No Funds For Dam This Year Rogers Says After Parley

It will be impossible for backers of the Canadian River Dam to get their $35,000,000 appropriation through Congress this year, Rep. Walter Rogers said this morning over the telephone in a conversation with The Pampa Daily News.

Rogers yesterday conferred with Rep. George Mahon, Senators Connally and Johnson and a Mr. Nelson of the Bureau of Reclamation on the advisability of attempting to obtain funds for the dam at this time.

The Pampa congressman said: "At the time the bill was passed by the Senate last year there was a commitment made that no attempt to push for the funds would be made until the present Korean situation is over. This is, of course, on record but even if it wasn't that word must be just as good."

Rogers said he wanted to keep the dam proposition current "with government officials," so that when the time does come for its appropriation we will not have to go back and review all that we done so far.

Repeating, he said, "During the present defense program it would be impossible to get the appropriation through Congress for the $35,000,000 Sanford project, but we hope the Korean conflict may blow up shortly and the entire world situation ease off next year so that we will be able to direct funds coming in to the government for such projects."

Rogers advised backers of the dam to continue with their plans to visit Washington in the near future to talk with government officials on the project, "and keep the thing current."

No meeting date has been set for the talks between Canadian Dam backers and government officials, Rogers added, saying: "But we do want them to come up to Washington so we can discuss the mechanics of getting the appropriation through when the proper time comes."

Cool Front Is Moving In

A cool front was on its way to the Panhandle this morning, while most of Texas still groans from the effects of the "drought."

Weather news reported this morning looked black for most of Texas. "Searched pasture lands are sending lank cattle to an early market. At least 30 persons are dead from the effects of the blazing sun. No relief in sight."

However the cool front began flushing the heat out of the Panhandle this morning and the weather bureau said cautiously that it will be "not so warm" in the Panhandle today.

KPDN Wins Football Broadcast Rights

Radio station KPDN was designated this morning by the school board to broadcast all home and out of town football and basketball games this year.

The decision was made in a called meeting. A contract stipulating that the station will have exclusive one year broadcast rights for this week. Policy of the football district is for each home team to designate what radio station will broadcast each game at home and away.

Two propositions were considered before the decision was made. One was the Amarillo method, having each station bid for service, and the other was the Lubbock system of rotation.

The bidding system was turned down. No definite policy was set concerning the rotation.

Attempt Made To End Meat Shortage

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — A move to expatriate cattle in an effort to end a meat shortage is being made by Cuba.

Farmers have been slow to sell cattle this season. They say the animals are thin and official price of 12 cents a pound on the hoof is low.

Pepin Says Street Oiling Not Completely An Expense Of City

Oiling of city streets is not done at the complete expense of the city, City Manager Dick Pepin told the city commission yesterday following the body's morning study of next year's budget.

The question arose, Pepin said, when some residents "got the idea" the city had purchased oil from The Harvest Queen Grain Elevator, west of Pampa, to oil several blocks of new addition being built by John Ketter.

Group Returns To First Plan On Spillway

The McClellan Lake Improvement Committee will start to do what it originally intended — concentrate its efforts on replacing the ruined spillway at the dam.

Deviation from that original purpose arose in June when representatives from Fryton, a Pampa meeting of Panhandle cities and towns interested in Lake McClellan, wanted to bring Lake Fryon on Wolf Creek into the picture. This developed into a possibility that every dam in the Panhandle would be brought into a program to be sponsored by the overall group.

However, yesterday, the newly organized group voted to make its immediate action center around Lake McClellan because of the danger existing to lives and property of people living below the dam and then give what help is needed to other dams in the Panhandle "at the proper time."

G. S. "Pinkey" Vineyard, chairman of the group, disclosed the new spillway he constructed, would be almost double the size of the present one. Vineyard, reading a letter from George Merrill, regional chief of the Soil Conservation Service, Fort Worth, said the new spillway would be 528 feet long by 180 feet wide. It is estimated to cost $450,000.

A delegation of three men — to be appointed later by Vineyard — will call on Merrill to ask that funds for McClellan be included in the department's 1952 budget. Later, another group will seek approval of the Bureau of the Budget in Washington and follow through by conferring with Rep. Walter Rogers and Senators Connally and Johnson on getting the appropriation through.

Meeting in the recreation hall at the dam, the group elected to solicit its operating funds through donations by citizens of the various communities represented at the meeting. This money will be used to defray the traveling expenses of men sent to Fort Worth or Washington in the interests of the dam. It will also be used for other purposes such as postage, telephone calls and telegrams.

Following the meeting, a barbecue dinner was served by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. Col. B. H. Clark, commanding officer of the Amarillo Air Force Base, and Mrs. Clark attended the dinner as special guests.

May Seek Increased Texas Oil Output

AUSTIN — (AP) — The world oil situation may bring requests for increased Texas crude oil production.

Three officials of the Production Administration for Defense are scheduled to appear at tomorrow's statewide oil protection hearing at Abilene to discuss the impact of the Iranian oil shut-down on American production.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said he anticipated the officials would urge an increase in the Texas oil flow. Major purchasers of Texas crude indicated to the commission, meanwhile, they will want $3,401 more barrels daily in September than they asked for August.

Britain Appoints Envoy To Russia

LONDON — (AP) — The appointment of Sir Alvaro D. F. Gascoigne as British ambassador to Moscow was announced today by the foreign office.

Gascoigne, who recently served as Britain's political representative in Japan, will succeed Sir David Kelly who plans to retire.

Young Girl Being Treated For Polio

PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) — An 18-day-old girl is being treated for polio here.

Martha Louise Reed, who weighed seven pounds, two ounces at birth, was taken to a hospital Saturday from Canton, Ill. Her legs are paralyzed.

The American Medical Association said in Chicago it was unusual for an infant that young to have polio. It added that no statistics were available to show whether it was a record.

India, Pakistan Feud Verbally

NEW DELHI, India — (AP) — India and Pakistan celebrated their fourth year of independence from the British today, but leaders took no holiday from their war on words with each other.

Center of the feud, which started a few months after the subcontinent was divided, is Kashmir.

U.S., Britain Bare Final Draft Of Jap Treaty

To Demand Partial Damages Payment

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States and Britain made public today their final draft of a peace treaty with Japan. It makes clear Japanese obligations to pay partial reparations to allied countries devastated during the war.

Russia has bitterly denounced the American-British sponsored draft and is reported ready to wage an all-out propaganda battle against it at the treaty conference opening Sept. 4 in San Francisco.

Despite this, the State Department confidently expects the overwhelming majority of 50-plus allied countries will sign the pact at the meeting.

The latest draft, the third, makes it clear Japan's present financial difficulties rule out complete reparations to any country.

This reparations provision, however, has been softened in language somewhat to please the Philippines which threatened to boycott the San Francisco meeting because they felt they were entitled to big war damages from the Japanese.

The rest of the changes in the 6,500 word draft are minor. These were included in answer to comments and suggestions from friendly governments.

No changes, as far as could be learned, were made to appease Russia's vehement objections. Once the treaty is ratified by the majority of the signers at the San Francisco meeting, it will formally end the war declared against Japan nearly 10 years ago.

The western powers hope this will bring Japan back into the ranks of the major countries banded together to resist Communist aggression.

The key paragraph in the treaty text dealing with reparations, as now drafted, says: "It is recognized that Japan should pay reparations to the allied powers for the damage and suffering caused by it during the war. Nevertheless, it is also recognized that Japan's resources are not presently sufficient, if it is to maintain a viable economy, to make complete reparations for all such damage and suffering and at the same time meet its other obligations."

The big difference between this and the previous section of reparations is that the word "complete" describing reparations was substituted for "adequate."

This apparently was designed to make it clear that Japan should try to meet reparations claims despite its present poverty. The old section dealing with reparations said: "Japan lacks the capacity, if it is to maintain a viable economy, to make adequate reparations to the allied powers, and at the same time to meet its other obligations."

Miami Man Injured In Ranch Accident

Melvin McQuiston, Miami, was badly injured yesterday when a horse he was riding reared and fell backward. He had been working cattle on his ranch five miles north of Miami.

McQuiston, about 22, was taken to Mercy Hospital, but X-rays failed to show broken bones. He is the son of H. J. McQuiston, 812 N. Gray.

Thirty-Three Accused Cadets Leave West Point; Face Draft

WEST POINT, N.Y. — (AP) — Thirty-three of the 90 accused military academy cadets are civilians today, most of them slated for early dates with their draft boards unless they gain admittance to other colleges.

Their grim exodus from the academy marked the beginning of the greatest mass expulsion in the 150-year history of the "Point."

All 90 are accused of violating the West Point honor code by cheating on examinations.

POLO EXPERIMENT — Dr. Will Miller, Frost, Tex., prepares to administer rabies serum to a little girl, one of the 400 persons who appeared to start the medical experiment seeking immunization against polio. Dr. Herbert Hippi, Waco, ophthalmic specialist who has been conducting the research program to study possible effect of the rabies serum as a polio preventative, has been joined by Texas volunteers who are contacting former polio victims to test the theory that persons inoculated against rabies may be immune to polio. Rabies Criticism Spreads As Volunteers Take More Shots

State Health Officer George W. Cox today endorsed criticism voiced by Pampa doctors on Dr. Walter E. Hippi's theory on polio immunization.

"The potential danger is too great," Cox said, after a small army of volunteers appeared in Frost, Texas, today to get their third rabies shots, hoping to prove the vaccine will provide polio immunization up to three years.

Dr. J. W. Bass, Dallas health director, said he would fight such an experiment in Dallas. He said he had records of many persons who were paralyzed and at least one person who had died from rabies shots.

