Allied Guns Hammer Reds Near Seoul

TOKYO — (AP) — Allied artillery laid an explosive curtain of fire before Seoul today as the path of a gathering Red Army intent on seizing the old South Korean capital as a May Day prize.

United Nations forces arrayed before the war-shattered city fired 45,709 rounds of artillery Sunday.

The booming echo of massed artillery implemented the announcement of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, allied ground commander, that Seoul would be defended.

Chinese Communists poured down from the north for a mass assault. Airborne spotted 3,365 Red vehicles moving along the western front. Twenty thousand Communists were reported gathered as shock troops for the assault. Only probing attacks were reported in the early hours Monday.

On Sunday Van Fleet announced his bold decision to defend Seoul. He plans a defense north of the city, not house-to-house street fighting.

General MacArthur and Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had made no attempt to hold the city against the Chinese offensive earlier in the year. They said it was of no military importance.

But Van Fleet said Seoul has prestige as Korea's historic capital. He described the Seoul area and the line of the Han river which flows south of the city as "vital and strategic."

U.N. forces, he said, "welcome the opportunity to destroy the Communist Army north of the Han."

AP General Executive Frank H. King reported after Van Fleet's press conference that "United Nations forces will not be sacrificed unnecessarily" to hold Seoul. One of Van Fleet's corps commanders said the final decision on whether his men hold the city was "vital and strategic."

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Jane Hines, 84, were to be held at 2 p. m. today at Harrah Methodist Church with Rev. E. C. Armstrong, pastor, officiating. Mrs. Hines died Sunday morning. She is survived by her husband, T. B. Hines, 83 1/2. Denver; three daughters, Mrs. T. W. Birch, McLean, Texas; Mrs. Young, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Ella Hartson, Pampa; one son, Vester, Oakland, Calif.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hines came to Pampa four years ago from Bedford. Burial will be in Alameda with Duken-Carmichael Funeral Home in charge.

Soldiers To Return

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — The current Red offensive in Korea will have no effect on rotation of American soldiers due to return to the United States, says Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet.

Freed From Prison, Vogeler And Family Begin Trip Home

VIENNA, Austria — (AP) — Robert A. Vogeler and his family left Vienna by plane today for the United States.

The 39-year-old, released last Saturday after 17 months in a Communist jail in Hungary, was taken to the airport with his family by Ambassador Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. high commissioner in Austria.

With his handsome Magian-born wife Lucille, her sister Pia, and the Vogeler's two sons, Bobby, 11, and Billy, 9, Vogeler boarded a plane at Tullin airport, in the Soviet occupied zone of Austria. The plane took off at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST). The first stop is Frankfurt, Germany.

Vogeler mustered his shattered strength to deliver what he called "a message" to the American people yesterday before a television camera and microphone. He broke down once but insisted on continuing.

"I am convinced," he said, "that my incident (arrest by Hungarian Communists as a spy and saboteur) is just one of a series of planned attacks on democracy.

"The American people must be made aware of what can happen. I feel that every individual American should realize that what happened to me can happen to them if we don't all band together to destroy these enemies of individual freedom."

NBC announced that Vogeler's statement probably would be telecast in the United States tonight or tomorrow.

Vogeler told newsmen shortly after his release Saturday that both physical and mental pressure were used to obtain his confession before he was tried by a people's court in Budapest. He acknowledged that there was "some truth" in his testimony but said it contained many technical inaccuracies.

Although Vogeler presented a good appearance physically, the mental strain of 14 and a half months in military confinement since his trial showed plainly. He gave the appearance of man

Sensational Accusations Hinted:

Crime Report To Be Released Tomorrow

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Hints of possible sensational accusations are piling up in advance of the scheduled release tomorrow of the Senate Crime Committee's report on its nation-wide investigation of racketeering.

The report may carry some sharp criticism of former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer. Tobey and other committee members appeared on a television program which also produced the news that a printer's proof of the forthcoming report has been stolen.

Equalization Board Members To Be Named By Commission

Selection of the 1951 Board of Equalization is scheduled to go before the City Commission Tuesday morning. This follows the report of Friday night's gas rate hearing when a group of citizens decided against spending tax money to investigate Texas Gas and Power Corp. books and gas reserves.

Who will be considered for the tax equalization board was not disclosed this morning by City Manager Dick Pepin. However, as in the past, several names will be discussed before the nominees come down to three men satisfactory to the commission.

Service Station Hit By Burglars

Between $25 and $30 was taken Sunday night from cash register in the Lacy Good service station, one and one-half miles east of Pampa on U. S. Highway 60.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nichols said the burglars removed moulding around the door glass and removed the window to gain entrance. Nichols estimated the moulding was removed with the aid of screwdrivers. Inside, the thieves used small tools to pry open the cash register.

In addition to the money, approximately eight quarts of motor oil were taken, but nothing else was disturbed, Nichols said. The robbery was discovered at 6:30 a. m. today by the proprietor when he opened for business.

Truman Sends $60 Billion Defense Budget To Solons

Probe Slated Into Firing Of MacArthur

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators planning an inquiry into President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur meet today to decide on procedure, including whether the sessions will be open to the public.

Indications were that a decision on that point would be made by a close vote. It was agreed, however, that if the deposed five-star general personally asks for a public hearing on his initial statement, scheduled for Thursday, it will be granted. He plans to fly to Washington for the hearing and return to New York City the same day.

Meanwhile there was no word from President Truman on Harold E. Stassen's suggestion for "a reconciliation" with MacArthur "for the good of America."

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, urged such a truce Saturday. He left a letter for Mr. Truman at the White House. The White House said it had the letter but had no comment.

Stassen, in a statement last night, said he was encouraged by the response to his suggestion. He added he will follow up and hopes to have "the support of a majority of the Republican senators for a meeting of President Truman and General MacArthur during this week."

The decision on the public versus executive sessions was to be made by the 25 senators on the Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees. Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the armed services group, who is slated to head the joint investigation, called the closed planning session this morning. Russell has contended the inquiry (See PROBE, Page 2)

"THIS LITTLE FELLOW grew up to be a one-man good will committee for the organization he represents." There's the clue to the identity of Baby No. 2 at left in The News' "Can You Guess This Baby Contest," which began Sunday. Pictures of the babies will run through next Friday, and each will be known by a number. Here's a hint to Baby No. 3 above at right: "At this age he would have passed for a twin of his young grand daughter."

Nameless Numbers Need Identification:

Prominent Men In Pampa's Spotlight

If local civic leaders are under scrutiny this week, there'll be a reason—there's just a chance they may be in The Pampa News' "Can You Guess This Baby Contest" now in progress.

The contest, staged in connection with National Baby Week, is featuring baby pictures of some prominent Pampa men and by guessing their identity, readers have a chance to win some cash prize money, and have a little fun at the same time.

Hints will be run under the photographs of the babies each day this week through Friday, and each baby will have a number in the contest. Original photographs will be displayed in the various Pampa stores cooperating in the guessing contest.

Contest rules are simple. Identify each baby according to number, that is, Baby No. 1 Joe Doak, Baby No. 2 John Smith and so on. After you have listed the identity of each baby appearing in The News this week, (the last picture appears Friday) write a letter of 25 words or less on "Why I Like to Live in the Pampa Area." First prize will be $10, second prize $5 and third prize, $2.50.

Entries are to be sent to Baby Contest Editor, Pampa Daily News, Pampa, Texas, and entries must be postmarked no later than Monday noon, May 7.

Winners will be announced in the Pampa News Thursday, May 10. Anyone may enter the contest with the exception of Daily News employees, their families, men whose photos are shown in the contest, or members of their families.

Knife-Fork Club To Hear Schultz

Members of the Knife and Fork Club tonight will hear Jack Schultz, youthful adventurer.

He will tell of his travels in an Indian dugout canoe, which he called "Sea Fever," and his trek across the Andes from Ecuador, Peru, back to the University of Chicago.

At the time of his travels, Schultz was only 17 years old. He is now 22.

Dinner will be served in the high school cafeteria at 7:30.

Equalization Board Members To Be Named By Commission

Selection of the 1951 Board of Equalization is scheduled to go before the City Commission Tuesday morning. This follows the report of Friday night's gas rate hearing when a group of citizens decided against spending tax money to investigate Texas Gas and Power Corp. books and gas reserves.

Who will be considered for the tax equalization board was not disclosed this morning by City Manager Dick Pepin. However, as in the past, several names will be discussed before the nominees come down to three men satisfactory to the commission.

The equalization board members serve without pay. An additional member, who will serve as alternate on either city board, or school board, also will be proposed but not selected until he is confirmed by the Pampa Independent School District. He also serves without pay.

Pepin indicated, too, the increase in housing here will probably bring on additional zoning problems and an off-hand discussion on how to meet them will also be taken up by the commission.

The city manager was unable to see any further discussions to come before the commission this morning outside of routine matters including monthly payments to contractors and monthly bills. Brown.

Says World Is Pushed To Brink Of War

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today sent Congress a $60,679,414,690 defense budget and said Russia's rulers have pushed the world "to the brink of a general war."

The huge requested appropriation is for the United States' own military costs and to help arm its allies.

The message broke down in more detail the military estimates included in Mr. Truman's general budget, sent to Congress in January, for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, accompanying today's estimates, Mr. Truman said: "If the Soviet Union chooses to unleash a general war, the free world must be in a position to stop the attack and strike back decisively and at once at the seats of Soviet power."

"We believe that the best path to peace is through building combined defenses for the free world sufficiently powerful to insure disaster for the aggressors if they launch a new world war."

The over-all figure was broken down into these sub-totals:

1. $1,424,839,700 to pay for various projects Congress already has authorized.

2. $56,179,414,690 of "new obligations authority" — meaning for direct expenditures and for letting of contracts for future projects.

