Clark, McGrath 'Invited' To Testify

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman King (D-Calif.) said today Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and Attorney General Howard McGrath will be invited to testify at House subcommittee hearings on tax law enforcement.

King told newsmen that the two will be heard late this week, in all probability, if they want to testify.

He said Clark would be given an opportunity to "clear the record on his participation" in plane trips to Florida fishing spots with T. Lamar Caudle and others.

Caudle, ousted former assistant attorney general, has testified to making several trips in the private plane of Troy Whitehead, Charlotte, N.C., businessman who was having tax troubles.

Clark acknowledged over the weekend that he took perhaps as many as three trips in Whitehead's plane.

Both Clark and Caudle said they did not know, when they took the trips, that Whitehead was in any tax troubles.

Clark's trip were made while he was attorney general prior to his elevation to the supreme court bench in 1949.

King said McGrath would be asked to comment on Caudle's testimony that McGrath approved acceptance by Caudle of a $5,000 commission on an airplane deal, and also approved a trip Caudle made to Europe in 1950 to help two wine merchants get dollar credits out of Italian banks.

King indicated that neither Clark nor McGrath would be subpoenaed — that is that they would simply be invited to testify and not served with papers requiring them to appear before the House group, a Ways and Means subcommittee which is making a general inquiry into irregularities and questionable practices in connection with tax collections.

Military Rites For Capt. Bray

Military graveside rites for Capt. Clyde A. Bray, Jr., killed in a wreck early Saturday morning, will be held this afternoon by officers and men from the Amarillo Air Force Base in Fairview cemetery.

Federal services will be held today at 2:30 p.m. in the First Methodist church with Dr. Orion W. Carter officiating.

Capt. Bray, one of the first Pampans to be recalled by the Air Force this year, crashed into the rear end of a truck 10 miles south of Stratford at 7 a.m. Saturday. He died at 8:30 a.m. shortly after being admitted to Dumas Memorial Hospital.

FELL ASLEEP — Sheriff A. L. Wilson, Sherman county, said he believed Capt. Bray had fallen asleep at the wheel of his car while driving to Pampa from Great Falls, Mont., to see his wife and twin sons, Rodney and Konny.

The body was escorted to Pampa by Capt. Ralph W. Hamilton of the Amarillo Air Force base.

Besides his wife, the former Thelma Mae Osborne, and twin sons, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Bray, Sr., Muleshoe; two brothers, Keith of Muleshoe and Dan of Lubbock; one sister, Mrs. Anna McAdams, also of Muleshoe.

FALLBEARERS — Fallbearers are: Dick Stowers, Hal Boynton, Charles Shelton, Joe Autry, Dan Duggan, Ray Thompson, Edward Clay and Laniel Carter. Members of the Pampa Masonic lodge will be honorary pall bearers.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral home.

Fourth Victim Of Truck-Car Crash Dies

GUYMON, Okla. — (AP) — The fourth member of a Brownwood, Tex., family died yesterday as a result of a truck - automobile crash near here a week ago.

Patricia Humphries, 7, was the fourth fatality, succumbing earlier were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Humphries, and her brother, Steve, 9.

Big 4 Get To Work On Disarmament

PARIS — (AP) — The Big Four got down to the brass tacks of their rival East-West disarmament proposals today at the second meeting in their series of secret talks on how to end the world's arms race.

The four — U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and French Delegate Jules Moch — opened the talks Saturday at a cordial, one-hour procedural meeting which swiftly agreed on an agenda.

United Nations General Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico is chairman of the group, set up as a subcommittee of the assembly political committee. It was proposed by an Asian - Arab group in the hope that the secret negotiations — away from the publicity of the assembly microphones — would reconcile the rival plans which so far have inspired chiefly acrimonious public debate.

None of the delegates would speak to reporters on arrival this morning for the private session. The political committee has directed the five-man subcommittee to report back by Dec. 10 any progress it may make.

The full committee began debate today on a 11-power resolution which would authorize the UN to call on armies of such regional defense groups as the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) to help put down aggression.

The resolution evolved from a report by the creation collective measures committee set up by the general assembly last year under a United States-originated anti-aggression plan.

Presenting that committee's report today, Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil stressed that the aim of collective security was peace, not war. He appealed to all the powers to "approach with a spirit of conciliation and mutual understanding."

Russia in the past has insisted that UN collective security measures were part of an aggressive American program directed against the Kremlin.

Confirmation that the plane was in Hungary by the Hungarian foreign ministry, a legal spokesman said.

The Soviet news agency account claimed the American C-47 — on a flight from Erding, Germany, to Belgrade — had been dispatched to carry spies and saboteurs from Yugoslavia into the Soviet Union and her east European Allies.

The American spokesman said the plane had been forced down in Papa, in Western Hungary, by Soviet fighter planes and the four crewmen had been turned over to Hungarian authorities.

Surviving besides the two sons are his wife, Gertrude, Pampa; two brothers, Lloyd, Pampa, Okla.; and Harold, Muncie, Ind.

U. S. Plane And Crew In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary — (AP) — The Hungarian government confirmed today that a U. S. Air Force plane, missing since Nov. 28 with four crewmen aboard, is in Hungary.

A Tass report broadcast by the Moscow radio earlier said the plane had been forced down in Papa, in Western Hungary, by Soviet fighter planes and the four crewmen had been turned over to Hungarian authorities.

M. A. Marx, Sr. Dies Today Of Heart Attack

Myron A. Marx, Sr., 55, of 1326 N. Russell, co-owner of the Texas Electrical Appliance Co., died at 2:40 a.m. today in Highland General Hospital from a heart attack.

Mr. Marx was stricken earlier and taken to the hospital by ambulance where he died about 30 minutes after admittance.

Born in E. St. Louis, Ill., Mr. Marx came to Pampa in March, 1945, from Pawnee, Okla., and operated the electric company in partnership with his son, Myron A. Marx, Jr. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral arrangements were being made by the American C-47 — on a flight from Erding, Germany, to Belgrade — had been dispatched to carry spies and saboteurs from Yugoslavia into the Soviet Union and her east European Allies.

Agree To Inspection Behind Lines

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Communist truce negotiators today proposed behind-the-lines inspection by neutral observers and a "complete freeze on troops and arms in Korea, possibly paving way for agreement on another step toward an armistice.

The move appeared to be a major concession on the part of the Reds. In the past they have refused adamantly to allow observers behind their lines and have insisted on the right to build up their armed strength while an armistice is in force.

The surprise compromise plan immediately drew from Allied envoys more than a score of searching questions.

The big one — an Allied spokesman called it the $64 question — was what neutral nations do the Communists have in mind to police the truce?

The Communists said they would answer 21 questions posed by the UN Command when the negotiators meet in Panmunjom at 11 a. m. Tuesday (4 p. m. CST Monday).

The offer to permit inspection teams behind Communist lines was the Reds' biggest concession, even though they stipulated that any such inspection should be limited to "mutually agreed upon ports of entry."

SURPRISE PROPOSAL — The Reds sprang their surprise proposal at an afternoon session Monday. At Monday appeared deadlocked on the problem of the two sides' agreement of supervising an armistice.

The "64 question" — which nations the Communists consider neutral — might prove a major stumbling block.

Among countries officially neutral in the war are Czechoslovakia, Poland and the Balkan nations — not to mention the Soviet Union itself.

On the other hand, there are nations which have not participated directly in the war or supported the Allies through votes in the United Nations.

Odessa Busy With Polio Epidemic

ODESSA — (AP) — Women ran most Odessa business houses today as their men toiled to rid the city of refuse which might be breeding ground for polio carriers.

For the first time, the polio situation officially has been termed an epidemic in Odessa.

The list of victims mounted to 59 with reporting yesterday of five new cases.

Nine deaths have resulted. Most of the polio cases have been reported in recent weeks. Last year the city and surrounding Ector county had 21 cases. Previous record was 29.

The large Phillips Petroleum Co. plant will close tomorrow, releasing several hundred employees for the clean-up drive.

The city has been divided into zones. Police patrol cars in each zone will coordinate cleanup work via radio.

B-36 Bombers Land In North Africa

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A flight of six B-36 bombers landed yesterday at an American Air Force base in North Africa after a non-stop flight from Fort Worth's Carswell Air Force Base, Eighth Air Force headquarters announced.

