Labor Outlines Plan To Stop Squabbles Might Be Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top labor leaders came up today with a formula for solving their squabble with the administration over the mobilization program, but there was no sign so far it would be accepted.

It appeared likely to figure in a conference with Senator Humphrey (D-Minn) booked with Defense Mobilization Charles E. Wilson to support labor's demand for a policy-making role in the defense mobilization effort.

Attention Is Limited Here On Rate Hike

If Pampans were against a 10 percent increase in rates for electrical power they didn't seem interested enough to tell the city commission about it Tuesday afternoon.

The commission held its hearing—starting out with only one person—before a grand total of three people. The feelings of the three were split evenly. First on the scene, Frank Carter, told the mayor and commissioners he believed the request was reasonable and was not against it.

The commission again tabled a decision on the request, Mayor C. A. Huff suggesting the commission wait until the cities of Amarillo and Lubbock acted.

Because City Engineer Ray Evans was unable to locate officials of the Texas Concrete Works, Amarillo, the commission on N. Hobart's curb and gutter, and storm sewer projects was left to next week's session.

$100,000 Trust Fund And Pretty Girls: Future Looks Promising For Pfc. Smith, Frozen In Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's a future for Pfc Robert L. Smith—just about as sunny as it can be for a young man who lost both hands and both feet in the searing cold of North Korea.

It's a future peopled with pretty girls who have written proposals of marriage to him; secured financially with a $100,000 trust fund, and warmed by the thought of a little business of his own with his brother.

Perhaps best of all, 20-year-old Bob Smith, of Middleburg, Pa., can confidently look forward to doing for himself almost all the things people with their own hands and feet can do.

Iran Premier Shot To Death

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran's reform-seeking American-backed Premier Ali Razmara was assassinated today by a gunman today at a mosque in Tehran's bazaar district.

Shah Reza Pahlavi, after conferring with close advisers, named minister without portfolio Khalil Fahimi to be acting premier.

The cabinet meanwhile met in emergency session. A government communique signed by Fahimi identified the assassin only as "certain man" and said he was arrested immediately.

Big Four Delegates Lack Agreement On What To Discuss

PARIS (AP)—Big Four delegates meet today for the third time (at 10 a. m. EST) not only lacking agreement on what their bosses can talk about at the proposed foreign ministers conference but disagreeing as well on what they themselves can discuss.

Already at odds in their first two meetings on how the ministers should take up the German question—whether as a separate and primary issue, or as part of a study of European problems in general—the deputies clashed yesterday on a definition of their own task.

At Russian insistence, the deputies are supposed to discuss only the technical aspects of the agenda and not go into the meat of the problems themselves.

At yesterday's meeting, however, western sources reported Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko insisted on talking about the substance of problems. And he insisted he was right in doing so.

Armed Forces Ceiling Faces Senate Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators faced a decision today on fixing a manpower ceiling for the armed forces and then hoped to iron out other details of the proposed Universal Military Training and Service program (UMTS).

Many lawmakers expected a limit of 3,500,000 to be put on the combined Army, Air Force, Navy and Marines. That is the goal President Truman has fixed as desirable.

The choices offered after hours of hot-tempered debate last night were no ceiling, or 3,500,000 or 4,000,000.

Senators unanimously agreed to start voting on these choices at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

Threatening to hold lawmakers in night session for the first time this year, majority leader McFarland (D-Ariz) still hoped to wind up action before quitting.

Other lawmakers said the Senate would be fortunate to complete action sometime Thursday.

Once the ceiling issue is decided, leaders expect the next big test to come on a proposal by Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) and Bruce R. (Ohio) to knock from the bill a long-term universal military training program.

76 Persons Injured During Tokyo Riot; Reds Are Blamed

TOKYO (AP)—Seventy-six persons including 20 policemen were injured today in a riotous demonstration by Korean residents of Tokyo attending an unauthorized rally.

Police said the rioters were Communist sympathizers. The demonstrators stoned the school in an outlying northern sector of the city.

Fifteen hundred police were called out to quell 2,000 rioters. The Koreans chose a time when 6,000 police were parading in downtown Tokyo to stage the demonstration near a Korean school in an outlying northern sector of the city.

Some 300 of the Koreans stormed the nearby Akbana police station during the melee. It started at 10 a. m. and continued until 1:30 p. m. when the police managed to break it up.

The demonstrators said they were protesting the closing of the Korean school by order of the Japanese government. A similar demonstration was staged in Kobe in 1948 when the original order closing Korean schools was issued.

Texas Due Look At Civil Defense Cost

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas may learn today the first official estimate of how much money the state should have for emergency use in civilian defense.

Gov. Allan Shivers and William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense, will go before the House Appropriations Committee today to discuss the state's role in the preparedness program.

They are expected to present estimates of essential appropriations for civil defense. It is anticipated they would suggest a minimum emergency fund of two or three million dollars.

High School Hears Accused Official

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore city school commissioners yesterday turned down a city council resolution asking that Owen Lattimore be prohibited from addressing a high school assembly today.

Lattimore figured prominently among those named by Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) in charges that Communists infest the state department.

"We do not agree with the suggestion that high school students should be shielded from all controversial subjects and personalities," the school board's resolution said.

Who Should Control BB Guns Is Problem For Lawmakers

AUSTIN (AP)—A House committee couldn't decide whether the state, a city, or parents should control the use of BB guns.

They sent the problem to a subcommittee with no instructions on when to report back. The Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence argued for almost three hours last night on what to do about promiscuous use of BB rifles.

Rep. Harley Sadler of Abilene had a bill prohibiting shooting an air rifle within the limits of any incorporated city. "Don't punish a child," said Rep. W. E. Fields of Athens. "He hasn't got sense enough to know what he's doing anyway. Put it in the hands of the parents."

Strong Aerial, Artillery Fire Backing Drive

TOKYO (AP)—United Nations forces attacked today on 55-mile front in central and western Korea behind strong aerial and artillery support.

It was a general assault in crisp, clear weather. Units of all three corps in the U.S. Eighth Army took part. Initial Red resistance was described as bitter. The Reds even mounted a counter-assault on the eastern flank. It rolled South Korean troops back one to three miles.

A battalion of the famous 27th Wolfhound Regiment of the 25th Division paced the attack with a crossing of the twisting Han River east of Seoul at 8:15 a. m. (4:15 p. m. EST, Tuesday).

The Wolfhounds hit the Red side of the stream in three waves. Other American elements surged across on the left and right. Opposition during the first hour was light. But then the Reds opened up with mortars, machineguns and artillery.

East of the crossing point, the U. S. First Marine Division, four American infantry divisions, and their attached allied elements pushed off.

The U. S. 24th Division, on the Wolfhound right flank, took one hill but an encounter stiff Chinese opposition two others. And on the 24's right flank, British troops ran into dug-in Reds north of the lateral Yong-do-Hoengsong road.

A. P. Correspondent William C. Bernard reported "the thunder of artillery was constant all along the front backing up the attack. Planes were swooping down on the battle line from early morning."

The battle was fought over hard-packed snow remaining from a six-day snowfall Tuesday. General MacArthur visited the front shortly after the push began. The attack line ran from several Han-River crossing points east of Pangnim, some 85 miles to the east.

Only on the extreme eastern end of the line did the UN forces run into serious trouble at the outset. There powerful Korean troops to withdraw one to three miles on the right flank of the attacking U. S. Seventh Division.

There was speculation as to whether the Red counterthrust which preceded news of the general allied attack, might be the forerunner of an expected Red counteroffensive.

However, A. P. Correspondent Tom Stone reported that the Red attacks seemed aimed at relieving pressure on the badly mauled North Korean third corps in front of the U. S. Seventh Division.

He said South Korean Seventh Division troops fell back to new lines to stabilize and protect the United Nations line northeast of Amidong on the east-central front.

