Meat Packers Awaiting Call For Walkout

CHICAGO — (P) — More than 100,000 CIO packinghouse workers today awaited a strike call against the nation's meat packers.

20,000 Red Troops Shocked Into Flight

TOKYO — (P) — American paratroops bolstered by tough Rangers jumped today behind Communist lines north of Seoul and shocked some 20,000 Red troops into hasty flight.

The paratroopers filled the sky with their brightly-hued parachutes like a massive Easter bouquet.

But the Communists rallied later and were fighting desperately to surround and wipe out the 3,300 outnumbered American jumpers.

An armored column spearheading a fresh allied drive by three divisions north of Seoul, linked up with the paratroops near the drop area south of Munsan.

Lines of infantrymen trudged up the road for miles behind, moving to the aid of the hard-hitting chutists.

A second column rolled through the road center of Uijongbu and fanned out to the east, north and west.

But the Reds won back a commanding peak four miles north-west of Uijongbu and late Friday were pouring heavy artillery and mortar fire into the allied positions.

Munsan is 21 miles northwest of Seoul and only nine miles south of Red Korea. Uijongbu is 11 miles north of Seoul.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway has made another fruitless try to find a pathway through which to induce the Chinese Communists to discuss peace. It was learned here reliably today.

Government officials declined to discuss the matter, but a well-informed non-official source said Prime Minister Nehru initiated a new move to end the Korean conflict late in February, timing it to coincide with serious Chinese reverses on the Korean battlefield.

This was the first positive Indian action toward a negotiated settlement of the Korean dispute since the United Nations named the Chinese Reds aggressors and India, after opposing that action, announced it would "let someone else try to find a solution."

The latest Nehru attempt at opening peace talks met a stony wall of Chinese silence and continued bitter Chinese opposition to a meeting with the U.S. and other western powers, this source said.

Nehru tried again, but there was no luck," the source added. "It had been expected the Chinese, after heavy losses and severe setbacks in their efforts to drive the United Nations forces into the sea, might welcome negotiation or even mediation to end the conflict."

With the failure of the peace move, India reportedly again has resumed its policy of "let someone else try to find peace."

India Attempts Peace In Korea

NEW DELHI — (P) — India has made another fruitless try to find a pathway through which to induce the Chinese Communists to discuss peace. It was learned here reliably today.

Plane Missing With 53 Persons Aboard

WASHINGTON — (P) — A big Air Force transport plane with 53 aboard is missing on a flight over the Atlantic from the United States to England, the Air Force reported today.

One of those aboard as identified by the Air Force as Brig. Gen. Paul T. Cullen, deputy commander at Barksdale Field, near Shreveport, who was enroute to an undisclosed European destination.

Reports earlier from London said the transport, a C-124 known as "The Flying Classroom," vanished in the rain and fog over the ocean after making a routine radio report last night at 8 p. m. EST that it was 800 miles southwest of Ireland.

American, British and Irish search and rescue planes combed the area where the plane was last reported without sighting any trace of wreckage or life rafts.

The Air Force said in mid-morning however, it still held hope for the plane because it could have reached Iceland or the Azores. Communications with those areas have been had for hours.

An Air Force said weather conditions have made radio communication very difficult in the North Atlantic and that messages have not gone through to several places where the missing plane could have landed.

Another big plane, a military air transport, was temporarily reported overdue on a flight from Iceland to this country. It later landed safely at Argentina, Nfld.

The missing plane was enroute from Limestone, Me., air base to the American base at Mildenhall in Suffolk, England.

CHEAPER LICENSE SOUGHT — AUSTIN — (P) — A decrease in the cost of the uniform fishing license for Lake Texoma was sought today by Rep. D. B. Hardeman of Denison. The fee now is $5. Hardeman introduced a bill to lower that to $2.50. He said a similar bill would be introduced in the Oklahoma Legislature.

junior colleges, state hospitals and special schools, and state-supported colleges and universities.

Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth sought a five percent raise also for state employees in the $3,000 to $4,200 bracket, but the House favored the compromise cut off at $3,000 proposed by Rep. John Morrison of Quanah.

Rep. W. H. Rampey of Winters, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, argued against the pay raises, estimated to cost the state between two and three million dollars.

"We can't go on tugging the cost of state government while at the same time we're getting letters from all over the state saying 'let's don't raise taxes,'" he said.

Rep. Raymond Tatum of Huntington inquired: "What kind of tax do you propose to pay for these increases?" Willis replied: "I'll vote for whatever tax bill this House thinks right."

Law Enforcement Officials Begin Work On Evidence

WASHINGTON — (P) — Federal law enforcement officials set to work today on evidence of perjury and suspicions of tax evasion provided them by the Senate crime committee's dramatic hearings into underworld operations.

The committee itself called a one-day lull after giving a balmy Capone gang figure another chance to avoid contempt charges.

The group asked the Justice Department to study the record of its sensational New York hearings and determine whether anyone should be prosecuted for lying under oath. And a House committee asked federal officials to check on possible income tax frauds.

Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, reputed payoff man for Scarface Al Capone's old gang, was freed by the Senate crime hunters under $10,000 bond. They ordered him to reappear March 30 after he refused to answer questions about the Chicago policy racket and other underworld activities.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said that will be the last chance of the heavy-jowled Guzik to clear himself of contempt citations unanimously voted against him and three other gambling figures.

At the same time, Kefauver said, Guzik will be questioned further about the few answers he gave the committee yesterday when he figuratively thumbed his nose at the Senate inquiry.

The committee took a recess today. Tomorrow it will hear Louis Farrell, identified as a Des Moines, Iowa, liquor wholesaler, and Sidney Brodson of Milwaukee, listed as a reputed betting commissioner.

Kefauver said the group hopes to have Abner Zwillman of Newark, N. J., as a witness on Saturday. Zwillman, prohibition era figure, has been linked to Murphy.

On the school trustee front two candidates will battle it out for the three-year term on Apr. 7. They are Trustees H. Raeburn Thompson and John Harilly. Absentee voting in the school election will not start until Mar. 28 and end at midnight, Apr. 3.

Boyd Clayton Traywick, 33, of Dumas, was slightly injured at 8 p. m. Thursday when his 1950 Chevrolet went out of control and turned over 6.8 miles west of Pampa on the Borger Highway. Traywick was taken to Worley Hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance where he was treated for minor injuries and released shortly before 10:30 p. m.

State Highway Patrolmen, investigating the wreck, said Traywick's car apparently started to go out of control "right on" the Gray-Carson County line. It left the road on the north shoulder and turned over in a field north of the highway, approximately 50 yards inside the Gray County line.

Although no estimate of damage to the car was made by patrolmen, they described it as being "pretty well torn up."

Ford Assets Reach Half Billion Mark — DETROIT — (P) — Assets of the giant Ford Foundation, set up by Henry Ford in 1926, have mounted to approximately half a billion dollars.

Mammoth Biblical Painting Is Resurrected For Showing

GLENDALE, Calif. — (P) — One of the world's great religious paintings, Jan Styka's "Crucifixion," goes on display tonight after half a century of obscurity.

The mammoth oil — 45 feet high and 195 feet long — is believed to be the world's largest on a Biblical subject.

The unveiling at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, a Glendale cemetery, will be the highlight of dedication ceremonies for a $1,500,000 building erected to house the work.

Styka's canvas is a panoramic view of the ancient walled city of Jerusalem. In the foreground is the hill of Golgotha, where the citizenry has gathered to watch the executions. Its more than 1,000 life-size figures are dominated by the praying Christ, pictured moments before He is placed on the cross.

Its creation and the reasons for its obscurity are quite a story. Jan Styka, who died in 1925, was a Polish artist internationally renowned for religious scenes. He was best known for 15 paintings and 100 sketches which illustrated the novel, "Quo Vadis," a tale of Christian martyrdom in Nero's Rome.

He did the "Crucifixion" at the behest of Ignace Jan Paderewski, late Polish premier and pianist, who envisioned a painting that would be an inspiration to the Christian world and reflect glory on Poland.

Styka journeyed to the Holy Land and spent eight years doing research and sketching ruins. Then he knelt before Pope Leo XIII, who blessed his palette and brushes. The vast canvas, made to order in Belgium, was brought to Lwow, Poland, where Styka was given the city art gallery for a studio.

He painted furiously, 10 and 12 hours a day, for years. That his research paid off is evidenced (See MAMMOTH, Page 2) non-operating employees, will be able to claim raises of eight or nine cents. The non-operating group negotiated a 12-1/2 cent raise March 1. Contracts for switchmen and yardmen, in a deal prior to the wage freeze Jan. 28, are not affected by the 10 percent raise ceiling.

The anticipated new index increase does not affect automobile industry workers. Their next cost-of-living adjustment is due June 1.

Price Stabilization officials said the four-cent minimum on gasoline was to help dealers who, because of price wars, were caught in the general freeze with lower-than-customary profit margins.

Price Director Michael V. DiBella said the order may result in "some limited price increase but no general price rise on petroleum products."

Economic Stabilizer Johnston issued his warning against inflation in a speech broadcast over the CBS network.

"Inflation is already sabotaging our defense just as surely as it carried the Red flag of international communism," Johnston said.

Panhandle Gets TV Allocations — Seven cities in the Panhandle have been listed by the Federal Communications Commission among the 176 Texas allocations for new television stations.

Area cities named by FCC were Pampa, Borger, Childress, Dalhart, Hereford, Perryton and Plainview.

Two Injured In Tank Explosion — EDINBURG, Tex. — (P) — An exploding air compressor tank or painting equipment injured two men here yesterday, one seriously. The blast blew both men out of their shoes.

J. G. Croxton of Edinburg was still unconscious in a local hospital last night while J. C. Aron, also of Edinburg, escaped with only minor injuries.

The two men were engaged in a painting job at the Golden Jersey Creamery when the explosion occurred. The tank was blown through the side of the creamery and landed 75 feet away.

No reason for the explosion had been determined last night.

Flames Destroy Barn, Feed; Fire In Pampa Believed Cause

A barn and an undetermined quantity of feed were destroyed by fire on the G. W. Redman farm east of the city Thursday afternoon, city officials reported today.

