Laborites Confront Nation With Crisis

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A flat refusal by the top men of labor to participate in the defense mobilization program confronted President Truman today with a home-front crisis that threatened the whole wage and price control effort.

A complete break with the mobilization agencies as they are now constituted carried with it an ominous threat of widespread industrial unrest.

The decision to boycott the program was made last night by the United Labor Policy Committee in protest against what it called "legalized robbery" in price control "unjust" wage ceilings, and "big business" domination of the defense drive.

Reds Agree To Big 4 Meeting

MOSCOW — (AP) — Russia agreed today to a western proposal for a Big Four deputy foreign ministers' meeting in Paris March 3 to lay the groundwork for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Safe Is Taken From Vet Hall

Thugs early Wednesday broke into the American Legion V.F.W. building and boldly carried out the organizations' safe through the door leading on to S. Russell.

The 450-pound safe had a considerable amount of cash in it when it was stolen, officers said.

The theft was reported Wednesday morning to Sheriff Rufe Jordan by Harry Walsh, house manager, who discovered the loss when he opened the club room in the morning.

Jordan said the thugs broke the second window behind the shoe-shine chair at the top of the Russell street steps and then flipped the window's latch.

Opening the door from the inside, they carried the safe down the stairs and out to the street where they carried it away in either a truck or automobile.

Railroads, 15 Unions Reach Settlement On Wage Dispute

Find Car Used In Base Holdup

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — The relay car used by a lone bandit yesterday in robbing a Sheppard Air Force Base paymaster of $25,000 was found early today in a residential section here.

Police here said the license number of the car (L-169) identified it as belonging to Capt. Ray D. Harwood of the 3786th Student Squadron. Harwood had just checked out the money from the finance office when the robbery occurred yesterday.

Police were checking the car, a 1950 blue Ford coupe, for fingerprints.

The holdup took place in front of the finance office, near the Sheppard base headquarters. It was payday, and Harwood had just checked out the money from the finance office. He and Cpl. John L. Hensch walked out of the office to their parked car and found a man dressed in Army fatigues in the back seat. He told them he was sick. As Harwood leaned over, the man pulled a gun and told them to drive toward the north gate of the field.

After about a block, Harwood jumped from the car to get help. The bandit fired once from what appeared to be a .38 caliber pistol, but missed.

About 3 1/2 miles from the base, the corporal managed to escape as the car slowed down at an intersection.

Confessed Killer Released On Bond

GREENVILLE — (AP) — Truett Steinbaugh has been released under $2,000 bond on charges of murder filed in the pistol slaying of Charles D. Jones, 30.

Jones was shot to death in a scuffle with another man in a car parked on a highway near here Tuesday.

Steinbaugh surrendered to officers and made a signed statement.

'Mental Case' Panics Resort

PALM BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — A husky 18-year-old boy, described by his father as a "harmless mental case," critically wounded his 80-year-old grandmother, blasted his father and a policeman with a shotgun last night and threw this wealthy winter resort into a panic before his capture.

The grazed youth, Hugh Berry, also tried to shoot his mother, but a patrolman shoved the woman into a police car and sped away as duckshot pock-marked the rear of the vehicle.

He was captured about a mile from the Berry's Jamaica Lane home, located amid a cluster of $40,000 to $60,000-type residences in the northern end of this island community.

Mrs. Hugh McClung, the youth's grandmother, was shot in the right arm, chest and abdomen. Attaches at Good Samaritan Hospital described her condition as "very critical."

The father, Thomas H. Berry, 56, formerly of Knoxville, Tenn., but otherwise not further identified, suffered a blast in the face, left arm and chest. His condition was listed as "fair."

The grandmother and the father were shot at home. Neighbors hearing the shots called police.

The new agreement specifies that no further wage increase will be sought until Oct. 1, 1953.

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The new federal probe into alleged Communist influences in film-making throws the spotlight on actor Howard Da Silva, actress Gale Sondergaard and writer Waldo Salt.

Committee Estimates Nation Putting More Money In Gambling Than In Clothing, Shoes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — If organized gambling is taking in $20,000,000 a year in this country, the American people are putting more into bets than they are into clothing stores and shoes.

Furthermore, gambling outlays of that size are considerably larger than total retail expenditures for autos and parts plus gas and oil, or the aggregate prices of houses bought — and, indeed, nearly one-third as much as total retail spending on food and drink.

The Senate Crime Committee produced the whopping gambling figure in a report issued yesterday, but it didn't itemize or make clear just how it arrived at its estimate or what it was counting in the total.

"In all," the report said, "the committee figures, conservatively, that $20,000,000 changes hands every year in the United States as a result of organized, illegal gambling."

Vet Plunges From Plane At 4000 Feet

DALLAS — (AP) — A youthful Air Force veteran, checking an unattached door on a Pioneer Airlines plane, plunged 4,000 feet from the craft early today over the little town of Exell, Tex.

Around him were 20 sleeping United States airmen unaware that the flyer had fallen. Spokenmen at Pioneer headquarters here said there could be no presumption other than that he died.

The victim was Joseph Henry Dowd, 27, of Dallas. He was co-pilot of the chartered plane. It was en route from Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, to Lowry Field, Denver.

Jack Kemp, Pioneer public information director, quoted this story as told by the plane's captain, Glenn C. Edds, of Dallas.

The plane, taking off from Amarillo, was airborne when Edds noted a warning light on his instrument panel showing an unattached rear door. He sent Dowd to the rear to investigate.

When Dowd failed to return, the pilot awoke one of the airmen. The serviceman could not find Dowd.

The plane then had been in the air about 15 minutes and was at 4,000 feet. The pilot estimated the plane was over Exell, about 40 miles northwest of Amarillo.

Edds said he felt the plane lurch shortly after Dowd went to the rear to check the door.

Survivors include his widow and a child.

Taft Unofficially Named To Run

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was unofficially nominated for president last night and Governor McKeldin of Maryland suggested it be made official.

The Republican governor, taking note of dinner guests' greetings to the Senator as the "next president of the United States," recalled former Presidents Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson were nominated here.

"And they were all elected," the governor reminded Taft. "Have the next national Republican convention here and we'll nominate you, too."

MENTAL

(Continued from Page 1) lie, and young Berry fled shortly as they arrived. Motorcycle patrolman Tyler Watts, 49, chased the youth onto the Palm Beach Country Club golf course where young Berry turned and fired, striking Watts in the left leg. His condition was not serious. Deputy Sheriff W. S. Bateman quoted Berry as admitting he shot his grandmother, father and policeman. He shot his grandmother, Bateman quoted him as saying, because she is going to leave him $600,000 when she dies. This could not be clarified or confirmed immediately. Police Lt. Forest Dana said the father told him his son was a "harmless mental case." The shooting touched off the biggest manhunt in the island city's history. More than 50 heavily armed police and sheriff's deputies joined the search, augmented by bloodhounds and guided by fire department search lights. The youth was captured as he stooped along a road, the shotgun dangling at his side. Bateman said an empty cartridge had jammed in the chamber and the boy carried 34 shots in his pockets.

MARINES

CONTROLS

(Continued from Page 1) as of today. But if the next price index — already overdue in appearance — shows these workers entitled to more than a five-cent hourly increase under their sliding-scale contracts, they could not collect under the present wage formula. The same is true for thousands of workers at International Harvester and in many other plants in coming weeks and months. If the wage ceiling isn't opened up, officials fear trouble. Eric Johnston, economic stabilization administrator, recommended that the wage board authorize such increases up to June 30.

The policy committee said this and Johnston's other proposed amendments are "inadequate." Some members called on Johnston himself to order revisions — better ones. Johnston sat tight, and mum. Denunciation of the government's price policy was threaded through the committee's five-page statement. It charged that the retail mark-up regulation issued Tuesday "legalizes every illegal price mark-up since the Jan. 25 freeze order."

"At a time when fixed formulas are being applied to wages, business is being allowed to write its own ceiling prices. Nothing else in the economy has been frozen," the statement went on. Declaring they realized "the gravity" of their decision, the labor chiefs explained they had protested to Mr. Truman, Wilson and others without result. They said: "We have come to the decision that in no other way can we effectively impress upon the American people the great wrongs being perpetrated against them."

