PAMPA TO GET CHEMICAL PLANT

Senate, House Bills On State Spending Taking Final Shape

AUSTIN — (AP) — A conference committee has ironed out major differences between House and Senate figures in all money-spending bills except the one for state colleges.

That one — generally referred to as the higher education appropriation — is the most controversial of the big-money measures. But Senator Howard Carney, of Atlanta, chief of the Finance Committee, expects the conference group to agree on a final total by the end of next week.

Figures announced by Carney Sunday indicated the committee will recommend an overall outlay of $66 to 168 million dollars for vital state services the next two fiscal years, Sept. 1951-Aug. 31, 1953.

That would cover expenses of state departments, courts, eleemosynary institutions, state colleges and junior colleges.

The legislature is wrapping up the cost of all these operations in a single appropriation this year.

"We hope to have it out on the floor for House and Senate consideration a week from Monday," Carney said.

The big scrap, both in committee and on the debate floor, may revolve around the amount to be spent for the University of Texas. Carney said there was roughly a million and a half dollars difference between the original House and Senate recommendations for the big state school.

Numerous factors are involved in the decision of how much to give the university. Economy forces have insisted it and other schools should take a cut because of anticipated declines in enrollment.

School administrators have refused, regardless of the number of students, and that expense definitely do not decrease in proportion to reduced school attendance.

Donations For Cancer Slow

Donations to the Cancer Crusade are being received slowly according to Mrs. Rufe Thompson, treasurer of the Gray County Division of the American Cancer Crusade.

The Top o' Texas Chapter of National Secretaries' Assn. which is working on the Crusade made the first club donation of $100, a part of which was raised by a rummage sale last Saturday. The Business and Professional Women's Club donated $10.

Mrs. Finis Jordan, county chairman, observed that although cancer costs the family and society, on an average, $10,000 for each cancer death, only $96 was given to the American Cancer Society last year for every cancer fatality.

Donations may be placed in the various cancer cans which the Jaycees have placed in local stores, in the large water bottle at the post office, or checks may be mailed to "Cancer, Box 1582, Pampa."

"I have done some checking around on the matter and haven't discovered any opposition," Sparkman said.

Still another member of the banking committee, who asked not to be named, said Mr. Truman had made pretty clear he intended to appoint Symington. The Senate inquiry into RFC affairs will turn this week to Mr. Truman's reported charges which he is said to have with drawn last week.

The investigators are approaching this phase with great care, some of them reported, lest too hasty work damage lawmakers who dealt with Reconstruction Finance Corp. matters on a strictly honorable basis.

AMARILLO — (AP) — Herschel Combs of the Memphis Democrat was named president of the Panhandle Press Assn. Saturday at the concluding session of the group's annual convention here.

HST Denies Appeasement Policies; Lashes Opponents

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman last night denied any plan to appease communism, and hotly accused his critics of spreading "political hokum" while the nation is in "deadly danger."

In an embattled speech to assembled Democrats at a $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, Mr. Truman declared foes of his foreign policy are sowing confusion because "they think if the country is confused enough, they may be able to win the next election."

Not once during the speech did he refer to General Douglas MacArthur, whom he deposed as Far East commander for advocating stronger measures against the Chinese Reds than administration policy calls for.

But he laid down an offensive barrage in advance of the speech the general is slated to make, probably late next week, before a joint meeting of Senate and House.

He lashed out at critics, in Congress and elsewhere, who have been assailing his foreign policy for months and who mostly support MacArthur as against the administration.

Senator Taft of Ohio, Senator Wherry of Nebraska and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, all Republican leaders, have been in had too much political hokum at the forefront of attacks against the President, particularly for his refusal to permit MacArthur to bomb Red Chinese installations in Manchuria and to use Chinese Nationalist troops to attack the Chinese mainland.

To their charge that the administration is seeking an appeasement deal with the Chinese Reds, Mr. Truman declared: "We will not engage in appeasement."

Senator Taft Disputes Contention Mac Is Favoring Full-Scale War

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) disputed Saturday Democratic contentions that Gen. Douglas MacArthur favors all-out war with Red China.

With the ousted Pacific commander ready to leave Tokyo today for a flight home to a hero's welcome and an expected appearance before Congress this week, Taft vigorously defended MacArthur's views that the Far East is the major theater in the world struggle against communism.

But the Ohio senator, a possible Republican presidential candidate in 1952, told a reporter this does not mean either MacArthur or he believes the United States should mount an invasion of China with its own troops.

While Taft was talking, Gen. MacArthur sent word to Washington that he "would regard it as a great honor and distinction to address the Congress in general terms."

MacArthur sent the message to Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who had invited him to testify in a closed session of the committee.

MacArthur postponed a decision on that invitation, saying it would be inappropriate to make any other plans until Congress acts on his invitation to address the House and Senate.

Celanese Corp. Will Begin Construction In Thirty Days

Construction of a multi-million-dollar industrial chemical plant with an annual payroll of nearly $1,000,000 will start here within 30 days four miles west of Pampa, north of Hwy. 60, by the Celanese Corp. of America.

The plant will produce industrial chemicals used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, plastic yarns, explosives, pharmaceuticals, and many other products.

Covering 30 of the 435 acres of land purchased from the Bunger Brothers and the Saylor family, the plant will employ approximately 150 men when it opens, with strong possibilities of adding more men when, and if, the plant expands.

Spokesmen for the corporation said all of the employees will live in town since it is against company policies to establish camps on or near the grounds. Only a half-dozen key personnel will be imported; the remainder will be drawn from the local labor market. All raw materials used in processing the company's products will be purchased locally.

K. D. Bowen, superintendent of plant operations for Celanese, said construction is scheduled to start within 30 days with completion expected early in 1952. From 500 to 1,000 men will be on construction. The plant will be built by Brown and Root, Houston general contractors. Celanese officials added that many sub-contracts may be let locally.

Although the output of the plant will broaden the supply of chemicals for an accelerated defense program, Bowen emphasized it is "not to be considered a defense plant in the common use of the term." The plant will be a 24-hour, year-round permanent establishment.

"The people who come to work for us here intend to make Pampa their permanent home," he declared.

Committees from all organizations in town will attend a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday to discuss the possible organization of a Community Chest here.

A chairman will be elected to head the group, according to an announcement by Chamber of Commerce President Gene Fatheree.

When an officer is elected, the matter of organizing a Community Chest will be left to those persons present at the meeting.

The public is invited to attend the discussion period, which will be held in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Harold Blanke, president of Celanese, in a prepared statement for the press said: "The process to be utilized at the new plant is a result of the petroleum, chemical research and development facilities at the Celanese laboratories at Clarkwood, Texas. The output of the plant will supplement the chemical producing activities of the company at Bishop, Texas. The Pampa plant will use hydrocarbons for raw materials and natural gas for fuel. The Celanese expansion program has as its objective the building of additional productive facilities for the manufacture of textiles, and plastics in defense and civilian economy, and simultaneously increasing the supply of cellulose."

Three Remaining In Hospital Following Accident In Lefors

The condition of two Lefors youths injured in an accident early Saturday and brought to a Pampa hospital was said to be satisfactory, but another boy suffering from a severe head injury was reported "satisfactory, but still not good."

Dickie Redus, 15, has injuries to his left hip and knee, but is not thought to be serious. Charles Lane, 12, has a broken leg and face lacerations, and Don Davis, 14, sustained head injuries.

Others in the car were Ronald Rice, 13, and Jerry Pfing, 14, who received first-aid treatment, and Phillip Earhart, 14, driver of his usual battle dress in Korea.

On his arrival in Tokyo Saturday night, Ridgway assured the Japanese people he would work toward the completion of the mastery task already begun accomplished under the consumption of the same on foreign policy.

He said Senator Taft (R-Ohio) "has more delegates than any body and is the popular choice."

Capehart told newsmen Taft would give the GOP the best leadership on domestic issues and General Douglas MacArthur would do the same on foreign policy.

PAMPA

and other materials required in its operation.

To find this type of location, Wilson travelled more than 500 miles in the past two weeks looking for a site. John D. Pen-nebroke, general manager of the chemical division of the company, also travelled with Bowen and Wilson, looking for a suitable site.

Bowen and Wilson told the local group that Celanese has definite plans for expansion in Pampa at some future date. This statement was backed by the fact the company purchased 400 acres of land for a plant that will cover only 20 acres when it first opens in the early months of 1952.

Taking charge of operation there will be John Frick as plant manager. Frick is now in charge of production at the Celanese Bishop plant. R. W. Clark will be assigned as resident engineer with Bailey Phelps as production superintendent.

Celanese now operates 13 other plants in Texas, three in Mexico, one in Canada, two in South America. The company is now working on opening two other plants in Mexico and Canada.

A Canadian affiliate, Colum-bia Cellulose Co. Ltd., is starting production at Prince Rupert, British Columbia, and another plant, Canadian Chemical Co. Ltd., will shortly go into construction at Edmonton, Alberta, also for the production of petro-chemicals.

Bowen said the fact that Celanese was looking here might serve to attract other chemical plants. He said the Pampa plant will be able to use any of the products produced in the Panhandle oil fields in addition to the 50,000 gallons of butane that will be processed here daily.

The company's products will be shipped from here daily in tank cars, Bowen said. This was one reason why the company has to be close to a railroad, or a siding.

Bowen lauded Gene Green, vice-president of Cabot Carbon, Ben Guill and C. P. Buckler for their assistance in finding a location and obtaining land for the plant. "We received perfect cooperation," he said. "We feel fortunate in being able to locate here."

Bowen, in answer to several questions, said the future should hold strong probabilities of the Pampa plant becoming as large as the Bishop plant which pro-cesses 420,000 gallons of butane daily.

A short can space an acre of land in about 15 days.

It was reference to the Japanese peace treaty which Ridge-way will handle in addition to his manifold duties as the new United Nations commander. Earl-bert Ridge-way said he intended to devote most of his attention to prosecution of the Korean war.

General Van Fleet took over the Eighth Army at a critical time. Chinese and North Korean forces fought desperately to stem the allied offensive north of the 38th Parallel long enough to launch a major counter-offensive.

Eighteen Army headquarters reported that Red casualties Friday through ground action alone were 4,315 killed or wounded.

This was up to four times the number of daily casualties inflicted on the Reds during the past week. It indicated much heavier resistance was being offered in fighting that was still obscured by censorship.

The allies now stand before the last mountain barrier to the devastated city. A week of savage fighting was required to approach those heights. Randolph said. Allied air strikes and furious artillery bombardments by deadly accurate "Long Toms" rumbled Chonoum itself, but even the ruins had military importance. The town controls five road junctions.

The Movie Industry Is Said To Be On A Shaky Platform

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — If you listened carefully this week, you could hear faint rumblings within the movie machine.

It wasn't a knock or a rattle. It was more like a ping. The giant mechanism was having one of its recurring attacks of engine trouble.

This has nothing to do with the growing list of actors who are traveling to Washington to affirm, deny or remain silent about whether they have been Communists. That is merely a sidelight on the bigger problem: what do about sagging theater business?

The film industry is poorly informed about itself, so there are no figures on the state of business at this time. We read handsome figures for a few pictures in the first run theaters in the major cities. We also read about many other pictures doing poor or dismal business in the same theaters in the same cities during the first quarter of 1951, as compared

Contracts To Be Let For Highway Signs

Contracts are to be let soon for the erection of four highway signs on Highway 182, according to Ray Evans, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee.

A joint meeting of Berger and Pampa highway groups was held Saturday where plans were completed for erection of the new signboards.

"It is hoped that the new highway signs will bring more traffic over state highway 182," Evans said.

that American forces get out of Korea. The President said they are making "a terrible mistake."

"If we get out of Korea," he continued, "the Communist leaders would strike somewhere else. They would strike at Japan or the Middle East or in Europe."

"And sooner or later they would go on to strike at South America, and at our own country."

Turning to a discussion of critics whom he called "confusers," he said he would give a few examples of their thinking.

"They say they want a powerful defense system, second to none — but they are against universal military training."

"They say they want other free nations to resist aggression — but they don't want us to send any troops to help."

"They want us to get out of Korea — but they urge us to wage an aggressive war against China."

"They say it will provoke Russia to attack if we send troops to Europe — but they are sure American military officers were mourning for Lafayette for six months."

Pampans Visit In California

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Hollenbeck of 421 South Barnes Street in Pampa recently visited Knott's Berry Farm and Ghost Town in Buena Park, California. There, like the Forty-Niners, Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck tried their luck panning real gold in the ancient sluice box at the old Gold Mine. Later they visited the Covered Wagon Camp, where in a huge circle, real covered wagons were lighted by the flickering flames of a large camp fire. From here, they wandered through the Music Hall, General Merchandise Store, the Covered Wagon Show, and many other buildings erected by Walter Knott as a monument to the pioneers of the early West.

Classes in personal appearance have been added to the training schedules for Women of the Air Force — WAF's — at sprawling Lackland Air Force base here. "Women, especially those in uniform, can be just as dainty, feminine and carefully groomed as ever," explained Robert L. Detchemendy, head of the personal appearance department at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. Detchemendy spent a week at

Lackland lecturing, demonstrating and organizing the courses. Individual styling of hair and skin grooming are part of the courses. Cleanliness, wholesomeness and neatness are stressed. Posture and etiquette are treated extensively. Points are given on diet, as an aid to naturally attractive complexion and to sports and exercise as aids to maintaining a trim figure. American Is Head Of Ethiopia State Bank

ADDIS ABABA — Y — For the second time since Ethiopia established her new currency in 1945, an American's name is appearing on all paper notes circulating in the country. The name is that of Jack Bennett, (Washington DM C.), former U. S. Treasury official and later financial adviser on the staff of General Lucius D. Clay in the American Zone of Germany. Crisp new paper bills just put into circulation now bear his signature. Bennett is Governor of the State Bank of Ethiopia. This is the bank of issue of all Ethiopian legal tender. The first American's name to appear on Ethiopian paper money was that of George Blowers, former head of the Bank of Montrovia (Liberia) and governor of the State Bank of Ethiopia until 1948. All of Ethiopia's paper money is printed by the Security Bank Note Company of Philadelphia. The metal coins also are minted in the United States.

Israel Is Facing Sulphur Shortage

TEL AVIV — (P) — Israel's sulphur crisis has been worsened recently due to a cutback in U. S. exports. In an attempt to ease the shortage, a Haifa chemical company is considering the production of sulphuric acid from pyrites, found in Cyprus, North Africa and Spain. Israel needs sulphuric acid to produce fertilizer and for the manufacture of many other industrial products. Government authorities find some consolation in the fact that about 2,500 tons of Dead Sea Potash for fertilizer can soon be turned over to Israeli farmers.

Bold Experiment In California May Provide New Hope For Some 250,000 Sick Americans

INS 2-36 THEORY GIVES HOPE

By AL OSTROW
NEA Special Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — The fate of some 250,000 Americans may be determined by the outcome of a bold experiment underway at California's Stockton State Hospital.

Should the experiment succeed, the "forgotten quarter million" or many of them — may literally be "recalled to life" as Twentieth Century Rip Van Winkles. This mass of humanity, enough to populate a good-sized city, are the "chronic and deteriorated cases" who exist in the back wards of the nation's mental hospitals. Most of them have known no other world but the locked wards for from five to 30 years.

