70,000 Troops Emerge From 'Great Debate'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A figure of 70,000 emerged today from the growing controversy called the "Great Debate." Some senators said they think military plans call for that many additional U. S. troops in Europe this year.

The lawmakers, who asked that they not be named, added, however, that Congress may kick the military plans away.

They based their opinion, they said, on an impression gained from Gen. Omar N. Bradley and others that congressional approval of ground force aid for Europe would involve sending about four additional divisions there.

The troops-to-Europe issue will come before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees Thursday. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Secretary of Defense Marshall are scheduled to testify.

In the meantime, the debate raged on in Capitol Hill and in other forums across the nation.

Thomas E. Dewey lost a sharp blow last night at the idea of a "Fortress America." It is the "utmost of folly" to think this country can be defended by air and sea power without large ground forces, he said.

Thus the New York Governor, twice candidate for president on the Republican ticket, expressed a viewpoint differing widely from the stands taken in recent days by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Taft of Ohio.

Taft said Saturday he may propose limiting American troops for Europe's defense to a fixed percentage of the nation's ground strength. He suggested 20 percent as a possible maximum.

The Ohio senator, who heads the Senate GOP Policy Committee, has challenged President Truman's right to put any American soldiers into the new western European army without Congress' consent.

Hoover put forward the idea of a "Western Hemisphere Gibraltar" in a speech last December. Friday night he spoke out again, saying the United States should put emphasis on air and naval strength and munitions—not on land armies.

VFW Officer Gives Support To General

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (AP) — Enduring peace for the United States cannot be won by "bagging counter procedures" says the national senior vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Speaking yesterday at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, Frank C. Hilton said: "We know that we must be prepared for the worst. The quicker we gain that posture of readiness—both as a nation and in partnership with our allies of the free world—the greater the chance for peace."

He pledged the support of the V.F.W. to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in his mission to help prepare Europe for defense against Communist aggression.

Backers Of 18-Year Draft Seeking Support In Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate supporters of the administration plan to draft 18-year-olds into a Universal Military Service and Training (UMST) program made a new bid today for bipartisan backing.

"This is a permanent long-term program and I think it is the most carefully prepared draft bill ever presented," Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee told a reporter.

And Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, top-ranking Republican member of both the preparedness group and the full Armed Services Committee, said:

"Generally speaking I think this is as fair a bill as we could turn out. There may be some slight changes made in it but I do not expect too much Senate opposition."

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the 18-month armed forces group, sent out notices for a closed-door committee session Tuesday to act on the measure.

Approval appeared certain because the seven senators who voted for subcommittee approval of the program form a majority in the full committee. Senator Morse (O-Or.) cast the lone negative vote in the subcommittee.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) is opposed to sending any drafted youth below 19 overseas or into combat, said the group "did a fairly good job on the bill." But he added:

"I still am going to keep pushing for a definite restriction against sending any drafted overseas before his 19th birthday. Johnson said he also will ask

Austin Discussions City Officials Plan

Mayor C. A. Huff and City Manager Dick Pappin will spend the next few days in Austin discussing controversial bills with Reps. Grainger McIlhenny and Bill Craig, and Sen. Grady Hazelwood.

Some of the bills now in the legislative hopper are detrimental to cities while others are aimed at giving the municipalities a shot in the arm financially, Pappin said this morning.

Two of them have to do with gasoline taxes paid to the state.

One of these bills would exempt municipal vehicles from the state gasoline tax. At present gasoline the city buys to run its fire trucks, police cars, dump trucks and other equipment, except tractors and pump motors, carries the state tax and the city must pay it irrespective of the fact that these vehicles seldom, if ever, use state roads.

Pappin estimated passage of the bill would save city taxpayers close to $3,000 annually. Last year the city paid $2,886.28 to the state in gasoline taxes.

The other bill would refund to the city all gasoline taxes paid the state by taxi cab and bus companies operating within the city limits. This does not mean any additional tax would be paid by the companies, but simply means the tax they pay on gasoline would be turned back to the municipalities in which they operate.

Locally that revenue would run well over $7,000 a year, Pappin estimated.

A summary tax bill that would save cities and counties advertising and court cost money is also in the hopper. This bill would make only one change in present tax suits and sheriffs sales of property where taxes have not been paid for two years or more. Currently each let must be sued on and advertised separately. The new bill

Temperatures should warm up some Tuesday despite nighttime freezing, the experts said.

The cool front was expected to bring a few scattered showers to East Texas, along with fresh to locally strong winds.

Last night's lowest temperature was 39 at Dalhart. All other minimums were in the 50's or 60's. Brownsville's 63 was the highest minimum.

Presidio was the hottest spot with a reading of 88. The coldest maximum was 72 at Beaumont.

As Far As Cost, Servicemen Expensive As Blonde In Mink

WASHINGTON — (AP) — When it comes to the cost of upkeep, the man in uniform is rapidly catching up with the blonde in mink and pearls.

The next time you see a GI walking along the street, you can say to yourself: "there goes a man it takes $10,000 a year to support." On the average, that is.

And the same goes for the ladies in blue, green and gray officers and enlisted men alike.

The figure is based on information the Department of Defense sent to the Armed Services Committee.

The committee is expected to act this week on a Defense Department proposal to set up a system of Universal Military Service and Training. Under this program men drafted to service would continue in a reserve force after active duty ended. The Defense Department con-

OPS Expecting Price Increase By June, July

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle, the government's price director, said today he expects the general price level to go up another "five or six percent, or even more" before some degree of stability is achieved, probably about midsummer.

"I am in complete disagreement with some of the economists who say that maybe in five months we'll have a three-point rise," DiSalle said. "I think it's going to be higher than that. . . ."

"I'd be tickled to death if by June or July we would begin to see some results of stability. I'm no optimist about what is going to happen."

As DiSalle expressed this view in a copyrighted interview with the magazine "U.S. News and World Report," growing dissatisfaction with progress of the economic stabilization program on the part of big segments of organized labor piled up new headaches for him and wage controls officials.

DiSalle indicated that his Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) will move as rapidly as it can to supplant the initial price freeze, at peak levels in the Dec. 19-Jan. 25 period, with specific regulations for each industry.

At present, he said, there is "a very real freeze, but the longer we keep it that way the more some people are going to be hurt by it." He added, however, that the time when most fields can be covered by specific orders is five or six months away.

He said, as he has before, that he believes the most effective type of price control fair to both business and consumers is one which fixes profit margins. He said he is thinking of allowing each industry to pick its own profit margin, based on some period before the outbreak of the Korean war, and allow it to add that to its costs.

At the same time, he said, he believes "some pretty good" rollbacks of prices in particular fields, especially in basic materials.

DiSalle said his office has not yet been given authority to ration goods or have rationing books printed, and he added: "Right at the moment supplies seem to be ample in all fields, and we don't anticipate the need for that at the moment. Meat might be the first item we would have some trouble with."

Deadline For Filing Is Less Than Month Off For City Posts

In less than a month municipal politics will be the top local talk providing, of course, there will be more than one candidate for mayor and city commissioner.

Deadline for filing as a candidate for any of the five offices is March 3, less than a month away.

One of the big questions is whether any or all of the present commission will seek reelection to their four-year terms. All of them, including Mayor C. A. Huff, to date have shown a reluctance to run for another two-year term.

Potential candidates may file their intentions with the city secretary by affidavit between 7 and 8 midnight March 3. The general election to fill the posts will be held Tuesday, April 3. The new commission, or re-elected commission, will assume office within ten days following that election.

Father, Young Daughter Drown

CONCHAS DAM, N.M. (AP) — Search parties probed Conchas Lake with grappling hooks today for the bodies of a 29-year-old man and his young daughter.

Delbert K. Sutton, Texoma, Okla., and his daughter, Zachery, 3-year-old, drowned yesterday after their boat capsized. The little girl drowned as her mother, Mrs. Delina Sutton, 28, held her in her arms attempting to save her.

A two-year-old was rescued after it was held on top of the capsized boat by Mrs. Sutton and a friend, Harold Jones.

The survivors were pulled from the 34-degree water by two fishermen.

Lincoln Day Address

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (AP) — National Legion commander Eric Cooke, Jr., declared today the "pink cowards of procrastination" who call our diplomats have laid a "China egg" over the Korean issue.

Cooke, in an address prepared for the legion's annual program at Abraham Lincoln's tomb here, asserted that the State Department "not only should be re-examined, it must be reconstructed."

"From the very beginning of our present dilemma," he said, "our State Department has kept the American people in the dark with its double talk, its double dealing. . . and what looks today like a reasonable facsimile of an outright double cross."

"Red China should be condemned as a criminal," he said. "That the United States has agreed to the principle that sanctions against Red China should not be pushed, pending efforts of a 'Good Offices' Committee to get somewhere with proposals for a cease-fire truce and settlement in Korea, is bewildering to say the least."

The legion commander said the cease-fire proposal was "fraught with peril."

Let us cut off all aid to every nation that does not give positive assurance that it will refrain from trading with the enemy, and that it will stand with us through thick and thin," he said.

"Not only should we clamp economic sanctions upon Red China, but upon Soviet Russia as well."

Guest speaker at the session was A. W. Parris, president of the Adobe Walls Council. He spoke on the needs and accomplishments of the council and urged the utmost cooperation between team captains and their workers.

Key, who is general chairman of the drive, reported Saturday that about $3,000 has already been collected through contributors by mail. Though the drive is to last officially through Feb. 17, it is hoped by Key that Pampa will have its work done by Tuesday morning at 10 a. m., when a check-in coffee will be held in the Palm Room. Paul Benzenher, local Scout executive, reported at 11 a. m., today, that one worker has already contacted his prospects and has completed his assignment.

The 10 team captains selected their own workers, regardless of what civic club they belonged to and regardless of profession. Each worker was given at least three cards at the breakfast, today, and will be expected to contact each of the persons named on his cards. Most of those named live in the city.

The Adobe Walls Council territory includes twelve counties in the Panhandle and three in the Oklahoma Panhandle. They are Ochiltree, Hansford, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Gray, Carson, Hall, Cullingsworth, Wheeler and Donley in Texas; Cimarron, Texas and Beaver in Oklahoma.

Deep Wedge Driven Into UN Positions

TOKYO — (AP) — Chinese and Korean Reds, combining power with such ruses as white flags and handshakes, rammed a dangerously deep wedge seven miles into allied lines on the Korean central front Monday, isolating some American and South Korean units.

On the east coast a South Korean patrol which had thrust five miles north of the 38th Parallel was forced back four miles by a Red counterattack. At last report to U.S. Eighth Army headquarters, however, the South Koreans were still one mile north of the old boundary of North and South Korea.

The savage Red counterdrive in the mountainous central sector was launched Sunday midnight and pushed by an estimated 60,000 troops throughout Monday on a 30-mile-wide front.

Two American units of undisclosed size were reported cut off north of Hoengsong. They were fighting to crack enemy road blocks that extended two miles along the road south of them. An American relief force was a battling up from the South. A South Korean regiment also was reported cut off northeast of Hoengsong.

That town is 55 air miles east of Seoul, Red-held former Korean capital. United Nations troops were massed south of Seoul, just across the Han River from the capital. But a South Korean patrol that had made another probe into Seoul was forced out again late Monday by sharp enemy snail-armor fire.

At the same time Red artillery subjected the allies south of the Han to heavy fire from 120-mm. guns, presumably Russian-made. The critical position, however, was on the central front.

At one point on the central front, an American patrol reported Chinese who spoke English came up with white flags, shook hands as if offered to surrender, then cut loose with hand grenades.

