Stunt Plane Kills 17

FLAGLER, Colo.—(AP)—A stunt plane flipped into a crowd at an air show Saturday and 17 dead—at least nine of them children—were counted and identified.

The Flagler hospital listed the 17 dead and reported that there were 15 injured here and others in hospitals of surrounding communities. The total of the injured was estimated to be at least 20.

Bob Rohder of The Flagler News said the plane hit at 2:40 p. m. (Mountain Standard Time) after faltering in a wingover close to the ground. It sheered into cars and spectators and disintegrated. Parts of the plane sheared through the screaming, closely-packed spectators.

Ambulances from Burlington, Colo., and Goodland, Kas., took the injured to the hospital here and to the Burlington hospital.

Officials estimated that 1000 persons were assembled for the air show in this town of 700 population. It is 176 miles east of Denver on U. S. 24.

One of the dead was the plane pilot, identified as Lt. Norman L. Jones, stationed at Lowry Air Force base at Denver.

Lorton said Vardas told him he saw the single-engine plane swooped in over the field at a low altitude and did a wingover just above the crowd. Upside down, the plane fell earthward from an altitude of less than 100 feet, Barker said.

The craft plowed through a phalanx of spectators and automobiles, then smashed into an ambulance.

Shrieks of the injured and the screams of parents seeking their children added nightmarish touches.

Farmers in pickup trucks helped to take injured to the Flagler hospital until ambulances could be summoned from nearby towns.

BANKER JAILED—William Smeltzer, 60, assistant cashier of the First National Bank at New Kensington, Pa., was accused by the FBI of making false entries in his books to embezzle funds from the bank. The FBI said he had signed a statement admitting thefts which a bank officer said totaled about $550,000. (AP Wirephoto)

Winter Hits As Mercury Takes A Dive

Winter's first blast hit Pampa about 2 p. m. Saturday with an early fall north-easter. Mercuries dropped 17 degrees within two hours from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m.

At 1 p. m. the temperature was 67 and by late afternoon 49 degrees was the reading.

Lower temperatures have been recorded here before Saturday, but the cooler weather was not accompanied by wind and fine cold mist as was yesterday's squall. Last Thursday morning, the mercury slid to 45 degrees.

It was still hot this time last year in Pampa. Temperatures went to 45 degrees on Sept. 11, but went quickly back up to the lower 70's.

Not until Sept. 21 did the mercury drop — and then only to the 50's.

The fast-moving cold front tumbled temperatures in other Panhandle cities and kept going southwestward on 25 mile-per-hour winds according to the Associated Press.

At 3 p. m. Borger had a temperature of 52 degrees — a drop of 20 degrees in two hours. The Dumas weatherman estimated Dumas' temperature was in the high 40's at that time.

At 4:30 p. m. the cold front had passed Childress and Lubbock. Behind it, Amarillo had a temperature of 48 degrees and north, northeast winds 27 miles an hour. Childress had north, northeast winds 28 miles an hour and a 50-degree temperature. Lubbock had north winds 24 miles an hour and a 52-degree temperature.

By 4 a. m. Sunday the front was expected to be well into Texas as far as a line from Texarkana through Dallas, San Antonio, and Marfa to El Paso.

By Sunday all of West Texas except the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area and the north and central portions of East Texas were expected to get it.

Maximum temperatures ahead of the front were generally in the middle 80's Saturday. Skies were clear to partly cloudy except in South Texas, where cloudbursts and heavy rains dumped floodwaters at Kingsville and Weslaco.

Returns Indictments Against Six Others

City Patrolman G. W. "Wash" Callahan was absolved of any blame in the June 27 slaying of Jeff Smiley in The Flats when the Gray County 31st District court grand jury late Friday returned a no true bill on the policeman.

At the same time the jury returned an indictment of murder with malice aforethought on Willie Derrett in the fatal stabbing of Ella Mae Harris near midnight of July 11 along with six other indictments and two other no true bills.

The jury deliberated more than a day and a half, hearing at least a dozen witnesses before returning its findings that cleared the policeman.

Although grand jurors were sworn to secrecy as is customary with such bodies — the investigation apparently showed there was insufficient evidence to warrant a trial of Callahan on murder charges. Callahan never had officially been charged in the killing.

Derrett, who was charged with murder, has been held in the Gray County jail since the night of the stabbing. The Harris woman was stabbed July 11.

Also indicted were:

T. L. Allen in the forgery of $48.15 check on the Cowan Construction Co. on Aug. 3, 1951.

Billy Gene Webb in the June 21 forgery of a check for $12.90 on E. M. Williams.

Albert Louis Robertson and Jim Robt. Drennan in the Aug. 8 burglary of the Jack of Values Service station when $97.27 was taken.

Released from the county jail after the jury no billed them, Roland G. Carter and J. D. Bybee were free men today and cleared of charges of the and forgery respectively. Carter was charged with taking a .22 rifle from Carl Carter, Laketon, on July 31. Bybee was charged with forging a check for $10 on L. E. Farano, Dalhart, construction foreman in August.

Two other men, indicted on forgery charges, were still at large Friday. Their names were withheld until officers are able to apprehend them.

Guill To Lead Fund Study

Former Congressman Ben Guill Saturday named chairman of a special committee which will study the possible establishment of a unified fund raising campaign in Pampa.

The organization, if established, would finance all youth and welfare organizations here and in other Texas cities concerning Community Chest plans.

The committee will study in detail the survey made here and especially consider the fund-raising plan used in Houston, known as the United Fund drive.

The board of directors has gone on record as approving one major drive and have authorized Guill and his committee to decide whether or not such an organization should be perfected here.

If it is the decision of the special committee to set up one major youth and welfare drive a year, they will likely follow through on the necessary details of organization.

Committee members are Mrs. Lillian Jordan, C. A. Huff, Hugh Burnett, A. A. Schuman, Floyd Imel, Douglas Nelson, Joe Key, Jake Garman, Farris Oden, Billy Davis, Leslie Hart, George Scott, Ralph Juillard, Sherman White, Roy Taylor, Junior Teague, Mrs. Gladys Howard, Johnny Frick, W. M. Coulson, Gene Fatheree, Ray Evans, J. C. Daniels and Albert Doucette.

Aubrey Jones, temporary chairman of the fact-finding committee, was named vice-chairman.

Accused Bandit Vows Vengeance

HOUSTON—(AP)—Pete Vardas, accused of robbing a Boyd, Texas, bank, Saturday vowed vengeance to "the stool pigeon who caused" his arrest.

"If I had it to do all over, knowing the circumstances, I would still do it again just to show Fort Worth that stealing a car is cheap and I do big things," the 19-year-old suspect said.

Vardas was captured Friday an hour after he arrived in Houston.

The youth was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ralph Fowler Saturday where he waived hearing. Bond was set at $25,000.

Vardas is accused of entering the Continental Bank of Boyd last Tuesday and fleeing with $12,250 in a car driven by an alleged accomplice, Carl William Powers. Powers is being held under $2,500 bond in Lubbock.

"The police are no smarter than their stool pigeons," Vardas said. "And I know who stool on me. I hope I live long enough to avenge my capture."

Vardas said he had been blamed for a lot of things by Fort Worth police.

"I got a two year suspended sentence for a car theft it hardly knew about," he said, "and I'm out on bond right now for a second car theft and I don't know a thing about it. If anyone is the cause of this, it is the police of Fort Worth."

A. F. Lorton, FBI agent, said Vardas made an oral confession to the bank robbery.

Lorton said Vardas told him and Sheriff Kern that he had planned the robbery for weeks and asked Powers to help him. Vardas told officers the two men stole a car in Fort Worth Tuesday and drove to Boyd where they "cased the bank."

Officers said Vardas told them he robbed the bank while Powers waited in the car.

Lorton declined to say how the FBI tied Vardas and Powers with the robbery.

Senators To Tackle Tideland

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senator committee will tackle next Tuesday a House-passed bill which would give states title to oil-rich offshore submerged lands.

Lorton said Vardas told him and Sheriff Kern that he had planned the robbery for weeks and asked Powers to help him. Vardas told officers the two men stole a car in Fort Worth Tuesday and drove to Boyd where they "cased the bank."

Young Men Held As Sparks Safe Robbery Probed

A group of young men were still being held in jail Saturday for further questioning on the Neal Sparks safe robbery. No details in the case could be made public at this time, officials said.

The safe was taken from the local cleaning establishment Monday. Indications were that the burglar, or burglars, entered the front door and removed the safe through the back door where it was loaded in a car.

The safe was discovered, minus $75 cash, on a road leading to the T. C. Ellington farm near here.

Judge Approves Plaintiff Award

An agreed judgement, awarding Donald A. Brown, minor son of Sgt. Davis M. Brown, $1000 for injuries he received when struck by a rail on N. Cuyler, was approved Friday by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District court.

The youngster suffered injuries to his left arm on Aug. 11, when he was hit while crossing N. Cuyler by a car owned by Paul Bill Corons and driven by Paul Corons.

Only testimony to be offered in court was given by Sgt. Brown in direct examination. Attorneys for Corons declined to cross-examine the father.

Theater Co. Asks Change Of Venue In Eviction Suit

Attorneys for the Griffith Theaters last week filed a motion and bond in justice court here to remove the eviction suit, brought against them by H. A. Gilliland, from the state courts to the federal district court in Amarillo.

Gilliland brought the eviction suit against the corporation, alleging that it committed several breaches in the lease contract on the La Nora theater. The suit was filed in Justice of the Peace John V. Andrews' court.

A hearing on the motion to move the case will have to be heard here before the trial can be moved.

Child Of Pampa Woman Killed In New Mexico Auto Accident

A local woman was notified this morning that her two-year-old son was killed in an automobile accident near Tucumcari.

Maxine Justice, an employee at Levine's Dept. store, collapsed when notified of the tragedy. She left immediately for Tucumcari with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Audie Lee, 404 S. Gray, with whom she has been living.

The accident occurred about 29 miles west of Tucumcari. Her former husband, 29, of Los Alamos; mother-in-law; and two children, two and four, were in the car when it overturned after failing to make a turn on Hwy. 66. The occupants were thrown from the vehicle.

