Death Toll Is Feared High As Boat Capsizes

NONTAUK, N. Y. —(AP)—A fishing party boat with 54 persons on board capsized in rough weather Saturday. Six hours later the Coast Guard said there were only 18 known survivors — indicating a possible death toll of 36.

The 45-foot boat, the Pelican, turned over less than a mile off shore after giant waves struck her broadside at 12:15 p. m. (CST). Witnesses said she "just rolled over."

Holiday weekenders crowded aboard the light craft were tossed into the water.

It was feared that many others were trapped below decks as they sought shelter from the storm.

Early Saturday the Coast Guard said only eight bodies were known to have been recovered.

The Pelican set out for the fishing grounds, in the face of small craft warnings, from Fish-kill-La, a fishing club on the island.

John Valonne of New York City, one of the survivors, said the Pelican was crippled by engine trouble when a giant swell struck her abeam, turning her upside down in the stormy Atlantic.

One Dies In Train Wreck

NEWTON, Kas. — (AP) — The Oklahoma Rocket, a southbound Rock Island passenger train, was derailed Saturday after hitting a truck near Ebbing, Kas., killing one person and injuring at least 21 others.

Dead was an unidentified woman who was a passenger in the dining car. She died in an ambulance on the way to a Newton hospital.

The accident occurred shortly after noon at a grade crossing a quarter of a mile south of Ebbing 12 miles east of here.

The truck was a semi-trailer affair, loaded with a bulldozer.

The train's dining car, dining car and one chair car were turned on their sides.

Large holes were ripped in one side of the diner. This is where most of the seriously injured were found.

The last two chair cars on the Kansas City to Houston train left the rails, but remained upright.

"We were going south," said Paul McDonald, the fireman from Herington, Kas. "The truck was headed west. It looked like he was trying to beat the engine across the track. He just kept coming and we kept laying on the horn. His cab was almost across the tracks before we hit him."

Pampan's Nephew Reported As One Killed In Crash

James Green Mallard, about 30, nephew of Mrs. W. L. McLeer, 919 E. Campbell, was reported yesterday as being one of 13 Navy aviators killed in the crash of a Navy Privateer bomber in the Aleutian Islands.

Mrs. McLeer told the Pampa Daily News she had received a phone call from Mrs. Leona Mallard, his mother, saying that her son was killed in the crash.

Mr. Mallard was born and attended school in Wellington and joined the Navy in 1939 after his mother moved to San Francisco, her present home. He was an instructor in the Navy.

Surviving besides his mother and aunt are his wife and two small children, residents in the state of Washington.

This was the ninth of a series of disastrous Alaskan air crashes. But for once, a survivor was found at the scene of one of the accidents. The Alaska Air command reported that a Navy aviator was found on Little Tanaga island where nine men died Friday in the flaming wreckage of a Navy Privateer bomber.

His name was not disclosed pending notification of next of kin, and there was no indication of his condition.

The Tanaga crash and the disappearance of an Air Force C-47 transport plane carrying at least four persons, raised the toll of dead and missing to 48, all in plane accidents.

The Navy Privateer crashed into a mountain at about the 700-foot level on Little Tanaga island far out in the Aleutian chain Friday.

It was on a routine flight from Adak and in its last report two hours after takeoff told of a foot ceiling, some clouds and fog but a visibility of two miles.

Explosions Rock Borger Plant; Eleven Are Injured

BILLOWING SMOKE CLOUDS float menacingly upward as flames from explosions ate out the sides of the Phillips Chemical Co.'s butadiene plant, three miles west of Borger, yesterday. Injured fighting the fire, six of them hospitalized. (Borger News-Herald Photo)

Cause And Damage Not Uncovered

BORGER — Violent explosions and roaring flames that yesterday knocked out one of the government's few synthetic rubber plants sent six workmen to hospital beds and five others to emergency rooms.

Cause of the blasts and amount of damage were undetermined last night.

With an earthquake proportion blast at 5:15 a. m. Saturday in the purification section of the Phillips Chemical Co.'s Butadiene plant three miles west of Borger, the surrounding area began to be rocked as devastating flames ate around the sprawling synthetic rubber plant.

None of the 15 or 16 workmen in the purification section were injured at the time of the blasts — apparently warned, they were able to get out ahead of the eruptions.

Firemen and workmen brought the fires under control by 9:30 a. m., but other fires, left burning under "control conditions" to prevent further damage, were still burning this morning.

Thick, black smoke rolled over Borger as it shuddered under the series of blasts. All roads leading to the plant were closed and operations shut down as firemen from several cities, including Pampa, and workmen went to work pushing back the flames.

Escaping vapor from damaged lines were ignited by workmen, and one tank was left blazing to eat up other vapors. All were burning under control conditions for safety purposes.

The injured were all Borger employees of Phillips Chemical, which is a subsidiary of Phillips Petroleum Company. Hospitalized are Kay H. Elzey, P. L. Jones, L. V. Donner, D. D. Brown, A. C. Loyd and Harry Lasater. All were burned and cut but none was critically hurt.

Released after receiving emergency room treatment were: W. E. Madler, O. D. Henderson, A. B. Leonard, M. E. Grimes, and Floyd Newton.

Truman Signs Bill Easing Controls On Low-Price Homes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman Saturday signed a bill releasing credit regulations on lower priced homes, and the federal reserve system accordingly put into effect a revision of "Regulation X."

The revision of this control, which has been in effect since last October, will bring about these percentage changes in down payment requirements:

Where the value or price per family unit was $7000, the required down payment for veterans now is four percent and for non-veterans, 10 percent. Where the price is $10,000, the down payment for veterans is 7.1 percent and 10 percent for non-veterans. For $12,000, payments are eight and 20 percent.

Previous requirements for veterans and non-veterans was 7.1 percent and 10 percent on $7000, and 10 percent on $10,000. For $12,000, they were 15.8 and 25.3 percent.

Also, the new law allows 25 years to pay off the balance of any loan on housing up to $12,000. Under the previous regulation, the maximum maturity was 20 years for housing priced at more than $7000 except for hardship cases under G.I. loans. The new minimum down payment requirements will apply to new houses, a Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA) official explained, and to those old houses bought under a G.I. loan or an FHA insured loan. He pointed out that old houses under "conventional" financing are not under credit controls. Conventional financing is that done without the aid of government loans or guarantees.

In still another move to provide homes in critical defense areas, the President extended for one year the time within which the government must get rid of, or demolish, temporary housing.

Execution Re-Set For Bill McCune

AUSTIN — (AP) — Execution of Billie George McCune for rape has been re-set for Sept. 28.

He was scheduled for execution Sept. 23, but Gov. Allan Shivers granted a three-day reprieve on recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles.

The reprieve was granted in line with the policy of avoiding executions on Sunday.

Confusion from "too much familiarity" with him. How he got to California remains a mystery. The foster family said they found the baby wrapped in a blanket on the streets of Tulsa.

Mrs. Linton told newsmen in Houston that her father-in-law operated what she recalled as the "Great Street Grocery." She said the boy's father was in the hospital at the time of the boy's disappearance.

She said that while her husband, F. M. Armstrong, 42, who was a passenger in the car struck by a Continental Trailway bus near Hedley Saturday, was en route to Pampa to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, 1304 Mary Ellen. He was one of 16 injured.

Armstrong and his wife had stopped in Clarendon before coming on to Pampa, so he and F. L. Hill, 54, driver of the car, could make a business appointment in Hedley.

Sheriff Guy Wright of Donley County said the bus followed Hill's car into the passing lane of Hwy. 287, slipped off the pavement and hit an embankment. It flipped over on the car and landed on its wheels. The driver, seriously hurt, was Hill. One of the car's bus was following. He broke a jaw and several ribs. Armstrong received facial cuts.