American officers were striving desperately to rally the South Koreans. The Reds were fighting hand-to-hand with allied defenders in the key road center of Hoengsong. One and a half miles south of Hoengsong, the Communists had set up a road block. A Red column was sweeping toward that area to cut the Hoengsong-Wonju road.

Field dispatches said the situation was confused and serious. The Communist counter-offensive—a typical maneuver launched at night with massive forces at the weak point—threatened to wipe out the big allied gains of the past 18 days in the central sector.

On the western front, the allies had swept Saturday into Seoul's industrial suburb of Yongdugpo, its big airport at Kimpo and its seaport of Inchon.

Put the four or more allied divisions massed around Seoul in the west and the South Koreans inside North Korea on the east coast could be forced to pull back for their lives unless the Communist smash in central Korea is stopped.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman asked the council to study the situation in view of shortages that have developed. The bottled gas has developed in recent years into an important source of fuel in many areas, and especially in rural sections.

Council To Hear Liquid Gas Reports

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Petroleum Council appointed a committee today to report on the supply of liquefied petroleum gas.

The committee was formed to study the situation in view of shortages that have developed. The bottled gas has developed in recent years into an important source of fuel in many areas, and especially in rural sections.

Old World Flavor: Trapp Family Sings Tonight

Musical flavored with the Old World will be presented at 8:30 p. m. today in the junior high school auditorium by the Trapp Family Singers as a second attraction of the Community Concert Assn.

The colorfully costumed Singers will open their program with pre-classical music of the church. For this more dignified part of the program, the women will appear in floor-length dirndls of hand-woven fabrics in black and white. The bodies worn by all the group are of an antique silver-figured black velvet and the skirts and long-sleeved blouses of a shimmering flowered while silk. These are the costume of their native Austrian Tyrol.

Opening the program, the group of six daughters, their mother, their two brothers and the priest-conductor, will sing music of the first churches as far back as the sixth century. This group will include chants, motets and madrigals.

The latter half of the program tonight will include gay and boisterous folk tunes from the homeland of the singers and groups of folk songs from various other countries. For this part of the program the women will wear white and gay folk songs, the Singers will wear holiday attire, such as that reserved by Tyroleans for special frolicking.

"Evening Prayer" from the performance on the ancient block-flute, spinet and viola da gamba, will close the program.

Each of the singers will appear in a dark wool dirndl, but with brightly colored aprons and shawls, all made of figured brocades in bright colors.

In addition to their a cappella singing, the members of the Trapp Family will be heard as performers on the ancient block-flute, spinet and viola da gamba. Admission to the concert is by membership card, but single admission may be obtained at the door if the party is in military service and can present proper credentials.

APPEAR HERE TONIGHT—Mrs. Maria Augusta Trapp, her six daughters, two sons and their priest-conductor, Father Franz Wagner, will appear at 8:30 p. m. today in the junior high school auditorium. Pre-classical music from the Old World will open their program, which will be concluded with gay and lusty folk songs from their homeland, Austria, and several other countries. This is the season's second concert attraction of the Community Concert Assn.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Fred E. Johnson left to return to her home in Camp Douglas, Wis., last night after a visit at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Gray County service station dealers will meet at 8 p. m. tonight at Frank Dial Tire Co. Jack Vaughn will be in charge of the program on credits.

David Rasco of Amarillo will be a Pampa guest this evening. He will be the speaker at the NSA Bucks Dinner here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt of Ellsworth, Kansas, spent the weekend with Mrs. Hunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stein, 108 W. Tuke, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Gray, Orange, Calif., for a two week vacation.

Mrs. King Attends Father's Funeral

Mrs. Jim King Bogger Highway, was to return home today from the funeral of her father, Harry Kepler Oshald, Calif., who died last week in Red Bluff, Calif. He was 87.

Born in Ness County in western Kansas, Mr. Kepler worked here for Cabot Co. for about four years and moved to California in 1945.

He is survived by three sons, three daughters, including Mrs. King, 25 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. He had been ill for several months.

Local Dentist Heads Society

Dr. George Snell, local dentist, was elected president of the Panhandle District Dental Society at the 23rd annual meeting which closed Saturday in Amarillo.

He succeeds Dr. John C. Other new officers are Dr. J. J. Cross, Amarillo, president; Dr. W. F. Graham, Hereford, vice-president; Dr. W. B. Stevenson, Jr., Amarillo, secretary, treasurer.

Dr. James R. Rogers, Amarillo, was named delegate to the Texas State Dental Society and Dr. Roy F. McCaslin, Tulsa, is delegate-elect. Dr. J. B. Landers, Sr., Amarillo, is the alternate delegate.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Louis R. Hill, former professor at Western Reserve University.

Shah Of Iran Weds 19-Year-Old Bride In Simple Ceremony

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP) — The thunder of a 21-gun salute boomed out the news of the Shah's wedding today to lovely Soraya Esfandiari, 19-year-old granddaughter of a once rebellious Persian tribal chief.

Seated before two chief Mullas, Iran's highest religious leaders, the once-divorced Shah and his European-educated, half-German bride were wed in a simple Moslem ceremony at Mar mar Palace.

By order of the Shah, the traditional splendor of Persian court fetes was lacking in the celebration of the wedding. Iranian flags flying over snow-covered streets and a prancing squadron of lancers provided the only spots of color as the new queen's limousine carried her to the palace for the ceremony.

The Shah, 21-year-old Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, waited at the palace while his sisters, Princess Ashraf and Princess Chams, escorted the bride to the wedding scene. Soldiers guarded the palace for blocks around.

Texas Pioneer Dies In Dallas

DALLAS — (AP) — Perry Jones, 66, Abilene rancher and physician, died yesterday after a two-week illness.

Funeral services and burial will be in Abilene tomorrow.

A native of England, Jones came to the United States in 1903 and settled in Wichita Falls. For many years he was a civil engineer, then he bought ranch land and became an oil operator after discoveries were made on his land.

Jack Gray was head basketball coach at the University of Texas when he was 25 years old.

McLean Boy Scouts Hold Dinner Tonight

McLean Boy Scouts will hold a dinner tonight in the Lions Hall in McLean to complete plans for the Boy Scout Fund Council.

Three teams will conduct the Drive for the Adobe Walls McLean drive. Eight men will be on each team and will be guests of the scouts at the dinner.

Leaders of the three teams are E. J. Lander, Howard Horne and Lester Dysart.

Ted Simmons is scoutmaster of the newly re-organized scout troop. James McClellan and John Blevins are his assistants.

Dallas Commission Boosts Power Rate In City 11 Percent

DALLAS — (AP) — An 11 percent increase will go into effect on power rates here with the next meter reading.

The city council recently granted the Dallas Power & Light Company the hike it had asked.

The increase will be about 44 cents per month on the average residential bill. For some power users, the increase is immediate; for others whose meters have just been read, it will actually become effective for 30 days.

The council adopted recommendations of Utilities Supervisor J. W. Monk that the general increase be granted but company proposals for automatic increases tied to the government commodity index and fuel costs be modified.

There was no opposition to the increase.

drive that permitted the allies to launch their own offensive Jan. 25.

From Hoengsong, five allied columns had thrust from six to nearly 12 miles in a fan-shaped drive west, north and northeast of the town.

The Red offensive wiped out most of these gains and threatened to crumple the whole center of the 150 mile allied line across Korea.

Hoengsong, 50 air miles east of Seoul, is in rugged hill country where the terrain favors the enemy. Roads are narrow and two mountain passes south of Hoengsong normally permit only one-way traffic.

The Communists move along these icy, precipitous roads like mountain goats, but transport is dangerous for the mechanized allied forces.

The temperature had dipped to zero.

Three Red regiments drove the main drive seven miles deep to a point five miles southwest of Hoengsong.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said elements of three Chinese Communist army corps and two North Korean corps were attacking in the Hoengsong area. Frontline intelligence officers estimated the Red strength as including six divisions — some 60,000 men. The Reds had been building up strength here for some time.

The attack began late Sunday night north, northeast and north-west of Hoengsong. South Korean positions were overrun.

The Eighth Army said two Red divisions spearheaded the drive on Hoengsong. One South Korean regiment was surrounded north of the town.

The aim of the attack was to cut the main road leading 10 miles southward to Wonju, allied supply and communications hub.

McLean Legion Post Will Sponsor Rodeo

McLEAN — The Floyd-Corbly-Florey Post 315 of the American Legion will again sponsor the rodeo this year. No date has been set as yet, though it will likely be in April.

Commander George Terry announced that the exact date would be announced shortly.

General chairman of the rodeo will again be Bob Sherrod, who handled last year's affair. The rodeo will be a three-performance show with stock furnished by Tom Harlan.

would permit cities, or counties, to file one suit against all delinquents and insert only one advertisement, listing all properties to be sold.

One bill Pepin and Mayor Huff will speak out against is the minimum pay for firemen and policemen. Although Pampa is well above the minimum stipulated in the law, the mayor and city manager oppose it on the principle it removes home rule and authorizes the state to tell cities how much they must pay and what they cannot do.

As the present law stands cities of Pampa's class are allowed to vote on whether they want to adopt the minimum pay law or not. The amendment would take that privilege away from them.

Pepin said he has little hope of these "detrital or helpful" pieces of legislation passing in favor of the municipalities because of the heavy vote of South and East Texas where the rural influence outweighs city influence.

Pampa Punchers To Meet Irish

Pampa's Boys Club Boxing team has five dual meets scheduled for March and April. Coach T. J. Watt is trying to get two matches this month for his Pampa clouters.

Shamrock's team will come here March 24 to test the Boys Club. The two teams fought to a 7-7 tie at Shamrock last week. Fans who saw the match said it was one of the best fight card they'd seen, including the bouts at the Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves.

Pampa will meet Panhandle there March 10, and Panhandle returns the match here March 24. Pampa will go to Lockney April 7, and then meets Lockney here April 7 in the last dual boxing meet for the Pampa team.

Taft Criticizes Foreign Policy

DENVER — (AP) — Sen Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, said in an interview here yesterday that bipartisan foreign policy is a thing of the past.

"Mr. Truman threw it out when he was elected in 1948," he told reporters at the airport. "He has never consulted the Republicans about foreign policy matters. I see no chance of a change by the administration."

Dependents Barred From Japan Entry

TOKYO — (AP) — General MacArthur's headquarters today barred any resumption of travel to Japan by dependents until the Korean War ends.

The announcement said dependents will not be allowed to come here until units now engaged in the Korean campaign have been given their new stations after the end of hostilities.

Nation's Assets Show Increase

CHICAGO — (AP) — The U. S. Savings and Loan League reported total assets of the nation's savings associations continued their climb last year to reach a new high of $18,200,000,000 as of Dec. 31.

The amount was 11 percent more than the previous peak total of $14,600,000,000 at the end of 1949 and the increase of $1,695,000,000 was the greatest in the history of the business.

Dallas Rancher, Oilman Dies

DALLAS — (AP) — Funeral services for John Sigmund, 77, rancher and oilman, were scheduled here today. He died Saturday at his home here.

Sigmund formerly operated ranching interests in the Panhandle and financed early oil ventures near Aransas Pass and Corpus Christi.

Today's Girl Dreadful Claims 106-Year-Old

LONDON — (AP) — Mrs. Ann Parish celebrated her 106th birthday Saturday with three hearty meals, a cigarette, a little whisky, and a dance.

Asked what she thought of the modern girl, she replied: "Dreadful. And the boys are just as bad."

Representatives Of County Attend Extension Meeting

Callender; visual aids, Jack Sloan; neighborhood improvement program, E. C. Martin, and work of soil testing laboratory, M. K. Thornton, agriculture chemist.

