Agreement Signed On Cease-Fire Line

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Truce negotiators signed an agreement on a Korean cease-fire line today—and immediately came up with widely different ideas on how to put a cease-fire into effect.

United Nations delegates presented a seven-point plan for supervising an armistice. It included provisions for joint Allied-Red inspection teams with "free access to all parts of Korea."

The Communists did not mention either inspection teams or supervision behind enemy lines in a five-point plan they submitted. They have consistently refused to let outsiders enter Red Korea.

"The session was short and sweet," said Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate.

NOT BROAD ENOUGH
"We started the ball rolling by telling the Communists their proposal wasn't broad enough on the general principles (for supervision). Then we gave them an idea of what we wanted."

The Communists asked for an adjournment until 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. Tuesday, EST) to study the UN plan.

Fighting quieted along the frozen, 145-mile front as the full five-man truce teams met for the first time since Oct. 25. But the air war flared with two deadly jet battles. Allied air forces reported one U. S. Shooting Star and four Red jets were shot down, and two Red planes damaged.

SERIES OF AGREEMENTS
The day's truce conference, set in a Christmas-like landscape in the snow of Panmunjon, opened with a series of agreements on a provisional cease-fire line—first by the staff officers who drew the line on a 14-foot map, then by subcommittees which had argued over a buffer zone for more than three months, and finally by the full truce delegations.

The truce teams also OK'd a buffer zone agreement, making the line the cease-fire line if a full agreement is signed within 30 days.

The agreement does not halt the fighting. Agreement first must be reached on three other clauses—supervision of the armistice, exchange of prisoners and recommendations to governments.

Each can be as troublesome as

One-Time Axe Man Arrested

LONDON (AP) — Moscow-trained Rudolf Slansky, one-time hatchet man of Czechoslovak Communism, has been fired as vice premier and arrested for "activities against the state," the Prague radio announced today.

The arrest was ordered by Communist President Klement Gottwald at the suggestion of premier Antonin Zapotocky, the announcement said, because "investigations into activities of subversive groups" brought out facts that convict Slansky.

Slansky was removed from his job as secretary-general of the Czechoslovak Communist party last September in a move tied by western observers to Moscow orders to the Czech Communists to lighten their ranks against "Trotskyism."

The announcement at that time said Slansky would get another important state post, but did not say what the post was to be.

The Czech government shake-up was believed to have been linked with growing unrest in Czechoslovakia among Communist demands of the ruling Communists for greater production to feed the Soviet war machine. The demands on Czech economy created critical shortages and passive resistance among some of the workers.

Use Of Marijuana In High School Probed

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — About 20 high school students are scheduled to appear before a special grand jury session today for questioning in the use of marijuana among Wichita Falls high school students.

Meanwhile District Attorney Alan B. Haley said last night that preliminary investigations at Reagan Junior High school indicated seven to 10 students may be involved in the use of marijuana.

Principal Dudley Gordon of Zundelwitz, the city's other junior high school, said he knew "of no evidence that there is any existence of a marijuana ring in Zundelwitz."

Three Texas Rangers are here investigating the sale and use of marijuana at the high school. Thirteen persons, including four high school students, were arrested following raids last week.

Haley said he began checking Reagan Junior High school after he received a telephone call Friday night from the mother of a student at the school.

Rogers Predicts Ike Will Be Demo Choice

Rep. Walter Rogers this week predicted Gen. Eisenhower would be the Democratic choice for the presidency in 1952 with a strong possibility of being faced by Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio.

In his weekly newsletter, Rogers said: "Senator Taft has a definite inside track for the Republican nomination, and let no one be fooled by this. If he can keep his present lead until the time of the convention, his nomination is almost assured. Don't be surprised if Ike Eisenhower turns up as the Democratic nominee."

Rogers gave no hint in his newsletter as to why he believed Eisenhower would turn up as the Democratic standard bearer.

"The general at present is being heavily boomed for the GOP choice by Sen. James Duff, junior senator from the Keystone State who is being backed in his Eisenhower campaign by other leading Republicans, including J. Jack Porter, Houston oil operator."

Washington has been rife with rumors over whether the general will head the Demo ticket next November since his highly speculative conversation with the President during his short stay in Washington three weeks ago.

The mania for Confederate flags now sweeping the north-eastern states apparently found little favor with Pampa's congressman.

OBJECTIONS
In making his objections to the flag Rogers said:

"The Confederate flag is a symbol of a great people and a great cause and it is deplorable that it should be used for commercial purposes. I have even received a Christmas card with the imprint of the Confederate flag upon it and a most touching letter telling me why I should pay an outrageous price for these cards. Frankly such practices should be condemned by true Southerners as we have been exploited enough without having our flag dragged through the dirt by a bunch of money seekers."

More Contribute To Decoration Fund
Fifteen additional contributions to the Pampa fund for 1951 Christmas decorations have brought the total to $3330.50. It was announced by the local chamber of commerce yesterday. Goal is $5000.

Individuals and firms not previously reported as contributors include: Hillson hotel, Van's Barber shop, M. E. Moses, Addison's Western store, The Borden Co., A. B. Carruth, Chennie Torpedo Co., City Shoe shop, E. J. Dunigan, Jr.

Gate Valve shop, H. H. Heskell, Modern Beauty shop, Des Moore Tin shop, Radcliff Supply Co. and Standard Pipe and Metal Co.

CONVENTION
Texas oilmen and schoolmen contend the undersea lands are the property of Texas and should be retained by the state. Since this would be public lands, revenue derived from operations by oil companies would be directed for use by Texas public schools.

The Gray - Robert unit, which meets three times a year, is headed by Paul Kennedy, principal of McLean High school with Jack Edmondson, principal Pampa High school, vice-president and A. H. Gordon, superintendent of Miami schools, secretary and treasurer.

Delegates To Make Reports On Teachers Assn. Conclave
Delegates to the week-end convention of the Texas State Teachers Assn. will report to about 150 Gray and Roberts counties teachers superintendents, principals and school board members when they meet in Lefors Thursday.

The three, Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa schools, Otto Mangold, Pampa teacher, and R. C. Wilson, Lefors school superintendent, will report on the TSTA's stand against federal seizure of the Texas tidelands and its criticism of the National Education Assn., which backed the federal move.

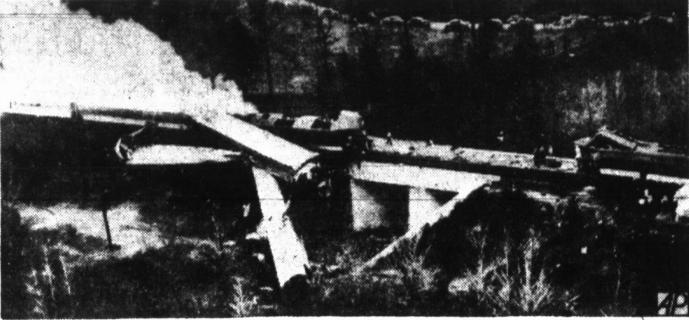

The meeting of the Gray-Roberts unit of the TSTA is held in Lefors High school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Refreshments are to be served following the meeting.

A resolution was made at the convention to withdraw from the NEA. This move was a quashed, however, and a resolution was framed by the House of Delegates criticizing the national organization for its "unjustified, unethical and ill-advantaged" action in opposing state ownership of the tidelands.

"The thought prevailed at the convention," said Kinard, "that TSTA should continue its membership in the NEA, but not condone its wrong-doings."

"We will be in a better position to correct the stand of an organization of which we are members," he said.

The NEA wanted federal own-

More Than 285 Explorer Scouts Expected At Clinic In Borger

More than 285 Explorer Scouts are expected to attend the Explorer Scout Guidance clinic at Frank Phillips College in Borger Wednesday, according to Paul Beisenherz, Adobe Walls Scout council executive.

According to J. W. Dillard, dean of the college, this is the second such clinic ever to be held in the United States.

In addition to Explorer Scouts in Pampa, others will come from Guyton, Hooker and Hanford plants, Okla., and from Dallas, Memphis, B. U. A. Vista, Morris, Phillips, Perryton, Esteline, Clarendon, Stunnet, Spearman, Lelia Lake, Gruver, Borger, Kellerville, Hopkins and McLean.

At 9:15 a. m. the group will gather in the college auditorium for the opening program. Beisenherz and Curtis Lee, of the college, will lead group singing.

Introductions of special guests will be made by Elmer Kilpatrick of Pampa, Dallas, Jack Mumford, Dallas, FBI agent, will be present at the seminar and will address the group. Dean Dillard will give the speech of welcome and introduce members of the seminar group.

Frank Phillips college choir will sing under direction of Mrs. Loma Harrison, head of the college music department.

The meeting will be adjourned to 10 different seminars. Seminar leaders and their subjects are: H. E. Darnell, Borger, education; Rev. Dick Clayborn, Borger, ministry; Wayne Lanham, Borger, graphic arts; Lester Flesner, Borger and John Neilson, Borger, agriculture; Dave King, Borger, auto mechanics; Sheriff Hugh Anderson, Borger, engineering; John Schofield, Pampa, building trades; Dr. Hugh Pennell, Borger, medicine; Jack Roberts, Borger, radio.

A film on mountain climbing will open the afternoon session. The boys will tour four industrial plants in the Borger area, and other places of interest in the community. The College Student Governing Assn. will act as hosts for the group. The commercial department will register the boys.

Hearing Held On Paving Ordinance
No objections were voiced this morning when city commissioners conducted a public hearing on a recently-passed paving ordinance.

The ordinance authorizes the paving of 42 city blocks if property owners involved will pay their share of the cost. Only three citizens were present for the hearing.

Commissioners discussed the sale of $575,000 in bonds which will be sold Dec. 11. The commission decided prospective bidders shall be required to put up a two percent performance bond.

Other business before the body included approval of the tax roll.

Speeded Up Army In Europe Talked

ROME (AP) — The United States and Belgium introduced separate resolutions to the North Atlantic council today designed to speed up establishment of a European army.

Both resolutions were quickly referred to the NATO deputies, who will try to combine them into one plan to put before the council tomorrow.

The council chairman, External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, said he thought the "margin between the two plans was not very great."

He described the plans as an effort to give a "push forward" to the move for the European army and for bringing in countries other than those belonging to the North Atlantic Treaty organization, presumably a reference to West Germany.

Other developments today at the NATO meeting included:

1. A private breakfast at which Gen. Eisenhower entertained British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Eisenhower appealed for British agreement to the appointment of an American naval commander for the North Atlantic and adoption of 30 caliber ammunition as the standard for the Atlantic Armies' small arms.

2. A meeting of the Big Three foreign and defense ministers to discuss the proposed Middle East command. A qualified informant said they made some progress but nothing concrete emerged from the meeting.

3. A report to the council on the military might of Russia and her satellites in which, among other things, it was said the Soviet Union is speeding her MIG-15 jet fighter — of Korean fighting fame — to the Air Forces of her partners.

The report was compiled by Lt. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme headquarters (SHAPE) in Paris.

