FORT COLLINS -(AP)-Flash floods rolling out of the canyons of the Rocky Mountain front range spread death and destruction in northern Colorado Saturday.

At least seven persons were believed drowned, four of them members of a Denver family. Six bodies have been recovered.

Thousands of other persons in towns dotting the rich farming area were driven rrom their when cloudbursts transformed colorful mountain streams into walls of water.

It was expected damage to fields, many in the midst of harvest, would be heavy. Bursting of a dam, 40 feet high, on Buckhorn Creek sent a wall of water roaring down a mountain canyon. Water hit the car and trailer of the Harold Johnson family of Denver. He was thrown free from the car and escaped but

The Bampa Baily News Women's Activities Pampa On Parade-The Country Club

POINT OF PRIDE -Among Pampa's prides is her Country Club. Set in a nest of trees, with its swimming pool and smooth course, it is one of the beauty spots of which Pampa can truly boast. Always a favorite recreational spot for Country Club members, it becomes especially desirable as the mercury climbs. A prized spot with both the youngsters and grownups is the swimming pool. Another frequented spot is the golf course, which lures players even on the hottest days. The ballroom is the scene of many gay parties and dances and the dining room is often selected by 'families eating out.

LIFEGUARD ALOFT -Relaxing on her "perch" (left) as she keeps an alert eye on her charges is Miss Norma Self, youthful lifeguard. The blonde and attractive Miss Self was graduated from Pampa High School last spring, and will attend West Texas State College, Canyon, in the fall.

WASHINGTON -(P)- This is an ABC on rent controls. The new rent control law, which went into effect last week, was laid on top of the old law, still in effect.

So what we have is the same rent control law with changes. These are the two main changes:

(A). The government now can put controls on any community, can step in and order the controls whether or not it's ever been again.

under controls, but only if that 2. New York, the only state under controls, but only it that place is considered a critical part of the defense program. (B). Landlords in places still under control can boost their rents to 20 percent above what they were on June 30, 1947. For many this will mean no more than e five percent increase since than rents in the nation as a than a five percent increase since than rents in the nation as a many already have been permitted a 15 percent increase over As for landlords: Those who want to boost their rents to 20 June 30, 1947. (Note: This, of course, applies only to places still under federal control. Landlords in un-controlled places can do as they please.) please.)

There are no federal controls in New York, the only state with California Pastor its own statewide rent control Holds Twitty Revival law. meet demands. And he can go back into any leader, and Frances Bechtol. area where he has on his own initiative lifted controls and re-impose them. But — he can do this nowhere else this nowhere else.

Thorium is used 2. If, in an area still under control the local rent advisory council suggests to Woods there's no longer need for controls, he can lift them but doesn't have to. He usually does, though. In such a case, where his action is voluntary, he can go back any time and put on the controls again

But if he refuses to lift the controls in the first place, and then is forced to because the council went to court and got H verdict against him, he can't reimpose the controls.

3. When a city government or state legislature decides federal controls are no longer needed, they end and Woods can't reim-pose them. 4. And when a state substitutes its own rent control for federal control, Woods can't reimpose. For example, Woods can't put controls back in any part of New York which, as explained, has its odwn law.

All this so far deals only with Woods' power to reimpose con-trols. But under the new law federal controls can be placed on any community, whether or not it has ever been under controls and no matter how it has been de-controlled, but only in this way: The secretary of defense, George Marshall, and Charles E. Wilson, boss of defense mobiliza-tion, must first decide that such a place is critically in need of controls for the good of the defense program.

