UN Accuses Reds Of Making Kaesong 'Symbol Of Bad Faith'

Senators Cut House Target On Income Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-writing Senate Finance committee tentatively has decided on a personal income tax boost of $412,000,000 lower than that voted by the House.

The committee threw out the House revenue-boosting plan on individuals yesterday and adopted a formula of its own which considerably lightens the increase in the upper income brackets.

The committee continues its closed-door reworking of the House bill today. It has yet to act on the $2,855,000,000 in corporation tax boosts voted by the House or the hikes in many excise taxes.

The tentative vote was the first taken by the Senators in their reworking of the House-passed $7,200,000,000 measure. It bore out advance predictions of committee members that the Senate would whittle down the House figures rather than increase it toward the $10,000,000,000 asked by President Truman to help balance the budget and hold down inflationary pressures.

The finance committee formula would put an added defense tax on that portion of incomes now left after the individual has paid his taxes.

Thus it would hit with progressively less impact in the higher brackets where the present levy consumes a large share of total income.

The tentatively adopted formula would work this way: First the taxpayer computes his tax under existing law. Then he subtracts the amount of that tax from his surtax net income, which is his income after exemptions and deductions.

Fear-Stricken Tampico Rushes For Shelter As Hurricane Hits

Damage Mounts In Gale's Path

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — A fearfully-awaited hurricane hit Tampico with full fury today. Houses were wrecked. Fifteen persons were reported injured by flying roofs.

Electric power was cut off to prevent fallen wires from killing people in the streets. Firemen rescued 25 families from the wreckage of their homes. The only casualties reported up to 10:30 a. m., CST, were the 15 hurt by flying roofs.

The terrific storm hit about 8:30 a. m. in the midst of a deluge of rain. The weather bureau estimated the winds' force at 78 miles an hour. The greatest force of 130 miles an hour at the hurricane's center passed only about 60 miles east of Tampico.

The storm's fury was such that the portion of the peninsula on which Tampico stands.

Veteran Tampico newsmen described it as the worst storm to hit the city in 15 years. Many lives were lost and the city badly wrecked in the last big hurricane of 1938.

The power company pulled all switches shortly after today's hurricane hit. That left Tampico without lights, stopped street cars, silenced radio stations, cut communications.

Flood-stricken refugees ran into schools and public buildings, where hundreds had already taken refuge. Many drenched and frightened townspeople crowded into churches to pray as the winds screamed.

Officer Says Russ Pushing Spy Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, former Army intelligence chief in the Far East, said today he believes the same kind of Communist spying and intrigue disclosed in Japan is going on now in the United States.

Willoughby testified before the House un-American Activities committee about the famous "Sorge Ring," a Soviet spy network which reached high-up Japanese government circles.

A Senate subcommittee also was digging into subversive activities with Louis Budenz, ex-Communist editor, in its witness chair. Budenz told the Senators that when he was in the party (he left it six years ago), the Institute of Pacific Relations was "completely under control" and the Communist spoke of it as "the little red school house."

Budenz is a former editor of the "Daily Worker," Communist publication. He broke publicly with the party in 1945 and is now on the faculty of Fordham University.

The one-time Communist leader testified before the Senate internal security subcommittee. The Senators are inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) contends the IPR has influenced meetings at which IPR officials received orders from the then Communist leader Earl Browder.

Within IPR ranks, he said, "a joint communist cell with the magazine dealing with Asian affairs, but was not officially connected with IPR. It no longer is published."

Budenz said he knew from "official communications within the conspiracy" that when Lattimore, one-time Editor of IPR publications, was a Communist and that so was the millionaire New York leftist, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, a former IPR official.

Cool Front Lingering

Pampans donned sweaters and jackets today as low temperatures lingered over the area. High reading yesterday was 67 degrees. Low last night was 59 degrees and a trace of rain fell. Other parts of Texas had showers of almost two inches.

Forecast is a gradual rise in temperature with the early fall weather breaking up in the Rocky Mountain areas.

The big hurricane of Mexico's Gulf Coast threatened the valley harvest with rain, which, according to a county agent, would play havoc with the cotton — and heavy rains would leave no cotton to harvest.

Thundershowers played in the Dallas and Fort Worth areas, near Mineral Wells, Lubbock, Kink and El Paso.

3 Pampans Due Home

Three Pampans are among 1214 rotation combat troops from Korea scheduled to arrive in Seattle today aboard the transport Gen. Simon B. Buckner.

They are Cpl. Donald B. Marlar, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Marlar, 927 E. Gordon; Cpl. Eugene Dumas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dumas, 626 N. Banks; and Sgt. Philip Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bynum, 811 S. Gillette.

Marlar was recalled to service in August 1950 and has been in Korea since last January. Dumas has been in Korea about eight months.

Communists Are Blamed For Ambush

TOKYO (AP) — The United Nations command today accused the Communists of making Kaesong, site of the deadlocked Korean armistice talks, "a universal symbol of bad faith."

A UN command information bulletin also blamed Reds for the ambush of a Chinese patrol Sunday within the Kaesong neutral zone. A Chinese patrol leader was killed and a Red soldier wounded in the shooting.

The information bulletin, headed "not an official release," was broadcast to Korea. It said that United Nations-Communist agreements "provide the Communists with enough fire power to keep order in the neutral zone."

"Part of the function includes the disbanding of any civilian elements within the area." The UN command contends that the ambush was carried out by armed civilian bands.

The bulletin said that Kaesong was accepted as the armistice site, the United Nations command's belief in the Reds' good faith was shattered.

"Why are the United Nations delegates assigned to an armistice mission constantly forced to divert their attention to the question of armed personnel in the conference area, sometimes within plain sight of the green topped table?" the bulletin asked.

Then it said: "The conference site itself helps illuminate the answer. 'Kaesong was suggested by the Communists and was accepted in 1950' failed by the United Nations. On the first day that faith was shattered."

"On that day the UN delegates found Red troops and guns throughout Kaesong and its approaches. And each successive day made it increasingly clear that the Communist delegation was more concerned with demonstrating its hold on Kaesong than with the primary armistice issues."

These Communist tactics compelled the United Nations delegates to divert considerable attention from the main talks in order to seek the background of (See KAESONG, Page 2)

As Judge Sets Sanity Hearing: McGee Maintains He Is Not Insane

Richard W. McGee, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the slaying of R. L. Allison, Lubbock grocer, continued to insist he is normal as District Judge Dan Blair today announced Sept. 17 as the date for the new sanity hearing.

"It breaks Richard's heart to be called crazy," one of McGee's sisters said this morning, "and he believes that confinement in an institution will prove to the world he is insane. He has a horror of that — like most mentally incompetent people."

In Pampa, Mrs. H. H. Stull, mother of McGee, said the family does not know when McGee will be brought in Lubbock. Mrs. Stull and McGee's sister will visit him when word comes that he is there. None of the family has visited him since the new hearing was announced.

In death row last week, McGee told newsmen he had rather go to the chair than spend the rest of my life in a nut house.

A sister in Pampa, Mrs. Margaret Holcombe, said today that if McGee ever had a rational moment he would prefer electrocution to life in a mental institution.

Canadian Dam Talks Underway Today

Panhandle citizens, reclamation bureau officials and Harry Bureleigh, state engineer, this morning were in a huddle with Reps. Walter Rogers and George Mahon, and Sen. Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson on ways and means to obtain future appropriations for the Canadian River Dam.

Court Frees Remington

NEW YORK (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals reversed today the conviction of William W. Remington, former government economist, on charges of perjury in denying he had ever been a member of the Communist party.

The decision, written by Chief Judge Thomas W. Swan, was unanimous. The case was returned to the district court for a new trial.

Remington, 33, was found guilty Feb. 7. Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan imposed the maximum sentence of five years and a $2,000 fine.

The reversal was based in large part on technical grounds. Swan agreed with the defense that the definition of membership in the Communist party, contained in the charge to the jury was too "vague and indefinite."

