Commission Okays Electric Rate Increase

City commissioners today passed a 10 percent electric rate increase. It was the third and final reading for the ordinance which will go into effect after the next electric billing. The commission tabled selection of a city health inspector and will not take action until next week. Three candidates for the position will be presented to the county commissioners court next Tuesday. Candidates are: Q. B. Beavers, W. A. Noland, and L. E. West.

Indications were that final selection of a health inspector will be up to the county commissioners court. About 16 Pampa citizens were present this morning to request commissioners to review the Texas Gas and Power company's books to determine if the company is entitled to its request for a 10 percent increase. Discussion brought out that the citizens group wanted to know the amount of capital investment, amount of total sales to Pampa consumers, Cabot Carbon Co., and consumers in the City of Panhandle, along with the cost of maintenance and cost of sales.

J. W. Garman, general manager of the Texas Gas and Power Co., told the group that the company's records are open to inspection now and at any time. He said all figures requested are available.

Word was received Monday by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Melear, 909 Campbell, that their son, George, who was injured April 15 in Korea, is aboard a hospital ship and "feeling fine."

The 24-year-old Pampian, called back to active service last October, was serving with the 7th Regiment at the time of the injury. In sending word to his parents that he was all right, he explained that his wound was in the right hip, but he was able to stand.

For those who may wish to write Melear's address is as follows: Pfc. George W. Melear, E. R. 38574604, Co. E, 2nd Bn. 7th Cal., APO 201, San Francisco, Calif.

Wrecked Tanker Due To Arrive. GALVESTON — (P) — The Gulf tanker Easo Greenbro was due to arrive here sometime today, carrying the body of 13 crewmen killed in a firework collision last Friday.

A formal coast guard inquiry into the collision of the Easo Greenbro and the Easo Suez opened today in Mobile, Ala. Possibly 39 persons died when the two stranded oil tankers collided in dense fog about 200 miles south of Morgan City, La. Only five of the 42 men aboard the Greenbro were rescued.

Thirteen bodies were recovered, two others were spotted from the air, and 22 others are missing and presumed dead. Two crewmen were killed on the Easo Suez. The Suez was guided to a ship repair yard in Mobile Saturday night. The Greenbro was being towed to the port of Galveston.

COMMUNISTS BEGIN SPRING OFFENSIVE — An estimated 700,000-man Communist army slammed into the United Nations line along 85-mile front. Chinese aimed their main blow at center of allied line southwest of Kumsong (1), anchor base of the Red build-up area. Three enemy columns are across Imjin River near Musan (2) and threatened to race straight to Seoul. Below Chonwon (3) allied troops rolled with Chinese punch. (NEA Telephoto)

Texas' Judge Charles G. Dawes Dies Unexpectedly

CHICAGO (P) — Gen. Charles G. Dawes (Hell 'n Maria) Dawes, banker and statesman who won fame in many fields during his cyncronic career, died suddenly last night.

The 85-year-old former vice president, who served under President Coolidge from 1925-29, died of coronary thrombosis in his suburban Evanston home. He was stricken while talking to his wife, Caro.

Dawes, who was in public life for more than 30 years and often was the center of fierce controversies and momentous events, had not been ill, a family spokesman said. However, he said, Dawes, who was chairman of the board of the City National Bank and Trust Co., did not go to his office yesterday.

Dawes had been named as honorary chairman of the committee to greet Gen. MacArthur on his Chicago visit Thursday and presumably planned to attend the celebration.

Success came to Dawes in banking and utilities. And he was prominent in public life as vice president, as ambassador to Great Britain, as co-director of the government's $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corp. He also won fame as an author and composer.

In the last decade Dawes kept pretty much out of the public spotlight. He usually went to his office in La Salle street daily. He adhered to a policy of no interviews and declined to give his views on events, past or present.

But it wasn't always so. After World War I he won the nickname "Hell 'n Maria" from his testimony before a House committee investigating the administration of the War Department.

Parade Of Movie Witnesses Continues Before House Committee Probing Filmland Commies. WASHINGTON — (P) — The parade of movie witnesses continued today before the House American Activities Committee in its quest for evidence of Communist influences in the film industry.

Called to the witness stand (10 a. m.) were actor Marc Law, screen writer and novelist Abraham Polonsky and agent George Willner. Polonsky had been named by two previous witnesses as a Communist Party member.

Also on tap were actors Morris Carnovsky and Lionel Stander. Actor John Garfield told the committee yesterday he was not a Communist himself and, furthermore, didn't even know any personally. Committee members, in a

Retailers Get Extension On Ceiling Charts

WASHINGTON — (P) — The government today granted 276,000 retail stores another 30-day extension — until May 30 — to put their new, margin-type price control ceilings in effect.

In ordering the delay, Price Director Michael V. Disalle pointed out that until a retailer files his pricing charts, his ceiling prices still will be regulated under the general price freeze. This set price levels at the highest figure for which goods were sold during the base period last Dec. 19-Jan. 25.

After the new deadline of May 30, no retailer may lawfully sell any item covered by the margin-type price control order unless he has filed his pricing chart with an Office of Price Stabilization district office.

Communists Bend Back Right Flank

TOKYO — (P) — One-half million battle-tested Reds smashed a hole in the center of the United Nations line today in their third invasion of South Korea. Communist troops steamed through the gap and bent back the right flank of the allied line.

They were striking savagely with the aim of breaking up the international Eighth Army into piecemeal units. South Korean units manning the center of the 100-mile line crumbled before the fury of the Red spring offensive. Their retreat exposed other allied divisions.

Frontline officers considered the situation serious. But headquarters commanders were confident the rejuvenated allied forces could stem the offensive.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the grenadepacking paratrooper who shored up the morale of allied forces before he succeeded General MacArthur as supreme commander, visited the front.

Ridgway said the great battle "well may prove decisive." He called it the greatest Red offensive yet launched, but warned that the allies probably have not yet met its full strength.

On the eastern flank Red Koreans overran Inje. They struck with surprising strength. Defense of the town, four miles north of the border, collapsed.

South Koreans gave way before a similar Chinese assault in the center. The Korean retreat exposed the flanks of other UN units.

Reds rammed through, deepening their wedge south of the 38th Parallel. Censorship withheld the precise distance. Earlier in the day the Chinese had pushed four miles into South Korea. And they were still pressing forward over the dusty hills on foot and by horseback.

Ridgway declared: "It appears to me at this time that this attack is another major effort by our Communist enemy to drive United Nations forces from Korea, or to destroy them, regardless of the further destruction of his own troops."

An Eighth Army spokesman said Red casualties were 10 times those of UN troops in the eastern front, an officer said. Red losses there were 20 times those of the allies.

Field commanders described the situation on the central front as critical. Br. Ridgway said, "I have complete confidence." Korean officials were not so confident. Great columns of refugees clogged the highways south of the central and western front.

Arms of the pincer were formed by Chinese pushing down the mountainous center of the peninsula, and reinforced Reds boring across the Imjin River in the west.

Elements of two attacking Chinese divisions forced UN troops to withdraw near Korangpo at the western end of the front. Korangpo is south of the 38th Parallel and 30 miles north of Seoul, South Korean capital.

UN troops had the eastern end of the reservoir. Correspondent John Randolph reported they "were still fighting savagely at dusk" Tuesday.