So where Woods can reimpose controls only where he himself has decontrolled, Marshall and Wilson can decide on controls for any community. They can do that to a whole eity or just part of a city. For example, the area around an im-portant defense plant. And where Woods' power to re-control is limited mostly to housing units, Marshall and Wilson can put controls on any kind of housing. Further, whenever Marshall and Wilson decide an area must be controlled, the government must relax in that area its naonwide restrictions on credit for new housing. Example: The size of the down payment. The reason: To get housing built in that area faster. There are a couple of points to keep in mind: 1. When Marshall and Wilson decide on rent controls for an area, they still can be wiped out area, they council or state legis-if the city council or state legis-lature wants them ended. But lature wants them ended. But they can stay wiped out only for days, Then the government

Keep Your Eye On KPDN

By KAY FANCHER

This is the week !!! yes in deed it is. , this is the week of the great Top O' Texas Rodeo, to be held here in Pampa or Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. We're sure going to enjoy seeing the shows coming up on those days. You know, KPDN is going to broad-cast the rodeo all the nights it is on at Recreation Park. The rodeo will be heard each eve ning Wednesday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. Uncle Coy and will be out there to try to bring you some of the and spills that go hand in hand with the rodeo.

I've got a hunch Rudy Marti and about 90 percent of the rest of the staff of KPDN will be out there to help, too. You want to be sure and watch the Pampa Daily News and keep tuned in KPDN to make sure and catch any additional features that KPDN might carry in connection with the rodeo.

For instance, there might be a couple of parades on the air but you won't know exactly when until we find out our selves, so you'd better keep close track so you don't miss out Another thing that I know you won't want to miss, is the fea-ture that might be tossed min anyplace, with an interview with one of the personalities connected with the show.

Next week on Staff Breakfast, every day except Monday, will be devoted to guests who have something to do with the rouco celebration, and I know you are going to be interested in hearing all these guests and what they have to say. By the way, the one day that will not be taken by rodeo personalities, will be held by the fellows who took Isabel Q. Car to Canada and back. I'm sure you'll like to hear about their experiences too.

Say, have you heard Muinal Newsreel lately? If you haven't you're really missing a good the way it is set up, show. it makes you teel as though you're sitting at the show watching the picture flash across the screen. It realy brings the news to you with an impact . . .you can almost see it hap-pening. Mutual Newsreel comes to you each evening Monday through Friday at 8:15 p.m.

Did you hear the ball game last Wednesday night? If you did, Rudy Marti will never forgive you! He did the ball game with Warren that night and during the game, Warren asked if he'd like to try to do Rudy a little play-by-play. Of course Rudy said yes, and so near the end of the second game Rudy took over and did about an in ning. After it was all over and the shooting had stopped. wiped his fevered brow and heaved a great big sigh of relief. . .he also confessed he had been scared into a tizzy. . .but you've got to give him credit . .he did it. Didn't sound bad Other, and of course Warren got a rest after having done 16 in nings of baseball already.

Kiwanis International and the Mutual Broadcasting System are presenting jointly a series of Sunday broadcasts, featuring outstanding Kiwanis - affiliated choral groups, beginning Aug. 5 and continuing through Sept. 30.

¶:15 p.m. The participating choral groups were selected from al lsections of the United States. There is one more thing" want to be sure and remember and that is that Uncle Coy will be back this coming Monday. that's tomorrow, . . and his three shows will be bigger and better than ever. I talked to him on the telephone the other day and one of the things that he's done is gone out and sharpened up on his golf. He'll come back now and take me out and beat the pants off me. Oh well, that's life. Im a heck of a golfer anyway and I should expect it.

WHEREAS our tireless, enthusiastic and aggressive civic eaders have again combined forces and efforts with an ever forward looking citizenry to perpetuate the steady increase of our community's prestige and greatness among the cities of our state, and WHEREAS those efforts have borne fruit down through the few short decades of our existence as a city to the extent that our reputation as being a hospitable people has been far and wide, and has been of such material aid to our progress on a local scale; that we have come forward to be recognized as a prosper-ous and progressive municipality in the eyes of the state and nation, and

MHEREAS it has been the ultimate goal of our city to em-bark upon a never ending course of civic betterment and to keep a steady hand to the wheel of our municipal ship of state lest we fall into the trough of discord and be torn asunder by a wave of disunity, now THEREFORE I proclaim the days of August 7 - 11, inclusive, Rodeo Days in the city of Pampa, and extend to you and each of you a sincere, heartfelt welcome and bid you enter into our city to meet, greet and frolic with our neighbors as we once again cast aside the heavy burdens of life in exchange for a few unforget-table hours of fellowship and sportsmanship as only true Amer-icans know how to do. May you enjoy every minute of your stay with us, and look forward for an even bigger and better return next year.

