New Crisis Threatens Korea Armistice Talks

Senator Sees Alien Influx A Great Danger

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said today a massive, illegal infiltration of aliens into this country is "potentially more dangerous than an armed invasion."

The influx would provide an enemy nation "a ready-made fifth column," McCarran said.

The secret testimony of immigration officials, he said in a statement, showed:

1. Aliens illegally in this country are countable in the millions, and may total 5,000,000.
2. Among them are "militant communists, Sicilian bandits and other criminals" in vast numbers.
3. The immigration service has made only small effort to locate and deport these unwanted foreigners because of a variety of factors, including lack of staff and money.

Another member of the subcommittee, Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) said in a separate statement that Windsor, Ont., and Cuba are assembly points for aliens seeking illegal entry into the U. S. He said arrests for attempted entry from Mexico total 500,000 a year. Many of these are "wetbacks," Mexicans who cross the shallow Rio Grande river to look for jobs as farm hands.

O'Connor said there are some 250,000 aliens from Europe now in Cuba and that "many are Communists, with the result that Cuba is a hot-bed of communism."

Truman, Boyle Blasted For Pendergast Policies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two Republican Senators said today in a controversial report that the Senate's RFC investigation showed President Truman and William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national committee chairman, "have transferred Pendergast politics to the national level."

"Scurrilous" and politically motivated, retorted Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), referring to the Republican report. He is chairman of the banking subcommittee which investigated the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

But Fulbright wrote, and the other Democrats on the investigating group joined in, a majority report which itself renewed charges made by the committee last February that the big government lending agency had fallen prey to "an influence ring with White House contacts."

The new report from the Democrats, adopted by the full banking committee and sent along to the Senate, said those charges were "fully substantiated" in a new series of public hearings held after Mr. Truman had called the preliminary report asinine.

It added new comments about what it called an "accepted practice" among borrowers seeking entry to the RFC by means of a Democratic National committee introduction. And it said RFC's former board of directors, now superseded by W. Stuart Symington as one-man administrator, "tacitly acknowledged its responsiveness to external influence."

The sharper and more personal language, by Senators Capehart (R-Ind.) and Bricker (R-Ohio), was in a bulky minority report which also was submitted to the Senate.

Fulbright called their statement "scurrilous" in a postscript statement. He said it was so partisan that he regretted it had to be "printed at public expense."

And Senator Benton (D-Conn.), a member of the banking committee but not of the RFC subcommittee, said the Capehart-Bricker document "abounds with false innuendoes."

Much of it doesn't even deal with the RFC, Benton said in a statement.

"Congressional committee and individual members increasingly have been using Congress as a forum to attack individuals for partisan political advantage," he continued. "This minority report is another step and a big step."

'Join Us,' Rogers Tells North's GOP

Rep. Walter Rogers in a radio debate Sunday with Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD), suggested the northern Republicans "join" with Southern Democrats instead of the coalition method currently being propounded by the South Dakota Senator.

Countering, Mundt said if the Southern Democrats were able to place Sen. Harry Flood Byrd (D-Va) on the ticket of a coalition party for President he would be happy to support him, providing Rogers would make a like commitment if the Republicans were able to find an equally good candidate.

Rogers asked Mundt, and Republicans, "who feel as you say you do about the concepts of Thomas Jefferson to join up with us Southern Democrats and we will pick out a good man and elect him."

"You nominate Harry Byrd at your convention if you can, and we'll support him," assured Mundt.

Since the Democratic National committee has ignored Mundt's proposal of party alignment and little had been heard about Southern Democrats' reaction, Rogers was apparently picked to answer.

Mundt bases his argument on the Congressional record showing that Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans have voted together on important items since 1936, most of these centering around questions that would give the national administration more power and money.

Rogers declared he felt, "the coalition coalesces when Northern Republicans need our help, but sometimes it does not coalesce when the Southerners need their help."

Expanding, Rogers added: "That has been evidenced in a few pointed situations recently when the Republicans of the North and East defeated a plan for dispersal of industry throughout the country to the benefit of the South and the West."

Rogers said the Mundt's (See ROGERS, Page 2)

Reds Charge Violation Of The Neutrality

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Allied and Communist subcommittees met briefly in Kaesong today as a new crisis threatened efforts to stop the Korean war.

General headquarters in Tokyo said "partisan forces of either side" may be trying to wreck armistice negotiations.

The statement was in reply to Red charges that UN forces ambushed a Red patrol inside Kaesong's five-mile neutral zone Sunday. A Chinese patrol leader was killed and a Chinese soldier seriously injured.

The subcommittees met for only 70 minutes Monday. It was their shortest session since they took over for the main truce delegations Friday.

There was no report of progress from the secret talks. But the negotiators agreed to meet again at 11 a. m. Tuesday (7 p. m. Monday CST).

The subcommittees are trying to hammer out a compromise agreement on the question of a cease-fire buffer zone. The main delegations argued this point for completely deadlocked.

The Communists want the buffer zone to straddle the 38th Parallel, old political dividing line between North and South Korea. The United Nations commandments generally along present battle lines, most of which are north of 38.

Both sides have indicated a willingness to compromise.

United Nations staff officers at Kaesong today refused to let allied newsmen sit on the veranda of the conference building, or stand near the two entranceways.

A pooled dispatch from Kaesong said the order came from "higher headquarters."

It is possible that some conclusions from the activities of the past weeks during which about 2,000,000 Red-undisciplined kids visited East Berlin. At least 1,000,000 of these are estimated to have visited the West tonight.

Friday and Saturday allied newsmen heard bursts of laughter in the conference room. Saturday a correspondent peered through one of the open doors and saw the negotiators standing over a map.

These were indications that the negotiators were getting down to brass tacks in an air of friendly informality. Presumably all future stories on the subcommittee meetings will be limited to reports on how the envoys act and speak outside the room.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, head of the two-man UN subcommittee, puffed on a cigar and smiled as he entered the conference room for today's sessions.

But, the pooled dispatch said, "there were no smiles on the faces of the Communist delegates."

