Ninth-Inning Rally Stopped By Double Play

The New York Yankees assured themselves of returning to their own ballpark before the series end by defeating the Giants this afternoon in the fourth game of the World Series, 6-2. The win evened the series at two games apiece. The fifth game will be played tomorrow in the Polo grounds, and then the teams will move back to Yankee Stadium for the other two games if needed.

Tomorrow's game will be broadcast over KPDN, starting at 11:45 a. m.

Double no-hit Allie Reynolds, the Oklahoma Indian, came back to beat the Giants today after dropping the series opener to them. But he had to subdue a ninth-inning rally that had netted one run and threatened more to do it. He got 19-year-old Willie Mays to hit into a game ending double play to stop the rally. It was the third twin killing Mays had hit into during the game and helped the Yanks to tie the series record of four in one game.

Joe DiMaggio helped the Yankee cause with his first blow of the classie, a home run that put the Bombers into a solid lead.

Tomorrow it is expected to be a pair of lefthanders, Eddie Lopat, already a winner over the Giants in the series, against Dave Koslo, who took the opener from the Yankees.

Chamber To Study Advisability Of Reformatory Here

A vocational reformatory for Pampa? G. S. "Pinky" Vineyard, brother-in-law of Director John H. Winters of the State Welfare Dept., was appointed yesterday by the board of directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to investigate the possibilities and advisability of bringing part of the state's proposed enlarged correction institute system to Pampa.

At present the state is working out its expansion program to relieve crowded conditions at Gatesville State Training school for boys and to separate the better class of juvenile delinquents from the serious cases. The vocational school would train boys to take up some useful trade such as mechanics, metal work, building trades, etc.

At the same meeting, Charles Cook was elected to receive the plaque, awarded Pampa for its second consecutive year of winning first place in Texas Industrial week promotion. The award will be given during the Texas Manufacturing Assn. meeting in San Antonio on Oct. 14-19.

Thursday, representatives of Pampa will fly to Norman, Okla., for an aviation conference there. Representing Gray County will be Hugh S. Burdette, chairman of the aviation committee; Mayor C. A. Huff, City Manager Dick Pepin, County Judge Bruce Parker, and members of the commissioners' court. On the same day another delegation will fly to Vici, Okla., to attend opening ceremonies of U. S. Hwy. 60 through that section of Oklahoma, making the highway a completely paved road from Atlantic to Pacific oceans.

Claims State Dept. Undermined Aid To Chinese Nationalists

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Harold E. Stassen contended today the record makes it plain the State department played a part in undermining the Chinese Nationalists, and contradicted denials by Secretary Acheson and Ambassador Philip C. Jessup.

Testifying before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, Stassen said:

"The denials by the State department of things which I know are true, the claims by the State department of things I know are not true, leave me very uneasy and disturbed with regard to our country's future policy."

The Senate group is considering Jessup's nomination as delegate to the United Nations General assembly meeting in Paris. He is an ambassador-at-large and represents this country on many special occasions.

Contract For Model Is Let: Atomic Air Force Predicted By Dean

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gordon Dean, the country's top atomic official, has forecast "the beginning of an atomic (powered) air force within a decade."

Dean made the prediction in testifying at closed House Appropriations committee hearing on an additional $484,000,000 installment on the multi-billion dollar Savannah River atomic project. A subcommittee made his testimony public yesterday.

The Air Force already has let contracts for the development of a single plane to be powered by an atomic reactor. And some officials have hinted guardedly that such planes may be perfected within the next five years.

The Senate House atomic committee meets in executive session today to consider a resolution by Senator McMahon (D-Conn) declaring "that the United States must go all-out in atomic development and production."

McMahon told the Senate recently he wants "an atomic army and an atomic navy and officials have hinted guardedly that such planes may be perfected within the next five years."

Ridgway Says Commie Post Is Acceptable

TOKYO — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway accepted in principle tonight the Communist proposal that Korean cease-fire talks begin anew near Panmunjom.

The supreme Allied commander said a site in the "immediate vicinity" of that Red outpost, six miles southeast of Kaesong, would meet the "fundamental condition of equality of movement and control."

The Reds broke off the talks at Kaesong Aug. 23. Ridgway told the top Communist commanders in Korea he was instructing his officers to meet the Reds at 10 a. m. Wednesday (7 p. m. Tuesday, CST) to hammer out details for re-opening talks.

Ridgway answered a Red note received Sunday. In it the Reds proposed: "The truce talks be shifted to Panmunjom."

The Kaesong five-mile neutral zone be extended to include Munsan, site of the UN command advance headquarters, about 15 miles away.

Both sides to assure responsibility for controlling the conference site, in effect to establish joint armored control.

The Reds have climbed down from their strong demands made frequently since the talks broke off more than six weeks ago.

Infantrymen Edge Toward Peak Top

EIGHTH ARMY, Korea — (AP) — A thin line of dog-tired American infantrymen edged today toward the top of the last Red-held peak on craggy Heartbreak ridge in eastern Korea.