13 Towboats Pull Her Free

NEW YORK (AP) — The mighty 45,000-ton battleship Wisconsin drifted aground in the Hudson River opposite Manhattan today and then 13 puffing towboats pulled her free.

A strong downstream tide held her fast on the New Jersey shore for two hours. She was reported free at 7:25 a. m. (CST).

The battleship was on a training cruise and was moored fore and aft to floating buoys.

A naval spokesman said her stern line snapped and her end swung around and touched bottom off the Jersey shore.

Some witnesses had reported she dragged both buoys under pressure of the river tide.

10 Men, 2 Women To Try McCracken

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A jury of 10 men and two women will try Henry Ford McCracken in his second trial on charges of murdering 10-year-old Patricia Lee Hull.

The jury was completed yesterday and a defense motion for a change of venue denied. McCracken is accused of luring Patricia from a Buena Park theater May 19, killing her in his hotel cabin and burying the body in a canon.

In his first trial, the jury disagreed on the murder count, acquitted him of kidnaping and convicted him of child stealing. He has not yet been sentenced on the child stealing conviction.

The first prosecution witness will be County Surveyor Warren K. Hibbard, who will submit a map showing the Buena Park motel where the little girl died.

Rogers Due Home Monday Or Tuesday

Rep. Walter Rogers is expected to arrive in his home district sometime Monday or Tuesday to spend several days visiting various parts of the Panhandle.

The Pampa Congressman told Washington newsmen he contemplates driving home, starting out sometime Friday. He hopes, he said, to make the trip in about three days.

Making the trip with him are his two oldest boys, John, 13, and Walter, 12, and Dee Dodson, his executive secretary.

Rogers is taking advantage of the three-week House recess voted by the 435 Representatives and concurred in by the Senate.

Treasured Water Stores Lost In Hawaii's Heaviest Quake

HONOLULU (AP) — The heaviest earthquake ever recorded on the volcano island of Hawaii cost the Kona coast district most of its treasure water stores with two months of normal drought ahead.

Property damage was estimated officially at between $750,000 and $1,000,000, but the water loss was the most critical.

The quake jarred the largest of the Hawaiian islands in early morning darkness yesterday. It wrecked or damaged more than 200 wooden water storage tanks — 20 of them on one cattle ranch. Each of 250 families along a 30-mile stretch of the Kona coast on the west slope of Mauna Loa volcano, had at least one tank for storing drinking and household water.

Loc. one of the world's most active volcanoes. It spilled molten lava into the sea a little more than a year ago.

Police Sgt. Emery Kunitomo at Kaluua on the Kona coast said fire department and Hawaii county trucks from Hilo, across the island, were hauling emergency water supplies to Kona coast residents.

The water hauling must continue daily. The Kona coast normally receives no rain until well into October.

Housewives Begin Fight To Recover Their Seized Money

MARSHAL (AP) — The Marshall wives who abhor deducting taxes from the pay of domestic servants have started a fight to get back money seized from them recently by the Internal Revenue department.

Twelve women filed a claim yesterday for a tax refund, covering the unpaid taxes, penalties and interest seized from their bank accounts by federal tax agents.

The women contend an amendment to the social security law requiring wives to withhold servant's social security taxes is unconstitutional.

Vast Undersea Range, Speed Foreseen In New Atomic Sub

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has a craft contract for the first atomic-powered submarine — a craft described by a congressional authority as having "immense military implications."

Announcing yesterday the award of a contract to the Electric Boat Co. of Groton, Conn., the Navy gave no details. Nor would officials elaborate on the 26-word announcement.

But semi-official sources have said an atomic-powered submarine would have a vast underwater range, and speculation as to its possible speed has ranged as high as 50 to 60 miles an hour more than twice that of conventional undersea craft.

The Navy's announcement, first open step into an atomic powered future, came somewhat earlier than the time which had previously been guardedly expressed.

In March the Navy hoped to start its first nuclear-powered submarine by the end of this year. Yesterday's announcement indicated an approaching solution of major problems in the way of ship propulsion by controlled splitting of atoms — done in devices the scientists call reactors.

The craft to be constructed at Groton, it is believed, will be a 2,500-ton vessel, somewhat larger than the Navy's present fleet of submarines.

Neither the Navy nor the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) is likely to give any hints about its performance assuming it is successful until it has met its real test on and under the seas.

But Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Senate Atomic Energy committee has said the project has "immense military implications." And Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, retired officer who commanded U. S. sub forces in the Pacific in World War II, has predicted it would "outrun, outlight and outmaneuver the most advanced snorkel types that Russia is building behind the Iron Curtain or is likely to build.

The heavy rain and rising waters of the Panuco river which curves on two sides of Pampa had already flooded many low-lying suburbs. The center of the city, on high ground, was safe from the flood but exposed to the full blast of the gale.

The people had spent a tense, sleepless, prayerful night. Hundreds sought shelter in school houses and other buildings stronger than their own homes.

Mountainous waves, ten feet higher than normal, pounded the coast during the night as the hurricane rushed through the city after whirling around in the gulf for half a day.

Waters from the suddenly swollen Panuco river and two lagoons, the Chaire and Carpintero, overflowed, flooding the lowlands.

They also had to determine what materials would offer the greatest resistance to damage by the intense radiation from the atomic splitting process. The materials must absorb, and thus waste, a minimum proportion of controlled spitting of uranium atoms inside the power plant.

JACOBY ON CANASTA Can't Split Stockpile Draw

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
I've had a lot of questions recently about the various forms of Canasta in which you draw cards from the stockpile instead of the normal one card at a time. My correspondents want to know whether it's all right to take one card from the discard pile and the other card from the stockpile.

If you decide to draw from the stock, you take two cards instead of the normal one. In that case you are not entitled to any cards from the discard pile. In short, you vote one way or the other. You can't split the ticket.

Q—What happens if there's only one card left in the stockpile when your turn comes?
A—That's all you're entitled to. It counts as a full, normal draw.

Q—What happens if there's only one card left in the stockpile, and that one card is a red three?
A—You must put that red three down on the table, and the hand ends at once. You make no further meld or discard.

Q—What happens if there are two cards left in the stockpile, and one of them is a red three?
A—You put the red three down but do not replace it. (There is no way to do so.) Then you proceed as though you had made a normal draw. You may meld and discard, as usual.

Boyle's Column: Two Dogs, A Cow, And Uncle Munchausen Find Dog Days

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Dear Sir: Now that the dog days are here, wouldn't you like to hear a cute dog story?
"My name is Mable Jones, although everybody calls me 'Leftover Mable.' I live on a farm with my dear old parents and Uncle Munchausen Jones. Uncle Munchausen, who is 80, is an unsuccessful inventor. So he has worked for us as a temporary hired hand for the last 40 years."
"We have two dogs: Snuffy—a little black spaniel—and Jumbo, a full-grown St. Bernard."

Q—What happens if there are two cards left in the stockpile and both of them are red threes?
A—You put them both down on the table, and the hand ends at once. You make no further meld or discard.

This procedure is followed in two-hand Canasta and also in Samba. Some players like it in three-hand Canasta also. It applies to any game in which you draw two cards at a time from the stockpile.

Snuffy has a terrible crush on Jumbo, but he won't have a thing to do with her. Jumbo is in love with our milk cow, Ticky.

"Jumbo is crazy about Ticky because he is so big he thinks he is a cow, too. But she knows better. She snubs him all the time."

"Uncle Munchausen loves black-berry brandy. That's why he bought Jumbo. He figured that when his rheumatism bothered him, he could put a keg around the St. Bernard's neck and send him into town for the brandy."

"It worked out all right for a time. One morning he put the money into the keg as usual. Nobody knows for sure what happened. But that night Jumbo woke home with the keg smashed and the money gone. And he was hiccupping, and smelling of brandy."

"That's how the grudge started. Jumbo thinks any dog ought to have a second chance, but Uncle Munchausen says he'll be darned if he'll ever let him go to the store again."

"Well, he also says he wouldn't lift a hand to pull Jumbo out of a snowdrift, but if Snuffy is in love with the big bum he would like to help her along with her romance."