While psychiatrists have striven to cure or improve the other half million patients in American mental hospitals, this group has been uniformly neglected, receiving only "custodial care." The theory has been that their mental maladies are so advanced that it would be sheer waste to lavish attention and limited treatment facilities on them when the same resources applied to milder patients would produce more immediate results.

The theory was challenged — if not rejected — by Dr. Frank F. Tallman, director of the California state hospital system, who formerly held similar posts in Ohio and Michigan.

"I don't think any case is completely hopeless," he said. "I'd like to see if we can do anything for these people besides keeping them alive in institutions."

Dr. Tallman, a white-haired enthusiast, sold his idea to the California legislature. The lawmakers voted the funds for the Stockton experiment which may reverse present mental hospital procedures.

Four hundred male patients, all previously regarded as "purely classified cases" for whom curative treatment was impractical, are human guinea pigs in the crucial test.

Half of the group were moved from the back wards to special quarters on the hospital ranch. A staff of doctors, nurses, therapists, social workers and attendants was assigned to give them intensive, total push treatment.

The other 200 patients, the so-called "control group," were scattered about the other hospital wards, receiving only the usual level of institutional care for their type of case. This "usual level" amounts to feeding them and attending to any physical ailments, but making no determined effort to cure the mental illness which resulted in their commitment.

First six months of the experiment have already convinced Dr. Tallman that his final report may result in liberation for the "forgotten 250,000."

Among the previously neglected patients, all of whom had languished in the hospital for up to 30 years each, 66 percent showed "marked improvement" in the half-year period.

About 20 of them displayed such remarkable recovery that they were released to the care of relatives and friends, prepared to resume normal living in "the outside world."

Of the 200 patients receiving no special attention, only 10 percent registered any degree of improvement — about the same number of the other group who were virtually cured.

Significance of the experiment, both in human terms and dollar signs, is summed up by the case of Patient G.

Patient G became deranged two decades ago. He was committed to a state hospital, and stayed in the Stockton institution until the total push treatment experiment suddenly lifted him from the shelf of wasted lives. Now he is going back to catch up with a world where jet propulsion, atomic energy and television were only fantastic dreams when he first became an innocent victim of mental illness.

It cost the taxpayers of California an estimated $20,000 to provide custodial care for Patient G during the 20 years of his neglected illness.

Would it have been cheaper in the long run, and also more humane, to provide total push treatment aimed at obtaining the earliest possible cure when he was first admitted to the institution? Such treatment is admittedly far more expensive for the

It Feels Bad To Lose Oscar

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — The tumult over the Oscar winners has just about died down, except possibly in Washington. So let's see how it feels to lose an Oscar.

Our guinea pig is young William Holden, generally conceded the topmost contender to Jose Ferrer, the winner. What was his reaction to being so near and yet so far from snagging Hollywood's most valuable hardware?

"As I told my wife," he answered, "if I won, I'd be the happiest guy in the world. But I wasn't disappointed to lose. Ferrer did a great job and deserved to win. And they put on a big campaign for him."

"Actually, the people around a contender react more than he does. I was completely calm. But other people I know were greatly concerned. Particularly my wife (actress Brenda Marshall). She was nervous as the dickens. 'And ever since the event, she has been offering little messages of consolation. She'll say, 'well, dear, you were the youngest actor in the race, anyway.' Or, 'remember — you didn't have the advantage of doing your role on the stage.'"

Bill got into white tie and tails for the event and Brenda bought a new gown ("anything for an excuse," he says.) They were able to avoid the post-mortems of parties after the awards, because Bill had to report for "Force of Arms" the next day. Then he had to face the usual words of condolences.

He acquired a variety of an- short haul than merely attempting to keep the patient alive.

When the final results of the Stockton experiment are tallied, Dr. Tallman and Dr. Gallioni hope to have a conclusive answer.

BRIEF EFFECT — Actress Dorothy Hart models a $750 spring bathing suit made entirely of orchids. Fabricated by Society of American Florists, the suit lasted ten hours.

swers, such as: "a miss is as good as a mile." "I guess I was 'nosed' out," etc.

Now he is settling down to the job of acting again. He admitted that he's still young (he'll be 33 in a week), despite his 13 years in the movies. So he has a good chance of snagging the Oscar yet.

Brush growing along railroads now is being killed by chemical sprays from specially equipped spray cars on the tracks.

Church Membership For U.S. Outgrowing Clergy Number

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—(AP)—America's churches are facing a serious manpower shortage, religious sources report, with 20,000 more clergymen needed to meet a great revival of religious interest which has zoomed church membership to an all-time high of $1 million.

Little churches all over the country are crying for help. Many had to close their doors for lack of a minister. Some towns which mushroomed during World War II have neither enough churches nor pastors. Growing city churches need more ministerial assistants. Institutions need more chaplains.

On the other hand more men are studying for the ministry today than ever before—almost 13,000 in Protestant seminaries, 25,000 in Catholic seminaries and about 300 in Rabbinical schools.

Many of these are veterans, who never dreamed of entering the ministry until they saw at first hand the suffering and horrors of war.

Meanwhile, the churches are recruiting thousands more. The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. reports the Methodist church has launched a four-year drive for 10,000 ministers, the Disciples of Christ seek 3,000 in three years. The Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. has 2,000 parishes without ministers, the Episcopal church needs 600 and other denominations varying numbers.

Msgr. Thomas J. McCarthy, director of the Bureau of Information of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D.C., says the Catholic church could use three or four thousand more priests, and that vocation groups throughout the country are working on the problem.

There is one outstanding exception to the shortage. Protestant authorities say that a dozen fundamentalist sects, which grew up in the last 50 years and whose membership increased as much as tenfold, have no lack of ministers.

Leading Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churchmen believe the chief cause of the shortage is a 50 percent drop in church membership in the last decade. Some think the low salaries paid ministers may have played a certain part, although they do not consider it a major issue.

increased greatly during World War II and people remained there after-wards," he says. "This meant a need for more churches and ministers. Also there has been a widespread educational campaign to draw people into the churches throughout the country."

Protestant churches are using various means to combat the shortage. In some, more women are doing the job. Even in denominations where they cannot be ordained, women schooled in religious education conduct Sunday services and keep the church open and filled.

Many little churches found a solution in multi-ministry. Under this system four to 10 rural congregations in one area band together and hire two or three ministers. One of these specializes in preaching and conducts Sunday services in four or five churches. Another specializes in dealing with the personal problems of the members of the church.

Father, Son Team Produces Library's Book Of Month

A father and son collaborated on a little English and American history and came up with a Book-of-the-Month, which was received at the Pampa Public Library this week.

"Jenkins Ear" by Odell and Willard Shepard, is an 18th Century novel, written in first person attributed to Horace Walpole. The dialogue and action captures the flavor of the period and makes for a first-hand adventure story.

The son, Willard, furnished the statistical data on the artillery and equipment of the age and the father furnished the imagination and creative ability.

The library next week will have an art display sponsored by the American Association of University Women. The display is state-wide, including work of state artists. It goes to various cities in Texas, where the AAUW puts it on exhibition.

Airman Believes Bombing Is Wrong

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — (AP)—Grover Loening, government aircraft consultant and inventor of the brace type monoplane wing, feels strategic air bombardment is a mistake.

Loening suggested the nation devote its effort to airborne operations that will destroy the soldiers of the enemy, not his property.

ORLANDO, Fla. — (AP)—Doctors found out how to stop a headache that Roscoe Lacey, a year-old negro stonemason, had for several years.

Lacey didn't know it was there until x-rays were taken before yesterday's operation.

Navy Adopts New Rating

NEW ORLEANS — A new rating, "officer candidate," has been incorporated into the Navy's personnel structure and will soon designate enlisted men who are in training for Line commissions in the Naval Reserve.

Eighth Naval District headquarters rating applies only to students of an Officer Candidate School which will be opened at Newport, R. I., in early June.

The Navy's first OCS will convene bi-monthly classes of 300 students for indoctrination periods of four months.

The Officer Candidate program replaces the present program under which trainees were appointed Ensigns and ordered to indoctrination school at Monterey, Calif.

Under the OCS system, students will not be commissioned until successfully completing the school. Those who fail will return to active duty ranks with their previous ratings, or in the case of civilian candidates, as seaman recruits.

Candidates selected from civilian sources will enroll as OC with the pay grade of a seaman recruit, while those selected from active or regular service will have their rates changed to OC in corresponding pay grades.

Graduates become Naval Reserve Line Ensigns and must remain on active duty for three years. They retain their commissions as reservists for eight years, including active duty service.

Applications from regulars and reservists on active duty will be made through official channels. Civilians who possess previous "ROC" qualifications should apply to Offices of Naval Officer Procurement in Dallas or New Orleans.

LET'S see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skillfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Pampa Oilers Capture Third Exhibition Tilt Of Season By Checking Berger Gassers, 6-2

OFF AT FIRST — Short stop Gil Castillo of the Pampa Oilers grounds out second to first baseman Earl Perry of Berger, in the third inning at Oiler Park Saturday night. Pampa took the game 6-2. The same two teams meet at Berger this afternoon. (News Photo)

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

It was like rubbing salt into open wounds Friday afternoon at Oiler Park. The Sandies put so many clear marks in home plate that the Oilers may have to purchase a new one before the season opens here Friday night against Berger.

I believe every Sandie scored except Punt Powell, and he might have crossed home base when I had my back turned. The Sandies scored four touchdowns and kicked four extra points to judge the Harvesters 28-5. However, I was as bad as last November. We hit the 28 on our side that day, and Amarillo came up with a goose egg.

Punt figured if we would wait on spring football practice we could furnish the Sandies some stiff competition in the other sports. But he was in a pretty fair mood when I talked to him after the game. All I could see in front of my eyes was a huge 28. But we have three more games with the Sandies remaining. We are still looking for our first victory over the Sandies. They have notched eight straight of the Pampa Oilers. The jinx must tumble in one of the three remaining hits, I hope.

One Sandie remarked during the game Friday, "I thought the track meet was tomorrow." But he was quickly silenced when a Pampa rooster reminded him the track meet was held last November in Amarillo Stadium.

I've been reading a book on golf and am about ready to pick up the game. The book I read was how to cheat on the links. "When you see me mark the ball on the green, I'll be using a silver dollar. I'm told a fellow can pick up the yardage with a large coin. One guy was on one side of the cup before the putt, but he ended up on the other side by the time he finished marking his spot."

The book also explained the art of teeing the ball in the rough. "This was very helpful. With the proper cheating method, I hope to crack 100 at the Country Club in the near future. Is there another dishonest technician who would like to challenge me to a game?"

Dizzy Dean tried to get Bing Crosby interested in the Lubbock Hubbers on his program Friday night. "Dix wanted Pittsburgh to pick Lubbock as a farm club brother. Dix was just trying to give Paul a little help. The Oilers open here Friday against Berger. For the past five years, Pampa has ranked near the cellar when it comes to pulling the customers through the gate. It's about time for this record to be snapped. The Oilers have the team this year and will provide local fans with some fine baseball.

Don't over-estimate the power of the press. The Ladies Golf Association has invited me to their luncheon the first Wednesday of next month. I will be there, too. One of the ladies offers me a fish. I was supposed to go by air pick it up, but it skipped my mind. I guess I'll have to wait till this Friday."

I was talking to Gaspar Deoro right before he left for Berger. The Cuban infielder said he looks forward to a good year. He also promised me he is beverage rations. It seems the Gassers have a cool, cold one for the Oilers.

The University of Oklahoma football team is winding up spring practice. Bud Wilkinson, Sooner mentor, still hasn't taken that Midland oil job. It pays $50,000 a year, so the rumor goes. I know a coach and a sports writer who is available if Bud doesn't want the job.

With the opening home games less than a week away, Mayor C. A. Huff proclaimed this week as "The Pampa Oilers Welcome Back to Baseball Week." The West Texas-New Mexico League is awarding the President's Cup, a handsome baseball trophy, to the club which plays best in the highest paid attendance on its initial home game of the season.

Oiler Business Manager, Warren Hasse has already lodged an opening day campaign to bring the trophy to Pampa. The local Boy Scouts started selling tickets last week for the opening game here Friday, April 20, against the Berger Gassers.

Oklahoma-Steer Football Games Have Been Responsible For Texas Awards

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Statistics prove that basketball is the most popular sport in America, though this might be subject to a little static in New York City now.

Not one to dispute statistics, Coach Chery for figures do not lie it would seem the Southwest, or more rightly, Texas, might not be aware of the fact.

This is reasoned by a look at the winners of the annual sports awards by Texas sports writers. Just one basketball coach, O. P. Adams of Lon Morris Junior College, has ever won one. As a matter of fact, no one else but football coaches, players, or referees have won anything.

The top award, "The Southwesterner of the Year," has gone to two University of Texas athletes — Dan N. Bible and Blair Chery — to two Southern Methodist University football players — Gil Johnson and Kyle Rode — and to a football referee, Jack Sisco.

It is interesting to note that the Oklahoma-Texas football game has been the reason for two awards.

Famous King Ranch It Again Winner

NEW YORK — (AP) — King Ranch's Sonic won the $27,500 Experimental Handicap No. 2 today as the odds-on Uncle Mittie ran out of the money in a stunning setback. There was a photo finish between Nully and Jumbo, with the latter getting it.

The crowd of 40,351 which sent Uncle Mittie off at 1 to 2 grossed as the colt, which was supposed to be the big Kentucky Derby horse, finished eighth in the field of 10 starters.

Sonic from the same stable that sent out Middleground to win the 1950 derby, covered the mile and one sixteenth in 1:44.25. The winner, lightweight in the race under 105 pounds compared with 126 on Uncle Mittie, returned a fat $28.80, $11.50 and $7.00. Jumbo, owned by Max Price Headley, returned $60.00 and $23.40, and Nully, from the Phion Farm, was $6.90 to show.

Jockey Jack Colaneri sent Sonic into the lead inside the sixteenth pole, and he won by half a length. Uncle Mittie was about five lengths back.

Hyde, Payte Scheduled For Duty Against Gassers Today

The Pampa Oilers handed the Berger Gassers a 6-2 exhibition setback in Oiler Park Saturday night, behind the seven-hit pitching of George Washington Matthews and Carroll "Red" Dial.

Lefty Matthews, who received credit for the victory, worked the first five innings for Manager Grover Bell's Oilers, and Dial hurled the last four. Matthews was in great form, hitting the Gassers for two hits and no runs in the five innings. Dial gave up two runs on five hits.

Deck Woldt supplied the power for the Pampa nine. The center-fielder punched out three for four and one of the rightfield wall in the eighth inning.

Leftfielder Francis Rice and shortstop Gil Castillo came up with the fielding gems of the evening. Rice went back against the wall to rob two Gassers of possible hits. Castillo went far to his right to spear Butler's fly in the eighth frame.

Darpa scored one run in the second inning. Woldt opened with a single to right, and Virgil Richardson followed with a walk. Hank Chatterler pushed the runner up a base with a sacrifice.

Bill Whitehorn walked to load the sacks, and Nelson Davis skied to left and Woldt scored after the catch.

The Oilers added another run in the fourth inning. Woldt started things off with a single to right. He raced to third base on Richardson's single between left and center. Chatterler grounded out third to first, but Woldt scored on Whitehorn's ground ball to first.

In the sixth inning, Pampa pushed across three runs on three hits. Luis Suarez singled but was forced for second by Woldt. Richardson received free transportation to first. Chatterler reached first on a fielder's choice, with Woldt being forced at third base by the play.

