'Shoot To Kill' Orders Replace One-Day Truce

New Order Sends Men Back To Guns

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — Allied artillery opened up on the western front today under new "shoot to kill" orders. Front-line officers reported receiving new orders of the day shortly after Gen. James A. Van Fleet announced some of his troops might have misinterpreted "certain military instructions" from the U. S. Eighth Army as a cease-fire order.

The United Nations ground commander said that attitude would be corrected. Lie the White House and Toyo headquarters of the United Nations command, Van Fleet emphasized: "There is no cease-fire order in Korea."

Van Fleet said action is being taken to clarify "who misinterpreted the directive." Shortly after that announcement, artillery officers on the western front announced their guns were blasting away at Red troop concentrations, gun positions and installations.

The change came on the same front where reports of a new "don't shoot first" policy originated. Van Fleet's statement did not say what directives the original Eighth Army order contained. Nor did he say that troops would be ordered to resume full scale fighting along the quiet 145-mile front.

Chemical Helps Slow Tooth Decay

WASHINGTON — (AP) — After a study of the pros and cons, a special committee of the National Research Council has concluded that the addition of certain chemicals to drinking water can help reduce tooth decay. In endorsing the fluoridation of public water supplies, however, the committee said it should be done only under expert dental and engineering supervision by state boards of health.

A report made by the group last night said the safety of fluoridation depends on proper controls. It also said that its effectiveness depends on proper selection of water supplies to be treated.

Because of the controversy over the matter, the committee was appointed last spring to make the study. Its parent body, the National Research Council, is a federation of scientific societies chartered by Congress.

Crude Oil Could Be Doubled In U.S.

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — The chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of California says crude oil production could be doubled in this country in one year and tripled in 18 months if the Tidelands dispute were settled. R. Gwin Folts of San Francisco said in an interview here yesterday that failure of the government to clarify title to the Tidelands has brought additional exploration there to a standstill. Folts was here to inspect Louisiana oil fields and attend a meeting of the company's directors, scheduled for today.

U.S. Throws Weight Into Europe Army

ROME —(AP)— The United States today threw its full diplomatic weight behind efforts to push forward plans for a 43-division European army. High officials who attended the NATO council meetings that ended here yesterday said the U.S. is extremely eager to have a treaty outlining precise plans for this international force for the next council meeting, opening in Lisbon next Feb. 2.

They feel this is urgent because: 1. The European nations will be preparing their 1952 budgets just after the turn of the year. Unless appropriations for European army forces are made, the six - nation effort to build up an international force to defend Europe will be delayed again. 2. If negotiations drag on, West Germany is expected to show increasingly less interest in participation.

"The situation in Germany will not remain fluid indefinitely," officials in Oklahoma City Dec. 3 when the hearing on Central Airlines' permanent permit to operate through Pampa comes up.

The Pampa group will be 35th on the list to tell, under oath, conditions existing around Pampa which make it necessary for the airline to serve the city. Central has been operating during the past two years on a temporary permit. Because Pampa is so far down the list, a check will be made with CAB in Oklahoma City to learn the approximate time they will be called to the witness stand. About 12 local men will make the trip.

One of the Pampans' arguments will be the serious curtailment of air mail service should the line be denied permit. (See PAMPAN, Page 3)

Five City Officers In Shooting Match

Five local policemen completed this afternoon with five Texas highway patrolmen from Amarillo in target practice at Recreation park. The competition is part of the annual district meeting of highway patrolmen in the Panhandle. About 30 men are expected to be present at the meeting, which begins at 6:30 p.m. in corporation court. Capt. Polk Ivy, district patrol head, will be in charge. For the first time in 15 years Pampa was chosen for the meeting. Amarillo always has been the site.

Soil Conservation Officers Named

Officers for the Gray County Soil Conservation district were elected at a meeting of the conservation board yesterday. Foster Whaley, county agent, announced. W. B. Jackson was named president, Homer Abbot vice president and William A. Waggoner secretary-treasurer. Other members of the board present were Jack Stephens and Jess Groves.

Reaction Said Good To Explorer Clinic

Reaction to the Explorer Scout vocational clinic held in Borger yesterday was good, according to Paul Beisenherz, scout executive. The clinic, an all-day session held at Frank Phillips college in Borger, was attended by 325 Explorers and about 50 adult leaders. The clinic was made up of panel discussions on the vocations presented and of tours which demonstrated the vocations.

"We want to impress upon you that the world doesn't owe you anything but an opportunity," J. W. Dillard, dean of Frank Phillips Junior college, told Explorers. The second Boy Scout guidance seminar to be held in the United States opened at 9:30 a. m. yesterday in the college with group singing led by Paul L. Beisenherz, Pampa Scout head.

Police Chief John Wilkinson, representing part of the law enforcement panel, was present along with John Schoolfield who represented building trades. "The boys had plenty of questions during the discussions," Beisenherz said. "We are going to make it an annual event."

About 45 Explorers were present from Pampa posts with 19 coming from the Lefors group. Conferences were held on agriculture, engineering, graphic arts, medicine, motor mechanics, metal works, law, teaching and other selected trades and professions. The clinic was ended with a social sponsored by the Borger Senior Girl Scouts.

Free Enterprise To Be Discussed

A program dealing with free enterprise in national affairs will be presented at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 10, in the Palm Room, City Hall, Charles B. Cook, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, announced this morning. Tom V. Weston, special counselor for the United States Chamber of Commerce on national affairs, will speak at a dinner meeting which will take the place of the monthly meeting of Chamber directors. Reservations may be made by calling the chamber office.

Three Possible Sources For Armory Fire

Three sources could have started the ruinous fire early Wednesday morning that left Pampa without a National Guard armory, Capt. Charles L. Robison reported this morning.

1. The ceiling heater that may have failed to turn off Tuesday night. 2. Faulty plumbing; the piping developed several gas leaks during the past months, but they were repaired. Another could have broken out. 3. Faulty wiring that had been reported to the National Guard.

Late this morning Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said he did not know what caused the fire because the building was a total loss by the time firemen arrived Monday morning. "I am not in a position to say what caused it because the fire demolished everything and there was nothing left to point directly to or give any evidence of just what set the building on fire," Winborne declared.

Winborne also said this morning the main used by firemen to fight the blaze is a four-inch line and not a two-inch line as previously reported. The water pressure was low because the line is far away from the nearest water tower.

The chief explained he had a two and one-half inch fire hose running from the main and that size hose could not be run from a two-inch water line. The amount part of the loss this morning Robison said the fire destroyed 76 cabinets; nine pistols; one 50 calibre machine (See POSSIBLE, Page 2)

Brewing Beer Big Business Years Ago In Mesopotamia

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, AP Science Editor
NEW YORK—Brewing beer was big business in Mesopotamia 2,400 years ago and women were the master brewers.
 This ancient beer was called Kas, and made just like modern beer, but with some varieties not now on the market. It was Friender Beer, and nothing much was lacking except the commercials.
 All this is revealed in a clay tablet, with pictures, from ancient Mesopotamia, now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was translated by scholars of the Catholic University in Washington and the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. The translation is published by the American Oriental Society with aid from the United States Brewers Foundation, Inc., New York.
 The studies hint the origins of beer, far earlier. This guess is that beer originated from food preservation very long ago.
 The preserved foods were barley and grains, sprouted in water, and dried when the sprouts became sweet. That is the stage when sprouts fill with maltose sugar.
 By 2,400 years ago beer was linked with religion. Beer-making was apparently the only profession protected by female divinity. It was under two goddesses, Nin, KA, SI, and Sirus. Just Kas, and made just like modern brewers is not told. But the ladies' high position was usurped by men about 2,100 years ago.
 Malt was made from barley. Yeast apparently was used in fermentation as today. The scholars inferred that certain strains of yeast were cultivated for beer, even as today.
 Just as now the by-product mash was known to be good food for animals and Babylonians fed it to cattle. The workers' pay received as part pay bread-shaped cakes called huppur or beer bread. Like today's ads the ancient tablet emphasized taste, color and strength. There were many varieties. There was whitish beer, dark beer, reddish beer, beer with a head and beer without a head.
 One beer not now sold appears to have been popular because of drinkers sat, in front of a large, shapely jar standing on the floor. Their beer rods were four or five feet long, curved to reach down into the jar for a sociable sip.

Labor Unions Ask Pay Raises

HOUSTON—(P)—Three labor unions have coordinated their pay raises requests of the oil industry.
 The Houston Post said today 17 independent unions and AFL organizations have joined the CIO Oil Workers International union in seeking blanket pay raises of 25 cents an hour.
 Meanwhile, A. E. Oliphant, president of the Baytown Employees federation, mailed a letter to Humble Oil and Refining Co. withdrawing the union's demand for a 5 percent wage boost and cash.
 The demand follows action of the 120,000 oil workers—CIO union last week in which the 25 cents an hour figure was determined as the increase to be asked.
 In Saudi Arabia huge sand-spreaders, used by U. S. railroads to fight snow, have been found useful for plowing away sand in heavy dune areas.
 Some six billion checks are printed annually to supply the need for this handy substitute for cash.

gun and two barrels; three new 3.5 roset launchers (commonly known as bazookas); a large number of binoculars; and an unknown number of uniforms. Many of the men had their uniforms at home and an inventory from that will have to be made before that loss can be determined.

Although the firearms have been recovered, they are useless. One of the heavy machine gun barrels bent under the intense heat.

Col. James Clark, Berger, commander of the 47th Field Artillery Observation Battalion, arrived in Pampa last night to look over the ruins.

The colonel warned that although the armory is a total loss it is still the property of the United States government and pilfering will be prosecuted.

Guardsmen, with their personal weapons in nearby parked cars, patrolled the area throughout the night and this morning. Guarding the ruins were: Sgt. Charles Adamson, Cpl. Charles Everett, Pvt. Lilburn Howell, Charles Smith and Paul Combs.

Brig. Gen. Dallas Matthews, director of the State National Guard armory board at Austin said this morning that funds for an armory here are non-existent because that money is allocated by the federal government. He said he hoped funds would be available next year for armories in Texas, but that he, as director of the armory board, did not set the priorities for new armories.

It was Gray County, not the city of Pampa that suffered the loss from the building being destroyed.

The armory was one of two buildings purchased from the city of Pampa for base and set up at Recreation park at a total cost of $18,000. The armory had been no breakdown on what but county officials said there had been no breakdown on what each of the two buildings cost, but they were in and remodeling them.

There was no insurance on the building. County Judge Bruce Parker said the insurance would have cost $3500 for five years on the building. It was netting the county $75 a month rent from the National Guard.

In the meantime guardsmen were looking around for office equipment. By 11 a.m. Warrant Officer William Leonard and Cpl. Kay Francher obtained a desk and a typewriter from the Pampa Daily News. The battery Leonard said, could use at least two or three typewriters.

National Guard representatives are expected to arrive in Pampa next week to investigate the fire and make arrangements for permanent battery quarters where they can meet and store incoming replacements for equipment lost in the blaze.

At present the unit is meeting in the American Legion hall.

mission to continue operation through here.

A check with Postmaster W.B. Weatherford on the amount of mail received from Pampa by Central over the last six months showed:

March, 650 pounds, April, 854; May, 640; June, 560; July, 509; August, 580; September, 547; October, 742; In December, 1950, approximately 1500 pounds of mail left by Central Airlines. Although the post office officials said they had no record of incoming air mail, they estimated it was heavier than that going out.

The rapid growth of Pampa and increased use of air travel now and in the immediate future will also be stressed by the group when they appear before the board.

Those attending the meeting yesterday in the Hughes building were:

Gene Owen, representing Central Airlines; M. M. Moyer, Charles Cook, chamber of commerce president; Farris Oden, Ivy Duncan, Gene Fatheree, W. B. Weatherford; E. O. Wedgworth, chamber manager; E. Roy Smith and Curtis Douglas.

MORE PRECIOUS THAN RUBIES

By Nina Wilcox Putnam

Copyright 1951 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE small white radio with the coral knobs sputtered little over the announcement that The Mammoth gold-buying Company, the oldest establishment of its kind in New York City, was responsible for her favorite program and Alma Conroy provided words to the classical recording which followed.

"Perhaps tonight everything will be all right," she said, trying to believe that the hope would materialize.

It was part of a routine. Every evening Alma forced herself to give some optimistic note before Tommy, her husband, came home. Occasionally Tommy came home sober and cheerful. At other times—well, he did not mean to be wrong!