Cremation Planned For Eddy Duchin

NEW YORK — (AP) — The ashes of bandleader Eddy Duchin, who won fame as a pianist and glory as a Naval combat officer, will be scattered at sea.

The body of Duchin, who died Friday at the age of 41, is to be cremated today at Ferncliff, N. Y., in Westchester County. The ashes later are to be taken to sea either by a Naval vessel or plane in accordance with family wishes.

Funeral services for Duchin were held yesterday at the Campbell Funeral Church.

After action in the Atlantic and Pacific, including destroyer duty during the landings at Normandy and later at Iwo Jima, Duchin was discharged in 1945 as lieutenant commander.

He was cited for his combat record only a few hours before his death from leukemia — a form of cancer of the blood.

Wayne Phelps Buys Alamogordo Station

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The communications commission announced Norman Lasseter and Louis M. Neal, Jr., to assign the Alamogordo radio station, KALB, Alamogordo, N. M., to William Wayne Phelps. The consideration was $28,000.

Phelps is former advertising director of the Pampa Daily News and manager of KPON here. More recently, he was manager of station KHUZ of Borger.

Canadian Young People Attend Amarillo Rally

CANADIAN (Special) — Twenty young people and a dulla from the First Christian Church journeyed to Amarillo Friday evening and Saturday to attend a mid-winter camper's rally held at the West Amarillo Christian Church.

Following registration Friday, a banquet was served in the dining room of the church. The tables were decorated in the valentine motif.

The young people from Clarendon provided the entertainment after which the group went to the auditorium for the church service which was handled by the Canadian group.

Gary Gray, led the song service with La Juana Ballard at the piano. Nancy Alexander sang "The Holy City," accompanied by Louise Zybach. The Rev. Thomas Gray delivered the message for the evening. Movies were shown which were taken at last summer's camp, and a fellowship was held in the church gymnasium, where refreshments of soft drinks and cookies were served.

Saturday morning's program was typical of a day at camp. Morning watch was held at 9:15. A camp pep rally, with pep songs and choruses, was followed by discussion groups. The seniors, intermediates and juniors were divided for discussion plans for next summer's camp which is held at the Julian Bivins camp grounds. Morning chapel services were in the charge of the young people of West Amarillo Christian Church. Group pictures were taken and a noon meal of sandwiches, soft drinks, and pie was served.

At 1 o'clock the meeting was climaxed with a friendship circle.

Approximately 150 persons from Clarendon, Canadian, Memphis, Dalhart, Wellington, Texas, Washington Avenue Mexican Mission and West Amarillo Christian Churches were present. Making the trip Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray, Gary and Thomas A. Thomas Conyers, Phil Love, Dale Roth, Bob Peckham, Troy Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alexander and Nancy, La Juana Ballard, Nancy Williams, Leslyn Webb, and Louise Zybach. Joining them Saturday were Mrs. Robert Forrest and Mrs. Gwennette, Daisy Krehbiel, Mary Ellen Tepe, and Sammie Krehbiel. The group returned Saturday evening.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

It seems to me that mature women do a magnificent job when they do one! Louise A. Stinetorf wrote "White Witch Doctor" (Westminster Press), her first adult novel, after she was 50. Her life has been full and interesting because she has made it so.

As a child in a family of nine, on a farm in Indiana, she was raised in an atmosphere of missionaries who visited her family. Tales of Africa fascinated her. She spent her vacation there and grew to know and understand it.

In her absorbing book, "White Witch Doctor," her heroine is a woman of 40. And, at 40, her heroine decided to go to Africa as a medical missionary. Then she spent three years training in a hospital before she was accepted and at 43 she set out on the great adventure.

Mature women will find this an interesting story because it is both dramatic and exciting, and it proves, both from the achievements of the fictional heroine and the real life author, that life after forty can be a period of new adventure and real achievement.

Louise Stinetorf says that she is "the nervous type." She arises between four and six in the morning and writes steadily until 7:30, when she prepares breakfast for her husband. She then reviews, types and proofreads her writing. For a change of pace she goes out into her California garden and pulls weeds until her back aches and then goes back to her writing. She has a hobby. You know I recommend hobbies for all women. Hers is gardening and she most evidently has that "green thumb." She planted her garden with flowers, trees and vegetables. With her own hands she built a terrace, a rock garden and a patio. She mixed the cement and laid the bricks! And, just to keep busy and take up her spare time, she knits her own dresses with styles and distinction!

"White Witch Doctor" has been sold to the movies. We will be seeing the dramatization of a mature heroine, the work of a mature woman author.

Don't tell me that life after forty is dull!

Miss Golladay Reviews Book For Venado Blanco

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Miss Gertrude Golladay, past president of the Venado Blanco Club, gave a review of "Here I Stand" by Roland Bainton, at a meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. R. Y. Corder. Miss Helen Walker was co-hostess.

This book is a recent biography of Martin Luther and won the Cokesbury non-fiction award for 1950.

Giving a background of medieval history and philosophy, Miss Golladay presented Dr. Luther not only as the compelling force behind the great reformation movement, but as a real person, with all the doubts and fears of mankind intensified by the beliefs of his age and his own uncompromising character.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Fred Mullings, president.

Mrs. H. M. Lane, of Pampa, was a guest. Members present were Mmes. Corder, Mullings, John Banks, Bob Farley, Luke Guerin, Bert Isbell, Alvin Smith, H. T. Peacock, Hope Rusk, Ray Vineyard, and B. R. Weakis; and Misses, Walker, Golladay, Virginia Alexander, Mildred Cole and Claudia Evers.

For the program at the next meeting, Feb. 20, Mrs. Hope Rusk will give an organ recital at the First Baptist Church.

Lefors Girls' Club Elects; Plans To Aid Red Cross Drive

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Junior Art and Civic Club met in the home of Leta Turner Tuesday for a business meeting and election of officers.

The club voted to go from house to house in Lefors and collect money for the Red Cross Drive.

Officers elected for 1951 and 52 were: president, Colleen Dunn; first vice-president, Jeanne Sims; second vice-president, Peggy Johnson; third vice-president, Retha Jordan; secretary, Barbara Ross; treasurer, Lena Cain; parliamentarian, Vera McDonald; reporter, La Vaughn Fillman; and the yearbook chairman is Billie Gatlin.

Committees were elected: social committee, Jeanne Sims, Gloria Casey, La Vaughn Fillman; finance, Peggy Johnson, Carolyn Hughes, Betty Seals; membership, Retha Jordan, Lena Cain, Waneva Pittman; yearbook, Phillie Gatlin, Francis Clemmons, Barbara Ross, and Leta Turner.

Refreshments were served to Carolyn Hughes, Gloria Casey, Retha Jordan, Billie Gatlin, Barbara Ross, La Vaughn Fillman, Waneva Pittman, Francis Clemmons, Betty Seals, Lena Cain, Colleen Dunn, Vera McDonald, Peggy Johnson, Jeanne Sims and the hostess, Leta Turner.

Thursday Review Club Of Wheeler Holds Third Annual Guest Night

WHEELER — The Thursday Review Club of Wheeler held the third annual guest night in the home of Mrs. Roy Ford on Feb. 8. Mrs. Frank Wofford reviewed the book "The Peabody Sisters of Salem." Mrs. Wofford is a member of the Wednesday Club of Wheeler, and is one of the members of that club who helped organize the Thursday Club three years ago. She was introduced by Mrs. Lewis Martin.

Mrs. Patrick Boddy played two accordion numbers. She was introduced by Mrs. Earl Barnes.

Mrs. Lowell Pendleton, president of the club, welcomed the guests, then turned the program over to the program committee.

The buffet table was set with refreshments of red icea, heart-shaped cookies, sandwiches, punch and nuts surrounding a centerpiece of white carnations.

Guests were received by Mrs. Carroll Pettit, hostess, and each was given a corsage of white carnations encircled in red net.

The hostess, and Vendell Stark, key of the refreshment and decoration committee, served refreshments. Present were Miss Jo Sipes, Mmes. Oil Applied After Bath Leaves Legs Soft And Smooth During Cold Weather

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Sainty legs are not acquired by chance. Now that blustery winds and drying indoor heat are the regular order of the calendar, special care is necessary to avoid winter weathering.

Lubrication is your best bet, if you wish to avoid the roughness and scaldiness that detract from hem-to-heel glamour.

To keep your legs soft and smooth during the cold months, try this quick and simple after-bath treatment.

Begin by giving your calves a brisk terry-towel to stir up circulation and scuff off dried skin particles. Then smooth on baby oil, blotting off any excess with a towel. This clear oil, which leaves no unattractive white residue, will not stain your clothing. Rubbed on as a cosmetic touch when you are dressing, the oil also gives winter-pale legs a slightly darker look, and adds a rich sheen for eye-catching appeal beneath sheer hose or a bobby sock.

What's RIGHT?

YOU are having no luck making friends with a small child.

WRONG: Say you bet the cat's got his tongue, or remark to his mother in his hearing that he must be very shy.

RIGHT: Treat the child with more consideration—letting him alone if he seems wary of you.

YOU are one of several luncheon guests in a friend's home, and your water glass is empty.

WRONG: Jump up from the table and go to the kitchen to get yourself another glass of water.

RIGHT: Ask your hostess if you may have water—or, better yet, wait a little while to see if she won't notice the empty glass.

A man lights a cigaret for a woman.

WRONG: She says nothing, accepting the courtesy as her due, simply because she is a woman.

RIGHT: She thanks him.

3 SHOULD YOU HAVE FAMILY DOCTOR?

GOOD HEALTH

1. WILL EXERCISE REDUCE WEIGHT?

2. DO MANY WOMEN LEAVE HARDENING OF THE ARTERIES?

3. SHOULD YOU HAVE FAMILY DOCTOR?

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. Exercise alone is futile. While it will reduce weight, because it helps use up water, carbohydrates and fats, exercise also stimulates the appetite. Two exercises help tremendously. (1) pushing one's chair away from the table when dessert is served. (2) turning the head slowly from right to left and back again when second helpings are offered.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. Because of their happy faculty of depositing fat in places other than the inner walls of their arteries, women are far less likely to become victims of hardening of the arteries than are men.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. A family doctor is your protection. He is your best friend and will respond to every call whether trifling or serious. He knows your background, and having cared for you through the years, can therefore be your best advisor.

Carburetor Too Rich Makes Motorist Too Poor

Car owners who are wasting gas and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that helps save gasoline by "vacu-mating." It is automatic and operates on the supercharge principle. Easily installed in a few minutes. Fits all cars, trucks and tractors. The manufacturer, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617-700 W. State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacu-matic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or just send your name and address on a penny post card today.

Illustrated for NEA Service by DICK HOOVER
Practice makes perfect and a champion.
I now get plenty of it bowling in leagues three nights a week, with an occasional tournament or sweepstakes on Saturdays and Sundays. But in 1946 and 47, when I was developing my game, I bowled about 50 games a week. Perhaps it is true, as some say, that you can become a champion at an early age, as in my case; for example, but I was 13, and in that time I have rolled far more games than anyone would guess I would. I changed my delivery, speed, footwork, revised my opinion of the space I required to reach the foul line.

All these changes did not come overnight. They were made throughout a long period. I practiced a lot, had many heartaches, minor and major, before they began to have their effect.
So don't expect to teach championship status tomorrow night by a simple change in your methods.
You have to work out your own progress.
A large measure of success can be yours, if you practice and possess the ability to improve constantly.
Whether you reach the top or not, you'll have a lot of fun and mighty fine exercise.