Whitehorn blasted a double into leftfield to plate two runs, and Davis drove the Pampa catcher in with a double to right. The Oilers added another tally in the seventh on Rice's double and Suarez's fly ball to right.

Harvester Thinclads Trail At District I-AA Track Carnival

The Pampa Harvester Thinclads came in last at the District I-AA Track and Field Meet at Canyon Saturday afternoon. The weather was ideal for the cinder meet, and it seemed to suit the Amarillo Sandies as they went off and left the other three entries, Pampa, Plainview and Berger.

Amarillo's cinder men collected 80 points. Plainview was second with 27 1/4. Berger third with 16 3/4 points, and the Harvester fourth with 13 markers.

Eugene Bonny was the point-maker for the Pampa tracksters. He sailed over the 120-yard high hurdles for a fourth place, and topped the 200-yard low barriers for second work.

Pampa's Alvin Ward took third place in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Howard Musgrave grabbed a third in the mile run. Big Buddy Cockrell hunted the shot 42 feet 6 inches, which was good for third place in that event.

Alice Bauer Takes Lead At Golf Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS — (AP) — Alice Bauer, diminutive blond from Midland, shot an even par 78 Saturday to take the lead in the first 18-hole round of the $7,900, 144-hole Woods-Cross Country Weather-vane Golf Tournament.

Little Miss Bauer, who is only 5 feet 2 and weighs 105 pounds, was the only player in a field of 48 able to match par on the windy, dusty, 6,100-yard Lakewood Country Club Course.

Tying for second place at 77 were Betty Jameson of San Antonio and Patt Berg of Minneapolis while one stroke back was Louis Suggs of Carrollton, Ga.

All four of the leaders are professionals.

The Eldrickson Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., the year's leading money winner and defending champion in the Weather-vane, took a big 83. This put her in 12th place. Mrs. Zaharias, the tournament favorite said: "Everything I did went into something. I played poorly."

Marlene Bauer, sister of Alice, who led through the first nine holes with a 37, became ill on number 12 hole and finished with a 44 on the back nine for a 81. Miss Bauer has been suffering from a virus infection.

Miss Berg had an eagle on number 9, the only one for the day. She chipped out off the green 45 feet to get the eagle.

Tied for fifth place were Mrs. M. E. Riedel of Dallas, an amateur; Betty Bush of Hammond, Ind.; Betty Rawls of Austin, each with an 80.

The second 18 holes will be played today. This is the first leg of the Weather-vane which moves to Pebble Beach, Calif., for the second round. The Indianapolis for the third, and to New York for finals. There is $3,000 prize money in each 36 holes, with a $5,000 grand prize for the professional winning the 144 hole grand.

Laz Breaks Relay Pole Vault Mark

By LEROY SIMMS
BIRMINGHAM — (AP) — Illinois' Don Laz set a new Deep South pole vault record here Saturday when he cleared the bar at 14 feet, six and seven-eighths inches at the Southern Relays.

Laz, one of three men in track history to clear 15 feet in the vault, broke his own Southern Relays record, set here last year at 13 feet, 11 1/2 inches, but missed.

Three other records were broken. Georgia Tech's Buddy Fowlkes took the broad jump with 23 feet, 9 3/4 inches to erase the mark of 23 feet, 7 5/8 inches set a year ago by Voights of Oklahoma A&M. The LSU half-mile relay team ran that race in 1:27.8 to erase the mark of 1:28.4 set last year.

Herb Neff of Tennessee, not expected to win the event, broke the high jump mark at 6 feet 6 3/8 inches. That bettered the 6 feet, 5 1/2 inch record by Adams of Arkansas set in 1950. Charley Holding, the star high jumper from East Texas State, had a bad day and had to be content with a tie for third, 5 feet, 3 1/2 inches. He has cleared 6 feet, 9 3/4 inches this season.

North Texas State took first in the College Class half mile and mile relays.

Shamrock To Hold Scrimmage Session Tuesday Afternoon

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's 1951 Seniors collide with the lower classmen at Denvers Field in two top grid games off the spring training season. Games are slated for 4:30 Tuesday, April 17, and Friday, April 20.

Coach Scott McCall plans to loose the full fury of his 1951 teams, opening the battle with his usually intact veteran line. Van Pennington, end; Eugene Collinsworth and Mack Terry, guards; Billy York, center; Billy Harris, tackle.

All are All-District men, three All-Regional. Dwayne Hager, regular tackle, is out from automobile accident injuries.

Against this strong line, seniors will pit their backfield axes — passer Harrel Dunnam, 1950 quarterback deluxe; Vernon Tarbet, leading scorer of the 1950 team with 17 TD's; Don Les, 4-year back and punty runner; sparking back, and also Kenneth Kidwell — a regular back of the 1950 district champions.

They will have Vaughn Terry, all-regional end, and Tarbet as dangerous pass receivers, backing an experienced line. Dunnam is expected to darken the sky with aerials. He hurled 16 for touchdowns in 1950, four to V. Terry, two to Tarbet.

Among other lower classmen slated to see action: Bobby Campbell, Billy Povolny, Bobby Johnson, Billy Free, Phil Cooper, James Henderson, Worrell Perkins and Ronald Settles.

Shamrock To Hold Scrimmage Session Tuesday Afternoon

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's 1951 Seniors collide with the lower classmen at Denvers Field in two top grid games off the spring training season. Games are slated for 4:30 Tuesday, April 17, and Friday, April 20.

Coach Scott McCall plans to loose the full fury of his 1951 teams, opening the battle with his usually intact veteran line. Van Pennington, end; Eugene Collinsworth and Mack Terry, guards; Billy York, center; Billy Harris, tackle.

All are All-District men, three All-Regional. Dwayne Hager, regular tackle, is out from automobile accident injuries.

Against this strong line, seniors will pit their backfield axes — passer Harrel Dunnam, 1950 quarterback deluxe; Vernon Tarbet, leading scorer of the 1950 team with 17 TD's; Don Les, 4-year back and punty runner; sparking back, and also Kenneth Kidwell — a regular back of the 1950 district champions.

They will have Vaughn Terry, all-regional end, and Tarbet as dangerous pass receivers, backing an experienced line. Dunnam is expected to darken the sky with aerials. He hurled 16 for touchdowns in 1950, four to V. Terry, two to Tarbet.

Among other lower classmen slated to see action: Bobby Campbell, Billy Povolny, Bobby Johnson, Billy Free, Phil Cooper, James Henderson, Worrell Perkins and Ronald Settles.

Two Close Flag Races Are Predicted As Major Loops Get Set To Start Season

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK—(AP)—Two tugging flag races were predicted today as major league baseball prepared to open its jubilee season Monday with a pair of games followed by a full slate of eight inaugurals on Tuesday.

With few exceptions, all 16 clubs are straining at the bit, eager and ready for the opening gun. To a man, every manager feels his team will improve over its 1950 showing with some optimistic squalls openly talking pennant.

The fans, as anxious as the participants to get the season under way, will be treated to few new faces, but they will see some old familiar ones at strange positions and others wearing different uniforms.

Washington, the nation's capital, will be the first to break away from the barrier in the American League as per custom. The Senators, under Manager Bucky Harris, will raise the curtain with the New York Yankees. A capacity crowd of some 33,000, including President Harry S. Truman is expected for the launching of the league's 51st campaign.

Washington's Bob Kuzava (9-10) and New York's Eddie Lopat (18-8) are expected to get the starting assignments. Not to be outdone, the National League has a trail blazer off its own Monday when it begins its 76th year of operation. In the circuit's lone contest, the improved Reds take on the Pittsburgh Pirates before a traditional Cincinnati opening day throng of about 32,000.

Blackwell (17-15) is slated to pitch for the Reds. He will be opposed by Cliff Chambers (12-15). The remaining 12 clubs get under way Tuesday with the Athletics meeting the Senators in a night contest, the first such opening in the American League.

The St. Louis Cards set the precedent in the National last year. The Yankees, out to win their third straight flag, may be forced to start without Phil Rizzuto, their ace shortstop and the league's most valuable player of 1950, hobbled by a torn muscle in his right side.

Certain to be lost for a while are pitchers Allie Reynolds and Joe Page, sidelined by damaged flippers. Other stars who appear certain to miss the opening include George Kell, crack third baseman of the Detroit Tigers; and slugging first baseman Walt Droy of the Boston Red Sox and Luke Easter of Cleveland.

Kell has a fractured finger; Droy a broken bone in his right wrist and Easter a wrenched left knee. Oddy enough, the injuries involve the four clubs expected to pitcher Clint Hartung into an outfielder. The Cards have switched third baseman Tommy Glaviano to centerfield where he is expected to open the season. Stephens, of course, has been moved from short to third and Goodman, the jack of all trades, is expected to settle down in the outfield for the Red Sox.

Old faces with new uniforms include outfielders Eddie Stewart and Al Zarilla and pitcher Joe Dobson, now with the White Sox; flycatchers George Metkovich with Pittsburgh and Frank Baumholtz with the Cubs; pitcher Johnny Vandermeer with the Indians; Bob Scheffing with the Reds, Wight and Scarborough with the Red Sox; George Stirmweiss with the Indians; Steve Souchock with the Tigers and outfielder Mike McCormick with the Senators.

Notables missing from last year include such players as Art Houtteman, Tigers; Curt Simmons, Phillies; Whitley for Yankees; Johnny Antonelli and Del Crandall, Braves; Danny O'Connell, Pirates; Preston Ward, Cubs; Dick Weik, Indians and Dick Kokos and Owen Friend, Browns. All have been claimed by the armed forces.

The Yankees may have picked up the prize rookie of them all in Mickey Mantle. The 19-year-old, who already is being compared to the great hitters of the game, has been a sensation this spring. A natural shortstop, he is being groomed for a spot in the outfield.

Philadelphia's Booklyn and New York are the National League favorites to battle their way to the World Series. All three teams have practically the same personnel that finished one-two-three last year. The Giants have plucked a couple of fine looking freshmen in infielder Artie Wilson and catcher Ray Noble.

The Indians, Yankees and Giants are not the only clubs blessed with good looking rookies. The Cards have one of the best in Tom Poholsky, a 22-year-old pitcher. Also in the opening day lineup will be Steve Bilko at first and Solly Hemus at short. The White Sox will start with freshmen flycatchers Jim Busby and Eddie McChes. The Braves hope to flash Johnny Logan as their new shortstop. Rocky Bridges may open at third base for the Dodgers; Dee Fondy will be at first for the Cubs.

Among the old faces at new positions will be Ralph Kiner, the majors' home run king. The Pittsburgh slugger will attempt to make a successful switch from the outfield to first base. Another Branch Rickey project is the transformation of Pete Reiser from the outer pastures to a place behind the bat.

The Giants are attempting a noble experiment by converting

Corbett Asks Damages From Baseball Men

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Validity of organized baseball's reserve clause was attacked here Saturday in a suit filed in U.S. District Court by Jack Corbett and the El Paso (Tex.) baseball club.

The suit also asked $300,000 damages from baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler; George M. Trautman, head of the minor leagues; the Cincinnati baseball club; Powell Crosley, chairman of the board of the Cincinnati club; Warren Giles, Cincinnati president.

The suit is similar in some respects to one filed by Danny Gardella, former big league player who was suspended after having jumped to the Mexican League several years ago. Gardella's suit subsequently was settled out of court and Gardella was reinstated.

Maurice A. Koodish, Cincinnati attorney who filed the suit, said the Cincinnati club was made a defendant on the grounds that documents containing original commitments on the reserve clause now are in the Cincinnati team's files.

The reserve clause in effect binds a player to the club holding his contract and prohibits him from negotiating with another team.

The suit filed today involves the ownership of the contracts of seven players from Mexico which Corbett asserted were declared void by Trautman on order of Commissioner Chandler.

Corbett, who sold the El Paso franchise in the former Arizona-Texas League last August, said recently he was attacking the right of Chandler to enter into an agreement with the Mexican League by which American clubs were banned from trying to sign Mexican players.

He declared the signing of the seven players occurred before the agreement between Chandler and Dr. Eduardo O. Pitman, president of the Mexican League.

Last year Corbett was in another ruckus with Trautman. Trautman fined him $1,000 and suspended him in a dispute over another Mexican player, Ventura Morales. The suspension later was lifted and the fine was returned.

Williams Lead Sox By Braves, 15-8
BOSTON — (AP) — Ted Williams slugged in six runs as the Boston Red Sox overwhelmed the Braves, 15-8, Saturday to take a 3-1 lead in their five-games intracity exhibition series.

Williams droya in half of his tallies with his sixth spring homer, against Bobby Hogue with two out and Al Evans and Billy Goodman aboard in the fifth inning. He also connected for a pair of singles and drew a pass on his other five batting tries.

Texas' toughest SWC rivals through the years have been SMU in football, Arkansas in basketball, Baylor in baseball, Texas A&M in track and field and Rice in tennis. No rival has occasioned much grief for Texas in golf and swimming.

The French port of Bordeaux is a city of more than 250,000.

John Watson, pro at the South Bend Country Club where the Western Amateur will be played in June, exploded an old golf theory the other day. Playing with a member who flubbed a shot, John heard him exclaim: "I looked up," said Watson. "That's the silliest excuse in golf. I'll hit three balls and look up every time." He did: The first landed only a few feet from the pin and the second went into the hole.

Joe Boland, another old-time Notre Dame player, still likes to tell about "chickening" 18-13 victory over Ohio State a few years back. Seems that a lad named Jim McKenna hadn't been picked for the traveling squad but thumbed his way to Columbus, his "ticket" for the game was football pants and jersey, which he pulled on with no pads, so he'd be allowed to sit on the bench. Came the closing minutes of the game with Notre Dame trailing, Coach Elmer Layden looked around frantically for a sub to use in place of the one who "called" the winning touchdown.

Ziggy Casrobski, whose wise-cracks linger on, is known as a guy who frequently got on the wrong side of Leahy and had to accept the usual punishment — a gallop around the field. It was Ziggy who once told two-miler Greg Rice: "Gee, I've taken more laps around the field than you ever took around the track."

Joe Bach (another Notre Dame alum) was holding spring football scrimmage at St. Bonaventure and noticed one defensive tackle who was having a rough afternoon. "Son," asked Joe, "are they going inside you?" "I don't know, sir," was the answer. "Well, are they going outside you?" "I don't know that either, coach," replied the kid, "but they sure are going over me."

Amarillo Sandies Have Easy Time In Conference Tilt With Pampa, 28-5

What happened to the Harvester baseball team Friday afternoon at Otter Park shouldn't happen to a five star general. Coach Carl Matney's Sandies didn't limit their warfare against the locals and they opened up on all fronts to blast the Pampans, 28-5, to open the North Half of District 1-AA baseball play.

The Harvesters aided the 28-run barrage by committing 15 errors, and Amarillo took advantage of the 15 miscues and four Pampa pitchers to make the game a rout.

Right-hander Jimmy Cook started the game for the Harvesters. He was shelled for 17 runs and 10 hits in three and two thirds innings. Wayne Harden relieved Cook, but he didn't have much success in silencing the booming Amarillo bats. Ed Dudley hurled the sixth frame for Pampa. He allowed five runs and three hits, and Joe Tynes pitched the last inning. He gave up two hits and one run. Centerfielder Rick Harden provided the partisan crowd a cheering moment in the last inning. Pampa outfielder took a fly in mid-centerfield and cut Philip Nichol down at the plate with a perfect peg to catcher Suck Smith. Nichol was trying to score from third on the catch. Except for Harden's flailing play, it was a gloomy afternoon for Pampa.