3. $1,500,000,000 to cover needs "for a large military public works program to be recommended soon for authorization."

Sketching broadly the planned use of the money, Mr. Truman said: "For the Army, these funds will equip and maintain 18 divisions plus separate combat and supporting units. The navy, under these recommendations, will maintain an active fleet of 1,161 ships. The Marine Corps will maintain 2-13 divisions and other supporting units. The Air Force will continue to build toward 95 war wings."

He said: "The major element in this threat is the military strength and military production of the Soviet Union. The armed forces of the Soviet Union today far exceed any reasonable defense requirements. Its economy is harnessed to war production."

Mr. Truman said: "The level of preparedness which this budget is designed to create is one which is well within our ability to maintain for many years, if necessary."

Jerry Lynn Keller Funeral Services Held Early Today

Graveside services were to be held this morning for Jerry Lynn Keller, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Keller. He was born Saturday.

Survivors besides the parents, 126 Alameda, are two brothers, Lester Lee and Joseph Andrew; two sisters, Phyllis and Sharon; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Nichols, Pampa; and Elmer H. Keller, also of Pampa.

Rev. Spencer W. Baker, Pentecostal Holiness Church, officiated.

Ten Church-Bound Passengers Die As Bus Crashes Into Wall

WEIRTON, W. Va. — (AP) — A Patrolman Frank Titch, was the first to reach the scene in the quiet residential neighborhood, and...

"It was like a gruesome jigsaw puzzle. Most of the children and adults were piled up in front of the bus."

"Bodies were all tangled together in distorted positions. Others were pinned in the wreckage. There was blood on everybody."

"Most of the passengers were on route from their homes in suburban Weirton Heights to downtown Weirton where they were to attend mass at St. Paul's Catholic Church."

A priest was among the first at the scene. He went among the passengers to administer the last rites.

"The old people were wounded," said Patrolman Rodak. "They insisted we take out the young ones first."

"We must have been going 60 miles an hour," he said. "We hit that wall before we hit that wall." Patrolman Joe Rodak, who with

J. Ray Martin Rites Tuesday

Final rites will be held for J. Ray Martin, 55, at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Duken-Carmichael Funeral Home with Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. Martin died early Sunday morning at a local hospital after a few weeks' illness. He had been a Pampa resident for 15 years, moving here from Memphis, Tex. He was in the insurance business with Mrs. J. M. Turner.

Survivors include his wife, Mary, 708 N. First; four brothers, E. B. Martin, Amarillo; H. L. Martin, Paducah; H. R. Martin, Fort Worth and John Martin, Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Sidebottom, Lubbock and Mrs. C. D. Swift, Lubbock.

Mr. Martin was Pampa representative for Business Men's Assurance Co. during the 15 years in Pampa and in 1943 he became partner with J. M. Turner, who died in 1946. Mrs. Turner continued the partnership.

Mr. Martin was a graduate of Washington and Lee University in Virginia where he was a star football player. He was a veteran of World War I and was past commander of the American Legion post in Memphis.

He was past commander of the Memphis Knights Templar and a member of the Moslem Temple Shrine at Fort Worth for 30 years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Elks Club.

Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery and Masonic services will be held.

Pallbearers are Quentin Williams, Ray Salmon, Spence Cross-da, Dale Pinson, Ray Wilson, Dick Pepin, Bill Adams and Park

New Premier For Iran Takes Office

TEHRAN, Iran. (AP) — A spokesman said the United States is being advised of all developments.

The 32-year-old Mosaddegh, who has vowed to drive all foreign influence out of Iran and nationalize the country's vast oil wealth, moved into the office of premier today and urged this nervous country to remain calm during Communist-sparked May Day demonstrations.

Mosaddegh, whose Nationalist Party campaign has brought the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. within hours of nationalization, took over the duties of premier without any formality, although the Shah had not yet signed the decree placing him in the post. The Shah was to sign the decree later in the day.

Mosaddegh said there would be no legal ban on demonstrations tomorrow marking May Day, international labor day, but that instead he was appealing to the public for peaceful celebrations.

With Iranian seizure of the British oil company, virtually a foregone conclusion, observers are expressing fear that Iran's already anky economy may be headed for chaos and that the country might become easy prey for the Communists and their neighbor Soviet Russia.

In London, a worried British cabinet sought some means of heading off the loss of British oil holdings in Iran, and it was in constant contact with the ambassador, Sir Francis Shepherd, in Tehran. A foreign office spokesman said the United States is being advised of all developments.

Cotton To Be Grown On High Plains

Some farmers in this area are going against all precedent and planting cotton on the High Plains.

Because of the extensive greenbug and other damage in this area, the farmers are of necessity, plowing up wheat and looking for a replacement crop which they can follow with wheat in the fall.

During the past 35 years at the Southern Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Okla., corn, sorghum, cotton, kafir and milo have been grown in rotation with wheat and all have reduced wheat yields to some extent.

One farmer explained, however, that he was willing to take a chance on cotton because for two years he has made nothing out of wheat.

It has been estimated that about 10,000 acres of cotton will be planted in May on the High Plains. Some grain sorghum will be planted, but one farmer was planting only 150 acres of grain sorghum compared to 600 acres of cotton.

Encouragement in planting grain sorghum will be stressed at a meeting Thursday of the War Mobilization Committee in Amarillo, when the serious shortage of grain sorghums will be discussed.

More cattle are on feed now than ever before, a spokesman said, and grain sorghum prices will be raised to encourage farmers to plant more grain.

One encouraging point from farmers in this area is that wheat is good in spots and it is hoped that they can get enough seed from that for the 1952 crop.

Capitol Operators Have Busy Schedule

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN — (AP) — That madhouse to the left of the lobby of the House of Representatives is somebody called it, wanting the "recreation room."

"Well, if this is it, I haven't discovered it," Mrs. Edith Thomson remarked aside.

She is in charge of what practically every representative will admit is the hardest working bunch in the state capitol—the telephone girls.

They handle approximately 5,000 calls a day coming and going.

Coming and going is right. They answer a telephone in one of the 15 booths in the reception room. They go find the representative wanted—whether he's at his desk, in a committee room or visiting around on the floor.

Maybe somebody stops them on the way asking that a call be made.

They go place the call and run tell the representative when the connection is made.

They keep up that brisk pace all day and never seem tired.

"As long as you're going, you don't notice it," one girl flung back as she bounded up those four steps leading to the house.

There are 16 telephone girls in the capitol. Four of them sit at the switchboard in a corner off the rotunda on the second floor. They merely answer "legislature" when the light flashes. They route the calls either to the House or Senate, but the House gets practically all the calls since Senators have their own private offices and private telephones. House members don't.

The Senate has two girls handling five telephone booths in its reception room.

Ten girls work in the house.

"We know every representative by sight, and we know where his desk is," Mrs. Thomson said.

"There's that Senator we were looking for a while ago. We don't know senators as well by the backs of their heads like we know the representatives."

Mrs. Thomson said it was easy to tell when a piece of controversial legislation was being debated—more calls than ever.

"And we can tell more often than not who's the author," she added. "The calls pour in for him. Say they're for Mr. Kilgore (Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen), we pass the word among the girls that he has on a blue suit today. It's easier to spot him that way."

The representatives ask the girls to make denial appointments for them, call their wives and girlfriends, do just about everything for them," Mrs. Thomson said.

Sometimes a representative is notified about a call and says, "Aw, I don't wanna talk to him."

"The girl goes back and answers: 'I'm sorry, he's too busy to talk right now.' That's standard operating procedure."

The representatives like their efficiency.

"I had 35 calls in a four-hour period," she said Rep. J. L. Rio Grande City. "They handled every one just as quick and courteous as you please."

"Nicest bunch we ever had," said Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos. "They're nice about getting up to all those honeycombs of committee rooms behind the house and looking you up."

Saboteurs Blow Bridge In Strike

AUCKLAND, New Zealand.—(AP) — Saboteur explosives damaged a railroad bridge leading to a strike-beset coal field early today but 30 replacement miners made the train trip across it without mishap.

Prime Minister Sidney Holland called the dynamiting a "diabolical act of sabotage" and ordered all government resources "marshaled in an all-out effort to track down the criminals responsible for this infamous act of terrorism."

The bridge led to the Waitako coal fields, where miners had walked out in sympathy for waterfront workers on strike for the past 11 weeks.

Officials said six sticks of dynamite had been detonated some time early today, extensively damaging the bridge. As the train passed it shook and rocked but did not collapse.

DiSalle Predicts U.S. To Be Free From Rationing

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The United States is not going to be gripped by consumer goods rationing as it was in World War II, Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle predicts.

At a news conference the price administrator declared.

"The nation's economy is very healthy. If people will use normal restraint, we'll breeze through this period of emergency."

DiSalle was in Pittsburgh to speak at a dinner of the Pittsburgh Sons and Daughters of Italy last night. He told his audience:

"If the people will only cooperate in two months we'll have the defense effort licked."

"Production and defense needs will balance each other by 1953 and the balance will avoid the necessity of rationing such as we've invoked during World War II, with the exception of price controls," DiSalle said.

About $25 damage was reported on the Davis car and $25 on the Osborne truck.

British Reservists Called For Training

LONDON (AP) — Two thousand "Z" men, Britain's top priority reservists, reported for two weeks military training yesterday at the start of a program to oil up the nation's mobilization machinery.

The army took a quick look at what had once been the cream of its World War II military and maintained a discreet British silence. Officers said only that the men appeared to be in good spirits.

The first contingent will be followed in two weeks by another 4,000 reservists undergoing the brief refresher training.

New Piano For Horry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Piano playing Harry S. Truman is going to get a spinet, a specially designed one with a fly key-board.

The instrument, assembled jointly by the country's major piano manufacturers, will be presented to the President May 9 as part of a ceremony opening National and Inter-National Music Week.