Horned Frogs Engage Longhorns In Cage Tilt Tonight At Fort Worth

College Cagers Have Busy Week

NEW YORK (AP)—This will be one of the busiest and most interesting weeks of the college basketball campaign. Several conference scraps could be decided in the next six days.
Columbia, for instance, could assure itself of at least a tie for the Ivy League title with victories over Yale and Harvard. The Lions, only major undefeated team in the land, whipped Cornell Saturday to bring its record to 15-0.
North Carolina State, which leads the Southern Conference with an 11-1 mark, can ice tonight Saturday by defeating North Carolina.
If Brigham Young whips Utah Friday and Saturday the Cougars will be crowned Skyline Six champs. It is just a matter of time before Arizona wraps up the Border Conference flag.
Kentucky is the runaway leader in the Southeastern Conference.
With the fall of Indiana, the Big Ten race is scrambled and probably won't be decided until the final games. At the moment, Illinois holds the lead over Indiana, which dropped its first league game to Minnesota Saturday, 61-54.
Oklahoma A&M, with a 6-0 record, holds the upper hand in the Missouri Valley race. But this is one of the college's toughest leagues and anything can happen. St. Louis (8-1) is second and Bradley (5-3) is third.
Kansas State's 7-0 record is the best in the Big Seven. Kansas, with 5-1, may challenge, however, when the teams meet Feb. 24.
The Southwest Conference is a three-way battle among Texas (6-1), Texas A&M (6-2) and TCU (5-2).
Southern California (5-1) looks like a shoo-in for Southern Division honors in the Pacific Coast Conference. Washington and Oregon (6-4) are scrapping for Northern Division honors.
Some of tonight's leading games include Ohio State at Illinois,

California at Missouri, Iowa State at Iowa, Wichita at Bradley, Kansas at Missouri and Villanova at Seton Hall.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., NEW YORK (AP)—What sort of an international team competition is it where two players can make up a team and one good one often can make the difference between victory and defeat? It's the Ryder Cup—and in our opinion it isn't an international test at all. This is inspired by a communique from Davis Cupper Ted Schroeder, enclosing an article by Australia's John Bromwich on the Cup question. They agreed strongly on one point—the importance of a player like Tom Brown, who can "raise his game to the heights under pressure." Under the present setup, one man with such ability can win two singles and likely carry the doubles. Two make it a cinch. To make it a real test of tennis strength between nations, they should get at least a half dozen players in there. The idea, we think, would be to pick teams as the PGA does its Ryder Cup squad on the basis of points scored in tournaments, and make it big enough that one man with a "lift" couldn't dominate the series. Expensive? Sure, but it's not our dough.

When his winter journey around the banquet circuit took him to New Haven, Conn., Tiger Manager Red Rolfe dropped in to see his old buddy Charley Loftus, the Yale publicist. Noting a newspaper in pocket, Loftus wisecracked: "Since Sporting News named you manager of the year, I suppose you have to carry a copy with you at all times." Replied Rolfe, who had just signed a contract at $2,500 a week: "Sporting News named me 'This is the Wall Street Journal.' Did you know that Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson had been interviewed as a prospective Harvard football coach a couple of years ago and showed a marked lack of interest when Bill Birmingham wouldn't even ask for such a mid concession as letting football players off from Saturday morning classes? After returning from a visit to the California racetracks, Paul Belmont, Calumet turf manager, told Neville Duna of the Thoroughbred Record: "If someone would build a clubhouse and grandstand at the Indianapolis Speedway, they would have as good a horse track as Santa Anita." South Africa's Bobby Locke has been invited to play in the Miami Beach Open Golf Tournament in March. Joe Petris, former drum beater for the All America Conference and the football Yanks, may hook up with a firm that produces quick-drying cherry pie. Well, it's better than lemons.
Due to a schedule mixup, two rival schools turned up at Fayette, Ohio, one night recently expecting to play the local high school basketball team. Fayetteville and Alvorton and won both games. Johnny Twomey, who hasn't done too much in the mile races this winter, entered the three-mile at Saturday's AAU meet "to get an early start" toward the 5,000 meters in the 1952 Olympics. A one-ditch being dug for a pipeline at Johnston, Pa., last summer you could see footballers Ardy Kozar of Tennessee, Dave Kouzaroff of Penn and Stu Kline of Pitt as well as LeRoy Lescault, who won a football pipeline into Pennsylvania schools.

Arizona Coach Fred Enke has a high regard for the merits of the teams in the central section of the conference. He does the players, who expect a difficult trip and are far from overconfident.
Yet none of the teams has so far indicated the strength needed to trip the Arizona Wildcats unless they strike them on an off night.
The scrap for the runner-up spot is likely to continue into the final week. Four teams are involved.
New Mexico, which hadn't been considered a title threat in pre-season predictions, and West Texas State, the team many expected to unseat Arizona, are tied for second place with five wins and three losses.
One game behind come Texas Tech, which won two out of three games in the central division last week, and unpredictable New Mexico A&M.
Arizona State colleges at Tempe and Flagstaff, high scoring Texas Western and Hardin-Simmons are all in bad shape with six or seven losses already piled up against them.
This is a busy week throughout the conference. Tempe and Flagstaff take very difficult road trips through the Texas section of the league.
After meeting Arizona in Albuquerque, the New Mexico Lobos head southward for dates with the Aggies and Texas Western Miners.

Buffs In Battle For Second Place

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
AP Sports Writer
Big basketball interest in the Border Conference now centers around the scramble for second place.
Arizona has a three and a half game lead with seven games to play. Three of them are at home where it hasn't been beaten by a league school in almost a decade.
Arizona can dispel any lingering doubts about its supremacy starting tonight. It faces a road game on consecutive nights with New Mexico, New Mexico A&M and Texas Western.

Midwestern Leads Gulf Coast Loop

(By The Associated Press)
The Gulf Coast Conference basketball race can end for all practical purposes Thursday at Denton. It's all over if Midwestern beats North Texas that night.
Midwestern's 61-44 victory over North Texas last week brought the Buffs' record to 13-1, a slim margin to clinch the title in the last conference game for the Indians.
A victory for North Texas would make the title hinge on the last conference game of the season—the Eagles' tilt with Trinity next week.
The Indians' one-sided victory over the Buffs in their tilt last week. But in other games, Midwestern beat Wayland, 56-41; North Texas defeated Texas Wesleyan, 70-53; Trinity licked Texas A&I, 67-60; but lost to the Mexican Pan-American five in Mexico City, 42-31.
Tomorrow night Midwestern plays Brooke Medical Center at Wichita Falls. Wednesday, Trinity takes on Sul Ross at Alpine, and Saturday Midwestern plays Texas Wesleyan at Fort Worth and Trinity tackles Southwest Texas at San Marcos.

Miami Quintets Meet Groom Teams Tonight

MIAMI (AP)—Miami Warrior and Squaw cage teams will wind up their home schedule here Monday night against the Groom boys and girls.
Although both the Warriors and the Squaws lost close decisions to their teams in early season encounters, they have shown a lot of improvement since then, and will undoubtedly give the visitors a close game, as they are determined to win their last game on the home court.
Three girls will be playing their last game as Squaws, Barbara Keesh, Jean Carlos, Len and Lena Ruth Gray; and two Warriors will appear for the last time on the home court, Donald Jenkins and Frank Parker.
Vic Raschl, star hurdler for the Yankees, holds a remarkable 71.6 percentage over a period of five years. He has won 70 and lost 28.

Yates Makes Move

TYLER (AP)—Tommy Yates, former business manager of the defunct East Texas League, has been named to a similar post with the Tyler East Texans of the Class B Big State League.

They'll then just have to meet Arkansas, Baylor and A&M. Jack Brown of Southern Methodist took over the lead in season scoring with 286 points, but he has a narrow edge. Joe McDermott of Rice has 286, and George McLeod of Texas Christian 254.
In conference scoring, Ralph Johnson of Baylor leads with 117, Brown has 105, George Sealing, Texas, 102, and Walt Davis, A&M, 101.
Korea covers an area of 85,248 square miles.

SIDETRACKED—Looking more like a track man than a basketball player, Tex Ritter sprints along the sideline after taking a shot at New York's 69th Regiment Armory. Oddly enough, the spectators are watching the ball, so most of them missed the great explosion that occurred when the professional Knickerbockers' star collided with camera bags and the first row of empty seats. There was little damage and the New York

Little Joe Culmone Is Big Man Behind Brookmeade's Victories

MIAMI, Fla. — The five-year reign of mighty Calumet Farm as king of the turf came to an end in 1950 as Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable was aided by contract rider Joe Culmone — ascended the throne of top money winning stable of the year in a photo finish.
The Brookmeade string, boasting such champions as Greek Ship, Sunflow, Going Away and Atlanta, accumulated $63,550 in winnings. Calumet, owned by the late Warren Wright, placed second for the first time in half a decade with $33,260.
Unseating of the fabulous Calumet champions — trained by Stephen F. Austin last week, Caliente, both left the Continental limits with $85 winners each — equaling the world mark set 44 years ago by Walter Miller. Both were forced to finish the year out of the country; Calumet at Havana's Oriental Park and Shoemaker at Mexico's Agua Caliente. Joe Culmone

He launched into 1950 at Tropical Park. He received his first taste of officialdom as he drew a 10-day suspension at Hialeah for rough riding. Despite the setback he guided home 34 winners. At Gulfstream he scored 64 times. He moved to Atlantic City following Florida's winter season and registered 59 winners to pace his fellow jockeys. At Garden State Park he rode 47 winners in 25 days and at Pimlico and Bowie he steered home 32 winners at each track during 13-day stints. During the 41-day Tropical Park meeting he rode 38 winners.
Culmone, like Brookmeade Stable, is determined to repeat in 1951 the pace established last year.
"We may not be on top again this year," grins Culmone, "but the other stables and jockeys will know we've been around when December comes."

Three Quintets Fight For First In LSC Race

(By The Associated Press)
The Lone Star Conference basketball race is just about half over and three teams — Southwest Texas, Stephen F. Austin and East Texas State — are heading for a showdown.
Southwest Texas State pulled into a first place tie with Stephen F. Austin last week by knocking off the Lumberjacks, 65-36, and downing Sam Houston State, 66-43.
East Texas State bounced Sam Houston, 79-54, while Stephen F. Austin added one conference victory to its total on a 76-50 decision over Sul Ross.
In other games, Southwest Texas defeated Independent Lamar 62-48; East Texas knocked off Centenary, 73-69; Stephen F. Austin licked St. Edward's, 58-53, and Sul Ross dropped two games to Brooke Medical, 58-45, 57-45.
Southwest Texas stands the best chance to take over the league leadership. It meets Sul Ross Monday night at San Marcos, then has only a non-conference game Saturday with Trinity.
Stephen F. Austin runs into East Texas Tuesday at Nacogdoches.
Wednesday, Sam Houston meets East Texas Baptist at Marshall; East Texas plays Lamar at Beaumont and Sul Ross tackles Trinity at Alpine.
Saturday, Sam Houston enters Sul Ross at Huntsville.
Charles Whitten staged a torrid one-man performance in scoring 26 points against Sam Houston and 32 against Centenary.

Amarillo Boxers Here Saturday

The Pampa Boys Club Inc boxing team tangles with the tough Borden and Eyrle combined boxing team from Amarillo Saturday night, Feb. 24, in the junior high gym.
Coach T. J. Watt took four of his clouters to Shamrock Saturday night and ended up with two winners and two losers.
Gary Watt of Pampa was decided by Berry Ward of Shamrock; Reul Ramirez was decided by Joe Larry of Amarillo; Bobby Wilhelm finished strong to decision Ronnie Suttles of Shamrock; and Ronnie James took a decision from Thompson of Shamrock.
Coach Watt will take some of his boxers to Wellington and Shamrock this week for ring engagements. Because of the small size of boxing clubs in this area, the different clubs are helping each other out by sending four or five fighters wherever a meet is held.