Six of 12 bus passengers were considered seriously injured. All were taken to hospitals at Memphis. The accident occurred about three miles west of Hedley. The highway had been wet by showers. The bus driver, Marion Wright, — the visit to Pampa postponed.

BREATHE DEEPLY, PLEASE! Mrs. Skeel Roberts, north of Pampa, gets her first X-ray in the American Legion hall from Russell Luke, attendant with mobile unit. She is one of about 300 persons who received X-rays Saturday. The survey will continue at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday through Sept. 12. The mobile unit is sent out by the National Tuberculosis Assn. annually and has revealed cases of tuberculosis, heart disease and other chest ailments. The survey was made last week in McLean and Lefors. (NEWS PHOTO)

Approximately 300 Pampans X-Rayed During Opening Day

Chest X-rays were given to about 300 Pampans Saturday as the survey opened for a two-week stay in Pampa from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. except Labor day and Sunday's until Sept. 12.

The mobile unit is located in the American Legion hall. Dr. Raymond Laycock is general chairman of arrangements for the survey and he pointed out that although persons had the X-rays last year when the unit was here, they should be X-rayed again.

It was emphasized by the committee that other diseases besides tuberculosis have been discovered by chest X-ray survey; such as heart diseases, goiter and other chest infections.

Members of the Federated Women's clubs are assisting with registration and hostess duties during the survey. The clubs are American Legion auxiliary, Beta Sigma Phi, Civic Culture, 29th Rho, VFW Auxiliary, Beta Gamma Kappa, Beta Sigma Phi, Civic Culture, 20th Century Forum, El Progresso, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Kappa Kappa Iota, National Secretaries Assn., Parent Education, 20th Century, 20th Century Allegro, 20th Century Culture, Jayceettes and American Association of University Women.

Two Jet Bombers Crash In Kansas

WICHITA, Kas. — (AP) — Two B-47 Stratofort bombers — identified as planes of Boeing Aircraft Co. on a formation test flight — crashed and burned several miles northeast of Wichita Saturday.

Four experienced test pilots were feared dead in the crash. Eyewitnesses said one plane, flying below the other at about 2000 feet, apparently pulled up into the tail of the other. Then both crashed to the ground, exploding in flames.

Henry Dittmer, pilot-instructor at the Rawdon airport — private airport of the city — said he did not see "how any of the crew members could have survived."

Boeing officials said the two planes, the only B-47s in the air on test flights at the time, were piloted by Doug Heimburger and Steve Gatty, in one B-47; and by pilots named Clithorp and Oppenheimer in the other.

Asks Temporary End To Tax Increases

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Keel (R-N.Y.), top Republican among House tax-writers, called Saturday for Congress to reject further tax increases pending a study "to determine just how much we can stand."

Keel said he would introduce a resolution urging a joint survey by the Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means committee. He is a member of the latter group.

New Incidents Draw Charges On Both Sides

TOKYO — (AP) — The Communist high command Saturday challenged the United Nations to call off the Kaesong truce talks once and for all or stop "carrying out provocations" around the city.

The top North Korean and Chinese commanders in Korea also told Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in a radio message that the truce talks could be resumed only if Ridgway guaranteed there will be "no recurrence of similar acts which violate the Kaesong neutralization agreement."

The Communist message, which officially charged that a UN plane bombed Kaesong early Friday, said:

"We hereby solemnly point out to you: if you are determined to break up the negotiations, you should openly and formally declare your determination to do so, instead of ceaselessly carrying out such acrimonious provocations."

The message, broadcast by Peiping radio, added that the intention of resuming the Kaesong talks in order to seek a just and reasonable armistice agreement, you should agree to the following demands of our side:

"Namely that your side must conscientiously and responsibly deal with the series of grave provocative incidents from Aug. 22 to Sept. 1, and must thoroughly guarantee that there will be no recurrence of similar acts which violate the Kaesong neutralization agreement."

The message was another in the flurry of charges, counter-charges, denials and demands that both sides have exchanged since the truce talks Aug. 23.

Both the allies and Reds took turns today in the big debate. Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy denied plane dropped flares Wednesday over Kaesong and that allied troops twice had fought into the truce camp near Kaesong Thursday.

The Communists bounced back with a charge that an allied plane bombed the Kaesong neutral zone early Saturday. Pyongyang radio broadcast a statement by one Red high command that it had shot down a UN plane.

Another mysterious incident was the dropping of a dozen flares last night over the allied truce camp near Kaesong by an unidentified airplane. The allies were investigating.

The Communist broadcast quoted a message to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway from North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai.

It said an allied plane at 3 a. m. Saturday dropped two bombs "on places only 500 to 600 meters (550 to 660 yards) from Nam's home."

Allies Look For New Assault:

Savage Fights Rage Across Korea Front

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, eastern Korea — (AP) — Savage fighting raged Saturday on Korea's "Bloody Ridge" amid indications the Reds might soon launch a major attack.

An allied frontline officer reported the heavily reinforced Communist forces could throw "a whale of a blow" at the United Nations line. But he added they wouldn't make much of a dent.

Allied foreknowledge of Communist offensives in the past has developed from Red prisoners, plus unusual supply activity. Headquarters identified four new Communist divisions on the east-central front.

Saturday's fighting was reported as the heaviest since the Kaesong truce talks began July 10. An allied drive for the crest of "Bloody Ridge" north of Yanggu and some 25 miles inland from the east coast, bogged down in the face of die-hard resistance.

UN planes and artillery pounded Red positions to the north to prevent any bolstering of the Communist forces.

To the west of that action the Reds retook a towering hill they lost Friday, but allied troops charged back and recaptured it. More than 400 dead Reds were counted on the blood-flecked slopes.

It was mostly a battle of bayonets and hand grenades. At the eastern end of the sector, allied warships bombarded Red positions near the coast.

Local Firemen Answer Calls On Two Blazes
Pampa firemen answered three calls during the beginning of the week end, two of them small blazes.

A trash fire brought one engine to Recreation park at 10 p. m. Friday but national guardsmen there had the flames quelled before firemen arrived.

At 8:45 a. m. yesterday one truck left for the explosion and fire torn Phillips Co. butadiene plant and remained on stand-by duty for three hours. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said "words can't describe the damage over there."

Late yesterday afternoon a small grass fire on the Merten lease was snuffed out before it could do any serious damage.

He said he last saw Carroll clinging to the sinking craft.

A lot of other persons were holding onto the boat, Snyder said. At dusk the Coast Guard located the Pelican with only her stern above water. They got a line aboard, hoping to be able to tow her to shore.

"One-inch pipe leaked as if it was floating high in the air," said Eugene Lyons, ambulance driver who witnessed one of the most violent explosions. "The pipe looked like toothpicks. It got so hot it had to roll up the windows of the ambulance."

The plant has been on a 24-hour work schedule and several hundred employees were on duty.

There was only a light breeze during the fire's height or it might have been blown across a road and ignited facilities where the synthetic process is completed.

Dice Tables Shut Down In Louisiana

LAKE CHARLES, La. — (AP) — Dice tables were quiet in Lake Charles last night and the sheriff of Calcasieu parish (county) said gambling would remain shut down.

That would indicate that citizens and newsmen crusading against gambling have won their point. But eight of their number face indictment on charges of defaming three confessed gamblers and 16 public officials.

How did a situation like that arise?

There are two answers — one from those indicted and another from those allegedly defamed.

The indicted men are five members of the managerial and news staff of the Lake Charles American Press and three members of the Peoples Action group (PAG). The PAG is an organization devoted to a campaign against gambling.

Its officials say the indictments are an attempt to muzzle the free press and nullify PAG efforts to end gambling.