Actor To Be Here

One of the highlights of rodeo festivities here Aug. 7-11 will be the appearance of Monte Hale, favorite singing cowboy, who was also a guest here during the 1948 show.

Hale, an honorary deputy o Gray County, is a native Texan was discovered by Phil who Isley, father of Hollywood's Jennifer Jones. He hitchhiked to Hollywood from Texas after Isley wrofe a letter of introduction to his friend, Herbert J. Yates, Republic studio head. Hale stopped at a gas station around the corner from the studio just long enough to wash his face and comb his hair before presenting himself at the studio. He arrived carrying dusty suitcase in one hand and his guitar in the other. In three days the Texan had

Hollywood contract! He was started in minor west ern roles, then given second leads, and now gets star billing in his six releases a year. Between pictures, Hale makes rodeo tours and personal ap pearances at theaters throughout he country. He will appear here at each rodeo performance and vill ride in the rodeo parade

Aug. 8. The handsome movie cowboy loves the guitar. That love stems from a time he attended a coun try dance in San Angelo, Texas and became enthralled with the music. Soon he had a guitar of his own, and began playing and singing at barn dances himself. Especially popular with kids, Hale has a reputation for friend iness, and he is said to never urn down a request for a worthy cause. Hale will perform with the Tex-o Hired Hands who will appear at each rodeo performance

RIDIN' HIGH — This cowboy is still going strong, but only a few seconds is needed to unseat him. At the rodeo, buckers are well-led, well kept and receive excellent treatment. But the cowboy? There he is — the one who landed ear first on the arena bottom. Scenes similar to this will be seen throughout the Top o' Texas Rodeo, Aug. 7-11. (Photo by Howard Kimbley)

Show Opens Aug. 7 In Western Style

When a cowboy who may weigh 160 pounds climbs into a regulation rodeo saddle cinched to an impatient, 1600pound bronc, there's bound to be action.

And action is what Pampans will be seeing during rodeo week, Aug. 7-11, Paul C. Crouch, president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association, has promised. All efforts have been made to make this seventh annual Top o' Texas Rodeo the most colorful and exciting yet.

The entire show should attract both young and old, as early events are retained in the old western style, Crouch said said. Rodeo performances will begin Tuesday, Aug. 7, and continue through Saturday. Semifinals will be held Friday night and finals on Saturday. Reccreation Park is the place: 8 p.m. the time for each performance. Rodeo events are under direc-tion of Siler Hopkins, assisted by Guy Andis, Homer Taylor, John Pitts and Floyd Imel. "It is about 70 percent horse, 20 percent luck and 10 percent man," is the modest estimate of C. M. Coffee, in sizing up one's success as a rodeo performer. He should know. This is his sixth season following the shows, and making a success at it.

How did he chance to start in the rodeo business? Well, it wasn't chance. It was more of a natural destiny, C. M., who is the son of Mrs. Howard Mulk ey of Miami, was raised on a ranch. He cut his teeth in the saddle, you might say. His father, the late C. M. Coffee, Sr., was a good rodeo man himself.

"He always encouraged us to rope and ride," C. M. said. "He bought us ropes when we were small and let us rope the milk-pen calves." The small-boy play of C. M. and his brothers, Walter and Tom, was riding, roping, bull-dogging, like town boys play cops and robbers. While just a kid he started breaking broncs and training horses.