The fire, City Manager Dick Peppin said, actually started somewhere in Pampa by someone burning trash in a trash barrel.

Peppin reported the flames broke out on the city dump ground a few moments after one of the city's packer trucks dumped its cargo on the trash pile. Hot ashes, deep in some trash barrel, apparently smoldered until they hit the air and were fanned into flames again. The high winds Thursday afternoon carried burning pieces of paper over adjacent grass lands and from there ate their way eastward igniting the feed and the barn.

The city has not burned any trash at the dump ground for two days because of the high winds.

Fire trucks were called at 3 p. m. but the barn fire was out of control by the time firemen arrived. (See FLAMES, Page 2)

Press Release Adds Two-Week Illness Unusual Postscript

WASHINGTON — (P) — Government press releases are usually pretty matter-of-fact, so-and-so announces something and that ends it.

But not invariably. Yesterday, for example, the housing expediter's office put out a statement in which it noted that a previous release had incorrectly said Mrs. Lillian Estella Berry, 58, died at 3 a. m. today in a local hospital following a two-week illness brought on by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Surviving besides her husband, Elzie Berry, are her father, Willie D. Fields, Childress; and her mother, Mrs. May Ola Holland, Kerns.

Funeral services are pending at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

It should have been Colorado, the release said, and it added: "Incidentally, California, which makes us think of the gold rush, the girl of the golden west and the golden bears, has no city named Golden. But Colorado has."

Panama, Spain Resume Relations — PANAMA — (P) — Panama and Spain have resumed diplomatic relations, a spokesman for President Arnolfo Arias announced today.

Panama broke relations with the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in 1945. Recognition at that time extended to the Spanish Republican government in exile — was withdrawn last year.

Confession Ends Search In 'March Of Dimes' Burglary

Theft of approximately $6 from a March of Dimes collection box in the D. V. Burton Service Station and a string of petty burglaries were solved last Thursday with the confession of a 22-year-old ex-convict.

The man, Elijah Williams, 22, of 502 Elm, signed a statement Thursday afternoon before County Attorney Bill Waters and Sheriff Rufe Jordan admitting his part in breaking into seven business establishments on the night of Jan. 10.

Williams was first picked up March 10 for investigation in connection with the burglary of the Busy Bee Cafe when officers tracked him through a shoe-horn print on a booth seat. The accused man told police he had broken into the Busy Bee then and taken several cartons of cigarettes and ate some ice cream. Under police grilling he also admitted break-

Scores of New Testament figures are shown including Mary, mother of Jesus, the disciple John, Lazarus, Mary Magdalene and the centurion Longinus. Jesus stands alone at the center, his head uplifted to Heaven. Completed in 1895, the canvas was unveiled in Warsaw. It was exhibited in Moscow in 1898, and in 1909 Styka brought it to America for the St. Louis exhibition. But when a fire destroyed his "Qua Vadis" paintings, he decided to store the "Crucifixion" instead of showing it.

It has been in storage ever since, except for a brief display in Chicago's opera house 40 years ago. The problem it was too huge to be conveniently displayed.

He cautioned officers: "Make the men dig in... get buttoned up in those goose eggs (the drop zones)."

The 187th Airborne Regimental combat team, bolstered by tough, wiry Rangers specially trained for behind-the-lines fighting, hit the Korean dirt near Munsan, nine miles south of parallel 38 and 21 miles northwest of Seoul. ## Wind Damage For Area Is Increasing

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Wind damage to Texas farmlands through blowing dust is increasing, the soil conservation service said today.

Regional SCS Director Louis P. Merrill said extensive damage has been reported in both the Panhandle and the "critically dry" lower Rio Grande Valley.

Insects are a factor in the Panhandle, Merrill said green bugs and cutworms are damaging young wheat already hurt by drought and that, as a result, the soil is even more exposed to blowing.

In the Hereford area of the Panhandle, he said, "the worms and insects have dealt a killing blow to young wheat already dying from prolonged dry weather."

District Conservationist A. J. Lumm at Hereford reported exposed acreage in his area had jumped to a million acres compared with only a hundred thousand acres two weeks ago.

At Harlingen in the lower Rio Grande Valley, District Conservationist John A. Perrin reported erosion damage on 30,000 acres. Recent sand storms in the Lamesa area have been unusually severe with 25,000 acres undergoing wind damage in storms on March 9 and 16.

Land area without sufficient plant cover or crop residues increased from 2,765,000 acres two weeks ago to 3,983,000 as of March 15. This figure covers not only the "blow area" of Texas but also parts of Oklahoma.

At Dalhart, District Conservationist A. E. Klahn said many farmers are conceding the failure of early planted wheat because of worm infestation. However, late planted wheat in that area was still growing vigorously and the danger of widespread erosion damage there is not great, Merrill said.

District Conservationist George M. Parker at Ferrington reported wheat in his area on the decline and in the Pampa area SCS reports said half the stand of wheat is dead as the result of dry weather and green bugs. At Littlefield, however, District Conservationist John A. Perrin reported wheat improving except for localized worm damage. At Plainville, District Conservationist Scott Amend said worms are attacking the wheat. John H. Taylor, district conservationist at Spur, reported wheat slowly improving.

Merrill was pessimistic over prospects for another season without severe blow damage if there is widespread wheat failure again this year.

"If wheat fails to make growth enough to leave effective residue on the land, the only thing farmers can do is to try to get a stand of grain sorghum or sudan this summer," Merrill said. "This will be the second successive year of wheat failure in some areas of the high plains. It means that for the second year there will be no effective residue in the surface of the soil. Conditions of this sort lead to large scale damage to the land."

OFFICIALS

The pudgy, balding Guzik met most inquiries of senators and counsel with the monotonous repetition: "I refuse to answer because it might incriminate me or tend to incriminate me or lead in some devious way to incriminate me."

When Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) asked Guzik if he had consulted a lawyer, the witness replied with one of his few direct answers: "no."

"Where did you get this phase you have been using?" asked Wiley, a lawyer.

"I heard it on television," Guzik replied. Spectators jammed into the ornate, high-ceilinged Senate caucus room roared with laughter.

Guzik even declined to say whether he had a brother Harry, Chicago sources familiar with the old Capone gang say Harry Guzik was known as "greasy thumb" and that Jacob Guzik inherited the nickname after his brother died in 1949. Both evidently got the name from their habit of licking a thumb while counting out money.

Kefauver told reporters he had been informed that Guzik was seen before he testified with George F. Callaghan of Chicago, who appeared as attorney for racketeer Tony Accardo when Accardo was questioned by the committee here Jan. 5.

The committee chairman said the senators will be "anxious to find out if this is true." He declined to speculate on whether it would provide grounds for possible perjury charges against Guzik in view of his statement he had not consulted an attorney.

Guzik was one of 17 missing witnesses for whom the committee issued arrest warrants last month. Two more are reported to have been located and may testify Monday on the committee's inquiry into the Cleveland phase of its investigations. The committee did not name them.

FLAME

Several times in the past, Pepin said, hot ashes and smoldering trash have set fire to city trash trucks but damage was kept low by quick action on the part of firemen.

The fire brought a reminder from city officials that an ordinance prohibiting burning trash is on the city books. It carries a penalty, too.

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

John Munn of Amarillo led a Pampa quintet against Borger's golfers at the Huber golf course Wednesday afternoon. Munn shot a 66 for low score. Johnny Austin notched a 68, Johnny Foreman 72, Lefty Cox 77, and Homer Smith of Amarillo finished with a 74. Players from Borger were Joe Hocker, Bill Bertow and Bud Abbott.

Big John Rapaz, former Oklahoma great and Randy Clay's New York Giant teammate, is working in the oilfields near Lubbock. John got together with his former Okie teammates, Jack Mitchell, Wade Walker and Bobby Goad, at a Lubbock banquet this week. Also attending was All-America Glen Davis of the Los Angeles Rams. Abilene High School closed its spring football drills last week. Abilene had 87 gridders out for practice.

Borger High School is in its third week of spring grid workouts. The Carbon Black city boys Guy Gardner has been making the Bulldogs jump through the grid hoops. The lads who know say that is just what Borger needs. I ran into Mr. and Mrs. Jess Clay at KPAT's grand opening. Mrs. Clay asked me when I was dropping around for some coffee. Just keep the pot boiling, Mrs. Clay. I've found a place where I can get free doughnuts.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies Golf Association, I had my feelings hurt. One member asked me if I was still with the Amarillo Times. Insult was added to injury when the ladies didn't ask me to stay for the luncheon. However, I got away with two sinkers and two cups of coffee. Since I had to pay that fine at the local J.P. court, I've had to mooch a few meals. It really hurt when the Chiefs finished their few slices of the upper portion of the cow. I'm now casting hungry looks toward Oiler Park.

Don Ackerman of Price College in Amarillo says he'll play his college football at Oklahoma A&M. Gueriella Coach Dwaine Lyon said his team made the grade for the fleet-footed gridders. He scored five touchdowns against the Pampa eleven here. His average per touchdown was better than 70 yards per carry.

Pampa Clouters, Panhandle Clash Here Saturday Night

The Pampa Boys Club boxing team enters the ring at 8 o'clock here Saturday night at the Junior High School gym against fighters from Panhandle, Lefors and Amarillo. Eighteen fights are on the card.

A bout which promises to be one of the top fights of the night is the 135-pound scrap between Battling Bobby Wilhelm of Pampa and Rugged Gandi Lopez of Amarillo. Wilhelm lost his last fight by a decision at Shamrock last week, but the decision was loudly booed by the crowd. The Classy Boys Club swetsmith will be out to get back on the winning side Saturday night.

Panhandle will throw Jim Howard at Dick Murray in a 160-pound test. Murray knocked out his last ring opponent, Bobby Campbell of Shamrock. He sent the lighter Campbell to the deck in the second round, after the Irish puncher floored Murray twice in the first frame.

The lighter weights promise fans some leather mixers. Gary Watt will face Glen Axe of Panhandle in a 65-pound fight. Ronnie James, who always is in there mixing it up, battles Billy Jay of Panhandle.