Justice and his mother were taken to a Tucumcari hospital. Both are believed to have received internal and back injuries. The four-year-old son, who recently suffered a broken leg, escaped injury.

Shapely Actress Pays Call On Beaten Actor Despite Orders

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Shapely Barbara Payton climbed a fire escape and pushed her way into Franchot Tone's hospital room Saturday in defiance of orders from the actor's physician.

The blonde for whom Tone took a severe beating from muscular Tom Neal spent two hours in the room. For part of the time Tone's special nurse allowed her to visit him alone.

Accompanied by a friend, Jerry Bialac, Miss Payton also left Tone's second-floor room at California hospital via the fire escape.

Meanwhile, detectives and reporters fumed in the corridor. They were abiding by the edict of Dr. Lee E. Siegel that Tone wasn't ready for visitors yet.

The first version giving Tone's side of the Friday morning fracas came late Saturday from one of his attorneys, Kenneth N. Chantry. He also got in to see the actor briefly.

"We went outside to discuss our problems," Chantry quoted Tone as saying. "When my face was turned, Neal jumped me. I can remember putting up my hands to defend myself."

Neal contends Tone invited him outside and swung the first blow.

Arriving home from the hospital, Miss Payton told reporters who asked if she had also seen Neal.

"No, I haven't and I don't intend to."

Then she stamped into the house and left Bialac to announce that "Miss Payton plans to issue a statement today—she has had orders from her studio not to talk."

During Miss Payton's hospital remove here, Dr. Siegel said, "there's nothing I can do about it if Tone wants her in there. But he shouldn't have that sort of excitement."

There was no indication of what Tone and Miss Payton were talking about.

Newsmen at the hospital were unable to see Miss Payton's eyes because she was wearing glasses. But those who saw her at her home later agreed that if she had a black eye, she had done a neat job of concealing it with paint and powder.

Hundreds Of Families Flee Flooded South Texas Homes

KINGSVILLE—(AP)—Hundreds of families fled their flooded homes in Kingsville and Weslaco Saturday.

An 11-inch cloudburst at Weslaco, backed up by clogged drainage ditches spread out over 60 city blocks.

Tranquitas creek at Kingsville, fed by two days of torrential rains, swirled into six to eight hundred homes — three to four feet deep in most houses, six feet deep in some.

Kingsville is a city of some 15,000 population in South Texas, 44 miles southwest of Corpus Christi. Weslaco is 100 miles south of Kingsville in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Kingsville Police Chief Jack West said flood damage there already was "up in the millions."

He said police boats had evacuated more than 200 families from their flooded homes. One hundred families were housed at the Kieberg school there.

West said water was flowing ten miles an hour and three feet deep through the sewage disposal plant, but so far no backwaters had developed to break down the sewage system. Kingsville ran out of sandbags, and more were flown in.

guards evacuated marooned families to community welfare centers and to the St. Joan of Arc Catholic school.

No deaths or injuries were reported but widespread suffering was certain among low-income Latin American families whose flimsy homes were worst hit.

Many of Weslaco's 21,000 citizens are of Mexican descent.

The 11-inch deluge began about 9:30 p. m. (CST) Friday night and continued without let-up until about 10 a. m. Saturday. Weslaco has no creek to carry off the water, and drainage ditches, long dry because of the historic summer drought were clogged with underbrush.

At Driscoll, flood waters receded Saturday but were incrementally expected to rise again with arrival of a new crest of San Diego creek. Driscoll is down-river from Alice, where 15

President Seeks Treaty Ratification

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman may prod the Senate this week for speedy action of Japanese peace treaty.

The President's decision to seek early ratification — reported by an administration — apparently overrules a State department willingness to delay a vote until early next year.

It also would upset congressional leaders' plans for an early October adjournment.

Learning Nation's Habits Takes Time, Pampan Finds

A person can't discover in a day or a week what people of other nations are like," Joe Gribbon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Gribbon, 1217 Mary Ellen, said.

And he should know. Gribbon recently returned home for a vacation from Caracas, Venezuela, where he is employed by the Texas Co. as an accountant. He said the people and their customs are similar to those in the United States, but that it takes some time living among the people to discover what makes them act the way they do.

He believes if all nations understood customs and backgrounds of one another, a better understanding and friendlier relations would be established.

Gribbon has been in South America about 28 months. He previously was employed by the Texas Co. in Houston, and is a graduate of Pampa High school. Nothing is outstanding in Venezuela, Gribbon explained. Instead, all phases of living and customs seem to be equally blended to form a friendly and interesting country. Venezuela is now under military rule, but seems to be satisfactory, he added.

One thing Gribbon notices there is the high cost of living. This is because the country is not an industrial nation and must import most of its goods. However, he believes it now is beginning to produce more of its own materials, and sees unlimited opportunities for development. He remarked the country is now striving for social equality with the United States.

Caracas, capital city of Venezuela, is about 700,000 in population and has, during the last 10 years had a great influx of people. It is bordered by Brazil, British Guiana and Colombia. The Caribbean Sea is 10 miles from the capital city. Because of this, breezes coming inland give an average temperature of 70 degrees.

For Americans there, income taxes are not high since they are not considered resident citizens of the United States. They are required to pay Venezuelan tax, however, but it is much lower than taxes here.

Gribbon explained that in Java, the situation is different. There, he said, taxes are much higher than in the United States. To keep Americans there, companies pay any amount above what an American would pay.

Nearly Cost Me MY JOB!

... until I discovered this New Electronic Way to Hear

Nothing can ruin a man's business chances more surely than loss of hearing. But I stubbornly fought the idea of wearing a hearing aid. I rebelled against that unsightly "button in the ear" and clumpy battery packs.

Then a little booklet fell into my hands. It told about a new electronic way to hear. Thanks to a transparent, almost invisible device, NO BUTTON SHOWS IN MY EAR! Today I can hear clearly again. I can again hold my own with anyone—in business or anywhere else! If you are hard of hearing, come in, phone or send for the visible FREE book on the new electronic way to hear.

TERRACING IN GRAY COUNTY is gaining in popularity. Pictured above is a terrace on the Osborne estate, supervised by James Patrick, former work-unit conservationist in Panhandle. It is a diversion-type terrace and will be planted in wheat. The terrace is 80 feet from one side to the other and a combine can run over any part of the terrace. (News Photo)

Terracing Becoming Popular Soil Conservation Measure

One farmer in Gray county recently said, "I don't like to farm terraces, but I'd rather farm those than ditches." It's that consensus that is leading more and more farmers of this area to accept terracing for soil and water conservation.

Among the farmers here who are sold on terraces after the heavy spring rains are Bill Jarvis and Carl Smith. Jarvis contends his terrace was worth a $1000 during the rains, and Smith says about 160 acres would have been ruined but for the terraces.

In many places in the county the rains washed top soil down to where the disc marks of the plow could be seen.

Too long in this country the importance of conserving soil and water was overlooked, and the continual loss of fertile topsoil by erosion made large areas useless. It's realized now that soil-conserving practices on erodible slopes must be practiced before a permanently successful type of agriculture can be established.

Terraces, though comparatively new in this area, are as old as agriculture itself. About 4000 years ago the Incas used terraces on their steep hillside. Natives in the Philippines began the present practice of terracing rice paddies and late in the 18th Century early American farmers began using ditches and furrows across slopes, an idea borrowed from early immigrants from Europe.

Farmers of this area have thought the heavy machinery, such as one-way plows and combines, were not adapted to terraces, but recently after having to cave in ditches before they could farm, farmers have started terracing the land.

The land here has been broken since and during World War I and some improper farming methods through the years have made terracing necessary now.

When plowing a terrace with a one-way plow it creates a lot of turning, but one advantage is if a farmer desires to farm on the contour of the land, he can terrace the contour is already there.

Terraces do more harm than good if improper terraces are applied without thought of existing conditions. They must be planned and constructed with care.

Experts divide terraces into types: absorptive and drainage. Under those are listed the channel, ridge and diversion type terraces.

Among the most important advantages in terracing is that it keeps ditches off the land and holds water on the ground until it has time to soak up.

In terracing, farmers agree, the water "walks" off the land instead of "running" off.

Nurse Serves Area Schools

McLean, Alanreed, Hopkins and Grandview schools have a new school nurse, Mrs. W. F. Walsh, 1216 Williston, who serves all four county schools.

Mrs. Walsh is a graduate of West Texas School of Nursing in Amarillo and has done institutional work in Pampa, Borger, Amarillo and Dumas. This is the first time she has worked in public health.

Health instruction will be given in classrooms of each school. Mrs. Walsh added that is a "prevention program" teaching good health habits.

The nurse will visit each school from one to three times weekly and will work with individual students when necessary. Pampa is the only school in the county that has no school nurse, according to B. B. Nichols, county superintendent. Mrs. Margaret Dial is the Lefors school nurse.

Part of her salary will be paid by the state and the rest by the schools she serves.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds.
"I was really happy and surprised with the results obtained taking Barcetrane," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 214 Burdett St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 10 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds.
Mrs. D. C. Baker, Box 31, Bryson, Texas, writes us as follows: "I weighed 215 pounds when I commenced to take Barcetrane. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to continue taking it until I am down to 150 pounds. I have several of my friends taking Barcetrane and they are losing weight also."

Price Control is A Fake
Remedy For Inflation
I am continuing to quote from a speech made by Congressman Howard Buffett of Nebraska before Congress.

Moral: Don't Accept The Ride
Reg Manning, News editorial cartoonist, has caught the truth of government subsidies in his cartoon appearing on this page today.
As the drawing pictorially points out, first of all, "girls" who accept a ride didn't have to get in the car. But if she does, as "The States" is doing, she must learn that unless she wants to accept the advances of "Bureaucratic Dictation" she will have to get out and walk.