Women On Juries Bill Is Before House

AUSTIN — (P) — Permission for women to serve on juries was on the list of proposed constitutional amendments in the House today.

Voters turned the idea down in statewide balloting in 1949. Senators on the State Affairs Committee worked into the night on two tax measures—one levying one cent on each thousand cubic feet of natural gas and another confining the ten percent increase levied last year on items in the omnibus tax program.

Both measures were sent to a subcommittee with instructions to study the bills further and report its recommendations back by May 2.

The house had at least a dozen proposed constitutional amendments on today's calendar. At the top was the one by Rep. George Hinson of Minnola limiting any one county to eight representatives. Harris County (Houston) is the only county with eight under the new redistricting plan passed by a Legislature this session.

Congressional redistricting held the House in debate all yesterday afternoon.

Difficulty Never Greater: Publishers Cite Rising Costs As Newspapers' Big Problem

NEW YORK — (P) — Rising costs are a major problem for the nation's newspapers, the president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. said today.

"The difficulty of publishing a newspaper has never been greater — we are confronted constantly with the puzzle of how to make our income equal our expense," said Edwin S. Friendly, vice president of the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Friendly's remarks were in a speech prepared for executives of newspapers in the 10,000 circulation group who are here for the ANPA's 65th annual convention.

Executives of newspapers with circulations under 10,000 met in separate session. Inflation poses special problems for newspapers, Friendly said, explaining: "Newspapers differ from commodities in that the price for commodities can be raised to meet every increased cost."

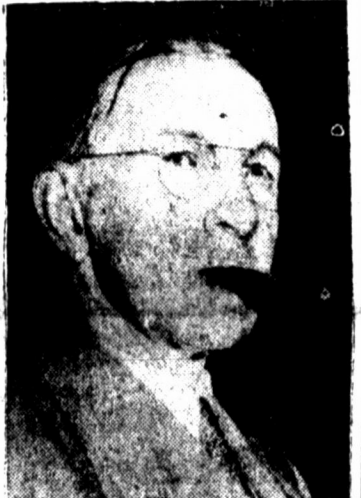

"Newspapers have always regarded themselves in the light of a public service, a public trust, and the price for the newspaper must always be such as to make it available to every man and woman."

"On the other hand, there is no 'privilege' when newspapers have to meet their costs. Newspaper wages are among the highest paid today in any business or industry. The materials entering into the production of the newspaper are becoming increasingly costly, and in some cases beyond control."

British Parties Make Deal To Keep Laborites In Power. LONDON — (P) — Prime Minister Attlee's forces and rebel House laborite left wingers made a deal today aimed at keeping the labor government in power as long as possible and preventing a general election at this time.

The deal, with both sides making concessions, came after a third government leader, John Freeman, parliamentary secretary to the minister of supply, resigned in protest over the government's arms budget. He quit for broadly the same reasons as Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan and Board of Trade President Harold Wilson. It was as "Hell 'n Maria" that America remembers Dawes best. Dawes was a brigadier general with the A.E.F. in France in World War I and was assigned as general purchasing officer.

Appearing before the House Investigating Committee, he was asked: "Isn't it true that excessive prices were paid for mules?"

"Hell 'n Maria!" shouted the general. "I had paid horse prices for sheep if the sheep could have handled artillery."

ADMITTS ROBBERY. DALLAS — (P) — Billie Gene Sweetman, 28, of Plainview, pleaded guilty yesterday to the robbery of a South Dallas service station and received a ten-year prison sentence. Police arrested Sweetman shortly after the holdup, in which about $70 was taken.

Churchill Keeps Trip Scheduled. LONDON — (P) — Winston Churchill's office said today it knew of no decision by the war-time prime minister to cancel his scheduled visit to the United States next month because of the British political situation.

The Daily Telegraph reported this morning Churchill might not make the trip to seek May 8 in Philadelphia at the 20th anniversary celebration of the University of Pennsylvania Library.

"If there is any firm decision, it will be announced immediately," said Churchill's secretary. A spokesman at the conservative party's central office said a barrier: a sudden general election, he saw no reason why Churchill should not make the trip.

German City Refuses Aid. BAMBERG, Germany — (P) — A U.S. demand that the Bamberg city council release plans of its main river bridges to American army engineers for reconstruction was turned down last night by the council.

The council decided that the Bavarian state government must first make a formal demand for the plans, a spokesman said. That even then the council will give the plans to state authorities—not to the Americans.

Some bridges along the main river have been marked for demolition in case of war. Several West German cities, situated like Bamberg on the river, have complied with requests for plans of their bridges. A similar demand was sent to Bamberg city officials on Saturday, signed by U.S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy and U.S. State Commissioner George N. Shuster.

Allied Battalion Escapes Red Trap; Loses But Two Vehicles

WESTERN FRONT (P) — An allied battalion yesterday broke out of a Chinese trap and reached the main UN lines. It lost only two vehicles.

"They were surrounded for 20 hours but they held their positions north of the Imjin River and beat off all attacks," said Bob Lasher of Eye, N. Y., Voice of America radio correspondent. He joined the Battalion by medical helicopter during the siege.

"Tanks broke through the Chinese from the south to the town of the Imjin while jet planes strafed rocketed and napalmed distributed the Chinese on the south bank of the river."

"At 6 p. m. the cutoff units attached to the east, facing the waist-deep river and racing 100 yards and more over a narrow path, were unable to cross. There was practically no loss on the breakthrough," Lasher said. "It was all over in 45 minutes with the Chinese pitching mortar shells into the area in an unsuccessful attempt to stop them." Lasher waded out with the battalion. About two miles south another battalion supported by tanks stormed three hills trying to reach the river and give the trapped unit a fire cover for their escape.

But the attack ran into a hornet's nest of Chinese who already had crossed the river. After three hours of trying to take the heights above the river the "boys" withdrew under cover of darkness with Chinese bugle calls echoing on its flanks.

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA—Texans figured prominently in recent photograph operations around an enemy held dam.

"Aerial photos show such things as enemy gun locations, enemy vehicles, terrain features, emplacements and fortifications and occasionally we even managed to get a picture of enemy troops marching down roads," said Sgt. Walter R. White of Fort Worth.

"Besides aerial pictures, combat photographers on the ground take movies and still pictures of battles daily, for the Army's records and information," said

One of the photo helpers is Unyong Bak, 20, a Korean, who hopes to go to Wayland College, Plainview, when the war ends. Bak is in correspondence with Bill Marshall, president of the college, who is helping to make the arrangements.

Community Concert Members Open Campaign Here Today

Headquarters for Community Concert membership workers is in operation today at the Southwestern Public Service Co. The eighth annual drive opened this morning.

Mrs. Carl J. Wright, secretary of the Pampa association and Jack Howells, field representative of Community Concert, are in charge of receiving new members and renewals turned in by the workers. The campaign closes at noon Saturday.

A dinner at Parish Hall for the membership campaign workers last night opened the drive. Howells spoke to the group and showed a sound film of various artists, who may be available for the Pampa Concerts.

Howells said that many of the cities which have the Community Concerts have called them the greatest movement in musical history for both education and entertainment of the people. The importance of music in every day life shows the "why" of the Community Concert, he said.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, president of the local association, introduced the officers of the group in operation today at the Southwestern Public Service Co. The eighth annual drive opened this morning.