"So Uncle Munchausen sits down and makes that little spaniel a set of four stilts on wheels. Snuffy got the idea real quick. It didn't take her long to learn to skate, but it was days before she could tie the straps on by herself. All this time big dumb Jumbo watches and wonders."

"Finally, Snuffy is ready. She puts on her stilts and skates over to Jumbo, yelping with love. She's as tall as he is at last!"

"But Jumbo just growls and bats her over with his paws. Then he unchews her stilts, puts them on himself, and chews the straps on tight. At first he kerflops all over the barnyard. But he finally gets the wheels rolling just as Uncle Munchausen comes up, leading the cow from the pasture."

"Jumbo gives a bark of delight. At last he is as tall as Ticky! He comes skating up to her, and she lets go with a kick that breaks two of his stilts."

"Uncle Munchausen is so riled he goes over and cuffs Jumbo. Poor lovesick Snuffy can't stand that so she runs up and bites Uncle Munchausen on the leg. Then he jerks the four stilts off Jumbo and throws them at Ticky, hitting her in the flank."

"Darn love," he says. "Animals are as ungrateful as people!"

"Well, Ticky's feelings are so hurt she hasn't given milk for two days. And now everybody on the farm is mad at each other. I guess it's just the dog days."

Sincerely,
Mable Jones

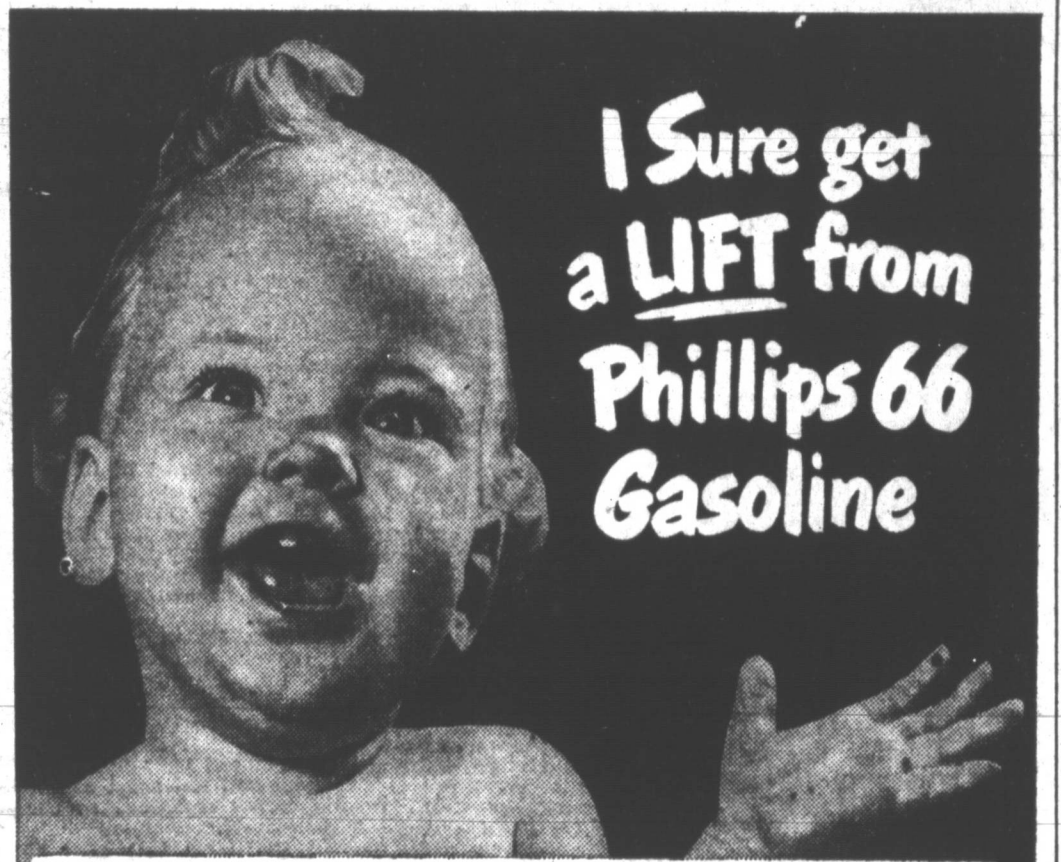

P.S. You may be wondering why folks call me "Leftover Mable." Well, Pa and Ma had five daughters, and the other four got married. I'm leftover.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Be Afraid To Take A Gamble

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If everybody always bid and played bridge according to the book, you'd find me playing tid-dy-winks or a nice snappy round of croquet. Part of the thrill of bridge is getting yourself into the soup—and out of it.

It was a nice thick soup that South plunged into when he bid four spades. He was doomed to lose at least two spades and two clubs. But the hand gave him game and rubber.

West opened the Geuce of hearts, and South had a chance—if he could guess the way to play the red suits. If West had led from the king of hearts, South could let the first trick ride around to the jack and then repeat the opening lead.

This would give him an immediate club discard, after which it would be safe to lead trumps and give up two trumps and one club.

As it happened, however, West was good enough for West (strong (not necessarily sensible) opinions about opening leads. "Never lead from a king," he had often been heard to say. This was considered the latest word fifty years ago, and that was good enough for West.

For this reason, South didn't relish the idea of playing West for the king of hearts. West might have held kings in three of the four suits, but he surely didn't have the king of diamonds and therefore could have led a diamond if he had held the king of hearts.

There was only one other chance, and South played for it. He put up the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of diamonds, and led two more top diamonds, discarding the jack of hearts from his hand. The odds were almost 2 to 1 against a 3-3 break in diamonds, but any other play was sheer surrender.

Fortunately for declarer, both defenders had to follow to three rounds of diamonds. Now declarer could lead a fourth diamond from the dummy and discard one of his losing clubs.

It didn't matter which opponent ruffed, for the ruff would come at the expense of a trump trick. South would lose only one club and two trumps.

Government Slaps Freeze On Bonuses

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government has imposed a partial freeze on bonus and profit-sharing payments by companies to their officers, executives and salaried employees.

The salary stabilization board says else it is hunting for a formula to let employers maintain their customary spread between the pay of supervisors and that of subordinates whose take has gone up.

The board's bonus order does not bar increases in individual bonuses except at the topmost level, but restricts the total sum a company may earmark for bonuses — in most cases to last year's level.

The ruling thus forbids use of bonuses as a device for evading salary ceilings and aims to block any widespread expansion of the bonus system as an inflationary threat.

Bobby Feller Reaches Two-Thirds Of 1951 Goal As He Notches 20th Victory

OLD MASTERS—Rogers Hornsby, left, lost an exhibition hitting contest to Frank O'Doul at Seaside Stadium. Both previously had beaten Oakland Manager Mel Ott. Hornsby led National League batters on seven occasions, six times straight, thrice with 400 or higher. Lefty O'Doul twice showed the way in the senior circuit. The Rajah pilots the Seattle club, now leading the Pacific Coast League. O'Doul bosses the San Francisco Seals. (NEA)

(By The Associated Press) Bobby Feller has reached the second of three goals set before the start of the 1951 season.

The 32-year-old righthander of the Cleveland Indians set 20 victories, a world series triumph and a no-hitter as his prime targets for the season. He got his no-hitter against Detroit on July 1. Feller realized his second ambition last night as he became the major's first 20-game winner, and the way the Indians are traveling these days he stands a good chance of attaining the other.

The no-hit master pitched the Indians to a 6-0 triumph over the Washington Senators and preserved Cleveland's one game edge over the runner-up New York Yankees. The Yanks hammered the Detroit Tigers, 11-4, while the St. Louis Browns upset the third place Boston Red Sox, 6-4, and the Chicago White Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 13-5, in other American League games.

Meanwhile, in the National League, the New York Giants stretched their winning streak to ten games, beating the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4. The Philadelphia Phils nipped the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in 11 innings in completing the suspending game of July 22. They then downed the Cubs, 4-3, in the regular scheduled night game. The Boston Braves clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1. Rain washed out a game between St. Louis and Brooklyn in the third inning.

