Artillery Duel Roars Along Front As Reds Stop Running

TOKYO — (AP) — An artillery duel roared along the Korean war front today after the Reds abruptly halted an eight-day retreat and stood their ground. Communist troops signaled the end of the withdrawal by opening up their heaviest artillery barrage of the war. Hoopressing United Nations troops replied in kind.

The new Communist defense line is about 20 miles south of Parallel 38. It stretches across Korea for 30 miles, just below Chinese field headquarters at Chunchon.

Just before they stopped running and began to fight back the Reds gave up the important road hub of Hongchon, 20 miles south of the parallel that used to mark the boundary between Communist North and Republican South Korea.

American tanks and infantrymen rolled into almost-deserted Hongchon Thursday against light, scattered small arms fire. Only five civilians were on hand to greet the Americans. Last week the city, normally of 15,000 population, held 40,000 Red troops.

Its capture gave the allies another link in their chain of strong points stretching from liberated Seoul across the Korean peninsula.

The U. S. 24th and 25th Infantry Divisions and First Cavalry Division tore at the new Red defense line from Hongchon west.

The U. S. First Marine Division hit the line east of Hongchon. To the right of the Marines, Second Division troops carved a dent in the Red defenses north or Yudong on the east-central front.

The Americans honed their bayonets on stones, then drove the Reds off their positions. The coldest charge came after 12 hours of inconclusive fighting for the ridge line.

East of the Second Division, the U. S. Seventh Division battled all day Thursday for a mountain pass. It broke off the action at nightfall.

The U. S. Third Division showed forward east of battle, wrecked Seoul. Northwest of the newly rewon republican capital, South Korean patrols clashed with Reds and withdrew.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters estimated 1,500 Reds were killed or wounded Thursday. That boosted enemy casualties since the start of the allied offensive Jan. 25 to about 172,000.

The U. S. Battleship Missouri again led allied warships in attacks on the North Korean coast.

A Good Commander:

Capt. J. H. Nelson Of Pampa Is Killed Taking Hill In Korea

Word was received Tuesday night by the family of Captain John Henry Nelson from Major General Edward F. Wilsell, adjutant general of the Army, that Capt. Nelson was killed in action in Korea Feb. 15.

The son of Harry A. Nelson and the late Mrs. Nelson of Route 1, Miami, East of Pampa, he was commander of Co. "F", 25th Infantry Regiment, fighting in Korea. He lost his life, early in the morning, leading an attack on an enemy hill, just a few miles east of the village of Wonju.

Survivors include his father, one brother, Harry A. Nelson, Jr., two sisters, Virginia Nelson Harvey and Mary Potter Nelson.

His father-in-law, Lloyd R. Harvey, two nieces, Catherine Jeannine Harvey and Mary Ann Harvey, and two nephews, Lloyd Edward Harvey and Drew Nelson Harvey.

Another Pampa man, Cpl. Phillip Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Bynum, is also a member of "F" Co. and was under Capt. Nelson's command at the time of his death. Cpl. Bynum wrote this account of the battle in a letter written Feb. 18.

"But, Mom, Dad, here is some sad news. The past four or five days we have really been through the mill. Doing so, Capt. John H. Nelson was killed. He was from Pampa as you know. Now, I know this is so, because I saw him. Boy, he was a good Pampa; a brother-in-law, Lloyd

Petitions Out For Airport Bond Vote

Petitions asking the County Commissioners' Court to call bond election to provide funds for airport improvements in Gray County that would cost the county approximately $290,000, were being circulated today among property owning taxpayers.

The petition was phrased late Thursday afternoon by Atty. Gen. Jarrell Smith on request of the joint pilots and chamber of commerce aviation committee. Businessmen and private individuals interested in aviation activities will be asked to carry the petitions around for signatures of qualified electors. Although the petition will have to bear an estimated minimum of 150 names the committee has established a goal of 500 or more signatures.

An elector's name on the petition, of course, does not mean he favors passage of the bond issue but signifies that he wants the question put before the voters.

The committee, meeting Thursday morning in the C. C. offices, declined to make any definite stipulation of the amount of bonds to be asked and elected to leave that to the discretion of the county commissioners.

On the McLean question, Farris Oden, chairman of the three-man subcommittee to investigate the request by Mayor Harris King of McLean that $100,000 would be needed to improve the air strip there, recommended the figure be trimmed to $25,000, based on information they received from other McLean civic leaders.