Cash Offered For Best Thesis

OSLO — (AP) — A $1,400 cash prize is being offered by the Institute for Social Research here for the best paper submitted before April 1, 1952 on the relevance of the research to the problems of peace.

The project is intended to open the eyes of authorities to the "lamentably low level" of investment in this field of study, according to Erik Rinde, chairman of the board for the institute. Contestants are expected to look into conditions for establishing a "science of peaceful adjustment," and to outline ways to integrate such a science from already existing social sciences. Principal aim of the project will be to "muster scientific resources for research on con-

Government Printing Office Dangerous Place For Writer

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON — (AP) — What's the most dangerous place in Washington?

As far as this danger-seeker is concerned, there's only one possible answer. The most dangerous place in Washington for me is the government printing office.

This may surprise the people who work there. It — the part I'm talking about, anyway — is a big middle and row after row of government publications neatly displayed on all sides.

Dangerous? Well, it may look to some visitors like the lobby of a religious publishing house. But to me it's about as safe to go there as it would be to enter a Chinese Communist opium den waving the Stars and Stripes while disguised as Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

I have to go there three or four times a year to pick up some much fascinating piece of literature as the Statistical Abstract of the United States, and I never get out of the place without having put my bank account, my wife's security and what is humorously called my career into serious danger.

It's those dangd books that do it. You see, the government puts out all sorts of little books on all manner of big subjects, from foreign policy to the best way to cook farina. Most of these I can take or leave alone. But the how-to-do-it books get me. I'm their slave.

Tyler Takes Bunting
TYLER — (AP) — A 59-35 victory over Cameron State last night gave Tyler Junior College the Big Six Basketball Conference championship.

"How to Raise Chinchillas," for example.

I know I shouldn't pick it up. I try to stride purposefully past. But it's like the bottle to the drunkard. I sink back, extract it furtively from the rack and take a long, deep, satisfying swig. Then I'm lost to the world for 10 minutes.

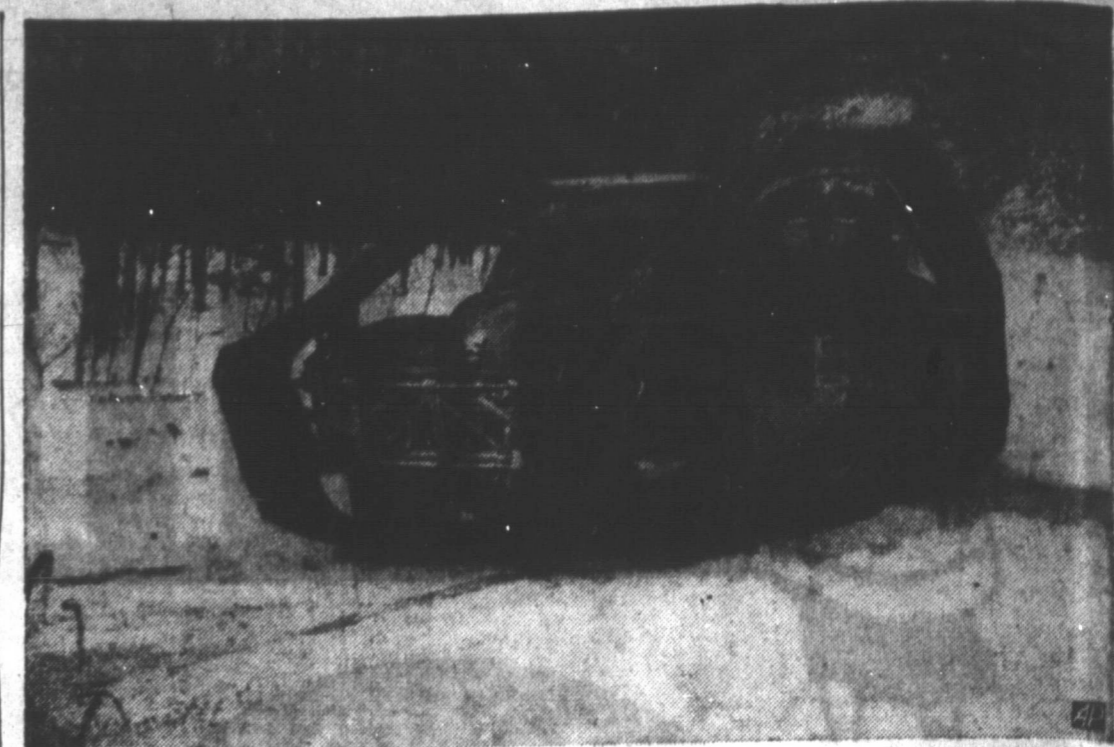

I see myself as a chinchilla rancher... tanned, toughened, 20 pounds lighter. There I am, all-bouted against the sunset, calmly surveying the furry little money-makers that are breeding all over the ranch. I see myself stitching together a few dozen hides for my wife. She could use a fur coat, poor girl. So why not chinchilla? "Come, Come," I tell myself, "this isn't practical. You have a job to do. You'd lose your shirt raising chinchillas."

It doesn't help though. Those government booklets make it sound so easy, so attractive, job or no job, for two cents I'd...

It isn't only chinchillas. In imagination, I turn cotton-planter... oyster-picker... transport pilot... under the spell of those how-to-do-it books. Frequently I'm a yachtman, for 12 pages or so. Spice that mainsail, bo'sun. Unshiver that timber?

Sooner or later the pressure of time or a meaningful harrumph from one of the attendants, snaps me back into reality. The chinchilla ranch fades, the sails of the dream-yacht drop. I'm just a newspaper guy again, goofing off on an assignment.

But someday... I've got to keep away from that government printing office. Or someday I will kick off the traces. And I don't think my wife would like living on a chinchilla ranch, even if I promised to grow her a new fur coat every Christmas.

U.S. Housewives Have Hand In Controlling Price On Meat

"You should have seen the size 6 1/2 that came in yesterday!"

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The housewife herself may get results soon in the matter of controlling meat prices.

Agriculture department officials say they expect retail prices of some cuts of meat—particularly beef and veal—to decline possibly five to ten cents a pound by the weekend.

This expectation was based on reports of consumer resistance to current prices.

This resistance, coupled with Lenten season abstention from meat, was said to be causing heavier than normal accumulations of fresh meat by wholesale.

The department said demand for dressed meats during the past two weeks had eased off considerably in resistance to prices. A department report added:

"The overall volume of meats moving into consumer channels was below normal during the past two weeks. Hotel and restaurant supply houses experienced one of the slowest weeks in recent months and sellers found difficulty in moving good and choice loins and ribs."

Officials said that when meat stocks tend to pile up, distributors usually reduce prices.

A reduction in prices now would enable retailers to pass out special price offers in weekend grocery advertisements to attract consumers back to counters.

Officials said that after the Office of Price Stabilization issued its price freeze order in January, the meat industry generally raised prices to highest possible levels allowed under the order.

Evidence of consumer resistance began to appear shortly thereafter, officials said, and reached noticeable proportions by the past weekend.

Meat and livestock prices are very sensitive, officials noted, to consumer buying habits and practices. Because consumers have been buying less meat recently, slaughterers last week began to pay lower prices for beef cattle and hogs.