Barbecue Art Carried On By The American Cowpokes

By WANDA J. CAMPBELL

It took the American cowpoke to perpetuate the barbecue art discovered centuries b ago by a Chinese lad, who touched his fingers to a roasted pig after it was accidently burned in his hut, and tasted barbecue for the first time.

Barbecues have been going on ever since. And though they are typical of Texas and c the old West, barbecues were said to have been introduced in this country by the Span-g iards who came from Mexico and settled in southern California. Their feasts, or fiestas lasted for days at a time, and there was no time as gay or colorful as those feasts when the flying feet of the dark senoritas swung into dances, and laughter and music resounded. it The gaiety of the event was highlighted by the food cooked in outdoor ovens and other delicacies spread for the feast.

As cattlemen delivered their to market, they unintenherds tionally set up a new kingdom. The fact that the markets were 12 or 15 hundred miles from ing difficult, but the men of the West took the stride.

They learned to beat out a trail, avoid the timber and farm-er, whip the Indians and to cross the quicksand choked rivers-and they got where they were going and got what they wanted-real money jingling in their pockets. To say these treks made for great changes and terrific move-ment would be an understatement. Here's why: From 1870 to 1890, one million mustang ponies and 12 million longhorn cattle went up the trail from the plains of West Texas, along the many famous trails to Abilene, Elsworth, Wichita and Dodge City. Besides these millions, many more millions were turned directly west to the ranges of New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. Other thousands also went to Montana, Wyoming and to the Dakotas. Despite this migration, the number of cattle remaining on the home ranges of Texas were greater than ever pefore. The long trails were bucken up when Fort Worth and Denver uilt west through to Amarillo and it was Dodge City and Abi-lene no longer. Clarendon and

By WANDA J. CAMPBELL The Palomino, said to be America's most beautiful horse, is a horse without a history.

Stud books of all American registeries carry many descriptions of horses of "golden chestnut with flax mane and tail" or with "cream" or "yellow" coloring. But only in recent years were they called Palominos.

Palominos are neither a breed or type-they are simply a color. Some horses are crossbred, purebred or linebred.

WASHINGTON -- (AP) -- The Wage Stabilization Board has altered its regulation on merit pay raises to allow employers more lecway.

As announced yesterday, this would permit employers who use "rate ranges" for each job— that is those who pay a worker more as he improves, or gains experience on a particular job—to increase pay by one of the fol-lowing options: 1. The same amount in increases given in 1950 except that the top rate for each job could not be raised.

2. An increase of up to six percent for job improvement as long as the top rate for each job remains unchanged.

3. Merit rate plans outlined prior to the Jan. 25, 1951 wage freeze late, for application this year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Weitz, better known as "Billie and Al" to all their friends are opening "BILLIE'S CAFE" just about 1 mile east of Pampa on Highway 60.

Billie and Al intend to open their cafe August 1st, and be open for the "Top o' Texas" Rodeo so that their friends can drop in for a visit, or to enjoy a hot cup of coffee, or ice cold drink. Maybe a Bar-B-Q meel or Sandwich, Baked Ham, a Hamburger or a piece of home made Pie.

For the children, we will feature Plains Creamery Products exclusively, Ice Cream Cones, Malts, Popsicle or Frozen Suckers and ice cold assorted Soda Waters. In a clean congenial atmosphere, where a man can truly feel welcome with his wife and children.

Billi e and Al chose this present location, so they could do, what they de-sired to do when they bought the Broadway Ice Building in 1945, remodeled it and built it-into Billie's Cafe at 401 E. Brown St. But sold it to Mr. Lee Mayo and Bill Crall on April 29, 1946, who changed the name of Billie's Cafe to Terrace Grill and operated it as the Terrace Grill.

Billie and Al on June 11, 1946 bought the Southern Club which they still own, but due to Al's health and upon advice of his physician they leased the Club out to Mr. Curt Shaffer, who is operating it on his own.