It was allowed only six singles and was in command throughout. It was Feller's first 20 victory season since 1947 and his sixth in 13 seasons — a feat matched by only five other American League pitchers, Cy Young, Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander and Eddie Plank.

The Indians provided Feller with a 5-0 lead at the end of three innings. Harry Simpson drove home the first run and Ray Boone and Al Rosen knocked out Earl Berry and Andy Seminole in the scoring with his 19th homer in the seventh. The loss was Washington's tenth straight.

Yogi Berra, Gene Woodling and Johnny Mize led the Yanks' 17-hit attack against the Tigers at Detroit. Berra poked his third homer in as many games to open the Yank scoring. Woodling drove home four runs on as many hits and Mize featured a five-run homer. Little Art Schallack scattered three hits in going down the distance for the Tigers.

Chicago ran up an 8-0 lead over the A's in the first two innings of the nightcap. Ralph Callahan, who took over in the third from Saul Rogovin, gained credit for his fifth victory without a loss. Don Lenhardt with a double and two singles led Chicago's 15-hit attack.

The Giants pelted three home runs in the eighth inning and scored six runs to beat the Reds. Homers by Ed Stanky and Whitey Lockman tied the score at 4-4. Wes Westrum followed with a three run blast off Frank Smith in the ninth. Home runs by Bob Adams, Connie Ryan and Jim Parness accounted for all of Cincinnati's runs.

Bill Nicholson walked with the bases loaded and none out in the 12th inning to force home Philadelphia's winning run against the Cubs to complete the suspended game. Bubba Church was the winner and Monk Dubiel was the loser.

Ken Johnson, with help from Church, squared his record at 4-4 in the nightcap. Ralph Callahan, with three hits, led the Phils' 12-hit attack against Cal McLish. The victory snapped an eight-game Philadelphia losing streak.

Jim Wilson turned in his first complete game triumph for the Braves in stopping the Pirates at Boston. Wilson scattered eight hits including a home run by Joe Garagiola. Sid Gordon singled home two runs in the first and Sibby Sisti singled home Roy Hartfield with the clincher in the fourth.

Chapman won the British Amateur this year. Two other former British champions will be in the field, both exempt from qualifying. They are Robert Sweeney of New York who won in 1937, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who won in 1948 and 1950.

Oilers Clip Hubbers, 3-1; End Home Stand Tonight

The Oilers took the first game of a two game series from the Lubbock Hubbers here last night, 3-1, behind the fine five-hit pitching of Mack Hyde. The lone run off Hyde was unearned.

The clubs conclude the series tonight, and also the home stand for the Oilers, with a single game at 8 p. m. George Peay will start for Pampa against Ken Michaels for the Hubbers. The Oilers then go south for four days before returning home for six days to conclude their home season.

Last night's game was played under threatening skies that allowed occasional sprinkles to fall but not delaying the game. Both pitchers rolled along good until Jake Phillips blasted out his 23rd home run of the season in the third with two out. This broke the scoreless deadlock.

The Oilers added one in the fifth when Hyde opened with a single, was sacrificed to second, and scored when Machado dropped a flyball off the bat of Francis Rice.

The final Oiler run came in the sixth. Richardson opened with a walk, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single to center by Nellie Davis.

Meanwhile, Hyde had held the Hubbers to a second inning single by Hochstatter until the sixth. The lone Lubbock tally came in the eighth when Hochstatter opened with a walk, went to third when I. B. Palmer singled to left and Phillips let the ball through for an error. An infield out scored Hochstatter.

The Hubbs got two men on the ninth with one out, but Hyde got Novotny on a foul and Hochstatter went down swinging for Hyde's tenth strikeout.

Commissioner Due Sept. 20; Field Narrowed To Top Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's new commissioner, who may be named at the major league meeting in Chicago Sept. 20, likely will be either Ford Frick, Warren Giles or Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, but the field still is open to a darkhorse.

The club owners narrowed the field of candidates down to these three men yesterday, the Associated Press learned today. The owners also voted that the executive council call a meeting for Sept. 20 to elect a czar, with increased powers and a larger salary than any of his predecessors.

It was learned on strong authority that two of the five in mind were Douglas MacArthur and Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State.

Eisenhower and MacArthur could still be considered last minute candidates if either decides to throw his hat into the ring.

Frick is president of the National League. Giles heads the Cincinnati Reds. Among those eliminated were Gen. Dwight Eisenhower; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, commander of the Air Force; Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the Marine Corps; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, assistant chief of staff. All are believed to have declared themselves unavailable.

Ticket Sales In SWC Are Good

DALLAS (AP) — Forecasts of slumping football attendance in the Southwest Conference are rejected by pre-season ticket sales. Some said the conference's home games would draw over 1,000,000 and that last year's record-breaking, 1,225,000 might be surpassed.

At least 10 sell-out games are possible. Two games already are sell-outs — the Texas-Oklahoma contest at Dallas Oct. 13 and the Texas-Texas A&M battle at College Station Nov. 29. The Texas-Oklahoma game will draw 75,000 and the Texas-Aggie test, 40,000. TCU which can handle 34,000, looks for three sell-outs — its game with Texas, Texas A&M and SMU.

Rice, which drew 300,000 for six home games last year, thinks it will do as well this time and that games with Texas A&M and Navy will be sell-outs. Rice seats 70,000. SMU expects all the seats will be filled when it plays Texas here Nov. 3 and that three other home games will draw 50,000 apiece.

Arkansas sees three possible sell-outs — TCU, Texas and Texas A&M. Arkansas handles 25,000 at home and more at Little Rock where the Texas game will be played. Baylor is using a new 50,000-seat stadium this year and probably won't fill it in any one game, but they're expecting a big attendance exceeding 100,000. Five games will be played at home.

Pre-season ticket sales generally are ahead of last year.

Sports Round-Up

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Gilbert, owner and former manager of the Nashville Baseball Club of the Southern Association, used to carry around a personally prepared "alibi chart."

When his players began to offer excuses for their misplays, he would pull the list from his pocket, saying "Just give me the number, I'll know what it is." He said this conserved time, conversation and explanations. Here is the chart:

- "I wait, looking for a fast ball." (After striking out)
- "The sun got in my eyes." (Dropped fly ball)
- "It took a bad hop." (Booted grounder)
- "I didn't think he was going to run." (Holding ball while runner scored from third)
- "My spike hung." (Thrown out stretching)
- "I thought there were two out." (Doubled off base on a fly ball)
- "The ball slipped out of my hand." (Wild throw)
- "The catcher tripped my bat." (Has taken third strike)
- "Thom balls this year are leader than ever." (Has flied out four straight times)
- "Two of the gloves are in that light over there." (Line drive has gone by him for a triple)
- "These bats ain't got no wood in 'em." (Has popped out twice in a row)
- "That mound needs building up in front." (Just made a wild pitch allowing a run to score)
- "He's pitching right out of that sign in centerfield." (Has struck out again)
- "The pitcher balked." (Caught off first base)
- "I got the uniforms mixed." (Has thrown to wrong base)

ADVICE FROM THE BEST:
To first basemen — "Do not become a one-handed first baseman. Use one hand only when it is impossible to make the play with two hands." — George Sisler.

To second basemen — "Don't throw the ball if there is no chance to get your man. Bluff the bag — and look elsewhere for a chance to get somebody else." — Eddie Stanky.

To third basemen — "Charge all slow hit balls. Block all hard hit balls, if necessary, with your body. Get the ball and throw him out." — Bill Bradley.

To shortstops — "The short-stop should at all times play the ball and never let the ball play him." — Joe Cronin.

To catchers — "A young catcher should be warned not to play to the grandstand. His position as the balance wheel of his club is much too important." — Steve O'Neill.

To pitchers — "Stamina in pitchers depends upon the strength of their legs." — Clark Griffith.