After two were out in the top of the first, Cook waived Alvaro Gunnels, 2500 Martin lifted a fly between short and left-center. The ball fell between Lawrence Kice and shortstop James Claunch for a single, and Gunnels scored on the play.

Jerry Maaden retired the Pampans in order in the bottom of the first, and Amarillo added a third more tatters in the top of the second. The Sandstorm used a sacrifice, one walk and two doubles to account for the three markers.

Pampa failed to scratch in the second inning, and Amarillo came through with another run in the third. The harvesters rallied for two runs in the third stanza, combining Basden for two hits. Cook started the rally with a single to right-center, and he traveled all the way to third base when the ball rolled through the centerfielder to the fence. Elmer Wilson singled Cook home with Pampa's first round, and went on to second when the centerfielder bobbed the ball.

The Pampa second sacker was caught out second by catcher Toby Drury, but Wilson raced into third base when the peg went to second. He scored when the centerfielder grounded out third to first. The Harvesters managed two more runs in the sixth inning. Smith opened the inning with a walk. Wayne Harden struck out, and Iolite Hutchens went down via the strikeout route for the second out. Rick Harden received free transportation to first base, and Jim Bob Cox followed with a double to plate the two runs.

A 12-run burst by Amarillo in the fourth frame brought on Harden to pitch for Pampa. He retired the side, and then allowed five tallies in the fifth inning as the Sandies continued to pour across home plate.

It was a sad afternoon for Harvester rooters. Pampa has received eight hitcings at the hands of the Sandies since 198.

Cubs Clip Pale Hose
CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago Cubs clubbed four White Sox pitchers for 16 hits and a 9-1 victory over their cross-town rivals Saturday before 5,643 fans in Comiskey Park. The Cubs' attack included home runs by Hank Sauer and Ruben Walker. Sauer also got a double and single, and Walker three singles.

Dallas Rally Nips Oklahoma City, 7-6
DALLAS — (AP) — Dallas rallied in the last two innings Saturday to nudge a 7-6 victory over Oklahoma City in the first daylight Texas League baseball game of the year here.

Oklahoma City shot to a 6-0 lead, but Dallas came back with four runs in the sixth, two in the eighth and pushed over the winning run in the ninth when Joe Macko singled Jim Fridley home from second.

Frank Torray hit a homer and two singles for the Eagles. Kellert homered for Oklahoma City.

The University of Texas baseball team carried a post-war Southwest Conference won-and-lost record of 67-4 into the current campaign. The lowest percentage in league play for a single season was compiled, strangely enough, by the national championship team of 1949 (12-3).

Politics Of Fear

In these perilous times, we find ourselves engaged in international warfare without declaration of war by Congress, and living precariously in what seems to be a prelude to a full-scale third World War. Mr. Truman has repeatedly asserted that any failure to act now would be a vote against Fair Deal favoritism for himself 'ought to have his head examined.'

But anyone who believes that security and prosperity can be obtained by spending more than we make, by making our people and countless other people dependent on our government, by embroiling ourselves in class warfare and international warfare across the oceans, ought to have HIS head examined. We may hold the welfare of the world in the hollow of our hands, but we should not let our thinking in the hollow of our heads.

We are a fear-ridden people in a fear-ridden world. We live in daily fear of everyone who might serve us, but who is probably going to oppress us. This extends from the telephone operator who may cut off our communication, our railroad conductors who may stop transportation and the miner who may deny us fuel, to the Communist who may decide to bomb our home.

We are most hysterical in our fear of the vast power concentrated in a few incompetent hands. We are most afraid of the power we be in the face of proposals to concentrate as much or more power in a few incompetent hands in Washington.

As national jurisdiction is extended, and more and more power is concentrated in the federal government, the competence of its administration deteriorates and the security and strength of the nation is steadily reduced.

Driven by fear, overwhelmed by the immensity of big government, our self-chosen leaders hurry along a course that is leading to socialism and inflation. There is always the hope that some day we shall become ashamed of our fears. That we shall become ashamed of leaders who talk boldly and yield ignominiously to the forces of men who have faith in themselves.

Bid For A Smile

Junior—Mama, what's a second-story man?
Mother—Your father is one, dear. If I don't believe his first story he always has another one ready.

Johnny—Oh, mother, a car as big as a barn has just come by.
Mother—That's the new Cadillac. It's got forty million dollars worth of chrome on it and it's got a lot of good things on it.

What would I have to give you for just one little kiss?
Son—Chloroform.

Is it possible for a man to make a fool of himself without knowing it?
Friend—Not if he has a wife.

Do you file your finger nails?
Friend—No, I cut them and throw them away.

FAIR ENOUGH - PEGLER

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am about to begin a vacation of four weeks. As a parting word I would like to say that I would sound a warning to beware of Drew Pearson's propaganda, particularly his attack on Charles E. Wilson, the chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization. This is in reality an office of mobilization for war. In view of the draft, the Korean war and the General Matthew Ridgway's cry for public awareness of the nature of our larger Oriental war, the importance of Wilson's work should be understood. Wilson is a citizen of the highest patriotic devotion. His reputation is unblemished. He works long hard days for a nominal salary. He has been violently abused by the union racketeers, who demanded a voice in this task although the public never gave them any mandate to interfere. He has been smeared by all the forces of the pro-Communist journalism in the Washington press corps.

ARTICLE ON ALUMINUM

BY DAVID BAXTER

I am in possession of an interesting brochure on aluminum cooking utensils, etc. published by the Research Publishing Co., 332 Superior St., Toledo, O. It is largely a reprint from the Western Medical Times.

Among the statements in this article, I find one that intrigues me. It is: "Among those who condemn the use of aluminum compounds in foods are Dr. Albert P. Mathews, professor of bio-chemistry, College of Medicine, University of Cincinnati; Wm. J. Gies, professor of biological chemistry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University; Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, professor of pharmacology, University of Wisconsin; Dr. Phil E. Hawk and Dr. Clarence A. Smith, Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Dr. Arnold K. Balls, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Fred A. Hammet, Wistar Institute of Anatomy, Philadelphia.

"Opposed to these and many other scientists in the aluminum controversy, is the opinion of the spokesmen for the medical union and the propaganda agents of the aluminum industry. Many thousand physicians have not given the matter the consideration and thought which it, in the interest of their patients, deserves. Some have allowed themselves to be influenced by the statements of the ever-watchful advertising agents of the medical union just as laymen often rely on the often absolutely incorrect opinion and advice of journalist doctors. I believe that most doctors, were they correctly informed, would without further loss of time acquiesce in their patients with the subject and call their attention to the risk they run when continuing to eat food prepared in aluminum ware.

"Germany, France, Belgium, Great Britain, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Brazil prohibit the use of aluminum compounds in food stuff, including aluminum in baking powder. The United States has no such laws. The countries are progressive and have at their command the services of expert chemists, pathologists and medical men, no doubt, were consulted before the enactment of these laws which aim to protect and preserve the people's health."

Aluminum, of course, is an aluminum derivative. Just how good it is to take into the system, either in particles, over a long period of time, or in foods such as some baking powders, is a matter of conjecture. I am wondering if a doctor can be found who will stake his reputation that it is GOOD for people.

According to the article I mentioned, the aluminum people sold over one hundred million dollars worth of aluminum in 1926, so it would be interesting to know what their profits were in 1950, a big spending year.

Quoting from the article in question: "Dr. H. A. McGuigan, in his textbooks, stated: 'When taken internally, the action is due to chemical action on the stomach and intestines—the acid liberated upon the union of metal and protein penetrating in the tissue with an astringent effect. The local reactions are loss of appetite, pain and discomfort, nausea, vomiting, purging, congestion, hemorrhages resulting from irritant and corrosive action. Ulcers may result from bacterial action on dead tissue.'"

Washington... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Top military officials in Washington now believe that the psychological time to talk peace with the Chinese Communists will come after their next offensive. The spring offensive has been anticipated for some time. The build-up of North Korean and Red Chinese strength just north of the 38th parallel has been noted by aerial reconnaissance for several weeks. Launching of the attack may come any day.

When it comes, U. S. and United Nations commanders are confident they can break it up. This in spite of the fact that the Communists have manpower superiority. They may have at least a million men in North

McGuigan (whom I quoted above) testified in support of the complaint 25 years ago, but that he made no findings of any sort or for the Commission in said case. "The FTC goes on to advise me that 'this docket has never been closed, as such, although the report of the trial examiner made to the Commission is a confidential document and copies cannot be supplied.'"

"I don't know why a trial examiner's report should be confidential but it's the FTC's business. Perhaps the aluminum people know why, also.

Sensing that I was interested in the Royal Baking Powder case and aluminum the FTC suggested that I read about something else, so they sent me a copy of a complaint against the Perma-Maid Company, Inc. which did NOT handle aluminum ware but stainless steel. Perma-Maid was ordered to stop permitting its agents to say anything derogatory to aluminum. The FTC volunteered the Perma-Maid information, with the remark, 'in the belief that you may also be interested in this question.' Since I had said nothing about it, HOW DID THEY GUESS?

This is a big problem today. Divorce is breaking up marriages much more often that it used to and when children are involved the husband and wife are not the only ones to consider. Parents considering divorce should realize that the records of juvenile courts show that all kinds of crimes and misdemeanors are more frequent in youngsters with unsatisfactory home lives.

Today there is an increased awareness of the close relations between the emotions and physical disorders (psychosomatic Medicine). A stable, secure, and healthy childhood influences the entire later life and parents have the responsibility for doing the best they can in these early years.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

"Charity-Biblical and Political" I want to quote from a pamphlet issued by the Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York. A copy can be obtained by requesting one on a postcard. The article was written by Russell J. Clinchy, pastor of the First Church of Christ (Congregational) in Hartford, Connecticut.

"The original concept of charity as an expression of love, now appears to have been largely replaced by a concept of government-guaranteed security. One possible explanation for the development of this concept of charity may be that so many people felt that personal responsibility in the dispensing of charity was too slow and inadequate. Thus they chose to move into the speedier method of the use of public funds.

"Admittedly, the motives of these people were probably good and charitable. But the method chosen was uncharitable because love was replaced by force. The spirit of charity was debased to 'public welfare,' and the shift from personal responsibility to grants by the state was on the flow of state funds for relief and rehabilitation has become greater and greater, and the part of personal responsibility can play has necessarily become less and less.

"The element which gives meaning to charity is personal consideration and responsibility, but that element is lost when the edicts of the state are substituted for the voluntary decisions of persons. The means have destroyed the ends.

"There are two areas in which this sense of personal responsibility comes home to us. One is the person's responsibility for himself, and the other is the person's responsibility to his fellow men. Both of these lie in the area of religion, and of them the Judeo-Christian faith has something to say. It states unambiguously that man himself is responsible both for his personal life and for his social relations."

"This was also the theme of the Hebrew prophets. And in the teachings of Jesus Christ we find this concept of personal responsibility emphasized over and over again. Jesus faced all kinds and conditions of men and women, but He never allowed anyone to escape the sense of responsibility for his own life, and for the needs of others. The parable of the talents is set in the midst of the teachings of Jesus, and each person, no matter whether he is endowed with ten, five, talents—or even one—is responsible for the preservation of them, and also for the development of them."

"Now many persons will agree that it is to the unfortunate should theoretically be voluntary and a purely personal matter, and that the state should not enter into the process. But then they will recall various and man-made disasters—such as floods, droughts, depressions, explosions, and earthquakes—and claim that the economic problems then involved are too great for strictly private solution. This, of course, is a legitimate question. Let us examine it.

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

Children of divorce have one strike against them before they are born. Every child needs two parents but divorce or separation of the parents has an even worse effect than loss of a parent by death. Nervous people are more likely to develop ulcers, intestinal disorders, high blood pressure and a host of other troubles than those who are emotionally well adjusted.

And youngsters with only one parent cannot feel secure. They not only are candidates for all kinds of physical and nervous ills later in life, but are likely to be irritable, unstable, and perhaps lose weight as a result of their insecurity.

This is a big problem today. Divorce is breaking up marriages much more often that it used to and when children are involved the husband and wife are not the only ones to consider. Parents considering divorce should realize that the records of juvenile courts show that all kinds of crimes and misdemeanors are more frequent in youngsters with unsatisfactory home lives.

Today there is an increased awareness of the close relations between the emotions and physical disorders (psychosomatic Medicine). A stable, secure, and healthy childhood influences the entire later life and parents have the responsibility for doing the best they can in these early years.

Divorce is not the only thing that can go wrong. In many homes the parents are constantly quarreling in front of the children and this is bad for the youngsters too.

National Whirligig

(Every Saturday this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Ellingrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.)

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON—"Can you please tell me," asks F. U. of Camden, N. J., "why the United States refuses to advance money, food and military supplies to Yugoslavia, in view of that nation's strategic position and her people's reputation as hardy fighters?"

"It seems to me that this Balkan state should be one of those 'positions of strength' which Secretary Acheson promised to develop more than a year ago."

"DISAGREE — Answer: The official policy on reinforcement of Tito is almost as controversial as Washington's attitude with respect to using Chiang Kai-shek's troops in accord with General Douglas MacArthur's program. Many high-placed military men disagree with our present hands-off reaction to Tito's request for assistance.

One reason, of course, is that we have no general, broad and basic foreign policy with regard to going to his defense if he is attacked by Moscow.

Nor have President Truman and Secretary Acheson reached any decision on whether we would consider a Red invasion of Turkey, Iran or Greece as a hostile act requiring us to intervene militarily. In short, we have no definite policy for that region at all.

WAVERING — There is some reason for this wavering, however. Yugoslavia is such a remote and hard-to-reach land that our help might be "too little and too late," especially with Russia using planes and submarines in the narrow Mediterranean to block off any American reinforcements.

In other words, Yugoslavia might become to us what Poland was to Britain in 1939. England felt she had to keep her treaty commitments to Warsaw, but was unable to make good for military and geographical reasons. The result was that she had a bad effect on world opinion because it depicted the Empire as too weak to protect her friends.

LIMIT — We are also likely to forget that even the rich and powerful United States cannot spread herself too thin. There is a practical limit to what we can do in rearming the anti-Communist alliance.

We are, for instance, maintaining a force of about 400,000 in Korea, including our own and United Nations troops. We are increasing our domestic strength to 3,400,000 almost overnight. In addition, we are rushing finished weapons and raw materials to General Eisenhower's army.

Although rearmament orders are being handed out at the rate of more than $3,000,000,000 a month, according to the latest figures, the planes, tanks, artillery, ammunition, small arms and personnel equipment are not rolling off the assembly lines at that rate. It is nearer one third of that amount.

FLANK — Within a year, however, our increased strength may enable us to make a final decision on Tito's place in our defense system, including the question of whether an attack on him would constitute a reason enough for our engaging in all-out war with the Soviet.

We must eventually make up our minds about all these Mediterranean nations—Spain, Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey. In any full-scale, global conflict with Stalin, they would not be what Churchill called the "soft underbelly of Europe," but a southern flank so strategic that it would be essential for final

Success Secrets

Not long ago a soldier was telling about his experience as a prisoner of war behind barbed wire in Germany. Someone asked him what helped him most during this critical period. His answer was that a statement made by a chaplain made a deep impression on him.