Gruenther's report was put before the council side by side with Eisenhower's estimate of the forces he needs to partially counterbalance the power of Russia and her followers.

Informed sources say SHAPE believes Russia would have about 175 first line divisions available at the beginning of a war, with probable expansion to 200 to 300 divisions. A Russian division, however, is only about half the size of a U. S. division.

Gruenther reported that the Russian MIG jets — already well proven in Korean air battles — are speedily replacing piston-engine planes in satellite air forces.

The MIGs are powered with an engine adapted from the British Rolls Royce, some of which were sold to the Soviet Union in 1948.

The meeting will be adjourned to 10 different seminars. Seminar leaders and their subjects are: H. E. Darnell, Borger, education; Rev. Dick Clayborn, Borger, ministry; Wayne Lanham, Borger, graphic arts; Lester Flesner, Borger and John Neilson, Borger, agriculture; Dave King, Borger, auto mechanics; Sheriff Hugh Anderson, Borger, engineering; John Schofield, Pampa, building trades; Dr. Hugh Pennell, Borger, medicine; Jack Roberts, Borger, radio.

County Bond Sales Total $113,061.25 Chairman Reports
Gray county's sales totaled $113,061.25 during the first U. S. Defense bond drive. Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman, informed C. P. Buckler, local county chairman. The drive was held from Sept. 3 through Nov. 13.

Final sales figures showed that Series E bonds accounted for $73,361.25 and Series F and G for $39,700 of this county's total. Sales of $27,718,453.25 in Texas during the drive were almost 50 percent more than normal, Mr. Adams said.

Normally sales for this period would have been about $18,000,000 or $19,000,000, he said.

The sales total for the state included $22,459,665.25 in Series E bonds and $5,318,788 in Series F and G. There were no state or county quotas, the goal being the "largest possible" volume of sales.

Accident Victim's Condition Is Said "Satisfactory"
The condition of Mrs. C. M. Heflin, 215 N. Gillespie, this morning was reported as "satisfactory" by Worley hospital authorities.

Mrs. Heflin was injured last night when she was hit by a car at the intersection of Cloyler and Francis. Hospital authorities said she suffered a broken collar bone and bruises.

Police today said reports on the accident are not complete. The woman apparently was about five steps from the curb near a grocery store, officers said, when hit. Driver of the car was William C. Gibby, 400 N. Starkweather.

City May Get North-South Airline Service
Pampa is in line for a second airline service, according to a report received today by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce from Pioneer Airlines.

Pioneer said it had been granted a hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Authority regarding Docket 2240, which would provide air service to Pampa and include points south through Vernon, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Dallas.

Also to be serviced by the new line would be Amarillo and Borger with Amarillo serving as the northern terminal and Fort Worth and Dallas the southern terminals. The line would be extended from the southern terminal to points further south in the state.

According to O. E. Wedgeworth, manager of the local chamber, the chamber of commerce is filing an application with the CAA in behalf of Pioneer's application. Hearing has been tentatively set for Feb. 1 in Dallas. At that time, oral testimony will be presented before a CAA examiner substantiating written briefs already presented.

City and chamber officials will appear with Pioneer before the examiner.

CHANGES GOOD
Should the line be granted, Pampa will then be serviced with air transportation between east and west points and also north and south. Central Airlines now runs an east-west line between Pampa and Tulsa and Bartlesville, Okla.

"We feel that the chances are pretty good that the service will be granted," Wedgeworth said today.

SEoul, Korea — (AP) — Four Communist MIG-15 jets and a U. S. F-80 Shooting Star were shot down in two battles today in a fierce flare-up of the air war over North-western Korea.

Two MIGs were damaged in Tuesday's double-barreled action. The figures were reported by the U. S. Fifth Air Force.

Ground fighting slowed almost to a standstill as truce negotiators agreed on a provisional cease-fire line across the Korean Peninsula and plunged into work on the next item on the armistice agenda — supervision of a truce.

The provisional line will become the cease-fire mark if negotiators agree in 30 days—by Dec. 27 — on terms of a full armistice.

Sides are free to keep up the ground, air and sea fighting during the 30-day period.

It was considered a certainty that air and sea warfare would go on unabated. A lull was expected in ground action on the theory it would be wasteful of men and materials to take new ground and have to give it up almost immediately in the event of an armistice.

The American Shooting Star was knocked down in the first battle Tuesday — a skirmish between 18 MIGs and about 12 of the slower Shooting Stars. Fifth Air Force said the pilot was killed. One MIG was damaged in that battle.

The four MIG kills came in the day's second fight, a clash between 19 U. S. Sabre Jets and 18 MIGs. One MIG was damaged.

It was one of the rare battles in which the American jets met the Reds on even or better terms.

Fifth Air force said all Sabres returned safely.

The battle raged nearly 20 minutes from 35,000 feet to ground level. It swung across MIG Alley from side to side.

New ESA Head To Take Over December 1
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's new economic stabilizer is an industrialist and a noted amateur astronomer.

Roger Lowell Putnam, named to the job yesterday by President Truman, is also a former three-time mayor of Springfield, Mass. and nephew of the late president of Harvard university A. Lawrence Lowell.

Putnam was chosen to succeed Eric Johnston, who resigned effective Nov. 30, to return to his job as president of the Motion Picture Assn. He will assume office Dec. 1, as a recess appointee when it convenes in January. The job pays $17,500 a year.

Putnam said he thought "condolences rather than congratulations" might be in order about his new job. It makes him chief arbiter of prices and wages.

Putnam is 58 years old. He was the first man in Springfield's history to serve three terms as mayor. He left office in 1943 to enter the Navy. The Parkside Machinery Co. of Springfield, of which Putnam is president, used the five-day week and employ profit sharing plans as early as 1930. The Lowell family has for generations been prominent in New England industry particularly textiles.

He told a reporter in Springfield last night he hoped he could take on his "tough assignment" with a smile of a man like Mike DiSalle, "round and jovial price administrator. DiSalle will be Putnam's right-hand man, and Putnam, as economic stabilizer, will be next down the line" from Economic Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

School Board Okays Move To Provide Recreation Center

The Pampa Board of Education last night decided to consult the board's attorney to start procedure in providing a recreational center for Negroes in the old Carver school property.

The action came after a three-man delegation submitted a petition to the board for use of the property. The group consisted of W. E. Moore, Elijah L. Lightfoot and Bruce Brooks.

Members of the board said the property probably will be leased for a small yearly fee to the Council of Clubs which will turn over all responsibility to the committee in charge of the recreation center.

The main building on the property will be used as the center. Veterans who have been using the facilities for schooling purposes will be allowed to continue classes in the library building.

Five men were fined a total of $166 in justice court yesterday.

Taft Plans Campaign Based On Doorbell Ringing Tactics

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) says if he gets the 1952 Republican Presidential nomination he will try to duplicate a "doorbell ringing" campaign in which he won re-election in Ohio last year.

Taft, an avowed candidate for the GOP nomination, told reporters today he thinks a party standard bearer should make personal contact with as many people as possible in a campaign.

"Of course, you can't actually put on a doorbell ringing campaign yourself, but I would urge that every state do what we did in Ohio in 1950 — organize from the precinct on up," he said.

The same sort of organization was called for on the part of the Democrats by their national chairman, Frank E. McKinney, in a New York speech last night.

McKinney criticized Taft's stand on foreign policy issues. He said the Ohioan had joined with Senators Wherry (R-Neb.) and McCarty (R-Wis.) and House GOP Leader Joe Martin (Mass.) in "the partisan babble" McKinney said often drowned out the voices of Republicans who wanted to cooperate with the administration on foreign policy.

McKinney said President Truman "is ready to help" the Democrats clean out the "termites" the national chairman said have turned up among administration office holders.

his bid for the Republican nomination from Senator Capehart (R-Ind).

"The best interests of the United States and the world would be served in nominating Taft and MacArthur — MacArthur and Taft, take your choice," Capehart told reporters. "Their election would safeguard the U.S. government for the next four years."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, mentioned by Capehart, has said he isn't running for any political office.

Taft told reporters he has discussed foreign policy matters with Norman Armour, former ambassador to Venezuela and former assistant secretary of state. He said Armour could be considered one of his advisers.

Eastern Financier Forced To Eat His Words On West's Development

HOUSTON — (AP) — Something over a half century ago one of the nation's top financial and industrial tycoons boasted that he would "drink all the oil found west of the Mississippi river."

He didn't drink that oil but he had to eat his words. It was only a short time later that Spindletop came in; then rich fields were found in the mid-continent, the Rocky mountains and California.

They're still coming in. Recent discoveries have boosted the known — absolutely measurable — reserves to a new record of over 30,000,000,000 barrels of oil.

And 98 percent of all those known reserves lie west of the Mississippi.

When discoveries of the last two or three years have been fully developed known reserves will be even greater in this area.

California, the second largest oil producing state in the nation, has been among the leaders for half a century.

Until 1948, however, there had been no important new discovery for more than a decade.

The Richfield Oil Corp. brought in its first big producer on Russell ranch in the Cuyama Valley basin. It first blew 4000 barrels of 33 gravity oil daily, and settled down to a regular production of 600 barrels.

Today there are five fields in the valley with 393 producing wells and production runs better than 60,000 barrels daily.

With its half-billion barrels estimated reserves, it already accounts for 15 percent of the state's total known reserves. And it the nation," and one of the most promising.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. established the basin last April with its 200-barrel-a-day discovery in the Mississippi at 11,600 feet, later plugged back to 8400 feet for best production.

Shell Oil Co. was reported to have struck pay in its No. 1 Northern Pacific railroad, in the western end of the basin in Montana between V183 and 8282 feet last July.

Unofficial reports were that it produced at the rate of about 1000 barrels daily of high gravity oil.

This month the Texas Co. was reported to have made a good oiler in the Montana end of the basin at 8850 to 8930 feet.

Other Shell tests are reported to have found oil. Continental Oil Co., with leases on nearly 1,000,000 acres in the basin; Stanolind Oil and Gas Co., and others are in the play for this potentially rich area.

One thing which interests oil people is the enormous thickness of marine deposits considered possible pay zones. In North Dakota about 14,000 feet of sediment have been deposited in the deepest part of the sedimentary basin, and at least 10,000 feet of the rocks are considered to contain potential oil-bearing strata.

Pay is from two horizons of the Devonian rocks, and one from the younger Mississippian. Definite information of potentiality is meager since but seven wells have been completed, with some 27 now drilling.

Half-way down the U.S. map is another new hot spot known as the Anadarko basin. It lies north of the Amarillo uplift which runs a little north of west from the Wichita mountains of southwestern Oklahoma to just north of Amarillo. It covers a good part of western Oklahoma, part of the Texas Panhandle and a smaller area of southern Kansas.