A wave of unreasoning love and sympathy for him swept over her, so acute that it was like a spasm of pain, and unconsciously she pressed back her mop of copper-colored hair in a defiant gesture, as if to tell the world that she would not let Tommy, she knew better. Way down deep in him was an essential goodness and some day something would bring it to the surface and make him the man he should be: take him a success instead of an underpaid drudge.

"It had to be, dear God, it had to come true, this dream of hers! Yes, in spite of what had happened last afternoon—and the fact that "I wouldn't be at The House at all, if it hadn't been for your influence and your doddering grandfathers."

Dear Joe, Alma thought, dear good Joe, he can't keep his love for me out of his voice, no matter how scrupulously he tries to hide it for Tommy's sake! Aloud she spoke cheerfully:

"I'm the same healthy red-head you said 'bye now' to at The House! Anything make you think differently?" She could feel his hesitation.

"Is Tommy home yet?" he finally said. Intuitively Alma knew this was a warning.

"No. Where did you see him?" she asked quickly.

"At the Blue Cat Bar. He was drinking with Bright Muncie."

bull prongs. Studying the drawing Alma forgot everything else. She had brought it home to outline a set-up for her own guidance, and the pieces would take plenty of time to make—barely she promised them in two weeks?

There was a sound at the door and she dropped the drawing, her heart resuming its anxious inquiry. Then Tommy Conroy came into the room, his thin darkly handsome face flushed, his manner carefully sober. He was not in bad shape she noted with quick relief, but there was a curious defiant brightness in his eyes. He flung a large package onto the sofa and his soft black hat on top of it.

she would have to break the bad news to him.

She opened the box of flowers she had bought on her way home from work and the strong clean perfume of freshest blossoms to compete with the savory odors which poured from the tiny kitchenette. Alma put the blossoms in a bowl and set it on the card table which was already laid for dinner, and then set the chic, modernistic room to rights. It was always a nervous relief to use her hands—those well-shaped skilful hands which all day long manipulated gold or platinum and precious stones, welding them into the impeccable sort of designs which during better than a hundred years had made Trumbull & Company America's symbol for fine jewelry. Alma Conroy was the only woman journeyman-jeweler at The House, as its employees reverently called it, and she was proud of this distinction.

The work was absorbing, the endless cascade of jewels passing through her hands lent an unfeeling magic to her day's work. And then when the day's work was done there was this—the dread that Tommy would again fall here!

THE shrilling of the telephone made her jump with alarm. That would be Tommy, urging her to abandon the meal she had prepared and join him at some bar where he would be buying the drinks for a crowd of worthless people—building up his ego by throwing away any money he happened to have on him, holding the center of the stage he did not seem able to occupy in any other manner.

Well, this time she would refuse to go. She could not sit there and suffer the sight of her man cheapening himself—not again—never again even though it meant the first voluntary separation during the five years of their marriage. Her hand trembled as she picked up the receiver, but it was not Tommy.

"Alma, my dear," Joe Denton's rich voice was like balm to her taut nerves. "I just wanted to be sure you were all right."

This was news. Alma had never had any particular liking for the colorful but worthless only son of the dignified president of Trumbull's—the fruit of a late second marriage. That the young man was employed by The House at all was a matter of store gossip, and she was not aware that Tommy knew Brighton Muncie except by sight. It was certainly surprising that the two should be together.

"I suppose you'll say it's a case of birds of a feather," she tried to make her voice light.

"No," said Joe gravely. "It's just that—well, you know Tommy can be a handful when he's been drinking. And I can generally calm him down. If you should need me, I'll be home all evening."

ALMA thanked him and hung up, feeling weak and shaken. It was awful, the way people felt about Tommy, even Joe Denton, his best friend. If Joe had fallen in love with her, at least he had never said so and had tried to hide it, even from himself. Joe was loyal to Tommy. They had gone to school together, worked in the same places. But in her heart Alma knew that by now Joe had come almost to the end of his patience, seeing what a drag upon her Tommy had become.

"Apparently everybody except Tommy and myself thinks I ought to leave him!" she said aloud. "I know I ought to leave him. That makes sense. But I happen to love him—and love seldom makes sense, I guess!"

She went back and forth from the kitchenette, wondering how much longer she could endure the strain of her domestic life. Well, thank goodness, there was always her work—an escape into beauty and luxury. On top of the evening paper lay a design for a pair of diamond clips; one of those incredibly accurate pen-and-ink drawings which the designing department handed out. It required 80 stones—baguettes, rounds and emerald-cut squares, the center stones to be raised in the world-famous Trum-

"Hello, Jewels!" he said. Then he strode over and snapped off the radio.

"How you can stand that stuff!" he said contemptuously.

"It's one of the best on the air!" "I'm sick of gold-buying—or selling! I get enough of that without having to take on the air!"

"I thought you were not interested in Trumbull's," she said.

"Not in being a sort of super-stock boy in the china department." Alma bit her lip. Now she'd have to tell him.

"I'm afraid I have bad news," she said. "I talked to Mr. Greig of the art department today. I'm afraid they want a photographer more along Mr. Dell's lines!"

"That doddering old fool—isn't he going to retire after all?" "Alvin Dell has been good enough to make the commercial photographs at The House for 40 years!" she said reprovingly.

"Yes, while I wouldn't be at The House at all if it hadn't been for your influence and your doddering grandfathers!" She could feel her face growing crimson.

"Don't you speak of Papa Victor like that!" she fared. Tommy had the grace to look ashamed.

"Sorry," he mumbled ungraciously. "I know Victor is the Mr. Chips of the jewelry world and that he's been at Trumbull's for 60 years and all that. But listen! Everybody else at Trumbull's may think that just being there is reward enough for their services, but I don't! And now, what about Dell? Is he going or isn't he?"

"Yes, he's retiring," she said, and I told Mr. Greig that you were the logical man for the job—I showed him your photographs and he had to admit they were wonderful, but . . ."

"But what?" "I guess maybe for once the truth won't hurt you." She was watching him with pain in her eyes. "He said you weren't the caliber for a position of such responsibility."

Big Question In Tax Mess Is How To Prevent Repetition

WASHINGTON — (AP) — One question keeps poking its head through the scandals in the Internal Revenue bureau: how to prevent a repetition when the mess is finally cleaned up? There's no single answer. The bureau's machinery for collecting taxes and checking to see that the arithmetic is right and no fraud is concealed is extremely complex. This presumably will be improved. And the bureau will have to find some way of double checking on its employees, checking on one another, to keep crookedness to a minimum. But the best machinery can't change people. Some are crooks, inside the bureau and outside among the people who pay taxes and want to cheat and defraud. Now and in the future any crookedness by a bureau employee will be impossible, no matter what kind of machinery is used, without connivance by a crooked taxpayer. The only foolproof remedy is complete honesty by the public. And even with all the improvements being talked about, a lot of taxpayers will be able to get by with some loot since there won't be enough bureau employees to check every return thoroughly. The commissioner of internal revenue is boss of the bureau's 55,000 employees. But you, as a taxpaying citizen, will rarely have dealings with him, directly. When you file a return, you send it to the collector of internal revenue for your district. There are 82 district collectors, and all are political appointees. This makes the collectors different from the bureau's other employees who are under the government's civil service system and therefore, theoretically at least, are making government work a career. They're not supposed to have any outside interests. But it's been all right for the non-civil service politically appointed collectors to have outside interests. There's been a strong cry to take the inspectors out of politics; make it a law that only civil service people, coming up through the ranks, can get collector's jobs. And when Congress returns in January President Truman will formally recommend that. And Congress undoubtedly will carry out the idea. But that will be only a minor adjustment. The collector, no matter how he's appointed, will need some checking since, so long as he has the power of doing pretty much as he pleases in his own office, he can still "fix" a case. And here's another example of how a fix for a fee can continue unless some way is found to check and doublecheck: An agent goes over your return and decides you've pulled a fast one. He goes to see you for explanation. If you're a crook, you try to bribe him. If he's crooked, he'll take it. Then, if there's no double-check on your return and his audit of your return, no one will be the wiser. Honest taxpayers are the final, most effective assurance of honest tax collection.

Diplomatic Corps TOKYO — (AP) —

The Japanese foreign office is drafting legislation to give this country a streamlined diplomatic corps when she regains international status. The new legislation will provide that ambassadors and ministers may be named from qualified men in government, business and public life. Before the war, only career diplomats could hold these posts.

Cement Expensive BRISBANE, Australia — (AP) —

Queenslanders are buying thousands of bags of Japanese cement at nearly four times the price of locally produced cement. Reason is that there is not enough local cement to go around.

By P. W. LITCHFIELD
Board Chairman, Goodyear Tire
Written for NEA Service and Rubber Co.

AKRON, O. —(NEA)— Ours is a country that grew great because from the beginning we have been a people of broad vision and great energy. We pushed back frontiers and hewed trails through impenetrable forests.

We have never waited for a path to be beaten to our doors; we have blasted mountains to make a path to wherever the product of our ingenuity could be used. Wherever we saw the need, we cut a wider, a longer, a better path.

The result is probably the greatest mileage of road and highway in the world. Unfortunately, great as the mileage is, it is not enough. As a simple, demonstrable fact, we do not have half enough roads today. If our highways are the arteries that carry the lifeblood of our economic system, our country is on the verge of a serious illness.

We do not have enough road to meet our economic or social needs today. As we grow bigger, this lack of roads will choke us.

Today, half the wage earners in the United States get to and from their jobs by highway transportation. As our business and industry grows it tends to spread farther beyond residential areas and there will be more people traveling farther to and from work, over roads that even now can't carry them.

In every part of our country the trend is rapidly toward dispersion. You can see it in towns like Los Angeles, or Houston, or New York, or towns too small to be on the map. You can see how fast we are approaching a crisis from the fact that 90 percent of our food and 75 percent of all our freight depend for distribution upon highway transportation.

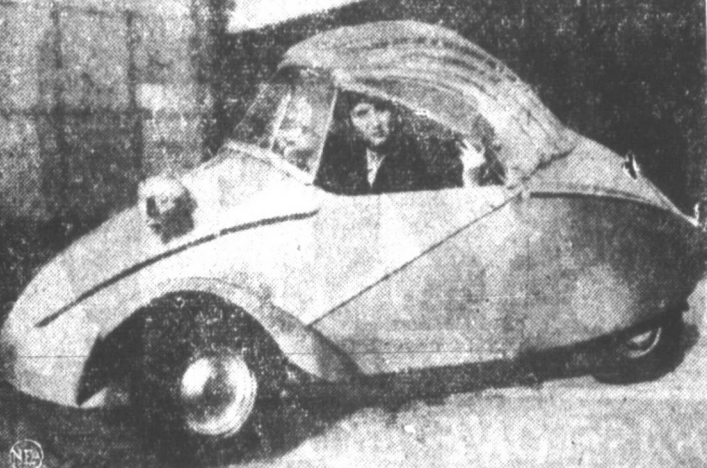

What's more, there are more than 25,000 communities in this country entirely dependent upon motor vehicle transportation for their daily existence.

Not only are we not making provision for our growth, even now we don't have enough or good enough roads to meet our needs.

We are putting more vehicles on our roads and at a greater rate than any of us ever anticipated. Since the war, new motor vehicle registration has increased at the average of 3,700,000 per year. Our six percent of the world's population uses 75 percent of the world's passenger cars and 51 percent of its trucks and buses.

It is incredible that a country that takes pride in the fact that the automobile is a casual necessity, allows its highways building program to lag so far behind that today 99 percent of our roads are only two lanes wide—or less. Difficult to believe as it may be, about half the principal rural highways, carrying more than 1000 vehicles a day, are less than 20 feet wide.

The time has come to do something about this. If we are to pass on to our children a country with as much opportunity as we had, we must now create a broad, comprehensive, and integrated highway building program.

CONVERTIBLE CAR-CYCLE—You might call it a car or a motorcycle, but a better tag would be "convertible." The 4.5 horsepower, three-wheeled vehicle was shown in the international bicycle and motorcycle exhibition at Frankfurt, Germany. Its top, made of plastic, is inflated like a balloon to keep out rain. In fair weather, it's folded into a small handbag. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Hans Jaeger.)

Eugene Cooper Scores TKO; Sheppard Boxers Defeat Jets

Pampa's Eugene Cooper, boxer, didn't meet with the approval of the Amarillo Air Force base, showed the crowd last night as he scored a second round technical knockout over John Burton, Sheppard Air Force base Negro, from Amarillo regional title holder Washington, D. C., in the wind-up of the night at Amarillo. Cooper showed his opponent the lusty southpaw belts that send him down for a nine count in the first round and then knock him through the ropes and it of the ring in the second round before referee J. C. Oakley firmly stopped the bout.