Billie and AI, invite all of their friends, young and old, who want to visit, get acquainted, and see Billie and AI at their new air conditioned Cafe. All are Welcome.

Charlie Gores Was Cowboy On LX Ranch In Early Days

As we sat in the Gores living oom talking, Mrs. Gores, Charlie Gores on the favorite horse in ture taken so long ago of John Gores on the favorite hose in his string: old Sowder, his cut-tin' horse. Talk went back to old days in the Top O' Texas area and Charlie Gores, remarked: "When I came here in 1990 there wasn't one fence in the entire country — my job was line rider for the old LX Ranch." "S. S. Holly sold 10,000 head of cattle about then to the Amer-ican Pasture Co., of Denver. At least, the headquarters were in Denver for the business part of the ranch operation. The Texas holdings were called the LX and were mostly north of Amarillo, handled by D. T. Benes and Company.

the Colorado holdings were closed out. Gores recalls that first comptroller of the LX Ranch after he went there was a man called Thompson, who was later replaced by a man named Clark then by H. E. Harding. The general manager was a man named Moore who was followed by John Hollicutt. had heard many tales early days and even remembered faintly some of the men who made early Panhandle history. So I asked Gores who was in the country then. "Nobody was in the country then. "Nobody was on the range there except me and my pardner, John (Waddy) Pea-cock," Gores said "Percock," Gores said. "But the Cators, Jim, Bob, Russ, and Bert, lived over on Palo Duro Creek and Oscar McDowell lived over in what is now Moore County about then. I'd seen him around, but we line riders mostly lived a pretty lonely life. "We were camped on Bone Lake, where so many buffalo had been slaughtered just about where the town of Dumas is now." I asked if line riders were riding all the time to keep cattle pushed back on their own their and other outfits' cattle off their hed back on their own range range, and Gores said yes. "We rode all the time, returning to camp at night; not changng camps too often," he told me. "My pardner and I had only one wagon sheet between us (I noticed that Gores said 'wagon sheet,' not tarpaulin, and wondered if tarps came into use later). We kept it over our provisions and slept outside in our quilts in good weather. When it was

Fast, Stout Quarter Horse Ideal Mount For Cowboy

Not actually a new breed, the uarter horse is of an old and listinguished line that has found a new and important purpose in life. Originally known as the American quarter running horse and established in Virginia about 1865, the breed was developed en-thusiastically by Colonial land-owners whose pride in their stables was unbounded.

Even then the quarter horse was short and coupled, heavily muscled inside and outside, with a broad muzzle. It was Virginia plantation owners who first popu-larized short races with their fine quarter horses.

The term quarter horse does not signify that the animal is the quarter of some breed or other. It means that he was bred to run his best in the first quarter of a mile. A quick take-off is an outstanding characteristic of the quarter horse and another valuable trait is its ability to take sharp turns and follow in close to a dodging calf. His quiet, even disposition makes him handle well on the range. There's nothing temperamental

Old Mobeetie Saw Gunplay Of The Famed Bat Masterson

A little-known episode in the life of Bat Masterson, the frontier peace officer, wh was to become a legend in the Southwest, occurred in Old Mobeetie in 1875.

Masterson, whose name was a synonym for cool-headed courage, was a surveyor in those days. Something of a dandy, he wore a gray sombrero perched atop his long hair, red silk bandana, gold-inlaid spurs, tailored shirts and tailored trousers. But nobody called Bat Masterson a dude. It wasn't considered healthy.

son spent some time in Old Mobeetie where he figured in a grim drama that took two lives when a badman, set out to get revenge.

Historians have never beer able to agree on whether Bat was romantically interested in Mollie Brennan, or whether he merely talked to her because of the lonesome life she led due to Sargent King. Mollie, who some writers call-ed "the Rose of the Canadian," was a shoemaker's daughter and the belle of Old Mobeetie. While she had many ardent admirers, none would talk to her or press their suit for fear of retributio by King.