TESTING RABIES SERUM — Dr. Herbert E. Hipps of Waco, Tex., is testing his theory that rabies shots might help prevent dogs by giving five vaccinations to 265 volunteers in Frost, Tex. Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the Corsicana-Navarro County health unit, underwrote the program. Some doctors including those from Pampa, called the experiment dangerous. But Dr. Miller said the volunteers were given only five rabies shots, whereas the regular anti-rabies treatment is 14 to 21 shots. (AP Photo)

Rampant Gale Expected To Gain Strength

MIAMI — (AP) — The rampant tropical hurricane swirled across the Yucatan peninsula today and entered the gulf near the north coast town of Progreso.

Its 180-mile journey over land during the night took much of the kick out of the great storm which killed at least 109 persons and destroyed property valued at some $56,000,000 on the island of Jamaica.

"It will regenerate and regain its full strength now that it is over water again," warned Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami weather bureau.

"The storm reentered the gulf with its center intact. There is plenty of heat and humidity needed to regain its force over gulf waters."

Nears Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — Corpus Christi probably will begin feeling effects of the gulf hurricane tomorrow afternoon or night, Russell Moseley, head of the weather bureau here, said today.

The naval air station has been on alert since Sunday noon. The station was expecting 55-mile winds within 24 hours.

No storm precautions are being taken here yet by civilian authorities.

On its present course, which the storm has followed for over 1000 miles, it is pointed in the general direction of the mouth of the Rio Grande separating Mexico and Texas.

Merida, capital of Yucatan and center of an ancient Maya civilization received winds of only 50 miles an hour from the storm. The center passed north of Merida.

The hurricane struck at Jamaica Friday night and Saturday with winds up to 130 miles an hour.

The storm's devastating force was slightly lessened as it slammed across land today, but the weather bureau here said it would regain some of its lost strength as it spread out over the open gulf.

The hardest blow was expected to fall between Merida, near the peninsula's northernmost tip, and Campeche, on the gulf and roughly 75 miles to the south.

Merida is 50 miles (EAST) today, the center of the storm was about 80 miles south of Merida. Winds of about 100 miles an hour raged over a small area near the center and winds of hurricane force covered a radius of 60 miles.

The extent of the damage to the Yucatan peninsula was not immediately known. Radio stations closed down as the disturbance drew near, and other means of communicating with the stricken area were not available.

The storm had grown considerably in size and ferocity since it was first reported in the Caribbean and since it swept across the island of Jamaica, leaving a monstrous count of property damage and death.

House Guttled Here Sunday

A fire on the Lefora Highway destroyed the interior of a seven-room house, at 3 a. m. Sunday leaving just the walls and roof intact.

Firemen reached the house nearly two miles from the fire station, shortly after the alarm came in. A Reed family, reported to be living in the house was said to be out of town at the time of the fire.

Indications were that the fire was caused by a faulty water heater located in the basement. Fireman had to string 1500 feet of hose to reach the fire.

The blaze evidently had a good start, fireman said, but they had it under control in a little over one hour.

This is the first fire of the month involving serious property loss, firemen reported.

Pampans Qualify As Public Secretaries In Denver Tests

Two Pampa secretaries were among 389 secretaries in the nation to qualify for the Certified Public Secretary examination. The new society is similar to the Certified Public Accountant's organization.

Mrs. Elizabeth Snell and Mrs. Letha Northup took the examination in Denver Friday and Saturday after they had chosen from 1100 applicants. The examination included tests in shorthand, business personality, grammar, business law and other fields.

Tests were given in 16 different centers over the country. Results of the tests will be announced in December.

Mrs. Snell is associated with Douglass and Maguire attorneys, and Mrs. Northup is associated with the Hughes Companies here.

Open Bids Tuesday On Radio Equipment

Bids for the city's police radio equipment will be opened tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the city commission room for the second time.

The bids were first opened July 31 but were rejected when the commissioners learned smaller-watt mobile units would be more satisfactory, and a new call was made.

Bidding the first time were Motorola Radio Co.; Link Radio Corp.; and General Electric.

Besides the bids, the commissioners will dig into the 1951-52 budget. Each of the commissioners and the mayor, have had copies of the budget's rough draft since last week.

Photographer Snaps Navy Plane

Borger Paper Has Bare Spot For Seizure Of News Camera

BORGER — (AP) — A white space on the front page of the Borger News-Herald called attention yesterday to the seizure of the paper's camera by a sheriff's deputy.

Cutlines beneath the 3-column by 4-inch blank said no picture was available of the Navy plane that crashed-landed on a highway west of the city Friday.

Staff photographer Bill Turner's camera was taken from him after he snapped a picture of the plane. He was standing on Hwy. 136 at the time.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Ramby took the camera, he said, on orders of Hutchinson County Sheriff Hugh Anderson.

The sheriff said his orders not to permit any pictures of the plane came from Cdr. R. J. Isner, executive officer of the Naval air station near Olath, Kas.

"I can't issue an order like that. I issued no orders, just a request that a guard be placed around the plane," he told the News-Herald.

Isner added there was nothing secret about the plane. He directed the sheriff to return the camera and film.

The sheriff did this Friday afternoon but withheld the film until too late Saturday to be processed for use yesterday.

Sheriff Anderson refused further comment.

Durwood Hayes of Dallas, regional vice president of the National Press Photographers Assn., said:

"I don't know of any case where a news photographer can't take pictures on public property."

Navy pilot Richard Longarine of Amarillo suffered lacerations in crash-landing the single-passenger plane.

The Borger News-Herald said the confiscated film had only one exposure in it. The photographer had taken a picture when he neared the scene. It was from that distance and showed the deputy sheriff coming to a word with the newspaper planned to use it in its afternoon edition today.

Democrats Defend Far East Policies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats today defended President Truman's Far Eastern policies and assailed a Republican assertion that any final peace which leaves Korea divided would be a "destitution."

Eight Republicans, in a week-end report on the inquiry into the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, called for "liberation and unification" of Korea.

They blamed what they labeled "apprehension" policies of Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Acheson for the loss of China to the Communists. They said the Yalta agreement spawned most of America's difficulties with communism in Asia.

Answering unofficially, Senator Hunt (D-Wyo) said that if the eight Republicans—headed by Senator Bridges of New Hampshire—want to risk World War III in Korea, they ought to say so flatly.

He criticized an assertion in the GOP report that a settlement south of the Yalu river, border of Manchuria would "admit the success of Chinese aggressors."