In a 165-pound fight, Jimmy Bennett meets D. D. Homan of Panhandle. Bennett's light fight here in Pampa was one fan's still talk about. The Boys Club swinger lost to Durwood Lynch of Panhandle in the Pampa District Golden Gloves Tournament finals.

Pampa's next fight date is with Wellington next Tuesday.

Colorado Collegians Defeat Vandergriff At Denver Meet

DENVER (AP) — A bunch of easy-going Colorado collegians having the time of their life last night breezed into the semifinals of the National AAU Basketball Tournament along with last year's champion Phillips 66ers and two other veteran AAU lives.

The Colorado A&M team, entered by Lourde Valley Creamery of Fort Collins, walked past the Vandergriff Stars of Dallas, Tex., 82-47, in the first round. The Dallas five included stars of Oklahoma and Texas universities.

The Coloradans, who tied for last place in the Skyline Collegiate Conference this season, had a 10-1 record Saturday night.

The Illinois club steamrolled over Denver Chevrolet 78-53 last night.

Phillips 66ers from Bartlesville, Okla., romped over the Dayton, Ohio, Air Gems 76-50. They go tonight against San Francisco. Stewart Chevrolet who had an 88-42 frolic over the Sioux City, Iowa, Jamcos.

The only interesting struggle in the quarterfinals was between the two college aggregations from Dallas and Fort Collins.

Bill Gossett, a hook shot specialist, whirled off the post in spectacular fashion to pace the Fort Collins victory. Gossett, a 6-foot 4-inch senior on the Aggies team, stole the show from the Dallas ace Marcus Freiberg, a 6-foot 11-inch University of Oklahoma center, and Paul Nolan, 6-10 sophomore pivot from Texas Tech.

The Coloradans hit 40 percent of their shots while the Texans connected only 26 percent. Dallas had become one of the red-hot dark horses after knocking second-seeded Oakland, Calif., Blue 'n' Golds out of the tourney 62-50.

HARLINGEN (AP) — Youth and age combined to give the Houston Buffs a 5-2 victory over the Beaumont Roughnecks here last night, rookie outfielder Russel Rac and veteran catcher Les Pusselman teaming to pace the winners.

Rac homered with a mate aboard in the first inning and Pusselman drove two more runs across the plate in the eighth.

Beaumont scored in the first inning on a single by Clarence Darrah and a double by Marty Carlson.

Emil Patrick was the Beaumont starter. Harland Coffman, a newcomer from Columbus, Ga., worked the first seven innings for Houston and gave up four hits.

Brookes Comets Rout Aggies, 12-4

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Brooke Army Medical Center's Comets continued their sweep through the Southwest Conference ranks, defeating the Texas Aggies 12-4 last night for their latest conquest.

The star-studded Comets scored three runs in the third inning to start the fireworks and added three more in the sixth and six in the eighth for the victory. The Aggies counted their runs in pairs, two in the fourth and two in the fifth, to lead momentarily.

Harvesters Enter Six Tracksters In White Deer Invitational Track Meet

Sweetwater Plays Harvesters Here In Opening Game

The Sweetwater Mustangs filled the open football date for Coach Tom Tipps' Fighting Harvesters for next football season. The rugged Mustangs test the Pampans here the night of Sept. 14. Five home games are scheduled for Pampa fans.

One of the roughest home scheduled to face a Pampa coach will meet Tipps next season. The Harvesters open against the Mustangs the night of Sept. 14. The following week, Pampa collides with Austin of El Paso in a home game. After tilts with Verdon and Plainview, the Harvesters return home for dates with the Abilene Eagles and Odessa Broncos, Oct. 19 and 26. Then their last home engagement is with the Amarillo Sandies Nov. 10.

Coach Tipps cut his spring practice one day short. After Wednesday's drill he had the gridders to check in their suits.

Eleven Schools Enter Teams In Carnival At Buck Field

Track Coach A. R. Nooncaster took six Harvester tracksters to the White Deer Invitational Track Meet today. The largest track meet in the Panhandle got underway at 9:30 this morning with preliminaries and finals started at 1:30 this afternoon. Eleven schools entered thin-clads in the carnival at Buck Field.

Coach Nooncaster entered Jimmy Hayes, Harold Smith, Bobby Seitz, Howard Musgrave, Eugene Conroy and Harold Courson. The Harvesters held a short workout Thursday afternoon, and it was the first day out for Bonny.

Hayes entered the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He is also on the 440 and 100 yard dashes, the Harvester have Smith. He was a reserve halfback on the Harvester football team last year. With Smith in the 440 are Courson and Seitz. Seitz is entered in the broad jump. Bonny is entered in the 100-yard dash with Hayes.

On the relay team Pampa has Hayes, Smith, Seitz and Bonny. One of the feature attractions of the afternoon is the mile run. It pits Dale Imel of White Deer against Joe Sparkman of Childress. Imel captured first place at the Fort Worth Track Meet last week, and Sparkman finished third. The two lads have raced against each other four times in the mile, and each has won twice.

Class AA teams entered are Pampa and Childress. Memphis, Perryton, Lefors, Canyon, Seagraves and Phillips represent schools from Class A, and White Deer, Panhandle and Miami are Class B schools entered.

A team trophy will be awarded to the winning team and miniature golf track shoes to the individual winners. Second, third and fourth place finishers will receive ribbons.

Castoffs Stick With Brooklyn

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Bill Voiselle and Outfielder Hank Edwards, a couple of castoffs who were born on the same day 32 years ago, figure very largely in Charley Dressen's plans. Though both are Montreal property, opening day may find them on the Brooklyn Dodger roster.

"We were born on the same day — Jan. 29, 1919 — and were shipped to Springfield, Mass., in the International League the same day," says Voiselle, a 21-game winner for the Giants in 1944. "Frankie Frisch treated me swell last year but I couldn't get going for the Cubs, losing four decisions without winning one."

"I weighed 240 as a Cub but now I'm down to 220 after working in a machinery warehouse at Ninety-Six, S. C., all winter. Now I can afford to eat and I'm stronger. I felt great at Springfield, too, because on the final day I beat Syracuse a nine-inning game in one hour and 18 minutes. We had to win that game to finish fifth."

"I lost too much weight all at once last year and I believe that was my only trouble. I never had a sore arm in my life."

At Springfield, Voiselle compiled a 9-5 record. The six-four veteran of 13 campaigns in organized ball is the guy Mel Ott paid $500 for, grooving a 2-0-0 pitch to Johnny Hopp in 1945. The fine later was returned.

Edwards, who has been with the Indians, White Sox and Cubs, has been bothered with bursitis since 1947 but he now claims he's in the pink. Last year he was the Dodgers' ace after 41 games for the Cubs when shipped back to the minors for the first time since 1942. At Springfield he hit only .268 in 37 games.

Another veteran not on the Dodger roster is Clyde King, now 25 and who pitched for the Dodgers when he was 18. In 1947 he hurled 31 straight scoreless innings for Brooklyn.

"If I can't make the club I'm going to try to make a deal for myself," says King. "I've had two good years at Montreal."

Favorites Clash In Semifinals At Junior Tournament

HUTCHINSON, Kas. (AP) — Two favorites — Northeast Mississippi and Ventura, Calif., clash tonight in the semifinals of the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

Ventura became a favorite early in the tournament by running up 50 points in the first 15 minutes of its opening round game against Weber College of Ogden, Utah. It beat Weber, 98-69. Then the California-bred past Amarillo, Tex., 78-46 in the quarterfinals.

Northeast Mississippi trounced Tiffin, Ohio, 78-61, in the first round and beat a good Wingate, N.C., team, 54-44, in the quarterfinals.

Tonight's other semifinal game in the championship bracket pits Tyler, Tex., against Moberly Mo. Moberly beat York, Pa., 65-57, in last night's quarterfinal game. Tyler edged Dodge City, Kas., 68-65, in an overtime contest that was tied 40 all at the end of regulation play.

The tournament is a double elimination affair. Four teams were eliminated yesterday. Stockton, Calif., ousted South Georgia, 56-49. Wingate eliminated Amarillo, 65-55. Weber knocked out Norfolk, Neb., 87-74, and Olympic College of Bremerton, Wash., defeated Binghamton, N. Y., 73-59. Today's schedule includes Tyler vs. Moberly (championship semifinals at 9 p.m.)

Rice Owls Lose

HOUSTON (AP) — Ohio State pushed across a dozen runs in the first six innings and went on to defeat Rice Institute 14-6 here yesterday.

Lionnie Foster of Ohio State gave up five runs in the first inning but allowed only four Rice hits in the last eight innings.

Ted Narleski, UCLA's 162-pound tailback, comes from Coltingwood, N. J.

Golf Travelers Pitch Tents At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Golf's touring stars pitched their tents here today for their annual two-week North Carolina visit, opening with the $10,000 Greensboro Open Tournament today through Easter Monday. The Wilmington Azalea Open follows next Thursday for four days.

The three big men in the field as the first of four 18-hole rounds began today were Jim Ferrier, Sammy Sneed and Lloyd Mangrum.

Ferrier began play with the year's hottest streak running — three straight victories in Florida.

Davis Will Fight Giosa, Not Williams

NEW YORK (AP) — John L. Davis, ranking lightweight from Richmond, Calif., will fight Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia and not lightweight champion Ike Williams in Madison Square Garden on Friday night.

Officials of the International Boxing club announced the switch last night.

Williams, from Trenton, N.J., claimed he hurt his shoulder in a two-round drill yesterday with sparring Art Feraley at Pompton Lakes, N.J.

Central League Casts Threat At Detroit Tigers

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The Class A Central League cast a threat in the direction of the Detroit Tigers today — a threat that may challenge baseball law.

A minor league's cut from the radio broadcast revenues of big league clubs could be involved.

The threat is a $40,000 damage suit now being prepared by the Central League. It's to go to court unless Detroit makes a "settlement."

The suit would be aimed at a recent ruling by Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler that minor leagues can't receive a cut of major league broadcast receipts.

Baseball men here said that if the courts should cast out the ruling it might open the way for minor leagues to build up their operating funds at the expense of major league clubs and radio sponsors.

Central League President Thomas J. Halligan said the minors are entitled to this money because major league broadcasts cut down on minor league attendance.