King was a deserter from the army and a swaggering badman fought with gun and knife. who Deadly and cunning, King would trick his opponent into a position where he could shoot him, attempting to draw a long knife that hung on his right hip. When the opponent reached for his knife hand, King would draw and fire a pistol that hung from his left hip.

Masterson and King first clashed on a Saturday night in the Lady Gey saloon. Bat had just entered and stepped up to the bar after holding a conversation Mollie on the street in with front of the Curry store. King opened his deadly game by infinuating Masterson was a horse thief, which in those days was a supreme insult that called action. King got action, for he had barely spoken the words when Bat went for his pistol. King reached for his knife. but Masterson did not attempt to pin his wrist. Instead, Mastercooly struck King on the forehead with his gun and the adman went down and out with blood trickling from his head.

History has it that King was too ashamed to stand up, crawled out of the saloon but on his hands and knees and appeared. Most of the Mobeetie townspeople knew the affair hadn't ended. Men of King's stripe could not endure such treatment and it was almost a certainty that the badman would be back --perhaps next time to shoot from ambush.

Pioneer Miami Woman Tells Of Early Life In Panhandle

By LORENE O. LOCKE Mrs. Ivy Pursley, of Miami, has been asked to tell about the early day homes of the Panhan-She is an appropriate person to do this, because she is the oldest woman pioneer in Roberts county in point of residence. Alos, she grew up in a day when wo-man's "sphere" was harply de-fined as the home.

Ivy was born in Augusta, Kan. and came to Graham, Texas, with her parents when a small child. When her parents died within six months of each other, her maternal grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lard, took Ivy and her four brothers into their home. Later, her brothers went to their grandfather Black, and Ivy came to Mobeetie with the Lard family in 1881. Except for a few short periods during her married life, she has lived the last 70 years in the Panhandle. In describing houses of the pioneers, Mrs. Pursley said: 'Anything available was used for

Some Claim Today's Cowboy Not Like Early Cow Hands

Too often, an attempt is made to generalize the cowboy — he was rough and tough, all brawn and no brain, his home was in the saddle, and the six-shooter his law. Maybe that's, how it was in some areas, but the Tex-as coyboy (who, some say, should never be called cowpokes, Kan-sans were that.) was a man of whom even the most loyal Hop-along C as sidy fan would be proud. and form our own opinion the West and its people. One Pampa woman, Mrs. Katie Vincent, 303 E. Atchison, knew the cowboy of Pampa when this town was beginning in 1902. And she knew the cowboys of the central part of Texas where she was reared.

Impressions from her childhood are vivid. "We never saw a cowboy coming we weren't glad to she said in a recent interview. "They were our friends." Mrs. Vincent, who always wanted to be a boy, imitated the cowboys she knew in her childhood in Crystal Falls, Texas, when all land was open range. To this day she can sing the tunes she heard the cowboys sing. "Don't let anyone ever say the cowboys didn't sing. Oh, how they sang. Many tunes they made up, and the words weren't always pretty, but they were theirs. Cattle bedded down for the night don't listen for words anyway. It's the soft voice they want to keep them company. The boys knew that if just one cow got up, others would get up, too, so they sang soft songs like 'Last Night as I Lay On the Prairie,' when the night herded.'' "The cowboys sang fast, too. Songs like 'Old Chisholm Trail,' 'Get Along Little Dogle,' and "Ti Yi Yippee Yippee Ya' were perfect as the cowboy's horse broke into a fast, keen lope. He timed his music with the movement of his horse. "One thing about the cowboy pictured today is that he has a guitar. That was a bulky thing to carry, so most musical cowboys I've known carried a french harp," Mrs. Vincent explained. The cowboys who lived in the Panhandle just before the turn of the century were far dif-ferent from the cowboy or rancher of today. Among Mrs. Vin-cent's family pictures, two groups of early cowboys are shown by the old White Deer headquarters. There is more of a Spanish influence in their dress than we see now.