Jack Mitchell Joins Texas Tech Staff

LUBBOCK (AP)—Three new assistant football coaches for the Red Raiders of Texas Tech were announced by DeWitt Weaver, new head football coach and athletic director.
Weaver said last night that Jack Mitchell, assistant coach at Tulsa, would be offensive backfield coach; W. A. (Babe) Woods, defensive backfield coach at Wake Forest, would have the same job here, and Bobby Goad, head coach at Chickasha, Okla., would be end coach.
Weaver is still looking for a line coach.

The Duncan Halliburton Cementers meet their tough cage for tonight, some small college team from Texas. The Cementers notified Jim Arndt that they wouldn't spend the night in Pampa Saturday night because they had to hurry back and get ready for the Monday night tilt. The "cage wizards" from Oklahoma also hoped Pampa could field a fair team which would give them some kind of opposition. They were thinking of the poor cage fans.
After the first ten minutes of the game, the Cementers went into shock. Pampa's Chiefs went on the long end of a 15-0 point lead and the Duncan dribblers couldn't figure it out.
One Cementer kept mumbling — "Do they hit like this all the time?" Scorekeeper Warren Hesse informed him sometimes they really hit.
Six Cementers left the game via the foul route. The last three minutes of the game was fought between three players from each team.
The Cementers moaned about the officiating after the game. I couldn't see anything wrong with it. The officials were doing a better job than the Cementers. They were looking for an excuse, and the officials were it. The Chiefs could handle the Oklahoma quintet any night from 10 to 20 points.
The Halliburton AAU cagers won't go far in any tournament. They have a fair team, but that's about all.

Coach Cliff McNeely Said 'he wanted to see basketball goals on every cage in Pampa. . . I bet the coach even checks the hospital statistics to see how many Harvesters Cagers he'll have put in 1967. . . McNeely likes the long, tall cagers with the big hands. . . Randy Clay and Jim Terrell admitted they were out of condition after calling the Chief-Texhoma cage game last week. . . It looked like the moon soon had hit the way Clay and Terrell sweated. . . Jerry Squires, Pampa Oilers catcher, was named most valuable player at the Merchants annual cage tourney at Augusta, Kans. Squires plays with Boeing, and the aircraft quintet lost in the finals 58-55.

PGA Committee Golfers Enter Into Squabble

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Seven touring golfers are here to play the Mexican National Open and it furnishes the first big test of the new set-up in the PGA whereby the players have representation on a tournament administrative committee.
This committee disapproved the participation of PGA members and PGA-approved tournament players in open tournaments which conflict in dates with PGA-sponsored ones. The action was taken Saturday during the Texas Open in San Antonio, and was aimed at a number of golfers who announced they would play at Mexico City and pass up the Rio Grande Valley open at Harlingen, starting Thursday.
The group of players, headed by Jimmie Demaret of Ojai, Calif., defied the committee and arrived here last night. They were met by members of the Mexican Golf Association.
The U. S. players declined to say anything about the PGA action last night, but Demaret said they might have something to say today after talking with Mexican golf officials.
Six of the players here were included in the order issued by the committee. The other — Tony Holman of San Antonio — is not a PGA member since he hasn't been a professional long enough and is not an approved tournament player because he never has made application.
Also going with Demaret were Vic Chezzi of Long Island, N.Y.; Al Bessink of Mt. Clemens, Mich.; Morris Williams of Highland; Ansel Snow of High Point, N. C., and Stan Duda of Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa.
Demaret disputed the power of the committee to enforce such a ruling and predicted that if it tried to bar him and the others were barred from the Houston Open next week, things would "get pretty hot."
"The committee pointed out that the players could participate in major championships although they are not co-sponsored by the PGA but said the Mexican National Open was not a major championship because as far as the committee knew there is no qualifying for it; it gets its players by invitation."

Attractive Valentine Display Beckons Pampa Romantics

Valentine's Day, one of many commemorative days observed in the United States and the larger portion of the civilized world, is one of those 'days' most people observe as a result of the weight of tradition rather than due to the full knowledge of what the day might really mean. A suggestion from Mr. Close, manager of Cretney Drug Store, led to a bit of a story about Valentine's Day.

The origin of Saint Valentine's day isn't exactly lost in obscurity. The only thing obscure about it from the local standpoint is the complete dearth of factual literature available to back up any erudite observations or stories concerning its origin.

References readily available, good old standing authority, such as Webster and P. F. Collier, peg the reason for the day with a long departed character of early Roman history who bore considerable weight in the perpetuation of the Christian Church.

Saint Valentine left his impression as a Martyr to Christendom, circa 270 A.D. It was many years, however, before the civilized world began attaching a method of celebration to various important dates. Many of the citizenry attempt to attach the connection to Valentinian, a Gothic leader who taught at Rome in the middle of the second century after Christ. This, however, is a case of mistaken identity. Valentinian is not to be confused with Saint Valenline who existed over a hundred years later.

When the modern calendar was evolved, the Gregorian variety, Saint Valentine's Day was fixed as February fourteen. In keeping with earlier tradition a valentine was a sweetheart chosen (or drawn by lot) on Saint Valentine's Day. As time passed the world got a bit over-run with the daughters of Eve who vied for the honor of being chosen sweetheart for the day. As a result of this overload of talent a modern radio show began choosing a "queen for a day" and the Valentine problem was solved. Now, a valentine is known as an amatory or sentimental missive printed card or some token or gift expressive of regard, sent by one person to another on Valentine's Day. Some wag got the idea that it would be great sport to do a little clowning on the Saint's day. Hence, some of the tokens of expression for Saint Valentine's Day have become satirical or burlesque type of remembrances.

In Pampa the greatest exponent of Saint Valentine's Day is, it couldn't be an accident, the venerable Cretney Drug Store.

L. G. Close has expended considerable effort to obtain the finest in Valentine's Day remembrances to suit the taste of any chooser and the size of any purse.

Pursley Pays Pretty Price Pour Porker

The national slogan of Chrysler Motor Company advertising was right in the mode when Doc Pursley shelled out two 'skins' a pound for the prize pig of the annual H Club competition at Recreation Park. It isn't news when Pursley purchases a pig, he's been doing the job for about seven years at this particular event. However, when Doc decides he'd like to get his hands on a Jewel, he knows how to choose one. Whether it's an automobile or a prize porker, Le Bon Docteur knows what he's doing.

Just like the prize stock displayed at the Annual Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Sale and Show (how'n heck did a pig get mixed up with the Herefords?) Doc knows a prize article when he sees one. Don't let anyone tell you the Plymouth is any pig. It's a prize in its own right. You won't be required to expend $2.00 per pound for your exchequer in order to own a new Plymouth. But you will find that it is a champion of another variety.

You may feed your face on prize porkers, but it takes the heart and head of a connoisseur to feed his soul on the beauty and distinction of the new '51 Plymouth at Pursley Motors.

Who Says Pampa Lags Behind In Radio & Video?

A recent issue of a national magazine spent considerable time and dedicated a rather large portion of its valuable space to a piece from an Ohio firm. This firm had steamed itself into a pretty high-pressure state concerning the great and valuable contribution it had made to "fringe-areas" of the television family throughout the United States.

Pampa readers will be pleased to recall a recent article in the Pampa News which exposed and expanded upon the activities of the Hawkins Radio Laboratory along the lines claimed by the Ohio firm. Although the firm didn't exactly claim itself to be the sole perpetrator of "long-range" television equipment, it did imply that there was little being done throughout the country that could compare with their work.

Hence, a big cheer and a "hats off" to Bill Hawkins, Sr., and his progressive radio family. No specific date has been claimed by the Hawkins tribe, but it is safe to say that they have been in the vanguard of those unsung craftsmen who continue to experiment and develop radio and television until it has reached the state of perfection the people of this country desire.

Palace Improves Service, Plans Redecorations
It has happened. Jo Austin finally got fed up with the young vandals who insisted on carving initials and sub-intelligent literature on her mezzanine tables and booths. As a result, the Crystal Palace has closed up the mezzanine service portion of the shop.

In the very near future Jo will have installed some nifty booth construction in her emporium of the sweet tooth and gab fest and will have a minimum of center-aisle tables in her popular gathering spot.

Meanwhile, if there is anyone in the village who is interested in establishing a business that does not need street-front quarters, Jo is interested in finding a non-competitive tenant for the mezzanine of her shop.

American Colleges Helping Solve Industrial Problems

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — American industry is going to get a helping hand from colleges in its fight to boost production for defense.

The Association of University Extension Colleges, which embraces the 76 U. S. colleges having extension courses is embarking on a nation-wide program to help industry.

As explained by Dr. Robert A. Love of the City College of New York, AUEC's president, the national emergency is creating a tough problem for industry. "Our labor force is already tight," Dr. Love says, "and as we draft more and more men, it will grow tighter still. Yet, at the same time, we must call on this smaller force to produce more and more goods — civilian goods as well as arms and equipment. The only way they can step up production is through upgrading, education, training, improvement of skills and knowledge. We must train existing workers to take on extra duties and bigger responsibilities, and we must train new workers to step in."

New Controls Said Coming

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — (AP) — Another batch of controls is about ready to issue from Washington. And here are a few of the things they may have in store for you: Still less steel, copper and aluminum for cars, refrigerators, stoves. And maybe no car model changes after this fall. Still tighter installment credit terms. Still higher prices on many food items because of no controls at the farm level until parity is reached.

And the government moves a step nearer to the day when you will be told where you work and what you work at — a top emergency manpower director has been named.

A host of other orders are being prepared. In one move last week, the National Production Authority ordered paper manufacturers to reserve from five to 10 percent of output for 12 government agencies. The forest is coming under control. Ceiling prices for posts, saw logs, pulpwood and other products will be set on a regional basis at the highest level between Dec. 19 and Jan. 25. Auto makers are on notice their use of steel, copper and aluminum is to be cut back after April 1-up to 40 percent. A separate cutback on metals for the home appliance industry is planned. Auto union leaders say that could throw a half million men out of work.

Some car makers are also expecting NPA orders forbidding them to concentrate what metals they have on producing the more expensive models. Output of cheaper cars must not suffer, according to plans being considered in Washington now. The same rule may be applied to clothing makers and shoe makers — don't cut your cheaper lines just so you can sell more higher priced goods.

part. Most of the colleges with extension courses already give some training in various aspects of industrial work. Such subjects as "Plant Layout and Materials Handling," "Induction Procedures and Training Programs," "Industrial Purchasing," "Ocean Shipping," and "Management Techniques in Offices." Dr. Love points out that other member colleges give other courses. By exchanging ideas and actual teaching materials, each one of the 76 can be equipped to give any type of course in the industrial field.

But the plan is more than simply listing courses in a catalog and giving them to any student who enrolls. It is the belief of the association, and primarily of Dr. Love, that the actual need for a certain type of worker should come first. Then a course should be given to produce the workers. "Industry, itself, knows what it needs. We don't. But we have the know-how," says Dr. Love, "to produce the precise type of employee that industry is looking for," Dr. Love explains.

The plan calls for close cooperation with industrial trade associations. These associations, in every field of industrial endeavor, are the spokesmen for all American plants and shops. Already, 326 associations, in fields ranging from librarians to scrap iron and steel, cooperate with AUEC member colleges in producing courses tuned to industry's needs. More have indicated they'd like to help with future courses, as defense production grows.

