Planes Launch Savage Attack Against Reds

UN COMMAND, Korea — (P) — Fighter — bombers smashed home savage attacks today on Communist artillery dug in on the rugged mountain slopes of eastern Korea. Thirty-two F-51 Mustangs and 24 Navy Corsairs dropped napalm firebombs and high explosives on Red artillery and mortar positions in the "Heartbreak ridge" area.

Communist fire slacked off at once. In the third straight day of aerial dogfights, 34 F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 50 Russian-type MIG jet fighters and damaged two Red planes. One allied warplane was damaged but returned to its base.

The Far East Air force reported this three-day battle score: Red losses 26 — five shot down, two probably destroyed, 19 damaged.

Allies — one U.S. jet destroyed; one Australian jet damaged but returned to base.

Hits on the MIGs were reported by Col. Benjamin S. Preston of Hollywood, Fla., and Maj. William T. Wiener of Shreveport, La.

Red artillery and mortar fire still fell on the positions of American and French soldiers of the U.S. 23d regiment north of Yangu. The Red barrage, one of the heaviest of the Korean campaign, kept the UN infantry away from the strategic high ground on the north-south ridge line.

Planes struck more than 50 Communist rail points and attacked up to 2500 Red vehicles. One of the largest truck concentrations was in the Kumchon area, 20 to 30 miles north of Kaesong. Allied pilots said traffic has been heavy there for nearly a week.

After their one challenge Thursday, Red jets shed clear of aerial combat. There was one brief skirmish over Sinanju, but no damage was done to either side.

In the one action that produced results, dogfights swirled from 30,000 to 10,000 feet. They lasted 25 minutes.

Says Communists May Be Trying To Frustrate Allies

TOKYO — (P) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information office said tonight the Reds may be trying to frustrate the United Nations to break off Korean cease-fire talks "out of sheer frustration and futility."

The statement was issued a few hours after the supreme allied commander made a proposal designed to get the suspended talks restarted. Ridgway suggested a new conference site in no-man's-land where delegates could resume discussions of item two of the agenda — location of a military buffer zone.

The headquarters release took Communist liaison officers to task for refusing to discuss anything but a time and date for a new meeting.

"The significance of this... is obvious," the statement said. "The Reds at the present time are responsible for the calling off of the truce talks. Such a turn of events does not help their so-called peace offensive," which has been going on for many months now.

"Consequently, if the talks are resumed on their terms, the Communists may be planning to force on the delegates the endless questions of neutrality and violations and all other peripheral matters that have nothing to do with a cease-fire itself. In such a manner they may hope to bring to the point where they would break off the talks out of the sheer frustration and futility of not being able to get down to the substantive items of the agenda."

Pampan May Be 'Dental Hygienist'

A Pampa woman, Mrs. Lillian McKitt, may become one of the state's first dental hygienists. She is among 62 women at Baylor College of Dentistry today taking examinations for state license as dental hygienists. These correspond to registered nurses in medicine.

Most of the first class going before the State Board of Dental Examiners have been dental assistants, ushering in patients, sterilizing instruments, keeping books and developing X-ray film. As licensees dental hygienists they still have to work under a dentist's supervision, but are permitted to do such things as clean teeth and take X-rays.

CLYDE BEATTY, star and owner of the Clyde Beatty Railroad circus, will appear here in two performances Oct. 8. Among the animals will "tame" here is the famous 558-pound Prince, the male African lion who recently gained international attention in Detroit by killing two Bengal tigers during a circus performance. Prince is recognized as the largest male lion in any performing wild animal act in the world today.

'Mister Circus' Will Be Star Of Beatty Show

Clyde Beatty — "Mr. Circus" — will appear as star of the huge Clyde Beatty Railroad circus coming to Pampa Oct. 8, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Shrine club. Beatty, recognized the world over as one of the foremost trainers of jungle animals, will appear at both afternoon and evening performances of the show here. Programs begin at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. at Recreation Park.

Besides the star, the 1951 production features many new "firsts" in this country. Among the foreign acts will be the flying Esquitos from South America, who present a flying trapeze act; the Ericksons of Denmark with their balancing display; and the internationally known Tynovs in their tight wire wizardry.

Also billed is Borje Barton, famed in Sweden as "the man who stands upon his forefinger" on a high pedestal.

One of the newest spectacles of the Beatty circus is the "Circus Goes On Parade," an act involving a herd of performing elephants, three dozen circus beauties, a battalion of clowns and hundreds of trained animals.

Beatty, who has been training jungle animals 29 years, goes into the lions' dens armed with only a whip, a kitchen chair and a gun that fires only blank cartridges.

The chair is an old-fashioned round-backed type, easy to handle, and fairly easy for lions and tigers to smash. They wreck 60 or more chairs a year.

The big circus will come to town on its special orange and blue railroad train.

Doctor Connected With Death Of Woman Is Put In Hospital

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — (P) — A brilliant brain specialist, described by his wife as a "sick man," was in a hospital for the insane today at her request.

Dr. Harry E. Hewitt, Jr., 41, was committed yesterday to Central State Hospital at Norman in a straitjacket following a violent struggle with four deputies in his office.

The action came three weeks to the day after dismissal of first degree manslaughter charges filed against the highly regarded physician in connection with the death Aug. 9 of a woman patient.

Hewitt was accused of drunkenly administering drugs to Mrs. Allene Shuler for a headache. The Berger woman collapsed and died within 24 hours after treatment.

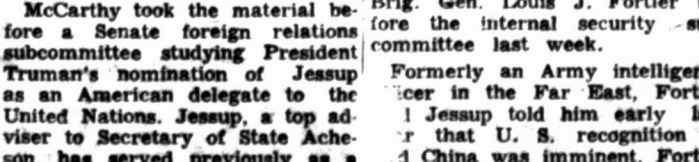

At his preliminary hearing in city court Sept. 5, Hewitt testified Mrs. Shuler died of a stroke. He denied being drunk. The case was dismissed by Judge J. F. Beavers after five doctors refused to venture a professional guess as to cause of death.

County Judge James L. Powell disclosed yesterday Mrs. Hewitt signed a petition for her husband's commitment on the day of Mrs. Shuler's death but asked that he withhold action until after the hearing. Powell described the doctor as being "in pretty bad shape." He and two psychiatrists examined Hewitt following the Shuler incident but findings were never divulged.

Mrs. Hewitt said only that Dr. Hewitt is a sick man and has been for some time. She was reluctant to talk about details of the illness. The couple have four small children.

BEING OFFICIALLY WELCOMED to Pampa tonight will be John H. Frick, (left) plant manager of the Celanese Corp. of America's new Pampa plant and Robert W. Clark, resident engineer of the plant. The welcoming is being staged at a dinner party to be given at 7 p.m. in the country club by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The party will be held in conjunction with an appreciation dinner for Hugh S. Burdette and E. L. Green, Jr., of the Cabot Co.

McCarthy Contends Jessup Has Affinity For Commies

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) produced copies today of documents he said support his contention that Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup has "an unusual affinity for Communist causes."

U. S. Appeals To Iran To Call Off Its Expulsion Order

WASHINGTON — (P) — The United States has appealed to Iran to cancel its order of expulsion of British oil experts from Abadan, the great Iranian refinery center.

The State department also said today the United States has advised Iran and Britain "it stands ready to render any assistance it can in helping them to find a settlement" of the oil crisis.

President Truman expressed the American point of view in a reply to a message from British Prime Minister Attlee.

Mossadegh's order of two days ago that the 300 British oil men remaining at Abadan must either leave next Thursday or be thrown out brought the crisis over oil nationalization to its present tension.

The British government has been considering either sending in troops or submitting to the Iranian ultimatum.

American and British leaders have been consulting for a midway between these extremes. Today's State department announcement heavily emphasized the American line that neither Britain or Iran should take any action which would close the door on a possible friendly settlement in the future.

The department said the Iranian situation has become more intense following Mossadegh's expulsion order then declared:

"It earnestly hopes that the Iranian government will not implement this reported plan as this (U.S.) government sincerely believes that if it does so a solution to the oil controversy will be rendered far more difficult. This is a time when it is most important that fluidity should be maintained."

The State department said it was not at liberty to disclose the precise contents of the communications between Attlee and Mr. Truman. It added, however:

"The United States has consistently urged upon both parties the need for moderation and the avoidance of any steps which would militate against an amicable settlement."

Final instructions are expected after today's cabinet meeting in London where the British government is believed ready to make a decision on how to handle the crisis.

Britain's Number Two diplomat in Iran, Embassy Counselor George Middleton, flew home yesterday to give the cabinet a first hand report on the situation here.

Middleton's boss, Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd, protested to the Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh over Iran's order giving British oil technicians until next Thursday to get out of the country.

It is this order which has brought the crisis to a head and led to the rumors that Britain may resist it by force.

There were no indications today, however, that Britain would do so. Most western diplomats here — including the British — feel such a course would be folly.

Cool Front Hits Area

A cool front bringing a sharp dip in temperatures swept into Pampa and the Panhandle today behind record autumn heat.

Strong northeast winds gusts up to 40 miles an hour were recorded at the airport early this morning. By 9 a. m. the temperature had fallen to 52. At 11 a. m. it had risen only one degree. High yesterday was 93.

The front was past Amarillo by midnight and at 4 a. m. had moved to a curving line from Fort Smith, Ark., through Wichita Falls and below Amarillo. It was expected to move into Central Texas today to the Shreveport-Abilene-Lubbock line by 4 p. m.

In the Panhandle, Dalhart had a low of 50 degrees this morning and Amarillo, 57.

Temperatures passed the 100-degree mark in at least six Texas cities Wednesday. President Eisenhower's high of 103 at Wichita Falls was the hottest Sept. 26 on record. Abilene's 102 was also a record for the day, and Big Spring's 102 matched a previous record. Wink had 103 degrees and Midland 101.

South Texas flood waters fell rapidly at Kingsville and Bishop after cloudbursts there Tuesday.

Texarkana had an inch of rain in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. and reported a thunderstorm this morning. Tyler also had a thunderstorm this morning.

Skies in West Texas were fair today, partly cloudy along the coast and cloudy elsewhere.

TALKING IT OVER — Atty. General Price Daniel (right) shakes hands with Clifford Braly, president of the Gray County Bar Assn., and pauses for a moment's talk with Braly and County Atty. Bill Waters. Daniel was to discuss the vital tideland question this noon before a joint meeting of Lion and Kiwanis clubs here. He gave a short talk this morning to the student body at Pampa High school. (News Photo)

History Of Tideland Dispute Told To Students By Daniel

WASHINGTON — (P) — Atty. General Price Daniel traced the history of the tideland controversy since it was named a boundary of Texas in 1836 by the congress of the first Republic of Texas up to its present position before the Congress of the United States.

He told the Pampa Senior High school student body this morning that Texas lost its tidelands because the Supreme Court of the United States, in a 4-to-3 opinion, denied the state permission to enter evidence before it.

The opinion was written, Daniel said, by Justice Douglas, the same associate justice who advocated recognizing Communist China.

Daniel urged renewal of a joint contact between the government and the people.

