Record Crowds Throng First Night's Showing Of '51 Rodeo

June Bull Is Crowned Rodeo Queen

Record attendance was present at Recreation Park last night for the opening performance of the seventh annual Top o' Texas Rodeo. Paul Crouch, rodeo association president, said close to 7,000 jammed the grounds while 3,000 were turned away. There were thrills for everyone and only one minor injury was reported.

During the grand entry, rodeo officials presented the 1951 rodeo queen, Miss June Bull of Leford, who was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Janet Ranson of Perryton.

Featured during the evening was

Barbara Sanders, a real cowgirl who rode horses before she learned to read and write. She is in Pampa for the seventh annual rodeo.

She wants to be a professional cowgirl. For her picture and story, see Page 9 of today's News.

the Bud Line, Troupe, five acrobats from Wichita Falls, included were a 7-year-old boy and an 11-year-old girl.

Also present was the clown Lewis Blair, who provided antics with his trained mule and dog.

Contestants were unsuccessful in the Brahma Bull gold rush contest as they tried to get a $200 bill from the neck of a bull. At the end of the time limit, the bull still had the money.

Unofficial times for the first night's performance are as follows:

Calf roping: Punch Oglesby, Hamilton, 16 seconds; Bill Stockstill, Pampa, 17.2 and C. M. Coffey, Miami, 19.6.

Bull dogging: C. M. Coffey, 12.8 seconds; Bob Cluck, Gruver, 13.4 and Bernie Magvadore, Amarillo, 20.6.

Double Midget: Punch Oglesby, 20.2; Doyle Sparlin, McLean, 24.7 and Leo Snekeder, Chickasha, Okla., 26.9.

Twelve girls were entered in the cowgirl sponsors contest. Contestants ride twice, and the sponsor having the best average will win a $250 saddle. A riding outfit goes to second place winner and a pair of boots to third.

Before the grand entry, a precision drill was staged by the Khiva Drum and Bugle Corps of Amarillo. The Texo Hired Hand furnished music during the performance. Both Monte Hale and Ralph Autry, cousin of Gene Autry, were present.

Mrs. Jimmy Layton of the Sunray Roping Club was slightly injured during the parade yesterday when her horse reared and fell on her. Her condition as reported by Worley Hospital is good, but she will remain there for several days.

Second performance will get underway at 8 tonight in Recreation Park. Dances are held each night at the High School gymnasium from 10 to one.

Shivers Sets Date For State Voting

AUSTIN — (AP) — A proclamation setting Nov. 13 as a special election day for five proposed amendments was issued yesterday by Gov. Shivers.

The amendments would: Raise the annual public welfare ceiling from $35,000,000 to $42,000,000.

Permit rural fire prevention districts to increase their maximum tax rate to 50 cents per $100 valuation.

Allow the state to issue $75,000,000 more in bond for financing of the Veterans Land Program.

Permit counties to set up retirement and disability pension systems.

Allow the University of Texas to invest its permanent fund in other than governmental bonds and securities.

Regulate window type air conditioners. Demonstrators. Priced for quick sale. Bert A. Howell & Co., 119 N. Ward, Pa. 152.—adv.

HANO ON — Duke Holland of Childress keeps a firm hold on his horse, Golden Fan, as he attempts to remain seated the required six seconds. More action such as this will be seen at the second performance tonight. (News Photo)

Noble Buried Today As Clues Sought

DALLAS — (AP) — Gambler Herbert Noble, the cat with 11 lives, will be buried today while officers seek the men who blasted him to bits.

Eleven times the silvery-haired gambler escaped attempts on his life — for which he was nicknamed "The Cat" — but they got him Tuesday with a land mine before a mail box near his ranch 25 miles north of here.

Three Fort Worth police characters were sought but officers indicated several members of the old Lois Green gang here would be questioned.

Lois Green was the Dallas gangster killed outside a Dallas night club in 1949 — a week before an ambusher wounded Noble at his Dallas home. Noble was questioned in Green's death. Green had been queried in the bomb death of Noble's wife.

Denton County Sheriff W. O. Hodges, in whose county the slaying occurred, said after he had checked the countryside where Noble was killed, that he felt certain a pickup truck hunted in the case had come to Dallas.

Berny Binion, a gambler Noble said "never liked me too much," asserted at Las Vegas, Nev. "I had nothing to do with it. The first thing I knew about it was when I got a call from the (See NOBLE, Page 2)

Housewives Plan Campaign By Mail

MARSHALL — (AP) — Cop-pleaders are due to find their mail picking up shortly. The postmark will be Marshall, where wives are balking at collecting social security taxes from their servants.

The defiant women said yesterday they would write personal letters to every congressman, urging repeal of the federal law that requires them to collect the taxes.

Treasury agents have been in town this week, taking $44 from the bank accounts of 10 women who refused to pay the taxes.

No treasury agents appeared yesterday.

Some 20 women who don't have domestic help said they had endorsed the stand of the women.

Jap Treaty Hopes High

WASHINGTON — (AP) — United States officials expressed confidence today that a Japanese peace treaty will be signed at San Francisco next month despite expected strong Soviet opposition.

Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference yesterday he was sure the Kremlin would wage a propaganda campaign aimed at disrupting the treaty conference scheduled to open Sept. 4.

However, other officials were unable to foresee any action the Soviets might reasonably be expected to take which could succeed in disrupting the session.

Fortin Sold

The Pampa Oilers late today announced the outright sale of outfielder Joe Fortin to the Albuquerque Dukes. The straight-cash transaction, the amount undisclosed, was said to have run into four figures. No plans have been made yet for a replacement.

Child Still Unconscious After Auto Collision Near Laketon

Three-year-old Judy Markham, Laketon, had not regained consciousness at 10 a.m. today, still suffering from severe shock and injuries received in a two-car collision shortly after noon Wednesday.

Four others were injured in the crash that occurred on Farm Highway 748, just north of the Laketon store. The child's father, Glen L. Markham, driver of one of the cars, was reported by hospital attendants to be in fair condition today.

Driver of the other car, Winston L. Cox, 24, of Boise City, Okla., was taken to Highland General hospital by a passing motorist. His condition was said to be fair this morning.

In the Cox car were two other Boise City men, Harold J. Parker and Carl W. Dotson, both taken to Highland General by a Duesson Carmichael ambulance. Dotson was released yesterday.