The controversy started last month when the Central League asked $40,000 from the Detroit Tigers and their radio sponsor, the Coebel Brewing Co.

In return the four Central League clubs in Michigan — Grand Rapids, Muekegon, Saginaw, and Flint — would permit Detroit to broadcast its games in their territory at the same time the minor league games were going on.

Chandler's rule requires a minor league club's approval when any major league broadcast originates from a station within 50 miles of the minor league city.

Horned Frogs Edged Oklahoma, 10-9

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian scored in the last half of the ninth with two out here yesterday to down the University of Oklahoma 10-9 in an exhibition baseball game.

There were a total of 20 walks and 23 base hits.

Plainview Lassies Reach Finals At Dallas Tournament

DALLAS — (AP) — Hanes Society of Winston-Salem, N. C., and the upset kids from Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., tangled tonight in the finals of the annual AAU Women's Basketball Tournament.

The North Carolina team reached the championship round last night with a 41-38 victory over Cook's Goldblumes of Nashville, Tenn.

The Texans pulled their second upset in as many days, defeating American Institute of Business, Des Moines, Ia., on a last second shot goal by Cleo Brooks. Wednesday night they had knocked off defending champion Nashville Business College.

Tintoreria Coahuila, Mexico, and the State Board of Health of Jackson, Miss., meet in the finals of the consolation bracket.

The Mexico entry came from behind to beat Iowa Wesleyan College, 38-34, and Jackson knocked off Smithtown of Texas, 41-32.

Pat Tate led Wayland scoring with 18. The score was tied six times in the Hanes game and the lead changed hands five times.

Jackie Fagg and Irma Hedgecock dumped in last minute field goals to clinch the win for Hanes.

Oklahoma Ags Open Baseball Season Against Iowa State

STILLWATER — Coach Toby Greene sends his Oklahoma A&M college baseball varsity into action March 26 and 27 when Iowa State swings south for a pair in Boomer park here. "Don't know whether we can handle them or not," Greene says, "but the boys are looking good and should be all right when we get the other half of our infield off the basketball squad." Keith Smith and two soph, Emmett McAfee and Kendall Sheets were detained by NCAA basketball duties. Aggie bullwarks likely will be Bob Bartlett, who played outfield last year and hit over .400 and big Joe Buck, future at the first, a .300 man at the plate.

Darrow Leads Ags Into Triangular Track Meet Today

HOUSTON — (AP) — Big Darrow Hooper, the A&M weight man, may pace the Aggies to victory over Texas and Rice this afternoon in a triangular track and field meet. The Aggies are heavy favorites to walk off with the meet.

A&M defeated Texas a week ago 90-1-2 to 44-1-2 and beat both Texas and Rice easily in the Border Olympics.

Hooper is one of the reasons the Aggies are top-heavy favorites. He has bettered the South-west Conference shot put record every time out this season and is also considered the best discus thrower in this section.

One of the highlights of the meet is expected to be the 440-yard relay, always a favorite with track fans. Texas, long the power of the conference in this event, may find a surprise in the Aggies who led the Longhorns last week and posted a time of 42.7. Rice beat the Longhorns three times out of six in the sprint relay last season and may spring a surprise of their own.

The 120-yard high hurdle is another event that is expected to provide fireworks with a dual between Rice's Bill Howton and A&M's Paul Leming in the offing. Both are among the nation's best in the event.

Howton is also a fine low hurdler and will battle Bill Bless of A&M and Ralph Person of Texas to the wire over the longer distance. Person is considered the favorite in the 100-yard dash with both Rice and A&M entering good men in the race who could upset the dope.

Rice will not compete in the mile relay this season and the Aggies are favored here but all three will be strong in the 880 yard run and the mile run.

Joining Hooper in the starring roles will likely be the Aggie pole vaulters, Jack Simpson and Don Graves; Rice's Ralph Granger and Jim Gerhardt, and Texas' Charley Meeks, all broad jumpers. Simpson has soared over 14 feet in practice this season.

Illinois, Kentucky Enter Cage Finals

By WILL GRIMSLEY NEW YORK — (AP) — Spirited, hard-driving Illinois is next in line to try to waylay heavily-favored Kentucky in the NCAA basketball championships, and already Adolph Rupp is losing sleep over it.

"I'm worried," the veteran Kentucky coach said today. "Illinois looks mighty good and my boys are tired. This big Bob Peterson of theirs is likely to give our Spivey a lot of trouble."

Illinois and Kentucky clash Saturday at Madison Square Garden in the Eastern finals, the winner qualifying to meet the Western victor for the championship at Minneapolis next Tuesday. The Western finalists will be determined tonight at Kansas City.

Both Eastern finalists produced a lot of late "kick" last night to subdue stubborn adversaries before 14,214 at the Garden.

The Wildcats from Lexington, Ky., held to even terms for 35 minutes, staged a devastating drive in the last five minutes to stun St. John's of Brooklyn, 58-42.

Illinois' underrated Big Ten champions also uncorked a stirring finish to repel North Carolina State, the Southern Conference champion playing without three of its veteran stars, 84-70. The Illini looked as if they could run all night.

Rupp let it be known that his greatest concern was how Kentucky's seven-foot Bill Spivey would fare with Peterson, the husky who holds down the pivot job for the Illini.

At six-eight, Peterson is four inches shorter than Spivey but he's heavier, 235 pounds to 215, and he's very agile for a big man.

At Kansas City, Oklahoma A&M, second ranked nationally, had more trouble than anticipated with little Montana State, 50-46, and Washington's Pacific Coast champions had less than expected with Texas A&M, beating the Southwest tilts, 62-40.

Tonight the Aggies and Washington play in one of the semi-final Western games. Kansas State, the high-scoring tournament favorite, meets Brigham Young, National Invitation Tournament winner, in the other game, opening the program at 9 p.m. (EST). The Western finals also are Saturday.

The offensive starting eleven of the Los Angeles Rams and the New York Yanks average 212 pounds per man.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK — (AP) — When the Yankees play an exhibition game against Southern California Monday they'll have three USC alumni on the squad — Wally Hood, Jim Brideveser and Hank Workman.

Tom Lovrich, a pitcher who beat the Hollywood Stars recently, shortstop Bob Lillis and first baseman Al Lamont all are good enough to draw the big league scouts.

Then there's Don Bierman, Babe's son, who plays in the outfield and can rattle the fences in practice. He's not ready to threaten his old man's records yet.

Most generous offer recently recorded came from Frank McGuire, St. John's U. basketball coach.

Frank offered to let the second-guessing scribes outline the strategy for last night's game against Kentucky, adding: "I'll follow it — but if we don't win, they'd better not show up again."

When Doak Walker was playing football for Southern Methodist U., he said he could do everything but throw a forward pass and then catch it himself.

Now danged if SMU hasn't come up with a lad who can do that. . . . In spring practice Gene Gillis, sophomore triple-threat back, cut loose a pass. Defensive end Bob Hooks swatted the ball into the air and Gillis caught it on the fly — for a 12-yard loss.

Dick Boyce, a 6-5 freshman basketball center who once turned down the Kille Kinnick scholarship at the U. of Iowa in favor of a pre-med course at George Washington U., has returned to his home state to enter Iowa State. . . . John L. (for nothing) Davis, the California lightweight who makes his Eastern debut tonight still is active in the Richmond, Calif., Teen Age Club. That's where he got his start in boxing. . . . Andy Holt, who is blind, won four of his six matches for the North Carolina freshman wrestling team this season. It's the only sport in which a guy can't see and compete on equal terms with those who can. . . . After seeing Mike Goliat, who hit .212 and .284 in two seasons, batting in the cleanup spot for the Phillies, one Dodger commented: "I hope he's the best hitter they have — or that they have eight more like him."

George Washington U. boasts that three co-eds are starting on one of its variety sports squads. . . . Can any other college say that? . . . Freshmen Kay Thompson, Bev Jones and Sue Vernon are top crew "men" on the sailing team.

A new television group has closed a deal with the PGA for rights to televise the golf "tournament of the week." They plan to start with the Augusta Masters. . . . The 39-man Bucknell U. football squad finished the fall term with a scholastic average of 1.432, higher than the overall men's average. . . . Won six of nine games, too. . . . When the U. of Connecticut basketball team turned up for the NCAA tournament with a husky dog as a mascot, one observer moaned — that's the first time I ever saw a seeing-eye dog lead the players off the floor."

Army gridded Ed Ticker also is captain-elect of the Cadet basketball team.

THROUGH THE YEARS—These Athletics at West Palm Beach, Fla., date their days with the Philadelphia Americans from the beginning of the century. ### Briefs From Training Camps

(By The Associated Press) SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — A pinched nerve in the elbow of his pitching arm is bothering Alie Reynolds, veteran New York Yankees righthander.

Reynolds said today the ailment is becoming more painful daily. Sidney Caynor, team physician, said Reynolds also may have some bone chips in his elbow. No x-rays are planned immediately.

LAKELAND, Fla. — (AP) — Hal Newhouser tells this one on himself.

An elderly feminine fan buttonholed him in the hotel lobby for his autograph. She gushed about how Hal was her "favorite pitcher" and she'd come a long way to see him.

So that star Detroit Tiger southpaw obliged immediately and wrote his name in her book. "My goodness, Mr. Newhouser," she said, "I never knew you were lefthanded."

SARASOTA, Fla. — (AP) — The Boston Red Sox will rest veterans Lou Bourdeau and Bobby Doerr today and use a second base combination up from Louisville against the Cincinnati Reds.

Al Richter will be at shortstop and Mel Hoderlein at second as Bill Wight and Walt Masterson face the Reds.

BRAEDENTON, Fla. — (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics have lost the services of Bob Hooper, their only 1950 winning pitcher at least for the three game series with the Boston Braves this weekend.

A West Palm Beach doctor reported Hooper is suffering from a pinched nerve in the right arm. He said, however, that Hooper probably will be out of action only a short time.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Luke Easter, the Cleveland Indians' big first baseman, is swinging a bat again.

Sidelined two weeks with an elbow injury, Easter took a few whacks yesterday at batting practice. He socked one pitch over the right field wall. "Felt pretty good," said Luke of his sore elbow. "A little tender, but there was no pain."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — Mr. Shortstop is having trouble in the replacement department. He can't find anyone to fill his shoes.