To centerfielders — "The centerfielder should be the quarterback of the outfield. He should try for all balls he can get his hands on." — Casey Stengel.

To batters — "Hitters are a born — not made. They can be helped some — not much." — Earle Combs.

Women Amateur In Second Round

ST. PAUL, (AP) — A hopeful group of 32 women-survivors in the first round of match play yesterday — moved into the most brutal phase of the women's National Amateur Golf Tournament today.

If yesterday's play gave any hint of what may happen, some well known names were due for a meet is concerned.

What might be an omen of the future came yesterday with elimination of Grace Lemczyk, a Newington, Conn., 1948 title winner, by Gloria Fecht, Los Angeles, 6-5.

In the first match of the day Carol Dinger of Titus, Okla., co-medalist with Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., meets Dorothy Kietly of Long Beach, Calif., long considered a power in women's golf circles, and 1948 runner-up in the event.

Grace Amos of Covallia, Ore., meets Marjorie Lindsay Decatur, Ill., publisher's daughter, and 1951 Western Amateur champion.

Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., a 1927 runner-up and another stalwart of the feminine golf world, meets Mrs. Beatrice Altmyer, who established the single-round qualifying mark of 74 in 1939.

Helen Sigel, Philadelphia restaurant operator and finalist in 1941 and 1949, tangles with Patricia O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., in another match while Dorothy Kirby, another two-time finalist, meets Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., in still another.

Mae Murray, who was defeated in last year's event by Beverly Hanson of Pasadena, Calif., plays Mrs. Herman Berg of Minneapolis, step-mother of the noted Patty Berg, former champion and now a professional, Miss Womack, the co-medalist, meets Billy Dodd, San Antonio.

Pro Football Under Study
NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football comes under scrutiny of a government wage panel today in a study of the effect of federal inflation controls on sports salaries.

The special three-man panel, appointed by the salary stabilization board, will delve into professional basketball and ice hockey this afternoon.

Speakers for the various sports will give their views on how federal controls should be applied to pro athletes.

Baseball held the spotlight yesterday as the two-day hearing opened here. Louis F. Carroll, counsel for the National League, said the diamond sport preferred to follow last year's practice of running its business without government regulation, paying players what clubs thought they were worth.

Terfielder should be the quarterback of the outfield. He should try for all balls he can get his hands on." — Casey Stengel.

To batters — "Hitters are a born — not made. They can be helped some — not much." — Earle Combs.

To base runners — "A player who does not know how to slide usually comes up with a broken leg." — Jack Fournier.

To managers — "Never show up one of your players on the ball field or in front of his teammates. Wait until the heat is off." — Joe McCarthy.

To all ball players — "If you don't love to play, get out. If a player enjoys the game it is an effort to him to hustle." — Dixie Walker.

School Days, School Days, Dear Old Golden Rule Days

MISS JOSEPHINE THOMAS is Pampa's only woman principal. For several years she has directed activities and headed the teaching staff of Horace Mann elementary school on N. Faulkner. In the building program for Pampa Schools, she received the only new principal's office. The old office would not suffice because it would have been inconveniently located with the new additions.

Two PHS Groups Profit In Building

Two particular groups of students in Pampa High School this year and the years to come are going to have something to crow about.

For many years now, students of physical education and wood working have been handicapped with lack of space and facilities—but no more—after the first of the year.

The new gymnasium and wood-working shop under construction at the northeast corner of the main high school building will take care of all these students.

Completion is expected by the beginning of the basketball season. Capacity for games will be about 2400 persons.

At the east end of the building underneath built-in bleachers will be classroom and workshop space for woodworking groups. There will be room for machines and lecture space. These classes and workshops have been held in the basement of the main building with inadequate facilities for the past several years.

Permanent bleachers are also built in the north end. Below these bleachers are folding bleachers that will be used for inter-scholastic basketball games. The court will run north and south.

When these bleachers are folded back against the brick walls from the workshop on the east end and the showers on the west, the gymnasium floor will be used for classes in physical education.

Women students will use the present gymnasium which, until this time, been shared with the boys. Consequently, there have been fewer and fewer students of physical education during the past years.

It is expected by school officials that the number of girls students in physical education will increase with the newly added facilities.

Rest rooms to accommodate spectators of the games are located at each end of the building and on each side.

Main entrance to the building is on the north side, facing the Harvester Football Stadium. Student entrance is in the southwest corner.

Offices for the athletic directors will be located in the building.

Irish Enrollment Begins Wednesday

SHAMROCK — (Special) Enrollment for the 1951 school year will open Wednesday, Aug. 29, reports Edward M. Burkhalter, high school principal.

Plans call for seniors to register Wednesday, with the students whose last names begin with A to L listed from 10 to 12, and those of M to Z from 1:30 to 3:30.

Juniors in the A-L category are listed for 9 to 10:30, and M-Z juniors from 10:30-12. Thursday Sophomores come from 1 to 2:30 in the A-L group and 2:30 to 3:30 in the M-Z group.

Freshmen in the first group are slated from 9 to 11 a. m. Friday, with those in the M-Z group from 1 to 3 p. m. Friday.

If, for any reason, a student is unable to follow this schedule, Burkhalter urges that the student call at his office.

Shamrock expects approximately 375 to enroll in high school, and

Holiday Times Are Announced

Even before school can begin, students want to know when the holidays are. Dates for the year's days of rest have been announced by Superintendent Knox Kinard.

They are: Thanksgiving, Nov. 22 and 23; Christmas, Dec. 21 and Jan. 2; Easter, April 11 and 14; Northwest Texas Conference for Education, March 14.

Then, on the other hand, we have examination days. These are scheduled for Oct. 12, Nov. 23, Jan. 18 (mid-term), Feb. 29, April 11 and May 27.

Shamrock Names Four New Teachers

Three new regular teachers and one private teacher were elected for the Shamrock schools at a board meeting here Monday night.

Mrs. Mary Joyce Abbott, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, with a major in elementary education, will teach the first grade at North Ward. It is her first year.

Irvin S. Davis and his wife, Annie D. Davis, were employed for the Dunbar school. Both hold degrees from Butler College, and this will be their first year teaching. They replace Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Curry, recently resigned.

Wendall A. Nelson was approved as a private piano teacher under school sponsorship. Nelson holds a master's degree in music from Pomona College, California, and is an experienced piano instructor.

Two vacancies remain, a band director and a third grade teacher to replace Mr. and Mrs. Itay Showalter, who resigned last week end to go to Rankin, Texas. Supt. Moore hopes for a man and wife to fill these spots.

At the same meeting, the budget for 1951-52 was tentatively approved, and Supt. Moore will use the final budget, after all teachers are hired, in his application for state funds. A budget hearing preceded the budget adoption.

All Teachers At Shamrock Hold Degrees

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock public schools opened here Tuesday, Sept. 4, with a regular faculty of 42 and four private teachers under school sponsorship.

Supt. Elmer J. Moore opens his seventh year as head of the Irish schools, following receipt of bachelor's and master's degrees at Texas Tech. Lubbock. Moore also taught at Littlefield and Levelland. He has had 19 years experience.

Moore will have 10 teachers with master's degrees, almost 25 percent. For the second year, all Shamrock teachers will have degrees. In 1950-51, for the first time in history, all were degree teachers.

Edward M. Burkhalter, high school principal, will begin his ninth year as principal, his fifteenth as a teacher, all at Shamrock.

Arter: Wells will begin his second year as junior high principal. He holds a master's degree and has had 21 years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Lucille Zeigler is again principal of the North Ward school. She holds the M. A. degree with 26 years of experience.

Extra Service From Treasury

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — (AP) — When you break a bill at a hotel here, your change looks like it's fresh from the mint. But the coins may be several years old, despite their shiny finish.

Mrs. June Harvey, awarded her M. A. degree this year from West Texas State, Canyon, is the new principal at South Ward, succeeding Mrs. Vauda Wood, who transferred to North Ward. Mrs. Harvey will also teach the second grade.

South Ward was reopened after being closed for about 10 years in the fall of 1950, with three grades. A fourth grade has been added this year.