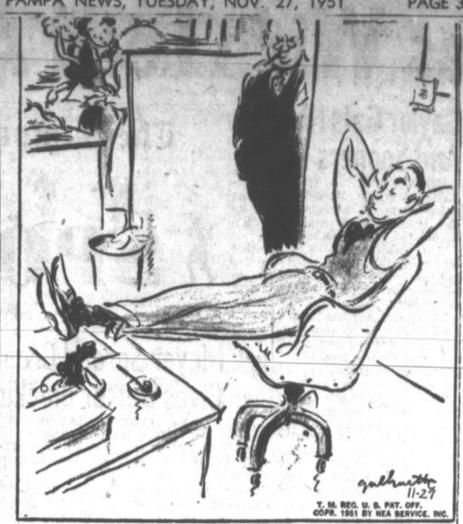

It is estimated to contain about 89,000 cubic miles of sediment of which 28,000 cubic miles are marine in origin. Approximately 6000 cubic miles of sediments are below 20,000 feet deep. The sedimentary rocks are mainly Paleozoic and range from Cambrian to Permian.

The Pennsylvania appears the most promising and producing wells go down as much as 15,000 feet to pay.

WOUNDED CARRIED OUT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Twelve Army helicopters in Korea carried 4,500 wounded from the battle lines between January and November of this year.

This was reported at a Pentagon news briefing by First Lieut. Joseph L. Bowler, an Army aviator who holds the record for having flown out more wounded than any other helicopter pilot in Korea. He brought out 806 men in 487 missions.

Harvesters Fifth In News

DALLAS — (AP) — Lubbock took over the No. 1 spot in the final Dallas News statewide poll of sports writers on the outcome of Class AAAA schoolboy football.

Lamar of Houston was in the follow-up position.

The only changes from last week's ratings were in the last three positions of the top ten. Arlington Heights, Fort Worth's champion, moved up one notch to eighth place. Waco dropped into ninth, and Woodrow Wilson of Dallas was No. 10.

Austin and Wichita Falls, tied last week for tenth, dropped from the list.

The final rankings:

1. Lubbock
2. Lamar
3. Ray (Corpus Christi)
4. Baytown
5. Pampa
6. Port Arthur
7. Odessa
8. Arlington Heights
9. Waco
10. Woodrow Wilson.

Pairings Set For Service Team Bouts

Pairings are still being completed for the second service team matches of the year at Amarillo. They will be held tomorrow night in Hangar No. 600 at the Amarillo Air Force base.

Matched will be the service teams of Amarillo AFB and A. S. Sheppard AFB of Wichita Falls. Also included on the card will be several club fighters of Amarillo.

The card, which will start at 8 o'clock, will see about 16 three-rounders. Among those on the card will be Pampa's Eugene Cooper, state 160-pound title holder, who will meet Johnny Burton, SAFB Negro.

Pete Perez, Amarillo chopper, will face Bob Hancock of SAFF, and Pete Huzar, who soundly defeated Amarillo's Pat McCarthy last week, will meet another Amarilloan, Candi Lopez.

On the card will be several other colored fighters, including a rematch of the Connie Wilson-Eddie James fight which so thrilled the crowd last week.

Reapers Prep For Cage Season

The Pampa Junior High School Reapers, trying to pick up where their footballing brothers left off, have been working out daily in preparation for an opening game that hasn't been scheduled yet.

"I don't know when they'll be ready," Coach Pernal Scoggin said yesterday, "so we haven't scheduled any games other than district tilts so far."

Having trimmed his squad down to workable size, Scoggin had 20 basketballers working out yesterday while three more were missing. The three missing were footballers, all checking grid injuries. They were Harold Lewis, out with a back ailment; and Garry Griffin and Kenneth Hinkle, both nursing lame legs.

Those working out were E. J. McIlvain, Benny Cartwright, Buster Carter, Buddy Sharp, Glenn Gilmore, Jerry McNaughton, John Dial, Melvin Romaine, Bill Culpepper, Dickie Mauldin, Bobby Dehls, Gene Brown, Ronald Woods, Ronnie James, Larry McWilliams, Sam Condo, Danny Johnson, Carroll Clemens, Robert Narron, and David Gist.

Manager of the Reapers is Raul Ramirez.

One Game Left In Lone Star

(By the Associated Press)

Only one game remains for the Gulf Coast conference to wind up its business for the season.

North Texas State, the conference champion, plays University of Houston of the Missouri Valley conference at Denton Friday.

North Texas state week lost to University of Chattanooga 22-20, and that didn't get a bowl bid.

Midwestern and Trinity played to a 19-19 tie and wound up in a tie for second place in the conference race. There are only three teams in the league.

Baylor Gets Ninth And Sooners Tenth

NEW YORK — (AP) — Tennessee's Sugar Bowl-bound Vols enjoy a sweet margin today as the nation's top team in the Associated Press football poll.

The undefeated and untied terror of the south piled up the largest vote of the season to retain their billing as the best in the land.

Tennessee amassed 1,508 points and drew 92 first-place ballots out of 168 from the sports writers and broadcasters to easily out-distance runnerup Michigan State.

The Spartans, boasting the same record as Tennessee, 9-0, collected 34 first-place votes and 1,379 points. Maryland, Tennessee's foe on New Year's day, came home third with 18 firsts and 1,257 points. Illinois, the Big Ten's Rose bowl representative, edged from sixth to fourth place with 1,030 points.

Trailing the big four were: Princeton, unbeaten Ivy League champion, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Stanford, Baylor and Oklahoma.

Tennessee commanded its impressive margin by smashing Kentucky 28-0 Saturday. Michigan State ended its season with a 45-7 triumph against Colorado. Maryland also closed out its season by romping to a 54-7 victory over West Virginia. Illinois squeaked by Northwestern, 3-0.

Stanford, Illinois' Rose bowl opponents, dropped from third to eighth as a result of their 20-7 loss to California. Oklahoma replaced Kentucky in the Big Ten, grabbing tenth place. The Wildcats plunged from ninth to 17th place.

Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Baylor and Oklahoma have regular season games remaining. The Vols, seeking their 20th straight win, take on Vanderbilt Saturday. Unbeaten but oncedited Georgia Tech takes on Georgia; Baylor, striving for the Southwestern Bowl berth, clashes with Rice and Oklahoma tangles with Oklahoma A&M.

1. Tennessee (9-0) 1,508
2. Mich. State (9-0) 1,379
3. Maryland (8-0) 1,257
4. Illinois (4) (8-0-1) 1,030
5. Princeton (4) (8-0) 875
6. Georgia Tech (1) (9-0-1) 727
7. Wisconsin (5) (7-1-1) 529
8. Stanford (1) (9-1) 463
9. Baylor (7-1-1) 406
10. Oklahoma (2) (7-2) 206

Spearman Gets Home Gridiron

PANHANDLE — School officials of Spearman and Happy met here Monday with Spearman gaining the site of the regional playoff between the two bi-district champs. The two had met before in 1947, at Happy, and according to Interscholastic League rules, Spearman was entitled to the game.

The game will be played at 2 p.m. Friday in the Spearman High school stadium.

Spearman advanced to the regional game by defeating Lakeview at Harvester Park in Pampa last weekend while Happy downed Whitharral, 44-7. Happy is the defending regional champion, having downed Canadian

Meyer Spread Creates Hole, Gives Better Blocking Angles

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The spread is not new in football, of course.

Baylor, for example, used one in the 1920s, where the Meyer Spread is now snowballing.

Leo Robert Meyer's version is a fresh slab, or series of them, however, and Texas Christian's veteran coach has been working with it off and on for more than five years.

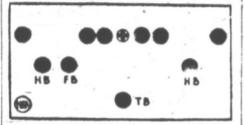

Southern California's Jesse Hill called the Meyer Spread the most formidable offense he had ever seen.

Run right, it's really something different.

Naturally, the main idea is to spread the defense wide and to make more potent holes.

"And to give our next better blocking angles," says Dutch Meyer. "If run correctly, almost every one of our blockers has the angle on his man, either in or out, on each play."

"Another tremendous factor is that the spread permits us to get pass receivers down field quickly — at least four, five on some plays."

Left

"Your pass threat is always terrific, and if you can run just a little, it makes a fine attack."

"The spread is a great passing formation, but can be stopped if that's the only threat."

Baylor's Bill For instance, made the mistake of suspecting that TCU's air arm was by far its strongest weapon.

FOUR VARIATIONS

Meyer stuck with his double wings and spreads right along. The guy who developed Sammy Baugh, Davey O'Bright, and now Danny McKown, can't get away from the pitching game.

He always uses it as an integral part of his offense, not just a threat when Fort Worth is behind or has to go for distance.

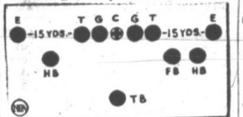

The spectacular Horned Frogs throw from anywhere at any time.

But Meyer has been around long enough to know that passing won't work consistently unless it is complemented by a savage ground attack.

There are four variations of the Meyer Spread, in which the ends are 15 yards from the tackles.

Actually, the variations are made by moving only one man, the fullback, either right or left wide, or in close behind either guard.

Seasoned observers on the Pacific coast just couldn't believe a spread would go against Southern California, but when the Froggies made 436 yards from scrimmage, they were convinced.

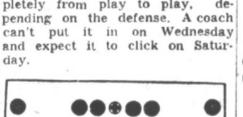

Right

It also enabled Quarterback McKown to set an individual record for passing against Troy, with 17 of 25 for 270. The sophomore's 340 total offense yards were the most ever recorded by one athlete against the Trojans.

MAIN OFFENSIVE

Meyer warns other coaches that the Spread must be employed as the main offensive system, not just an adjunct to the T, or something else, as some are trying to use it.

He also admonishes them that the Spread takes a long time to get everything perfected, as blocking assignments change completely from play to play, depending on the defense. A coach can't put it in on Wednesday and expect it to click on Saturday.

Fullback in

The Meyer Spread is so simple that it fools smart people, but everything else in modern football, there's vastly more to it than the little X's and O's coaches use in skull sessions.

The Daily Double combination of 5-8 won on the same night two years in succession at Scarboro, Down, Maine.

Otto Graham, star quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, was a flyer in the Navy during World War II.

RICE STOPS MCKOWN PASS — Billy Burkhalter (12), Rice back, intercepted a Ray McKown pass on his own goal line in second period of game with Texas Christian at Fort Worth, Tex., and ran it out to the seven-yard line. John Medaniel, TCU back, tackle Burkhalter as back Jack Ray assists. Rice player is Gene Silver, (22). TCU won 23-6. (AP Wirephoto)

Off-Beaten SMU Holds Key To Southwest Football Crown

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Texas Christian played for the perfect condition and SMU badly battered. But Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian says it will be a tough one anyway.

SMU hasn't won over TCU in four years.

Coach H. N. Russell of Southern Methodist says his team won't do it this time either and he predicts that TCU will win by two touchdowns. "They're leading the league, we're almost on the bottom and have a half-dozen of our best men unable to play, so what can you expect?" Russell asked.

IT'S HAPPENED BEFORE

Even in 1938, when TCU was undefeated and untied and was named national champion, the Southern Methodist game was a important. TCU had to win it to take the conference title.

In 1947, when a Southern Methodist had an undefeated season, the Methodists had to tie TCU to win the conference championship. SMU did.