The bombers took off from Carswell Saturday at 4 a. m. (CST). The flight was described as a training mission.

It was the gigantic craft's first flight to the Mediterranean area. They landed at Sidi Slimane, French Morocco.

The tip of about 5,000 miles was an easy one for the planes, which have a non-stop for 10,000 miles or more.

HORACE LOVE DIES

DALLAS — (AP) — Horace Good Love, son of the late Democratic national committee man Thomas B. Love, died yesterday. He was 54.

His father also was a former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and an assistant secretary of the U.S. treasury. The son was employed by a financial reporting house here.

Figures Speak For Themselves

If anyone has been able to see something in Washington to indicate a slow-down in federal government spending, won't he please lend us his glasses or let us in on his secret. The only indications, so far as we can see, point directly to bigger government spending, and since bigger government spending means bigger taxes, we think our readers will be interested in some figures recently reported by the American National Cattlemen's Assn.

These figures apply to some of the top-bracket federal department, but even this limited report is enough to curl the hair of Kickapoo.

In 1940, the year used for comparative purposes in the cattlemen's report, the Department of Commerce cost the taxpayers $78,116,635. The cost now is $865,082,852.

The Department of the Interior spent $71,385,280. Cost now: $564,474,344.

The amount spent by the Labor department in 1940 was $18,576,698. This year's spending is $257,043,997.

Expenditures of the Justice department 11 years ago totaled $50,813,182. They now total $121,290,804.

The comparatively small sum of $29,829,487 was spent in 1940 by the Department of State. Today, its money-throwing has reached the stupendous figure of $361,226,112.

There is much talk in a general way about "increasing cost of government." The figures just quoted aren't "generalization." They tell the tragic story of government spending in specific dollar-language.

If the taxpayers could say things are going to get better, the plight of the taxpayers would have a bright side. But no one can say that, except as a joke if he likes that kind of joking. Nor can any of us ever seriously say that so long as the New Deal in government has an aphrod of power over our money.

Lost - Ability To Be Ashamed

It doesn't seem so many years ago that the phrase "I'd be ashamed" to do something or other was in rather common use. There was a sort of general ability on the part of the American people to feel shame to conduct themselves so that the occasion for shame would not rise. This feeling, curiously mixed up with morals, religion and government, hardly seems to exist any longer. The more we look over the newspaper each day the more evidence there is that such a lack of ability to be ashamed seems to be increasing.

One such instance that readily comes to mind is that of the appointment of Philip C. Jessup as delegate from the United States to the United Nations.

It must strike anyone who thinks of it as odd that Dr. Jessup would accept the appointment after all the charges that have been leveled against him. This is not to argue for or against Dr. Jessup, although the evidence presented by Alfred Kohlenberg ought to be enough to make the President ashamed to appoint him. It seems strange that in all the United States there is no person who could be selected for this post against whom there would be no objection.

In the instance of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. there is another set of examples of a complete void so far as shame is concerned. Even if we grant that there is nothing actually criminally wrong with the people connected with the government agency, and there is good reason to suspect that this is not true, one would think that the people connected with the scandal would be ashamed of their conduct.

The case of Harry Vaughn, the President's aide, is another in the long line of those who seem to be incapable of shame. He seems to feel that rather than be ashamed of his actions he has been "picked on" by those who exposed his shady dealings.

BAXTER'S VIEWS

DAVID BAXTER

CHRISTIAN DUTIES

I used to think that Christians should be more or less monastic, having nothing to do with the political and economic affairs of this world. Then Jim Gerrard, a fine Bible student and prominent business man of San Bernardino, Calif., pointed out some teachings in the Scriptures which clearly showed that the believer in Christ has three duties: to God, to country and to family.

The first half of the Ten Commandments, for example, relate man's duty to God while the second half have to do with man's duty to man. In the New Testament it is summed up as loving God and one's neighbor and the practical application of the Golden Rule as a model way of life in this world.

Duty to country is often emphasized by St. Paul, who also emphasizes a man's duty to his family by writing, "If any provide not for his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

The great Apostle defines duty to country as practicing the moral principles which make for good citizenship, and in keeping order by recognizing the authority of "the powers that be," since "all power is of God."

Now, applying that to America, we see that God has blessed this country by providing it with a solid and sound foundation, stated in the Declaration of Independence, which is the highest form of society yet attained by mankind. The "power that be" in America, far from being rulers over and above the people, are declared to be "THE PEOPLE." We, the people, are the political powers that be and we ARE the government. I am the government, each and every one of us is the government, free and equal, our citizenship and vote carrying exactly as much authority as any President or other people you choose to represent you. This power is our birthright because, according to the Bible, it is "ordained of God."

Whether or not we want to assume the responsibility that goes with power, we have it. If we willingly and cheerfully assume it, then we are going to be "THE PEOPLE." We, the people, are the political powers that be and we ARE the government. Better Jobs

By R. C. HOLLES

"Render unto Caesar..." I know of nothing that needs more to be understood than what the government can do and what it cannot do and should not try to do. That is, I know of no statement that needs more explanation than "Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

I attempted to explain this statement the other day and then the following day I quoted what a close reasoner had to say on the subject.

Today I want to quote from another close reasoner on this subject. I sent him an advance copy of my interpretation of this much quoted statement accorded to Jesus, and this is what he wrote to me.

"The statement seems, as you say, ambiguous. Suppose you and I worked together in a haberdashery but that I owned 100% of the stock, equipment—all of the property. Suppose further that you and I, after a disagreement, decided to go our own ways. You then say to me, 'What can I take with me as my share of the business?' My words to you as you leave the shop empty handed are: 'You take what belongs to you, I'll keep what belongs to me.'"

"Before going further, let me qualify my remarks by saying I am not an authority on Bible interpretation—so, I too, am thinking out loud with you.

"As I see it, Christ gave us life, and at the same time, gave us freedom to do with it as we wished. It is His hope that we shall voluntarily dedicate ourselves to His service—but that is for each individual to determine for himself. Indeed, the individual has the alternative of devoting his energy, property and power to evil if he so wishes.

"Since each person must, in his own mind, determine to whom he will 'render' himself and his belongings, could not 'Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's' mean that the distribution is determined separately by each individual and each individual's decision applies only to his own life and his own belongings?

"Elsewhere in Christ's teachings, the individual is admonished against serving two masters. But, as I see it, it in no way conflicts with the render unto Caesar statement. To me, this indicates freedom of choice.

"In effect, do not Christ's teachings add up to this way: To have eternal happiness, you have the power to choose good over evil, to place yourself in harmony with God. But above all, the rendering is not to be decided for you; the responsibility for the choice is yours alone.

"So does not Jesus say to R. C. Holles, 'You are the captain of your soul, I hope you will guide it wisely but when the time comes round for rendering, it is for you to decide whether you land in Caesar's camp or Mine—or if you want to straddle the fence.'"

I don't want to be an utter cad about this, but the fact is that a lady 62 years old has fallen violently in love with me and is causing some consternation in her family. Naturally, I am trying to handle this delicate matter with the utmost tact and consideration, but secretly I am pleased. It does a man's vanity in a world of small things to have a bright, articulate and intelligent lady, of whatever age, frankly and overwhelmingly enamored of him.

British Friends Bare Fangs At Parasites Of Bureaucracy

By WESTBROOK PEGLER LONDON — Some of our British friends have been baring their fangs at the parasites of bureaucracy, even as Sen. Byrd back home. The Evening Standard, a Tory paper run by Max Aitken, a character sweetly reminiscent of our own Billy Rose, recently discovered "waste" in the British embassy in Rome.

The staff of the press agents office has increased in numbers from three head before the war to 32 at present and the payroll from 2535 pounds to 30,066. It is futile to try to translate pounds into dollars in these situations because if you insist, that the pound is a half-price pound in relation to the dollar, you must then remind yourself that the dollar is worth a little less than 50 cents. This slows you up and you might strip your ears when you get to Paris, where the franc is so puny that the writers now take a percentage to their tips which are charged on a percentage in the bill. The present publicity staff in Rome is only three head short of the entire embassy staff down to 1939 and the embassy staff is up from 35 to 164.