Mr. Truman is chairman of the week-long celebration, intended in large part to show the role of music in the armed forces' morale and recreation programs.

A jet pilot must start to slow down for a landing 10 to 20 miles from the airport.

JOF McLARIN, drivers license examiner, was swamped in the Court House this morning with an overwhelming number of applicants for licenses. McLarin has received special permission from Austin to remain in Pampa every day this week to give driver's tests.

Experts Advise Dry Cleaning Of Floors

Many women, inadequately informed on modern homemaking techniques, work much harder than necessary to keep their houses neat and attractive, home maintenance specialists say.

Some homemakers, for example, still cling to the drudgery of scrubbing oak floors with soap and water. The experts point out that this is not only tough on the constitution but on the floors as well, for it tends to mar the finish and raise the grain of the wood.

The up-to-date procedure for proper cleaning of oak floors does away with scrubbing entirely. The method is simple.

It consists of "dry cleaning" them with a wax-base preparation, which can be applied quickly either with a cloth or a long-handled applicator. Such preparations remove all ordinary dirt and spots and leave a thin waxy film which helps protect the surface of the wood. In so doing they serve as reinforcement for the coating of wax which should be applied three or four times a year.

Color Scheme Is Aid To Digestion

Doctors and psychologists agree that digestion is improved if those who are eating are in a happy frame of mind. When selecting a color scheme for the painting of your dining room, remember that harmonious color aids digestion. Bright, cheerful colors make us happy, while a dull, dark gloomy atmosphere acts in reverse.

Metal Syphon Aids Drying Out Cellar

Spring thaws and a lot of rain can throw cold water on your end-of-winter dreams about getting out in the fresh air for outdoor handyman chores.

The damp feeling is most likely to hit you some morning when you go down cellar and find your overshoes, or even your boots. After prolonged rain and sudden thaws, the ground around your house can't soak up any more water, and the overflow seeps into basements through any weaknesses it can find.

Since a lot of cellars are built these days without drains, especially when the cellar is below the level of the main waste pipe, the first problem is to get the water out faster than it's coming in until the leak stops and things dry up.

Bailing by bucket is back-breaking, but it works. An easier way is to get a metal syphon attachment from your hardware store. This is simply a tube of brass, perforated to let water in, with threaded hose connections at each end. This connects between two long lengths of garden hose; with the syphon in the middle, one end of the hose is attached to the cold water faucet and the other end is led out a window, where it will drain away from (not toward) your house. Turn on the cold water, drop the syphon section in the deepest part of the basement pool, and let it do the work. The one drawback is that it uses a lot of water to drain the cellar.

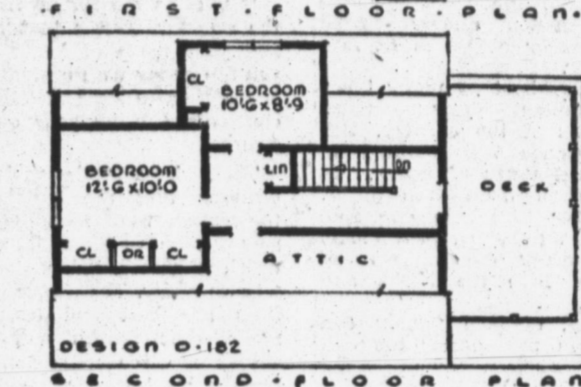

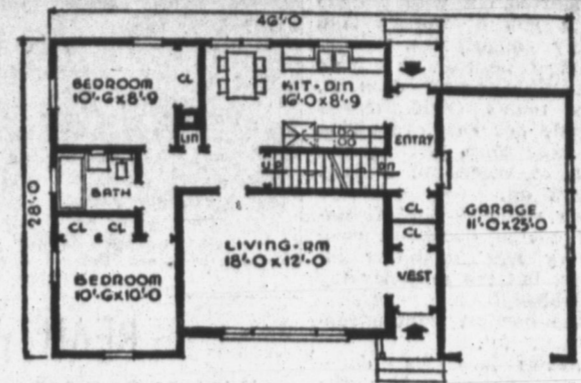

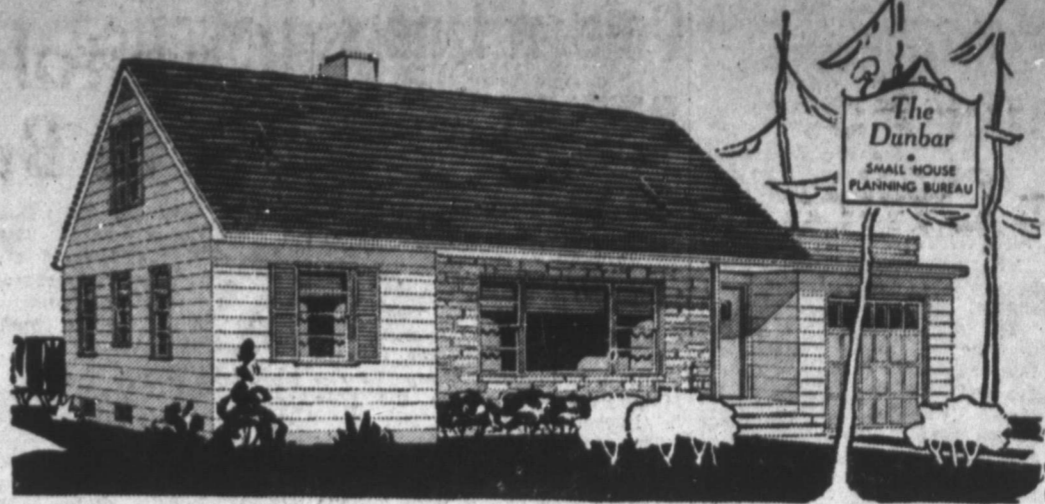

If the leakage is minor, you may be able to keep it from happening again by sealing cracks where the floor and wall meet with a thick coating of asphalt waterproofing compound. If there's slight seepage through small cracks in the floor, put on a thick coating of the asphalt and then cover it with a two-inch layer of waterproof cement.

Repainting iron railings, foot scrapers, steel window casements and other architectural hardware is not difficult. All old loose, scaly paint should first be scraped or wire-brushed.

The surface should then be coated with red lead, zinc yellow, blue lead, oxide of iron or zinc dust-zinc oxide. After this has been allowed to dry thoroughly for a week or ten days, it should be covered with two coats of house paint or exterior enamel.

North Carolina has had 10 capitals: Edenton, New Bern, Bath, Wilmington, Hillsboro, Halifax, Smithfield, Fayetteville, Tarboro and Raleigh.

Granite once was a red-hot mass far below the earth's surface.

THE DUNBAR has a first floor that consists of two bedrooms, bath, living room and combination kitchen-dinette. Future expansion is taken care of on the second floor where two additional bedrooms can be finished. There is a full basement and an attached, front drive-in garage with a flat deck and wood rail.

Wardrobe closets are used in all bedrooms, linen cabinets on both floors and coat closets for each entrance.

The kitchen cabinets are arranged on opposite walls in one end of the kitchen. The range and the refrigerator are on the inside and the sink is placed under the window.

Plans for this house call for frame construction, siding, asphalt shingles, double glazed picture window, covered entrance in front and concrete steps.

Dimensions of the Dunbar are 46 feet by 28 feet. Floor area is 893 square feet. Cubage totals

29,093 cubic feet, not counting garage.

THE BROCKTON features open planning which means fewer doors, less partition work and a feeling of spaciousness not usually found in a small house. Costs are also cut through the use of a flat roof which combines roof and ceiling joists in one and reduces cubical contents.

Windows in the through living room look to the street, and to a covered terrace in the rear. Living room opens in corner dinette.

There is a full basement, fireplace in the living room, coat closets, linen cabinet and wardrobes in the bedroom. A toilet in the basement reduces the traffic through the living room.

The exterior finish of the Brockton calls for a pitch and gravel roof with a vertical siding with a touch of color in the brick of the entry closet and planting area.

The dimensions of this small-sized house are estimated at 40 feet by 23 feet and six inches. The floor area is totalled at 832 square feet while the cubage is estimated at 14,303 cubic feet.

Bright Lascar Costumes Inspire Casual Clothing For Summer Wear

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Staff Writer NEW YORK (NPA) — A striking theme for a summer casual clothes is borrowed from the colorful costumes worn by the lascars, East Indian sailors. This designer interprets the lascar costume in two colors, red and blue. These are the colors the lascars wear, embellished by the striking white embroidery that these sailors do themselves. The embroidery, too, appears in these interpretations, which are done in hardy 'topsil'.

Bell HD Club Meets To Learn Re-Upholstering

Twelve members of the Bell HD Club met Friday in the old Bell Schoolhouse to do re-upholstering. The demonstration was under the direction of Mrs. Roland Dauer, Mrs. D. W. Swain, and Mrs. J. B. Jones. They said, "Old chairs and couches can be made more comfortable and attractive by re-upholstering and it saves money. Remove every tack from woodwork and as the materials are removed, observe every detail as to the methods used in the original work. This will give you much information for the job you are beginning. "Any repairs that need to be done before the re-upholstery is begun, and woodwork should be finished also, if necessary. The equipment needed for a good job is a tack hammer, a curved needle, scissors, tape measure, yardstick, different size tacks, finishing tacks, a tack remover, and an ice pick. A first aid kit to reupholster is almost a necessity too.