And so the teams come up in the last game of the season with Texas Christian having to win to take the conference championship. It finds TCU in

Bad Weather, Injuries Slow SWC Drills In Final Week

By the Associated Press

Drizzling rain and long injury lists kept Southwest conference teams from preparing for this week's games.

All but Arkansas know there are still chances of upsets. Arkansas finished the season last week.

Texas and Texas A&M stage their annual battle at College Station Thursday.

The Texas Longhorns worked outdoors in drizzling rain yesterday — mostly a loosening of drill emphasizing running and passing. The Longhorns were in good physical shape. Halback Red Mayes is expected to be ready to go for the first time since the Arkansas game.

Coach Ray George said all Texas Aggies were expected to be ready for Texas. They worked yesterday in a cold drizzle on Texas plays thrown at them by B-teamers.

Rice players limbered up in a brief workout and heard scouting reports on Baylor, their foe next Saturday. The Owls came out in pretty good condition. The only injury casualty was substitute end Blois Bridges.

PARMA OUP

Rice Coach Jess Teely announced heavy practice for today.

Baylor fullback Dick Parma received a broken collar bone last Saturday and won't play against Rice. It is the first time this season a starting member of the Baylor backfield has missed a game because of an injury. Also on the Baylor injury list are Stanley Williams, Luke Welch, Ken Casner, and Francis Davidson.

The TCU Frogs romped through a light drill in the rain. Earlier they watched movies of last year's day's tilt with Rice.

Head Coach Dutch said the rough work would start today. Two more SMU Mustangs may miss Saturday's game with TCU. End Bob Hooks is definitely out with a fractured cheek bone. I. D. Russell, linebacker who returned after a long layoff because of an injury, also may miss the Texas Christian defeat in action. He got a neck injury against Baylor.

Expect 5000 For Regional Playoff; Gridders Injured

Longhorns, Aggies Set For Thursday

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Texas and Texas A&M, the deepest football rivals of Southwestern history, battle for the fifty-eighth time here Thursday.

All the color and fierce gridiron combat of this storied game will be there despite the fact that A&M is winding up a dismal season and Texas has only a dim hope of the Southwest Conference championship.

There is nothing that can detract from the glamor and interest of this ancient rivalry. Always there are more fans wanting to see the game than there are tickets.

It is THE game of this or any other season.

The fires of victory will flame strong this week in Aggieland. Even though A&M has fallen low it does have a team that could win this one and occasion no surprise.

It has been 12 long years since the Aggie banner was boosted up to signify victory over this bitter rival. The year 1939 was the last time for joy in Aggieland. Three coaches have been here and two have gone since then.

The third Ray George — will be sending his team against Texas for the first time.

A victory over the Longhorns would save a lot of feelings, take away much of the bitterness of one of the most disappointing seasons in A&M history. Texas, on the basis of a much better record, will be the favorite. Boasting an iron-bound defense and much better offensively than anyone had expected, the Longhorns are confident of turning back Aggie hopes for one more year.

In the 57 games that have been played in this series that began back in 1894, Texas captured 37, the Aggies 15 and there have been five ties.

Kyle Field will be jammed to the rafters. They can handle only about 40,000. They'll be there expecting a wide-open

SHAMROCK — (Special)

Three of the top Irish players are injured as the Shamrocks approach the vital regional playoff with Childress here Friday.

Dwayne Hager, 210-pound ace tackle, suffered a foot injury in the Tulsa bi-district and was taken from the game in the early stages, but later played in the second half. He will be handicapped and coaches said they did not know how much he could play against the Bobcats.

Billy York, probably the top center in the region, has a sore left arm as a result of his sensational defensive work in the Tulsa conflict, but will be in there trying to do the same this week. York has played all but 15 minutes of 12 1950 games and 11 1951 combats. He is virtually irreplaceable.

Jimmy Pennington, who racked up 116 yards with hard slaps and tough sweeps in the Hornet struggle, suffered rib injuries as he lashed into Hornets and may be handicapped. Jimmy led all the Irish backs in yardage against Tulsa, Don Carlton coming in second with 108.

Other Irish while suffering minor disorders, are expected to be in fair shape for the playoff. Childress also got hurt in downing Quannah. Jerry Jeffries, 190-pound tailback, was helped from the field with a shoulder injury and a second string end others are ailing.

Shamrock is planning for a crowd of 5,000 at the regional playoff game with the Childress Bobcats here Friday afternoon, reports Supt. Elmer J. Moore.

Other Irish while suffering minor disorders, are expected to be sold out at both Shamrock and Childress by mid-week and then the one which sold out first will get those remaining at the other city.

Bleachers are being moved in to add to the present capacity of approximately 3,000.

Childress is only 54 miles away, compared to about 140 for the Tulsa Hornets, who lost a bi-district game here, 27-7, Thanksgiving day. Childress beat Quannah 19-7, Turkey day to advance into the regional with the Irish.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS — (AP) — Best indications are that spring training in college football will be banned but that it will be limited.

Some schools — not in the Southwest, however — practice football half the year. There is no set period for spring training.

There's one thing to it: If spring football is banned in the colleges it'll be legislated out in the high schools.

Speaking of the schoolboys, we are told that the new set-up in the Texas Interscholastic league which has 51 high schools in the super Class AAAA division is working a hardship on the athletic treasurers.

TOUGH ON TREASURERS
Speaking of the schoolboys, we are told that the new set-up in the Texas Interscholastic league which has 51 high schools in the super Class AAAA division is working a hardship on the athletic treasurers.

One district is hard hit particularly that is District 5 in which Waco, Texarkana, Wichita Falls, Tyler, Sherman, Denison and Highland Park (Dallas) competed this year. It does seem that the districting could have been worked out more advantageously.

TO GO TO WICHITA FALLS, Waco passes through the Fort Worth district. To journey to Denison it goes through the Dallas district.

Of course Denison is going to be in Class AAA next year, but there's still the Wichita Falls jaunt. But Denison could be in Class AAAA if it were in a smaller district because it undoubtedly would be voted in.

THE IDEA FOR WACO and Wichita Falls is to split the Dallas and Fort Worth districts. Say put three of the Dallas schools and Highland Park in a district with Waco, etc.

TWO PLATOON
The two-platoon system of college football is working a hardship on the players so far as making all-America is concerned.

Howton is a double-duty player; he sometimes goes all the way in a game. He is good at defense and good at offense. But these days the all-America is a two-team affair. An offensive team and a defensive team.

In the Southwest Conference there are defensive specialists who may excel Howton in defense and there are offensive specialists who may excel him in offense. None can surpass him as an all-around player. But he'll have to make the team as one or the other.

It would be an injustice for such a great football player to wind up making neither team. In other words, he would be penalized for playing more than anybody else.

COOLING OFF PERIOD
A "cooling off" period for cameramen in the southwest conference?

You know, last fall the conference coaches inaugurated the plan of the sports writers having to wait until the team and coaches composed themselves and decided what they wanted to say before these dressing room interviews after a game.

Saturday Coach Jess Neely of Rice went on the field to protest a decision in the Rice-Texas Christian game at Fort Worth and was stuck 15 yards for doing it.

A cameraman said Neely objected to his taking pictures after the incident. Neely said the cameraman bothered him by keeping his camera constantly in his face. The cameraman said he was too far away to keep his camera in the coach's face.

But no matter how it was, the question probably will be argued by the coaches when they meet this winter. Maybe they'll want to measure the distance a photographer is from the coach during a game. It could take a coach's mind off his work if a fellow was right up in his face taking pictures. That would be like a sports writer rushing up to a coach during a game and saying: "Well, coach, what do you think about it? Who's the star and do you think the officials are blind?"

Tyler JC Set For Little Rose

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — Two unbeaten eleven, Tyler, Tex., JC and Pasadena City College, will play here Dec. 8 in the sixth annual Junior Rose Bowl game.

That these teams will supply the hostilities comes as no surprise, but an announcement today from the selection committee makes it official. Tyler is rated number one in the national junior college rankings, Pasadena second.

The Junior Rose Bowl game, which professes to produce the national champion two-year college eleven, functions as a sort of warmup for the big one here on New Year's day. Long Beach, Calif., won it last year by 33-15 over Boise, Idaho.

Adopted Old Blue Builds Rich Player Reservoir For Yale

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
CHICAGO — (NEA) — Fred M. Walker has not, as a lot of Old Blues feared, spoken of Yale and Herman Hickman for the University of Washington and Howie Odell.

But Walker, a Chicago broker, is using Washington as — say the Triple A farm — for his extraordinary football players' clearing house.

Walker is a legendary character who coached throughout the good — but if all were in the same boat there would be no reason for anybody to object.

"I send players to a lot of schools, including smaller ones," says Walker, proudly. "I sent a bunch from this area to Iowa Wesleyan, which my grandfather and four others founded. I even sent one boy to Princeton — a pippin, Ronnie Huseuth, now a 190-pound sophomore and it wasn't my fault his father didn't want him to go to Yale."

Walker, a vigorous and striking figure of a man at 67, hints that the University of Texas may in the future expect some help from the Chicago district.

"Ed Price, the now head coach, is an old and good friend of mine," he explains. "I coached him there."

Walker, you see, has been Yale's principal feeder since the first of his three sons, Blake, played quarterback for Coach Odell in New Haven before being graduated in 1943.

Paul Walker, the second son, was the Ellis All-American and of 1944. "His ribs were torn loose from his breast bone in the Brown game of '45," explains his dad.

David, the third son, a quarter and halfback, couldn't make Yale. He got the next best thing, in his father's book — Washington, where Odell now coaches.

SURVEYS 1000 YEARLY
Walker senior, in connection with his unusual hobby, surveys at least 1000 high and prep school players annually. His excursions include the entire nation, talks and whatnot. His telephone bill is terrific, but he has never taken a nickel in return.

Ted Blair, New York attorney who is a member of the Yale Corporation, once sent Walker a check to be applied against the telephone tab, but he returned it. He did likewise with checks forwarded him by the Yale Athletic Association for scouting opponents.

A year ago Walker, who was the blocking back on Amos Alonzo Stagg's unbeaten University of Chicago team of 1905, got out a circular to convince budding Ted Coys and Cupid Blacks what Yale had to offer.

It tells how the Chicago area has given Yale four football captains in the last 11 years — more than 40 varsity athletes in the last 10 years, the champion shot-putter of the world, three All-America football players, and the captains of both the varsity and freshman teams in 1950.

Shown in an accompanying picture are Jim Rowe, Evanston; Bob Parcella, Naperville, Ill.; Jack Lohnes, Riverside, Ill.; Varsity Captain Brad Quackenbush, West Aurora; Freshman Captain Dick Polich, Morton High, Cicero, Ill.; Sherman Magdison, Oak Park; and Frank Smith, West Aurora.

In his circular, Walker asks the brighter prospects to read what a Chicago sports editor had to say about Yale.

"Yale because of its heavy endowment is widely regarded as a rich man's school," it reads. "That isn't the case. More than 40 percent of the undergraduates work for part or all of their expenses."