Cox announced from his office in Austin that he particularly objected to the use of human beings in the early experimental stage. Pampa doctors, too, said they would not give their children immunization up to three years.

Officials of the Corsicana-Navarro County health unit are administering the shots in the Frost High School building. The fifth and final shots will be given Friday, and thus far officials report few reactions among the volunteers. Second shots were not given to those with reactions — a rash and vomiting.

Dr. Hippi told reporters in rebuttal that "in his opinion, there is very little chance of anyone getting paralysis, even temporarily from only five anti-rabies shots." The Waco doctor has collected 70 names of persons who have had rabies shots and have not contracted polio.

Iran Rejects British Plan

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP) — The Iranian government today rejected the latest British compromise offer to settle the oil dispute, but Britain refused to take "no" for an answer and the talks are continuing.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fattoli told reporters the British offer was unacceptable because it did not conform to Iran's drastic nationalization law under which Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties were taken over.

Chief British negotiator Richard Stokes told a news conference he hoped an agreement might yet be reached.

The Iranians still are insisting on two laws which strip AIOC of all profits from Iranian oil — 75 percent going directly to the Iranian government and 25 percent impounded against possible compensation claims.

Rapist-Slayer Beats Guard, Escapes Jail

CHICAGO — (AP) — A rapist and slayer awaiting electrocution beat a guard to death and escaped over the wall of the Cook County Jail last night.

Police ordered to "shoot to kill" were combing the city today for the fugitive, Harry Williams, 29-year-old, six-foot, two-inch Negro who has been sentenced to die Sept. 14 for murder. He is armed with the riot gun of the guard he killed.

Jail Warden Philip Scanlan and Sheriff John E. Babb issued the "shoot to kill" order. Babb personally offered a $1,000 reward for Williams' capture — dead or alive.

A short time after he escaped, Williams attempted to hold up a motorist about a mile from the jail, which is at 26th St. and California Ave., on the southwest side. Police saw the fire on Williams and he fled.

"This man is so desperate he never will be taken alive," Warden Scanlan said.

The warden said Raymond Jenko, 20, white, who also was sentenced to die for murder, was seized in Williams' cell in the death row. He said Williams and Jenko were together in the escape plot, but that Jenko remained in the cell.

The jail break here was one of two prison disturbances in the nation yesterday.

At Point-of-the-Mountain, Utah, the third riot in as many months in Utah's new multi-million dollar prison was put down without bloodshed.

Two prison hostages had been held as hostages under threat of death most of the day were released. The state board of correction ordered all inmates confined to their cells.

The uprising ended when Joseph W. Dudler, state commissioner of public safety, conferred with riot leaders. An investigation would be made of their grievances.

Officials said 22 men were in the cell block which the prisoners took over during the riot.

The slain riot guard in the Chicago break was George Turley, 43. Turley, his head and chest crushed by vicious blows, died in the Bridewell Hospital a half hour after the assault.

UN Suggests Subcommittee To Thrash Out Buffer Zone

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — United Nations delegates suggested today that a subcommittee be set up to break through the formality of Korean truce negotiations and attempt to settle the buffer zone deadlock.

Red delegates showed interest, a UN spokesman said. Simultaneously, UN command headquarters in Tokyo announced that the allies, if necessary, will continue "destroying or driving out of Korea" the Red Chinese and Korean armies.

At Kaesong the chief UN delegate, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, proposed a two-man committee — one from each side — seek an end to the deadlock in an air of informality.

He proposed the subcommittee "meet round rather than across the table." They would thus escape "the formality of utterances" which he said contributed to the three-week-old dispute.

Delegations have been stymied since July 27 over the location of the demarcation line. North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, heading the Red negotiators, Wednesday reiterated the Red demand it be along the 38th Parallel. This is generally south of the battle line.

Joy made his subcommittee proposal near the close of the 25th Kaesong session. It was the 15th in which the negotiators had argued over the buffer zone.

He advanced the idea of the official UN communique said, after both sides "expressed their respective but divergent views on the effectiveness of naval and air operations on the present overall military situation."

Nam Il conceded that UN air and naval bombardments had a "definite amount of effect" on Red troop movements.

Joy's proposal called for a joint committee of one delegate from each side aided by not more than two staff assistants a each, including interpreters. He said he was willing to name his men immediately, if Nam accepted the idea.

Says Soviet Agriculture Missed Goal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture Department has said the best information it has indicates Russian agriculture has not yet attained the ambitious production goals set by Soviet rulers.

In an 188-page survey of Russian agriculture, the department said it appears that the total area planted to crops last year was 363,000,000 acres compared with a government goal of 392,000,000 acres.

In fact, it said last year's acreage fell a little short of 1938, when plantings totaled about 378,000,000 acres. U. S. plantings have been running upward of 350,000,000 acres.

Livestock numbers at the start of 1951 were also below the official Soviet goals, the department said. "While reliable statistical data have been scanty," the survey said, "indications are that the postwar recovery of Russian agriculture has been at a considerably slower pace than was contemplated in the ambitious goals of the Soviet reconstruction program."

The survey gave an outline of the collectivization of agriculture and of a series of "five-year" plans for boosting output. The last five-year plan was launched in 1946. By 1950, total agriculture production was to increase 27 percent over the 1940 volume, a goal which, the department said, was not reached.

The chief emphasis in the plan, the department said, was on an increase in yields to be achieved through improved farm practices, which were said to have deteriorated during the war.

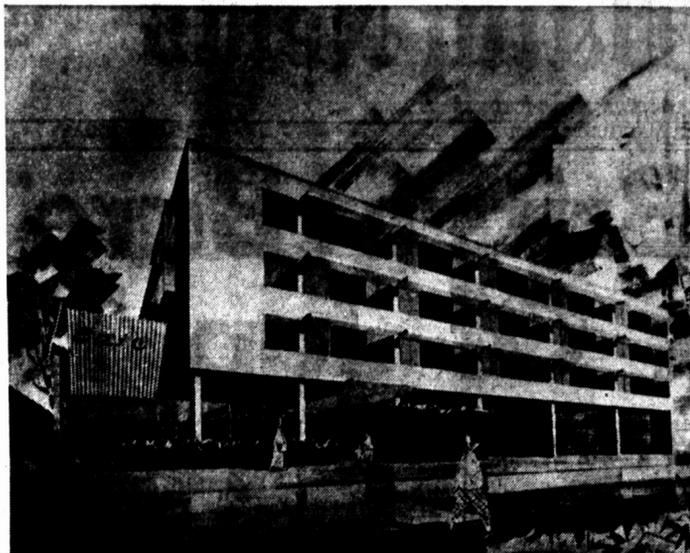

The department said Russian farm production statistics are usually over-optimistic. They include, for example, the estimated yields before crops are harvested. Thus harvesting losses, said to run from 10 to 20 percent, are ignored.

Suppression of statistical data when they do not suit the regime has become more frequent in recent years, the department said. "The reliability of published Soviet statistics is often diminished by successive wholesale purges of competent statistical personnel."

"And so I did something that was a complete reversal of our usual policy. For years, we have done everything we can to discourage people from seeking to enter extra work. But this time I issued publicity that we need young dancers. I'm beginning to regret it now, because we have been flooded with applicants."

"Actually, we don't need too many dancers, except when there is a musical cycle such as we're in now. But the kind of dancers we need are rather specialized. They have to be that rare combination — girls who are good looking and shapely, plust better than average dancers."

Aside from beautiful, talented dancers, the employment outlook for extras is not promising, Philbrick indicated. At one time Central Casting had as many as 20,000 people on its rolls. Now the list numbers 3,500.

DUMAS HOTEL — Heavy construction steel is now on hand, and construction on the new $500,000 hotel in Dumas, is about on schedule for the completion date of Jan. 1, 1952. The hotel will be four stories high; will contain 66 bedrooms with private baths, large coffee shop, ballroom, private dining rooms, and space for several offices and stores. The building, designed by Louis C. Williams of Oklahoma City, Okla., is modern throughout and construction will be as nearly fireproof as possible.

CASTING Chief Misses Cue

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Howard Philbrick, who ordinarily can spot a movie trend a mile away, got caught with his cycles down last week.

Philbrick is the chief of Central Casting, which supplies extra players. He can tell what kinds of pictures are being made by scanning the order lists for extra talent.

"But I got caught out on a limb," admitted Philbrick. "I guess I should have seen the trend to musicals a month ago. But it sneaked up on me and I found we were too low on dancers."

In most games it is possible for you to set traps for the opponents. Very often the trap play doesn't work whereas some perfectly straightforward play would have worked. You take your risks and you're entitled to your rewards.

When you fall for an opponent's trap play, resist the impulse to get sore. Don't holler for the cops. Just remark "A very obvious play. I gave you credit for more subtlety." And wait for a chance to get your revenge by outwitting the trapper later on.

JACOBY ON CANASTA Okay To Trap Opponent

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"We recently had a dispute about ethics," writes a Pittsburgh fan. "We were playing family Canasta, the two husbands being partners against the two wives. After we'd been playing for some time, the pack was born frozen, with both sides needing 120 points for the first meld. Nobody melded for a few rounds, but finally one of the men put down two jokers and two kings from his hand."

"The next two players made safe discards, and then the girl at the melder's right discarded a king. The melder promptly produced another pair of kings from his hand and tried to take the discard pile. That started quite an argument."

"It is conceded that the play described is perfectly legal. The big question is whether it was ethical. Does a sportsman try to trap his opponents into making a mistake? If this play came up in a good club, what would be the attitude of the members towards the man who made the deceptive play?"

Calm down, ladies. Such a play is perfectly ethical and sporting. In a good club, the members might be too polite to snicker at the player who got trapped, but I've heard a lot of horse laughs even in the best clubs. The members would certainly not object to the play or to the man who made it; they'd think better of him for being clever, enough to make it.