"Money paid into Social Security fund by employer and employee is being used to peddle the welfare state brand of socialized medicine."
"Money contributed by the physicians of the nation is being used to peddle the AMA brand of political medicine."
"Money from the manufacturers and distributors of food and drugs is being used to 'win friends and influence approval' on both sides because the drugs-for-lease or local government 'pick-up' does the federal government want its way with control of the states."

"I can give the gentleman the exact figure in one area on this picture. In 1950 alone the loss of buying power by savings bondholders was $3,600,000,000."
"Compare that figure with the loss to bank depositors of $1,900,000,000 in the whole 13 years ending in 1933."
"Look at the record in this country in the last 10 years. You will find that the people who understand inflation have been buying farms, real estate, tangible property, while the simple, trusting souls were buying annuities and pensions and putting their money in savings banks in response to governmental appeals."

FAIR ENOUGH--PEGLER
By WESTBROOK PEGLER
NEW YORK (AP)—As if nothing were sacred in this awful age when the slimy fangs of evil stalk the dear ideals of Western civilization, Wendell Corey, a moving picture actor, has complained at the ballots of the judges in the Mrs. Archer case at Asbury Park were impure and that the property counted in an ugly word, one of those things.
Corey was a judge himself. So now, this fine American institution that would seem to have been reduced to the level of an election in Kansas City or an examination at West Point.

LOOKING SIDWAYS
By WHITNEY BOLTON
NATCHEZ, Miss.—It was cold in the Dallas room. The best air conditioner I ever looked in the eye was filling the room with refrigerated air. I was alone, luxuriating in this mechanical chill, when there was a knock on the door. I hurried to open it, because it was 10:00 outside, and on a partial opening would mar that delicious sense of living at the bottom of a home freezer. But I opened it. And I met Eddie Franca.
Now don't start telling me that the Franca family died out soon after Franca's Tavern was closed in New York. For all I know, he isn't a descendant of it. He didn't claim to be and I didn't ask him. All I did was ask a weary, 80-year-old man to come into the icy glow of the suite and rest himself.

L. P. Fort "whittles" away on a piece of marble, starting a new design for one of his creations. In the left corner may be seen a part of his antique ebony table for which he is planning to make a top out of marble. On the table are a number of objects which he has carved. Standing in the back in the left corner is a table top he has finished. (News Photo)

Pampa Man Does Difficult Work In Carving Marble

By GEORGIA BEHRMAN

L. P. Fort, 129 S. Faulkner, is not one for whittling on an old piece of wood. He goes in for the nearest thing to sculpturing—that is, he carves marble pieces into useful objects. His biggest project for the moment is making a marble top to fit an antique ebony table that was given to him—"just to get rid of it." But Fort saw the worth of the elaborately carved piece of black furniture, the top of which is scarred pretty badly. The table is round and Fort plans to use an Italian marble for the top, probably white with a black vein. Fort has made several table tops, one with an inlay design in gold, sienna and rose onyx. Making up the design on the white Italian marble, are small blocks of marble set in the quarter-inch trench about two inches wide around the sides. The table top is square. The trenches are carved out of the slab of marble, much like the carving done on a small piece of marble. An air hammer is used with different points for the various designs. Chisels and other cutting equipment are also used.

For making a rounded edge on a piece of marble, Fort uses a rough abrasive or stone for "sanding" the marble into shape. As the marble takes shape, a less rough abrasive is used. Polishing is done with a cloth dampened with oxalic acid. On large flat tops, tenoxide or sulphur is used. Working with marble is not new to Fort, who is manager of the local Texas Employment commission office. For six years, he had his own monument business in Dallas. He obtained marble from Vermont. Now, he works with scraps of marble that come from buildings in town. He assisted in placing the marble in the foyer of the Hughes building and while in Dallas, he was instrumental in the marble work in Hillcrest mausoleum, once a home and now a museum.

Other objects included in his hobby are ash trays, paper weights, bookends, and decorative pieces. Marbles used in most of these pieces are Laredo Chiro, Mexican onyx, grey sienna, rosetta pink, French and Italian and other foreign marbles and grand antique. Fort blends some of these varieties, placing them together with a marble cement. If a break appears in marble, the

State Official Praises Miami's

MIAMI (Special) — The Miami Volunteer Fire Dept. was commended this week in a letter to Fire Chief Ed Haynes, from Olin Culberson, secretary of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Assn., on the excellent record of the premiums and losses in the city since records have been kept—1918.

"It is a most wonderful record," Culberson wrote, "and I am sure your citizens will be justly proud and appreciative of what has been done by the department. This statement shows what a tremendous business investment the fire department is to your city."

Fire losses for the period amount to $22,710, while property owners carrying insurance have paid $117,279.75 in premiums. This gives Miami residents a 25 percent credit on premiums when paying insurance on property.

Heaviest loss sustained in any one year was $2545 in 1927. Another heavy loss was $4968.70 in 1933. In 11 of the 34 years, there were no losses at all with 1950 being the last year with a perfect record. So far this year, losses have amounted to only $69.

Both victims underwent surgery Monday.

Pampa Youth Tells Of The War As He Sees It

A Pampa youth who wanted to know what war "is all about" is in the Korean fighting, but he still doesn't know what's going on.

Don Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grundy Morrison, 1221 Mary Ellen, has written home that they "don't know where they are" or "how they're doing."

His parents have sent him a map of Korea showing the rivers and mountains so he will know where he is.

The local boy reports living conditions satisfactory in his group — food is fixed fresh every day and they have tents for living quarters.

One of the most uncomfortable aspects of the war is the constant rain. The Pampa soldier says the mud gets so deep it is difficult to lift one foot up out of it.

The weather is continually damp, so damp in fact, enveloping powder pits, parapets, fox holes and ammunition pits. Actually, he was behind the shovel all the time, but when the "dig in" calls came, those fox holes were never deep enough!

Young Morrison was, on Aug. 21, in a stationary position three miles south of Yonchon. He's in the artillery, three or four thousand feet behind the infantry.

But still he's wondering what's going on in the war.

In a recent letter to his parents, he said, "The soldiers seem less informed than the folks back home. We got word the peace talks stopped. We heard bombing that night and afterwards figured it was Kaesong."

On Aug. 23, Morrison was located 30 miles northeast of there.

His parents have sent him a map of Korea showing the rivers and mountains so he will know where he is.

Hemphill County Adopts Big Budget

CANADIAN — (Special) — Hemphill County Commissioners court has adopted the biggest budget in the county's history for the coming year.

With an estimated income of 27,185, also the largest in its history, the total estimated expenditures will be $96,466.

In the budget are 10 salaries to seven county employees totaling $170 per month. The increases go to two sheriff's deputies and five road maintenance employees. The increases range from $15 to $30 per month.

Also included in the budget is $5000 to be repaid on the amount borrowed from the Hemphill County Taxpayers Assn. when he April audit disclosed a deficit in the county's finances.

The Taxpayers Assn. raised a "rescue fund" of $40,000 in the form of interest free loans on which the county could operate until the end of October when the new tax year begins.

Due in part to some financial belt tightening, and in part to the fact that more than $2000 in delinquent taxes have been collected in the last few weeks by County Atty. William J. Jackson, demands on the taxpayers' funds have been lighter than anticipated.

A transfer of several thousand dollars surplus from the county jury fund to the general fund was authorized at the meeting, held September 10.

Careless Playing Aids Opponents

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East was dealt so many low cards in today's hand that he gave up hope. He was sure the opponents would get to a game — perhaps a slam, and he wasn't really surprised when they eventually bid six spades. Instead of looking for a chance to set the contract, East played listlessly and carelessly. One slip was enough to let South make the contract.

West opened the king of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer hopefully tried two rounds of trumps, since the slam would be unbeatable if all the trumps could be drawn in two was obviously short in diamonds. This all flashed through declarer's mind very quickly. Without stopping for breath, he continued with four more rounds of trumps. On one of these East casually threw a low diamond from his "worthless" five card holding. That set up South's last diamond and assured the slam contract.

East's play was very ill-advised, to be sure. The bidding should have told him that his diamonds were more precious than gold or silver. It was clear that West and dummy had the clubs between them and that West and East had complete control of the hearts.

If South had nothing much in hearts and nothing much in clubs, why had he bid so vigorously? Obviously, he had a spade-diamond two-suit. Equally obvious, the defender who held diamonds had to keep them no matter what else he parted with.

GOING DOWN — James Pritchard, Harvesters reserve right halfback, is brought down after a good gain late in the Harvesters' 40-12 victory over the Sweetwater Mustangs Friday night. Making the tackle is Mark Bishop and coming up to aid is Art Oliver, No. 68. (News Photo)

Green Mustang 11 No Opposition For Charging Pampans

The Pampa Harvesters opened their 1951 football season Friday night with a lopsided, 40-12 victory over a green and inexperienced Sweetwater Mustang football team. Head coach Tom Tipps sent every man from the squad into the game, and the perplexed visitors from district 3A-1 couldn't put a halt to the scoring as the Green and Gold scored in every quarter.

The Harvesters scored with ease, long runs and a pair of intercepted aeriels giving them quick tallies that completely upset the Mustangs and broke their defenses wide open.

Senior halfback Billy Davis and sophomore back Ed Dudley paced the scoring with a pair of touchdowns apiece. Davis opened it with a 22-yard romp around right end midway through the first quarter, running hard through a couple of would-be tacklers to pay dirt. Dudley's attempted conversion was also set up and scored the second touchdown a few minutes later when he flopped on a Sweetwater fumble on the Pampa 35. The first play he raced 30 yards on an end sweep to the 5. Darrel Wilson tried the center of the line for and then Davis hit the middle for the final three and the score. Dudley's conversion was good and Pampa held a 13-0 lead at the end of the first period.

On the first play in the second quarter, Dudley intercepted a pass from the visitors 33 and went all the way back for his first touchdown. Dudley converted and the Harvesters led 27-0 at halftime.

The Mustangs struck for the first time early in the third period when James Butler, right halfback, threaded his way through the Harvesters line for 25 yards to score, the conversion failing.

But the Harvesters struck right back four plays later. And it was Dudley, playing left halfback, who scored 33 yards over his right guard with some good blocking and broken field running for the touchdown. He again converted and Pampa led 34-6.