About the same time, the News-Chronicle got out a pencil and an old envelope and figured out that Uncle Sam had given "each of us Britons" 45 pounds, which would be at least 126 of our 60-cent dollars. There might have been an implied suggestion here that the bureaucracy ought to take in its belt or even take gas out of consideration for the glorious old United States of A. But these Britons are great ones to mask their feelings and I detect no mawkishness. The loyal opposition seem to hate bureaucratic waste for the same reason that Senator Byrd does. It supports a lot of leeches who try to justify their existence by bothering the citizens and by cheapening the money more and more they run up the cost of dressing and arming a soldier to oppose the aggression of President Truman's old friend "Joe."

Winston Churchill announced that the cabinet ministers were cutting their official salaries by 20 percent but, in view of his vast personal prosperity flowing from the byproducts of his self-gas service to the nation, and his business-like arrangements to provide for his progeny, this sacrifice was robbed of some effect. Aitken, who calls himself Lord Beaverbrook across the top of his Daily Express, insisted that if the same officials had cut the costs of their departments 10 percent they could have wiped out the sales tax and reduced the income tax one-fifth. One item which he seemed to resent more than others was 486,000 pounds for 654 psychologists to select new bureaucrats, but he had no priase for 555 government fly cops of both sexes employed in the characteristic Socialist business of enticing and entrapping law abiding Britons into criminal violations of the rationing acts. These 555 get 312,500 pounds a year.

Aitken has changed since the days when he was engineering the squandering of American increased rates. By the time the higher schedule is granted, many lines are so much deeper in the red that the original proposal has become obsolete.

A lot of people are late for church because they have to change attire; and a lot of others because they have to change a dollar.

Pattern — The New York dock strike halted the shipment of goods to Korea and Western Europe. Nevertheless, the labor experts in the Wilson organization did not take a strong stand in any of these disputes. The Murray demand for an increase in pay for almost a million workers was favored by the defense cost by more than $500,000,000, if they are granted. The CIO head insists that he must have a larger raise than would be forthcoming under the wage-price stabilization formula. And, of course, the "big steel" demands in other industries, it is impossible to calculate the final boost in rearmament charges.

Directive — Public Law 413 provides that contracts must be awarded to the lowest bidder. Despite that, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of war in charge of manpower, has issued a directive to the effect that "depressed areas" suffering from unemployment would be favored by Pentagon officials handling contracts.

Several of these "depressed areas" are in politically important states. It is also true that every effort should be made to relieve conditions there. But it is impossible to reconcile the Rosenberg order with Public Law 413, for the economically active centers usually underbid their less fortunate competitors.

Publicity — The sad expertise of the Interstate Commerce commission explains why Cabinet members and bureau chiefs at Washington employ as elaborate a staff of press agents as Congress will permit. It pays off in the size of the annual appropriations.

The IOC has never had a press agent or publicity representative. It has never sought headlines or tried to sell itself on Capitol Hill. As a result, it has suffered a long series of budget cuts. It had 264 employees in 1940. Today it has only 1900, although its responsibilities have increased tremendously in the intervening years.

This shortage, as well as the fact that half of its examiners are just sitting around awaiting retirement, may underscore the railroads' constant complaints that several years are required for IOC to pass on requests for interference. As in World War II, when the late Henry L. Stimson frequently had to buck Capitol Hill and other outsiders' interference, members of Congress insist that war contracts be awarded on a political rather than on a production and cost-sheet basis.

Like Stimson, Secretary Lovett has to waste valuable time in placating senators and representatives facing reelection next year.

Mr. T. Guest—Aren't you the thought-reader who was entertaining the company a couple of hours ago by finding needles and other small objects they had hidden?"

"Entertainer—Yes, but my better discretion telling me to keep away. It was not to be. Lovett, Wilson On Outs Over Treatment Of Union Leaders

WASHINGTON — Defense Sec. Robert A. Lovett is at loggerheads with Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson over what the military regard as an unusually generous treatment of powerful labor union politicians, especially President Philip Murray and Walter Reuther of the CIO.

The Lovett group, which is under constant pressure for equipment to reinforce our Korean units, build up Eisenhower's Western European army and furnish training weapons to our troops in this country, have complained periodically that Wilson's industrial planners that they cannot meet production schedules on key items like tanks, jet planes, radar sets, unless there is a firmer stand on labor problems.

WRANGLING — Pentagon protests involve such questions as strikes and threatened walkouts, wage boosts, restrictions on hours of work and political favoritism to certain areas in the award of contracts.

In effect, these criticisms amount to a charge that there is an attempt to use the costly defense effort for political purposes and to retain the big union's support for the 1952 election.

Lovett has lost out in most of the backstage wrangling because Wilson has enjoyed the complete support of President Truman. Whenever there is a dispute over a directive in this field, Mr. Truman has the final word.

INTERFERENCE — As in World War II, when the late Henry L. Stimson frequently had to buck Capitol Hill and other outsiders' interference, members of Congress insist that war contracts be awarded on a political rather than on a production and cost-sheet basis.

Like Stimson, Secretary Lovett has to waste valuable time in placating senators and representatives facing reelection next year.

Many Accidents Caused In Home By Faulty Stair

One of the greatest causes of accidents in the home is a faulty stair. Loose treads or sagging carriages may trip the unwary or he may slip because the stair has taken a dangerous angle.

Often a regular check of the stair is sufficient to keep it in good condition but if it has been neglected too long, it is better to replace the entire unit completely.

There are two types of construction. In one the carriage, long diagonal timbers that support the treads are notched to take the treads and risers. The other type calls for slots cut out of the carriage into which the treads are secured with nails. The latter is the stronger construction, but is usually more difficult to construct.

In laying out the new stair there are a few standard rules which you should follow. The head clearance above each tread should be at least seven feet. The rise between steps should be seven inches and the treads generally about 10 inches wide. To get the number of treads needed, divide the distance, along the floor, from the lower end of the stair to the other end into equal spaces of around 10 inches each.

After the carriages have been firmly anchored in their permanent position, start at the bottom and fasten in the first tread with finishing nails. Countersink and fill the holes with wood putty. Then fasten the riser on top of the tread and to the height of the notch in the carriage so that the next tread will rest on top of it.

The procedure is roughly the same if you are using the grooved type of carriage. The tread is slid into the grooves and secured from the sides with spikes and in this case the riser may be installed on top of the tread or fastened against the back edge of the tread.

Local Builder Appointed To NAHB Office

R. G. Hughes, local builder, has been named by W. F. "Bill" Atkinson, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, to serve as NAHB liaison representative with this area in coordinating military and defense housing projects.

The appointment was announced at the Atlantic City regional NAHB conference, just concluded, where home builders met to study all major problems confronting the industry.

Leading builders throughout the nation were similarly designated to assist with building problems in their local communities.

"We are making every move possible to assure speedy construction of needed defense and military housing throughout the country. Our builder trouble-shooters will keep in touch with all facets of this problem in their areas. If any obstacles arise, we have the machinery set up to help expedite speedy construction," Atkinson said.

Great interest was displayed by builders in the NAHB Defense Housing committee meeting. The organized home building industry, recognizing defense and military housing as their current number one problem, devoted much time to discussions on aid in the development of vital needed housing projects, defense plants and military posts.

As an outcome of committee sessions on defense and military housing legislation and government controls, forthcoming NAHB booklet will be sent to summarize laws and regulations to advise builders with their construction problems.

Hughes, as NAHB liaison representative here, will receive up-to-date information on critical defense areas and the latest housing developments from NAHB's national headquarters in Washington which serves representatives as a clearing house in channeling new and essential data to local builders.

Supply and distribution of critical materials needed for future construction in addition to possible regional manpower shortages also received special attention at the Atlantic City meeting. Experts discussed alternate materials which could be employed to sustain full and quality home production as well as insure the continued manufacture of essential building fixtures.

X-Ray Finish Must Be Okay

The finish on X-ray apparatus is extremely important. Not only must it be durable, because much of it is in daily use over long periods of time, but it must be impervious to alcohol, water, barium and other diagnostic solutions.

The surfaces must also be smooth so they can be kept spotlessly clean. The color used must be neutral in tone to blend well with the variety of color schemes found in doctors' offices, clinics and hospitals.

Shellac Valuable

Shellac is a valuable aid to archeologists in the preparation of fossilized specimens for shipment to museums. Following the disintegration of the fossil, the entire skeleton is coated freely with shellac. Thin and absorbent rice paper is then applied to the surface of the bones, followed by another coat of shellac. A remarkably tough protective shell is formed in this manner.