Pole 'n' Liners Biggest Group Of Fishermen

By BOB BRISTER ATHENS — (AP) — There are a lot of fishermen, from bent pin dabblers to deep sea trawlers — but the biggest group from Maine to Mexico are the pole 'n' liners. The man who turns up his puristic nose at anything but the dainties of dry flies today probably started out with a cane pole and a gob of worms. And he probably caught fish. Never let it be said that pole fishing, as the expert does it, is a lazy man's sport. It is neither crude nor easy, requiring skill and experience just as any other type of successful fishing. And it pays off. The fresh water "pole" fisherman goes out in quest of practically every fish inhabiting inland waters, and the majority try for bass, bluegill and catfish — three of the hardest fighting species of them all. If he knows how it's done, he'll bring home meat for the skillet — and a fried channel cat or bream is fit fare for a king. There are about as many types of pole-and-line fishing as there are sections of the country. Different methods are adapted to the different types of water. And the fishermen themselves differ. Some prefer to sit in one spot for hours, waiting on providence. Others usually the experts of their clan, rove the banks and brushpiles. The apex of pole fishing can be found in use among the old-timers of Eastern Texas and Louisiana. It's called doodling or punching or fifty other local names. But in those sections, by any name, it's considered the common-sense way to catch fish. With one man paddling and the other fishing, these swamp and marsh fishermen go out in pairs, covering their territory as it should be covered. The paddler suaves his mate along slowly and silently, as a minnow or artificial fly moves restlessly from one cypress knee to the next, seeking the dark spots and dabbling over the holes in the lily beds. There is no noise, no quick movement — and some of the biggest bass on record have fallen to this skill of the man with the pole. Of course, in recent years the trend has been away from the pole and line — toward casting, fly-fishing and spinning. "Sport" fishing is taking over, and a man's fishing progress is often measured by the number of rods and reels he owns. But never cast remarks about the humble pole fisherman, perched upon a log — until you've seen his stringer.

Prehistoric Animal Unearthed By Diggers

MISSOULA, Mont. — (AP) — Discovery of what may prove to be a complete mastodon skeleton has been announced by Montana State University scientists. They credited Ray and Clint Kallestad, who operate the Kallestad Sand and Gravel Co., with uncovering the huge prehistoric relative of the elephant. Dr. Kenneth P. McLaughlin and Dr. Fred S. Honkala of the university geology department said the animal, which roamed the area somewhere between 25,000 and 50,000 years ago, possibly stood about 16 feet high. One tusk measures at least 5 feet long. A little dried cooked ham and crumbled crisp-cooked bacon added to a shrimp-and-tomato-sauce dish make it extra-special. The man of omelets is always formidable; but when that book is the Bible, he is irresistible.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

It is often difficult to find just the summer dresses that fit you and your mode of living, so, if you are handy with a needle, now is the time to start making your own clothes and being your own designer. There is a wide variety of patterns that are suitable for the mature woman and so many new fabrics and shades from which to choose. Select your pattern carefully. The simple, classic lines are best and easiest to make. Soft fabrics and subtle shades are the most flattering. It is a good idea, when buying piece goods, to choose those which are pre-shrunk, so that you won't be troubled with shrinkage problems and the fit and line of your dresses will remain the same after washing. A smart choice for a basic, daytime, go-everywhere dress can be made of lavender linen. An interesting scoop neckline should be bordered in crisp white. Flap pockets are a good camouflage at the hip line. The brief sleeves are smart, cool and becoming. You should accessorize it with a white straw hat, a chalk-white, close-to-the-throat necklace, with matching earrings and wrist-length white cotton gloves. You can look cool and poised in this dress to attend club meetings or for lunch in town on the hottest days. Once you have decided on a good basic pattern you can use it for ever so many dresses. This particular pattern would be delightful in a sheer blue cotton, with a deeper blue banding and pale blue buttons. Also, I can see it in black-and-white checked cotton, bordered in black linen. Or, you could reverse the idea and have the dress in plain material with checked borders.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET NEA Staff Writer A London magistrate recently overruled a mother who objected to her 18-year-old daughter marrying a man 10 years her senior on the grounds that he was too old for her. Said the magistrate: "Everybody knows that a difference of 10 years is not much, because women age much quicker than men, and by middle-age the difference will not be perceptible." That may have been true in Grandma's day, but it certainly isn't true today. Women are out-living men today. Does that indicate that women "age much quicker than men"? Women today work much harder than men at staying young looking. They diet more conscientiously, spend far more time on their looks, give more thought to seeing that their clothes are becoming, and seek youth in other ways. So if men have any natural edge on women in maintaining their youthful looks longer, women make up the difference by the attention they give to staying young. DON'T AGE MENTALLY Furthermore, women today don't need to age mentally the way they often did in the days when a woman's job was finished once her children were grown. Look at the white-haired women holding down jobs, doing community work, taking courses to learn new skills, leading busy social lives. They are finding the answer to staying young mentally. This is nothing wrong in a girl falling in love with and marrying a man older than she. But the reason why such a marriage will probably work out all right isn't because she is going to age quicker than he is. You can bet your bottom dollar she isn't going to. For one of the advantages of marrying an older man — from a woman's point of view — is that the marriage probably offers security as well as love. And women don't grow old fast on security. It gives them just that much more leisure and money to work at staying young.

Pink, Blue Shower For Mrs. McKinley

Mrs. Joe D. Cree was hostess at a buffet-bridge and pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. John McKinley. White stock was used in decorations and an April showers motif was carried out by placing the gifts under a blue and yellow net umbrella. Guests were Mrs. Lee Moore, Mrs. Vernon Watkins, Mrs. Henry Lane, Jr., Mrs. Bill Braly, Mrs. Bob Cochran, Mrs. John Campbell, Miss Sybil Pierson, Misses Jean and Colleen Chisholm, Mrs. Dick Collier of Lubbock and the guest of honor. Put double-decker sandwiches in the luncheon occasionally as a surprise. Deviled ham for one layer, cream cheese for another, make a good combination. Garlic shrinks rapidly, so keep it in a cool dry place in your kitchen.

Stars Shy From Political Activities

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The current Washington hearings on Communist in Hollywood is certain to have one result — a decrease in all kinds of political activity by movie stars. The results can be seen already. Stars are shying away from comment on controversial matters and are reluctant to lend their names to causes of any kind. They fear that any such activities may eventually land them in the Washington headlines, and that could mean the end of their careers. A study of Hollywood history shows that political activity by stars is a fairly recent development. In the early days of the screen, a star's personal life was shielded from the public. It was Hollywood axiom that stars were not supposed to have babies or opinions. Some silent picture stars were reportedly ruined by the news that they were parents; that was supposed to rob them of their romantic appeal. But Bing Swanson was the first to break the jinx against having babies. Her career continued to thrive despite her motherhood. But the prejudice against stars having opinions remained for many years. Some stars even refused to vote for fear their politics might be revealed. About the only major political activity by stars in the silent era was the selling of liberty bonds during the first world war. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Charlie Chaplin and Marie Dressler were among the most active bond salesmen. The Franklin Roosevelt era ushered in a period of political activity for movie stars. They became more interested in politics because they began paying huge taxes; became more closely associated with persons in the national government, and many participated in politics because it was "the thing to do," like learning to dance the charleston. Most of them now feel they would be endangering their popularity to take a stand on any issue in these times when politics is so explosive. They are taking as their examples, Bing Crosby and Bob Hope. Crosby has carefully avoided political utterances. His brothers announced that he was for Thomas Dewey in the 1944 presidential race, but Bing answered queries with the question: "Who's running?" Hope has also avoided political stands. Says he: "how can you make people laugh at you if they hate your politics?"

O. K. Rubber Welder's Has Four Exclusive Features

O. K. Rubber Welder's 918 Alcock (Borger Highway), has been doing mighty fine business since their opening here in Pampa about a month ago, according to Bill Sugg, owner.

Not only is the new O. K. Rubber Welder's Infra-Ray weld revolutionary and scientific, but it features four O. K. exclusives—better cure, greater pressure, better balance and better non-skid tread.

With the better cure, O. K. Rubber Welder's gives you more safety. Normally, five minutes per 32nd of rubber at 290 degrees is required to cure rubber tires. In the manufacture of new tires a perfect cure of both sidewall and tread rubber is remote because of the varied thickness of the tire. Only 15 to 20 minutes are required for a sidewall cure whereas the heavy tread section requires 50 minutes or more.

These varied temperature requirements result in a compromise between overcure of the sidewall and undercure of the tread.

O. K. Rubber Welders equipment is designed to give a perfect cure on the tread rubber through electrically controlled heat, while the sidewall is left free of damaging temperature.

In O. K.'s patented method the sidewalls, which must do a lot of flexing, are protected from damaging heat by pressure, leaving full strength to both the cord and rubber construction.

O. K.'s greater pressure gives you longer wear. Controlled heat and pressure are necessary for a proper cure of rubber. The heat pressure the more porous and spongy the rubber. The more dense the rubber the tougher it becomes.

Midget race drivers who use O. K. caps, where a completely smooth tread is used, claim that O. K. caps outwear new tires consistently.

An air bag method difficulty is often incurred in getting proper union of cap to old carcass. With O. K.'s method the positive union insures that you will never have an O. K. cap loosen or come off. You can expect more miles from an O. K. cap than you can from a "100 level" new tire.

The better balance of O. K.'s tires gives you smoother riding. A major problem in the manufacture of tires is "proper balance." Because rubber is hand-laid in the manufacture of new tires, the human factor presents a problem and results in thousands of unbalanced tires. This condition cannot be corrected in the air bag curing process. The steel perfect circle mechanical pressure system used in the O. K. method corrects this fault and gives perfect balance to your recapped tire.

The better non-skid tread gives you more non-skid mileage. In recent road tests the Radi-Grip design outwore all other treads. In these tests the same tread depth and quality rubber were used under identical conditions.

Travels To Pontiac, Michigan To Tell About Used Cars

NOBLITT-COFFEY'S used car lot is a double-barrelled affair with entrances on both Foster and Gray Streets. Here, Weldon Steward distributes the "Goodwill" Used Cars that the Noblitt-Coffey firm, across the street, so ably keeps in tip-top running condition for your approval.

