Sixth Man Faces Arrest In Rustling

Arrest of a sixth man, and possibly more, was expected in "a few days" by Hemphill and Lipscomb County authorities who Thursday broke up a cattle-theft ring that was believed to have been in operation on the North Plains for two or more years. The case was first disclosed Thursday in Canadian when Hurdle Smith, prominent Glazier merchant, was arrested and charged in justice court with receiving and concealing stolen cattle. He was released under $10,000 bond to appear Tuesday before the grand jury in Canadian. Smith, who denies he knew the cattle were stolen, has refused to go to Austin for lie detector tests, Hemphill County Sheriff Clyde Risley reported. Smith admits purchasing the cattle, the sheriff said.

Also charged were Dennis Williams and Leroy Price, both of Canadian, who are out on $1,000 bonds, pending grand jury hearing. In Lipscomb County, similar charges were filed Thursday against L. G. Brown, formerly a butcher in Higgins, and Jimmy Shafter, 21, son of Willie Shafter. (See RUSTLING, Page 2)

Engineers Planning To Raise Tugboat In Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Engineers planned today to raise a sunken tugboat, believed to be the tomb of five crewmen who perished when it collided with a 10,000-ton tanker in the Mississippi River near here yesterday. The four other members of the crew are in a hospital here recovering from injuries, shock and exposure. They escaped as the tugboat capsized after the collision. Listed as missing are the skipper, Robert W. Wilkerson, 50, of Memphis, Tenn.; two engineers, Francis L. Thomas, 25, Jonesboro, Ill., and Thomas Lovett, 25, Memphis; and deck hands Fred Huntz, 24, of Jones, Ark., and Jerry Cannon, 18, of Memphis. The tugboat — the Don Quinn of Memphis — sank in 28 feet of water 200 feet offshore while Army engineers worked frantically to cut an escape hole through the hull to the men. Would-be rescuers said they heard men screaming and hammering against their iron-clad tomb as it sank an hour and a half after the collision.

Shamrock Soldier Missing In Action

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Pfc. R. C. Meathenia, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meathenia of Shamrock, was reported missing in Korea in a telegram his parents received from the Defense Dept. July 4. Meathenia, a Purple Heart winner and veteran of World War II, was an infantry reservist and was recalled to active duty Jan. 28, 1951. At the time he was reported missing, Pfc. Meathenia was a member of the 15th Infantry regiment, Third Division of the Eighth Army. He has been missing since June 24, the telegram said. He was raised in the McLean area, but had lived in Shamrock for the past 11 years. He is 28. Install it yourself — save 10%. See the complete line of washers, air coolers for home and business. Battle Shaping Up On New Controls

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Intervention by the Democratic National Committee in the congressional fight over price controls has staked the arena.

And House Republicans indicated today they are willing to slug it out on that basis right up to the 1952 presidential election. William M. Boyle, Jr., chairman of the Democratic National Committee, entered the fight yesterday with a call to all committee members and state chairmen and vice chairmen to rally behind President Truman's campaign for a tighter rein on the nation's economy. Boyle's telegram to the party leaders urged them to "seek action by mayors, other elected officials and civic leaders to support strong price control legislation without amendments or weakening exemptions." It added: "Your views and those of other community leaders will have great weight with your congressional delegation. Action is needed now as voting starts Monday in the House of Representatives." The House today continued debate on a bill to extend for one year the Defense Production Act which provides wage, price, rent and other controls. The act, recently extended for one month, is due to expire July 31. President Truman wants it strengthened. The Senate already has passed an eight-month extension which rejects the changes Mr. Truman proposed and waters (See BATTLE, Page 2)

Burdette Asks Airport Petitions

Those circulating petitions to call a bond issue for the airport improvement program have been urged to turn petitions in at the local chamber of commerce on or before Monday morning. The request was made this morning by Hugh Burdette, chairman of the Chamber Airport committee. The request was made in order that petitions can be handed to County Commissioners court Monday afternoon. Petitions will call for voting on a bond issue of $168,700 which will be used to provide an airport for the Pampa area by improving the northwest field. Let's go Evinruding, Lewis Hardware.—adv.

Didn't Know War Was Over:

Bewildered Japs Returned Home After Six Years On Isle

TOKYO — (AP) — A Marine transport plane today catapulted 19 bewildered, Rip Van Winkle Japanese soldiers from the middle of the Pacific war into post-war Japan. Last Saturday they surrendered to the U. S. Navy. They had held out on tiny Anashaban Island in the Marianas for nearly six years after the war ended. They had insisted the war still was going on. A six-and-a-half-hour trip from Guam brought the Japanese soldiers to Haneda Airport outside Tokyo. All but two had their hair close-cropped, in the style of the old Japanese Imperial Army. They wore United States Army boots and khaki trousers. They wore Hawaiian aloha shirts, ranging in hue from pure white to bright blue and yellow, tucked into their trousers. Each man carried a large hand-woven net bag. Through the netting peered rectangular boxes of duralumin, presumably from a B-29 shot down on the island. One of them, a white-haired man, spoke into a microphone and told of their lives on the island. The others huddled together in sheep-like silence. They seemed still constricted between the freedom of civilian life and the ingrained discipline of army life. All seemed healthy, tanned to a dark brown, except one man who leaned on the shoulder of another. Questioned on their feelings about reaching Japan, they replied "happy." A soft flame kindled in their eyes as they answered. Then they turned away and lapsed into silence, as if afraid to talk.

Allied War Planes Ordered A way From Kaesong Road

Safe Conduct Is Guaranteed Reds

TOKYO — (AP) — Allied war planes today were ordered to keep away from the highway down which Communist negotiators will travel for cease-fire preliminary talks in Kaesong. Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, issued the order a few hours after opposing commanders completed arrangements by radio for a Sunday meeting—and guaranteed safe conduct to the emissaries. The Communist delegation leaves Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital, at 5 a.m. Saturday (2 p.m. EST, today.) The Communist convoy will fly white flags as it travels down the bomb-pocked Pyongyang-Sariwon-Namchongjom Highway to Kaesong, three miles south of Parallel 38. General Weyland ordered his war planes to make no attacks along the route after 4 a.m. Saturday (1 p.m. EST Friday.)

The order carried out the pledge of safe conduct made earlier in the day by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander. And it banned allied bombers from one of their favorite targets. The highway is a main Red supply artery to the western front. It has been under almost constant attack for months. Bombs have cratered it badly. And it is liberally seeded with tetrahedrons—sharp, four-pointed cast iron devices for puncturing tires. Bombers and fighters also were ordered to make no attacks within a five mile radius of Kaesong, once the Red delegation reaches it. This carried out another pledge Ridgway made when he completed final arrangements for a meeting of three UN officers with eight Communist emissaries in the no-man's-land city. The two delegations meet Sunday to arrange for a cease-fire session scheduled to start in Kaesong Thursday.