Irvin S. Davis will be principal of the Dunbar school, in addition to teaching upper elementary and high school courses. Shamrock has four private teachers under school sponsorship. They are: Mrs. Mary Bledsoe, kindergarten at South Ward; Mrs. Everett Smith, speech; Mrs. Cabot Brannon, piano; and Wendall A. Nelson, piano.

Thought Brother's Head Was Melon

CAIRO — (AP) — Ismail Hassan appeared before a court charged with attempting to murder his brother.

"My brother was sleeping in a watermelon field," he told the judge. "All of a sudden I had a dream. I dreamed my brother's head was a watermelon. So I tried to cut it open with my knife to find out if it was a good one."

Other witnesses testified Hassan was jealous because his brother won his girl away. He

New Schools Near Finish For Opening

By GEORGIA BEHRMAN
A school building program that began about three days after the one-dollar bond issue was passed in the spring of 1950 is nearing completion.

Two new buildings have been constructed and all four of the elementary schools have received large additions.

Carver school will be ready for occupancy by the opening day of the school year, Sept. 4. About 125 students from the first grade through high school seniors will occupy the new construction.

Exterior of the building is salmon-colored brick with green trim. Cost of the building was approximately $160,000.

Features include a general science laboratory equipped with experimenting and classroom space.

Partitioned from the science lab by closet space is the home economics room equipped with a gas and electric range, kitchen cabinets and classroom space.

Classrooms in Carver have the same layout as those in the other four elementary schools.

Lighting of the rooms is modernistic and interior decoration is in harmony with the lighting. Heat will be furnished by gas-steam radiators.

A woodworking and machine shop is also an attraction of the Carver school.

The gymnasium auditorium is built on the same floor plan as the other school buildings except that it is a little larger, built for a regulation basketball court since the high school games will be played there.

King To Declare Singapore A City

SINGAPORE — (AP) — This British crown colony municipality is officially going to become a "city."

Letters patent from King George VI so declaring will be handed over soon by Governor Sir Franklin Gimson. Singapore's constitution is to remain unchanged for the present, but the way may be eventually cleared for the election of a mayor.

Approximately $200,000 was spent on each of the buildings except Baker, which received about $164,000 for the reconstruction.

Besides the new parts of the elementary schools, junior high school has seen building improvements in its woodworking and home economics departments.

A new gymnasium plus vocational classrooms are high school's latest additions. This building is scheduled to be completed by basketball season.

School Year Opens With Busy Schedule

A whirl of activities begins the school year at Pampa High School Sept. 4, when the doors will be open to 1951-1952 term students.

Summer's afternoons of leisurely swims, mountain vacations, and middle-of-the-morning trips to drive-ins for rakes — and some lonely hours away from good friends — are over for another nine months of school.

Hurried elections for cheer leaders will be conducted during the first week so they will have time during the next week to practice for football games that begin Sept. 14. Linda Fraser was elected last year as head cheer leader.

Pre-registration was conducted last spring so that few preliminary preparations are necessary for the beginning of classes. However, assigning home rooms to every student, working out schedules and various other duties will require much work and time from the teachers.

Not yet scheduled definitely is "Get Acquainted Week" in which the students get to know new students and welcome them into the halls of "dear old Pampa High School."

This event is sponsored by the student council, which will also have to be elected at the first of school. This group will include a president, representatives from each home room and other officers.

Jack Edmondson, new principal, said the activities calendar is not yet complete and he expects it to be filled soon after school begins.

Then, in quick succession come crowds to Harvester Stadium, trips to see the Harvesters play.

Exams, Christmas vacation begins Dec. 21 and school reopens with another rush Jan. 2. Shorter vacation this year, but when the time comes, it will hardly be noticed.

Soon after the big holiday, the brand new gymnasium will be put to use if contractors on the job are able to fulfill their promise. And Pampa's team this year is expected to be greater than ever with the new gymnasium to accelerate its progress.

Suddenly, spring will occupy the time in classrooms with students gazing outside wishing for summertime again... seniors will don their robes and their high school days will be through.

Australia Welcomes Italian Migrants

SYDNEY — (AP) — Since World War II ended, about 800,000 migrants have been packed into Australia. More than 25,000 of them are Italians.

The Italians are proving good "new Australians" — as the "old" Australians call the newcomers. Australia and Italy last December agreed on an immigration scheme under which the two governments will assist about 15,000 Italians to migrate to Australia each year for the next five years.

Sir John Storey, Australian industrialist and chairman of the Commonwealth Immigration Planning Council, recently reported on his return from a European tour: "There is in Italy a rich goldmine available to Australia of hard-working and capable people, with abilities covering a range of activities, which Australia needs in large numbers."

Dr. Newman JC Speaker

Five principles for a worthwhile life were suggested to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce by Dr. Guy Newman, who is speaker during the First Baptist Church revival.

He spoke to Jaycees in their luncheon meeting Tuesday. Special guest was Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Newman suggested the "spirit of hospitality as the first principle; the spirit of helpfulness; spirit of personal friendliness and the spirit of unselfishness."

"Finally, and ultimately," he concluded, "a man's attitude toward Christ and the spirit of 'Christ-likeness' will be his test for leading a worthwhile life."

Dr. Newman is also scheduled to speak to the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs this week.

Airplane stewards are furnished with charts showing how long to boil eggs soft, medium, or hard, at various altitudes.

Mental Depression Highest In Denmark

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hamlet, the melancholy Dane, still has a lot of relatives in Denmark.

The suicide rate in Denmark is far higher than in Holland or Finland, so is addiction to drugs, says a report of Dr. Alf Yde in the journal of the American Medical Association. He says this indicates a far higher incidence of mental depression in Denmark.

Dr. Newman is also scheduled to speak to the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs this week.

"PLEASE... Don't Hurt My Little Girl"