These were reports of Chinese going into the sector for the first time. An American regimental commander told Stone: "We can expect some real trouble now."

On the western front, allied forces surged across the Han River east of battered Seoul behind a rolling artillery barrage. Field dispatches on the action were delayed.

The assault-boat crossing of the Han followed intensive patrol action and nearly a week of bombardment of Chinese Communist positions. General MacArthur, on his 12th flying visit to the front, warned anew of a Chinese buildup for a "massive offensive." He called again for a United Nations decision on what to do about Red China's undeclared war on the allies in Korea.

Pampa Marine Is Home From Korea

Mrs. W. C. Dillman, 514 N. Sumner, received a phone call Monday night from her son, Richard James, who was among the 1,000 First Marine Division veterans of Korea, who arrived in San Francisco early Monday.

Cpl. Dillman said that he will probably arrive home the first of next week. He had been in Korea since July. In combat with the First Division. He is a veteran of the bitter, battling retreat from Changjin Reservoir.

He escaped without injury except for frost bitten hands and feet. This division is the first to return home under the Marines' new rotation system.

Cpl. Dillman was graduated from Pampa High School in 1948 and joined the Marines the same year.

Influenza Sweeps Over Texas During Last Of February

AUSTIN (AP)—Highly contagious influenza swept over Texas in late February at a rate more than triple the usual toll for that time of year.

For the week ending Feb. 24, 11,902 cases were reported to the State Health Department. The past average for that week is 3,935 cases.

A short incubation period makes the illness highly communicable, a health department report stated. The prevalent type of influenza is marked with sudden onset, fever, general aching and feeling bad, plus various respiratory complications.

The list of counties reported influenza with 2,731 cases, Nueces and Galveston counties followed with 71 and 67 respectively.

The health department also reported incidence of chickenpox to be about double the average, with 1,569 cases in the week ending Feb. 24. Measles was more than four times the average with 2,968 cases.

Crawford Atkinson made a report to the mayor and commissioners on the trip to Washington made recently by himself, City Manager Dick Ivin, Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wadgworth and C. C. president Gene Faith. Atkinson told the commission Pampa's chances to reactivate Pampa Air Force Base lit mostly in the private contract primary flight schools. He said the group learned in Washington Pampa was out of the picture under the 48 group plan and that the Air Force had picked only a few bases for reactivation, most of these selected for their strategic location, and economic position—i. e. those which still had most or all facilities intact. The group went to Washington after they learned, through channels, that a strong possibility existed the Air Force might be increased to 135 groups.

Both Pepin and Atkinson praised highly the "ins" cooperation and help they received from Rep. Walter Rogers.

"He Rogers sure knows his way around up there and we got to see some of the most powerful men in Washington through him," Pepin said.

with each other for these facilities. As a rubber executive put it: "A defense order is nothing but a hunting license. You still have to go out and find the material."

4. Some factories are resisting defense orders. Even though materials shortages may have cut them down to low production or none at all, they are retaining their manpower and postponing conversion. They argue that, in the last war, the conscientious owner who converted early, at his own expense and at the loss of his customers, sent those customers to competitors who waited 18 months or two years—and then got defense contracts at higher rates as well. So hundreds of plants are waiting, watchfully.

During World War I, Chrysler, one of the great tank-producing firms, employed more than 4,000 sub-contractors to supply various individual parts, assemblies and gadgets.

Republic Aviation, making the rugged Thunderjet fighters, already has more than 1,100 producers in its "source files." There are 165,000 parts in a conventional jet, and many of them are made by small plants that specialize.

In short, almost any given weapon or piece of equipment actually is the product of many different factories, big and small. The speed with which Chrysler can produce tanks or Republic can turn out fighter craft may very well depend, like a convoy of ships, on the slowest unit in the line.

Consequently, with shortages in engineers, equipment, machine tools, critical materials—and the will to cooperate—the whole vast industrial machine is affected. The gears clash and the motor splutters.

In 1941, an actual state of war cut back production for civilian use and released men, machines and materials for war work. In 1951, the job is harder for the very reason that, in many minds, no emergency exists.

until the present international tension eases and the size of forces an length of service of drafted men was cut back sharply.

Johnson and Bricker with the backing of Republican policy leader Taft, of Ohio, contend it would be better to handle the military training program separately when and if the time for it is reached.

Only one decision was reached during the long session yesterday. That was a 77 to 14 vote rejecting an effort by Senator Morse (R-Ore) to cut back all voluntary enlistments to 36 months.

Morse belabored the Air Force and Navy for "high-pressureing" 18 and 19-year-olds to join up for four years and avoid being drafted as foot soldiers.

The Air Force and Navy now take men for a minimum of four years and accept some men for six. The Army now has a three-year minimum for volunteers.

Rainer Sobers Oscar Hopeful

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Oscar contenders who are now campaigning frantically for Hollywood's biggest prize may be sobered by the words of Luise Rainer.

The Viennese actress holds the record for the most amazing achievement in academy history. She won the top acting award two years in a row. She is remaining here for a brief visit — her first in many years — after playing before the local footlights in "Joan of Lorraine."

I called at her hotel and asked her how she felt about the two gold statuettes and how they affected her career. (She left Hollywood) soon after her honors. "They meant nothing to me," she answered bluntly. "Oh, I was honored to be chosen. But at the time I received them I was so confused and unhappy that I couldn't say the things that were expected of me. I had to say what I felt."

The actress attributed her departure from Hollywood to a variety of factors. "I was naive and unsophisticated and confused by everything," she said. "I was terribly unhappy with my marriage. And I was terribly tired; I did eight pictures in my three years here."

"I'm afraid there was a great deal of bad feeling at MGM when I left. But I don't see why there should have been. The studio had done all right with me. During most of the time I was paid $250 a week."

The Atomic Energy Commission was ordered to start production of the H-bomb on January 31, 1950.

DOG NOTES by PETER BOGGS

DOGS FOR RENT

Yes you can rent a dog. A number of times lately I have noticed advertisements in the classified sections of a number of papers offering dogs for rent. Such ads intrigued me to the extent of making personal investigation. After reading and advertisement headed "Want to rent a dog?" in a New York paper I contacted the International Directory Co., the company whose name was signed at the bottom of the ad copy. Here's what I found:

They have a choice of seven or eight different breeds available at all times. If a client calls for a breed not on their list they scout around to find one, but I was told that the usual client just wants a dog and will take almost any breed offered to him. Who rents those dogs and why? It seems that the public is learning that a dog is a source of social contact, especially in a big city. Lonely people rent one and parade it through the nearest park, knowing that a number of people will stop to admire and pet it thus affording the renter of the animal a chance to meet and talk with strangers.

Then there are a number of people who boast they are dog lovers and when the hearer of the boast informs them that he or she is coming to call, well, a dog must be secured quickly just for that occasion, so one is just in a bigger business than the average person realizes.

EXERCISING DOG BY CAR

The other afternoon I saw two different dog owners doing a foolish and dangerous thing — an exercising arrangement that has become fairly prevalent in certain sections of the country. A number of dog owners exercise their pets by having them chase the family car. It is a procedure that does more harm than good — that is, to the dog involved.

I am sure you have seen people use this method of exercising the family pet. Evidently they are afraid of exercising themselves or are just too lazy to walk their dogs in the customary fashion. So they start down the street in the family car encouraging their dog to chase after them. To be sure the dog gets exercise chasing after the car but not the kind he should get, and while doing this chasing there is great danger of his being killed. Many a pet being exercised in this manner has been run over at a street intersection. Exercise your dog regularly, but not by having him chase your auto.

DOG CATCHES BOAT

107 MILES AWAY

Last spring a sea dog that missed his ship in Boston caught up with it 107 miles away in Portland, Maine.

Crewmen of the Coast Guard weather ship, Yakutat, couldn't believe their eyes when they saw "Arab," the ship's mascot walk up the gangplank in Portland, a week earlier in Boston the dog had gone A. W. O. L. and had failed to board the ship when it set sail for Portland.