The shooting will continue until an agreement is reached at the second meeting, and approved. A single Communist plane whirred in Friday's fighting. It dropped a few small bombs near allied positions on the western side of the road, about 30 miles from Kaesong. UN planes were back in the air on rocketing and bombing strikes after flying only 470 sorties Thursday. "No significant action" developed on the ground, the U. S. Eighth Army reported in its Friday morning communique, "and the front remained relatively quiet." UN naval forces carried the bombardment of Wonsan, a strategic communications center, into the 141st day. The U. S. destroyers Blue and Evans silenced Communist shore batteries in a 75-minute artillery duel. The Navy said no hits were scored by the Red guns. Some damage to the patrol frigate Everett and injured four men. In general, the roaring, killing war that has cost the Communists more than 1,000,000 casualties by UN estimates and allied about a fourth as many—was at a virtual standstill. Sunday's meeting in Kaesong is only a preliminary step toward bringing it to an end. The Communist delegation will leave the Pyongyang area at 5 p.m. Saturday (2 p.m. EST Friday.) It will travel in five jeeps and five trucks, each bearing a white flag. The Red route is down the (See ALLIED, Page 2)

Signpost For Souvenir: Texan Jailed By Commies

HELSINKI, Finland — (AP) — Young David Russell Reeves has been put in Helsinki jail until he pays a fine for swiping a Soviet frontier signpost as a souvenir. Reeves is 20, a Yale student and son of the president of the Highland State Bank in San Antonio. His fine is 9,000 Finnish marks (about $30). By Finnish border police after he crossed the Finn-Russian border and came back with the frontier signpost. The signpost was returned to the Russians. A Finnish district court gave Reeves a suspended sentence of four months and the fine. If the fine isn't paid it will be changed to 60 days in prison. Reeves was transferred Wednesday from Williamstrand, near the Russian border, to Helsinki. He had been traveling through Europe and reached Finland June 22. His border prank might not have been discovered if he had not talked too freely to a Finnish couple with whom he was hitchhiking. They became afraid of consequences of the act and told border police.

Rodeo Group To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the Top o' Texas rodeo ticket sales and finance committee is set for 7:30 p.m. today, John Pitts, chairman, announced today. Committee members include Floyd Watson, Harvey Nienstiel, Lloyd Inel, A. A. Schuneman, Aubrey Jones and Ed Cleveland. The meeting will be held in the chamber of commerce office, Pitts said.

CBS To Air Voice Of William Oatis

NEW YORK — (AP) — The voice of William Oatis, recorded while on trial before a Czech Communist court, will be broadcast tonight over NBC at 8:45 (CST). Oatis, Associated Press correspondent in Prague, was sentenced by the Czech government to ten years for espionage. NBC said it recorded overseas the trial proceedings as broadcast by the Czech radio, with Oatis replying to questions put him through an interpreter by the prosecutor. Abe Goldberg, formerly AP's Prague correspondent, and now reporting the United Nations' proceedings, will be on tonight's radio program.

Derby Officials Push Completion Of Racers

With little more than two weeks remaining before the local Soap Box Derby, officials today urged boys to put forth every effort to complete their racers as soon as possible. Paul Brown, advisor to the Soap Box Derby Committee, announced inspection day in Pampa will be July 18. Place of inspection will be announced later. Brown said it is necessary for every entrant to check all measurements of their racers with the 1951 rule book to be certain their cars are regulation. He said any boy who was uncertain about some of the rules could get necessary information at Culberson Chevrolet. Soap Box Derby boys may add weight to their racing cars this year to bring them up to the top limit of 250 pounds for car and boy combined. This is one of the most significant changes in the 1951 rule book. Brown said that added weight must be securely built into the body or chassis. "No loose material of any kind is permitted in the car," he said. "It must be firmly anchored."

Solon Admits Being Offered Money By Contract Seeker

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Bennett (D-Ill.) told a Senate subcommittee today he has been offered substantial sums of money to help defense contract seekers meet "the right" people in government agencies. He gave few details in his testimony at Senate labor subcommittee hearings on a bill proposing creation of a commission on ethics in the government. He said he rejected the offer, with a "lecture" to the man who made it. "He said he did this in the last war," Bennett declared, and added that the man "seemed surprised" at the refusal. Bennett did not say whether he has reported the alleged offer to law enforcement officers. The senators on the subcommittee meantime had an ethical problem of their own. Witnesses, who were expected to give only generalized testimony on the subject of ethics and were not required to testify under oath, have started firing specific charges; naming names. Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), chairman of a labor subcommittee, conducting the public hearing, told a reporter that an ethical question arises whether this is fair to the persons named because the witness.

Red Deer Creek Bridge Completed

MIAMI — The partially destroyed bridge spanning Red Deer Creek here was back in service again this week as contractors laid the last strips of new flooring in place. Two of the bridge's large center spans were knocked down June 5, carrying Earl V. Hickman to his death, when torrential rains were pounding the Panhandle. Old pilings were replaced by steel pilings but the major portion of the bridge's frame work and flooring was fished out of the creek and replaced. Some new flooring and some new stringers had to be used in the estimated $16,000 job — the major cost being the steel pilings.

Little Hope Seen For NAM Proposal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators on the tax-writing finance committee indicated today they believed the proposed general manufacturers' excise tax has little chance of approval by this Congress. Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) told reporters "the House would never go along with it" and he didn't think his own committee would write such a levy into the pending tax bill "at this time" however he added: "I'm not precluding it. Some members of the committee would speak at a World Affairs Institute organized by Denver University Aug. 6 and a meeting of the United Nations Assn. of greater Chicago at a date not yet announced. He will visit Canada before going to the United States.

Anthony Eden Slates Address In Denver

LONDON — (AP) — Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservative Party, will make speeches in Denver and Chicago this summer. Eden has accepted invitations to speak at a World Affairs Institute in Denver and at a meeting of the United Nations Assn. of greater Chicago at a date not yet announced. He will visit Canada before going to the United States.

Field Is Jailed For Contempt

NEW YORK — (AP) — Frederick Vanderbilt Field, millionaire leftist, was ordered committed to jail today for contempt of court in refusing to tell who posted $80,000 bail for four fugitive American Communist leaders. Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan rejected a defense plea to continue the Secretary of the Civil Rights Congress Bail Fund on parole until his appeal is heard this afternoon in New Haven, Conn. Ryan issued his order shortly after it was announced that U. S. Court of Appeals Justice Thomas Swan would preside at an appeal hearing at 1 p.m. (CST) at the Yale law school. Ryan adjudged Field in contempt yesterday for his repeated refusals to tell who contributed to the bail fund. The four missing leaders, who jumped bail earlier this week, are the object of a nationwide FBI hunt in which the public has been asked to join. In refusing to continue Field on parole pending the appeal, Ryan said that "a substantial question of law or fact existed in this case." Field had been on parole since being judged in contempt yesterday. Ryan said he had permitted Field freedom overnight on the theory that "a night's sober reflection might bring the defector on the part of this man to give the court the information it seeks."

Game Commission Changes Dates, Bag

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Game Commission today changed open season dates and bag limits for deer hunting west of the Pecos River. The open season will be Nov. 20-26 inclusive instead of Nov. 6-11 inclusive. The bag limit was cut to one buck deer. Previously it had been one white tail buck and one mule deer buck. The commission acted after hearing extensive reports from sportsmen and landowners in the area where it has power to set seasons and bag limits. Elsewhere in Texas the deer season and bag limit is set by the Legislature.

Czechs May Have Tricked Jet Pilots

WIESBADEN, Germany — (AP) — A deoxy radio signal from Prague may have lured two American jet fighter planes off their course into Communist Czechoslovakia last month, U. S. Air Force officers disclosed today. The officers said reports of a fake signal from the Czech capital duplicating the guiding beam from Nuremberg, West Germany, "could well be true." The pilots of the two planes, Lt. Luther G. Roland and his Norwegian student pilot, Lt. Bjorn Johnson, were released July 4 after four weeks detention in Czechoslovakia. The two had made forced landings at the field near Prague on June 8.