He kept hope alive. This statement was: "A crisis can be defined as a 'dangerous opportunity.' We, here today, are in a crisis. We are in danger. But we should not lose sight of the opportunity—not the fact, that the greater the danger—the greater the opportunity."

Arland Gilbert has said, "Crisis is creative. Search the pages of both history and biography and you will find that out of the furnace of adversity, suffering, catastrophe, have come the men and the movements that have headed the march of human progress."

Today, many readers of this column are facing a personal crisis. To you I say—do not overlook the opportunity. John Davis, author of the book, "It's All In Your Mind," is a friend of mine. Not long ago he told me he was convinced that human beings were created with an "automatic governor" somewhere in their makeup; and that it was the purpose of this mechanism to release enough power to meet a need. If the need is small, the amount of available power released will be small. But if the need is great, the amount of power available is proportionately increased. The reason more people do not know this, he said, was that they do not realize that power equal to the task is available. And they give up without a try.

So They Say

We are... more interested in killing Communists than in acquiring real estate.—Lt. Colonel Edward M. Almond, U. S. 10th Army Corps commander.

We seek no economy of scarcity, don't believe in controls for their own sake. We are ready for all-out peace, or all-out war. Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization director.

MacArthur's Ouster Stirs Memories Of Billy Mitchell

THIS GENERAL SAID WHAT HE THOUGHT, TOO—Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell (extreme left) during his court-martial in 1925.

MACARTHUR LEAVES HEADQUARTERS PROBABLY FOR LAST TIME—General Douglas MacArthur, fired by President Truman, leaves his headquarters in Tokyo April 12, probably for the last time. He is followed by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney (center), his closest advisor, who has asked for retirement, and Col. Lawrence E. Bunker (right), a MacArthur aide. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Tokyo)

FLAG AT HALF-MAST—The flag flies at half-mast in Little Rock, Ark., before the building in which Gen. Douglas MacArthur was born on Jan. 26, 1880. The building was then a military post commanded by MacArthur's father. It is now MacArthur Park. The flag was placed at half-mast April 11 by Parks Supt. W. K. Amo, who thought MacArthur "got a raw deal" when relieved of his Far Eastern commands. (AP Wirephoto)

In the 1920s, the Billy Mitchell case was a shocking event. He was one of the greatest heroes of World War I, a man who had captured public fancy. Yet he was hauled before a court martial charged with violating the 96th Article of War.

He was charged with acting "to the prejudice of good order and military discipline." His trial, subsequent sentence and suspension all resulted from his intemperate feelings about his country and his service which he, like MacArthur, loved.

Mitchell served with glory in the first war. He was the first aviator to fly over Germany, chief of the AEF's air service, temporary commander of all the Allied air services. After the war, he was given a four-year appointment, with the rank of brigadier-general, as assistant chief of the Army Air Service.

During those four years, he continually spoke and wrote and advocated stronger air power. It was his contention that a "bombing airplane" was tactically superior to a battleship. He advocated a unified air service and ... into the Army and Navy air policies.

The Army General Staff was perpetually at odds with the dynamic Mitchell. When his appointment ran out, Secretary of War John W. Weeks wrote a recommendation to President Coolidge that read, in part: "Gen. Mitchell's whole course has been so lawless, so contrary to the building up of an efficient organization, so lacking in team work, so indicative of a desire for publicity at the expense of everyone with whom he is associated, that his actions make him unfit for a high administrative position."

Coolidge let Mitchell revert to his permanent rank of colonel. He was excited to the 6th Corps Area at San Antonio, but the obvious attempt to sidetrack and silence him failed.

When the dirigible Shenandoah was destroyed, Mitchell said the disaster was the result of "incompetence, criminal negligence and almost reasonable administration of the national defense by the War and Navy departments." That statement brought five years and forfeiture of all pay and allowances. Coolidge upheld the sentence, although he modified it to give Mitchell half-pay.

Until his death in 1936, Mitchell kept on talking. Time has proven that he was right in his beliefs about the value of air power. But his right to talk with such fervor is still debated, as it was in the days of the court martial.

Progress Is Reported Against Reds In Malay

KUALA LUMPUR — (AP) — M. D. del Tufo, chief secretary of the Federal Government of Malaya, thinks the "tactical situation" in the British war against Communist terrorists is improving. He told a news conference there were two reasons for "encouraging progress":

1. — Many British security forces which had been tied up with "rescuing" families at IFF areas were cleared of terrorists have been released for the job of fighting Communists because more resettlement officers have become available.

2. — The fight of the security forces has been facilitated by a noticeable stiffening of public morale. This has led to an increased flow of information to the authorities which has resulted in an increased number of contacts between security forces and the terrorists.

Indian Nationalists Said Leaving Burma

NEW DELHI — (AP) — During the past two years, nearly 76,000 Indians left Burma for India for unknown reasons, Deputy Foreign Minister B. V. Keskar told Parliament.

It might be because of the troubled conditions in Burma or the policy of the government of releasing non-Burmese personnel from public service, Keskar added, replying to questions. The Government of India, at its own expense, repatriated 13,411 Indians from Burma during the same period, he said.

Texans Urged To Control TB

27TH FIGHTER ESCORT WING, Japan — (AP) — "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em." That seems to be the theory on this base where Texans outnumber all other pilots who fly P-51 Thunder Jets against rapidly increasing Communist opposition in Korea.

The head count shows 41 native Texans flying jet fighters from this base. Another 17 pilots adopted the Lone Star State as their own by moving their families to Austin, where the 27th wing was stationed before transfer to Korea.

The 11 native Texans are as follows: Capt. John G. Fritz and Lt. Ernest Hutchens, Jr., Denton; Lt. James L. Savage, Raymondville; Lt. Alton A. Pendleton, Hamilton; Capt. Claude D. Phillips, Sudan; Capt. George E. Maxon, Jr., Vernon; Capt. Allen G. McGuire, Clarksville; Capt. Charles F. Minter, Daingerfield; Capt. Patrick H. Lavy, Ft. Worth; other's homes and into their own.

I asked Frances what she thought of this idea.

"It might work with some people — but not your friends," she said. "They just wouldn't go home at all. They'd bunk down here and soon I'd be running a hotel instead of a home."

The 17 pilots who call Texas "home," having settled their families there, are as follows with their former addresses: Lt. Col. John W. Laffo, Foughkeasie, N. Y.; Lt. William M. Kennedy, Camden, N. J.; Capt. Joseph R. Waters, Savannah, Ga.; Lt. Jacob Kratt, Jr., South Milwaukee, Wis.; Capt. Arthur W. Worthington, Columbus, O.; Capt. Wendal D. Oldham, Paola, Kan.; Capt. William O. 'Early To Bed' Still Can Be Rewarded As A Good System

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Some people feel that what this country needs is a good five-cent psychiatrist.

My conviction is, however, that what it needs most is a way to enable its citizens to get nine hours of sleep every night. Then it wouldn't need half so many psychiatrists.

Right now a lot of people who seek the psychiatric couch aren't really so mentally upset as they are sleepy. They aren't looking for someone to tell their troubles to so much as they are looking for a place to lie down and rest.

The only two paces left in American where a citizen can catch a nap in the daytime to make up for the sleep he should have gotten the night before are barber chairs and psychiatric couches. And the bills a man gets in either are enough to give Rip Van Winkle insomnia.

Medical science agrees that the average red-blooded American requires eight to nine hours of sleep a night if he really wants to get up and get going. But how can this be done in modern civilization?

The trouble is that adults are acting more and more like children. They want to stay up beyond their bedtime. Why? It only makes them cross and cranky and frustrated — like children who have missed a nap. What good does it do to stay up late? Whoever said anything interesting or clever after midnight? If he did it won't be lost to the world for lack of ears. He'll say it again the next morning. Nobody ever said a clever thing just once. That's how cliches are born.

Many communities used to have 9 o'clock curfews to get children of the streets and into their homes. They probably still have. And they are a fine idea.

The idea ought to be adopted for grownups — a national curfew to get adults out of each

Letter Contest Topic Named

MADISONVILLE —(AP)— "Why I think Texans are liars." That was announced today as the subject of the annual letter-writing contest sponsored by the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Assn. The winner of the annual contest is traditionally given an all-expense paid tour of Texas, a big barbecue, etc. The Sidewalk Cattlemen, long noted for their hi-jinks, said: "Of course, Texans know they aren't liars — that they aren't even bragging when they start talking about Texas. But since the rest of the world seems to think Texans stretch the truth, this group wants to find out why." Letters should be sent to William Forrest of Madisonville, the association's six-foot two-inch president.

Friday Is Bad For Youngsters

Friday the 13th really lived up to its reputation as "Bad Luck Day" for the four children of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston, 312 Rider St.

At 1 p. m., when Jimmy, 7, Jay, 4, Jerry, nearly 3, and Judy, 9, ate their lunch, they fed their dog, Ginger, her lunch, too.

When they went out to play after their afternoon rest, about 3 p. m., she was dead. Poisoned. And their hearts were broken.

Ginger was a year old Feb. 8. She was part Pekinese and part Cocker Spaniel and had been the "other member of the family" since she was a tiny puppy.

MEET THE ARMY'S "OTTER"—At home on land or sea in any climate is the "Otter," the Army's new amphibious cargo vehicle. Run by a two-man crew and carrying its own armament, the "Otter" can make 30 miles an hour on land. It is extremely maneuverable on land or afloat, can turn completely around within its own length and in water can reverse course by use of one of its two churning treads. El Paso Inviting Treasure Hunters

EL PASO — (AP) — The El Paso Chamber of Commerce invites you to spend your vacation hunting for buried treasure. The chamber, well aware of the pulling power of stories of hidden wealth, has revived a legend given much credence in the Southwest. The legend is that an agent of Pancho Villa, the Mexican bandit and revolutionary, buried a king's ransom in gold and jewels in the Franklin mountains near here. "How much of this story is true?" The chamber asks in a widely-distributed news release. "No one knows. But it would be a lot of fun on your vacation to take a crack at Villa's treasure. Who knows? You might strike it rich." The chamber's story continues along this line: Villa roamed at will from the poppy fields of Sinaloa to the barren deserts of Chihuahua and Sonora. Wherever he went he robbed and killed. As time passed he became immensely rich. His valuable jewels and coins became bulky and difficult to care for. He finally realized that it would be necessary to do something about all that valuable loot. With Villa were about 600 troops of the finest light cavalry Mexico has even known. They were known as Los Dorados and were specialists of the devastating cavalry charge. One cold morning in the high city of Durango, Villa summoned one of his lieutenants to his tent. "Teniente, I have a grave duty for you to perform." And he proceeded to give certain instructions. That same day, seven men with heavily laden pack mules left Durango for the country far to the north. Each mule was piled high with leather bags containing the treasure, six men, heavily armed, rode ahead and the sides of the booty. The lieutenant traveled behind. Weeks later, the odd little group of hard bitten men crossed the Rio Grande below the little Mexican village of Zaragoza. The lieutenant, by now more tense and nervous than ever, began to show signs of fatigue. The others in the party watched him curiously. They wondered what he meant to do, for he had told them nothing. They soon turned up the mouth of a canyon that leads into the Franklin mountains. As they progressed up the steep slope, the lieutenant knew the time was at hand. The group unloaded the burrows, slacking the treasure neatly upon the ground, and began to dig a hole in the rocky soil of Mount Franklin upon the orders of their superior. The hole grew ever deeper; then came the shots. Six of them. Followed by screams of mortal anguish. In the stillness that followed could be heard the swish of dirt being thrown into a hole, covering the treasure and any signs of the murder committed. Before leaving, the lieutenant made a map of sorts to use in returning for the treasure. Upon a nearby rock he inscribed one word in Spanish. "ORO." Gold! The lieutenant returned to Villa's headquarters. That evening, Villa was handed the map, and the lieutenant died quietly

Parks Named School Head At Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Ben Parks, local banker, was named president of the school board here. Board members were all chosen last week at a special election necessitated by consolidation last summer with Twitty and Magie City. Parks, vice-president under the old board, succeeds E. C. Hofmann, also re-elected last week. Hofmann is a member of the current board. J. B. Henderson, Twitty, newly-elected member, was selected for vice-president, while Al Ryan, re-elected last week, is secretary. Members drew to see which served one, two or three year terms. Henderson and Hofmann will serve three years, Parks and Sol Bionstein (elected last week, but former member) two years; while Ryan, I. C. Mundy (re-elected) and Lyle Holmes, former member, are listed for one year.

You Can Eat All You Want But Eat Less Too

Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. In other words, asks the girl who is fighting the battle of the bulge, "How can I take off weight without going hungry?" Well, common sense is the watchword. You eat plenty to satisfy your appetite and still eat LESS. It just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet — take off weight, then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot go on a rigid diet over a protracted period. Recently there has appeared on the market several diet and vitamin "plans" which mean a strenuous diet and vitamins to fortify against weakness caused by lack of food. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit, back goes the fat. An exhaustive survey made among Texas druggists recently has shown one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan". It allows you to eat all you want, but you eat LESS. Nearly four million bottles of this preparation, called Barcontrate, have been sold in Texas in the past eight years. There is an ingredient in Barcontrate which definitely curbs your appetite and stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time it dehydrates and eliminates. There is nothing harmful in Barcontrate. The formula is plainly written on the label. You can get a four ounce bottle of Barcontrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Beauty Of American Home Can Be Destroyed By Fad

By HENRY McLEMORE
Certainly I have nothing personal against either Winston Churchill or Grandma Moses, but I can't help but feel that between the two of them they are responsible for popularizing a fad which threatens to destroy the beauty of the American home. The fad to which I refer is the painting of pictures. Churchill has admitted that aside from belaboring the Labor government from his seat on the opposition bench nothing gives him so much relaxation as to paint a seascape or a cowscap or, if the press of business keeps him in town, a fire escape even. The thousands who took up painting because of Grandma Moses took it up because of the money the old lady makes. She sells her pictures like hot cakes, and from all reports she paints them about as fast as a good short order cook can make a hot pie. Let snow fall on a barn roof and before it can melt Grandma will have knocked off seven or eight canvases of it. Grandpa Churchill and Grandma Moses have talent, to be sure, but the vast majority of those who are following in their footsteps couldn't even spell talent if given five letters of the word as a clue. A man is just plain lucky if he can go into a home three days and not find a home-painted monstrosity occupying the place of honor on the walls. And most of the monstrosities are of subjects about which Raphael would have thought twice before jacking. Nothing simple, mind you, but something on the order of the Titanic going down, life size, or a three-mile stretch of the Grand Canyon at sunset. Right across the street from us lives Mrs. Cooper Person, the former Liz Whitney. Returning from the race track the other day she asked us to stop by to see something she wanted—very much to show us. I thought that the least Liz would have shown us would be a small race horse she liked for the Derby or next year's Grand National. But no, nothing like that. She had one of her own paintings she wanted us to see. It was in a frame which, if cut up for firewood, would have sold for more than 20 times what the picture was worth. It was her boast that she had been dabbling in oils for only three months, but I couldn't believe her. From the looks of that picture I would have sworn she hadn't been at it for more than a week. From what I could make of

RAF Sending More Planes To Malaya

SINGAPORE — (AP) — More bombing planes are coming from England to aid the RAF in its attacks against Communist terrorists in the dense jungles of Malaya. The RAF Headquarters here said this means an intensification of the air strikes against terrorist hideouts. More planes of the Brigand light bomber type are earmarked for service in Malaya. Delivery flights also will start of Hornet fighter-bombers — Britain's fastest piston-engined aircraft. These are to replace the Tempest fighter-bombers now operating in Malaya, and will carry a bigger punch in the anti-terrorist war. Charlemagne sent Christian missionaries to Bremen, Germany, in 787.