The visitors scored their final touchdown late in the third period when Joe Peagan, right halfback, with a 7-yard pass to climax a 76-yard drive. The conversion was wide.

The Harvesters scored their final touchdown early in the fourth quarter when David Emery, reserve fullback, stepped in front of a pass intended for Bishop, hauled it down, and raced 33 yards down the west sideline to score. The conversion was low and wide and the final score read 40-12.

The only real threat the visitors offered was in the passing of young Joe Peagan, whose aeriels connected 17 times against the weak Pampa pass defense for a net gain of 197 yards. The Harvesters ground out a total of 306 net yards on the ground. The Pampa line looked weak at times, offering no protection for the passer or the kicker on various occasions. On the other hand, the line was strong defensively, holding the Mustangs to a net of 71 yards rushing and averting recovering three Mustang fumbles.

Next Friday night the Harvesters play host to the Austin of El Paso gridder. Austin is the perennial victor in its district, and will be playing its opening game of the season here, add 6 pt. statistics.

Tigers Claw Buffs In Opener 19-7 As 4000 Shiver In Rain

AMARILLO — The West Texas State 42-yard-line was the magic spot here Saturday night for the Trinity University Tigers as they downed the defending Border Conference champions, West Texas State, 19-7.

All three of the Tiger touchdowns were initiated from the 42-yard-line. All three being 58 yards runs. A crowd of approximately 4000 weathered cold and rain to witness the Buffaloes opening game of the season.

The Buffs opened the scoring with a minute and a half to play in the first quarter. Joe Ogden, Lefors speedster, went 57 yards over center for the touchdown. John Pender converted.

Early in the second quarter, Dalton Klausse went 58 yards for the first Tiger score and Don O'Regan converted. With two minutes left to play in the first half, Klausse again took over from the 42-yard line and went all the way on an identical play. The conversion was partially blocked and the half-time score was Trinity 13 and West Texas State 7.

The final touchdown came with but seconds left to play in the third period. Andy Kalmanir took a West Texas punt on the Buffs 42-yard line and, behind beautiful

Tigers Blast Yankees, 7-4

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers tossed a monkey wrench into New York's pennant drive Saturday, smashing four home runs to defeat the Yankees, 7-4.

Vic Werz caused the Yanks the most grief. The slugger Tiger right fielder drove home four runs on a pair of homers. Former Yank Dick Kryhoski and starting pitcher Marlin Stuart also homered for the Tigers.

Johnny Rain was the victim of the vicious Tiger bombardment. Sain worked the first six innings and yielded six runs. The loss was Sain's first in three decisions since his arrival from the Boston Braves.

Stuart, beaten five straight times, was relieved by Dizzy Trout in the fifth after the Yanks had threatened to get back into the game. The Yanks scored a run on four walks with two out before Trout came in and stamped out the rally by getting Yogi Berra to ground out with the bases loaded. Berra won Friday's game with a grand slam homer.

The poll conducted by the TCU sports news picked Texas A&M second and Texas third.

Billy Maxwell Wins National Amateur Golf Championship

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — (AP) — Billy Maxwell, poker-faced, 22-year-old college boy from Odessa, chopped down giant-killer Joe Gagliardi with a relentless streak of par golf Saturday and became the youngest player since the great Bobby Jones to win the United States Amateur championship.

The stocky, imperturbable nee-head, deadly with his irons, defeated the 39-year-old Mamoroneck, N.Y., barrister and father of five children, 4 and 3, in their 36-hole finals over the water-soaked Saucon Valley course.

Jones was the same age—22—when he won the first of his five amateur titles at Merion in 1924, but the youngest man to capture this championship was Robert Gardner, who did it at 19 in 1909.

Yesterday's battle of "unknowns," which was expected to produce mediocre golf, turned instead into a terrific battle of birdies, with spectacular shots repeatedly bringing gasps from the crowd of more than 5,000.

When Maxwell closed out the mild-mannered lawyer on the 33rd hole, he was even par for the day over the 6,979-yard, par 71 layout, which played long and heavy from Friday's torrential rain.

Through 149 holes of match play covering seven matches, the flighty Texan was only eight strokes over par, by far the best individual showing of the tournament.

Gagliardi played the final loaded with medicine to alleviate the pain of a stabbing tooth-ache. He had three abscesses in his mouth lanced Thursday and another cut open Friday night.

His doctor said the pain was so severe the Westchester County attorney hadn't eaten a square meal in three days and got little sleep Friday night. He was given sedatives. He gulped down this morning.

However, Gagliardi's tooth-ache apparently had little to do with the outcome of the match since Maxwell played almost unbeatable golf.

The North Texas State student, straight with his drives and pin-pungy with his approaches, moved over Saucon Valley like a well-oiled machine—bringing natural comparisons with Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson of his Lone Star state.

He had only one noticeable let-down. That in the middle of the afternoon round when he went over par on the 25th, 26th and 27th holes, three-putting the last two.

Indians Split With Nats Greens Gossin

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Cleveland's infield virtually came apart in the second game of a double-header Saturday and allowed Washington to escape with a 7-6 victory.

The Indians won the first game, 4-2, but made four errors in the second contest.

The split put the Indians one game ahead of second place New York, beaten by Detroit.

The first game win was pitcher Early Wynn's 10th.

The Indians grabbed a 6-3 lead in the second game after a 5-run outburst in the fifth inning against Julio Moreno and Mickey Harris, but the Senators tied the score in a wild seventh inning.

They got the winning run off Mike Garcia in the eighth when third baseman Al Rosen threw wild past catcher Birdie Tebbetts after Mike Guerra had been trapped between third and the plate.

Guerra opened the Senators' eighth with a single off shortstop Ray Boone's glove. Thom Ferrick bunted and first baseman Luke Easter made an ill-adviced and belated throw to second in an attempt to force Guerra. Both runners were safe.

Eddie Yost moved Guerra to third with a bunt which Rosen scooped up and fired to second base to force Ferrick. Rosen made a neat stab of Gil Coan's grounder and had Guerra trapped easily, only to throw past Tebbetts, permitting Guerra to score.

The Browns combined three of their six hits with two bases on balls to score all of their runs at southpaw Chuck Stobbs' expense in the eighth inning.

Pillette, lifted for a pinch-hitter during the Browns' winning surge, was in serious trouble only in the third frame. After the bases became loaded on singles by Dom DiMaggio

Browns Slow Bosox Drive

BOSTON — (AP) — The last-place St. Louis Browns checked the Boston Red Sox' pennant drive Saturday by pulling out a 2-2 victory for righthander Duane Pillette. Rookie Bob Nieman, who celebrated his major league debut with two consecutive homers, Friday, singled in the Browns' winning run.

The Browns combined three of their six hits with two bases on balls to score all of their runs at southpaw Chuck Stobbs' expense in the eighth inning.

Schaeff Leads Cats To Win Over Lynx

CANADIAN (Special) — The Canadian Wildcats, paced by their all-around offensive fullback and defensive tackle, Tom Schaeff, edged the Spearman Lynx here Friday night, 13-7.

It was all Schaeff as the bruising 226-pounder amassed a personal total of 217 yards gained on the ground out of 282 gained by the Cats. He scored both touchdowns in the third period.

The first came after the Cats recovered the second half on-side kickoff on Spearman's 45. On the second play Schaeff went all the way to score. He set up the second touchdown later in the period with a 40-yard scamper to the ten and a couple of plays later bulled over from the 2.

A pass from Hoover to Julian accounted for the extra point.

The Lynx lone tally came in the fourth when a recovered fumble and a penalty moved the ball to the Cats' 2 where Don Floyd went over for the TD and then ran the extra point across.

Beautiful halftime ceremonies were put on by the Canadian band under the direction of Marilyn Witt and Joe Pate's 26-girl drill team.

Reapers Rounce Horace Mann, 19-0

The Pampa Junior High School Reapers, defending champions of the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic League, opened their 1951 season Friday afternoon at Amarillo by trouncing the Horace Mann Buffs, 19-0.

Letterman halfback Harold Lewis led the charges of Coaches Marvin Bowman and Wayne Tripp as he scored two touchdowns and kept the Buffs' defense uneasy all afternoon.

In the second period he went 24 yards around his right end to score. His try for point failed.

In the third period, Billy Fullenwider went over right tackle for six yards and the second touchdown. Later in the period, Lewis again broke loose around his right end, going 17 yards for the final touchdown. This time his conversion was good, making the final score 19-0.

The entire Reaper squad was able to get into the game and see some action. The next game for the Reapers will be Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when they host the Sam Houston Junior High at Harvester Park.

In another game in the league Friday the Berger Foodies and Sam Houston played to a scoreless tie.

and beat the Dodgers 11-4 Saturday. Duke Snider clouted his 29th home run and Jackie Robinson his 17th round-tripper for Brooklyn.

Irish Humble Pirates, 26-0

LEFORS (Special) — Two costly Pirate fumbles paved the way for Shamrock touchdowns in the first half of the Buc's opening game of the 1951 football season here Friday and the Irish capitalized on the breaks to take a lead which they never relinquished, trouncing the locals by a convincing 26-0 margin.

Paul Hartwick, 260-pound junior wingback, registered the initial Irish touchdown midway in the first period, scoring from the 6-yard line after a series of plays carried from the 40-yard stripe following Settle's recovery of Billy Watson's fumble. An attempted pass for the extra point was grounded. Hartwick became the game's leading scorer when he tallied another TD for the Irish in the third quarter.

His brother, Johnny, contributed to the Irish cause with a marker in the final period. Shamrock's other touchdown was scored by Ronald Settle, scintillating quarterback, who master-minded the Irish T-formation attack to almost perfection. Dwayne Hager, massive 210-pound senior tackle, converted the extra points following Paul Hartwick's second scorer and Settle's marker.

