Vast Foreign Military Aid Program Urged By Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall said today the United States must expect to maintain for "at least" three more years a multi-billion dollar level of spending for foreign military aid.

Continued American assistance in organizing the defenses of the free world "is a project of self interest for this country of the highest and most pressing urgency," Marshall said.

He testified before the House Foreign Affairs committee on the administration program for $8,500,000,000 of U.S. economic and military aid abroad during the fiscal year starting Sunday.

Train Wreck Kills Two And Injures Dozen

SHELBYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The Chicago and Eastern Illinois passenger train, the Meadowlark, hit a track wash-out near here last night and derailed down a 30-foot creek embankment. Two crewmen were killed and a dozen passengers injured. The Diesel locomotive ploughed down the steep grade approaching a trestle and plunged into swollen Brush creek. The four cars of the train tumbled behind it with three of them reported to have turned over four times on the way down. The fireman and mail clerk of the train were killed. Fireman C. L. Mills, 64, of Salem, Ill., was pinned beneath the locomotive, partly submerged in the raging creek waters. The body of Mail Clerk Robert Boatright, 40, of Salem, was found in the baggage car. Mills' body was recovered by cutting away the engine cab. The engineer, J. R. Beach of Villa Grove, Ill., reported the train on a night run from Chicago to Cypress in Southern Illinois hit a rain-weakened section of the track.

Paving In Pampa Toured By Group Of N.M. Officials

Pampa's paving was undergoing another inspection by out-of-state city officials this morning. City Manager C. M. Woodberry and City Clerk Brad Hayes of Roswell, N. M., started on a conducted tour of the city this morning to get a view of the city's widely publicized soil-cement paving base procedure. The tour was conducted by City Manager Dick Peppin, City Engineer Ray Evans and Mayor C. A. Huff. The visitors were accompanied to Pampa by Don Thomas of the Portland Cement Association.

During the past two months Pampa's paving program has been given wide-spread publicity in three nationally circulated engineering and construction magazines. The local paving program was given its first recognition when Evans was called to Milwaukee, Wis., to address the National Association of Road Builders. The Roswell officials are the second New Mexico group to inspect Pampa's paving. The first group came from Carlsbad in mid-April for a similar inspection.

Speaker Outlines New West Texas CC Plans

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is in the midst of setting up its radically redesigned program and putting it to work, Fred Husbands, recently appointed executive general manager told a regional WTCC work clinic in the Palm room, city hall, last night. Program of the newly reorganized organization that takes in 132 West Texas counties, has already put a revamped agricultural program to work with George Logan as a full time advisor who works side by side with farmers and ranchers in improving their productivity, Husbands reported. Husbands, former manager of the West Chamber of Commerce, gave a detailed outline of what the WTCC is doing and what it plans for the future. These programs range from the now working agricultural program through to a West Texas sales trip by special exhibition tours to the industrial north and east with an eye to obtaining more diversified industry for West Texas. Included in the new program are monthly analyses of legislation and taxation, and what

Ten Bills Are Given Veto By Gov. Shivers

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers put his signature on all but 10 of the 52nd legislature's last bills on his desk yesterday. Those 10, he vetoed. When the governor finished work at 10:30 Thursday night, he had approved bills to keep the state government operating two more years, to make drivers pay for damage they cause in accidents or lose their licenses, and to slow down violations of the right-to-work law. He also signed a bill redefining insurance laws after Attorney General Price Daniel ruled the new act would not prevent the state's collecting a tax on gross insurance premium receipts under an old law. A bill reappropriating roughly $3,000,000 for soil conservation won the governor's endorsement after the attorney general ruled the bill was properly drawn. Killed by the veto power was a bill which would have granted a two percent refund to retail gasoline dealers on the state tax on motor fuel sold. Shivers said a competent authority estimated the state would lose $1,600,000 a year on such a refund, $1,200,000 being lost by the highway fund and school fund. He vetoed a bill which originally dealt with changes in procedure on forfeiture and restoration of hunting and fishing licenses. Shivers said he turned it down because an amendment had been tacked on which would have repealed the mandatory suspension of drivers' license on conviction of drunken driving. The governor signed the general appropriation bill, which calls for an outlay of $181,000,000 from the general revenue fund to pay for state services the next biennium.

Eight Navy Men Die In Plane Crash

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eight navy men were killed and one escaped with a broken leg today in the crash of a patrol bomber. One of the men taken from the water by rescue craft died of injuries later. The plane, a PBM, fell in the Florida straits off a nearby island. It was based at the Key West Naval Station. The big twin-engine plane was taking off when the accident occurred. The identity of the crew members will be made public after notification of next of kin. Witnesses said the two engine aircraft cartwheeled before it sank upside down in 12 feet of water. Navy divers were rushed to the scene by truck and boat and diving operations are under way to secure bodies which apparently are still in the upturned plane.

60,000 Bushels Of New Wheat Reaches Canadian Elevator

CANADIAN (Special)—Elevator men at Canadian said today they had received approximately 60,000 bushels of new wheat, and estimated that the harvest was about half done. D. U. (Bud) Hardin, prominent Hemphill county wheat grower, said weeds and weed seeds are rapidly becoming a major problem. Wheat reaching the elevators is testing from 56 to 62 lbs per bushel with a moisture content of 10 to 12 percent.

U.S. Ambassador Asked To Confer On Iran Oil Crisis

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh summoned U.S. Ambassador Henry Grady today to confer on Iran's oil crisis. Later the ambassador said he would propose to Britain that its technicians be asked to stay on the job in Iran. (In Britain, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said he was still hopeful the oil nationalization dispute would be settled by negotiation.)

Grady and Mossadegh were closeted for an hour and a half, Grady told reporters. The National Premier promised to suspend Iran's disputed anti-sabotage bill Sunday, but would not make any concessions in the dispute with the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. over oil tanker seizures.

Because Iran has demanded reparation for the oil being shipped on British tankers, indicating payment due to the Iranian National Oil Co., the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. has ordered its tankers to withdraw from Abadan, this probably will mean a shutdown of the great Abadan refinery.

Mossadegh, sparkplug of the campaign which brought nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. holdings, apparently told Grady that Iran will junk the anti-sabotage bill if British technicians would stay on the job working for the Iranian National Oil Co.

Morrison counseled the British employees of the AIOC to stick together until able "to resume normal operations" at the huge Abadan Refinery. He said Britain would take "all practicable measures necessary" to protect her citizens working at Abadan.

AIOC employees had refused to work for the new Iranian National Oil Co., largely because of Iran's proposed anti-sabotage bill which would provide penalties up to death.

The Iranians began making concessions shortly after the 8,000-ton British cruiser Mauritius steamed up the Shatt El Arab river and cast anchor within a mile of the great Abadan refineries. Her eight-inch guns could be seen from jetties where tank-back into the refinery storage tanks and are preparing to leave.