SHEPPARD WINS
The win wasn't enough for Amarillo team however, as they lost the match to Sheppard.

Over 2000 fans witnessed the matches in Hangar No. 100 on the AAFB reservation. The fact it was on government property made it possible to stage mixed fights for one of the infrequent times in Texas. Another ex-Pampa slugger, Mananche Martin, had his rematch with William Taylor, who plenty full with William Taylor and follows.

MAKE AWARDS
Each winner received a gold boxing glove mounted on a plaque and a government check. Col. Ray Clark, post commander, awarded outstanding sportsmanship awards to Willie Banks and Bob Totten.

The complete results were as follows:
170 pounds — Franklin Taylor, Amarillo, TKO over John Burton, Sheppard, 1:30 of second.
145-pounds — Junior Martin, Amarillo, TKO over John Burton, Sheppard, 1:30 of second.

THREE UNBEATEN
Lubbock, Ray and Lamar entered the state title race with undefeated records and will be favored to win their first round games although Lamar is a very narrow choice over Baytown. The Woodrow Wilson-Arlington Heights game is considered a toss-up.

SWC Ready For Finale

(By the Associated Press)
While eyes of Southwest Conference football fans turned today to College Station for the belated Thanksgiving day clash between Texas and Texas A&M, four other schools prepared for week-end clashes which probably will determine the champion of the loop.

If Texas Christian can bounce Southern Methodist Saturday at Fort Worth, then the Christians have the conference title all sewed up.

If TCU loses, then a number of "ifs" enter the picture. Baylor, Rice, TCU and Texas — if it wins today — still would figure in the title chase.

Baylor, which has the best chance to grab the crown if Texas Christian slips, spent a long workout yesterday concentrating on defense. Frank Bouldin and Jerry Coody continued to alternate at Dick Parma's full-back slot. Parma will miss the game because of a collar bone injury.

The bears wind up practice today and fly to Houston Friday. To the Southern Methodist

Ready To Deal Stanky To Cardinal Post

NEW YORK — (AP) — Eddie Stanky virtually is certain of succeeding Marty Marion as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. No definite agreement has been reached as yet, but presidents Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants and Fred M. Saigh of the Cardinals will meet within the next few days with the hope of closing the deal, brewing since the world series.

The transaction may not be announced until the minor league convention in Columbus next week.

The Cards will be asked to turn over pitcher Max Lanier and outfielder Chuck Diering for Stanky, who will then sign as a player-manager with the Redbirds for a two-year contract at $35,000 per season.

EDDIE STANKY

Although Saigh has been quoted as saying that he had three men in mind for the job, he has not seriously considered anybody other than Stanky.

QUARTERBACK OF INFELD
It was only a question whether Stoneham was willing to part with the Giants' colorful starting quarterback, admittedly the inspirational spark who drove the team to the National League flag last season.

Stoneham is loathe to lose the "quarterback" of his infield but is expected to agree to the transaction only because he does not want to be accused of "blocking Stanky's chance of realizing his dream" — managing a big league club.

Saigh, who had rejected an earlier New York request for Enos Slaughter, the colorful Harry Brecheen, is equally reluctant to part with Lanier. Finally convinced, however, the Giants won't back down on their latest demand, the Redbird boss is ready to give up his veteran southpaw.

In acquiring the colorful Stanky, Saigh is getting the kind of manager he always has yearned for — an aggressive, firebrand type of leader who, from his record, is bound to instill fight and hustle into any club he is connected with.

Saigh's criticism of Marion was that Marty wasn't aggressive enough and didn't devote as much time as he should have to running the club.

STANKY READY
That Stanky will not find with Stanky, who talks and thinks baseball every waking hour of the day.

Reached in his home at Fair Hope, Ala., Stanky refused to discuss the matter until it was known that he had accepted the job. However, he did say he was definite in wanting to manage a big league club.

"I feel I am now ready to handle a job as a major league manager," he said. However, "I have not talked to Mr. Saigh."

Stanky played in 146 games last season. He batted a disappointing .247 but played a splendid game in the field, drew a trunkful of walks, scored 88 runs and slammed 15 homers, the highest output of his 17-year career, nine in the big leagues.

Although 34 years old, he stole eight bases, third high on the Giants. The previous year Stanky placed second in the National League's most valuable player poll.

Lanier, 37 years old next August, was classed as a spot pitcher last season. He ended up with a creditable 11-9 record. He gave up 149 hits in 160 innings and hurled nine complete games.

Diering, 28, is regarded as a "good-field, no-hit" flycatcher. He has few equals in going and getting them in centerfield but his best stick mark in four years was the Redbirds was .263 in 1949. He batted .259 in 64 games last year and failed to hit one out of the park. The Giants regard Diering as valuable insurance in the event centerfielder Willie Mays is drafted into the army.

Pampa Cagers Open Tuesday

The Pampa Harvester basketball team will take up where the football team left off next Tuesday night when they open their 1951-52 cage campaign by hosting the Stratford Elks at the Junior high school gym.

McNeely is expected to open up with a lineup of four seniors and a sophomore. Senior starting guards will probably be Tommy Smith and Jimmy Dulaney, Smith a returning letterman. Lankey, Duane Jeter, "Hustling" Harvesters Marvin Bond, a sophomore, are expected to fill out the front line.

For reserve strength, and sure to see action, will be Freddie Woods, Jon Oden, Allie Miller, Nuddy Cockrell, Roy Pool, Billy Webb and Charley McCray. Oden was all yesterday, and missed the workout, devoted mainly to off-court.

The Guerrillas worked out hard and long under Coach Aubra Moonmaster, who is going to handle the Harvester cage coaching job this season. He has a dozen candidates out bidding for posts on that club. Latest acquisition to the team was Ed Dudley, sophomore griddler, who is rapidly turning into an around-the-seasides talent.

The Harvester game Tuesday night, as will all Harvester games at home and away, will be broadcast by KPDM.

Mitchell's Eagles Closing Season

DENTON — (AP) — The North Texas State Eagles, losers to Chattanooga last week, will wind up their 32-game season here tomorrow afternoon against a University of Houston eleven which last week trounced Oklahoma A&M, 21-7.

The Eagles have gained an average of 405 yards each game while holding the opposition to 207. North Texas has rolled up 420 points for a 38-point game average compared with 112 and 10-point average for the 11 poll.

Raiders Meet H-SU For Border Crown

EL PASO — (AP) — People in West Texas are considered right friendly, pardner. But it won't look that way Saturday. There's a first-rate neighborhood brawl scheduled.

The fight will be between two football teams, Hardin-Simmons U. and Texas Tech college. They're located only 150 miles apart in each other's backyard by West Texas reckoning. And the team that manages to walk off the field winner very probably will get a coveted bid to the El Paso Sun Bowl.

Yesterday, the other Sun Bowl team was announced — colorful College of Pacific.

REVENGE CHANCE
Which will make Hardin-Simmons even harder to get along with Saturday. For the Cowboys — if they win and get the bowl bid — will be shooting for a rare chance: to avenge an early-season lacing suffered from COP.

College of Pacific defeated the Cowboys, 33-7, while the season still was young. Gene Donahue, chairman of the Sun Bowl selection committee, said yesterday that will make little difference if Hardin-Simmons wins Saturday.

He brushed off the cowpokes' loss this way: "Hardin-Simmons has a powerful high scoring team. They lost their first game of the season. It might not have happened later in the season."

Also riding on Saturday's game at Abilene will be the championship of the up-and-coming Border Conference. Neither team has suffered a league defeat.

HS-U BOWL VETERANS
Hardin-Simmons is a bowl veteran. One year it boasted four bowl contacts — a Jan. 1 affair in 1948 in San Diego and three more at the end of the 1948 season.

Donahue said yesterday it wasn't definite that the nod for the Sun Bowl but it was probable. He also predicted that if either team is invited that it will accept.

Earlier, COP athletic director Earl Jackson said the school's board of athletic control reversed a previous bid to accept the bid from the Sun Bowl. The board reversed itself at the team's request. Jackson reported.

College of Pacific has won 6 and lost 4. Hardin-Simmons had the same record. Texas Tech has won 8 and lost 4.

Villanova Gridder Is Suicide Victim

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Nick Liotta, 22-year-old Villanova college football co-captain, was found dead in a dormitory basement yesterday. Police said death was by hanging. The coroner's office described it as natural causes. "Admiral Township police said they found Liotta's body under a strip of piping, a coil of telephone wire twisted around his neck. The wire, police said in their official report, had been looped over a pipe."

Joseph Tercha, Delaware County coroner, said Dr. John Turner of Bryn Mawr informed him that Liotta died of natural causes, apparently of a heart attack. He added that no autopsy is planned.

REPORTERS
The college, operated by the Roman Catholic Order of St. Augustine, announced only that Liotta was dead and that the cause of death was unknown. Beyond that most officials held to steadfast silence. Teammates of the popular Liotta, who was a candidate for all-America honors as a guard, were reported to be under strict orders from college authorities to say nothing. Reporters seek to talk to the players were turned away from the dormitories.

Liotta — christened Dominic — was born in Everett, Mass. After his graduation from high school there he joined the army, serving two years, most of it in Japan where he played on the all-star service eleven.

Already he had been chosen by the Football Writers Association of America as a member of its all-America team selected for Look magazine. He also had been named to the Associated Press all-Pennsylvania football squad.

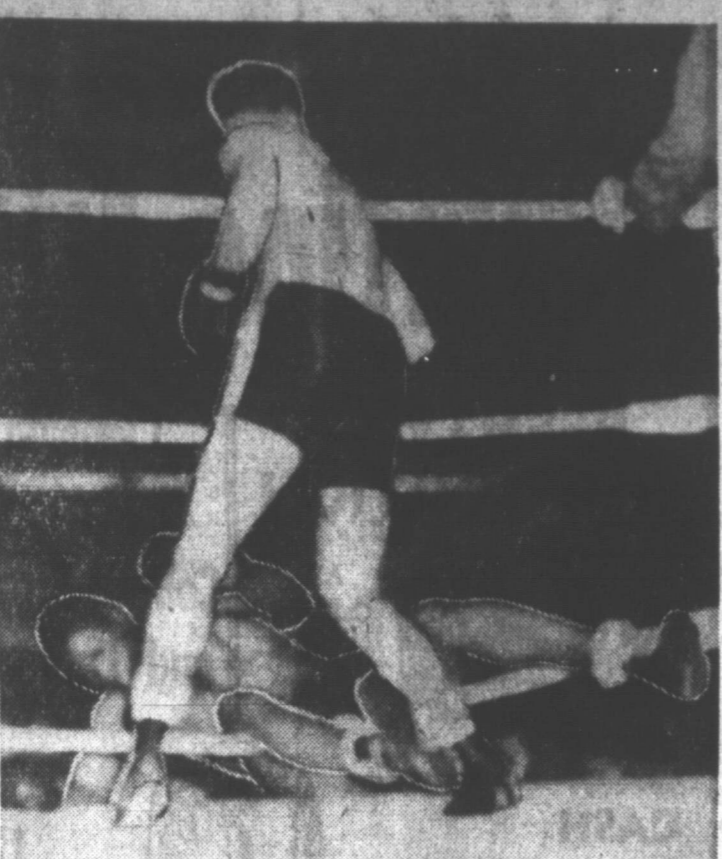

One college official said Liotta had been despondent since Villanova lost 20-13 to Boston College before his family and home town fans at Boston two weeks ago. The official indicated Liotta's low spirits were more noticeable after Villanova took a 45-7 lacing at the hands of Louisiana State last week.

CANCEL TULSA TILT
Although the college's official statement on the 225-pound player's death said he had been ill for the past two days, it was learned he practiced for the scheduled Tulsa game on Tuesday. The game booked for the Oklahoma city Saturday, has been cancelled. It would have been the windup of a nine-game schedule in which Villanova won five and lost three.

The hard working guard played on both offense and defense in this age of platoon football when most players specialize in either offense or defense. His coach, Art Raino, rated him as "the finest collegiate lineman I've ever seen."

Raino, himself a native of Everett, said "any coach in the country who had a Liotta on his team would be foolish not to use him every second he could."

Members of Liotta's family were stunned by the news of his death. His father, Peter, a barber, told friends Nick "always was carefree and a great favorite with his classmates when he attended Everett high."

Game Warden Straightens Out Few Questions Of Hunters

"There has been a great amount of misunderstanding about the rights of both hunters and land owners lately," said state game warden G. P. "Slim" Davis yesterday, and we ought to clear it up.