What happened during his pet's absence was anyone's guess. It was just another one of those instances where a dog had employed that strange instinct most canines possess of being able to find their way back home from great distances, only this time this dog found his way to his old home that had moved 107 miles away.

DOGS IN DINING ROOM

Do you allow your dog in your dining room when you are eating? I do. I enjoy the presence of two of my dogs at meals. They lie quietly on the floor. They do not beg. It is fun to slip them a bit of food, stealthily, now and then. Also their companionship is pleasant. But only when there are no guests. When we have company for dinner no dogs are allowed in the dining room.

Some people don't like dogs and others don't like to be in the same room with them at mealtimes. I have eaten at homes where my host's dogs made pests of themselves by begging for food and by joggling the elbows or knees of those present.

Dogs are like small children during meals. Some behave so it is a pleasure to have them there. Others spoil everyone's peace of mind and break up conversation. It is not the fault of the children; it is not the fault of the dogs. In both cases, it is the fault of the bad training they have received. It is easy to train either of them to obey; and to conduct themselves in quietly polite fashion. The whole thing is a question of the right or the wrong kind of teaching — or of no teaching at all.

Is your dog a pet or a pest? If he is not a pest allow him in the dining room occasionally — you'll both enjoy it.

HOW TO TELL DOG'S AGE

Of course, if you own a registered dog you can always tell his exact age by looking at his pedigree papers. On the other hand there is no way of determining a non-registered dog's exact age unless a record was kept of its birth. If you don't know your dog's age there are two ways you can tell whether or not he is an old or young animal.

Take a look at his teeth. Worn and decayed teeth are usually a sign of age, yet I have known real old dogs whose teeth were in perfect shape. I have found the best guide to any dog's age in his elbows. Many years of lying down and getting up will leave traces on the patch of gristle that marks the elbows of a dog. The older the dog, the larger, lumpier, and more pronounced is this patch of elbow-skin. A dog's elbows are a sure sign of his true age — that is, his teeth.

Penicillin Production Is Planned For India

NEW DELHI — (AP) — Three officials of the World Health Organization will discuss with the Government of India plans for starting a penicillin production plant in India.

The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund has offered to provide the necessary apparatus and equipment at an estimated cost of $850,000. The World Health Organization has offered $350,000 to provide highly-skilled technicians to design and put into operation the penicillin plant. The W.H.O. has also agreed to send Indian personnel abroad for specialized training on the subject.

In 1950 there were about 2,500,000 trucks on U.S. farms compared to 1,300,000 in 1941.

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

Pampa sport fans get an opportunity to see one of the outstanding attractions in golf circles Saturday afternoon, March 17. Johnny Austin, country club pro, and Han Luna, champion of the golf committee, have made arrangements for Jimmy Nichols to show his ability with the sticks to local and area golf followers.

Nichols is employed by A. G. Spaulding Co. and he plays exhibition matches four months out of the year. Nichols hails from Dallas, and he does everything but make a golf club talk.

The Dallas tee-buster has only one arm but don't feel sorry for him because he can hold his own with the best. After losing his arm, he wanted to prove to himself that he was capable of mastering the links with one wing.

Nichols will probably team up with Dick Turner, pro at Ross-Rogers of Amarillo, in a championship match next year at George Aubach 2 up at Amarillo last year. Austin and Joe Honck, Huber pro, will be the second duo in the foursome.

Turner is one of the longest hitters off the tee in this part of the country. He has played with and against the best golfers in the country. Nichols also hits a long ball off the tee.

"Spectators are going to be surprised when they see this fellow hit a ball," Turner said. "He'll average 250 yards a drive. He'll have trouble with the hard turf in this part of the country," the country club pro explained. "But I bet he'll shoot par or better."

Nichols showed Amarillo fans a thing or two last year at the Ross-Rogers links. On number six, the one armed golf wizard was 160 yards from the cup. And to make the shot a real tough one, Nichols had to pitch the ball over a tall tree, 20 yards in front of him.

"He used a number three iron," Austin remembered. "He drove the ball over the tree-top and rolled it next to the cup for a gimme birdie."

There will be no charge to watch these four golf masters shoot their 18-hole exhibition. No collection will be taken up and Austin has nothing to sell. All he wants is a good crowd to be on hand to watch the match.

Pampa was fortunate to get Nichols here for an exhibition. Let's all be out at the country club Saturday afternoon, March 17.

Carver Quintets Nab Berger Tournament

Carver High School Basketball quintets captured both ends of the Berger Invitational tournament. The Carver boys blasted Memphis, 64-19, and the girls tumbled Memphis, 26-12.

The local boys measured Booker T. Washington of Berger, 54-33 to go into the finals against Memphis. Ed Russey scored the nets for 22 points. Carver's girls handed Berger's lassies a 11-6 defeat in first-round play.

In the finals against Memphis Bill Thomas pumped in 28 points for Carver. He hit 11 points in the first period, four in the second, five in the third, and finished the fourth chapter with eight.

Aggies Shove Frogs Out Of Race, 50-44

WACO — (AP) — Texas A&M pushed Texas Christian out of the running for a spot in the NCAA Regional tournament at Kansas City March 21 by downing the Horned Frogs 50-44 here last night.

The Aggies, TCU and Texas tied for the championship title of the Southwest Conference.

Texas and A&M open a three-game series Friday night to decide the conference entry at the NCAA meet. The first game will be in College Station and the others in Austin.

The Cadets pulled out of a 41-41 deadlock with nine minutes to play in last night's game. Walker Davis scored two field goals and a free throw and little Don Heft scored one field goal to provide the win.

After getting off to a fast start A&M trailed 29-27 at the half. TCU piled up a 17-10 lead in the first ten minutes of play.

Three quick field goals by Jewell McDowell and Davis put A&M on top 33-29 early in the second half, and the Aggies fought off TCU's furious finish to keep the victory.

George McLeon of TCU led the scoring with 16 points. McDowell tallied 15 points and played a brilliant all-around, floor game.

Amarillo To Hold Cage Tournament; Chiefs Invited

The AAU basketball bandits of the Panhandle will hold a cage tournament after all. The Pampa Chiefs entered the four-day meet starting in Amarillo Thursday night and winding up next Monday evening.

Four teams have entered the Panhandle Independent roundball event at Amarillo. Along with the Chiefs are Dowell's Cafe, Meyers Motor Company and Tulsa National Guard. The entries will be limited to eight quintets.

Two clashes a night are scheduled with the first getting underway at 7:30. Teams desiring to enter should contact Glenn Brotherton at the Amarillo Gallop number 18 6231.

The Chiefs haven't seen action since their game here with the Halliburton Cementers. The local cage wizards have strung up nine victories against one lone defeat.

Field Marks May Fall At Laredo

LAREDO — (AP) — Few records will be on the line in the Border Olympics opening Friday but those that are smashed are most likely to be in the field events. Such things as a 9.4 hundred and 20.0 in the 220, as turned in by Charley Parker of Texas last year brought the running records to a virtual saturation point.

Other marks already were about as low as could be expected in the earliest outdoor track meet of the nation.

The shot put record of the university and college classes seem certain to fall. Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M already has done 49 feet 10 1/2 inches this year and the record is 48 feet 11 1/2 inches in the university division. Bill Brewer of North Texas State has tossed the shot 48 feet 6 inches — more than 2 1/2 feet better than the college division mark.

And that storied pole vault record of the university classes — 14 feet by Eugene Carter, set 12 years ago by Beufus Bryan of Texas — could fall without occasioning much surprise. Jack Simpson of Texas A&M leaped 14 feet 2 inches in trials last week.

The top dashmen of the meet will be Eugene Carter, Howard Payne in the college division and Joe Childress of Odessa among the high school athletes. Carter last year set records of 9.7 in the 100-yard dash and 20.5 in the 220, being helped along, however, by a strong wind. Childress swept up the high school dashes.