Gang Feud Flares Anew As One Slain

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Another bloody chapter in an apparent campaign to wipe out surviving members of the Shelton gang family resulted yesterday in the killing of one person and the machine-gunning of two others. Three of the notorious Shelton brothers, leaders of a gang dating back to the prohibition era, have been assassinated in less than four years. Gravely wounded in the machine-gunning shooting at a street intersection here were Guy Pennington, 37, and his wife, Lulu Shelton Pennington, 44. Each was shot four times. They were named as their assailant Charlie (Black Charlie) Harris, an ex-convict and former partner of the Shelton brothers who later split with them and became their arch rival. Mrs. Pennington is the youngest sister of the notorious Shelton brothers. A few hours after the Penningtons were shot down, Louis Sons, 38, a farmer, was found shot to death in a farm house-resort. Police said the place is operated by Ogie Pennington, brother of the victim of the earlier shooting. Police Chief Otis Hallam said he was operating on the theory Sons might have been killed because he witnessed the shooting of the Penningtons. Others suggested the killer might have mistaken Sons for Ogie Pennington, who saw the earlier shooting.

U.N. Commander In Korea Slated To Discuss Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today sent Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway general instructions on negotiation of a cease-fire in Korea.

Just what they are was not disclosed in the official word given out here. But informed sources in London said they had the support of all the 16 United Nations with fighting forces in Korea.

The move pointed to some early action—perhaps within hours—to determine whether a truce can in fact be arranged.

Ridgway was at his Tokyo headquarters but there were rumors he might leave for Korea at any time.

William J. Sebald, U.S. diplomatic chief in Japan, flew to Pusan, Korea, and conferred with John J. Muccio, the U.S. ambassador to Korea. No official announcement was made as to their discussions.

Senate Okays Bill To Extend Control Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to extend price, wage and rent controls eight months but which would curb drastically or possibly ban any new price rollbacks was passed by the Senate early today.

The bill, which falls far short of the kind of control President Truman contends the country needs to combat inflation, was approved at the tag end of an unrelenting marathon session by a rollcall vote of 71 to 10.

Weary senators sent the bill to the House, which plans to shunt it aside temporarily and act instead—probably later in the day—on stop-gap legislation to extend the present controls law 31 days.

The House bill as cleared by its rules committee would prohibit any price rollbacks during July—the proposed life of the measure. It also would bar fixing any new price ceilings during the month.

The current law expires at midnight tomorrow. House leaders have decided against considering at this time the longer range extension approved by the Senate.

$500 Bonds Posted By Assault Suspects

Bonds of $500 each were posted yesterday for the detention by Tom Grantham, Jack Bonner, and Melvin Crownover, charged in the Monday night beating of Ed Murphree, local radio engineer, on Duncan near Harvester.

Because conflicting stories were told on the fight, County Attorney Bill Waters accepted a counter-complaint by the boys' parents against Murphree who was also placed under $500 bond. "Because of the nature of the case we accepted complaints and issued charges from both sides. Now we'll let a jury decide," the county attorney said yesterday.

Marshall May Retire As Defense Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was new speculation in the capital today—lacking official confirmation—that George C. Marshall might seek to retire this fall as secretary of defense. In general this talk, which was current on Capitol Hill among other places, appeared to be predicated on two points:

1. The approaching anniversary of Marshall's appointment. He took office on Sept. 21, 1950. 2. Revival of reports current at the time of his appointment that he accept the post for only a limited time. One change in the top civilian defense command was announced yesterday. President Truman announced selection of Dan A. Kimball, undersecretary of the navy, to succeed Francis P. Matthews as secretary. Matthews has accepted appointment as ambassador to Ireland. Kimball has been undersecretary for air since early 1949. Before that he was a vice-president of the General Tire and Rubber Co. Matthews, an Omaha attorney, has been navy secretary since May, 1949. Both appointments are subject to Senate confirmation. When Mr. Truman called on the 70-year-old Marshall to succeed Louis Johnson as defense secretary, Marshall was just making his second attempt to retire from active public life. He had retired in 1945 from active army duty as a five star general, only to be called back by Mr. Truman to serve as secretary of state. Then, after becoming ill and undergoing long hospitalization, Marshall resigned the state department post and went to his Leesburg, Va. home again to start retirement. But a few months later Mr. Truman asked him to take the defense job. Although speculation about his retirement has recurred periodically almost since the time of his appointment, Marshall took no public cognizance of it, either through denials or explanation of any conditions he might have set on his acceptance of the post. The question of who might succeed Marshall in the Pentagon assignment has paced talk about the possibility of his resignation. Among names mentioned have been those of Robert A. Lovett, the deputy secretary, John J. McCloy, American high commissioner in the U.S. Occupation Zone of Germany, and W. Stuart Symington, presently head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

U.S. Population Is 154 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau announced today that the total population of the United States, including troops abroad, passed 154,000,000 this month and may reach 155,000,000 by the year's end.

During the last year, the population has increased an average of about 200,000 per month, the bureau said. The last previous official Census Bureau estimate was 153,000,000 as of last May 1, compared with 151,132,000 for April 1, 1950.

Two Arrested On Driving Charges

A fast race between two cars on the Berger highway resulted in an accident late Thursday night and the arrest of two men on reckless driving charges, according to police reports. Police said a 1926 sedan driven by Billy Warren Taylor, 506 N. Cuyler, was driving side-by-side with a car driven by Paul Glenn McDonald when Taylor lost control of his car. It swerved on the highway and slid backward into a tree at Alcock and Nelson. No injuries were reported. Damages to the Taylor car were estimated at $175.

One study indicates that, at the age of 25, about 35 of every 1,000 Americans have some chronic illness or major disability, a survey indicates.

controls program lapse. Agreement on a brief extension signed to be the likely choice.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), floor manager of the Senate bill, declared he had no doubt the Senate and House would get together.

"We're not going to let the controls program collapse — you know that," he told a reporter.

The Senate voted down 58 to 22, a proposal by Senator Moody (D-Mich) that the present law — with some changes in the rent control provisions — be extended until April 1.

Passage of the Senate's eighth month extension bill came shortly before 3 a.m., EST, after a continuous session which lasted 16 hours. It started at 11 a.m., EST, yesterday.

On final passage, 41 Democrats and 30 Republicans voted for the bill. All 10 votes against it were cast by Republicans.

The final vote was marked by angry, sometimes furious debate over whether Senators Lehman (D-Lib., N.Y.) and Benton (D-Conn) could respond "present" when their names were called on the final vote.

Extravagance Of Wife Blamed In Swindling Case

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — (AP) — A 23-year-old former employe of the county sheriff's office charged with embezzling $5,890.34 blamed it on his former wife's extravagance.

James D. Childers testified in common pleas court yesterday he spent most of the money on gifts, including furs and whisky. The youth said his ex-wife did not operate the household economically and because she would not cook they had to eat in restaurants.

The defendant insisted he intended to repay the money. But after his arrest May 3 his stepfather, Clarence Childers, did so. The case is expected to go to the jury today.

Wilson, Head Of Bell Telephone Co. Taken By Death

NEW YORK — (AP) — Leroy A. Wilson, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., died yesterday. He was 80.

Wilson, who rose from traffic clerk to head of the vast Bell system in 29 years, had been a patient at Presbyterian hospital here for two weeks.

The nature of his illness was not disclosed. An A.T.&T. spokesman said Wilson had been ailing for several months.