The public officials allegedly defamed contained the anti-gambling campaign originated as a means of gaining circulation for the American press and a Pulitzer prize for its managing editor, Kenneth L. Dixon, one of the men indicted.

They also claim the newspapermen overstepped their legal limits in some of the things they printed.

Navy aviation mechanics who checked the plane told him he should have been more concerned. They found that groundfire had cracked a 600-pound bomb he was carrying.

band was in the hospital she left the children one day to get ice cream cones for the children. Peter and a daughter, Joy, then 4.

"When I got back, Joy told me that a man had come and taken Charles last night and the sheriff of Calcasieu parish (county) said gambling would remain shut down."

That, to Pampans, is confusing. Gray county birth records show that Bruce Eldrid Porter was born to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Porter of Pampa on Oct. 24, 1928. The 1931 city directory lists LeRoy Porter and wife, Anna B., as residents of 613 N. Russell. A Leroy Porter and wife, Susie, were listed as operators of the "Grass Street grocery," 518 N. Russell.

Many Pampa residents remember the L. F. Porters and were customers at their store. At no time did they tell of the disappearance of their grandchild.

One man still living in Pampa worked for him laying pipe in the oil fields. He did not remember that the couple even had children.

Another man here said the elder Leroy F. Porter was now living in Wickenburg, Ariz., and he had known the Porters well, but had "only seen" the son. The local man said Porter had never, in his association with him, mentioned the kidnapping.

A woman who was living across the street from the young Porters' address was a frequent customer at the Porter grocery store, but did not know the young Porters. She has been in Pampa since 1915, and does not remember a kidnapping at any time.

There are no police records of the boy's disappearance, but Mrs. Linton indicated she notified police when she announced that police thought at the time that the father had taken the child away.

"I knew he couldn't have," she said, "because my daughter would have known if he had taken the child."

Since no kidnapping charges were filed, there are no legal records of any kind in the case. Of the dozen county and city officials interviewed, not one

Pacific Defense Zone Extended By New Treaty Signing

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — The United States Saturday signed a mutual defense treaty with Australia and New Zealand, extending American security guarantees into the southwest Pacific.

Percy C. Spender, Australian ambassador to the United States, was the first to put his name on the historic document in a brief ceremony at the Presidio.

Sir Carl Berendsen, the New Zealand ambassador, signed next. U.S. Secretary of State Acheson was the first to sign for the United States. Also signing for the United States were Ambassador John Foster Dulles, who negotiated the defense pact; Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) and Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Before signing, Spender, Berendsen and Acheson made statements describing it as a bulwark of peace in the Pacific and a purely defensive alliance which can be brought into play only by an act of aggression against one of the three countries.

Leblanc Enters Governor's Race

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — State Senator Leblanc yesterday formally announced his candidacy for governor of Louisiana.

The 57-year-old Abbeville legislator, who sold his Haddad patent medicine company last week in a multimillion-dollar transaction, became the 10th Democrat to enter the race for the gubernatorial nomination. One Republican also seeks the office.

Leblanc's platform pledged additional taxes, steps to make a college education available to all boys and girls, more factories, a $75 monthly old age pension, civil service and elimination of useless boards and waste.

Leblanc ran for governor in 1944 and finished fourth among the eight candidates in the first primary.

Miami Pioneers Didn't Know Church Would Be Home Here

By Lorene O. Locke
In 1898, a group of intrepid pioneer souls banded together to build the first church in Miami. There were only six or seven families.

"I had lived in Miami seven months before I heard a sermon," said the late Mrs. H. E. Baird. "Then a Christian preacher named Lewis came and held services in the depot. The first regular church services held in Miami, however, were conducted by another minister of the Christian church, Rev. Mr. Dobbs, who lived at Mobeetie. He came at stated intervals and preached in the little schoolhouse, which had been built in 1895."

According to Mrs. Baird, charter members of that first church, Presbyterian, were herself, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Selber, Samuel Edge, Mrs. D. K. Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hall. Perhaps there were one or two others which she could not recall. None of these are living today, but all of them have relatives living in Miami.

Samuel Edge gave the land on which the church, and later, the house, was built. One thousand dollars was borrowed from the Presbytery. The Mobeetie Presbyterian church had been blown away by the tornado in May of that year, so they got the old bell, carpets, pews, pulpit stand and pulpit chair from there. The building was a 30 by 40 feet, one room construction with an entrance and bell tower in the center front.

"My, that church house looked like a million dollars to us when it was finished," said Mrs. Baird when describing it. "It looked so big inside! We had a hard time paying for it, but it was worth it."

Gradually, through the years, other churches came and built services which moved in seemed to be more of other faiths than Presbyterian. Some of the faithful ones moved away. Others died. Finally services were abandoned and for years the little church stood unused.

Today that church is a home — a beautiful home — one mile east of Pampa, on Hwy. 60. It is the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Lacy) Goad.

Goad came to the Plains in 1903, first living at Clau de.

THE CHURCH—Above is an old photograph of the Presbyterian church built by Miami pioneers shortly before the turn of the century.

Fifteen years later he came to Pampa and bought land south of the city which he has farmed ever since. Some years ago he moved into town and began to look around for a place to build a home. Dr. West, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, told him that the Miami church building was going to sell. He bought it, also 23 acres of land upon which to place it.

During the four months after he purchased the building, and before he moved it, Goad made three trips to Miami. "I measured every partition and had drawn complete plans for the house before I even started arrangements for the actual moving," he said. "I had also gone to Amarillo and bought the doors and windows and the glass blocks to be used."

He bought the furnishings with the church. The bell, he sold to a Baptist Church in Phoenix, Ariz. The pews and pulpit chair, he gave to the Lighthouse Pentecostal church in south Pampa. The tall, colored windows he stored as, so far, he has not found a use for them. There was a large, framed roll of Roberts county veterans of World War I hanging in the church. This, he gave to the Miami American Legion Post.

After the new home was blue-printed and enough material bought, Goad employed Bigham and Son of Lefors to move the church. "They moved it in one day," said Mrs. Goad. "It was VJ Day, Aug. 14, 1945. I had just heard the good news on the radio, and looked out of the window and saw the church coming down the section line."

"It had been well-built. The movers said it was the heaviest building they had ever moved," added her husband. "But we had no trouble with it. It was so well braced. It was much better one in the living room and one in the breakfast room. They are full fireplaces — not dummies — and will burn either wood or gas. A stone mason built the fireplaces and installed the glass blocks, which is the most unusual and attractive feature of the house.

These glass blocks decorate the sides of each window and almost completely compose the hallway entrance. There is also a glass brick bar between the kitchen and breakfast room.

Goad said he had no idea how many glass blocks were used. There are 144 in the living room alone. Then there are 23 in the bedrooms and 200 in the entrance hall. The latter ones turn the corners, and when Naylor installed them he said he used the last corner glass blocks in the Panhandle, said Goad. Materials were limited then, because of the war.

The Goads did their own interior decorating and landscaping. They live mostly in the back of the house in winter, and in their attractive back yard in the summer. Mrs. Goad said it is like living in the country with all the city advantages. She has a big garden, her own fruit — grapes, peaches, cherries — her own strawberries and chickens.

Mr. Goad's mother, Mrs. A. E. Goad, and his sister, Mrs. Jack Graham, live in Canadian. When asked if their house had caused much interest, Mrs. Goad laughed. "When we first finished it," she said "we didn't have time to eat or sleep. We had to keep open house all the time. Even people from other states stopped and asked to be shown through it. And, now, we have visitors who stop and ask questions."

Sometimes people drive out, get into their cars, take pictures and drive off. We do not pay any attention to it, anymore. But, see game in the hand. He insists on opening mediocre hands and just laughs when they bid and make a game against him. "They make four spades this time, of course. South lost two hearts and one diamond and chuckled like an idiot. My husband laughed with him, like a bigger idiot. Can you say something to show him the error of his ways?"