Captains of the membership campaign are R. Virgil Mott, Mrs. Paul Schneider, Dr. Malcolm Wyatt, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Jack Howells, field representative of Community Concert, Mrs. Mel Davis, Mrs. C. E. High, Jack Nunn, Mrs. W. L. Campbell and Dr. Nelson. John S. Skelly, Jr., vice-president of the organization is general chairman of the captains.

Mrs. Wright reported the number of memberships which have been turned in to her since the advance drive opened, which is below the number reported last year at the dinner. Goal for this season's concert memberships is 1200.

"This is a real war now," a division officer said. "We are dealing with an enemy that has large numbers, lots of artillery for the first time and the obvious intention of wiping us out."

"We know that. And we are waiting for him. He has taken some terrible losses already. And he is going to take some more."

Red losses Monday were estimated at nearly 12,000. About one fourth of them were from round-the-clock air attacks.

But that's not much out of an estimated 400,000 troops already committed to the attack. An assault force of that size would leave the Reds some 300,000 in reserve in North Korea.

UN troops had pulled back as much as 15 miles in places. The withdrawal was generally well ordered. But it was so fast that units from company to battalion size were surrounded on the west and central fronts. They fought their way out Tuesday.

Carter Hits Oil And Gas After Drilling Through Granite

A wildcat well near Sayre, Okla., may force landmen to take another look into leases abandoned when drillers encountered granite.

Carter Oil Co. reports 100 feet of oil in the hole and 500 feet of oil-cut mud recovered on drillstem test on its No. 1 State-Taylor.

Unusual is the fact operators drilled through several hundred feet of granite on the test, No. 1 State-Taylor, southeast of Sayre near Carter, Okla.

Operators recovered gas of production quantity in Viola line.

Target for the test now is Wilcox Sands, an oil producing formation. The series which includes this formation is currently being drilled and operators are coming to try to pick up the Wilcox formation.

It is reported drillers used more than 125 drill bits in cutting through the granite. In the past many wells have been abandoned when granite was hit. This test, however, may change some drilling practices for oilmen.

The Panhandle is cut by a range of buried granite mountains which run from the northwest to the southeast. Panhandle oil production is hit north of the range. These mountains within 1700 feet of the surface near Amarillo and breaks the surface around Granite, Okla.

According to mortality records, quarry work is more dangerous than mining in England.

Magazine Claims First Real Account Of Bomb

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK — (AP) — Look Magazine has published what it says is the first eye-witness description of the A-bomb.

This comes from Jim Berryman, Washington Star cartoonist and illustrator, who Look says took an authorized flight in a B-50 carrying an A-bomb in a practice run. Look says the Air Force cleared the story, and Berryman's drawings.

As he saw it the present A-bomb is as big as a living room. Its shape is like the hot water tank in your basement, length about 20 feet, diameter 9 or 10 feet. Nose rounded. Tail slightly tapered, but stubby, and fitted with four wings.

The trigger is set in the tail, and Berryman says it is about the size of an umbrella stand. He says he does not know how this trigger works. The usual official report has been that the trigger feels atmospheric pressure and explodes the bomb at any height set. Berryman says the bomb he saw was set to explode about 40 seconds after being dropped.

The bomb was not actually dropped, Berryman does not say whether it was really live, or only the dummy whose exterior is that of the A-bomb and whose weight and interior balance are the same.

Berryman says the weight is ten thousand pounds. This is much lighter than many of the unofficial estimates that have been published.

But even at 10,000 pounds, the bomb is so big that in loading the plane goes through some of the motions of a hen about to set on an egg. The nose of the plane is lifted by a crane, so that the bomb can be wheeled in beneath the bomb bay.

The airmen call the bomb The Thing, The Panic, The Ostrich Egg and just The Bomb. Berryman says there are hundreds trained for atomic bombing. He quotes an unidentified officer on accuracy of the drops. This official report has been that the trigger feels atmospheric pressure and explodes the bomb at any height set. Berryman says the bomb he saw was set to explode about 40 seconds after being dropped.

More Profit Seen For Stock Dealers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas draft or dairy purposes, and in the case of breeding animals it is the practice of the seller to keep such animals for substantially their useful life as breeders.

Schosheman cautioned the new ruling "does not apply to animals raised just for sale" or to "animals which are used only temporarily as breeders and producers, including ordinary hogs, chickens and turkeys."

The application of capital gains treatment is "generally available" were indicated by Commissioner George J. Schoeneman. "If the animal is used for in (a) business."

The Internal Revenue Bureau ruled today that profit from such sales may some times be returned for capital gains taxes.

The bureau before has insisted that income tax rates apply.

The capital gains tax is 25 percent. The income rates may be much higher, depending upon the size of total income.

Instances where capital gains tax treatment is "generally available" were indicated by Commissioner George J. Schoeneman. "If the animal is used for in (a) business."

1951 Dependable DODGE

Drive It Five Minutes And You'll Drive It For Years

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

TAKE THE WORD of owners who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" . . . "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again" . . . "Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast. Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas. There's a safe, rigid, all-steel body, rubber-mounted to eliminate rattle, squeak.

New Safer, Smoother Ride Dodge Oriflow Shock Absorbers "float" you over roads that stop other cars, cushion vital chassis parts against road shocks . . . make them last years longer. And with this traditional Dodge quality of dependability goes extra headroom, leg room, elbow room found in no other car . . . "Watchtower" visibility in every direction. Longer lasting, smooth-acting Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes make every mile you travel safer, more relaxed.

Come in Today

Take 5 minutes to check Dodge dependability in long life, in extra comfort and safety, low-cost maintenance and gas economy. It will be the most profitable 5 minutes you ever spent.

Long-Lasting Make-Up Hint. By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer. If your beauty has a way of rubbing off midway in a gala evening, it's worth your while to devote more attention to your makeup before you leave home. Every pre-party minute of primping that will cut down on your powder room mileage is time well spent. Your evening make-up is as important as your evening gown. Both should be something special and a bit more elaborate than you usually use.

This doesn't necessarily mean ultra-dramatic eye or lip makeup, if you don't consider yourself the type. It does mean, since you'll want to be looking your prettiest for hours on end, that extra attention is due to the foundation of your beauty. Complexion cleanliness should be your first consideration. Makeup will not adhere for long to skin that's coated with dirt or flimed with oil. A non-message, extra-rich cleanser offered by one cosmetics company should prove an aid in removing imbedded grime from your skin.

The application of non-astringent cooling lotion should be your next step, according to this firm. This freshens your skin and prepares it for the smoothing out of make-up foundation. To the slap-dash school of making-up, these preparations may seem a rather lengthy prelude to the usual powder-puff routine. If they result in special loveliness for a special evening, however, they're well worth the extra effort.

Miss Virginia Alexander, using illustrative color plates of her own design, explained the fundamentals of peasant art and how it may be used to add color and life to modern home furnishings. Others present were Mmes. Hope Rusk, H. T. Peacock, Fred Mullings, J. W. McCulloch, and Bert Isbell; and Misses Gertrude Golladay, Claudia Everly, Helen Walker, and Mildred Cole.

Moore, Mrs. Alma Walker, Mrs. W. T. Broxson and Mrs. Prince.

Pot Roast Can Be Lordly Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Staff Writer. For the weekly big family dinner, pot roast is a safe choice. All meat, no bone and practically no waste, it is a reasonably economical dish even at today's prices.