As outlined by Dr. Love, here's how the educational program for industrial defense will operate: Suppose (as is actually the case) there is a shortage of trained foremen in steel fabricating plants. The trade association involved will contact AUEC or a member college. Or any industry can get in touch with the association and work out a needed course directly. Together, the industrial men and the educational experts will work out a course plan. Possibly the teachers will be drawn from industry itself. Dr. Love thinks men with actual experience do a good job in the classroom. Then, faculty workers will be either invited to attend, or else attend on company time. There's plenty of incentive for them to come voluntarily; for one thing, during the wage freeze, the only chance they'll have of better pay will be upgrading. If it works out better that way, the course can be given right in the plant. This might happen frequently, as new factories are built. AUEC, operating as a clearing house, will be able to send the course plan and, if

Date Pending On Farouk's Wedding

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — King Farouk I will marry Nour-Eddine Sadek, beautiful 17-year-old Egyptian girl, it was officially announced Saturday. The formal engagement announcement was made at Abdin Palace on the day before Farouk's 31st birthday. No date was set for the wedding. The future queen celebrated her 17th birthday last Oct. 31. She graduated from the Princess Ferial (high) school in Cairo in May, 1949.

Truck Driver Is Fast On His Feet

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A fast man is truck driver John C. Fahy. He was hurled to the street when a car struck his vehicle at the top of a hill. Somersaulting to his feet, he saw the truck heading driverless into traffic. Fahy sprinted after it, leaped on the running board and turned it into the curb. Then he sat on the curb to figure out what had happened.

needed, all the material and even an instructor, right to the plant. If the courses are given in the colleges, AUEC points out that its 76 colleges are within commuting distance of 60,000,000 Americans in 26 states. Among the members are such institutions as Harvard, Columbia, Carnegie Tech., Northwestern, Rutgers, Johns Hopkins and Texas Christian.

Army Offers Commissions

AUSTIN — To meet a shortage of special services officers in its current expansion program, the army last week announced a program to commission qualified persons as second lieutenants in the Officers Reserve Corps. These appointments will be limited to applicants who are qualified by military or civilian experience as special services officers, theatrical entertainment directors or athletic directors. The offer is open to members of the enlisted reserve corps, former officers, warrant officers and enlisted men, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the regular army and enlisted reservists now serving on active duty. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 28 and be able to pass a physical examination for active duty. Applicants who qualify and are accepted will be commissioned in the adjutant general corps of the reserve and assigned special services duties. They may request extended active duty at the time they apply for the commission, however, this is not required.

Skeleton Staff Found At Work

SYDNEY — (AP) — A party from Melbourne University has found ancient burial grounds of Australian aborigines in the northern part of South Australian State. Five-hundred skeletons found at one point were estimated to be up to 800 years old. The skulls varied considerably over the years. The most primitive type apparently belonged to a particularly ugly race, said P. Staughton, an anthropologist and a member of the group. Staughton said many skulls showed wounds of tribal battles, others had been crushed by clubs and stone tomahawks. He explained it was an aboriginal custom to bash the heads of the dead at a burial to disperse the spirit.

Food Store Uses Traveling Coach

CHICAGO — (AP) — These business men can move their store to the customer. Yale A. Corcoran, 34 and George Tretschel, 28, designed a special traveling trailer coach shop. They call it "The Gift Pantry." They believe it is an entirely new method of selling specialty foods. They daily tour the Chicago area calling on clients to invite them to view their store of food gifts. Their stock of fancy foods includes cheese, candy, hickory smoked hams and bacon, guinea hens and mallard duck.

Polish Release Former SS Men

HELMSTEDT, Germany — (AP) — A transport of 33 former S.S. men arrived from Polish prison camps at this Soviet-zone border check point Saturday. The men said they had been sentenced to long prison terms by Polish courts after the war on war crimes charges, but were acquitted in retrials.

Hydrogen Bomb Plant Also Ace In Hole For Atom Bombs

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — The South Carolina H-bomb plant is our ace in the hole for A-bombs. Because it is apparent from the carefully worded announcement of the United States Atomic Energy Commission that the reactor or reactors to be built here will be able to make either H or A bomb materials. It is implied that a switch from one to the other may be made on short notice. Even if the hydrogen bomb should fail, the South Carolina plant still is a first-line bomb source. Not an official word was said about making tritium, the heavy hydrogen needed in H-bombs. The omission does not rule out tritium, because the same type of reactor can produce either tritium, or plutonium, the A-bomb's explosive. It might be possible to design a reactor that would make tritium but not be adaptable for plutonium. That possibility seems ruled out by the emphasis for fuel for industry. Tritium is not a fuel. Scientists have said repeatedly that tritium will give either an explosion or nothing. The only other possible product of the South Carolina reactors is plutonium bomb metal — which is useful for power. There are two good reasons for setting up their new plant for dual bomb purposes. One is the great hole that would be made in plutonium bomb production if tritium were to be made in the present plutonium producers in the state of Washington. In the same length of time, a reactor can make 80 times more plutonium. This does not necessarily mean we can make 80 A-bombs for each H-bomb, because of a possibility of using only a little tritium while making the rest of the big bomb of deuterium, a comparatively cheap and plentiful form of heavy hydrogen. The other good reason is doubt whether H-bombs are as good as they have been cracked up to be. Nearly all the emphasis has been on H-bomb horrors. Even some horrors dwindle when examined critically. Take the terrific burning power of an H-bomb. From 20 miles away it can cause fatal burns in a flash of time. At 30 and 40 miles it can cause serious burns, but only on a very clear day. This combined flash of heat, light and ultra-violet rays which burn fatally is stopped by haze, smog or anything else in the air.

Army Passes Buck On Defense Feuding

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army disclosed Saturday it has dumped the Pearson-McCarthy feud into the hands of the Justice Department. Columnist Drew Pearson and Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) have accused each other of violating military security by making public information from secret Defense Department dispatches. The Army indicated it got nowhere in trying to find out who gave Pearson confidential military messages from which he quoted in his newspaper column Dec. 30. Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., reported his department's "preliminary investigation" was completed with "negative results."

Johnston Appoints Unionman As Aide

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston announced Saturday he has appointed George M. Harrison, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, as his special assistant. A spokesman for Johnston said Harrison will be Johnston's principal lieutenant in the Economic Stabilization Agency. He will have the same status under Johnston that General Lucius Clay and Sidney J. Weinberg have under Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

New Hospital Plans Call For More Appeal

ATLANTIC CITY — (AP) — Hospitals will be more hospitable in the future if the nation's hospital administrators have their say in planning new hospital buildings. Of functional modern design with park-like landscaping, the "hospital of tomorrow" will feature private and two-bed rooms, eye appealing color schemes and indoor climate control, according to Bern Benson, director of the hospital division for the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. His opinion is based on a survey his company conducted during a convention of the American Hospital Association here.

Armed Forces Day Scheduled; Defenders Of Freedom Theme

AUSTIN — Armed Forces Day, established last year in place of the separate dates previously observed by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force, will again be the third Saturday in May, it was announced by the Secretary of Defense, General Marshall, May 19 has been designated, with the approval of President Truman, for observance by the military services and the public.

Under the official slogan, "Defenders of Freedom," the theme for Armed Forces Day this year will be two-fold: (1) A tribute to the armed forces as an integral and interdependent part of the total material and spiritual power of America now being mobilized. (2) A renewal of faith in our country's sacred heritage, the ideals of peace and freedom, to the preservation of which our power is dedicated.

Train Strike Boosts Foods

(By The Associated Press)
The railroad switchmen's strike and sub-freezing weather in the West and South helped push retail prices of many food items higher last week. Meats and fresh fruits and vegetables climbed the most, but poultry, eggs and butter also edged higher in many places. Increases of as much as 40 percent were reported in some places on fresh fruits and vegetables normally hauled long distances by rail. In the East, this meant particularly carrots, lettuce and cabbage which are supplied chiefly from the South. In the other places it meant oranges from Florida and California, winter vegetables from the south.

In addition, cold weather in several major growing areas sent onion prices higher and damaged citrus fruit, winter wheat, peach trees, cabbage, peas, tomatoes. Part of the price advances in meats also were blamed on storms which slowed or reduced livestock shipments from farms. Some beef cuts were up two to six cents a pound in major store chains, while advances in pork and lamb items ranged as high as 10 cents. Chickens were up slightly. Eggs were unchanged to as much as six cents a dozen higher. Butter advanced two cents a pound in many centers. At the wholesale level, food prices were still climbing. The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food index rose to $7.21 from $7.17 the previous week and was only two percent below the record high of $7.36 touched July 13, 1948. This index has not declined in any week since early last October, and now is 21 percent over the level just prior to the Korean war. The index represents the total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 general use foods.

Small House with Large Assets

Here's a classic example of the type of house most American families look for. It's Good Housekeeping magazine's "Small House of the Month" for February. Features include: 1,250 feet of floor area; full basement; 12 closets; and fireplace. The exterior is brick veneer, vertical siding, and wood shingles. Note the abundance of windows, twin wash-basins in bathroom, and the folding wall which converts the extra bedroom or study into a second living room.

Roofs Should Get Periodic Lookover

About the only attention required by slate, asbestos shingle or tile roofs is periodic inspection for loose or broken pieces. If any are found, they should be removed and new pieces put in their place. Removal of slate, tile or asbestos-cement shingles is accomplished easiest by breaking them out with light hammer blows, using care not to strike hard enough to damage surrounding units.

The new piece is then slipped beneath the lower edge of the upper course of roofing and driven up as far as it will go by light hammer blows against a piece of wood held against the lower edge of the replacement to prevent breakage.

When it is as far under the upper course as it will go without undue forcing, three small holes are drilled equidistant through the replacement and the slate, tile or asbestos shingle underneath its lower edge to permit new nails to be driven into the sheathing. These holes should be drilled about 1-2 inches above the lower edge of the replacement. Since the repair is made by surface-nailing, the nail-heads should be daubed with plastic roofing compound to prevent leakage.

When wood or composition shingle roofs begin to leak, it is usually best to re-roof the entire house, especially if leaks have developed at several points. The old roof need not be removed. New shingles are laid right over the existing roof. The first step is to cut back the old shingles with a sharp hatchet at the ends and lower

Here, a dark and dust-catching under-stairway has been transformed with wallboard, paint, glass and light. The shadow box, with its glass shelves, has concealed lights above it. 30-Year-Old Floorboarding A Gold Mine

By NEA Service
FORT MADISON, Iowa—(NEA)—There's no gold in the streets of Fort Madison, but there's $20,000 worth of it in the floor of a factory here.

The gold has been accumulating in the floorboards for 30 years in a pen manufacturing plant. Now that the plant is getting ready to move into a new building, a metals-reclaiming concern eagerly made the big bid for the 10,000 feet of old flooring, which will be "mined" to retrieve gold chips and dust.

Prospecting would have been a lot richer, however, if it weren't for the elaborate precautions taken every day by the W. A. Sheaffer pen company. The gold-working departments are given special night-time vacuum cleanings, and all aprons and smocks used by gold workers are laundered on the premises.

Laundry water is put through settling tanks, and the winnowings are combined with the sweepings and dust. The blended dust—assaying as high as $60 a pound—is stored in ordinary garbage cans until it's shipped away for reclaiming. Otherwise, say company officials, $100,000 worth of gold would vanish in the air or down the drain every year.