"If I said anything, it would be 'Three cheers for the husband!' A man who can laugh at misfortune is a philosopher; and if he also chuckles at an angry wife he's a hero.

I suspect that my correspondent is just spoofing me to see how much I'll say about men having to stick together. Forgetting about that side of it, there's the bridge point to think about. Is it wise or unwise to open the East hand in fourth position?"

Every good player that I know would open that East hand. When you have a hand as good as that you expect to make a profit. Why give up that profit by passing the hand out?

East has no way of knowing how the rest of the strength is distributed — except that nobody has enough for an opening bid. Suppose his partner has the South hand. East can then make four hearts. Suppose his partner has the North hand. East then has a good play for three no-trump. If those changes were made, the bidding would still begin with three passes. How is East supposed to know?

Twenty years ago some good bridge players advised you to pass fourth hand unless you had a really fine hand. We've learned a few things in 20 years; and nobody believes that particular theory any more. So, my dear lady, don't scold your husband at the bridge table. Maybe he's right after all.

Briton Thinks Milk Lengthens Infancy

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. —(AP)—Is milk making a cream puff out of the modern boy? G. H. Heath, grace, choirmaster of Derby cathedral thinks so.

Heath-gracie produced this theory at an organists' association meeting here yesterday.

"Cow's milk pumped into our youth at an ever increasing rate may possibly have an effect not fully discernible by ordinary logic of the analytic chemist and dietician," he said; "anyway, I suggest that our boys have lost much of their punch."

Heath-gracie declared that milk drinking prolongs the period of infancy and cited the United States as an example.

"One finds there," he said, "an abnormally high proportion of adults who are still in some ways adolescent."

THE HOME — This is the church today. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Goad bought the church, moved it to Pampa, worked it over into a modern home. The side of the old church is now the front of the home and the steeple has been removed. The lines of the old church can be seen easily. It was moved here in 1945. (NEWS PHOTO)

Loop-hole In Gas Order

When the New Dealers penned their little piece which shaped up as the new defense production act they evidently forgot to lock the back door. Anyway, some of the "Old Dealers" seem to have sneaked in on the writing job and stuck in a last-minute amendment.

This little sliker of an amendment enables state public service commissions to pitch such an order as the PAD issued to natural gas companies into the ash can and send the President a certified notice that it's in a position to make its own regulations as to carrying out the order.

Hard Facts

Sometimes, as Mr. Sherlock Homes pointed out, a fact is so obvious it's hard to see. Take, for example, the high cost of creating jobs.

A California oil company says it has invested $200,000 for every one of the 8000 employees on the payroll. That is the cost of each job.

Obviously, not many of us could set ourselves up in business at that rate. Very few Americans could provide themselves, privately, with $67,000 worth of tools and other essentials for earning a living.

A rough carpenter, it has been estimated, can outfit himself for about $200. A plumber for $530. A radio repairman for $1045. And a house painter for $450.

But an oilfield driller works with $100,000 worth of tools. The rig on which he works represents an investment of $200,000.

Without a corporate setup, it would be necessary for the men who work on the rig to dig up $10,000 each for one oil exploration.

The difficulties of finding 20 oil drillers with $10,000 in pocket — for each oil well — can be readily imagined. And so it is necessary to create a company of investors to provide the drillers with the tools of their trade.

This process of investment is the "big bad corporation" which is the shipping boy of politicians and the enemy of investors.

One of the fallacies of socialism is the attempt to do away with the entrepreneur and the investor of risk capital. To provide the $200,000 to drill an oil well, the Socialist state must provide the financing.

One state has had one major source of income — and that is taxation, direct or indirect, upon its citizens.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

Those who believe that one cannot pick figs from thistles and that we reap what we sow, very clearly why we have inflation — why we have irredeemable paper or dishonest fiat money that can't be used to buy anything.

Now, what are the things that people do that are bound to bring on inflation and irredeemable paper money? And when it is irredeemable it can be printed in any quantity the bureaucrats see fit to print it in order to bribe groups of old age pensioners and those who want subsidies.

Probably the first cause of irredeemable paper money is the belief in each community that the majority of the people in that community have a moral right to initiate force by way of taxation to make the minority subsidize the teachers and the families who do not pay enough taxes to pay the cost of their children in school.

And when the young are taught that the majority has a right to initiate force against the minority, then it is only a question of time until other people demand subsidies or pensions. When people believe in pensions, the rate of acceleration of inflation begins to increase quite rapidly.

Pensions are not even good for those who receive them. If a pensioner has contributed into a private corporation in order to get a pension, he is actually paying the cost of his own pension.

There is a natural law that governs the way in which the government attempts to hand out things that are not produced, the only thing that can possibly do is give orders for wealth that buy less and less per unit. That is, it is doing with the dollar, it is issuing orders for wealth that buy less.

Eventually when the dollar gets practically worthless, those who receive it later are able to get more dollars to go to work and produce something that is useful to mankind, and those who are unable to produce, if they have rendered a service to their fellow man in the past, will be taken care of on a voluntary basis.

Yes, it is only a question of time when people believe in government pensions that the medium of exchange, whether it be a mark or dollar or a franc, becomes worthless and less, until finally new unit of measure with value in itself has to be used so that justice can be more nearly approached.

The Doctor Says

By EDWARD P. JORDAN, M. D.

Several people have written to inquire about phlebitis, milk leg or related conditions and what can be done for them.

Several have had the most distressing experiences and a desperately anxious for relief. Before discussing these disorders it is necessary to know what they are.

Phlebitis is an inflammation of the inside lining of the veins — almost always those of the legs. This may be associated with blood clots in the veins.

It is about the chronic variety that most who write to me are particularly concerned. Although a difficult problem at best, treatment is constantly improving.

In addition, it is always necessary to search for sources of infection in such places as the teeth or tonsils. Small doses of X-rays are sometimes used. Also surgery has possibilities as it may be advised.

FAIR ENOUGH -- PEGLER

By WESBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — I have been running my eye down the list of the New York stock exchange and note without much emotion one way or another that we lit a home - loving baby - havin' 'later-ho-in-Faceless Men and Women of the United States who own millions and millions of shares in our corporate giants have taken on a formidable responsibility.

We are paying lavish pensions to some thousands of company executives and are committed to pension more and more of them as time goes on at very deluxe rates, by the way, and I would say it was dam decent of us if I didn't know that most of us don't even know of our own largess.

Steel companies, auto companies, tire companies and heavy machinery companies let us in on their generalities to the boys in the board room, but this fact doesn't show up in the prices on the tape nor in the stock certificates but is safely and irrevocably tucked away in the minutes and we are stuck. To be sure, we don't have to buy their stocks but we Faceless Men and Women haven't got much sense and when we find ourselves with a few dollars over and above the grab bag, we go to the bank or the broker's with our moist and a crumpled bill in our grimy little hands and say, "here, get me some of that third one from the president for the pension plan. He does and from then on we are obliged to support X number of persons to us unknown who had spent years and years on lavish pay and bonuses but couldn't put by much on account of the income tax which makes it so hard for us to put by much.

Now I have tweaked this touchy subject once or twice before but I find that the custom is getting out of hand and furthermore that it is a precedent for the pension raids which the miners and other unions have been making against our income in recent years and I would wonder where we get off if I didn't know.

We get off at the posthouse. Do you know what our security is? It is a paltry little dolle out of the bankrupt social security racket in Washington when we are 65, provided we don't keep on working and earning a little to augment it enough to keep body and soul together. If we don't keep on working we can't get by on the old-age pension and if we do keep on it stops dead even though we have been paying into the fund for years and years. In this way, we continue to contribute to the Treasury and the number of clients of the fraud who actually can retire and claim the dolle is petty compared to the total of those who have a right to their pensions but can't get them.