Daniel urged renewal of a joint Lion and Kiwanis club noon meeting, was introduced by Clifford Braly, president of the Gray County Bar Assn.

Boyle Denies Charges

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) told Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr. today his purported sale of law practice "implies" Boyle may have used his political position for personal profit. Boyle denied it vigorously.

At a Senate hearing, McClellan described as "unusual" the arrangement Boyle and Max Siskind, a Washington lawyer, had testified they made for Siskind to take over Boyle's practice and pay him $150,000.

McClellan said the fact they never signed any paper for the $150,000 sale "implies that there was an arrangement that you were to receive fees" in the guise of installment payments.

The deal, McClellan said, "gives rise" to belief in the minds of some that it was an arrangement for Siskind to do the work, and Boyle as the national chairman to get $150,000.

Boyle asserted the entire arrangement was entirely proper. Boyle denied, too, that he used political influence in behalf of the $150,000 sale of RFC loans to the American Lithofold Corp.

He acknowledged he did make an appointment for R. J. Blauener, president of the St. Louis printing firm, to see RFC Chairman Harley Hise about the loans on Feb. 28, 1949.

Autopsy Reveals Drugs Rather Than Beer Killed Infant

DALLAS — (P) — An autopsy report filed today held that drugs rather than beer and soda water administered by teenagers caused the death Saturday of a year-old Stephen Leslie Fletcher.

Justice Pierce McBride said he would postpone a verdict, pending an investigation to determine whether the baby accidentally took one of the tablets or was given it.

The autopsy report said the drugs were a medical mixture containing phenobarbital which the child's grandmother was taking.

The new development might clear Richard Harold Tucker, 17, of charges of murder without malice. The youth was filed on after admitting to police that he gave the infant beer and soda water shortly before it's death.

Tucker and another teen-age girl on a tentative diagnosis given by a physician at Parkland hospital. He believed the baby became intoxicated and then strangled on the soda water.

Two physicians concurred in the autopsy report while one found no significant amount of alcohol was in the child's blood.

They held that the child died following the taking of a drug mixture which contained nitrate pheno barbital veratrum."

The report said Mrs. Lottie Fletcher, grandmother of the child and mother of the two teen-age baby sitters, found a bottle of her medicine on the floor on the night of the infant's death.

Mrs. Fletcher said she had been taking the medicine for high blood pressure, the report said.

Survivors include one son, Howard, and one daughter, Eva. Mrs. Fletcher is 67.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Dunham-Carmichael funeral home.

Truman Asks Congress For Requirement

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman asked Congress today to require its members and all top government officials — including generals, admirals and judges — to give a public accounting each year of their total income.

Mr. Truman said such legislation would help prevent "improper conduct" and "unfounded suspicions."

In a lengthy message, sent to the Capitol in the midst of a Senate inquiry into charges of political influence in government loans, the President said:

"In operations as large as those of our government today, with so much depending on official action in the hands of the executive and legislative branches, it is essential to be able to attempt by private citizens or special interests groups to gain their ends by illegal or improper means."

Mr. Truman said he would favor including "the principle that national party officials and employees be among those persons required to file annual statements."

The President's own party chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr., was before the Senate's investigating subcommittee at the moment.

Specifically, the President recommended to Congress the prompt enactment of a law — "... which will require all full-time civilian presidential appointees including members of the federal bench and all officers of the federal government, including members of the Congress, and all other top officials and employees of the three branches of the government — a law which will require the filing of annual statements of their total incomes, including amounts over and above their government salaries, and the sources of this outside income."

Consentation should be given, the President said, to requirements that government employees making less than $10,000 should make such statements if their outside income exceeds $1,000 a year.

Some items which are not ordinarily counted as income, such as gifts and loans should be included in the statements filed under this statute.

Penalties for willful violation of the statute are equivalent to those for violation of the Internal Revenue Code.

Princess And Duke Will Leave Oct. 7

LONDON — (P) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will leave for their postponed Canadian tour by air on Oct. 7, they said today.

They will begin carrying out their tour schedule at Quebec Oct. 9.

This means there will be only a one week delay caused by postponement of the trip because of the King's serious illness. They had originally planned to arrive in Quebec Tuesday.

The royal couple will disclose later whether it will still be possible for them to visit President Truman in Washington.

President Signs Draft Law: Childless Married Men Face Military Service By New Bill

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman yesterday signed new draft regulations which make childless married men eligible for military service.

The Presidential action also makes other changes in Selective Service rules in keeping with the draft law passed by Congress last June. They range from including some aliens in the draft to lowering the volunteer age limit.

Of major effect, however, is the permission to draft childless married men, a change selective service officials believe will make 500,000 men formerly deferred eligible for duty.

Brig. Gen. Louis B. Rowford, acting director of Selective Service, said about 200,000 of this total may be drafted.

The new rules are for the guidance of local draft boards. Selective Service has said a few of them already have been taking from its reserve list.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Senate voted 77-11 today to wipe out the tax exemption on expense allowances of the President, vice-president and members of Congress, effective Jan. 1, 1953.

The amendment, described as in effect a salary cut, was tacked on to a bill to increase taxes an estimated $5,000,000 a year. The bill calls for an 11 percent boost in income taxes for most persons.

Senator William (R - Del.), sponsor of the amendment to restore the tax-free privilege of expense funds, originally planned to make it effective Nov. 1, this year. That is the scheduled date of the boost in personal income taxes.

Representing Skellytown were John M. Brown and C. E. Clark; Kerrat, Texas: A. L. Dixon, F. M. Neely and R. H. Hall; Wickett, Texas: H. S. Ayers, B. F. Bullis and C. E. Cullum; A. R. Davenport from Big Spring, Gibson according to police records.

The boy was unhurt. Through his cooperation, officers later were able to pick up Reeves, who admitted leaving the scene.

Send-Off Dinner Scheduled For Religious Census Drive

About 400 workers will assemble in the banquet room of the First Baptist church Friday evening for a dinner and "send-off" on the religious census drive to be held between 7:45 and 9:15 p. m.

W. B. Weathered, campaign chairman, will preside at the meeting and give details of the census. Workers will be divided into groups, and will work under 21 captains.

Workers will cover all but two small sections of the city which will be covered at a later date. Census takers represent all sections of Pampa and represent 24 church groups.

The city will be covered in one and one-half hours with all workers stopping at homes just long enough to get the necessary information. If any family does not plan to be at home, it is requested they clip the information blank from today's News (page 12) and attach it to the mailbox or screen door.

Kiwanians To Attend Meet In Oklahoma

Four members of the local Kiwanis club will represent Pampa at the 1951 convention of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district, Oct. 7 to 9, at Oklahoma City. Leslie Hart, club president, announced today.

Delegates are Hart, Warren Hasse, Joe Wells and Fred Thompson. Alternate delegates are J. C. Cashion and G. F. Branson.

Claude B. Hellmann, president of Kiwanis International, will be featured during the three-day meeting. Raymond W. Robbins, trustee of Kiwanis International, also will attend.

Delegates from 200 clubs in the district, representing 12,115 business and professional leaders, will participate. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year and election of officers will highlight the convention, Hart said.

Presiding officer will be Luman W. Holman, Jacksonville, Texas, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district.

President Hellmann, who will serve as official representative of Kiwanis International at the convention, is visiting Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

He praised the honesty of the vast majority of federal employees and the service they are rendering, but added:

"The disclosure of current outside income, however, will strike at the danger of gifts or other inducements made for the purpose of influencing official action, and at the danger of outside interests affecting public decisions."

Driver Fined For Leaving Accident

Roy T. Reese, 322 E. Bunow was fined $25 in corporation court this morning for leaving the scene of an accident.

After the car in which he was driving collided yesterday with a bicyclist ridden by Neal Clontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clontz, 948 E. Main, Reeves allegedly failed to stop and investigate the damage according to police records.

The boy was unhurt. Through his cooperation, officers later were able to pick up Reeves, who admitted leaving the scene.

DRAFT

classifying childless married men. To prevent last-minute claims for deferment based only on the registrant's opinion that his wife recently has become pregnant, the new law clearly defines "child."

Under the amended law, "child" means an infant from date of conception. A man may obtain deferment only if a doctor says a child has been conceived before the draftee is ordered to report for induction.

The new regulations for the first time also:

1. Make aliens living permanently in the United States liable for the draft. They are exempt only if they are citizens of one of the 20 countries having military exemption treaties with the United States, or if they are diplomatic personnel. Under the old law, aliens could not be drafted unless they had taken out first citizenship papers.
2. Allow 17-year-olds to volunteer with the written consent of parent or guardian. The former age limit was 18.
3. Force conscientious objectors to do some work of national importance for two years if physically able. All must take physical examinations, and if a conscientious objector is found not "physically or mentally qualified for military service, he should not be required to perform work in lieu of induction."
4. Spread the draft more evenly through age groups to prevent too-heavy call-up of young men. Renfrow said in some cases draft boards have dipped deeply into younger age groups while pools of older men were available.
5. Lower physical standards to those of January 1945 — the lowest point in World War II — and reduce mental requirements.
6. Provide for calling up doctors according to length of prior military service rather than by age. Those who have served the shortest period would be called first.
7. Add "pharmacy, chiropractic, or chiropody" to medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy, optometry" in the provisions for conscientious consideration to students in the healing arts.

PTA District 8 Meeting Underway

Representatives from 26 counties were in Pampa today for the Dist. 8 Parent Teachers Assn. meeting in the education building of the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Orville K. Smith, childress, is president of the group and Mrs. Leo Inman is secretary. Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald of Pampa is one of seven district vice-presidents of the organization.

Reports from various county representatives were to be made in the general meeting today including each club's plan of study for the year.

Mrs. Smith indicated two conventions would be discussed before the group adjourned for luncheon in the Schneider hotel. A safety convention will be held Oct. 18 in the Amarillo McKinley school with C. E. Sanderson and J. O. Mueck, representatives of the Texas Safety Assn., presiding.

The state PTA convention is to be held Nov. 14-16 in Dallas. Attending the meeting today were the following PTA representatives: Mrs. Marshall King, Mrs. Hugh Cypher and Mrs. W. C. Barkdale, Borger; Mrs. George C. Bonecutter, Stinnett; Mrs. C. M. Carter, and Mrs. L. L. Wylie, Phillips; Mrs. M. W. Funeral services for Sidney Gray Hunt, 31, of McLean, will be held today at 3 p. m. in the McLean Methodist church.

Mr. Hunt was killed Aug. 23 in a vehicle accident in Japan. He had been stationed as an Army warrant officer since February 1949.

He was born Jan. 13, 1920, in McLean and married Miss Beatrice Stanton, Leffers, in 1942. Mrs. Hunt was with her husband until a few weeks before his death.

During World War II, Mr. Hunt served in Italy with the Fifth Army and was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery in action.

Rev. C. W. Parmenter will officiate. Burial will be in Hillcrest cemetery, where military rites will be conducted. Griggs Funeral home, Amarillo, and Clifton Funeral home, McLean, will be in charge of services.