Combat Experience With Jets In Korea Sparks Big Change In Air Force Tactics

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
 NEA Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—The combat experience the Air Force is getting in Korea against Russian-made jet fighters is causing some major changes in planning for possible future air wars.

Tactics are being revised. Major modifications in the present jets are being rushed.

This new warfare boils down to the fact that jets are extremely hard to destroy in the air. Day after day the communists from Korea tell of 100 or more Red MiGs attacking 40 or 50 U. S. Sabre-jets, with maybe one or two of the enemy destroyed or damaged and seldom one of the U. S. planes being hit.

Statistics prove the problem. Since the MiGs began attacking U. S. jets in great numbers last summer, slightly more than 100 of the speedy Red planes have been shot down. Only about 20 Sabers have been destroyed in the thousands of combat engagements that have taken place. If all the planes involved had been propeller-driven, the sky battle would long since have been decisive.

Reasons for this indecisive air fighting are fairly obvious.

The planes go so fast the pilot seldom gets more than one shot at an enemy plane. And at best it's a very difficult shot.

In addition, the jets can take a lot of enemy bullets and still stay in the air. They are built stronger throughout. The kerolene they use is less likely to catch fire than high octane gasoline. And they fly at such great heights they don't catch fire because of the lack of oxygen up there.

Result is that air-to-air combat has now become the most expensive kind of fighting UN forces are engaged in, in terms of destruction against the enemy. But what can U. S. military experts do about it?

If the Air Force doesn't put large fleets of jets into the air, the Red jets could begin attacking there.

Check Gutters And Downspouts

At this time of year, it is wise to examine the condition of gutters and downspouts. If gutters are not well cleaned and painted, most types will soon begin to decay.

When they leak, they help destroy the woodwork of a structure, making expensive repairs necessary. Paint the inside of gutters with asphalt roof coating — the outside, with house paint.

THE STORY: Alma Conway, woman jewelry designer for the exclusive House of Trumbull, is excited because Tommy, her husband, after apparently being a failure, has suddenly obtained a promotion into confidential work with Brighton Muncie, son of the president of the firm. As she goes to work, her mind travels back to the day when Old Victor Blanchard, her grandfather, introduced her to Mr. Muncie as an expert in the craft.

IV

THE Head, Mr. Muncie, had then hemmed and hawed and protested on the grounds of Alma's sex. There had never been a woman at the workbench. Such a thing was unheard of. A boy—well, perhaps they would have given him a chance. But a girl!

"I stood by you, alone, through the great jeweler's strike," Victor said. "I have given you and to the House but I have never asked a return." Mr. Muncie's head was bent, remembering, while Alma waited, wide-eyed and breathless. Then the Head had looked at Old Victor with the ghost of a smile.

"You do right to remind me," he said. "Loyal people are more precious than rubies. Let the young girl show us her skill."

Ever since, she had worked beside Old Victor who hovered over her like a guardian angel even when he was free between his increasingly rare assignments.

Still handsome and erect, he considered himself at 76, to be as able as ever, and came to The House every day. He had lived and breathed Trumbull's for so long that his honor was his honor, his reputation, his reputation; its success had been success enough for him. He lived alone, a caliph by day in the reflected light of the great jewelry establishment, a hermit by night in the brown-stones rooming house where he seldom admitted visitors.

Old Victor, Alma decided, should be told who had given her the

 The good neighbor realizes that a home not kept well painted and in good condition — or a home with a decorative treatment that does not harmonize with nearby homes — can mar the attractiveness of the entire community, lower its property values and its income from real estate.

Ginner To Fly To Greece To Wed Girl He Never Saw

VICTORIA (AP) — A 48-year-old Victoria county ginner will fly to Athens, Greece, Dec. 19 to marry a woman he never will fly to Athens, Greece, Dec. 19 to marry a woman he never has seen.

Clarence Hillman of Ines, whose five previous marriages have ended in divorce, says he wooed and won Smaro Vogiatzaki, 27, daughter of a Greek general by mail. It will be his first marriage for Smaro.

The ginner said it all started a year ago at Houston when he met a soldier who had just returned from Greece.

"I asked him if he knew of any girls I could write to. The one whose name he gave me turned out to be married but she gave my letter to a friend. The friend answered, we started a correspondence and one thing led to another," Hillman relates.

Both Hillman and Miss Vogiatzaki, who is a college graduate, wrote in English. After eight months of correspondence, Hillman proposed and the Greek girl accepted.

"I just happened to be looking for a wife," he said. "I explained it to her and told her what I wanted. I told her I was homesick over here and was looking for someone to be happy with."

"It seems that's what she wanted, too — to come over here and live happily with someone," he said.

The wedding will be in a Greek orthodox church, although Hillman is a Lutheran and says he expects to remain one.

Minor Leagues Open Columbus Draft Meeting

Five Big Questions Await Answering

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Five big major league questions remained to be answered and five important minor league problems waited to be solved as the minor leagues opened their golden jubilee convention today.

- Some 1,200 baseball people representing 49 leagues from all corners of the nation were present.
- These are the questions:
1. Will Eddie Stanky manage the St. Louis Cardinals?
  2. Will Joe Dimaggio announce his official retirement?
  3. Will Ted Williams be traded?
  4. Will the New York Yankees get Ned Garver?
  5. Will the Brooklyn Dodgers get Ewell Blackwell or any of the other star pitchers of the Cincinnati Reds?

FIVE PROBLEMS
The five problems confronting minor league baseball are: (a) open classification for the higher minors; (b) radio and television inroads on minor league attendance; (c) high school rule; (e) abolition of 24-hour recall of players sent to lower classification and trimming of big league roster from 25 to 23 players; (e) placing an eighth club in the International League.

The cold war between owners Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants continues as the latter's Redbirds boss declares he had three other candidates in mind besides the Giants' scrappy second baseman.

"While Stanky remains my No. 1 choice, I have three other men all highly capable, under consideration," Saigh declared. "I have talked with all three. I am not at liberty to divulge their names but one is in my own organization. The other two are in the National League."

The Giants have asked for outfielder Chuck Diering and southpaw Max Lanier. Saigh refuses to part with any of his pitchers. He has offered a second string infielder along with Diering for Stanky.

FERRY A CANDIDATE
One of the three is Terry Moore, popular coach of the Cardinals and a leading candidate last year when Marty Marion got the job. Pee Wee Reese, reported to be another, squashed the rumor himself. The Brooklyn shortstop said:

"I am not interested in managing the Cardinals or any other club right now. I hope to manage a club after my playing days are ended."

Lou Boudreau has just decided to take Ted Williams' name off the market. The new manager of the Boston Red Sox is not satisfied with any of the offers he has had for his star slugger.

Buzzy Ravasi, young energetic vice-president of the Dodgers, said he was still hopeful of landing Ewell Blackwell, Howie Fox or Herman Wehmeier of the Reds. He also was seeking right-hander Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs.

Minor league president George M. Trautman said he was in favor of the open classification, keeping the high school rule and the abolition of the 24-hour recall.

Nine Nominated For Sandlot Hall
COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Nine players who reached stardom in the major leagues were nominated today by the National Baseball Congress for the first berths in the Sandlot Hall of Fame.

The names of three, with three others to be added annually, will be inscribed on a plaque at Cooperstown, N. Y. The first three to be honored will be selected for the Hall of Fame by the National Baseball Congress commissioners in Chicago at a January 20-21 meeting.

The nominees include Leroy (Satchel) Paige, John Peckay, Freddie Hutchinson, "Boo" Ferris, Lou Kretlow, Grady Hatton, Eddie Waitkus, Monty Basgall, Rex Barney.

Wheeler Girls Defeat Alumni
WHEELER (Special) — The basketball season for the Wheeler High Girls team opened on Wednesday night when they met an alumni team. The high school girls won 34 to 21. Coach Cecil Paddock has not yet set the membership of his first string and the schedule is incomplete.

The next scheduled game is December 11 at Briscoe but there will probably be another game schedule this week.

Coach Colie Huffman held the first workouts for the boys last week and the team standings are not set as yet.

Bowlers Gathered
CHICAGO (AP) — A field of 160 men and 64 women bowlers from 20 states today was fixed for the 11th annual all-star national match-game tonight at the Chicago Coliseum Dec. 8-16.

