,000 units, Ward's Automotive Reports says.

Noting this would be only about 150,000 fewer than were built in the same period last year, the agency said government materials stockpiling may not bite as deeply into car production as did the 100-day Chrysler strike last year.

Ward's put this weeks output at 53,848 vehicles. Included in the estimate were 70,383 passenger cars and 23,465 trucks. Last week 97,145 cars and 30,714 trucks were assembled. In the like period a year ago 92,883 cars and 17,445 trucks were built.

Tax Stamps Top Last Year's Total

AUSTIN — (AP) — The state collected nearly a million dollars more from tax stamps last month than in December a year ago, State Treasurer Jesse James has reported.

Last month's collections from cigarette, liquor, prescription and wine stamps totaled $3,771,951. The year-ago December collection was $2,789,982.

Increases were distributed among all categories of the stamps except prescription stamps.

Final Results Depict 1950 As A Record Boom Year

A record year of oil activity within the Panhandle was recorded during 1950, exceeding even 1948. A total of 947 intents were filed with the Texas Railroad Commission during the past year. From these new locations, the Panhandle gained 510 new oil completions and 224 gas completions, a total of 734. Only 67 plugged wells were recorded throughout the twelve-month period. Seventeen counties were represented in last year's activity.

A breakdown of new locations during 1950 in the Panhandle are as follows: Hutchinson County, 423 intents; Gray County, 137; Sherman County, 154; Carson County, 77; Moore County, 49; Wheeler County, 27; Hansford County, 19; Hartley County, 9; Collingsworth County, 8; Potter County, 7; Childress County, 4; Roberts, Donley and Ochiltree counties, three each; Armstrong, Briscoe and Lipscomb Counties, one intent each.

Hutchinson County maintained its long-standing position as leader in Panhandle oilfield activity, as it has for several years. Gray County placed second, with Sherman County running a close third.

During 1949, a total of 796 new locations were filed with the Railroad Commission. Completions tallied 946, 487 of those being oil completions, and the remainder, 372, of the completions were gasers. Only 79 plugged wells were recorded.

In 1948, the supposed boom year throughout a part of the country, only 688 new locations

Activity Is Expected to Gain Momentum in Future Months

Panhandle oil activity remained low this week, according to Railroad Commission reports. Only 13 new intents were filed during the week, ending last Thursday. The tally of completions was even worse off, however. Seven completions, all of the oil, were filed in Gray and Hutchinson Counties. Plugged wells totaled four.

A complete breakdown is as follows:

Gas Activity In Area Rises

NEW YORK — (AP) — A big increase in natural gas production in southwestern Kansas and Oklahoma was reported by a new firm that has bought 115,000 acres of leases.

The new group, Hugoton Plains Gas & Oil Co., said within six months it expected to drill 30 to 40 new wells and increase production to about 120,000,000 cubic feet a day. The fields are now delivering 90,000,000 cubic feet a day from 154 producing wells.

The new company purchased the natural gas reserves for $366,000,000 in a deal announced yesterday. Sellers were not divulged.

Principal stockholders are J. Simon Fiorin of Los Angeles, William R. Staats Co. of Los Angeles and Fred R. Tuerk, director of many middle western industrial firms.

Twenty thousand acres of the leases are in Kansas.

At Liberal, Kas., a $20,000,000 mortgage has been filed in the Seward County Register of Deeds Office on holdings of Hugoton Plains Gas and Oil Company following transfer of the holdings from Plains Natural Gas Company to the Hugoton firm.

The mortgage broke all records in the register's office at Liberal in size of mortgage recorded and mortgage registration tax. Register Vanda Franklin said the county gained $5,000 in registration tax.

The total registration fee for the company's holdings in Kansas, including property in Stevens County, was $6,500. Of that amount, $1,500 went to Stevens County.

The mortgage also was filed in Texas County, Oklahoma, where the company has large holdings.

Plans of Gulf Oil Revealed

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Gulf Oil Corp. plans a 440-mile crude oil pipeline from West Texas to its Gulf Coast refineries.

The 28-inch line would carry 300,000 barrels a day and be complete early in 1952. Plans filed yesterday with petroleum defense officials said work would start by next month.

The line would have a connection with the northbound crude lines in East Texas. These extend to refineries in the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes region.

Gulf also disclosed a military service plan guaranteeing employees in the armed services half their base pay. Dependents would get added benefits.

The plan provides a full month's pay for each employee entering military service plus all vacation time due, or pay in lieu of vacation time.