Daniel Attacks Tideland Ruling

DALLAS — (AP) — State Attorney General Price Daniel hit again the U. S. Supreme Court ruling giving the federal government paramount right to the tidelands in a speech before the State Bar Assn. He said yesterday that Iran's nationalization of her oil industry is less of an overt act than our own government's seizure of tidelands from the states. The Dallas Bar Assn. was named outstanding in Texas in the large-city category. Wichita Falls' bar group was named outstanding in the medium-sized category and the Bryan Bar Assn. among smaller units.

Salvation Army Closes In Bowery A Year

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Salvation Army's Bowery corps stopped functioning last night on the "Street of Forgotten Men" for the first time in 28 years — but only for 12 months. The shutdown will last just long enough to put up a new building, which will include a "drying out center" for alcoholics.

BATTLE

The House appears to be in a similar mood.
Administration leaders hope Boyle's telegram will start a tide of sentiment for the kind of control law the President will be mentioning price controls. Boyle obviously is not a happy man. Senate has on price rollbacks and a House drive not only to prohibit future rollbacks but to nullify any already in effect on beef prices.

Republican reaction to Boyle's move was keyed to the Illinois leader in the House.
"Plain politics," he told a reporter today. "That shows the politics that the administration has put into this issue but I don't think they would do so badly about it. We are willing to fight it out on that basis if they want it that way."

RUSTLING

Lipscomb county rancher... It is thought that another man will be charged in the big-scale cattle-rustling ring. Lipscomb County authorities said this morning, but there will be no new developments for a few days.
Authorities said the first break in the case came Sunday when Jimmy Shafer and another young man, 19, were taken to Oklahoma City for lie detector tests. They gave information that involved the other men, sheriff's officers said. They took off selling the stolen cattle as Grazier for half their market value.
Investigations were continuing today, and no estimate was given on how many cattle had changed hands in the alleged cattle-rustling, but a report early today from the Lipscomb County Sheriff's office accounted for 18 calves involved.

main highway linking the Red Korean capital with Seoul, old South Korean capital and starting point of the UN delegation. Kaesong, ancient capital of Korea, is 85 miles southeast of Pyongyang and 35 miles northwest of Seoul.
Allied emissaries will make the trip on Sunday morning. They will travel by helicopter or jeep, depending on the weather.
Gen. Kim Il Sung of North Korea and Gen. Peng Teh-huai of Chinese forces suggested the allies travel by jeep regardless of weather — "for their more certain safety and to cut down the possibility of misunderstanding."
Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander, promptly replied: "My delegates will proceed by helicopter or jeep as dictated by the weather."
The Communist suggestion they travel by road may have been an admission of their poor communications. Red prisoners taken in recent days on some sectors had not heard about the armistice talks. Red radios have said poor communication was the reason Gen. Kim and Peng didn't agree to earlier meetings as Ridgway had suggested.
The Red generals' message Friday said "we undertake to assure... safe conduct" of the UN delegation.
In contrast, Ridgway flatly assured the Communist commanders their "convoy will be immune from attack by my forces."
Ridgway also guaranteed that the area within five miles of Kaesong would be respected as a neutral zone from the moment the Communist representatives arrive.
Each delegation will consist of three officers, two interpreters and necessary attached personnel as drivers.
Communist emissaries include one colonel. Reliable reports said Ridgway would be represented by three colonels — a marine, an airman and a South Korean.
Ridgway's headquarters said news coverage of the Kaesong meetings will be limited to official communiques. A daily communique is to be issued in the early evening (the early morning in the United States) summarizing the day's developments. Supplemental communiques will be issued if necessary.

Deadline Is Set On Examinations For Highway Patrol

July 10 is set as the final date for making application to fill the positions available in the Texas Highway Patrol.
Competitive examinations will be given applicants who meet the requirements. A man must be not less than five feet, eight inches tall without shoes, at least two pounds per inch of height, not more than 3 1/2 pounds per inch, and a bonafide resident of Texas at least one year prior to filing application.
Applicants must be 21 to 35 years of age, and have a high school education or equivalent.
About 60 positions are open. Applications may be obtained by writing W. J. Elliot, Chief, Texas Highway Patrol, Austin, for Capt. Polk Ivy, District Headquarters, Texas Highway Patrol, Amarillo.

Pay Drops For Workers

Average weekly pay for factory workers dropped 19 cents during May to a total of $62.01, according to a report released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.
The average weekly wage, however, was $6.97 above the same month last year. Average weekly hours on the job also dropped from 42.4 to 41.9 during the April - May period.
The report stated that despite a tightening labor market, manufacturing firms show little tendency to lengthen hours of work. Durable and non-durable goods showed losses of 1.1 percent, losing most heavily. It added that there still seems to be a margin for increased production when the need requires it.
Losses were sustained by the furniture and fixtures group in average weekly earnings, hours worked and hourly earnings. An increase in employment in the oil production industry brought the average weekly hours of retail trade employees down three-tenths of an hour.
An employment loss of some 800 workers in vegetable oil mills had substantial influence on the increase in average hourly earnings for chemical and allied products workers.

Teachers Face Firing Says Education Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Office of Education said today that about 670 of the nation's 1,888 colleges and universities may have to fire teachers this fall in order to balance their budgets.
It estimated the number of teachers who may be laid off at almost 7,600.
The agency said in a report that because of the nation's rapid military buildup the fear of loss in revenue through loss in enrollment has caused college officials to consider faculty reductions as one means of balancing their budgets.

Cattlemen Claim No Beef Strike

(Editors note: This is another story by an Associated Press special correspondent who has traveled into Texas and the Midwest on a survey of the beef situation.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

BONDURANT, Iowa — (AP) — Texas cattlemen and Midwest farmers deny any farm strike against beef price controls but a slow-down in feeding and marketing today is having much the same effect as a strike would have.

Uncertainty over price controls and their effect on cattle profits has created a situation in which cattle are being held back from the market on a "wait-and-see" basis. Some farmers have quit the feeding business entirely until they see what Congress is going to do.

Congress has extended price controls temporarily pending agreement on a revised measure. It looks as though there may be a ban on any further beef price rollbacks planned by the Office of Price Stabilization.

The OPS rolled back live cattle prices by 10 percent last May and was to add another nine percent in cutbacks by Oct. 1 as a means of bringing down the butcher shop prices on beef.

But the nine percent cut may never be made. This may send beef cattle to market in increasing numbers and cause a drop in retail prices, farmers say. But butcher shop prices aren't likely to change much until there is a heavier flow of cattle to the slaughter houses.

Many farmers in the corn belt have quit feeding cattle until the price control situation is stabilized and they can see their way clear to making a profit.

Two farmers in this group are D. L. and James Maloney. And their attitude is typical of their friends and neighbors.

The Maloney farms near here are fertile acres in the heart of Iowa, a state which produces corn and other feed and other feed and other feed.

For years, D. L. Maloney fed from 100 to 250 head of beef cattle. Jim fed from 100 to 150. Usually they bought cattle, fed them for two to four months on corn, silage and other feed and then took them to market.