Senator's Condition Substantially Same

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (AP) — The condition of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, seriously ill at his home here, has remained "substantially the same."

Dr. A. B. Smith, physician for the Republican foreign policy leader, said late yesterday that the senator's condition "has not changed in either direction."

Vandenberg, 66, underwent a series of operations for tumors in the last two years. He suffered a severe relapse Feb. 26 shortly after returning home from a stay in a local hospital.

WALKS OUT — Big-time gambler Frank Costello has risked arrest on congressional contempt charges by walking out on a Senate crime investigation. Costello leaves a possible perjury charge hanging over his head in addition to the contempt charge. (AP Wirephoto)

Costello's Walkout May Bring Charges

NEW YORK — (AP) — Big-time gambler Frank Costello has risked arrest on congressional contempt charges by walking out on U. S. Senate crime probes.

His voice hoarse with emotion and a throat ailment, Costello breathed defiance in a short verbal fracas with crime committee members yesterday and then announced, "I am going to walk out."

A moment later, the reputed boss of the underworld strode out of the U. S. federal courtroom muttering to reporters, "I am going right home and go to bed."

The electrifying departure of Costello left witnesses in the crime hearings here, left a possible perjury charge hanging over his head as well as a contempt citation for his walkout. As Costello took the witness chair for a third day, his attorney, George Wolf, read a prepared statement condemning the glaring lights in the courtroom, the klieg lights and television cameras and "the horde of photographers . . . darting about."

Because of the "intolerable conditions" in the courtroom, the attorney's statement was "unable to testify properly. . . ."

could not properly concentrate and . . . as a result, his answers were incoherent, unintelligible and at times inconsistent and seemingly contradictory."

The reference to "contradictory" was picked up by committee counsel Rudolph Halley, who asked Costello to clear up conflicting testimony brought out Wednesday concerning wiretap checks of telephones. Costello said he never had his phones checked for wiretaps. Another witness testified Costello hired him and paid him to check the phones. Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), committee chairman, had said all testimony on the wiretap evidence would be submitted to the U. S. attorney for possible perjury prosecution.

Debate Draft After Easter

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House leaders have decided to postpone until after Easter what promises to be a tumultuous debate on a bill to reduce the minimum draft age to 18-12 and establish a future universal military training program.

After a four-day wrangle behind closed doors, the House Armed Services Committee approved the bill late yesterday, 32-13.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), the committee chairman, arranged to go before the rules committee today (11 a. m. EST) and ask for floor clearance. He proposed three days of general debate, starting on April 3.

Before voting approval of the measure, Vinson would permit a vote in a provision to give prospective inductees the opportunity to say in writing whether they wish to serve in units segregated by races. The armed forces would be required to honor such requests if military necessity permits.

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Winstead (D-Miss), was approved 21 to 12. It would permit both whites and Negroes to say whether they wished to serve in an all-white or all-Negro unit or in a non-segregated unit.

The amendment runs counter to the program of President Truman, who has directed the armed forces to eliminate segregation as rapidly as possible.

A bill passed by the Senate a week ago today would permit drafting of youths at 18 years of age, after the pool of men from 19 through 25 years has been exhausted.

The House committee also knocked out a 4,000,000-man ceiling on the size of the armed forces. A ceiling of that size was included in the Senate bill over Pentagon objections.

Chicken Creek Bridge Nears Completion; Open To Traffic

Only the finishing touches remain for the completion of the steel and concrete Chicken Creek span along Highway 70, State Highway Department engineers reported Thursday morning.

The bridge, G. K. Reading, resident engineer, said, is open to traffic now, but clean up work and painting won't be completed until next week. Hand rails and rip raps were completed this week leaving only painting and cleanup work to be done.

In the meantime workmen of the Ernest Lloyd Construction Co. were gouging out the remaining 4 1/2 miles of dirt work between Chicken Creek and the south bank of the Canadian River. Grading operations along that section are scheduled for completion around the middle of next week, or before.

The contractor, Reading added, is anxious to complete the remaining dirt work along Highway 70 so they can start work on Farm-to-Market Road 749 between State Highway 70 and Bowers City. The road, a turnkey project, cuts east from Highway 70, 10 miles south of Pampa, and stretches six miles toward Bowers City.