For something very special, try this pot roast recipe with a Spanish accent. Pot Roast Southern California (6 servings, or two meals for 4 persons) Three to 4 pound beef pot roast, boned and rolled, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 large onion, finely diced, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon chili powder, 1-2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 table spoons flour, 1-4 cup cold water, 1-4 cup sliced stuffed olives.

Wipe beef with damp cloth. Brush all over with kitchen bouquet. Melt fat in Dutch oven over moderate heat. Brown pot roast on all sides. Add onion and sprinkle with the seasonings. Add the tomatoes.

Cover and let cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 3 hours, turning meat when half done. When meat is fully done, remove it to warm serving platter.

Four most of fat from liquid in pan. Blend together and add the flour and water to pan liquid, stirring constantly until gravy thickens and boils. Add olives. Correct seasoning if necessary. Serve slices of pot roast with gravy poured over the top. To complement the excellent pot roast, include this very special salad. Carrot and Mushroom Salad ber, Mrs. Vera Lisler. Ice cream and cake were served. The meeting closed with prayer led by Mrs. Graham Reeves.

Gls Prefer Trade Schools

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Veterans Administration has said that two-thirds of the World War II veterans who have gone to below-college-level schools under the GI bill enrolled in trade schools.

The agency estimated the number of trained in schools below the college level between June 22, 1944, and the end of 1950, at 3,364,000.

Of these, it said, 2,050,000 took trade and vocational training in fields ranging from automotive mechanics to watchmaking.

Other below-college veteran students included 339,000 in elementary and high schools, 338,000 who trained in business schools, and 637,000 who studied correspondence courses at home.

Ho Hum: Great Epidemic Is Sweeping America

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — A great epidemic is sweeping America today. Millions are in its grip. Have you got it?

The symptoms: a dreamy lassitude, a growing feeling of languor, an indifference to labor, a yearning to be elsewhere.

Diagnosis: spring fever.

Cure: there is none. The delirium must run its course.

Who ever wanted to be cured of spring fever anyway? If it is a delightful disease, the most delightful affliction ever invented by nature for the improvement of man.

What is spring fever anyway? The doctors can't define it. A surgeon can't cut it out of you. And even a psychiatrist can't talk you out of it.

It's a universal infection. Birds feel it, bees know it, trees enjoy it. And people just wouldn't be the same without it. It usually strikes midway between the rheumatism season and the sunburn time.

Spring fever? It's just a molting of the mind. A molting of the icicles of the spirit. A budding of the soul. An alarm clock in the blood, saying, "wake up, kid. There's a wonderful world around you — and you're alive in it."

It's a bone-deep drunkenness with the pure sweet wonder of being. If you don't feel it in your bones, you don't have real spring fever. You're just lazy. And the nice thing about the intoxication of spring fever is it never leaves a hangover. It never jades; it always exalts.

The only people who worry about spring fever — whom did it ever kill? — are mothers and bosses. The bosses fret about it because the tired help just can't settle down to work until the affliction wears off.

In the old days mothers used to rush their children to the doctor and dose them with medical mixtures like sulphur and molasses. But mothers and doctors never did understand spring fever. The children aren't "run-down." They're just winding up for summer. Did a mother but-terfly ever rush her caterpillar, so to a physician, just because he shed his skin? Well, that's all spring fever means in children. They're just resting a moment before they start growing up again.

That's what spring fever means in adults, too. It's a pause for renewal, an interval for mental housecleaning, when the mind has a chance to throw out all the trash of the past and open the parlors of the mind to fresh winds and new adventures.

Mental housecleaning is just as hard work as physical housecleaning. That's why you have a feeling of sluggishness. While your muscles are resting the spring fever is busy burning out all the wintry nonsense in your brain. Naturally you feel like resting.

Spring fever is so normal that Congress has never bothered to recognize it, and no President has ever endorsed it. No lady film star ever has posed for an ad saying, "I like a man with spring fever."

But if mankind had the common sense of the old druids it would declare an "International Spring Fever Week." And everyone would spend it lying on the south slope of a sunny hillside watching an apple tree explode in slow bloom, and experiencing the old awe and gratitude that some kind power gave us foolish hunks of protoplasm such a wonderful world to be in and explore.

Auto Output Still Good

DETROIT — (AP) — An estimate of 6,500,000 motor vehicle assemblies this year still looks good.

Many industry sources agree about 3,900,000 cars and trucks will be built in the first half of the year. They agree also a sharp cutback in output will come in the latter months of this year.

The curtailment, these sources say, will result from further slashes in the materials available for civilian output. The controlled materials plan, most industry experts say, will cut civilian production volume.

While this year's January-June output may run somewhat higher than it did in the same period of 1950 much of the increase will come in truck production.

Trucks are rolling from the assembly lines in greater volume than ever before. The answer to this probably is that truck assemblies now include some military units and, more importantly, that truck output isn't affected by present controls.

Military truck output is described presently as "up and down." It should move into higher levels during the latter half of the year. Any appraisal of the industry's production prospects has to take this fact into consideration.

Truck production this year undoubtedly will top the record of 1948 when 1,375,155 units were assembled. Some guesses put the year's truck total at approximately 1,500,000 vehicles. That figure, of course, is included in the estimate of an overall output this year of 6,500,000 vehicles.

The important thing about that volume of production this year is that it would head off any heavy worker layoffs pending full scale arms production. Some of the larger armament jobs will get under way during the latter months of this year, but then ever before. The answer to few of them are due to reach top output levels before some time in 1952.

Texas Store Sales Rise Over March

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas department store sales rose 28 percent in March compared with the previous month. The volume was also 13 percent above that of March a year ago, the University of Texas Business Research Bureau reported today.

Sales for the first quarter of 1951 were 14 percent above those of the similar 1950 period.

February-to-March gains ranged as high as 80 percent in Greenville, 77 in Denison and 72 in Paris, with all reporting cities showing monthly increases. The average was 38 percent.

Lubbock with 26 percent, had the largest three-month gain over 1950. Amarillo, Big Spring, Dallas, Odessa, Plainview and Temple reported 19-percent gains. Only two cities, Denison and McAllen had declines, both of only 1 percent.

The March ratio of credit sales to net sales receded to 65 percent, about two percentage points below January and February, and one point below March, 1950.

More Pough Help Phony

Some evening when you're fed up with the nagging and mental wheezing pouring into your house out of the sadly bedeviled ozone it might be mentally stimulating to juggle the question: Was there ever a time — including the days of free baths and circuses in Rome — when there was as much palaver about law as there is today?

Since you're one of the individuals being smothered under the avalanche of what is called "government help or paternalistic government," it might be amusing and even thought-provoking to kick this question around for an hour or two and see what you come up with. You'll probably find that the "all-time" government palaver changes are throwing their weight around today in our own national capital.

Just as a starter along this line of mental exercise: There was Queen Marie, with her lackeys in stuffed shirts and ruffles, who helped the men and women of France avoid paying too fat by keeping them taxed to the point of starvation. Our administration heroes are doing the same thing, but they say their reason is to help us avoid the evils of inflation — the inflation which they're hurrying their boilers to blow up bigger and bigger while they hand out their anti-inflation gumdrops to pacify us as we wait for the explosion.

Then there was Herr Hitler. He regimented the Germans under all-out government control to help them get what he called "Lebensraum," meaning room to live. Millions of them died as a result. Those who didn't are not exactly coveting joyously in the wide-open spaces he promised them.