Washington's Uncertainty Causes Much Confusion In Cattle Industry

By DON WHITEHEAD
PORT WORTH — (AP) — Uncertainty in Washington over future price controls has brought a fog of confusion to Texas' billion dollar cattle industry — the source of most of America's steak dinners.

Cattlemen, buyers, feeders, commission men, stockyard men, slaughterers and bankers—they're all trying to figure out what price controls and rollbacks may do to the business.

They are as nervous about beef controls as a young bridegroom standing at the church door. They don't know exactly what the future holds.

Cattlemen do know they don't want controls. They say it loudly and violently. Some cattlemen contend price controls will ruin the grower and cause even a greater shortage of beef for the housewife in the future.

Right now cattlemen are watching the progress of the Senate Banking committee bill which would ban any further price rollbacks, including those planned on beef. The committee took the cattlemen's view that further rollbacks would hurt and not help beef production.

The Office of Price Stabilization says even under the rollbacks the cattlemen still could make a reasonable profit that would encourage beef production. The OPS has rolled back beef prices 10 percent and plans two others of 4-5 percent each on Aug. 1 and Oct. 1, unless Congress halts it.

 The Texas cattle industry is made up of growers operating on all scales from huge to little. More little growers are coming into the business each year.

OPS says they can do all right under the rollbacks and clear a profit of $42.43 on a 700-pound animal.

Action Dismissed Against Figure In 5-Percenter Probe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An indictment against James V. Hunt, a key figure in the Senate "five percenter" inquiry, has been dismissed.

U. S. District Judge Richmond B. Keech took the action yesterday after receiving medical opinion that Hunt is too ill to stand trial. A four-count indictment charged him with illegal conduct as a federal employee.

Here's some typical reaction from men in the business: Joe Lane, cattle buyer and rancher: "We've always worked out our own salvation without any government help and all we ask is to be let alone."

"They keep us upset in Washington by the indecision. If they'd make up their minds and then go ahead — we'd do all right. We hear there'll be rollbacks. Then we hear there won't be any rollbacks."

"Well, that keeps everybody upset. We want to know where we stand."

W. L. Pier, manager of the Fort Worth stockyard: "In all this confusion, a lot of people are saying just 'wait and see.' They don't know what to do until they can see which way this thing is going."

"What will happen no one knows. Certainly any setback in price affects the cattle industry all along the line. The cattle people don't want to be regulated. But even if there are rollbacks, some people think they can get along under normal conditions. But we need stability."

Jeff Stocum, cattlemen: "The biggest thing they could do for us in Washington is to make up their minds."

"We don't want controls. But if we've got to have them, then let's know what they are and stick to it and don't go changing the rules all the time."

Most cattlemen will agree that beef prices are too high — but they insist, they are not out of line with other prices.

On this score, the OPS argues cattle prices have risen more than five times as much as wages of the factory workers, more than four times as much as prices paid by farmers, over five times as much as the index of consumer prices, and over three times as much as the average prices of food items.

The administration contends if beef prices aren't rolled back, they will affect other prices and wreck the control program. In support of this argument, the administration points to the fact that the average price of live cattle per hundredweight has increased from $18.50 in 1949 to $27.00 in January, 1951.

Military Advisers Building South Korean Fighting Army

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA — (AP) — A small team of U.S. military advisers is welding the South Korean army into a fighting force that some day may be capable of defending this battle-scarred republic.

The team is attached to KMAC — the U.S. Military Advisory Group to Korea (since war began last June 25 these advisers have managed to hold the Korean army together despite staggering losses).

Today, through an intensive training program, KMAC is forming a nucleus of professional Korean soldiers. Republic of Korea fees have lacked this solid core.

Two big questions now are: What would be the role of KMAC if and when a cease-fire developed? Would this South Korean army be able to protect this country?

Both questions were posed to Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U.S. Eighth Army.

The answer to the first question, he said, must come from Washington.

As for the second, Van Fleet said the KMAC training program "will create an effective army for the Republic of Korea which will be sufficient to maintain peace within the country and defend it against any aggression from a neighbor."

KMAC was set up in August 1948 as a provisional military advisory group in expectation of the withdrawal of American occupation forces then stationed in Korea. The group's mission was to advise and train the South Korean army. Each high Korean officer had an American officer as an adviser.

This army, however, was prepared only to maintain internal security when a year ago the North Koreans swarmed across the 38th parallel.

Despite overpowering enemy strength, KMAC members stood alongside the South Koreans in their desperate effort to stem the Communist onslaught.

Although the ROKs suffered some 40,000 casualties in the first few days of the war, KMAC managed to replace these and at the same time boost the army from about 90,000 to nearly 200,000 men.

The recruits got little training — usually from two to four weeks. The Korean army lacked both equipment and good officers. Controlled by Japan for years, South Korea had little experience in war.

Shortly after the third ROK corps collapsed in the Communist's May offensive, Lt. Gen. Chung Il Kwon, ROK chief of staff, diagnosed the trouble as lack of heavy equipment, lack of training and inexperienced officers.

A new program was launched to attack this problem. A military school system, modeled along American lines, bore down on non-commissioned officers and officer candidates to improve the quality of junior leadership. Units up to division size were rotated from the front for instruction.

KMAC gained a new chief June 1 when Brig. Gen. Garrison H. Davidson succeeded Brig. Gen. Francis Farrell, who had served in the position since last July.

Davidson, white-haired, handsome former head football coach at West Point, stressed that KMAC now has shifted the emphasis from quantity to quality for the Korean army.

"When the war first broke out," he said, "the demand was for lots of men in a hurry. Now that the situation has become more stabilized, we can concentrate on quality."

Davidson said the full effect will not be felt for another six months, but "we can feel certain that the South Korean army in the future will be far more capable of containing any aggression than it was before the war."

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Secretary Oscar Chapman has shown remarkable resourcefulness and persistence in his several attempts to strip the federal Power of the commission of its 30-year-old authority to issue licenses for construction and operation of water-power projects on American rivers and their tributaries.

In opposing his claims at federal hearings and in the courts, FPC attorneys argue that a Chapman victory will vest all authority over the hydroelectric industry, insofar as it relies on water for energy, in the federal government.

Neither private nor public interests, such as cities, states and cooperatives, can build one of these projects except with his approval and on his terms.

For this reason the contest between Interior and FPC for jurisdiction gives concern to many cities and states and public groups as well as to the public utilities.

In fact, several municipalities have delayed or halted construction pending future court decisions, even though the rearmament emergency requires immediate expansion of facilities.

Both federal and private lawyers also maintain that, if Interior wins this battle for jurisdiction, the government can and may assert the same authority to control many other industries clothed with an interstate or general welfare interest.

Interior opened the battle on a modest scale, and FPC agreed to let it enter the licensing field in a minor way.

FPC did not then realize the implications of the rival federal agency's aggression, or anticipate that it would seek to supplant FPC's general authority over the nation's streams.

Oilers Take Series Final From Sox, 10-6; Red Dial Gains Tenth Victory

LOOK AND ACT ALIKE—Bespoke Clyde King, right, is built like Jim Konstanty, and looks enough like the Phillies' fireman to be his brother. Throwing the same sort of junk, the Dodgers' newest star is matching the relief pitching that last season made Konstanty the National League's most valuable player. (NEA)

Open Against Sox In Abilene Tonight

LUBBOCK.—(P)—The Pampa Oilers rolled over the Lubbock Hubbers 10-6 despite the almost superhuman efforts of little Paul Dobkowski last night in a nip and tuck contest here.