Ivan Noblitt, local dealer of the Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Inc., left by plane Sunday, April 29, for Pontiac, Michigan. The purpose of his trip is to attend a two-day session Tuesday and Wednesday on used cars. Attending the meeting will be Pontiac dealers from all over the United States. "Nobby" will be one of the featured speakers before the gathering.

Used Cars, the theme of the meeting for the Pontiac dealers, is a subject on which Ivan Noblitt is well versed. With his experience in his own business, the Goodwill Used Car Lot, he has a background that makes him well qualified to speak about used cars.

Across the street from the main plant of the Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Inc., the firm has established the Noblitt-Coffey "Goodwill" Used Car Lot. It is here that the fine work of the firm really becomes evident. The "Goodwill" Used Car Lot. It is nearest to any around the Panhandle area to being new that any used car can be.

Under the direction of Weldon Steward, general manager of the "Goodwill" Used car lot, those "Goodwill" used cars have gained an enviable reputation. For, just as he does on his cars, Nobby backs up his sales agreements and the conditions of his used cars.

Few people realize the tremendous importance of the behind-the-scenes departments in the Automotive Sales Field. A good

In these tests the Radi-Grip outperformed all others.

Stop in at O.K. Rubber Welder's soon and let Bill Sugg explain the complete process to you and also about their guarantee. Remember, they are located at 918 Alcock, Pampa.

Hawkins Crew Brings Latest In Radio, TV

In addition to doing a major portion of the repair, adjustment and installation of home radio sets, the men at Hawkins Radio Lab are in charge of installation, repair and maintenance of almost every major "two-way" mobile communication system in Gray County. One public utility, several oil companies and a transportation organization entrust their radio-com sets to the fine hand of Bill Hawkins, Jr. The inside work, for the most part, falls on Bill, So., and "Red" Hawkins.

For those of you who have tired of radio and are wondering when the Panhandle will get into the television bracket, the following should be good news. It may not be so long before you can go ahead and buy that television set. Take a trip out to Hawkins Radio Lab almost any day and obtain information first-hand. Hawkins has been getting pretty good television reception right here in Pampa lately. Last Wednesday and Thursday when it was a little windy, they were getting comparatively good reception from a distance of 190 air miles. This is remarkable when you realize that around 60 miles is considered the limit, even on good calm days.

Bill Hawkins and his boys have brought television to Pampa. With a few minor adjustments, the addition of a gadget and the construction of a special antenna, you may have television in your home before too many moons.

Inadequate Fire Insurance Can Mean Financial Ruin

Fire annually costs the United States over 10,000 lives, and nearly $500,000,000 in an average annual 1,700,000 conflagrations.

One second's carelessness can cause the loss of many lives and many millions of dollars in property values. One second's carelessness and your life and your property may be the penalty.

Maybe you don't like this being called to your attention, but you do the smoking, you pile up the papers, oil rags and inflammable liquids, you risk using faulty electric appliances day after day.

Of course you don't want to start a fire to see your property burned to the ground, yet a second's carelessness can do just that.

Do you just THINK you have enough fire insurance, or do you know you have? A disastrous fire may mean your financial ruin if you are not adequately protected by insurance. Records show that many property owners who have suffered fire losses recently have had to pay a greater part of the loss themselves because they failed to increase their insurance in line with today's higher replacement costs.

Few people realize how much their own values have risen, due to inflation and new purchases of furniture and equipment. Insurance agents want their clients to be adequately insured, but can't always persuade them! Claim files show many sad cases of under-insurance.

Suppose you had to replace everything you own in either your home or your business. Would your present insurance cover most of your loss? Consider the replacement cost when appraising your fire insurance coverage. Today's values are up from 50 percent to more than double pre-war costs. Now is the time to re-evaluate your fire insurance program to cover today's needs. Do it now . . . tomorrow may be too late.

Unfair Laws May Harm Industry

An example of restrictive, unfair and discriminatory legislation can be found in two bills which pose a real threat to a new industry in West Texas.

The bills (H.B. 140 and 513) propose to place a one percent tax on any product manufactured in Texas that undergoes a chemical change.

Most Americans, by now familiar with the slap-on-the-tax policy, might be inclined to give a sigh of relief when the lawmakers only want one percent, but in this little deal there's a joker. Here is an example:

A company making ethylene from gas would pay a one percent tax on gross sales. Another making ethyl-benzene using ethylene would also pay the tax.

Still one more. This company uses a plasticizer to produce the end product—which may be a belt, billfold, or other product.

The little one percent, easy-to-swallow tax bill now ends up as a FOUR PERCENT tax on a product that requires four different but necessary products before the end product can be produced.

That doesn't go down so easy, does it? Right now, the chemical industry is supporting hundreds of lesser manufacturing plants—all of which might be destroyed by such a measure should it be allowed to become law.

To escape this heavy tax load, which is imposed on a product ON SALE, the big chemical plants would be forced to produce all of them including the end product itself.

It is unlikely that Texas plants could successfully compete in an already highly competitive market—with chemical plants outside the state upon which no such tax is imposed.

Unfair legislation such as this can do an untold amount of harm to West Texas' hopes for sound industrial expansion.

The coming of the Celanese plant to Pampa could conceivably open a new industrial field here, a welcome addition that bodes well for continued expansion and prosperity of the entire Pampa area.

It will be an unfortunate day for this area when laws like these are permitted to throttle vital progress.

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, MD.

It used to be more common than it is now to rave against the evils of strong drink. Certainly alcohol has a lot to answer for and its abuse has brought misery into thousands of homes. Here is a letter sent me not long ago:

"Please help me. My husband drinks so heavily that he will be and steal for drinking. Just last week he took some bonds on the sly and cashed them. I am working to make ends meet."

This is pathological or abnormal drinking, and sad to relate this sort of thing and worse goes on all the time. Many are the desperate wives, children and parents who are face to face with this terrible situation. Some inquire whether there isn't some drug they can slip into the coffee or food which will cure the craving.

No, there is no drug which will cure alcoholism, the term used to describe either the acute occasional cravings or the chronic addiction to alcohol. There appears to be only one answer for persons of this sort, namely, the complete removal from any alcoholic drink forever, including even the mildest ones.

Everyone seems agreed that this is the only solution for the abnormal drinker. Another thing is that no one can tell in advance whether the drinker will be able to follow the treatment through. The difficult thing is how to accomplish it since the flesh is weak even when the mind is willing. Scientists and physicians are working on the problem and have succeeded in some cases in helping the drinker overcome his habit.

But to date one of the most successful methods has been established by a group of former heavy drinkers who have adopted the name of Alcoholics Anonymous. They have offices in many cities (often listed in the telephone book) and have done a great deal to help each other become sober instead of burdens to society.

But no one can do anything for the drinker unless he or she (yes, there are she's too) want to get rid of the toxic habit.

Answering An Eighteen-year Letter Trying to Defend Tax Supported Schools

I am in receipt of an 18 page letter from Mrs. Michael Lehrer, 38 1/2 Bolder Crescent, Colorado Springs, Colorado, asking me to task for opposing tax supported schools. The letter is too long for publication, as it would take six full columns of type.

Mrs. Lehrer is or has been a public school teacher. If there are 25 people who want to read her letter, we will set it in type and pull proofs and mail it to those desiring it. Letters requesting same should be addressed to Byron Akers, editor Gazette-Telegraph, Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Lehrer says my questions are utterly illogical and double-barreled and that I maliciously twist truth, and she trusts that this discussion will be substantial enough to allow no deviation from logic. She also accuses me of twisting blithely plain truths, but gives no concrete evidence to substantiate her opinion. I would have to go to her every time I wanted to know whether things were logical because she gives no examples, but simply makes an arbitrary statement.

She can't understand why others have not attempted to defend tax supported schools. She says either no one reads the column, or people in Colorado Springs agree with it, or that the editor of the Gazette-Telegraph carefully screens articles which will refute such a line of reasoning.

All letters on the subject have been published, excepting this one, because of length, but it will be made available to anyone if there are 25 persons who care to read it.

Probably very few people do read articles on education, because few people are interested in education. That especially applies to public school teachers. Very few are really interested in education. They are only interested in appearing to be interested in education and interested in their jobs.

Mrs. Lehrer asks many questions. She lists seven most of which have no bearing on the question of the morality of public education.

"I. Who is Mr. R. C. Hoiles?" Answer: Publisher.

"2. With what authority does he speak of the American system of education?" Answer: As a writer who realizes that education is necessary if we are to have good government and a high state of civilization.

"3. What income group does Mr. Hoiles represent?" This question has nothing to do with the subject as to whether tax supported schools are moral. It is a mean, nasty way of implying that those in the higher income groups do not want tax supported schools because of taxes. As a matter of fact, those people in the higher income brackets pay relatively very little to tax supported schools because all their local taxes are deductible from their income tax. Public schools only cost the man in the 80% bracket 20%, because the federal government pays the rest due to his deductions.

"4. Where did Mr. Hoiles go to school?" Answer: Both public and private. However, this has nothing to do with whether or not public schools are moral.

"5. What groups of people has he heard denounce our system of tax supported schools as morally wrong?" Answer: Isabel Paterson who wrote "The God of the Machine", that Ayn Rand says is the greatest book published in the last 400 years, says that tax supported schools are "tyranny naked". Rose Wilder Lane, who paid income tax on $53,000 one year as a professional writer, says that tax supported schools are "the primary tyranny". Frank Chodorov; Henry Link; Leonard Read, president of the Foundation for Economic Education; Orval Watts, of Claremont College all publicly oppose tax supported schools. In fact, every person who can and will answer questions about what he is advocating without contradicting himself, or claiming that there is a double standard of right and wrong, opposes tax supported schools.