Over in England, vain, glory-craving Victoria marshaled Britons into military uniforms and sent them hitchhiking to the far corners of the earth with the promise of "dominion over pain and pine" and make every Englishman monarch of all he surveyed. Today the Englishman is a serf of government run by Socialists, as for our own government, it's a dead chinch that "helpful Hatties" are popping up with the gusto and uselessness of toadstools, all promising — to help us. They're going to ram their so-called help down our throats if it kills us, which it is doing. Some of these government "help pests, altho only a few, are honest in their intentions but too dumb to see that their intentions are just so many more paving blocks for the devil's thoroughfare.

There's a proposal of this honest intentions variety edging into Congress right now which shows the absurdity we're talking about. The proposal by Rep. Coudert of New York, provides for "aiding" by law certain groups of individuals who can't qualify for organized pension plans such as are available to employees of some corporations and to government payrollers. Among those who would be affected are writers, doctors, lawyers, actors, etc. Some of these have "boom" years followed by "flop" years. The income tax law takes advantage of the boom years by enabling government to confiscate up to 91 percent of their earnings, making no allowances for those years in which their earnings may be nil, the years when, because of age or failure to keep up with changing trends in their field, they have to sit and twiddle their thumbs and probably go hungry because the U. S. Treasury gobbled up the incomes of their lush days.

Rep. Coudert would have government permit these people to lay aside something for those dreary days. The trouble is this business would smack of discrimination. As a matter of fact, it isn't class or group legislation that's needed, but legislation that laws that make it advisable to pass more laws to protect this or that class or group from existing laws. (Which may sound a bit involved, but really isn't. At least, it's not as involved as Rep. Coudert's proposal — an income tax which penalizes individuals in proportion to their ability to produce.)

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES Editor Denver Post Thinks Public Schools Not Socialism

The Denver Post of April 1 ran a column and a half written by Lawrence Martin, associate editor, eulogizing Roy J. Wasson, superintendent of schools in Colorado Springs and condemning me for pointing out the socialism and immorality of tax supported schools.

The article lists a number of things that superintendent Wasson has been associated with and attempts to prove by the method of association that the superintendent can't be socialist. That is the same kind of propaganda that was used to try to show that Alger Hiss was not a Socialist or Communist. One can prove almost anything by association.

That is the kind of propaganda that can be expected from unprincipled publishers like Palmer Hoyt of the Denver Post, who will not even attempt to answer certain questions as he would have to before a court about courses of human relations he advocates. He seems to think he is infallible, while he is only a sham who wants "to be seen and heard of men."

But Superintendent of Schools Roy J. Wasson will not for $500 attempt to answer questions as he would have to before a court that tax supported schools were in agreement with the moral principles of the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence. No thief at heart will rationally answer certain questions. "Men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil."

Mr. Wasson is no more of a Socialist than are other superintendents of public schools. All of them believe, as do all Socialists, that they need not render good enough service so as to get what they want on a voluntary basis. They believe, as do all Socialists, that it is morally right to have compulsion used to get what they want. "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." "Ye shall know them by their fruits."

If one would rationally determine whether or not public schools are socialist, one would have to define Socialism. As Voltaire said: "If you would discourse with me, define your terms." Now let's see whether public schools are socialist and materialistic when we properly define Socialism. And we presume that Socialism and Communism have the same objectives, with only a little different means of bringing them about.

Webster defines Socialism as follows: A political or economic theory of social organization based on collectivism or governmental ownership and democratic management of the essential means for the production and distribution of goods; also, a policy or practice based on this theory. Socialism aims to replace competition by cooperation and profit seeking by social service and to distribute income and social opportunity more equally than they are now believed to be distributed. These aims have given rise to many distinct schools. Synonyms are: collectivist, nationalist, nihilist, Socialist, Communist, Bolshevist."

Would any defender of tax supported schools contend for minutes that the state or a subdivision of the state does not own the buildings, the books, supplies, the money necessary to pay the teachers and up keep? Would anyone contend that public schools are not under "democratic management"? That the management does not prescribe what textbooks can be used? Does anyone contend that it does not tend to eliminate the competition of private teachers? Does anyone contend that anybody could sell electricity if the state was giving it without direct charge?

MacArthur Had To Go

Washington... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The position of India today is sometimes likened to that of China in 1945. It can be saved from communism if the right things are done. It can be lost to communism if the wrong things are done.

It is in this latter category that the United States now has a chance to commit a major blunder in its handling of famine relief. What started out to be a simple act of charity has now become involved in the larger debate on the whole question of Truman administration policy towards Communism.

Though Gen. Douglas MacArthur's firing as U. S. commander in the Far East had nothing directly to do with India, the famine relief problem has become a part of the debate which the MacArthur firing started. U. S. politics therefore has a hand in it from here on. The common belief is that the India famine relief bill, introduced by Rep. Thomas Morgan of Pennsylvania, has been blocked by the House Rules committee. Actually, at this writing, the House Rules committee has never had a meeting on the bill.

The story behind that is that the House Foreign Affairs committee had approved the bill, the Democrats on the rules committee conducted an informal poll of their members. It was found that not enough Democratic votes could be mustered to clear the bill for House action. So Chairman Adolph Sabath simply refrained from calling a rules committee to discuss the measure.

CONGRESSMEN ATTACK IT human activity. Then he asks: "How did government education stand up when squared with new definition of the "isms"? There was force involved, all right—compulsory attendance, compulsory curricula in many respects, and in all respects compulsory payment therefor. Even so, was this anything to worry about, since no institution has ever had more respectable and conservative support than public education?—But he (an American analyzing himself to see if he or the state is a socialist)—could not escape a deep conviction by reason of his new definition: that regardless of the prestige of its forebears, and irrespective of the talents and high reputation of subsequent supporters, public education is still a denial of freedom of choice in vast areas. He could not logically deny that it is the communalization of the product of all by force. He even recalled how, as a freshman in college, he had learned that public education was one of the primary objectives which Karl Marx set forth in his "Communist Manifesto."

Objections which congressmen raise against the Indian famine relief bill are many and varied. Some of the objections have little or nothing to do with India directly. It is the entire Truman foreign policy that Republicans and some Democrats are attacking.

One argument against Indian famine relief which has not come out in the open, but which congressmen talk about privately, is that this is only a starter for a much larger global relief program. If the Indian relief bill is approved, it is feared that another big relief bill for Arab refugees in Palestine will be presented.

Congressmen ask: "Where is this going to stop? The Marshall plan and military assistance requests for next year have not yet been sent to Congress. If these separate — country relief measures are piled on them, the total will be huge and the chances for economizing small. In addition to which, many congressmen are balking at the terms of the Truman administration's Indian relief bill. What India asked for, last December, was two million tons of grain. Instead of that, the administration sent up a bill asking for $140 million as a grant. This would give India 750 million bushels of grain over the next two years for free. To make this palatable to Congress, the old Marshall plan restrictions were tacked on. These would provide that the grain be sold by the Indian government in its normal trade channels. The rupees received from this sale would be put in a counterpart fund. And this would be used to build irrigation projects, or other developments to increase Indian food production. This is said to be haggling over distress — imposing conditions which would make the Indians resent the aid given.

Aside from these points, political opposition to the Indian famine relief bill seems to have no computations about hard bargaining. Individual congressmen think the aid should be furnished only on a barter deal. This would involve trading food grains for burlap, manganese, or what have they. This in spite of the fact that India last year sent nearly three-fourths of her exports in these materials to the U. S.