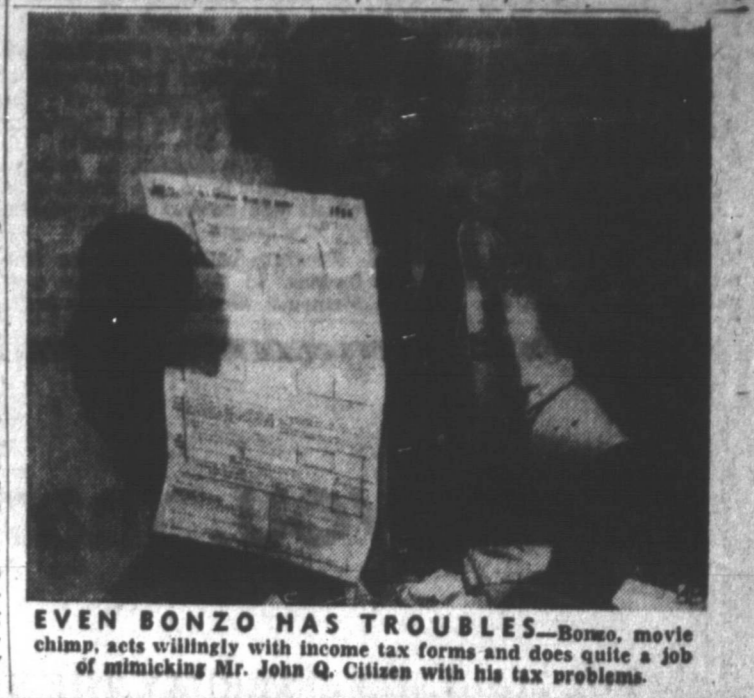

Officials emphasized, however, that no big drop in meat prices is to be expected because consumers have a lot of money available for purchase of food. Of course, the industry soon will move into a spring season of heavy livestock marketing and increased meat supplies. Prices normally decline during this season, but go up again during the summer, when livestock sales drop off.

Pork from hogs that have been fed sugar and then allowed to rest 12 to 24 hours before being slaughtered lasts longer in storage than meat from hogs that are tired when killed.

Liner Passengers Protest Publicity

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — Some of the passengers on the round-the-world liner Caronia stepped ashore here recently when the ship docked and said they were unhappy about the ship's reputation as being on a "millionaire's cruise."

Lewis Cole, owner of a chain of Kentucky self-service stores referred to newspaper reports which have called the Caronia the "millionaire liner" and stated that all the passengers were "nice people who do not like all the money publicity." He added that while the ship was certainly not making a poor man's trip, the big percentage of passengers were far from being millionaires. The Caronia is carrying 233 passengers, mostly Americans, on a 104-day cruise.

Ten Percent Raise Order Has Limits

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A boss now can raise the pay of his employees — generally — 10 percent. Permission to do this was given Tuesday by the government in unfreezing just a bit more of the big freeze it slapped on all wages last January. This government ruling doesn't mean a boss has to raise his employees. It didn't say a boss has to raise anybody a dime. All it means is that if a boss wants to — or if a union his workers can persuade him to — then:

He can raise them up to 10 percent above what their pay was on Jan. 15, 1950. Officials here have estimated only 3,000,000 workers have had wage increases of 10 percent or more since Jan. 1950. So another 40,000,000 or so can get 10 percent more than they were making on Jan. 15, 1950 — if the boss wants to give it to them. What last night's ruling means is across-the-board or general increases in a plant or unit or industry. For example: Jones has 100 machinists working in his plant. Last June he raised them eight percent over what they were getting Jan. 15, 1950. They've had no raise since. Now if Jones wants to give them a further raise all he can give is another two percent over what they were making Jan. 15, 1950, making a total increase of 10 percent since that date.

The ruling was announced by Eric Johnston, boss of the Economic Stabilization Agency, which means boss of wages and prices. He said it has the effect of law. So any boss who wants to give the 10 percent increase explained here can do so without asking permission of the Wage Stabilization Board, which is part of Johnston's setup. Until that time no general increase of any amount could be given. But what does it mean: 10 percent increase over the pay a man was getting Jan. 15, 1950? For example: does it mean the total money in his pay — check for the week ending Jan. 15, 1950?

No, for that paycheck may have contained overtime pay. The ruling means, in brief, an employee's regular pay for doing a job. Overtime would not be considered part of the regular pay. Nor would an employer's contributions to a pension, welfare or insurance fund be considered regular pay on Jan. 15, 1950. But right here another question comes to mind: can a boss who gives his employees this general 10 percent increase, now allowed, also give some of those same employees an additional increase in the form of a merit raise?

For example: Jones might give those 100 machinists a total 10 percent boost over their pay for Jan. 15, 1950. But because he particularly prizes three or four of them, he'd like to give them in addition, a merit raise. For those three or four the net result might be a total increase of 15 or even 25 percent over what they were paid Jan. 15, 1950. Can Jones do it? The best single answer, if this involves you, is this: you'd better ask the Wage Stabilization Board before you try to pile a merit increase on top of the permitted 10 percent general increase.

If you don't first check with the board, you may discover later that you've violated the law without realizing it. This will try to explain why: On Feb. 2, 1951 the WSB, in loosening up on the wage freeze, said it was all right for a boss to grant merit raises.

But — the boss couldn't just start handing out merit raises all over the place. Not by a long sight. The WSB laid down a list of rules under which such merit raises could be given. And if you, an employer, didn't fit those rules, you couldn't start tossing out merit raises. These rules laid down by WSB were a yardstick too complicated to be explained in the brief space here. And if you try to interpret that yardstick, without expert advice such as WSB can best give, you may be wrong and violate the law. For example: If you hadn't in the past given out merit raises but now suddenly decided you wanted to, WSB undoubtedly would say no. What you did about merit raises in the past is a big part of WSB's rules and a guide for what you can do in the future.

Since this is a general story on the 10 percent increase, it hasn't dealt with such things as "fringe benefits," meaning things like pensions and welfare plans which some bosses write into contracts with unions. That's a problem which Johnston asked WSB to iron out quickly. Meanwhile, board or no board, Johnston's ruling on permission to raise wages 10 percent above Jan. 15, 1950 stands.

Student Nurse Will Continue Her Work In Spite Of Illness

HOUSTON — (AP) — Evelyn Crutcher, a determined young girl of 19, expects to become a registered nurse within a few weeks. Evelyn finished her three-year training course last month at the city-county hospital, but has about three months work to make up—time lost when she was ill. A year ago doctors advised the girl with a dimpled smile she has Hodgkin's disease — an ailment characterized by enlargement of the sympathetic glands and spleen—with progressive anemia. "They told me it was chronic and there was no cure for it," Evelyn explains. At first she wanted to give up. Why become a nurse? What did ambition or anything matter now? But she kept on studying, making her rounds at the hospital, at first mechanically, but gradually forgetting herself in the plight of her patients. She says she will continue to help others sicker than "I am." The name "meerschbaum" is German for "seafoam" which it resembles. It is found as a wet mass buried in clayey earth and when brought to the surface may be cut with a knife, but when dried is light enough to float on water. Read The News Classified Ads.

'Great Promise' Is Seen For Operation To Relieve Arteries

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Cleveland professor reports "great promise" for a new heart operation to relieve coronary thrombosis.

Latest word on the operation — which switches blood from the coronary arteries to the heart vein — comes from Dr. Claude S. Beck, professor of neurosurgery at Western Reserve University school of medicine.

Dr. Beck reported on the new surgery to the New York Heart Association.

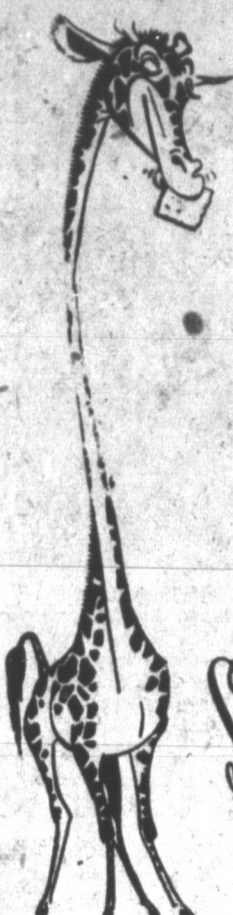

The technique is being used in Cleveland, on patients suffering from disease of the coronary arteries, which feed the heart muscle.

Reporting on the new effort to overcome a disease which kills more people than cancer, Dr. Beck said:

"The technical difficulties of doing the operation . . . have not been entirely overcome, but good teamwork and repetition have made the operation reasonable and feasible."

He added that more time will be needed to prove the benefits of the operation.

U.S. Will Have 6 Presidents In '52—So Swami Predicts

By ED CREAUGH

WASHINGTON — (AP) — You can stop wondering what the future holds. I'm in a position to tell you.