"The Republicans seem to be demanding now more concessions than Russia and China can yield in Korea and save face," Hunt said. "They might as well ring the bell for World War III. If that's what they want, they should say so."

No Clues Available In Perryton Girl's Disappearance

The Ochiltree County Sheriff's dept. was still puzzling today over the mysterious disappearance of 8-year-old Pat Seitz, object of a five-hour search last Friday by a 100-man sheriff's posse.

The child, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Bruce Seitz of Canadian, disappeared from her grandmother's home in Perryton about 4 p. m. She was hysterical, officers said, apparently unharmed, but extremely nervous.

Questioning by doctors and her parents brought renewed tears and "I can't remember" or "I don't know." She mentioned having heard a radio appeal for information regarding her whereabouts, but was unable to tell where she heard the radio.

Doctors and Sheriff Ray Pahgan were unable to account for her hysteria. They will attempt to question the child in the middle of July 28 to Aug. 17 and was given a "best estimate."

The figure covers the period July 28 to Aug. 17 and was given a "best estimate."

Several people who were in the grandmother's house at the time expressed positive conviction that the girl did not return to the house through a door.

There was evidence that a window and screen in the bathroom had been tampered with, Sheriff Phgan said. It was suggested that someone may have pushed the girl in through the window from the outside. The window was open and the screen unlocked.

ROKs Knock Reds From Four Hills

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA — (AP) — South Korean infantrymen using hand grenades and bayonets knocked stubbornly defending Reds off four hills in eastern Korea today.

The South Koreans were within 100 yards of the top of two other hills.

Bitter hand-to-hand fighting flared along the front from Kumhwa to the east coast.

There have been no full-scale assaults by either side since the fire talks started in Kaesong July 10. But the Eighth army said today the Reds have suffered 9590 casualties in the past three weeks.

Eighth army said also that South Koreans are doing the all-time fighting on the east and east-central fronts.

A spokesman said "ROK (Republic of Korea) troops of the First ROK corps and ROK elements of the U. S. 10th corps have been supported by gunfire from U. S. naval vessels on the east coast, heavy air strikes and by combined fire of United Nations artillery."

Murderess At Large After Prison Break

WETUMPKA, Ala. — (AP) — A Negro woman who escaped from prison while under a 21½-year sentence for murder was the only one of eight women at liberty today after a daring week-end break.

Officials at Julia Tutwiler prison here said the fugitive was Elizabeth McClain Williams, who was convicted of "several" killings. The other prisoners were white. Six were recaptured early Sunday. One returned to prison voluntarily.

The women overpowered three guards late Saturday night, bound and gagged the officers, and placed them in a storage room.

Then they fled from the prison, brandishing a knife and bottles.

Four met Elvin Turner, husband of one of the matrons, and forced him to accompany them in his car on a flight toward Florida. They were halted at Dothan by bucketshot police, after releasing Turner unharmed near Phoenix City.

None of the women was injured when the Dothan officers emptied their subguns on the roof of the speeding car and made the fugitives halt.

Air Record Books Due Three Changes As Marks Shattered

DETROIT — (AP) — Keepers of American and world records began rewriting their books today, because no less than three speed records were cracked over a 100-mile race in the national air power in history."

More than 165,000 persons saw the big show, 91,000 of them turning out on Sunday. The race and demonstrations were run off in ideal weather at Wayne (Detroit) county airport.

Not only Air Force and civilian pilots got into the show but so did the Navy, Marines, Royal Canadian Air Force and the day U. S. Army. Hundreds of planes split the air including the still-secret B-45 jet bomber. Almost 100,000 spectators were on hand.

Col. Fred J. Ascani of Rockford, Ill., broke the world and American records for a 100-mile race in a Curtiss-Wright C-46. He averaged 528.498 mph in the Thompson trophy race. Flying a C-46, Ascani set a world record of 605.230 miles an hour in a run officially timed by British-made Sapphire.

Tag Youth Festival As Near-Disaster

BERLIN — (AP) — The Communist youth festival ended in a blaze of hate for the United States last night with half a million blue-shirted youth chanting allegiance to Stalin.

They crowded buses and trains for their homes behind the Iron Curtain today leaving a weary Berlin to clean up after the two-week long "peace" demonstration.

Despite the outward show of Red strength among the world's young people, official western observers said they would report to their governments that the festival was a "near disaster" for communism in Germany.

They drew three main conclusions from the activities of the past weeks during which about 2,000,000 Red-undisciplined kids visited East Berlin. At least 1,000,000 of these are estimated to have visited the West tonight.

HST Seeking Flood Funds

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman is preparing a special message to Congress asking more relief and rehabilitation funds for flood-stricken areas of the Midwest.

Congress leaders said after a conference at the White House today that Mr. Truman had read to them parts of the still incomplete message.

The conference lasted an hour and 20 minutes. House Speaker Rayburn said it was devoted exclusively to the "flood disaster in the Midwest."

The President is preparing to send a message to Congress "suggesting a course to help these people get out of the mud and out of the flood," Rayburn added.

None of the conferees would say how much Mr. Truman would ask in the way of money or what he proposes precisely.

Congress already has voted the President a $25,000,000 fund to cope with the immediate emergency caused by the floods in Missouri, Kansas and other Midwestern states. Much of this money already has been allocated.

Rescue Youth Pampans From Peak Take Honors At Air Show

CARLSBAD, N. M. — (AP) — An injured youth was rescued from the rocky slopes of the highest mountain in Texas last night after he painfully crawled three miles from a ledge where he was marooned.

John Eoff, 19, of Ballinger, Tex., was crippled by cactus spines in a fall on towering Guadalupe peak. A companion, Jim Erwin, 18, also of Ballinger, made the five-hour descent to alert rescue parties.

"They both ought to be spanked," said Sheriff Bill High of Eddy county, New Mexico. "They had no business on the mountain if they couldn't take care of themselves."

Eoff spent 16 hours without food or water on the ledge, about 8000 feet up the mountain.

But when Border Patrolman Jim Tice found him, he still had enough energy to want to crawl back up to recover a billfold containing four dollars. Tice restrained him and seconded the sheriff's motion for a spanking.

The search party, gathered from Carlsbad, El Paso, Van Horn and Mickle second and Dave Shoup and Don Leachman tying for third.

In the combat division, Kenn Jennings took first and Jerry McCune of Happy, second.