Reading was still taking potential bidders over the N. Hobart stretch of Highway 70 this week prior to their bidding before the State Highway Commission at Austin on March 20. When a contract is finally awarded for the widening and paving of N. Hobart, activity on the city level will also start. At this time the city will immediately follow by awarding a contract to the Texas Concrete Works, Amarillo, for storm sewer pipe and start work on running curb and gutter from Alcock north along N. Hobart.

Work In Parks Show First Signs Spring

Signs of spring were breaking out in two of the city's parks this week as the city put the finishing touches to two barbecue pits and one tennis court.

The tennis court at the S. Hobart Park has been striped, backdrops erected and the net ready. Net fans can start playing today if they want to, City Manager Dick Pepin said this morning.

However, tennis enthusiasts will have to remember they will be limited in their night games because the square dance clubs have first choice at the concrete slab — they paid for it last year.

The barbecue pits at S. Hobart and Central Park are ready to invite Red Cross drive solicitors to collect contributions.

At the same time a similar drive will be in progress in LeFors with Larry Fuller in charge. The porch-light drive, to be announced with the first sign, will last for one hour, after which the volunteer workers in the city hall. Members of 22 federated women's clubs of the city and several other organizations will make the collections.

Claims It Has Lost Confidence Of U.S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) asserted today the Truman administration is "morally bankrupt" and has "lost the confidence of the people."

Taft's charge, made in an interview as he launched a southern speaking tour, was in answer to President Truman's news conference declaration at Key West, Fla., yesterday that his administration is made up of entirely honorable men.

At the same time, Rep. Keating (R-NY) called on the Senate Armed Services Committee to inquire into Mr. Truman's nomination of Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, his personal physician, to be a major general.

A Republican member of the committee who asked not to be named told a reporter he will see to it that the group looks fully into Graham's qualifications.

Keating told the House yesterday one question about Graham which should be settled was his connection with commodity speculation in 1947 and 1948, a time when Mr. Truman was declaring that speculators were trading in human misery.

Graham acknowledged then he had traded in commodities, but he told a Senate committee he had no inside information and left the transactions to his broker. Keating said the officer's profits were $6,165 in 1947.

Mr. Truman stood up for his associate at yesterday's news conference. He greeted a question about newspaper cartoons and editorial criticism reflecting on the moral and ethical standards of some White House employes with the reply: "It isn't true, point blank, categorically, it just is not true. He said he had no information to his history the verdict on his administration and added that if world peace is achieved his tenure in office will be remembered for that."

Taft told a reporter he thinks the Truman administration has (See TAFT Page 2)

PO, Treasury Cuts Offered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a $38,825,000 cut in next year's budget of the Treasury and Postoffice Departments.

That represents a reduction of about 13 percent under the amount President Truman asked for the two departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee asked the House to cut that much from the $2,958,125,000 requested, applying $11,151,000 of the reduction to the Treasury's request for $597,251,000 and $25,674,000 to the $2,360,874,000 sought for the Postoffice Department.

There were no substantial reductions recommended for any of the subordinate bureaus and agencies which make up the two departments.

The bill will be debated by the House next Tuesday. It is the first of the departmental budget bills to be presented to the House this year. The appropriations committee abandoned last year's system of lumping the entire federal budget into a single measure.

Compared with this year's appropriations for the two departments, the bill's total represents a cut of $88,021,800.

In addition to the cash in the bill, there is provided for the Treasury Department approximately $1,500,000,000 in so-called permanent appropriations and trust funds, the largest of which is $5,800,000,000 for interest on the national debt.

Colleges Hold Third Convention COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The third annual Texas Intercollegiate Students Association here today at Texas A&M College.

The association, formed in Denton two years ago, is designed to stimulate interest in student governments and as a medium for exchanging ideas on student life problems.

The association will vote tomorrow whether to admit Negroes to membership. Two Negro schools, Prairie View and Texas State University, were invited to send representatives to the meetings.

Absentee Voting For City Election 'Less Than Light'

Absentee voting in the April 3 city election was less than "light" by 9:30 a. m. today. Not a single absentee ballot has been cast so far by mayor or commissioner in either of Wards 3 or 4, where there are races.