A New Wave Of Color Invades Field Of Kitchen Appliances

By JEAN SCOTT
CHICAGO—Color is the big news in kitchen appliances in a field that has been noted for its rigid adherence to greening white, unspiced glazes of coating which acts as a sealer against water and other condensation and has added beauty. Some manufacturers have even gone in a wholeheartedly for color. One washing machine also calls for color in its tub. The finish on the tub must withstand boiling hot water, strong alkali soaps, dyes, wash-cleaning powders and bleaching compounds as well as abrasive materials, such as sand particles, but on door handles and on the decorative pins and buckles. The interior of refrigerators has also proved to be fertile fields for color styling. In one gleaming model, a distinctive chartreuse is used as an interior trim color. This, it was found, harmonized with such popular kitchen colors as yellow, soft green and red. Gray is also being used as an interior trim for refrigerators.

Q—My fireplace still smokes at certain times despite the fact I recently built it up the flue another foot. Will making the flue still higher help? L. W. H. A—Chimneys are tricky things. It may be your flue is too small for the fireplace opening. The tried and tested formula for this is that the fireplace opening be more than 12-1/2 times the inside cross-sectional area of the flue. If your fireplace is too big, you need a wider, not taller flue.

Singapore Export Guarantees Asked

SINGAPORE—(AP)—The British government is reported to have asked the Singapore government to consider guaranteeing Malayan produce export to the United States with a view to increasing the colony's dollar earnings. The products will include copra, palm oil, timber, sago, pineapples, rubber products, Malayan jewelry silverware and curios. Tin and rubber, which have established markets, are excluded. The guarantees suggested will insure exporters against the risk of opening up new markets similar to those given by Britain to encourage trade with the gold area.

McLemore In Washington For Some First-Hand Information

When I was only seven days old I rolled out of bed and landed on my head. That's not much of a point to think, or try to figure anything out. In short, knowing that my little head was injured I have tried to stay within a group of men whose heads were hurt at an early age, and leave thinking to men who were fortunate enough not to fall out of bed when they were babies. But yesterday, despite the headache it gave me, I got to thinking. Thinking about our country, our State Department, our foreign policy, and the things that are going on in the world today. Knowing that I didn't have enough sense to think from a distance, I caught a train to Washington so that I could observe at first hand the goings-on in our nation's capital. I went disguised as a political reporter, meaning that I shaved, carried a cane, kept one ear to the ground regardless of the temperature, and spoke of Mr. Truman as "Harpy."

I climbed the Washington monument as a tribute to the man who held this country together when it was loser than a Broadway friendship. It liked to kill me. I would like to advise all Americans over forty not to climb it. When I got to the top my heart was beating faster than Gene Krupa ever did and I looked every day of 48 instead of my natural 44. Then, after I came down from the monument, I did a few of the things that a Washington newspaper man is supposed to do. I climbed three cherry trees, got lost in the Pentagon, had a tomato juice at the Press Club, called Drew Pearson a liar, paid my five percent to the five percenters, went to the Sulgrave Club and got hit low, visited Mt. Vernon, and came back and tried to get a room for the night without success. Those of you who are planning to visit Washington would be wise to bring your own sleeping bag. This is a rather dull town.

Sketches show two ways to make simple clothes-storage rack in the attic.

Put Out-Of-Season Clothing In Attic

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
 An attic you can walk around in without cracking your head is something of a rarity in these days of smaller houses. Even in the stoop-shouldered space between ceiling and roof, there now passes for an attic, however there's lots of useful room once you've learned to duck.
 Since it's bound to be drier and more airy than the cellar, for instance, the attic (or what passes for it) is an ideal place to store out-of-season clothes. This will make it possible to find things in the downstairs closets you use every day without being buried under an avalanche when you open the doors.
 Simplest way to install a clothes rod between a pair of rafters. First cut pieces of 2 by 4, drilled and notched, to make hangers for the rod. Then cut an old broom handle or a piece of pipe to fit between the two supports, with enough overhang to it won't slip out.
 You can hang the rod across the attic, between two opposite rafters, or you can hang it lengthwise. For this, mitre the top edge of the hanger to conform to the slope of the roof. Drill a socket in each hanger to receive the ends of the clothes pole. Nail these hangers securely to the rafters. Do not notch the rafters for the pole. You'll weaken them. The second method is better if you can get the rod high enough; the crosswise installation might cut down ventilation if you have louvers at either end of the attic. Hanging garment bags this way leaves you plenty of room to store other things, too.

 Since many modern attics have to be entered through a trapdoor, you can make the chore of hauling things up and down less back-breaking by installing a simple rope and pulley arrangement. Hang the pulley from the highest point of the roof over the trapdoor — either from the ridgepole or a rafter. Run a stout clothesline through the pulley, making sure both ends will reach the floor below the trapdoor. Then when you have a full garment bag or something else to stow away in the attic, fasten it to one end of the line and haul away on the other. You can either station somebody else in the attic to grab what's on the line, or you can make the hauling end fast downstairs and crawl up yourself and finish the job.

Basketball In New York Puts Mac's Typewriter To Work

By HENRY McEMORE
 Better late than never. So, weeks after the college basketball scandal broke in New York, I will comment on it. Having never been a basketball player and not having seen a basketball game in more than 20 years, I feel that I am eminently qualified to pass judgment on the game.
 Unlike most of my colleagues, who expressed fear that the exposure of a team's players having thrown games would end the sport I rejoice in the very thought that it would. Anything that will end basketball will be named in my will, even if its crooked players. They'll get the family plate (upper and lower), the old sedan chair that I rode in from the black hole of Calcutta, and 35 cents in Liberty Bonds.
 Mind you, I am speaking of a game that I haven't seen since 1928, and the game I saw was between North Carolina and the University of Chattanooga. The winner, and I'm not sure which one won it, got a piece of silver that I am quite sure developed gangrene while the winning captain was accepting it.
 But I have read enough about the game since I came to New York to make me feel ill at ease unless I have on a pair of shorts and am hooking one into the basket. The names of the famous players around New York City are household words in our household. From what I read you have to be practically a glandular case to score more than 12 points, which, to my way of thinking, places a premium on maladjustment of the strange little juices which are a part of every human being.
 If you think I'm kidding about this I'll send you some of my newspaper clippings of basketball games. A boy of 5 feet eleven inches is referred to as "Shorty," and looked upon as a freak. It seems to me that "Shorty" should look upon his nine-foot comrades as freaks. Is basketball a sport that develops men or towers for television serials? What skill there can be in a nine-foot man dropping a ball in an eight-foot hoop is beyond my understanding. Wouldn't Gulliver have been a sensation with the Kentucky?

 From my reading I also gather that the game is stopped every one and one-half seconds by the referee's whistle. He blows it, I understand, when a player who hasn't the ball tries to stop a player who has the ball from shooting a goal. With monsters loose on the court I don't see why they blow the whistle at all. Monster eat monster. How in the world can the giants who play basketball be injured by someone hitting them on the arm? If I refereed the game I've been reading about I'd only blow the whistle to give each team time to bury its dead.
 To change the subject, but not much, it is a tribute to American sports that any crookedness on the part of players gets headlines all over the country. Thanks to the decency of an overwhelming percent of the men who play all the sports, it comes as a tremendous shock to the country to learn that there are thieves in sports. No one gets excited if a butcher goes up for five years for weighing his wife along with the liver, or a banker gets ten years for defaulting, or an automobile salesman gets three for selling the same car four times. We take that for granted.
 But when kids who play the games turn out wrong we can hardly believe it. In their baseballs, in their basketballs, in their football headgear, and in their flannels of tennis, they stand for what we like to think is the real solidity of this country.

Truman Doesn't Have Official Taster But Checks Are Made

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman hasn't any official taster like the kings of old, but when he dines out you may be sure there are plenty of precautions.
 Take, for instance, the dinner given by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham in honor of Texas members of Congress and their wives, at which President and Mrs. Truman were guests. It was held at the Carlton Hotel, about six blocks from Blair House, where the presidential family is living while the White House is being rebuilt.

 The guests, in evening dress, were asked to be on hand at 7 p.m. It's customary at such affairs for someone to be seated before the President appears. Apparently anticipating the evening with real pleasure — as contrasted with many affairs they must attend in line of duty, the President and Mrs. Truman arrived at the Texas party about 7:15 p.m., 15 minutes earlier than scheduled. But all was in readiness for them.
 The big, black presidential limousine carrying the chief executive and Mrs. Truman was trailed by another sedan, carrying Secret Service men. Other Secret Service men were already at the hotel.
 Few persons knew of the President's plans that evening, so there were no curious individuals standing around as he entered the hotel.
 All the while the dinner was in progress, a half dozen Secret Service men sat quietly and unobtrusively in the hotel lobby. Persons passing through the hotel lobby during that time little suspected they were being carefully scrutinized by these alert well-armed gentlemen.
 As for the precautions about the food served to the President, the man in charge of such things at the Carlton said all cooks and waiters having anything to do with the dinner were carefully checked by the FBI.
 "Most of them have been with us for five or six years," he added. "The FBI knows all about them, and if they have any doubts as to their loyalty, they don't work this particular assignment."
 Furthermore, he added, plainclothesmen stand in out of the way places in the kitchen and around the back doors to keep an eye on things.
 It is at such small, private gatherings that one gets a real insight into the character of individuals who are known to millions only through the headlines.

Texas' Canning Grows Since '33

HARLINGEN, Tex. — (AP) — The canning industry in the lush Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas has shown a startling growth in recent years. Van C. Snell, president, and J. Overby Smith, manager, of the Texas Canners Assn., said here recently.
 In 1933, only 65,000 cases of citrus juice and 300,000 cases of citrus and vegetables were canned in this area. By contrast, in the 1948-1949 season, before freezes damaged citrus trees, 10,500,000 cases of citrus juice and 17,250,000 cases of citrus and vegetables were canned.

Newsprint Problem To Return With War

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Beckworth of Texas said yesterday the same newsprint problems that hounded publishers during the last war are definitely coming to the fore again.
 As acting chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, he made the remark at a hearing on the tightening newsprint situation.

INFLUENTIAL INFLUENZA
 Influenza gets its name from the Italian word influence because medieval astrologers thought it was caused by the influence of the heavenly bodies.

Winter Thaw Gives Gardener A Break

If newly-planted trees are exposed to winter's rough winds, guy them up with cord or wires as shown here.

By HENRY FREE
Written for NEA Service
 The first winter thaw, with an accompanying heavy rain, which melts the snow and brings the frost out of the ground, provides the home gardener a splendid opportunity to repair some of the damage caused by unusually heavy snows.
 Taking advantage of such a break in the weather, this gardener got busy at once and planted the many tulip bulbs and rose plants which should have been in the ground last November. From outward appearances the enforced storage did no harm to either bulbs or plants, and blooms should appear next spring on schedule.
 The lack of frost in the ground will simplify the chore of planting the live Christmas tree, and no time should be lost performing this operation. Care must be taken that the tree is planted in a well-drained location and that it be set a couple of inches higher than the original soil in the nursery. The best of the top soil should be used to fill in about the roots.
 Trees which were set out last autumn naturally are not very well anchored in the soil. If they are in an exposed place, where they are likely to be whipped by the wind, it will be wise to drive stakes into the ground and fasten the trees to them. Trees bent by the wind or snow should be straightened before guying.