I am opposed to social security not only as it is but in all forms and in political principle except as a voluntary proposition to tie or remove the vein involved.

Prevention is perhaps even more important than treatment. Here real progress has been made and many of those who would have had this trouble a few years ago are now spared by such measures as early rising after operation, or the giving of germ killers before an operation which formerly carried special risks in this direction. It is not too much to expect that phlebitis and its complications will become more and more rare.

I am aware of all the tricky arguments in favor of this funny business and I say it is only modified and legalized form of embezzlement. Call it "tax anticipation" or by any other name in which case, however, I would insist that the money be not used to pay current expenses of the government. But I am equally hostile to the defiant greed of a growing class of business executives who padded up their own salaries and gave themselves big gratuities for doing the work that their salaries called for and, then, on the quiet, vote themselves big pensions which come out of the national income before dividends are reckoned, and on top of all that, make contracts with themselves to come in and give the company a little advice out of their wisdom as elder statesmen and vote themselves 'retainers' for that.

SPOTLIGHT For The Nation: Squandering Your Tax Dollars

By WILLFORD I. KING

Present indications are that next year, Uncle Sam is going to spend some seventy or eighty billions of dollars, mainly in an effort to protect our nation from the Russians and their allies. That's a lot of money — about a third of the national income. Someone has to foot the bill. What does that mean to you?

Perhaps, if you are the average American, you figure that most of the money will be put up by the fellows with big incomes — the guys drawing a few millions a year, the secretaries of state, even by taking most of their income, the government has been able to squeeze out of all the people having incomes of a hundred thousand or over little more than half a billion dollars — scarcely a drop in the spending bucket.

And from all the people with incomes over $20,000, the government last year got less than three billions. Even if it took 90 percent of all net income, it would collect less than four billions. So, sad as it may be, there seems to be no escaping the fact that you and I and other ordinary citizens who are forced to work for our living are going to be called upon to dig up the other seventy-odd billions.

If we protest vigorously enough to our congressmen against soaking us with more taxes in order to balance the budget, Congress will doubtless borrow the money from the banks, thus inflating the currency. If this is done, it will cause the real value of our savings bonds, our bank balances, our social security accumulations, our prospective retirement pensions, and our insurance policies to shrivel away. Would you prefer to have this happen rather than to step up and give Uncle Sam a third of your income while keeping your savings in tact?

If you are a thinking man or woman, you realize that the Russian danger is so great that all of us must, without hesitation, stand ready to make whatever sacrifices are necessary to meet the menace. But giving Uncle Sam one dollar for every two that we spend is very burdensome to most of us. Hence, regardless of how patriotic we are, we resent having any of our hard-earned dollars wasted. We feel indeed, that it is the duty of those in power in Washington to see that the number of dollars which we are compelled to turn over to the government be kept at a minimum. Are our officials in Washington using due care to see that this is done?

Unfortunately, evidence gradually being brought to light indicates that all too often, such is far from being the case. A few instances will serve to illustrate this point.

A 1951 advertisement in the Gering, Neb., Courier says in part: "Plant beans now! A big cash crop with little labor cost. There are no controls on bean acreage. Support prices are $7.55 per cwt. guaranteed for Great do to come in and give the company a little advice out of their wisdom as elder statesmen and vote themselves 'retainers' for that.

National Whirligig

Once each week this veteran newspaper correspondent at Washington devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest place, Chevy Chase, Md.

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — "What kind of a Commission on Ethics in the federal government" does Sen. Paul Douglas plan to set up?" asks T. S. of Richmond, Va. "Will it be a group of political hacks that will be just another official or semi-official agency to make us believe that conditions have been corrected? Or will it have power to remedy abuses — namely, disclose by congressional investigations?"

CENSORS — Answer: The Senator from Illinois, I am convinced, would like to create a body of official or unofficial censors of government morals that would command the respect of the public. He has indicated that, besides framing a code defining "improper practices" for elected and appointive officials, as well as for the so-called lobbyists, he wants a commission to pass upon future violations of these standards.

MEMBERS — Although these are only tentative suggestions, I have heard mentioned as possible members the chief justice of the Supreme Court, the vice-president and speaker of the House. It is obvious that a few men with government background and service would be needed, for they know the ropes. As public representatives, men like Herbert Hoover, Bernard M. Baruch and Paul Hoffman have been proposed informally.

As I wrote earlier, there is still scant sympathy for the Douglas idea in Capitol Hill or around the White House. But the Senator is a purposeful and determined man. He may yet surprise euphemism worthy of a left-wing ideologist and it still comes out that the stockholders have to put up for big pensions to men who were drawing from $50,000 to $100,000 a year for years before they quit. I am told that it is so hard to get high-grade executives that you have to sweeten things for them this way but I say that if it were forbidden by law, that thing would straighten itself out. And not many of these fellows are so high grade that they can't be replaced as soon as their tenure comes. As for the "retainer" for "consultation" after retirement that smacks of plain larceny to me in view of the fact that they are already on the dole before they are even thought of willing to come around once a month or so and give the stockholders a few words of wisdom for free.

Dan Tobin of the teamsters is a spectacular example of the greedy gray rat who has become a lioner as I have shown in detail recently. But the difference between him and the captains of industry who peer down the snout at his crudities is only one of method, not ethics.

When John Lewis came in for his miners' pensions, it would have hollered out, but the words choked on my typewriter because I knew he had his precedents on the books of many a corporation.

I still want to know who is going to pension the stockholders after the chairman, presidents and vice-presidents and the unionized help have got theirs.

McCulloch County Needs No Tax Money For Rural Fires

BRADY, Tex. — (AP) — How to control rural fires without levying a tax is demonstrated by McCulloch county farmers. They have a volunteer system. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce cited the McCulloch county group in a discussion of a proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on Nov. 13. The amendment would permit creation of rural fire prevention districts supported by a tax of up to 50 cents per $100 valuation. McCulloch county's efficient rural fire-fighting organization will make it unnecessary for this county to have such a tax-supported system, WTCC said. This is how the county's plan operates: When a fire is discovered anywhere in the county, the chamber of commerce is notified. Ogden carries in his billfold a list of the names and telephone numbers of 21 ranchers living in all parts of the county who own cattle spraying machines. The first move is to send one of the two pieces of firefighting equipment, which the McCulloch County Commissioners court maintains for rural use, one being kept in Brady, the other in Melvin. One or more of the spraying machines which are located nearest the fire. Next radio station KNEE is notified and it, in turn, begins broadcasting the location of the fire. Then one of the REA mobile radio units is dispatched to the fire to furnish direct communications. Through this radio communication, Ogden determines the number of men and equipment and other supplies that are needed to control the fire. The jeep or pickup drawn sprays are at all times filled with water and are ready to combat fire at a moment's notice. These machines are equipped with pumps and can refill themselves from tanks, creeks, or any available water supply. When the fire is in a dry area water is sent out by the city of Brady in large tanks to refill these sprays. There are 14 community foremen. They are responsible for enlisting "beaters" armed with wet sacks or other weapons. They fight the fire in trees and logs that is not extinguished by the machines, which are more effective on weeds and grass. In all cases the owners of the damaged land have telephoned back to the chamber office and reported that the fire has been brought under control and requested that no more men or equipment be sent as the highways are already congested.