MacArthur Plans Cleveland Speech

CLEVELAND — (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur will make a speech in Public Auditorium Sept. 6, a citizens' committee announced last night.

"General MacArthur will come here as the guest of the entire city and not under the sponsorship of any one organization," said the committee announcement.

Several years ago the city made an unsuccessful effort to bring MacArthur here. The invitation was in the form of a book, containing overtures from civic organizations and many individuals.

The citizens committee said there probably would be a parade before the address.

1895 the "big hole" has yielded 496,558,000 tons of ore averaging 50 to 62 percent iron. Today it is worth about $7.50 a ton. But at an average price of $5 a ton over the years the tremendous pit's output has been almost $2,500,000,000.

Out of all this wealth poor, forgotten Pete probably never even got the price of a new shovel. History doesn't even bother to record whether his well produced water.

But it did help build and arm America.

That was the birth of the world's largest iron mine in the heart of the great Mesabi Range for half a century a wellspring of America's industrial might.

Today the spade that roustabout Pete held has been replaced by huge electric shovels that take up ten tons at a single bite. The well Pete started has grown into a vast pit covering 1,450 acres. It is almost 500 feet deep, up to a mile wide, and three-and-one-half miles long.

It is a great man-made grand canyon of fantastic colors — beautiful layers of red, yellow, purple and black — and of fantastic wealth.

Since stripping began here in back, saying "there must be seven jacks in there by now." Actually, he still had a pair of jacks in his hand. On the next play a jack was thrown to him, and he took the pack. Was his statement unfair?

A — I should say it was. A player has no right to make a misleading statement, especially when he knows it is false. If you want to fool the opponents by your play, that's all right, but you mustn't fool them by what you say.

Government Vows To Fight Wives Every Three Months

DALLAS — (AP) — The federal government says it will fight the battle of the Marshall housewives every three months if necessary.

"We'll go back again if necessary," Ellis Campbell, Jr., head of the Dallas office of the Internal Revenue Bureau, contends. "Earlier Treasury agents levied against bank accounts of 13 Marshall housewives who had refused to collect and pay social security taxes on their servants' wages."

They collected the taxes, plus penalties, due April 30 for the first quarter of 1951. Since then another deadline — July 31, for the second three-month period — has passed.

"If we have to, we'll go through the process again," Campbell said. "There will be the first notices of taxes to be assessed. If those are ignored, we'll go through identically the same procedure."

The housewives have said they will refuse to pay the tax. That means issuance of new warrants authorizing seizure of private property, notice to the wives that the warrants are ready (to give them a customary ten days to pay up), then serving of the warrants.

The wives say it is unconstitutional to ask them to serve as tax collector for the government. They claim they have petitioned for a hearing in letters to Secretary of Treasury Snyder.

"The social security act was upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court May 24, 1937," Campbell said. "It was attacked then on the same grounds which the Marshall housewives base their action on. I don't see any difference."

The housewives specifically object to the new household amendment which extended the act to cover domestic servants.

Campbell said there is at least one instance of a servant of one of the tax-rebelling housewives voluntarily paying her part of the tax herself. The law says the employers must withhold 1.2 percent, add an equal amount herself, and forward these together as the tax.

Campbell said such voluntary action by a servant would not relieve the employer of his liability. He said the law requires the employer to collect and pay the tax.

Taking note of heavy mail which the housewives have been receiving in support of their stand, Campbell said: "I've been getting letters, too. Most of them, I'd say six to one, support us. In general, they said 'make them pay. We had to pay.'"

In old days New Mexicans followed the proper custom of mounting a burro from behind and riding "astride the rump about the hips."

Survivor Of Death March Meets Old Friend, Liberty

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The little excursion boat "Liberty" nudged the dock at Bedloe's Island and the crowd of sightseers began to disembark. There was one soldier in the crowd, and he held the hand of a pretty, brown-haired girl in a red-checked dress.

As they stood at the top of the gangplank, Cpl. Robert L. Sharpe of High Point, N. C., stopped a second. He stared up at the big green Statue of Liberty and then smiled a greeting. He was paying his respects to an old friend, for though Bob Sharpe had never seen the Statue before, he knows what liberty means better than most.

It wasn't so long ago that he was captured by the Chinese Communists in Korea. He was on than the average person. "I sort of wish I was a foreigner," whispered Jean. "It must be quite a thrill to see this when it means hope and a new life."

"It's nice to see it, any time," they walked up to the crown, a 12-story climb. Bob's leg, the one that was wounded in Korea, ached some, and Jean had trouble on the narrow, curving stairs with her high heels. They were very impressed with the size of the Statue — "You never realize just how big it is until you see it."

Bob and Jean came down and sat on a bench on the island, waiting for the boat to take them back to the city. They ate a hot dog and drank a soda and he talked about his experiences.

"I was a prisoner for three months," he said. "I used to think about home and all the things I'd done. But you know what I thought about most?"

He held up the paper cup full of Coke.

"This," he said. "I never thought a fellow could dream about a Coca-Cola."

He's a serious boy, a blond, blue-eyed youngster who talks with a soft North Carolina drawl. "Everybody thinks he's changed," says Jean. "I suppose he has. He's older. He's not but 19, yet I know boys who are much older than he is — boys who are 21 or 22 — and Robert seems older than they are."

"He's more serious now, I suppose. He worries. Times when he's quiet and everyone thinks he's thinking, but he's worrying. But he's certainly a good deal easier in the mind than when he first came home."

Bob talked a lot about baseball. He's a rabid fan. He likes to remember how he hit pretty well against Billy Joe Davidson, the North Carolina southpaw signed by the Cleveland Indians for $120,000.

"I always hit him easy," Bob grins. "I wanted to play ball professionally. Once I had a chance to sign a contract, but I couldn't leave home just then. Now, this arm —"

He rolled up his right sleeve and there was an ugly scar about the size of a quarter on his biceps. He said how it hurts him to throw hard since he was wounded.

With baseball out, the Sharpes are going to see how the Army would be as a career. He has another year to go, which he'll serve at Fort Bragg, near his home in North Carolina. If that doesn't work, Bob doesn't figure he'll have much trouble landing a job.

Ridgway Doubts Red Aims; But Confident In GI

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, United Nations commander in Korea, apparently hasn't much confidence in the cease-fire talks now going on at Kaesong.

But he's banking heavily on the fighting spirit of his men, if the talks fail.

In an interview published by the magazine U.S. News and World Report, Ridgway said: "The ceaseless flow of falsehoods, perversion and slanted statements which continue to emanate from Communist con-

But the two have taken quite a fancy to the north. "I never could understand why the northern boys griped about the south," says Bob. "Now I know. There's so much more to do up here. We might try to come up this way, although I've got some mighty good friends in the south I'd like to leave."

The boat came to take them back. Bob turned and took a last picture of the Statue with Jean in the foreground. On the boat he bought a souvenir ash tray with a picture of Miss Liberty on it.

"You can always use an ash tray," he said.

Bill Gives Reserves Thirty-Day Notice

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The armed forces would be required to give reservists 30 days' advance notice to recall of active duty under a bill approved yesterday by an armed forces subcommittee in the House.

The only exception would be in cases where "military conditions as determined by the appropriate secretary do not permit."

It is the present policy of the services to give at least 30 days' notice to reservists before calling them to active service. The bill would write this policy into law.

Controlled public-information media, together with the long record of Communist duplicity, deceit and faithlessness in contractual obligations, have dissolved all doubts in the minds of members of this command as to Communist objectives.

"The members of the United Nations command will now judge Communist intentions not by words, but by performance. This performance to date has produced no concrete evidence of honest, peaceful intentions. Our forces know why they fight and their spirits were never higher."

Of the American fighting man, Ridgway said: "he is unsurpassed in battle."

The interview between Washington and Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo was conducted by teletype.

You mustn't let the work around here get you down, Anchovy. It's just a matter of ignoring detail.

GMC

GASOLINE & DIESEL TRUCKS

1/2 TO 20 TONS

A good sign to "go" by!

THIS shining emblem "GMC" is the sparkling sign of the fastest growing line of trucks in the land — with sales growth unmatched this year by any other manufacturer. The reasons for this are sound ones.

For in the chassis of a GMC you find "long-time, stay-with" stamina — truck-building that dares comparison with anything on the road today.

Under the GMC hood you find real power — the kind of truck-built power it takes to keep goods moving year after year. Whether it's a nimble 1/2- to 2-tonner with horsepower unsurpassed in its class, or the fabulous two-cycle Diesel which is outselling, outperforming every other make — a GMC puts more "go" to the load!

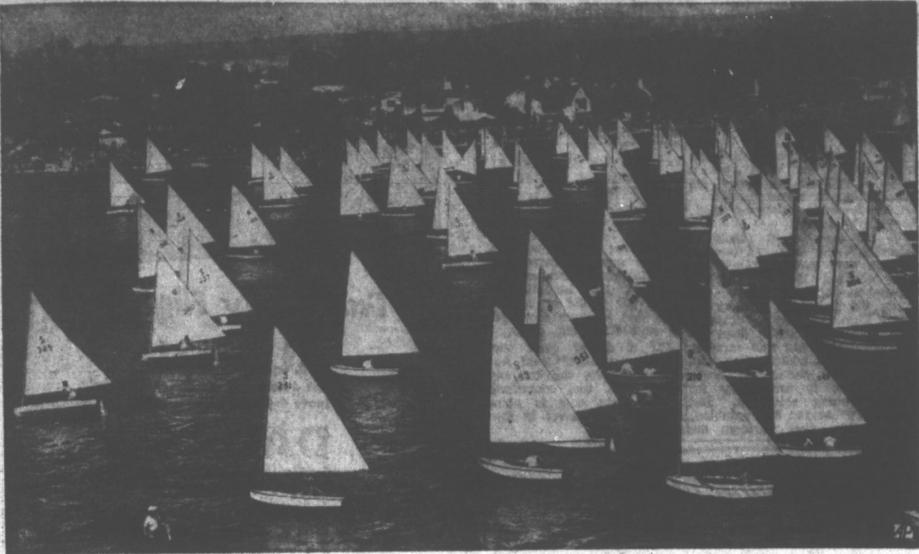

And in the cabs — drivers who work in comfort and safety. They have the look of men who know their truck will get the job done quicker and better.