Some of these cattle, they say, would put on as much as two pounds a day over this period and come out of the feeder lots as choice and prime steers bringing top prices.

But the Maloney feed lots are empty now and there are reports that many like them are empty in the corn belt.

D. L. said: "I don't intend to put any cattle back in the lot until this thing has been settled. A lot of our neighbors got out the same way — or are waiting to see what is going to happen."

Jim said: "I did the same thing. I'd usually be feeding cattle into August. But who's going to try to outguess those people in Washington when they don't know what they're going to do themselves?"

The Maloney sold what cattle they had before and after the 10 to 15 percent price rollback in May. They didn't wait to put the actual weight on the cattle which they normally would.

When hundreds of farmers do this — then tens of thousands of pounds of beef are lost to the market — and the volume of beef is cut much as a strike would cut it, no one knows precisely how many farmers have quit the feeding business temporarily. The majority of farmers are continuing to feed livestock but are waiting to see what the government will do about their cattle back on pasture to wait out the situation.

Usually, the number of cattle being fed in the Middle West is greater this year than last year even though marketing has been slow.

J. S. Russell, veteran farm editor of the Des Moines Register-Tribune, says the Iowa farmers will have to be madder than they already are over price rollbacks before they will "cut off their nose to spite their face."

"In other words," he says, "if the farmer sees a chance to make a profit, he is going to continue to convert corn and grass and hay into beef and pork even though many of them have had a hard — losses on current operations."

What the farmer does, of course, will depend on the profit he can make.

The OPS contends a farmer-fee — even with another nine percent cut in price can still make $40.20 a head on his cattle. But there are farmers who produce their own figures to show their operating costs have risen so much they can't make a reasonable profit under the rollbacks.

In this situation, the outlook for higher beef production and lower prices remains fuzzy.

Korea Woman Hopes Fight Can Be Ended

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (DELAID BY CENSORS) — (AP) — A young Korean woman, her child strapped to her back and a bundle balanced on her head, trudged down the Kaesong road in no-man's land.

The surrounding battlefields — Korean rice paddies — were sprinkled with Korean men and women working their fields. There was no sound of gunfire.

This scene was just a few miles south of Kaesong where United Nations and Communist forces open a cease-fire conference Sunday.

Our American jeep stopped near the woman. An interpreter told her of the conference. A faint smile — almost of disbelief — flickered across her face. Then she solemnly said:

"I hope there will be peace."

To reach this no-man's land you must pass through the rubble of Munsan, last major town south of Kaesong and the Imjin River. The peace train, standing ready in Seoul, 23 miles to the south, must stop at Munsan. Rail and highway bridges across the river were demolished long ago. Allied engineers have just completed a pontoon bridge across the stream so jeeps can reach Kaesong. They said they were ordered to build it after the Communists suggested Kaesong for the cease-fire talks.

This correspondent continued on to the northernmost point of the allied line north of the river. U. S. bulldozers were busy smoothing out the war-torn road bed.

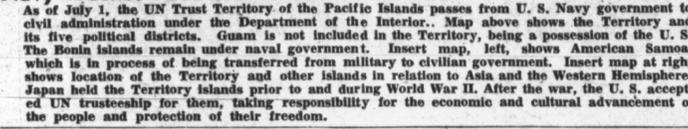

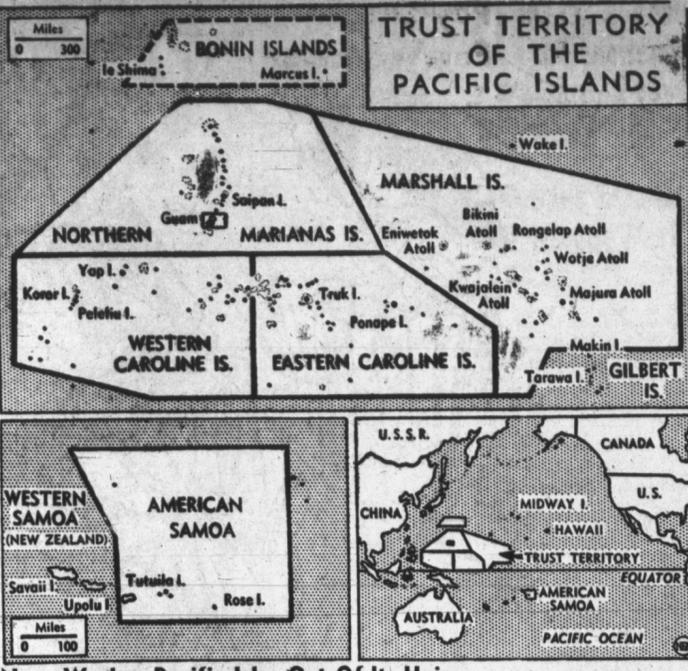

At the edge of no-man's land a lone sentry stood on the road next to a coil of barbed wire. A young allied officer joined another man and a half. The officer said his company had found only light enemy contact south of Kaesong. But, he added, "I cannot say there are no Communists in Kaesong."

It was in this general area that the Communists last December smashed huge forces and began the attack that cracked the Imjin River line and eventually forced the allies out of Seoul.

Except for an occasional pile of wrecked war material there was little to remind you of this road's bloody past or of the historic meeting scheduled Sunday.

Navy Washes Pacific Isles Out Of Its Hair

As of July 1, the UN Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands passes from U. S. Navy government to civil administration under the Department of the Interior. Map above shows the Territory and its five political districts. Guam is not included in the Territory, being a possession of the U. S. The Bonin Islands remain under naval government. Insert map, left, shows American Samoa, which is in process of being transferred from military to civilian government. Insert map at right shows location of the Territory and other islands in relation to Asia and the Western Hemisphere. Japan held the Territory Islands prior to and during World War II. After the war, the U. S. accepted UN trusteeship for them, taking responsibility for the economic and cultural advancement of the people and protection of their freedom.

Western Stars Enjoying Big Boom Thanks To Television

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Western stars — today's and yesterday's — are enjoying their biggest boom, thanks to television.

The pattern was set by Bill Boyd, who rose to tremendous fame with the new medium. Old movies, plus real-life Indian and western lore, he provides a fine appearance on the TV screen, looking more like 35 than his real age, 60.

"It's an entirely new experience in TV," he remarked. "When you're in the movies, you have to learn to look at the camera. But in TV, you're looking at the camera all the time."

I asked McCoy what he thought of Hollywood westerns today.

"To tell the truth," he replied, "I haven't seen any of them. TV is a full-time job, especially when I have to write and direct the show and dig up all the research. The research is important, because you've got some pretty sharp critics in the audience. One might be an expert on old guns, another on Indian battles. I've got to know all the answers or those birds will let me have it."

Paramount has imported some authentic Indians for "Warbonnet," and it's just the same as being in their living room. Why, the reaction is even greater than when I was making pictures for MGM. Every kid on the street knows me now."

McCoy, a former Army officer on the dying frontier, got started in films when he brought some Indians to Hollywood for the filming of "The Covered Wagon" in 1922. He used the Indians in staging the first of the "Pro-

Ladies Adamant On Choices Of Beauty

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — The first bathing beauty contest to be judged by women, at least in these parts, ended just about the way you'd expect. Men. The women just couldn't make up their minds.

There were five final contestants vying yesterday for the title of queen of the forthcoming Long Beach exposition. And there were five equally beautiful judges — all professional models.