As regard to the trespass law, it is NOT necessary to place any signs on a place that has a fence around it, even though the fence may be down at a gate or cattle guard. Everyone MUST have the permission of the person in charge of any land that they wish to hunt on. This law has been in effect since 1929, and there is no excuse for anyone not to know it. It isn't necessary to have written permission to hunt on a man's land, but you must have his permission. Written permission is helpful in case of any question."

WILD ANIMALS
"One of the rights of free people," Davis continued, "is that all of the wild animals, birds and fishes belong to all the people. That is, any wild thing that has been taken by a person may belong to him, provided that it be taken in such a manner as is prescribed by laws governing the taking. But we still have to recognize the property laws of the landowners."

Davis went on to say that raccoon hunting has become quite popular lately and many coon dog packs have been raised, but again the hunter must have permission to hunt with them. Davis said it's unlawful to have a gun and any sort of artificial light in country where deer are known to range. There are very few places here in the Panhandle," he said. "Where there is good coon hunting that there aren't some deer. So be sure and leave that gun at home when you go coon hunting," Davis warned.

SEASONS
The open seasons here are: Ducks and geese — Nov 9 through Dec. 28. Possession limits are two geese and five ducks per day and only two days' possession limits may be had.

Deer — Nov 17 through Nov. 27 (season now closed). Limit is one buck per season. Deer must have pronged horns and no shotguns or 22 rim rifles may be used.

Maj. Hoople Closes By Flouting Detractors With Late Longshot

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Father of the Trap
It is always with a great emotional upheaval that I take leave of my millions of readers as we reach the end of the football season.

I have seemed so close to you during those halcyon Fall days when I flouted my detractors by forecasting amazing results. (Editor's Note: Amazing is a mild word and leaves much unsaid. Hoople's forecasts were horrible!) True, some of my more vociferous adherents waxed acrimonious from time to time, and sent me insulting letters. But Hoople forgives all, realizing that words uttered in the heat of anger often are not seriously meant.

As a closing gesture, I am giving you one tremendous upset and a few minor unexpected results. Not one other person in the United States will choose Vanderbilt to defeat mighty Tennessee.

When the curtain comes down Saturday night, a mighty chorus of cheers will go up for Hoople, the man who selected this astounding reversal of form. Him!

Defense Stressed By Red Raiders

ABELENE — (AP) — It's no secret that Texas Tech's Red Raiders have been stressing defense in preparations for their game with Hardin-Simmons University here Saturday afternoon.

Since both the Raiders and the Cowboys are undefeated in league play the contest will determine the Border Conference championship.

As if facing the nation's No. 2 rusher, Dunny Goode of Midland, wasn't enough, the Raiders also will encounter a top-flight passer in Bob Hart of Loveland. He ranked sixteenth last week.

Hardin - Simmons, report Tech scouts, has a better-balanced offense than Tulsa University. Even though held to a 21-14 score, the Golden Hurricanes gained 427 yards against Tech. With the Cowboys a more pass-conscious team, Tech will be less able to mass its defense against rushing.

Even New Mexico University, outclassed 60-16 last week, was able to complete two touchdown passes and gain 121 yards passing.

Coach DeWitt Weaver warned the Red Raiders not to take

PAMPA NEWS, THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1951 PAGE 9
seriously a score comparison involving Tech's 41-0 win over Arizona and Hardin - Simmons' 14-13 triumph over the Wildcats last week.
"Remember, our win was at our homecoming, and Hardin-Simmons played on a muddy field — a great equalizer — against an improved Arizona team. Too, I suspect the cowboys were looking ahead one week. That means they'll be ready for us."
To anyone still taking seriously a comparison of scores, Weaver cited Tech's 27-7 win over Texas Western, a school Hardin - Simmons defeated the following week 46-0.

NOBLITT-COFFEY'S FOOTBALL FORECASTS

By Pitts Smith

SOUTHERN METHODIST at TEXAS CHRISTIAN — Form charts took a terrific beating in last week's traditional games. And don't be surprised if a few more upheavals are added a Saturday's finals. The Frogs on comparative performance, rate a slight edge over S.M.U., but previous records usually mean nothing in this annual feud. The system strings along with T.C.U.

ALL-AMERICAN SQUAD — Because of the Freshman-Sophomore complex of most major teams, this year's squad is limited to Seniors. Nearly all of those selected have been stand-out players in their respective positions during their entire collegiate careers.

ENDS — McCall of Stanford, Carey of Michigan State, Faverty of Wisconsin, and Howton of Rice. TACKLES — Weatherall of Oklahoma, Coleman of Michigan State, Ulrich of Illinois, and Pearman of Tennessee. GUARDS — Ward of Maryland, Daffer of Tennessee, Beck of Georgia Tech, and Richter of California. CENTERS — Hightower of S.M.U., and Hickok of Princeton.

EVEN STEVEN—Coach Biggie Munn built so well at Macklin Field Stadium that Michigan State now competes for football stars on an equal footing with mighty Michigan. (NEA)

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
EAST LANSING, Mich. — (NEA) — Michigan State College built Jenison Gymnasium and Fieldhouse before World War II at a cost of $1,000,000. The capacity of Macklin Field Stadium was increased to 90,089 for the Notre Dame series at a cost of $1,500,000. The old fieldhouse was transformed into an ice arena at a cost of $750,000. In front of each of these structures, signs assure the public that they were constructed without expense to them. "Financed on borrowed funds to be repaid in earnings from the building," they read. Michigan State, the long-time cow college, has added 17 major buildings to the campus in an extensive post-war building program. Athletics are integrated with other institutional activities.

So, you see, the teams, especially the football varsity, just have to be good. They have to get the more important money. Chetley Bachman went along complacently at East Lansing for 13 years. As one athletic department official puts it, Coach Bachman probably recruited six or seven good boys, a nucleus, and did the best he could. But that isn't enough today, when high-pressure football demands platoons and a depth of at least three teams. So Clarence L. Munn, Minnesota all-American of 1930-31, was brought on from Syracuse to do a big league job. Biggie Munn assisted Bernie Bierman at Minnesota, was Michigan's line coach for eight campaigns. He knew the Big 10, where to look for prospects, and how best to sell the beautiful campus divided by the Red Cedar River. Alumni, dormant for 40 years, commenced to meet. Munn has built so well that Michigan State, which in the past was fortunate to land one outstanding Michigan high school boy out of four now competes for them on an equal footing with the mighty Wolverines.

The Western Conference frowned on Michigan State's Jenison Scholarships as unethical subsidization, but Michigan had the Elmer Geddes Scholarships and other free rides based on marks. Michigan State had to do something about that in order to remain in business, so the Howard C. Rather Scholarships were established. They are awarded from a fund of $15,000 a year allocated from athletic receipts. "A student receiving a Howard C. Rather Scholarship shall possess unusual qualities of leadership, demonstrated mental ability and physical strength and vigor," reads the conditions. "Mental ability shall be deemed to have been demonstrated by an entering freshman only if he shall have graduated in the top quarter of his high school or preparatory school class, and by an entering transfer student if his college record shall have been substantially as high as a B average."

Michigan State men attribute their athletic rise to two men—progressive President John A. Hannah and Athletic Director Ralph H. Young. But those closest to the situation give even more credit to an alert scouting staff, the key operatives of which are Line Coach Hugh D. (Duffy) Daugherty and End Coach Earle L. Edwards, a pair who know their way around the Pennsylvania coal regions and other fields fertile with sizable and swift kids who can block, pass carry and catch a football. Eleven varsity men and five freshmen registered from the Keystone State, a half dozen of the former from New Kensington.

Michigan has a remarkable six-foot two-inch, 238-pound freshman center, Glenn Bowers, from the neighboring state of Arizona, but Michigan State also matches the vaunted Wolverines in bringing them in from around the country. Nine states are represented on both the Spartan varsity and frosh.

Michigan coursed Duncan McDonald, the extraordinary passer of Flint Northern's championship side of last autumn, and three of his teammates—John Veselak, a six-foot-two, 190-pound end, tackle Joe Shomckey and guard Jim Wagner. Michigan State did not give up without a struggle, however, and from the same outfit grabbed two of the finest halfbacks in the state, the Negro lads, Ellis Duckett and LeRoy Bolden. Michigan State made every effort to snare McDonald and Veselak. McDonald visited East Lansing, and the story there is that he might have matriculated had not the revelation of his being rushed by the U. S. Military Academy created such furor when the West Point cribbing scandal broke. Michigan announced that McDonald would enroll at Ann Arbor, and the boy didn't want any more publicity in connection with his being proselyted.

Duckett and Bolden were as adept at catching McDonald's passes as Veselak, as all-conquering Flint Northern ran a victory streak to 15 games. Michigan State bagged 29 of the superior Michigan boys this fall, Michigan 24, which gives you a good idea of how fierce is the bidding.

Michigan State, situated between two other foremost football foundries, Michigan and Notre Dame, has a tremendous potential patronage. There are 12,400 students. The college serves more than 200,000 Michigan residents each year through its Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension and Continuing Education Services. The school is brought to the people, and fans come from Detroit, Flint, Jackson, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Saginaw.

Michigan State crashes the Big 10 in football in 1953, when Michigan has given the Spartans the eighth spot on its schedule, just ahead of Ohio State.

Michigan State played to 413,043 persons in six home and three road games last season, 97,239 at 47,461 in bad weather against Michigan, 57,886 at Notre Dame, 45,237 against Indiana at East Lansing. The price is $3.60, so you have a total gate crowding $1,500,000.

In order to pay off the building debt, receipts have to be robust and continuous. The team must have a continual influx of players capable of winning. Scholarships are one way, soft jobs on the campus another.

Harvesters Share Many Of -AAAA's Statistical Honors

As a team, the Pampa Harvesters topped the district in everything but the final standings according to the latest and final official averages released by the District I-AAAA sports writers association today.

The Harvesters had more net yardage rushing and more total yards gained through rushing, passing and penalties than any other team. The Harvesters were second in defense, the Odessa Bronchos giving up fewer yards than anyone else. The Harvesters were also second to the Bronchos in total first downs made.

In total offense the Harvesters made 3602 to their opponents' 244. The rest of the district looked like this, with the opponents' total offense listed last: Lubbock, 2459 to 2397; Odessa, 264 to 1760; Borger, 3063 to 2427; Abilene, 2969 to 2427; Amarillo, 2119 to 2702.

In defense the Harvesters made 380 to their opponents' 204; Lubbock had 345 to 239; Odessa, 26 to 176; Borger, 306 to 303; Abilene, 296 to 242; Amarillo, 27 to 225; and San Angelo, 211 to 270.

SIDE'S BEST RUSHER

James Sides of Lubbock finished with the best individual rushing average, 8.7 yards per try in 131 carries. He gained a net of 1141 yards. Second was Billy Davis with 1034 yards in 45 tries for a 7.1 average. Tommy Donnell of Amarillo finished third; Joe Youngblood of Abilene fourth and Darrell Wilson of Pampa fifth. David Enloe of the Harvesters finished thirteenth, but had the best average of 25 yards per try on 20 carries.

BEST PASSER PERCENTAGEWISE

Buddy Hill of Lubbock, throwing 41 passes and completing 23 for a 55 percent connection. Carl Schleymer, the Odessa sophomore, finished second, connecting on 54 percent. Busiest thrower was Duane McCullough of San Angelo, who tossed 127 and only connected on 28. Clayburne Bybee of Borger threw 124 and hit 46 percent. DeWey Cudney led Pampa's passers with 42 percent completions while Sid Mills hit on 37 percent of his.

LEADING RECEIVER WAS CHOPPY SPENCER OF BORGER

Spencer of Borger, who dragged down 34 for 837 yards, Jimmy Cook and Roy Pool were almost tied for the Pampa team, Cook gaining 145 yards on eight completions and Pool 143 yards on nine.

BEST PUNTER IN THE DISTRICT WAS JIMMY CAMPBELL OF SAN ANGELO

Campbell, who punted 47 times (the most) for an average of 35.5 yards. Cudney was second with a 34.8 average on 22 kicks.

BYBEE GAIN LEADER

Bybee finished as the individual gain leader with 1236 yards, 439 by rushing and 797 by passing. Sides was second with 1141 rushing and 38 pass receiving for 1179 yards. Davis finished third with 1034 on the ground and 62 pass receiving for 1096. Donnell was fourth with 1072 and Youngblood fifth with 843.

DAVIS WAS ALSO THE LEADING SCORER WITH 114 POINTS

More than Sides, Youngblood finished with 68, Gene Boyd of Abilene with 56 and Darrell Wilson with 54.