Dick Hoover, 21-year-old star, will defend his men's title, while the women's title-holder back is Mrs. Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, Mich., seeking a third successive crown.

Quinn Seriously Ill
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. (AP) — Bob Quinn, curator of baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., and former owner of the Boston Braves, has been confined to St. Anthony's hospital here for four days.

The hospital would not say what Quinn's illness was, but reported the 61-year-old baseball figure was seriously ill.

Browns, Rams Likely Foes

NEW YORK (AP) — With two weeks to go, it seems like a good bet that the Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles Rams will meet for the National Football League championship. Both took long strides toward that goal yesterday by racking up impressive, one-sided victories.

The Browns moved to within one game of clinching the American Conference title by smashing the Chicago Cardinals, 49 to 28, behind Otto Graham's brilliant pass work.

And Los Angeles took over the top spot in the National Conference with a 42-17 victory over the one-nighty but now-ordinary Chicago Bears.

LIONS LOSE
This victory, coupled with Detroit's loss to San Francisco, dropped the Lions from first place and all but ended the Bears' hopes for the conference crown.

San Francisco, playing the roll of spoiler, upset Detroit, 20 to 10.

Los Angeles (7-3-0) and Detroit (6-3-1) collide next Sunday on the west coast in the game that could decide the conference title.

The dogged New York Giants retained their slim hopes in the American Conference by blanking Pittsburgh, 14 to 0, Cleveland (9-1-0) can end this race by defeating Pittsburgh next Sunday.

The Giants have a 7-2-1 record, their only losses coming to the Browns.

In other games — which had no bearing on the leaders — the first game of the season, shading Green Bay, 31 to 28, and Philadelphia outlasted the Washington Redskins, 35 to 21.

Cleveland and Los Angeles met for the NFL title last season, with the Browns winning a thriller, 30 to 28, on Lou Groza's last-minute field goal.

Big Ten Meet Set

College Football Season In Quiet Foldup After Big Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The college football season quietly folded today — except for the usual rush of bowl games — but before the molekians are hauled out again you'll hear plenty about the game.

Roughing — TV, subsidization, spring practice, they'll occupy the time of the top administrators and coaches in the country through the winter.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that by the time the 1952 Drake withdrawal from the season starts, there will be many a modification in the high-pressure tactics employed by the colleges. Many presidents and coaches alike have expressed themselves strongly on the subject of recruiting — a word that used to bring shudders to all.

The past season there were at least five incidents that arose as a result of accusations of roughing. The most serious led to Drake's withdrawal from the Missouri Valley Conference because of a broken jaw suffered by Johnny Bright, at that time the nation's leading ground gainer. Drake officials claimed he was roughed deliberately by Oklahoma A&M.

But that wasn't an isolated incident. Even in the Ivy League, tempers got out of control in the Princeton-Dartmouth game with no fewer than a dozen combatants helped off the field.

Princeton's ace all-American back Dick Kazmaier suffered a concussion and a fractured nose.

Baylor and Southern Methodist newspapers got in a discussion over rough tactics, there was an undeciphered disaffection over the Nebraska-Minnesota game in which Nebraska tackle Jerry Minick suffered a concussion. Finally, Marquette Coach Lisle Blackburn said his school would not play Tulsa after 1952 because of such "flagrantly illegal" tactics.

RULES CHANGES
So it seems apparent that the rules committee will have to take some action for roughing. Possibly a stricter interpretation of the rules by officials would do the trick.

In the stormy matter of television, the embattled NCAA on Saturday reiterated its stand on video, defending its actions on the experimental program of limited telecasts, and claiming once again that it never has been told by the Department of Education that the move was illegal.

What will happen in television next year is problematical. The NCAA is expected to decide at its annual meeting in January.

Subsidization, spring practice, scholarships and sundry other problems need solving, too.

When the final returns are in tomorrow, the top team in the country for the year will be decided. Tennessee, which has been leading the Associated Press poll for several weeks had rough going Saturday — probably the result of a natural letdown after beating Kentucky — but defeated Vanderbilt, 35-27.

Didrickson Still Top Gal Golfer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., is the money winner of the ladies' golf professionals, but she surrendered some of her titles to other names on the PGA circuit in 1951.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., captured the Weathermans championship and dethroned Mrs. Zaharias as Western Open champion. Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tex., won the Open championship with a score of 293 at Atlanta.

Among highlights of the 1951 ladies' PGA circuit, as revealed today by director Fred Corcoran, were:

Leading money winners — Mrs. Zaharias, $15,067.50. She bettered her 1950 winners by $1,850 and led the field for the fourth straight year. Miss Berg won $13,337.50.

Most tournaments won — Mrs. Zaharias (5); Miss Berg (5). World's scoring record (72 holes) — Mrs. Zaharias, 288 at Tampa.

All-time record (18 holes) finished — Mrs. Zaharias, 66 at Dallas, Tex.

Biggest upset — Weatherwans team (Mrs. Zaharias, Miss Berg, Betty Jameson, Betsy Rawls, Peggy Kirk and Betty Bush) defeating team of British amateurs, which included four members of British Walker Cup team, 6-0, at Wentworth, Eng. (played from men's tees).

Baylor Boasts Best Record Of Texas College Elevens

By the Associated Press
The Texas college football campaign is at an end with Baylor boasting the best record for the season.

The Bruins wound up with eight wins, one loss and one tie although they did not win the Southwest conference championship. It happened that their lone loss was to Texas Christian, the team that did.

East Texas State, champion of the second best record, winning the Lone Star Conference, had the second best record, winning nine while losing two.

SECOND TO BRAD
Here were the best records:

Team	W	L	T
Baylor	8	1	1
East Texas	9	2	0
Texas	7	3	0
North Texas	8	4	0

Champions were: Southwest Conference — Texas Christian. Border Conference — Texas Tech. Lone Star Conference — East Texas State. Gulf Coast Conference — North Texas State.

Texas Conference — Abilene Christian, Howard Payne, and Texas A&I tied.

Not many games were played in freshman rule and financial aid to athletes.

Issue Warning To Gun Users
AUSTIN — The chief clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission reported that at least five Texans have been killed during the 1951 hunting season.

Persons wounded, he added, total more than one dozen with several accidents apparently unreported as yet.

The data was compiled from game wardens' reports.

The chief clerk said a partial report on seasonal casualties "may serve as a reminder to hunters to be more careful." He said the fall shoot reaches its peak with the opening of the quail season December 1.

The chief clerk said two of the five fatalities were caused by self-inflicted wounds. One killed while taking his shotgun from a car. The other was leaning on his rifle barrel.

The other fatal shootings involved:

A 47-year-old boy mistaking a 50-year-old man for a wild turkey and shooting him through the head.

A 13-year-old boy jumping up in front of another young duck hunter's shotgun.

Harvesters Set For Opener; Smith, Jeter Are Co-Captains

The Pampa Harvester basketball team held a short workout this afternoon in preparation for their opening game of the 1951-52 season tomorrow night against the Stratford Elks at the Junior High school gymnasium.

The biggest work done by the Pampa team this week was the election of co-captains to guide them this year. Selected for the honor by their teammates were senior guard Tommy Smith and senior center Duane Jeter. They were selected by the ballots of their teammates at a meeting this morning.

Smith is a returning letterman who has played both Reaper and Guerilla ball prior to being a starting guard last season. He is a good shot, and fine defensive man, and the fastest fellow on the squad.

Jeter is playing his third year of basketball, and second on the Harvesters. He transferred from California three years ago, just in time to play with the Guerillas in the 1949-50 season. He is the tallest man on the squad, standing 6-5.

Game time for tomorrow's inaugural is 8 o'clock. A preliminary game will match the B squads of both schools in a 7 o'clock starter.

McNeely is expected to start a team composed of four seniors and one sophomore. The likely starters will be Marvin and Jimmy Bond, Jeter, Smith and Jimmy Dulaney. This will field a club averaging over 8 feet in height. Jeter at 6-4, Marvin Bond at 6-2, Dulaney at 5-11, 1-2, and Smith standing 5-10.

The Harvesters will be breaking out their new warm up built along Navy lines with pop collars, and flared trousers.

Tomorrow night's game will be broadcast by radio station KPND, starting at 10:30, 8 o'clock.