Dobkowski made three terrific fielding plays and slammed a home run and double for four trips to drive in four of the Hubber runs. Then, to make the night complete, he stole home working a double steal with teammate Jackie Wilcox.

Red Dial went all the way for the Oilers, giving up 12 hits, the same number his mates pounded off a trio of Hubber hurlers. Bob Zolliecoffer started for Lubbock, but retired in the third inning in favor of Steve Catadul, who was the loser. Ray Machado came in for duty in the eighth and finished.

The lead in the game changed hands five times, with the Oilers finally gaining lasting control in the ninth. Not once did the Hubbers go down in order, always managing somehow to get a runner on base.

The Oilers took the lead in the top of the first with Nelson Davis opening with single, going to second on a walk to Fort and Richardson driving Davis home with a ringing single to left.

The Hubbers scored twice in the second on three straight hits good for one run and the aforementioned double steal accounting for the lead run, making the score 2-1.

But Pampa came back in the third with four big runs, the climax being Bill Whitehorn's sixth homer of the season. Other hits in the inning went to Wolf and Phillips. Davis was safe on an error and Richardson walking in the big frame.

But Lubbock came right back for four runs to regain the lead, again, and send Dial reeling on the ropes. Kubski singled with one out, Hochstatter walked and Palmer singled Kubski home.

These set things up for Dobkowski's three-run homer, the final run the Hubs could scrape up.

Pampa took the lead in the fifth on consecutive doubles by Richardson and Whitehorn and an infield out and a long fly accounting for two runs.

A walk, a hit batsman and a single by Dial in the seventh scored the ninth run and a single and an error by Kubski in the ninth accounted for the other Pampa tally.

Tonight the Oilers open up a two-game series against the league-leading Abilene Blue Sox. Manager Virgil Richardson is expected to open with either left hander George Matthews or newcomer right hander Clyde Baldwin. The Sox, who were treated rather rudely by the Lamesa Lobos the past few days, were uncertain about a pitching selection.

Women's City Golf Tourney Underway

A driving contest was to be held this morning.

Maysia de Howell is tournament chairman.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

OAKMONT, Pa. (P)—Henry Williams, Jr., is a big moon-faced guy with spectacles and a touch of snubnose. He surprised a lot of people when he went to the finals of the PGA championship last summer.

He wasn't known to followers of the tournament golf circuit; he hadn't done much on his rare appearances there and he doesn't look like a finely-trained athlete. In fact, he isn't.

Henry will tell you he's just a stay-at-home club pro. "I can't afford to play tournament golf," Williams explains. "It takes too much money just to live and travel the circuit. I have a family to support."

But the PGA is something different; it's his big outing of the year and he's doing pretty well in the event for several years.

FAMILY PARTY
"I like this tournament," Henry remarked after posting a pair of comfortably low scores for the qualifying rounds. "A club pro has a chance to win here. I don't play enough to be consistent for four rounds, but in match play you can make a couple of bad shots and you just lose a hole and go on." He glanced out at the rolling Oakmont course at some of the holes he might win or lose in the next few days and went on. "Played pretty good for that 74 today. Wasn't putting too well. That nine out there is where most matches will be won. Those three par-fives give you a chance to pick up birdies and win a few holes. The backside, I think, plays about two strokes harder."

TWO SIDES TO EVERYTHING
Like a golf course, the PGA has two sides. The front is the touring pro troupe that wins most of the tournaments and grabs the headlines and big dough. The "backside" is composed of the stay-at-homes like Williams, who pay their dues to support the big organization and, in the long run, operate it.

Five years ago Lennart Stran of Sweden, won the 1,500 meter race in 3:54.5 in the National AAU championships at San Antonio.

Three Texans In NCAA Golf Fight

BUS, O.—(P)—Three hand-picking mashies set out to annex a grassy strip of Ohio today as the National Intercollegiate Golf Tournament entered the quarterfinals at Ohio State University.

In western style, the Texans were to fight it out among themselves—as well as with five other golfers—in an attempt to bring the Lone Star state an individual championship to add to its already captured team honors.

North Texas State already has won the team honors.

Quarterfinals were to be played this morning with semifinals this afternoon.

Buster Reed of North Texas State College and Wesley Ellis of the university of Texas were paired for the top skirmish of the day.

Reed fired a four-under-par 68 yesterday to defeat Curtis Jacobs of Wisconsin, 1 up.

Tom Nieporte of Ohio State faced John Carson of Georgia.

Third Texan in the group is Johnny Weaver of Rice, who plays Don Johnson of Ohio State.

Redskin Films Now Available

AMARILLO.—Highlights of the Washington Redskins from 1942 through 1947 are now available on film to civic clubs, athletic groups or any other organization.

The Redskins, members of the National Football League, will play the Detroit Lions here Aug. 31 in a night exhibition game.

The technicolor film runs 21 minutes and is narrated by Harry Wismer.

Clarence Guyette and Browning Higgs, promoters of the game, said they will show the movie, free of charge, to any interested group in the Panhandle.

Ticket sale for the Lion-Redskin game is at Pro Football, 805 Harrison in Amarillo. Mail orders must be accompanied with a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Yankee Castoff, Frank Hiller, Huris One-Hitter At Cards

(By The Associated Press)

Frank Hiller, a Yankee who got away, is the new glamor boy pitcher of the majors after his brilliant one-hitter for the Chicago Cubs.

Hiller faced only 27 St. Louis Cardinals last night, walking leadoff man Tommy Glaviano in the first and allowing a single to Einos Slaughter in the fifth. Both were erased on double plays.

The Cubs backed up Frankie Boy with a generous 12-hit attack on Gerry Staley and Al Brasie for an 8-0 win.

The Hiller story is Horatio Alger in reverse. Signed by the wealthy New York Yanks for a comfortable bonus when he came out of Lafayette in wartime, he never quite made the grade.

Bouncing around in Newark and Kansas City with a couple of years in the Yankee Stadium bullpen, Hiller became disgraced. He was so dissatisfied he asked George Weiss, Yankee general manager, to trade him after an 11-8 year at Kansas City in 1949. Weiss peddled Hiller to the Cubs for $25,000 on a conditional basis. Hiller forgot the conditions when Frankie came through as a 12-5 pitcher for Chicago last season. He finally had made good to complete the cycle of big leagues to minors to big leagues.

The 30-year-old righthander never was better than last night. His previous big league high was a two-hitter against the Phils last September.

Hiller's sparkler, however, didn't have as much effect on the National League race as Monte Irvin's two home runs for New York's 5-4 edge over the leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Irvin hit Nos. 11 and 12 off Ralph Branca to slip the Dodgers' lead to five games. Branca took a 4-2 edge into the eighth, thanks to a leaky outfield. Don Mueller's single and a bunt single by Whitey Lockman set it up for Irvin to blast Branca's first pitch deep into the upper leftfield seats for his second homer of the game.