Last reports put them within 200 yards of the summit. Communist grenades and machinegun fire rained down from Red bunkers above as troops of the 23rd Regiment fought forward foot by foot and bunker by bunker.

Across the Mundung valley to the west the ninth regiment fought fiercely-resisting North Koreans for possession of Kim II Sung Ridge, named by the Reds for the North Korean premier. The troops took several small hills. Their progress toward Heartbreak, but a Red counter-attack forced them off by nightfall.

The ridgelines and valleys echoed to the roar of 37 allied warplanes that bombed and strafed Red positions. Clear rough weather on the western front British and American infantrymen ground slowly forward on both sides of the upper Imjin river against bitterly resisting Reds. The UN Satae east of Heartbreak for the troops were supported by tanks third straight day. They opened (See INFANTRYMEN, Page 2)

Says Russ Can 'Plaster' U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Civil Defense Administrator Millard F. Caldwell said today he thinks Russia has enough atom bombs to hit major American cities simultaneously in "an all-out, stand-slam attack."

Such an attack, Caldwell said, probably would be designed to "stop production cold and blast the morale of the people."

"There will not be one blast, as I visualize it," the civil defense chief said. "There will be a number of cities hit at the same time."

Caldwell's views were published as the Senate began debate on an appropriation bill carrying $97,635,000 for civil defense. This amount is about $30,000,000 more than the House voted. Caldwell had asked for $535,000,000 to prepare the nation for possible enemy attack.

Should such an attack come from the air, Caldwell estimated the casualties per city at "about 75,000 dead and 75,000 injured."

Caldwell said "considerable progress" is being made in setting the "pattern" for civil defense in this country but that his organization is handicapped by a shortage of funds.

He laid the major blame for this on Congress which he said "does not know a great deal about the need for civil defense and what it includes." Remarking that one member of Congress he did not name had expressed doubt that Russia has produced an atom bomb, Caldwell added:

"Maybe in view of the announcement (last week) that Russia has exploded a second bomb, he will be convinced now."

Princess And Husband Due To Arrive In Canada Today

MONTREAL — (AP) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrive by plane today — probably in wet, gloomy weather — for their first visit to this country she may rule some day.

The heiress presumptive to Britain's throne and her husband were due at gaily decorated Dorval airport about noon (EST). Officials of the British Overseas Airways Corp. said their ace pilot, O. P. Jones, might bring the huge blue and silver royal airliner in even earlier.

The royal party took off last night from London airport for a month-long visit to the senior dominion and to the United States. At 12:15 a. m. EST the big stratoscruiser, named "Canopus," was reported at the mid-Atlantic point.

Soon after, pilot Jones altered the plane's course about 120 miles south of its intended route to clear rough weather.

Queen Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and a crowd of 1500 were on hand as the royal aircraft left London in a light fog.

On this end the only upset in plans was the wet blanket tossed in by the weather man. He predicted low temperatures and rain during most of the day, with skies clearing in the evening.

The threatening weather, however, was not expected to keep back the thousands of eager Canadians who had made plans to (See WEATHER, Page 2)

Five Die, 21 Hurt As Bus Skids On Slippery Highway

GAINESVILLE, Va. — (AP) — A skid on a slippery highway sent a packed Trailways bus crashing into a tree near this northern Virginia town last night. Five persons were killed and 21 injured.

State police listed three of the dead as Robert Binton God of Eleyville, Va.; Mrs. Gertrude Rogers of Alexandria, Va.; and Lora Lansford of Washington. The other two still were unidentified today.

The injured, at first taken to the nearby Gainesville Methodist church, later were removed to hospitals in Warrenton, Arlington and Washington. None of them appeared to be critically hurt.

Officers said the vehicle veered off a curve on State Route 55 about 8 p. m. Witnesses said the bus struck the tree with such force that the front of the vehicle nearly touched the back.

Reports on the number of passengers varied between 40 and 60. Mrs. Etta Washington of nearby Waterfall said she was the last person to board the front Royal-Washington bus and had to stand up.

150 Pampans Visit Girl Scout Open House At Camp Sullivan

Some 150 Pampa citizens visited the Girl Scout Camp Sullivan during the open house Sunday from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The event coincided with the 10th anniversary of the camp's beginning, and was held during the annual Girl Scout finance drive to further acquaint Pampans with the Scout movement.

Scout leaders this morning reported a total of $2139.50 raised toward the Scout's goal of $7500.

Camp Sullivan began in 1941 after John L. Sullivan gave and deeded 15.4 acres near Lefors to the Girl Scouts. The original cement block house was built in July, 1942 and was financed by oil companies and a contribution from Lynn Boyd. Other men instrumental in various phases of building the camp were Albert Doucette, Frank Lard and Mel Davis.

Boy Scout Camper Slated Soon At Lake McClellan

Boy Scouts will have opportunity to win as many as 1000 points at the Santa Fe District Camperall to be held this week end at Lake McClellan.