Construction Permit Asked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas Gas Transmission Corp., operator of gas pipeline from the Texas-Louisiana fields to Middletown, Ohio, asked power commission permission for a $42,300,000 construction program.

W. T. Stevenson, executive vice-president, said the company wants to build 580 miles of large diameter pipeline and necessary compressor stations "to meet increasing wartime emergency needs for natural gas in its own Mid-Western service area and in Appalachian markets."

The program, he said, would raise the capacity of the Texas-to-Ohio pipeline system to over 900,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Drop Reported In Territory

DALLAS — A sharp drop in drilling activity in Kansas, Ark., La-Tex, and West Texas and in New Mexico areas during the week of January 2 plus moderate declines in several other areas, caused a net decline of 74 active rotary rigs in oilfields of the United States and Canada. The only increase in operations was in the Illinois area, up to 119.

This report reflects the usual lull in drilling activity over the turn of the year. The total of 2408 rigs reported busy during the week compares with 2480 units a week ago, 2463 a month ago and with 2122 for the comparable week of 1950.

The request of our government urging the industry not to increase prices of crude oil and refined products above the levels of the first part of last December has caused a good deal of comment throughout oil circles. Although the proposal lacks legal background, it is believed that general compliance of the request is seen.

Taking the entire oil industry completely by surprise, as no immediate price increases had been contemplated anyway, except a few to fit current market conditions, men began speculating upon the why's and wherefores of the matter. No such requests had been received by any other industry, except auto business.

Some felt that the government was picking on them, and perhaps singing them out without reason until a general order, covering all industries, was received recently.

One of the reasons for such comment was a clear memory of what happened at the start of the last war. Oilmen kept their prices down of their own free will, only to find that certain men in Washington were playing a little "political football" instead of maintaining a true economic stabilization. The oilmen suffered, and paid dearly.

Only a few weeks ago, when oilmen throughout the country stated that they could take care of themselves in any emergency without government controls and restrictions, it was apparent that they were thinking about that long and bitter struggle during World War II.

If price control is necessary, well and good, but it is hoped that certain "politicos" are thinking about the true situation, and not what lobbyists and other pressure groups demand.

The final tally of Panhandle oil activity during 1950 was rather interesting. With new fields in prospect and the repressuring activity steaming away at top speed, 1951 will indeed be a year to watch.

As a direct result of bigger demands by the military, these oil companies intend to spend far more than ever before for exploration purposes. Wait and see.

Howard W. Blakeslee of the Associated Press says that motorists won't have to worry about gasoline shortages as long as oilmen drill more widely and in greater depth and greater acreage, according to various geological reports recently issued, three states, Texas, Louisiana and California have vast deposits in deep sands beds in places never dreamed of before.

Blakeslee maintains that if such deep drilling is increased, vast new sources of petroleum will be revealed to us.

A church is called a cathedral when it is the official seat of a bishop.

Commission Rules Are Set

AUSTIN, Tex. — (AP) — The Railroad Commission has announced field rules for the Battle Field, Victoria County.

Spacing was set at 600 feet between wells and 350 feet from wells to property lines. Twenty-acre production units were assigned the field with daily allowable allocated 75 percent on acreage and 25 percent on number of wells.

Farmers File Tax Reports

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Uncle Sam expects several billion dollars to flow into his coffers from farmers this month.

January is the big federal income tax-paying month for the nation's producers of agricultural products.

Farmers who had a gross income of $500 or more in 1950 are required to file an estimate of their 1950 income tax. This declaration, together with payment of the estimated tax, is due Jan. 15.

However, farmers who are going to file their final tax return and pay their 1950 tax in full on or before Jan. 31 do not have to file an estimate of their income on Jan. 15. In other words, they can wind up the whole thing Jan. 31 by filing a return and paying the tax.

But if farmers do not intend to file their final returns by Jan. 31 they must file their declarations of estimated tax by Jan. 15. Their final returns are due March 15.

Declaration of estimated income tax are made on income tax form 1040-ES. Final returns are made on Form 1040. Both forms may be obtained from the collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the farmer lives.

Only about 25 percent of the United States has been adequately mapped. At the rate of current mapping operations, it will take until 2000 A. D. before the whole country is covered.

Pact Is Signed Foreign Nation

By FRED J. ZUSY

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — The Arabian American Oil Co. (ARAMCO) has signed a sweeping new agreement with Saudi Arabia which in effect will mean a 50-50 split in profits from the large amounts of oil the American-owned company takes out of that rich Persian Gulf area.