Quarterbacks Delay Meeting

The Pampa Quarterback club will not meet tonight. The regular weekly meeting has been postponed until Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in order not to conflict with the junior class play at Pampa High school.

The meeting will be held in the Woodrow Wilson auditorium. It will be an open meeting with the films of the Pampa San Angelo and the highlight film of the Cleveland Browns in the National Professional football league in 1950.

Also, tickets for the annual Harvester football banquet, will be placed on sale. The banquet is on 17.

Quarterback Top Gainer In Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Bob Heimerdinger of Northern Illinois State won top football ground gaining honors among the small colleges for the second straight year, according to the final statistics released today by the National Collegiate Service Bureau.

Heimerdinger, 160-pound senior from Riverside, Ill., gained 1,775 yards by passing — also high for the season — and his 103 completions placed him second in passing behind Andy MacDonald of Central Michigan. MacDonald completed 114.

SECOND TO BRAD
The final statistics also showed Bob White of New Mexico Western as the year's top ball carrier. Jim Steppoff of Kalamazoo College the leading pass receiver and Curtis Harris of Savannah State the No. 1 punter.

Heimerdinger's 292 offense plays also made him the longest toiling back of the year. In his four varsity years he gained 5,078 yards, second in the all-time small college rankings to Brad Rowland's 5,200 for McMurry College.

He also threw the most passes this season, 225, and had the most intercepted, 18. Sixteen of his aeriels went for touchdowns, which ranked him second in that department to Jim Gray of East Texas State, who flipped 17 six-pointers.

In ball carrying, White's title-winning margin was the largest ever recorded. The Silver City, N. M. fullback paced the rushers with 1,543 yards in 222 carries, 199 yards ahead of runner-up Fred Durig of Bowling Green.

Stepoff won the pass-catching laurels with 45 receptions. Jim Richardson of Amherst, who set a small-college single game record with 18 catches against Bowdoin, wound up second with 42. Harris topped the punters with an average of 41.6 on 37 kicks.

Finalists Due This Week From Schoolboys; Lubbock At Home

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Finalists will be determined this week in the upper echelons of Texas schoolboy football and it looks like this:

Class AAA — Breckenridge and Temple.
Class AAAA — Lubbock and Baytown.

The lower divisions — Classes AA and A — will be establishing semifinalists and here's how it appears in those divisions:
Class AA — Anson, Arlington, LaVega and Donna.

McNeely is expected to start a team composed of four seniors and one sophomore. The likely starters will be Marvin and Jimmy Bond, Jeter, Smith and Jimmy Dulaney. This will field a club averaging over 8 feet in height. Jeter at 6-4, Marvin Bond at 6-2, Dulaney at 5-11, 1-2, and Smith standing 5-10.

Collegians Put On Spot

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — College basketball, staggered by a sordid series of "dumps" and "fixes," warily approaches a new season with fingers crossed, outlook uncertain, hoping for the best.

This is the year when the cage game goes strictly on the defensive. Nobody realizes that more than the coaches and players. "It is up to them to help the deflated sport make a worthwhile comeback, to wipe out the suspicion and doubt to restore the confidence of the disillusioned fans. It is up to them to make the 1951-52 cage season the most honest and cleanest of them all. The entire nation sits on the jury bench, waiting to judge. In the past it was fun analyzing the teams, predicting the sectional winners, putting the finger on the sleepers and selecting the outstanding stars. The scandal-filled past, with its bribes, signed confessions, expulsions and jail sentences, makes the task of evaluating the teams a monumental one. The waving of the freshman rule by all but the Southwest and the Ivy League only makes the job that much tougher.

STRONGEST TEAMS
The voluntary withdrawal from big time basketball of CCNY and the dropping of the sport by Long Island University, two scandal-rocked schools, eliminates two perennial powerful quintets from consideration. That leaves St. John's of Brooklyn, Seton Hall of South Orange, N. J., Villanova of Philadelphia and Philadelphia to uphold the East's court prestige.

These four are rated the strongest units in the East with Holy Cross, Duquesne, New York University, Columbia, St. Bonaventure and Connecticut rated a couple of shades behind. Those who may surprise include Pennsylvania, Fordham, Georgetown, Boston College, Niagara and Colgate.

Attendance Down In SWC Football
DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference football campaign showed a slight decrease in attendance from last year. Three of the seven members had increases. The season again went over the 1,000,000 mark.

Southern Methodist showed the biggest drop as the Methodists drew 201,600 for four games, compared to 305,250 last year for five.

The biggest gain was by Texas A&M, which packed in 159,131 this year compared to 93,589 in 1950.

Class A — Wink, Newcastle, Giddings and Industrial (Waco, Tex.).
Lubbock and Ray of Co. P. D. Christi, the last undefeated, tied teams left in Class AAAA (Fort Worth) and Baytown respectively.

MEET AT LUBBOCK
Lubbock and Arlington will get together at Lubbock. Ray and Baytown will meet at Lubbock on Saturday noon. Lubbock, on the season's record, is the favorite over Arlington.

Lubbock and Arlington will get together at Lubbock. Ray and Baytown will meet at Lubbock on Saturday noon. Lubbock, on the season's record, is the favorite over Arlington.

In Class AAAA, Breckenridge plays undefeated, untied Grand Prairie at Breckenridge Saturday while Temple and Brownsville clash at Breckenridge-Grand Prairie game looks tough and Grand Prairie could beat Breckenridge causing much surprise. However, Brownsville's lone loss this season was to Lamar, 40-13, and Temple was barely nosed out by Baytown, which tied Lamar.

Anson and LaVega are the only undefeated, untied teams left in Class AA. Anson plays Childress at Wichita Falls Friday afternoon. LaVega engages Huntsville at Huntsville Friday night. Arlington plays Pleasant Grove at Dallas and Donna clashes with Lamar at Rosenberg at McAllen, both Friday night.

Class A features two game matching unbeaten, untied teams — Abernathy vs Wink at Lubbock Friday afternoon and Newcastle vs Higgintham at Denton Friday night. Giddings, the other undefeated team, takes Cedar Bayou at Cedar Bayou Friday night. Industrial plays Pearsall Friday night.

DENVER — (NEA) — Out here they tell you that Wyoming catmen bar brand one of every 10 steers for Bowden Wyatt.

Wyatt and his aides also brought in a number of Tennessee boys. There are no fewer than 12 of them, exclusive of the freshmen, on this Fall's roster. Seven registered from Wisconsin, three from Colorado.

Wyatt brought with him the best wishes of his old coach, Tennessee's Brig-Gen. Robert Reese Neyland, and three other former Volunteers — John W. Baily, George Cafego and Leonard Coffman, the latter recalled to active duty as a major in the army last May.

Wyatt skillfully mixed local talent and importees, and won the Skyline Conference title in 1949 and '50, losing only one game to Baylor of the Southwest Conference the first year.

Local Merchants Ready For Holiday Season

Many Beautiful, Practical Gifts For Your Home At The Electric Supply

Men Will Appreciate And Truly Enjoy Gifts From The Sportsman's Store

SERVICE CLEANERS. Pictured above, is located at 312 South Cuyler. Be sure that you will look your best during the coming holiday season by having your clothes expertly cleaned at Service Cleaners, now. Call 1290 for fast, efficient, safe, free pickup and delivery or take your clothes to 312 South Cuyler.

If your house has a kitchen and if you have a wife who spends hours of every day in the kitchen, then NO gift will be more appreciated... no gift could be more practical... than a modern, time-saving, labor-saving, home appliance from The Electric Supply, located at 319 West Foster.

Look around your kitchen. (But don't let the wife catch on to what you're doing.) What about the refrigerator? Is it big enough? Does it keep foods fresh and tempting? Does it have that all-important frozen food storage space?

Then there is the Range. No telling how many hours a day the wife spends over it. It should be adequate for her every cooking need. And here's a big question... what about the washing machine? Is it fully automatic? Does it get clothes really clean? Now if you want to know what she would really like... most of all, just come in and see, the new complete line of appliances at The Electric Supply. We could go on and on... mentioning Ironers, Hot Water Heaters, Home Freezers, Dryers, etc. . . but why don't you come in and let us show you our stock of appliances soon. Among our featured lines of appliances are Coolerator and Universal.