Scouts will have activities on winter camping to be arranged by George Newberry, chairman, E. E. Shellhamer, Clem Follower, Perry Gant and Melvin Moyer.

Ribbon Trimming Adds Glamor To Evening Wraps

To give a new look to her wear-weary evening wardrobe, this young woman winds up her problems with shimmering ribbon. Easy-to-make tiered satin cape (above) adds a look of femininity to bouffant gown. A shrug sweater, glamorized with grosgrain scrolls (upper right), is used to disguise an outmoded neckline, and an elegant stole of taffeta and velvet (lower right) enhances yesterday's lace.

Now that September back-to-school bells have sounded a merry peal for fall resumption of social activities, many teenagers are finding themselves ruefully surveying an inadequate evening wardrobe.

To those whose parents are unresponsive to the idea of an extended shopping spree, the situation is a serious one, but not one without remedy. If you've been instructed to keep hands off the checking account, try drawing on the bank of your own imagination.

It is easier on you to over-protect, but some day it will be much harder. And that is when you have to turn the child loose completely. Think it over. How many years are actually left to you to begin a gradual process of tuning loose?

Give Meat Loaf A New Flavor

GROUND BEEF with trimmings make a delicious meat loaf.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For the budget's sake, stretch meat with tender cereal. For appetite's sake, add extra flavors to your meat loaves with mushroom garnish.

Beef Loaf (Mushroom Garnish)
(4 servings for 7 meals)

One-half cup granulated rice cereal or fine dry bread crumbs, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 1-2 pounds chopped beef, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-3 cup finely diced onion, 3-ounce can broiled mushrooms.

Place rice cereal in mixing bowl. Add milk and let stand 5 minutes. Add chopped beef, egg, salt, pepper, nutmeg and onion. Mix well, using 1 large kitchen fork. Lightly pack into greased small loaf pan, about 8 x 4 inches.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) until done, about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Invert on serving platter and surmount with mushroom crowns which have been heated in their own broth. Leftover meat loaf can be served cold in slices, makes excellent sandwich meat.

Squash and Meat Pie
(4 generous servings)

One-half pound chopped beef, 3 tablespoons granulated rice cereal, 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1-4 cup finely diced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 pound package quick-frozen squash, about 2 cups; 1 egg, beaten; 2 tablespoons butter, melted; 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Blend chopped beef, rice cereal, both drained from can of mushrooms, onion, salt and nutmeg thoroughly together. Pack evenly over the bottom and sides of a greased 8-inch pie plate. Combine squash with egg, drained mushrooms, butter, salt and pepper, whipping well with fork.

File lightly over the meat lining the pie plate, spreading fairly evenly. Bake in moderately hot

2-Wheeled Cart Simplifies Chore In Leaf Removal

A cart for hauling away fallen leaves will ease the annual raking chore. One can be made in the form of a long, wide wheelbarrow with two wheels salvaged from an old lawn mower, coaster wagon or buggy.

Basically, the leaf cart may be two feet deep, four to six feet long and as wide as one can comfortably grasp the handles. The shape will taper from the width between the wheels to the width between the handles. Use 2 by 2-inch lumber for the framework, covering the inside with tempered hardboard, 3/16 of an inch thick. The smooth hardboard will provide a long-lasting, easy-to-unload surface. Handles, which should be rounded off, are an framing of the side. To support the bottom, put by 2-inch lumber, while the two legs at the back are extensions of the cross pieces of wood at 16-inch intervals.

All Men Sooner Or Later, Need A Saw

By DAVID G. BAROUTHER

Rare is the man who can live in a house for any length of time without needing at least one saw. Shelves must be put up; a crooked sapling may have to be cut down, and often there is an attic to be finished. These are among jobs that any of us are likely to tackle for the fun of it—if not because of the expense of hiring things done nowadays.

So you want to buy a saw. Your hardware dealer probably will assume that you want a general-purpose crosscut saw, but he might ask you if you want a rip saw, backsaw, buck saw, compass saw, keyhole saw, coping saw, power saw or any number of other saws. So it's a good idea to know something about saws.

For instance if the clerk asks you "What number?" you won't want to answer "Oh, one will be enough." He will be referring to the points per inch. You'll find that rip saws, for cutting down with the grain, have large coarse teeth—usually 5 1/2 points to the inch. Crosscut saws, as their name implies, for cutting across the grain, have finer teeth. A good all-around household crosscut saw has eight points or more per inch. The eight-point saw is a good fast cutter. A 10 or 12-point saw will do finer work, but calls for more elbow grease.

When you get into the hobby of making furniture or installing built-ins in your home, you'll find cabinet work requires a backsaw. This is a shorter stubby tool with a rigid metal molding along the top edge of its blade. This stiff back and the fine teeth of the backsaw make for smooth and accurate work. These saws range from eight to 16 inches in length with 12 to 16 points to the inch. Most commonly used, however, is the 12-inch size with 14 points to the inch.