You'll feel the same way when you try a GMC yourself. Come in — compare the facts, the features, the way they haul. Listen to the savings talk.

Times Hard For Poor Indian Chief Leading Eagle Claims

By CHIEF LEADING EAGLE, JR. (Alias HAL BOYLE)
HIBBING, Minn. — (AP) — You think you'd like to be an Indian chief?

Well, think again, paleface. There's a lot of woe to the title, and in the Sioux tribe at least, you don't get paid a sou for the job. I've been an Indian chief less than a month, and already I'm beginning to think I should have remained an Irishman.

The Ogjala branch of the Sioux took me into their fraternity during a festival at Hot Springs, S. D. It wasn't quite the ceremony I had expected.

I thought it would be done in secret at night by a roaring campfire. But we Sioux are up to date now. The proceedings were broadcast through a loud speaker.

A group of painted braves and moccasined squaws led me through a crowd of curious tourists to the peak of a small hill.

"Whatsa matter?" said one tourist. "Did they catch him stealing?"

"I dunno," said another. "Let's hang around. Maybe they'll scalp him."

"A little late for that," said the first tourist, looking at the sun glinting on my bald forehead.

When you entered the tribe in the old days you gashed your wrist and held it against the gashed wrist of a born Sioux, and the mingling red made you blood brothers. But after a glance at my grub-white city features, Chief Ben American Horse and his pals decided to forego that rite. They figured I didn't have enough blood.

"You now Chief Leading Eagle," said an old warrior, crowning me with a headdress of red and white eagle feathers. Then an Indian on the edge of the crowd stepped up and borrowed ten bucks from me, and I knew I really was one of the family.

After that we had a victory dance. It consists of jumping up and down as if you were stamping out snakes and yelling as if you'd sat down on a thorn. We Indians found it pretty fatiguing — but it made the tourists happy.

Chief Leading Eagle? It was a nice name. But what's in a name? I asked one of my new buddies how soon I'd get a pension.

"Chiefs no get pension," he said. "How about insurance?"

"Chiefs no get insurance. No pensions? No insurance? What kind of a Idodge was I in?"

"Indians have bad time now," one brave said bravely.

He explained that it is hard to get enough beads from Czechoslovakia to make genuine Indian souvenirs for the tourists. Our tribe is also short of cattle on the reservation, and times are so tough some of our boys have had to go to work in the palefaces' new atom plants. It's a rough world today for lo, the poor Indian.

I asked a group why we didn't send a delegation to the Great White Father, and demand justice.

"Hell, we've worn out half the doorsteps in Washington in the last 50 years," said one disgruntled leader. "The government is still mad at us because we whipped Custer."

Little Red School Not So Cheap Now

TROUT CREEK, N. Y. — (AP) — A school house which cost $400 to build in 1899 will be remodeled at a cost of $1,600.

Frank M. Clark of Oneota, the contractor who built the frame school, recalls he paid two carpenters $1 a day, plus board, and worked them 18 hours a day. They finished the job in 20 days.

Safe Opened After 8 Years

MURPHYBORO, Ill. — (AP) — A safe expert opened a Masonic safe which members had been unable to open since their Jate secretary died in 1943 with the memorized combination.

Lodge members had been all but ready to break into the safe to see their records.

But the job was done in 10 minutes by Tobe Monday who only twisted the dial and listened to the safe's inner workings. He did the trick in front of awed Masons who had requested the traveling safe expert to have a look at their safe.

Monday Deadline For Deferments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The blanket deferment of college students will end next Monday on schedule, Selective Service said today.

"There definitely will be no extension of the deferment," a spokesman said. "If draft boards don't have reports as to the scholastic standing or aptitude test scores of college men by the 20th, they can start classifying those men for draft on the 21st."

The deferment to Aug. 20 was granted to allow sufficient time, after the end of school, for school authorities to mail scholastic standings to the draft boards, and for the educational testing service at Princeton, N. J., to send to the boards all scores from the aptitude tests it administered throughout the nation last spring.

Local boards may use this information to decide whether a student deserves deferment for another year.

Political Experts Cagery On U.S. Election Developments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 1952 presidential election still is more than a year away. But the political experts already are beating their gums about events ahead.

But they're being pretty cagey about it — they have to — because the future is uncertain. As it stands now, the picture can be summed up briefly:

Republicans — General Eisenhower and Senator Taft of Ohio are the two most prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination.

Taft is running for it as hard as he can. No one can predict at the moment what Eisenhower will do; he may want no part of it; or he may think he's more needed in uniform because of a war or because he thinks his job rebuilding Europe's defenses isn't finished.

Democrats — President Truman or given no hint of whether he'll seek re-election. Apparently waiting his decision, most of his fellow Democrats have remained pretty mum on any other choice of their own, if any.

They don't seem to have a wide choice. Given most mention as possible Democratic candidates if Mr. Truman doesn't run are these three: Senator Douglas of Illinois; and the Supreme Court's Chief Justice Vinson and Associate Justice Douglas.

The Supreme Court is not a place for developing political attractiveness and the two justices don't have much popular backing; and as for Senator Douglas — the President is reported to dislike him intensely.

The experts' ridicule any suggestion that if Mr. Truman doesn't run he might, if he wanted, be able to persuade Eisenhower to take the Democratic nomination.

Republican backers of the general claim to know he is a Republican and would run only on the Republican ticket. Only last week the President said he doesn't think the general is a candidate for the Democratic nomination although that doesn't rule out the chance he might try to persuade the general to be the candidate.

If Eisenhower ran as a Democrat a lot of Republicans backing him now as their candidate would be badly embarrassed. They couldn't very well campaign against him later.

From what he's said in the past, Eisenhower doesn't seem very close to Mr. Truman's thinking on domestic affairs. The President has urged much wider economic security for everyone, for instance, through a national medical health program.

'Bus Andy' Spread 1-Bus Line Into Successful Business

HIBBING, Minn. — (AP) — "Bus Andy" didn't drive the first bus in the United States.

But he did pioneer in establishing the modern bus industry in America back in 1914.

Today, at 68, "Bus Andy" Anderson — still owns his old line and can take his turn in the driver's seat whenever he is needed.

"It is nothing now—compared to the old days," said Andy. He loves to recall those days when he and his first motor car struggled over dirt roads together on the first lap of his rise to wealth.

Andy borrowed money from his mother to come here from Sweden on a cattle boat in 1900. He was a farmboy of 18 and couldn't speak English. His only possession was a fine hand-made wooden suitcase. Figuring a boy might want to eat while looking for a job in the new land, he thriftily loaded his suitcase with herring from the ship's food locker.

"But it was spring," he laughed, "and the herring spoiled. The suitcase smelled so bad I had to drop it and the herring overboard before we landed."

Andy labored in the iron mines to earn enough to pay back his mother. Gradually he worked up to a job of machinist. Then, in 1914, he and a blasting powder salesman, Charles Wenberg, raised $1,250 and bought a seven-passenger, open-air Hupmobile.

"We got the agency for the car," he said. "But I guess I was a poor salesman, and my partner was, too. We didn't sell any cars."

One night his partner's uncle suggested to the gum pair, "Why don't you run your automobile like a street car?"

That ten-word sentence made Anderson's fortune.

"It hit me like a stroke of lightning," he said. "I started out the very next morning."

He charged 15 cents for a two-and-one-half-mile ride between the towns of Hibbing and Alice. The first day he cleared $7.40 above fuel costs. Soon his seven-passenger car was carrying as many as 21 customers a trip.

Fearing the car would break down before it could pay for itself, Wenberg sold out. But "Bus Andy" stayed and gambled. He took in other partners and expanded his line, driving himself from six in the morning until eleven at night.

A number of Andy's partners and drivers went on to executive posts in the mushrooming Greyhound Bus Co. He sold out most of his own extensive lines to the Northland Greyhound system in 1928. But he still operates about 100 public or school buses here and in three other Minnesota and Wisconsin cities.

"If a driver can't show up for some reason," said Andy, "I can still take the bus out myself. I do, too, sometimes."

But Andy now is about the best-paid bus driver in the country.

BY ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The percentage of farm homes in Texas receiving central station electric service has increased from 2.3 per cent to 90 per cent during the past 16 years, largely through the stimulation of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) program.

More than 282,000 rural families of Texas now enjoy the benefits of electric lights and power through cooperatives which they themselves own and operate.

Each of the 77 rural electric cooperatives in Texas is a free and independent, tax-paying business enterprise, chartered under the laws of the state of Texas, and owned and controlled by the farmers and ranchers who receive service along its lines.

The availability of electricity has brought about a wholesome revolution in farm methods, production and living standards; has lightened the drudgery of farm tasks and increased farm output and profits; has been instrumental in keeping young people on the land, and has promoted the general welfare not only of rural people, but of urban residents as well whose prosperity and well-being depends upon a sound and prosperous agriculture.