FBI Seeks Ex-Boxer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A one-time professional boxer today was put on the FBI's list of ten most wanted criminals.

He is Clachino Anthony Bacolla, 34. The BI said he boxed under the name of Jack Fiore in 1933-36.

Bacolla is wanted in Detroit for the murder of Albert Swartz, a jeweler, May 17, 1951, and on a federal charge there of obstruction of justice, based on the slaying of Swartz.

The FBI, in asking law enforcement officers throughout the nation to be on the lookout for Bacolla, said he is "considered an extremely dangerous criminal who may kill without the slightest provocation rather than be caught and returned to face the serious charges outstanding against him."

Bacolla was arrested in New York in 1937 and charged with armed robbery. He received a sentence of 12 to 20 years.

In November, 1950, he was arrested in Laredo, Texas, for possession of narcotics. He pleaded guilty and was to be sentenced at Corpus Christi, but he failed to show up and forfeited his bond.

Bacolla is five feet nine inches tall, weighs about 145, has dark brown hair and brown eyes, and has a one and a half inch scar over his left eye.

Why do chiggers have to bite during vacation time? It's hard enough now to get the country out of the red.

ROGERS

plan would result in a complete cleavage between the left and the right at the state level enterprise — which would result in "dictatorial powers by the group winning control."

Mundt admitted he gave that angle deep consideration, but added he felt such a situation would not arise because, as he stated, the Liberal party operates in-between the Conservatives and Laborites, taking just enough votes away to allow the Socialists to remain in power. He pointed out that they (Laborites) have never won a clear majority at the polls, Mundt agreed, too, that the Southern Democrats, since World War II, have been "a great stabilizing influence between Republicans and Democrats in Congress."

On selecting a presidential nominee by the Republicans, Rogers asked the Mundt where they would get their anti-socialist leadership from, when Sen. Taft (R-O), the most conservative of Republicans, himself introduced the public housing bills and introduced a form of socialized medicine in his platform. Continuing, Rogers added:

"Now of course he had that earmarked on a state basis. Now the people caught on to that pretty quick as being nothing but a confusion of the states right question with socialized medicine. So where are the Northern Republicans, who think like we of the South, coming from?"

Mundt decried the "me tooism" that plagued the 1948 elections, saying, "The Democrats are gradually choosing candidates who believe in the police state, welfare state and promising everything. We are finding Republican candidates like that too."

Fogers then reflected on the original concepts of the Republican party's founder, Alexander Hamilton, who believed the state should have authority over everybody, and said, "some of the things he (Hamilton) fought for are being brought into play today."

Mundt agreed Hamilton's policies were being adopted by Harry Truman, saying:

"The Republican party in now adopting the beliefs of Thomas Jefferson. This should make it easier for us to get together."

Mundt also agreed with Rogers that the present Congress "has done a good job in stopping legislation" that leaned toward socialism. However, he warned "the time is coming when you can no longer run the government from the backroom (Congress) and will have to put a man in the White House to occupy the engineer's cab who will work with the majority in Congress today, which you and I know are the mindless Democrats and Republicans rather than members of either party."

Concluding, Rogers said Southern Democrats "felt that a lot of Northern Republicans believed as we did, but we could not disperse of industry was under consideration."

Although Mundt never did directly answer the industrial dispersion question, he did promise in his final remarks he would support Byrd, if Rogers would make the same commitment concerning an equally good Republican candidate.

Money for the summer project was earned by the scouts from their rodeo concessions.

Actress Turns Nun

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A 20-year-old girl who made $1,000 a week as a movie actress has turned her back on acting to become a nun.

Juanita Quigley, who was appearing before the camera when she was only three, is studying canon law today in the San Vicente Novitiate. There she is known as Sister Quentin Rita of Mary and Joseph.

She promised herself to Christ in exercises conducted Saturday by the Most Rev. Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of Los Angeles. Her mother, Mrs. Wayne Quigley, said Juanita decided more than a year ago that movies and television and other things that had occupied her time, were not providing the challenge in life that she needed.

"She told me, finally, after she had rejected movies and television offers that she wished to become a nun," said Mrs. Quigley. "Her father and I thought she should have time to consider such an important step. We urged her to go abroad for a year. In six months she was back. She called me from New York to say she still was sure of her decision, and that we merely had delayed her six months."

Quigley was "Baby Jane" when she entered films. She played in "Imitation of Life," one of Claudette Colbert's earlier hit pictures, and had 400 speaking lines in it. Her last movie was "National Velvet," a horse racing theme starring Mickey Rooney.

Juanita has a sister, Rita, who was active in films until she married Arthur Goehner. The sister had a role in Joan Crawford's film "Susan and God."

The Quigleys also have a son, Quentin, a captain in the Air Force, and Juanita, in entering the sisterhood, took the first names of her brother and sister, Quentin Rita. After studying two years she will become a teacher in the primary grades.

site in a single jeep. The Reds, North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho and Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang, arrived in separate vehicles.

Communist correspondents, not affected by the UN order, sat on the verandah for a while today.

While the subcommittees argued, newsmen of both sides passed the time in small talk. The Red correspondents said UN forces had violated the Kaesong neutral zone 19 times since the talks began.

"But for once the Communists did not appear to have their hearts in the argument, and they desisted when allied newsmen expressed disbelief" the dispatch said.

By prior agreement, neither side will say what progress, if any, the subcommittees make until the talks are concluded.

In Washington, Gen. Omar N. Bradley said, "we Americans are participating in an armistice." But the U.S. chief of staff did not elaborate.

The Monday meeting was 20 minutes shorter than the third session, held Sunday. As usual there was no report of what happened then.

Britain Warned By Egyptians

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — An influential Egyptian newspaper said today Egypt will bear no responsibility for lives of British troops in the Suez Canal area after this country cancels the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Such troops, said the newspaper Al Ahram, will be considered "enemy troops unlawfully residing in the canal area."

Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah Eddin has said Egypt will cancel the treaty before her parliament reconvenes next November.

FDI Seeks Ex-Boxer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A one-time professional boxer today was put on the FBI's list of ten most wanted criminals.

He is Clachino Anthony Bacolla, 34. The BI said he boxed under the name of Jack Fiore in 1933-36.