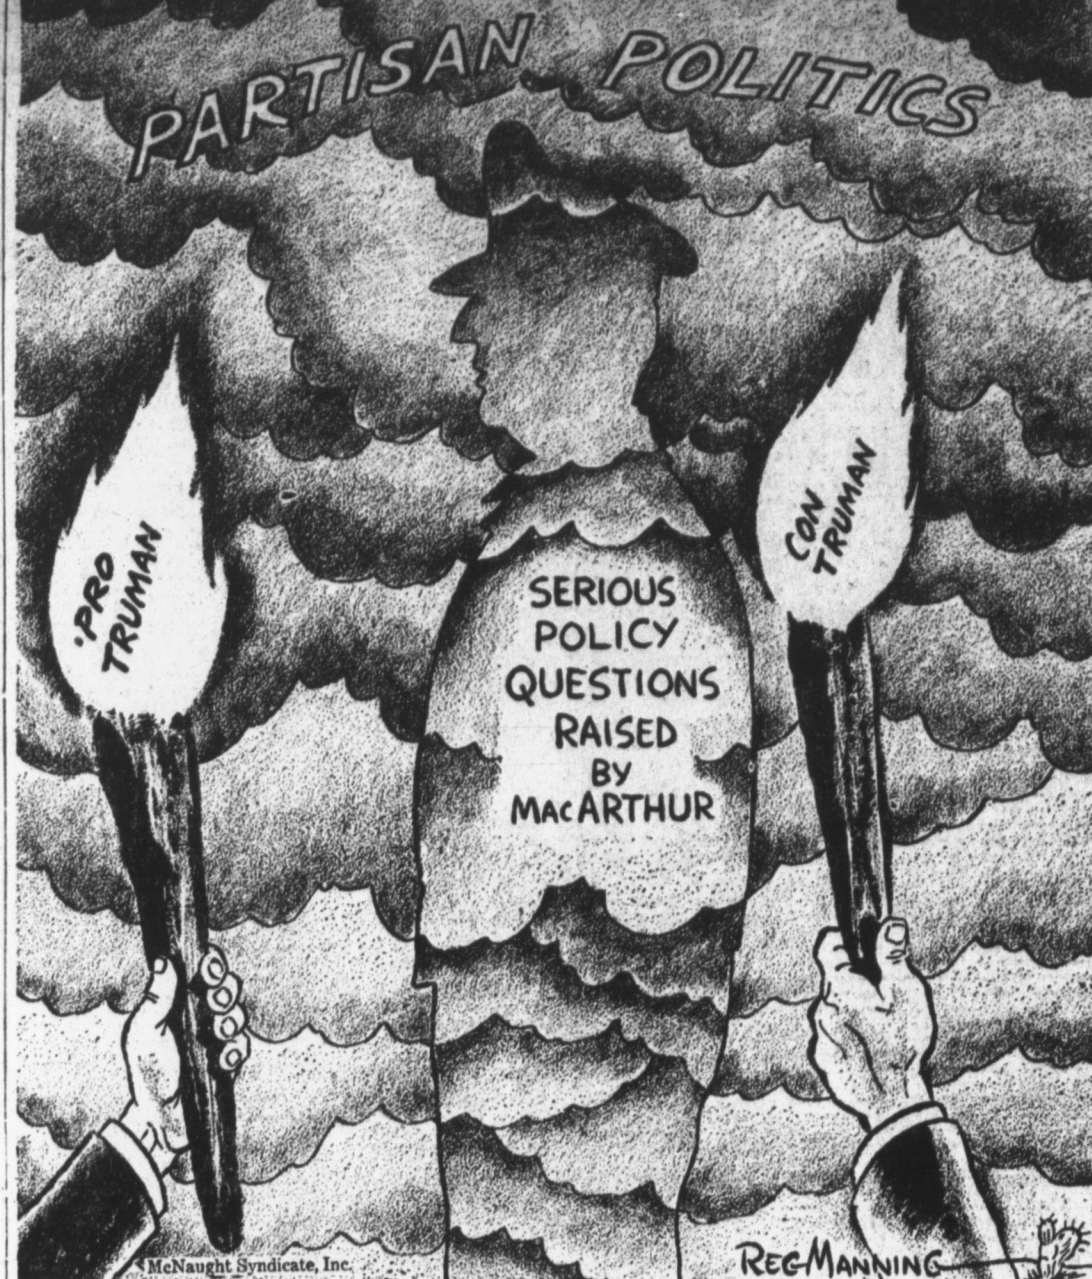

"6. What does morality have to do with tax supported schools, anyway?" Answer: Morality has to do with every act of individuals or individuals in groups. Is not such a question an admission that she is deviating from logic and seems to think that morality has nothing at all to do with tax supported schools? Is she admitting that she doesn't believe that tax supported schools should be operated on a moral basis?

"7. Since when have the decisions of the majority been so damning?" Answer: Decisions of the majority or minority have nothing at all to do with morality. A thing is moral or not because Mrs. Lehrer or I believe it or the majority believes it. It is moral because it is in agreement with natural law and because it is useful to every human being and thus enables him to develop and have more experiences and a more abundant life.

The Fading Soldier

Washington... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Price Stabilization Director Michael V. DiSalle admits with a grin that his new manufacturers' ceiling price regulation—CPR No. 22—may disturb some people. It's another of those masterful understatement statements for which the ex-mayor of Toledo is famous.

CPR 22 doesn't take effect till May 28. It will take the 75,000 U. S. manufacturing concerns affected nearly that long to find out what the new order will do to meet the new situation.

The new order will have no effect on major cost-of-living items like fresh meats and poultry, dairy products, fresh frozen and canned seasonal fruits and vegetables, fuels and a p p a r e l. They are exempted from this order. New "tailored" orders on shoes and apparel are to be issued soon. Fixing prices on farm products will require changes in the law.

Eventually some effect should be felt on furniture, household appliances, hardware and a wide range of processed foods like baked beans, spaghetti, cereals, pretzels, peanut butter and dog food. They're all covered by the new order.

Present store inventories acquired at high prices will have to be bought out and replaced by newer stocks acquired at lower prices before the household will be able to notice the difference, if any.

Attempts to regulate profits caused Chester Bowles in 1945 headaches and did more to wreck OPA than anything that happened in the last war. OPA tried to grant relief in hardship cases. It got 60,000 appeals petitions and never did catch up with them.

Price Director DiSalle has made a study of OPA's history of grief and he tried to avoid this head-on. He insists that his new CPR 22 is not trying to control the profits of manufacturers. It is only trying to regulate price ceilings.

To try to control profits would mean putting a dozen or more price ceilings in one industry. Efficiency would be penalized. The least efficient firms with highest production costs would be given a guaranteed profit, and the public would never get any benefits.

There is still considerable difference of opinion in the Truman administration as to what price policy should be. From the union labor groups there is pressure for a tough policy. From the business groups, the pressure is to allow all price increases.

Director DiSalle, with some apparent pride of authorship, thinks his new formula hits between the two extremes and is just about right. By this he means it is intended to be fair to manufacturers and producers alike.

He had a tough time getting this formula approved, bucking it through the Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston, then through the office of Defense Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson, and finally through President Truman.

In drafting the 23-page, 82-section order, DiSalle is a n e d heavily by the young men who are too well known now, but perhaps destined to become so. They were Gardner Ackley, economist; Harold Levenhan of New York, now OPS chief counsel; formerly a Department of Justice, War Crimes and Hoover Commission lawyer; Arnold Shaw of Chicago, special assistant to DiSalle and former Department of Justice attorney; and Robert Farago of Oak Park, Ill., former Alien Property attorney.

English Need Free Dentures To Bite Hand That Feeds Them

stated in lower chart. BY HENRY McLEMORE

I have finally figured out why Anseinrivan resigned as Minister of Labor when it was suggested that Englishmen pay something for their false teeth instead of getting them free under the National Health Service.

At first I didn't understand why he should get so mad about this, but Bevan's valetocratic speech in the House of Commons made it quite plain.

He wants free dentures for the King's subjects so that every one of them will be able to times to bite the hand that feeds him.

Now if Englishmen have to pay a few shillings for their upper and lowers it is quite possible that a few of them will have to do without the proper biting equipment, and instead of feasting off America's succulent handiwork will have to chew on Yorkshire pudding, or like stuff.

Bevan feels that any Englishman deprived of taking solid snips out of the hand that feeds him is not being given a fair deal. He feels it isn't cricket, and he resigned rather than have any of his countrymen suffer such an indignity.

His two slogans, with which he will stump the country in an effort to gain control of the Labor Party for the southpaw faction of same, are "Back to Socialism" and "Independence from America."

Another thing that annoyed Bevan into quitting was the proposal that spectacles not be free, either, but that Englishmen be made to pay half the cost of them. Perhaps a crisis could have been averted on this issue had Churchill and his party suggested that monacles be given free, but spectacles be paid for. A monacle is, after all, half a pair of spectacles.

The sight of millions of English workers wearing monacles would be a most pleasing one, and one which would add immensely to the attractiveness of the tight little tie.

Reports from London would indicate that Bevan's slogan of "Independence from America" is going to be very popular with many of England's workmen, there be-

The White Man

BY DAVID BAXTER

PART TWO

It is generally believed among scholars that the Caucasians first came to notice as a progressive people in middle Asia—in Persia. The Bible mentions that Abraham, the forerunner of the Children of Israel, was called out of Ur of the Chaldees. The present abode of calling the Israelites "Jews" is not accurate, since Judah was but one of the twelve tribes from which the twelve tribes sprang. Abraham certainly was of Chaldean background. King David, of the tribe of Judah, was partly of Moabite ancestry, too, his grandmother being the non-Israelite Moabitess, Ruth. This ancestry goes down to Jesus Himself.