Survivors include his wife, Beatrice; two sons, Robert and Charles; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Her-

Doggett Services Scheduled Today

Funeral services for Joe E. Doggett, 73, who died Tuesday in his home here, were to be held today at 3 p. m. in the Church of Christ, Goldthwaite, Texas.

Mr. Doggett had been a resident of Pampa two years, residing at 308 S. Gray. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, four sons, (all of Pampa), two brothers and three sisters.

Burial was to be in the Gold-

Americans Get Word That Wonder Weapons Are Near

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Americans have the word of top congressional and military authorities that atomic wonder weapons are nearer the hands of U. S. fighting men, but that foot soldiers and bullets won't fade away.

There were expressions from Chairman Brien McMahon (D. Conn.) of the Senate House atomic energy committee, Secretary of the Defense Lovett and Secretary of the Army Pace.

"They all agreed swift progress has been made. But there was a polite differing of emphasis. For his part, Pace cautiously let it be known that when the stuff is ready, the Army will want it in quantity.

McMahon, who in a Senate speech last week urged that the nation get started now on all-out atomic weapons production which he said would reduce the cost of conventional armament, renewed his plea last night in an address at a federal bar association dinner.

Among other things, McMahon said the atomic energy commission has in being or in development "literally dozens" of different types and kinds of special purpose atomic weapons models.

He said "the so-called wonder weapons" he was talking about weren't just a gleam in the eye of scientists but "down-to-earth" hardware, proven, demonstrated and confirmed" or proof-tested or about to be.

McMahon had prepared his speech before Lovett issued, at a Pentagon news conference, a statement which the secretary explained was to answer misinterpretations of what McMahon had meant in his last week's Senate speech.

"Recent publicity about new weapons, new developments in warfare, and optimistic statements on the military application of atomic energy have given the exaggerated impression that a quick, easy and inexpensive security might now be at hand," Lovett said.

Over a seven-year period, he added, considerable progress has been made toward a "variety of new weapons" and particularly in the past year there have been marked results. The Pentagon has "geared" its requests for carriers of these new weapons, "airborne and otherwise," to these developments. He explained that because aircraft "now and for some time will represent the most efficient method of delivery" of atomic weapons the Defense Dept. had asked for increased air power.

"Many future weapons may be dramatically different from our present armaments," Lovett states. "Meanwhile, however, we must rely on the proved, tested and available models to win today's battles with men presently trained to use them.

"Even in view of these new developments, there is no new, inexpensive or magic way to win wars in the near future."

McMahon, in his talk, took pains to point out some of the things he didn't say in his Senate speech. Like these:

"I did not say, for example, that we can ever afford to do without conventional forces. On the contrary, I expressly stated my belief that although conventional forces are far more expensive than the atomic weapon, we will always need them.

"Neither did I say that the atomic weapon can perform military miracles. It is for the very reason that the atomic weapon is not magic that I called for its production on a huge scale, just as we would mass-produce a superb conventional weapon."

McMahon emphasized that work should start at once on building new atomic production facilities that at least $4,000,000,000 should be made available for this next

Pace went before McMahon's committee yesterday and, the senator said, told the group the Army attached high significance to its work looking toward atomic energy use on the field of battle.

"Secretary Pace made it plain that future army tactical requirements will be very substantial in quantity and all fissionable material should be produced as soon as practicable," McMahon said.

Several times more before dawn came I heard her call across: "Turn on your left side. Turn on your right side." And once, I dimly recall, she said in utter exasperation:

Official Sees Gas Shortage Because Of Rail Shortage

DALLAS — (AP) — Growing defense demands on the nation's rail rolling stock may create some spot shortages in gasoline, the head of the Defense Transportation administration predicts.

"It's possible we'll have some spot shortages of gasoline developing in the country, but that will be due to transportation and not to the shortage of gasoline," said James E. Knudson.

Knudson predicted effects of a tight squeeze on all shipping will appear in February.

"All this is on an assumption that full-scale war does not develop," he said.

He warned that the rail car shortage would result "in an inability to supply shippers all over the country."

Open top, tank and rail box cars are going to be in precarious supply for two or three years,

"even if the Korean situation ends," he said, adding: "We need 350,000 cars as soon as we can get them."

The DTA chief predicted motor freight and passenger vehicles would continue operating without "fire rationing or gasoline rationing" or any restriction unless we have a much tighter international situation that we do

Chemists To Hear Cabot Officials In Borger Saturday

Meetings of the Panhandle Plains section, American Chemical society, will be resumed Saturday with a speech by Dr. C. A. Stokes, director of research, Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Boston, following a dinner at the First Methodist church, Borger, at 6:30 p.m.

The talk will describe experiences a member of the audience might expect if he suddenly became research director of a hypothetical chemical company. Points in managing industrial research will be emphasized. A few cartoons on slides will be shown.

In his professional career, Stokes served as assistant chemist with the Florida State Road Dept., was instructor and assistant professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and consultant in the Office of Production Research and Development, War Production board. Since 1945 he has been director of research and development at Cabot, Inc.

Officials Show City's Plan For Improvements To Rotary

City officials — Mayor C. A. Huff, City Manager Dick Pepin, and City Engineer Ray Evans — yesterday pulled out prepared maps charting the city's proposed $575,000 water, sewer, and street and parks program for the Pampa Rotary club.

Evans, a past president of Rotary, traced the city's water history over the past 15 years showing the steady rise in millions of gallons production per month. The big problem at present, the engineer said, is not producing the water, but getting it into the overhead storage tanks. He recalled on several occasions some of Pampa's multi-story buildings were without water on the second, third and top stories.

The engineer said it was not the shortage of water but was the insufficient transportation because the present mains are not large enough. Part of the proposed program will put a 16-inch main from the south side pump station through the middle of town. This large main, plus other enlarged mains, will also put more water pressure on the east side of town where it has fallen off drastically.

Pepin explained the city also wants to drill an additional well south of town and obtain additional water rights now as "good insurance" for the days ahead when those rights might run much higher than they can be obtained for now. Pepin said the additional well will be needed to increase the margin of safety of water production for a rapidly increasing population. At present the safety margin on peak production is less than one million gallons per day.

Pepin and Evans also went into the sewer problems tracing the proposed 18-inch outfall line that will run parallel to the present 15-inch line along Red Deer creek. Also included are sewer lines that will be designed to take care of the new additions coming inside the city limits on the south end of Pampa.

Other improvements discussed by Pepin and Evans were bridges spanning creeks along Kentucky and Yeager, and the pedestrian walk across Duncan bridge. The park rest room program, Pepin said, would put three large buildings in Central, Lions and S. Hobart parks that would serve as combination rest room, weather shelter and tool house for the parks. Two smaller rest rooms would be put in Priest park and on the far side of Central park.

Mayor Huff, also a Rotary past president, introduced Evans and Pepin.

Official Declares Gas Rates Too Low, Demand Too Great

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — C. Pratt Rather, assistant deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, says a natural gas rate to the public are too low.

Rather told the Independent Natural Gas Assn. that natural gas is so cheap, compared with other fuels, that an excessive demand for it has developed.

Rather said rates charged by producers of the gas may be about as high as they should go, but rates which pipeline transmission companies and distribution companies are allowed to charge should be increased because of higher costs.

Rather emphasized that he was expressing his personal opinion and was not speaking of the rates in an official way.

"The public must be warned that it can destroy the natural gas industry, and badly hurt itself in the process, by continuing to insist on what has become a by-word — cheap natural gas," Rather said.

"Gas simply cannot supply the entire fuel market of this country. The present cheap price has a tendency to make the public want it to do exactly that."

"Natural gas should be generally available on a basis nearer its real value instead of being so cheap that an insatiable appetite results. In the long run the public will suffer."

Rather said pipeline and distributing companies fear the possibility of "going broke while they fight through a rate case" and therefore are reluctant to pay higher prices for gas and higher costs to expand their systems.

He said this leads to a static situation which can only mean more rationing and regulation.

The Federal Power commission in a recent decision declined to claim jurisdiction over producing companies. The commission regulates rates for gas shipped in interstate commerce.

Rather said the industry will be harmed if the producer attempts to push gas prices beyond reasonable limits — "and those limits, taking into consideration current prices being offered for gas in the field, are not so far off."

He said he had heard the comment, made in perfect seriousness, that since oil is worth $2.40 a barrel and one barrel is equivalent to 6000 cubic feet of gas, gas should be worth 40 cents a thousand cubic feet at the well.

"The public can and will pay higher prices for gas," Rather said.

"It has shown this by the way it fights for gas from new pipelines having much higher rates than those old gas systems in the same territory — better to have gas at higher rates than be gouged."

Bow Tie Wearers Long For Lost Youth — It Says Here

By HENRY McLEMORE

For the small price of 35 cents I am a changed man.

For two bits and a dime I bought a book called "Character Reading Made Easy," and after reading it I don't know where I stand. By accident I turned to page 93 which gives a man the lowdown on his character if he wears a bow tie and socks.

I was wearing a bow tie at the time, and was told in paragraph two that bow tie wearers are persons who long for their youth and, among other things, appeal to the mother instinct of women.

I was in Grand Central at the time and wished that I had on a tie that appealed to the mother instinct of redcaps, so that one would come and get my bags.

Socks that are gartered, this book says, are worn by men who wish to conserve the energy for the really crucial trials of life. I don't want to argue with the author, but I'd be willing to bet him a fudge sundae that no man who ever won a Congressional Medal of Honor, or a Distinguished Service Cross, or a Silver Star was well gartered in the crucial trial of his life.

Frederick Meier, who wrote "Character Reading Made Easy," misses nothing from flat thumbs to how women draw on their stockings. A thumb that is flat shows a nervous and jumpy nature, which means that such men wouldn't be happy with women who put their stockings on carefully, with the seams running up the back of the leg in a straight line, because these women have emotions that are perfectly balanced. A man with a flat thumb, married to a careful stocking-drawer-owner would undoubtedly murder her within the first month.

But it is with Mr. Meier's interpretation of men that I am chiefly interested. A pencil-line moustache pegs a man as not too sure of his ability or decisions. A short, toothbrush moustache signifies a man who craves attention and who will go to any end to get it. The waxed moustache is the male counterpart of the coquette. The full, with blunt ends moustache wearer is a leader, while the drooping job shows that the owner is reflective and full of energy. Those of us who don't wear moustaches apparently don't have anything at all. We're the ones who hang outside the doors of the moustache owners' houses and cry for help and crumbs.

Some other of Mr. Meier's observations are:

A woman who wears a bun is cold, calm, severe and very strict. He never went with any South Georgia school teachers, that's for sure.

People with fine-textured hair usually have characters that match their hair.

A man who parts his hair on either side lives to a ripe old age. I'd like to tell Mr. Meier that the first I buried parted his hair on both sides and in the center, and the cause of death was given as excessive hair combing.

Nostrils reveal character to the extent that they are open or closed. I would like to tell Mr. Meier that he can spend the rest of his life with closed nostrilled people no matter if they paint two pictures to Grand-ma Moses' one. I am going around with open-nostrilled people.

Buy "Character Reading Made Easy." You'll find out things about yourself you won't believe.