The ladies took three ballots, and not one of them would budge. Each selected a different girl and refused to change her vote.

The deadlock will be resolved at another contest July 21 — to be judged by men only.

The idea of lady judges was suggested by the wife of an exposition official. The exposition fathers know now there are some perogatives that the ladies, bless 'em, can't take over.

Says New England Won't Modernize

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The President's Council of Economic Advisors says it has found the New England states a "great difficulty in getting new ideas accepted."

The council, in a report to President Truman on a survey of the New England Economy begun about a year ago, said the six affected states "in too many instances in the past... lacked the venturesomeness necessary" to modernize old industries and develop new ones.

The 205-page report recommended creation of "an economic climate which will encourage progressive attitudes and actions to bring about a better balanced structure of modernized manufacturing."

Business Gets Set For End Of Korea War

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — The business and financial worlds are getting set for the psychological jolt of the widely expected end of actual fighting in Korea.

Businessmen keep telling themselves that in the long run business will be better off. But they fear that right after a cease-fire our economy, admittedly not normal at the present because of the arms program, could have rough sledding.

It depends on the psychological reaction of the public to a truce — few hope for a real worldwide peace.

Shaky commodity markets are already weakened by the mere talk of a cease-fire. That fear might spread to price structures generally — especially if people are convinced the arms program will slow down and civilian goods will be plentiful.

Stock traders are jittery over the uncertainties in the future of the arms program, which is the main hope of increasing industrial production in the months ahead. But traders are backed up by the possibility that if fighting stops, Congress may not increase taxes as much as now planned. That would mean better corporate earnings, better dividend prospects.

Bond traders think that bond prices would be strengthened by a cease-fire, since that would likely mean less need for new financing by corporations or the U. S. Treasury, and also might lead to relaxation of curbs on credit. With fewer new securities to be marketed, the price of existing ones would be helped, they reason. And the federal reserve board might not be so intent on keeping the money market tight.

During July, however, uncertainty is going to be the main trouble in the business world. While the United Nations and the Reds talk truce terms, and while the U. S. Congress debates whether to drop the controls program or pass a probably watered-down one, potential customers are likely to wait and see what's going to happen.

Customers — both the consumer and the businessman — are likely to be cautious. With inventories already high and with the industrial production facilities expanding rapidly, deflation would seem to have the whip hand over inflation, certainly through the summer and perhaps into the winter.

JACOBY ON CANASTA Try For A Fast Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"I play with two different groups of Canasta players, writes a Macon reader. "One group follows the official rules. The other group follows the local rule that a discard that matches a closed canasta may not be picked up except by a natural pair in the hand."

"I find that I have to vary my playing style when I go from one game to the other. What variations would you suggest?"

In general, you should tend to play for a fast out more often under the local rule than under the official rule. If you happen to get a good offense stand, the opponents get more and more safe discards as you make each canasta.

By the time you have three canastas, the opponents should usually have enough safe discards to stay out of trouble. If you get fewer than three canastas, of course, you haven't much of an offense.

In the official rules, of course, the opponents do not get safe discards in this way. Suppose you close a canasta of kings and that the player at your right discards a king. Under the official rules you can pick up that king (together with the rest of the discard pile, as always).

As a result, you can often get a good offense started and can continue it for a long time. Sometimes you can make six or seven canastas, thus scoring a real bonanza. That sort of huge score is very rare when the local rule is played.

In short, playing for a big score under the local rules is like fishing for whales in a village pond.

Veeck Readies Changes In Makeup Of St. Louis Browns

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Just as everyone suspected, there'll be some changes on the St. Louis Browns now that Bill Veeck has taken over as the new owner.

"We have a couple of dollars to spend and we're going to spend them," said the ideaman.

Shortly after Veeck and 15 associates paid an estimated $1,500,000 for about 50 percent of the club's stock, Joe Gordon disclosed he had turned down a tentative offer by Veeck to become manager.

Gordon is manager of Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League.

Veeck had said earlier that several baseball men, including Gordon and Lou Boudreau, were under consideration for the job.

Zack Taylor will continue as manager "until we find a fellow that is more suited to our operations," Veeck said.

The major league trading deadline expired June 15, ruling out any major trades until the end of the season. But Veeck has some other ideas he expects to produce some changes within a week or 10 days.

Negroes will be given a chance to qualify for the team, he said. A pitching prospect in Japan is under observation by a Veeck scout. Efforts are under way to get holdout Frank Saucier back in the fold.

Ratings Show Need For New Fighters

WASHINGTON — (AP) — What this country needs is some first class boxers who don't grow up and get into the minor leagues, the quarterly ratings of the National Boxing Association, released yesterday.

So much attention is paid to the bigger fighters — and especially the heavyweights — that everyone tends to forget that down in the smaller classifications this country is far from a world-beater.

Take the flyweight division, ruled by Dado Marino of Hawaii, Jean Sneyers of Belgium, Terry Allen of England and Terry Gardner of England are classified as logical contenders. Of the ten boxers given special mention, not one is from the U. S.

Move up a notch, and it isn't much better. The champ of the bantamweights, is Vic Towel of South Africa.

Luis Romero of Spain and Peter Keenan of Scotland are classes as the logical boxers to have a crack at Towel's title.

Not until you get to No. 10 on the list, Bill Bosasio of Pennsylvania, do you find an American. Among the larger boys, the home forces are doing okay.

Kid Gavilan, the fighting Cuban who is the welterweight flyweight title now held by Ezard Charles.

The ratings brought no particular surprises, and not many new faces.

Joe Louis, 37, was ranked as the only logical contender for his largest crop of logical contenders for his title.

The NBA figures six boxers are logical choices to fight Maxim.

Pioneers Drop Ninth Straight

CLOVIS — (AP) — Chick Howard and John Bruggs collaborated with southpaw Monk Webb to inflict the ninth consecutive defeat on the Clovis Pioneers here last night as the Amarillo Gold Sox snatched a series opening 9-5 victory.

Howard drove in the tying and winning runs with a long double. Bruggs accounted for four other markers on a homer and single while Webb stopped the Pioneers in all but two frames. The partly left-handed was stingy, allowing only eight hits, four of them coming in the fifth when Clovis splurged for its final three runs.

Mel Kramer went all the way for Clovis, absorbing his sixth loss.

Dukes Rally To Defeat Gassers

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Albuquerque took over undisputed possession of third place in the West Texas-New Mexico League here last night by whipping the Berger Gassers, 9-5.

The victory, plus Pampa's decision over the Lamesa Lobos, turned the trick.

Borger drew first blood when it scored once in the first inning on singles by Nim Free and Joe Duffield and an error by the Gassers' Bob Spence. The Gassers added another tally in the following frame on Gil Castillo's double and Chuck Clibb's safety hit to left.

Bill Manning's triple, a double by Duffield and Hank Chatterly's single produced a pair in the third for the visitors and the Gassers held a seemingly comfortable lead.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Pittsburgh's next big sports event, now that the PGA is over, will be the Edward Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott affair, first heavyweight championship fight ever held in this city and, surprisingly, it seems to be an ancient Joe who is bringing in the customers.

Matchmaker Jack McGinley, who optimistically estimates that 25,000 or more people will pay at least $200 to see the affair, made that discovery can't quite figure it out. Charles is almost a home-town boy here; he came from Cincinnati but did most of his early fighting here.