Pampa Gets Relief From Heat Wave

Pampa breathed a sigh of relief this morning from the week-long heat wave that the rest of Texas is still sweating out.

A temperature of 64 degrees was registered early this morning — the coolest since the middle of last month.

The forecaster said that the cold front was "purely local," according to the Associated Press, "and there is nothing to indicate any real break in the heat wave."

However, late morning temperatures registered 78 degrees. More than 25 Texas points yesterday reported temperatures of over 100 degrees. The hottest spot was on the far-west border. There the thermometer hit 114.

Denver City in West Texas had a half-inch rain and so did Morton and areas to the southwest and south of Lubbock had good showers.

Agriculture commissioner John White said that if the heat wave continues the Texas cotton crop will fall a million bales. He estimated a half-million bales already had been knocked off.

FBI Kills Convict Who Vowed Not To Be Taken Alive

IDAHO, Ala. — (AP) — Billy Davis, 23-year-old desperado who vowed he'd never be taken alive, was blasted to death last night with a flaming pistol in his hand.

FBI agents who had tracked the Tennessee prison parolee for nearly a month surprised him at a farm home and shot him to death as he grappled with a sheriff's deputy.

Davis fired once from a 22-caliber target pistol before falling with two bullets in his chest and one in his left arm, the FBI said.

Sheriff G. H. Noles of Dekalb County and FBI agent George D. King reported the death of the Columbia, Tenn., gunman.

Behind him lay four last victim's bodies in a reckless flight.

Davis had dodged and fought his way through Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee to a farm near this remote northeast Alabama community.

King said Davis came to the farm yesterday morning after a brush with Tennessee highway patrolmen at McMinnville, Tenn., late Tuesday night.

FBI agents accompanied by Dekalb Deputy Sheriff Gene Young came to the house about 10 o'clock last night. They found Davis asleep in a small room.

Judge Denies Sanity Hearing McGee Attorneys Seeking New Route

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Attorneys for Richard W. McGee, former Pampa, doomed for the murder of R. L. Allston, may resort to a mandamus in an effort to get him a sanity trial.

Judge Dan A. Blair has denied an application for such a hearing, saying the code of criminal procedure did not sustain the plea.

McGee's counsel indicated yesterday they would sue for an excuse with the court of criminal appeals.

McGee was convicted in 1949 of killing Allston and is in the death house at Huntsville. He was ordered executed Aug. 2, but got a 30-day reprieve to seek the sanity hearing.

Says Russia Knew Pearl Harbor Plans

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Japan's top investigating officer testified today the Russians knew a month before Pearl Harbor of the Japanese plan to strike at the United States and Britain in the Pacific.

The House un-American Activities Committee drew this testimony from Mitsusada Yoshikawa, chief of the special investigating bureau of the Japanese attorney general's office.

The House group and a Senate subcommittee were simultaneously holding separate hearings revolving about activities of a Soviet spy ring, headed by Richard Sorge, which operated in Japan before and during World War II.

Before the Senators, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby testified he sought in 1949 to "unmask" members of this spy ring but was overruled by military authorities in Washington. He testified that "if America refuses to compromise by the middle of October, Japan will attack America, the Malay countries, Singapore and Sumatra."

Willoughby, former military intelligence chief under Gen. MacArthur, testified before the Senate internal security subcommittee. It is checking whether there have been substantive influences on U.S. foreign policy.

Willoughby said "the best legal American talent in Tokyo" had approved as proper evidence a report naming writer Guenther Stein and the late Agnes Smedley as members of a Soviet spy ring in Japan.

When Willoughby mentioned Stein, Robert Morris subcommittee counsel, noted that previous to the middle of October, Japan

Truck Drops Tag: City Brings Equipment Up To Specifications Following Fine

City rolling equipment was the midst of being brought up to state specifications this week following a $19 fine and costs imposed on the city for driving a truck without a license plate.

The plate fell from one of the city's street oiling trucks several weeks ago and was not replaced. Last week Pampa-based State Highway Patrolmen gave it a ticket for driving without the plate.

Justice of the Peace John V. Andrews imposed the $10 fine and $9 costs and set off a belated check by city officials of all city equipment to see if its trucks and cars were meeting state specifications.

City Manager Dick Pepin said this morning that license plates for two other trucks had also been dropped or lost and have not been replaced. However, applications for the $1 per-life-of-the-vehicle plates from the state had been applied for.

In addition the city is purchasing directional lights for all trucks with bodies extending more than 24 inches from the center of the steering wheel. None of the trucks had the required lights previously.

McCarthy's Plans Are Threatened

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Routine Senate business today threatened to make public the names of 29 State Department employees whose loyalty, he says, has been questioned.

"I don't plan to delay the calendar call by making my speech in bits," the Wisconsin Republican told a reporter. "But I hope to get the floor, possibly late in the day."

The Senate was scheduled to call its calendar of bills starting at 11 a.m. EST, under a system whereby routine measures are passed as read unless some senator objects.

Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of the subcommittee that policed last year's election campaign, said, meanwhile, that action on a request for an investigation of McCarthy, himself, probably will be delayed "at least six weeks."

Commies Say New Orders Being Issued

TOKYO — (AP) — A sharp message from the Communist Command last night told Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway there would be no new violations of the Korean conference site "unless you should deliberately fabricate incidents as an excuse to terminate armistice negotiations."

The armistice talks have been suspended since Saturday on General Ridgway's complaint that armed Chinese Communist troops entered the neutral conference zone of Kaesong. The Reds promised Sunday not to let it happen again, but the supreme United Nations commander demanded a firm guarantee before agreeing to resume the negotiations.

The Reds have accused the allies of violating the zone.

The latest Red reply, broadcast by Peiping last night, said Red guards again had been ordered to "adhere strictly" to the neutrality agreement around Kaesong.

It invited the allied delegates to return to Kaesong. However, it then raised the question of the allies fabricating incidents.

It added, "on our part, we definitely will not terminate the negotiations rashly and irresponsibly without going through the procedural steps of protest, investigation, consultation and settlement should a similar failure on your part occur."

The Red reply, signed by Generals Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-huai, was first broadcast in Chinese.

As translated into English by hearers in Tokyo, it omitted the "deliberately fabricate" angle and sounded generally much more polite in tone than the official English version which was heard a little later.

The English version is regarded as official, however. The UN command distributed it to correspondents.