To use a crosscut saw properly, grip the handle firmly with thumb and index finger pointing down the blade on each side of the handle. This grip will steer the saw in a straight line. With the other hand hold the board you are cutting and let the thumb of this hand touch the blade above the teeth to guide the cut. Don't try to start with a downward stroke, but draw the saw upward several times—slowly, to avoid jumping. Violation of this rule invites a slashed thumb.

Never try to saw down the center of a line you have measured off. You have to allow for the thickness of the kerf, so cut carefully on the waste side of the line. Saw with as much of the length of the blade as possible. Using only the middle part of the saw wears the teeth unevenly and calls for a rejoining job much sooner than necessary.

For the best results, hold a crosscut saw at an angle of 45 degrees from the surface of your work—a rip saw at 90 degrees. You'll notice that a crosscut saw cuts on both the up and down strokes. This is because of the angle at which the teeth are filed. The front edge of a crosscut tooth has a bevel of 15 degrees; the back edge 45 degrees, making a total of 60 degrees. The rip saw tooth presents a much straighter face to the wood, with its 90 degree angle divided eight degrees for the front and 52 degrees for the back. It cuts on the down stroke only.

Always keep your saw wiped with oil and then wiped fairly dry. A good saw can last you a lifetime if you give it the right care. Hang it by its handle in a safe place where children will not bump against it.

Rules Given For Colonial Charm

A charming early American dining room has walls painted a deep, dull blue, a beamed ceiling and random-width planks for the floor. The pine trestle table is placed beneath a wide window which overlooks the garden. Pewter plates and tankards gleam on the shelves of a Welsh cupboard. Draperies are russet in tone. The muted hue is repeated in the hand-hooked rugs on the floor.

All In A Lifetime

Hardboard Is Painted Same Way As Wood

There's no mystery about painting hardboards! A good rule of thumb to remember is this: Paint hardboards as you do wood surfaces, following the instructions of the manufacturer of the particular product applied. That's the advice of J. B. Palmer, manager of sales engineering for Masonite Corp.

Practically any type of finishing material may be used in decorating Masonite hardboards, Palmer points out—oil paint, water emulsion paint, bituminous paint, enamel, stain, lacquer, shellac, varnish, penetrating sealers wax synthetics and various special type finishes.

Paints and other finishing materials may be applied to hardboards by brushing, spraying, wiping, dipping, knife or roller. "When finishing a Masonite hardboard, just as in finishing wood, the importance of the first coat should not be overlooked either. Surfaces should be free of dirt, grease and other foreign matter before a finish is applied. Dirt may be removed with water and a mild soap; grease with carbon tetrachloride or naphtha. Be sure the board is dry before starting to finish it."

A primer is usually considered a base for additional coats and ordinarily has some opacity so it will serve not only as a sealer but a coating over the natural finish of the board. Sealers on the other hand, are sometimes used as the only finish. Penetrating sealers, providing an excellent means of finishing and maintaining floors and work surfaces of Masonite tempered hard-

It Pays To INSULATE...

"The insulation batts that this owner is so easily laying in between the joists of his attic floor will save him $40 in fuel costs this winter! That means that the insulation will pay for itself in a few seasons—he'll be money ahead from then on! Insulation makes your home cooler in summer, too, and adds to the resale value!"

Fuel prices are bound to advance—that's one big reason for insulating now. Insulation itself may get scarcer under war conditions—go up in price—that's reason number two. We sell insulation of all kinds: rock wool, balsam wool, metal oil, wall-board. It comes in batts, bulk, sections or rolls—easy to install by the owner or any qualified workman.

Storm Windows and Doors

"Cold winter ahead! And fuel may be more expensive, too, if the last war is any example. So good, draft-proof storm windows and doors are a real 'must'—especially if, at some future time, fuel is rationed. Rationing or not, it's common sense to have a home less costly to heat. Why not let us fill your storm-sash needs?"

We sell both fixed and movable storm sash, with a choice of several kinds of bracket attachments. We make them ourselves to your order—or we will supply the needed lumber to you or your contractor. Our storm windows are built to last for years; we use finest seasoned lumber. We have a plentiful supply at present and we suggest that you order now while prices are still low.

Fall is a bad time of the year for ducks and a bad time for your car. When October arrives each year, the ducks are feeling mean, and why not, some days you just can't make a dollar and then to be shot at in the process. It's enough to get any straight thinking duck to thinking. When October comes along your car is usually feeling mean, too, if it hasn't been properly serviced for fall and winter driving.