THEREFORE I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of August 19th to 25th, inclusive, as in Texas, and call upon all citizens of the state to observe during this week the splendid progress that has been made in electrifying rural areas during the past 16 years, and to resolve anew that the program shall continue to expand until every farm family in the state shall enjoy the blessings of electric lights and power.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 19th day of July, 1951.

Observe Social Amenities That Do Not Appear In Printed Rules

TEEN TALK

AP Newsfeatures
How're your recreation man-ners?
There are many unwritten rules in the world of summer sport, and if you just naturally get the lady-like thing and observe them perhaps you will not need to be briefed. But some of us need a refresher course in manners occasionally, and particularly if we are just learning a sport, it is good to observe social amenities which do not necessarily appear in the printed sports rules. Here goes:
Horseback Riding. Be kind to the horse, yourself and other people by not trying to get the poor creature to cross a road in traffic. If he gets panicky you might have a serious accident. Also, treat the animal kindly. The riding stable might bar you if you are mean to an animal—and if they don't, they should.
Golf. If you are a slow player or a beginner don't hold up players in the rear. Let the group behind you go ahead, in particular let them drive before you putt. While they walk toward the green do your putting.
Boating. If you are coasting on a canoe, or invite someone to take on with you, don't change seats, stand up or jump around, endangering the person's life in the event the canoe up-sets. Particularly on a large boat observe "no smoking" regulations. Smart alecks who violate safety rules aboard ship are likely to wind up in the briny deep or as a big cinder.
Tennis. Two sets of tennis should be plenty on a crowded day at the courts. If you've completed one set and notice a line forming go on to your second set, but it would be kinder to call it a day, and give the other fellow a break.

Swimming. The water was is a real bore to everyone. Don't duck or splash other swimmers. Observe life-guard rules and don't give him a headache trying to keep up with your efforts to drown yourself by going out above your head, if you are not a good swimmer. Particularly where there is no lifeguard, don't taunt companions to deeper water than they are capable of or to dangerous high diving.
Picnics. It doesn't pay to be greedy. Don't eat more than your share, and if you possibly can do with less, make the sacrifice. It is better to have a little food left over, and to coax people to eat it, than to have someone left hungry because you didn't know when to stop.
Be a good sport about doing your share of the work, also. See that everything is arranged before you begin to have fun and, don't be the first one away from the scene, leaving others to do the clean-up job. Be sure all boxes, bottles, cans and other litter, are picked up and put in a disposal unit.
The Dance. Observe the rules of dress at the resort you are visiting. Don't enter the dining room in shorts or slacks if the custom is to dress. Don't be an exhibitionist on the dance floor. Jitters should not try to strut their stuff, if the dancing by others is more sedate. At a resort the chaperone or social director will inform you as to the custom to be followed.
Weekend Guest. If you are a weekend guest, don't try to run the show. Your host or hostess probably has planned your entertainment, so when they suggest a swim or a hike or a picnic, don't say "aw, let's not." If you accept a weekend date you are at the mercy of the people who invite you. If you don't wish to visit them on that basis, don't go. Any hostess, however, will appreciate suggestions, and might sometimes ask for them. But don't be thinking up ideas that will disrupt the routine of the entire household. Be considerate. And above all,

don't criticize anything in your hostesses' home.

The Jalopy. When inviting a crowd to a drive, make sure you take them in comfort. Besides normal safety hazards involved in piling a gang of kids in a car, it shouldn't be much fun if there isn't enough room for comfort.

Other Foods Besides Meat Can Furnish Protein At Less Cost

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Americans like to eat meat. It is generally our most popular source of protein. But equally good protein can come from other foods, currently more plentiful and easier on the budget.

Here is a list of common complete protein foods nutritionally as important as meat: fowl (chicken, turkey, duck), eggs, cheese of all kinds, milk and milk products such as cottage cheese and dry non-fat milk, fish, either fresh or frozen or canned. Besides these, there are other foods almost but not quite as rich in protein as the others: cereals, nuts, peanut butter and dried peas and beans.

Cheese, a top source of protein (as well as calcium) combines perfectly with many popular foods.

Savory Noodles
(4 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces egg noodles, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1 3-ounce can chopped mushrooms, drained, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 cup milk, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add egg noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat; add green pepper, parsley, mushrooms and onion. Simmer 10 minutes. Add milk, cheese, salt and pepper; simmer, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Combine with well cooked noodles, mixing lightly but well.

Macaroni and Cheese Italiane
(4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces egg noodles, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1 3-ounce can chopped mushrooms, drained, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 cup milk, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

Don't criticize anything in your hostesses' home.

The Jalopy. When inviting a crowd to a drive, make sure you take them in comfort. Besides normal safety hazards involved in piling a gang of kids in a car, it shouldn't be much fun if there isn't enough room for comfort.

boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 1 14-1/2-ounce can evaporated milk, 2 cups grated cheddar cheese, 1 cup diced cooked eggplant, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon mustard, dash Tabasco, salt, freshly ground pepper.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues boiling. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. In a large bowl, combine remaining ingredients, with cooked macaroni. Pour into 1 and 1/2 quart casserole; deg. Bake in moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) 30 minutes.

Two Quartets Plan Performances Here

Two quartets, singing, gospel, popular selections, and novelty numbers, will be presented at 8 p. m. Thursday in the junior high school auditorium.

Sponsors of the program are members of the Bethel Assembly of God Church.

The Rangers Quartet, managed by Vernon Hiles, who also arranges the selections, includes Denver Crump, high tenor, Little David, pianist and second tenor, Hiles, baritone, and Arnold Hiles, bass.

This group is from Dallas. Ozark Stamps Quartette of Wichita Falls, will also sing. Charles Barrette is manager and baritone of the group, Hery Slaughter sings second tenor and is pianist, Pat Garner, first tenor, Fred Bennett, bass.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

No matter what the color of your hair, whether it is gray or whether you have it tinted, you must have healthy scalp.
Dry hair is dull and the scalp feels tight, the ends are brittle. The hair lacks depth and brilliance. Dry hair needs scalp massage, soap shampooing, deep brushing and an occasional hot oil shampoo. You need exercise and more fresh air.
Oily hair. If, after shampooing, your hair is heavy with oil within three days, if your hair ends are drab and split, then Nature is not going right by you. You must massage the scalp and brush your hair while bending over. Brush from the scalp outward. The brushing and the bending aids in stimulating circulation.
Dandruff, that flaky, white substance which often shows up on your scalp without apparent cause, can be gotten rid of. Shampoo the hair, dry it, then brush and apply a lubricating ointment. Apply the ointment directly to the scalp, NOT on the hair. If the condition does persist, then see your doctor about your diet.
Shampooing. Anyone can do a good shampoo. Be sure to have soap and warm water. A brush well and stand it up in a bottle or with a tube attachment is handy and comfortable to use. When you have finished the shampoo be sure it is completely dry, tinted or gray, you to rinse and rinse until your hair should massage the scalp. Use firm squawks. Dry with warm towels (finger and thumb pressure, round and friction). Rub your scalp until and round with continued pressure. circulation is stimulated. This in the center-top of the scalp and makes your hair dry faster. Toss at the back of the neck.

Beauty Aids For Back-To-School

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Now that summer's waning and back-to-school plans are taking shape, many a teenager's already begun mapping out her beauty curriculum for next term. Ranking high on most schedules are nightly hair-brushing sessions. Since casually-arranged, brightly-gleaming tresses are among your best bets for enhancing your youthful loveliness, you too may want to work out a regular brushing program to promote that soft-as-silk look.

In your pursuit of lovely locks you may find help in brushing recently introduced by one well-known firm. The bristles, which are of nylon, offer you the long wear, easy washing, quick drying and thorough penetration which you have come to associate with this synthetic.

In addition to help you highlight your hair, they've worked out a new twist. The improvement is just that—a "ramp" in the nylon, which means, in effect that the wave is built right into the bristles.

Each wavy tuft fans out from the base of the brush in a wide flare, thus covering more surface than is possible with straight bristles, they claim. These resilient bristles weave over and under the hair at the same time, and thus do a more thorough job, according to the manufacturer.

To clean these brushes, which are available from the man who calls at your door, it's suggested that you wash them at frequent intervals through warm, soapy water to which a bit of household ammonia has been added.

New GA Group Sets Regular Meeting Time

Each Monday at 2:30 p. m. the intermediate chapter of Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church will meet at the church, it was decided in a business session Monday.

This newly organized chapter will be known as the Vada Waldron G. A. group. Girls from 13 to 16 years old are eligible for membership.
Counselor for the group is Mrs. H. S. Hullender and Miss Charlotte Hogart is president.

Tropical Sundaes Made With Molasses

Children will love Tropical Sundaes. Unsulphured molasses used as the fragrant, distinctive sauce is a natural sweetener.

It's made by concentrating, aging and blending the juice of fully ripened sugar cane. And this dessert course has an extra dividend... though it won't interest the young enthusiasts... valuable amounts of iron for the summer diet.

A tropical sundae combines two typically American foods in a flavorful union. Commercially made ice cream is celebrating its 100th anniversary in this country. Molasses has been a pastry staple since earliest colonial days.

It was the sweetener and flavor for corn bread, pudding, doughnuts, beans, brown bread and baked ham. It was the favorite sirup for pancakes and fried mush. Now with vanilla, chocolate or coffee ice cream this old-fashioned flavoring... which is a staple at your grocery store... is hard to beat as a sundae sauce.

Jaycees Hear Discussion On Pyramid

The Great Pyramid of Gizeh in Egypt, its background, and its prophecies were reviewed for members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Harper Scoggins of Berger presented the lecture, beginning with the origin of the pyramid, which employs time and measurement as its message; its "perhaps coincidental" prophecies that have been realities; and its "foretelling of the world's future."