One of the most thrilling points in the contest came in the fourth quarter when Bob Clemmons, the Pirates' outstanding defensive player, intercepted Charley Francis' pass which was meant for teammate Van Pennington. Clemmons returned the interception 35 yards and looked for a moment to be on his way to pay dirt but speedy Jimmy Pennington caught him from behind and the Pirate threat fizzled. Ray Dickerson was easily one of the most outstanding players on the field and connected with junior end Jimmy Doom for several nice passing gains. Eddy Clemmons, freshman back, stood out in the Pirates' defensive play.

Too much praise cannot be handed the Irish, who worked like the veteran unit they are. The hefty white and green line was just too much for the Buc forwards to handle while the Irish backfield worked with precision-like ease. However, the Pirates showed brilliance, too, in spots and once they overcame a bad case of jitters and fumbleitis the Lefors boys carried the game to the Irish.

Miss Charlene Williams Becomes Bride Of Roy Vernon Garner In Church Rites;

Miss Charlene Williams and Roy Vernon Garner were united in marriage at 8 p. m. Aug. 31, in the Harrah Methodist Church. Rev. E. C. Armstrong, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ernestine Scott, at the organ, played a pre-nuptial prelude, including "Because," "O Promise Me" and "Indian Love Call," and accompanied Jimmy Bond who sang "I Love You Truly," and Marvin and Jimmy Bond as they sang "Always." "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's wedding march were used.

Vows were exchanged by candlelight before an altar decorated with baskets of orchid gladioli and flanked by candelabra holding white tapers. The aisle was marked with double candelabra above large white satin bows. The bride entered on the arm of her cousin, E. Clark LaPrade, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white net lace over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and a round yoke which was held in gathers by clusters of lilies of the valley. Her gloves matched her gown and her floor-length veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms and lily of the valley. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis knotted in satin streamers.

The bridesmaid, Miss Betty Sue Rich, was dressed in yellow organdy, styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her bouquet was of orchid carnations. She wore white net gloves and her head-dress of white tulle fell to the shoulder.

Froy Lee Curtee was best man and ushers were Bryan Keatby, Jr. and Bryan Clemons.

Mrs. Earl Brooks presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Garner was graduated from Mansfield, Ark., high school. He is employed by Zale's Jewelry Co., in Pampa.

Mrs. Garner was graduated from K-ton High school and is employed by the Pampa Office Supply company. He is the son of Mrs. Bertha Garner, 910 Osborne.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark LaPrade, 800 N. Wells. The bride's table was laid with lace over orchid and centered with a wedding cake decorated with orchid sweet peas and a leil of white chrysanthemum pompons. It was flanked by double candelabra with white tapers. Mrs. Edwin Simmons served the cake and Mrs. Earl Brooks ladled punch.

After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon in New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore an orchid crepe dress and hat with white accessories and a white carriage. They will live at 1106 W. Browning.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Parker, 1522 Montagu, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Lee, to Herbert Lee Banks, son of Mrs. Minnie Banks of Pampa. Vows will be exchanged at 8 p. m. Friday, Oct. 12, with Rev. Luther Reed officiating.

Doreen Forde, Wallace Bruce Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony read in the Assembly of God Church Sept. 2, Miss Doreen Forde became the bride of Wallace Lee Bruce. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Forde, 617 N. Sumner, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley L. Bruce, 1219 Willis-

Rev. J. S. McMullen, pastor, read the service against a background of white gladioli in tall baskets and lighted tapers in candelabra.

Candles were lighted by June Bruce, sister of the bridegroom, and Wadene Thomasson, cousin of the bride.

Miss Nita Forde was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a white organdy dress made with a low round neckline and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

James Taylor served as best man and ushers were Ray Smith and Leon Taylor.

Linda Taylor was flower girl and Patricia Ann Lester, the bridegroom's cousin, and Eddie Forde, small brother of the bride, were ring bearers.

At the piano, Mrs. G. M. Sandel played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Willis Dewey, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a white lace street-length frock. Her waist-length veil fell from a white stain bandeau and silver sandals completed her costume. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid and she carried it on a white Bible. For something old she wore her mother's wedding band, and for something borrowed, she wore a necklace belonging to June Bruce.

The bride's mother wore a blue linen dress with blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was in gray with matching accessories and her corsage was of red carnations.

A reception was given at the home of the bridegroom's parents. A hand-crocheted cloth, made by the bride's mother, covered the table which was centered with a little white church from which a miniature bridal couple were placed on the table, forming a cross. The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in decorating the home. White gladioli and several arrangements of garden flowers were placed about the rooms.

Mrs. James Taylor was at the guest register, where several out-of-town guests registered as did those from Pampa. Cake was served by the bridegroom's cousin, Mrs. Wilburn Geislin of Odessa, and Miss Shirline Perrell of Pampa ladled the punch. Mrs. Wade Thomasson also assisted at the reception.

After the gifts were opened they were taken to the display room by Miss LaDon Trollinger who arranged them for display.

At the home of Mrs. Edwin Simmons, co-hostess was Mrs. Clark LaPrade, and Miss Betty Jewell Beckham ladled punch.

Guests were received by Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. LaPrade and were then presented to the honoree and the bridegroom's cousin, Mrs. Bertha Garner. The honoree received a corsage of orchid carnations and a corsage of white carnations was presented to Mrs. Bertha Garner.

After the gifts were opened they were taken to the display room by Miss LaDon Trollinger who arranged them for display.

The Pampa Daily News Women's Activities

PAGE 11 PAMPA NEWS, SUNDAY, SEPT. 16, 1951

KICK OFF for fall began Friday, or rather Thursday night, when football got underway. The weather was just crisp enough for the lightest jackets and what an array of colors! Football brings out the best in us. Saw right away there was going to be a lot of "twedy" fabrics this year. That's one time I'm glad to tag along early and while Mr. Peg watches the teams warm up, Peg can watch the crowd. Pre-kick-off is a good time for visiting — before the men prout friendly chatter. They take their ball seriously. The little cheer leaders are darling this year — but more on them later.

WOMEN'S CLUB activities will be getting underway now that the summer lull is over. First is the ESA style show — always one of the highlights of the season. There's always so much work involved "behind the scenes" and already models are being lined up. A comparatively new sorority (organized here about five or more years ago) ESA does some outstanding work. Watch for more on this soon.

FOLKS YOU SHOULD KNOW: Mrs. Addie Bryan, pleasant person; the J. A. Goodwins' handsome little son, Jimmy; Jack and Jo Ann Cole, whom everyone likes; Chuck Tooker, artistic and friendly fellow; Ken Meaders, with the big smile; Grandpa and Grandma Whitten (formerly the E. B. Whittons, but since the birth of their first grandbaby last week they prefer to be known as grandparents); Joe Tooley, wearing a bright "figuredy" tie; the A. M. Troops, who bought a new home on Magnolia this summer.

THE MODERN, LOW SLUNG house is the triumph of today's architects. But a family misses an attic. Once an attic was a wonderful place for children. Old wardrobe trunks, bird cages, chests full of memorabilia, wicker baby beds and other treasures were tucked away in happy harmony. Many a rainy afternoon passed quickly while children rummaged through old dresses, letters and yellowed clippings. We wonder at times where folks keep everything that was once stored in attics. One thing sure. Many of the hand-me-downs from generation to generation have taken their place in modern living. Old furniture is refinished to its natural (and most handsome) coloring, bird cages stuffed with plants hang above kitchen sinks, and small picnic hampers have become midday's summer handbag. And lucky is the woman who has some family treasure to work into her decorating scheme, proving the old and the new can live together.

AFTER THE ACCIDENT involving the Hugh Layne's little girl, Peggy's been wondering whether it would be possible to set up speed zones around churches. That's usually a spot as overflowing with children as the school zones — and equally as dangerous. In one way, it's a good thing to see our streets crowded with the cars of church-goers, but nearly every church in Pampa lacks adequate parking space. Routing traffic around churches would be impossible, it seems, issuing warnings of little help. We'd like to see this hazard eliminated. Suggestions?

PANORAMICALLY: Busy parents this week have started packing the trucks for the college-bound, or loading everything in the car and taking them to various schools over this and surrounding states. The first-year-ers are seeking out the experienced sophomore for advice on what to take and such. Some of our young lovelies leaving include Carol Culbertson (the Frank Culbertson's daughter) Donna and Mrs. A. E. Parks Betty Scott (daughter of the George Scott), Donna Nensiel (the Harvey Nensiel's daughter) and on and on. Be lots of boys going too, but the majority are in service or waiting to go. Thought I spied the Raymond Harrahs driving a new car. Saw Mrs. Rene Stinson with her adorable little granddaughter, Peggy. Mickey Ledrick is busy building a new house. Incidentally, we're all excited about the prospects of the new addition Dick Hughes is starting on the Clarendon Highway. Sounds wonderful and another sure sign of Pampa's progress. Speaking of the new addition reminds us that the Hughes' son is going back to OU for his senior year. Young Hughes and the Clyde Fathers' oldest son, Warren, were fraternity brothers at Oklahoma. Warren has joined the ranks of Pampa's eligible young bachelors since his graduation. Fine golfer, by the way. Mrs. Gus Carruth is one of the nicest of all the people we know. Congratulations to Fred and Dorothy Neslage. A baby girl for them. Noticed Mrs. Doug Carver at the post office the other afternoon. Also meet Dr. J. L. Chase coming in and out there frequently. He's an amiable fellow. believe his wife is a Pampa girl. Mrs. Jim White is a lovely person. always enjoy talking with her.

EVERYONE HAS BEEN so glad to see Mrs. George Cowan back "home." After many years of illness she is on her feet again and feeling fine. And ever so happy to be back in Pampa. As one of her many friends said, "I'll never know how she has held on to that beauty, charm and wit, but it's wonderful to have around once more."