Jap Veterans Of W W II Surrender

GUAM — (AP) — Four Japanese veterans of World War II, trapped in their cave on the rugged northern coast of Guam, surrendered today to U.S. Navy officials and Guam policemen.

Before they would leave, they insisted on bathing.

Another Japanese soldier in the war that ended six years ago was captured by two Guamanian fishermen last night as he slept on a beach three miles from the cave.

Three other Japanese asleep on the sands escaped.

Use Common Sense to Take Off That Ugly Fat

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra poundage. A rigid diet over a protracted period of time, can do no harm.

Why not try the Barcostrale way as mentioned others have done, with remarkable results? Barcostrale contains no harmful drugs. In fact, it contains ingredients to make you feel better. Just go to your drugist and get 4 ounces of liquid Barcostrale. Pour into a pint bottle and add 22 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take 2 tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off extra fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is the Proof

"I have taken Barcostrale and gotten wonderful results," writes Mrs. E. L. Perry, 724 E. 41st St., San Angelo, Texas. "I have lost 14 pounds and I feel so much better. I got rid of all my blot and got and can now get a good night's sleep. I also enjoyed taking Barcostrale."

Lost 13 Pounds

"Barcostrale not only made me lose weight, but it made me feel so much better," says Mrs. Ida G. Johnson, 702 East 23rd, Dallas, Texas. "I have already lost 13 pounds taking Barcostrale."

10 Pounds Lost

"I am very grateful to Barcostrale," writes Opal Malone, 202 W. 9th, Dallas, Texas. "I have lost 10 pounds taking the wonderful medicine."

Sturdy-Youngsters Ease King's Burden Of Official Duties

YOUNGSTERS ... King George VI, too ill to carry the full burden of official duties, has been comforted greatly by the knowledge that two sturdy youngsters are taking on some of the load. To an increasing extent, Princess Elizabeth, now going to Canada on a royal mission, has been assuming some of the more exhausting of her father's functions. And if there is anything really strenuous to do — make a lengthy speech, shake thousands of hands or crawl around some construction project — the Duke of Edinburgh applies his athlete's strength to the task.

The Princess has taken some of the reviews, which require long standing, and has been his deputy at such formalities as a troop of colors, at which the sovereign is expected to ride smartly and sit long hours in a saddle. The Princess also has taken a deeper interest in the official business, which until his lung operation Sunday the King managed without undue strain. The daily stint involves reading countless dispatches, seeing the government's ministers and the foreign ambassadors, and lately, keeping in close touch with commonwealth affairs.

Auto Output Drop Is Seen

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT — (AP) — The auto industry's July-through-September output probably will total 1,100,000 or less passenger cars. It was authorized to build 1,300,000.

Factory heads are worrying about what lies ahead for the year's final quarter and the first half of 1952. The car makers have been authorized to build 1,100,000 cars in the October-through-December period. Trying to eke out production the factories have been buying steel abroad. They also need copper, aluminum and other such certain further restrictions, indium — and they haven't been able to enlarge their inventories from the usual sources. A further reduction in output volume appears certain.

Yvonne De Carlo Finds Israel Likes Sultry Pictures

By BO BETHOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Sultry Yvonne De Carlo, who has slithered through many an exotic epic, has returned from the Near East with a healthy respect for such-films. She found folk love 'em over there. Miss De Carlo, first film star to perform in Israel, reported riotous audiences there. Before her trip, she was not very fond of the "Arabian Nights" type of film she has often appeared in. "But I was amazed at how much the people over there liked those pictures," she remarked. "I talked to many natives — cab drivers, hair dressers, hotel clerks — who said they had seen

Tito Says Slavs Ready To Fight

BELGRADE — (AP) — Premier Marshal Tito says Yugoslavia stands ready to battle for her freedom and independence, "alone if necessary."

The Premier spoke in Serbia, before 50,000. Tito expressed confidence Yugoslavia could resist the pressure of the Soviet-led Cominform which ousted the Yugoslav Communist party three years ago and has been attacking it in a war of nerves ever since. The Moscow Communists accuse Tito of nationalism — meaning independence of the Kremlin.

He said Yugoslavia, in accepting aid from the United States, has not departed from the path of communism, and said that the American aid came here without any conditions.

Two Pay $15 Fines On Drunk Counts

Two men Wednesday were fined $15 each in corporation court after pleading guilty to charges of intoxication. A third is being held on a similar charge for further investigation. All three were picked up by the general fund since the charter tended it could probably go into the first transoceanic cable was laid in 1866.

Now Yankees Are Flying The Confederate Flag Of Battle

ATLANTA (AP) — Grandpap always said "when they don't break, infiltrate," and he'd be darned if we ain't got them Yankees flying the Confederate battle flag.

It's taken nigh onto 90 years, but we're gonna win that war yet.

And that grand old battle flag, which grandpap tearfully saw surrendered at Appomattox, can be had in supermarkets along with the groceries for 39 cents.

In fact, the battle flag can be had on neckties, ruff links, caps, T-shirts and decals.

It is flaunted from the radio aerials of cars, flag poles, pasted on car windows, mounted on staffs and flown from the fenders of U.S. Army trucks and jeeps.

If this be treason, sub, make the most of it.

It has even invaded the North. It paraded jauntily down Broadway in New York this summer, flown by the grey-clad band of the Dixie (181st) division.

Grandpap would have liked that sight. He never could get it beyond a place in Pennsylvania called Gettysburg and that was way back in '63.

Things have come to such a pass in Dixie that federal office buildings appear as the last outpost of union strength.

There was a rumor for a Yankee time that more Confederate battle flags not to be confused with the "Stars and Bars" were being sold in the United States than the "Stars and Stripes" in the nation's biggest flag maker, Annin and Co. of New York, says this is a Confederate canard.

Anyhow, the resurgence of the once feared flag has produced various reactions.

Some diehard Federalists see it as a dark, Dixiecrat plot to undermine the union.

Some "States Righters" see it as a protest against President Truman.

Some "States Righters" see it come from Korea, Okinawa, Etc. attached Rebels see it as a travesty on the sacred memory of those gallant members of the glorious army that fought for "the lost cause."

The New York Times commented that it made a good souvenir for all those Yankees who vacationed away down South in Dixie.

Ernest Rogers, columnist for the Atlanta Journal, observed that it was a mighty decorative flag and looked better than anything else, say a squirrel's tail, on automobiles.

Just how the flag fad started is open to debate but it is likely that it was started by the Kappa Alpha (southern) fraternity, founded at Washington and Lee university at Lexington, Va., in 1865.

The KA's claim Gen. Robert E. Lee, then school president, as the "spiritual father" of the fraternity. Anyhow, the flag has been used by the KA's for years in their parades throughout the South.

The parade custom was abandoned during the war (the last one) and was resumed for the first time two years ago.

The flag is the Confederate battle flag, designed after the Battle of Bull Run during the War Between the States at the suggestion of Gen. G. T. Beauregard.

Beauregard found that the original Rebel flag a white stripe on a red field with the union blue and stars in the corner was easily confused with the "Stars and Bars" flag.

Subsequently the original "Stars and Bars" was abandoned in favor of a white flag with a miniature battle flag in the corner. This got confused with the British ensign so a red stripe was added.

The Civil War ended before they could make another change. The Yankees claimed a victory. Recently, at Operation Southern Pines, more than 2000 rebel flags were counted among the 100,000 troops on maneuvers by somebody who had nothing better to do.

Requests for the flag have come from Korea, Okinawa, Etc. attached Rebels see it as a travesty on the sacred memory of those gallant members of the glorious army that fought for "the lost cause."

Lawyer Says He Bought Law Practice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Max Siskind, Washington lawyer, testified Wednesday he got some law practice from William M. Boyle, Jr., the Democratic national chairman, in 1949 for $150,000 but balked at giving senators a list of the clients.

Siskind insisted to a Senate investigations subcommittee that the account of American Litho-fold Corp. was not among those he purchased from Boyle. He declared Boyle gets no part of a $600-a-month retainer fee he now receives from Lithofold.

The senators are looking into a $585,000 government loan to American Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm, and whether Boyle exerted political influence to get the RFC to make the loan.

The loan was made in 1949 when Boyle was the company's lawyer here.

Siskind asserted he had no part in getting the government loan for Lithofold. He said too he never solicited government business for the company.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), said he wanted the investigation to show "whether there ever was a sale" of the clients by Boyle to Siskind, "or whether this was a continuing account" in which the two lawyers divided fees.

GREECE SNAPS BACK—With hand tools and plenty of elbow grease, workers at Salonika, Greece, put a newly-arrived steel rail into place to repair one of their many war-damaged lines. A full consignment of rails shipped from Western Europe was unloaded and set into place in one day, dramatizing the return to pre-war efficiency of Greek railroads.

Congressman With No Pockets Seeks Cut In Lawmaker's Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressman with no pockets in his pants is advocating a salary cut for the nation's lawmakers, rather than a raise.

It's not that Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) couldn't find a place for extra money—he does have pockets in his coat.

He argued, however, that the nation's representatives would be doing the country a real service if they themselves took the first step toward getting back to what he called a "rational" price level.

With inflation, there has been considerable moaning in the House and Senate even at cut rates.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader, has come out openly for an increase to $25,000 a year.

But Hoffman advocated: "Cut us to $10,000."

After bleeding the first economy dollars personally, he counseled, the congressmen should start whacking away at other expenses of government, including the pay of its civil service employees.

The goal, he told a reporter, should be to get the cost of living within reach of every individual.

"This business of raising wages and then raising them again won't do it," he said.

Hoffman said he is drawing twice as many dollars now for lawmaking as he did when he came here in 1935, and is worse off financially.

"And," he added, "I don't gamble, smoke, drink or patronize the race tracks, and have virtually no social activities. I try to live the old fashioned way."

The slender, sharp-featured lawyer from Allegan, Mich., is confident there would be plenty of competition for seats in the House and Senate even at cut rates.

"Nobody drafted me," he recalled.

Further, he doesn't think that $25,000 a year would hire better lawmakers.

"All sorts of motives bring people here," he said. "I think the profit motive is the least of all."

Oh, yes, about Hoffman's pocketless pants. He's worn them many years, and explains: "Pants pockets are kind of like the New Deal—a catch-all for all sorts of damn fool junk."

MISS DOTTE silenced the buzz of enjoyable horror by saying commandingly, "You may put on your mascara now, class. I'll come around in a few minutes to check, and I do not want to see smears, so work carefully and quietly."

Miss Dottle got a white bottle out of the supply cabinet, came over to Paris, and said in a conspiratorial voice, "This stuff will cover up most of it. You'd better put some on quick, in case Meadows pops in." She shook the bottle. "We had a Hollywood client taking a private course, and she got a terrible shiner after—uh—anyway, we put on this camouflage base before she went on a television show, and you couldn't notice a thing."

"No kidding?" Paris said.

"I sure hope it goes away before graduation," Miss Dottle went on, still in the "Glamour Guide" voice. "Because you're the most photogenic one we've got."