Scoggins displayed a diagram of the Great Pyramid showing its various passages and chambers that have been discovered to date. He pointed out the pyramid is mathematically perfect and referred to Biblical scriptures which say the structure was to be built.

The pyramid is located in the geometrical center of the earth's land surface. It was built, he said.

All She Wanted Were Baby Shoes

NIAGARA FALLS — (AP) — A young woman walked into the Red Cross office here during a bloodmobile drive.

She gave her name and was whisked from department to department for a physical checkup. Finally she reached the donor room and saw people on cots.

"Why do I have to go through all these tests to get a pair of shoes for my baby?" she asked. She had been looking for the home service department.

She necessarily by Egyptians, but a lost people. Scoggins referred to the recently published best-seller, "Miracle of the Ages" which tells the complete story of the Pyramid and its prophecies.

Louis, Bivins Set For Battle

BALTIMORE — (AP) There was so much interest in Joe Louis and Jimmy Bivins getting weighed this morning you'd think they were going to have a bout instead of a boxing contest tonight.

What they'll weigh for the 10-round go in Baltimore Stadium (8:30 p. m. EST) has become for one reason or another a factor in the freight speculation.

For one thing, both camps have been extraordinarily shy about telling exact weights.

At the Louis camp, they've been worrying a little that the 37-year-old former heavyweight champ might be too light — of all things. It wasn't long ago after the Brown Bomber gave up his crown and started this comeback everybody wondered when he'd stop putting on pounds.

Now they hope Louis will make 210. The best advance report from Marshall Miles, his manager, was that he went "207 or 208," the weight at which he whipped his last opponent, Caesar Brion.

Whatever Louis weighs, he's going to have a terrific bulge on Bivins.

Greenbelt Golf, Football Friday

The Greenbelt Pro Amateur Golf Tournament will be held in Childress Aug. 17. Time will be from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. in the afternoon. The last foursome will be allowed to tee off at 2 p. m. All entrants are instructed to register in the pro shop of the Childress Country Club before teeing off. All entrants must be in by 12:00 noon on Aug. 17 so that pairing can be made.

Amateurs competing in the tournament will get one-half of their certified handicaps. All amateurs that are entered in the Greenbelt Pro Amateur Golf Tournament are requested to bring a certified handicap signed by the professional pro of their home club.

The Greenbelt Pro Amateur Tournament will be an 18 hole round play with the low ball of the foursome declared the winner. Each foursome will be competing against all other foursomes in the tournament.

Ladies are invited to participate and the teams will consist of one professional golfer, one amateur lady golfer, if possible, and two amateur golfers. If there are no lady golfers participating, then each foursome will include three men amateur golfers.

The following are professional golfers who have accepted: George Albach of Amarillo, Johnnie Austin of Pampa, Dick Jickel of Lamesa. The amateur golfers who have accepted are Chick Dawson of Amarillo, Keith Fowler of Amarillo, and Chris Gers of Oklahoma City.

The Greenbelt Bowl Pro Amateur Tournament is being held in co-ordination with the second annual Greenbelt Bowl Football Game sponsored by the Quarterback Club of Childress, Texas. There are forty-eight high school football players from the northern part of Texas participating in the football game. There are 13 football players who have received all-state honors and the other 35 have been selected on the all-district teams in their districts. This promises to be the outstanding pre-season bowl game in Texas this year.

W&M Heads Meeting Today

RICHMOND, Va. — (AP) — The men who govern William and Mary met here today to hear the inside story on how the college became involved in the nation's newest sports scandal.

Almost overshadowed as the board of visitors convened at 10 a. m. (CST) was its other task inside story on how the selection of a new head football coach and athletic director to succeed R. N. (Rube) McCray.

McCray, along with basketball coach Barney Wilson, turned in his resignation last weekend just as charges of "malpractices" by the school's department of athletics hit the public prints.

Statements by college officials and others have indicated that the "malpractices" at least part, consisted of "doctoring" the grades of student athletes in order to qualify them academically for football play.

The board was to hear McCray's side of the argument today. It was to hear, too, from the man regarded as McCray's principal antagonist—Dean Nelson Marshall, who conducted an investigation into the grading practices of the athletic staff.

Franks On Way To 30 Victories

ROSWELL, N.M. — (AP) — Dan Franks has skipped pitching two nights and his followers are afraid he's likely to go state. The big right-hander for Roswell Class C Longhorn League is seen struggling out to the mound so often that his absence is likely to cause consternation.

The 23-year-old workhorse has won 27 games which makes him the leading pitcher in organized baseball. Since Roswell has 24 games to go in the regular season, Dean appears certain to pass the 30 mark.

His latest feat was to win a game Saturday night, then win another in relief Sunday. Against Vernon on July 28 he won both ends of a doubleheader.

Young Arthur Hamilton pitched careful, control ball for the Blue Sox. He was tapped for 13 hits, including home runs by Manager Hershel Martin and Art Cuiitt, which was three more hits than the Blue Sox collected last night. Steve Lagonarino, Bob Spence and Lou Lockhart, Hamilton's biggest troubles came in the first and seventh innings when the Dukes bunched three hits in each to score three times.

Sessi's Blast Beats Dukes

ABILENE — (AP) — Walt Sessi's 18th homer of the season came at an opportune time for the Blue Sox last night, two mates scoring ahead of him in the eighth inning to provide a 10-8 series sweeping victory over Albuquerque's Dukes.

Abilene had won the series with a twin triumph Monday night.

Six Pampa Golfers Remain In Panhandle Women's Meet

AMARILLO — Pampa's women golfers found the field a little rough yesterday as the Panhandle Women's Golf Tournament got underway at the Amarillo Country Club. Of the 11 ladies entered, five shot their way to victory and one was a default winner.

Both contestants in the championship flight were losers. Mrs. Jean Duemel was eliminated by the defending champion, Mrs. Chet Robertson, 5-4. And Mrs. Carl Lautz was knocked out by Mrs. R. J. Moore, 7-8.

In the first flight, Mrs. Grover Heiskell eliminated Mrs. J. S. Triplett, 4-3.

Pampa placed two winners in the second flight as Lila Austin and Mrs. H. E. Boggs, 4-2. Mrs. Johny Austin beat Mrs. Fred Gray, 3-2. Shirley Austin dropped a hard 1-up match to Mrs. Ben Neely.

Three winners were listed in the fourth flight as Mrs. Bert Howell defeated Mrs. Charles Galtoup, 4-4; Mrs. C. Whittle defeated Betty Childers, 1 up on 19 holes; and Mrs. C. F. McGinnis won a default from Mrs. Paul Grant.

In the fifth flight Mrs. H. E. Robbins downed Mrs. D. L. Parker, 7-4 and Mrs. Cletus Mitchell was eliminated by Gloria Garre, 3-2.

Pampa did win some other special honors, however. Mrs. Duemel won the driving contest with a blow of 264 yards and young Lila Austin took second with a 222-yard smash.

The low net score for the day was won by Mrs. Mitchell who shot a 111-44 — 67.

Semifinal rounds are to be fired today with the championships scheduled for tomorrow.

Cadets Can't Find School

NEW YORK — (AP) — Most of the nation's colleges have no strict rules that would prevent them from admitting West Point's ousted football players but many of them today assumed a wary "hands off" policy.

This was particularly true in the conservative Ivy League and in the not-so-conservative Dixie belt, where open grid scholarships long have been advocated.

Columbia University said today it normally does not take in transfer students and would "not even consider" accepting students from another institution.

This appeared to be a rather common attitude in the Ivy League. Army cadets, facing dismissal for violation of the military academy's honor code, said they were getting a "cold shoulder" in the east.

The University of Virginia, to which a number of Army grid-ders were pointing, announced that a student "suspended or dropped from another college... will not be admitted."

The Southeastern Conference, home of such powerhouses as Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama, has the normal year's residence rule but sports editor Zipp Newman of the Birmingham Post-Herald said:

"It's firmly believed that none of the West Point players will ever play for Southeastern Conference teams. Most of the college presidents are against it. Most of the athletic directors are against coaches bringing in some of the Army players with a year or two eligibility left."

"It would be a terrific indictment against the SEC if it went after the players dismissed from West Point. It would be hard to convince many that the players weren't getting something extra."

Only the Southwest Conference is bound by rules not to let transfers play football. An upper classman with previous varsity grid experience is automatically ineligible to continue his football career.

The other conferences have a year's residence rule, meaning a transfer must be in school a year before he can go out for the team. Members of these conferences, however, pass on admissions individually.

Stars Set For Upset Friday

CHICAGO — (AP) — Will that old Brown magic work against the college All-Stars Friday night, or will the pro champion Cleveland Browns find that youth must be served, as did the aging Philadelphia Eagles last year?

The question is a toughie.

The hot glare of the Soldier Field arc-lights on a sultry August evening has had a way of revealing unsuspected wrinkles on the title-winning beauties of the National Football League.

Some say Paul Brown's play-for-pay lads are getting slightly decadent. Reports from the Browns' Bowling Green, Ohio, training base are listing aches and pains seldom before found on a brown-conditioned squad.

These same observers contend that the Brown machine which massacred opposition in the defunct All-American Conference in 1947 and 1948 would push the All-Stars right into Lake Michigan. But the front line average last year was around 25. Now it's 28.

Last year, the proud Eagles lost to the All-Stars, 17-7, and then limped on to be rudely defeated by the Browns with a 6-0 NFL record after copping in 1949 with 11-1.

shut out the Chicago White Sox, 6-0, to win his 21st game of the season.

Gold Sox Arrive Today For Fifth Place Battle Royal

The Clovis Pioneers quelled an Oiler rally and an irate lefty Joe Borrego last night in the ninth inning to take the final game of a two game series, 11-8, at Oiler Park.