FROM THE PASSING STANDPOINT AS A TEAM, THE HARVESTERS COMPLETED 40 PERCENT OF THEIR PASSES

best in the district, and had 40 percent of those thrown against them completed, the worst in the district along with San Angelo. The Harvesters, however, had more thrown against them than any other team as the front line refused to move and their opponents took to the air. Also, none of the passes were behind the secondary for touchdowns.

MOST WERE SHORT AERIALS THAT DIDN'T DO MUCH DAMAGE

as the final record of nine wins and one defeat will testify.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLEBTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — No matter what you hear about college football players, there's one gentleman around town this week who'll swear they are a bunch of amateurs. He is silver-haired Bill Coffman, director of the Shrine East-West game in San Francisco. Bill will tell you proudly that since the game first was played in 1925 for the crippled children in the Shrine hospital no player ever has received a bonus of any kind.

"Only a couple ever have asked for one," Coffman adds. "That was about 15 years ago, and when the situation was explained to them, they conceded and joined the squad." They have their expenses paid, of course, including a few bucks for spending money as permitted by AAU regulations for amateurs. Each one gets a watch and a jacket and a trip to the Rose Bowl game. But their biggest reward comes when the players visit the hospital, where each one meets the kid who has been chosen as his "mascot." "It isn't the glamor or the publicity of playing in a big game that attracts them," says Bill. "And time after time boys have told me this is the one game they want to play in; if they're not selected, they don't want to play in any post-season game."

THE FEE IS FOR FREE

Coffman has had a few headaches with this business, but he's managed to avoid serious trouble. For instance, there was one occasion when a publicized all-America star appeared briefly on a radio program a few days before the game and was handed $500 for his trouble. . . . Somebody queried the AAU about that and was told that the boy had made himself a price at that any others who appeared in the game with him would become ineligible for amateur competition. The "out" that they could get permission to play just by asking was learned too late, but the newspapers raised such a fuss about that ruling that all were forgiven. . . . Then there was a time when a star innocently took money to play in an exhibition against a pickup squad of pros. . . . When Bill got on the phone and told the kid he'd have to return the money, he heard the plaintive reply: "Do you know how much $500 means to a college boy?" . . . But the kid gave it back; the Shrine game meant more than the $500. . . . The supposedly-mercenary coaches have the same attitude. They don't get a cent more than the players, but the biggest "name" guys in the profession almost knock one another down for the privilege of working.

HOW IT STARTED

The East-West game was just somebody's bright idea when Coffman moved into the picture in 1925. . . . Bill found a nucleus of a West squad in California's "wonder team" and the San Francisco Olympic club but he couldn't even get a reply from Bill Ingram, then Indiana coach, who had been given the job of selecting an eastern team. . . . Finally, when the program was 1929 after 11 years of part-time almost ready to go to press, study.

Fieldhouse Delays Cage Ticket Sales

Season tickets for the Pampa Harvesters basketball season haven't been placed on sale, nor even printed yet, according to Roy McMillan, school business manager.

Holding up the printing is the fact that architects have been unable to determine whether or not the new field house is going to be ready for play by the time of the first district game, Jan. 18.

At the present time workers are busy installing the base wooden floor in top of which the maps will be laid.

Classen Makes Final Selections

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK — (AP) — If this fall season taught anyone anything it is that the weather, women, horses and football results all are unpredictable.

But here goes on the final round of football forecasts for 1951:

- Navy over Army.
- Southern California over Notre Dame.
- Texas over Texas A&M.
- Tennessee over Vanderbilt.
- Texas Christian over Southern Methodist.
- Georgia over Georgia Tech.
- Alabama over Auburn.
- Miami over Nebraska.
- Tulsa over Detroit.
- Holy Cross over Boston College.
- Mississippi over Mississippi State.
- Kansas over Missouri.
- Oklahoma over Oklahoma A&M.
- LSU over Tulane.

when the "nut" had reached $30,000 and there was no advance sale, Coffman picked up a paper and read: "Bill Ingram and the following players left today to play a charity game in San Francisco." There was just one more headache: "When they arrived, there were just 18 men, including Ingram," says Bill. "We had a great game, and in the second half when things got rough, Ingram put on cleats and went out to play in the game." . . .

Vic Raschi of the New York Yankees received his college degree from William and Mary in 1929 after 11 years of part-time almost ready to go to press, study.

Baugh Aids Ex-Teammate's Son Gain Rushing Honors

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Bob Goode, fullback for the Washington Redskins and pro football's leading ground aginer, officially picked up another 19 yards today without even putting on his suit.

It came about in this way: Early in Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Rams, quarterback Sammy Baugh tried a pitch-out that hit Goode in the back. The ball was recovered, for a 19-yard loss.

Statistician Arthur Stickley charged the loss to Goode. But after discussing the play with Baugh, Coach Dick Todd and assistant commissioner Joe Labrum, Stickley decided he had erred, that the loss should go to Baugh.

Redskin general manager Dick McCann said the change has been made in the official records. Until the change was made, was Goode's father, Goode led the National Football League by exactly one yard. He had 617 yards, and Dan Towler of Los Angeles had 616.

Goode, former Texas A&M star, had one of his finest days Sunday. Now the records show he gained 148 yards. Towler had an off day. He gained only 14 yards.

The 224-pound, 6-foot-4-inch Goode is extremely fast for a big man. He has been the Redskins' leading ground gainer in both of his previous years with the team. But not until this year, when the Redskins have come up with a solid ground game, has he moved along the topnotchers.

Goode is a living illustration of the indestructibility of Sam Baugh. Back in Texas, Baugh had been used to play a lot of sandlot baseball. A member of the team until the change was made, was Goode's father, Clinic X-ray department photo showing Dr. Miller making spinal X-rays to locate the cause of nerve interference. Any part of body or spine may be brought into clear view for examination. When the cause is located it can be corrected.

This picture, developed from an X-ray film, shows the left hip and the head of the thigh-bone (femur) of a young woman suffering from Arthritis. The black shaped marbles appearing in the center of the picture resemble shrapnel. Since it is NOT shrapnel then what could it be? Most of you will never guess that these nuggets are "gold salts" injections. This young woman, Mrs. M. A., received about 75 hypos of gold salts — and what you see are the solidification of these salts. Here is mohe visual proof of the dangers from injections. By the way Mrs. A. experienced relief under spinal adjustments

ARTHRITIS

CASE NO. 1616: A matron, age 33 came to the Clinic complaining for five years with terrible pains along the spine between her shoulders which had previously been diagnosed and treated as arthritis. She also complained of period headaches, cramping, low backache, and low abdominal pains. The spinal analysis indicated nerve interference and spinal X-rays revealed spinal vertebral misalignment causing the interference. She was discharged at which time she had no pains and said she felt completely well.

Sciatic Rheumatism

CASE NO. 2392: A man age 55, came to the clinic complaining of a pain in left leg, gas on stomach, a drowsy, dizzy-headed feeling, dull headaches, backache, and low blood pressure. A scientific spinal analysis and spinal X-rays revealed a nerve interference. Adjustments were begun and in time he reported all symptoms gone and that he was feeling fine.

SORE THROAT

CASE NO. 1349: A girl, age 9 suffering for past year from fever, aching legs, sore throat, frequent colds, earache, constipation, and delicate health generally, was brought to the Chiropractic Clinic for spinal analysis and X-ray examination although family friends laughed at the idea. Rough play had caused a spinal injury which had been overlooked. Corrective adjustments brought rapid return to vigorous health which caused her entire family to become patients also. She remained well hard falls.

FEVER

CASE NO. 1496: Girl, seven years of age. History: July 4th fell hard on sidewalk; July 5th and 7th, sick in bed, headache, vomiting; July 8th, fever 100, stomach ache, one leg and one arm aching and becoming difficult to use; July 9th, spinal analysis and spinal X-rays at Chiropractic Clinic; July 10th spinal adjustment first time; July 11th, feeling pretty good; July 12th, playing again.

This case illustrates two points to remember:
 1. Children respond rapidly when immediate aid is given, spine and cause illness. Ask your child if he, or she, has fallen hard next time they are
 2. Bad falls often injure the suddenly ill.

Twenty Models of Other Makes of Cars Cost More!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

There are hundreds of thousands of people who should be intensely interested in what we are writing here.

They are the people who paid more for their cars than a Cadillac costs—and still didn't get a Cadillac.

You see—there are five manufacturers of motor cars who produce a total of twenty models which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac. And during recent years, hundreds of thousands of people have taken title to these higher-priced models.

Surely, a large percentage of these owners did not understand, at the time of purchase, how comparatively little a Cadillac costs. They assumed that a Cadillac must cost more—because of its reputation. So they paid for a Cadillac—and still failed to get all the wonderful things a Cadillac provides.

They failed to get the performance of its great master high-compression engine . . . so smooth and quiet that the car seems to move by automatic propulsion.

They failed to get the soft, gliding Cadillac ride that makes every road a better road, and makes the longest journey a day of pleasure and relaxation.

They failed to get the wonderful prestige which marks the Cadillac owner as a man distinctly apart.

And, of course, they failed to get the priceless personal satisfaction of owning the "Standard of the World"—the car which, for fifty years, has been built to the highest standards it is practical to attain.

Surely, they won't want to miss all this again. It's a lot to lose—especially when it costs no more to have it.

If we already have your order for a Cadillac—please be assured that you have made a wise decision—and stand firm until your car is ready for delivery.

But if we don't have your order—better come in and see us today. We are certain you don't want to pay the price of a Cadillac—and still not get one!

Rose Breasted Grosbeak Stops; Then Moves On

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK — (AP) — Look by the time you read this tale it will be time to go to bed. Then will you seek your sleep? There are no birds flying so late. It is about a wondrous bird . . . the bird that all men love and always flies away. She has many names . . . but one man knew her as Hermione. If you say that name softly, it has a bell tone to it — far away. Why, the way I talk about it you would think she really were a woman — and yet she is — how far? Tell me the miles in desire? I don't know just why I joined the bird watchers. I guess they all had just been looking for something they hadn't been able to find . . . and figured it would have wings if they did find it. And I guess I must have felt that way, too. Really, I guess, the sad catalogue of bird watching meant nothing much to me. But it gave me a kind of discipline of feathers. I counted the colors and the names of birds as a duty and an opportunity as I saw them — my rosary of wings. Each had a separate personality, anchored to something I had known. The wren was a fretful wife, tied to her children and trying to rule the world. The finches, the sparrows — they were bows and arrows in my heart. The hawk and the eagle were destiny, and I hid as I spied up at them. And all the time I searched for the rose-breasted grosbeak. That is what I wanted most to see — after listing all the crows, the nuthatches, the robins, the bluebirds, and all. And one day I saw the bird I sought — the rose-breasted grosbeak. She was perched in a tree of silver. And as I watched, fearful of stirring her to flight, she turned into a fair girl and she said to me: "I am Hermione, whom you look for. And I am yours forever." Well, I reached out . . . not really to catch and hold her, you know . . . but just to brush her with the hand of longing. And she turned again into a bird. She lifted her wings and left the tree. . . and then a feathered thunderbolt struck her. A hawk from high, and carried her listless away. And I never saw her any more. What bird is there now to

London Times Editorial Says 'Thanks, Texas' For Pelicans

LONDON — (AP) — The Times thanks the states of Texas and Louisiana in an editorial today for their gifts of pelicans to St. James park. It also expressed gratitude to Pakistan and Nairobi which entered, belatedly, the race to replace Peter and Paul, the par pelicans who died last month. "The donors," said the Times, "may rest assured that Londoners and many others are touched and grateful at so much world-wide generosity." The editorial said the passing of Peter and Paul has had "not one, it seems, but several happy endings." It noted that James Carter, news editor of the Galveston News, already had delivered the Texas pelicans Gal, Ves, Ton and Tex in his official capacity as Texas ambassador to the Park of St. James in charge of pelican affairs. The foreign office has instructed the consul general in New Orleans to accept another pair offered by Louisiana, which was somewhat miffed by the quick Texas draw. EDITORIAL The editorial added: "The unfortunate malentendu (hassle) between the two American states is not, however, the only international repercussion. It appears that one of the first tasks of the commonwealth relations office under Mr. Churchill's government was to request the United Kingdom high commissioner in Pakistan to seek the cooperation of the Pakistan authorities to restore the line of pelicans which their Peter had so long upheld. NEARLY 60 (Peter, believed to have been nearly 60 years old, arrived in England from Karachi in 1931). "While gestures of Anglo-American good will from Texas and Louisiana are appreciated in Pakistan, it is felt regrettable that Whitehall in a matter of such ancient tradition should look outside the commonwealth. "The Amir of Pakistan's Premier princely state has accordingly now offered pelicans from Bahawalpur — presumably, like Peter, large white pelicans with black stripes. "In the meantime one further pelican has arrived from a private donor in Nairobi. Truly Londoners may rejoice that the tradition of Peter and Paul will live at least, it may be assumed, until the end of the century. The reason some girls never get married in they are too biased. It's bias this and bias that until the boy friend is busted.