Jack says, "But listening to the fight, incidentally, is the next promotion of the charitable Dapper Dan Club, which put over the highly successful golf tournament.

LEAVING 'EM BUG EYED

The 33rd PGA championship probably will go down as the first golf tournament ever decided on the fly. Remember last week's flurry of excitement when Marty Furgol started to protest because Sam Snead blew an insect off his ball on the putting green? If that protest had been upheld, Marty would have won in 18 holes instead of losing in 21. He was playing well enough to give Lloyd Mangrum a real tussle and chances are neither would have killed Jackie Burke like the way Snead did. So it might have been two reasonable, curly-haired young guys named Burke and Mangrum in the final — which would have been danged confusing to radio listeners.

Writers on Lobos, 6-3, For Third Win In Four Starts; Hyde Victor

Lamesans Establish New League Mark

The Pampa Ollers continued their hunting and timely hitting ways last night to gain their third win in four starts as Mack Hyde limited the Lamesa Lobos to seven hits and pick up a 6-3 victory.

The losing pitcher, Manager Jay Haney, also gave up only seven hits but one was a long home run by Manager Virgil Richardson and the others were well-timed blows.

The two clubs will conclude their series tonight with a single contest. Neither manager was certain of his pitching choice. Lamesa established a new league record for total assists by one team last night when Lobos had a total of 19. This surpassed the previous mark of 17 set by the Clovis Pioneers on Aug. 9, 1950.

Glen Selbo, Lobo shortstop, tied the league record of 10 assists for a shortstop held jointly by other players including Pampa's Tommy O'Connell and Tony Range. Second baseman Jess Jacinto also put in a hard night's work with six putouts and an equal number of assists.

The Lobos took the lead in the second inning when Selbo walked, went to second when Yogi Marti bounced out and scored on a single to center by Otto Reyes.

Pampa tied it in the third when Hyde singled with one out, was forced at second by Franco Rice, who scored moments later on a double to center by Deck Waldt.

In the fourth Pampa took the lead for good. Fortin was safe when Hicks bobbled Selbo's low throw, Virgil Richardson followed with his fifteenth home run of the season. After Davis fouled out, Lou Suarez drew a walk, went to second on a single by Lujan and an error by Selbo on Hyde's ground ball loaded the bases. Rice hit into a force play, Suarez scoring.

The Lobos added one in the sixth on a walk to Don Stokes followed by Glen Burns' double. The visitors final tally came in the seventh when, after two outs, Santiago drew a walk, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Stokes' double.

The last two Pampa runs came in the eighth on two hits and a double error by Burns on Hyde's easy roller.

Tomorrow night the Abilene Blue Sox come in to close the current home stand. Game time Saturday night is 8:30 and 2:30 on Sunday afternoon.

Sunday's game has been designated "Camera Day." All fans bringing their cameras to the park between 1-2 p. m. will be allowed on the field to take pictures of the ballplayers.

Throw, Throw

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Day in and day out the big fellow throws a baseball. It might appear aimless to those who do not know him because he never gets into a game.

It may be in batting practice for the Fort Worth club of the Texas League or it may be he'll just be throwing against a wall. But it's Rex Barney, not long ago one of the brightest young pitching stars of the major leagues. In 1948 he hurled a no-hit, no-run game for Brooklyn, a club with which he worked for six years. Now he's fighting to return to the big time.

Barney came to Fort Worth, farm club of Brooklyn, May 13. He had lost his control and the sudden fairways of the Mississippi course to register 66's on two successive days. His 132 score — 12 under par — paced 48 Canadians and 53 visitors who qualified for today's third round.

Closely chasing the 23-year-old pro into the second half of the $15,000 meet were two other Texans — Fred Hawkins of El Paso, 66-69-135 and Chuck Klein of San Antonio with 66-70-136.

Defending Champion Jim Ferrier, who blew his first day lead by a sloppy putting, needed to make up five strokes to catch Burke. Ferrier, the transplanted Australian from San Francisco, had 65-72-137.

Burke, making his first bid for a title that eluded his golfing father 38 years ago, credited sharp putting for his six birdies on the windswept course. His father was runnerup in 1913.

The youngsters to sharpen up their batting. During the games Barney's on the coaching line. Even on road trips he'll go out to the park and throw and throw.

Burke Pacing Canadian Open

TORONTO — (AP) — Jack Burke, Jr. of Houston, the darkhorse with the magic putter, set out today to prove his first two scorching rounds in the Canadian Open a golf championship weren't wet weather freaks.

Burke confidently defied rain and the sudden fairways of the Mississippi course to register 66's on two successive days. His 132 score — 12 under par — paced 48 Canadians and 53 visitors who qualified for today's third round.

Schmidt Handles Hubbers, 9-0

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Big Fred Schmidt held the Lubbock Hubbers to four hits here Thursday night while his mates were pounding out five homers to defeat the Hubbers, 9-0.

It was the fourth straight shut-out for the Blue Sox in the last three nights.

Walt Sessal, Babe Tuckey, Art Rowland, Charlie Schmidt and Morris Card repped homers to account for six of Abilene's nine runs.

Bowland, voted star of the week in the West Texas-New Mexico League, drove in three runs with his homer and a long outfield fly, while Oscar Williams, fleet centerfielder, hit two singles and a triple in three trips, scoring the first and last Blue Sox run.

Schmidt faced only 31 men in blanking the Hubbers.

Garner Moves To Semifinal Round

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — (AP) — Pat Garner of Midland, moved into the semifinal round of the Broadmore Women's Golf Tournament today against Mrs. Patti Blanton of Enid, Okla.

Mrs. Garner disposed of Jean Hazen of Lincoln, Neb., yesterday 4 and 3. Mrs. Blanton, a finalist last year, beat Mrs. Fred Sides of Lincoln, Neb., 5 and 3.

In the other semifinal match defending champion Mrs. Lucille Mann of Omaha meets Jon Snyder of Wichita.

was in the crease interfering with the goalie. The fact that Bill's scalp still is intact proves the betters never caught him.

INTELLIGENCE TEST

One of the visiting golf writers left here with a low opinion of golf fans. Seems he was standing near the eighth green waiting for the Ellsworth Vines-Burkemo match to come down when a customer asked: "How's the two up?" "Was the answer?" The spectator nullified it over for a moment, then queried: "How's Burkemo?"

the Frontline of Freedom

Here is Seoul, Korea, the City of Blood. Will Seoul be the last terrible tribute to man's lust for war? Pictured here as U. N. Troops enter, she is beautiful but "it is the beginning of the end for Seoul." Today she is a city of devastation! Houses and land and humanity, children and women and men...stunted, starved and spiritless, huddled in masses of helplessness. That is what we must see when we look at Seoul today. War is no solution. We fail when war takes the place of discussion and prayer and concession and adjustment. May History claim Seoul as the Front Line of Defense for God.

Let no man glorify war. It becomes more terrible as weapons make it more destructive. May God forgive a world that could find no better way! Destruction, famine, suffering, sorrow, rapine, hatred, degradation are found in Korea. Homes and schools and churches are gone and thousands of innocent and helpless people. Let's pray divine mercy on men who can find no better way. Drop a tear of penitence for the part you had in this terrible destruction. May God richly reward those who suffered most. May the miracle of Grace save our sons and speed the day of understanding and goodwill. . . . A-men.