Sheldon Jones, who relieved Dave Koski in the sixth, poured another strike past home running Gil Hodges, who stood with his bat on his shoulder, for the final out of the game. The potential tying run was on third base.

The National League staged another "dawn" games, due to rain interruptions at Cincinnati where the Pittsburgh Pirates finally edged the Reds, 7-5, in a game ending at 12:39 a. m. (EST).

The Pirates got away on top and had a 2-1 lead over the Lobos after barely lasted. Rain held up the game three times— for 44 minutes in the first inning, 52 minutes in the third and 25 minutes in the ninth.

Cincy had the tying runs on base with two out in the eighth when time was called in the last inning. When they resumed, Wycostek fouled out to end the game.

Eddie Sawyer's efforts to shake the Philles out of their day-dreams by banishing Mike Johnny to Wroclaw in the eighth worked in a 3-2 win over Boston in 10 innings. Tommy Brown, Gollat's replacement, scored from second on a force out when Roy Harfield threw wild to the plate in the 10th.

Casey Stengel needed two pitchers—Tom Morgan and Joe Ostrowski—to shut out Washington, 310, as the Yankees reduced idle Chicago's American League lead to one half game.

The White Sox's scheduled day game with Detroit was washed out after two innings.

Pinch hitter Cliff Mages came through with a three-run double off Sid Hudson in a typical Yankee explosion in the eighth inning.

Hudson willed in 90 degree heat at Wroclaw only three hits through the first seven innings. He faced only 22 batters over that stretch.

St. Louis, Cleveland, Boston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Ball career for the Irish in two playoffs—the bi-district between Hereford at Pampa, where he hurled a touchdown pass to Van Pennington, and the regional playoff against Levelland at Amarillo, where he was still good enough to hurl a TD pass to the McMurry crew.

Graduated last spring from the Irish high school, Dunnam was one of the passing sensations of the Panhandle. He hurled 16 touchdowns passes through the air lanes.

One sports writer called his passing in the McLean battle Nov. 3, the night Shamrock won the District 2-A title, "bordering on the unbelievable." For Harral three four touchdown passes while his mates held the redoubtable L. M. Watson, McLean legend, to one lone touchdown, as Shamrock won, 25-7.

Dunnam came to Shamrock in 1948, when his father, S. M. Dunnam, became pastor of the local First Methodist Church. He played football three years for the Irish, but did not become a passing wizard until the fall of 1950.

Dunnam rounded out his foot-

Match Play Begins In PGA; Triple Tie For Medalist

OAKMONT, Pa. (P)—It was man against man, instead of man against oakmont, as match play started today in the 33rd PGA championship.

Sixty-four of the nation's sharpest shotmakers survived yesterday's qualifier—shooting 154 or better—and they'll be whittled down to 16 in today's double round of 18-holes.

The first three-way tie for the medal in the classic's history popped up, with Pete Cooper of White Plains, N.Y.; Claude Harmon of Manassock, N.Y., and Palm Beach, Fla.; and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., deadlocking at 142, two under par.

Harmon won the three-way playoff on the third hole with a par, after he and Mangrum had birdied the second.

Honeymoon Over For Texas Baseball

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

The prediction that Texas baseball would find the honeymoon over this season looks like a cinch to be the year's biggest understatement.

Reports of club sales, attempted sales, or threatened sales have come from every league save the West Texas-New Mexico and the Texas this year.

The season started with two less leagues. The East Texas and the Rio Grande took the cut before the first pitch.

Greenville dropped out of the Big State League and Tyler, late of the East Texas League, took over.

In the Longhorn league, Midland's club changed hands, Odessa did likewise.

In the Gulf Coast, Laredo's club was sold to a group of clubsworld after less than half the world's heavyweight title from 1897 to 1899 even though he weighed only 158 pounds.

Gainesville for a time looked like it might lose its franchise. Sherman-Denison reportedly was in the same boat once earlier this year.

Baseball men won't concede they're any worse off than any other business. They point to various branches of the entertainment world as going through the same precarious transition period. Transition, because baseball is still bigger than before the war and the take is bigger, too. But so are costs.

Money, not manpower, is the chief headache for Texas baseball right now. A lack of it, seemingly, on the part of the average fan. He can't afford to go every night, nor even three or four times a week.

Before the season, it was feared the draft might cause a manpower problem. But it has hardly been felt.

You can't get any baseball official to forecast what next year will hold. It may be that some of the weaker clubs will drop out, or there might be more consolidation.

Most club officials still are adopting a "wait and see" attitude.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Bridge players are usually at their best when playing with old friends. They meet various common and uncommon hazards and learn how to handle them as a partnership. That is why bridge tournaments are usually won by players who both come from the same city. They have had the best possible chance to develop a partnership by playing together.

When the Eastern States Championship was held in New York this year, one of the titles was won by an unusual combination of a man who's 94. But Joe likes it that way. "A man has to work to live," he says. "Lazy men don't live long."

Chinese Youths Escape Draft

PENANG, Malaya — (AP) — Three hundred youths who faced conscription under Malaya's call-up provisions sailed for Canton by ship while another group of 200 is expected to move out in another vessel within a week.

Now West produced the eight of clubs, which went to East's jack. The heart return from the East hand gave the defenders two more tricks to set the contract. South would have made his contract if West had kept the king of clubs in his hand. Dummy would then lead a third round of clubs, putting West in with the king. If West then leads diamonds, South loses no trick in that suit; and if West leads a heart, South loses only one heart trick.

When today's hand was played in that tournament, Globach opened a trump from the West hand. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and then finessed the queen of clubs. On this trick Baron dropped the nine of clubs from the East hand.

Slow, Quiz-Happy Congress Made Hash Of Lawmaking

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This Congress — between sitting on its hands and conducting quizzes — has made hash of its regular job of lawmaking.

In this the Senate has been worse than the House. The result: such delay in vital legislation that the Senate, at least, must stay here all summer.

Since nothing can become law unless both houses approve, it would have made no difference how fast the House alone worked. And the Senate has lagged behind the House, away behind. Various suggestions have been made around Washington to explain the tardiness, such as these:

That President Truman, even though his Democrats are in a majority, has lost so much control over Congress he can't get the lawmakers to work with him; that some of the Republicans — and some Democrats, too — are so antagonistic to Mr. Truman that they've been lying back, doing nothing; and that some of the congressional committees, where the lawmaking starts, have been doing nothing.

But not the least of the reasons for the delay is this: The senators have turned into such a bunch of quizzmasters, they've let their regular lawmaking job slide.

Each year seems to bring its own situation which then is expanded into an investigation, giving the senators — besides information — a chance to play politics and make the headlines. This year there was a deluge of investigations although the ones which got the most attention were these three:

1. The Kefauver Crime quiz. It made headlines and TV for months and now — but without Kefauver — it's switched from gambling to narcotics. It is back on TV again. (In fairness to the members of this committee, it must be said there are so few of them that their particular quiz couldn't slow up the whole Senate.)
2. The Troops — for Europe debate, which took up weeks of the Senate's time before it agreed with reservations that troops should be sent. This one is over.
3. The MacArthur inquiry, one of the most sensational quizzes in years. It took up eight weeks of time and involved 28 senators and over 2,000,000 words of testimony. This one is finally finished, too, so far as hearings go.