Borrego charged off the mound and started swinging at Crain until quelled by his teammates and Manager Seitz. After Borrego had apparently been quieted, the Pioneers picked up the argument and Borrego moved on around and started swinging on umpire Cliff Hotel until once again quelled by teammates. Borrego was booted from the game and Bill Ross came in to complete the inning and the game.

Tonight the Amarillo Gold Sox move into Oiler Park for a two-game series. It will continue the battle for fifth place in the league, a place that the Gold Sox apparently had clinched earlier, but the Oilers wanted them off.

The starting hurler for Pampa tonight is expected to be right-hander Al Kavanaugh, who hung in against the Hose last weekend in his last outing.

The Pioneers scored three times in the first inning on three hits and a pair of walks. Big blow was a double by Mickey Laster, who hit a home run.

Pampa got two in the second on two errors and a hit. But the Pioneers bounced right back with three more in the third on three singles and another Oiler error.

Borrego then coasted along behind speed support, the Pioneers adding two runs in the sixth on two hits and three walks and another pair in the seventh when Hank Paakiewicz homered and singles by Pennington and Ehrhart mixed with a stolen base added another run.

The only damage done off Borrego meanwhile, was a home run by Rice in the sixth.

The bottom of the ninth started with Rice doubling to left center. Dial singled him to third and home and Dial stopped at second. Mack Hyle batted for Baldwin and bounced out for the first out, the runners advancing.

Suarez was hit by a pitched ball to load the bases, but Deck Doolittle popped to Pennington for the second out.

Jack Phillips slapped the first pitch right through the box for two more runs and Richardson walked to reload the bases.

This set the scene for Borrego's violent attack on the umpires while pitching to Calo. After Borrego was tagged, Rosin was tagged for a single by Calo on the first pitch to score two more runs but Francis Rice hit into a force play to end the game.

PAMPA W&M Heads Meeting Today

RICHMOND, Va. — (AP) — The men who govern William and Mary met here today to hear the inside story on how the college became involved in the nation's newest sports scandal.

Almost overshadowed as the board of visitors convened at 10 a. m. (CST) was its other task inside story on how the selection of a new head football coach and athletic director to succeed R. N. (Rube) McCray.

McCray, along with basketball coach Barney Wilson, turned in his resignation last weekend just as charges of "malpractices" by the school's department of athletics hit the public prints.

Statements by college officials and others have indicated that the "malpractices" at least part, consisted of "doctoring" the grades of student athletes in order to qualify them academically for football play.

The board was to hear McCray's side of the argument today. It was to hear, too, from the man regarded as McCray's principal antagonist—Dean Nelson Marshall, who conducted an investigation into the grading practices of the athletic staff.

Stars Set For Upset Friday

CHICAGO — (AP) — Will that old Brown magic work against the college All-Stars Friday night, or will the pro champion Cleveland Browns find that youth must be served, as did the aging Philadelphia Eagles last year?

The question is a toughie.

The hot glare of the Soldier Field arc-lights on a sultry August evening has had a way of revealing unsuspected wrinkles on the title-winning beauties of the National Football League.

Some say Paul Brown's play-for-pay lads are getting slightly decadent. Reports from the Browns' Bowling Green, Ohio, training base are listing aches and pains seldom before found on a brown-conditioned squad.

These same observers contend that the Brown machine which massacred opposition in the defunct All-American Conference in 1947 and 1948 would push the All-Stars right into Lake Michigan. But the front line average last year was around 25. Now it's 28.

Last year, the proud Eagles lost to the All-Stars, 17-7, and then limped on to be rudely defeated by the Browns with a 6-0 NFL record after copping in 1949 with 11-1.

shut out the Chicago White Sox, 6-0, to win his 21st game of the season.

Ten years ago — Sam Barry was named head football coach at Southern California, succeeding the late Howard Jones.

Hubbers Win Pitcher's Duel

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Chuck Novotney's double with two outs scored Paul Dobkowski with the winning run as Ken Michael shaded Rene Vega in a brilliant mound duel, Lubbock beating Borger 2-1 in 14 innings here last night.

Neither team was able to score a run in the first 12 innings, although both staged threats. Two singles with two out in the 13th and 14th scored the first tally, but Earl Hochstatter tied it up for Lubbock with his 22nd home run of the year leading off in the Hubber 13th.

Brissie's Relief Leads Tribe's Bid

(By The Associated Press)

Lou Brissie is the unheralded cog in the Cleveland Indians' stirring drive for the American League pennant.

Brissie is to the Indians what Joe Page was to the New York Yankees in their successful 1947 and 1949 pennant campaigns. But unlike the former gay reliever of the Bombers, Brissie hasn't drawn the headlines.

Although the "big four" of Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon have received most of the credit Brissie has contributed handsomely to the 2-1 game lead the Indians enjoy over the Yankees today.

The 27-year-old lefthander, seriously wounded in Italy during the war, pitched three scoreless innings in relief yesterday to gain credit for the Indians 4-5 ten-inning victory over the Detroit Tigers for their 12th straight win.

The Yanks kept pace by defeating the Washington Senators, 6-3. The third place Boston Red Sox also won, downing the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-4.

In the National League, the New York Giants turned back the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-2. The Boston Braves beat the Philadelphia Phils, 4-2, and the Chicago Cubs edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3. The other clubs were idle.

Colleges Handle Injuries Cheap

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Multi-million dollar college athletics covers its stock in trade — the athlete — with a patch quilt of protection against injury.

That's the conclusion of an Associated Press survey of the 308 member schools of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, control body for college athletics.

The 165 schools that responded to a questionnaire provided these facts:

About 25 percent of the NCAA schools provide any kind of insurance protection for the injured athlete.

About 15 percent of the NCAA schools cover their athletes with a policy with a maximum liability of $500. About three percent provide policies with greater maximum liability.

Others meet the threat of athletic injury through encouraging the student to insure himself, setting up an athletic fund for the purpose, or administering a fund set up by alumni or a combination of all or part of the three.

Still others administer athletic programs under agreements with nearby hospitals and clinics. Most have training rooms with one or more trainers on hand, and student health services. Some have college hospitals on the campus.

As a result, severe athletic injury throws the athlete on the mercy of the school's athletic governing agency. In most cases, administrators, particularly in the larger schools, feel responsibility. College injury costs range from less than $500 at many small schools to as much as $7,500 at University of Southern California and $6,500 at Ohio State University. The costs were met in a variety of ways.

Central, First Baptist Are Softball Kings

Central Baptist's senior boys and the First Baptist junior boys ran away with their league championships last night in the playoffs of the Kiwanis summer softball program.

The senior boys trounced the Holy Souls team, 2-3, while the First Baptist scored 15 runs in the sixth inning to romp to a 25-5 win over the First Methodist junior boys.

The games climaxed a full summer's schedule of softball, played four nights weekly, under the sponsorship and supervision of the Kiwanis Club.

The Central Baptist senior boys were second half winners in their league and then went on to win the playoffs.

Lobos Wallop Gold Sox, 13-4

LAMESA — (AP) — The Lamesa Lobos grabbed their third straight win and stretched their margin over fourth place Abilene to a game and a half last night, walloping the Amarillo Gold Sox 13-4.

A crowd of 822 fans, including league President Milton Price, watched Harry Pilaraki pitch a nine-inning coasting to his third victory. Only two earned runs were scored against him.

Glen Bebo, substiting for center fielder Pedro Santiago, led Lamesa's 13-hit attack on three Amarillo hurlers with a perfect three for three, all singles.

Turpin Bringing Own English Chef

SOUTHAMPTON, England — (AP) — Randy Turpin, world middleweight champion, is going to stick to English cooking when he trains in the United States for his return title with Sugar Ray Robinson on Sept. 12.

"Good plain English cooking like my mother gives me will be good enough for me," he asserted yesterday on the eve of his sailing on the Queen Mary.

The Queen Mary chef, Frank Ninnim, has been assigned to see that Turpin gets the food he likes. When the ship docks in New York he will go along to Turpin's training camp.

WANTS GO HOME—Although its time is up, as indicated by the red flag on the parking meter, this indignant feline is still stranded on its perch by the Missouri River on a flood-covered street in Chester, Ill. ### JACOBY ON BRIDGE

You Miss Key Plays By Foolish Arguing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Bridge players find the funniest things to argue about. The defenders in today's hand, for example, talked themselves hoarse on what seemed to be a fine point of defense. The trouble is that they both missed the sure-fire play.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and South won with the ace. He entered dummy with the king of clubs to lead a heart. When East played low, South finessed the nine of hearts. This lost to West's ten, a card South had to ruff the diamond return.

Declarer remembered that the ten of clubs had dropped under dummy's king, so he hopefully laid down the ace of clubs. When

East dropped the queen, South drew one round of trumps with the ace and then led the five of clubs towards dummy's nine.

West thought for a second or two and then stepped up with the jack of clubs. East thought for three or four seconds and ruffed with the ten of spades in order to return a heart through South's ace-queen.

This play didn't work because South had the eight of clubs. He played the ace of hearts, drew a second round of trumps with his king, and then led his established eight of clubs. West had to follow suit, and dummy discarded the last low heart.

Then South was in position to ruff his queen of hearts, after which he could afford to give up a trump trick to West's queen. East defended his ruff and heart return by pointing out that it would have been the correct play if West instead of South happened to have the eight of clubs. West said he would have returned a club if allowed to hold the trick with the jack of clubs.

Then South would have to guess a very unusual line of play to make the contract. He'd have to ruff the fourth club with the jack of spades, and then put West in with a trump to force a heart return up to the ace-queen.