In both translations, the top Red leaders said they had issued new orders that their soldiers observe the neutrality agreement. And both expressed the hope that Ridgway would send his negotiators back to Kaesong to resume negotiations.

Reds Say UN Violates Code

TOKYO — (AP) — The Communist cease-fire delegation charged today that the UN senior delegate "denied" that allied planes attacked a Red supply truck between Kaesong and Pyongyang Tuesday in "a clear violation of the agreement between both sides."

The charge was in a note addressed to Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior allied delegate to the Kaesong talks. It was signed by Lt. Gen. Nam Il, top Red delegate.

Admiral Joy replied that the Red charge was "completely without validity."

He added: "I note that the location of the attacks you allege is considerably east of the main road between Kaesong and Pyongyang. This fact raises the question in my mind whether your forces are abusing the use of white markings for purposes other than serving your delegation."

Boll Weevil Keane Fulfills His Boast

HARLINGEN — (AP) — "I made it," is the chant of that also Jockey, Ed Keane, today.

He will receive $1,000 in prizes, thus will become a pro in cotton picking.

High Plains Speaks Today Concerning Regulating Water

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — High Plains residents speak out today on regulating water beneath the lands.

From this testimony, the state board of water engineers will decide whether to call an election for the creation of an underground water district.

This district would have seven broad functions authorized by the legislature. It could: a) levy a tax not exceeding 50 cents on the $100 valuation for its administration.

The proposal for an underground water district has stirred wide interest over the 21-county, 10,349-mile area it would embrace.

Some see a need for such a district as a "protective" measure. Some contend a district would not be "premature."

The district can not require permits for certain type wells such as those extending under 100,000 gallons of underground water a day, or producing more than this amount but meeting regulations applicable to an underground water reservoir.

Canada Research In War Projects

OTTAWA — (AP) — The National Research Council says a Canadian scientist, including her atomic energy specialists, have turned most of their efforts to war work.

In its official 1950-51 report, the 3,100-man, government-backed research agency said the growing consciousness of the world situation is causing Canadian scientists to turn "more and more to projects arising from the requirements of the armed forces."

It was the first official indication that Canada's big atomic energy project at Chalk River, Ont., may be engaged in war work. The NRC is in charge of the Chalk river plant, which previously has been said to be engaged only in peaceful projects mainly concerned with aiding medical research.

Number Of Cases In Pampa Drops:

Reason For Polio Decline A Mystery; Treatment Improves

Polio spirals from early spring into fall. This year, Pampa has been fortunate with only three or four cases compared to last year's 17 cases.

No one knows why. Science has not yet revealed reasons for the way polio comes and goes in epidemics, but it has improved treatments and has started public education on how it may be curbed.

Texas has had roughly a half or a third of the number of polio cases as were admitted last year — and there are still many.

Ben R. Tankersley, Northwest Texas State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., was in Pampa yesterday talking with members of the local polio chapter.

He said that because of the high rate of cases last year the chapter's funds have been lowered considerably and only a little money is left. "Polio can strike any time, anywhere, and it is not safe for a polio treasury to be low on funds," he remarked.

"Educating the public is a part of my job," he continued, "and when simple symptoms such as high fever, sore throats, sore muscles or similar illness appears, a doctor should be called."

Leading a normal existence is necessary, Tankersley pointed out. In case of several appearances of polio, there should be on panic because it has been seen in various places that this boosts the number of sicknesses.

Other pointers he mentioned include:

1. Allow the children to play with friends they have been with right along. Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of a home.
2. Cleanliness is essential.
3. Remember that at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.
4. Mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak should be avoided if at all possible.
5. Children should be allowed to stay in camp or at a playground where there is good health supervision.

Lighted Cigaret, Burning Fat Closes Mystery Case

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — Police have written the big cremation mystery into the record as a case of a lighted cigarette and a body destroyed by the burning of its own fat.

Police Chief J. R. Reichert and Detective Chief Cass Burgess issued a joint report on the strange death of Mrs. Mary Hardy Rogers after receiving a report on the results of FBI laboratory tests.

The FBI said there was no trace in the body ashes or other specimens of any fluid or chemical used to start or accelerate burning.

The mystery of the case, called by Reichert the strangest in his 25 years of police work, was how fire could have burned the body and a big chair so completely without damaging anything else in the room.

All that was found of Mrs. Rogers was a shriveled skull, a part of the backbone and a fragment of foot. The chair was burned to the steel springs.

The theory reached by the police officers was this: The 67-year-old widow, known to have taken sedatives the night before the charred remains were found, went to sleep while smoking a cigarette in her apartment the night of July 2. The cigarette set fire to her highly inflammable rayon acetate nightgown, "causing immediate death if the deceased was in a semiconscious condition."

"Once the body became ignited almost complete destruction occurred from burning its own fatty tissues. . . for there is enough fat and other inflammable substances to permit varying amounts of destruction."

"In this case the absence of any scorching or damage to furniture can only be explained by the fact that heat liberated by the burning body has a tendency to rise and form a layer of hot air which never came in contact with the furnishings on a lower level."

They have sent a message to Grover Whalen, chairman of the New York mayor's reception committee, expressing "deep regret" at being unable to visit the city.

It had been hoped that the royal couple might tour the biggest U.S. city either before or after their Oct. 24-26 visit with President Truman in Washington.

Johnson Warns Of Higher Living Cost

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Living costs may boom — by ten to sixteen billion dollars — during the next year under the present price controls bill, Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston is reported to have said.

A source close to the ESA said Johnston made this statement at a meeting of defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson's advisory board. The meeting was concerned mainly with the new controls law and possible difficulties in carrying it out.

Duke Blasts Failure To Use Discoveries

EDINBURGH, Scotland — (AP) — Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, spoke out last night against Britain's failure to use scientific discoveries to industry faster.

The Duke, husband of Princess Elizabeth, suggested that "shortages of such materials as non-ferrous metals, steel alloy metals and sulphur could be licked by improved design, use of substitutes and scrap reclamation."

A reference to U.S. competition saying "... it is significant that the history of production engineering after 1890 is almost entirely confined to the United States" was cut from the speech.

One explanation was that the Duke was made to enable the Duke to stay within the time allotted for radio broadcast of his speech.

Morris also said Stein was a British delegate to an IPR conference at Hot Springs, Ark., in 1945.

Willoughby said Stein was arrested this spring by French secret police on a charge of Soviet espionage and was deported from France.