Mr. Shortstop, of course, is Marty Marion, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. He has tried several men at his old spot.

Solly Hemus will be next to take a crack at shortstop. He's been playing second base in the absence of late-starting Red Schoendienst. Hemus, if he makes good, may fill in at third base, too.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — The New York Giants have a missing player mystery on their hands.

They can't find Spider Jorgensen, the bench-strength infielder-outfielder they bought from Minneapolis. Spider, formerly with Brooklyn, hasn't signed with nor reported to the Millers. Messages sent to him at El Paso, Tex., have been returned, saying the player has moved and his address is unknown.

The Giants continue to have "one-rm" trouble. They lost their fourth game of the exhibition grind — their third by one run — yesterday when the St. Louis Cardinals took them here, 3-1.

Football Coach Charles (Rip) Engle finds Army tough to beat. His 1950 Penn State team lost to the Cadets, 41-7, and his 1944 Brown eleven fell, 59-7.

OUR OPPORTUNITY

ANCIENT people thought of the mind of the child as a blank paper or a slate on which parents and neighbors would write what they pleased. There was truth in that figure. Our words and our deeds are forever leaving their marks upon the plastic brain of the child in the midst. Perhaps we would prefer the figure of the moving picture camera. Through the eyes and through the ears, the growing child is recording the scenes and the sounds of the world in which he dwells. Many years hence the picture will flash again before the memory of the man who was once that child. Words spoken in carelessness will leap into speech and the very tones of our voice will be repeated. Innocence and eagerness to learn make the child the ready imitator of that person of whom he thinks well. His conscience, as well as his understanding is learned from us older folk who make up his world of experience. What we are and what we do will speak louder, or will make a deeper impression upon the growing life than will the so-called lessons that teachers seek to impart in the classroom. The world is the classroom and all of us are the teachers. What lessons are we teaching these all-seeing eyes of the child among us?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination far good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

THE thoughts of a child are long thoughts; they become part of a personality which goes on for years, and perhaps centuries. If we are teaching immortal souls in the school of the every day, then how important is each and every day! We are all responsible for the child who must take his place in the work-a-day world of tomorrow. Perhaps we ought to say he is the child of God and He holds us all responsible for the lessons we are teaching His little child from day to day.

The Gold Mannequin

By Myles Connolly
COPYRIGHT 1951, BY MYSLES CONNOLLY, INC.

THE STORY: An artist who sketches "Terese" and whose address is given in this story, lives in a small town in the mountains of the West. He has a wife and two children. He is a successful artist and has a large studio. He has a car and a house. He is a member of the local church and is a very kind and generous man. He has a heart of gold and is always ready to help those in need. He is a true gentleman and a real friend. He is a man of many talents and a man of many virtues. He is a man who is truly a gold mannequin.

VIII
TIM REESE, for that was the name of the man in the wheelchair, had been sketching from his early days on a ranch in California, but never with any idea of sketching women's clothes. He would have abhorred any such idea if it had occurred to him. After college, he sketched his way into an architect's office in New York City. There, the war had found him and, after a preliminary workout in the early Italian campaign, where he achieved the eminence of Private, First Class, dumped him on the beaches of Normandy.

He survived the first sweep of the invasion only to be machine-gunned by a single, crazy strafing plane on a lonely and ancient road a hundred miles inland. Since then he had spent his years in hospital beds and wheel chairs. He was angry that first day he opened his eyes in a bed hospital in France, and he had been angry ever since. He was angry at a world that had maimed him and discarded him. The passing of time brought him no philosophy of patience or acceptance. He stayed angry.

Other men in the hospitals found diversion and usefulness in study, in writing, in woodworking, in making gadgets, in weaving, in knitting, even. But not he. His anger made him defiant of any small substitute for a full, normal and

Land Mines Trouble Tanks

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA — Below the pass, the fighting was going on — an exchange of mortar and small arms fire. At the top of the pass, just south of an enemy-held city, allied traffic was temporarily halted by a minefield. The road cut through the crest of a high ridge. Three mines had been discovered across the road and a fourth at one side. They were not stacked beside a radio jeep in which Lt. W. E. Hartz, of Cave City, Ky., was sitting. "A tank passed over those mines without setting them off," Hartz grinned. "We're waiting now to see what the condition of the rest of the road is."

Presently a tank came rumbly back southward and into the pass. It stopped directly over the freshly-dug mine holes and a soldier at the side of the road called: "You guys run over three mines on the way up without setting them off." The tank's commander, Sgt. First Class Harold Johnson, a 195-pounder from Waco, Tex., climbed out from the front deck of the tank. He looked around and said: "Good Lord, we were pretty lucky this time. Four days ago I was in a tank that hit a mine. It's a bad experience, but I wasn't hurt."

"There's lots of smoke and a helluva big jolt and you get fogged up and addled for a few minutes and wonder what's happening." Johnson was especially happy that no mines had exploded on the road because in suspicious places he had gotten out and walked ahead of the tank. "It's better to have foot reconnaissance than to take a chance on losing a tank," he explained.

On the south side of the pass, soldiers were waiting to push on ahead. Recoiless riflemen were waiting for the pass to be cleared. Johnson climbed back into the turret of his tank and said: "Well, we've got to be going." The tank rolled ahead with a curious rumbled sound. When it cleared the place it had been sitting a soldier shouted: "Look another mine. It was sitting on a mine and it didn't explode."

Sure enough, there was a definite depression in the road. Five minutes later demolition experts dug the mine out of the road.

Conoco Grants Salary Increases

HOUSTON — (AP) — Continental Oil Company has announced a 10 percent increase in base salary rates for its employees. The new hike and a 6 percent boost made in September approximate the 10 percent maximum allowed by wage stabilization regulations. L. F. McCollum, Continental president, said the new increase is being offered through local negotiations to employees represented by labor unions.

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management says an acre off forest can be planted with a helicopter at a cost of $4 for seedlings, rodent control and flying time compared to $20 for hand-planting.

duct for themselves on the question of TV-ing witnesses at hearings. He made several suggestions but one of them covered the very point made in Carroll's case: a careful check by congressional committees should be made to see the TV-ing of the proceedings "would not impair the health or clear reasoning of any individual by subjecting him or her to TV spotlights if they cannot testify properly under such difficult circumstances."

Such Congresses do not slow to act on anything which limits its powers to do what it wants, it probably will politely ignore Wiley's ideas. By the same token, it will probably ignore a suggestion by another Republican, Rep. Case, a New Jersey lawyer. He wants to forbid any kind of picture of a witness testifying before a committee.

Tomato Output Shows Increase

NEW YORK — (AP) — All the canned tomatoes produced in the United States are grown on land which, if brought together, would be about half the size of Rhode Island. That is 870 square miles, according to statistics compiled by the American Can Co. But the same figures show that 50 years ago all of America's canned tomatoes could have been grown on 85 square miles. The statisticians say the rising popularity of tomato juice made much of the difference. Canned juice and whole tomatoes provide 45 percent of modern production.

Germans Complaining About Allied Armies

BONN — (AP) — Allied mock battlefields in West Germany cover an area over half the size of the Duchy of Luxembourg. German officials reported. U. S. and British troops alone use 529 square miles for training grounds. The French also have marked off large military areas.

Allied commanders are now studying a memorandum proposing a German advisory board to prevent excessive damage to agriculture and forestry. The memorandum expressed fear that future transfer of Allied reinforcements to Germany would lead to abandonment of whole villages to provide better firing ranges for artillery.

India Expanding Drug Production

LUCKNOW, India. — (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru presided at the recent opening ceremonies of India's new national drug laboratory, the seventh of 11 planned by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research.

Nehru said the institute was a vital step in stamping out quackery and superstition and making India independent of imports in drugs. The laboratory will concentrate on finding cures for tuberculosis, leprosy, malaria, leucoderma, and other diseases prevalent in India.

Question Raised On TV Pix At Hearing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — No fix for nix on pix. Looks like Frankie "The Hands" Costello and Jim Carroll, St. Louis odds-maker, got away with saying nix to TV pictures of them testifying.

So the two big questions raised by them will go unanswered until someone else raises them, questions which must have occurred to millions watching the Senate's Kefauver Crime Investigating committee on TV this week:

1. How would you feel if you were called to testify before a congressional committee and, facing a battery of TV cameras, knew that every twitch of a face muscle was being watched by millions around the country?

2. Do you think you'd have a right to refuse to testify before TV? If you did and later were convicted after a federal court, of contempt of Congress, you could be jailed for a year.

The answer to No. 2 will not be known until someone some day flatly refuses, is convicted of contempt, appeals to the Supreme Court and gets a decision from that tribunal which always has the final word.

A person on the witness stand before a congressional investigating committee is not on trial in the strict sense although the testimony he gives may discredit him or actually lead to a later trial and jail for some offense.

The Supreme Court itself has rigid views about what should be permitted inside federal courts where people are tried. It has ruled absolutely no pictures of court proceedings. That means not only TV but still newspaper photos and no movies.

It doesn't necessarily follow that the court would rule that no pictures — or at least no TV pictures — can be taken in a congressional hearing if a witness doesn't want to face the cameras.

The Kefauver committee itself

But Carroll's attorney offered another reason for his refusal and may have been on firmer ground. He said Carroll might be so excited, under the pinpoint eye of TV, that he couldn't testify.

If he couldn't testify, then he was being deprived of presenting his case as he best could. This implied he was seeking protection under that part of the Constitution which guarantees everyone "due process" of law.

In the midst of all the public interest on this point, Senator Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, suggested that congressional committees adopt a voluntary code of con-

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The only reason why the citizen is obliged to give testimony before committees and subcommittees of the Senate and House of Representatives is that our national legislature has a right to information in performing its legislative function. The precedents go way back.

One of them, which was cited by the Committee on Un-American Activities when Parnell Thomas was chairman, was subject to suspicion. In that case, the committee wanted to get evidence for a scandalous exposure as well as information to prove deficiency in a certain law which required remedial legislation.