They argued for a long time about which defense was better. Should West be allowed to give declarer a guess or should East rely on the location of the eight of clubs? They both missed the one play that couldn't fail. When South leads the third club, South should play low, allowing East to ruff. East can then return any card in his hand, and West is bound to set the contract with one more heart trick and a trump.

The ancient "Church of the Twelve Apostles" in Las Trampas, N. M., was built by 12 men and took 12 years to build.

Nationalist Guerrilla Action Is On A Small Scale So Far

(Editor's note: The author of the following has been AP chief of bureau for China since the close of World War II. In a complex sphere laden with propaganda, exaggeration and rumor, he has long specialized in sifting out the facts.)

By FRED HAMPSON
HONG KONG — Every day reports come out of Red China that guerrillas are punching the Communists groggy, especially in the south.

In the past 60 days enough confirmation has come through to establish the truth of many raids. Even the Reds are beginning to admit some of them.

Are the guerrillas really getting strong? Twenty stories about 20 guerrilla raids can create the impression of a vast anti-Red movement.

When you add them up, however, they come to an average of 10 men each. Twenty raids therefore might involve no more than 2,000 men scattered over four or five big provinces.

Look at it that way, and guerrilla activity seems trifling. Well, which is it, important or trivial?

The answer, so far, is "pretty small." Wishful thinkers may make much of the rash of outbreaks, but dispassionate evaluation shows the guerrillas, at present, are no more than an annoyance to the Reds.

They may become more than that, depending on several factors, including the Korean war,

Taft Favors Enlarged Air Force

WASHINGTON — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) says he will support an increase in the Air Force but will oppose any equivalent increase in the size of the Army and Navy.

Taft, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a reporter he is concerned about reports that military leaders may ask Congress for an additional $20,000,000 or more appropriations later in the year.

"If that comes along, it will mean that we are headed toward a $100,000,000 budget with deficits running about $25,000,000 a year and I don't think we can stand such deficits," he said.

Taft, long an airpower advocate, said he believes a reasonable expansion in the Air Force in the long run would be at cheaper cost than an overall expansion of the military branches.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said an appropriations subcommittee of which he is a member, is going to call in the chiefs of staff and find out whether any more fund requests are in sight before it acts on a pending military money bill.

used to do when they were guerrillas. The type of uprising conspicuous in South China lately appears to be mostly the work of angry farmers, getting revenge for a bad deal on land distribution or for the heavy grain tax. Some of it also sounds like rescues of purge victims by relatives. Many cases look simply like the work of hungry people.

A good yardstick for the extent of guerrilla work is the Chinese railroad system. China has poor communications, so a cut railroad is a serious thing. Guerrillas have indeed blown up a few locomotives and robbed a few munitions cars, but all indications are that the trains in Red China still run close to schedule, with no lines cut for more than a few hours.

It will be time to sit up and take notice when raiders start smashing railroads and keeping them smashed — as the Reds

The FORM DIVINE by HILDEGARDE DOLSON

Copyright 1951 by Hildegarde Dolson
By arrangement with the publisher
Random House, Inc. N.Y.

THE STORY: Lucilla Webb, 37, New York housewife, hears from an out-of-town friend of hers about remarkable transformations wrought by the Beautiful-You school, a beauty culture establishment.

IF Lucilla had met a friend, or even a friendly enemy, on the street that afternoon after leaving Charlotte, and been asked, "Where are you headed for?" she would have said, "Bonwit Teller," without batting an eye. As it happened, she met no one.

And if by an amusing coincidence she happened to pass the Beautiful-You School in the block above Bonwit's, there was no earthly reason why she shouldn't glance at the lavish poster display around the entrance. Merely out of friendly curiosity, of course.

The first set of before and after photographs was in the glass display case beside the door. Before—she's drab!—after—she's dazzling! The blown-up snapshot accompanying her's drab! was of a dumpy, smiling little woman whom the caption described with cheerful candor as "Mrs. Bepfinger, a dowdy suburban matron who even looked suburban." The after creature was a tall, pinch-nosed young woman with high, sculptured hairdo, wearing a white-sheathed dinner dress.

Almost all of the classroom pictures featured a handsome blonde in a severely chic black dress. This was Mary Meadows, head of the Beautiful-You School.

It began to sound sadder and sadder. By now, Lucilla had been drawn into a corridor with cheer-ful references to the school building, except that it was delicately perturbed. In between the two elevators was the directory showing that Beautiful-You occupied all four floors above: Two—Divine Angle Room, Hair Salon, Voice Recording; Three—Nurse, Pedicures, Food Bar; Four—Registration Desk, Hall of Mirrors; Five—Rollers, Office of Mary Meadows, Wax Baths. Below this was the most discreet notice of the lot: DeLuxe Day Lime Course, Eight Weeks, $260.

Lucilla felt the Healthy Foundation yanked out from under her. "That's fantastic." Yet the very largeness of the figure made one realize this was no fly-by-night, send-$3-in-check-or-money-order scheme. And there was no such sizzly postscript as "If Not Satisfied in Thirty Days, Return Your Body and Money Will Be Refunded." No, it was a cut-and-dried business proposition, stating, by inference, that if one wanted such highly negotiable, gold-edged securities as Health, Beauty and Happiness, one would do well to pay for them.

The elevator nearest her whirred and the door slid open. Lucilla stepped back, feeling as if she'd been caught napping, until astonished at the vision emerging from the elevator blotted out everything else. If anyone had been caught rather naked, it was the newcomer, yet she couldn't have looked calmer. Cerise-satin trunks and a sleeveless satin blouse, resembling a child's panty-waist revealed her extraordinarily beautiful figure.

On campus, "Are you looking for the Biology Lab?" Lucilla stammered, "Thank you, but I don't really think..." Her unfinished sentence floated off in the perfumed air.

"We might have one more vacancy for the spring term. Classes start day after tomorrow." Lucilla was silent, digesting this. "My name is Miss Willis, if you'd like to ask for me."

"Miss Willis," Lucilla repeated. "How did you happen to hear of us?" Miss Willis asked gently. "But on the defensive, and needing references to establish herself, Lucilla glommed onto Clarice. Miraculously, she even remembered Clarice's last name—Tompkitts.

The girl first looked blank, then radiated pleasure. She clasped her hands between the protruberant portions of her satin panty-waist and exclaimed, "Oh, Miss Tompkitts! She was one of my star pupils. I got an announcement of her wedding, and the dearest photograph of her and her husband."

Lucilla felt the necessity of proving she too was in touch. "He's a big oil man." Miss Willis beamed. "I'm so glad, Miss Tompkitts worked so hard in Body Molding. She got one of the top prizes at graduation for the Japanese Beauty Walk."

"Her listener was impressed. "She used to walk like a cr—uh—sort of sideways." "You're telling me," Miss Willis muttered. Then she laughed musically. "Well, we all of us have our little faults, don't we?"

Going home was an anti-climax. In the foyer of the apartment, she stopped to glance at the telephone pad, which was blank unless Gretel had used invisible ink, an act Lucilla wouldn't have put past her. "No messages for me!" she called, bending to scratch sniffles, the sad-eared spaniel, under his chin. Gretel came out of the kitchen. "Nobody called you all day," she announced, with morbid pleasure. "Not even Mr. Webb."

"Oh, good, I was later than I expected." The cool mistress-of-the-house act never cut any ice with Gretel, but it did Lucilla feel she was at least hiding scars

West Germany Outlaws Bullying Storm Trooper

BONN, Germany — West Germany has outlawed the bullying storm trooper.

Wide new measures against political extremists prohibit party uniforms, advocacy of armed force and the possession of weapons without government authority.

The measures are directed at the Communists and new Nazi strong-arm squads who have made an alarming appearance recently. The new Nazis had a force of jack-booted whiteshirts, called the Reichstruppen in bold imitation of the stormtroopers who clubbed and murdered to give Hitler power.

The Communists organized their youth movement, the free German youth, into militant squads and gave them blue shirts. These young toughs fought pitched battles in the street with German police.

Both organizations were banned as "unconstitutional."

Fishing is Iceland's principal industry.

"Glow worms" are female and immature fireflies.

The Air Force was allowed $19,854,000,000, the Army $20,125,000,000 and the Navy $15,522,000,000 in a $55,000,000,000 appropriations measure approved by the House last week.

Ferguson predicted the Senate committee won't be able to make "any big reduction in these amounts because of cost increases.

He said, as an example, that tanks now cost four times what they did in World War II, only partly because they are much better tanks.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee has come out for a 168-wing Air Force, compared with the present 87 wings and a goal of 95 groups by next July 1.

In the past, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and other military men have contended that the Army and Navy must be increased whenever the Air Force is boosted in order to keep a balanced defense team in action.

Taft said if the Air Force is to be expanded greatly he doesn't believe the Army and Navy can keep pace without overloading the country's budget.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said an appropriations subcommittee of which he is a member, is going to call in the chiefs of staff and find out whether any more fund requests are in sight before it acts on a pending military money bill.

It will be time to sit up and take notice when raiders start smashing railroads and keeping them smashed — as the Reds used to do when they were guerrillas. The type of uprising conspicuous in South China lately appears to be mostly the work of angry farmers, getting revenge for a bad deal on land distribution or for the heavy grain tax. Some of it also sounds like rescues of purge victims by relatives. Many cases look simply like the work of hungry people.

A good yardstick for the extent of guerrilla work is the Chinese railroad system. China has poor communications, so a cut railroad is a serious thing. Guerrillas have indeed blown up a few locomotives and robbed a few munitions cars, but all indications are that the trains in Red China still run close to schedule, with no lines cut for more than a few hours.

LOST 70 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barronette is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barronette. Pour the contents into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of cranberry grapefruit juice. Take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very best bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves... if you're pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, back, abdomen, hips, calves