For instance: Joe Stalin will become a monk. The United States will have six presidents at once. And I'm going to be rich — or am I?

A swami tells me these things for a penny a prediction. There's a whole row of swamis (which are a new kind of slot machine with "Swami" on the front of them) in the drug store around the corner.

To operate the swami: Your question must be one that can be answered "Yes" or "No" although the swami has a much larger vocabulary than that. He'll give you any of about 20 answers.

Ask your question, drop in your penny and up comes your answer on a white card.

I was a mite skeptical, so I tried a test question: "Is this machine honest?" Click - click, and up came the answer: "You may rely on it."

I started spending pennies in earnest. (This particular swami's first name is Earnest). Here are some results:

Q. Will Truman be president in 1952?
A. As I see it, yes.

Q. If Eisenhower runs against him in 1952, will Ike win?
A. You may rely on it.

Q. How about Taft? Could he beat Truman?

A. Without a doubt. Same answer, more or less, for three other possible candidates.

Q. You mean they're all going to be president at once?
A. Signs point to Yes. I turned to foreign affairs:

Q. Does Joe Stalin love us?
A. You may rely on it.

Q. Would Stalin like to be hit by an atom bomb?
A. The stars say yes.

Q. Will Stalin become a monk?
A. Outlook good.

Frankly, I was beginning to lose confidence, so I switched my patronage to the next swami.

Q. Am I going to make more money in 1951?
A. Reply hazy. Ask again.

Q. So I'm asking again.
A. Better not tell you now.

Q. Quit stalling. Am I?
A. Time will tell.

Shamrock Lassies Open With Lockney Tonight At McLean

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach Scott McCall's Irish Lassies, runners-up to McLean in the District 2-A finals two weeks ago, collide with the Lockney girls in round one of the Regional 1-A playoff at McLean tonight.

The Irish girls play at 8:30, following the opening combat between the Canyon Eagle girls and the Spur Bulldogettes. Dalhart and McLean, both tough combatants as District 2-A and 1-A champs, both drew byes in the single-elimination playoffs, which includes only six teams (champs and runners-up in all Panhandle districts except 4-A, which has no girl entrants).

Lockney Longhorn girls, 3-A champs, are an unknown quantity, according to the information of Coach McCall. They are champs in their area, but 3-A is considered a weaker district in sports than either 2-A or 1-A. Should McCall's Lassies get by Lockney, they will meet McLean in round 2. The Tigerettes disposed of the Lassies in the district finals two weeks ago by 46-18, but the Irish girls were off that night, having played the McLean crew a 31-25 nip and tuck battle earlier this year.

After beating Lockney, they would be assured of playing in Paint near the temperature of steam is applied by spray in a new "hot spray" process, for which the necessary heating equipment now has been developed. the consolation finals Saturday night. Friday night Dalhart's girls take off after the winner of Canyon-Spur, Canyon is District 1-A runnerup, while Spur is runnerup in 3-A. Best bet is that Dalhart and McLean will collide in the finals Saturday night at 8:30. Consolation finalists might be any of the four underdogs: Shamrock, Spur, Lockney, Canyon. The fact that the Irish and McLean are playing on familiar courts and in their own area might be a factor.

Keep Good Habits Of Diet; Slender Person Has More Fun

By ANN WILLIAMS-HELLER
Written for NEA Service

There can be no doubt that the slim person lives a healthier, longer life than the stout person. She feels better and has more fun, too. Therefore, once good food habits are formed, you'll want to keep them.

Remember, then, to distribute your daily food intake evenly among the day's three meals. You aren't going to want to continue losing weight but you do want to maintain your weight at an even keel. You don't want to slip back into your former bad habits and gain back what you've lost.

So, have a hearty breakfast each day. You're ready for a good meal after the night's fast. This probably doesn't fall in with your former habits, when you either went without breakfast or had just fruit juice and coffee in hope of keeping your weight down. A good breakfast will keep you from a mid-morning sweet roll and coffee with cream.

Have an ample luncheon and you won't work through the afternoon feeling tired and hungry. Then you will have the remaining one-third of your daily quota for dinner, which should not be served too late at night.

While you need plenty of water at all times, don't drink large amounts at meals and don't use liquids to wash down your foods.

And finally, be firm about disciplining yourself in the matter of sugars, starches and fats!

SEVENTH DAY (CONCLUSION)

Some time during day: one teaspoon cod-liver oil (or equivalent in capsule form) with one salted cracker.

Correctly Shaped Glasses Can Add To The Illusion Of Women's Beauty

These glasses are beauty aids as well as sight-assisters. Frames highlighted with vertical trim in center (left) give illusion of slenderness to broad-bridged nose. Glasses beautified with horizontal ornamentation add apparent width to thin-bridged nose (right).

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If you think your eye glasses don't do you justice, perhaps you should study the problem. Actually, they can serve just as cosmetic a purpose as your favorite lipstick.

Since illusion is such an important part of feminine beauty, there's no reason why it shouldn't extend to your glasses. Correctly shaped and ornamented glasses can seemingly correct many faults of nature.

For those whose features fall short of perfection, here are some hints on the selection of glasses worked out by a well-known optician.

First, examine your nose impartially. If your bridge is broad, your entire nose is likely to look heavy and blunt. Glasses with ornamentation placed vertically on their bridge create an illusion of a narrower line. Your nose appears slimmer and more graceful.

If your difficulty, on the other hand, is a too-narrow bridge which makes your eyes look close-set and your nose pinched, try horizontal ornamentation to widen the apparent distance between your eyes.

For noses of average length, this ornamentation should be limited to an attractive trim along the upper frame and the temple piece. If, however, you have a too-long nose as well as a narrow bridge, you can give it a softer appearance by choosing glasses which also feature horizontal ornamentation across the bridge.

If your nose is prominent, avoid trim across the center of your glasses. Select, instead, a frame with important side ornaments to focus attention away from your nose.

A different sort of problem is presented by short, snub noses. If your glasses appear over-sized and tend to give you an owl-eyed look, try this corrective measure. Choose frames with ornamentation at the sides of the bridge, to create a long line downward toward the tip of your nose. It's a good idea, too, to choose a delicate trim, such as a pierced, cobweb-like design.

Wayside HD Club Studies Curtains

The home of Mrs. Clint Cuyler was meeting place for the Wayside Home Demonstration Club with Mrs. J. S. Fuqua in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Mary Anne Duke, agent, who gave a demonstration on window treatment, showed drapery materials for plain or elaborate rooms. She said that cheap muslin on denim could be made into curtains very successfully by using it plentifully, and that it may then be used for some other purpose when a change in curtains is desired.

Roll call was answered with "a curtain problem." The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. B. Carruth on March 9.

Those attending were Mrs. A. B. Carruth, Mrs. Ed Barnes, Mrs. Lowell Osborne, Mrs. Ernest Edwards, Mrs. Jim Chase, Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. W. R. Dunn, Mrs. Irene Osborne, Mrs. J. T. Rogers, Mrs. W. A. Greene, Mrs. Guss Greene and one visitor, Mrs. Don Walberg. A club party will be given in the club house Friday, March 2.

Want Piece Of White House? You'll Have To Wait For It

FORT MYER, Va. —(AP)— Yes, you still can get a piece of the White House to put on your mantle. Or make into book-ends. Or stuff into the closet you've been meaning to straighten out when you get around to it.

But don't be in a hurry. Write in if you want to, but next week will do just as well, the week after next would be better and some time late next month would be better still.

That's the word from a hard-pressed little organization known as the Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion, which finds itself in the mail-order business of selling the public such things as bricks, nails and pieces of wood from the house where our presidents live.

These things are the left-overs from the big job of rebuilding the White House to keep it from tumbling down on the head of the present occupant. There are tons of stuff which would be just junk if it came from most old buildings. Coming from the White House, it's a mass of historical souvenirs.

With some misgivings, the commission decided to sell these presidential keepsakes on a non-profit basis. It is announced this plan in the middle of last month. So far, some 30,000 inquiries have flooded in and they're still coming. A staff of eight people here at Fort Myer, across the Potomac from Washington, is trying to cope with them.