Ladies, do you feel as though you have given the "man in your life" enough shirts and ties for him to start his own haberdashery? If so, you're probably longing for an idea, suggestion or brainstorm for something that is different but that will be really appreciated.

Then visit The Sportsman's Store at 115 East Kingsmill. You are assured of finding something that will not only be different from the traditional shirt but will also please. Your fellow will be mighty happy that you cared enough to put some real thought into his gift.

The Sportsman's Store can supply you with equipment for the golfer, hunter, or fisherman. They have all of the essentials for boating and camping. The equipment available is so varied that you will be able to find something in every price range.

For the man who isn't interested in any of the usual sports, there are hobby supplies of all kinds. Just because the man you are shopping for doesn't have a hobby now is no reason to believe he wouldn't enjoy one. An intelligent and thoughtful gift of hobby supplies from you might well get him started on the road to many hours of pleasure.

Here we are in December and there are only 18 more shopping days until Christmas. That really isn't much time, so why not save all the time you can by shopping where you can get gifts for the whole family. That's right, at Cretney Drug you can solve all your shopping problems. Choose from the wide selection of many gifts at Cretney Drug Company.

For Family Gift This Year Let Pursley Play Santa

If you are one of those unfortunate souls that simply cannot think of a thing to get for the man or lady in your life, or of something for the family . . . the most important gift on your list . . . take a tip. Over on the corner of Foster and Ballard is one of Pampa's best known business establishments, Pursley Motor Company, founded by "Doc" Pursley and operated by Irwin Pursley.

At Pursley Motors you can find many values in good used cars and in new Dodge and Plymouth items designed to fit any pocketbook.

If you are thinking of a wonderful gift for the family and are thinking of a gift in the long-range aspect, there is little doubt that a new automobile is the most lasting gift you can purchase. When you measure style, quality and price with the reliability of the dealer, there should be no doubt in your mind that a gift car from the Pursley Motor Company would be about the finest gift you could give anyone.

Don't lose much more time. Call 113 or go down to Pursley Motors, corner of Foster and Ballard, where arrangements can be made in a hurry to supply you with a new automobile or a like-new used car.

The showroom and stock room at Pursley Motor Company is loaded with dandy gift suggestions that would delight any car owner.

There are seat covers, car radios, chrome side mirrors, white wall tires, horns, car heaters, defrosters, cigarette lighters, ash trays, fog lights and dozens of other accessories to make the whole family happy at Christmas by "dressing-up" your car.

Visit the Pursley Motor Company now and solve one of your most important shopping problems.

Bert A. Howell Has Gifts To Please 'Problem' People

The Christmas Parade last week officially launched the Christmas shopping season in Pampa. For some time we have been urging you to get your gift buying underway. Maybe you have taken that well meant advice and now have only a few people left on your list.

If that is the case, the chances are that those remaining names are "problems" because you can never decide what to get them. Have you thought of shopping at Bert A. Howell Company?

There you can find a nice selection that is certain to include at least one item which will really gladden the heart of any sportsman on your list. Just go in and take a look at the motors, boats, and supplies that Bert A. Howell has on display at 119 North Ward. If you need a good gun or any other piece of equipment that Bert doesn't

... home from England

Two Pampans Make Friends With England

Chester, England — the gateway to Wales and the city whose walls were built in the First Century by the Romans — was home to two Pampans the greater part of last year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Friauf recently returned from Chester, located near Liverpool, where Mr. Friauf was sent for special work at the Cabot company plant there.

"They have been busy re-establishing themselves in the family home on Somerville, catching up on life in Pampa during their absence, and preparing for Christmas at home. And already Mrs. Friauf has mailed numerous Christmas greeting cards to their new friends in England.

"We found the English cordial and very gracious," Mrs. Friauf said in a recent interview, "and we learned that the English we met had heard about Texas from the other company people, and from the American-made western movies. Movies that were well attended, but some westerns have given a distorted picture of the West."

"Generally though," Mrs. Friauf explained, "the people are well informed on the United States, and they are interested in hearing and learning more about this country."

By the same token, Pampans are anxious to hear about England. Mrs. Friauf, in presenting programs at local women's clubs finds that women here are as eager to learn about the English women market, keep house and entertain, as the young English ladies were to hear about real western ranches!

Mrs. Friauf found many admirable characteristics in the English women and though they are still struggling with food rationing, they are able to entertain graciously. Eggs, meat, bacon and butter are scarce in Chester, even though it is a farming district. The average housewife in England spends far more time shopping than we do here, and she spends more time with her household because she has less labor-saving devices. Some families are able to have servants, but they are quite costly by the English standard.

The women seem to enjoy doing simple things together. Mrs. Friauf said they find recreation in such things as going to auction sales. New furniture there is quite expensive, she explained, and the women find valuable pieces at auction and though it takes them a while to furnish a home that way, they have something really fine when they are through.

Families, too, seem to have good times together. You often see whole families bicycling or hiking together. There are interesting little "public paths" all over the Isles and many families spend their vacations hiking, with packs on their backs, across the country. Maps are available for the paths, routes and some of the loveliest scenery is to be seen on such hikes, Mrs. Friauf explained.

The English love their Moors, and spend a great deal of time on picnics far out on the Moors, which are actually a good bit like our Texas plains. Lack of automobile transportation never seems to keep the English at home.

There are few frame houses in England, Mrs. Friauf pointed out, and the brick, stone and stucco houses give England a substantial look. That, along with the fact that most of the narrow, winding highways of England are paved. The rambling walls that have stood intact of in part since the First Century also help give the countryside a finished look.

The ancient walls in England are everywhere, and all houses have some sort of wall about it, low or high, and if there isn't a wall, a hedge grows. Many of the large homes have been converted into hospitals, but the castles on hillside and estates surrounded by high walls are still plentiful. These high walls have perpetuated the saying that the best way to see England is atop a double-decker bus.

There was little bombing in Chester, but the Friaufs saw evidences of bomb damage in the port of Liverpool which was a frequent enemy target.

On one occasion, Mrs. Friauf saw the Princess Elizabeth who came to Chester for the passing out exercises at Eaton Hall, which was a sort of graduation ceremony when soldiers finished officer cadet school. The Princess, who seems to be popular with the people, was met by an enthusiastic crowds who lined the streets, and the children waved small English flags as she passed. Mrs. Friauf learned to enjoy the tea hour, a well-known tradition of the English, but she never made it a habit. One custom she enjoyed was the "elevenes" which was a meeting or coffee. A pleasant thing about the tea hour between 4 and 5 p. m. is that it is purely social, whereas so many of our meetings for coffee are for business purposes.

The English use hot milk in their coffee rather than cream, and it's either black or white, the white indicating "with milk." Mrs. Friauf found that after-dinner coffee in the living room or drawing room was another must in English homes.

One of their favorite "quick holidays" was to Wales which is one of the most scenic spots in the Isles, with its rugged sea coasts, mountains, river valleys, water falls and moors with heather in bloom. But England is beautiful, too, Mrs. Friauf said, and all the things that have been told in poetry about England in the Spring are true. And she feels that come Spring when the Hawthorn trees and laburnum bloom on the Isles, she'll long to see England again!

U.S. Resources Studied At 20th Century Forum

A book review, "Our Plundered Planet" by Fairfield Osborne, was reviewed by Mrs. O. L. Statton following a talk on "Natural Preservation Notes" by Mrs. M. X. Beard, at the last meeting of Twentieth Century Forum in the home of Mrs. Arthur Teed.

Stressing the fact that animal life has suffered as man has progressed, Mrs. Beard pointed out that clearing of forests, damming rivers and other steps taken for development of agriculture and industry has resulted in the disappearance of much wild animal life because of the destruction of their natural homes.

"Some birds are extinct now," she said, "and many others are near the vanishing point. We have only a few herds of buffalo left and the amount of moose, wild sheep, goat, antelope, deer and bear are pitifully small."

The first law protecting wild life was passed in California in 1870. Mrs. Beard said, and in 1903, President Theodore Roosevelt established the first wild life refuge and during his administration signed 50 orders for similar purposes.

Among the many hunting and fishing laws for protection of wild life is one unique law concerning salmon. The salmon industry is taxed by the Federal Government, however the tax is remitted if a thousand fry, or young salmon, are returned to the stream for every ten cases of salmon canned. This results in most canneries establishing hatcheries which every year return an enormous number of fish to the streams, Mrs. Beard explained.

