"Come Unto Me, All Ye That Labor And Are Heavy Laden And I Will Give You Rest." That is an invitation; that is a promise. Rest for the toilers...what a boon that is! Some of us scarcely expected rest until we get to Heaven, but "Home We Go." It is the charm of Jesus that He gave to men in toil the assurance and the fellowship that lifted the uncommon and the ordinary into the precious. In His company men found slory and great living. They toiled as did their fellows but found renewed strength for the task. The difference was not with the road but with the company. Your task may be heavy and your toil all too trying, but if you know where you are coming out...that makes a difference. You may be weary with the day-in and day-out responsibility, but if good company is added...that makes a difference. molding religious character. Statesmen loday declare

God glorified work...we are workers together with God. To know that one's work really counts is to find new joy in the task. The men who toiled with the Carpenter of Nazareth, found their labor "was not in vain in the Lord." Now our nation declares a holiday in honor of our working men. May our acts, as we pause for rest, be honorable, may our respite be earned. As we turn our backs on our plow for a day may we find rest of soul, joy of heart and refreshment of spirit for tomorrow as "Home We Go."

Come, Thou Fount of Every Blessing

A drunken fortune-teller sets a youth to thinking

Young Robert Robinson poured the gypsy for-tuneteller another drink and set back to watch the fun. The boy's widowed mother had sent him to London when he was 14 to learn the barber trade under Joseph Anderson. But he cared little for the trade and when Anderson wasn't reprimanding him for acts of mischief he was bawling him out for spending his time reading books. Now it was 1754. Robinson had served his five years and Anderson was relieved of his ward.

and Anderson was relieved of his ward.

Suddenly realizing that he had to earn his own living, 19-year-old Robinson went to a fortuneteller for advice—and fun. But when the gypsy looked groggily into the crystal ball she came up with a bit of intelligence that set her mischief-loving customer to thinking. Said she, "You will live to see your grandchildren."

Robert Robinson realized for the first time that he must die eventually. This and the thought that his grandchildren might regard his life as useless haunted him for months. Then, in December 1754, he stopped at an open air meeting to hear John

Armed only with his barbershop book learning, Robert Robinson started preaching as a Methodist, changed to the Independents and switched to the Baptists. Pastor of a small church at Cambridge, England, the self-made minister became one of the empire's most forceful writers and preachers. On June 9, 1790, when he was 54 years old, he went to Birmingham to fill the pulpit of Dr. Priestly. The following morning Priestly knocked old, he went to Birmingham to fill the pushed of St.

A part of his let-

Taxpayers Alliance to place parochial schools back property tax rolls in California. The Alliance...made quite a play about its endorsers among church groups. Among them is the name the Northern California and Western Nevada Council of hurches. What possible legitimate interest people in Nevada could have in recommending who or what we should tap in California to raise revenue here I don't see. Yet it seems that this group, partly from Nevada, wants to tell us who to tax in California, If they have ever had the experience of taxing parochial schools in Nevada they must surely have discovered that, of all schemes for raising public revenue, that one hits the There isn't a dime of revbottom. enue to be derived from it.

"Running expenses of such schools are derived from tuition fees, scholarships and other gift church collections. They don't have much money to spare. Teachers work for relatively low pay as compared to the salaries paid public school teachers. But they do an excellent job;

"Every child in a parochial (or rivate) school is ONE LESS SCHOOL TAX LIABILITY with no loss in school tax revenue. parent not only pays the child's tuition but also his share in the of the public school from which his child derives no direct benefit.

Suppose we levy a property tax on the church school. must pay it out of its operating One of two things must happen and the result of either is the same. The church school must cut enrollments to match its tax-curtailed budget, OR it must raise tuition rates, thus discouraging poorer families from sending their children to the church school. Back to the PUBLIC SCHOOL they come and we must dig up more taxes to provide for them.

"How much do we gain? Tax a million dollars away from the parochial schools and they will have to unload a million or more worth of children on the public schools for which we must dig up two or three million in extra taxes to provide for them. This is due to the higher teacher pay in public schools, higher cost building and higher operating costs. In short, it would cost us 2 or 3 million to collect one million in parochial school property

"We don't know how well off we are with them off the tax rolls. Personally. I'm glad the legislature finally found out that we CAN'T AFFORD to tax them.

PRESBYTERIAN Mr. Phillips has hit on a vital point of economics, it seems to me. Lest it be inferred that he is a propagandist for Catholic parochial schools (which some sponsors ed out as their major target), the and an extremely independent-minded individual. He comes from old Scotch Presbyterian stock and you can easily detect the Scotch in him in this argument to save money-not only his own but other