The charge that India's government hasn't cooperated with the United States in the United Nations and in Korea is not considered a major objection to the relief bill. But all these fine points are lost on the Indians. All they know is that they're not getting the grain and that this country has surpluses in storage.

Political debate and delay under these circumstances certainly can do the cause of the western world no good in Asia.

Wise Men Leave Home For Spring Housecleaning Time

By HENRY McLEMORE I quote the Encyclopedia Britannica, Page 264. Under "spring" it gives you this information. "The season of the year in which plant life begins to bud and shoot; to a source of water springing or welling up from below the surface of the earth (see Water Supply); or to an elastic or resilient body or contrivance for receiving and imparting mechanical power."

Spring belongs to the players, and while I am at it I'll ask the pardon of Mickey Mantle, the kid in right field for the Yanks. I wrote a column saying he should be in the Army, and not sliding home for the Yanks. In writing that column, I placed myself on a draft board. And I am not a member of a draft board. If Mickey's board excused him, who am I to yell? Let me get more honest than that. I placed a small bet on the Yanks to ship the Red Sox in the first game of the American League. And who do you think I was yelling for to get a hit? The same Mantle I didn't give two square a shake. Spring belongs to wives. The smartest thing a man can do, if he is a husband, is to get away from home once spring arrives. Wives make little or no sense in the spring. All they want to do is to make M. Bread-winner uncomfortable. I'll use my own wife as an example. Two days ago she said we would have spring-housecleaning. I told her we hadn't been in the apartment long enough to get anything messed up—that as far as I could see that apartment was a model of cleanliness. She said her mother always cleaned house in the spring, and that my mother always had, too, and she was not going to let down the American tradition. At the risk of my life I asked her if she called a covered wagon, not a taxi, when she wanted to go downtown, and if she kept a flintlock rifle over her bed, as the old-time gals did. She didn't answer me. She pulled down all the curtains, sprayed the house with a

STUDY IN HORMONES

By DAVID BAXTER

I see in the paper where an ex-man is suing an eastern chemical company for $450,000 because, as a worker in the hormones department, he inhaled and absorbed female sex hormones which changed him into a woman.

Now that isn't comical and anyone who chuckles should remember that the average man figures it's worth a half million dollars to be changed into a woman. Some men wouldn't be a woman for a million. The ex-man's wife is suing for an additional $150,000. After all, it's no fun being married to a former male and having your friends drop in on you with a cheery, "Hello, girls."

In a way I find myself wondering if this case isn't a sort of classical illustration of what's happening to the United States these days. Instead of a red-blooded, he-man nation of strictly independent-minded empire builders, it looks to me as though we are becoming more and more effeminate as we gradually absorb the hormones of collectivism. If this governmental encroachment upon human liberty and the bolshevistic notion of majority rule without individual rights steps up at present rate it won't be long until we've lost our national manhood and some State Department queer's head will be on our pennies instead of Lincoln's. Already a goodly part of the world is neighing after us like a herd of lovesick stallions who have just heard the plaintive wailing of a filly. We're being shot through and through with every kind of intellectual and political street-walking, from World Federalism to Genocide treaties.

While kidding ourselves with the quaint notion that we're fighting communism the world over, the simple fact is that, almost without knowing it, we've been getting more and more communistic ourselves. The principal is the same, the only difference being in degree. A citizen will approve the sentencing of outright traitors like the Greenglasses and Rosenbergs to the electric chair because the activities of such people might bring down the curtain on that same citizen will attend some lecture by a visiting world federalist whose object is to accomplish the same thing through propaganda. A man will angrily react to the news that the British scientist, having come to the United States to work on atomic research and then, as the head of a huge spy ring, transmitting his information to Russia. The same man will glorify Professor Einstein, whom we received and extended hospitality to as a refugee from Hitler, completely forgetting that it was Einstein who, according to the papers, recommended Fuchs, brought him here and made it possible for him to get into a position where he could do his criminal work. The average citizen isn't well enough informed to write to the Committee Investigating Un-American Activities of Congress and get the reports on Einstein's record and the Red Front organizations he has been connected with since coming to America.

Every time we run to the state to do something we could do better, more cheaply and efficiently ourselves through voluntary cooperation, we are "collectivizing," we are making the state more and more powerful, asking it to have more and more authority, and then we wonder why we have less and less liberty, more and more red tape and more and more taxes, while the cost of living jumps to astronomical heights. Obviously we ourselves have become more than a little communistic, the difference between us and the Russians being that we haven't gone AS FAR as they HAVE. We haven't as yet gone QUITE AS FAR as the British socialist government, but we are so close to it that the degree is infinitesimal. Socialism, you now, is only communism with a long fuse.

The average labor union member doesn't realize that the tactics of unionism and political labor bosses lead to communism. Even so, many doctors, who should know better and who claim to be against socialized medicine, resent it when some writer points out the collectivism of the medical union which seeks a special interest monopoly and which has more than once tried to bring union dictatorship over health in the back door by getting the medical union boss in the government as the absolute Mussolini of public health. In one form or another our national body of politics is being loaded with collectivist hormones.

Thoughts

And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answered again, and said unto them, Children, how hard it is for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! — Mark 10:24

There is a burden of care in getting richer, fear in keeping them, guilt in abusing them, sorrow in losing them, and a burden of account at last to be given concerning them.—Matthew Henry

Howbeit thou art just in all that is brought upon us; for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly.—Nehemiah 9:33

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — Two powerful voting groups, which have supported the Democrats in national elections for almost 20 years, have formed a scratch — my — back alliance that constitutes a serious threat to the Truman Administration and the party's presidential ticket next year. The two elements are labor and farm organizations.

The reasons for their new association are economic, and are born of the rearmament program. The farmers need support in their movement to resist any tampering with the National Defense Act that will hurt their interests. Specifically, they want no amendment of the provision which insures them parity payments on both these economic factors.

REIN — Labor, on its part, opposes any legislation which will block increases based on upward trends in the cost of living. Most of the big unions' contracts contain such a clause, and the workers' pay envelopes may be fattened considerably through its operation in the next few years. President Truman has indicated that he favors the elimination of the farm-labor exemptions when Congress enacts a more or less permanent defense and stabilization act a few months from now. It is known that the Wilson-Johnston-Disalle group believes prices and wages cannot be kept in check without a tighter rein on both these economic factors.

THREAT — Mr. Truman, however, does not care to antagonize

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

No one who has had an attack of acute pleurisy ever forgets it. Although it is not as painful as kidney stones or some other things, pleurisy is a most unpleasant experience and often lasts for quite a long time, too.

This disorder gets its name from the delicate membrane which surrounds the lungs called the pleura. If the pleura becomes inflamed, which may be the result of infection or of no apparent cause, there is pain felt in the chest. Also, there is usually a sharp dry cough which the victim dreads because it makes the pain worse. Even ordinary breathing or any other motion of the chest is likely to bring on sharp pains.

An attack of pleurisy is apt to begin after exposure to excessive cold though it may come on at any time. It is sometimes only one sign of some other disease of the lungs such as pneumonia. Even if the pain is more or less bearable it isn't smart to pretend to be big and strong and ignore the whole thing. Rest in bed as soon as possible is not only a lot more comfortable but a lot safer. And it is wise, too, to get an X-ray and other diagnostic tests before too long.