Paris, who responded to genuine friendliness as she responded to food, was already looking more cheerful. She applied the liquid, which had the consistency of milk of magnesia, to the sponge. "Well, here goes," Lucilla and Mrs. Coips watched as she dabbed her eye socket and lid, and smoothed out the liquid at the edges. Occasionally they glanced at each other, signaling, "Shall we ask her what happened?" Finally Mrs. Coips burst out, "Was Harry annoyed—I mean about the mink?"

"I wouldn't let that louse give me a mink if he was the last guy on Broadway," Paris said.

"But wasn't that what made him—uh—Mrs. Coips' voice trailed off helplessly, as she looked at the black eye.

"No," Paris said. "I was sore at him." Her friends looked bewildered. "You wanna know why?" Lucilla nodded with ladylike restraint, but she listened as eagerly as Mrs. Coips. "First I hadda sit and watch him stuff himself with noodle soup and sauerbraten and cheese cake," Paris said somberly. "Then he orders a cold-pork sandwich with picallilli relish and he won't even give me a bite. Not till you get your diploma," he says. So naturally I call him a few names, and he sticks the sandwich right up in my face and says, 'Smell.' Then I swing at him, and he put up his other hand and catches me in the eye."

She added darkly, "You shoulda seen him after I really got goin'. There was picallilli all over his shirt."

BY noon of the next day, Harry still hadn't shown up. Paris, sitting on the steps outside the Eat-Beauty bar with Lucilla, bit into a Laxa biscuit and said thickly, "Men! They're all skunks!" Lucilla said rather pontifically, "You can't judge every man by Harry."

"There's worse guys than Harry. Take this Coips. If ever a guy sounded like a louse, it's him."

Lucilla admitted he did. "But why did she marry him in the first place?"

"That's a dumb thing to say," Paris slid her dark glasses down on her nose, to stare reprovingly out of the camouflaged eye. "Maybe she was crazy about him."

"But now that she knows what he's like—imagine having a husband who stays out all night!"

Paris snorted. "You mean yours never did?"

Lucilla said indignantly of course not.

"How come you never talk about him much? I figured you two weren't getting along so good."

Lucilla said quickly that wasn't it at all.

"Then whv'ev you been giving the eye to that jerk Marlowe?" Lucilla was so startled that she blurted out, "He's not a jerk." Recovering, she added, "He simply happens to be an intelligent person who's interested in books and theater, as I am."

"Take it from me, he's a jerk. I had one old goat kept askin' me to come up to his place and see a Fare Bible. 'What's so rare about a Bible?' I asks him. They got one in every hotel room."

"There are men who enjoy a woman's intellectual companionship," Lucilla intoned from her pulpit of superiority.

"Maybe," Paris appeared dubious. "But if this Derek Marlowe starts that schmoose about spending a quiet little evening alone—just the two of you—with his television set..."

Lucilla said triumphantly that Derek loathed television. Paris waved this aside. "Okay, then, his etchings or his record collection." She saw her companion's expression.

With great dignity, and even condescension, Lucilla explained about "Finnegan's Wake." "It's hardly the sort of thing a man would use for bait. In fact, I'd be wanting very much to hear it, and Mr. Marlowe was nice enough to say I could stop by his apartment sometime and..."

"Stop by?" Paris exclaimed. "That's what they always say. At least Harry isn't the kind of guy who pulls that book-and-record stuff."

LUCILLA was resentful of the idea. When she finally managed to get away, she hurried to class without even glancing, en route, at the fire escape where Derek often stood to have a cigarette.

She didn't see him till the end of the afternoon, in the downstairs corridor. He looked so handsome with his hat on that her ribs tightened with pleasure. Derek glanced over to make sure the elevator operator had withdrawn into her cage and risen, before he said, "What a charming surprise, darling."

No matter how careful you may be about keeping your eyes where they belong, you sometimes see a card in an opponent's hand. It happens to everybody, and of course you always warn the opponent to be more careful. But what should you do? Should you take advantage of the information you have thus gained?

Before you answer this question, let me tell you a sad story. It's about the very honest gent who played today's hand.

West opened the queen of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Now our honest hero had to decide which finesse to take. By mischance he chose to finesse the queen of diamonds, and lost to West's king.

West opened the queen of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Now our honest hero had to decide which finesse to take. By mischance he chose to finesse the queen of diamonds, and lost to West's king.

His course now clear, South ruffed a club in dummy and returned a diamond. East discarded a heart, and South ruffed with the three. At this point East squirmed in his chair, and South saw the king and ten of spades in East's hand.

That was all he could see, so he hastily warned East to hold his cards back. Then, being an honest gent, he wondered whether or not he should make use of his knowledge.

Temptation finally proved too strong. He knew a finesse was necessary to pick up East's trumps, so he ruffed a second

British Bomb Alley Site Of New Test On Civil Defense

LONDON — (AP) — Camberwell — nicknamed London's "Bomb Alley" for its hard hitting in the last war — provides a realistic setting for the first big civil defense exercise in this blitzed capital since the last rocketed bomb crashed in the streets nearly seven years ago.

Interest in civil defense, and recruiting for its forces, have been lagged and have brought many official expressions of concern.

Camberwell's practice run is aimed not only at giving practice to its slim forces of rescuers, first aid workers and welfare people but to stir up interest in joining the volunteer civil defense corps.

This first big London exercise will take place Sept. 29.

A bombed site, with wrecked buildings still standing on it, will be its locale. Additional rubble will be added to the guant wrecks to make it look like a bomb has just hit. A few cans containing radio-active substances likely will be scattered through the wreckage to give detection experts a trial run in marking out danger areas.

The actual radiation will not be enough to endanger anyone.

NEW PUNCH FOR THE "BUCKAROO"—The TEMCO "Buckaroo," nominally a light trainer, is being demonstrated to the armed forces as a light, highly maneuverable ground support plane. The armed Buckaroo, equipped with two 30-calibre machine guns and ten 2.75-inch rockets, is seen above being inspected by Air Force officers at Goodfellow, Tex., Air Force Base.

Britain Is Lucky And Happy Under Queen, Britons Believe

By ALVIN J. STEINKOFF

LONDON — (AP) — Britain is lucky and happy when she is ruled by a queen. So say the country folk.

Now many who half believe this pleasant superstition hope Princess Elizabeth, who will soon visit Canada and the United States with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will bring good fortune to the British Commonwealth of nations. The Commonwealth could use a little luck.

The journey to North America by the Princess who almost certainly will be queen some day, is regarded as another and a highly important step in her training.

When the British speak of lucky queens they think first of all, of Elizabeth and Victoria — Elizabeth who reigned in a lusty age of exploration and expansion, and Victoria who ruled more than half a century and made the prestige of the empire an awesome force in the world.

Princess Elizabeth, it is hoped, might be another Victoria glorifying the realm, and there was some ground for speculation that, making due allowance for changed times, Elizabeth will emulate the formidable queen of whom Rudyard Kipling wrote: "Walk wide of the widow at Windsor. For 'alf of creation she owns." There are striking similarities. Both Victoria and Elizabeth were thoroughly prepared, by education and spiritual "condition" for their duties.

Both married foreign-born men, Victoria the German Prince Albert and Elizabeth the Greek Prince Philip. It was a love match in each case. Both set royal examples by starting out to rear families promptly.

Victoria just never stepped out of her role, and was sustained in it by a strong sense of responsibility. She even cut her honeymoon to two days because she couldn't trust the prime minister and Parliament alone in London.

The Sovereign today doesn't have to worry so much about the prime minister, and Parliament is completely out of hand. The sovereign does not need, in fact does not dare to manage details of administration. But Elizabeth has a sense of responsibility which promises to be as powerful as that which inspired Victoria. It takes a somewhat different direction. Elizabeth, in the changed club in/dummy and took a second trump finesse. And then he felt sick. He had one trump in his own hand and one in dummy. He could ruff a third club in dummy, but the diamonds were dead. The moment he led a diamond from dummy, East would ruff. South could then make the ace of trumps but would have to give up the other two tricks, losing his contract.

The sad part of the story is that South would have made his contract if he hadn't seen East's trumps. He'd have laid down the ace of trumps at once. With two trumps in dummy, he could ruff a club and lead diamonds until East was willing to take the king of trumps. Then dummy would still have a trump left as the entry to the rest of the diamonds.

WAVE Beauty Is Achieved By Orders, Not Magic

The alert vibrant beauty of this young WAVE officer is no accident, but rather the result of a careful program of grooming. Hair, cut to regulation above-collar length, (left) is carefully set at night to avoid straggles. Shoe-shining, too, (center right) is part of evening-before preparation that includes thorough uniform sprucing. In the morning, only hasty brush-up (center left) and a quick check of stocking seams is necessary before setting out, spic and span, for duty (right).

Baptist TEL Class Elects Officers In White Deer

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Election of officers of the TEL class of the First Baptist church was held at an all-day meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Alma Thornburg.

Re-elected were Mrs. M. E. Wells, teachers; Mrs. C. P. Hussey, president; Mrs. Charles Milligan, secretary; and Mrs. Billie Enoch, treasurer; with Mrs. G. A. Bell and Mrs. Eva Inman group captains.

Two quilts presented by Mrs. Thornburg were quilted, and reports of the class officers were made. It was reported that the class offering for the Mexican kindergarten at San Antonio for this quarter was $82.40.

Mrs. W. B. Carey and Mrs. J. W. Everly were the September birthday honorees.

Others present were Meses. J. D. Edgar, T. G. Buewton, M. J. Osborne, Arthur Kirkwood, F. L. Simoot, J. W. Wells, Sarah McKel, J. W. Ward, W. E. Moore, Jessie Pearson, and E. L. Colgrove.

The Motion Picture Assn. of America estimates 60,000,000 admissions are paid into American movie theaters each week.

College degrees are held by 42 percent of U.S. Army officers, according to Army records.

CARDUI MONTHLY CRAMPS CHANGE OF LIFE

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

There's something about almost every WAVE you meet, striding briskly along in her immaculate uniform, that's as crisp and vibrant as a fresh autumn breeze. Envious civilians wonder how they do it.

To the average woman, it seems almost as if there's a Cinderella magic in donning the garb of the Navy. Some good fairy, it would appear, wards off such plagues as straggling curls, crooked stocking seams and dusty shoes.

It's not quite as simple as that, however, according to Ensign Faith Walters, who is more inclined to credit Navy regulations than hocus-pocus for her hand-box appearance. The same rules that for generations have endowed men in this branch of the service with spit-and-polish perfection are now working, with a few modifications, for lady sailors. The backbone of the whole routine is simple grooming.

Navy grooming is not a matter of hasty licks-and-promises five seconds before dashing from the house. It's a well-thought-out plan for keeping appearance continually at top peak.

This includes leisurely attention, the night before, to such vital chores as polishing shoes and going painstakingly over a uniform to remove all spots and lint. For the latter task, Miss Walters rolls a length of transparent tape—sticky side out—around her finger. With this she "brushes" her uniform, until all fuzz and foreign matter is adhering to the tape rather than to her dress blues.