"Yale definitely is on its way back in football. It has no intention of lowering entrance requirements for athletes or showing favoritism toward players in the classroom. No other university maintains a higher academic standard."

YALE AND WASHINGTON
Yale has a tremendous alumni, "but they're a lot of sticking-the-muds, don't do a thing," according to Walker. "When Yale beat Wisconsin, 17-7, at Madison in 1947," he recalls, "five of my boys started and an equal number were on the bench. Jim Fuchs played halfback and kicked off. Ferd Naderney played full and halfback, Bob Jablonski and Victor Frank, guard."

Walker had to divide four of his selections of this Autumn between Yale and Washington. Guard George Schuman went to the Bulldog from Cheshire Academy, which is situated close to New Haven. Back Dean Guseman stepped up to the parent institution from West Aurora, Ill., High.

The player Walker would have liked to put in Yale is a six-foot, 192-pound back named Don Kastilahn, but he couldn't cope with the requirements after a year at Lawrenceville Academy, where four times he ran kickoffs or punts to touchdowns. Walker first obtained a line on Kastilahn at Chicago's Schwab High Center. Al Sitnick of Oak Park, whom Walker says would be a regular as a freshman if Washington didn't have such a whale of a squad, is the other lad for whom his benefactor obtained a scholarship in Seattle.

Another fabulous recruiter in the Chicago football picture is Warren V. Woody, insurance tycoon, who is strictly a Kansas man. He builds insurance men. "Football players break down resistance," he says.

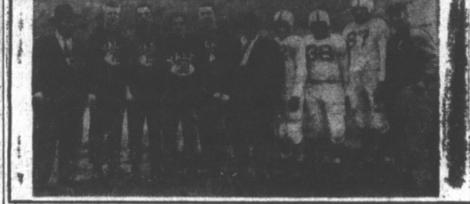

He reportedly had a hand in shooting the likely All-America halfback, Charlie Hoag, from Oak Park High to the Jayhawkers. Woody this fall is said to have steered 10 of the slickest in the vicinity to Kansas. His alma mater, where his son, Warren II, is a sophomore center.

Woody admits shipping Paul Leoni, a potential All-America end from Mt. Carmel High, the Chicago champion, to Kansas this fall.

He allows how Notre Dame Super is getting into a pickup game with Leoni.

"I told Leoni he would be a star at Kansas, and that would help him in the insurance business," Woody explains.

"I tell boys that for good grades I will get them a scholarship," says Fred M. Walker. "I have 60 kids hustling for good marks right now. What more could I do to fight juvenile delinquency? What could I do nicer than help a boy to a college education? You should see the letters I get from my kids."

"My business is boys, and it's the most gratifying I know," says Woody, who played guard for Patsy Clark at Kansas, from which he was graduated in 1922.

The work goes on, east and west, smack dab in Chicago, the heart of the Big 10.

Tomorrow: Miami builds to fill the Orange Bowl.

SPORTS MIRROR

By the Associated Press
Today a year ago—The Boston Red Sox signed Lou Boudreau, former shortstop and manager of the Cleveland Indians, to a player contract.

Five years ago — Buff Donelli was named head football coach at Boston University.

Ten years ago — Texas defeated Texas A&M, 23-0.

Twenty years ago — Primo Carnara knocked out Victor Campolo in the second round of their bout in Madison Square Garden.

Things Looking Up For Westex Cagers

CANYON — WINS — Things are definitely looking up in basketball at West Texas State. To oldtimers who dream of the tall young men playing under Al Baggett a decade ago, the present crop would seem a "wee" small, but they're growing.

Coach Miller does not have a man stationed on the six-footer keel. In contrast the genial Buff tutor doesn't possess any tree-toppers. He has 12 boys of just "nice" height and with shooting ability and speed tacked on.

On the probable starting lineup Miller has at the center post 6'4" Austell Burrus, Canyon product. What the blonde burr lacks in center height he makes up in jumping. At the forward slots Miller will have 6'1" Bill Price, Brianco, and 6'2" Duane Stewart, Canyon.

Out in front handling the distance shooting will be 6'2" Harold Robinson, Bowie, and 6'3" Dennis Walling, Munday.

The starters average out to a plump 6'2 1/2".

Backing them up come two 6'6" sophomores in Troy Burrus, Canyon, and Don DeCoster, Amarillo. Bowlegged Nolan Pootee, Samnorwood, adds his 6'5" frame to the height picture followed by soph Jundaal Glass, Denver City, at 6'4".

Graduating down the scale in reserved are 6'3" soph Cal Foster, Sudan; 6'2" Moose Hale, Goodwell, Okla.; and 6'1" Bob Finley, Floydada.

All this measuring brings out the fact that the 12-man 1951-52 Buff squad will average 6'3". Which, by the way, isn't hay.

West Texas will open its season in its new 4,000-seat Field House November 30 against Amarillo Air Base and will dedicate the structure on December 3 against Phillips 66 out of Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

McLean Girls In Double Victory

McLEAN — (Special) — The McLean Tigerettes defeated the Groom Tigers in a doubleheader here last night, the B team winning 46-33, and the A team, 48-29.

The starting lineup for the B team was Dorothy Chase, Betty Patterson, Mavis Medley, Lorraine Medley, Christine Hunt and Evelyn Lee. Patterson led the scoring with 25 points. Evans was high for Groom with 21.

Two Freshmen Picked On All-Border Conference 22

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Two freshmen were named to the all-star Border Conference football team selected for the Associated Press by coaches and sportswriters.

The team includes trio of 60-minute men named to both the offensive and defensive platoons. But the real surprise of the voting was the number of players earning mention. A total of 87 players were named by fewer than 20 coaches and sportswriters in the three-state area covered by the conference — Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Tackle Ed Maticic of Arizona State (Tempe), a 235-pound product of Rankin, Pa., and guard Ray Howard of Texas Tech, 195-pounder from Childress, Tex., were the toughest voted to fill a team. Maticic was an offensive tackle while Howard made the defensive team.

Tackle Jerrell Price of Texas Tech, guard Jim Donarski of Arizona and center Aubrey Phillips of Texas Tech were voted to both the offensive and defensive teams.

The closest fight came for offensive quarterback with Junior Arterburn of Texas Tech edging Harold Self of Tempe by one vote. The toughest spot to fill was a defensive end berth won by Joe Spann of West Texas State. Seven players got votes for the spot.

MIGHT CHANGE
The coaches of Texas Tech and Hardin - Simmons said their views on all-conference players might change after next Saturday. The two clubs clash then for the conference championship.

The A squad starters were co-captain Sue Lively and Tex Eva McCarley, Bonita Bailey, Mary Graham, LaJune Chilton and Baschie Mathews. High point girl was Bailey with 20. Leading the Groom team was Ruth Blackwell with 15.

The McLean teams led the way in both games.

MOVIES AID SELECTION

MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — A Munich marriage agency makes talking movies of persons seeking a mate. These films are shown to applicants of the opposite sex, instead of the usual still photographs.

The films are much more persuasive, the agency finds. They also help to avoid the disappointments which often result from artistically re-touched photographs.

The agency plans to promote exchanges of such films with lonely heart services in America.

The New York football Giants of 1927 allowed 13 opponents a total of 20 points, a record that stands today.

Woman Chases Drunken Driver

COESICANA — (AP) — A 37-year-old Houston woman chased down a driver who had smashed her vehicle, grabbed his car keys and caused his arrest a few minutes later.

The Highway Patrol said Mrs. Clara King was driving south on U. S. Highway 75, three miles north of Coesicana, Saturday, when an approaching car side-swiped her vehicle.

Mrs. King turned around and overtook the weaving auto, forcing the driver off the highway. She then got out, walked over to the car, and grabbed the driver's keys.

Mrs. King's two daughters, Mrs. Donald Brown and Mrs. Lila Waguespeck, both of Houston, were left at the scene to "guard" the man while Mrs. King summoned the Highway Patrol.

Murder in Quotes

XI

BABE TUSSIG had seen me, and now Earnie Berman whirled. The automatic in my hand kept them from getting any rash ideas. "Keep out of this," said Earnie. "You're nothing in it. It's a private affair."

I looked at the girl's bleeding face. "I never killed anyone, Earnie. But I wouldn't mind killing now."

"They want to know what became of some money," she screamed. "They say Cleo got it. If she did, she didn't tell me."

"That's right," said Earnie. "Charlie had 25 G's on him the night he got shot."

I addressed Kay: "If you do decide to tell, Earnie and Tussig will have nothing to do with it. They're going to tell me how they killed Cleo."

The girl had looked relieved. Now she looked worried. She clutched her bleeding face and said:

"I was alive when I left her. She begged me to contact you without anybody seeing me. That's why I hid in your car."

That stopped me. Earnie Berman and Babe Tussig looked at me amusedly. The girl said: "Cleo told me something else. She said that if I didn't find you and anything happened to her I was to give you an address. It was 189 Atlantic."

I had almost forgotten Berman and Tussig.

"Atlantic what?" I shouted. "What was the name of the town?"

"I don't know. I don't think she gave me the name of any town. There was just another number. I think it was 455."

Berman sneered. "And I'm laying odds of ten-to-one that the 25 G's are stashed away at that address. I'll give Cleo credit. She played dumb and innocent to me. I thought I'd trick her into slipping, and maybe I would have if you hadn't knocked her off. It all adds up now. You just explained it. You figured she'd seen you kill Charlie and you had to shut her up."

I shook my head. "I'd already been acquitted of murdering your brother. If a dozen witnesses turned up to say they saw me do it, I couldn't be tried again. You're the one who knows what Cleo Cassino saw that night. And so does Tussig, for he did the job for you. Ask him where the 25,000 went." I turned to Kay. "Come on, I'll take you to a doctor, then to the sheriff. You'll tell him what you told me."

"You saw what he did to Cleo," Berman told her.

The girl was afraid of me. I said: "When the doctor gives you a mirror, you'll see your face. Maybe the doctor can fix you up if you get to him in time. Otherwise, you'll be scared for life."

That did it. The girl got up. I let her leave the cottage ahead of me. Julie was waiting and that seemed to relieve Kay.

I got under the wheel. Julie had to help Kay O'Neil get into the center of the front seat.

"Hadn't you better use the back roads?" Julie asked. "Berman may phone the highway patrol to look for us."

"Did you see this girl's face?"

"Yes."

"You should know that Berman won't be calling a policeman. He won't even be admitting that we were there."

I WAS right. Nobody stopped us as we drove the 15 miles to Queen City. Where the local police didn't seem interested in us I knew that the sheriff and his deputy were still safely locked up. I stopped the car within a couple blocks of the jail.

"I'm going to find Gene," I said. Julie got out and came around to get under the wheel. I studied her in the light of a street lamp as she climbed into the driver's seat.

"Are you going to tell me what you were doing at Charlie Berman's place last night he was killed?"

Julie winced. "I don't know what you're talking about."