Also returning will be Arturo Ochoa of East Texas State, a low hurdler, broad jumper and javelin thrower of top-flight caliber. Ochoa set a record of 24.1 in the low hurdles of the college class last year. He already held the javelin record of 180 feet 6 inches.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mr. Inside, the gent who knows about everything, sends word from Chicago that next week's voting in Florida on the election of a baseball commissioner may touch off a new feud in the White Sox official family.

There were reports of a disagreement after the vote to oust Happy Chandler, and Mr. I says the situation is the same — Mrs. Grace Comiskey, the president, and her daughter, Mrs. John Rigney, are on Happy's side; but Chuck Comiskey, Sox son who'll cast the vote, maintains that nobody can tell him how to mark the ballot as long as he's running the team.

The same Mr. Inside also reports the stage is set to move next season's Notre Dame Kentucky basketball game (always a torrid affair) into Chicago Stadium as a part of the double-head program there. Gosh, how will they persuade the NCAA that it's a "home" court?

Another Briber Is Caught In Basketball Scandal Web

NEW YORK — (AP) — College basketball's greatest scandal went back to its starting point early today and dug up another alleged briber—previously identified as the "mysterious Stanley."

The newest puncture to deflate the college basketball world brings to five the total number of alleged bribers or "fixers" involved in the mess.

Bronx District Attorney George B. De Luca said Soll Rappaport, 25, was arrested as the "mysterious Stanley" mentioned in January, when the reported attempt to fix a Manhattan College game started the scandal ball rolling.

Charles Defends Heavy Title Tonight Against Joe Walcott

By MURRAY ROSE

DETROIT — (AP) — Old Jersey Joe Walcott, who seems to be fighting for the heavyweight title every time you look around, hopes to put a permanent crimp in the plans for a lucrative Joe Louis-Ezzard Charles return bout by whipping Charles tonight.

Odds are at least 7 to 2 against the 37-year old Walcott's chances in this town. In New York, the bookmakers have listed it as a 5 to 1 and "out" fight. That means you can bet on Walcott but you can't wager on Charles. He's considered that much of a cinch.

Yet this town is taking the 15-rounder in the Olympia Stadium very seriously. Although there is practically no wagering, The customers are rushing to put cash on the line for the first vanishing pasteborder.

This comes, mind you, after a dismal effort by Walcott last Nov. 24 when he was upset by vigorous, young Rex Layne of Utah, and after a far from spectacular display by Charles in stopping Lee Oma Jan. 12. Both fights were held in New York's Madison Square Garden and were sent over the Co-axial Cable to Detroit T. V. lookers.

Poppe was questioned last night along with Rappaport. John A. Byrnes and Poppe, Manhattan co-captains last year, are to appear with Schwartzberg and two other men in Bronx County Court today to have a date set for their trial on various bribery indictments.

These indictments, handed up by a Bronx Grand Jury, name the five variously on charges involving the De Paul attempted bribe and games played by Manhattan last year against Siena, Bradley and Santa Clara.

The other two are Schwartzberg's brother, Benjamin, and Cornelius Kelleher.

Shamrock To Host Boxing Tournament

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach H. W. Callan's boxers are hosts to the Shamrock Invitational Tournament here next weekend, March 15-16-17, at the American Legion home.

The best-busting Irish entertain five other teams — Pampa, Amarillo, Panhandle, Lefors and Wellington — in this boxing extravaganza, which will include from 12 to 18 fights each of the three nights.

Fans will have opportunity to see some of the very best ringmen in the Panhandle, as the cream tries to work its way to the top.

They will see rough Bobby Wilhelm and Dick Murray of the outstanding Pampa Boys Club, which Shamrock encountered last weekend, winning seven-and-losing six, as Wilhelm won over Settle of the Irish.

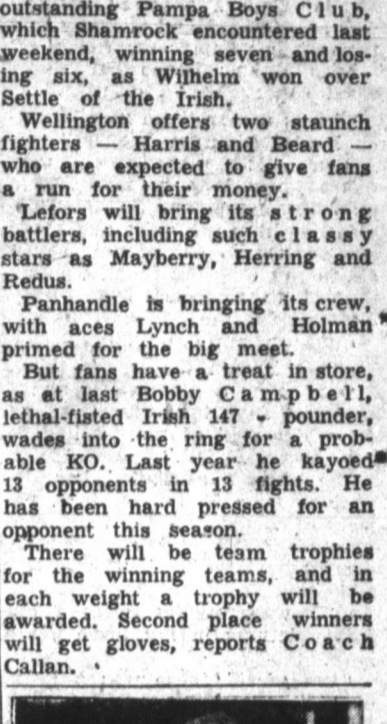

Wellington offers two staunch fighters — Harris and Beard — who are expected to give fans a run for their money.

Lefors will bring its strong battlers, including such classy stars as Mayberry, Herring and Redus.

Panhandle is bringing its crew, with ace Lynch and Holman primed for the big meet.

But fans have a treat in store, as at last Bobby Campbell, lethal-listed Irish 147-pounder, wades into the ring for a probable KO. Last year he kayoed 13 opponents in 15 fights. He has been hard pressed for an opponent this season.

There will be team trophies for the winning teams, and in each weight a trophy will be awarded. Second place winners will get gloves, reports Coach Callan.

Henry Finds Top Candidate For Cameraman Award

By HENRY McLEMORE
 CAPRI — The hero of this story will be nameless because I have no dreaming idea what his name is, but he'll be long remembered by us passengers of the S. S. Epameo.

and well slept in suit, and from his hip pocket protruded a well-used bottle of brandy. He wasn't too tight not to know what was going on — just tight enough not to care.

This American, for so he turned out to be, appeared to be about 28 years old, was tall, very nice looking, and not at all bothered by the rolling and pitching of the S. S. Epameo. His walk was perfectly attuned to the uneasy bay.

Under his arm he carried an expensive movie camera mounted on a tripod and, making his way to the bow, he set it up, shot the sun with one of those gadget camera nuts carry, and did a lot of fiddling with the focusing devices of the camera.

"Confound Vesuvius," he said to himself and the seagulls, "confound Vesuvius." Half-covered with clouds. That'll make a rotten shot."

But he aimed at Vesuvius anyway, which loomed off to port, set the mechanism to working and, with surprising agility, ran around and got in front of the camera.

Working fast, he pulled out the brandy, poured himself a drink in a shot glass, lifted it and toasted himself with a "Here's looking at you, big boy!" Then he doimed the drink.

Three-quarters of the way to Capri he repeated this maneuver every time a different background presented itself. In the bow, in the stern, on the port side, on the starboard side, and on the second class deck. And all the while paying no more attention to his fellow passengers than if they hadn't existed.

Curiosity would have killed me if I hadn't asked him what he was doing.

"Glad to tell you, fellow," he said. "Have a little drink and listen."

This was his story.

Having worked hard for a living ever since he was in his teens, he awoke one morning two months ago to find himself independently rich. Some relatives he had forgotten about, or didn't know about, left him an income of something like $25,000 a year.

"I took right off, just as soon as I could. Always wanted to see Europe. Wanted to visit all the famous places. Been seeing 'em, too. And if anybody every doubts

I saw 'em I'll show 'em my movies.

"Been taking movies of myself in front of cathedrals and statues and everything else ever since I got over here. Front of mountains, too. Bet you'd never guess how much film I've shot. Try to guess."

I guessed half a mile, figuring that was a lot of film.

"That made him laugh until he almost cried.

"Half a mile? Man, I shot half a mile in Paris all by myself. I bet you I have thirty or forty miles of pictures of myself. Yes, sir, maybe fifty miles. Nobody ever took so many pictures of himself as I have. And before I get back to the United States I'll bet you I'll have three hundred miles. I'm going all 'round the world see, and get a picture of myself in front of everything there is. I aim to shoot more film than Paramount this year."