CHRONIC STAGE The severe pain of acute pleurisy is not likely to last long under proper rest and treatment, but unfortunately pleurisy often has a tendency to become chronic. This can go on and on with a good deal of discomfort and interference with normal life.

Furthermore, fluid sometimes gathers in the space between the pleura and the lungs. This may or may not be absorbed in time and sometimes it has to be removed with a needle.

One good thing about pleurisy is that because it is usually infectious (but not catching), it sometimes yields to the new germ killers.

such influential ballot-box groups. Although he urged House-Senate leaders to work for modification of the present law several months ago, suggesting that more severe controls be imposed, he seems to have lost interest in his earlier proposal.

Spokesman for the two organizations have warned him that they will fight any curbs he may propose. He may, however, as he has done on several occasions, let Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson carry this unpopular political ball to Capitol Hill.

Oddly, a permanent alliance of organized labor and agriculture has long been a basic objective of both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman, for they figured that it would advantage their party. They did not dream the day might come when the movement would become a threat rather than an asset to their side.

BREAK — General Douglas MacArthur's enforced retirement may mean a better break for the American G.I.'s and their United Nations allies in Korea. It should insure further reinforcement in the way of more men and better weapons. Instead of going to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for the new-type jet planes, tanks and artillery will be routed to the Far East.

President Truman's military advisers, especially Defense Secretary Marshall and General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, have pointed out that, in final analysis, the Truman-MacArthur debate will not be settled on Congressional or political platforms in the United States.

When all is said and done, it will be decided, in their opinion, by the summer success or failure of our troops on Korean battlefields.

COMMAND — If the Chinese Communists mount an offensive that drives our U.N. forces down the peninsula from their present positions, the Wherry-Martin contingent on Capitol Hill will say: "That wouldn't have happened if MacArthur had been in command!" Millions may agree with their conclusion.

On the other hand, if the Van Fleet-Ridgway army holds its ground against an expected May-June counterattack, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy and preventing the "peace action" from flaring into a general war, the political reaction and betting may swing in the direction of the White House.

HOOK — A negotiated peace, so long as it does not smack of "appeasement," would also advantage Mr. Truman. In this connection, Moscow's reaction to the MacArthur dismissal is anxiously awaited. If Stalin continues to hurt and discredit the Truman Administration, also creating more acute disension in this country and among our allies, he will surely be advised that the North Koreans are getting fed up with this adventure in fringe warfare, and wishes to employ his "volunteers" elsewhere. He may advise Mao Tse-tung to accept the peace offers proposed by 10 Downing Street, the Quai d'Orsay in Paris and Prime Minister Nehru. That move, of course, might take President Truman off the MacArthur hook.

ONE-WORLDERS — The cause of world federalism and of one-worlders generally has suffered a setback as a result of the Korean conflict, the Russians' recalcitrancy, and the seeming incapacity of the United Nations to settle international disputes. Several state legislatures have repealed or rescinded resolutions in favor of the movement within the last few months. The enthusiasm and hopefulness which led to their enactment in the early postwar "good old Uncle Joe" days have vanished.

Lobos Stage Rally in Eighth Frame to Nip Sox, 11-9

LAMESA — (P) — Lamesa's bos staged a six-run rally in the eighth to come from behind and take their second straight win from the Amarillo Gold Sox, 11-9 here Monday night.

Yogi Marti, Lamesa's Puerto Rican catcher luffed a triple to right with the bases loaded to provide the winning margin. Marti's blow was the seventh in the frame and warmed a chilled crowd of 750. Lamesa trailed 9-5 when they opened with a single, and later pinch hitter John Alonzo and Don Stokes, collected consecutive singles before Glenn Burns popped out. John Peter and Manager Jay Hanes singled to load the sacks and Marti de- serated the game-winning blow. In the ninth, third of four Lobos chasers got credit for his first in with a neatly pitched five- ing relief job.

Both second basemen Frank array of Amarillo and Pampa of the Lobos turned in out defensive performances. Tuesday night the Clovis Pioneers open a two-game series with Jim Reynolds opening by starter, slated to make his second appearance on the Lamesa mound.

Bums Relief Pitchers Come Through As Brooklyn Checks Braves In 16 Innings, 2-1

Newcomb. Not a Brooklyn law firm but the Doggers' answer to Jim Konstanty.

WT-NM LEAGUE (By The Associated Press)

Table with columns: TEAM, W, L, PCT. Lists teams like Dallas, Oklahoma City, etc.

As brilliant as Konstanty was last year when he helped Philadelphia win the pennant as the league's most valuable player, his rescue work never matched the sensational relief pitching of his quartet.

The season is only a week old, but the four already have been credited with three relief victories. Better yet, they have pitched 13 innings all told (excluding Newcomb's rest - going effort against the New York Giants), without surrendering a run. They have yielded only three safeties.

Lubbock Measures Gassers To Split Two-Game Series

LUBBOCK — (P) — Julio Moreno made an impressive debut in the West Texas-New Mexico League last night, hurling the Lubbock Hubbers to a 7-4 victory over the Borger Gassers as the two teams split the two-game series.

Moreth settled down after a shaky first inning and blanked the Gassers for seven of the eight remaining innings. Earl Perry's bases-empty homer to left of the eighth was the only solid blow after the initial frame.

The Hubbers had to fight from behind to win their third game in four starts, a cluster of three runs in the second tied the score and singled rally the fifth gave the home club a lead it never relinquished. The clinching runs came in the seventh when Earl Hochstatter doubled on top of the National League standings with five victories in six starts.

Oilers Chase Clovis Club To Cover With 14-6 Score; Gold Sox Play Here Tonight

It was home run night at Oiler Park Monday. First baseman Virgil Richardson started the fence busting and it was climaxed by winning pitcher Mack Hyde's towering fourth master over the right-centerfield barrier as Pampa handed the Clovis Pioneers a 14-6 jolt.

The Oilers are now tied with the Lubbock Hubbers for first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League, each having a 3-1 record. Pampa's big bats collected 12 hits, four of them home runs. The score was tied at 2-2 in the bottom of the fifth inning. Gil Castillo opened the frame by grounding out pitcher to first. Luis Suarez chalked up the second out by going out second to first.

The Oilers struck for three runs on three hits in the seventh, the big blow being Nelson Davis' circuit knock over the leftfield fence. Two Oilers were roosted on base when Davis got his big lick. The Pampa second sacker led in RBI's too, with four.

Pampa kept pushing scores across the plate. Five big runs crossed home base in the eighth. Hyde started the frame with a round trip blow. Castillo walked but was forced out at second. Luis Sauter reached first on a fielder's choice, but he was erased when he tried to steal third; he reached second-base on an error. Wolcott got on base by a fielders choice, and Richardson got into the shortstop's error. Hank Chatellier banged a single into left field to score Wolcott, and Davis and Bill Whitehorn followed with successive singles to score two more tallies.

Blue Sox Check Dukes, 6-1

ABILENE — (P) — Hack Miller, the skipper himself, laid the Albuquerque Dukes away with four hits and his Blue Sox came through with a 6-1 victory Monday night to defeat the two-game series and administer Albuquerque's first defeat of the season.

hits and his Blue Sox came through with a 6-1 victory Monday night to defeat the two-game series and administer Albuquerque's first defeat of the season. In another after-dark battle, the Cardinals shaded the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, in St. Louis. Veteran Harry Brecheen scattered eight hits in the ninth, Ruffenberger, an old Redbird nemesis. Shortstop Solly Messer accounted for both St. Louis runs with a single and triple.