WONDER IF WOMEN are eligible for the Quarterback club? Just seems to miss out on some of the fun — and inside "dope" — but maybe Tom Tipps, Dwayne Lyon or Aubra Nooncaster will make some of the women's club meetings. (?) Anyway, looks like the football talk will be prevalent over coffee cups for the next few months. Folks "just feel" we've got a good team, so interest is keen. The men packed in the first quarterback meeting (in the Hughes building auditorium where the ESA style show will be the latter part of the month) Heard Lew Sprinkle, Frank Leder, "Bub" Hill, Ham Luna, Earl Rice, Dr. Weldon Adair, Mick Prigmore, G. F. Branson, Jim Nation, Bill Fannon, and Ivan Noblitt were among the crowd. Ivan, by the way, is one of the most enthusiastic members. Member him from the Harvester lineup back in the 30's? Was a linebacker and he had a younger brother who came along to play on the Harvesters. Looks like the weekly quarterback meetings will be attended by many ex-Harvesters who know and love football. Ivan, by the way, did a fine thing when he personally paid for a full page ad on the Quarterback club in last Sunday's News. Ivan is a real booster for both the club and the town and he requested that his name be left out of the ad.

MANY OF THE BOYS we cheered not long ago on the football field are now hustling on battlefields. Can't help but think of them this time of year when the emphasis is on youth. Our cheers aren't as loud for the boys in service, and their glory less, but we can show them we're still backing them by keeping up a steady flow of letters. Even a short letter with a clipping or two from The News will mean a lot because it's from home! Who is it that says, "if you don't write, you're wrong!" That's good advice for all of us — even

Vernelle Crumpacker, Charles Gibson Exchange Vows In White Deer Church

WHITE DEER—(Special)—The First Presbyterian church was the scene Saturday evening, Sept. 8, of the marriage of Miss Vernelle Idelle Crumpacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Crumpacker of White Deer, and Charles B. Gibson, Little Rock, Ark., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gibson of Graham.

Rev. Gayle Spann, pastor, read the double-ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and fall leaves and lighted with tall yellow tapers in floor candelabra. Yellow candles and clusters of wheat tied with gold and red ribbon marked the aisles.

As a pre-nuptial prelude, Miss Jewel Ellis played "My Heart Ever Faithful" (Bach), on the chimes, and Miss Ruth Collins, pianist, played "All for You," "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap), "The World I've Chosen You," Miss Lily Larsen sang "Silent Love" (Tchaikovsky), a selection frequently used in concert by the bride; "Song of Love" (Schubert); "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower" (Bach); and "The Conclusion of the Ceremony," "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap). Traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Betty Mostley, McAllen, and Mrs. Marion Miller, San Fernando, Calif., sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids; and Mrs. Walter Thomas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. All wore off-shoulder velvet gowns with tiny capelets, and carried bouquets of fall flowers and wheat in red circles. Miss Mostley's gown was teal blue; Mrs. Miller's deep wine; and Mrs. Thomas' antique gold.

Little Deborah Phillips, Amarillo, cousin of the bride, wore an antique gold velvet dress and scattered petals of bronze chrysanthemums from a gold basket. Alston Thomas, nephew of the bride, wore a blue Etou suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Jack L. Corothers, Lubbock, was best man; William E. Steele and J. L. Moody, Graham, were groomsmen; and Wilfred B. Fuller, Graham, and Walter Thomas, Canyon, were ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore her sister's wedding dress of slipper satin, designed with fitted bodice, deep sheer yoke with a leil of wide lace, long fitted sleeves, and a cathedral train. Her full-length veil of imported embroidered net fell from a net bonnet of "gay ninety" style tied with a huge bow of French tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. For something old, she wore the wedding band of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. May Coffee.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Crumpacker chose a purple dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Gibson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black crepe dress with black velvet accessories, and a corsage of tallisman roses.

After the ceremony, the bridal party was honored with a reception in McConnell Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of fruit encircled with a wreath of fall flowers and tall white tapers. Miss Mostley and Mrs. Miller presided at the refreshment table, and Miss Larsen played a number of piano selections, including "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Cupid's Dart," "Love, Here Is My Heart," and "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride wore a tailored gray wool crepe suit with black accessories and a corsage of tallisman roses.

Mrs. Gibson received a BA degree from Scripps College, Claremont, Calif., in June. She had previously attended Colorado Woman's college in Denver, Colo. Mrs. Gibson is a graduate of Texas A and M college, and has been assistant county agent in Canyon and Tarrant counties. He is now with the Farm Bureau Insurance in Little Rock, where they will make their home.

Out of town guests present for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gibson, Graham; Mrs. Mary Locke, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Anderson, Bogert; and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Mostley, McAllen.

Plans Completed For Presentation Of Fourth Annual ESA Fashion Show

Plans have been completed for the fourth annual Espalton Sigma Alpha fashion show, according to Mrs. Tom Lindsey, general chairman.

The show will be held Sunday, Sept. 30, in the Cabot auditorium, located on the sixth floor of the Hughes building. There will be two showings, at 2 and 4 p. m.

There will be approximately 23 local merchants participating in this year's show, featuring the latest fall and winter styles.

Each year the proceeds from the fashion show go toward a community project. Last year an audiometer was purchased and presented to the county superintendent of schools for use in all Gray county schools.

The audiometer is a testing device which records a child's ability to hear various tones and detects whether a child has a hearing defect. This has proved very successful in helping to detect a child's handicap unknown to his parents.

Since the audiometer only comes equipped with one head phone the process of testing many hundreds of children was greatly hindered. The Parent-Teacher association of Pampa designated enough money to purchase a ten-set head phone and this year the proceeds from the fashion show will go toward completing this to a set so that more children's hearing can be checked in a shorter period of time.

Mrs. Lindsey and her committee, Mrs. Burton Doucette and Mrs. Herman Foster, have appointed the following committees to handle this year's show:

Decorations—Mrs. Bert Arney, chairman; Mrs. Harvey Longren and Mrs. John Nutting.

Refreshments—Mrs. Joe Mitchell, chairman; Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. John Gannon and Mrs. Margaret Dial.

Advertising—Mrs. Bill Ragsdale, chairman; Mrs. Guy LeMond and Mrs. Dorothy Nelson.

Contact—Mrs. Chick Hickman and Mrs. Frank Morris.

Entertainment—Mrs. Tom Lindsey, chairman; Mrs. Burton Doucette, Mrs. Herman Foster and Mrs. Oran Payne.

Invitations—Mrs. Parks Brunley, chairman; Mrs. Bruce Parker, Mrs. Albert Doucette, Mrs. Bud Boyle and Mrs. Joe Donaldson.

Russ Will Have To Pay More To Remain In United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Moscow will have to pay thousands of dollars more for the privilege of making speeches in the UN next year, if the UN Committee on Contributions has its way.

The committee has slapped an increase of 2.87 percent on the Soviet Union dues for the next year and cut the United States assessment 2.02 percent.

If the assembly meeting in Paris Nov. 6 approves the new scale of contributions — and it usually does — the Russians will pay 9.85 percent of the total cost of the UN instead of 6.98 percent and the Americans will be cut from 38.92 percent to 36.90.

The reduction for the United States was approved over the bitter protests of A. A. Soldatov, Soviet member of the committee, who said that the U. S. really ought to pay 50 percent of the entire bill, its economy was in such good shape. Soldatov complained that the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Poland, suffered such damage from the war that they have not been able to restore their economies and really should have their assessments reduced.

The new scale of contributions is in line with opinions voiced in Congress in Washington where a move has been started to limit the U.S. contribution to one-third of the cost. When the UN first was formed, the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, who sat on the assembly's first finance committee, said that no one country should pay more than one-third of the organization's total bills.

Steward A. Rice, U. S. member of the contributions committee, insisted the committee should have gone immediately to the ceiling of 33.33 percent for the largest contributor. The UN group did not feel it should move that rapidly, however. It is working around to it slowly.

Every member of the so-called Big Five was given a reduction, except the Russians. Nationalist China and France were reduced from six percent each to 5.75 percent and Britain was cut from 11.37 percent to 10.56. Yugoslavia, formerly of the Moscow bloc, was raised from 0.36 percent to 0.43 percent.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie has proposed a net budget of $40,756,200 for 1952, a reduction from the net budget of $42,888,120 for this year. Several

Vet Claims Divine Help Only Reason Americans Escaped

TYLER — (AP) — Divine help is the only possible explanation seen by Capt. Joe Reynolds for the escape of 10,000 American troops who fought their way through 200,000 Chinese to the Korean coast and safety.

The twice-decorated World War II veteran is now assigned temporarily to the Naval Air base at Kingville, Texas, after many months of hospitalization for frost bite and frozen feet following the withdrawal from the Chinese trap in the bitter Korean cold.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Reynolds of Tyler.

Reynolds told of the retreat through the frozen Korean mountains to the safety of the American fleet guns on the coast at a youth revival meeting recently.

"On the third day of fighting," he said, "we reached the company of marines that had been cut-off and surrounded for days. When we reached the ridge overlooking the company the lieutenant in charge fell to his knees in a prayer of gratitude. He was joined by every man in the outfit."

"For 12 days we fought our way to the coast," Reynolds continued.

"He told how food was short and the water froze in their canteens. The only way they could get water was to mash snow between their hands and catch the drippings, he said.

"On reaching the sea we knew our fire power had not accomplished our delivery from the hands of the enemy, but it was the will of God. Our prayers, and those of our families, were answered."

The Form Divine

HILDEGARDE DOLSON

THE STORY: Lucilla Webb enrolls in the Beautiful-You school, but doesn't will Arthur, her handsome, many details, including the fact that she has a date in a cocktail lounge with Brock Harlow, a fascinating instructor in Beauty Comedies.

XXXI

HAVING spent the cocktail hour on so high a cerebral plane, and having turned down the invitation for an even more cerebral sort of evening, it offended her sensibilities to get home and find Arthur reading Colliers.

She told him she'd gone out for a drink with one of the instructors, and Arthur remarked it must have been quite an orgy. "Did you feel each other's muscles and leap over tables?"

She informed him coldly that they'd discussed plays. "Between deep knee bends?" Arthur inquired. She ignored this crude attempt at humor, smiling an enigmatic smile.

Hoopy stood up on the couch brandishing a lasso. "Watch me be Three-Gun Pete catching the cat-le-wreath!"

"Bastard," Arthur said.

"Yippee!" She staggered and fell against Lucilla, who was reminded unpleasantly of Derek's comments on American children. She told Hoopy to sit down at once.