Naturally, these people are behind in their work. They'd just as soon nobody else wrote in for a while. And there doesn't seem to be any hurry about writing. There's a big pile, tons upon tons, of historic rubble to be disposed of, and it's not likely that late-comers will find it all gone.

Among those who already have written in, more want bricks than want anything else. This is lucky because lots of bricks are available — 200,000 or so. They're not in the best of condition but they'll do nicely for paperweights. Or, for a round $100, you can buy enough White House bricks to face a fireplace.

All told, there are 13 kinds of souvenirs for sale. Among them are pieces of stone that could be carved into bookends, small pieces of hand-split lath that could be cut into letter-openers, and square nails that sound like just the thing for driving into a square hole.

Applications for these trinkets have come from all parts of the country. The largest number — nobody knows why — have come from such north-central states as Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

If you want a White House souvenir yourself, write to "The Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion, Fort Myer, Va." Don't send any money — they'll mail you an application blank when they can get around to it. The blank will tell you what's to be had and how much it will cost.

Prices range from 25 cents up. All merchandise sold "as is," and most of it is in pretty sad shape. Terms: cash in advance, after you've received the application form. Don't send currency — a postal note or money order will do. You pay the postage. All the money that comes in goes for packing and other costs.

One last last word: don't say I sent you. There are a couple of girl clerks, up to their eyelashes in letters, who would never forgive me for drumming them up more business.

SPECK SPECULATES
By SPECK REYNOLDS

The basketball contest, Chiefs vs. Dowells, is still in the hands of the match-maker. I decided to let Bob Dowells cool his heels before suggesting a game between the Chiefs and the Amarillo Cafemen.

It would be quite a roundball battle if this tilt could be scheduled. I would extend a special invitation to the AAU Committee, and maybe we could get Les Kilgore to officiate the contest.

The Pampa Jaycees want to sponsor the basketball tilt between the Amarillo and Pampa AAU outcasts. The game would be a sellout.

Jim Arndt was just ready to prove the Chiefs were innocent of breaking AAU rules when the bombshell hit at the Monday meeting in the Amarillo Youth Center. It seems the conversation got side tracked, and we got talking about the Graham-Hoeme Plowboys playing the Hooker-Vandergriff cagers. Then someone mentioned the AAU rule prohibiting amateur cagers from taking money for officiating. Within five minutes every AAU Panhandle team was declared ineligible.

The AAU Committee selected Wayland College to represent this area in the state tournament at San Antonio, March 8-10. It so happens that the committee can name two teams to represent this part of Texas. I believe they should have tabbed the Chiefs as the second quintet to make the San Antonio journey.

When the AAU Committee declared every AAU basketball team in the Panhandle ineligible, they weren't talking about our Chiefs. We never did decide at the Monday meeting whether the Chiefs are eligible to play in the state tournament in Amarillo.

If the Amarillo committee should hold another meeting and pick the Chiefs as the second team, I would say that Amarillo is a fair city.

Longhorn League To Hold Meet March 11

BIG SPRING (AP) — A Longhorn League meeting here March 11 will be to discuss a proposed change in the veteran player's limit.

At an earlier meeting the league set limits of five veterans, seven limited service men and three rookies but some club owners want the veteran limit boosted due to the draft threat to younger players in the rookie class.

Grid Clinic Starts At TCU Tomorrow

FORT WORTH (AP) — The second annual football clinic at Texas Christian University tomorrow and Saturday is expected to attract about 200 coaches.

Head Coaches L. R. Meyer of TCU and J. B. Whitworth of Oklahoma A&M will do the lecturing.

Cisco Cagers Tumble

DENTON (AP) — Howard County Junior College of Big Spring kicked Cisco Junior College, 63-52, last night to win the Texas Junior College Conference basketball championship.

Lon Morris of Jacksonville won third place by beating Henderson County of Athens, 62-62.

OU Prexy Cracks Down On Sooner Athletes Gambling

NORMAN (AP) — Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, today promised a rigid crackdown on Sooner athletes caught betting on sporting events.

Dr. Cross threatened to bar the athletes from future university competition after seeing published reports that parlay cards have been displayed in the athletic dormitory and players openly discuss betting both on basketball and football games.

"I don't know to what extent athletes bet on contests," the president said, "but I am going to suggest to Athletic Director Bud Wilkinson that any athlete caught betting on athletic events or using parlay cards be barred from future competition."

Wilkinson was out of town today and could not be reached for comment.

The Daily Oklahoman said today in a story by reporter Glenn Wilson that betting among Oklahoma athletes is commonplace.

The newspaper said a prominent Sooner football player distributed parlay cards in the athletic dormitory during the 1950 season. Side bets also have been placed by many players on big SPTS 3-48 cod OU PREXY ...

"Sometimes the side bets are between squad members but on big games both basketball and football — bets with outsiders also have been placed," the Daily Oklahoman story continued.

"Usually the bets aren't too much, ranging from $5 to $25, although at times someone will bet $100 on an important game."

"The football team of 1948 probably made the most money betting when it upset Missouri at Norman and North Carolina in the Sugar Bowl, entering both games as the underdog."

Tarbet Picked On All-Regional Five

SHAMROCK (Special) — Vernon Tarbet, Irish star guard, has been named to the All-Regional Class A basketball team.

Tarbet, senior veteran of three roundball campaigns, led his team victoriously in the Regional playoff at Tulsa, where the Irish were eliminated in round one by the potent Phillips Blackhawks, eventual second place winners, 45-28.

Tarbet will graduate in May, after winning high honors in football. He was an all-district halfback as the Irish won the bi-district playoff with Hereford at Pampa and went to the Regional finals against the Levelland Lobos, losing 34-14, at Amarillo.

Fans will remember the 92-yard kickoff TD Tarbet scored on the opening kickoff against Hereford. They could not understand why the Irish halfback didn't make all-regional out of 16 backs selected.

But the plucky Irishman came back in basketball to place on the all-district team and then to win regional honors at Tulsa. His season basketball total is 327 points, in 26 games, a 12-point average.

He was all-district, too, in 1950, when the Irish again played in the regional, but didn't make the regional crew last year.

If, as Shakespeare says, consistency is a jewel, Tarbet wins the laurels. He scored consistently from 10 to 18 points per basketball game. His floor play was quite good, his teamwork excellent.

But he had help. Coach McCall found a great combination near the end of the season — Vaughn Terry, Mack Terry, Harris, Tarbet and Van Pennington. They did all right, too.

North Texas State Is Loop Champ

(By The Associated Press)

North Texas State has the Gulf Coast Conference championship in hand and is ready for a post-season basketball tournament.

The Eagles last week won the title by beating Trinity 63-58 in the last conference game of the season.

North Texas wound up with a 3-1 record. Midwestern was second with 2-2 and Trinity last with 1-3.

North Texas also beat University of Houston 60-37 to indicate the Eagles are as good as they come in the state.

SWC Officials Make Plans For Cage Playoff

AUSTIN (AP) — A playoff between Texas, Texas Christian and Texas A&M for a place in the NCAA Basketball Tournament in Kansas City is being arranged here today.

Abb Curtis, supervisor of Southwest Conference Officials, was due to arrive here about noon for an immediate meeting with coaches of the three schools.

The trio ended in a tie for the conference basketball championship. One must be picked as the conference's automatic entry in the NCAA tournament.

Plans for the playoff are being made regardless of how members of the Texas squad vote on competing in the playoff. Texas officials said yesterday Texas would not join the playoff unless team members voted to do so. A team vote on the matter was postponed until today.

Curtis said a coin flip would decide which team would draw a bye. The winner of the game between the other two teams would play the bye team in a three-game series.

A coin flip also will allow one team to choose between one game at home and two away or the first game away from home and the next two at home.

Curtis said the possibility of Texas withdrawing would not change playoff plans materially. "We only set up the machinery for a playoff and if Texas doesn't care to participate, it can forfeit and the other two teams can play," he said.