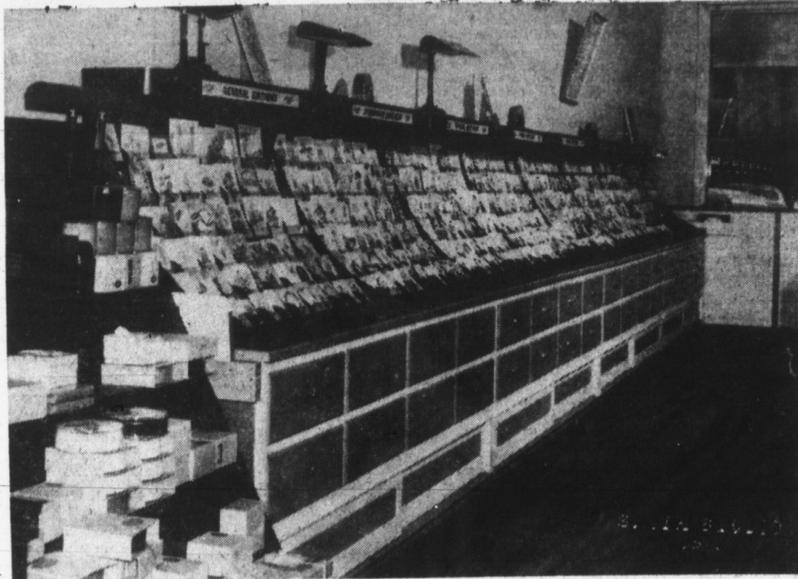

At Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Incorporated it would pay you to service now to save later. The expert mechanics of Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac check your car from stem to stern, they tune your engine and make all necessary adjustments, and the cost of the whole job is surprisingly moderate when you consider the way proper servicing will add miles to your car. Don't wait too long to drive up to Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Inc. for your check-up.

This is the best time of the year to start doing something about getting your car ready for winter. When temperatures drop, greases and oil thicken, friction is stronger, and friction, of course, is the cause of all wear on moving parts. Also the car may be sluggish and stiff with summer weight lubricants.

Now is the ideal time to get your car ready. Avoid the rush that comes with the first cold snap. Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Inc. has more time to do a thorough job now. Why not bring your car in this week for a really good job of winterproofing? Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac, Inc. is located at 120 N. Gray in Pampa.

War Veteran Has Lost His Savings

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Bernhard Levison, gray-bearded Spanish-American war veteran, is trying to remember the name of a town.

It might be in Missouri or it might be in Illinois, but remembering is awfully important to him. He says he deposited his savings of nearly $10,000 in a bank the other day and now he can't recall what town the bank was in.

The 74-year-old Levison has asked the Mulanphy Traveler's Aid society at Union station here to help him get back to Van Buren, Ark., his home.

He told Miss Alice Messerly, the society director, he was penniless. And he told her of his bigger trouble of not remembering.

A telephone call to a Van Buren bank where Levison said he had withdrawn the money and bonds a few days ago confirmed the withdrawal.

Levison says he came to St. Louis and then went to a small town where he thinks he deposited his savings—but he can't remember the name of the town.

Hornsby Inks Three Year Brownie Pact

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rogers Hornsby signed to manage the St. Louis Browns for three years, owner Bill Veeck announced today. No financial terms were disclosed except that Hornsby's salary will be the greatest ever paid a Browns manager.

Hornsby came east for the world series from Seattle, where he managed the Pacific Coast League entry the past season. He managed the Browns briefly during the '30's and starred both as manager and a player with the Cardinals, St. Louis' National League team.

Veeck said that Hornsby's coaches would be determined mutually later.

When Hornsby left the coast on his series trip he said he was considering three offers to return to the majors. None was identified.

Hornsby replaces Zack Taylor, Taylor has been promised a job with the Browns' organization.

Hornsby is in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown. In his major league career, which started in 1915, he won the National League batting championship six times in a row, starting with 1923 when he had an average of .370. In 1924 he reached the amazing batting mark of .424.

In his long career of second baseman, he served in turn with the Cardinals, Giants, Braves and Cubs in the National League and the Browns in the American League. He was player-manager of the Cardinals in 1925, and in 1926 led the Cardinals to the pennant.

Since 1937, when he was released by the Browns, Hornsby has been active in both major and minor league baseball.

DiMaggio Seeks Help Of Lefty

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, whose failure to hit safely in the first three world series games has the entire baseball world feeling sorry for him, said today he had asked Lefty O'Doul, his old manager, for help.

The Yankee outfielder, probably the best ball player of our time, has gone 11-for-0 during the series, and has left 10 runners stranded on the bases while the Yankees were losing two out of three to the Giants.

"I've just been lousy," Joe admitted frankly. "That's all. I'm not looking for sympathy. I don't want any."

O'Doul had called for discussion of the post-season baseball tour to the Orient which Lefty is conducting, and DiMaggio asked him:

"What am I doing wrong up there? I think I've lost the strike zone."

Russell Claims Notre Dame Four Touchdowns Better

DALLAS — (AP) — H. N. Russell, coach of SMU, says Notre Dame's team is as good as the 1949 eleven that won the national championship.

Thus, he declared today, Notre Dame should be a four-touchdown favorite over SMU in their game at South Bend, Ind., Saturday.

"My scouts report that Notre Dame has the same type team as 1949 when we were four-touchdown underdogs before we played them," said Russell.