The agreement was signed Dec. 30 at Jidda after a week of negotiations following an announcement by King Ibn Saud's government that foreign companies in Saudi Arabia henceforth would have to pay income taxes. ARAMCO has up to now been exempted from these taxes.

The new agreement, which is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1950, provides that ARAMCO will pay up to 50 percent of its net profits in income taxes to Saudi Arabia, after income taxes to the United States are deducted. In addition, ARAMCO, one of the world's biggest oil combines, will contribute 10 percent of its net royalty per barrel into the Saudi Arabian treasury.

Based on last year's all-time annual record production of some 200,000,000 barrels of oil from this area, the new agreement is expected to pour some $100,000,000 into the Saudi Arabian treasury.

Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), Standard Oil (California) and The Texas Company each have 30 percent ownership of ARAMCO. The other 10 percent is held by Socioy Ecuatoriana.

The Saudi Arabia - ARAMCO negotiations started after a royal decree issued Nov. 5 demanded that the oil company, biggest U.S. overseas private investment in the world, kick in with a 20 percent tax on net incomes there.

According to the 1950 production figures, ARAMCO is expected thus to pay about $65,000,000 in royalties, plus an additional $35,000,000 in new taxes. Overall payments to Saudi Arabia will amount to about 50 cents a barrel.

The new tax law also will apply to the Pacific Western Oil Company, an independent concern.

This is the first agreement of its kind ever instituted in the oil-rich Middle East area, which holds nearly half of all the world's oil reserves. Its revolutionary terms are expected to touch off fresh demands in neighboring Iran and Iraq for similar agreements with British and American interests there.

The Iranian Parliament, spurred by strong nationalist demands, turned down a recent offer by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. — largely owned by the British government — which would boost royalties to 50 percent on all oil produced in the Middle East

Spindletop, The Dad of Texas Oil

By MAX B. SKELTON

BEAUMONT, Tex. — (AP) — Spindletop, the fabulous field that turned oil into a big business, will be 50 years old Wednesday.

Hundreds of oilmen, from executives to roustabouts, will be here helping celebrate the golden anniversary of the "gusher" that took oil production out of the knapsack age.

The Lucas discovery well blew in at mid-morning on January 16, 1901. For nine days, 100,000 barrels of oil a day roared 200 feet into the air before the well was brought under control.

It was the world's first 100,000 barrels a day well. Before then, oilmen had worked only with wells that turned out considerably less than 100 barrels a day.

Bigger and richer fields have been discovered since 1902. But Spindletop was the first to prove that oil could be found in large quantities. It gave a shot in the arm to a machine age that was beginning to develop without knowing where it would get its fuel.

Such firms as Gulf Oil Corporation and The Texas Company got their start at Spindletop. The origin of many other companies of today can be traced indirectly to Spindletop.

Bees development and lack of technical knowledge on oil gushers that followed.

The oil field three miles south of Beaumont still is producing, but its output is pitiful, compared to 1902 when it produced 17,000,000 barrels of oil.

Today the field has 170 wells with an official total production allowable of 2,248 barrels a day. The daily average output per well is only 13.22 barrels, although the range is from one to 87 barrels.

Records of the Texas Railroad Commission show that from January 10, 1901, through December 31, 1950, Spindletop produced 131,224,099 barrels of crude.

But the vision and determination of two men — Spindletop paved the way for such huge production figures.

One, Capt. Anthony F. Lucas, an immigrant Austrian mining engineer, was attracted to the Gulf Coast by reports of salt and sulfur deposits.

The other, Fattilo Higgins, a read geology books while working in lumber camps around Beaumont and refused to give up a hunch that Spindletop, a low hill south of town, had oil.

Higgins found seeps of oil but a shallow drill test failed.

In 1899 he got Lucas interested in the flat-topped hill.

Lucas decided to make a test. After one try was stopped by quicksand, Lucas shopped around for financing and made a deal with J. Guffey and J. H. Galey, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

J. G. and A. W. Hamill, brothers who gained drilling experience when the first Texas oil

Lucas Gusher Is Depicted

BEAUMONT, Tex. — (AP) — The eight-day celebration of the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the Spindletop Oil Field began here this week.

As symbols of the festivities, two oil rigs have been erected in downtown Beaumont.

One is a replica of the wooden rig on the original Lucas gusher, the Spindletop discovery well.

The other is a modern oil rig to show the advance the oil industry has made in the past 50 years.

The modern rig — the Spindletop Commission Sunset Park No. 1 — will be spudded in Saturday morning by a five-man drilling crew as a part of the ceremonies.