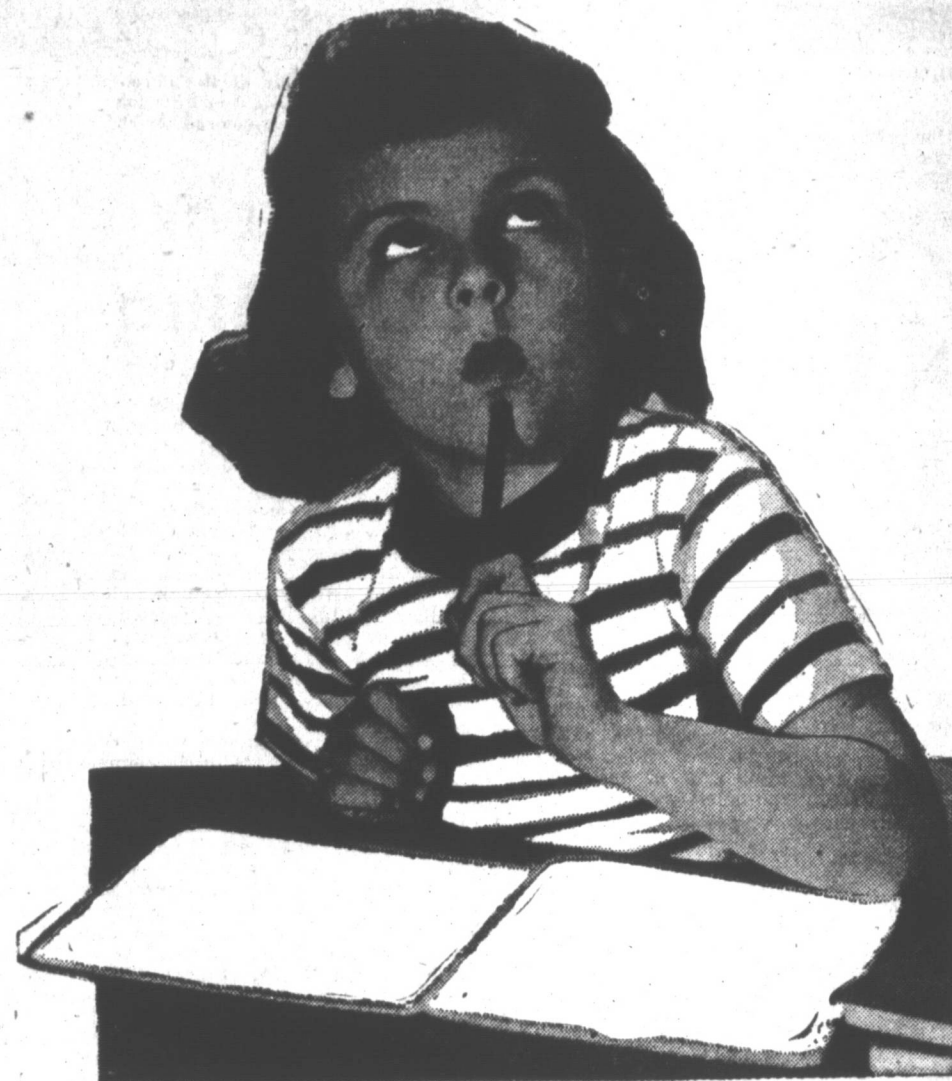

Dear Driver

Today my daughter, who is seven years old started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel whose name is "Scoot" sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved goodbye and started off to the halls of learning.

Last night we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her... the girl with the yellow curls... and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head... about the trees in the school yard... and the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things; tremendously vital, unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic & then to bed. She's upstairs now.. sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you. You see, I'm her Daddy. When her doll is broken, or her finger is cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it... but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a sweet little girl and I'm so proud of her. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time... I have to work to pay for her education and clothing. So please help me look out for her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections... and please remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

WE, THE WOMEN

Lilywood Columnist Erakinson, reporting on a conversation with John Barrymore, Jr., his famous aunt, Ethel Barrymore, quotes the young man saying: "I'm learning things living with Aunt Ethel, terribly. You feel alive walking Aunt Ethel's house."

WIDE RANGE OF INTERESTS
Actually, isn't it usually true that these people are themselves interested in a great number of things — so interested in these things that they can't help sharing their interest with others. They make others "feel alive" because they are themselves so much alive, so interested in all that goes on around them.

The dull bores are the people who have narrowed their interests down to only those things that concern their everyday living.

The woman whose chief topics of conversation are her health, her children, her household problems, and gossip about the neighbors couldn't make anybody feel alive. She is only half alive herself.

Irma Lee Perkins Feted With Pre-Nuptial Shower

A pre-nuptial shower honored Miss Irma Lee Perkins, bride-elect of Wayne Barnes, Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. P. Pursley, 3701 Mary Ellen.

Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. J. P. Crenshaw, J. T. Cornutt, H. W. Waters and J. L. Spencer.

Anna Merle Cox presided at the register. About 55 guests were registered in the bride's book and hand-painted by Mrs. Pursley. It was designed with orchid flowers and white satin ribbon, the bride's chosen colors.

Geraldine Perkins, the honoree's sister, served orchid punch from the crystal punch bowl.

Forages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. C. P. Perkins, Miami, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. L. A. Barnes.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Cecil Gill, Mrs. Elmo Gill, Mrs. Una Cantrell, and Mrs. V. Webb, all of Miami, and Mrs. Melvin Turner, Big Spring.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

When you go out into the Sun you must temper your exposure with Sense and Suntan lotion. The sun but it is especially important for her to protect her skin.

You must apply and reapply your suntan lotion. It must filter out the burning rays and a suntan lotion containing special tannic acid derivatives protects the skin while allowing it to receive the very real benefits of sunning.

Suntan is painful and harmful and it makes mature skins look old because it dries and thickens the outer layers of the skin.

Many of you have written, asking if mineral oil or baby oil won't do for protection from the sun. No, they have their uses, yes, but not as suntan preventives. As they are transparent to sunlight they would tend to make your skin "fry."

Another idea that so many of you have is that if you have a suntan you can't get sunburned. That's all wrong, so watch it! The mature skin is inclined to be dry because of the natural process of the losing of certain oils, so it is important to use the tannic type lotion to protect the skin, at the same time allowing it to get the benefit of the sun and none of the bad effects.

I do hope that you won't hold to the theory that you won't get sunburned unless you sit right out in the sun. You can and you will. And remember, those cloudy, hazy days are often the very worst. Reflection from the sand and the water may double the potency of the sun. Sun and Sense—that's the combination for you. Wear a becoming sun outfit, keep a beach cape handy to cover those curves and keep your suntan lotion ON YOUR SKIN!

Daughter's First Day At School Is A Proud Moment

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newfeatures Beauty Editor

One of the proud moments of Mother's life is taking her little girl to school for the first time. Naturally, every mother thinks her tyke is the prettiest, cutest, and smartest of the youngsters who show up for that big day.

The competition is keen that first day of school and any little girl should have a new dress and new shoes for that big event. If Mom can afford it, she should be beautifully groomed with clean shining hair. Mother's job is not finishing when she outfits her tyke with back-to-school clothes. Her youngster should look clean and neat in every respect.

One of the problems Mother meets when her moppet starts school is how to keep daughter's hair looking pretty each day. As a pre-school youngster, a little girl might have been used to playing in dungarees, piling her hair on top of her head in any old fashion. But as a school girl, her hair needs to fall into an easily-cared-for arrangement.

If little Annie has curly hair, mother is lucky. Her job is more or less confined to frequent shampoos and hair brushings. But if Annie's hair is straight, it will tax Mom's endurance to sit and braid it or to try to train the locks to fall in some kind of a wavy pattern.

More and more mothers are finding that a permanent wave for Sis is the answer to their problems. While many mothers still prefer to have daughter's hair fall straight, without artificial curling, nevertheless a permanent wave is a big help for the busy mother. There are home permanent waves specially created for children's hair which is finer in texture, less elastic and harder to wave than Mom's.

Researchers have developed special cream waving lotion and neutralizer and children's permanent wave kits come equipped with directions and step-by-step pictures.

Before the child's hair is permanented, all sun-bleached and damaged ends must be cut off or your home permanent wave will be a flop. Children are likely to get restless, so everything connected with the wave should be assembled before the child sits down to get her curl. A check curl should be taken according to directions on the package — usually 20 minutes after all the curls are wound. This is important because the waving lotion in the children's home permanent is said to work faster and take less time than other home permanent solutions.

LOST 70 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barconate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off extra fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barconate. Pour the contents into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose belly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—reducing pounds and inches of extra fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, legs, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet with Barconate.

Lost 70 Pounds
"I have lost a total of 70 pounds taking Barconate and an eating diet," writes Mrs. J. A. McEne, Box 55, Devine, Texas.

Lost 10 Pounds
"I am very much satisfied with Barconate. I lost 10 pounds in 2 weeks," says Mrs. Albert Stevens, 1488 E. Van Buren, Brownsville, Texas.

"F" IS FOR FREEDOM-Carrying freedom's message to Germans behind the Iron Curtain are pamphlet-hauling balloons like this one being prepared for launching by West Berlin youths. The letter "F" is the anti-Communist sign for freedom. A fuse attached to the cardboard container causes it to explode and release leaflets over the Soviet sector of Berlin. Square the day before, while Hoopy rode her bike around the fountain.

"Don't ever, ever do that again, Mary Meadows says a woman over 25 must never allow the sun to touch the face directly."

LUCILLA found herself standing horribly alone against one mirror, with her classmates all on the opposite side. For some reason (perhaps because the floor mother said, "Hold it, girls") she had the feeling she must keep her eyes fixed straight ahead, on some particular object. Since the Bulgies were the only objects in her direct line of vision, this was awkward; there was an irresistible urge to stare at their weakest proudest, at a sagging middle or a varicose-veined leg, at the broadest point of an upper hip or the lowest lap of chin. Seeing them all at once, she had a sudden sorrowful realization of how large a miracle was needed, to produce the New You. Doubt began to stretch through her tighter and tighter. She forgot why they were standing there, until a movement at the door distracted her. The Glamour Guides had lined up forming a kind of archway. Mrs. Coxtiwaite stepped in front of them, and gave the impression she was about to blow a bugle, or beat her breasts like a drum-roll, "Miss Meadows."