Rodeo Assn. Officers Are Returned

Ledrick, vice president; A. L. Mills, treasurer; E. O. Wedgeworth, secretary. Also elected to the board of directors for one year was George Neef, who will fill the unexpired term of Ralph Juillard, former publisher of The Pampa Daily News.

Dates for the 1952 Top of Texas Rodeo were set by the board for Aug. 5-9. Plans for the rodeo will be started after Jan. 1. Members decided to allow the president to continue appointing committees for the show. Committee chairmen appointed last night include Frank Carter, bleacher committee, and Irvin Cole, who will investigate the need for rest rooms at Recreation park.

15 Fishermen Perish In Crash Of Two Ships In Boston Harbor

BOSTON — (AP) — Fifteen fishermen of a 17-man crew perished last night when the 10,000-ton tanker Ventura smashed into the stern quarter of the 170-ton trawler Lynn in Boston Harbor. None of the 50 crewmen of the Texas Oil Co. tanker was injured.

The sea was calm and the night clear at the scene of the crash — a 300-yard wide channel only six miles from the Boston fish pier.

Coast Guard observers said 13 of the victims went down with the trawler, "trapped in its steel hull like sardines in a can," while eating their evening meal or working in the engine room.

The other four were plucked from the water by one of several boats in the vicinity, but two died later in a hospital.

Capt. J. Carl McNamara, 41, of Medford, one of the survivors, said the crash came with such little warning that he didn't even have time to give an abandon ship order.

Helmsman John J. King, 40, of Winthrop, the other survivor, said the Lynn went down in about a minute. "The ship flipped over like a fish on the starboard side," he said.

S. O. Pedersen of Port Arthur, Tex., skipper of the tanker, told the Coast Guard the fishing vessel "cut across our bow . . . and we rammed her."

Both vessels were outward bound — the Lynn for Georges Bank, 180 miles east of Boston, and the Ventura for Philadelphia after discharging gasoline here.

Within minutes after the disaster, 15 coast guard vessels were dispatched to the scene to join fishing boats already scanning the waters for survivors or bodies.

From overhead, a coast guard plane dropped flares to light up the area for surface searchers. About 80 relatives and friends of the Lynn's crewmen gathered at the fish pier looking out at the scene. They could see the ships there silhouetted against the clear sky by the flares. Some became hysterical when, after several long hours, only four of the Lynn's crew were brought ashore. They seemed to sense that no more would be brought in alive.

All the Lynn's crewmen were residents of greater Boston. The Coast Guard and fishing vessels searched the waters far into the night but all they found up to dawn were empty life preservers and bits of wreckage.

Shige Kagawa, niece of Toyohito Kagawa, a Christian leader in Japan, will speak at the Women's Council of the First Christian church at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, and will be guest speaker Sunday morning.

Beauty After Forty

ROSE FRANKEN

It always annoys me to hear mature women say that they don't know what to do with themselves, how to find interesting or profitable work. So many of them sit around in hotels and apartment house lobbies, looking unhappy, restless or just resigned while other women do interesting things, rebuild their lives and many live interesting, well-poised successful lives.

What are you doing with your life, now that you have reached the time of maturity that should be stimulating and successful? If you have been having a career and are tired of it, get a new idea. Use all of your experience to enrich this new period of your life. I am always happy to tell you of women, and men too, who go on and on to greater success, as does, for instance, Rose Franken, the writer, who has won her special place as an interpreter of women and family relationships.

In all of her writings her viewpoint is candidly feminine. Rose Franken says, "In a love story it is always the woman's relation to the man that is the more interesting—that makes the story." Her book, "Claudia, the Story of a Marriage," is a book that I think all women should read. It presents the woman's point of view and that is so important to women in their relationships with men. They must keep that feminine viewpoint and they should carry it always, right on through maturity! It will bolster you in many ways and aid you to understand your husband's reaction to you as a mature woman. You can even make a career of being a woman! Many charming, happy women do. And they do it very successfully.

Think that over! how a house looks than in how it lets its occupants live. Trying to "hold their husbands" instead of self-confidently expecting their husbands to want the marriage to last as they do. Fretting too much over minor problems and trivial incidents, instead of letting common sense and a sense of humor keep daily problems in a proper perspective. Expecting too much of their marriages, their husbands and their children.

For more than 300 years European nations fought a titanic warfare over the wealth of Spitzbergen, jagged islands off Norway's coast.

Star design your next coffee cake. Fill it with candied cherries and candied pineapple. Give it holiday airs.

The Christmas Star Coffee Cake will add a festive note to a menu for breakfast or brunch during the holidays. It's easy—whether you make it yourself or serve a gaily decorated coffee cake fresh from your baker.

To complete the menu, you'll want chilled grapefruit halves, grilled Canadian-style bacon or scrambled eggs, and lots of hot coffee. The yeast coffee cake can be made a day ahead and re-heated in the morning.

CHRISTMAS STAR COFFEE CAKE

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup water (lukewarm for compressed, warm for dry)
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted shortening
2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour (about 4 1/2 cups)
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped candied cherries
1/2 cup chopped green and yellow candied pineapple
Confectioner's Sugar icing

Mix sugar and chopped fruit. Spread evenly over dough. With scissors cut six pie-shaped sections by cutting from center toward edge, cutting only to within an inch of outer edge. Roll up each section like butterhorn roll, starting at center. Curve center of each roll toward middle of coffee cake. Pull ends outward to form a star shape. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Brush with confectioner's Sugar icing. Makes one Christmas Star.

Mrs. Fuqua Completes 2nd Year As Wayside Club's President

Mrs. J. S. Fuqua is completing her second year as president of the Wayside Home Demonstration club, said to be the oldest of the Gray county demonstration clubs.

The organization began 32 years ago, and one charter member, Mrs. Homer Taylor, is still active in the club.

New officers will be elected in December. Mrs. Fuqua has led the club in its project this year of furnishing the clubhouse with new equipment. The house was the rural school when the club was organized, but is now used as club house by the Wayside community, which covers the northeast part of the county.

Mrs. Fuqua was a delegate to the Home Demonstration Association convention in Dalhart this year. Other activities she has supervised include improvement in yards and homes, sponsoring a junior 4-H club, and contributing to Boy's Ranch and various drives.

The Wayside club is considered one of the most active in the council. It began with seven women and now has a roll of 22 members.

Record Lists Lobbyists

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Congressional Record has published a list of individuals registered as lobbyists during the third quarter of 1951. Among several scores named are seven Texans.

The registration act requires that all persons who attempt to influence, directly or indirectly, the passage or defeat of legislation must file a statement with the clerk of the House of Representatives. They must show their business connections and salaries or fees received.

The constitutionality of the act has been challenged by the national association of manufacturers. A special expected soon to rule on the issue; their decision undoubtedly will be appealed to the Supreme Court, so it may be many months yet before the question is settled.

The Texans who filed statements with the House Clerk for the July, August and September period are:

David G. Gray, Humble Oil Co., Houston, received $1500 during the quarter; Harold L. Kautsky, formerly of Palestine, Ohio Oil Co., $500 during the quarter; Fritz G. Lanham, former Fort Worth congressman, $1000 from American Fair Trade council, $1500 from the National Patent Council, $3500 from the State Tax Assn. (Houston), and $900 from the Trinity Improvement Assn. (Fort Worth);

Dale Miller, formerly of Dallas, received $1500 from the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, $1500 from the Louisiana and Texas Intracoastal Canal Assn., and $1800 from Texas Gulf Sulphur; J. E. Starrock, Austin, received $2,275 from Texas Water Conservation Assn.; Claude C. Wild, Jr., formerly of Austin, received $2500 from Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn.; Walter F. Woodul, former Texas lieutenant governor and a resident of Houston, $6133 for representing more than a score of southwestern railroads, and $2,105 for representing the Imperial Sugar Co., Sugarland, Texas.

NOT A CARE IN THE WORLD—You might suppose President Truman didn't have the toughest job, with the biggest worries, in the troubled world to see him flash his early morning "walking" smile at the Key West, Fla., Navy base where he is vacationing. The jaunty cap and sports shirt (usually louder than this one) are presidential vacation trademarks.

Irish Band To Present New Half-Time Show

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's Irish band will present a novel number during the halves of the Shamrock-Children regional playoff game here Friday afternoon.

Robert C. Reeves, faculty director, reported the musical combine will do "Bicycle Built for Two," with wheels revolving around hubs and crepe paper streamers from the centers of hubs.

Reeves said the music had not arrived, so he will orchestrate music for 45 parts.

Pilot Says Soaked Runway Helped Land Crippled Bomber

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A 28-year-old pilot said a steady rain helped him land a crippled B-36 bomber safely.

"But someone else was pulling for us, too, I think," added Capt. Clarence F. Horton of San Antonio.

The heavy-set pilot, a West Point graduate, made a tricky five-engine landing with the giant atom bomb carrier after ordering 18 crewmen to jump. All but one parachuted without serious injury.

He was T-Sgt. Charles A. Kartochvil, Petersburg, Va., a gunner. X-rays were made to determine if he had a fractured leg.

Two other crew members rode the sleek bomber to earth after circling Carwell Air Force base for 1-1/2 hours attempting to remedy a damaged landing gear.

Horton believed rain-slicked runways kept tires on the damaged side of the landing gear from exploding from heat after touching the runway.

Rain and mist covered this section of Texas when Horton discovered shortly after a routine plane. They didn't work. Horton said he realized about 2 p. m. that he would have to try an emergency landing.

He gave orders for the crew to jump and made four passes over a pasture near the base. Two men jumped on the first pass, five on the next, five on the next and four on the last. Lt. Col. Paul R. Pashvan, Lt. Grange, Ill., aircraft commander from another crew, and Lt. Ernest G. Benefield, San Antonio, first engineer, stayed with Horton.

Horton jettisoned eight 100-pound practice bombs in Lake Worth and "kicked out" 18,000 gallons of fuel to lighten the ship. He stopped the No. 3 engine "figuring if anything did go wrong some loose pieces might fly into the prop and if they fore it up it might tear up the fuselage."

Horton said he figured one of three things would happen when the big craft hit the ground. They were:

(1) Nothing; (2) The main strut of the landing gear might hit the ground and cause us to ground loop to the left; and (3) The strut might snap off — I don't know what would happen then."

He was right the first time, nothing happened.

The B-36 glided to a graceful landing on the first pass Horton made at the runway. He thought the rain-slicked runways helped "a great deal."

Forty-six projects are under way in 11 countries of the West World to boost production of defense-essential sulphur.

the old form of "masa," the dough from which tortillas have been made for centuries, is that it spoils in less than six hours unless refrigerated. Thus, a new batch of dough had to be made for each meal.

The Bank of Mexico, mindful of the trouble involved, asked the Armour Research foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology to develop a new tortilla mix.

The result is a dry flour, produced by a new dehydration process, which may be stored and enriched with vitamins, minerals or protein. A factory to produce it is being built outside Mexico City.

Many lobbyists devote only a part of their time watching a particular bill or subject matter under consideration in Washington. They may have other sources of income. In some instances they are allowed generous expense accounts to supplement their salaries.

Some who are registered as lobbyists are recognized authorities on subjects in which they are interested. In many cases they are men of such high regard that their views have considerable influence on congressional committees.

Among those on hand at the New York pier to welcome to America the one millionth person brought in by the International Refugee organization was Mrs. Glenna Taylor Loughran.

There as the representative of Rep. Ken Regan of Midland, on whose secretarial staff she works, Mrs. Loughran delivered a special Texas welcome to the Czechoslovakian family of Alexander Ranezay. He and his wife and two daughters are to live in Midland.

Formerly of Pecos and El Paso, Mrs. Loughran participated in the welcoming ceremony alongside such notables as New York's Mayor Impellitteri. Mrs. Loughran's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor of El Paso.

When the Ranezays came through Washington en route to Texas they were shown about the capitol by Mrs. Maria Fanning, formerly of Dallas and El Paso, also a member of Regan's staff.