Her hair, too, receives advance care. She is allowed to choose her own hair style, provided her tresses are kept at collar-height or above. However, the Navy frowns, from a standpoint of both tidiness and suitability, upon elaborate, over-done coiffures.

There's a tip here for the average woman who wishes to look well-turned-out in tailored clothes.

A tailored hair-do is its best complement.

There's a lesson also in the trim cut of the Navy uniform. Here is proof of what clean lines and good tailoring can do to emphasize a good figure and play down the defects of a poor appearance are not the last in importance. The civilian woman whose taste in suits usually runs to frillier effects may find that her wardrobe, too, can profit from adopting the uncluttered look.

A good appearance, it's emphasized in Navy training, is not simply a matter of symmetrical features and a well-shaped form. Women in the WAVES are taught to wear their uniforms proudly, depending upon erect carriage to give them an alert and vibrant look. This is emphasized not only in their lifted chins and well-held shoulders, but in the fluid movement of their entire bodies as they step smartly along in the way they've been instructed.

Vivacity of expressions is important, too. Any woman appears more attractive if her face reflects the happiness and satisfaction that she derives from her job—whether her most rewarding accomplishment is a well-cooked dinner, home-grown geraniums, or like Miss Walters, that of being a part of the Navy's fighting force.

The least of the things that add up to a WAVE's good appearance. Gloves are a small item; so, too, is a WAVE's gar-rison cap. Yet the former, fresh and actually worn—not carried—and the latter, well-brushed and cocked at a becoming angle—can make the difference between an envy-inspiring uniform and an uninteresting assemblage of regulation clothes.

Boy Scouts Plan Camp

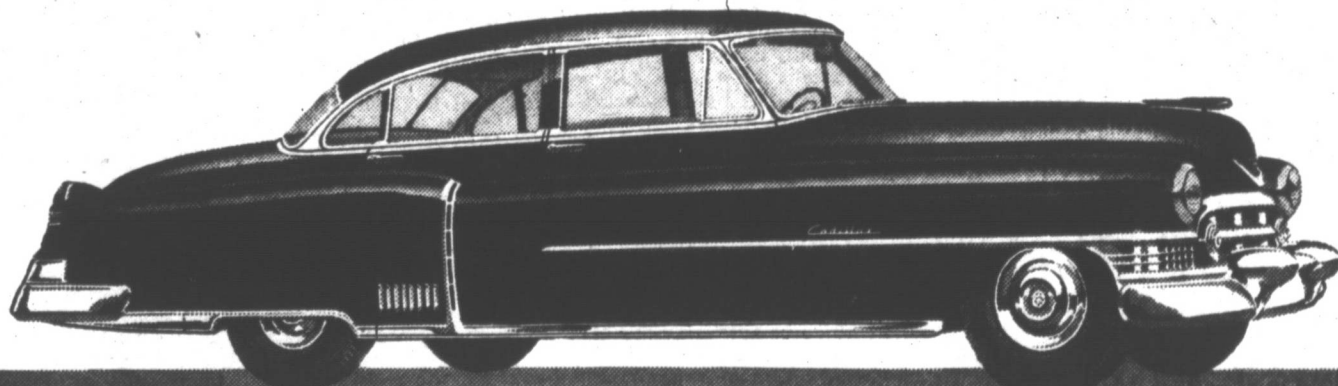

Pampa Boy Scouts will learn about "winter camping" at the Santa Fe District Camp all set for Oct. 11 at Lake McClellan.

Activity for the camp is being planned by the district camping activities group headed by George Newberry. His committee includes E. E. Shelhamer, Clem Followell, Perry Gaut and Melvill Moyer.

Boy Scouts will be able to gain as many as 1000 points during the three-day outing, leaders said. The grading will be based on the registered membership present.

Go Ahead and Order It!

Right at this moment, there are thousands of people in America who are just about ready to end all compromise insofar as motor cars are concerned—and order a Cadillac.

If you are one of these—go ahead and order it! It will be the wisest motor car decision you ever made.

First of all, consider the car's reputation. Wherever highways lead, there is general recognition that Cadillac is the Standard of the World. Not only is this an endless source of pride and satisfaction to the Cadillac owner—but it is incontestable proof of Cadillac's historic quality. Such a reputation could come only from long-continued superiority.

And then consider what Cadillac brings you in terms of every-day satisfaction.

Every mile you drive, or ride, is a sheer delight. The word for it is wonderful—and the proof of it can be

Fourth Annual Style Show To Be Given Sunday In Cabot Auditorium

The fourth annual ESA fashion show will be held in the Cabot auditorium Sunday, with one showing at 2 p. m. and another at 4 p. m., according to Mary Lindsey, fashion show chairman. Mrs. Jackie Crocker will be the commentator.

As in the past, the proceeds from the fashion show will go toward a community project. Last year an audiometer was purchased and presented to the county superintendent of schools for use in all Gray county schools.

The audiometer is a testing device which records a child's ability to hear various tones and denotes whether a child has a hearing defect. This has proved successful in helping to detect a child's handicap unknown to his parents.

Since the audiometer only comes equipped with one headphone, the process of testing many hundreds of children was greatly hindered. The Parent Teacher association of Pampa designated enough money to purchase a ten-set head phone. This year the proceeds from the fashion show will go toward completing this to a 20 set so that more children's hearing can be checked in a shorter period of time.

The following will participate in this year's show: Gloria Ward and June Sanders, modeling for Gilberts; Jean Ousley and Jean Morris, modeling for Bentleys; Ruth Terhune, Billie Don Watkins and Glenna Bunger, modeling for Tiny Tot; Beverly Fancher, modeling for Zales; Betty Kiff, modeling for B & G Hosiery; Jill Chapman and Patsy Walls, modeling for J. C. Penney Co.; Sug Cobb and Shane Willbanks, modeling for Friendly Mens.

Irene Reeves and Tommy Bell, modeling for Franklins; Vivian Brake and Carol Dawson, modeling for Montgomery Ward; Bill Clements modeling for Bei-Airs; Mabel Dockery and Ida Adams, modeling for Murteas; Madeline Peabody and Wanda Speice modeling for Anthony's; Dickie Barrett and Jack Morgan, modeling for S & Q Clothiers; Merle Lard and Beth Shelton, modeling for Levines.

Models from Behrmans and Franklins will be wearing Smith's Quality Shoes. Models will be wearing jewelry from Leders and Kennedy Jewelry Stores.

found in an hour at the wheel. To ride is to rest—and to drive is to relax.

But over and above all this is an argument in favor of Cadillac so practical and conclusive that it should be hard for anyone to ignore:

The lowest-priced model of this great and distinguished motor car is priced competitively with numerous and varied models produced by other manufacturers. Yes—every day—scores of people actually pay the price of a Cadillac—and still don't get one!

Add to this moderate cost the further fact that few cars—of any price—will run farther on a gallon of gasoline—and even economy points to Cadillac!

So—if your heart is set on a Cadillac—come in and order it. There isn't a single logical reason why you shouldn't do so.

Pack Of Lies?

President Truman has strongly defended his proposed federal budget, contending that no major cuts can be made in any part of it without endangering the welfare of the nation. In a recent speech the President took his most aggressive position yet when he stated that charges of extravagance and waste in the Federal establishment amount to a "pack of lies."

Where Is The Beef?

Where is the beef going? That's a far and important question. In the light of the experience of the country's leading beef producing plants during recent months. For week after week it has been evident that the normal beef business is in a state of abnormality.

Baxter's Views

DAVID BAXTER

ROOSEVELT JEWISH?

Gerald L. K. Smith could be a President and one of the greatest orators in history if one fatal weakness hadn't thrown him overboard. I'm convinced that he's either loaded with the gills with dislike for people who didn't have to be born Caucasians, or he's a leading Jew-baiting profitable.

He has a right - no doubt about that - to be for or against anybody or any issue, but his defense, when questioned, that he isn't against any and all Jews but just certain Jewish organizations, isn't fooling me. I think Gerald L. K. could do a lot better job in fighting Communism were he to get rid of this prejudice (providing it is honest prejudice and not just a source of funds).

In the last issue of his magazine, THE CROSS AND FLAG, Smith dug up an old 1938 copy of the St. Paul PIONEERS PRESS to prove that the Roosevelt's were Jews. It was a U. P. dispatch from New York dated Oct. 3 and it read, "The Gerard Von Koschembahr family, refugees from Germany, planned today to leave for Hyde Park to visit a relative - Mrs. Roosevelt, mother of the President. The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Von Koschembahr and children. The party will be in the children's car arrived here Saturday. Von Koschembahr's father was a Jew. Mrs. Von Koschembahr resembles the Roosevelts. She said her mother was Cornelia Kernoch Roosevelt, daughter of Charles Yates Roosevelt."

Smith underscored that part about Von Koschembahr's father being a Jew and Mrs. Von Koschembahr resembling the Roosevelts and being a relative.

What I want to point out is this fact: The article says that Mrs. Von Koschembahr's father was a Jew. But it was Mrs. Von Koschembahr, not Mrs. Roosevelt, who was a Jew. Smith hasn't proven a thing except that he thinks being a Jew is a source of disgrace. No issue was more important to him than to show that the Roosevelt's were Jewish. Smith just wanted to let loose at Jews, in general - any and all Jews - and then hang them on the Roosevelt's. He's obvious. He didn't do it. Couldn't he have taken up some big issue on which to blast the Roosevelt's instead of going in for this racial stuff? If all the Roosevelt's in the country were Jews or Germans or Malays, what would be the difference? It's what a man stands for and not the circumstances of his birth that counts.

Time Magazine and Cleveland Press Don't Know What's Wrong With

"Time" Magazine in its issue of August 27 quotes an editorial from the "Cleveland Press," written by its editor Louis B. Seltzer. The editorial was under the heading of "Can't We Tell Right From Wrong?" and goes on to say something is wrong with us. It says we have gained much in the last half century but we have lost something also. Mr. Seltzer says: "What is wrong with us? ... It is in the air we breathe. The things we do. The things we say. Our books. Our papers. Our theater. Our movies. Our radio and television. The way we behave. The interests we have. The values we fix."

WASHINGTON - Despite revelations that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. was transformed into a political pawnshop under Truman - Boyle auspices, the new twist in the investigation of the multimillion-dollar lending agency threatens to harm the Republicans more than the Democrats. It seems to be another example of the famous "Truman luck."

The growing demand among Capitol Hill Republicans for the resignation of Guy Gabrielson, their national chairman, threatens to aggravate intra-party dissensions that were dangerous enough already.

Work Eases For Green-Gold As Coaches Hunt Line Power

Lions Have Attack In High Gear For Harvesters' Visit

By EDWARD R. HALL
The Vernon Lions, unbeaten, untied, and unscored on so far this season, will lay their record on the line in Lion Stadium Friday night when they meet the high flying Pampa Harvesters, twice top-heavy winners this season from district 4A-1, and two-year champions of District 1-AA.

The Lions from District 1-AA, repulsed a last minute desperation surge by Wichita Falls to defeat them, 6-0; then completely befuddled the Altus, Okla., Bulls, and strangled them for a 32-0 score that could easily have been more.