Amarillo Chamber Gives Facts On Lots Being Offered For $64

A letter to all newspapers and chambers of commerce in the Panhandle from the Amarillo chamber was received Saturday giving information on lots being offered at $64 by the Federal Land Corp. of Houston. The Houston corporation, the letter said, is developing the Bel-Aire addition outside the city limits of Amarillo. The corporation, Rex Baxter, manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, said Saturday, has been notifying people throughout the Panhandle "that they have been selected to receive one of these lots at no more than $64." Baxter added a check with the Amarillo Better Business bureau showed the following facts surrounding the addition: 1. The lots are only 60 feet deep. 2. They are outside the city limits. 3. There are no restrictions on the types of buildings which may be erected. 4. There are no paved streets. 5. There are no utilities. 6. There are no transportation facilities. 7. There is no city police or fire protection. A follow-up check with the Pampa Chamber of Commerce this morning failed to disclose any local persons being made an offer to buy the lots. However, a similar letter of information was received by the local chamber office from the Amarillo Better Business bureau.

'Legion Of Decency' Is Planned For TV

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A "legion of decency" to rate television programs on the basis of moral standards may be set up soon by the National Council of Catholic Men. It would be similar in operation to the "legion of decency" which classifies motion pictures for public guidance. If the TV plan follows the lines of the motion picture "legion of decency," Catholics would be urged to boycott programs which habitually televise objectionable material.

Football Fever Hits Panhandle, Texas As Grid Season Nears Start

Injury List Has Harvesters Weak

Buddy Cockrell out indefinitely

Aggies Trying To Scare Opponents

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The Texas A&M football team will be featuring this season a team in the country may in a few years, have masks to issue along with the helmets and shoulder pads, Dawson says.

The idea stemmed from injuries to Bob Smith, the great Aggie fullback, last season. Smith suffered a broken jaw in mid-season. Dayton hauled out a leather mask.

Smith found that he was not handicapped in the least using the mask. A week after his nose was broken against Baylor, Smith averaged eight yards carrying the ball against Arkansas. Two weeks later he set a Southwest Conference record for rushing with 29 yards against SMU. He went on to hang up a new conference season record of 1,302 yards.

Now, Dayton is coming up with a plastic mask which covers the forehead, nose, chin and most of the cheeks. It is attached at the bottom by a strip around the neck and at the top by a pair of straps.

All Aggies are to use the masks for three weeks. Then, it will become optional.

Dial Hurls No. 21 To Beat Blue Sox

The Pampa Oilers blasted the league champion Abilene Blue Sox 9-4 here Friday night in the opener of a two-game series. Red Dial notched his 21st victory of the year after two previous unsuccessful tries.

Dial was backed up by perfect fielding support and timely hitting to gain the elusive 21st victory. Three Oiler double plays and a couple of good throws from the outfield kept Abilene threats subdued.

Oscar Williams put the Hose ahead by leading off with a home run in the first inning. But the Oilers came back to bat around Ed Rossen in the first inning and score four times on four hits and a pair of walks.

The Hose added another in the third when Rossen opened with a walk and scored following singles by Williams and Art Bowland.

But the Oilers doubled that with a pair in the bottom of the inning on another walk, a single by Calo and a double by George Firnbach scoring both runners.

They added three more in the fourth on three more hits and a walk and an error by Rahmes letting a ground ball through. Rossen settled down and set the Oilers down hitless the final four innings.

But Red Dial was also tough, and accept for two hits and an error by the rightfielder in the seventh, which got two runs across, he also pitched a shutout ball the rest of the way.

Irish Open Drills With 39 Hopefuls Ready For Work

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Thirty-nine gridmen reported Monday to Coach Scott McCall and his assistants—Clarence Morris, end coach, H. W. Callan, line coach, and B. L. Hill, assistant coach.

Irish gridgers went through tough blocking drills, and the main string group also drove line plays and passes against reserves in hard practice sessions.

Much of the time, McCall ran Charles Francis at quarterback, Don Carlton and Jimmy Pennington at halves, and Paul Hartwick at full. Ronald Settle and Jack York also did some cavoring in the Irish backfield.

Line coach Callan is driving his ace line hard for the opening session at Childress, when the Childress crew will have three regular backs back from 1950, plus a new buck star, Jerry Jeffries, from the B team.

Reporting on opening day were: Regulars Van Pennington, end; Billy Harris and Dwayne Hager, tackles; Billy York, center; Eugene Collinsworth and Mack Terry, guards.

Jimmy Pennington, Don Carlton, Johnnie Hartwick, and Charles Francis, with some experience in the 1950 backfield. Others included: Jimmy Yarger, tackle; Ronald Settle, halfback; James O'Neil, J. R. Stansell; James Henderson; Bobby Burrell; Dwayne Beaty; Clarence Jones; John Moore; Lee Roy Fosson; Bobby Campbell, experienced end; Bill Parks; Stephen O'Gorman; Billy Pavlovsky, experienced guard; Carol Copeland; Duane Jeter; James Turnbow; Jim Mundy; Paul Cooper.

Bobby Johnson; Jack Hartwick, probable fullback; Jimmy Don Lamb, experienced back; Gene Sanders; Bobby Chaffin; Quentin Walker; George Hendrick; Luther Thompson.

Cadets Unable To Find Schools

WEST POINT — (AP) — Coach Earl (Red) Blaik of Army's football team said Friday cadets dismissed from West Point in the recent "cribbing" scandal are still having a hard time getting in other schools.

"I'm getting phone calls almost every day from some of our old football boys," he added. "It's really a shame. They're not having much success getting located."

Blaik said his own son, Bobby, star quarterback of the great 1950 Army eleven, hasn't decided but is considering Colorado College.

"He wants to finish his education," the coach said. "He is not primarily interested in playing football or any other sport."

Al Pollard, 22, star fullback who was Army's leading scorer last fall, signed Friday with the professional New York Yankees.

He was the only member of the Army squad eligible for pro ball because his class had graduated.

Harold Loehlein, captain-elect of the team, is reported entering the University of Minnesota.

Largest Turnout Greet New Lefors Coach For '51 Season

LEFORS — (Special) — The largest turnout in history, thirty-five candidates, greeted new head coach Frank Sonntag and assistant coach Bob Callan as the Lefors High school opened fall football practices here Monday. This list, however, has been trimmed by casualties and with draws and approximately thirty boys are reporting regularly for practice.

Coaches Sonntag and Callan lost no time in getting the hopefuls off to a fast start. Equipment was issued Monday, followed by a stiff conditioning workout. Monday night, the squad indulged in contact work and Tuesday the squad was divided and engaged in a scrimmage for the first time.

Coach Sonntag is installing the formation for the first time at Lefors. The Pirates have used the box formation, interspersed with single wing, for many years. As a result, most of the boys are having difficulty in learning their assignments, having used the box even in spring training in District 2-A, making all-district blocking back.

and Dickie Redus, 135-pound soph, are being groomed for the quarterback position in Sonntag's version of the tricky "T". Both show promise, but lack the experience in this new, to the Pirates, version of offensive football. Redus also is playing as a defensive back where he earned a reserve letter as a freshman last year. In an effort to add power to his backfield, Coach Sonntag has moved co-captain Bob Clammous, last year's all-district center, to fullback. Clammous, a three-year letterman, is counted on to add power to the backfield, weighing in at 185. He will continue his linebacking duties on defense, his chief stock-in-trade last year. Coach Sonntag believes that Clammous, provided he can learn to run properly, will develop into a pretty fair fullback before the season ends. The other co-captain, Ray Dickerson, has his position practically cinched, since he was conceded by all last year to be the best downfield blocker in District 2-A.

The Pirates this year are competing in new District 1-A composed of McLean's Tigers, Wheeler's Mustangs, Panhandle's Panthers, Clarendon's Broncos, and White Deer's Bucks, in addition to Lefors. Pre-season decisions that White Deer and Clarendon will be the co-favorites for the title, with Wheeler, Panhandle, Clarendon and McLean fighting it out for third. Lefors, because of learning a new system, rates no better than a second division spot but may cause a few surprises before the season's end.