PAMPA NEWS, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 1951 PAGE 3

I was about to ask his name when he discovered that Capri was in range of his camera, so, without a goodbye, he wound up his camera, aimed it at the famed island, poured himself a drink, jumped in front, and gave off his theme song, "Here's looking at you, big boy!"

He's my own choice for the 1951 Oscar.

Mac Sends Few Notes About Ancient, Volcanic Pompeii

By HENRY McLEMORE
CASTELLAMMARE — Roll the name of this town on your tongue or, better still, have an Italian roll it on his tongue, and then try to think of a place that has a lovelier name.

It's as soft as the flutter of a bird's wings when he takes his morning bath.

We were lazing in the sun of a Sunday afternoon, watching the sailboats on the Bay of Naples, when Admiral and Mrs. W. L. Ainsworth, friends we have made since coming to Italy, asked us if we cared to take a drive in their Hillman Minx, in which they are touring Europe.

A Sunday afternoon drive!

The words conjured up boyhood memories, when the automobile still was a novelty, and a drive on Sunday afternoon was as much a part of Sunday as Sunday school or church.

Every family that had a car loaded into it and went for a ride over roads as familiar to them as their own front yards. People who didn't have a car were not neglected. One of the duties of car ownership in those days was to stop by and take members of carless families for a "spin," whether they wanted to go or not.

I have since suspected that this taking of less fortunate families along was not based so much on consideration as on a desire to have plenty of help in washing fusties off the rims, patching the blown tubes, and pumping them up.

The Admiral asked where we would like to go and I said Pompeii.

Pompeii. Just like that. Just as if I were saying, "Out to the country club," or "Down by the lake."

It didn't take us long to get there (and here's a real anachronism for you) because most of the way we drove along a super toll highway that leads to the city that Vesuvius

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) Two thousand athletes from 21 countries worked out briskly Saturday for Monday's opening competition in the first Pan American Olympics.

A U. S. delegation of 134 members arrived in three planes late Friday, led by Olympic champions Sammy Lee, high board diver, and Mal Whitfield, the 800-meter ace. Nineteen more were due Sunday.

'Hard' Names Get Sympathy

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This is an emergency call to the Smythes, the Wisniewskis, the Killroes, the Matsuokas, the Connallys and the Fliegelbaums.

It goes out also to the Goeways, the Lausches, the Skartvedts, the Pedersens, the Pfeffers (not to be confused with the Pfeffers), the Prelinghysens, the Westersheids and the Zickefooses.

Were going to form a club, a national organization. Lots of people are eligible, so stick around. Maybe you can join, too, unless your name is Smith, Jones or Robinson.

Our club will be made up of people whose names are hard to spell, or hard to pronounce, or both. There are millions of us and we have a grievance.

This may not sound like a burning issue to you Boyles and Daveses and Hendersons. You don't have to contend with it. But we've been burned by it for a long time, we Creaughs and Herchers and Stephansons and Zaglottis and Hojagaards.

This week when a fellow in the advertising business sent me a handsome bronze name plate for my desk — and spelled the name wrong.

Look: It's Creaugh, see? C-R-E-A-G-H. Pronounced "Cray," as in crayfish. Why don't I spell it that way, then? Well, I didn't choose the spelling of it. My ancestors did. I don't feel I have any right to tamper with it.

But I wish people wouldn't call me Creech, Cree, Craig and even more improbable names.

I'm not alone in this wish, either. The late F. D. R. was not overjoyed when people called him "Mr. Rewse-velt." He thought it should be Rose-velt. And I know a barber named Ed Feisch who gets sore as gumboils when anybody calls him "Fish."

As a famous politician once told a newspaperman: "say anything you like about me — but be sure to spell the name right."

Just try to get department stores or even birth registrars to do that. The only people I can think of at the moment who got my name right the first time are the members of my draft board. And even they didn't pronounce it right.

Indian Relief Up For Approval

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $190,000,000 famine relief program for India should be approved by Congress to help that nation resist communism, the House Foreign Affairs Committee said last night.

Its report on the administration-backed bill to supply India with 2,000,000 tons of grain said India is an important symbol in the Far East, where "the Soviet Union is exerting every conceivable pressure."

Four of the 12 Republican committee members dissented, proposing that this country give India a loan instead of an outright grant. The dissenters were Reps. Vorvis (Ohio), Chipferfield (Ill.), Smith (Wisc) and Reece (Tenn.).

This Was A Bird Who Had Troubles

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. — (AP) — Tom Everson saw a cat stalking a bird on his window sill the other day. Feeling sympathetic Tom opened the window and let it in, shutting out the cat.

But when Everson looked around he saw his dog, Elmer, grab the bird. Not only that, but Everson swears the dog swallowed it. Apparently Elmer has no taste for birds. Everson said Elmer coughed up the bird and disgustedly slunk to a corner.

Tom let the bird fly out the window.

Progress Club Gets 10 New Members

The newly formed Pampa Progress Club attracted 10 new members to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in its first month of operation, according to Howard Buckingham, chairman of the organization.

Function of the club is to maintain a steady drive to obtain new memberships and to serve as a liaison unit between members of the chamber and the chamber itself for ironing out difficulties and answering questions.

Top member-gathering team was that of Ed Myatt and Herman Darby, who obtained four new memberships. Floyd I. Mel and O. E. McDowell picked up three; Frank Pata and Jimmy McCune, two; and Howard Buckingham and Ivan Howard, one.

The winners were given a prize by Chairman Buckingham.

Yellow Cab Co.

"THE LOWEST OPERATING COST IN 12 YEARS in the Yellow Cab business—that's what we got when we changed to new Conoco Super Motor Oil," reports J. O. Jackson, Owner-Manager, Tyler, Texas. "Our operations are day and night the year around—a tough job for a motor oil. I recommend Conoco Super."

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, use less gasoline and oil.

"AFTER AN OVERHAUL JOB, MY CUSTOMERS who change to Conoco Super Motor Oil have no difficulty driving their cars 50,000 to 75,000 miles without any more work on them," writes R. K. Comstock, Garage Owner, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. "Conoco Super keeps engines clean and cuts way down on wear."

Army To Use New Material

AUSTIN — A new type of cotton sateen cloth eventually will replace herringbone twill as the material for Army fatigue clothing, the Department of the Army announced.

Developed by collaboration between the Army Quartermaster Corps and the textile industry, the new fabric has been found, after extensive testing, to have much better wearing qualities than herringbone twill.

The Quartermaster Corps plans to purchase 15,000,000 yards of the sateen during the next several months. It will be manufactured into jackets and coats for use as work garments. However, the new fatigue clothing will not be issued to troops until present supplies of herringbone twill uniforms are exhausted.

The new sateen, which, like herringbone twill, will be 6.5 ounce weight to the square yard, was tested in laboratories, at the Quartermaster Corps combat course, Fort Lee, Virginia, and by troops in the field. The so-called reverse side of the material was found to have the greatest resistance to abrasion with a wearing quality equal to nearly twice that of herringbone twill.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. — More than three years ago some one stole a pair of skis from Le Roy Wiler's front porch. But Wiler's offer never was accepted. Recently he came across the long-missing skis tossed just inside the backyard fence. Tucked in one of the bindings was a $5 bill.

Doctor Has Sonnets In His Bonnet -- Can't Stop Writing

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A sonnet may be a 14-line poem to other people, but to Dr. Merrill Moore it's a "compulsion neurosis."

Which means, the Boston psychiatrist-poet explains, that writing sonnets is something he can't stop.

"Other men may dream of trout casting all day long," he says, "but my constant preoccupation is writing sonnets."

Now 47, the tall, sandy-haired, ruddy-cheeked doctor has been in the department of sonnetation for 30 years. He thinks he's written "well over 100,000" of the 14-liners in that time.