The special part the Israelites were to play on the world stage was to point the way to ONE GOD and His Moral Law—to be a light to the nations' spiritually and to anticipate and carry the message of the Promised One, the Messiah, Who would be the Savior of all men. That's how important God's moral standard was—that a pure race of people were to be singled out to make it a blessing to all races. Since Abraham was originally a Chaldean or Persian it is generally assumed that he was white and that the original Israelites were white. According to the Bible, God had a very strict rule against their intermarrying and mongrelizing with other peoples although they were to be a blessing to others and extend love and hospitality to the stranger.

It is significant that when the Israelites stubbornly and wilfully disobeyed the Commandments continually and neglected their mission of morality that God permitted them to be kicked around and finally hauled away into captivity in Babylon and Persia. Right after Solomon's death, the king having intermarried with hundreds of women producing hybrid children, when Israel was right at the crest of its splendor, the ten tribes and Judah and another tribe split up, from that time being known as the kingdoms of Israel and Judah. In the Babylonian captivity the people mixed with over 200 other nations and but few of those who returned to Jerusalem and Samaria and were there when Jesus appeared had any racial purity. Even the Samaritan Israelites and the Jews despised one another. Later they were mixed up with the Khazars, Mongolians, who settled in Palestine and from whom the present language called Yiddish stems. Through stubborn violation of Divine Law the Israelites muffed their mission badly. St. Stephen, a wise Christian who dared to stand up and tell them what they had been doing wrong since the time of the apostles, was stoned to death and became the first martyr. Stephen—probably an Israelite himself—wanted to point the people to God, to Christ the Savior and to the practice of the Golden Rule during their sojourn here on this earth. Moral men of today who believe in moral principles can well sympathize with Stephen. Mob rule, spiritual degeneracy and violation of moral principles both by individuals and governments are the order of the day. Whenever any man says he believes in majority rule, whether mob rule or rejection of the Divine rules of conduct.

Back in ancient history, however, in the meantime other white men were following a course of conquest and civilization of a sort. The Persians built a great empire, the first of four world-wide empires, all with white leadership. A curious thing is that this civilization—ALWAYS MOVED WEST. Beginning in Asia it jumped to Greece. The Alexander the Great carried it a little further west and the Greeks gave place to the Romans farther west in Italy. Rome was the last world empire but it was not the last of white civilization's movement westward. The Romans mixed up with conquered peoples, grew soft and over-luxurious and before long the Germanic tribes from the north—big, barbarian, yellow-haired, blue-eyed people, knocked the Roman Empire off its hinges and supplanted the soft, dissipated emperors with strong leadership.

Then west again over the British channel to the Isles and the founding of the British Empire. By a remarkable incident, the basic laws of Britain were the laws given to Moses on Mt. Sinai, Magna Charta, incorporating the rights of individuals and limiting of kingly power, came into being in Britain. Slowly but surely the evolution of white civilization westward was making progress and little by little men were getting more liberty. The worst mistake the British ever made was to become soft, forsake their basic law and embark on the seas of socialism. It never has been the nature of white civilization to be collectivized, monopolized, tyrannized. Every revolution has been another step to gradually overthrow these things and achieve one more step toward absolute freedom of the individual. The British are learning their lesson—too late. They've lost their leadership and are now losing their independence and so far have their former prestige fallen apart that they have even lost their standard of living, going from bad to worse.

May Department Stores were limited amount of capital. This year they expect to do over $400,000,000 worth of business.

There are two main reasons for this. One of them is SERVICE. The founder's motto was "Goods retailed at wholesale prices." They have tried ever since to give the customer MORE for his money. Customers appreciated it and brought their dollars to the May cash register and made them "big business."

The second reason is FAITH. When David May opened the first May Department Store, he ASSUMED he was going to prosper and ACTED ON that assumption. The company has "acted that way" ever since. During the de-

National Whirligig

BY RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Truman's most spectacular and most publicized outbursts of petulance have had a personal motive or origin and have not affected adversely high affairs of state.

No great national interest, for instance, suffered seriously from his rebukes to a boyish music critic, Bernard M. Baruch, James F. Brynes, John L. Lewis, the United States Marines National American Legion Commander Earl Cocks, Jr., and other figures, who woke up some morning to find themselves in Mr. Truman's literary doghouse.

Indeed, recognizing that the man from Missouri is both human and harassed, many tolerant people understood his spluttering retaliations from on high, even if they thought them unbecoming in the leader of a great nation.

Many were amused and sympathetic when, in looking forward to release from White House restrictions and confinement, he vowed that he would "go around and punch the nose" of a couple of reporters and commentators who had offended him by their writings and reports.

PETULANCE — But Mr. Truman's latest example of personal vendictiveness carried it a little further west and from Missouri to the farm front. From all indications on and off Capitol Hill, it has produced discord and hard feelings among the major organizations responsible in large part for stimulating food production in this critical period.

It threatens prompt and effective stabilization of the national economy in this turbulent time as seriously as did his month-long break with labor leaders over the terms of wage reduction.

That dispute has held up imposition of firm and permanent controls for more than two months.

ever, in the meantime other white men were following a course of conquest and civilization of a sort. The Persians built a great empire, the first of four world-wide empires, all with white leadership. A curious thing is that this civilization—ALWAYS MOVED WEST. Beginning in Asia it jumped to Greece. The Alexander the Great carried it a little further west and the Greeks gave place to the Romans farther west in Italy. Rome was the last world empire but it was not the last of white civilization's movement westward. The Romans mixed up with conquered peoples, grew soft and over-luxurious and before long the Germanic tribes from the north—big, barbarian, yellow-haired, blue-eyed people, knocked the Roman Empire off its hinges and supplanted the soft, dissipated emperors with strong leadership.

Then west again over the British channel to the Isles and the founding of the British Empire. By a remarkable incident, the basic laws of Britain were the laws given to Moses on Mt. Sinai, Magna Charta, incorporating the rights of individuals and limiting of kingly power, came into being in Britain. Slowly but surely the evolution of white civilization westward was making progress and little by little men were getting more liberty. The worst mistake the British ever made was to become soft, forsake their basic law and embark on the seas of socialism. It never has been the nature of white civilization to be collectivized, monopolized, tyrannized. Every revolution has been another step to gradually overthrow these things and achieve one more step toward absolute freedom of the individual. The British are learning their lesson—too late. They've lost their leadership and are now losing their independence and so far have their former prestige fallen apart that they have even lost their standard of living, going from bad to worse.

Giants On Way To Setting New Low For Losing Streak

(By The Associated Press) It no longer is a question of where the Giants will finish. They are asking — will they finish? Thunderstruck by the club's consecutive defeat — yesterday the Giants lost again yesterday. New York fandom is wondering what Leo Durocher is going to do next. Just picture the Giants' plight today. The situation is almost unbelievable. This is the ballyhooed Giants, the club a majority of experts picked on opening day to win the flag. Now, two weeks later, Durocher's "my kind of club" is wallowing deep in the basement in danger of dropping out of sight completely. The end is not yet in sight. Already in the midst of the third worst losing streak in the club's history, the dispirited Giants must face the relentless Dodgers in Brooklyn again tonight.

The Brooks have won all five clashes between these arch rivals. Two more losses would equal the Giants' longest losing streak. They dropped 13 straight in 1922 and 1944. It was not until the sixth inning yesterday that the Dodgers broke up a 2-2 deadlock with a three-run uprising to pave the way for their 6-3 victory. Larry Jansen, who started so well with that opening day shut-out win, was the loser. A bad case of "homeitis" proved his downfall. The first of Duke Snider's two homers put the Dodgers in front, 1-0, in the fourth. After the Giants had gone ahead, 2-1, on a homer by Bobby Thomson, the Brooks drove even in the fifth and went ahead in the next round when Gil Hodges blasted his round tripper with Jackie Robinson aboard.

Snider's second solo blast came in the seventh off Dave Kosiof. Erskine, although routed in the seventh, was credited with his first victory. The victory put the Brooks into a three-way tie for first place with Boston and St. Louis. The Braves divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia. They won the opener, 1-0, although held to two hits by Jacko Thompson. The Phils overcame a six-run first inning by Boston to win the second game, 10-9.

Harry Ercchen held the Cubs to six hits in Chicago to win his second game as the Cardinals pounded out a 6-3 triumph. Enoch Slaughter drove in three St. Louis runs with a double and two singles. Pittsburgh climaxed an uphill battle, beating Cincinnati, 9-8, in the opener of a doubleheader that went 13 innings. The second game ended in a 1-1 tie-inning tie called because of the Pennsylvania curfew law. Doubles by Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich won the opener in the 13th after Ralph Kiner's homer had tied the score at 9-9 in the ninth.

The lowly St. Louis Browns stunned the Cleveland Indians by sweeping both ends of their doubleheader in St. Louis, 6-3 and 13-1, to drop the Tribe into first place tie with Washington. The Senators backed into their share of the lead, accepting a 4-0 licking by the Yankees in New York. Cleveland and Washington each has won seven and lost three. The third place Yankees have won eight and lost four.

Ed Lopat pitched the shutout, his second in a row, and his third victory without a defeat. Boston's Red Sox tallied four

Warren's Warmup

It's nice to get back in harness once again, although I was sorry to see Spec Reynolds leave. But the battle of the Sandies was just too much, I guess (or else he's expecting a bad season for OU and Bud Wilkinson this fall).

You know, scanning through all of the picture magazines that arrive at the doorstep (we don't have time to read the stories) it's not hard to see why baseball is called America's national pastime. Take the most recent I played up pictures, those of an American youth, son of one of history's greatest generals, and a boy who in the 14 years of his life had never seen his father.