SNOW IN APRIL. Honestly, here's one person who is afraid to go to the corner grocery store any more without carrying a raincoat, fur coat and wind goggles to boot. We never know what what before we get back there'll be rain, a blizzard or a dust!

THE MOST MADDENING thing about this changing weather (besides the colds it brings on) is that most of us had packed away the winter clothing, and were ready to strut the new spring duds. But really, even those starched piques and etched cotton prints couldn't brighten up some of our days last week. 'Bout the only appropriate thing we saw was the duster so many are wearing - that long, loose fitting coat seemed to fit right in with our 'dust bow!

IN MENTIONING the jonquils in bloom last week, we failed to write about those growing at the Walter Rogers home. Those yellow blooms look nice against the grey house trimmed with sunny yellow shutters. It's rather sad to pass the congressman's house, all quiet now, but once so full of activity. Here's a little tidbit you'll be interested in hearing. Rep. Rogers may soon be off to some of the Iron Curtain countries. It's a top secret thing, so no details, but Peg did learn that much.

SOMEBODY, SOMETIME, should set aside an "Ice Cream Day" in Pampa. Anytime you need any gossip items she goes out by the ice cream speciality drive-ins - that's a sure spot to see people. It's a favorite, come spring, but they do a thriving business even in cold weather. Don't suppose ice cream tasted any better long ago, but do you remember the ice cream parlors we used to have? Bet we'll see some of those round marble topped tables with little rickety chairs to match.

PANORAMICALLY: Have you noticed the tennis court they've made out of the square dance slab at the Hobart street park? ... Very good idea to utilize available equipment ... we needed that, too ... Also noticed the lovely weeping willow in the R. E. Frierson's back yard ... like those two people, and their home, too, that looks like it gets lots of attention ... Wonder who's building that two-story colonial in the 1200 block of Williston? ... We hate to see Ralph Thomas leaving ... always brings the world situation just a bit closer home when those we know get back in uniform ... The Knox Kewards are getting ready for their first time ... another ice-cream-deep in wedding plans ... and their youngest, Mrs. Lee Moore, Jr., is being busy with the multifarious details of building a house ... A really fine book review was held at the Frank Culbertson's the other day ... Incidentally, the Culbertsons' recently-wed daughter and her husband are all settled in their home after the honeymoon cruise ... fine addition to Pampa's young married set ... Spied Charles Cowart's wife past the other morning ... an amiable fellow ... Pampa probably had as good a representation as any Panhandle town at the Federated Women's Club doings in Amarillo this week ... at least the best in quality if not in quantity!

REMEMBER the Community Chest plan this column endorsed a few weeks ago? There'll be a preliminary meeting tomorrow night and all the clubs in town are sending delegates to discuss the possibility of such a thing. We'll be hearing more of this and let's hope some plan can be devised whereby our drives will be more successful.

DON'T KNOW HOW the Cancer Crusade is progressing, but until a Community Chest is organized we must continue donating to such causes. A timely article appears in this month's Redbook; it's the story of a young Texas woman confronted with cancer. But many who'll read this have faced with a similar problem in their own families so there is no question of the worthiness of the cancer drive.

MRS. FINIS JORDAN is doing a fine job as Gray County chairman in the cancer campaign. Wonder if we realized and appreciate fully the time and effort the chairmen of the various drives spend in fund-raising activities? Know Peg is speaking for a lot of people when she says thanks for a job well done. Mrs. W. D. Kelley is another person deserving of mention (sorry that typographical error last week, Mrs. K.).

HAVE YOU BEEN creeping and crawling along our streets in all the heavy traffic? Never saw parking spaces so limited! Right around there by the Hughes building a parking lot would be nice, wouldn't it? When all the building in town is completed and those wooden walks are dismantled it'll be a lot easier finding a parking place (to be honest Peg can't go in a parallel spot) but in the meantime we could use a parking lot (similar to the one at the Combs-Worley). By the way, what handsome building is that going up across from the court house?

SEEMED ALMOST like old times at the Lions Minstrel the other night; however, there were lots of folks in the audience who should have been up on the stage in blackface. There should be more occasions to bring Pampa's talent into the limelight. Still wish some of the original members of our LITTLE THEATER would think of reorganizing. Summer would be a good time to begin when many of the other club activities slow down.

One thing happening this week that we couldn't learn much about was the ditch lunch at the Country Club Wednesday night - a stag affair - and it's on such occasions that I realize my limitations in getting all the news, for I'm just a housewife known as PEG O' PAMPA.

Double-Ring Church Ceremony Unites Miss Carolyn Donham, Mr. MacDonald

In a double-ring ceremony read in the Assembly of God Church Sunday, April 1, Miss Carolyn Donham became the bride of R. F. James MacDonald. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Donham of Elk City, Okla., and the bridegroom, who is in the Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rod MacDonald, 513 S. Cuyler.

The Rev. S. M. Smith officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. McMullin.

Candles were lighted by Doreen Forde and Elnita Davis, who wore floor-length dresses of blue dotted Swiss white shoes and white carnation wristlets.

Pianists were Wanda Morris and Kay Wilson and Nancy Yutes was vocalist. Wedding music included "Because," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Evelyn Donham, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Nancy Wheelchell, Alla Freda Murrell, June Heatley and Eunice Farrar of Elk City. Flower girl was Katherine Holdierfeld.

Leon Holdierfeld, uncle of the bride from Seminole, Okla., was best man. Wallace Bruce, James Taylor, LaDon Sheats, Jean McKinney, Sherman Stockton and Darrel La Rue ushered.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore traditional white satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full length train. Her imported lace veil fell from a headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and she wore a three-strand pearl necklace, which was her something new. Her shoes were of white satin. For something old she wore a pearl pin and carried a borrowed linen handkerchief. Her colonial bouquet was centered with an orchid.

With the exception of the maid of honor, all of the bride's attendants wore dresses in three tones of blue-dotted Swiss, white shoes, shoulder-length white veils trimmed in white carnations and white carnation wristlets.

Kay Baker, the girl ring bearer, also wore blue dotted Swiss, white carnation wristlet, white veil and white shoes. She carried a white satin pillow with the bridegroom's ring on it.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length gown of blue satin and net and veil of blue net seeded with pearls. Her shoes were white and she carried a white Bible topped with a pink carnation corsage and pink streamers.

The aisle-cloth was unfolded by Wallace Bruce and James Taylor.

Both the bride's and bridegroom's mothers wore navy blue with white accessories and pink carnation corsages.

The bride attended Pampa High School and the Elk City High School, where she was a member of the Glee Club, FHA and the Ginger Snaps. The bridegroom was graduated from the Pampa High School and attended Draughton's Business College in Amarillo.

Mrs. MacDonald is now at Elk City, but will soon go to San Diego to join her husband. The reception was given in the home of Rev. and Mrs. McMullin; 1233 Charles.

For the wedding trip to Oklahoma City and Fort Worth the bride traveled in a tailored gingham suit in rust color with beige accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Then, the next step is "decide on a test or check on your plan. Remember, no matter how carefully you plan, things may not work out as your hope, but change indicates that is being taking place. Families are growing together and gain strength from each other as the attack a problem even though their plans may show results."

Pi Mu plaques were presented to Gamma Upsilon of Dimmitt, Gamma Iota of Lamesa, Gamma Kappa of Tulia and Beta Rho of Pampa.

During the afternoon, piano solos were played by several scholarship pupils, including Jan Higginbotham of Amarillo, Martha Setzler of Shamrock and Opalene Cox of Lamesa. These pupils will enter the St. Louis Institute of Music in the fall.

Also on the program were skits by the various chapters. They included "Chalk Drawing" by Beta Xi of Amarillo (Mrs. E. C. Burnett, adviser); "A Walking Composer" by Beta Rho of Pampa (Mrs. Hartfield, adviser); "The Nutcracker Suite" by Gamma Iota of Lamesa (Mrs. Lorine Groves, adviser); scenes from "The Nutcracker Suite" by Gam-

WHA'S COOKING

(Continued from Page 13) not always work out smoothly. This is a workable thing according to the Fred Haiduk. It was a thrill to learn that the Fred Haiduk family have decided to have a "family council." Mr. and Mrs. Haiduk and their children, Harry, 9, and Myrna, 7, simply sit down together and talk over the things they want to do together, and some things which bother them. In one of the council meetings, Myrna made one of her problems known. This was a real need, the Haiduks thought, so action has taken immediately and the results brought happiness to the whole family. "We're sold on the family council now," said Mrs. Haiduk.

Children of Jaycee-Ettes acted as little models for the "Kidzie Style Show" and tea held last Sunday afternoon in the City Club Room.

Spring and summer clothes from local children's clothing shops were modeled by Frances Aftergut, Gaylynn Arndt, Jackie and Stevie Nimmo, Melody and Rosalee Beyers, Donita Foster, Carolyn Francis, Duane Sanders, Sandra and Sharon Garman

CHIEF COOKS AND DISHWASHERS — In keeping with tradition, Masons cooked and served dinner to the members of the Order of the Eastern Star, an annual affair, in Masonic Hall. About 50 OES members and five guests were present. The boys even had a table centerpiece, a bare rose bush and two coffee cans. A new member was initiated. Symphony Plans Well Under Way

At the last meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which was held in the City Club Room, a committee was appointed to handle arrangements for the Pampa Piano Symphony performance, which the club is sponsoring.

The committee is as follows: Minnie Barnes, general chairman; Viola Clendinning, radio; Vera Lard, stage settings; Hazel Jay, program; Bea York, ticket sales; Mildred Hill, publications; ushers, Noel Thompson, E. Vera Crawford, Valora Losher, Gladys Jaynes and Lucille Turner.

The symphony performance will be May 7 in the Junior High School Auditorium under the direction of May Foreman Carr, and will be for the benefit of Girls Town at White Face. It is one of the B & P.W. Club's major projects for the year.

The president, Gladys Howard, was in charge of the business meeting and read a letter from the Ferryton B & P.W. Club inviting Pampa members to a public affairs banquet there next Thursday night.

Appointments were also made by the president for a nominating committee to choose officer candidates for the coming year. On the committee are Mildred Lafferty, chairman; Charley Neal Young, Lillian Jordan and Vera Lard.

An announcement stated that delegates and alternates to the state convention will be elected at the next meeting. The convention will be in El Paso June 8 through June 12.

Dr. Emily Hicks gave a talk on "Cancer" and showed two educational films furnished by the National Cancer Society in connection with the current Cancer Drive.

The next meeting of the club will be a social in the City Club Room Tuesday evening, April 26. Jessye Stroup and Mary Forrester will be in charge of this meeting, and will be assisted by Gladys Robinson, Agnes Wilson Link and Hazel Jay.

Annual Piano Auditions Slated April 26, 27, 28

Annual piano auditions will be held April 26, 27 and 28 in the First Methodist Church.

Judges will be Edna Kaempfer, pianist, organist, and coach, whose background incorporates concert, radio, lecture, teacher-training and coaching experience.

Dr. Ir. Allison of Austin founded the audition movement in 1928 as the surest way of inducing progress among young musicians.

Burlap Control Causes Alarm

NEW YORK — (AP) — Politics and profit-speculation in far-off India and Pakistan may boost the prices you'll be paying this year for chicken, beef, eggs; floor coverings, drapes, upholstered chairs, and a host of other products.

India and Pakistan control the world's main supply of burlap — vital to agriculture, food distribution and a dozen or more other basic industries in our country.

Developments are alarming American potato growers, grain, feed and fertilizer producers, and many others who depend on burlap for packaging.

That old standby, the burlap bag, is getting scarce. Burlap cloth for linoleum, rugs, upholstery is equally high.

In the background is a tangled web of international complications.

Nearly all the world's burlap is woven in India's burlap mills.

The best jute grows in Pakistan, Hindu India's Moslem neighbor.

Political differences between the two states have interfered with the smooth flow of Pakistan jute to the burlap mills of Calcutta.

Normally we use 75 million yards of burlap cloth a month. Last year we bought 70 percent of India's burlap.

Then came Jan. 28 and price controls. The U.S. slapped a ceiling of 34 cents a yard on the popular heavyweight grade.

Last month India lifted its ceiling. Burlap prices skyrocketed from 23 1/2 cents to 36 cents a yard — two cents higher than the U.S. ceiling price. U.S. importers stopped buying.

Pakistan jute growers hiked their prices — from 35 rupees ($7.35) a maund (82 pounds) early this year to 100 rupees ($21). Deliveries to Calcutta bogged down in the maze of bureaucratic red tape and antiquated transport. Right now, when they should be getting ready for their peak production period, the Calcutta Burlap Mills are critically short of jute.

Burlap stocks in the U.S. are running low. Right now, we have less than a two months' supply.

Poor Production Plagues Romania

VIENNA — (AP) — East European communism recognizes the need for competition in production. It does it by stimulating "Socialist contests" between workers to see who can produce most and win a medal. But the system backfires.

The Romanian newspaper "Scanteia" complained recently: "In the foundry section, Comrade Ion Bene's team was listed among the outstanding ones, but it had the highest percentage of rejects."

Pampans Attend 100th Birthday Of W. H. Combs

Leslie Nance, Carlton Nance of Pampa and Mrs. R. A. Eversole of Grandfield, Okla., attended the 100th birthday festivities of W. H. "Bill" Combs celebrated recently in Bakerfield, Calif.

Combs is the uncle of Leslie Nance and was at one time engaged in the cattle business in Texas. He was one of the 50,000 pioneers waiting on the line for the signal marking the opening of the great Oklahoma land rush.

Combs and his wife will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary June 26; they were the first couple to be married in Oklahoma City.

During the first day of February, Comrade Dumitru Panait's Team had 20 percent rejects from all parts cast, Carol Marc's team 16 percent and Constantin Stoescu's 13.0 percent.

Texas Toms Bitterly Oppose St. Lawrence Seaway Project

AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON — (AP) — Backers of the St. Lawrence seaway project, an $800,000,000 plan to bring ocean-going shipping to Great Lakes ports and harness the international river for power probably wish they never had run up against a couple of Texas Toms — Messrs. Connally and Pickett.

The first, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has been a powerful force for years past in blocking the development. On the House side, Palestine's Congressman Pickett has emerged this season as an extremely able opponent of the project. For fifty years there has been talk of damming the St. Lawrence River to provide a 27-foot deep channel over rapids that are now skirted by a 14-foot canal and lock system. Hydroelectric units in the proposed dam are rated capable of generating 12 billion kilowatts of power annually, to be shared between the United States and Canada.

Opponents of the plan include the Association of American Railroads and officials of ports who feel they would lose traffic if the St. Lawrence were deep enough to handle ocean-going vessels. Port authorities in Texas have voiced fears that such a seaway would take away wheat cargoes from the midwest grain fields, which would have to go shorter distances by rail if moved through Great Lakes ports.

Connally has been an outspoken opponent of the proposal in the past and he says he is still against it. He hasn't appointed a subcommittee yet to study the project again, though President Truman has renewed his recommendation for its authorization. Hearings on the authorizing legislation have been going on for weeks before the House Public Works Committee. The searching and pointed questioning of witnesses by Pickett had won even the reluctant admiration of some proponents.