"That should be about the same margin this time." Notre Dame beat SMU 27-2.

He described Notre Dame as "big, powerful and potent and anything you want to say about them. They have some sophomores to be sure but when a sophomore makes the Notre Dame team he's bound to be a great boy."

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Yankees

Thompson walked, Irvin singled for his ninth series hit. Thompson went to second, Lockman flied to Woodling, Thomson lashed a single over McDougald's head into left field scoring Thompson and sending Irvin to third.

Mays worked the count to three and two, the third straight batter to do so, then slapped a one bouncer to Rizzuto who started a game-ending double play, the shortstop to Coleman to Collins.

It was Mays' third double-play grounder which tied a World series record.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Seventh Inning Giants

The official attendance was 49,010 paid. Receipts were $233,887.85. Gerry Coleman went in to play second base, and McDougald moved over to third for the Yankees. Lockman bounced out, Rizzuto to Collins. Thomson singled off the left field wall.

Eighth Inning Yankees

Collins went out on a high pop to Thomson. Reynolds got a great hand but went down swinging, Bauer singled over Dark's head into left. Rizzuto was called out on strikes.

Eighth Inning Giants

Bill Rigney hit for Jones, and struckout. Stanky singled sharply into left. Reynolds grabbed Dark's rap back to the box and started a double play, the pitcher to Rizzuto to Collins. It was the Yankees' third double play.

DALLAS — (AP) — H. N. Russell, coach of SMU, says Notre Dame's team is as good as the 1949 eleven that won the national championship.

Thus, he declared today, Notre Dame should be a four-touchdown favorite over SMU in their game at South Bend, Ind., Saturday.

"My scouts report that Notre Dame has the same type team as 1949 when we were four-touchdown underdogs before we played them," said Russell.

"That should be about the same margin this time." Notre Dame beat SMU 27-2.

He described Notre Dame as "big, powerful and potent and anything you want to say about them. They have some sophomores to be sure but when a sophomore makes the Notre Dame team he's bound to be a great boy."

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Yankees

Thompson walked, Irvin singled for his ninth series hit. Thompson went to second, Lockman flied to Woodling, Thomson lashed a single over McDougald's head into left field scoring Thompson and sending Irvin to third.

Mays worked the count to three and two, the third straight batter to do so, then slapped a one bouncer to Rizzuto who started a game-ending double play, the shortstop to Coleman to Collins.

It was Mays' third double-play grounder which tied a World series record.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Seventh Inning Giants

The official attendance was 49,010 paid. Receipts were $233,887.85. Gerry Coleman went in to play second base, and McDougald moved over to third for the Yankees. Lockman bounced out, Rizzuto to Collins. Thomson singled off the left field wall.

Eighth Inning Yankees

Collins went out on a high pop to Thomson. Reynolds got a great hand but went down swinging, Bauer singled over Dark's head into left. Rizzuto was called out on strikes.

Eighth Inning Giants

Bill Rigney hit for Jones, and struckout. Stanky singled sharply into left. Reynolds grabbed Dark's rap back to the box and started a double play, the pitcher to Rizzuto to Collins. It was the Yankees' third double play.

Quarterbacks Change Spots

The Pampa Quarterback Club will hold its regular Monday night meeting tonight in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson grade school on East Brown. Meeting time will be 8 o'clock.

The quarterbacks will see the film of the Pampa-Plainview game as well as hear the coaches report on the game and the prospects for the heavy district play schedule ahead. The Harvesters will rest this week but then move on to tackle Abilene, Odessa, Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger and San Angelo.

Lippman Top SWC Carrier

DALLAS — (AP) — Glenn Lippman, who led Texas A&M in a 14-7 triumph over Oklahoma, has increased his margin in South-west Conference ball carrying.

The Aggie halfback gained 95 yards against Oklahoma and brought his total to 254 on 21 carries — 48 yards more than runnerup Lamar McHan of Arkansas.

Fred Benners of SMU still is well out in front in passing. He leads with 336 yards on 32 connections in 55 attempts. Larry Isbell of Baylor is second with 314 yards on 20 connections in 50 throws.

Isbell is the top punter with an average of 43.5 yards on 13 booms.

Bill Howton of Rice is tops in pass-receiving, having snared eight throws for 160 yards. Bill Journey of Arkansas is second with eight for 152.

McHan leads in total offense with 415 yards in 75 plays.

Pampa Golfers Win Panhandle Tourney

The Pampa Country club captured the 1951 Panhandle Men's Golf association round robin golf championship yesterday afternoon at Ross Rogers with a grand total of 2955 strokes for the four-course tourney.

The Pampa group finished third yesterday behind the host Ross Rogers golfers who finished with a 295. Phillips was second yesterday with 541 and Pampa had 544. Last was Huber with 559. But the Pampans went into the day with 70 strokes lead over Phillips, which was well protected as Pampa had the largest entry of golfers again, 27.