She drove away without looking at me. I walked down the street to Gene Sawyer's walk-up second-floor office. Gene often worked at night, and I thought he might be there. He wasn't. I used Julie's automatic to break the glass in his reception room door. I went inside and dialed his house number, using the phone in the reception room.

Gene, a bachelor, lived alone. He answered the phone. I said: "I'm at your office, Gene. I had to break the glass in your door. I couldn't risk phoning from anywhere else. I've got to see you. I've got a lead. An address that Cleo passed along before she was murdered. Can you come right down?"

"I'll be right down."

I was afraid somebody would see me from the street. I went back into Gene's private office. I lit a cigarette and smoked it leisurely until only a short butt was left. I stamped out the butt in an ash tray, and my gaze wandered to the bookcase behind Gene's desk. My eye fell on the book he had marked and shown to me that previous afternoon, the one on which he had relied to get back my money and my property.

Then my heart must have skipped a beat. The book was numbered and the number was 189. The book, as also titled, and the title was "Atlantic Reporter."

I grabbed the book from the shelf and opened it at the marked spot.

Outcome Of Truce Talk May Determine U. S. Air Policy

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, threw out this hint that prolongation of the fighting in Korea may bring a change in U. S. air war policy.

"The outcome of the present truce negotiations holds the key to whether we will continue fighting a war of half-way measures in Korea—a war which at present, holds our air power at the Yalu river and gives the enemy sanctuary in Manchuria."

United Nations and Communist negotiators in Korea have reached an agreement in principle on where to establish a cease-fire line.

The maintenance of the Manchurian sanctuary was one of the disagreements between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and President Truman which led to the general's ouster as UN commander in Korea. He wanted to bomb Red Chinese bases in Manchuria and take other measures to extend the war. The administration contended MacArthur's program might touch off a third world war.

Appearing on a mutual network program, Vandenberg called the air war in Korea "a peculiar type of operations which he said had not really utilized U.S. air power."

"We can't knock out the enemy's potential at its source," he said. "We are operating mainly in a tactical role—the role of air power to assist ground forces."

Vandenberg said recent Nevada tests have given the air force "a new atomic tactical weapon which can be utilized against armies in the field" but he added that some bugs remain to be worked out.

THE OUTPOST

By KAY FANCHER

Last week we began to give some questions and answers about the National Guard and we found that there were a lot of people that didn't know some of the answers and were interested in learning more about the Guard.

There are lot's more facts about the guard that you might be interested in. For instance, did you know that over 2-5 of the AEF in World War I was made up of National Guard divisions? It was, and at that time, the National Guard brought almost 400,000 men into federal service in 11 divisions.

National Guard divisions serving in WW I saw more combat than any of the other AEF units. Records of the German high command showed that of the eight American divisions the Germans rated as superior or excellent, six were National Guard divisions. National Guardsmen pierced the Hindenburg Line, helped crush the St. Mihiel salient and smashed to victory through the Meuse-Argonne.

In World War II, mobilization of the National Guard brought more than 300,000 men into active military service and doubled the strength of the regular Army. All 18 National Guard divisions served overseas. Nine in the Pacific theatre and nine in the ETO. In World War II, National Guard units participated in 34 campaigns and seven assault landings. Eighty-eight Presidential Unit citations went out to National Guard units.

The Congressional Medal of Honor was awarded to 14 National Guardsmen. And here is an interesting note to go with what has already been said: of the enlisted men inducted with the National Guard in 1940 and 1941, more than 60,000, or about one out of every five, were commissioned officers by Sept. 21, 1941.

Since the start of hostilities in Korea, more than 100,000 guardsmen including eight divisions of the Army National Guard, 80 percent of the Air National Guard and many supporting units have been called into active service. Army and Air Guard units are now fighting in Korea. Two Guard divisions are now in Japan and other Guard units are in Germany.

There are the answers to some more of the questions asked about the Guard. I think that we all should be more acquainted with an important part of our armed forces.

High Sierra Is Nightmare For Family Of Four

JACKSON, Calif. —(AP) — The snowbound High Sierra was an unforgettable horror to a family of four — including a one-year-old baby. They were rescued after starving for a week near 8,600-foot Kit Carson Pass.

The timely arrival of rescuers probably saved the life of Ralph Hilton, 41, who had set out on foot in search of aid. He had left behind in a mountain cabin his wife, Lillian, 40; their daughter, Betty, 16, and their year-old grandson, Ronald Hilton. They had almost no food but they could keep warm.

The four had taken refuge in the deserted cabin last Monday after their auto became stalled three-quarters of a mile away on a mountain roadway supposedly closed for the winter.

For 12 hours, clad only in thin overalls and light clothing utterly unsuited to the freezing temperatures, Hilton had floundered vainly through deep snow seeking a telephone or someone who could help. He made only three miles before dark, then noted up in a deserted cabin.

"He was so exhausted he couldn't talk when we found him," said Sgt. Henry Pettengill, highway patrolman in the rescue party.

Hilton said "we had just about given up hope. An Army search plane flew over several times and we signaled, but they didn't see us."

A five-man rescue party, bucking 10 and 12 foot drifts in a surplus Army "weasel" (a snow tractor), made its way 83 miles up Highway 88 from Jackson and found the Hilton car buried in deep snow.

Ralph Hilton's party left their San Jose Calif., home a week ago Sunday, enroute to Reno to seek work. On Tuesday, two of Hilton's sons, Robert, 21, and Jack, 18, started for Reno in another car. Robert is the baby's father.

They had agreed to meet at the Reno postoffice. Friday, Robert and Jack became worried and notified authorities.

A doctor who examined the four after their ordeal said they were in fairly good shape, except for hunger and exhaustion.

clear that he is at the top of his game. I'm willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that most of my readers won't find the winning line of play even though they can see all four hands.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen, forcing Zedwitz to ruff. Declarer then drew four rounds of trumps, discarding a diamond and a club from dummy.

East also discarded a diamond, but then had to find two more discards on the third and fourth trumps. He correctly decided that he could not afford to part with a spade, so he signalled with the eight and six of clubs.

That was all the information that Zedwitz had. He proceeded to make his contract against the best defense. Can you?

Declarer knew that West had started with six diamonds and four hearts. From East's club signal he deduced the rest of the situation. Hence he could play the hand just as though all the cards were exposed to view. Zedwitz merely led out his ace of trump, discarding a second club from dummy. East still couldn't afford to discard a spade, since South would then run four spade tricks. Hence East had to discard the ten of clubs.

Declarer then led a club, allowing East to take the queen. East returned a spade which dummy won with the king. Dummy returned the king of clubs to East's ace.

East now returned another spade, which South won with the queen. And at this point South's five and four of clubs were as good as gold.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

Is The Capitalist A Cannibal? One often hears the statement that the Capitalist system or the competitive system is simply the rite of the jungle...

Dr. Orval Watts very clearly expresses this error. I quote from his article in "Christian Economics": "Some months ago I stood in public debate against a man who speaking before I did, declared: 'Of course, we all know that laissez-faire and free competition really mean dog eat dog and the rule of the jungle.'"

"What does capitalism, or free enterprise, really mean? Do capitalists prey upon their fellow men like animals or savages in the jungle? Does free competition actually lead men to develop the feelings and attitudes of beasts of prey? Let us see...

"Capitalism means private property. And what is private property? How does it come to be? 'Obviously private property can exist only when individuals are able to keep for themselves and their families whatever they produce or obtain by voluntary gift or exchange. Thieves and robbers are enemies of private property. Therefore, they are the enemies of capitalism.'"

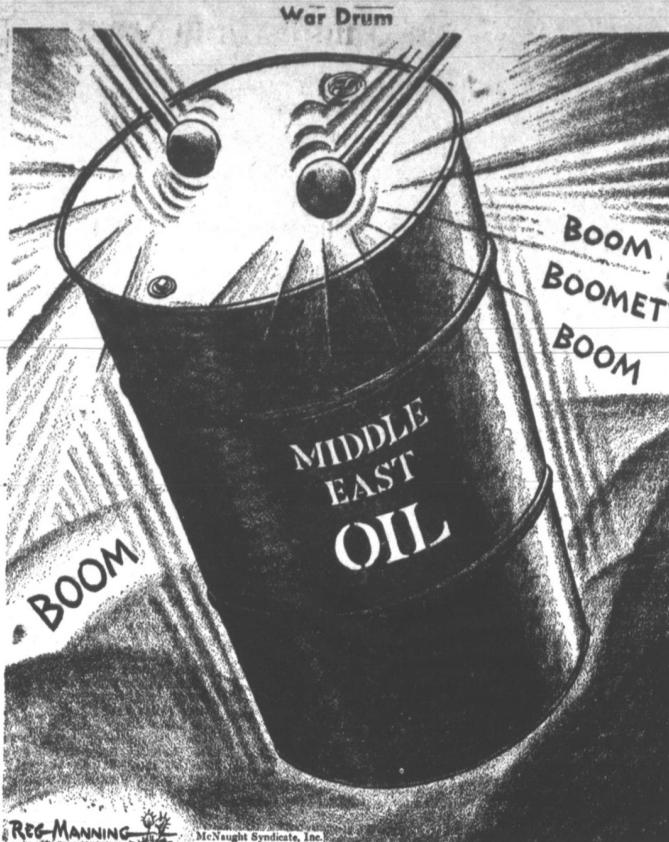

"Only where theft and robbery, which attack and destroy property rights, are halted can capitalism arise. Where theft and robbery end, there is capitalism. It is just as day begins when night ends. 'Capitalism is private property in the means of production, property that exists where people cannot steal or rob. Where it is, we always find a growth of capital and business enterprise.'"

"Where individuals may keep for themselves what they make or receive in trade or gift, they work and produce. They till the soil, increase their flocks, improve their homes and fashion tools that save labor and increase output. 'They start trading, since nearly everyone can get a better living that way. The life of a hermit might be self-sustaining, but it is a lonely and uncomfortable one. It is a lonely one for a few people care to live as hermits.'"

"Under the circumstances, some people start accumulating stocks of goods for emergencies or for the time they will work a little less and rest a little more. Others invent and spend time contriving machines to make their work easier or more productive. 'As these persons accumulate goods and invest machines, others come to offer services in return for a share in the wealth or a chance to profit by use of the machines.'"

"In brief, capitalism comes about when men are free from spoliation, rapine, theft, violence or threats of violence. When men are thus free—to keep what they produce, consume it, give it away or trade it for other things—they accumulate wealth and develop commerce. 'Capitalism is not the rule of the jungle. It is just the opposite. It is born when and only when the rule of the jungle is abolished, when people come to help one another, cooperate for their mutual benefit and otherwise let one another alone.'"

"Dog eat dog? Rule of the jungle? These are the roots of communism or cannibalism or slavery or war or crime. They are definitely not the creeds of capitalism or free competition or what some early economists meant by laissez-faire. 'Under capitalism some people prosper more than others. Some people prosper more than others in the jungle, too. But inequality in freedom leads to results vastly different from the outcome of inequality in the jungle. 'Perhaps no other fact in human relations is more often forgotten.'"

Articles for this column are preferred to be 200 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed.