Bacolla is wanted in Detroit for the murder of Albert Swartz, a jeweler, May 17, 1951, and on a federal charge there of obstruction of justice, based on the slaying of Swartz.

The FBI, in asking law enforcement officers throughout the nation to be on the lookout for Bacolla, said he is "considered an extremely dangerous criminal who may kill without the slightest provocation rather than be caught and returned to face the serious charges outstanding against him."

Bacolla was arrested in New York in 1937 and charged with armed robbery. He received a sentence of 12 to 20 years.

In November, 1950, he was arrested in Laredo, Texas, for possession of narcotics. He pleaded guilty and was to be sentenced at Corpus Christi, but he failed to show up and forfeited his bond.

Bacolla is five feet nine inches tall, weighs about 145, has dark brown hair and brown eyes, and has a one and a half inch scar over his left eye.

Why do chiggers have to bite during vacation time? It's hard enough now to get the country out of the red.

Elk City Primed For Big Rodeo

Thursday, Friday, Saturday

ELK CITY, Okla. — (Special)— Elk City's 18th annual Ackley park rodeo festivities will open Thursday, August 23, with a two-mile long parade which will form at 5 p. m. and wind its way through the downtown business district.

Following the parade will be the opening rodeo performance at Elk City's Ackley park commencing promptly at 8 p. m. Two additional night performances will be held at the Elk City rodeo park on Friday and Saturday nights.

In addition to the unusual contest events of bareback and saddle bronc riding, bull riding, bulldogging and calf roping, there will be something new in the way of rodeo contests at the Elk City show—a junior bronc riding event in which youngsters 12 to 14 years of age will attempt to ride unbroken Shetland ponies.

Highlighting the specialty acts will be the Hendricks troupe of Los Angeles, Calif. The troupe, consisting of Ann, Byron and Lee Hendricks, will appear at intervals between contests breaks as both a fancy riding and jumping team and the role of rodeo comedians.

Directors of the annual rodeo have announced added emphasis is being given comedy acts for this year's performances. Other than the Hendricks trio, rodeo clowns and bullfighters will include Hoyt Heffer, Elk City's own professional rodeo comedian, and Wilbur Prather, Prather, Calif.

Plenty of free parking and plenty of choice seats are available for all comers, directors of the 18th annual rodeo said. Stock for the show will be furnished by the Beutler Brothers, nationally prominent rodeo organization which has produced 23 of the nation's top ranking rodeos this season.—adv.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT "SLIPPED DISCS"!

While Chiropractors agree that surgery may be desirable in extreme "slipped disc" cases, there is a preponderance of evidence that "slipped disc" is a catch-all phrase often used to explain many back ailments, that in reality are caused by vertebral subluxation.

The outward symptoms of a "slipped disc" case and one which is the result of a vertebral subluxation (slightly displaced vertebra) are often the same. The Science of Chiropractic has specialized in the treatment of such spinal conditions for more than fifty years and has developed methods which have afforded relief to many "back-sufferers" without resort to surgery. This fact is attested to by the results of a recent nation-wide survey involving thousands of cases.

If you suffer from frequently recurring low back pain, which may extend into the legs or if you have been told that you have "slipped disc", consult a Chiropractor and have him examine your spine.

The Chiropractors today are licensed by the State of Texas, and are required to meet high educational standards.

CAUSES

The three most probable causes of true rupture of a disc are:

1. Great traumatic force, such as a fall.
2. Pathological weakness of a disc resulting from diminished nerve energy supply.
3. A combination of the two above conditions.

The drawing here shows the normal position of a disc and a "herniated disc." The intervertebral disc consists of an outside capsule which normally is a tough white fibrous tissue holding an elastic pulpy mass. It functions as a shock absorber, and holds the vertebrae apart. The disc allows great flexibility of the spine, but at the same time helps hold the vertebrae in good alignment. You will notice in the drawing how a part of the disc has the appearance of being "squeezed".

Scandal Stirs A Memory

'All Right' Is Vital Part Of Academy Honor

(Editors note: This is the second of a series of six articles about West Point by Westbrook Pegler. These columns originally written in January, 1929 and deal with football affairs as related to military academy life.) "Reprinted by special permission of the Chicago Tribune."

It seems, though, that the boys are human enough to even in matters of honor now and again. It is a point of honor, for instance, that no cadet shall take a drink at any time. But during the Army-Yale game at New Haven last season one of the yearlings or third classmen, fell in with some drinking civilians under the grandstand. Unaccustomed to drinking at all, he got drunk and when the time came for the corps to march out of the bowl two friends of the company took him by the elbows and marched him into the formation and off the field, supporting him from the sides while the man behind kept kicking his heels to make him step out.

Whether the other cadets did this merely to spare the corps a public scandal or intended to withhold the facts from the officers was a question that never arose. The cadet's condition was too obvious to be concealed on the trip back to the academy. Within two hours he had been dismissed. All that his counsel could say in extenuation at the trial was that none of the football reporters at the rim of the bowl had seen, or seen fit to mention the incident, from which he argued that the boy had done no damage to the reputation of the corps.

In the fall of 1927 a First Class man showed up after a football game with a slight edge on. As I understand it, he was only slightly stimulated by the purpose of a visit as well as the place. No cadet may report 'all right' when he is going anywhere for an unauthorized purpose. "But," I asked, "doesn't that tend to crush all the natural mischief out of men and reduce you people, who are supposed to be preparing for adventurous business, to the faultless piety of so many military monks?" "Hell, no," said Mr. Sprague. "You can always take a chance on being caught. There are no sentries in the corridors during study hour at night. You can slip out of your room to visit someone else, but if the tactical officer comes along inspecting of a cadet officer happens to be in the hall and calls 'all right?' even if he's three floors away, you have to say 'no.' It's just another way of paying off a lost gamble."

North's bidding in today's hand looked more scientific than it really was. He bid two clubs (the Stayman Convention) to find out whether or not South had a hideable major suit. When South properly showed the hearts, North raised to game in that suit. This was all pure moonshine. Since North had 4-3-3-3 distribution he could expect no advantage from bidding a fitting trump suit. He should have been perfectly happy with a no-trump contract. A jump to three no-trump was North's best response to the opening bid. At three no-trump South would have no problems. He would need a simple diamond finesse to make his contract. The finesse would succeed, and that would be that. At four hearts, life was not so simple. South needed either a good break in clubs or a very

Sports Round-Up

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK — (AP) — A decided coolness has arisen between Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the writers who record the daily operations of the National League leaders.