Ross Rogers fine total moved them into second place in the team standings, 49 strokes behind Pampa with a 3,004 total. Phillips finished the year with a total of 3,022 and Huber trailed with 3,083.

Dick Turner, Ross Rogers pro, was low gross shooter for the field with a neat six-under-par 68. Harry DeLashmutt, Amarillo city and municipal champion, paced the amateurs with 67.

Grover Austin, Jr., led the Pampa shooters with a gross of 74 with C. F. McGinnis second with a 75. Low net shooter was Howard Wittingham who shot a 53-31 — 62.

In winning the championship the Pampa golfers also won title to the huge trophy significant of the honor. It is on display at the pro shop and will remain there until next year's traveling tourney is completed.

Malvin Fowler of TCU is second with 397 on 69 plays.

Aggies are tops in team offense with 1085 yards in three games. Arkansas is second with 1080. Defensively, Baylor leads rolled on mightily with a 49-13 smashing of Cleburne.

Wichita Falls, champion last year, takes on Denison in District 5 of AAA. Wichita Falls showed signs of moving out of the wilderness last week by smashing Graham of AAA 45-0. Denison finally won a game, licking Tyler 6-0 in a conference test.

Features last week were Abilene's 19-0 win over Breckenridge, a power of AAA, Lamar of Houston's 49-13 conquest of Brownsville, another AAA standout.

In AAA Brownwood moved into the front tier by licking Midland 19-13; Palestine was impressive with a 27-6 decision over Marshall, and Longview rolled on mightily with a 49-13 smashing of Cleburne.

Average American Prone To Take Newspaper For Granted

NEW YORK — (AP) — The average American takes the weather and his daily newspaper for granted.

Both play a big role in his life, but he isn't particularly interested in how they come about.

He accepts the access to the truth and a free press gives him as a natural right — like breathing. He is only dimly aware of an ever-present danger, that if governments succeed in any way in gagging or blinding his free press his right to know what is going on will then be at the mercy of seeing-eye politicians.

He will be told only what the politicians want him to believe. That is the kind of Alice-in-Wonderland world Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin created, where fact becomes fancy and fancy becomes fact — and truth is a bitter legend.

Reporters aren't ordinarily given to bugging their calling. They like it and let it go at that. But I'd like to tell you something about a guy more important to you than you know or care of the telegraph editor or your own newspaper.

Hollywood has made the public aware of two stock caricatures in our craft — the cigar-chewing, rough-barking managing editor, and the brash, hard-drinking star reporter who gallops into the office shouting, "tear open the front page, chief, I got the story."

But, so far as I know, no movie ever made a hero of the telegraph editor. Nobody ever built a monument to him. No grateful reader ever left him a million dollars, or even shook him by the hand and said, "gee, you did a swell job today." As a matter of fact the average reader probably thinks a telegraph editor is somebody who counts the telegrams for Western Union.

Well, who is he?

He is the man through whom the American people get their ideas about the world beyond their own home town, and what is going on in that world.

Often he is a guy who can't left his own state but can tell you the inside politics of Iran or the latest news from Hong Kong. He usually has a hobby — growing roses, studying the life of Napoleon,

LUCILLA, waiting at home, had begun the evening in a mood of penitent mother love. She had told Hoopy stories for an hour, working in such shining little morals, as, "And this little girl had a mommy and daddy who loved each other and loved her, just the way your mommy and daddy do." She had also encouraged her child to sing "I Been Workin' on the Railroad." They even had duets. Hoopy's last sleepy mutter was, "Kiss Daddy good night for me."

The request flowed through Lucilla's mind with the cleansing effect of tears, and left her with one simple, natural picture: herself kissing Arthur and saying, "There's never been anybody but you. Please forgive me for being so silly." And then they would live happily ever after, united in perfect accord, and solving all Hoopy's psychological fears even before they were hatched.

By 10:30, she had streaks of thinking he was really overdoing this. If he was staying out just to make her anxious, then it wasn't very nice of him. Just after 11:00, she heard his key click. Arthur entered. She had planned to fling her arms around him, but never having been a flinger, she just said, "I've been worried about you."

"Have you?" Arthur said distantly.

"Where have you been? Why did you stay out so late?"

It was his cue to say, "Because I was frantic at the thought of you with another man," and then she'd say, "There's never been, etc." But Arthur hadn't read the right script. In answer to her questions, he said, "I had dinner and spent the evening with a girl from the office."

His wife recoiled.

She had meant to tell him the whole Derek fiasco, but now . . .

OVER the week end, the apartment was so full of the noxious fumes of distrustful politeness that both Lucilla and Arthur felt ready to choke. Each of them, separately, made a fuss over Hoopy and engaged her in paired-off activities; Saturday Arthur took her to the Bronx zoo, and let her have a borrowed soda so near supper-time that she ate languidly, disinterested in vitamin-bearing foods.