Miller, better known as a catcher when he managed and played with Lubbock in this league, went the distance tonight and had the Dukes on his hip most of the way. Except for Hailey's second inning single, the Dukes were retired in order for six straight innings, a double play nipping Hailey after his first inning single.

Lefty Bob Spence pitched tight baseball for the Dukes, giving up eight hits and only two earned runs, in going the distance, fanned seven Blue Soxers, but got poor fielding support. The Dukes committed seven errors, three of them a repeat performance by Dom Chioia at first base.

Spring Football May Be Out

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF AP Sports Editor DALLAS — (P) — Texas high schools are balling on the variety of subjects these days. The most important are whether the football training is to be eliminated and whether the top brackets of football — Class AAAA and Class AAA — are to have a grand state championship game.

Results of the referendum will be announced at the annual Texas Interscholastic League breakfast in Austin May 5 during the state meet. Stan Lambert, publicity director of the Texas High School Coaches Association, forecasts that a spring training will be done away with but that there will be no state football playoff. Surprisingly, he predicts that both classes will vote against it. Both would have to approve it for such a playoff to be held.

Lambert is in an excellent position to know what the vote will be despite the fact that the coaches themselves do not do the balloting — the school administrators decide these questions. But the coaches know how their superintendents and principals stand. So, we would accept Lambert's prediction as a safe one.

It's something of a shock, however, to think that the Class AAAA schools might vote against a state championship game with Class AAAA. It was pretty well conceded that the Four-A boys would be against it. They are bigger and supposedly stronger and feel there would be no point in playing an obviously inferior foe. In the first place they would be expected to win; in the second place if they didn't it would be a terrific blow to pride and prestige. But the Class AAA schools would have everything to gain and nothing to lose. And part of the gain would be a high-paying crowd for the game with the Class AAA champions.

Babe Triumphs In Richmond Golf Open

RICHMOND, Calif. — (P) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, had another triumph today, winning the $3,000 Richmond Open Tournament.

The Tampa, Fla., professional fronted the rest of the money players, as well as some good amateurs, yesterday with a 24 for the 54-hole event. It was a new $750 and increased her earnings for the current country-wide tournament trial to $3,750. She has won five of the seven Brylcreem thus far and placed second in the other two.

Russian Remark Impresses Solon

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Senator Wiley (R-Wis) based his speech here last night on a remark by Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky made to him four years ago.

Wiley recalled that when he was introduced to Vishinsky, he told the Russian: "I pray every night that the United States, Russia and Great Britain... will have a sincere desire for peace."

Vishinsky's reply: "I don't pray."

And that's what's wrong with the world today, the senator observed. A member of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, Wiley spoke on religion at the University Baptist Church in Baltimore.

Survivor Of Gulf Tanker Fire Tells Bloody Story Of Escape

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — "There was a kid there, got burned standing up."

Seaman Leroy Fay of Baltimore stared out of the bandages that covered him from head to foot. Through puffed and swollen lips, he told of death and agony aboard the tanker Esso Greensboro after it smashed into another tanker in a heavy Gulf of Mexico fog yesterday morning.

"When the ship exploded I was laying in my bunk. Flames came pouring through the port hole."

"You should have heard all those guys screaming and hollering for help. Everybody tried to run topside. Quick as they did, they were burned alive."

Fay was one of four survivors flown here for treatment at the Naval Air Station. He was one of the few among the Greensboro's 42 crewmen who escaped.

John W. Rohon of Mobile, Ala., was another. Two crewmen of the Esso Suez, the other tanker in the smashup, were brought here. They were Forrest E. Boyles, New York City, and John A. Horton of Cambridge, Mass.

"I opened a hatch and flames blew back in my face," said Fay.

"Another man opened a door and was burned alive where he stood. Me and Johnny lay on the deck. We stayed there three hours. I was barefooted and my feet were all burned."

He couldn't identify Johnny further.

"Johnny made it topside and called down to us."

"I ran over the hot deck in my bare feet. Then I jumped over the side."

John W. Johnson, a reporter for the Corpus Christi, Tex., Caller - Times, saw the Greensboro from a low-flying Navy PBY plane, nine hours after the tankers smashed together.

"Black smoke belched 300 feet in the air from a gaping wound in her side," he said. "Bright orange flames spilled over the side and licked at the water."

Johnson said the Esso Suez lay 20 miles from the Greensboro. The bow of the Suez gaped like the "open jaws of some grotesque crocodile."

Radioman Bobby Jones of Little Rock, Ark., saw a man in the water two miles from the Greensboro. He was the first aboard Johnson's plane to spot a survivor.

"The man was clinging to a

Living Costs Regimented

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — You can't pare your living costs by moving to another part of the country the way you used to.

It's just about as expensive today in Tucson, Arizona, as it is in Boston. What you save on one item you may lose on another. All across the country the cost of living is being regimented. In fact, the middle-sized cities may actually be a little harder on the family budget than some of the biggest ones.

Take New York for an example. It long had a bad name as being among the toughest on the pocketbook. Times have changed. A lot of smaller places are tougher.

In a study of living costs in 33 cities, comparing March, 1935, with October, 1950, the National Industrial Conference Board reports today that at the earlier date New York was the fourth most expensive place, and nine percent more costly than the average of the 33.

Now the budget for a worker's family of four puts New York in 28th place and about three percent cheaper than the average of the 33 cities.

Milwaukee has moved up to first place from sixth. Washington, D. C., which was the costliest in the mid-thirties, is now second. Richmond was third most expensive in 1950, but was cheaper than the average 15 years ago. Houston, which was the fourth cheapest in 1935, was the fourth highest last fall. Atlanta has gone from one percent below the average in 1935 to four percent above the average in 1950 and holds fifth place.

RED ATROCITIES REPORTED
TAIPEH — (AP) — The Nationalist defense ministry said today Chinese Reds killed every inhabitant — more than 1,300 men, women and children — of five villages near Chaoping in Kwangsi province after a clash with guerrillas April 9.

piece of wood," Johnson said. He waved wildly to us.

"We dropped a life raft over the side. Then we tried to drop another close by."

The plane criss-crossed back and forth. Two hours later Johnson saw the man reach the raft.

Fay found a life boat, too. "There were two burned up guys in the bottom of it."

Expert Insists Wheat Crop Poor

ENID, Okla. — (AP) — A nationally recognized crop expert sticks by his estimate that three fifths of the Texas wheat crop is destroyed.

A. W. Erickson of Minneapolis repeated this before the Oklahoma Grain and Feed Dealers yesterday. He said:

"On March 26 I stated at Garden City, Kans., that 60 percent of the wheat in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas had been destroyed. I have no reason now to retract that statement."

"I do bring a word of cheer. This morning I drove through the best part of the Oklahoma wheat land (from Kansas through northwest Oklahoma).

"Never in the history of the nation has there been such a wide spread loss of wheat. In the six-state area — Kansas, Texas, Colorado, Nebraska, New Mexico and Oklahoma — a total of 20 million acres of wheat is dead. And neither rain nor optimism will revive it. Of the 16-million acres remaining in the wheat belt the yield will be below normal."