Cross' crackdown on betting came only a few hours after he officially cleared six Oklahoma basketball players of any connection with the Eastern basketball fix scandal.

The president in a statement said there was no evidence a bribe was offered or accepted. He said Salvatore Sollazzo, accused of giving bribes to New York basketball players, apparently only made social overtures to four Oklahoma players.

Fort Worth Team Leads At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Golden Gloves light-heavyweight division today had two more dynamic-punching lads glistening as bright pro prospects.

They are defending 175-pound champion Jesse Brown of Toledo, Ohio, and Richard Jones, an army corporal from Fort Custer, Mich., who seem destined to meet for the 175-pound crown in the Golden Gloves finals at the Chicago Stadium March 9.

Brown and Jones, who represents the Grand Rapids, Mich., night as quarterfinal competition produced 32 survivors for the combined semifinal and title rounds on March 9.

Jones, a 22-year-old from Mt. Vernon, N.Y., scored two technical knockouts in his third and fourth stadium starts last night.

Brown, a stocky two-fisted brawler, won his quarterfinal bout with a third-round technical knockout over Eddie Schmidt of Minneapolis in a Pier Six brawl.

The two stole the show from a lack-luster heavyweight class in which Chicago's Toxey Hall and Cleveland's Ernest Fann seemed the best of a plodding surviving quarter.

Matching Brown the only other returning champion, Cleveland's Nate Brooks, advanced to the semifinals in impressive fashion. Brooks, the 112-pound veteran last year, was heavily favored to capture the 118-pound crown after James Hairston of Kansas City.

Other standout semifinalists included 112-pound Pat Riley, rangy southpaw from Fort Worth, 126-pound Junior Franklin of Oklahoma City, 1950 finalist, Jerry Growridge of Oklahoma City, and Bobby Bickle of Kansas City at 135 pounds; Detroit's Eddie Jenkins at 147; and Chicago's Dick Guerrero, 1948 and 1949 welter champion at 160 pounds.

Fort Worth led the team standings on a point basis (one point for each bout won) with 18. Gary, Ind., Fort Worth and Toledo each had three semifinalists. Second in the point standings with 16 each were Cleveland, Gary, and Great Lakes, 111, while Toledo had 15 and Grand Rapids, Mich., and Kansas City 13 apiece.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — A gent who usually knows the score in college baseball predicts: "from now on, all prominent college ball players who are signed before the competition is over will receive huge sums." And he really may have something there.

The major league clubs never say just how big a bonus they pay a kid, but they manage to let it leak out somehow, and if it leaks that a lad is collecting $65,000, his college coach could hardly squawk about losing him. Our informant adds that if Texas Ben Tompkins received more than $50,000 (the papers said $50,000), the Phillies got stuck because the lad is just an ordinary college ball player.

Another example cited is a freshman first baseman who supposedly was given "a good bonus" — which actually was a promise of something if he makes good. On the other hand, it seems the pros treated the U. of Alabama squarely enough on the three pitching lary brothers. The Tigers signed sophomore Frank, youngest of the trio, last spring, but Al and Ed are back on the campus this spring.

Cliff Baker, Indianapolis Olympians player-coach, gets a few laughs from the pro basketball mob by telling how he once silenced Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp. "Spotting what looked like a bad mistake, Adolph asked: 'Barker, how come you always go down the middle? Why don't you ever go down the side?' ... Replied Cliff: 'You're sitting on me side of the floor and when I go past, you give me heck. My wife is on the other side and when I go that way, she give me heck. So I just go down the middle to keep away from both of you.'

Jack Russell of the football Yanks is working with the Baylor U. ends during spring practice and his coaching, plus three bright prospects, (Harold Riley, Stan Williams and Bob Trout), make things look good for the Bears next fall. And don't overlook quarterback Larry Isbell, who looks better than ever this spring.

Robin Roberts, the Phillies phlinger, did a lot of work in the U. of Michigan field house during the early winter under the eye of his former Northern League coach, Ray Fisher. ... And did you notice that when seven coaches were screened for the Ohio State U. job, two of them came from the up-and-coming Mid-American Conference?

The Harlem Globetrotters, playing to sellout crowds in three cities of assorted sizes — Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis — drew 35,000 fans last weekend.

Ward Haylett, Kansas State track coach, stages three-legged races in the locker room on rainy days to keep his athletes in shape.

Ward now is campaigning to have that event added to the Big Seven indoor program because "we might win that" ... arriving at the Dodgers camp with his bride, infielder Bobby Morgan inquired: "For two years Mr. Ricksey was after me to get married. Now that I am, he's gone and I'm left with the complete responsibility."

Boys Club Swatsmiths Fight Shamrock Cloulers Saturday

Pampa's Boys Club boxing team snapped through a two-hour drill Wednesday night in the White Building. Coach T. J. Watt is priming his cloulers for their toughest fight of the year. The big date for the local punchers is 8 o'clock Saturday night in the junior high gym, and the worthy foe is the Shamrock Irish boxing team.

Shamrock and Pampa shot gloves at each other in Shamrock recently and the score ended 7-7 after the final round was sounded. Pampa and Shamrock also fought a nip-and-tuck battle at the Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves. The two potent boxing clubs finished almost in a dead heat for the team trophy, but the Irish edged the Pampans, 22-21.

The Irish have been having trouble matching fights for Billy Campbell, 135-pound rugged fighter. In what should be the top bout of the evening, Bobby Wilhelm, 135-pound Regional Golden Gloves winner, will engage the powerful Campbell. Wilhelm and Campbell have crawled through the ropes twice this year and slugged it out. The Irish swinger won a decision in the first meeting, but the polished Pampa puncher got revenge in the second outing. Wilhelm TKO'd Campbell in the second fight.

If they fight like they did at Shamrock, Dick Murray and Billy Pavlosky will put on a real show for the fans. The two 160-pound swatsmiths exchanged cannon shots at each other at Shamrock, but Murray of Pampa finally won the decision. It was the crowd pleaser of the night.

Approximately 15 bouts are scheduled for the Saturday night boxing show.

Death Stalks Our Streets

Since 1900, when the motor car was merely an annoyance to horses, nearly 964,000 men, women and children have died in traffic accidents in this country.

The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, looking ahead, estimates that the second million of traffic deaths will be completed in 30 years rather than 50.

Isn't it time we dispensed with half-hearted measures and really got down to cases in facing this terrible toll?

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Any corporation which donates money belonging to its stockholders to pay for advertisements promoting the purchase of government bonds on the pretense that such bonds are a good investment, is either a party to a confidence game or a victim of stupid management.

I am not kidding. The Treasury impudently me several times to act as runner for a swindle which was operating through the sale of bonds to our commonality. Usually, the fast talk to the suckers was pitched in the mood of patriotism.

We learned afterward that some unconscionable fakers, who had publicly bought large amounts in theatres, sometimes being permitted to kiss an actress or take even more interesting public liberties with some of the freedom's name, turned them back next morning and got public credit for a high degree of patriotism.

The Treasury appealed to me to become a partner in a crime because I had access to a wide expanse of white paper. It presumed that the seeming of patriotism would justify a deception on those who had confidence in my intelligence and integrity.

It is all right to appeal to people to buy bonds as a patriotic contribution. But it is fraud to tell them that these bonds, at maturity, will provide them with security for their old age.

One Worldism

Today I complete the article on One Worldism from "Analysis" magazine, written by Frank Crowder.

"Now, if the business of the State is to cause friction within any given segment of Society, any one country, by what logic can it be shown that a World-State will prevent friction? If a small State is as evil, as the One-Worlders insist, why should a big State be as good? Can an institution that is essentially anti-social be made pro-social by enlargement? No matter how high the totem pole it is not God.

"Reason and fact are at great disadvantage in confronting blind faith, and those who worship at the shrine of authoritarianism will not be shaken by argument. Yet, one cannot help asking how the Super-State will employ its army; the worshippers admit that an army is necessary to its proper functioning. The army will certainly be used to suppress something, to stop some people from doing something that to them seems good.