Runyon Family To Hold Revival Here

The Runyon evangelistic family of Loveland, Colo., will begin a revival campaign Sunday in the Hamilton Assembly of God Church. The church, located at Hamilton and Worrell, has just been converted to a point that services can be held in it.

The Rev. Otis Runyon, Mrs. Runyon and their two daughters will take part in the services which will include music.

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 Sunday morning with morning worship service at 11. The Rev. Charles J. Runyon, pastor, has issued an invitation to everyone to attend these services.

Rainbow Girls To Attend Church Services In Body

To celebrate the birthday of Mark Saxon, founder of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, members of Rainbow Assembly No. 99 will attend morning services at the First Baptist Church Sunday.

Mrs. Crystal Hankhouse is mother advisor of the group, and the board of directors includes Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hale, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John McFall and Gene Smith.

The 17 officers of the local organization are as follows: Barbara Southard, worthy advisor; Jean Johnson, worthy associate advisor; Gloria Combs, charity; Dorothy Ann Roberts, hope; Joyce Newman, faith; Barbara Barnes, chaplain; Juan E. Frickard, drill leader; Tommie Jo Kelly, red; Edith Spence, orange; and Sonnie Ray Pierce, yellow.

Sammie Cason, green; Martha Wicker, blue; Gay Marlow, indigo; and Gene Smith, confidential observer; Barbara O'Leary, outer observer; Marcheta Hall, musician; Carol Waggoner, choir director; Jerry Sloan, treasurer; and Mae Jo Hankhouse, recorder.

Pampan Attends ROTC School

Kelly B. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anderson, 610 N. Russell, is attending reserve officers training corps summer camp, Fort Hood, Texas.

Anderson will receive six weeks of field training. Satisfactory completion of instruction at school will qualify him for a commission as second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

A Hymn Is Born

The Star Spangled Banner

Arrest of drunken British soldiers led to writing of National Anthem

There were no linotype machines. As the printer set each piece of type by hand he started humming the melody of an old English drinking song. It was called "Anacreon in Heaven" and it seemed to just fit the poem he was setting.

On the day before Baltimore's lawyer Francis Scott Key had gone out in Chesapeake Bay in the cartel ship "Minden" with a letter to the British admiral asking the release of American citizen Dr. William Beanes. The Maryland physician was being detained for being instrumental in the arrest of a bunch of drunk English soldiers. Though lawyer Key was treated courteously, his mission was ill-timed. The British were about to bombard Baltimore. So they told lawyer Key he could have his doctor friend but he would have to wait until they bombed the daylight of Key's home town.

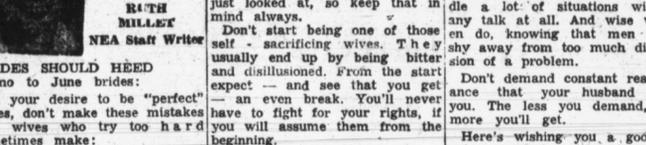

All night long Francis Scott Key watched what he thought was the destruction of Baltimore and Fort Mchenry. But the first thing he saw when dawn broke through the mist that morning of Aug. 13, 1814, was the huge American flag still defiantly floating over the fort two miles away. In a burst of inspiration he took the letter from his pocket, turned it over and started writing.

Released and rowed ashore, Key edited his poem, wrote over it "Defense of Fort Mchenry" and hurried to the printer. That afternoon it was circulated on hand-bills all over town. Under the title the printer had set a line suggesting the tune "Anacreon in Heaven" and that night it was sung on the stage of the Holiday Street Theater. Vocalists say it's the hardest tune in the book to sing but for 117 years nobody was able to get away with changing it and, in 1931, Congress officially proclaimed as the National Anthem of the United States.

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
That the broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream,
Tis the Star-Spangled Banner; ah, long may it wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

with your love. You can love deeply without being possessive. You can be close to the man you love without trying to put him on a leash.

Don't discuss your husband to death. A wise woman can handle a lot of situations without any talk at all. And wise women do, knowing that men often shy away from too much discussion of a problem.

Don't demand constant reassurance that your husband loves you. The less you demand, the more you'll get.

Here's wishing you a good — not a perfect — marriage.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

True worship of God is not to be found in observance of material rites, but in constant devotion of thought to things of the Spirit, declares the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 8.

These words of John comprise the Golden Text: "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth" (John 4:23).

Further explaining the theme is the fact that have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and ye break every yoke?" From the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Keys to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be read this citation: "We worship spiritually only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual devoutness is the soul of Christianity" (page 140).

SOCIAL CALENDAR

OES Initiation ceremonies will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in Masonic Hall.

The Christian graces are like perfumes, and the more they are pressed the sweeter they smell.

—Francis Beaumont

The growth in grace is like the polishing of metals. There is first an opaque surface; and by and by you see a spark darting out, then a strong light; all at length it sends back a perfect image of the sun that shines upon it.

Are Career Girls Good Mothers? Well, Yes And No

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Any time the conversation lags at a mixed gathering, a guaranteed restorative can be administered in the form of a single question: "Can a woman have both a family and a career?"

There are violent opinions, well-documented, on all sides of the question. The split, it should be noted, does not come between men on one side (No!) and women on the other (Yes!).

The pro-maintain that a smart woman can swing a contented husband and bring up normal, happy children at the same time she's putting in an eight-hour day at the office. They lay great stress on the word "smart," insisting that combining the two things is quite simply a matter of intelligent planning and careful scheduling.

The cons have built up a persuasive and authoritative case on the theory that the maintenance of a happy home and satisfied household is a full-time job for any woman, and that it requires all of the time, brains and physical strength of its heart: the wife and mother. A career woman, they say, makes maximum demands of time, brains and physical strength and any woman who tries both simultaneously is going to short-change one or the other of her responsibilities.

There seems to be general agreement that once a woman has acquired husband and children, they are her first concerns. Anyone who suggested that the mother-of-three owed her best efforts to the Zero Cement Company would be expelled from any modern discussion group as un-American, abnormal and a thorough-going monster. There also seems to be general agreement that the dedicated career-woman, aggressive, cold-blooded, and determined to be president of the company, is a horrible specimen of womanhood.

When the discussion of families-and-careers for women comes up, someone is bound to mention the virtues of casual housekeeping, irregular meals prepared primarily with the aid of the can-opener, unkempt children on the road to juvenile delinquency and husbands with deflated egos in button-less shirts and ripe for the wiles of the first kitchen-bound charmer who comes his way.

This is inevitably countered by sage remarks about business keeping a woman on her toes, preventing her from "letting herself go," and providing her with a view of the great world beyond her front door which will make her an interesting, inspirational wife for a man.

It's hard to say who's right. It does seem to me, however, that the number of real career women in the world is comparatively small. My own definition of a career-woman is a woman who is in business for keeps, because she enjoys it and who is in earnest, determined competition for a spot at the top of some ladder. Anyone else is just a woman who works, and probably does that because (a) she wants the money, (b) doesn't like housework, (c) hasn't hooked a husband yet and is looking for Mr. Right or Mr. Available, or (d) has a huge store of strength and energy.