Willoughby said Stein was "not present at the time" the Soviet spy ring came in the notice of Japanese intelligence agents during the war.

"Otherwise," the general said, "he would have been arrested."

Willoughby also said that at the time of an initial army report in 1949 on the spy ring, Stein had disappeared and was not heard of again until the French secret police arrested him.

Eleven Attempts Made To Kill Gambler Before Fatal Twelfth

DALLAS — (AP) — The eleven previous known attempts on the life of Dallas gambler Herbert Noble before the blast that killed him Tuesday.

Jan. 15, 1946 — Hit in spine by two gunmen who chased him in a hall of gunfire on outskirts of Dallas as Noble was en route to his ranch home near Grapevine. Noble escaped by crawling under the porch of a farmhouse.

May 20, 1948 — Hit in the arm by a gunman as Noble approached his ranch.

Feb. 14, 1949 — Nitro-glycerine was found in his car parked in downtown Dallas, but Noble had been tipped off and was not hurt.

Sept. 8, 1949 — Suffered gunshot wounds in a leg after a gun battle with two men at his ranch home.

Nov. 29, 1949 — His wife killed in front of their Dallas home when she stepped on the starter of his car and an explosion followed. The bomb was believed intended for Noble.

Dec. 31, 1949 — Critically wounded by gunfire as he walked out the door of his Dallas residence.

Feb. 6, 1950 — A bullet fired through the window of the Dallas hospital room where he lay missed Noble and hit the ceiling of the room.

June 14, 1950 — Noble escaped injury when a gunman fired at him from a duckblind near his ranch home.

Feb. 13, 1951 — A bomb was set off at the door of the club owned by Noble, the Airmen's Club in downtown Dallas, but Noble wasn't there.

March 22, 1951 — Explosives blew up the engine of his plane on his ranch as he switched on the ignition. A steel plate between the engine and the cockpit saved his life.

March 27, 1951 — Jellied nitro-glycerine found in two cylinders of a replacement engine for his private plane when mechanics were testing it. The nitro-glycerine was removed without an explosion.

Aug. 7, 1951 — Luck ran out when a hidden land mine blasted him to death as he stopped at a rural mailbox near his ranch.

Gun Wound Blinded Sheriff Now Probing Noble's Death

DENTON — (AP) — The sheriff who's co-ordinating the efforts of his department in investigating the blast slaying of gambler Herbert Noble in his county is blind.

But he's known as a man with one of the sharpest minds in the business.

W. O. (Omes) Hodges was blinded by a shot-gun blast on Jan. 7, 1949, only six days after he first took office as Denton County sheriff.

The people of the county re-elected him in 1950.

His pretty brunette wife is his constant companion in his leisure hours. At work, a deputy sheriff, usually Roy C. Barker, serves as Hodges' guide.

In the Noble case, he must depend upon Chief Deputy E. D. Davis and the other deputies to make the actual investigations and on-the-scene reports.

Hodges was 40 years old in 1949 when a young farmer, Joe A. Goforth, went berserk on the streets of Denton. Goforth's wild gun blasts hit Hodges in the face and chest. They caused his blindness.

Goforth, who already had shot one Krum citizen and fired on others later was wounded and captured by deputies. He was adjudged insane and confined to a state hospital.

Sheriff Hodges has undergone several operations in efforts to restore his eyesight, but he still is virtually totally blind.

Reds Say Allies' Demands Causing Doubt Of Intent

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — The Peiping radio says Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's second sharp message to the Reds this week caused the "world to doubt the basic sincerity of the American side regarding the armistice negotiations."

It was the first Communist reaction to the supreme allied commander's demand Tuesday that the Reds give iron-clad assurance they would not again violate the neutrality of the Kaesong area.

The broadcast, monitored here by the Associated Press, gave no hint as to when the Reds would reply to Ridgway's latest demands. The truce talks have been halted since Sunday, when Ridgway broke off negotiations because of an armed company of Communists in Kaesong.

The broadcast was not an official statement. It simply quoted a "special correspondent" at Kaesong.

Government Ban Prohibits All But Smallest Bungalow

NEW YORK — (AP) — It is now virtually impossible to start the construction of any house except the smallest bungalow.

This is apparent in an analysis of the new restrictions on the use of steel, copper and aluminum.

Even a four or five-room minimum cottage does not fit into the allowances of essential metals now available.

The restricting order, entitled M-4A, issued by the National Production Authority (NPA), has created widespread consternation in building circles. When it was announced on Aug. 3, its full significance was not immediately realized by builders.

The order temporarily froze the start of new industrial and commercial buildings, apartment houses and hospitals, as well as all structures requiring more than minor quantities of the three critical metals.

The action was taken with the avowed purpose of conserving these metals for the national defense emergency.

One observer promptly commented that "this means the end of all skyscraper building," and he added "it looks like a victory for the home builders' lobby."

After several days of analyzing the order, however, home builders were disillusioned.

The order specifies that no individual one-family dwelling can be started if it uses more than 2,800 pounds of carbon steel, including its plumbing supply lines, or more than 35 pounds of copper.

If the house is to have copper water pipes, a total of 160 pounds of copper can be used, but only 1,400 pounds of carbon steel.

No structural steel, such as I-beam girders and columns, no aluminum and no alloy or stainless steel can be used in any house.

Those figures may sound big to the uninformed, but they fall far short of the amounts used in the average four or five-room cottage.

The average small house, which contains 1000 square feet; uses 3,733 pounds of steel — more than twice the amount now permitted. It uses 299 pounds of copper. Even the elimination of structural steel girders, columns and lintels left a total of more than a ton and half of steel.

The importance of steel in a house can be realized when you consider such items as nails, 400 pounds; reinforcing bars and mesh, 300 pounds — even the arway around basement windows involve 14 pounds in this sample house.

The U.S. Steel Corp., explains that many items in a house, commonly referred to as galvanized iron, are made of carbon steel. This is ordinary, non-alloy steel. The fenders of an automobile are carbon steel. The bumpers are alloy steel.

The restrictions on the use of copper and copper-base alloys is even more serious. The electric wiring in the average 1000 square-foot house calls for 35 pounds of copper — the entire allotment under the new order M-4A. In addition, a three-wire lead-in from the power line involves the use of 11 more pounds of copper.

Under these restrictions all such items as copper termite shields, roof flashing, gutters and downspouts are out. Aluminum cannot be used as a substitute.