"Or if it is decided that the world has too much oil—the 'over-production' theory—will the army be sent to Texas or to Iran to shut down the 'excess' wells? When such frictional situations are brought up, the devotees of authoritarianism answer that everything will be resolved by the 'democratic' process—a process that has never stopped war.

"One Worldism is not an impossible ideal; but, it is not attainable through the medium of political power. On the contrary, the organization of the world into a single Society—which is what the One Worlders really want—can be accomplished only if people can rid themselves of the fetish of authoritarianism. If men could come to a belief in themselves, if they could lose faith in the golden calf of politics, if they could once reach the maturity of manhood, the law of association would do the rest.

"Our own country furnishes an illustration. In the beginning, before Americans had been completely converted to this political paganism, it was stipulated that their market place shall be as large as the country; the erection of trade barriers between the component commonwealths was prohibited.

"Let us look at a contrary example, Europe, which, outside of Russia, compares in size with the United States, is cross-checked with tariff barriers, and Europe has a battlemented century.

FAMINE, FAITH, AND FACTS! The government of India has appealed to this nation for a donation of $200,000,000 worth of United States wheat.

Mr. Lippmann cites all the facts on this emergency which the Indian government has presented, such as floods, drought, earthquake, and locusts, and then he adds: "Failure to provide the food can be due only to one reason—an intention to use the granting and withholding of the food as an instrument of diplomatic pressure upon a government with which we happen at the moment to be disagreeing. That is something we ought not to do. It is beneath us."

Others point to India's allocation of 50% of her budget to "defense," when the only "aggressor" Mr. Nehru professes to see in Asia—is Pakistan! Still others insist that India could trade the United States some much-needed manganese in exchange for grain.

Other voices have also entered the controversy. Some Americans claim that such a gift would seriously deplete our reserve stocks of grain. Others point to India's allocation of 50% of her budget to "defense," when the only "aggressor" Mr. Nehru professes to see in Asia—is Pakistan! Thoughts

What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.—I. Cor. 14:18.

For the most part, we should pray rather in aspiration than in petition, rather by hoping than by requesting; in which spirit also we may breathe a devout wish for a blessing on others upon occasions when it might be presumptuous to beg it.—Leigh Hunt.

Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that we may increase mightily, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.—Deut. 6:3.

The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eternity is that you believe what the Bible bids you, and do what the Bible bids you.—Chalmers.

Strength and honour are her clothing; she shall rejoice in time to come.—Proverbs 31:25.

Honest and courageous people have very little to say about either their courage or their honesty. The sun has no need to boast of her brightness, nor the moon of her effulgence.—Hosea Ballou.

Religion is the fear of God, and its demonstration good works; and faith is the root of both: "For without faith we cannot please God;" nor can we fear what we do not believe.—William Penn.

Britain in devaluating her currency in 1949, Pakistan did not do so, with the result that prices of Pakistan's exports in terms of the Indian rupee rose between 30 and 40 percent. Replying to this, Pakistan claims that her prices were still below those which India paid for Australian and Argentine grain. She also asserts that she now has a surplus of 350,000 tons of rice which India could purchase, and anticipates another surplus of 150,000 tons out of the coming wheat crop this May and June. Furthermore, charges Pakistan, India, in an effort to make herself "totally independent" of Pakistan's jute and cotton, has diverted some of her food-producing land to these crops.

All in all, the problem may be considerably more complicated than Mr. Lippmann implies, particularly since Pakistan insists that any American gift of food to India would put our country's resources behind India's campaign to throttle tiny Pakistan's economy. If this claim is true, then a "humanitarian" gesture on our part toward India, might be a quite "unhumanitarian" gesture toward Pakistan.

Other voices have also entered the controversy. Some Americans claim that such a gift would seriously deplete our reserve stocks of grain. Others point to India's allocation of 50% of her budget to "defense," when the only "aggressor" Mr. Nehru professes to see in Asia—is Pakistan! Still others insist that India could trade the United States some much-needed manganese in exchange for grain.

WHITE SAILS—Katuna is in the foreground of this picture, but top honors in the Miami-to-Nassau ocean race went to Revonoc. It was the Harvey Conover yacht's second victory, she having come down in front in 1947. Her elapsed time in the closest race in the history of the 184-mile event was 31:09:12, corrected 26:30:17. There was only one withdrawal, so 16 finished.

Staircases In Rome Making Henry Appreciate Elevators

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME — I don't want this to sound as if the works of Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, Bernini, Cellini, and the hundreds of other masters who contributed to the glories of Rome, are lost on me.

Because they are not.

I can wear myself to a frazzle traipsing from one masterpiece to another as fast as any other tourist.

But I do wish that among all these creative geniuses there had been at least one who cared only about creating elevators and escalators, and wanted no part of the brush or chisel. He would be my all-time Italian hero.

I am sure that my longing for an escalator instead of a statue or a fountain or a dome is due to the location of the hotel in which we are staying on this visit to Rome. It is the Villa Medici Massier, and it is smack at the top of the Spanish Staircase.

This magnificently beautiful horror of marble has 176 steps and I find myself having to descend and ascend it several times a day. No one could object to going down the staircase. It affords a beautiful view. In the distance is the dome of St. Peter's, and if you choose to walk on the left of the staircase you can pick a flower from the balcony of the home where Keats and Shelley lived, and throw a crumb to the doves which have a cote under the trellis.

The stairs end at the flower market of the Piazza di Spagna, where the spray from a fountain falls on violets, tulips, roses, almond blossoms, mimosa, and keeps green the grass around the palm trees in the Piazza.

In the morning, when I start out sightseeing or shopping, I scamper down the steps like a frisky, middle-aged lamb. The staircase doesn't seem any longer than a yard ruler.

But coming back is a staircase of another color.

Already weary from walking, and often laden with bundles, the staircase looms as formidable as Gibraltar. My conversation with myself runs something like this: "Get a taxi the long way

Whatley Outlines Red Cross Duties; Drive Opens Monday

"Duties of the American Red Cross are a thousand-fold and when an emergency arises, it is the first organization to be called for help," says Herman Whatley.

A number of the duties of the Red Cross have been outlined by Whatley, chairman of the Red Cross Drive, which opens officially Monday. The advance drive, which has been underway for over a week has brought in about $3000.

Red Cross volunteer workers are called in for relief work in such disasters as tornadoes,

The national budget for the organization this year is $85 million. For the Pampa chapter, $11,383 has been asked for 1951.

A kickoff breakfast for the official drive will be held Monday morning at 10 in the Palm Room with the volunteer workers meeting to receive instructions and make plans for the solicitation of funds.

Drug Stores School Opens Here Monday

Courses in fountain and luncheonette service and selling drug store merchandise will begin Monday at 9 a.m., according to Herman Foster, president of the Top of Texas Retail Druggist Assn.

The courses will be taught by Clark C. Cramer, drug store training specialist of the University of Texas, in the junior high school building. He has been responsible for the training of more than 2500 drug store people throughout the state.

Each of the two courses will be conducted for 10 hours in five two-hour class sessions.

Merchandise selling class will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. Wednesday and Friday of the first week; the same hours Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of the second week; and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday of the first week and Monday, Wednesday and Thursday of the second week.

Fountain training will be taught from 9 to 11 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday of the first week and Monday, Wednesday and Thursday of the second week; and night classes from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Wednesday

Nearly 90 percent of all farm products now go to initial markets in motor vehicles.

The classes are co-sponsored and approved by the Texas Pharmaceutical Assn. and the Top of Texas Retail Druggist Assn. and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

I've Got A Lovely Bunch Of "COCONUTS!"
You can sing it as loud as you like, but it won't sell those "coconuts" unless you advertise them.

THE STORY: The person who murdered Lavinia Grenable by sewing the knife in the woman's blouse to death in a matter, he most certainly someone very close to her. Lavinia, who has dominated her family for years, was loved by members of her family, her friends and her neighbors.

Henry Farwell nodded his head. And then, even before Andrew Grenable spoke, a terrible expression began to grow in Lisa's father's eyes. And from that expression came panic within herself.