Obviously, if a woman is a career-woman, no drawing room discussion is going to cause her to quit her employment in favor of a ruffled apron and a PTA chairmanship. She probably showed some signs of her proclivities before matrimony, her husband must have known about it and approved, and she probably likes her better as she is. I personally know a number of couples who are happy, contented and gay in the situation where both husband and wife are business executives. They are able to hire the necessary staff to run their homes and children, seem to have an enormous amount of fun with them. I also know some similarly situated couples whose life is a mess. The same two situations prevail among families with non-employed wives among my acquaintance.

This Hurts the Gardener But Surely Helps the Crop

It Hurts to Destroy Your Plants, but Ruthless Thinning Is Necessary for a Good Yield.

Thinning-out time is always a trying one for the beginning gardener. With few if any exceptions, you must sow more seeds than you have room to mature, and if they come up many must be sacrificed, so the rest may have room to grow.

The reason for this is the ever-present risk in gardening. The moulds which destroy seeds in the ground, or the seedlings just emerging, will always take their toll. Other mishaps may occur to plants as they grow larger, so it is always well to have a few spares growing. The amateur likes a row to be filled out with no vacant spaces, and should be willing to devote extra labor to insuring this, by doing his thinning gradually.

As soon as seedlings get large enough to handle—usually when they grow their second pair of leaves—make sure that every plant stands free from every other—an inch apart at least. If seeds were sown thinly, there should be no cases of entangled roots at this stage. Then, as the plants grow, alternate ones should be removed until they stand at the space deemed best for their full development.

In this process many plants thinned out can be used for the table. Lettuce, especially, is usable as soon as the leaves are two inches across. Some gardeners never thin lettuce, but let it grow in crowded rows, pulling as needed or even cutting off the leaves, so that more will grow. This never gives lettuce of the best quality, and it causes the plants to bolt to seed earlier than normally.

Almost any young vegetable can be transplanted from one place to another in the row, by taking up enough soil so that its roots are not disturbed. In this way vacant spaces in the row can be filled but you will notice that even this will check the growth of the plant which is moved.

When carrots are sown thinly, thinning may be left until some are large enough to use.

It is the half-grown carrots that are most delicious, and the growth is so much more in length than in the diameter of the root that the thinning process does not disturb the others so much.

Turnips do not grow well if crowded. If the young plants are pulled up so they stand 4 inches apart in the row, in a remarkably quick time they will be large enough to use.

Beets are more easily handled than turnips when they are a little larger, and one should not fail to try a dish of beet tops with the tiny roots just beginning to form. It is a delicious introduction to the garden menu. The beets which are left in the ground should be spaced 2 inches apart.

Father Dies Trying To Save Curious Son BAKERSFIELD, Calif., (AP) - This is about the death of a curious eight-year-old boy and how his father was killed trying to save him.

Ernest Gasaway, 43, was irrigating crops on a ranch near here yesterday and he had his son Ernest, Jr., with him. The boy, in the distance, Gasaway saw car skid on a dirt road and ran into a power pole.

Father and son jumped in their own auto and sped to the scene. They found Mrs. Zell Stinnet standing by her car, hurt. They spoke with her.

A high tension line was kym across the road. Somehow, it youngster, Ernest Jr., stepped it. Sparks showered from body. His father grabbed him tried to pull him away.

Dyck said both died instantly as the first flash hit them.

Fort Benning A Melting Pot For World's Army Training

By RELMAN MORIN
FORT BENNING, Ga.—(AP)—Professional soldiers never have regarded the United States as a military nation, yet today the American army is one of the great training organisms for the whole non-Communist world. To see the uniforms of many nations on the Army posts these days.

They represent not only the countries in the North Atlantic treaty. There are officers from Iran, Israel and Turkey, from the Far East, and many from Latin America. When they go home the majority become instructors in their own armies. One former student at Fort Benning, Col. Choy Duk-shin, is now head of the infantry school of South Korea.

Fort Benning, being the infantry center for the American army, usually has several hundred foreign officers on the post at one time.

They spend from one month to eight weeks studying weapons and equipment, training methods, organization, doctrine and tactics. They are billeted together and they mess together. Each one has a "sponsor"—an American officer who eases him through the unfamiliarities of American life and may even help translate some difficult passage in an Army manual.

In some instances, their own governments are not entirely friendly with each other. An Indian officer may be seated across the aisle from a Pakistani, Arab and Palestinian Jew, Indonesian and Hollander are all together. Sometimes they even discuss their political differences.

American food frequently is a problem. Officers from the Orient miss their rice. The Latins miss their coffee. The British miss their tea. Sometimes they even discuss their political differences.

And the Georgia climate, in summer, bothers even the officers from Saudi Arabia.

As a group the foreign officers score with the top American students in the same courses. Recently, a Norwegian major led his whole class up to the final examinations. "We were all pulling for him to take top honors," said Lieut. Col. Stephen J. Meade, who heads the work.

"He slipped a little in his finals and finished third."

Meade, a native of Fort Thomas, Ky., has had long foreign service as a military attaché in Syria and Lebanon. He feels that one of the great benefits of the program lies in the amount that American army officers learn in trading notes with foreign officers.

The presence of these officers in American training centers does not mean that American weapons and methods are the best in the world.

For example, a Canadian flame-thrower team recently started our own experts with an exhibition. The Canadian machine more than doubled the extreme range of American flame-throwers and was operated with greater accuracy.

Similarly, many American tankers consider the British Centurion the best medium tank in the world. They are particularly impressed with its 20-pound gun.

The standardization of weapons among so many nations is a long, slow process. Tactics, methods of instruction and types of organization can be adapted more quickly. Almost every army has something to contribute.

All these things are going into a central pool today.

The results, in terms of a true United Nations army tomorrow, may be incalculably great.

Teen-Agers Barred From Mexican Town

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(AP)—Reports of teen-agers carousing at marijuana and drinking parties brought a shutdown today at the Mexican border between here and Tijuana.

Mexican authorities said last night the border gates have been closed to unescorted American boys and girls under 18.

The action followed complaints by civic and school officials, including the chairman of the San Diego County grand jury, who had urged their own government to close the border to juveniles.

"Some of those we are turning back," explained Moises Sanchez Aldana of the Mexican immigration department, "are young girls who come here with sailors."

Reports of rowdism among American teen-agers have been pouring out of Tijuana lately.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Get Caught By Double Dummy

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

Most bridge players have seen double dummy problems at some time or another. Those are the layouts in which you see everybody's cards and have to make wild plays to win the right number of tricks. Usually you wind up winning the final trick with a deuce in the enemy's best suit.

Such situations are, of course, very rare in actual play—but they do sometimes occur. Today's hand, played in a recent tournament, was one of these rare birds.

West opened the ace of clubs, a natural but unfortunate choice. South ruffed and returned a low diamond. West won and properly returned another club to make South ruff again.

Declarer next laid down the ace of diamonds and crossed his fingers as he ruffed a diamond in dummy. Fortunately for him, the suit broke 3-3, and his remaining diamonds were now established.

South continued by finessing the jack of spades and laid down the ace and king of trumps. Then he led the ten of diamonds.

West properly decided not to ruff. His best chance was to discard a heart. Thereupon South led his ace.

At this point West and the dummy were in a bit of a bind. If West discarded a heart, the dummy would eventually win a trick with the king of hearts.

West discarded a heart, making the king. West had to ruff the last diamond and dared not lead clubs. He led his remaining heart, and West took dummy's blank king with the blank ace.

South with the last trump and the last heart. The lowly three of hearts took the last trick.