Lubbock Edge Past Lubbock, 7-6

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Both Lubbock and Albuquerque racked 13 hits in a wild subplot Sunday afternoon in the game ended with the Dukes edging Lubbock 6-5 Sunday afternoon in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

But then, weeks after, the Brooklyn press corps was haken to its wedgies to hear that a radio sportscaster had informed his listeners that the existing had nothing to the story at all, that Dressen hadn't said any such thing.

They swarmed on Chuck, and he said that was right, that he certainly didn't recall having blasted Paicica to the extent he had been quoted. That's what he still says, and about the most charitable thing the boys are saying about the little guy these days is that maybe he actually did forget he had, under stress and emotion, castigated the young pitcher.

But that is not the full extent of the unfortunate incident. It has caused the fellows who search the dressing rooms for news after each game to take a dim view of a sportscaster who questioned the accuracy of their reporting.

One of the deans of the local press boxes gave the sportscaster a hard going over in print the other day. He said, in effect, Iceland is 39,788 miles in area.

The first annual model airplane contest, sponsored by the Sportsman Store and the 20-30 Club, was held yesterday afternoon at Oiler Park. A large crowd turned out to watch the planes in action.

The show was a huge success with plenty of thrills and all the excitement of a real plane show. Most of the flights were completed without mishap, but a few met with disastrous endings as they crashed headlong into the ground and flew to pieces.

In the above photos taken at the meet, Don Jennings, Tulsa, (top) is shown in the midst of his stunt flying. Reyno L. Ross, Borger (below) exhibits his model of the British Mosquito Bomber. His wife brought the plans for the plane over from England.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET NEA Staff Writer

WOMAN-CHASING HUSBAND

Several current magazines have articles on the "Don Juan" type of husband. They seem to be trying to get across the idea to women that if your husband is a Don Juan he is a sick man—probably suffering from some kind of mother complex.

Well, what if he is? Sick or well, he's a woman-chaser and his wife is in a tough spot.

What women married to such men want to know is not what makes them what they are, but what they, the wives, ought to do about the situation.

Actually there are only two sensible things the woman who marries a man with wandering eyes and straying feet can do.

She can give him up as hopeless—which he actually is—and let him go his way while she tries to make a new life for herself.

Or she can, if it is important to her, the family together for the sake of the children, take the tough, realistic attitude that she is married to a woman-chaser, and will probably never be able to change him. The important thing, then, is not to let his weakness ruin her life.

NEVER REALLY LOVES HER

It will if she tries to kid herself into thinking that he really loves her and is just the victim of predatory women. Or if she thinks when one affair is finished that it will be the last. Or if she thinks that if she keeps a close eye on him he won't have a chance to chase other women.

Any of those attitudes will likely lead her to such bitter unhappiness that she will be the one who changes.

But if she faces the fact that she isn't deeply loved and so must not depend on love that isn't there, she can set out courageously to build a satisfactory life for herself, within the setting of her marriage.

Either leave him or live with him without emotional dependency—those are the only two sensible choices the wife actually has.

Maternity Fashion With Hair Is Pleasant Duty

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Looking pretty while she's waiting for the baby is not just a womanly whim, it's a pleasant duty. Going about in shapeless dressers, heavy hooked buttons, and a cardigan jacket with a bow at the waist, is one way for a woman to get through the waiting time. But it isn't the way most attractive to her family and friends.

Surprisingly, fashions that make up a maternity wardrobe with a real flare are budget-priced. And, as stark styles design suits, they are planned to be interchangeable.

A black velvet skirt, for instance, may be worn either with a silver suit or a jacket with a black watch plaid. Thus, two jackets plus one skirt make a wardrobe for both daytime and evening during the waiting days.

The jacket in silver lame has a cardigan neckline with stand-up collar and big patch pockets. Its daytime counterpart, in the plaid, has black velvet notched collar and cuffs, self-buttons and slanting, slit pockets.

Rounding out this trio, there's a dressy suit in charcoal and black that could see both daytime and evening wear by a mere switch of dickey. The concealing midtop can be worn loose or belted. The dickey that comes with the suit is a soft pink otoman studded with rhinestones. The three-quarter length sleeves may be worn pushed up; have smooth-fitting cuffs that close with jeweled buttons.

It may be that the television age is making a difference in the way you are taught marks a gentleman.

There are several ways of dealing with the reaction. You can decide your standards are more important than the man and drop him; you can judge him objectively and decide he offers you other traits more important than blue-book courtesy; or, if you know him very well and have a high level of understanding, you may talk with him, not in anger or condemnation, about how important such things are to you. Perhaps he'll change.

Remove both ends from can of hash; using one end push hash into one piece. Cut hash in half lengthwise; place each half, cut side down, in a shallow baking dish or pie plate. Combine bacon fat and catsup or mustard; brush hash with this mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

fruit-You. "I'm much too skinny and stooped," she said. "And I can't even wear off-the-shoulder dresses."

POLY-POLY introduced herself to Lucilla as Mrs. Colps. Mrs. Colps lived on West Ninety-Third. "I'll have to hurry plenty when I leave here afterwards, to get home before my husband. So he won't start asking, 'Where've you been?'"

Lucilla stared at the guileless face under the close-cropped black curls. "You mean you don't know anything about it?"

"Uh-uh. Does yours?"

"Lucilla said hurriedly, 'My husband thought it was a good idea for me to take an exercise course.'"

"But he doesn't know you'll be a New Woman?" The round blue eyes were solemn and direct. "Does he?"

Lucilla shook her head.

"You want to surprise him?" She hesitated. Did she want to surprise Arthur? What's more, did Arthur want to be surprised? Basely, she returned the question unopened.

At that moment, a cubicle curtain was pulled back, and a girl strolled out, moving with a languor that matched her heavy-lidded eyes. The woman started at this latecomer in the strapless, two-piece, turquoise sun-suit, and the atmosphere changed as abruptly as if cold northerly winds had just blasted on the eastern seaboard.