All through dinner she kept seeing her child through Derek's eyes, and deciding she was really much too noisy and grubby. "From now on, you have to take your bath before dinner, and you can't eat with us unless you learn not to interrupt."

"But if I don't interrupt, he'll miss a chance to talk."

Arthur chuckled, and Hoopy put on her most show-off-ish leer. She balanced a fork on her head, and when this was ignored, she demanded: "You want to hear the song Daddy taught me?"

"Not at the table," Lucilla said, heard them singing in the other bathroom that morning. Arthur always shaved there now.

SITTING under the dryer a few days later, she was more nervous than eager. Monsieur Jellieu had whacked at her hair in an impersonal frenzy, as if she were a blighted privet hedge. So far as she could make out, the primary idea was that no two hairs should be the same length. To distract herself, she opened a Harper's Bazaar. She never saw the Bazaar or movie magazines except at the hairdresser's, and until now, both had held for her the charm of the fantastic, bearing no more relation to her life than the pieces in Sunday supplements—Women on Mars Are Ravishing Three-Legged Redskins, Scientist Asserts. Today, the Bazaar seemed suddenly full of urgent personal messages: "Why don't you snatch a Portuguese fisherman's net for shorts, to let off your pretty legs while you exercise or loiter?" If at that moment Lucilla had been within snatching distance of a Portuguese fisherman, he'd have lost his means of livelihood, willy-nilly.

"Vital!" Monsieur gave the gesture of a magician who has just produced a flock of doves, or the flaps of nations, from his sleeve. Lucilla retrieved her glasses and placed at herself.

"You like it, no?"

He gave her a hand-mirror. In place of the neat side rolls, there were sprays of curls cascading to the top. In the back-view, the hairdresser had swerved to one side, leaving a smooth open space, with the curls puffing out behind the left ear. The profile was really quite nice, she thought, or at least it would be nice on somebody else.

"A wig?" Monsieur sucked in his lips, and a hissing sound escaped from his rigid body.

She carried her hat home in her hand, partly because it looked peculiar on the new hairdo, and partly because, after a day of being told by her schoolmates and instructors how cute she looked, she was inclined to fancy herself a bareheaded school girl.

Arthur was examining the thermostat as Lucilla walked in. He stared at his wife, and his first impression was that she'd been caught in a wind machine and lost her bobby pins.

"How do you like it?" she smoothed down the bangs.

"You mean it's that way on purpose?"

SHE went into the bedroom and slammed the door. After several minutes, Arthur nervd himself to go after her. He felt he hadn't been altogether tactful and was determined to do better. Lucilla was sitting at her dressing table, applying elbow-remover with a brooding air. "I'm anxious to see this new hairdo when you've combed it out," Arthur said, with unconvincing joviality.

"It's already combed out," his mate remarked icily.

"Oh," Arthur's determinedly pleasant expression cracked. So did his voice, as he said, "All that hair stays in your eyes?"

"It's not in my eyes." She looked cross-eyed through the jutting bangs at her husband.

"I should think you'd feel like an Airedale."

"I do not feel like an Airedale, and if you think I look like one . . ."

"Not at all," Arthur told her hastily. "Not at all." He walked around her like a man surveying the damage after lightning has struck. "The back isn't so bad," he announced, glad to have salvaged something. "At least it's smoother. Maybe you could pin the front part under so it won't look so shaggy."

"Shaggy! People whose judgment I respect—and who really know what's chic—think it's much more becoming than my old hairdo."

"Well, I liked you better the old way. You looked more natural."

Theologians Shed New Light On Writings In The Bible

NEW YORK — (AP) — What new light has modern investigation and study shed on the Bible?

For seven years, 146 leading Protestant theologians and ministers in this country and abroad have been compiling data to answer this question.

They have issued the first of a 12-volume series detailing the accumulated information.

Entitled "The Interpreter's Bible," it seeks to tell all that mankind has discovered about the Scriptures from ancient times to the present.

"Unquestionably this is the most important publication in the religious field for over half a century," says Dr. Halford Luccock, a top Biblical scholar, of Yale Divinity school.

"A magnificent achievement," says Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

The new work, says Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, executive secretary of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., "will help keep scholarship from being sterile and preaching from being superficial."

About $1,000,000 has been poured into the job of research and assembling material.

With encyclopedic detail, the discoveries of archeological excavations, new-found manuscripts and historical and geographical research are presented concerning each Bible verse.

Such questions as these are answered: Who wrote this book of the Bible? When was it written? Where? Under what conditions and in the midst of what circumstances?

Dr. George A. Buttrick, pastor of New York City's Madison Ave. church, heads the staff of theologians and preachers of more than 40 denominations who have worked on the project.

In the series, both King James and Revised Standard translations of each verse are shown in adjoining columns. Below this appear brief exegeses (explanations) telling what has been learned about each verse.

For example, when Jesus began teaching in the synagogues, the accompanying exegeses tells how such activity in those days was open to any laymen competent to carry it on.

Or, when King Herod ordered all children under two slain in an attempt to get rid of the infant Christ, the exegesis describes Herod's policy of murdering political foes.

Here is a fuller sample—chosen at random—from one page:

"Mark 6:25 — he answered and said unto them, give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?"

"Exegesis — two hundred denarii (pennyworth), with purchasing power in the First century of about four times as much, or $160. The sum was an impossible one for the Disciples."

The exegeses also point up new evidence concerning meanings and

Farmers Said Light Plane Builders' Biggest Customers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Farmers have taken to flying in such a big way they probably are the light plane industry's best customer today.

Civil Aeronautics administration (CAA) officials say they are buying planes, seating up to six persons, at prices from around $2000 to $20,000.

They use them for everything from running errands to commutes to the seashore and big cities.

The National Flying Farmers' Assn. says its organization has 6000 members. E. M. Anderson of Medina, Texas, association president, estimates these members own from 3500 to 4000 planes. Many farmers who own planes do not belong to the association.

The Aircraft Industries Assn., manufacturers' organization, says 3286 light planes were produced by 10 major companies in 1950. The CAA estimates that farmers bought more of these than any other group. Businessmen were second-best customers.

These purchases by farmers are in addition to planes used in agriculture by commercial companies for spraying, seeding or performing other farm chores. The CAA estimates there are about 8000 of these commercial ships.

Anderson says many farmers bought planes to save time com-

Lefors Constable Believes His Hobby Tops For Thrills

By DON BLAKE
LEFORS — (Special) — Charlie Clendennen, veteran constable here, has a hobby which he says is unmatched for exercise, thrills, entertainment and sport. It is raccoon hunting.
Charlie, who has been the local constable for eight years, is the proud owner of four hunting dogs, all of which he says are training himself. He wouldn't take $200 for these dogs, the lawman said. "Even though they probably aren't worth nearly that much."
Two of Clendennen's dogs are German shepherds. "Spot," a thoroughbred July Walker, is six years old and is a favorite with Charlie. "Red," a black and tan, four years old. Both were sewed up about the face and ears last Saturday night when they treed a 33-pound coon which gave them a terrific fight before he was subdued.
Charlie also has two fine pointer puppies, four months old. "I begin training dogs when they are from four to six months old," the constable said.

County Man To Compete In Bank Contest

One member of the Gray County Soil Conservation District board will be selected to compete for the first annual Texas Bank and Trust Co. soil conservation award, according to an announcement Saturday by Floyd Imel, chairman of the Gray County Banker's committee.

Imel, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. in Pampa, will work with other county representatives in selecting one of the five superiors as a contestant. The state award will include a one-week, all expense paid trip for the winner and his wife to an agricultural center for observation of soil and water conservation.

P. B. Garrett, president of the Texas Bank and Trust Co., Dallas, said the contest is being held to promote better banker-rancher relations, and promote constructive work in the interest of soil conservation.

Presentations of the award will be made at the annual supervisors convention next year. Supervisors of the Gray County board are Arlie Carpenter, Lefors; Bill Wagner, Grandview; Jack Stephens, and W. E. Jackson, Pampa; and Homer Abbott, McLean. ing it and that they will never eat anything already dead, preferring to catch their prey, kill it, wash it then devour the carcass. While coons feed on grasshoppers, frogs, etc., they also are predatory and will raid chicken nests and wild turkey refuges, as well as the habitats of other fowl, eating the eggs and any young that might be found in the nests. They also are fond of roasting ears, maize and kaffir corn and other grain feeds as well as wild plums, grapes and any domestic food which unwary campers might leave unprotected.
As for the greatest thrill in his years of following the sport, Charlie says it came a week ago last Saturday night while he and several Lefors boys were hunting on McClellan creek. "We treed three coons in one tree, and what a time we had gathering them in," the constable chuckled. "It was the most coons in one tree I'd ever cornered, although I've treed two at once several times," he said.
Charlie says that coons make fine pets for children after they are domesticated, losing their viciousness and being naturally clean and easily housebroken. "They also are good eating. Just skin and dress a coon, pressure cook the meat for an hour, adding either sweet or Irish potatoes and seasoning to taste and you have a delicious meal," the constable vowed.
As a result of Clendennen's hobby, several local youths have taken up the hobby, acquiring dogs, and are learning the sport under Charlie's tutelage. Many hours of sporting thrills are in store for the group between now and the time extremely cold weather sets in. The constable pointed out that the fall and early winter are the best seasons for coon hunting. He also said that interest in the sport is not confined to Lefors and vicinity but that he has visitors from other towns seeking information on his hobby and recently entertained a number of youths from Skellytown with a hunting party.

Bank and Trust Co. in Pampa, will work with other county representatives in selecting one of the five superiors as a contestant. The state award will include a one-week, all expense paid trip for the winner and his wife to an agricultural center for observation of soil and water conservation.

Boosted Gas Export Disputed In Texas

By JAY HALL

DALLAS — (AP) — A good many Texans are worked up over the expanding national use of state's natural gas. Politicians have made out-of-state gas sales a hot issue before two recent Texas legislatures, and there is enough fire brewing to promise a renewed fight at the next session in Austin.