Although order M-4A is temporary, applying only to construction started between Aug. 3 and Oct. 1, builders are pessimistic as to any considerable liberalization in the fall. On Oct. 1, the building industry will be under the controlled materials plan, a division of the NPA, which will allocate critical metals to fill defense needs.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Double A Contract; It Will Pay Off

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Seervice

Our discussion of penalty doubles continues today with a very delicate point. When both sides bid energetically it is often necessary to double the opponents in order to shut your partner up. Sometimes such doubles go sour, but in the long run they pay high dividends.

In today's hand North's original double is, of course, a take-out double. Mind you, it's a very poor take-out double because North has practically no support for any suit that his partner can name. Nevertheless, many fine players would make this miserable double in the hope of competing with the opponents. I would probably do so myself in spite of the fact that I cheerfully admit that the double is miserable.

Once North shows this sign of life, South can well afford to give the enemy a run for their money. At three spades, South is out on a limb, but the enemy fails to realize it. Hence they push on to four diamonds.

Right then and there North must double. He cannot be sure of beating four diamonds, but he should have a fair play for it, and he knows that his hand is valuable only for defense.

If North doubles, good defense defeats the contract. South opens the singleton club, and North overtakes and continues ♣ Luba. North wins three clubs and then

Patman Aids Housewives At Marshall

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Patman of Texas has written a Marshall wife he favors the domestic social security tax against which Marshall women are rebelling.

He said he had replied to a letter from one of the women, saying he favored the tax and would not vote to repeal it.

He said he would be glad to support any change which would make collection of the tax more convenient.

Internal revenue agents have attached the bank accounts of some of the rebelling wives and got $36.03.

Nine of the 18 women involved apparently had withdrawn their money, expecting the federal action.

Kenneth Abney, Marshall attorney and husband of one of the women, said the wives will ask the internal revenue bureau at Dallas to return the money.

If the bureau doesn't — and there's little chance it will — they plan to ask Patman to introduce a bill permitting them to sue the government.

The women claim it is unconstitutional to force them to act as tax collectors by withholding taxes from their servants pay.

Navy Building Up Mediterranean Fleet

ELTON C. FAY
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy is building up its fleet strength in the Mediterranean. This may be one of the reasons why the U. S. is moving now for an arrangement with Spain to use naval and air bases in that country.

Since it began operating in the Mediterranean soon after World War II the Sixth Fleet has relied on a method of service and supply like that used in the Pacific campaigns. All of its fuel, food and other supplies are from the "train" of auxiliary vessels steaming with the fleet — tankers, cargo vessels, refrigerator ships, repair craft.

Because the train must get its supplies back in home ports of the east coast United States, this means a "pipeline" of 1,800 miles must be maintained.

Except for occasional courtesy calls at friendly Mediterranean ports, ships of the fleet keep to sea.

The late Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, told a House appropriations subcommittee, in one of his last appearances in Capitol Hill, that "we have increased the strength of our fleet" in the Mediterranean.

The public record of his testimony did not show whether he had indicated the size of the expanded fleet.

However, information available now shows that more than 30 ships, the majority of them combatant vessels, now constitute the sixth fleet.

It includes a 45,000-ton carrier, a 27,000-ton Essex-class flat-top, three heavy cruisers, at least 20 destroyers, a submarine and the support and supply ships. Flag ship of the fleet is the amphibious command ship Mt. Olympus.

Aboard the ships are a total of about 23,000 men, including a reinforced battalion of marines.

In his testimony, made a few weeks before he left on the mission to Spain and other western European countries and on which he died of a heart attack, Sherman also told the committee:

"We must be prepared to play a larger part in the defense of trans-Atlantic communications, control of the Mediterranean, control of areas around northern Europe, than we ever did before."

Sherman's mission to Spain caused some official reaction at political and government levels in Britain and France.

However, one American official who has extensive contact with military men of those powers has said privately that the political reactions to American negotiations with Francisco Franco's government do not seem shared by realistic officials of the armed forces of the big western European powers.

Military leaders of the western European defense organization are described as interested in seeing ample naval air support, based on carriers, for the group troops under the combined command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Whatever fighter and attack planes carriers could send inland would be valuable additions to the air strength of land-based aviation of the NATO countries, they reason.

Moreover, the fleets of the NATO nations and their carriers can be ready to move to eastern Mediterranean areas beyond the ground defense lines of the western European forces. Should Greece or Turkey or Yugoslavia be attacked carrier forces could bring help swiftly.

Some official observers now incline to the thought that if Yugoslavia is attacked, the strike might not be by mere satellite nations but by Russian forces.

This same official, discussing a possible Russian strike directly against the major western powers, suggested that such an attack could be a complete surprise. He explained that the Soviet armies in eastern Europe and Germany are on almost constant maneuvers and that these maneuvers could be converted quickly into the opening phase of an actual attack on the NATO defenses. The Soviet troop units, he explained, base their maneuvers on the tactical attack against units of the western European defense forces which the U. S. army knows are in certain positions.

Although he pointed to the opportunity for a sudden offensive by Russian forces, the observer at the same time thought there were factors which worked against the Soviets launching war now. He doubted Russia's economy is ready for supporting a world war or that she is prepared to combat her own and prolonged atomic bomb attacks by western nation planes.

Defense Fight May Be Aired When Air Force Bills Talked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Quarrels within the Defense Department over close air support of ground troops may be aired when the House Armed Services Committee takes up a new proposal to almost double the nation's air power.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, has introduced two bills calling for increased air strength over land and sea.

One bill would authorize expansion of the Air Force from its present strength of about 27 wings to 163 wings, of which 138 would be combat wings. The remaining 25 wings would be troop carriers, intended primarily for joint Army-Air Force operations.

A wing varies according to plane size — from 30 big bombers, like the inter-continental B-50 to 75 fighters in a wing.

Vinson's second bill would expand naval aviation by authorizing the construction "as promptly as possible" of two additional giant aircraft carriers of nearly 60,000 tons each.

These carriers, estimated by the Navy to cost about $230,000,000 each, would be sister ships to a super carrier recently authorized by Congress. It will have a "disappearing" bridge, to allow big winged bombers to take off and land.

Vinson said he intends to begin hearings on the bills soon, possibly next Tuesday. Under Vinson's proposal, the big expansion program would be financed from military funds for fiscal 1953. The armed services' budgets for that year, which begins next July 1, are being drafted now at the Pentagon.