If you are called to testify before a committee, you should remember that information is all that the inquiry has a right to. You do not have to expose yourself to moving picture cameras or for that matter, even to press cameras. Our courts don't tolerate such clowning and you are within your rights in refusing to testify until all photographers are driven from the room. Those guys will let me, but they are not my clients, you are.

Before taking the oath, you should ask the chairman in clear, unmistakable words and tone whether a voice-recording is being made. If you object so such a recording, and if you are wise you will object, you are clearly within your right in refusing to utter a chirp until the chairman gives you a solemn promise in the name of the Senate or House, as the case may be, that no such recording will be taken. It is a good idea to get such a stipulation into the written record because some of can, to continue to spend the funds of the F.E.A. on Federal power projects regardless of rural area needs and regardless of congressional desires. That much is clear on the strength of the record.

As an illustration of this fact it is worthwhile to review the activities of some of the southwestern Power Administration which in 1946 was refused funds by Congress to establish a so-called "Comprehensive Plan" for development of a gigantic Federal power monopoly in the Southwest area calling for construction of some 15,000 miles of transmission lines, duplicating almost completely the similar transmission system of the twelve major electric utility companies operating in the area. The plan also called for funds to construct 350,000 kilowatts of steam generating plants. Congressional refusal to approve of this colossal waste of tax money did not dim the ardor of the "comprehensive" planners on the public payroll. They have now devised a scheme to circumvent Congress. The Rural Electrification Administration is furnishing the money for the "Comprehensive Plan" through a legislative device whereby the duplicating lines and steam plants are built by local "super co-ops" and then turned over to the Southwestern Power Administration. If it works it will make the old time financial promoters look like pikers. The taxes of all the people will be used to set up an unbreakable, unregulated, tax-exempt monopoly of a vital resource. The existing heavy taxes, business-managed companies cannot hope to compete. And local regulatory authorities may well shut up shop and go home for fear of Federal jurisdiction over Federal agencies.

This is an excellent example of how the people can lose control of government if they are not vigilant.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOLES

Things That Are Driving Us Toward Communism

To the degree that we free ourselves of the socialism and communism that we now have to that degree will we have better jobs. One of the things that will not produce better jobs is the United Nations. That is true, because the United Nations is based on a monopoly of government. It is not based on individual freedom.

The National Economic Council, that has been fighting against socialism and communism for years, has this to say on the subject of the United Nations. I quote: "What are some of the factors that today are driving the United States toward Socialism and Communism?"

"Well, first of all there is the United Nations. "This statement may surprise some. But the United Nations in its very nature is collectivism. To the extent that it succeeds, the independence of the United States will be undermined. This will mean that the political independence of the United States and the economic independence of its citizens will be destroyed; because the effect if not the plan of the United Nations and its subsidiaries is to siphon off the savings of the American people for the benefit of the people of other countries.

"This spells no good to America, and little good to other countries, for what they get will be on the something-for-nothing basis. And something-for-nothing seldom enriches anybody. "Close examination of the United Nations discloses that practically all the staff are internationalists. Many of them have close sympathy with Communism. The Secretary-General, Mr. Trygve Lie, was a radical Norwegian labor union leader who had worked closely with communistic unions in other countries. He was even picked by Soviet Russia and put over on the American government by Soviet Russia for bigger pickings in New York.

"The confidence of multitudes of persons who formerly had faith in the United Nations has disappeared. It is a rather common remark by such persons that they have given up any hope that collective action from the UN can ever establish peace. "But not so many people realize yet what a stumbling block the very existence of the United Nations is to vital American interests. Those who have followed things rather closely know that the UN has been a positive hindrance to the American forces in Korea. Because the Administration in Washington will not shake itself loose from its UN complex, we have actually been letting our American boys be sacrificed by the thousands because UN does not want to back Chiang Kai-shek. "Chiang Kai-shek, in answer to the call by UN for troops from other countries, offered the largest number of troops that any nation has yet offered. American common sense and ordinary regard for preserving American lives clearly dictate acceptance of the services of experienced anti-Communist Chinese troops to withstand the attacks of the Chinese Communists. Communist influence in the UN is clearly responsible for refusing in fact, present American policy in the other respects is consistent only with the Soviet desire to weaken America, both in manpower and money.

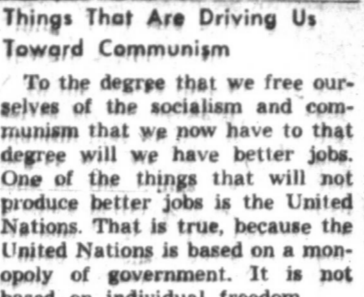

"The same common sense would indicate the advisability of letting General MacArthur bomb the military installations in Manchuria. But the UN says 'No.' And so our Government acquiesces. "In Economic Council Paper Vol. VI, No. 6, we reproduced most of Washington's Farewell Address. Anybody who refreshes his recollection of this famous address will awaken with a start to the asininity exhibited by the present and immediate preceding Administration in throwing to the winds all of Washington's admonitions. Our policy in Asia—indeed, our very presence in Asia—is an illustration. **

World Government "But nowhere can socialist-communist influence be seen more clearly than in the various groups organized within the United States to promote 'World Government.' "The United Nations of course is a kind of World Government. Indeed, if we went no further than the United Nations—if we ratified no more of the international agreements such as the ITO, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the International Bill of Rights, we would have already built the foundation destined to take away the sovereignty of the United States, causing the 150-odd million American people to be ruled, not by their own representatives in Washington and in several states, but by an international polyglot group in which the United States would have but a single vote.

We base this statement partly on the decision in the Fujii case in which a California court held that under Article VI, Section 2 of the Constitution of the United States, the United Nations Charter, even without implementation, (that is, the passage of laws to carry the provisions of the Charter into effect), has become the Supreme Law of California. "Without doubt many Americans, who without giving great thought to it, accepted the United Nations at face value and supported it, have lost faith in it. Nevertheless, a determined effort is today being made to 'strengthen' the United Nations by making it in effect a world ruling body. There is grave danger, even at WASHINGTON — The public power movement, which gained such headway during the Roosevelt administration, as an anti-monopoly reform, has now become a racket in high finance that profits its great Wall Street interests and a smart promoter known as "Flash" before he quit Montana for bigger pickings in New York.

His name is Guy C. Myers, who has made millions in acting as go-between in the sale of private utilities to public bodies in Nebraska and the Northwest. And the Securities & Exchange Commission, which has become a training ground for officials anxious to grab off $50,000 and $100,000 jobs with New York financial agencies, admits it is helpless to protect consumers and local communities because of a quirk in the 1935 Holding Company Act. The S.E.C. is forbidden by law to inquire into the terms of sales to public bodies.

UNLOADING — This is not just a new chapter in the public versus private fight. The opponents of past and prospective sales of private firms to local and state utilities charge that eastern owners are unloading their properties at exorbitant figures through clever, inside manipulation. "They milked us when they threw these companies together, and the Holding Company Act was supposed to help us by forcing them to disclose," said a complainant at a Seattle hearing. "Now they are milking us again in the unscrabbling, and the government permits it."

MARKUPS — Although the current deal concerns the proposed sale of the Washington Flower Co. to several public utility districts, known as PUDs, in that state, the same unloading game worked in transfer of power firms in Nebraska, in the Puget Sound area and elsewhere. Markups in the prices ranged from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000, with fancy fees for "flash" Myers.

Similar dumping at swollen figures will probably occur in Missouri, California, the St. Lawrence and New England regions, if the Administration's program to federalize power facilities in these basins materializes.

SQUEEZED — These operations have the blessing of Interior Secretary Chapman, as they did of his predecessor, J. A. Krug. In fact, many Washington officials and allied public power

LABOR

By DAVID BAXTER

There was something odd about that recent railroad strike, the union, being under injunction, denied that it had called or authorized the strike. The workers simply laid off because of "sickness." Funny how thousands of men become "sick" all at the same time. Of course, you and I know that it was just a ruse to make the strike "legal." What I'm getting at, though, is why the Government acted as arbiter and the railroads negotiated with the union demands when the union itself pretended that NO STRIKE EXISTED. Unless a strike did exist, with the union fully responsible, there was no ground or reason at all for the railroad people to even negotiate with the organized gangsters who lord it over labor—much less for the government to stick its nose into the business (domestic disputes not properly or constitutionally being the federal government's affair, anyway). I ask the question: how could union leaders represent men who were NOT ON STRIKE in back-to-work negotiations with railroads in Washington? If the workers were "sick" how could union spokesmen guarantee that they would go back to work?

In the Supreme Court decision a few days ago it was ruled that a state cannot even ban strikes in important public utilities, whether or not an emergency exists. That is fair enough. Any working man has the right to strike meaning to stop working, to attempt to make a better bargain with the employer, and to protest what he believes to be an injustice. So far as I can see, the working man has a right to get together with other workers in guilds or societies or associations or unions. There can never be any emergency that will justify forcing a man to work and not allowing him to quit or protest or attempt to make a better bargain.

Those are the RIGHTS of individual working men. Collectives or unions have no rights. Only individuals have rights—free and equal—under the Constitution. Our fundamental law does not recognize any union or church or association or group but is impartial toward all such collectives. They are separate from government. The government has no business siding with either the working man or employer in bargaining between the two, any more than government has any business "recognizing" or siding with some special church or society of atheists. The function of government is simply to prevent citizens from harming one another. When government sides with one group against another it is helping one part of the citizenry to harm another part. But only INDIVIDUALS have rights. The right of any citizen to go on strike is not questioned but his right to start force or to harm another certainly is. The right to peacefully assemble is strictly constitutional but there is no right of any assemblage or union to interfere with men's rights NOT to join a union if they don't want to. Nor is there any real or implied right to initiate force against a citizen, either by workers or employers. The union member has a right to be exploited by unprincipled racketeers if he wants to, since other men have no right to hurt someone who refuses to join a union or to hurt someone's business who refuses to sign a closed shop agreement.

In short, constitutionally every person is free to be a PERSON, not a cog in a collective machine, free to run his own affairs the way he wants to run them and do as he pleases so long as he doesn't step over the line and interfere with the equal privileges of other individuals. That's FREEDOM. What on earth would anyone want with any other system?