Thus far this season, the Lions have been forced to use their dazzling offensive speed to offset distinct weight advantages. They have not had it easy and are fully aware that Friday night is the big night, probably of the season. They're loaded for bear, and have no doubt that that is exactly what might come rolling out of the northern highlands Friday night.

The little men who sit under the "T" and call by numbers, is Jimmy Layne. Others in the backfield are not certain but indications are that Duane Blair will start at fullback, flanked by Ramon Towry on the right and Gordon Harver on the left, Dan Borchardt, Dale Dillingham, Lynn Ashley, and James Luttrell, all fast and shifty on their feet, are all capable of filling any position in the backfield, even quarterback. All are light, but fast, and strong as spring steel.

Head Coach Buster Dixon said at Monday night's quarterback club meeting, "Yes, they're big, and they're good, but we'll be there."
Coach Clarence Booth's Lion line will average 155 pounds per man. Ends Howard Thomas and Ken Hines take care of the outer reaches, big Bill Herchman and Joe Wayne Brock hold the tackle slots down quite ably. Brock has been honored with a knocked down shoulder, presented by the heavier Altus Bulldog linemen, but is expected to be fit by Friday. At guards will be Ken Hodges and Don Bowen, and at center, Don Hickey will hold things down in the same efficient fashion he has since ace center Phillip Dillon has been out with an injured foot.

Not overburdened with injuries so far this year, the Lions are paying their pound of flesh to another debtor, the moon cold. Almost every member of the squad has been under siege from it at this early stage in the season, beginning with the unseasonably cold weather of early last week, and the consequent unpredictable and typically Texas weather.

Pampa and Vernon have been up one side and down the other for several years in one of the sharpest friendly rivalries in the state. It is always a good game and the game is never over until the final gun. The fans may rest assured there will be plenty of good, clean, hard fighting football here Friday night.

Pirates Start House Cleaning

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Pirates sold second baseman Danny Murtaugh to New Orleans of the Southern Association today and appointed him manager of the team for 1952.

General Manager Branch Rickey said the contract of Truett (Rip) Sewell was not being renewed. Sewell, an ex-Pirate pitcher, had poor success with New Orleans.

The Bucs also announced the outright sale of pitcher Bob Chesnes to New Orleans. Rickey said the Bucs have sold the contracts of pitcher Vic Lombardi and second baseman Monty Basgall to Hollywood.

Guerillas To Borger Tonight

The Pampa Guerillas will make another bid for their first victory of the 1951 season tonight when they journey to Borger to battle the Bullpups at Bulldog Stadium. Game time is 7:30, and the game will be broadcast over Radio Station WJLB.

Co-captain Jerry Walker, 200-pound letterman tackle, was in Highland General Hospital yesterday undergoing treatment for his injured left knee. When he will be turned loose from the hospital and when he will be able to return to the lineup, were big question marks. Knees sometimes heal fast, sometimes slow. Walker was unable to straighten the joint out after a practice session brought on a recurrence of an old injury, and the doctors decided that the hospital and some traction on the knee was the best remedy.

This put Walker in the same boat with letterman center Tolle Hutchens, who is out of the hospital but still on crutches resting injured right knee.

Working in the line in place of Walker was Richard Qualls. Also shifted to a tackle slot was 195-pound Tommy Sells, who has been taking over the center duties since the injury to Hutchens. Holding down the pivot post was Billy Conklin, senior. Who will be where for Friday night's game was still undecided in the minds of the coaches.

The rest of the squad appeared set physically as they prepared to seek their third straight win.

In other games scheduled tomorrow from District 4A-1, Pastoral is at Amarillo, Sweetwater is at Lubbock, Odessa hosts Capitol Hill. San Angelo is at Breckenridge, Borger goes to Wichita Falls and Conroe visits Abilene.

Parts of the first transatlantic cable are still in use.

Giants Rest One Game Behind Dodgers

(By The Associated Press)
The desperate Brooklyn Dodgers, who have seen their one-night 13 1-2 game National League lead dwindle to just one game, go into today's big test against Boston's Braves with Freacher Rose (2-2) — their stopper — on the mound.

The New York Giants, panting down the Brooks' backs in the mad-chase for the flag after winning 35 of their last 42 outings, will spend the day watching and waiting. They don't get back into action until Saturday against Boston.

"We've got to keep on winning," said Dodger Manager Charley Dressen. "I'm not expecting anybody to help us by beating the Giants. We've got to help ourselves. Carl Erskine will start for us tomorrow. I don't know who will go Saturday, but it will be Ros again Sunday if we need the win."

Yesterday's 15-5 conquest of the Braves did a lot for the Dodgers, even though the Giants came right back at night and polished off the Philadelphia Phillies with equal emphasis, 10-1. For one thing it indicated the Brooks have not cracked up completely after their double defeat by the Braves Tuesday night.

For another thing, it showed that Don Newcombe, who had been trying to win his 19th game for a long time, again could be trusted with top assignments.

In the American League, the New York Yankees made no progress in their efforts to sew up the flag. They were completely ineffectual against the slants of little Bobby Shantz and dropped a 4-1 decision to the Philadelphia A's.

So the combination still is two for the Yanks — two triumphs or two defeats by the Cleveland Indians, who were idle yesterday. The Yanks have five games left to play and the Indians only two. The Tribe winds up the season's business with single games at home against the Detroit Tigers Saturday and Sunday. The Yanks play all five of theirs against the Boston Red Sox.

Casey Stengel's men have only one worry about the Sox now. With their 7-3 loss at the hands of the Washington Senators last night, the Beantowners can't possibly win the pennant. If they win all six of their remaining games, and the Yanks lose all five of theirs, Steve O'Neill's team will tie.

Russell Picks Bucks By Three
DALLAS — Rusty Russell of SMU turned prophet today, he said Ohio State would beat his team by at least three touchdowns Saturday.

There is no prospect of an upset like the Methodists staged last year, the SMU coach asserted.

"They may be a little short on manpower," he said facetiously. "They only have about 50 members of last year's squad back. Maybe we better lend them some men."

Russell said he realized that this was the game Ohio State was potting for — that the Buckeyes were ranked by SMU beating them in an opening home game for the first time in history.

"They ought to have played a game last week so we could scout them," he observed. "We played one and they found out all about us. However, that wouldn't have made any difference anyway so far as they are concerned — they'd beat us without scouting us."

Hoople Sees Hard Road For Football Forecasters As He Picks First Card

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
I may alter the rating of a team overnight.

But these are impediments to less hardy souls than your omniscient correspondent who takes them all as they come, and not only calls the turn on the favorites, but names the upsets. This year I have 17 different secret systems. I'll tell you about them later in the season.

In my first forecast, covering 15 important games of September 29 there are few upsets, unless Villanova's victory over the Iads from West Point comes under that heading. I am using the hatpin system on these games.

Last season many misled individualists among my readers challenged me, offering to wager I was wrong on certain upsets I selected. Sorry I had to refuse. I will wager on anything and everything under the sun, including the mean rainfall for next April, with one exception: this department will not hazard a wager on which way a football will bounce heh-heh!

Now, go on and read the forecast.

Reapers Battle Borger Friday

The Junior High School Reapers, defending co-champions of the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic football league, are right up in the top spot once again following their two successive victories over Amarillo Junior high teams.

Friday afternoon they will battle the Borger Poodles at Harvester Park. The Poodles are also undefeated this season, having rallied in the final five minutes last week end to defeat the Elizabeth Nixson Whirlwinds of Amarillo, 8-13. The Reapers, meanwhile, were running roughshod over the Sam Houston Rangers.

Game time Friday afternoon will be 3 p. m., with the game being broadcast direct from Harvester Park by KPDM.

The probable starting lineup for the unbeaten Reapers will see Garry Griffin and E. J. McIlvain at ends, John Watson and Ben Sturgeon at tackles, Huey Burns and Damon Runyon at guards, James Hawkins at center, Harold Lewis, Bill Culppeper, Bill Fulenwider and Ken Hinkle in the backfield.

The U. S. Army says the median age for all enlisted and officer personnel is between 22 and 23.

There is only one cable between the United States and Asia.

Bucs Play Okies For 'Practice'

LEFORS — (Special) — The local high school Pirates, finding themselves without a regular game this weekend, following Tuesday night's 26-7 victory over the Boys' Ranch Roughriders, will journey to Shattuck, Okla., Friday night where they will scrimmage that city's high school Indians. Shattuck defeated Price College of Amarillo, 37-7, in a regular game at Cardinal Stadium in Amarillo last Friday. The Pirates also meet Price in an afternoon game, Oct. 19 at the Catholic school's new stadium.

Frank Sonntag and Bob Callan, Pirate coaches, are working their charges hard in preparation for the opening conference game Oct. 5 at Wheeler with that city's rampaging Mustangs.

The "Boys' Ranch" game, of course, is not one Pirate regards with the same respect. This is the first time in history that Lefors has had enough boys out for the club to field a reserve team, even to scrimmage among themselves.

However, a note of sadness was tossed to the Pirate camp when the team physician advised coaches Sonntag and Callan that Phillip Earhart, offensive end and defensive back, would have to retire for the season. Earhart's loss, coupled with the earlier loss of Dickie Davis, stellar lineman, and the withdrawal of Ted Oldham from the squad, has unmistakably hurt the Pirates, but the Buc's still have more capable reserves than ever before in history.

The trainer announced that Earhart's knee injury would require at least a year's rest and treatment. Seniors and co-captains Ray Dickerson and Bob Clemmons, quarterback and center, respectively, both are showing that they easily could be repeaters at the all-district positions they won last year. Melvin "Burl" Biggam, senior tackle, also is a like-all-district choice and Jimmy Doon is showing the stuff that makes all-district ends. The Buc's forward wall is one of the most potent the locals have fielded in recent years. Though light, averaging only 167 pounds the line is fast and hard-charging and is doubly outstanding on defense, holding three opponents to a total of only 241 yards.

While there will be no kickoff and other appearances of a regular football game, Friday night's scrimmage at Shattuck will help to keep the charges of Coaches Sonntag and Callan on their toes and in shape, as well as giving the mentors a chance to experiment with new plays and untested players.

The President's flag consists of the President's seal in bronze on a blue background with a large white star in each corner.

SWC Plays Six Games This Weekend; Only Baylor Rests

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest Conference football clubs worked for improved air and ground defense yesterday. Six games will be played Saturday.

Baylor, a favorite this year and killers last week of Houston (19-0), have an open date. The Bears play Tulane at New Orleans Oct. 6.

SMU, upset 21-7 by Georgia Tech, concentrated on defense against Buckeye plays in yesterday's workouts. At Austin, injuries and the Purdue passing attack were the main worries of Ed Price as the Texas Longhorns prepared pass defense against a team dominated by the Longhorn workou. The Texans leave by plane Friday morning for Lafayette.

Texas, victorious over Kentucky last week (7-6), is favored in the Purdue game. Mighty Texas A&M, victors over UCLA by a 21-14 score last week at Los Angeles, stressed offensive running assignments, pass patterns and defensive measures yesterday. Ray George tested all his passers' arms in preparation for Saturday's game with Texas Tech in Dallas. The Aggies are big favorites.