Only two full weeks remain for absentee voting, the deadline being midnight, March 30. On the school trustee front the situation remained the same, still only two candidates for the three-year term of trustee of the Pampa Independent School District, H. Rayburn Thompson and John Harnly.

Candidates here until March 28 to file for office with absentee voting starting March 3 and ending April 3. The election will be held April 7.

Blazing Guns End Career For Omaha's Dewey Battershaw

ST. JOHNS, Ariz. — (AP) — A wild west style gun fight has written the final chapter in the career of Dewey Battershaw, widely-known Omaha, Neb., jailbreaker.

Battershaw, 21, fell before the guns of northern Arizona sheriff's deputies in a roaring battle eight miles west of here late yesterday. His two companions, Clifford Battershaw, a 17-year-old younger brother, and Victor Sweet, 21, were captured.

All three were wanted for a break from the Douglas County jail at Omaha March 4. The younger Battershaw, wielding a pistol, added the other two in jail to his freedom.

Their fight with police here began as a routine chase after a speeding car, and ended in a battle from tree to tree across the cedar-studded countryside. Highway Patrolman Ray Dahm and Emmett Wilhelm, a P. A. B. County undersheriff, spotted a late model Dodge racing through town yesterday evening. They gave chase.

As more police rushed to the scene, the desperados kept moving further from the road. They took cover behind trees and undergrowth, keeping the officers at bay.

Finally Highway Patrolmen Harley Thompson and Bill Sorrells caught the trio as they moved onto a ridge. They pinned them there with steady drum fire from high powered rifles.

Sheriff John Crosby and Wilhelm, sighting a chance to end the battle quickly, mounted on horses and left the fight. It was getting dark as they swung wide around a flank of the ridge and moved in from behind.

Wilhelm said they crept up close behind the desperately fighting gunmen. The elder Battershaw, unaware of the officers' presence, was drawing a careful bead on one of the patrolmen. Sheriff Wilhelm said he opened up with his 38 caliber six shooter and dropped the desperado with a shot in the side. Battershaw, fatally wounded, died a few moments later. Young Battershaw and Sweet, their ammunition almost exhausted, quickly surrendered. They had a 22 caliber rifle with only three bullets, and an empty German Luger pistol.

needed to improve both fields. At the same time Ed Myer reported "a lot of people" said they were not fully informed on what had been done so far by the aviation committee and "still don't quite understand why the E. Browning site was chosen for development over other possible sites including the short-lived discussion on a site along the Miami Highway — a site that could not be procured because the owners would not sell. So, the petitions will be circulated and presented to the county commissioners when a sufficient number of signatures are obtained. From there it will be up to the court to set the amount and call a bond election.

"good men here and there, but there is no central, directing brain."
"The Truman administration has lost all political morality," Taft said. Referring to testimony before a Senate subcommittee that White House influence allegedly played a part in granting RFC loans.
"It has secreted everything possible from the people," he continued. "It has no confidence in the people and the people have no confidence in it."
Senator Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said it will be all right with him if Mr. Truman wants to stand on history.
"We'll just let the record speak for itself," Dirksen said.
Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) a member of the banking subcommittee which has been investigating the RFC said the President's definition of honorable men "is different from that of the subcommittee and the Congress."
Taft, who has said he would accept the Republican presidential nomination if it comes his way next year, planned four political speeches in North Carolina today. His principal talk was scheduled for a Young Republican rally at Charlotte.
Mr. Truman's defense of his administration didn't include any comment about the senatorial inquiry into the RFC. Donald Dawson, one of his White House aides, has been mentioned frequently.
"Truman wouldn't say whether he will seek another term, nor would he comment on published report he might seek a Senate seat when his White House term ends."

General Says Army To Double Training

PORT BENNING, Ga. — (AP) — Gen. Mark Clark says the Army will double its training program in four field forces schools within the next six months.
General Clark, field forces commander, made an inspection tour of Benning yesterday. He said the accelerated schedule is to provide badly needed instructors to whip recruits into combat soldiers.
The program will mean doubling the present 7,500 men at Benning's infantry school. It also will affect the armored school at Fort Knox, Ky., the artillery school at Fort Sill Okla., and the ground general school at Fort Riley, Kan.