When selfish and covetous working men get together with like-minded people with the idea that they can better themselves at the expense of other working people who have to pay the freight, and which union leaders call "the public" or "employers" that working man is riding for a bad fall. He is apt to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. You can't have freedom yourself very long by depriving others of it.

In the long run, the working man may realize that labor IS capital. Our ability to render a service—to work for rewards—is the main capital of most of us. It takes free men to exchange services freely.

Success Secrets

BY DAVID BAXTER

Farnsworth Crowder, writing in "Success Today" magazine, tells about a public speaker whose secret was—"Get thoroughly ready—and then get thoroughly wet." This man was scared to death just before each speaking engagement—even after years of speaking. The one thing that gave him confidence was the knowledge that he was thoroughly prepared. So he prepared for each speech extra carefully. But when the time came to speak he had to force himself to walk out on the platform—just as you force yourself to jump in a pool of cold water. You can't stick your big toe in, you know—or spend hours in endless debate with yourself about whether you can do it or not. There is just one way. You take a running jump—and get yourself wet.

The other day I was talking to a successful Texas businessman who has made a name for himself in a dozen business ventures. He told me his success secret was the same as Crowder's speaker. He gets ready and then he gets wet. Too many people fail, he said, because after they have got everything ready—they don't know how to just plunge in and get themselves wet. There is a natural human dread of starting a job. And the more you think about it the more dreadful it becomes. Every library is habituated by would-be novelists who spend year after year in "research." "Someday" they are going to write a best-seller novel.

There is the inventor who thinks up good ideas that "someday" he is going to get patented. There is the fat man who is someday going to do something about that spare tire around his middle. But they never do. They don't know the secret of just jumping in and getting wet all over.

If you have a job to do—don't think about it—begin it. Just sit down and write the first page of that book. Take the first step toward owning your own business. Take the first step and take it boldly.

When you're good and wet—you'll find that the water wasn't so cold after all.

Inflation Starts in Washington

The politically inspired notion that inflation is primarily the result of greed and black marketeering and can be controlled by decree from Washington, is rapidly turning its course to disillusionment. A memorandum from the economists of Chicago University points to the real cause of the rising volume of money. During the last six months of 1950 this increase corresponded very closely to the increase in prices. "It is no accident," says the Chicago memorandum, "that these figures are so nearly of the same magnitude. This is about as clear a case of purely monetary inflation as one can find."

It is time to call a spade a spade instead of calling our neighbors highway robbers. Monetary inflation is caused by governmental waste and financial juggling. It can never be corrected by threatening the private citizen with jail if he charges more for a pair of shoes or a pound of sugar than a bureaucratic policeman says he can. Government cannot give a fictitious value to money any more than a seive can be made to hold water.

The mass distributors of necessities at the retail level where consumers meet inflation head on, are doing a fine job. During the past quarter century or so advancement has been as great in merchandising as in automotive progress since the days of the Model T. Competitive efficiency and high volume sales at minimum prices have helped hold the havoc of inflation in check. And retailers show no indication of letting down. A release from a leading food chain association declares that "In times like these, sane thinking, sound acting, common horse sense, are premium products. Every day business operation becomes more continued, but volume food distributors are resourceful, determined, responsible and will make order out of chaos—somehow."

Consumers can help in this problem by simply remembering that inflation starts in Washington—not on our farms or in our factories and retail establishments.

From Little Acorns

Back in 1935 President Roosevelt set aside $50,000,000 from a rehabilitation fund, for rural electric purposes. Shortly afterward Congress passed the Rural Electrification Act for the sole purpose of "providing electric energy to persons in rural areas not receiving central station service." Since 1936 Congress has appropriated $2,850,000,000 under the Act of which there is over a billion dollars unexpended. According to the Rural Electrification Administration, the job of rural electrification is 90 percent complete. The current expansion program of the investor-owned electric industry assures virtual 100 percent availability of power in rural areas. However, the public power zealots intend, if they

Washington... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Truman probably came bouncing back from his Key West vacation, brimful of health and new ideas of things he would like to do. As matters stand today, his program before Congress is short of that it has been at any time in his six years in the White House.

The proposed cost is far greater, due to the defense effort, but the number of proposals is fewer. A year ago, there were almost 150 legislative proposals on the President's "must-do" list. Today there are fewer than 50. The difference is not entirely accounted for by measures passed in the last session of the 81st Congress. A number of projects have been set aside temporarily, or reduced in urgency, because of the defense effort.

Lines of communication have been left open, however, for the President to hand Congress a lot more special requests. Most important of these will be the President's proposals for revision of the National Defense Production Act of 1950. Changes to give the price and wage controls more teeth are almost certain to start a long and bitter controversy in Congress, as special interests like the cotton bloc, the real estate and building industries, landlords and other groups try to gain exemptions for their businesses. Also, the President has had advisory boards and commissions at work on special problems. The reports of each group will undoubtedly lead to new requests to Congress.

NEW IDEAS Two of these commissions have already reported. First is the War Resources Policy Group under Morris L. Cooke. Its three-volume report could lead to a tremendous program for river valley developments. Second is the International Development Advisory Board under Nelson Rockefeller. It has recommended a $2 billion program for Point Four Aid to underdeveloped countries.

Other commissions still to report are: Commission on Migration Labor, Communications Policy Board, Minerals Policy Committee and the Commission on Internal Security and Civil Rights. This last is headed by Admiral Chester L. Nimitz. No matter what it recommends, there will be a lovely fight. For Congress has Nevada Sen. Pat McCarran's Judiciary Committee investigating the same field. And the House Un-American Activities Committee has ideas on this subject, too.

As for the President's program already before Congress, it may be broken down into a dozen major headings. These are the principal items that have been mentioned briefly or spelled out in detail in presidential messages to the 82nd Congress since January. It makes a convenient check list on what's in the Washington mill.

1 — MILITARY AFFAIRS — New Selective Service act with U.M.T. (Passed Senate, now before House) Naval construction act. (Passed) Increase of $10,000 life insurance policy for exemptions for their businesses.

2 — LABOR — New manpower law to provide for training of defense workers. Revision of Ta-Hartley Act.

3 — COMMUNICATIONS — Increase postal rates. Separate airline subsidies from mail pay.

4 — NATURAL RESOURCES — Authorize St. Lawrence Seaway. Build Hell's Canyon power project.

5 — AGRICULTURE — Improve farm laws to get greater production for defense. (This is the commodity exchanges. Authorize payment of transportation cost on distribution of surplus commodities for public welfare.)

6 — HOUSING — Provide aid for housing at defense plant sites.

7 — EDUCATION — Provide for grants in aid to the states.

8 — SOCIAL SECURITY — Aid for medical education to increase supply of doctors. Aid for public health centers. Increase public assistance benefits. Increase unemployment insurance. Establish system of disability insurance. Provide for medical care insurance. (This is the so-called "socialized medicine" plan.)

9 — GENERAL GOVERNMENT — Increase taxes. Authorize government reorganization by President for national defense. (Passed Senate, killed in House) Dispersal government offices around Washington. Redistrict the states for next Congressional election. Reorganize RFC.

10 — CIVIL RIGHTS — Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. Home rule for District of Columbia. Establish a permanent FEPC. Pass a Federal anti-lynch law, and an anti-poll tax law.

11 — BUSINESS — Revise De-

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

Onward, Christian Soldiers

Of a half century's writing, an author is remembered for one night's work

During the week days the Rev. Sabine Baring-Gould ministered to his little congregation at the mill town of Horbury, England. On Sundays he converted his bachelor quarters into a meeting house. At night he held school in the same room. After school he retired to his upstairs bedroom and wrote into the small hours of morning.

Wednesday was a day of festival for the children of Horbury. And it was custom for them to march, with crosses and banners, to a neighboring town to join other children for the annual celebration. For the event in 1854 the Rev. Baring-Gould was asked to escort the group. On the night before he searched hymnals for a song the children might sing as they marched. Giving up his search, he wrote some verses of his own; wrote them "Hymn for Procession with Cross and Banners" and went to bed.

That same year the young bachelor saved a mill hand's daughter from drowning, sent her away to school, married her in 1865 . . . and kept on writing. At the death of his father, in 1881, he inherited a fortune, moved into a mansion at Low Trenchard . . . and kept on writing.

For 57 years Baring-Gould wrote a novel a year. He also wrote books on religion, mythology, bibliography, travel, folk-lore, theology . . . and published a book of hymns. His "Lives of the Saints" alone covers 15 volumes. Yet, he wrote all his 85 books in long hand and never had a secretary. "I never wait for an inspiration," he said, "and when I begin a job I stay on it 'til it's finished."

Had the Rev. Baring-Gould lived 26 days more he would have been 90 when he died in 1924. It is said the literary catalogue of the British Museum lists more titles by him than any other author of his time. But Sabine Baring-Gould is best remembered for a children's marching song he wrote one night when he was 39 . . . and to which a 39-year-old organist named Arthur Sullivan set to music in 1871. . . .

*Onward, Christian soldiers,
Marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus
Going on before!
Christ the royal Master,
Lead us on your way;
Forward into battle,
For His banners God*

*At the sign of triumph
Satan's host took flight;
On them, Christian soldiers,
On to victory!
He'll foundations quiver
At the shout of praise;
Brothers, lift your voices,
Lead your anthems raise.*

Wartime Easter A Special Cross

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Death at this Easter is written large on every hand.

"What a strange way to start an Easter message," you will say. But the dominant thought and fact of Easter is the overcoming of death.

Death is as old as the human race and it is common to all. It is the one leveling factor that bears no dispute or repudiation. As an old song goes, "Six feet off earth make us all one size."

But shocking as the realization that many deaths are the result of carelessness. More tragic even than the loss of sons and fathers fighting for the United Nations in Korea are the statistics on motor vehicle accidents last year. Some 35,000 persons lost their lives on the highways in 1950. Fatal accidents in the home number 27,000. Here is a situation, when we look at it objectively, that is really appalling.

We are wont to exclaim, "Why does God permit war?" We deplore the sacrifice of our younger men, and of older ones in a battle over issues beclouded by diplomatic wranglings. Yet, all the time more lives are actually sacrificed under conditions where we are our own "providence."