Dutch Meyer was reading his crew for Nebraska. John Harville was moved from TCU's No. 1 defensive spot into John Medanic's halfback position. Medanic hurt a shoulder yesterday. Arkansas was prime and healthy and ready for its Saturday bout with Arizona State of Tempe.

Rice went through a brisk scrimmage of more than two hours as they wound up heavy drill for their season opener with Clemson. Jess Neely said he wasn't too pleased with the defense. The Owls, meeting the winner of last year's Orange Bowl and crowded with sophomores, are expected to fall before Clemson.

Saddler Convinces Pep With TKO

NEW YORK — (AP) — Unless they take their act on the wrestling circuit, the Sandy Saddler-Willie Pep featherweight series is over today with slashing Sandy still the champion.

Four times is enough — and to many fans too much — for this vicious feud between the ring's best 125-pounders. A battered, bleeding and disgusted Pep quit on his stool after the ninth round at the Polo Grounds last night to give the skinny Harlem Negro a nine-round technical knockout and a 3-1 edge in the series.

It was almost a duplicate of last year's battle between the two.

Tennessee Gets Test Saturday

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Tennessee's rating as the nation's top football team gets its first test here Saturday against Mississippi State.

Mississippi State, despite its mediocre 4-5 record, had one of the finest defensive teams last fall.

Arthur Morton, who says "our team should be better," can field one of the 22 offensive and defensive first-stringers who dumped Tennessee, 7-0, last year for one of the season's upsets.

Gen. Bob Neyland, Tennessee's veteran ringmaster, also has on hand 16 of the 22 players he started on his two platoons last fall.

The Tennessee team went on to win nine straight games and a 20-14 Cotton Bowl triumph over Texas after losing to the Maroons last year.

Fain Assured Of AL Batting Crown

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ferris Fain, Philadelphia's first baseman, appears to have sewed up the 1951 American League batting championship.

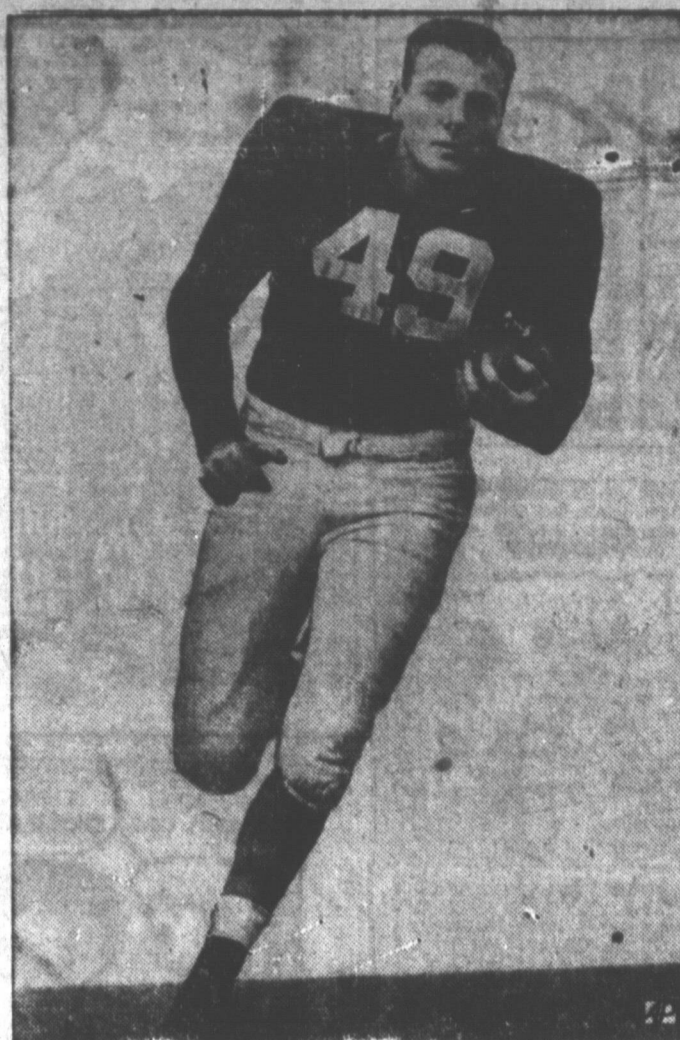

Through Sunday's games, Fain, who batted .282 last season, had boosted his average to .347 for a 22 point spread over Chicago's Minnie Mingo.

Mingo, boomed for rookie of the year honors, gained second place with .325.

One point behind at .324 is Boston's Ted Williams. George Kell of Detroit, second last week, skidded to fourth place with a six-point drop to .318.

The other leaders included Johnny Pesky, Boston, .315; Gil McDougald, New York, .313; Gil Coan, Washington, .310; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .308; Bob Avila, Cleveland, .305; and Dom Di Maggio, Boston, .301.

*Statistics show more crimes, suicides and insanity occur in summer than at any other time of the year.

BOB'S UP IN NEW FIELD — Bob Mathias, 1948 Olympic decathlon winner and Stanford junior, totes pigskin on Palo Alto, Calif., practice field as he reports for Indian grid squad.

Irish Halfback Out For Week

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Don Carlton, injured Irish halfback, will be unable to play in the important Wellington game here next Friday night.

Dr. Royce Lewis, athletic doctor, reported this week. Carlton had been counted on to strengthen the Irish defense against the strong end sweeps of John (Hoot) Gibson, all-conference halfback of the Wellington Skyrocks.

During the 1950 campaign, Carlton scored two touchdowns and proved strong on defense, especially against passes. Wellington is believed depending strongly on aerial attacks and end sweeps to win the encounter at Shamrock Friday night.

Last year Gibson was the spearhead of an attack that handed the Irish the only regular season defeat, at Wellington, 21-14.

Battle Raging For Fourth Place

NEW YORK — (AP) — In the heat of the National League pennant race between Brooklyn and New York, you may have overlooked that the two teams they'll meet in remaining games also are battling for a cut of the world series money.

The Boston Braves and the defending champion Phillies are separated by only one and one-half games for fourth place; the Braves hold the edge.

The first four teams in each league share in the world series receipts.

Leo Leads Race For Top Manager

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Win or lose in the pulsating National League pennant race, Leo Durocher of the amazing New York Giants is certain to be a leading candidate for manager of the year honors.

Although he refuses to take any credit for the team's incredible surge, Durocher's part in the Giant success story can't be minimized. Even Leo's bitterest critics, those who said the "Lip" deserved his year's banishment from baseball a few years back, are begrudgingly giving the "devil his due."

"The success of this ball club is due to the 25 men who comprise the squad," Leo said, "they never quit. They have fought hard. Always remember that the players make the manager, not the manager the players. All I do is decide who is going to pitch and name a batting line up. Then I go out to the third base coaching box and shout myself hoarse."

Leo was very serious about the whole thing. He was determined that "if the credit goes to his boys."

If the Giants win the pennant, it probably will be because they are the most relaxed ball club under pressure in the National League. Durocher sets the pace.

Hornsby Making Change For '52

SEATTLE — (AP) — President Emil Sick of the Seattle Rainiers said today he doesn't expect Rogers Hornsby to return as manager next year.

Sick said he wants Hornsby by doesn't accept a big league managerial offer for 1952, he is expected to make a strong bid for purchase of the San Francisco franchise.

Army Opens New Year Saturday

WEST POINT — (AP) — There's a good chance the Army football team — or what is left of it after the cribbing scandal swept away nearly all the 1950 regulars — will score and be scored on in its opening game of the season against Villanova Saturday.

NOBLITT-COFFEY'S FOOTBALL FORECASTS

Ohio State Over SMU In Touchdown Jamboree

By Pitts Smith

SMU at OHIO STATE — Woody Hayes uncovers his new T-machine against those unpredictable pass-happy Mustangs. The Buckeyes will be depending on a quick striking attack to counter-balance a weaker defense. Chuck Janowicz should outshine Fred Benner in what might be another touchdown jamboree.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN at NEBRASKA — The Husker's stock has fallen below par with Bobbie Reynolds laid low. They have too many sophomore starters to otherwise contain the fired-up Frogs on rebound after last week's shocker.

Weather Good To The Farmers, Says Agriculture Dept.

AUSTIN — (AP) — Few Texas farmers could complain about the weather week.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports soil moisture was in good balance in most areas of the state, with sufficient moisture available for growing crops, land preparation, and seeding of small grains, but not excessive for field work.

Exceptions were western districts and some northwestern localities which were still dry. Wet soils and showery weather were delaying rice and cotton harvests in upper coastal bend counties.

Much of the early seeded acreage in all areas was up or was coming up to a good stand, U. S. D. A. reported. Seeding of wheat continued in the Northwest following recent rains and cooler weather. Seed bed preparation and early seeding progressed steadily in North Texas counties.

The cotton harvest was starting on a small scale in the High Plains, gained momentum in the low rolling plains and continued active in northern, central and eastern areas.

Fall and winter commercial vegetable prospects were favorable in most areas.

Range and pasture feed supplies continued to carry livestock in fair to good shape throughout the northern Panhandle, north-central and many East Texas areas. Pastures in the central and southern parts of the state were greening up following generous rains. Ranges over most of the plateau and Trans-Pecos regions continued very dry. Range feed and water in scant supply.

Holmes Like NY For World Series

BOSTON — (AP) — Tommy Holmes, manager of the Boston Braves, says he thinks the New York Giants would make a better showing than Brooklyn in the world series.

"Brooklyn looked a little jittery out there," Holmes said after his team had beaten the Dodgers last night, 6-3, and 14-2, "but the ball was wet."

eyes and lens. "Photography Afraid" was written by Ormal I. Sprungman, camera editor for Sports Afraid magazine since 1934 (The Stackpole Co., Harrisburg, Pa., $7.50).

This guide for sportsmen should convert many of them to totting cameras along as well as their guns or tackle. Undoubtedly there's a thrill in shooting animals by camera and the picture can be preserved a lot longer than the carcass.

WE COME NOW to a technical study of optics, "Lenses in Photography," by Rudolf Kingslake (Garden City Books, New York, $2.95). As director of optical design for Eastman Kodak, the author is well qualified to present the subject for consideration by serious photographers, amateur or professional. The aim of the book is to enable the user to understand the working of lenses, cameras, enlargers and projectors so that he can choose intelligently from the available apparatus or make the fullest use of his own equipment.

Confidentially, you don't have to understand this book in order to make pictures. That's why Kodak put out the "Photo Tips for Simple Cameras."

AFTER DIGESTING the knowledge packed in all these books you might be endowed with a new purpose... to find a job in the field. Then you'd turn to the fourth item, "Opportunities in Photography" by Jacob Deschir (Vocational Guidance Manual, Grosset & Dunlap, $1). At present photography editor of the New York Times, the author has extensive background as a photographer, lecturer, critic and writer on the subject. His present survey covers the jobs and careers in photography and allied fields, including facts on training, free-lancing, getting started and occupations possible.