BALTIC STATES Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, since forcible incorporation in USSR in 1940, have been rebellious, subject to frequent pogroms, to anti-Moscow riots flared in Lithuania.

POLAND Has one of best organized anti-Russian undergrounds in Europe. Gives Moscow constant trouble. Recently Soviet Deputy Premier Molotov had to be sent in to threaten violent reprisals against resistance and any sign of "Titoism." Eight Polish military officers arrested, charged with plotting against the Red regime.

EAST GERMANY Popular resistance to Red rule reaches new high. Saboteurs, anti-Communist demonstrations are rife. Moscow forced to pressure German Communist government to impose stricter control. New purge of German Reds removes some 2300 party leaders as "Trotzkists."

ROMANIA Farmers resist Moscow's demand for more production. Red station armed guards in fields to oversee harvest.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA Also has well-organized anti-Soviet underground. Frequent riots and anti-Red demonstrations. Nearly 80 casualties reported in recent riot at Russian-run uranium mine.

YUGOSLAVIA Is no Russian satellite, but the sparkling of satellite resistance of Kramin domination. Tito's defiance of Stalin encourages other dissidents. Recently he made fiery speech inviting Poland to join his rebellion against Stalinism.

BULGARIA Angry farmers resist collection of heavy wheat quotas for Russia. In some cases, whole fields have been burned down.

ALBANIA Anti-Russian guerrillas battle government forces and Russian police in northern mountains.

STALIN HAS HIS WORRIES, TOO — As you can see, above, there's trouble all over the map in the Iron Curtain countries. Discontent, grumbling and even violent resistance to Communist oppression give the masters in the Kremlin plenty of headaches. They're in no danger of a revolutionary overthrow, of course. They still have all the guns. But there's enough serious unrest possibly to make Stalin & Co. do a little rejiggering of their timetable for world conquest.

Navy Code Has Warning On Cheating

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — honor "not as a system, but as an all-pervading belief nurtured by precept and example."

The handbook explains that though officers watch midshipmen taking examinations, that does not gainsay the honor of any midshipman. It "merely serves to emphasize its importance."

At the United States Military Academy at West Point, a strict honor code prevails. Ninety cadets are facing dismissal on charges of "cribbing" or cheating on exams.

The naval academy has a less formal organization to unearth cheating that may escape the vigilance of officers. It includes elected class officers within each company in the bridge framework.

Though the United States naval academy has no "formalized honor system," cheating is as much a cause for dismissal as it is at West Point, according to academy regulations.

Article 2202 gives this warning: "Any midshipman guilty of offenses of a dishonest nature, including answering for another at muster or any form of cheating... becomes immediately subject to a recommendation for dismissal from the naval service."

"Our code has been highly successful," commandant of midshipmen Capt. Robert B. Pirie says. Pirie said one midshipman, not an athlete, was discharged last spring for violating the regulation on personal integrity.

But Pirie added that the percentage has been "very small" over the years.

The naval academy handbook says that the school looks upon

Commies Decline Hoover Declares

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — (AP) — Communist Party membership in the United States has decreased from 82,000 last year to 57,000 at present, but the danger has not decreased, says the head of the FBI.

J. Edgar Hoover said in an interview here that the remaining Communists in this country are more intensive and fanatical. The director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said the third echelon of Communist leaders in the United States will soon be ferreted out and arrested.

Says U.S. Shouldn't Promote Wholesale Farm Aid Abroad

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) says "Point Four" experts had better forget about promoting "wholesale farming" in the world's backward areas.

Smith told reporters he thinks too much stress is being laid on furnishing such materials as farm machinery in the program for which the administration has asked $67,000,000.

The "Point Four" provision is contained in a $2,500,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill on which the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees are holding hearings.

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) said the committee hopes to complete its hearings this week.

Dr. Henry G. Bennett, the "Point Four" technical cooperation administrator, told the committee this week that agreements have been reached to furnish 32 countries with technical assistance.

Connally said in a statement that some members of the committee had "expressed concern at the expansion of the technical and economic assistance programs beyond the original concept of Point Four."

He said State Department representatives aid the broader programs where "necessary to secure rapid results in areas of great political and economic tensions."

Smith said he doesn't think it is necessary for this country to try to introduce the latest farm machinery and other implements to the backward peoples.

Lt. Gen. Charles L. Bolte told the committee Monday that military aid to Latin America will relieve the U.S. of the need to station 100,000 troops in the Caribbean in case of war.

Pint-Sized Cowgirl Earned Spurs Before Starting School

Good things come in little packages, and Barbara Sanders of Lefors proves it.

This pint-sized cowgirl, who began riding Brahma calves while other girls learn to ride bicycles, has ridden away with as many ribbons as any girl her age in this area.

TALL IN THE SADDLE, yet a scant five feet in height, Barbara Sanders of Lefors, stretches a leg over the saddle horn on her two-year-old Palomino, "Goldie." She's been riding 10 of her 15 years, and started with one shetland. She now has 21 horses. Barbara got her start in the 1945 Top o' Texas rodeo and plans to be a professional cowgirl. She rides Brahma calves with the same skill she shows on her horses. (News Photo)

Her first triumph came in the 1945 Top o' Texas show when she won the "grand champion" award in the Kid Pony Show. She was nine years and eight months old then, weighed 51 pounds, and rode her 26-inch shetland, "Salty-Pepper," in competition with cowboys and cowgirls up to 16 years old.

Barbara is the first and only one to win the "grand champion" award. The award is no longer given, and appropriately so, because there's little chance anyone can step in her shoes and give the performance she gave in her first competitive show.

She's been winning ribbons and awards ever since that first show here. This year, at 15 years and a petite 105 pounds, she's resting on her laurels, and is in Pampa just as a rodeo spectator. But she did present the picture of a typical cowgirl in the big parade Wednesday.

Barbara was saying the word "horse" before she said "Mamma" and "Daddy" to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders. She finally got a horse on her fifth birthday. She had been led around the lot only a few times when she got tired of being fenced in. She unrolled a gallop, and all Barbara latched the gate, the horse broke could do was grab for leather.

But Barbara, who theretofore had only dreamed of riding horses, stayed on the shetland and she's been riding ever since. She has been injured in her ten years of riding.

Barbara's love of horses has never been limited to one animal. Starting with "Shirley" in 1941, Barbara now has 21 horses. Her new two-year-old Palomino is her pride, but she still has time to train and help care for the shetlands and quarter shetlands at the Sanders home near Lefors.