He wrote them in college, medical school, a five-year army stint and sandwiched them in between patients. It only takes him from one to three minutes to dash one off. But the initial writing is only a first draft. His usual practice is to keep them for a year, then revise each one 30 or 40 times.

He has developed a dislike for the strict duties of the old-established Italian and English types.

"Some authorities feel that if it ain't got an octet and sestet it ain't a sonnet," he says.

In his American, or garden-variety sonnet, he doesn't bother with forms and formulas. He may write eight lines and six lines, or maybe 7-4, or 5-5-1, or whatever he feels like. But they are still an outgrowth of both the old types.

Because of their mixed parentage, he calls his newest book "Illegitimate Sonnets." It is his ninth work. One of his earlier ones was a collection of 1000 of his sonnets, making it the largest book of sonnets by a single poet ever published.

"Anything at all can make a sonnet subject," he says. "I'm more interested in people than anything else, and especially in people's minds. Most of my sonnets deal with people and what they do and say."

Poetry, he thinks often helps people that are depressed mentally. He keeps copies of Kipling's inspirational "If" around for patients with the blues. He feels that medicine and the muses can mix.

DR. MERRILL MOORE: For others trout; for him, sonnets.

Uncle Sam Is Paying More

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Uncle Sam is going to have to pay more for the privilege of operating on the cuff. He hopes that, in return, he will make it a little more painful for his nephews to do the same.

In yielding to the insistence of many in banking circles that the return you get for lending the government money be higher, the Treasury has taken two moves, apparently in agreement with the Federal Reserve Board:

1. An attempt is being made to freeze $19 billion of the long-term national debt by offering higher interest rates to any one who will keep these government securities off the market where they could be used to swell loans made by banks and insurance companies.
2. The short-term treasury indebtedness is being allowed to yield more also. The rate the treasury pays on its 91-day bills took one of its steepest jumps Monday, hitting the highest point since the bank holiday of 1933.

Taken together, banking circles believe these two moves may call the tune for a general firming of interest rates. With government rates going up, and some of the funds of banks, investment trusts, and insurance companies being frozen, prospective borrowers can expect to pay more for a business loan.

The theory of the new policy of trying to take $19 billion of marketable securities off the market and replace them with $19 billion that can't be transferred is this:

Banks, insurance companies and others holding marketable government loans have been able to sell them and use the cash to lend to commercial borrowers at more attractive interest rates. This swelling of the money and credit supply has been inflationary. The idea now seems to be to make less money available for lending, and thus to make borrowing more expensive and less attractive — to freeze part of the inflationary stream.

But many bankers refuse to accept the implication that they are responsible for inflation. Economists at the National City Bank of New York contend that "the major part of the increase in business volume and prices in the past two years has been financed, not as much by new additions to money, as by more active use of existing money."

Lion In The House Makes Officials Roar

MAJOR SHERIDAN: "A Cage would be so foolish."

By GLEN PERRINS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. — (NEA) Major Sheridan has been banned from Salt Lake City.

Major Sheridan may be banned from Salt Lake County, too, unless he goes into a pen.

And Major Sheridan, says Mrs. J. E. Frank, will definitely not go into a pen.

Where Major Sheridan goes next is something of a dilemma in this section of Utah, but the major just lies on the front lawn of the Frank home in nearby Holladay, bright-eyed and unperturbed.

Major Sheridan is a lion, 18 months old, frisky and friendly. But Salt Lake City officials did not seem to want his friendship.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank brought him here from Sheridan, Wyo., in June, 1949, when the major was a five-week-old cub, suffering from pneumonia. Mrs. Frank doctors him. She claims legal ownership, a claim the city does not dispute.

Last October, the major was in the front yard when a seven-year-old boy put his foot under the gate. The major thought it was something to wrestle with. The howls were heard all the way down in the City Hall, where Mayor Earl J. Glade gave the Frank 30 days to move, providing they took Major Sheridan with them.

They moved to Holladay, just a few miles outside the city limits. County officials, who are used to dealing with lions in the mountains, didn't know what to do about one in town.

The county can't make up its mind whether to ban the major, to give him a license if he stays in an enclosure, or to allow him to stay, providing he's penned without a license.

"How could we cage him," asks Mrs. Frank, "when a cage would be so foolish for a lion that romps about the house?"

The county hasn't answered that one yet.

Thief Fouls Up Getaway Plan

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — A thief here ruined his own getaway plans by locking himself out of his car.

Mrs. Jesse R. Fuentes told officers that a tall man knocked her down and snatched her purse when she stepped from a bus. She said he ran to an auto parked nearby, fumbled at the door handle, searched in his pockets then ran away. Police identified the car as stolen property.

Loss Of Sleep Held Major Accident Cause

CHICAGO — (AP) — An extra hour of sleep may mean the difference between a traffic accident and a safe trip, says Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist for the Kemper Insurance Group.

Dr. Eggert has shown in a survey that a driver who sleeps seven hours or less a night is inviting trouble. On the other hand, his research indicates that the accident-free driver averages eight hours or more sleep per night. His findings were based on a year-long study of industrial drivers.

The population of New York in 1860 was 1,174,779.

First Circus In Israel Having Food Troubles

TEL AVIV — (AP) — The first circus in this country has celebrated its first anniversary gaily, although under somewhat austere circumstances.

The circus — an ex-soldier's cooperative enterprise — which has its tents in Ramat Gan, near Tel Aviv, has no lions because the food controller can't allocate them enough meat. There is enough fish fillet in the country, but lions don't like it. A bear act could be booked only because the bear's owner undertook to bring the honey with him.

'Closed Breeding' Brings Good Beef

WASHINGTON — (AP) — More economical production from "closed lines" of breeding animals, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. More than 150 closed lines of beef cattle are now being developed.

"Closed line" breeding involves mating an outstanding bull to about 25 outstanding females. Only the best bulls are bred back to females of the line. The result is to concentrate the good qualities in succeeding generations.

Pfc. Traub's superior officers are apt to be a bit nervous too when Squeaky arrives. The pet is a husky 11-month-old mountain lion.

Canada Plans New Peacetime Army

OTTAWA — (AP) — Canada expects to put Army brigades of about 6,000 men each in both Korea and Europe this year—and to do it entirely through voluntary enlistments.

The Canadian goal is 115,000 in the armed forces by 1954—including women — something the 14,000,000-population dominion has never tried in peacetime. The Army, Navy and Air Force now total about 68,000 men.

Our Own Revolution

The people of the world seem to be going through another revolution. Revolutions are just cycles resulting from changes in beliefs.

This system was well established in the New Deal long before we got into the war. When it was over, the Truman crowd pretended to bemoan the exclusion of untold millions of part-time, footloose and ditteante workers and paid idlers, such as baby-sitters, from the Social Security Act.

There is at this hour no money in social security. Billions have been spent on current extravagances of the government and the system is run in a way that would bring criminal indictments in civilian practice.

The Alcoholic Question

By DAVID BAXTER

I note an interesting letter from a Colorado Springs reader which I herewith pass on, condensed for the sake of brevity.

"I read with interest your article on alcoholics. Any speaker or writer usually has some purpose in mind. He is either trying to inform or educate people, entertain them or correct a bad situation.

DEFICIENCY — These solemn "amoral" filled moral counsels over 1952 prospects rarely start with any mention of General Eisenhower, although his name usually enters the discussions.

STATEMENT — Not a Democratic member of Congress possesses presidential status, in a Truman-controlled convention.

TIMBER — Four of the Democratic presidential nominees in the last thirty years have been famous governors — Wilson of New Jersey, Cox of Ohio, Smith and Roosevelt of New York.

ASSET — Since the fine qualities of these two excellent public servants are so generally known, which explains their appeal to the politician, it is more enlightening to know their possible disadvantages as party candidates.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

JEAN COLBERT

Women are no longer coy about their ages, so when I told Jean Colbert that I wanted to do an interview with her, she said that it was certainly an appropriate time because, within two weeks she was having a birthday, which would put her in the early forties.