Economy is the basis of Pickett's opposition. Pointing to the huge national debt and mounting expenditures for the military, he says: "We have to eliminate the unessential in federal expenditures, reduce the desirable as much as possible and scrutinize the necessary very carefully before authorizing or appropriating funds."

He participated in hearings on the project last year. "At the conclusion of testimony in behalf of the bill," he adds, "I decided against approving the project. I approached the hearings this year with that feeling in mind. There has been no actual evidence submitted to me to date that would cause me to change my mind."

ROUNDED THE CAPITOL: J. C. Dykes, a native Texan whom some would call a "blue reaucrat" because of his federal job here, takes quick exception to any criticism that government employees have an easy life.

Raised in Dallas, Dykes was graduated from Texas A&M in 1921. He is now Deputy Chief of the Soil Conservation Service.

"We get 26 days a year for vacation," he told a reporter. "We can only accumulate up to 60 days, and I can tell you that I and a lot of others here have actually lost many days off simply because we have been too busy and couldn't get away."

Government employees also get 15 days sick leave annually. These can be accumulated up to 90 days.

"Of course, there are some chiselers with the government just as with any concern," he added. "But they are the excep-

ALL IN A LIFETIME

By FRANK BECK

Texas Confederate Vet 105 Years Old

AUSTIN — (AP) — One hundred and five candles on a big white birthday cake.

They are for Thomas Evans Riddle, a spry little man with a thatch of wavy white hair, bushy eyebrows and blue eyes.

He will be 105 years old April 16.

And he's one of three Confederate veterans still living in Texas.

Riddle is the only veteran who makes his home at the Texas Confederate Home for Men at Austin. He spends his days playing dominoes with his attendant, listening to war news on the radio and taking a slow stroll, aided by a cane, around the yard.

He isn't the oldest veteran. Walter W. Williams, who served in Hood's brigade, is 106 and lives on route 5, Franklin. The other veteran, J. H. Whitsett, 101, who served in the 2nd Missouri Cavalry, lives at Bonham.

Riddle was a private in the 12th Tennessee Infantry and fought under Gen. Robert E. Lee at Gettysburg.

You can call him colonel now. He grinned and pointed to the framed commission making him an honorary colonel on the staff of the Governor of Texas. Gov. Allan Shivers issued the honorary rank to the three Confederate veterans last year.

His honorary rank hangs beside his bed in a big sunny ward of the hospital at the Confederate home. In a nearby closet hang his coat with the two medals he's proud of pinned to it. One is for the 75th anniversary of Confederate soldiers who fought in the Battle of Gettysburg and the other for the 69th reunion of United Confederate Veterans.

His birthday party will be held in the ward so Riddle can rest on the bed if he prefers.

His birthday isn't until Monday, but the party is Sunday so more of his friends can visit him.

There'll be a big birthday cake with 105 candles, punch, music and gifts. Mrs. J. A. McCutcheon, wife of the superintendent of the home, arranged the party with the Austin chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Riddle is so deaf that he hears only when a person gets close to his right ear and shouts, and sometimes he doesn't hear them. But once he catches a question, he likes to talk about it. "I remember the war," he said. "You know, there isn't a grown person living who doesn't remember a war."

"I remember General Lee; I fought with him at Gettysburg. People still argue about that battle. Some say as many as 2,000 were killed. But I know how many were killed—thirteen; that's all. I was there and we buried every one of them right there 'in the field.'"

When Riddle first came to Texas he lived in Grayson county for 23 years.

"I was a stone mason, and I also rented a farm," he said. "Then for three years not one drop of rain fell. The next year we had rain but the boll weevils and the worms ate up the crops. Next year it was the grasshoppers. By that time I had a batch of kids to look after so I moved over to Clay county."

Riddle farmed in North Texas until he moved into town to Wichita Falls 11 years ago, he said. He came to the Confederate home in January of 1950.

He has three children — Mrs. Cora Thomas of Glendale, Ariz.; Mrs. A. L. Williams of Wichita Falls, and Hy Riddle of Santa Paula, Calif.

Texas Crime Shows Slight Increase In FBI Reports

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Reports sent to the FBI by Texas cities on eight types of crime show a slight increase in all categories except one in 1950 as compared with 1949.

The top 67 cities in the state, with 2,424,907 population, listed a total of 70,826 known crimes in 1950 in the eight types, compared with 62,197 in 1949.

Only in the field of aggravated assaults was there a drop. There were 2,933 such cases reported in 1949 and only 2,770 in 1950.

There were 382 reported cases of murder and non-negligent manslaughter in the Texas urban centers last year, compared to 342 during 1949.

Larceny accounted for the greatest number of criminal offenses both years. There were 30,792 thefts reported last year, 25,502 in 1949.

Manslaughter by negligence accounted for the last number in the classified groups. There were 161 such cases in 1950 and 129 in the previous year.

The other types of reported offenses, with the 1949 figure shown in parenthesis, are:

Rape, 333 (272); robbery, 1,533 (1,623); burglary — breaking or entering, 17,911 (18,274); auto theft, 8,054 (6,222).

Wind Instruments To Improve Clothing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Instruments which can measure wind up to 400 miles per hour or the smoke from a cigarette have been developed by the U. S. Quartermaster corps.

The wind instruments, two engineers have reported, will be used to provide more comfortable clothing for GIs.

The report was made by Charles E. Hastings and Chester R. Wehlo of Hampton, Va., to the southern district meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The Ventimers, they said, will be used to measure the wind through layers of clothing.

In another report J. F. Dexter of Midland, Mich., disclosed development of electrical insulation which can withstand 500 degrees of heat or 100 degrees below zero.

Doctor Says Humans May Be Victims of Zoonoses

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Will new zoonoses rise up to make humans sick?

You may have had a zoonosis already. A zoonosis (the plural is zoonoses) is an animal disease transmissible to humans.

There are over 80 such diseases, Dr. James H. Steele, chief of Veterinary Public Health, communicable disease center, Atlanta, Ga., told the American College of Physicians.

Maybe there will be new zoonoses, still unforeseen, in the future, he said. There is a theory that disease germs of lower animals struggle to get ahead, and may change so they can affect higher animals, including man.

In laboratory experiments, disease germs have been made to invade new kinds of hosts or victims. But they haven't always stepped up to attack higher forms of life, Dr. Steele said.

Some animal diseases are only occasionally found in humans, such as Newcastle disease of fowl, and swine influenza. Maybe, he said, these are examples of germ life trying to adapt to higher forms of life.

The 80-odd diseases that humans can get from animals include rabies, brucellosis or undulant fever, anthrax, tuberculosis of cows, parrot fever, Q fever and Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

Some are well controlled or can be controlled, others still are problems in some parts of the country or among certain groups of workers especially.

Animal diseases that affect both animals and man might be chosen as weapons in biological warfare, Dr. Steele added.

He suggested that meetings between physicians and veterinarians would help in controlling zoonoses already known, and in keeping alert to the appearance of any new ones.

Doctor Says Women Should Live Longer

LONDON — (AP) — Medical statistician Dr. W. J. Martin reported in a paper read to the Royal Statistical Society that there is a higher death rate among men than women in England and Wales. He said no satisfactory explanation for this has been found.

Dr. Martin stated that it was previously thought the occupational risks were an explanation of the shorter lives of men, but "the large increase in the proportion of women engaged in industry in recent years has not affected the mortality sex ratio."

"WHERE DO YOU THINK YOU'RE GOING?" — Floating traffic cops now see to it that there is no "Sunday driving" by gondoliers on the canals of Venice. Here a water taxi-driver is stopped by a cop. While his two tourist passengers look on, he gets a ticket for crashing a red light. Like many other large cities, Venice has a growing traffic problem, complicated by the fact that most of its "streets" are canals.

Sick Japanese Sailor Is Held

SINGAPORE (AP) — The first Japanese to come ashore in Singapore since the war did so because he was sick. A Japanese sailor, 19-year-old Yoji Toyama, was taken off the 6,342-ton Japanese freighter Tatumiya Maru.

Toyama suffered an acute appendicitis attack. Even though he was sick, he had to be treated as an enemy as no peace treaty

Abandoned Shells Kill 1400 Italian Children

ROME — (AP) — Almost six years after the end of World War II, buried and abandoned shells, hand grenades and land mines are killing 1,400 Italian children annually. The tragic deaths are recorded almost daily in Italy's press. Rehas been signed with Japan. Now this Japanese sailor will have to remain in Outram Road prison, until he is repatriated on one of the Japanese ships which frequently pass by Singapore.

cently, a series of unrelated disasters took 1 lives, including 15 children, within a week. In one of the tragedies, four brothers, ranging in age from eight to 15, died in an explosion of a bomb they had unearthed in the countryside near Naples.

The succession of children's deaths has brought a wave of protest in Italian newspapers and demands that the government step up its accident prevention program. As a result, a special government agency has launched an educational program through Italian schools to warn children against the danger of buried explosives.

The Gold Mannequin

By Myles Connolly

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tim Reese, a spirited veteran, learns to walk again as a result of a surgical operation made possible by his money, earnings as a fashion designer for the successful and exclusive gown maker "Jean Paul." Not realizing that his designs have made the shop successful, Tim has kept working for Jean Paul, one of the partners. Jean Paul suggests that he and Jean go into partnership with a gown shop of their own. Jean hesitates to see meet in the shop. She quarrels later with Mr. Paul. When Tim goes to the shop the next morning, he reveals to the secretary, Miss Major, that he actually is the designer of the gown that won the award. Miss Major becomes intensely interested and insists on having Tim's address, adding that she has "a very special reason of my own for asking for it now."

XXV
The insistence of Miss Major, the secretary of the firm of Jean Paul, for his address puzzled Tim Reese. He looked at her sharply, then grinned: "Want to send me fan mail?"

"Yes, you might call it that." "Good. I'm recognized at last!" "The address—?" Miss Major was subtly persistent.

"Summit Hospital, Cedarbrook, will get me for a while."

She gave him one of her characteristically skeptical looks. "It's my country place."

She smiled. "I'm willing to believe anything. She wrote the address down. "Thank you very much." She came from behind the desk. She was very friendly. "Miss Roland lives up on the fourth floor if you wish to see her."

"In this building?"

"There's an elevator in the shop. She's probably still in bed but Martha, her maid, will be there." "I guess I'll be all right if I go up, won't I?" He turned toward the door.

"Miss Roland should be glad to see you, Mr. Reese."

Tim, unmindful of the cryptic note in Miss Major's speech, turned and went out. His walk was still awkward, difficult, but he moved less slowly than before.

MISS MAJOR watched him go. Then, she turned swiftly back to the desk, took up the paper with Tim's name and address on it, folded it carefully and put it into her purse.

Paul Paul, in his hat and overcoat, entered.

"Good morning, Mr. Paul. Miss Major was completely at ease. "Do you know if Miss Roland is upstairs?"

"I happen not to have seen Miss Roland this morning." He was tired, irritable. "Why?"

"Just curiosity." Miss Major rose from the desk, moved to a closet at one side.

He was annoyed. "A good secretary does not indulge in curiosity."

She put on her hat and coat. "I don't pretend to be a good secretary," she said.

"You are impertinent." He was more annoyed. "You are going out. I gather my presence here is not important to you." She fixed her hat before a mirror, did not speak.

"May I suggest that you do not come back? You will please me by considering yourself discharged."

She picked up her purse from the desk. Then, she went to the door, turned and faced him.

"You can't discharge me very well, Mr. Paul. I was just leaving. It so happens I've been working for Mr. Cochet for years."

She gave him her bland smile. "I enjoyed talking with Mr. Reese. He really has a wonderful talent."

"Cochet planted you here—!" The realization that his business competitor had planted a spy in his own establishment left him speechless.

"Goodby, Mr. Paul." She went out, leaving the slightest tinkle of laughter behind her.

For once, Mr. Paul was on the point of losing his poise.

MARtha, the trim, colored maid, admitted Tim to the apartment on the fourth floor. He gave his name and assured her Miss Roland would be glad to see him. The maid went back into the apartment.

In a moment, the maid returned. "Miss Roland just woke up. It'll be a few minutes before she can see you. Would you wait, please?"

There were many enchanting pictures of Jean here and there in the apartment, and Tim's eye, as he sat and waited for her, went happily from one picture to another.

He was pleased to discover that in many of the pictures she was wearing costumes designed by him. His eye came to rest on one that held his attention especially, a sensitive camera study of Jean modeling a bridal dress. She was the perfect bride, ethereal and still alluring.

The bridal dress was not one of Tim's designs. He decided, as he mused over the picture, he would sketch one for her very soon.

The door of the apartment was opened and Mr. Paul entered, admitting himself by key. He had divested himself of his hat and overcoat. He was still distraught from his scene with Miss Major and it was a moment before he discovered Tim.

For an instant, Mr. Paul was at a loss. But only for an instant. "Good morning. A wretched day, isn't it?"

Once more that troubled feeling about Mr. Paul returned. Tim Reese. The man had been momentarily brushed away by Jean's explanations the night before, but still he remained, like a fly on a white ceiling, a small, but definitely irksome distraction.

And Mr. Paul seemed to see quite at home.

Malaya Village Being Fenced In

JOHORE BAHRU, Malaya (AP) — There's a fence being built all around the new resettlement village near Jementah. It's designed more to keep Communist terrorists out.

Two hundred families have moved into houses newly built. Other houses are under construction to accommodate a total of 400 families. This is part of a resettlement program carried out by British authorities as a corollary to the war against Communist terrorists. They're clearing areas of terrorists as fast as possible. Then new resettlements are formed — to be peopled by law-abiding, loyal citizens.

Some of these are enclosed by a moat 14 feet wide. That's also designed to make it difficult for Communist terrorists to get back into the area once they have been driven out.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Civil Service Commission notified all federal agencies today that it will investigate charges of "practicing" and "unwarranted upgrading" of government employees.

Allies Forced To Observe Air War Rules In Korea

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The air war in Korea is the first one in history ever fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules. But only one combatant is observing them—the allies.

It is extremely annoying to the American airmen although the Chinese airmen must like it just fine. For they can come and hit our planes where our planes live but our planes can't go and hit the enemy planes where they live.

This is perhaps the oddest situation in one of the oddest wars in history. It was created by the United Nations policy of "localizing" the Korean war to Korea itself—the land, the sky above it, the seas that border it.

That decision — one that General MacArthur disagreed with — forces allied fliers to operate in a pretty tight aerial boxing ring. It is like a fight in which one opponent has a corner in which he is safe from being punched — and the other opponent has none.

Here is the way it operates: In Northwest Korea the Yalu river divides Manchuria and Korea. The bridge spanning it separates the Manchurian town of Antung from the North Korean town of Sinuiju. Across that bridge to Sinuiju the Chinese have marched scores of thousands of Red Soldiers to fight against American troops in Korea. And from the Antung Airbase scores of Chinese jet planes have risen to fly across the river and harry our aircraft and make occasional night hit-and-run bombing attacks on our bases in Korea.

We can bomb and strafe one end of the bridge and the town of Sinuiju. But the Chinese on the other end of the bridge can fire up flak at our planes. They can send up their own jets from the Antung field to attack our bombers. And our airmen are forbidden to go over and hit back.

I rode in a jet the day our B-29s first bombed Sinuiju last winter. It was a meticulous raid. Not a bomb fell on Manchurian soil. But great puffs of black flak, fired by Chinese anti-aircraft gunners from Manchurian soil, erupted in the skies. One burst hit an American bomber and crippled it, but it made its way home safely. No attempt was made by the escorting American fighter planes to dive and strafe the enemy ground guns — but the pilots yearned to.