Toni Has Private Christmas Today

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — It's Christmas for five-year-old Toni Smalikin.
There's a silver tree and all the trimmings and Toni is up to her long golden curls in gifts.
Last Christmas Toni was much too ill to enjoy things. She was in a respirator; has been in one, in fact, most of the time for the last four months.
The little girl had bulbar polio, which paralyzes the diaphragm and throat muscles and doctors had just about despaired of saving her life. Today she is walking, a little shakily, but she's going to be well again.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Maybank (D-EC), of the Senate Banking Committee today urged that the sensational RFC investigation be continued.
This proposal seemed to collide with the plans of Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of a banking subcommittee conducting the inquiry, to bring its work to an early end.
Fulbright contends the subcommittee already has proved that an influence ring with White House contacts has influenced huge loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), and thereby fulfilled its purpose.

T&P To Receive New Locomotives

DALLAS — (AP) — When 31 new diesel-electric locomotives are delivered the latter part of this year, there won't be any steam engines chugging regularly over Texas — Pacific tracks in Texas.
The railroad's president, W. G. Vollmer, said yesterday the new locomotives would dieselize all regular passenger trains on the system and all regular freight train operations west of Shreveport.

Tickets For Oscar Presentation Cut

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — If you want to see a movie star get an Oscar, you can do it for $6, including tax. Or if you want to see better, you can pay $9.60.
The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences announced today there will be public sale of about 500 seats for its 23rd annual awards presentation March 29.
There was a public sale last year, with $12 tops, but the last of the tickets weren't sold until after the program started. This year the ticket for the best seats has been sliced by $2.40 a copy.

NELSON

leader. Here is what happened.
"We left Wonju early on a morning about a week ago, to some positions on the front. We got up on this big hill about 2 p. m. and about 3 p. m. we were attacked. We did a good job with them in daylight, but about 2:30 a. m. that night many cooks hit us and took the hill. We were on, away from us, so we withdrew back to the next hill, until daylight, then, we started another attack on them. We took the hill back but there were a lot of snipers left on the forward slope. During the attack Capt. Nelson was the first man on top of the mountain.
"The last time we saw him alive he was going over the hill throwing hand grenades. He really had a lot of guts. In that one night alone, we suffered 24 wounded, three dead. We were relieved the next night and we are now about 16 miles west of Wonju in reserve."
Capt. Nelson was born July 12, 1920 in St. Joseph, Mo., but lived most of his life in the Panhandle except while in the service of his country.
He was graduated from Pampa High School in 1938 with honors. He was elected a member of the National Honor Society in his Junior year and was awarded the Student Council Citizenship Cup and Lions Club Sportsmanship Trophy at the end of his senior year. He played tackle and guard on the Harvester football team. He was also active in dramatics.
In 1940, Nelson was admitted to the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. After the declaration of war in 1941, the academy accelerated its program to the extent that the four-year program was given in three years; hence, Nelson was graduated from West Point in 1943 as a second lieutenant.
In October last year, he was in Korea with the 15th Parachute Infantry Regiment. He was in the great retreat in December. He applied for command of an Infantry Co. and received command of Co. "B" in January.

The Shadow Of The Cross

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
It would be difficult to conceive of more swiftly moving, crowded events and incidents, marked by intense contrasts of joy and glory against depths of sorrow and tragedy, than are recorded in the Gospel stories of the last few days of the earthly life of Jesus.

The climax of joy and glory was in the triumphal entry into Jerusalem, so vividly portrayed in the acclamation of the people, casting flowers and their garments in the way, hailing the Master, who came riding upon a colt, with their loud Hosannas, and blessings.

Then came so quickly the anti-climax, and the depth of gloom, as the chief priests and scribes, aroused to jealousy and hatred (Matthew 21:15), began the course of events that led so soon to the Cross. The people, too, when Pilate would have sought to save Jesus by releasing Him, cried "Not this man, but Barrabas." They preferred a robber to the King of Kings.

Groups of people, and mobs, are not always the same; and I have often wondered how many, if any, who cried, "Crucify Him, Crucify Him," were among those who not too many hours before had hailed Jesus with their loud "Hosannas."

It is quite possible that none of those who had so rejoiced in His coming were in that mob before Pilate. It would be pleasant to think so, but it might not be true. Popular opinion, unfortunately, is subject to swift and tragic reversals. Very little can sometimes change the multitude, though in the long run the verdict of the common people tends to vindicate their finest moments.