The ordinary garden-variety citizen has warned somewhat to the issue, but so far his feeling seems to be a vague uneasiness that those "Northerners" are getting a break at his expense.

The politicians tell him that a simple question: why ship our gas anyway? Their opposition to gas exports is found mainly on self-interest — for the people of Texas, of course.

Alarmed at the increased shipments of gas to the industrial North and East, triple now to what it was in 1945, some of them profess to see the day when Texans will return to burning coal and wood in their homes.

Gas export opponents ask a simple question: why ship our gas to the industrial and heavily-populated Eastern areas where coal for fuel is in over-abundance? And they add: why not keep our gas here and invite industries in to take advantage of our cheap, smokeless fuel.

There are those who dispute this last. Fuel, they say, is only a small factor in locating an industrial plant. But no one denies it is a factor, and the spreading industrial growth in Texas is evidence enough that gas as a fuel and as a raw material for the manufacture of many chemicals is important.

Since gas moves in interstate commerce there is not much state legislation can do to stop it. The only thing that can be done is to make future exports a little tougher. For instance, the Texas Railroad Commission, which is the state oil and gas agency, could oppose permits for transmission lines as they come before the Federal Power Commission for authorization.

In the field of taxation the legislature is a little more at home. Politicians just don't like to see all that gas moving out of the state without revenue attached. Since a direct tax on interstate gas would "burden" interstate commerce, the legislature can do little more than to tax it.

With this continuing demand, he said, the industry will have to drill 50,000 wells yearly "and that means a lot of wildcats." He said eight out of nine wildcats are dry holes and that one out of four development wells are failures.

"With this enormous cost of bringing in new oil," he said, "the depletion allowance is necessary in providing the incentive to attract risk capital."

In fact, he said, instead of it being lowered, as proposed by the administration, it should be raised to conform with today's higher costs. They are now 27-1/2 percent.

Burton Crawford of Kilgore described 80 years of oil progress.

Four new deep tests in the Panhandle spotlighted oil field activity the past week. Operators staked one each in Childress, Collingsworth, Oldham and Farmer counties.

In the regular field, operators stepped up their pace by staking 19 new locations and completing 23. Of the completions, four were oilers; 16 were gasers and three wells were plugged. Total increased oil potential was 341 barrels while initial gas potentials totalled 31,945 MCF.

Depletion Said More Vital Now

HOUSTON — (AP) — Increased costs of producing oil makes depletion allowances more important now than ever, Charles H. Lyons, director of the Petroleum Marketers Assn. of Texas Saturday.

Lyons, a director of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said the "easy-to-find" oil pools have been pretty well drilled up. It is necessary to go further afield and expend large sums of money on geology and exploration data before locating a wildcat.

Wells must go much deeper now than formerly.

In 10 years, he said, oil production, based on demand, has increased 3,000,000 barrels daily. "And that's equal to the entire growth of the oil industry from the beginning until 1938," he added.

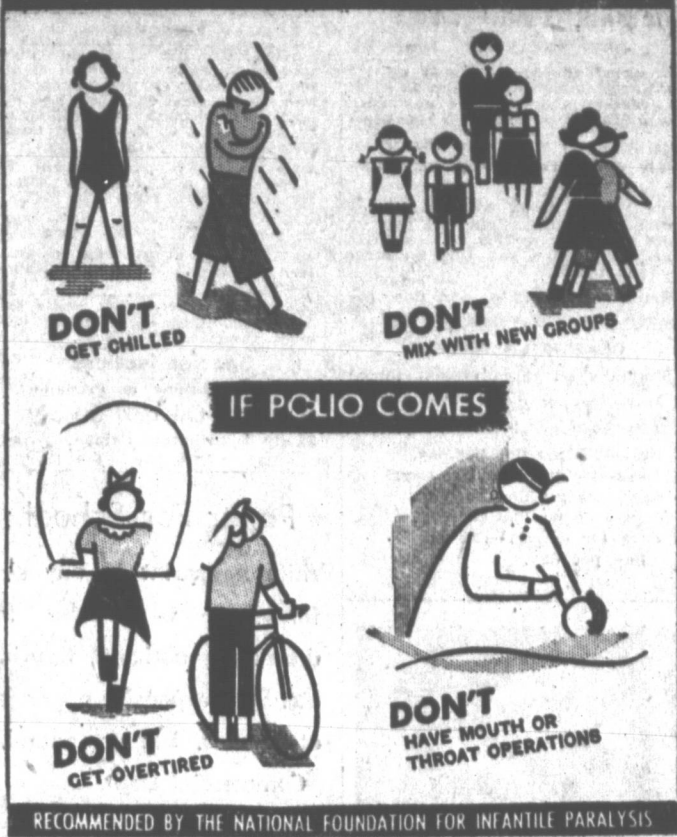

With this continuing demand, he said, the industry will have to drill 50,000 wells yearly "and that means a lot of wildcats." He said eight out of nine wildcats are dry holes and that one out of four development wells are failures.

Oil Industry Takes Dim View Of Government Coal Project

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The oil industry is taking a dim view of the government's proposal for commercial production of gasoline from coal.

Indications point to a thumbs-down report by the National Petroleum Council (NPC) when it meets next week.

Discussion was raised in a meeting of the Interior Department's suggestion that the government provide $455,000,000 to underwrite operation of a hydrocracking plant making 30,000 barrels daily of synthetic gasoline from coal. About half the output would be gasoline, the remainder benzene, toluene and naphthalene.

The plant would be built by private capital, but government funds would be used to guarantee purchase of the output until 1962 at prices which would assure a profit.

Two objections promptly were raised by petroleum leaders: "The estimated 200,000 tons of steel required are sorely needed to increase production and refining of oil."

The plan constitutes "a back door approach" by the government to get into the oil business, or at least into competition with the oil industry.

The justification for the plant, from the department's standpoint, is that it would help national defense.

Noting that domestic oil reserves are limited and that Germany successfully fueled World War II planes with gasoline derived from coal, the department contends the proposed plant would provide this country with the nucleus of a synthetic liquid fuels industry which could be expanded as needs required.

Production of gasoline from coal probably would be more economical than from coal. Two things were largely responsible for the department's proposal: "The chemical products yielded from coal, and not from shale, are highly important and in short supply."

The government's successful research work in a pilot plant at Louisiana, Mo., in producing gasoline from shale, indicated that some oil men were irked because the department made its proposal before the National Petroleum Council had reported on its month-long study of the costs of producing liquid fuels from solids.

Composed of all branches of the industry, the NPC is an advisory body to Secretary Chapman, who is petroleum administrator for defense.

No immediate action is expected on the coal-to-gasoline plant proposal, which would have to be approved by the Defense Production Administration. Committees in Congress have indicated they would want to examine the proposal if and when it wins DPA approval.

Bureau Estimates State Oil Demand

AUSTIN — (AP) — The forecast of demand for Texas crude oil next month by the Bureau of Mines was reported by the Railroad Commission at 2,720,000 barrels daily.

That is 30,000 barrels a day more than the bureau estimated for September demand.

Texas' daily allowable as of last Saturday was 3,104,795 barrels.

A statewide prorating hearing is scheduled Sept. 19.

New Steel Allocation Plan To Be Discussed At Tyler

AUSTIN — The new oil industry steel allocation plan arising out of a meeting earlier this month between representatives of fourteen oil associations and the Petroleum Administration for Defense will come up for discussion and interpretation at the mid-year directors meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn. in Tyler Sept. 28.

The meeting with PAD resulted from a telegram from TIPO to PAD voicing the protests of small independents who were unable to obtain pipe under existing allocation procedure. Definite assurances were given that the program would be revised to increase the flow of oil country tubular goods to small producers. In addition to the five percent now stockpiled for wildcat wells, an additional five percent will be made available to operators drilling from one to eleven years ago, including those with no previous drilling history. Other provisions of the plan adopted at the meeting will be released soon by PAD.

"We are particularly pleased with the five percent increase in stocks to be made available to small operators who otherwise are unable to place their orders for steel however badly needed," said TIPO President R. L. Forsee of Dallas. "Likewise we welcome the provisions which will include in the five percent heretofore reserved for wildcat wells the addition of extension wells, offset wells, and wells drilled to meet contractual obligations."

Guest speakers previously announced for the TIPO directors meeting are Russell E. Brown, IPAA General Counsel, Olin Culbertson, Texas Railroad Commission chairman, and Harrington Wimberly, Federal Power Commission member.

On the subject of natural gas, which is expected to take the spotlight at the meeting, a report is being readied on the action of the Office of Price Stabilization in setting a maximum wellhead price on gas in the Woodland field of Henderson county.

Jimmy Hudnall of Tyler will deliver a talk on "new oil discoveries in East Texas."

The TIPO executive committee and special committees, including resolutions and gas, meet at 2 p. m., Sept. 27. Approximate 200 directors from every part of Texas gather the following morning for a day-long meeting.

The morning business session, to be addressed by IPAA General Counsel Russell E. Brown, will be presided over by President R. L.

Pioneer Oilman Dies In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — (AP) — John V. Morrissey, 61, veteran in the manufacture and shooting of oil wells with nitro-glycerin, died early Saturday after a heart attack. The Fort Worth man, also an oil operator, was sales manager of the Independent Eastern Torpedo Co.

He was the son of the late Thomas F. Morrissey, pioneer oil man and one of the founders of the Panhandle Producers and Refining Co. The firm built one of the first refineries at Wichita Falls. Services will be held here at 10 a. m. Monday.

Managers Pick Tribe To Win

NEW YORK — (AP) — Cleveland will win the American League pennant say most managers in the junior baseball circuit.

Three of the four pilots polled by the Associated Press today picked the Indians to nose out the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox. The fourth manager said he would string along with the Yankees while rating the Red Sox still dangerous.

"I look for Cleveland to sneak home in front," said Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators.

"The Indians have that wonderful pitching staff and it isn't going to harm their chances with New York and Boston playing each other eight more times."

Red Rolfe of Detroit also sees the schedule favoring the Indians.

Jimmy Dykes, leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, went along with Rolfe and Harris in picking the Indians.