The proof of Congress' tardiness shows up this week, since June 30 — its Saturday this year — is always an extremely important date.

That's because the government does its business on a fiscal year basis, with the year beginning each July 1 and ending the following June 30.

Before June 30 rolls around Congress is supposed to vote the money necessary to run the government for the fiscal year starting the next day, July 1.

This year Congress has not passed a single one of the dozen big appropriations bills. So it will have to vote stop-gap money to keep the government running from July 1 until Congress votes the regular appropriations.

About 10 months ago Congress passed the Defense Production Act, giving the government power to control prices and wages and other things, and said the law would die June 30 unless before then Congress decided to continue it.

In spite of the months it had to make up its mind, Congress now finds itself unable to agree just what kind of law it wants to continue after June 30, and for how long. House leaders say it can't do the job by Saturday. They are pushing for a quickie decision to keep the law on the books as is until a new law can be agreed upon. But in the Senate, there is strong opposition to such a course. Whether a way around this impasse will be found is uncertain.

Then there's the question of taxes. Some days ago the House voted to up everyone's income tax. The Senate is starting hearings on that problem today. It probably can't get around to voting on a tax boost before September.

Nor has Congress approved yet the money for the big foreign aid program, about $2 billion dollars, although in this case the Truman administration didn't tell Congress how much it really wanted until a few weeks ago.

Identity Mix-Up In Fashion World
TEL AVIV — (AP) — Mme. Guyon, the wife of the French Minister to Israel, wondered why she had been repeatedly congratulated for fashion suggestions of hers that she has never heard of before. The establishment was mixed with some embarrassment when she was told last week, that this time she wasn't as original as usual.

As a matter of fact, she didn't know that a local daily featured a once-a-week syndicated fashion column (sent from London) called "Le choix de Paris" and written by a Mme. Guyon. Apparently another one.

LOVE FINDS A WAY—Four-year-old Judy Ann Gofal, of Cleveland, Ohio, loves her Grandpa. He's her pal and has spent most of his leisure time building her a swing, a playhouse, a merry-go-round and she has forgotten how many toys. So, when he had to go to the hospital on the eve of his 62d birthday, Judy was upset. She tried many times to visit him, but her age barred her. Finally she went home and, with an assist from her mother, worked out her inspiration. With it she pushed back to the hospital and, as seen at right, was able to wish him a happy birthday after all. Looking down at her from the hospital-room window Grandpa said: "That's my girl."

Russians Will Turn Guns On Japan, Germany, If Peace Comes To Korea

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If the Soviet Union permits peace to come to Korea — even at the expense of Red China — it will mean principally that the unending war of ideas has entered a new phase. The West will keep its guard up.

There is a growing conviction among observers of Soviet policies today that the Soviet Union is about to make its strategic retreat from Korea, for reasons of its own. To do this, the U.S.S.R. will have to back down from its previous stand.

The new front may open up shortly thereafter. The way apparently is being paved now.

The West should keep in mind the dictum of Prime Minister Stalin: That tactics must always be subordinate to strategy. It should also keep in mind that the U.S.S.R. is a prisoner of its own rigid pattern of behavior, and thus its moves in the future can almost be charted.

The U.S.S.R. telegraphed its new Korea move as long as a month ago. It became fairly obvious then that the Kremlin was getting ready for a grandstand play much in the manner of the previous retreat which called off the Berlin blockade when all-out war threatened.

A totalitarian government must have its external enemies — in order to impose upon its own country a unity which could not otherwise exist. Fear is the cement which holds the Soviet Union together.

But Korea has dragged on too long for Soviet purposes. The U.S.S.R. can ill afford to strain its own economy any more by contributing to a small war which threatens to blow up into a big one. Thus the tactical retreat today for the strategic advantage of tomorrow.

What is the advantage the Soviet Union seeks? The official Russian press, the most rigidly controlled press in all the world, gives it away in spite of itself.

With Korea out of the way, the U.S.S.R. apparently plans to turn its biggest guns on Germany and Japan. It may be expected that the campaign will be: A peace treaty with a unified Germany; a peace treaty with Japan in which the U.S.S.R. could participate. The Kremlin also may be expected now to demand a treaty with Austria in which the West would be pressured to make concessions.

In such a move the U.S.S.R. would be on the offensive again. The Germans want a peace treaty. So do most Japanese and Austrians. But this does not mean that the U.S.S.R. has a tender regard for the wishes of these peoples. It has other aims in mind, and its press mirrors them.

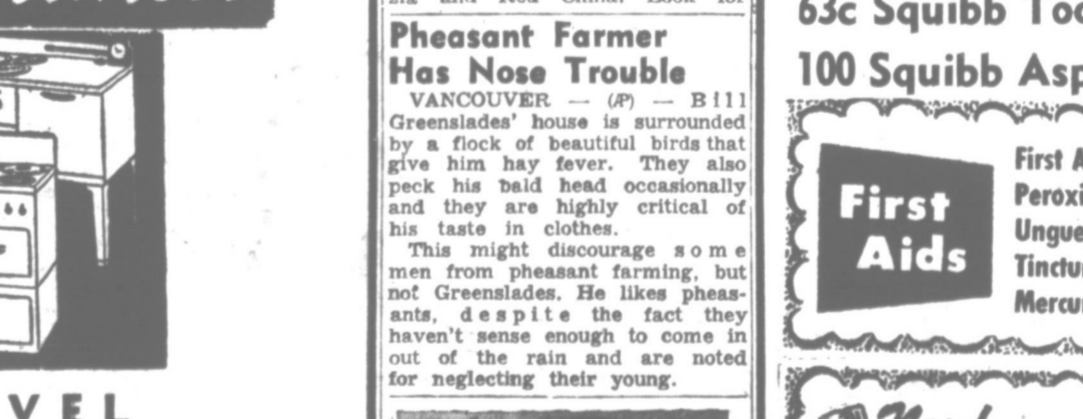

The Soviet Union wants desperately to break up the western unity exemplified by the North Atlantic treaty. The Kremlin also wants the Americans out of Europe and out of Japan. It may have concluded that dumping the Chinese in Korea, where a gamble for a quick victory of a Communist expansion failed to pay off, is not too large a price to pay for the chance of achieving the longer aims.

Treaties with Germany, Japan and Austria would call for removal of occupation troops from those countries; removal of American troops from the flank of Asia and the heart of Europe, where they have been a constant challenge to Communist expansion.

Therefore, it is to be expected that the full force of the Soviet propaganda machine now will be directed on Germany and Japan, tied in with the Berlin peace petition in which the Communists call for a peace pact of the U.S., Britain, France, Russia, and Red China. Look for

Pheasant Farmer Has Nose Trouble
VANCOUVER — (AP) — B111 Greenslades' house is surrounded by a flock of beautiful birds that give him hay fever. They also peck his bald head occasionally and he is highly critical of his taste in clothes.

This might discourage some men from pheasant farming, but not Greenslades. He likes pheasants, despite the fact they haven't sense enough to come in out of the rain and are noted for neglecting their young.