Jean Colbert is a real personality in radio. She has been a radio actress in New York and has appeared in top flight shows, then commentary and then did her own show. She is now Director of Women's Activities at Station WVIC in Hartford, Conn. She is the Woman's Voice of New England. She gives women what they want in a program and she has much to give.

Here is what she said when we met at Sunday morning breakfast discussing Careers After Forty. "In retrospect," she said, "I find Life After Forty far more interesting and more exciting than I did in my twenties and thirties. It's like a house or a building which has settled and proceeds to survey the landscape with serenity."

"I am very much interested in fashion and I think it most important that a woman in her forties make the most of her figure, her face and her mind. I think that your book, 'Beauty After Forty,' and your column, are doing so much to make women believe that. You know, I feel that life is a continuous adventure and in order to grow as an interesting woman, one must be interested in what goes on. On my vacations I travel to some country which I have not visited before. And, too, it is important for a woman to share her experience and her interests. She can do this either by travel or having a hobby—in other words by making herself interesting, not only to herself but to other people."

"I find working a joy and a salvation, in fact, a privilege. I think that every woman who can should work, whether she needs the money or not. I don't think, though, that one should become solely a 'career person.' A career or a profession should be the seasoning of life, never completely the main ingredient."

Jean has a son, 19, at college, and a daughter, 21, who has her own radio program in Columbus, Ohio, known as 'Your Sleepy Time Gal, Candy Colbert.'

Mrs. Colbert dresses beautifully, usually in black, with dramatic accents in white. She is dynamic, gay and sparkling but dead serious about the value of a woman giving her best to a Career After Forty!

Window Treatment Proper Technique Insures Sleek, Lasting Manicure Is Subject Of Bell HD Meeting

"Window Treatment" was the topic under discussion by the Bell Home Demonstration Club when members met in the office of the HD agent, Mrs. Mary Ann Duke, recently.

Mrs. Duke said "I was interested in your roll call as so many of you gave as your problem 'keeping curtains clean.' In this part of the country where there is so much carbon black, dust and wind, daily white or pastel ruffled curtains, lace panels and frills are not practical."

"The more practical types of curtain materials for this locality are those that withstand wear and repeated washings and are sun fast. Plain or striped chambray, chinis, rough or plain weave cottons, plastics or plain nylon panels that can be worked into your color scheme are good."

"You will be surprised at the clever arrangements you can fashion for your home. Remember, a wide plenty of material, don't skimp, to have plenty curtains. Use good quality and less expensive material, but always use good workmanship."

Mrs. Duke suggested that where curtains are exposed to the direct sun and wind, it is wise to make curtains with top and bottom hems the same, so they may be turned upside down to distribute wear.

She concluded her talk by saying "Window treatment consists of more than curtains or drapes. The purpose of windows is to give light and ventilation. Sealed windows sweat more than those that have good ventilation." She showed several samples of good weather stripping, storm windows, screens and complete window units.

Mrs. Conner O'Neal gave the THID recommendations of the various committees.

In the business meeting Mrs. T. D. Anderwald was elected delegate to the district meeting in Dalhart. A report was made stating that the club donated $2 homemade pies for the Hereford Breeders' food sale. The club presented a baby gift to Mrs. Jack Morris.

Mrs. Nolan Cole, recreation chairman, conducted a recreation period with a magazine exchange. About a dozen magazines were exchanged and plans made for another exchange at a later date.

Members present were Mrs. Joe Keel, Mrs. Ernest McKnight, Mrs. T. D. Anderwald, Mrs. A. Henry Urbanczyk, Mrs. Emmett Osborne, Mrs. Nolan Cole, Mrs. Walter Noel, Mrs. D. W. Swain, Mrs. Henry Duesterhaus, Mrs. Roland Daurer, Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. Grace Morris, Mrs. H. H. Keashey, Mrs. Jack Morris, Mrs. Conner O'Neal and Mrs. Mary Ann Duke.

This young woman (right), out for a gala theater evening, exhibits with pride her Jewel-like nails, which she achieved by borrowing professional manicurist's technique. Realizing extra manicure minutes add hours of polish wear, she begins by cleaning nail plates (lower center), takes time for several light coats rather than one heavy one (upper center), and carefully removes anger smears (left).

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Many women, admiring a manicurist's smooth technique and envying her sleek, long-lasting results, attribute this perfect effect to a complicated routine beyond the skill of non-professionals.

Actually, her secret's a simple one. She doesn't cut corners. Realizing a hit-or-miss approach can only yield a splash effect, she tackles her task as one worthy of both time and effort.

If you're in the habit of offering excuses for your unlovely fingertips, now's the time to realize such alibis are too thin to hide them. Try, instead, these suggestions for achieving a nail beauty.

The first step in your manicure, after cuticles are smoothed and tips carefully shaped, should be the cleaning of your nail plates with lubricant polish remover.

Even if there's no polish to be removed, this is still necessary precaution in order to clear away oily or soapy residue that may be lingering, unseen, upon your nails. Your polish will adhere better if you take the extra few seconds required for this task.

The application of polish base is another important step. It fills the tiny crevices and dents, leaving you a smooth surface for spreading on polish.

For best results, put your polish on in two thin coats rather than one thick one. Never overload your brush to the point of dripping.

Next apply a clear overcoat, which will help preserve the glossy finish of your nails by protecting the polish from nicks.

This is the final application, but your job is not yet finished. Many women make the mistake of going about their duties once their nails feel dry to the touch. This is often only a surface sealing; underneath, they may be still sticky and unset.

It's a better idea, once the four coats are completed, to busy your mind for a time with conversation or your favorite radio program, allowing your hands to be completely idle.

These extra minutes for drying—which may occupy more time than you feel is really necessary—will pay dividends in the longlasting beauty of your nails.

Never throw out the liquid from canned vegetables. If you want to serve it in small saucelike dishes with the vegetable boil it alone until it is reduced one-half; stir in a little butter or margarine and salt and pepper. Then add the vegetable and heat quickly but do not boil again. If you do not wish to use the liquid at the same time you use the vegetables reserve it for use in soups, sauces, and gravies.

Serve curried meat or shrimps with spaghetti, sometimes, instead of rice. An eight-ounce package of spaghetti should serve four.

Use cole slaw with slices of canned meat for hearty luncheon salads. Be sure the cole slaw is made with a tangy salad dressing.

Soviet Union's Troubles In Balkans A Real Family Affair

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
One of my colleagues who is an ethnological student makes the interesting observation that the dangerous quarrel between Russia and her former satellite, Yugoslavia, "is a real family affair" because of the Slavic bond. About the other satellites he says:

"Only Poland and Czechoslovakia are truly Slavic. Poland, regardless of the present, has been a traditional foe of Russia for centuries and has fought the Russians bitterly on many occasions. Czechoslovakia has been friendly to Russia. The other countries are non-Slavic. Romania claims to be descended from the ancient Romans, but racially it is rather a mystery. Bulgaria has had a Slavic culture for some time, but its people are not Slavic but of Asiatic origin. Hungary is another non-Slavic nation."

Well, now, how strong are the ties which bind the satellites, especially the Slavic states—Moscow? The answer is vital not only to Russia and to the democracies. Satellite disaffection might be fatal to the Soviet Union.

Blood Donor Is Told She Has Broken Arm
MT. VERNON, Ill. (AP)—A woman offering herself as a Red Cross blood donor was surprised when a physician turned her down, saying:

"You have a broken arm." This was news to Martha Lavesey, the would-be donor. She had fallen on the day before but her wrist had only swelled a little. X-rays showed the fracture.

The boy's mother, Therese Thomassen, is listed as "stewardess," but she, too, is free of work duties. Captain Thomassen reported he is taking his wife and son back to Oslo to put Arid into a Norwegian school.