Baseball moves too fast; I can't see the ball. I try to think out the opposition. But in baseball the fan can say "Now if I was managing I'd have this guy bunting" or "I'd have that pitcher out there!" Then he goes back and sees how his strategy works out with what the manager of the club has decided and compares his views with the eventual outcome of the play.

Harvesters 10 Ollers 10

The Pampa Harvesters' basketball victory of their first league season in the record book, 10-6 win over Borger Saturday afternoon will battle the high-flying Amarillo Sandies tomorrow afternoon in Pampa. The game has been scheduled for Oiler Park but may be switched to the Harvesters' diamond near the high school due to the Ollers playing at home against Lubbock tomorrow night.

The Harvesters are expected to open with freshman Ed Dudley on the hill. Dudley came in to fireball his way through the final game against Borger Saturday after Jimmy Cook had hurled five ball the first six innings.

The last time the two clubs met, at Amarillo, the Harvesters had the game in the bag going into the final inning, but some wildness and costly errors handed the victory to the Sandies. Green and Gold, a very inexperienced club at the start of the season, has developed rapidly in the last two weeks and is ready to atone for the 28-5 and 8-7 losses suffered at the hands of coach Carl Matney's Sandstorm. On Wednesday afternoon the Harvesters will play Mobeette at Oiler Park and on Friday afternoon the Bulldogs come back for a return game.

Loss Is Fourth In Row At Hands Of New Mexicans

CLOVIS — (AP) — The Clovis Pioneers outlasted the Pampa Oilers, 11-10, in a long, drawn-out contest here Sunday afternoon to sweep the two-game series. Three homers were blasted in the wind-blown game. Nelson Davis and Gil Castillo hit one each for the Oilers. Joe Wisniewski pounded one for Clovis. Tonight the Oilers will open an abbreviated two-game series against Paul Dean's Lubbock Harvesters at Oiler Park. Manager Seitz is expected to start either Howard Bass or Mel Kramer against the third-place Hubs.

The Pioneers assaulted Mack Hyde and George Washington Matthews for 19 hits. Pampa collected 12 off a quartet of Clovis hurlers. Bill Rosin, second Pioneer moundman, received credit for his first victory. Hyde, who started for Pampa, was charged with the loss.

Hyde's winds caused all sorts of tricks with the pellet. Ordinary singles went for extra bases and pop flies fell for singles. The deciding run came on a fluke hit. Catcher Frank Calo slashed a double down the third base line to Ray Bauer who had singled starting the sixth. Wally Rodriguez, who had a perfect day at bat, dropped a Texas leaguer into short right. The ball took a crazy hop and by the time rightfielder Hank Chatellier retrieved it, Calo had scored and Rodriguez was parked on third.

Rodriguez was noisen to Pampa all afternoon. He cracked out four other hits, his screaming single in the first driving in two runs to climax a four-run outburst which erased Pampa's 3-2 lead. Rodriguez' heroics in four runs during the course of the windy afternoon. Castillo's homer, a walk and hit batsman and Nelson Davis' double gave Pampa the lead in the first. After Clovis sputtered, the Oilers waited until the third inning when the count at 4-4. Virgil Richardson's single, a Pioneer's fielder's choice and Hyde's infield pop which the wind carried and plunked fair gave Pampa its fourth run.

Two singles and Joe Wisniewski's homer put Clovis ahead again in the bottom of the third and finished Hyde. Matthews scored in the next frame and was rapped hard for four hits and two runs, successive doubles by Pennington and Bauer featuring the assault. The Oilers solved southpaw Joe Borrego's slants in the fifth. Davis popped a homer into left field and after Bill Whitehorn had been retired for the second out, Pampa went to town. Rice doubled, Matthews singled and so did Castillo. Suarez doubled to bring Pampa within one run of the Pioneer's lead. The Blue Sox adied two more in the ninth on Seitz's two-baser and Bowland's home run. Bob Zolliecker came in then and struck out three men to retire the side. Then Hunter set down the Gold Sox in order to end the game.

Miller, who relieved Fred Schmidt in the fourth inning, was the winner, and Halter, who pitched the eighth, was charged with the loss. AT AMARILLO — (AP) — The Amarillo Blue Sox outlasted the Lubbock Oilers, 16-12, in a free-hitting slugfest here Sunday afternoon that saw eight home runs pounded with the aid of a strong south wind. Abilene knocked out 19 hits off four Amarillo pitchers and Amarillo got the same number of three Blue Sox hurlers. Crawford Howard, Gold Sox leftfielder, boomed three home runs in succession, and Paul Halter added another for Amarillo. For Abilene, Walt Seitz, Charles Schmidt, Ed Fenelon and Art Bowland hit for the circuit. The Blue Sox broke a 12-12 deadlock in the eighth inning, teeing off on Halter. Amarillo rightfielder who was drafted to mound duty in that frame. A walk to Fenelon, Babe Tuckey's fielder's choice, a single by Hack Miller and Halter's wild pitch accounted for Abilene's runs.

The Oilers made their final bid in the eighth. Two walks sandwiched around Chatellier's single loaded the corners. Davis struck out but Whitehorn singled, scoring Woldt and Chatellier. Richardson hit for the second time in the game. When Rice beat out a slow roller to third jamming the sacks again, Rosin was lifted in favor of Richard Meyers, a southpaw. Meyers fanned Matthews and got Castillo on a grounder to Pennington at third. Righthander Pat Randall twirled in the ninth and retired the Oilers in order, victimizing Chatellier on a called third strike for the final out. Davis was Pampa's big hitter with a homer and two bagger and three runs batted in.

Real sorry to hear about the injury suffered by the city amateur golf champion, Grover Austin, Jr. But those things do happen very easily, especially on a windy day or when the course is crowded. I recall one incident that happened when I was about 12 years old. A schoolmate and I were out golfing with my father, who hits (or rather, who hit) a weird slice. To control it, he "played" it. My schoolmate got out in front of us on one hole and turned to watch Dad hit the ball. Playing the slice, the ball went right for my buddy. He saw it coming, but was frozen in his tracks. The ball struck him right in the middle of the forehead. By the time we had dropped our clubs and rushed up to him he was standing with his hand on his forehead, covering a bump the size of a large robin's egg. The only comment he could make in his stunned condition was: "Did it hit me?" Coach Dwaine Lyon has done a magnificent job with the Harvesters baseball team. If you don't believe that come out tomorrow afternoon and watch the boys play the Sandies, a club that thumped them 28-5 in Pampa earlier this year. Incidentally, somewhere in this native land, there should be some baseball uniforms that the American Legion junior team wore several summer ago. There are several fellows interested in forming that team again this summer and matching games with other junior Legion teams throughout the Panhandle. We've got plenty of boys willing to play, and the experience

District 1-AAAA Cage Sched Set; All Clubs To Play Here

Pampa Harvesters basketball fans will get a chance to look at some of the top cage clubs in the district schedule opens Jan. 2, appearance in the newly formed District 1-AAAA. All of the other clubs in the conference — Borger, Amarillo, Lubbock, Odessa, San Angelo and Abilene — will play in Pampa and in (we hope) the new field house, slowly being erected on the site near the high school. A decision to play a double round-robin schedule was settled upon by the coaches and athletic directors of the new conference.

Irish Exes Nip Varsity In Shamrock Spring Grid Tilt

SHAMROCK — (Special) — After playing a strong game, the Team of 1951 faltered for a moment as the fourth quarter opened. Hurrall Dummam hurled a sensational pass down the middle to versatile Vernon Tarbet, and he swept 49 more yards to the 1951's 7-yard stripe, setting up the winning touchdown, as the Irish Exes won, 7-0 here Wednesday.

Blue Sox Outlast Gold Hose, 16-12

AMARILLO — (AP) — Abilene's Blue Sox outlasted the Amarillo Gold Sox, 16-12, in a free-hitting slugfest here Sunday afternoon that saw eight home runs pounded with the aid of a strong south wind. Statistics shows 51 yards rushing for the 1951 crew to 57 for the Exes, and 99 to 91 passing for the Exes. Each team registered five first downs, although two of the 1951's first downs came on penalties. Both teams looked good at times, and everything points to a good 1951 team, with a veteran line and rapidly developing backfield. Vaughn Terry, Joe Douglas and Cayson Evans were very effective in stopping the 1951 crew's running. Coach Scott McCall's spring grid practice draws to an end this week. The longest overtime game in the National Hockey League took place in Montreal when the Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings played 116 minutes and 20 seconds of overtime play before Detroit won, 1-0.

Lamesa Sweeps Series At Borger

BORGER — (AP) — The Lamesa Lobos pounded out a 9-5 decision over the Borger Gassers Sunday in Huber Park to sweep a two-game series from the Tri-City crew. Lobo righthander Eulis Roason went the distance and allowed only six Gasser hits. Four of the Borger runs were unearned. They came in the fourth inning and were the result of three Lobo errors. Big Len Ruyle, making his first appearance since the start of the season, was in trouble almost from the first. He walked two men in the first inning but a brilliant catch by rookie shortstop Woody Pennington off Stokes' line drive prevented any damage. # U.S. Chamber Asking For Peace Talks With Russians

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An endorsement of direct negotiation with Russia for world peace was presented today for approval of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Welshmen Give Bevan Big Vote Of Confidence At Rally

EBBY VALE, Wales — (AP) — The home folks gave rebel Laborite Aneurin a rousing voice vote of confidence last night and okayed his withdrawal from Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet.

Listed as speakers at today's opening session were Secretary of State Acheson and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), whose foreign policy views are usually in direct conflict.

Though he repeated his previous criticisms of American rearmament, stockpiling and civilian consumption — which he said were hamstringing Britain and causing world inflation — Bevan asserted he was neither anti-American nor "anti any nation."

Approval of a rapid and vigorous U.S. mobilization program was taken for granted.