I suppose that many would call me an old-fashioned "temperance crank"—though a newspaper once described me as a "dry but not a fanatical dry"—yet I cannot help but remark on society's passive attitude toward drivers of public conveyances who drink while on duty.

Do you remember when total abstinence was an imperative demand upon railroad engineers, at least in times approaching and during their service?

Yet now millions of engine-powered vehicles—the majority of them not confined to tracks—are in the hands of drivers who succumb to the temptations of "package stores," liquor joints and bar-equipped lunchrooms dotting their routes.

The waste of human lives through carelessness responsible for a total of 60,000 deaths last year is a fact as shameful as the Master's triumph over death is glorious.

Let our Easter thought this year be twofold: we can overcome needless death through safety precautions; and that death, the great "leveler" can be overcome through those words of Jesus: "Because I live, ye shall live also."

Easter brings the final proof that there is no death. The resurrection of Jesus Christ gives all the world the absolute assurance of immortality.

Nylon Has Definite Place In Wartime Bride's Wardrobe

With the accent these days on travel, particularly for the young bride whose groom is being whisked off for training to far places by Uncle Sam, a wardrobe that is a good traveler is a must.

Instead of the many night-gowns, slips, bras, girdles, hose and negligees she formerly required, today's bride can travel easily and adequately with one nylon garment of each, suggests David Lewis, nylon authority.

And she need make no sacrifice to style. Because, no matter what her preference she'll find it in nylon.

And, no matter where the young bride stops the night, she can dip her undies up and down in a washbasin, hang them up to dry on a towel rack and, by the time she's ready to dress, they're all set and ready to go, generally without ironing.

Dinner, Sing Slated For Church Sunday

Dinner will be served at 12:30 Sunday at the Church of God and will be followed by the Gray County singing convention which will last until 4:30 p.m. There will be an Easter egg hunt for the children in the afternoon.

The dinner and singing will be for the public.

Jesus said . . . I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.

—Gospel of St. John

Rising above the false, to the true evidence of life, is the resurrection that takes hold of eternal Truth. Coming and going belong to mortal consciousness. God is "the same yesterday, and today, and forever."

—Mary Baker Eddy

Special Easter Program Scheduled At Brethren Church

On Easter evening there will be no public worship service at the Church of the Brethren. Instead the members and friends of the church will meet in the dining room of the church at 7:30 o'clock for the observance of the Love Feast and Communion.

The day's activities will open at 9:45 a.m. with an Easter program by the children's department of the Sunday School. The Easter morning worship service will open at 10:45. There will be special music by the choir and members of the choir. The pastor, the Rev. Russell G. West, will preach on the subject, "What the Resurrection of Jesus Means to Me."

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 the church will open a series of evangelistic services with the Rev. Charles Diamond, of Topeka, Kan., serving as guest-minister.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The dire results of believing matter—instead of Spirit, God—to be substance are shown in the Lesson-Sermon titled "Matter" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, March 25. The Bible plainly says that God is Spirit, not matter, and the Golden Text from Psalms, 81:9, 10 states: "There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god. I am the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt." Continuing in the same vein is this citation from the Lesson-Sermon, Psalms 44:20, 21: "If we have forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god; Shall not God search this out for he knoweth the secrets of the heart."

From the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is this summation of the subject, "God is one God, infinite and perfect, and cannot be finite and imperfect" (page 587).

Spring Fashions Are Abloom With Flowers

Spring fashion is blooming out all over with flower accents, so real looking they may have been plucked from the nearest garden.

Colors are delicate and shapes are varied from diminutive sprays to oversize single blossoms.

Natural looking pink and white camellias are ready to be added to the neckline of silky fabric black suits. And huge floppy flowers in self-fabrics are available for use at strategic points, such as the side-top of strapless bodices or the side center-front of a bouffant skirt.

Irish Juniors Present Play

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Juniors have scheduled two performances, today, of their 1951 class play, "You're Young Only Twice."

They appear before the grade school children and a matinee audience at 2:30 p. m., and the main performance is set for 8 p. m.

Van Pennington and Glenda Thompson have key roles in the comedy, which revolves around a stuck-up college student. Modern college life is reflected in laughs galore.

Kenneth Laycock, class sponsor and social science instructor, is directing the drama.

The word "tumble" for a drinking glass resulted from the fact that early glasses had round or pointed bottoms which could not stand on a table.

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION — (AP) — Two combat injured soldiers were in custody in this division here for going AWOL from their unit in Japan and hitchhiking plane and jeep rides to the Korea battlefield.

They were Pfc. Alonzo G. Simmons, 21, of 120 Franklin Street, North Little Rock, Ark., and Pvt. Ronald H. Scheuring, 18, of 919 Colman Street, Mesa, Ariz.

They were on limited service with an Army supply outfit in Japan.

But one day they arrived at a tank battalion attached to the First Cavalry Division and asked to join one of the battalion's tank companies.

"We couldn't stand staying over there with this scrap going on here," said Simmons.

A smiling military policeman, Sgt. Lee Hooper of 1315 Twelfth Street, Washington, D. C., returned the young soldiers to the division headquarters pending a check with their unit in Japan.

Lt. Col. James A. Ashcraft of Florence, Ala., division provost marshal, said "There is a possibility, I think, these boys may be allowed to remain in Korea."

Simmons, formerly with the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat team, fractured a foot during the cleanup of Kimpo Peninsula during the capture of Seoul last September.

Scheuring fought with the Seventh Infantry Division just north of Hamburg and broke both knees falling on rocks when a mortar shell exploded near him.

Simmons said: "I volunteered twice in Japan for combat service in Korea and was turned down both times. I was determined to come over here and so was Scheuring."

Scheuring said: "I have lost a lot of friends in this war. I came over here because I want to help get the war over with. I can't do much but I want to do what I can."

Simmons' mother, Mrs. Nell Simmons, lives in Little Rock. Scheuring's wife lives at Mesa and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Schaffer, live at 329 Laurel Street, Lancaster, Pa.

It was a half-ounce lighter than one reported in Massachusetts—the national record. But the hen here is living while the Massachusetts hen died.

Mystery Lady May Survive

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Mrs. Heart is alive — heartened with a new desire to get well.

In March, 1949, she asked the nation how to spend $10,000 in the year she thought was her last.

Doctors told the mystery woman a heart condition would bring death within that year.

"I have a new desire to get well," Mrs. Heart says. "and that's because of the interest so many strangers showed in me."

Mrs. Heart, a moderately wealthy Oklahoma City widow, told her story to The Daily Oklahoman just two years ago. The Associated Press relayed it to the world.

Letters poured in telling Mrs. Heart a multitude of ways to keep a spark off life. Others sought financial help — since she had $10,000 and didn't know what to do with it.

Today Mrs. Heart says her improvement has been miraculous, although "I'm still under a specialist's care."

"My state of mind has changed completely," she said, adding "I'm feeling much better now."

Mrs. Heart is back home for a few weeks to attend to some business matters. She has been in California with her daughter much of the past year.

She still gets a few letters — some from people who don't know that the $10,000 is just about gone.

The mystery woman still nurses a deep secret in that heart that was supposed to quit ticking.

The public doesn't know her name — and probably never will.

Warren Lauds Oil Industry

TULSA — (AP) — No centrally planned petroleum economy could ever match the capacity and ability of America's present competitive oil industry, J. Ed Warren declared.

The oil industry, he said, has reached its greatness of the "principles of freedom, competition and opportunity; conditions that afforded opportunity and incentive to every one and every segment of the industry to invent, devise and achieve."

As oil becomes ever more vital as the nation's basic energy, Warren declared, the more it will become of increasing concern to government. He agreed it is proper for government to be interested in the future supply of the fuel.

But, he added, "it is also necessary and a responsibility that the industry pursue sound policies and operate in a manner that the public's interest and petroleum requirements be recognized as of first importance."

A time-tested tax policy is being challenged, he said, in proposals that the depletion provision in the income tax laws be removed or greatly reduced.

This provision, Warren called an "integral part" of the structure by which the industry has developed ability to meet the nation's needs.

Without its stimulus to entice new capital into a "speculative and high risk business," he asserted, "either high product prices, government subsidies or a deteriorating industry would be inevitable."

"Now that we may be faced with even greater requirements in fuels and lubricants," Warren said, "we most certainly should not jeopardize the fundamental operating necessity of the industry."

"We must be building — not destroying."

Animal Stars Taking Movies

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The movies are going to the dogs. Also the cats, rabbits, mules, horses, monkeys and other assorted animals.

Never have four-footed actors been so prominent in films. Gad, it looks like a trend.

Of course, animal stars are nothing new in the movies. Rin-Tin-Tin, Strongheart and Tom Mix' horse Tony were stars in their own right many years ago.

The modern animal era began with Lassie, the famed collie and female impersonator. Lassie is a full-fledged MGM star, along with Spencer Tracy and June Allyson. Estimates off the dog's annual income have ranged from $50,000 to $200,000. Which is not bad for doing what comes naturally to a dog.

MGM can also thank animals for its biggest hit of last season. Although Deborah Kerr and Stewart Granger got top billing, it was generally agreed that the wild beasts were the principal attractions of "King Solomon's Mines."

Universal - International is another studio that has been active on the animal front, particularly in the supernatural division. First came "Francis," the loquacious mule which seems destined for an endless string of sequels.

Then came the six-foot rabbit which made no appearance but was very much in evidence in "Harvey."

Now comes the topper. U-I will shortly film "One Never Knows," in which Dick Powell will play the reincarnation of a dog. Yes, you heard me correctly. And Powell's counterpart will be portrayed by Flame, which boasts of being a sixth-generation descendant of the famed strongheart.

Fire Boys Quell Fire, Get Stung

SANTA PAULS, Calif. — (AP) — The Santa Paula fire laddies didn't reckon with the bees when they were summoned to quell a tree fire out on Del Monte Avenue.

A group of youngsters had found a bee tree. They tried to smoke out the bees but succeeded only in setting fire to the tree.

By the time the firemen got there the bees were stinging mad. They stood 100 feet away and blasted the tree with 200 gallons of water. That ended the fire — and the bees — but one of the firemen sustained several good-sized lumps.