It is so, even in our modern democracies, and it constitutes one of our greatest problems, as it

Man-Boy Founder To Speak Sunday

Ivy Boggs, Dallas estate analyst, and founder of the Man and Boy Movement, will be guest speaker at both services at the First Baptist Church Sunday.

constitutes also one of our strongest hopes.

No president of the United States was more vilified and slandered during the years of his presidency than was Abraham Lincoln. Yet how quickly all that was changed; not only here but throughout the world his very name has become a symbol of all that is great and good.

Would those who reviled Jesus have acted so, if they could have foreseen the love and devotion that future generations were to accord Him as Savior and Friend? How differently people would act, if they could see with better vision, and with true perspective!

But the Master was unmoved by praise or hate. "He knew what was in man." The shadow of the Cross was upon Him. He had already told His disciples of His impending suffering and death, though they had but little understood, and Peter had protested, "Be it far from Thee, Lord."

Even the temptation to turn from it all and seek the way of safety had been present in the very sternness of His rebuke to Peter (Matthew 16:23).

But there was no turning back, even though the agony in Gethsemane, and the prayer that the cup might pass. The triumphant word was "Nevertheless, not my will, but Thine be done."

The shadow of the Cross became the reality, the tragedy and the glory of Calvary.

That which we are, we are all the while teaching, not voluntarily, but involuntarily.

World Famous One-Armed Golfer Plays Here Saturday

Harvesterettes Volleyball Team Loses To Phillips

The Phillips Blackhawk won everything but the volleyball net here in the junior high school gym Thursday evening, but the Harvesterettes' team was hard pressed by a scrappy group of Harvesterettes. The local A team spiked out a 15-13 victory over the visitors in the first game. It was the first loss of the season for the champion Phillips six. Coach Peggy McNeely's volleyballers started out as if they were going to pull the upset of the season. Pampa had game point five times in the first game before a Harvesterette drilled the ball over the net for the game clinching point. Phillips came back strong and took the next two games from the Green and Gold lassies, 15-7 and 15-4. The Phillips coach said after the game that it was the first time her A squad was forced to play three games this year. The Harvesterettes B swimmers were also measured by Phillips, 2-1. Pampa lost the first game but salvaged the second contest, 15-8. Phillips won its two games, 15-4 and 15-10. Pampa trailed 10-6 in the final game but managed to take four straight points to tie the game at 16-16. Phillips then went to work and won the next five points to ice the game. For good measure, Phillips' Junior High School volleyball team defeated the Pampa junior six.

Austin, Nichols Will Match Shots Against Houck, Munn

One of the best exhibition golf matches in several years has been scheduled for the Pampa Country Club Links at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Golf fans will get an opportunity to see Jimmy Nichols, famed one-armed golfer, perform on the Pampa course. Nichols has toured the country playing exhibition matches. He's a hit at every place he plays. He does the par-busting one-armed will team with Johnny Austin, country club pro. This combination will face the tough duo of Joe Houck, Berger's Huber pro, and amateur John Munn of Amarillo. Munn is the holder of the Pampa Country Club course record. The deady golf shooter blasted out a 64 recently to snap Austin's record of 65. Austin and Munn have been playing each other for 15 years. They swapped shots when Johnny was at Pampa High School and Munn was playing for the Sandies. "I've beaten Munn three times in fifteen years," Austin said. "He's tough to stop." All four of these tee-busters shoot par or below. Houck has been playing with and against the best golfers in the country. The Houck-Munn team will be a tough one for Austin and Nichols to crack. Nichols will give a 20-minute demonstration before the match starts. Fans will have to see Nichols perform, because it's hard to believe what this Spaulding Co. representative can do with the golf club. Nichols is a Texan, and he lost his arm in an automobile accident in 1929. He has come along fast since he first started playing the game. His first score was 212 for nine holes, but now he shoots below par. Some of the exploits on the golf course by Nichols seem impossible, but they are a matter of record. In the course of his amazing career he made seven holes in one, and one of them was a drive of 336 yards. He actually made a dog-leg hole in one standing on the tee with his back to the fairway. Bob Ripley used that feature in his "Believe It or Not" in 1938. "Playing a North Carolina pro one day, Nichols sliced his drive. As this was most unusual on his part, the pro asked him how it happened. "Too much right hand," replied Nichols. Austin extends a cordial invitation to every Panhandle fan to come out and see this exhibition. It's absolutely free for the 18-hole match.