Up until about two years ago, Barbara broke all the shetlands after they were a year old — what breaking there is to do on a shetland.

Not so the Brahma calves she has ridden. She won first in all divisions in the Pampa Roping Club rodeo here in 1948, and practices calf riding at the club's warm-up rodeos. She taught her first little "Salty-Pepper" tricks, and has since worked with other horses, teaching them to kneel, etc. She's had some good jumpers, too.

But since going into Lefors High School, Barbara has gone in for other sports, and in the winter she has a little less time for horses. But come summer, she is back to her first love — horses — and rides every day, and follows rodeo news avidly.

After graduation she hopes to major in physical education, but between now and then she hopes to work on dude ranches during the summer, and maybe in a year or two start following the rodeo circuit.

Her ambition? — she wants to be a professional cowgirl.

And Pampa people will always be proud to say that little Barbara Sanders "earned her spurs" in the Top o' Texas Rodeo.

West Plans Offensive Against Reds

BERLIN — (AP) — The West, in counter-offensive against the Communist "World Youth Peace Festival" meeting in East Berlin, has announced a rally dedicated to "Freedom for East Europe."

Sponsors of the rally, to be held tonight in West Berlin's biggest theater, extended special invitations to the Iron Curtain youth at the Communist festival across the sector border.

Tens of thousands of these youths have been defying Red police road blockades and the threat of arrest, and have been visiting West Berlin. The Red festival opened Sunday.

West Berlin authorities reported that 177 had formally asked for asylum in the West. Of these, 23 have been tentatively accepted. The western policy is to turn them back unless they can prove it is dangerous for them to return home. Hard-pressed Berlin is already overburdened with the normal flow of refugees from the East, and so is allied West Germany.

In East Berlin the Communists tried hard to keep their two-week show going at a lively clip for the half million youngsters they had brought in.

They had a program of sports, dances, circuses and street shows. But there still were thousands of the blue-shirted East German youth shuffling aimlessly about. And, more and more, they sneaked into allied West Berlin for a look at something better.

Most of these kids had no western money. They were awestruck by the facade of western prosperity. Many said that they were hungry.

The West Berliners did what they could to entertain them. Several score youth homes served 35,000 free meals to the eastern kids in one day. This was such a drain on the homes' resources that they appealed for public contributions if this business is to go on for another 10 days.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — "Miss America" hopefuls, who usually parade in identical twin suits, may choose their own this year.

Directors of the September beauty pageant relented on their long-standing rule regarding suits. There are a couple of minor "musts" however.

They must be one-piece knit affairs of black, white or any pastel shade with shoulder straps.

Peach Fluff Is Ideal Summer Dessert

FRESH PEACH FLUFF is a tempting summer dessert. Barely tender, about 10 minutes. Put cooked vegetable mixture through sieve or food mill, or if you have an electric blender, just blend for 30 seconds in the glass container.

Add celery salt, curry powder and cream to the sieved mixture. Correct seasoning if necessary and chill thoroughly. Serve in chilled soup cups, topped with a dash of paprika. If thinner soup is desired stir in milk until the desired consistency is reached before serving.

This dessert, based on tree-ripened peaches, is another hot weather temptation to the appetite that plays hard-to-get.

Peach Fluff Pudding (4 to 6 servings)
One and one-half cups water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup granulated

One cup coarsely diced raw potato, 1-4 cup sliced scallions, 1 cup raw green peas, 1-2 cups seasoned chicken bouillon, 1-8 teaspoon celery salt, 1-8 teaspoon curry powder, 1 cup heavy cream.

Place potatoes, scallions, peas and chicken bouillon in sauce pan. Bring to boil. Cover and cook until

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"New York 22" is the latest novel by Ilka Chase, who enjoys her After Forty career. She always looks smooth and sophisticated, the typical New York career woman.

Her book is all about the life and love affair and the career of a woman of 47, who is smart, brittle and sophisticated and who, in the end, faces what all women must: that husband and family should take first place and that young men are seldom faithful to older women!

It's an interesting story and one which I think mature women, and men too, will find amusing. I hope that you won't think that all people who have "New York 22" for their address live and behave as do the people in Ilka Chase's bright story, although lots of them do.

I live in Zone 22 and though it is New York, I have a garden, tall trees, grass and the river to make New York less all-pavements, cocktail bars and skyscrapers!

Miss Chase is an outstanding personality who works at a hatful of careers. Her fashion sense is terrific and she always presents a well groomed, perfectly accessorized appearance, the woman of smart that maturity.

Although she travels extensively she says that her homing instinct keeps her close to the New York section about which she writes so cleverly and she is one of those rare finds, a real New Yorker, having been born on East 59th Street.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures
This may be the most romantic season of the year for some kids. But for others it is a big headache. Here are a couple of letters from puzzled maidens:

"I am 16 years old and have just graduated from high school. I was always a good student and never bothered with boys. Now I am trying to get acquainted and do not know how to act. At the vacation resort I am visiting, there are many boys—but I seem to scare them away. My mother says it is because I am too serious—am I supposed to giggle all the time?"

"Alma probably doesn't really scare the boys away—she just talks them into retreating. Her mother is right—boys do not like to discuss weighty problems with girls, especially when they've just met. To add to their misery you can't keep a man talking about himself and the things he is interested in, you've got him hooked for a little while anyway. Boys love the sound of their own voices. That's why so many of them marry girls who are described as "nice quiet things."

Here's a letter from Mary, who writes of a problem with which lots of girls are familiar:

"Do you think it is necessary to conform to a crowd's idea of fun in order to be popular? The group I am thrown with is considered pretty 'fast' but I have no alternative because if I don't stay in solid with them, I'll have no one else.

"They think you are stuffy and a jerk if you don't drink, smoke and neck. I want to have fun this summer while home from school—but I am only 17 and my parents will not let me stay up late, drink or smoke. This means that I will be all alone unless I get my parents' permission."

A Little Patience.. and It's Yours!

In all the world of manufactured products, there is nothing more difficult to wait for—once you have decided to own it—than a Cadillac car.

If it is to be your first Cadillac, it is doubtless the fulfillment of a long-cherished dream—and it is hard to wait for one's heart's desire, once it is so close at hand.

And if it is to be a replacement for your old love—well, experience has taught you how consistently and completely the good things come from Cadillac—and your curiosity is a force to reckon with!