The girl was plump in the way a Renoir nude is plump, moistened with the juices of desire, and lazily ripe. Her hair, the silky, polished color of redwood, fell to her magnificent white shoulders. She smiled, and it was the merest parting of her fruity lips, not unfriendly, unless one considers seductiveness unfriendly. When she spoke, it was as startling as if a tiger had squeaked. It was a metallic squeak, and very penetrating.

"You kids leave your jools in the locker 607!" She was uncaring as a two-inch-wide brazelet, and every woman in the room must have thought, diamonds and emeralds? hoping not, but grudgingly convinced it was so.

There were murmurs from the other women as they eyed Lucilla. Somebody said, "Till bet she doesn't weigh a hundred." She felt as if they were excluding her from the ranks of those who needed Beauty.

The uniformed attendant said, "Girls, please remove all make-up with the creams and tissues on this table. Then restrain the hair with the gauze band which you have been given, and place all val-e-bulls in the locker corresponding to the number on your key."

There were murmurs from the other women as they eyed Lucilla. Somebody said, "Till bet she doesn't weigh a hundred." She felt as if they were excluding her from the ranks of those who needed Beauty.

Enlarged Pores Are Big Worry For Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Of all the small beauty worries that women endure, enlarged pores are among the most bothersome, chiefly because they are a condition that outlasts the bloominess of adolescence and continues to plague even in advancing age.

Before plunging madly into a program designed to rid yourself of them, it's a good idea to consider just what enlarged pores are. A good definition is offered by Dr. Mary MacFayden, who describes them as "dilated openings of the oil glands." She distinguishes them from the true pores, which are, she says, the mouths of the sweat glands.

Since enlarged pores usually indicate oiliness of the skin, Dr. MacFayden suggests two methods to rub them in, one on each side of the face, concentrating on the areas that are most affected. She prefers the ice treatment to astringents, which she claims are expensive and offer only temporary effects.

Although Dr. MacFayden recognizes in common-sense fashion that it's usually futile to forbid a woman the use of powder, she does point out the fact that better results are obtained if its use is kept to a minimum.

Never should this type skin be stressed, he points out, when there's already a coating of dirt and oil or old cosmetics. Apply powder over a clean skin, patting the powder on with a fluff of cotton rather than grinding it into your pores with a puff.

A second square of cotton may be used to dust away excess powder and coax the remainder into a smooth, velvety effect.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"I think my face needs some real work on it but I'm afraid to try as I might do it the wrong way. What do you suggest?"—Ellen J.

There is, definitely, a right and wrong way to apply cream and lotions. If your skin is sagging and lines are forming, get busy now and put some "real work" on it. Use your lotion first, to cleanse the skin. A thoroughly clean skin is essential before you do anything to revitalize the tissues.

Follow the face chart, shown here, when you apply your cosmetics. Always use a lifting, upward and outward movement on the face. Pin this chart on your dressing table. When you apply any facial preparation, remember these movements. First around the neck, then, from the center of the chin, upward and outward toward the eyes. Light patting and "fingerprinting" under the eyes. While you work look down, look up.

Then work up on the forehead; center, then outward. Lift as you press. You will get results from modern preparations, no matter how you apply them, but if you follow the upward pattern in the chart, you will get that double action.

No woman, no matter what her age, should allow her lines and wrinkles to show, so get busy and get results.

"Do you think it unwise for me to fly alone to Europe? I am a widow of 65, health and financial-ly well fixed. My married daughter and her husbands disapprove and want me to stay at a summer boarding house, which is isolated and I hate the atmosphere.—Bewildered."

Stop being bewildered and take your flying trip. Why shouldn't you do as you please? Buy some pretty clothes and—Go! Maybe you will find romance, why not? Have a good time and let Beauty After Forty know how the trip turns out. Your daughters may not be aware of it but they may be just a bit jealous!

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Know How To Use Your Luck

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Whenever a player wins consistently at a card game, people are bound to say that he's lucky. Maybe he is, but maybe he also gives his luck a chance to operate.

For example, they started a game of Canasta fairly late the other night at the Cavendish club in New York. Two of the players knew what they were doing, and the other two were bridge players out for a brief vacation. The two experienced Canasta players cut together as partners. They had a very lucky time together.

On the first hand, one of them melded three aces and three sixes from his hand. His partner, at his next play, drew and then held:

2. A, K-K-K, Q-Q, J, 8, 7, 5, 3.

His play turned out very well, but it wasn't luck. Just for the fun of it, decide what you would do before you read any farther. Our "lucky" partner knew that his partner could have stopped after melding three aces. Only 50 points were needed for the initial meld, so why were the three sixes added? The reason for the additional meld was to show a very fine play for a fast out.

This kind of signal calls for cooperation, so the lucky man promptly added his ace to make a four-card base. Next he put down three dings, just in case they were needed to make an odd card or two in his partner's hand. Then he seriously considered adding the deuce to the aces or putting down the deuce with a pair of queens. He finally decided to meld nothing more at that turn, and discarded his black threes.

The original melder had five cards left in his hand; three wild cards and a pair of kings. At his next turn he melded out, before the opponents had even made their first meld.

Of course, it was very good luck that the original melder's odd cards happened to be a pair of kings. If it had been another pair, he'd have needed a good draw or another turn to meld out. If he had held two odd cards instead of a pair, maybe he wouldn't have made that dramatic six-card meld from his hand.

But while we're talking about luck, let's remember that the lucky pair could not have taken advantage of their good fortune unless they had made the right plays. It took skill and partnership understanding to make the most of their cards.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Card of Thanks 1

I cannot say and I will not say that he is dead—he is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand.

He has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be since he lingers there.

And you—O you, who the wildest yearn

For the old-time step and glad return.

Think of him as faring on, as dear in the love of There as the love of Here.

Think of him still as the same, I say; He is not dead—he is just away!

T. C. WEBSTER

We wish to express our deep appreciation to all who in any way helped us bear our sorrow at the death of our husband and father, T. C. Webster, who passed on to his reward on August 16. To our many friends in Pampa and neighboring towns and to Rev. Douglas E. Carver and Rev. Crenshaw for their comforting messages. We wish also to thank Duenkel-Carmichael for their last rites.