Most serious injury suffered by the Pirate squad thus far was the leg injury incurred by Russell Herring, counted on as a possible offensive or defensive end. Five sacks of cement fell on Herring's legs while at his work with the State Highway Department north of Pampa recently. Dr. Lang, team physician, has not disclosed the entire extent of the injuries, but it is gubrit that Herring will be ready to play for some time. Minor injuries in scrimmage have been (See LEFORS, Page 8)

Easley To Accept Loss; Join Bears

HOUSTON — (AP) — Bob Easley, crack high school football star, is going to Baylor and take the loss of two years college playing eligibility.

The big John Reagan High School athlete decided Friday. Easley and Baylor figured in one of the most unprecedented judgments in Southwest Conference history this spring.

The conference, after an investigation of player-coaching and proselyting, ruled Easley's trip to Dallas to see a pro football game as the guest of a Baylor alumnus was going too far. It ruled he should attend Baylor he would lose his first two years of eligibility.

Easley was still in high school then. He had another year of eligibility, but chose to go to summer school and graduate.

The 190-pound fullback was offered athletic scholarships by most conference schools, the University of Houston, LSU, and others. Easley said Friday, "I sincerely believe I'm making the right decision in going to Baylor." Of course, I am sorry the Southwest Conference officials made the ruling they made, but I guess they had their reasons for doing that and there is nothing that we can do about it."

Urge Hunters To Mail Dove Bands

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas hunters who kill banded doves were urged Saturday to send the bands to the State Game Commission.

W. C. Glazener, director of wildlife restoration, said it would be a big help to game management people who are studying ways to keep the supply of birds at a high level.

The band, along with the date and place the bird was taken, should be sent to the Wildlife Restoration Division of the State Game Commission at Austin, or to the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service at Washington.

Last year 3,000 doves were banded out, only 125 bands were reported Glazener said.

Hurler's Wife Tries Suicide

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Mrs. Goldie Queen, 27, wife of Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Mel Queen, tried to end her life Saturday because "she's sick and tired of baseball." Police Sergeant Carl Hillenbrand reported.

The officer said Mrs. Queen was found semi-conscious in the living room of her home shortly after Queen had "threw a no-hit" for St. Louis to "see that everything is all right."

received by Franklin Hankins, promising freshman center. Bob Newson, fiery senior end and Eddie Clemmons, rugged, tough light, freshman back. In addition, Jack Pflug, defensive junior back, suffered a serious ankle injury in Wednesday night's scrimmage and is expected to be sidelined for some time.

The Pirates open the season with a home game against Scott McCall's and H. W. Callan's mighty Shamrock Irish, last year's District 2-A titlists, who are members of District 2-A-A, a double tough league. The Irish, naturally, are favorites, having trounced the Pirates 19-0 in last year's fracas with virtually the entire club returning.

Fans who have watched both squads in practice this week have installed the Shamrocks as three-touchdowns better than the Lefors aggregation at this stage. Game time is 8 p. m., Sept. 14 in Pirate Stadium, Lefors.

Notre Dame Won't Reveal Benefactor Of Expelled Cadets

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (AP) — The University of Notre Dame isn't saying whether Joseph E. Kennedy is putting up the money for the expelled West Point cadets to go to school at Notre Dame.

An anonymous benefactor has offered to pay board, room and tuition for any of the 90 ousted cadets who can meet Notre Dame entrance requirements, need financial help and will stay out of intercollegiate athletics, a New York newspaper columnist said Friday friends are speculating that Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, is the donor.

University officials declined to comment on the report. The Rev. John Cavanaugh, Notre Dame president, now in California, refused to affirm or deny the report or to give any indication of the donor's identity.

The columnist, Frank Farrell of New York World-Telegram and Sun, said Father Cavanaugh made a quick visit to Kennedy's summer home at Hyannis, Mass., shortly after the West Point cribbing scandal broke.

Farrell added that Kennedy also was the secret donor of a $300,000 scholarship fund for needy students in Notre Dame's business school.

The cadet offer may cost the benefactor plenty. With yesterday's deadline for applying, 42 of 90 had sent in applications up to Friday. If that many should be accepted the cost would be $63,000 a year.

RICHMAN, POORMAN, BEGGARMAN, THIEF. Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief. It takes all kinds of jobs and people to make the world go round. With Labor Day coming up, here's a list of some favorite people and their occupations from which, we hope, they get a rest tomorrow! Doctor—Dr. Joe Donaldson (he's getting the quarterly club organized for this season); lawyer—J. B. Maguire (he's really taking golf seriously these days); chief—Ernest Winborne, fire chief (he got a pat on the back last week according to The News, for an outstanding fire record). And we could go on and on because there are so many people resting up from so many jobs today and tomorrow except, of course, Mama's work goes on just about as usual—without double-time for holiday!

NOW THEY'RE making women's hose without a toe. Actually! The bare toes peep from shoes while the rest of the leg is clad in nylon. The idea is to give a bare-foot look to the sandal, and at the same time keep the legs smart and trim in hose. Don't know why they couldn't have thought up a toe-less hosiery for men. Nothing worse than patching holes in men's socks. (Maybe if we pass the word along, they'll get the idea toe-less socks are the vogue.)

PANORAMICALLY: Nice to see the teachers coming back... some have been gone for the summer... Verdine Denton, to name one... And new teachers, we hear, are having difficulty finding places to live... Pampa is growing and at every large gathering we think again that not many years back we knew about every one... now there's a stranger for every "old face"... but a pleasant note about so many of our newcomers is they fit right into our civic and social life and find their place among us... that's why folks aren't strangers too long in Pampa... An old friend, Ralph Thomas, was here last weekend... he's situated in Oklahoma City, believe it or not... 505 N. Frost has the most decorative window box under a second floor window... Spied Isabel Priest in a trim little suit the other day... Also thought I saw Lema Jane Butcher... don't know whether she has been here all summer... she's a favorite in the school system... Mrs. Dick Pepin is looking mighty chippy, these days after her vacation... says she feels "simply wonderful"... their son has been visiting here... The Mike Shepicks have a lovely home... a nice couple... Understand the Kiwanians had their annual family picnic last week... food and fun... The H. G. Sharps, a friendly couple... ditto the Julian Keys... Jeanne Willingham, back from California and twice as cute, did her hometown proud in West Coast productions, especially one TV show... The John Wilkenson's little girl is a honey... they're a fine family group... Another favorite family is the Fred Neslages... spied him not long ago wheeling the youngest in a stroller... good example!

BIG LABOR DAY activities were planned for the country club this weekend. The golf tournament is in progress, and Monday afternoon a water carnival is scheduled. Skeet Roberts and Albert Reynolds are in charge of arrangements for the Labor Day dance Monday night. More on that water carnival, it may be the last big splash of the year. Been nice to see so many families enjoying the pool this summer... the Aubrey Steeles, to name one... And Dr. H. H. Hicks, Paul Brown and others have been seen taking dips. Recently saw Mrs. G. B. Cree, Sr., watching her young grandson splashing about. A pity now that they can't just let the pool freeze over for winter days and make an outdoor ice skating rink. Seems there's some technical reason about ice ruining the cement or something, but in the winter a swimming pool is just a useless yawning gap in the ground!