This week the Chinese, emboldened by the belief their base is now safe from retaliation, used the Antung field in daylight. Eighty enemy MIG 15 jets came up to challenge 115 American jets escorting 32 B29s bombing the Antung-Sinuiju bridge. But again the American planes had to break off pursuit at the Yalu river bridge line.

Burglars Loot Lefors Store

Although burglars late Friday night failed to open the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., safe at Lefors, they looted the hardware department of rifles, shotguns, a small quantity of tools and $20 in cash.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported Saturday afternoon the burglars, identically amateurs, battered the safe's mechanism, but failed to open it after knocking the knob and handle out, tearing bolts, nuts and combination rings to pieces with a heavy iron tool.

However, they took three new .22 automatic target rifles, one used .22 pump rifle, two 20-gauge pump action shotguns, one 16-gauge automatic shotgun, and one 20-gauge bolt action shotgun; four or five punches, drills and drift pins; $15.30 in silver and $5 in one-dollar bills.

Jordan said the thieves pried open a rear screen and jimmied the window leading into Manager Bill Watson's office. They left through a rear door after unlocking the night latch.

Amendment To Used Car Sales Regulation In Pampa C Of C

Used Car Sales Not Up To Par

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT — (AP) — Used car sales — usually a good indicator of the overall vehicle market — aren't what they should be.

Most used car retailers have large stocks on hand. In the early call for a seller to file pricing charts on these additional categories by April 30.

Under the provisions the retailer may at his option prepare a separate date list chart for the new categories and file that as a supplemental chart. Last date for the new categories is March 31.

spring weeks when sales should be moving upward few dealers are getting ceiling prices for even their best cars.

This means the individual motorist isn't being offered flattering prices for his car, either in a cash transaction or as a trade-in on a new vehicle. It isn't uncommon to hear a motorist moan, "I can't get two-thirds of what I paid for my car a year ago."

What this means to motorcar merchandising in the months immediately ahead cannot be determined at this time. It is too early in the industry's top selling season to say April-through-June car sales, both new and used, are going to be disappointing.

But there has been a marked easing of the scare buying that came with announcement of the armament program. And it is difficult to escape the conclusion that more than a little of the high level buying of this year's first 30 or 31 weeks was borrowed from the normal spring market.

The industry produced more passenger cars in this year's first quarter than in any similar period. It probably will come close to its record output in this year's first six months.

It would be hazardous to say the industry is in any danger of over producing, although that apparently has happened in some other industries.

More than a decade has passed since the auto industry has had to exert any sustained sales effort. Nobody knows how many cars might be sold if the entire merchandising division joined in an all-out sales effort.

Defense Officials Ask Oilmen To Increase Its Inventories

HOUSTON — (AP) — Defense officials have asked the oil industry to boost its inventories rapidly for six months.

Cude oil, residual and distillate storage levels "the petroleum administration for defense considers desirable for the end of September approximately 78,000,000 barrels above current levels."

PAD officials, in meetings across the nation last week, advised the industry they expect demand for petroleum products this year to exceed 1950 by 10 percent.

W. F. Hayes said stocks of all products except residuals were adequate as of March 31.

He warned sharp increases will be needed before the start of the 1951-52 winter season.

Hayes said PAD considers these storage levels desirable:

Cude oil — 230,000,000 barrels "as soon as possible," compared to 225,200,000 March 31 and 242,000,000 a year ago.

Residual and heavy fuel oils — 80,000,000 barrels by the end of September, compared to a current 36,500,000 and 40,400,000 about 42,900,000 last Sept. 30.

Distillates and light fuel oil — 88,000,000 to 100,000,000 by Nov. 30. Current stocks total 42,300,000, compared to 38,200,000 a year ago and 75,000,000 last September.

Operators Set Up New Gains In Field

Panhandle oilmen chalked up new gains in field activity during the past week when they staked 30 new locations and completed 20 wells.

This compares to 20 new locations and 18 completions the previous seven-day period. Of the 20 completions last week, five were oil wells, eight were gas wells and seven, including two wildcats, were dry holes. Midstates plugged its No. 1 Heklok & Reynolds in Briscoe County while Kirk plugged the No. 1 Eichelberger in Donley.

Oil potentials dropped last week to 306 barrels from the 148 barrels reported the week ended April 7. Gas completions, however, rose to 156,645 MCF from the 37,473 MCF tested the preceding week.

Carson reported two new locations; Gray, five; Hutchinson, four; Moore, one; Potter, three, and Sherman, 15.

Operators completed two others in Gray and three in Hutchinson. Hartley had four gas completions; Moore two and Potter two.

Other than the wildcats plugged in Briscoe and Donley Counties there were two in Gray and three in Wheeler.

UP A TREE, or up a ladder, this eight-month-old parakeet feels right at home. The bird is owned by Mrs. H. C. Wilkie and is just one of the 100 birds she now owns, but it is the first she trained to talk. The parakeet, a member of the parrot family, has accomplished such sentences as "Hello pretty baby," and perches on Mrs. Wilkie's shoulder with all the aplomb of an eagle.

Pampa Woman's Bird Hobby Is Now A Paying Proposition

By WANDA CAMPBELL

Twenty years ago Mrs. H. C. Wilkie took two pairs of canaries from a neighbor who was leaving Pampa. She had never owned birds before (her family didn't care for birds) but that was the beginning of a hobby that's turned into a paying proposition, and more than a full-time job.

Her canaries, parakeets and cockatiels go to breeders all over the country, but most of her birds stay in this area. There is enough demand without shipping them to other points, she said.

Mrs. Wilkie has learned about birds from magazines and books — and from her own experience. She belongs to the American Coder Breeders Association and Central States Roller Breeders Association.

These associations bring her national recognition, and the satisfied customers bring her all the local advertisement she needs.

Bird fanciers claim 25 pairs of birds are a full-time job. Mrs. Wilkie has 19 pairs of birds, takes care of her home and still finds time for a little practice on her 78-year-old organ. Music is her only other hobby.

The birds require more attention during the breeding season than any other time, Mrs. Wilkie said. She breeds her birds in the spring (bird authorities advise this) then they go into a molt from July to September. By Christmas the birds are at their loveliest and ready for gifts.

In going through the bird house, she is impressed with the array of color as the birds strut about the enclosures, hang head-down from the top of the cages, or swing gently on swings.

The canaries are divided into two classes — the choppers and rollers, so named for their song. The rollers are registered birds and housed in a separate enclosure. One particularly handsome bird was a pure white roller whose male was white with black tipped wings and a black cap.

talk, sing or whistle because they have tongues like a human and have the ability to talk if just trained.

"Pete," the parakeet Mrs. Wilkie is now training, is about eight months old. She began his training when he was six weeks old by first winning his confidence.

The second step in training a parakeet is to move a small stick about the cage for a short time every day until he is not afraid and will step on the stick. Then gradually touch the bird and lift him from the cage.

These are the methods Mrs. Wilkie employed and now "Pete" climbs an 18' ladder, walks up her arm or perches on her shoulders.

"Pete," the parakeet, commonly known as a love bird, has accomplished the following sentences: "Hello Pete," "Pete's a nice boy," "Hello pretty baby," and "I love you."

The canaries and parakeets eat much the same thing — seed mixture, green stuff (celery, spinach) gravel and cuttlebone but one distinct difference is the way they like their bath. Canaries like a tub bath, but the parakeet likes a grass bath, this is, they roll in wet grass or carpet tops.

Mrs. Wilkie says lots of people come to see her birds. In warm weather some are kept in outdoor flights, and that offers excellent opportunity to really get acquainted with her "fine feathered friends."

"My greatest pleasure has been in seeing other people learn to love birds as I do," Mrs. Wilkie said.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Suggestions have been renewed that the Federal Power Commission collect fees for natural gas licenses.

Chairman Mon C. Wallgren of the commission told a House appropriations subcommittee he thought such fees should be collected to help pay expenses of the commission in natural gas cases.

Rep. Thomas (R-Tex.), a member of the subcommittee, had suggested to Wallgren that perhaps that commission should charge fees.

The record of the subcommittee's session just made public shows that Thomas asked Wallgren, who was testifying in behalf of the commission's appropriation requests for the year starting July 1, if the commission charged fees "for your licensing of natural gas."

Wallgren replied in the negative. They Thomas asked:

"Is there any good reason why you shouldn't collect fees to help defray the expenses of the activities of the commission dealing with the regulation and granting of licenses of natural gas lines?"

"I think we should collect fees," Wallgren answered.

Wallgren added that the commission has sent a report to the Senate committee investigating to determine whether or not there is any possible revenue that could be derived.

In explaining the commission's budget requests, Wallgren said a 10 percent increase of $21,000 was needed for work in gas rate cases. The natural gas act, he explained, requires the FPC to give priority to applications for increased rates over other pending cases.

Consumers currently save over $44,000,000 a year, or ten times the commission's entire budget, as a result of FPC action in gas rate cases, he testified.

The commission also asked an increase of $17,500 for its work convenience and necessity in natural gas cases.

Wallgren told the committee there has been a tremendous ex-

Wallgren Seeking To Collect Fee For Issuing Gas Licenses

By CHARLES HASELET
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Suggestions have been renewed that the Federal Power Commission collect fees for natural gas licenses.

Chairman Mon C. Wallgren of the commission told a House appropriations subcommittee he thought such fees should be collected to help pay expenses of the commission in natural gas cases.

Rep. Thomas (R-Tex.), a member of the subcommittee, had suggested to Wallgren that perhaps that commission should charge fees.

The record of the subcommittee's session just made public shows that Thomas asked Wallgren, who was testifying in behalf of the commission's appropriation requests for the year starting July 1, if the commission charged fees "for your licensing of natural gas."

Wallgren replied in the negative. They Thomas asked:

"Is there any good reason why you shouldn't collect fees to help defray the expenses of the activities of the commission dealing with the regulation and granting of licenses of natural gas lines?"

"I think we should collect fees," Wallgren answered.

Wallgren added that the commission has sent a report to the Senate committee investigating to determine whether or not there is any possible revenue that could be derived.

In explaining the commission's budget requests, Wallgren said a 10 percent increase of $21,000 was needed for work in gas rate cases. The natural gas act, he explained, requires the FPC to give priority to applications for increased rates over other pending cases.

Consumers currently save over $44,000,000 a year, or ten times the commission's entire budget, as a result of FPC action in gas rate cases, he testified.

The commission also asked an increase of $17,500 for its work convenience and necessity in natural gas cases.

Wallgren told the committee there has been a tremendous exposition in the natural gas industry, especially since the end of world war two.

"Today there is an unprecedented demand for this fuel," he said.

Before that demand can be met, he went on, applying companies must get certificates from the commission. Handling this work has put an increased burden on the commission's staff, he said.

In the year ended last June 30, Wallgren said, the commission disposed of 121 applications representing 9,300 miles of pipeline involving estimated costs of $750,000,000, but the number of pending applications have continued to pile up.

In reply to questions by other committee members, Wallgren said he did not see "how we are going to prevent the price of gas from going up."

The U. S. Geological Survey in a report to a Senate committee studying fuels problems said if the future can be judged by the past, oil and gas will be found in "sufficient quantities" in this country for many years to come.

But, it added, no "precise statement as to the amount of potential United States can yet be made."

The agency was asked by the committee to submit a report of its views.

"In the United States, adequate production has been a direct function of economic incentive," the report stated.

"Until the unpredictable date at which the incentive fails to provide the needed supplies, there will be no convincing evidence that we have reached the limits of our ability to expand the potential ultimate recoverable reserves of petroleum."

Local Building Permits Given

Strong Man Performs Torture Act With 'Pendulum Of Death'

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The pendulum of death is a phenomenon strong teeth for which five men performed. But the public never saw it; no sooner had he developed it than the various members married and the act folded.

Early in 1950 the "Pendulum of Death" was born. This time it was a young German girl who was doggedly determined to become a circus performer.

Shy, blond Ilsa Kriechen, 16, now rides the bicycle inside the sphere that hangs from Kubik's hand and stretches over three and one-half inches. The pull is felt most, naturally, on the neck. "After the weight is released, I am unable to even nod my head for at least a minute. Everything, of course, depends on the girl."

Morituri explained further: "I cannot see the weight below me from my position. So, He shrugged. The shrug was to indicate that the jolt of a fall while the globe was spinning would snap Kubik's neck, killing him instantly.

For the past few weeks Ilsa has been practicing something new. "The bicycle is light," Kubik explained. "Very soon now, Ilsa will enter the globe and ride a motorcycle."

"Is the Great Morituri ever afraid?" He was asked. "No, Agnain the shrug, and with a smile that showed strong white teeth, he answered: "A strong man is never afraid."

In 1949 he went back to his

Lawns—But It's Really Hay Grass Green On Flower Show

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—Few low gardeners, we've been had. I've just been studying lawns at the International Flower Show. You might call it a survey at the grassroots level.

And I've discovered a positive scandal. This is much worse than the basketball fix, because it turns out that Mother Nature is mixed up in some pretty shady goings-on, horticulturally speaking.

It was Erhard Heinrichs, the manager of the 35th Flower Show, who put me wise. As an old crabgrass cultivator, I was admiring the lush green lawns that peeked out between the petunias, pansies and portulaca.

"How do they get the grass so green?" I asked, innocently.

"That," said Heinrichs, "isn't grass. It's hay."

And then the whole sordid story came out. It seems the exhibitors are using ringers for grass. Real grass isn't grassy enough. Youthful hay looks grassier.

A couple of weeks before the show, they plant hay seed by the flat-till. It's mostly timothy, with a little rye thrown in. Just before the show opens, the flats of pseudo-grass are brought in and planted. And all the customers come away with the idea that they've seen some really high-grade lawns.

Actually, all they've seen is the makings of a medium-to-fair pasture. It's Mother Nature, in her infinite wisdom, who perpetrated the hoax and made young hay-look greener than grass.

Heinrichs has charge of turning the gigantic Grand Central Palace into a blooming garden in less than a week. He converts three acres of cold cement into a flowery wonderland in the time it takes an amateur gardener to weed his zinnias.

His is a year-around job, from June to June. (Scandinavian-born Heinrichs calls it "Yune to Yune.") He'll start planning next year's blossom extravaganza as soon as this year's closes.

Each exhibitor decides what he wants to show in the fall, then spends the winter forcing the plants in a greenhouse. Most of the stuff is grown in pots, and the whole thing, pot and all, replanted in the Flower Show setting.

Forcing, says Heinrichs, is a fine art. Start too soon and the flowers have finished flowering by Flower Show time. Too late and all you've got is a plant-full of bouncing baby buds, which won't win any prizes. It's done on a time schedule that rivals an airline.

About a week before the show opens, Heinrichs and a crew of 95 men move in. First they build wooden six-inch curbs to set off the garden areas. Then these are waterproofed with roofing material. Each exhibitor then takes over, planting within the curbs.

The final step is bringing in the alleged grass. The lawns look phony. Every last blade is a fraud. From now on, I'll stick green and decent, but they're to honest, upstanding weeds.

Food can be kept fresh without refrigeration for as long as four years. Meat, vegetables, milk and butter are bombarded with streams of electrons, fired in bursts lasting a millionth of a second—and moving at approximately the speed of light. This results in destruction of all harmful micro-organisms.