A new tortilla flour promises to make the life of the Mexican housewife easier, according to a recent report issued by the National Geographic society headquarters here.

RALEIGH, N. C. — (AP) — A short course in income tax procedure for persons who assist farmers in filing returns will be held at North Carolina State College next month.

In announcing plans for the course, H. B. James, head of the State College Department of Agricultural Economics, said, "The complicated nature of modern farming, the lack of adequate farm accounts, and special provisions in income tax laws applying to farming, make the

Erring Spouse Squeezes Hand; Learns It Is His Own Wife's

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — This is the tale of a blind wife and her husband who didn't want to come home.

11 Texans Pay Wagering Tax

(By the Associated Press)

Only eleven Texas men have paid the new federal wagering tax to internal revenue office in the state.

These were paid at the Austin headquarters for the South Texas district. The other office in Texas — at Dallas for North Texas — reported only two applications.

Under a new federal law gamblers are required to register and pay a tax. They have until midnight Nov. 30 to do this.

A More are expected to comply in Texas.

The two applicants to the Dallas office were from Dallas. Their applications were still being processed today.

In Austin, ten of the 11 for whom special tax chief E. L. Miller issued gambling stamps gave San Antonio address. The other is a Houston operator.

Miller doubted that many gamblers would comply with the new law which requires them to pay a $50 a year tax for the privilege of conducting gambling operations.

The prorated tax of $33.34 for the remainder of the fiscal year has been paid in the South Texas district by the following:

John Phillips, Willie Forest, Williams, Horace Williams, Troy B. Scott, George Nious, Jr., and Sterling Wilson Houston, all of whom gave their address as 108 Center, San Antonio.

Frank L. Norton, Michael J. Mack, and Albert P. Martin, all of whom were listed at 1022 E. Houston St., San Antonio; and D. W. Chapman of 118 Funston St., Houston.

Phillips, Norton and Chapman were listed as "principals," the men who operate wagering business, while the others were listed as "agents" or men who work for the principals.

A steady gambler, through impulse, married a beautiful blind girl. He thought it would be lucky. She thought it was love.

They had ecstatic weeks together. Then he wearied of her doglike devotion and told her: "The boys play a regular game on Friday night. I want to have that night off with the boys."

She agreed that was reasonable and certainly nothing for her to complain about. She said for him not to worry about her — she would get along all right.

One Friday night, however, the boys didn't show up for the weekly poker game. The gambler didn't know what to do with himself — it was too early for him to go home, by his standards. Suddenly aware of all the brief wonder of life about him, he walked up and down Fifth Avenue looking at the dreams in the store window. He felt lonely and life-crowded.

He strolled across the midtown sector. He stopped at a wayside soda fountain shrine and had a pineapple drink. It had the frosted, frustrated taste of something far away that could have been better.

He felt the need of music. There was a concert at Carnegie hall, and he went in there. He had a feeling of male adventure in him. So he felt lucky when he sat down and sensed a girl next to him in the dark.

There was a time of mutual listening that knitted them, he felt. Then his hand reached out against hers. He felt tremulous and bashful and bold.

He squeezed her warm hand in the darkness, and he squeezed his hand back again — she had such small bird fingers.

He had a sense of fresh mystery in his tired world. The lights came on. And then he gasped.

He was staring into the sightless eyes of his own wife.

"My husband, my husband," she said, folding his arm in hers, contentedly. "Let's go home now."

"How did you know who I am, my dear, I wanted to surprise you!" he said, startled.

And she turned her blue unseeing eyes up to him and said: "In love, my love, there are up tomorrow altogether.

Rubber Exports

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Malaya exported 80,910 tons of rubber in September — and most of it went to the United Kingdom and the United States. The total shipments were almost 19,000 tons under the August figures of 99,480.

Being an honest man, he doubted whether he would ever believe anything again. He gave

Bad Movie Weather

REGINA, Sask. — (AP) — The weather is poor in Western Canada for making motion pictures in the opinion of two Danish movie men.

"Sunny Alberta isn't sunny. Dry Saskatchewan isn't dry and beautiful British Columbia is foggy," Palle Bojesen of Copenhagen, film producer for the Danish Film Board, lamented.

Mr. Bojesen, and Erik Olsen, cameraman, are making a one-hour color film called "Canada, Sea to Sea".

The pair had been in Canada seven weeks and had poor picture-making weather since they arrived in the West.

Britain Undecided As To Stand On European Army

STRASBOURG, France.—(AP)—Britain indicated today she would not take a direct part in the projected European army, but insisted she had not yet made up her mind finally. A French spokesman said that Britain's implied rejection of the European army would upset plans for creation of the supranational force and threaten West German integration in Western European defenses.

Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, home minister of Britain's Conservative government, told the European consultative assembly here that Prime Minister Churchill will commit Britain at this time to no more than "closest association" with either the European army or the Schuman Coal-Steel Pool plan.

Later, at a news conference, however, Maxwell-Fyfe said "the door is not yet closed and my statements should not be interpreted as a refusal to cooperate." Apparently, however, the French delegation took the British words to mean refusal.

French delegate Paul Reynaud said British refusal would bring rejection of the European army scheme in the French National Assembly, adding he was "profoundly disappointed" at Britain's attitude. The feeling was that such a rejection meant West Germany could not be integrated

Political Pot Now Bubbling; Will Hit Boiling Point Soon

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's the rarest birds in the history of man is a politician with a really new idea. So, judging from past campaigns, we'll have to get adjusted to hearing the clichés, old party slogans, catch phrases and prejudice words served up warm in current dressing by the politics of both parties. While the field of admitted candidates at the moment is very small, there's a whole carload of people in the wings, just aching for a four-year lease on the white building with the picket fence on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Until now they may have been deterred from saying so publicly not so much by modesty as by a faint misgiving that their yen for the Presidency isn't shared by anyone but themselves. Some of them will probably have overcome their reticence by party convention time.

And by that time, of course, some of the would-be candidates may have knocked themselves out by talking so much that it's clear the voters wouldn't like to have to listen to them another four years.

The conventions never lessen the din but only intensify it for then the politicians all work harder than ever, including the frustrated would-have-beens, impelled by party loyalty or something, to campaign for the party's choice for the sake of the party.

There is said to be a certain advantage in this almost year-long campaign because in all the millions of words said and written the voters get ample chance to know why they're voting for whom.

This belief, of course, might be challenged by the British who limit their campaigns to about 25 days, apparently with the idea that the intelligent public knows pretty well by then who stands where and why on what issues and whom they want to run the government next.

Even though it can be disputed that the British method is better than the American, at least the British by their brief campaigns save some wear and tear on themselves. And their politicians, too, for that matter.

The Department of Foreign Affairs was created by Act of Congress, July 27, 1789. The name was changed to Department of State, Sept. 15, 1789.

Irish May Elect Boy Cheer Leader

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Pep squad members are considering the possibility of enlisting a male pep leader to supplement the work of the three girls who head Irish cheering.

Plans are being laid for a joint pep squad - faculty committee session to pick a boy to help with the cheering, Edward M. Burkhalter, high school principal, said.

Present pep leaders are Bernice Close, Patricia Reeves and Barbara Golson.

HELENA, Mont. — (AP) — This one stumped the Helena Chamber of Commerce.

Leoti Staret of Washington State visited Montana 15 years ago and saw some "beautiful mountain scenery." Now he wants the chamber to figure out where it was.

Montana rambles across 147,138 square miles — about a third of it in the Rocky Mountains.

Wheeler 4-H Club Elects Officers

Sharon Green was elected president, Tilly Green, vice-president; Peggy Pride, secretary; Nancy Lee, treasurer and Sharon Bealy, reporter. This is the first club to be reorganized by the new Home Demonstration agent Frances B. Stanton. Thirty five girls joined 4-H for the 1951-52 club year.

Rejects Life In Castle

SEREMBAN, Malaya — (AP) — One Britisher prefers working in Malaya to living in a castle in Ireland. M. S. F. Sheppard, British adviser for a Malayan state, inherited Cairns Castle, about 50 miles north of Dublin, upon the death of a cousin. The property includes 1,100 acres of land surrounding the castle.

He returned here after inspecting it because he owes "a great debt of gratitude" to Malaya. He has been in the Malayan civil service for 24 years.

JACOBY ON CANASTA
Learn When To Freeze Pack

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"Some of the players in our club freeze the pack when there is no pack to freeze," complains a St. Louis correspondent. "For example, the other night one of these men picked up a frozen pile and made a couple of melds. His first discard — with no discard pile in sight — was a deuce. "Is there any reason for such a play? Or is it just a matter of forcing both sides to live dangerously in the hope that the nerves will give way first? When a pair of men play against a pair thus leaving yourself with only a few cards in your hand. This practically invites the opponents to freeze the pack. "The only other reasonable assumption is that the opponents are freezing in situations that are unfavorable for a freeze. If that is the case, you and your partner can punish them by just sitting tight and playing well. Try to keep calm even though the pack is frozen. "The first question is interesting also. Does it ever pay to discard a wild card as the very first card of a discard pile? Yes. This is often the correct play. For example, suppose you have picked up a large pack. Obviously, you will have no trouble finding safe discards. But what about your partner? If he has a short hand — say only five or six cards — he may be in very hot water. An immediate freeze may be in order to protect your partner.

AWOL Airman From Lackland Held In Theft

PARIS (AP)—A 17-year-old youth, said to be absent without leave from Lackland Air Force base in San Antonio, was arrested in the robbery of a Tyler rubber salesman.

Lamar county attorney Frank Wear said the youth was arrested after police authorities throughout Northeast Texas had been alerted and road blocks set up.

He said the salesman, H. L. Elms, told this story:

He picked up a young hitch hiker between Cooper and Paris Tuesday night. As he stopped at a traffic light on the east edge of Paris, the hitch hiker pulled out a gun — which later turned out to be a toy imitation of a German Luger.

Elms said he was forced to drive to a roadside park on Highway 271, seven miles east of Paris. There the hitch-hiker forced him out of the car and tied him up with his necktie and belt. The youth then hit him over the head, once with a rock and again with the toy gun, Elms told police.

The young bandit then fled in Elms' car, a 1951 Chevrolet. Elms managed to free himself and reported the robbery to local police.

An alert was sounded throughout Northeast Texas.

The trail of the stolen car was picked up at Mount Pleasant, where attendants at a filling station said they sold gas to the youth.

Officers said the young man then apparently drove to the edge of Texarkana, and then back toward Paris. A night watchman in Clarksville, 35 miles east of Paris, spotted the stolen car going through town and notified state police.

Road blocks were set up at both Clarksville and here. The lad was captured as he approached the Paris roadblock.

Wear said charges were to be filed against the young man. He said authorities at Lackland Air Force base identified him as an airman who had been AWOL since Nov. 11.

West Texas Produces Large Share Of State's Oil Output

ABILENE — West Texas — the territory served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce — produced 399,008,786 barrels of 42.029,648 barrels of Texas' 1950 crude oil output, according to a report published in the current issue of the WTCC magazine, West Texas Today.

Eighty-three of the 132 counties are oil producers and five produce natural gas, the magazine declared, basing its statements on statistics provided by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn.

Texas' all time oil production to the end of 1950 had totaled 13,700,204,172, of which 5,207,365-308 had been produced within the WTCC territory.

Eleven WTCC counties have joined the ranks of the "oil" counties since World War II. Commercial production was discovered in Lamb, Martin and Midland in 1945; in Hall, Kent and Knox in 1946; in Sterling in 1947; in Sutton in 1948; in Borden and Roberts in 1949 and in Lynn in 1950. Ten of the 11 produced in 1950 a total of 8,708,985 barrels. Sutton county, where 382 barrels were produced in 1949, had no production last year.

Mexican Workers Case Being Probed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — The Mexican consul yesterday said he'd make no public report on an investigation into how Mexican workers were treated by a Tennessee plantation owner.

The joint United States-Mexico probe was ordered last Friday after nearly 70 Mexican laborers deserted the W. T. Jamison plantation near Tiptonville, Tenn., and started trudging the frosty roads toward home.

Thirty-eight of the Mexicans, after a 100-mile hike, asked the consul here for help. They complained they left the 800 acre farm because of poor housing, food and pay.

Jamison, who sharply denied the complaints, said the consul, Angel Cano, told him he would try to cancel the contract under which the planter imported 150 Mexican workers to pick his cotton.

Jamison said 73 of the men remain on his plantation. The 38 that reached Memphis have been sent back to Eagle Pass by bus. Nobody seems to know what happened to the men unaccounted for. Presumably they are still on the long road home.