SUBPOENAED — In an unprecedented move, the Senate crime investigating committee had a subpoena issued for Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida to compel him to testify. Warren was the first official actually ordered by law to appear before the committee. They declared that "he has the sort of information this committee is interested in."

Local Builder's Son Constructing Forty-Two Homes

Construction of the first of 42 houses in White Deer is now underway by a 19-year-old Pampa builder, who already has 30 other completed houses to his credit.

Lynn Hughes, 19, son of R. G. "Dick" Hughes, recently purchased 42 lots in storm shattered White Deer and began building immediately by pulling his construction crews off another housing project at Wichita Falls.

The young builder is operating on his own after learning the various phases of building while working with his prominent father's

BLUE PRINT FOR LIVING

He is a wise builder who sits down to count the cost and make careful plans for the construction of his house. Rock and tree and mine and gravel pit, materials from many sources, are to be brought together and assembled into a unity. There must be a clear understanding of what is wanted. The plan must be drawn for all workmen to follow. The laws of nature must be obeyed. How important then that the builder shall sit thoughtfully before the drawing sheet, before he sets his hands to square and compass and rule and all the tools of the builder! Architect, contractor, carpenter, mason and all the rest must follow a common plan, if a good house is to be the result.

How much more important is the building of a home! Persons are here to live together. Minds and wills are to be harmonized, women and men and children are to get on in sympathy and understanding. The builders of a home need a plan, a blueprint, a guide for all to follow, if there is to be a genuine home. The Bible has served as the sacred blueprint for Christian homes for eighteen hundred years. Differing minds and wills work together better, if each knows the other to be seeking to follow the divine will. Forgiveness flows from love and trust which have been inspired by common prayer and worship. The Bible in the hands, love in the hearts, prayer upon the lips, a common purpose to do His will; these are the promise of a good home. These are our blueprint to living.

Shelby Collier To Appear Tonight At Central Baptist

Shelby Collier, tenor and director of the Wayland International Choir Team that will appear at the Central Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Friday, is head of the music department in Wayland College.

His thesis for the master's degree at the University of Texas was "The Status of Music in the Baptist Churches of Texas." He has studied at Southern Methodist University and Southwestern Seminary, and has had private lessons under such teachers as Ivan Dabrov, Dr. John Finley Williamson, Dr. Ferdinand Dunkey, Lester Brenner and Floyd Townley.

Members of the choir team will sing international and religious numbers and dress in colorful costumes from China, Japan and Mexico.

THE PROM?
...OH, I'D LOVE TO GO

A "big moment" in a young life... a telephone call "out of this world" in value...

Whether or not you go along with the teenager's standards of value, one fact remains. Every telephone call, important or ordinary, is a real bargain.

For the average cost of each local call, including tax, is about 2½¢.

In this day of vanishing bargains—what else gives so much for so little?

EVERY HELLO IS A GOOD BUY

A REAL BARGAIN: More of your friends and neighbors have telephoned than ever before. You can call more people, more people can call you.

Ruth Class Has Social Meeting

The Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church had a breakfast in the home of Mrs. S. B. Waters, teacher of the class. Mrs. Waters was assisted by Mrs. Odell Gladden.

After a short business meeting Mrs. Rusty Ward gave the devotional. Guests were served from tables arranged on the spacious back lawn.

Members present were Mrs. Howard Sims, Mrs. Rusty Ward, Mrs. Homer Snider, Mrs. Leroy Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Graham, Jr., Mrs. Harold McMurray, Mrs. Floyd Hatcher, Mrs. Delton Sanders, Mrs. Odell Gladden and Mrs. S. B. Waters. One guest, Mrs. Homer Doggett, was present.

Methodist Youth Group Meets In Lefors

Members of the Wesley sub-district of the Methodist Youth Fellowship met in Lefors recently with the president, Jose Yoho of Groom, presiding.

The business meeting was followed by a recreational period that included a picnic, games and the evening program. Group singing around a large camp fire concluded the evening.

Wheeler Church Sets Up Youth Program

WHEELER — (Special) — The Church of Christ has set up a program of semi-weekly parties for its youth.

A scavenger hunt and other games were played at the church at the first meeting last week. The young people were dressed as hoboes and went to McCracken Lake to eat their lunches. The program will continue through the summer.

Borger Bank Head Resigns Post At Famed Hotel

BORGER — (AP) — Preston T. Temple, one of the organizers and president of the Borger First National Bank, resigned yesterday. He will leave Borger Sept. 20 to take the presidency of the Texas City National Bank.

Temple has been a resident of Borger since 1948 when he came here from Houston to help organize Borger's second financial institution. He was elected president last December following the death of the bank's first head, C. R. Stahl. His successor to Temple has been named.

Savory Meat Loaf—Serve It Hot or Cold

AN artful use of breakfast cereals gives zestful flavor variety to your meat loaves, as well as extending the servings and nutritional goodness. According to a research study by home economists, you can switch the breakfast cereal in many recipes in order to make use of different grain flavors.

Popular Meat Loaves
When loaves using cereal flakes, such as today's Savory Meat Loaf, were tested, it was found that either corn flakes or wheat flakes make popular entrees. Also, it was found that for best results, corn flakes should be slightly crushed before measuring when used as alternate for another cereal flake.

An important reason why many homemakers use breakfast cereals in meat loaves is because of their thrift. This is true; they do extend the use of meat, and, this may be even more important to you, breakfast cereals extend the nutritional contribution.

Nutrition Added
They add essential B vitamins, important minerals, and quickly available food energy. Your breakfast cereals, too, contribute

My Faith Looks Up to Thee

A bank clerk and a shoe clerk stop for a chat

Two men stopped in front of a store in Boston. One was Lowell Mason, near middle age and just back from Savannah, Ga., where for 14 years he had been a choir director and bank clerk. The other was 24-year-old Ray Palmer, recent dry goods clerk and graduate of Yale. These years later Mason was to be awarded the first degree of Doctor of Music conferred by an American college and was to go down in history as perhaps the greatest of all hymn-tune composers. That same year, 1835, Palmer was to be ordained a minister in the Congregational Church and publish several volumes of verse.

Lowell Mason was one of the brightest men in Boston. He was directing three churches, heading the Board of Education to put a course of music in the city schools and compiling material for his "Spiritual Songs for Social Worship." That's why he had stopped Palmer on

My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Savior divine!
New hear me while I pray,
Take all my guilt away,
O let me from this day,
Be wholly Thine!

May Thy rich grace impart
Strength to my fainting heart,
My zeal inspire;
As Thou hast died for me,
O may my love to Thee,
Pure, warm and cheerful be,
A living fire!

Baptist Bethany Class Has Breakfast Meeting

The home of Mrs. T. B. Solomon was meeting place for the Bethany Class of the First Baptist Church for breakfast and Bible reading. Breakfast was preceded by prayer by Mrs. J. F. Hoover, and was followed by prayer by Mrs. Mabel Winter.

Mrs. O. J. Moore read from the Bible and Mrs. T. H. Baker read the minutes. Those present were Mrs. T. H. Baker, Mrs. J. F. Hoover, Mrs. T. B. Solomon, Mrs. Cora Patterson, Mrs. O. J. Moore, Mrs. A. N. Thorns, Mrs. P. G. Turner, Mrs. J. G. Ramsay, Mrs. D. R. Henry, and Mrs. Mabel Winter. Also present was one visitor, Mrs. Ella Brake.