The Editor Pampa Daily News Dear Sir: We of this community are, I am sure, concerned with the welfare of the United States. But too often we leave to some, let's say the burden of expressing that concern in a positive manner. A short time ago, Mr. J. Everett Halsey spoke out against federal financing of the Canadian River dam. The response was a deafening chorus of official protest against his views, a chorus remarkable for the lack of local voices. I wish to review the subject.

The proponents of federal financing of the Canadian River dam base their case on the following arguments. (1) The dam is vital to the future growth of this community. (2) The problem of financing is one that cannot be solved without federal help. (3) The plans call, and it is our duty, for federal funds, but for a 50-year loan to be repaid by the users of the water.

I will grant that a dependable water supply is vital to the future growth of the West Texas community. But I am not convinced that the Canadian River dam is the proper solution or the only solution to the problem. Instead of looking at this thing from the standpoint of what we can get by water we should look at it with an eye to what we can get by proper methods, and by 'proper' methods, I mean methods which will not bring upon us something worse than the problem we are trying to solve.

The Constitution of the United States says: 'Congress shall have the power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, taxes, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.' This cannot be construed as giving authority to Congress to lay and collect taxes for the purpose of making a 50-year loan to West Texas in order that West Texas may gain an advantage over other communities in the competition for population and payrolls. If an advantage to West Texas in such competition is properly a matter of concern to Congress, then so also are a host of pet schemes of community boosters throughout the 48 states. I challenge the proponents of our particular scheme to estimate how much money the federal government would give up if all such schemes were given a blanket endorsement by Congress.

If such a wholesale financing of community projects cannot be proven to be in the real interest of the United States, then it must be contrary to that interest and we have no right to ask for it. I have asked before, and I ask again, what sort of plans and cost estimates would be proposed? Several ways of treating varicose veins and ulcers have had much success. The use of elastic bandages which support the widened and enlarged varicose veins is, of course, an old remedy and helpful in many cases. Varicose veins are often removed by surgery. Injections for varicose veins have been used for many years. These act by closing the openings of the varicose vein entirely so that the blood must flow through some other vein which is normal or deeper in the tissue. At present, surgery seems to be becoming more popular as a treatment and injections less so.

National Whirligig... Top Military Brass Will Be Quizzed Sharply By Congress

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — The unprecedented secrecy surrounding every phase of the domestic rearmament and overseas military program will be shattered by an angry and inquisitive members of Congress at the next session. The "top brass" will be quizzed sharply on their accomplishments, including General "Ike" Eisenhower, who may suffer politically from the survey.

The M. C.'s are exasperated and embarrassed by the lack of information available to them. They are upset over reports of a Truman-Eisenhower plan to ship tactical atomic weapons to our West European allies, especially England. They are concerned over the possibility, as happened when Hitler invaded France, that atomic and other valuable equipment would fall into the Reds' hands.

They want more details on the two men's agreement that Eisenhower's force get the bulk of our most modern stuff, after Korean requirements are met. Under this revised schedule, troops training in the United States would have only a third, primarily on our newest planes, tanks, artillery, rifles etc.

NETTLED — The secret Truman-Eisenhower tete-a-tete at Blair House, when the two men discussed grave military, diplomatic and economic problems without benefit of a stenographer or a third party, is largely responsible for the Congressional determination to find out where the United States stands in a "cold war" that may grow hot. Congress is understandably nettled by the possibility that the President and the general may have made tentative decisions which are the constitutional responsibility of Congress. For instance, the question of releasing atomic weapons to a foreign nation comes under this head. So does the scheme to ship our new and conventional weapons abroad, while training our own armies at home with second-best stuff.

Another unknown agreement between them may call for sending additional American divisions to Western Europe. In authorizing the shipment of a maximum of six, Congress virtually declared that no more could be sent abroad without its consent. Neither Mr. Truman nor General Eisenhower has reported the subject of their talks along this line. If the President does not take Congress into his confidence in his forthcoming message on the state of the Union, the M. C.'s will demand full publicity on the proposed investigation.

Fair Enough... Federal Agencies Are Used By Unions In European Politics

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LONDON (Pegler bear in mind that you and I are coming from behind in this study of the clandestine political activities of the American boss unions in Europe and that much information that should be of general public knowledge among us is actually concealed.)

In a vague way, as a professional Red-baiter and opponent of the international Communist conspiracy, I had learned that the Army, the State Department and Paul Hoffman's Economic Cooperation Administration, known as ECA, ostensibly a "relief" fund, were being used by the unions as avenues into European politics. Even during the war, delegations of the AF of L and the CIO were sent into back areas as the Americans advanced in France to tell the GIs that the war which they would hear about strikes, stalling, malingering and racketeering when they came home were a pack of lies. No representatives of "industry" or the employers were allowed to go on any such missions to tell the American fighting men the disgraceful facts.

After the war this propaganda continued and I freely confess that I am just beginning to catch up. I have learned that the Truman administration has been giving the unions great cooperation in a work which should have been forbidden and prevented. For example, as I told you the other day, the first instruction in the little booklet that came with my new passport warned me not to meddle in the political affairs of foreign countries. But there is one rule which I have learned that the Truman administration has been giving the unions great cooperation in a work which should have been forbidden and prevented. At the business meeting following the luncheon, the council voted to start religious study club work in January to continue through Lent. It will start as a night group open to all parishioners. The group then plans on dividing into smaller home study units or continuing with night discussions in the parish hall for everyone.

Mrs. M. F. Roche, reporting for the social service committee, asked for good used utensils and kitchen equipment to be given to the Carver school. It was voted to enlarge the hospitality committee to better serve the increasing number of new parishioners.

Mrs. J. W. Garman, III, reporting for the Household of Martha, announced a Bridge - Canasta to be given in the parish hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m. A ham will be given as door prizes and prizes will be given for bridge and canasta high scores. Proceeds will be divided between the Extension Society for needy missions and a special fund for Holy Souls Parish.

Mrs. R. E. McKernan gave a paper entitled "Civil Defense." State Meeting of Federated Women's Clubs. Mrs. Garman gave the highlight of a talk by the Administrator of Civil Defense program for Federated Club Women.

Mrs. McKernan reminded all not only to be ready to supply the physical needs, but also the spiritual. Rev. Thomas J. Mahoney, C. M., added that we must remember we have to clean our own household first before we can start elsewhere in the world. Rev. Mahoney is Director of De Pauw University Alumni Assn. and gave the sermons during Holy Souls Forty Hours Devotions.

Two League Of Women Voters Meetings Are Scheduled Thursday

Two unit meetings of the League of Women Voters are scheduled Thursday since the regular meetings were not held last week on Thanksgiving day.

One group will meet in the home of Mrs. J. W. Garman, 1125 Charles, and another group will meet with Mrs. Frank Culbertson, 2005 Charles. Both meetings will begin at 9:30 a. m.

Tips For Tasks

(Readers are invited to send in household tips which may be a saving in either time, money or energy.)

It's a good idea to apply a thin coat of oil or grease to an iron skillet after it is washed and dried and before it is put away. This will insure against rust.

The easiest way to remove fat from a homemade meat soup is to prepare the soup the day before you want to use it, then cool the stock overnight and lift the congealed fat from the top of the soup before you reheat it.

The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time. —Thomas Jefferson

Whatever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free. —Mary Baker Eddy

True liberty consists in the privilege of enjoying our own rights, not in the destruction of the rights of others. —Pinckard

Every breath of
VICKS VAPORUB
IN STEAM
relieves croupy
night coughs of colds

Special medicated steam brings soothing DEEP-ACTION RELIEF

Now those croupy, coughing spells that attack children without warning are relieved so fast with this home-proved treatment... two heaping spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or bowl of boiling water as directed in package. It's easy, too... Your little one just breathes in the steam. Every breath carries VapoRub's relief-giving medications deep into troubled throat and large bronchial tubes. There this wonderful treatment medicates and soothes dry, irritated membranes, eases away coughing, helps restore normal breathing. And real comfort comes in no time at all.

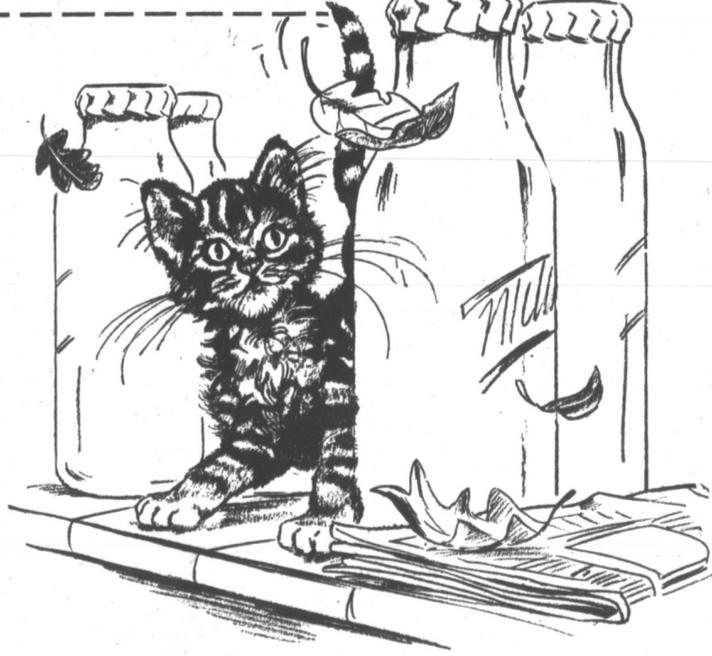

For coughing spasms, upper bronchial congestion and that choked-up feeling caused by colds, there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

And always rub it on for continued relief

To insure continued action, always rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Works for hours — even while your child sleeps — to relieve distress. It's the best-known home remedy you can use when any cold strikes child or grown-up.

VICKS VAPORUB

"ANY FOOL KNOWS THEY'D BE STOLEN!"

Recently some American movies were shown at our embassy in Moscow.

The Russian servants pecked in on these scenes of another world.

One scene showed a milkman leaving milk and cream on the doorsteps of several houses.

The Russian butler, a staunch party man, was later heard delivering a fiery speech to the help in the kitchen...

"Capitalistic lies!" he cried, "leaving bottles of milk on a doorstep like that... Why, any fool knows they'd be stolen!"

With milk selling at $1.79 a quart in Moscow, you couldn't blame the guy.

In America milk averages less than 25 cents a quart.

We have 5 times as much milk and butter per person as the average in other countries.

How come? Well, one good reason is an American practice called Brand Names competition.

You buy a well-known brand of product because you figure it gives you the best value and quality.

This is tough news to other brands... So they all work doubly hard to offer you new improvements and greater value yet!

They put in finer machinery to cut costs... make their products better. They go all-out to win you over to their brand name.

So they all fight for your business... and you win every time. And it all adds up to a country of people who think nothing of leaving precious milk on their doorsteps.

Next time you see a well-known brand name on a product in a store... or when you read the ads in this newspaper that feature brand names, remember... they're working for you! They're saving you money. They're giving you more and better things.