A tall, regally handsome blonde woman walked through the archway of Glamour Guides and stood in the center of the room, not saying a word until the hush could be cut with a vowel tone. "Hello." It was no ordinary greeting. Her voice had that warm, devastating simplicity of a leading lady who comes out before the curtain on an opening night to thank the enraptured audience for being so very sweet. Her outfit had the same beautifully calculated simplicity, as if the actress had sat down with Molyneux and said, "Darling, in the first act my costume must be chic, but utterly, utterly well-bred."

Mary Meadows was smiling, the handsome red lips parted just so far, to display perfect teeth, and the large dark eyes.

"Why, I-why, yes." She had sat on the bench in Washington

THE FORM DIVINE
by HILDEGARDE DOLSON

THE STORY: Lucilla Webb, 37 and starkly, enrolls in the Beauty-Yon School to improve her figure, but she does not tell her husband that she wrote a check for $500 on their joint account to pay the school fees.

VIII

WHEN Lucilla Webb went in the direction Mrs. Coxtiwaite had pointed, to the same corner Mrs. Colpa had been hopping in, she discovered that the Glamour Guide in charge there really was Miss Willitt, but a far brisier Miss Willitt, who didn't even mention her old pupil Clarice Tompkins. She turned Lucilla all around, prodded her spine with a business-like finger, and said "You've got kyphosis and lordosis, but especially kyphosis. That means hollow-chested and sway-back." Lucilla straightened, trying to pull in her chest and push out her chest. "And when you do that, your chin sticks out much too far." The chin retreated. "Now, if you'll close your eyes and hop on one foot toward the wall."

Lucilla was chagrined to tetter so widely on the third hop that her other foot hit the floor. Miss Willitt said mmmm, and made a mark in a notebook. "A bit off balance, aren't we? Oh, well, that can be remedied."

"I'm glad," Lucilla said humbly. It seemed very important to learn to hop on one foot with both eyes shut. As she proceeded, now on both feet, to the fourth and final corner, she passed Paris Green moving with majestic calm. They greeted each other like comrades reunited in the ebb and flow of battle. "I got to take two inches off the upper hip," Paris announced, patting her own bare leg affectionately. "Calves are okay." A faint film of bafflement covered her lovely face. "That dame with the breastwork says they gotta change my voice." Paris massaged her middle. "If they take care of this belly, roll and the upper hip, I say to heck with the voice."

"Girls! Please!" It was their floor mother. "Have you been in all four corners? Because if not, I see no reason for your wasting time. They were quickly silent. Without another word, Paris went off to Hoping and Candid Body View, and Lucilla hurried to the far right-hand corner where an impressively out-size machine crouched on iron legs, a cross between something at the Hayden Planetarium and an atom-smashing cyclotron. This was the Pore Telescope. Behind it stood a Glamour Guide wearing a mauve smock over her satin panty-waist.

SHE introduced herself as Miss Dottle, Skin and Contour Study, and motioned Lucilla to sit on a chair before the Pore Telescope and stick her face into the far right-hand corner where an impressively out-size machine crouched on iron legs, a cross between something at the Hayden Planetarium and an atom-smashing cyclotron. This was the Pore Telescope. Behind it stood a Glamour Guide wearing a mauve smock over her satin panty-waist.

"Even a snake has sense enough to slough off that skin when it gets too scaly," Miss Dottle announced. "And as Mary Meadows always tells the students, we must follow Nature if we're going to get anywhere." She put her eye to the telescope again. "Mrs. Webb!" There was anguish in her tone. "Have you had your face out in the sun?"

"Why, I-why, yes." She had sat on the bench in Washington

Football Figures Fade When Season Ended

(Editors note: This is the fourth of a series of six articles about West Point by Westbrook Pegler. These columns were originally written in January, 1949, and deal with football affairs as related to Military Academy life.)

"Reprinted by special permission of the Chicago Tribune."

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
King Features Syndicate

The cadets of the West Point football team were finishing their last meal at their training table. Tomorrow they would be dispersed and would take breakfast in the darkness long before dawn with their respective companies at company tables, spread over a floor as large as the field of the Yale Bowl.

Then, there would be no football team until next September, nor any heroic football figures, either, for the hero-men of the varsity squads shrink suddenly back to normal dimensions the moment the crowds begin to shuffle out of the stadium after the last game.

So swift and radical a change would smack of ignominy in an aristocracy but I find that football players as a class are democratic. And West Point is the almost perfect democracy, where no man has pocket money, where all clothes are cut from the same bolt to the same pattern and a cadet with a heritage of $2,000,000 had to forego his Christmas leave a year ago because he had not saved enough money from his government pay to provide him an allowance of $7.50 a day while he would have been absent.

It is a democracy of aristocrats, if you insist, for they are taught to be most superior; taught to command; taught contempt for politicians; tolerance for civilians and a slightly condescending respect for the Navy.

Tomorrow morning, Bud Sprague, captain of the 1928 football team, whose name had

Solon Proposes Permanent Committee For Crime Probe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Hunt (D-Wyo) said today he may support a proposal to set up a permanent Senate crime investigating group to continue work of a special committee which closes up shop this week.

Hunt is a member of both the special crime investigating committee, now expiring, as well as the Commerce committee, which may take over its unfinished work.

Some Senators said Hunt might head the continuing group, if one is established.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis), a member of the present committee, has asked Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) of the Commerce committee to take over the files, unfinished probes and responsibilities of the special committee.

"The crusade against crime has only begun — it cannot be allowed to die," Wiley told Johnson in a letter.

Johnson told reporters Wiley's proposal would be considered by the Commerce committee.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC), meanwhile, urged Congress to enact a flat ban on interstate transmission of information usable in gambling.

The commission proposed criminal penalties for violators.

The plea was made in a letter to Senator Johnson in which the FCC renewed its objections to a pending proposal for a system of licenses for transmitting data which might be used by gamblers.

That measure includes exemptions for general circulation newspapers and regular broadcasters.

FCC Chairman Wayne Coy told Johnson his agency still backs the general approach made in a bill which got committee approval in 1950. The bill included a prohibition against trans-

Inflation Stopped By Winona Farmer

WINONA, Minn. — (AP) — A local businessman had to make a rural trip after a recent heavy rain. He splashed through several puddles, then came to a lake caused by an overflowing river. He knew the road across the flatlands well, so kept going.

Half way across his motor stalled. Water flowed in over the car door. He sounded the horn until the battery died, but he was in sight. He got up on the back of the seat and the water rose above his ankles on the cushion. Finally a farmer with a high-wheeled tractor came along and towed him out, standing in water up to his armpits to hook a chain on the car.

"How much do I owe you?" asked the motorist on dry ground. "Oh, make it about a dollar," said the farmer.

sure to find trouble. It was getting too raw.

Two more tables passed through uproar to comparative calm and a fourth was storming when someone far off raised a cry of "Fore!" "Fore!" It passed along the rows of tables with a warning significance and the mass untangled. Cadets flew to their chairs as a tall cadet came down the aisle and made for them.

It was the first captain, the highest cadet officer in the corps, Bruce Rindlaub, of North Dakota, a National Guard appointee. He went from man to man asking questions. The gentlemen at the other tables set up a boogie.

I couldn't hear what was said but the next morning word was passed that a cadet at that table had lost his Christmas leave. The first captain could not have seen him, for the disorder was over before he reached the table, so I assumed that some young man couldn't answer "All Right" when Rindlaub confronted him.

by have been unafraid of state and local probes," Wiley suggested three "assignments" for any permanent crime study group.

He urged probes of (1) the "incredibly odorous" situation along the New York-New Jersey waterfront; (2) "the current gangster effort being made to invade the teamster unions in Chicago"; and (3) "interstate angles of crime" in the Washington area, including big profits in "numbers operations."