In Washington, the labor department, which ordered a "double-check" of the complaints, maintained an official silence.

Fleas Flee Pomerantz— Even Though He Loves 'Em

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Charles Pomerantz has reached the pinnacle of his career. He's roach. He's flea named after him.

To most people, that might seem like an odd measure of success. But Pomerantz is deeply touched. He feels humble that an "ordinary exterminator" has been so honored.

Pomerantz does himself an injustice with that "ordinary exterminator" label. He is an exterminator extraordinary. Besides being proficient at finding and killing rats, mice and assorted insects, he is an amateur entomologist of wide renown. He knows more about insects than most insects do.

Pomerantz is a cherubic looking man of 54. When he was 40, he quit a successful career in the garment industry because "it had no challenge." He found plenty of challenge in exterminating — the first challenge was whether or not he could stand it.

"I am a man of aesthetic tendencies," he says. "I play the violin and I love poetry — keep a volume of Keats by my bed all the time. And here I was dealing with roaches and all kinds of things like that. It was appalling."

"Then I read a magazine article that had pictures of college girls in a zoology class. One was dissecting a rat and the other a flea named after him. 'What are you, Pomerantz, a man or a monkey?' So I stuck with exterminating, and now I love it."

But he wasn't satisfied with simple extermination. He read books, attended lectures, learned all he could about insects. He became so proficient in his field that he pulled off one of the most remarkable stunts ever done by an entomologist — and he was an amateur.

It happened in 1946. A strange disease sprang up in a big apartment development in Queens, New York. It baffled doctors and public health officials. Pomerantz read all about it in the papers, and had a theory. He explored the basements of the apartment houses and found a strange species of mite, a tiny insect, living on mice. Their bites transmitted the ailment.

The disease, now known as rickettsial pox, was quickly licked. The cure was simple — control the mice and eliminate the mites Pomerantz discovered.

From then, Pomerantz' fame grew. He was invited to lecture at universities and medical schools. He received many honors. In 1949, the U. S. Department of Agriculture named a new family of mites, found in southern peach orchards, Pomerantidae after him.

"This mite," read the article, "is named for Charles Pomerantz, in recognition of his enthusiastic services to the study of the rickettsial pox disease."

And now comes Stivalius pomerantzii, a new flea found in the Philippines and named for him by the Army Medical department which discovered it.

"This species," the discoverer wrote, "is named for Mr. Charles Pomerantz, who by his studies on mites and rickettsial pox contributed so much to the science of parasitology."

At the annual convention of the National Pest Control Assn., Pomerantz was given a replica of his personal flea. To him, that was the crowning achievement of his career.

He has now grown quite fond of Stivalius pomerantzii and the whole Pomerantzidae clan.

"I have," he says with a small smile, "a peculiar love and fondness for those unacceptable insects. It's the same love that whiskeys — they know it's a nuisance, but they love it just the same."

Polio Scare In Odessa Is Increased

ODESSA — (AP) — A polio scare here brought an exodus of children today who's city officials hurried to clean up Odessa.

The eighth polio death of the year was confirmed yesterday. Forty-two polio cases have occurred this year.

The migration of children included both pre-school and school-age youngsters. No accurate figure was available on the number. Children have been sent to Dallas, Fort Worth, Eastland, Perkin, Ill., and summer homes at Ruidoso, N. M., Thomas H. Smith of the Odessa American reported. Mothers were moved to farms and ranches in the area.

Four new cases were diagnosed yesterday. Of the 42 cases this year, 38 have been since Oct. 1.

The American reported Odessa has a large number of outdoor toilets. Several sections outside the city have no garbage collection.

Alarmed city and county officials held two sessions yesterday on the problem. Plans were discussed for increased insecticide spraying, more careful handling of garbage, new rules for sewer connections in outlying districts and formation of a countywide sanitation district.

The national infantile paralysis foundation sent word it was sending two iron lungs to increase the number here to three. The foundation also is sending trainee personnel to help.

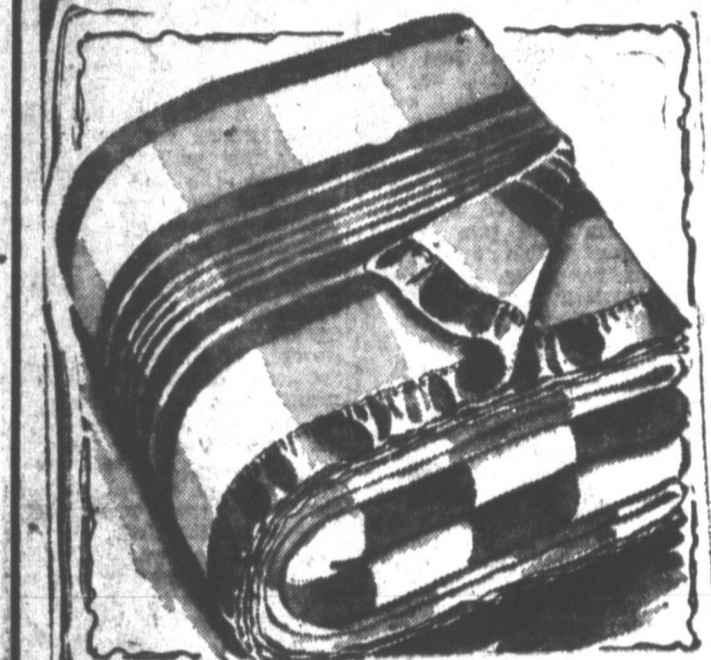

To ease crowded facilities, some cases have been sent to Big Spring, San Angelo, Dallas, Amarillo, Plainview and Texarkana for treatment.

Two polio deaths were reported yesterday. James F. Mackey, 34, of Odessa died yesterday afternoon in Amarillo. He was admitted to an Amarillo hospital Sunday. Funeral services were planned in Dumas.

The death of Robert Horne, 8, son of Mrs. Mavroune Horne, was reported yesterday. The Odessa boy died in Big Spring Monday night but his death was not reported as due to polio until yesterday.

Armor For Men In Battle To Cut Death List

NEW YORK — (AP) — The death rate for battle-wounded Americans in Korea "is now approximately half that of World War II," says Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, Army surgeon general.

"Wounds of unprecedented severity are being survived with amazing regularity," Armstrong declared in a speech to the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn.

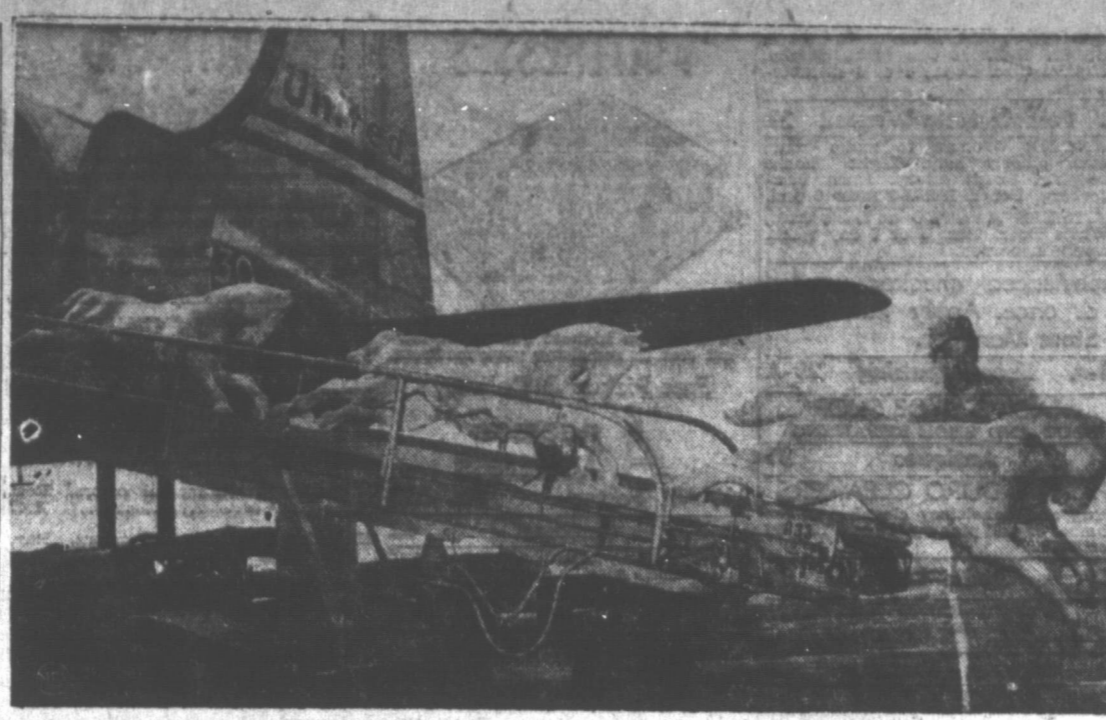

Another Army medical officer, Col. John R. Wood, told the meeting that new body armor might prevent 50 to 75 percent of deaths of American soldiers in fighting in Korea.

Wood, chief of the Army's medical research and development board, said 50 tests of armor have been tested successfully in Korea and that most of a regiment is expected to try the protective equipment soon.

The armor consists of eight-pound vests, made of layers of nylon or fibreglass cemented by plastics. The chest and abdomen are protected by the armor, reportedly capable of stopping missiles travelling 1,000 to 1,500 feet a second.

Bomb Tests In Nevada Successful

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) has said the atomic weapons tests conducted recently in Nevada proved "very useful" in development of the nation's military might.

Dean's guarded statement to reporters was his first public comment on the latest series of tests, which he indicated has not been concluded. Six explosions have been conducted, in the series which started Oct. 22, ranging from what was apparently a baby A-bomb to mountain-shaking weapons.

The commission chairman was asked whether the tests so far had been generally satisfactory and whether they had advanced the building of this country's atomic arsenal.

"Let me put it this way," Dean replied. "I don't think there has been anything in the Nevada 'shots' (tests) that has ever displeased us."

Asked then whether he meant the commission was entirely satisfied with the outcome of the tests, Dean declared:

"Each time we learn some-

Cadets Dismissed For Cribbing Will Not Return To West Point

WASHINGTON — (AP) — None of the 90 West Point cadets dismissed for cribbing last August will be considered for reappointment under a policy laid down by the Dept. of the Army.

This was disclosed after at least three members of Congress renominated boys who had been ousted for violating the West Point code of honor by accepting or giving help to aid in passing examinations.

The adjutant general's office sent to each of three House members — Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) and Reps. Davis (R-Ohio) and Cleveland (R-Ohio) similar letters stating that in view of the circumstances the boys would not be considered for reappointment.

An Army spokesman told a reporter that a flat policy has been adopted "by the Dept. of the Army" under which any cadet separated from the academy because of an honor violation will not be reappointed even if renominated by a member of Congress.

The spokesman declined to say just who in the department drew up the policy. The adjutant general's office, he said, is merely carrying out this policy when it notifies members of Congress that the boys they renominate are being turned down.

The Army had previously said, on Sept. 28, that the discharged cadets could be re-nominated but that their acceptance would have to be approved by the academy.

Rep. Davis on Oct. 16 renominated Ronald Clough of Waukesha, Wis., a senior honor student, one of the 90 dismissed. Davis said Clough was a superior student and received no informa-

Billie Burke Says Low Cut Gowns On TV Shows OK

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Billie Burke, now a full-time television star, today defended the gals who wear low-cut gowns on TV.

"My goodness," exclaimed the distinguished actress, "isn't the secret of beauty in how to conceal? If a girl has something worth revealing, I don't see why she shouldn't do so, as long as she leaves something to the imagination."

"After all, there is considerable historical basis for the use of décolletage. In the 17th and 18th century, the ladies certainly went in for plunging necklines, both on the stage and off. Lillian Russell was slightly better than my time in the theater, but I can recall seeing her with very low-cut gowns. She was typical of that era. The women may have worn plenty of skirts, but they were certainly skimpy above."

Miss Burke also cited her late husband, the great showman Florence Ziegfeld.

"Mr. Ziegfeld certainly knew the value of revealing the female figure," she remarked, "although I must say that as his career progressed the girl in his shows wore more than they did in his earlier days."

I talked to Miss Burke at her television show, where the technicians were kiddingly calling her "Faye Emerson." It seems she had worn a fairly low-cut dress that day "quite by mistake." She primly applied a covering of lace before air time.

The actress has embarked on a grueling TV schedule which precludes her return to the stage or screen. She does a half-hour, five-times-a-week interview and comment show over KTTV. She arrives at the station around 11 in the morning and works straight through until the show is off the air at 4:30.