"Revenge!" Mr. Farwell breathed. "Right!" Andrew chuckled. "Our dear mother nourished the little devils inside her brain and believed that the horse she took for her own had been trained to buck and kick. No doubt," he added grimly, "she did plenty of her own bucking and kicking before I threw her. But she never forgave us, Mr. Farwell, for making her a cripple."

Lisa Farwell began to wonder if Andrew, the son, was the only cold sober person among those in the room, and she thought his words had given her a new and more confusing.

"You mean," she asked Andrew, her voice a half-whisper, "you were Lavinia's wretched son to marry Court so that she could get even with my father?"

Andrew didn't have to answer. She suddenly realized that this was what Lavinia Grenable planned.

Autos Should See A Doctor Twice A Year Declares Expert

PHYSICAL EXAM FOR CARS: The Proving Stand helps the doctor diagnose the automobile's ills with scientific precision.

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — If Otis Presbrey has his way, auto mechanics will soon be telling you: "Fill your gas tank twice a week and see your auto doctor twice a year."

Presbrey is the leading disciple of preventive maintenance in caring for autos, buses and trucks. He feels that you take your body to a doctor for a check-up, so you won't get sick, and you should do the same for your car.

With the probable slowdown of vehicle production in the emergency, it's more important than ever to keep vehicles in top running condition.

An eager man with a quick wit, Otis Presbrey has done everything in the automotive business from driving a racing car to writing copy for auto ads. He became convinced that too many inexperienced mechanics, calling themselves mechanics, were tinkering with the nation's vehicles.

Up this year, a New York show, the Transport Vehicle Show, is being run just for the purpose of encouraging vehicle conservation.

So he invented a big gadget made up of a lot of little gadgets — he doesn't like the word gadget but admits it's the best way to describe them — called an Otis Proving Stand.

It diagnoses a car's ills scientifically. It uses such things as "magnetic particle inspection" which can see the slightest break in material and thus anticipates big troubles. It uses formulas like "rate of change of speed measured in feet per second per second" which is Presbrey's way of figuring the exact pickup of a car.

The Army is using Presbrey's invention to test some of its equipment. He's been hired by owners of taxi fleets and utilities trucks, to keep their vehicles running in top condition. He estimates that proper preventive maintenance can save any vehicle owner 12 to 15 percent in service fees, gas consumption, tire wear, batteries and loss of value of the car.

"Waiting until something goes wrong is the expensive way to run a car," says Presbrey. "Then you get some mechanic who uses the 'by-guess-and-by-god' method of fixing it, and you may get it fixed and maybe you don't."

If you want to make your car last longer — and he thinks all

WHAT GOES?—Seeking new horizons in tiny, curl-topped Tony Fardell of Longview, Wash. His dad, Jan Fardell, got this wide-eyed view as the babe peeked over a pillow to find out what the grown-ups were doing.

The cold wash of fear began to fall away and in Lisa's mind grew instead the terrible, burning relief of what she had been saved. Their marriage—she and Court—would never have had a chance.

What was left after her realization was not very strong, but at least... and then Angus Kent's face resolved out of the confusion in her mind and Lisa remembered.

To reassure herself, she reached out and touched Court's hand. He jumped nervously and tried to smile at her, but it was a twisted and futile attempt.

"Andrew should shut up," he said roughly. "He was too drunk to know what happened since he came home."

There was an insinuation in his tone that didn't miss its mark. Andrew flushed and there was a look to him that Lisa Farwell feared. Don't antagonize him, please, she thought. His attitude is wrong. He's dangerous. Afterward, when it was all over and they were on their way home, the thought lingered above all others.

And several days later, she remembered it again.

THE days trudged along slowly. The funeral was held Saturday morning. It was private, of course. Lisa waited for Court to call her afterward, but the phone didn't ring and he didn't come to see her.

She tried to put out of her thoughts the complicated cross-weave of motives and implications brought out during the questioning the day before, she wanted to discuss them with her father but he had put up a barrier almost as effective as Court's.

Finally, by Saturday afternoon she couldn't bear the remoteness any longer. She tackled the problem with her father in the den.

"You were right," she said forlornly. "It couldn't have worked out for Court and me with his mother alive."

She shrugged above the pain that came to her each time she thought of marriage to Court, now that she had met Angus Kent. Strange how everything dated before and after that meeting. There seemed no in-between.

Pampa Girls Princesses At TSCW Festival

DENTON — With more than 2500 redbud trees on the campus in full flower as inspiration, Texas State College for Women will mark the arrival of spring on the campus with the 13th annual Redbud Festival on March 16 and 17.

Presiding over the two-day festival will be one hundred Redbud Princesses, including Miss Gloria Jorene Jay and Miss Carole Jeanne Perkins. Miss Jay is the daughter of Mrs. E. R. Jay of 512 E. Browning. Miss Perkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Perkins of 1139 N. Russell.

From the princesses, a Redbud Queen will be chosen. Her identity will be kept secret until the night of the coronation, March 17.

Selection of princesses by dormitory classmates was based on a criteria of friendliness, graciousness, integrity, pleasing appearance, poise, respect for social standards, sense of humor, reverence toward God, loyalty to college standards and participation in campus activities.

The program of music and dance honoring the queen, the princesses and visiting royalty from other Texas colleges will be presented two nights to accommodate visitors to the campus. The festival will climax Self-Development Week to be held March 11 through 18.

Charge Body Like Battery

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — When a battery runs low, you re-charge it.

That's the way hospital President J. A. Robinson explains a new treatment for arthritis, heart disease, multiple sclerosis and muscular dystrophy. The treatment is under experimental study at Leo N. Levi Memorial Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark. It is a non-profit, non-sectarian institution supported by B'nai B'rith national Jewish welfare group.

Robinson, who lives here, said "the patient's body is re-charged. Like a storage battery."

"We take a normal, healthy person. We make a chemical analysis of the substances in his body. Then we take a sick person. We analyze him too. We find he has the same substances in his body as the normal person, but not nearly as much. We try to cure the disease by replacing what the body lacks."

Robinson said studies have been completed on 21 heart patients and experiments are under way with persons suffering from arthritis and multiple sclerosis. A study on muscular dystrophy is scheduled to start at the hospital Monday. He said the results of the heart studies would be published first in medical papers.

Government Has Hard Time Pleasing Public On Wages

NEW YORK — (AP) — The government having grabbed the price-wage bear by the tail a month ago is making two attempts to let loose a little.

It's offering some 40 million workers the hope — but no more — of a raise. It's still up to the boss.

And it's offering some 200,000 merchants the chance of raising some of their prices to keep profits at their "normal" level. Similar offers are planned soon for other merchants, wholesalers and manufacturers.

And the farmer hasn't been touched yet.

The price-wage freeze was ordered Jan. 26 with the idea of protecting consumers from inflation.

In general prices and wages were frozen at their highest historical level. The cost of living, in itself, could scarcely be expected to please consumers.

The trouble arises from this: Everyone in this country is a consumer — that is, every one uses things that other men produce, whether it be a sack of flour, a suit of clothes, an automobile or the service the merchant gives. And, therefore, everyone benefits if the rise in the cost of living can be halted. Therefore, theoretically, everyone should have been pleased.

But only a minority of persons are consumers only. Most people are producers as well. The farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer, the worker, produce goods or services, and each of them is apt to feel that his toes are being stepped on by the general price-wage freeze order.

The majority of workers feel that for all practical purposes their paychecks were frozen a long time back while prices continued their headlong upward course. Labor clamored. And the government will allow wages to increase roughly 10 percent above a year ago. The trouble with this is that higher wages tend to push prices higher again.

Farmers insist that the price for their products must be left uncontrolled, or otherwise the incentive to produce will be killed.

The farmer's costs have been going up — machinery and labor and most of the things he buys. The farmer feels his prices aren't out of line at all.

Merchants have clamored for relief because they were caught in a profit squeeze. The prices they were charging Jan. 26 were frozen. But the goods they were buying from suppliers had increased in price.

So the government now will let them add their normal mark-ups to the goods they are buying.

Manufacturers have the same price beef. They pay more for raw materials and their labor costs have been going up. They want to charge more for what they sell.