On Sunday, Lucilla rushed her child off to a neighborhood movie, expecting to see a cheerful little film about a talking mule. In her borrowed state, she had no longer the weekday schedule of starting-times, and as a result she and Hoopy arrived at the double feature in the middle of a lurid triangle melodrama. "Why did the lady shoot the man?"

Rather than explain that the wife had become trigger-happy because of her husband's infidelity, Lucilla whispered, "He'd hurt her feelings and made her cry." Hoopy's thoughtful "oh" made her mother realize that perhaps the child was receiving an oversimplified notion of revenge. "The lady was bad to do it," she muttered.

GOOD SYSTEM

MONTREAL — (AP) — There are three good reasons for the fact juvenile delinquency is not a great problem here, said a parent, good children and good organizations contributing time and money to help the children.

with hometown news. The telegraph editor wants to fill it with national and international news. Neither will ever be happy until somebody invents rubber type and rubber paper.

That's my pin-up-boy-of-the-week — the telegraph editor. Some dull day, dear reader, drop into your favorite newspaper, ask for him and just say, "thanks."

But don't be surprised if he drops down dead. If there is one thing a telegraph editor isn't used to — it's gratitude.

"If the lady was bad, then why does the other man kiss her?" was Hoopy's next poser.

Lucilla whispered, "He's just silly." For some reason, this made her feel much better. How silly men were; she thought, even the best of them. It was the women who had to act adult and bridge misunderstandings. All through the film about the talking mule, she could feel the tolerant wisdom, and even a rueful amusement, coursing through her. Arthur had only tried to get even.

She began to feel it was up to her to proffer another olive branch, and if necessary beat him over the head with it. As soon as they got home, she would take Arthur aside and explain about Derek, and then Arthur would explain why he'd taken out a girl from the office, and everything would be settled.

They sat into the apartment, two females full of interesting tidbits to tell Daddy.

Daddy wasn't there.

THE truth was that Arthur had been suffering from an emotional hangover, and far from being of the hair-of-the-dog school, he didn't even want to see a woman just then, much less have a scene with one. He was confused and depressed, and also disgusted at his wife's childishness storming into the bathroom and refusing to talk, the night he'd come home after 11. If this action had somehow established her innocence to Arthur, it had also undervalued her unreasonableness.

Eventually they'd have to have a showdown, but in the meantime, he longed for neat, unmodulated columns of figures and graphs; it was much the same sort of need that makes a sick dog go out and eat grass.

Having made up his mind, or his instinct, Arthur acted promptly, while his women were still at the movies. He put some papers back into his briefcase and wrote a note: "Gone to the office and will probably work there all evening." After some thought, he drew a line through "probably," proper, the note against a couch pillow, and departed.

Louisiana Oilmen Concerned Over Tidelands -- Costs Mount

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Major oil company officials, eyeing rising production costs, are more and more concerned about the tidelands.

Caught in the middle between the state and the federal government in the prolonged controversy, the companies operating in the Gulf have not cared to openly fix the blame for their troubles.

The tidelands are hurting, and hurting bad.

Exploration for new oil has virtually ceased because of the Supreme court injunction issued last December which, in effect, forbade any operations without authority of the responsible federal official, Secretary of the Interior Chapman.

Because Chapman, contending that he lacks authority, has issued no drilling permits, more than $25,000,000 of marine exploration equipment has been tied up along the coasts of Texas and Louisiana. This equipment, subject to ravage by the elements, has added a mounting upkeep cost to the budget.

The president of a major company operating in the Gulf estimated last week that upkeep costs, conservatively estimated, were running around $2500 a day. Wells on his company's larger discoveries in the Gulf are standing up, producing is dropping, and rigs cannot be operated to clean the wells out.

Although drilling is forbidden, delay rentals are still being paid on offshore leases the companies secured from Louisiana in competitive bidding. Even though the federal government lacks a competitive bidding system on non-producing leases, it is collecting monies at the enormous rates established by the states.

This payment to the United States, running into millions each year, is further complicated by the absence of a line of demarcation to differentiate the U.S. claims from state waters in the jagged, marshy Louisiana shoreline.

Thus oil companies, not knowing who their landlord will be, are paying both the state and the U.S. identical heavy payments on leases in the "twilight" zone. This method of being on the safe side is a heavy drain on the budget, although the companies expect an eventual return of these monies from one of the parties.

Delineation of these areas was attempted last March by Philip B. Perlman, solicitor general of the United States. Perlman sent the Louisiana attorney general a map on which was a heavy line purported to be what the U.S. considered Louisiana's boundary. This did little to clear the air. The line shocked state officials with its unusual claims on some bay areas that they had never considered affected by the Supreme court decision.

Operations on the other side (federal) of this meandering line have been stopped by the U.S. officials and a further crimp put in exploration plans.

The Louisiana Department of Conservation has compiled figures on the Gulf production which shows the tragic result of the litigation. Tideland production began to mount in April, 1948, and by June, 1950 (Supreme court decision against Louisiana) it had increased by about 400,000 barrels a month; an increase of about 15,000 barrels a month. After the Supreme court de-