 If a tree has settled so that water stands about it, mound up with soil to force the water away from the trunk. A light mulch of straw, peatmoss, or manure may be added.
 Matted leaves on the lawn and other grass areas should be removed and added either to the mulch about the shrubs or to the compost pile. A few scattered leaves do no harm but quantities of them are bound to pack down under rains and snow. The resulting soggy mass will kill the grass underneath.
 Nothing is accomplished in putting a cover of other material to protect the grass against the cold. So do not allow anyone to sell you a load of manure under the pretext it will both fertilize and protect the grass.
 Some fertilization is bound to result but this will be more than offset by the many dead spots which will appear next spring. Manure is more valuable as a mulch in the shrubbery and in the compost pile.
 And before forgetting it, may I advise a couple of "Keep Off the Grass" signs. Frequent walking across the lawn when it is wet or frozen will tend to pack the soil and cut off the air to the roots. The footprints may cause inch-deep depressions that will have to be filled in and reseeded.
 Inspection of the perennial and rose beds should be made and all plants heaved by frost action or loosened by wind should be firmed into the soil.
 Roses which were not killed up last autumn should have soil placed about them to a height of 8 to 10 inches. All broken rose branches should be removed and those longer than two feet should be cut back to that height.
 Good use may be made of the cut branches of evergreens. Used over roses, bulbs and perennial beds which have evergreen foliage, the boughs make a desirable light airy mulch.
QUIZZING THE GARDENER

NO ESCAPE — Lessons by video were the fate of Sharon Sue and Sammy Samson and hundreds of other Minneapolis youngsters after a janitors' strike closed the public schools. The youngsters were seen getting their geography lesson off the TV screen after their teachers volunteered to conduct the schoolroom program.

Q: Is artificial light beneficial or harmful to house plants which receive little sunshine at this season?—J. G.
A: One solution is to place the plant under electric lights every evening during the dark days of winter, or where a real sunny window is not available.
Q: Is it possible permanently to preserve the lovely colored leaves of coleus and caladium?—E.J.W.
A: No. They are much too succulent. However you might try soaking them for a couple of days in a mixture of equal parts of glycerin and water, then spread out between blotting paper and press under the weight of a couple of books.
Q: Our Christmas cactus has never bloomed. Many buds form but they soon shrivel up and

IF GARY'S AVOIDED US CAUSE WE'RE TWINS, WE OUGHT TO TRY TO LOOK DIFFERENT FROM EACH OTHER WHEN HE COMES TO OUR PARTY?

MAYBE WE COULD EACH WEAR A DIFFERENT PERFUME, JAN!

OH, FINE! I CAN JUST SEE HIM WHIFFING US TO SEE WHICH OF US HAS THE WIGNIGHT CARESS BEHIND HER BIG EARS!

OUR WORRY ISN'T PERFUME! IT'S GLOOM! YOU SHOULD NEVER HAVE INVITED THAT WITCH!

RIGHT NOW I'LL BET SHE'S PLANNING SOME WAY TO SABOTAGE OUR PARTY, JILL!

THERE? EVERYONE THOSE TWINS INVITED FOR 8:30 IS COMING TO MY DINNER DANCE AT THE CLUB AT 7:00... IF ANYONE LEAVES I'LL BE VERY SURPRISED!

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS YOUR BROTHER? I TOLD HIM TO GO TO THE STORE WITH YOU!

AND THAT'S ALL YOU TOLD HIM? YOU DIDN'T SAY ANYTHING ABOUT HIM COMING HOME WITH ME—THE LITTLE SNIP!

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY JR WILLIAMS 2-12

HMP! SAME OLD SIGHTS AN' SMELLS IN THIS WALRUS NEST! NO BAND TO MEET VA—WALK RIGHT IN, SAILOR, IF YOU GOT 'ER STRENGTH!

THAT CRACK OVER TH' MARTEL MUST'VE BEEN REPLASTERED! NOTHER NEW NOTE: THE BIG POOH-BAH SNOOZIN' WITH CIGARS IN HIS KISSER—MUST BE OKAY ON POCKET MONEY!

WELL, BRING HIM TO, AND GO LOOK AT HOW MY CHIMPANZEE IS DOIN'!

DAGWOOD I'M WORKING A CROSSWORD PUZZLE—WHAT DOES 'INDOLENT' MEAN?

INDOLENT MEANS LAZY—AN INDOLENT PERSON AVOIDS ALL EXERTION—HE'S A SLOTH OR A SLUGGARD

HE'S USELESS—IN OTHER WORDS, HE'S JUST A PLAIN OLD GOOD-FOR-NOTHING

WELL, DON'T JUST STAND THERE STARING AT ME!

Little Doc

WHY DO DEY CALL DE STREET DE COICILE?

BECAUSE THIS AREA FORMS A CIRCLE, STUPID!

Y' MEAN DE BUILDING FORM A ROUND RING?

NATURALLY, DIDJA EVER SEE A SQUARE RING?

SURE, SMARY DERES A SQUARE RING—

HAVING MADE A DEAL FOR GOOLA'S RELEASE AND THE REPAIR OF THEIR ROCKET, THE EARTH CREW TOOK OFF ON WHAT THE VENUSIANS CONTRIVED TO BE A SHORT, DISASTROUS TRIP.

OOOLA AND OSCAR OUT! COLD! SNIFF! FUMES!! COULD BE DANGEROUS!

I'LL HAVE TO GET 'EM OUTA HERE QUICK!

I DUNNO WHAT WENT WRONG—BUT I'M BETTIN' THOSE FISH-HEADED FREAKS HAD A HAND IN IT!

Vic Flint

THIS WAS RANDOLPH TRISTAN'S HOUSE, MR. FLINT, WHERE PHILIP LEGER MET HIS UNLAMENTED END.

LET'S SEE IF WE CAN GET INSIDE.

DO YOU BELIEVE THAT TRISTAN WAS GUILTY?

BUT OF COURSE! EVERYBODY DOES, DO YOU DOUBT HIS GUILT?

I DOUBT IT VERY STRONGLY, THAT'S WHY I'M HERE.

YOU ARE AN EXPERT! IF YOU HAVE DOUBTS, THAT IS ENOUGH FOR ME! REALGARDIE BOB WILL ASSIST YOU IN YOUR INVESTIGATION.

Bo

KEEP YOUR CHIN UP, SON. I KNOW IT WAS A JOLT WHEN TRIT WALKED IN ALONE.

I DID FEEL CERTAIN THAT BO WAS WITH HIM... BUT IT DOESN'T MEAN SOMETHING HAS HAPPENED TO BO.

NOW JUNIOR HAS NO FAITH IN ANYTHING I SAY... I JUST CAN'T GET HIM OUT OF THE DUMPS.

IT'S THROWN ME, TOO.

YOU NEVER WERE A WELCOME SIGHT TO ME. I'M ONLY SURPRISED IT TOOK THE FOLKS THIS LONG TO AGREE WITH ME.

ERIC IS PAYING DEARLY FOR A FOOLISH MISTAKE HE MADE SEVERAL YEARS AGO, EASY.

YOU SEE, I JOINED A RADICAL GROUP, CONVINCED THAT IT'S ALL WAS TO PROMOTE PEACE...

WHEN I FOUND IT WAS A SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION, INTENT ON SABOTAGE, I GOT OUT. LATER, IT WAS FORCED UNDERGROUND, AND THE LEADERS ESCAPED PROSECUTION BY HIDING UNDER ASSUMED NAMES!

BUT THEY WEREN'T SAFE AS LONG AS ERIC WAS ABLE TO IDENTIFY THEM, SO THEY GOT OUT TO ELIMINATE HIM!

THEY ALMOST SUCCEEDED ONCE IN THE ATTACK THAT COST ME MY SIGHT! SINCE THEN, WELL, IT'S HARDER TO BE ON ONE'S GUNNED!

MY GOODNESS! WHERE DID ALL THIS SNOW COME FROM?

FRIDUP THERE, LADY! UP THERE!

IS YOUR CAR STUCK IN? I'M PUSHING THE SNOW!

NO, LADY! THIS IS A SNOW PLOW! I'M PUSHING THE SNOW!

MY GOODNESS! WHAT DO YOU DO WITH ALL THIS SNOW?

I JUST PUSH IT AROUND TILL IT GETS LOST!

WHAT MUST THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE THINK—WHEN MY WIFE WAS THE ONLY ONE THAT DIDN'T SEND IN A VOTE?

WELL, MR. HULLIHAN WRITES THEM AND EXPLAINED WHY THE MEETING COULDN'T BE HELD!

BUT I STILL SAY THE MEETING COULDN'T BE HELD!

—INDULGED IT—SINGLE PHIL-FINNER THE FRINGE WASN'T WORKING? IT WAS ONE OF THE COLDEST NIGHTS OF THE YEAR!

I DON'T CARE IF IT WAS ONE OF THE COLDEST NIGHTS OF THE YEAR! I'D RATHER BE HERE FOR A QUICK VOTE—AND THEN LET EVERYBODY GO HOME!

HE PROBABLY IT WAS TOO IMPORTANT A MATTER—TO BE DECIDED IN A HURRY AND—

THIS IS HULLIHAN, PHIL! I JUST GOT A REPLY FROM THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE!

OH YEAH? WHAT DID THEY SAY?

OHAY, SAM, SO YOUR SON IS A GENIUS! BUT WHAT AT?

HIMM! YOU'VE RAISED AN INTERESTING QUESTION THERE, HENRY!

PI R* IS—IS— GOSH, POP, MATH JUST MANGLES ME!

AND VICE VERSA! WELL, LET'S KEEP LOOKIN'!

RICHARD WAGNER WAS SHORTSTOP—OSMOSIS DID NOT RULE ANCIENT BABYLON! AND SIR ISAAC NEWTON IS NOT THE INVENTOR OF THE APPLE! DON'T YOU KNOW ANYTHING, LARD?

SURE, POP! I'M REALLY TERRIFIED WITH A 'YO-YO'!

Red Ryder

SO IT WAS MR. HOOKER'S SON WHO HAS BEEN CAUSING ALL OUR TROUBLE?

YES, MR. MASON! EVIDENTLY HE WANTS TO STOP OUR SOUL CONSERVATION EFFORTS AND RUIN YOUR CROPS—BUT HE'S IN JAIL NOW!

HOM! RED RYDER! BRING A GUN! OUR TREES ARE BEING CUT DOWN!

OH, MY? WHAT NEXT?

"George keeps a soap retriever now!"

FROM NINE TO FIVE
By Jo Fischer

There's just a little bit of that letter I didn't get, Mr. Wump—the part between "Dear Sir" and "Yours Truly".

Texas Golf Field
Numbers Around 275
SAN ANTONIO - (AP) - A field expected to number around 275...

he looked at her frankly, not offensively, just with candor. He had brown hair, light with an interesting premature silver around the hairline...

Angus Kent was watching her. She laughed with some embarrassment, and to cover her confusion she said, "I had a stuffed lamb when I was a little girl. I called him Angus!"

She was half-way down the open stretch when she caught the movement in the shrubbery fringing the driveway to the Grenable house.

The siren had stopped now. Half crossey she wished her father had been at his office when she went to pick him up. It wasn't Lisa Farwell to break an appointment or evade an issue. But she wished he was with her, whatever the cause for his absence might be.

She stepped up the car slightly and was almost to the turn when the man stepped out in the middle of the road.

"Oh! It wasn't much of a scream, but it betrayed her fright. She stopped the car and the man laughed.

"I'm sorry!" he offered. "I didn't plan to scare you. I forgot you couldn't see me, too. I'm lost! Can you tell me the way to Ellsworth's place? They live around here, don't they? I'm Angus Kent!"

HE walked over to the car and put out his hand, smiling a slow, reassuring smile. She accepted both his hand and his smile and offered her own hand shyly. And the tremor within her was not entirely due to fright.

"Yes," she said, "I know the place. They live down the road from us. I'm Lisa Farwell."

"That fits you," he nodded, and