Semifinals In Pampa Cage Tournament Start Tonight

Special entertainment plus two thrilling basketball games are on tap for cage fans at the Junior High School gym tonight. The Senior Scout Troop cage tourney semifinals will pit Culberson against Jim's Grocery of Borger, and Groom will battle Karl Klein's of Borger.

The first game will start at 7:30, with Pampa and Borger taking the floor. The Karl Klein cagers are a big favorite to cop the bunting, but they face some tough opposition tonight in the form of the Groom Independent five. Groom is led by Coach J. W. Malone, left handed round-ball artist, and his star high school hoopster, Kenneth Anglin. Anglin counted 36 points against Culberson Wednesday evening and Malone hit for 22 tallies. Karl Klein has Kenneth Simpson in its line up. Simpson racked up 19 points against Miami Wednesday evening, and the Carbon Black lads have a well balanced ball club. The finals will be played Saturday night between tonight's winners, and the losers will battle for third position in the tournament Saturday night. The first game will start at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and the championship game will follow.

Harvesters Enter Fort Worth Track, Field Carnival

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH — (AP) — The schoolboys, 788 strong, throw open the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet today. They form the bulk of the field in one of the mightiest cinder path shows of the nation. Tomorrow collegians from four states, totaling 481, will shoot at a gaudy array of records, some reaching as far back as 1931. High school preliminaries are scheduled this afternoon with college trials tomorrow morning. Tomorrow afternoon a dozen records will be in the line of fire as five divisions, four for collegians, hit the finals. Track Coach A. E. Nooncaester took five Pampa Thinclads to the Fort Worth track carnival Thursday. Harvester tracksters making the trip were Bobby Selts, Howard Musgrave, Harold Smith, Elmer Wilson and Jimmy Hayes. Selts will enter the 440-yard dash, Musgrave and Smith the half mile, Wilson the 100-yard dash, and Hayes will run in the 100 and 220 dashes.

Arkansas and Oklahoma A&M are considered top contenders for the championship of the blue ribbon university division which again won't have its hitherto ruling powers, Texas A&M and Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons and a lone entry from Camp Chaffee, Ark. He is Tony D'Ambrosio, who was the spring star of the meet last year while leading Baylor to the championship. He did 100 yards in 9.7 and 220 yards in 21.5. D'Ambrosio will furnish competition for Oklahoma A&M's fine sprinter, Paul Wells, who ran a 9.8 and a 21.5 as a freshman in 1950. The college division looks even fiercer than the university class. Along with nine Texas teams — McMurry, Abilene Christian, defending champion North Texas State, Austin College, Howard Payne, Stephen F. Austin, East Texas State, Trinity University and Southwest Texas State — is Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee, Okla. The junior college class, boasting 17 teams, has drawn no out-of-state entry but the college freshman teams with the former, boasting a grand array of sprinters and an ace broad jumper, are expected to be in the thick of it.

Several records get strict tests today from the high schools, most notably being the 200-yard low hurdles and the sprints. Bill Turner of Brady already has done the low hurdles in 22.1, which is a half-second under the record here. Joe Childress of Odessa has run 100 yards in 9.7 and 220 in 21.4 and those also are the recreation meet records. The college class bids fair to produce the most new marks with Paul Faulkner of Abilene Christian soaring in the pole vault. The record is 13 feet 1 inch and Faulkner leaped 13 feet 6 1/2 inches last week in the Border Olympics. Charley White of Howard Payne, joint holder of the 220-yard low hurdles mark at 24.6, turned the low timbers in 23.9 last week and Charles holding of East Texas State high jumped 6 feet 5 inches — a half-inch better than the record here.

ONE-ARMED GOLF WIZARD—Jimmy Nichols, famed one-armed tee-buster, will be out at the country club links at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Nichols and Johnny Austin will play John Munn of Amarillo and Joe Houck of Borger on an 18-hole exhibition match. There will be no admission charged, nothing to buy, and no plate will be passed around. Everyone is encouraged to come out and see the first top-notch exhibition match to appear here in several years. (News Engraving)

Rep. Rogers Having Washington Woes

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON — (AP) — From February until November of last year, Walter Rogers of Pampa, busily ran for the job of representing his district in Congress.