Wherever you buy — demand the brand you want

SO I'LL JUST SIGN THE CARBON COPY OF HER'S!

Blondie

I'M GOING CRAZY TRYING TO FIGURE OUT HOW MUCH LUMBER TO GET FOR THOSE TRIANGULAR SHELVES IN THE CELLAR!

WHAT'S TROUBLING YOU POP?

WHY DON'T YOU USE THE PYTHAGOREAN THEOREM, LIKE WE DO IN SCHOOL? HERE-- I'LL DO IT FOR YOU!

THERE YOU ARE, POP EIGHT BOARD FEET-- WELL, SO LONG LIVE GOT A DATE!

AND IT SEEMS LIKE ONLY YESTERDAY I WAS BURPING HIM OVER MY SHOULDER!

Alley Oop

STARTLED BY A STRANGE NOISE, OOLA TURNED AND FIRED INTO THE UNDERBRUSH.

FUNNY... I'D HAVE SWORN THERE WAS SOMETHING RIGHT BEHIND ME...

...NOTHING... MY IMAGINATION MUST BE PLAYING ME TRICKS... OH, WELL...

YSEE WHAT I MEAN? SHE'S IN YOUR HEAD WOULDN'T DO YOU ANY GOOD!

YEAH! A HOLE LIKE THAT IN YOUR HEAD WOULDN'T DO YOU ANY GOOD!

Bo

HM... WONDER WHAT BRINGS THE HARBOR POLICE IN THIS SIDE CHANNEL?

IT'S PRETTY SHALLOW UP HERE, SARGE, I'D RATHER STAY IN THE BAY.

WE MIGHT SPOT THIS BIRD WHOSE PICTURE IS IN THE PAPER... HE'S WANTED...

HOP IN, PAL! I RECKON IT'S SAFE TO GO AFTER FRESH WATER.

DOGGONE IT, THAT POLICE BOAT IS COMING BACK. I'D BETTER HURRY.

Ozark Ike

WHATT A FINISH!

OZARK SCORES BY WINNING TOUCHDOWN ON THE LAST PLAY OF THE GAME!

HONEY, AIN'T CHA OUTA BREATH AFUW DASHIN' THEM GO YARDS?

JUS' NOW GITTIN' WARMED UP DINK... WISH WE WUZ PLAYIN' A DOUBLE-HEADUH?

...SEEMS LIKE WE JUST CAN'T LOSE WITH OUR LUCKY MASCOT ON HAND!

BUT ON TH' OTHER HAND, NOW FUR KIN WE TRUST TH' RASCAL!

AND DOES THOMPINS...

Buzz Sawyer

WHENEVER THE INTRUDER VIS, SIR, HE'S GONE. AND MY PAPERS ARE GONE!

YES, GONE! WITH 42 ALARM BELLS AND A NIGHT WATCHMAN, INCrimINATING EVIDENCE DISAPPEARS FROM UNDER MY VERY NOSE.

BUT WHO COULD HAVE TAKEN THEM, SARGE?

HMM! HE HASN'T HAD TIME TO GO VERY FAR, HUH? PUT IN A CALL FOR MR. SAWYER AT THE ALPINA HOTEL.

OH! JUST AS I EXPECTED!

Chris Weikin

READY AT ZERO MINUS 20!

FROM THE TONE OF THE VOICE I'D SAY IT'S WARNINGS OF THE TAKEOFF IN YOUR BUNK, ROCKY! YOU TOO, DOC!

IT CAN'T BE REAL! IT MUST BE A NIGHTMARE!

DO WHAT CHRIS SAYS, DR. BUDD! THE ACCELERATION WILL BE TERRIFIC!

SUDDENLY THE ROCKET BECAME ALIVE...

Mutt & Jeff

I'M LOOKIN' FOR AN OUTSIDE JOB!

GO TO THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT THEY NEED MAILMEN, JEFF!

YESSIR, I'D LIKE TO APPLY FOR THE MAILMAN JOB!

YOU'LL HAVE TO TAKE AN EXAMINATION AND ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS!

NOW THEN-- HOW FAR IS IT FROM NEW YORK TO CALIFORNIA?

3000 MILES!

HOW FAR IS IT FROM THE EARTH TO THE MOON?

MAN, IF YOU'R GONNA PUT ME ON THAT ROUTE I DON'T WANT THE JOB!

Bugs Bunny

FILL 'ER UP, PORKY, I'LL BE BACK IN A COUPLA MINUTES!

R-RIGHT!

HEY, PORKY, WHERE ARE YA? HOW MUCH DO I OWE YA FER TH' GAS?

N-N-NOT A THING...

...IN FACT, I OWE YOU T-TEN MORE GALLONS O' G-G-GAS!

P...n's Pop

GRANDMA, DON'T YOU THINK I DO, PRISCILLA!

INDEED I DO, PRISCILLA!

I ALWAYS SAY A PROMISE MADE IS A DEBT UNPAID!

GOING? WHERE TO, CHILD?

THEN WE'D BETTER GET GOING!

I PROMISED MYSELF I'D GO TO THE MOVIES WITH YOU TODAY!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE By J. R. WILLIAMS with MAJOR HOOPLE

TOO LATE! THEM TOUGH GUYS HAS SPOTTED THAT VALUABLE CIGAR BAND-- WHY DIDN'T YOU AST TH' MAN FER IT!

NO, THEM KIND WONT GIVE IT TO YOU! THEY LIKE TO SHOW OFF WHAT EXPENSIVE CIGARS THEY SMOKE, AN' YOU GOTTA FOLLER 'EM CUZ THEY KEEP MOVIN' TH' BAND UP!

EGAD! A FEW TINY FLAKES OF SNOW AND MARTHA CHASES ME OUT WITH A BROOM! SOON THE SNOWS WILL BE HEAVIER-- THEN I'LL HAVE TO COLLE WITH THAT INFERNAL SHOVEL!

UM! I MUST DEVELOP AN IDEA TO ESCAPE THESE MENIAL CHORES-- ANYTHING IN THE WANT-ADS? --HOUSE-MOVERS-HELPER, CAN-OPENER SALESMAN, BORING MILL OPERATOR-- THE WEARY WORLD IS FULL OF TROUBLE!

WHY ARE THERE NEVER ANY ADS FOR TROPICAL EXPLORERS OR SHIP CAPTAINS?

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

A BROOM CAN START A MAN THINKING = 11-27

Vic Flint

BY DA TIME I FINISH, MY NEXT CASE IS BOOK, VIC, I'LL BE SET TO WORK WITCHA ON YA NEXT CASE.

I HAD BETTER COME SOON, LOUIE, THE TRASH-URY IS IN BAD SHAPE.

BUT VIC DOESN'T KNOW WHAT'S IN STORE FOR HIM.

I'M A SPORTY GUY, HAM, TELL YOU WHAT-- I'LL HIRE THE BEST DETECTIVE IN TOWN...

...TO INVESTIGATE YOUR QUOTE SUICIDE UNQUOTE!

A LOT OF GOOD THINGS WILL BE TALKING WITH TONIGHT-- VOIC-CONFIDENT I AM THAT YOU PULL THAT TRIGGER!

HAW HAW HAW! I'LL EVEN HIRE THE DOCK WERE TALKING WITH TONIGHT-- VOIC-CONFIDENT I AM THAT YOU PULL THAT TRIGGER!

PERFECT CRIME

Little Doc

WHAT A BEAUTIFUL NIGHT!

LOOK! THAT'S THE MILKY WAY!

WHERE?

THERE!

I CAN'T SEE NOTHIN' BUT STARS!

Wash Tubbs

COULD THE ACID WHICH SEEMS TO BE DRIVING FISH FROM THESE WATERS COME FROM THE WASTE OF THAT NEW CHEMICAL PLANT?

I DOUBT IT, EASY, THEY'RE SUPPOSED TO NEUTRALIZE THOSE ACIDS, OR DUMP 'EM FAR OUT TO SEA.

BUT MAYBE THEY AIN'T WASH SAW BARRELS OF LIQUID BEING PUMPED FROM A BARGE NEAR THE FISHING GROUNDS!

YEAH, AN' THAT DUDE WHO TRIED TO MAKE ME OUT A LIAD TO TH' COPS IS CONNECTED WITH TH' PLANT!

ANYWAY, WELL HURRY BOAT AND TRANSFER YOU TO THE BACK TO PORT TO INVESTIGATE, PAUL!

GOOD LUCK, BOYS! WE'LL LOWER A GERTIE B. WHO'S STANDING BY TO TAKE YOU IN!

Boots

GOLDWORTH, YOU KEEP TALKING ABOUT HOW EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE ABLE TO SUPPORT HERSELF!

OWAY, BUT I'M PROBABLY THE ONLY GIRL IN THE WORLD WHO'S WORKING SO--

WELL, I'LL SEE YOU TOMORROW!

BUT I LIVE A FEW BLOCKS FURTHER-- AREN'T YOU --?

THIS WHERE I TURN OFF AT NIGHT!

Mickey Finn

AND THIS IS SHERIFF FINN, MR. M'DRIPP-- THE AUTHOR OF THE NEW BOOK!

GLAD TO MEET YOU, MR. M'DRIPP! SUPPOSE YOU'VE BROUGHT IN A LOT OF ORDERS?

O-ORDERS? I-I'M AFRAID I DON'T UNDERSTAND! W-WE ARE PUBLISHING A BOOK-- THAT YOU HAVE WRITTEN?

WHY, OF COURSE WE ARE, MR. M'DRIPP! DIDN'T YOU RECEIVE THE COPIES THAT I SENT TO ST LOUIS? --OR MY LETTER?

N-NO! I-I DIDN'T GO TO ST LOUIS! I-I DECIDED TO GO TO MANASSAS CITY FIRST-- AND THEN THIS IS THE BOOK TO ST LOUIS FROM CHICAGO!

OH, MY WELLNESS! THEN YOU DON'T KNOW A THING ABOUT IT! WELL, FIRST-- AND THEN THIS IS THE BOOK TO ST LOUIS FROM CHICAGO!

Y-YOU DON'T THINK IT WILL BE VERY SUCCESSFUL?

I-I'M AFRAID NOT, MRS. M'SQUILLAN! THE MARKET IS SIMPLY SATURATED WITH BOOKS ABOUT GOLF!

Penny

EXCUSE ME, DEAR.

PARDON ME, PRINCESS.

BORRY, DEAR.

IT'S A WONDER I CAN LOOK AS GLAMOROUS AS I DO UNDER SUCH CONDITIONS!

Freckles

WHEN I HOPE MRS. CLABBER DOESN'T GET ANY MORE BRIGHT IDEAS LIKE THIS ONE!

I'D LIKE TO SEE HER MESSING AROUND IN THIS BILGE WATER!

SPUTT!

OMIGOSH! I AM SEEING IT!

Donald Duck

HEY, GUYS! C'MON! A WRECK ON THE CORNER!

SO WHAT? WE'VE SEEN LOTSA WRECKS!

YEAH, WHAT'S TO BE EXCITED ABOUT?