Although the Spindletop 50th Anniversary Commission has a drilling permit from the Texas Railroad Commission, a drill to 5,000 feet, officials declared, you can be sure we aren't going down a fraction of that far.

Gulf Wildcat Is Brought In Subsidiary Is Announced

HOUSTON — (AP) — Continental Oil Company announced completion of a Louisiana wildcat oil well in the Gulf of Mexico, 15 miles offshore from Terrebonne Parish.

The well, owned jointly with Magnolia Petroleum Company and Newmont Oil Company, made initial daily production of 510 barrels through a 3-1/2 inch choke.

The company announcement said the well marks the first oil strike in the ship shoal area for Continental and its partners.

The partnership owns about 2500 acres in the newly proven block and 17,500 in adjacent blocks.

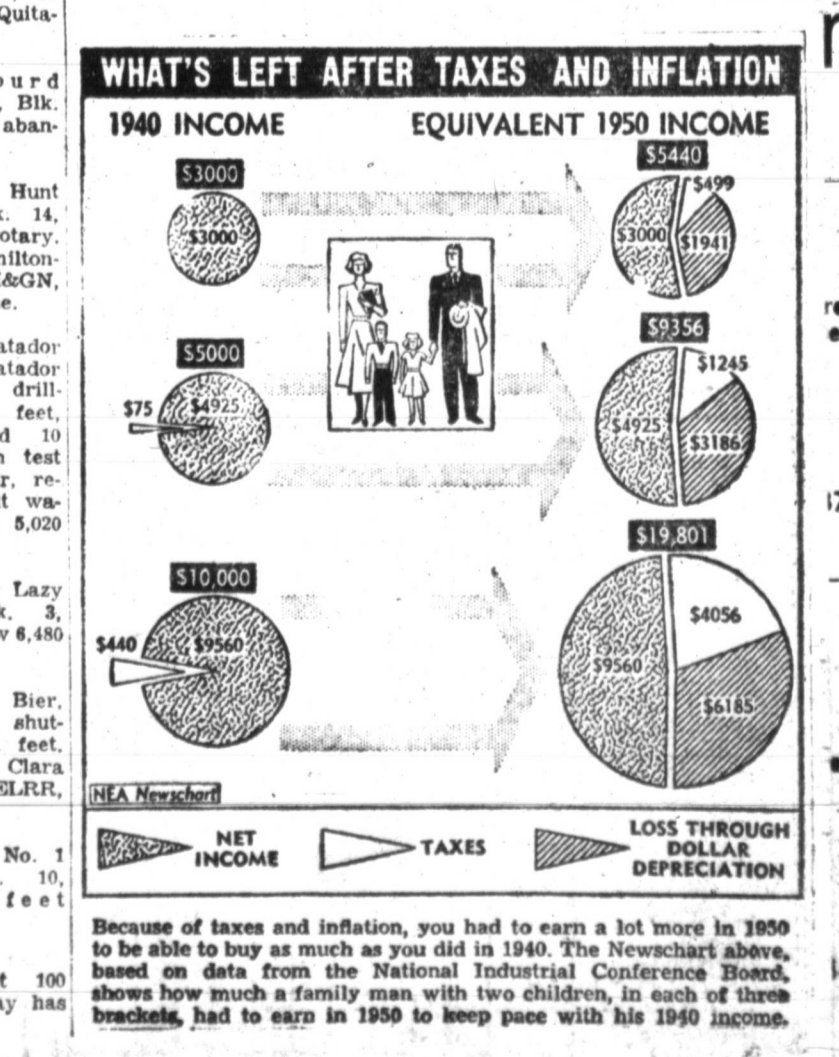

The well, No. B-1 in State Lease 768, Block 87, produced 37.2 gravity oil from perforations at 10,048-84 and 10,960-66 feet. Tubing pressure was 1970 pounds. The total depth is 11,978.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Pancoast Oil Co. announced it plans a new subsidiary company — Canada Southern Oils Ltd. — to take over Pancoast's stock interest in Albercan Oil Corp., Pan Western Oils Ltd., and Manabi Exploration Co., Inc.

Louis W. Storms Jr., Pancoast president, said Canada Southern will be capitalized at 3,000,000 shares of common stock of which about 1,600,000 shares will be issued for the Canadian and Ecuadorian interests.

Cecil V. Hagen, Houston consulting geologist, will be president and general manager of Canada Southern which will have its main offices in Montreal.

Canada Southern will have a 45 percent interest in Manabi, which is engaged in exploratory work in the coastal regions of Ecuador.