To make it worse, temptation is all about you. Down the street and around the corner are cars to be had almost as soon as your signature is on an order blank.

But be patient and be firm—for there is a reason why other cars may be had so readily—while there is some delay in delivery of a Cadillac.

It is because so many wonderful people, like yourself, want only Cadillac—and will accept no compromise.

If we already have your order—turn a deaf ear to those who would have you compromise your preference for the sake of earlier delivery.

And if you want a Cadillac, but have not yet placed your order, come in and do so. We will talk with you frankly about delivery, so you may know about what to anticipate.

Remember—there is only one car which is recognized wherever highways lead as the Standard of the World—and that car is Cadillac.

August Heat Dangerous Says Doctor

AUSTIN — (AP) — Just in case you don't know it already, August is a dangerous month to get out in the sun.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, warns Texas outdoor folks to protect themselves against the sun to avoid serious harm from its August rays.

His words of advice are in the August issue of a Texas sporting magazine.

"Sunburn resulting in pain, after effects, and sunstroke, not infrequently resulting in death, are major dangers," Dr. Cox wrote, calling attention to 2 Texas deaths from excessive heat and sun exposure last year.

"One of the worst phases of sizzling August is the thickness of the cement," he said.

"Person indulging in outdoor activities linked with the water are particularly vulnerable. One reason is that water reflects ultraviolet rays. Thus fishing, motorboating, sailing and swimming are the principal sports Texans are likely to indulge in where reflected ultraviolet rays may cause excessive sun exposure."

He cautioned persons planning trips into the open about sprinkling perfume or toilet water on the skin before exposure to the sunlight. He said this could produce severe inflammation of the skin.

"Just plain cold cream is about as good as anything," he advised.

Sports, Schooling Getting Confused

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gay men chose their school on the strength of the team and not the strength of the faculty.

This couldn't have happened unless the college encouraged it, whether it was football or basketball or something else. Scholarship were awarded for brawn. Old grads pumped in money for better teams. And the bigger the team, the bigger the gate receipts, all of which put the players and the college into business together.

That's why I wondered how people could manage to be horrified when some basketball players went crooked, taking bribes. It was hardly unusual that they developed distorted values when the schools themselves distort the value of a school.

The news that most of West Point's football team may be sacked for cheating and that there might be no football at the Point next year shocked the nation.

Maybe sitting in a rowboat does something to you, but I wondered just what difference it would make if West Point never had a national-ranking football team again. If West Point and any other school really wants to encourage athletics among its students it can encourage class teams which won't make money but certainly will let more students get more exercise.

Just class teams, instead of big teams, might put the emphasis back where it was before it got twisted out of shape: on teaching.

If that day ever comes maybe the class poet, regarded as a mild freak now, and the honor student will get the cheers from a society which, in the end, must depend on intelligence. You can always buy muscle power.

Seek Larger Air Force

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has proposed a vast increase in U. S. air power.

He seeks to expand the Air Force to 183 wings — nearly double the number now — and for the construction of three super aircraft carriers.

Vinson declared Tuesday that "the development of air power has, in combination with a few weapons of mass destruction, changed the entire strategic situation."

He said the Air Force should have 138 combat wings — or groups — and 25 troop carrier wings.

The Air Force now has 87 wings and is building to an immediate goal of 95, although Secretary of Defense Marshall said

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Many Ways To Play Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

One good reason for the popularity of Canasta is that there are so many different circumstances to consider in actual play. You can have the very same cards ten times in a row and play them differently each time because the situation is different.

For example, suppose your side has melded Joker-A-A-A-A, Joker-K-K-K and Q-Q-Q. You hold K-K, Q, 3, 2 (the three being black, of course), and you draw an ace from the stock. What should you do?

If you wish, you can add the ace and the deuce to your meld of ace, thus completing a canasta. On the same play it is possible to meld the kings and the queen and discard the black three, thus melding out. That is one way of playing the hand.

Another possibility is to discard the black three and meld nothing. A third plan is to ask for permission to meld out. A fourth plan is to meld some, but not all, of your cards. A fifth plan is to discard the deuce, freezing the deck. And so on.

What are the reasons for adopting one plan rather than another?

Suppose the opponents have not yet melded but have put down all four red threes. If you meld out you can set them back 800 points in addition to the count of their cards. If you play on, they will probably meld sooner or later; and then they will win 800 points for their red threes and will lose less for the count of their cards. The difference between melding out and playing on is likely to be more than 2000 points. Hence in this situation you would meld out at once.

Take a different case. The opponents have melded. Your score at the beginning of the hand was 4000 points. The opponents had 2500 points. Should you meld out or play on?

In this case you should play on. If you can scrape together a second canasta you will end the hand with over 5000 points. If you end the hand at once you will again need 120 points while the opponents need only 80 points for the initial meld.

Your best course in this second situation is to add the ace and the two kings to your meld. Then you discard the black three and wait for your partner's reaction. With two six-card melds on the table your partner is very likely to complete one of the canastas. In fact, your play invites him to do so. The moment he does so, you are in position to complete the other canasta and meld out.

Controls On Metal Extended This Fall To Civilian Output

NEW YORK — (AP) — The government is extending its controls this fall over civilian as well as defense use of steel, copper and aluminum. Its aim is to avert the civilian goods shortages that become acute next winter.

To that end, it will hand out almost every pound of the metals.

The Defense Production Administration says it hopes to control these basic metals.

But some industry spokesmen predict the confusion in the metals markets will be even worse for the rest of this year, while civilian industry switches over from the present "free market" to one where the government parcels out the metal needed for more than 4,000 products — everything from nuts and bolts to automobile bodies.

Some in the metals industry believe that by the first of the year the controlled materials plan can be working smoothly, if it is applied to all users as the government says today it will start doing in October.

Under this plan, the makers of steel, copper and aluminum hope, each manufacturer of civilian goods will be getting his fair share of the metals, and makers of defense goods will be getting all they need. The plan is roughly comparable to that used during World War II, except that civilian goods makers will be getting a much larger share this time.

However, there are doubters around. A steel industry weekly, the Iron Age, says "There is no guarantee that CMP will be operating realistically that steel tickets will match production by the first quarter of 1952, or later."

It contends that the government "is assuming that many customers will not order as much steel as they are allotted, and it is assuming that many others will cancel steel tonnage when they find their inventories growing too large."