That old chestnut about being penny-wise and pound-foolish somehow seems particularly appropriate in the case of aluminum, once regarded as a luxury metal, but in recent years proven extremely economical and useful. This is particularly true of the aluminum nail. Wherever water, moisture - condensation, water-base paint or generally damp atmosphere are likely to reach, this nail is especially effective and money-saving. It's also useful in fastening certain building materials which attack metals other than aluminum, and is of course, essential for fastening aluminum roofing or siding where galvanic action otherwise would occur.

These are the logical conditions under which use of aluminum nails is suggested by experts, but general use of aluminum nails in the frame of a house, in flooring, or in interior panel or trim is not recommended. For such protected applications the common nail is strong enough, durable enough and cheap enough. But in all types of siding and almost all roofing, and especially in redwood, red cedar and asbestos, the aluminum nail pays a dividend of longer life, reduced maintenance and lower application costs. It cannot mar the appearance of finished wood siding with ugly rust stains, and therefore eliminates the need for frequent repainting of unsightly, rust-streaked siding.

In general, aluminum's rust-proof characteristics make it especially valuable in roofing accessories where run off water from metal roofing frequently requires expensive maintenance. Various types of aluminum roofing fixtures, flashing, ridge roll and gutter are available. In addition, aluminum roll valleys, which come packed in convenient rolls, is a handy item to have around the home workshop. It may be used for anything from patching a rat hole to lining a laundry chute.

Aluminum chain link fencing is another aluminum product which has considerable merit for the rural handyman. Since it's rust-proof it never needs painting—a slow, tedious, and often expensive maintenance job required of other types of fencing. Its light weight makes it easy to erect, which prompts its use for children's play pens and yards, and for neighborhood tennis courts and baseball backstops.

Basic applications for aluminum are growing steadily. Aluminum clotheslines, for example, won't rust, rot or crack, won't soil clothes, can be left up permanently and cleaned easily by wiping with a damp rag. Often they're also used for grape arbor, flower trellises, television guy wire (stranded), and other decorative and utilitarian purposes.

In addition, aluminum also has a wide range of uses inside, from shutters, venetian blinds and lamp shades to pots and pans and foil for cooking and preserving foods.

AIRMAN OF '51—Maj. Charles E. Yeager, USAF, first man to fly faster than sound, was named "Airman of the Year" by 110 cadets from 14 countries and awarded the "Hap" Arnold trophy. He received the award at ceremonies in New York, sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol.

House Cost Not True Value Measurement

Home buyers often confuse the cost or selling price of a house with value, but real estate appraisers whose job it is to protect investors take many other factors into consideration in determining true value.

L. W. Ellwood, chief appraiser for the New York Life Insurance Co., one of the nation's largest lenders, summarizes the contention that cost is not a true measure of value in these words:

"Cost which is excessive does not enhance the value of a house beyond that of a similar structure with more reasonable costs. On the other hand, cost of occupancy, if too high, may cancel out benefits of low construction cost."

Pointing out that construction costs vary through inefficient operations by a builder, delays, unexpected material price increases and other reasons, Ellwood said these factors do not make a house more valuable than one built efficiently.

High cost of occupancy may cancel out benefits of low construction cost. The typical owner stated: "The most important consideration in judging future benefits is whether the property will return sufficient amenities and utility to warrant its current cost. The typical owner would be studied as carefully as the construction specifications. In many cases, when the property is purchased with a maximum loan, adding the taxes, heating, utilities and maintenance puts the total above that which the typical occupant could afford to pay, or might be willing to pay over a long period of years."

"A good way to test the price asked by a builder or any other seller as a measure of value is to use the price as a base in estimating cost of occupancy. Assume, for example, that a house of conventional design and in physical harmony with its environment is offered at $24,000 in a locality where the conventional loans are available up to 75 percent of appraised value at $6.33 per month per $1,000. It would require a family income of at least $15,000 per year for 20 years to support this occupancy cost. This estimate is based on $1,367 per year as payments on principal and interest."

Q — The house I just bought has a marble mantel around the fireplace, and I've bought a marble-top table to match it. How can I keep the marble clean?
—G.D.

A — If you can buy marble dust, use it just the way you'd use scouring powder. Otherwise use a paste made of white soap and whitening, then rinse and wipe dry.

Q — My kitchen floor creaks in certain spots. Can I stop the creaking without taking up the linoleum?
—H. L.

A — If you can get at the joists underneath the kitchen floor, you should be able to stop the creaking by driving small wedges between the joists and the sub-flooring. Have somebody walk around in the kitchen while you're down below so you can locate the creaking boards.

Q — How can I keep my new aluminum acetate anodized door bright and shiny? I'm afraid damp salt air in my neighborhood will spoil the looks.
—W.M.

A — After you clean the door with a detergent and rinse and dry it, apply transparent lacquer. You may be able to obtain this in pressurized spray form. Or you can use several coats of clear spar varnish.

A JOB FOR THE PRESIDENT—President Truman wanted a plaque for presentation to the person making the most outstanding contribution to employment of the handicapped, so he gave the job to students at the Institute for the Crippled and Disabled in New York City. Two of the four seriously handicapped men who spent three months designing and making it are seen hard at work on the trophy. At left, James Nunn, 32, an ex-infantryman crippled by a land mine in Germany, hand-carved the 22-carat gold Presidential Seal and engraved the sterling silver plate on which it's mounted. At right, Art Smith, 22, of Bronx, N. Y., crippled in one arm at birth, designed and executed the piece, including a five-color drawing of it. The trophy was presented to George E. Banz of Chicago under auspices of the President's Committee for National Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Home Building Can Continue

Home building can continue in Pampa as a result of recent rulings by defense agencies in Washington, according to Lynn Boyd, local lumber and building materials dealer.

"The new regulations insure a minimum but adequate supply of critical materials for use in new housing, although it will be difficult to build large homes after Sept. 30," Boyd said.

Builders will have to economize on steel and copper, and with a little exception, no aluminum can be used.

Boyd stated that if kitchens and bathrooms are placed near each other, government steel and copper allowances should be ample. Also, electrical outlets will have to be held to a minimum to come within restrictions.

"Through a self-certifying procedure, builders and contractors will be permitted to obtain allotments of steel and copper without having to apply for special permits," he said.

Prior to Oct. 1, homes of any size can be started, but no priority assistance will be available to help get materials until after Sept. 30, and only minimum amounts can be obtained then through self-allotment procedure.