Reds Who Surrender Are Invited To Tea
KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—Communist terrorists who lay down their arms and surrender to the British are being entertained at tea by the Selangor branch of the Malayan Chinese association.

Six former terrorists, said guests of the association, said they had found that British government authorities had given them freedom, clothing and food after surrendering. They said this was in marked contrast to deceit and the tyrannical rule of leaders of terrorists in the Malayan jungle.

Pipeline Is Cooling Hungry Horse Dam
HUNGRY HORSE, Mont. (AP)—Nature isn't doing the job, so engineers are running cold water through 900 miles of pipe to cool off the Hungry Horse Dam.

Actually, the weather doesn't have much to do with it. Engineers put the pipes in the concrete as it was being poured, knowing that it would take nature about 25 years to cool off the 3,000,000 cubic yards of concrete going into the dam.

The dam is about one-third complete. Engineers will fill cracks expected to appear next month. Concrete shrinks slightly after it's cooled.

India Pledges Clamp On Commie Violence
NEW DELHI (AP)—India's Government has announced there will be no charge in its "get tough" policy against Communists who preach a seizure of power through violence.

With the death of Vice-Premier and Home Minister Sardar Patel, who fought the Communists tooth and nail, fears developed that without his leadership the Indian Government might relax his success.

Costs Believed Due To Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A national farm leader says there is a good chance that farm and food prices will decline somewhat during the months ahead.

John H. Davis, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, said such a development is quite likely if farm production continues at current high levels.

A recent Agriculture Department report showed that farm prices reached a record level in mid-February. However, some farm products—particularly hogs and grain—have showed a decline since that time.

Davis said much of the increase in food prices since the start of the Korean war could be attributed to "scare" buying and stockpiling by housewives, retailers and others fearing possible shortages.

In a speech to a luncheon conference of agricultural writers, Davis said there is already evidence that heavier than normal buying is beginning to disappear. Steaming of large quantities of meat in deep freeze and locker units, he said, has played a big role in sending livestock and meat prices to record levels.

Davis' view was given in connection with a farm-organization statement condemning suggestions that the government use subsidies to hold down food prices. Signing the statement were the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives and the National Milk Producers Federation.

A fifth farm group, the National Farmers Union, said in the statement that it favored a system of "incentive payments" to farmers to get increased production now short of demand.

The most powerful of the European satellites militarily Yugoslavia has refused to play ball Moscow's way and has been expelled from the ranks of the faithful. There is trouble in Czechoslovakia and a Red purge is being carried out. There has been disaffection, on and off, in Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania. Poland, as previously pointed out, is a traditional foe of Russia.

Thus, taking it all in all, the Slavic bond isn't one that Moscow can gamble on very heavily. As a matter of fact, surveys of the European satellites show that there is a strong revulsion against the bolshevism which imposes totalitarian rule and demands that the sovereignty of the nation be handed over to Moscow.

Hollywood Is Self-Conscious
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD Does it seem to you that Hollywood is getting more self-conscious every day?

Well, it does to me, even if you haven't noticed. There are movies about the town ("Sunset Blvd." especially), "The Disenchanted," etc.) plus all kinds of public relations campaigns, to explain what Hollywood is or isn't.

Now the ultimate has been reached. They are making a film called "I Am A Movie Studio."

I went out to see about this project and was introduced to Gordon Hollingshead, veteran shorts producer at Warners. He bears two unique distinctions. He is the top Oscar winner (he's got 11 of them). And he's Gene Tierney's cousin (on her mother's side).

"I got the idea for this film from the requests we have received to make films for commercial companies," he explained.

"It occurred to me that if all those other big industries had titles to sell themselves to the public, why shouldn't we?"

"Also, wherever I go, people ask me if I can get them inside a movie studio. Every day I meet people who want to know everything about movie making. So I decided to make a film that would do a public relations job for the industry and satisfy people's curiosity about the studios."

Full-Blooded Indians Becoming Scarce
OLD TOWN, Me. (AP)—Although there are 1,247 Indians living on Maine's three Indian reservations, Hiram Hall, state Indian agent, says it would be "pretty hard to find a full-blooded Indian in Maine now."

Tribal segregation is not as strict as it once was. Indians who live on Maine's reservations are under no compulsion to do so. Those who do, he says, do so because they prefer to. On the reservation, they pay no property taxes. They go to good schools, look for jobs, marry and settle down, roof for the Red Sox and try to be good citizens of the United States, says Hall.

Brave Young World
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Herman L. Creel says he was at a Starkville, Miss., service station when two boys drove up in an ancient car. They bought a nickel's worth of gas, asked for a road map, tipped the attendant one cent and announced they were going to Birmingham—138 miles away.

Red-Trained Witch Doctors Stirring Up African Natives

CONGO WITCH DOCTOR: The new-style medical degree came from a Moscow education.

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Moscow-trained Africans, masking as witch doctors, are playing on ancient superstitions and modern grievances to foment discord among the workers mining uranium in the Belgian Congo.

This sabotage activity was reported by French anti-Communist labor leaders who recently made a study of conditions in central Africa. It is confirmed by sources in Washington in a position to know the facts. It is confirmed also by J. Van Bilsen, editor of the Belgian-African Review, and Father S. J. Van Wing, Colonial Advisor to the Belgian government.

By paralyzing production of uranium, Moscow would hit the North American allies at a vulnerable spot. President Truman recently said that the Congo was America's biggest supplier of uranium ore. It also supplies 43 percent of our cobalt, needed for heat-resistant metals used in jet planes.

Last year 60 Congo natives were reported to have received instruction from the Lenin university in Moscow, famous training school for Cominform propagandists and saboteurs. They work under instructions from the Soviet legation at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, alleged headquarters for the Cominform espionage apparatus in Africa.

Native sorcerers and witch doctors, actually trained in Moscow or in league with Red agents, are organizing a network of secret sects among the natives through which they feed anti-European and anti-white propaganda to the local population.

The managers of the Shinkolobwe mines have repeatedly been confronted by a new pattern of labor demonstrations believed organized by Russian agents. These take the form of seemingly spontaneous native gatherings, where syncretized music and plaintive melodies played on the flute exalt the natives to disobedience.

Belgian security police have been singularly unable to lay their hands on the witch doctors who instigate these demonstrations among native uranium miners.

The pro-Communist World Federation of Trade Unions is active at the Katanga mines, where strategic pitchblende is mined, and at Leopoldville, principal seat of the Congo from which uranium ore flows to the United States.

Members of the French delegation said the Reds were exploiting native superstitions, abject poverty and the rigid color bar. Stringent measures taken by the Belgian Service of National Security had failed to prevent the development of a vast political-religious movement among the natives.

Uranium ore from the Katanga district is of high grade and produces most of the uranium ore for the U. S. No figures are available on current uranium production in the Congo but in 1945 production was estimated at 10,000 tons.

Speeding Motorist Had An Unusual Plate
PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A motorist stopped for speeding had some straightening out to do on his car.

Police found the number on his license did not agree with the number—611-989—on his car plate.

They studied the matter for several minutes and then came up with the answer: The plate was on upside down. It should have been 896-119.

IF YOU DON'T FEEL GOOD
Don't Put Off Finding Relief

HADACOL May Bring the Relief You Are Seeking If Your Condition Is Due to Lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Luther Harris there are a lot of folks who don't feel like they should who put off doing something about it. Luther Harris, 516 Chestnut St., Bowling Green, Kentucky, didn't feel good for a time, but he acted when he heard how HADACOL was helping people suffering from nervousness, aches and pains and run-down conditions caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Mr. Harris started taking HADACOL and now he says he feels good.

Here is what he says: "For quite some time I was nervous and run-down, and I suffered from aches and pains. I was hardly doing anything and I was taking HADACOL. I feel good, and I am working. I am COL and I praise it. I praise chly." Real Cause ACOL is not a t that only alms of your sily relieves the see disturbances ch deficiencies.