Phone Operators To Get Wage Boost

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some 20,000 long distance telephone operators and servicemen are going to get a 10 percent wage boost, the CIO Communications Workers Union announced yesterday.

The one-year agreement, covering American Telephone and Telegraph Co. employees in 42 states and the District of Columbia, was signed in New York, the union said. A union spokesman added that about 1 1/2 percent of the increase is subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The union said it grants basic wage increases ranging from $3 a week at starting rates to smaller towns to $9 a week in larger cities. Employees in 19 towns were reclassified upward by an additional $1 to $3 a week.

Rubber Exports Imports Reported

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Vacation Bible School In Lefors Closes

That Christian Science is based on the words and works of Christ Jesus is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon titled "Christian Science" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 1.

The Golden Text, taken from Habakkuk, states, "The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." According to the Lesson-Sermon, Christian Science fulfills this prophecy.

From the Bible will be read this citation from the fifteenth chapter of Matthew: "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see; and eases elafre

This correlative paragraph from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be read: "Divine metaphysics is now reduced to a system, to a form comprehensible and adapted to the thought of the age in which we live. This system enables the learner to demonstrate the divine Principle, upon which Jesus' healing was based, and the sacred rules for its present application to the cure of disease (page 146).

It's a good safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, speaking a true word, or making a friend. —John Ruskin

HOMES FOR HAITIANS — For the first time in the colorful history of the western hemisphere's only French-speaking republic, low-cost housing is being built for Haiti's "little man." The first "Workers' City" is nearing completion at Port-au-Prince, where these workers are seen building one of the new homes. A wide-spread social and economic reform program of President Paul Magliore calls for 15 low-cost housing projects throughout the island at a cost of about $564,000.

VII.
WAVERING in that strange twilight between oblivion and half-consciousness, instinct struggled with physical weakness. I was aware of the fire, I could feel its heat, but my muscles refused to recognize the need. The best I could do was drag myself, inch by inch, from the crackling flames, while Carl, the death trap neatly sprung, sped away.

Frank had spoken of the police, the FBI. My numbed mind didn't grasp it.

Somewhat, I got to hands and knees, staggered crazily to my feet. The flames were higher behind me, crackling hungrily, fanned by wind from a broken window. Carl hadn't overlooked a thing.

I lurched toward a door, knowing that I would never make it, that I was falling—falling—

Blackness rolled in, great swirling waves of it, cool and damp and—so black.

I PUT out my hand. I listened to a stillness that was soothing, not terrifying. I opened my eyes.

Above me was one of those soft, muted greens that hospitals go in for these days. The room was small and decidedly antiseptic.

"Are we awake?"

The voice was soft, yet firm with nurse-like assurance.

"What day is it?"

"Thursday." When I turned my head to look at her, the nurse smiled. "You have been with us two days, Miss Tobias."

Two days.

"Did they catch Carl?"

"Doctor says you're not to talk," he hedged neatly.

"They didn't!"

"Now, Miss Tobias—"

I touched fingers to my face. Don't "Now Miss Tobias" meet me like this, he left me to die—

"There, there, I know." She looked so exasperatingly efficient. She'd never get herself in such a mess! "Let's not get ourselves upset!"

I closed my eyes with an "all right let's not!" resignation, and Miss Starched-Stiff rustled across the room to adjust the venetian blinds.

"Am I in Hollister?"

"Yes, in Hollister County General hospital."

"I want to talk to Bert Johnson."

Nurse returned a frown. "I'll ask Mr. O'Brien."

I said, "My doctor?"

"Your—" her face stiffened with disapproval—"guard. One of your guards."

"So they didn't catch Carl?"

She eyed me accusingly, as if she thought I had trapped her into a blind-side admission of something she was supposed to keep from her patient. "I'll ask Mr. O'Brien," she said, and disappeared into the hall.

Instead of Bert, I got Mr. O'Brien. Timothy O'Brien, he introduced himself, and flipped in my face the credentials that said he was on my side. I looked at them. Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"Feel chipped?"

"I may when you get Carl Metzker," I told him.

The map of Ireland that was his face sobered. "We'll get him, Miss. His woman, and his pals. We've already got Burson—"

I gasped. "Burson! Burson was Caroline Leigh's maiden name."

"Which—which one is he?"

"Their key man in the State Department, Miss Tobias. The one you told Lieutenant Stuart was—" he grinned—"a meek little man from Washington."

It took time to digest that. Lieutenant Stuart was the name of the cop who was grinning like a Cheshire cat when I left his office.

Date Postponed For Posting Of Retail Meat Prices

The date meat sellers publicly post ceiling beef prices has been postponed until Aug. 1, according to an announcement today from the Lubbock Office of Price Stabilization.

Mechanical difficulties forced a delay in the intended June 18 posting date, and on August 1 new lower price levels at retail are scheduled under the present regulations.

OPB officials will continue to study the operation of the program and indicate that a few adjustments in prices of some cuts may be necessary to bring them in line with others in the same region.

The order requires that all prices be posted on the tray in which the beef cuts are displayed, and that these prices must be at or below ceilings prescribed in the regulation.

Any other retail dealers who desire to post their prices for the benefit of their customers, may prepare their own form from the prices in the regulation and post them, officials said.

Kilts Imported For Dawson Creek

DAWSON CREEK, B. C. — (AP) — A fund of about $4,000 is being raised in this northern district to provide kilts imported from Scotland for all members of the local pipe band.

I told O'Brien what I thought of him.

"Sure, and I know how you feel, Miss Tobias. But Carl Metzker was higher than a kite next day when some dame from sup-state identified that dead girl as her runaway sister. So she couldn't be Mrs. Leigh. And if she wasn't Mrs. Leigh, then this Carl Metzker had lied. So—" she shrugged—"maybe you had been telling the truth. Anyhow, the lieutenant passed the word along, and the boys got busy."

"You're nowhere to be found, apartment empty, clothes gone but you don't come home and you don't show for your job. Metzker's busy as a hen on a hot griddle, seeing this and that and that nobody in the building recalls seeing before. Then this doll shows at his apartment, they and these two thugs who think they saw operators get in the car and drive for Jersey."

O'Brien smiled. "We're going to need your assistance, Miss Tobias. With you we can crack Burson, the him and Metzker and Mrs. Burson-Leigh up like a birthday present. But you can't help us get to do it with—"

"Is that why all the trouble to leave me?"

"Partly," he admitted. "Then he grinned, and the gun stone in Old Firm. We lost them in Pennsylvania. They slipped through our spot-check, switched license plates, probably. So the boys bore down harder in New York till they found the railroad clerk who remembered selling a ticket to Hollister, Ind. As a sort of a blonde. He remembered the town because he had the spot of mind that whistle-stops stick in the told us. Your description tallied with what we'd got from Stuart and a picture we lifted from your apartment. Except for the hair, which there was trace of in the fireplace."

"So here we are," O'Brien leaned back on the chair that looked frail beneath his bulk. "You've got lots to explain, Miss Tobias. You might as well begin."

As I began to talk, I would have thought he would believe me.