One of the basic problems in conservation is the fact that nature has to be maintained in balance. Man can seldom determine which wild animals are destructive and which are beneficial because the chains of relationship in nature are mostly complex and dirred from our view, she said.

Mrs. Beard explained that one biologist has said, "Without birds not only would agriculture be impossible, but the destruction of the greater part of nature would follow. We know the honey bee is important as a pollen carrier and the beaver an aid to water conservation and helps prevent erosion. If all our civilization is to go forward, we shall have to take account of the widespread and unnecessary destruction resulting from ignorance, heedlessness and selfishness, for it is safe to say North America in the last three centuries has suffered more from wrong use of resources than any other continent."

"The goal," Mrs. Beard said, "must be to restore and maintain the closest approach to balanced nature that is possible."

"Our Plundered Planet" was written at the end of World War II when it seemed to Mr. Osborne that the world was involved in two major conflicts — not only the war in which men from many nations were fighting each other, but another silent war that brings more distress to the human race than any that has resulted from armed conflict. The other war is man's conflict with nature.

"About 300 years ago, according to the author, half the area of the United States was covered by forests. Our rivers ran clear, streams teemed with fish, and wildlife was plentiful. Between the forests were the mighty domains of the grasses. Since then man has shot a path of destruction across the land.

"Now rains are no good unless there is something to hold the water. Water running causes floods, takes the topsoil and causes the cancer of the earth — erosion. "We must recognize," the author explains, "that the sustained richness and productivity of the earth depends upon the return of the organic materials that grew from it. Only since our dust bowls have people become conscious of our soil depletion and erosion, for when top soil is gone, it cannot be replaced by chemicals; it takes nature under the most favorable circumstances from 300 to 1000 years to build a single inch of top soil."

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Roy Bourland, Aubrey L. Meese, Henry Rose, M. McDaniell, Luke McClelland, Raymond Laycock, M. Calvin Jones, Dick Hughes, J. R. Holloway, William T. Fraser, E. J. Dunigan, Roy Bourland, Crawford Atkinson, Mrs. Frank Kelley, president, and Mrs. Statton, Teed and Beard.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT — Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wood, 1016 W. Brown, announce the marriage of their daughter, Peggy Lou, to Billy Ray Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Stinnett. Marriage vows were exchanged in Clayton, N. M., November 23. Mrs. Lewis was a senior at Pampa High school and will continue her studies in Stinnett, where Mr. Lewis is employed.

Astounding New Beauty Serum for Aging Skin arrives here from Paris!

'Le Secret de Blanche Delysia'—One of the Most Revolutionary Beauty Treatments of All Times. Seven Vials Hold Magic Elixir for Younger, Firmer-Looking Skin.

Now: One of the most sensational beauty treatments is being imported direct from Paris for women over 40 (or younger if their skin is aging). It's the only beauty treatment of its kind. Nothing can even begin to compare with it. It's called 'Le Secret de Blanche Delysia' after the fabulous French beauty who developed it from an ancient beauty ritual which was closely guarded for centuries.

'Le Secret' comprises seven magic little vials which hold a true natural beauty serum for aging skin. Astounding in principle—in breath-taking results. 'Le Secret' imparts a renewal of fresher, firmer-looking, youthful-appearing skin. It has given really splendid results in every case treated.

FAMOUS IN FRANCE FOR YEARS For years rumors have reached this country about 'Le Secret.' Some American women traveling abroad returned and were openly accused by their friends of having a 'face lift'—so amazing was the improvement in the appearance of their skin. These women had merely discovered 'Le Secret.'

IMPORTED BY PRIMROSE HOUSE Primrose House—aristocrat of cosmetic houses—thoroughly investigated 'Le Secret' and is now importing it direct from Paris for you. A 'must' for a woman who wants to keep her skin looking youthful, firm and alive!

WHAT 'LE SECRET' IS Space limits fully explaining the scientific principle behind 'Le Secret' and how it was employed by the reigning Queens and Beauties of France centuries ago. All this you'll find in both French and English in the booklet in each box.

At the end of the course of treatments, just see if you aren't honestly astonished—like the other women who completed the course.

TREATMENT in Simple Results almost Unbelievable!

Apply one vial of 'Le Secret' every day for 5 days. Then one vial every other day for 2 weeks. Twice a day at once. Notice the delightful feeling of being firmer, feeling! After the first treatments you'll find a remarkable improvement—notice how 'Le Secret' helps smooth out hoarse aging surface lines and wrinkles. After the seventh vial your skin is smooth and firm. Leave 'Le Secret' on all night. It's its wondrous work.

A box of 7 vials costs $12. A box of 26 (3 months' supply, because after last two weeks of a month's treatment you use only two a week) costs $36. This might seem expensive but certainly NOT when you experience the spectacular results in the improvement of the appearance of your skin. If ever money was well spent—THIS IS IT!

Wheeler Legion Preparing For Minstrel Show Dec. 13

WHEELER — (Special) — The Smokyville Minstrel club will meet for the third time when the American Legion Minstrel troupe takes the stage Dec. 7. The show will begin at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the Wheeler High school gymnasium. The show, an annual affair, is written and presented by American Legion Post 138. This year Virgil Jamison is directing the show and acting as Mr. Interlocutor.

Spirituals are interwoven with numbers such as "Peace in the Valley" for the musical part of the program. A harmony trio is A. D. Speck, D. L. Paught and H. W. Coffman. Frank Wotford is featured as soloist, and the juniors get into the act when the Jolly Brothers, 9 and 11, sing harmony of their own. Jimmy Pond, ten-year-old boogie piano player, will also have a spot on the show. The entire troupe will join in to furnish the old songs from the "De Lord" opening to the grand finale number.

Comedians are Harvey Wright, Floyd Morris, Bud Vanpool, Chester Lewis, Joe Rogers and Albert Gunter. Harvey Wright and Albert Gunter are veteran end men in the amateur company. Chester Lewis will recite "International Ills". Floyd Morris as Slewfoot will be the Dancing Dandy and Bud Vanpool as Ambrose will fill in any quiet moments.

Glenna Hefley will be accompanying the musical part of the program.

New Ceilings Set For Construction

A new ceiling price regulation designed to meet specific needs of construction industry has been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, the Lubbock district OPS has announced.

Except for actual increases in labor and material costs, it is not expected the new regulation will result in any general increase in charges for construction work.

In general, the new regulation establishes ceiling prices on the basis of current costs for labor, materials and equipment, plus 9-10 of the highest markup for profit which the seller had in effect for a similar job during the base period of July 1, 1949, to June 24, 1950.

Head Of State In Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria — (AP) — Col. Adib Shihshki, Syria's "strong man," today proclaimed Col. Fawzi Silo as "head of state, premier and minister of defense," with both "legislative and executive powers."

Shihshki, who yesterday had declared himself supreme ruler of Syria, made known the proclamation in military orders.

He said that Silo, former defense minister, would head Syria's sixth cabinet in the last seven months and would remain until "the restoration of normal parliamentary life."

Shihshki took over after the resignation of aged President Hachem, boy Atassul, Shihshki, who is Syria's army chief of staff, dissolved Parliament and hinted that new elections would be held.

The new government head, who has been in power behind the political scene for the past two years, apparently hopes new elections will remove the Populist party — largest in the present Parliament—from its leadership position.

Crisis-ridden Syria's latest coup was pulled Thursday when the 44-year-old Shihshki and newly-appointed Populist premier, the Army suddenly arrested and dissolved his cabinet before they had a chance to take the oath of office.

Other principals in the cast include Lynne Scroggins, mezzo soprano, Dawn Fairy; Harold Brisbin, base, and Deannie Franklin, mezzo soprano, the father and mother; Wayne Bealy, baritone, the sandman.

Mrs. Loma Harrison, head of the music department, and V. A. Miculka, head of the college speech department, are co-directors of the production sponsored by the Borger Assn. of Childhood Education. Rehearsals are being held daily in preparation for the production. The Frank Phillips choir will support the principals in the musical score.

Nancy Davis, Yvonne Gilpatrick and Gene Conston are members of the choir from Pampa.

Remember when we used to get a premium with everything we bought — and another when we paid the bill. Nowadays the only premiums we hear about are the insurance kind.