Now that he has won it, he thinks maybe he would have been smarter if he had run in the other direction — away from instead of toward Washington.

"Man, man, the troubles I've had," sighed Rep. Rogers (D-Tex.).

For some time I've been wondering about the every day problems a congressman runs into. Problems like merely getting settled in Washington. Problems far removed from the ones he faces politically.

As the father of four, I have kept my eye on Rogers, a father of six, as the congressman who might be my man.

He was.

For the mother and father of John Edward, 12; Walter Edward, 11; Susan Daly, 9; Thomas Kelly, 8; Robert Joseph, 4, and Mary Catherine, 2, have had their difficulties all right.

(Incidentally, John Edward and Walter Edward is right. One is named after his father, the other after an uncle).

Rogers soon learned there was no chance to rent a house for a family of eight in Washington. So he bought one.

But simply getting the family here turned out to be as complex as a troop movement.

"Jean — that's my wife — started out in the car with three of the boys," Rogers recalled. "They ran into a blizzard in Arkansas, and had to leave the car in Memphis. They came on by train. The car is still there."

"Then our maid started out with the other three by train. She ran into the switchman's strike. I'll say this for her: she fought everybody until they put her and the kids on a train east out of Chicago."

"Then they disappeared. We finally found them in Philadelphia."

Even so, the Rogers family beat the Rogers furniture into Washington.

"Instead of the direct route, they took the stuff through Shreveport," Rogers said. "So we spent two weeks at the Shoreham Hotel."

"I have nothing against the Shoreham, but did you ever try to keep six kids in a hotel for two weeks? Especially after they learn they can go into the coffee shop and sign checks for whatever they want?"

Well, the Rogers family got into their house. Troubles right off. The washing machine broke down and flooded the basement. Then the new dishwasher was hooked up wrong and when Jean turned it on, water spurted everywhere. She called up here, frantic. One of the stenographers couldn't think of anything but the fire department. So she called the fire department, and they turned the thing off.

Everything else had gone smoothly, though?

"Well, no, not exactly. The older boys disappeared on their bikes. Down in Pampa they rode everywhere, and they couldn't understand why they couldn't do the same thing here."

"We found them four miles from home, in Rock Creek Park. They had found a wounded duck and were busy taking care of it."

"What could we do? Their Boy Scout oaths, you know."

Rogers paused barely long enough for another sigh.

"Yesterday a week ago one of the girls came in and said, 'it's raining out in the hall.' I said, 'no, it isn't. It's clear.' She said, 'it may be clear outside but it sure is raining in the hall.' Well, I went into the hall, and damned if it wasn't. If we ever have that much rain in the Panhandle, we'll have a bumper crop."

"One of the kids had put the cork in the basin, turned on the water and had forgotten about it. It ruined the plaster, and I guess we mopped and scrubbed from a constituent."

Non-Factory Unemployment Causes Drop In Openings

A report from the Texas Employment Commission stated that non-farm employment in Texas was minus 28,000 jobs in January chiefly because of a sizable drop in post-factory employment.

The usual Post-Christmas employment decline was eased considerably as a result of increased availability of defense jobs in the state.

While non-factory employment clouds the whole employment picture, additional jobs added in manufacturing establishments have brought the latter employment total to its highest post-war peak, TEC said.

Nearly all non-factory industry groups were expected to put more workers on jobs in March, according to the commission. Leading will be the construction industry.

Others in the non-factory group expecting to add additional workers are utilities, wholesale and retail trade, finance, insurance and real estate, service establishments, and medical and other professional services.

Slight employment losses are forecast for the transportation and allied services industry.

According to TEC, the magnetic pull of workers into defense installations is posing new problems for many employers. These employers are relying more and more on apprentices and trainees. Many women are entering war plants. Also significant is the increased hiring of handicapped workers.

Age Of An Elk Found By Teeth

BOZEMAN, Mont. — (AP) — Do you have an elk? Want to know its age? Just bring the elk or one of its teeth to Montana State College. Researchers will get out their calipers, measure the tooth, do some figuring and come up with the age of the elk.

The age of an elk may be of scant general interest, but it's important knowledge for big game managers who want to know the age of animals being killed. Managers know that the herd is healthy if many of the killed elk are young. But if older animals are numerous, some adjustment must be made to preserve breeding stock.