VACATIONS ARE LAPPING over into fall. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beisenbers left this week for a trip to the northern part of the country. Pretty Mrs. Kay Fancher is back from California (saw her laughing with a friend on the street corner the other afternoon, and Peg likes the way she has her hair pulled back in a cool, casual style.) Lovely Jean Chisholm wears her hair pinned "high"—some of these younger lovelies make it look so easy, but even with combs and hairpins galore, Peg still can't give her hair the casual smartness they achieve. But back to vacation, Peg's "partner in seclusion," Editor Bob Gettemy, Mrs. G. and daughter, are back in the West Coast. That picture of him in The News the other day certainly gave away his special love for deep-sea fishing. And everyone is wondering whether he's tried Lake McClellan. Especially—

PEG O' PAMPA.

Rogers' Talk At Lunch Will Include Open Discussion

"Trends of Government" will be Walter Rogers' topic when he speaks at luncheon in the basement of the First Methodist Church at noon Monday. This is an activity of the Pampa Provisional League of Women Voters, and will be open to anyone who buys a plate.

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS ... Guest Speaker

U.S. Going Into Treaty With Idea Of Making Japan An Ally

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United States will go into the Pacific peace conference Tuesday determined to convert Japan swiftly from a defeated enemy into a potent ally in the world struggle with communism.

Russia will enter the sessions no less determined to wreck or stall the American effort. The Soviets want to extend Communist control over Japan eventually, and discredit the United States and raise Russian prestige elsewhere in Asia.

The simple issue in the conference, which President Truman will open with a speech at 8:30 p.m. CST., Tuesday, thus is: Is it an issue of tremendous importance to the final outcome of the conflict with communism. For Japan is the powerhouse of the Far East, as Germany is the powerhouse of western Europe.

Japan is also the strategic key to America's island defense chain in the western Pacific.

The treaty will not give the United States control of Japan, by permitting the retention of American troops there. The accord is designed to restore Japan's sovereignty without destroying its security.

As the state department says, an unarmed Japan, left alone by the departure of U.S. troops, would be an easy prey for soviet conquest.

Russia had evidently been counting on prolonged lack of a treaty to create Japanese political unrest that would open the way for communism.

Alternately, the Kremlin presumably had hoped to shape any treaty to its own ends, and particularly to lay Japan open to red aggression or threats by compelling the withdrawal of American troops.

Aside from the usual Communist propaganda blasts attacking the proposed treaty, Russia has given no clue as to the strategy it will pursue in the forthcoming peace talks.

The 32-man Soviet delegation arrived in New York Monday. Its chief delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, said with a scowl that Russia's proposals will be disclosed at the conference — not before.

The general expectation is that Gromyko will use the conference as a sounding board for a long and vitriolic propaganda barrage, and then perhaps walk out.

Some senators have said Gromyko may attempt to drive a bargain for advantageous truce terms in Korea in return for Russia's signature on the Japanese treaty.

American diplomats say one thing is almost certain: that Gromyko will seize on India's boycott of the San Francisco conference — announced by Prime Minister Nehru last week — as prime ammunition for his denunciations of the U.S.-sponsored treaty.

Nehru said India would sign a separate treaty with Japan later, but would not attend the conference here. The Indian Premier complained, among other things, that the treaty provision for keeping American troops in Japan, will look like a condition imposed by a conqueror.

Some believe the Soviets may try to offset their conference weakness by making threats of war against the treaty. An extremely serious situation could develop should this happen.

Gaining control of western Germany and extending the Communist dominion over Japan have been foremost among the goals of the Kremlin since the end of World War II.

The intent, not initially clear to the western powers, was first disclosed in Europe. The bitter lessons of European peacemaking, including the long deadlocks over Austrian and German settlements, are held by State department officials to be responsible for the singled-minded, sometimes high-handed behavior of the American government in laying plans for the conclusion and signing of the Japanese treaty, scheduled for next Saturday.

Russ Delegates To Jap Treaty Signing To Live In Splendor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Russian delegation will live a millionaire's life in a palatial $1,600,000 suburban estate during the Japanese peace treaty conference.

The Reds rented it Thursday for as long as three weeks. That lifted eyebrows. The conference opens Tuesday. The American plan is to end it Saturday. The Russians are reported to be on a protracted and controversial session.

Whatever the duration, the Russians will live in the grand manner on the 12-acre estate while all other delegations are looking out hotel windows.

The estate, Uplands, has mammoth colonnades, descending terraces, lily ponds, interior walls of marble and imported chestnut woodwork, and a $250,000 Tudor Gothic library.

Mrs. Romie C. Jacks, the owner, will stay with a friend. But she will leave all personal belongings for the Russians' use, including a gold dining set and a silver service.

The central living room is as large as the lobby of San Francisco's St. Francis hotel, where the Russians had rented half a floor.

Edward Sequira, the hotel's executive assistant manager, moaned: "They never even came near us to tell us they wouldn't be moving into their 28 rooms Saturday."

Money Only Relative Says Janet Leigh's New Husband

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tony Curtis, who looks like a younger Victor Mature and is just as shy, was expounding on how he plans to make his marriage to Janet Leigh stick.

Like nature, this Curtis is a talkative fellow and willing to expound on nearly every topic with the exceptions of early Egyptian urns and Hopi basket weaving.

He likes to emphasize that he is still Bernie Schwartz from New York, despite the fame that has come his way as Tony Curtis. And that, he reasons, is why his union with Miss Leigh will beat the odds against film marriages.

"I look at it this way — fame and money are strictly relative," he argued. "Is there any difference between having $2000 or $2,000,000?"

I thought maybe there was, but he would not hear of it. "Of course there isn't any difference," he continued. "That's why, no matter what happens to me, I'll remain the same. I'll still keep my two feet on the ground."

"Janet is the same way. She has been in the movies longer than I have and has a much bigger name. But she has remained herself."

Curtis indicated that in many Hollywood marriages break up because of the male's philandering. "Sure, an actor could have plenty of other talent if he wants to," he asserted. "But those who take advantage of it are only showing their own weakness. They are unsure of themselves."

The Curtis have been wed not yet three months and already the gossip speculate how long it will last.

"I've heard that talk," he said, "but I'm going to fool them."

Lamar Now A State College

BEAUMONT (AP)—Lamar Junior college of Beaumont became Lamar State College of Technology today. Thus Texas claimed its 14th senior college.

It is the first state senior college found in Texas since Texas Tech at Lubbock and Texas A. & M. at Kingville were founded in 1925.

Lamar tech plans to emphasize engineering and technological training. It will grant bachelor of science degrees in chemical, civil, electrical, industrial (management), mechanical, engineering, business administration, home economics, physical education, chemistry, biological sciences, petroleum geology and medical technology.

The junior college which became Lamar Tech was founded in 1923 as South Park plant was built on a 65-acre campus just inside the southern city limits of Beaumont.

A $1,500,000 building program has built the plant up to eight major buildings valued at more than $3,500,000.

Farm Bureaus Open Series

WHEELER — (Special) — Wheeler County Mobilization committee has begun a series of meetings to determine how government farm agencies can best help the farmer. One representative from each of the five agencies in Wheeler county, FMA, SCS, FFA, extension service or county agents office, and the Federal Farm Bureau, formed a roundtable to tell the farmers the duties of each office and how to secure services of that office.

Following the speeches of each representative farmers are invited to ask questions, give criticisms of the different agencies and make recommendations how the agency can serve the farmer better.

This outline of procedure will be followed at the meeting in Shamrock at the veteran's vocational school, Thursday night, at Allison, Friday, at the Mott Legion hut, Sept. 4 and in Kelton, Sept. 5.

The meetings are part of a national government drive to cut the overlap of services in agencies, improve the services and cut down unnecessary expenses, both to the farmer and to the government. A combined report of the meetings will be sent to headquarters and a state report will be forwarded to Washington.

Rules Papers Private Enterprises Free To Accept, Reject Advertising

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Newspapers "are still private industries" and can accept or reject advertising as they see fit, a civil district judge has ruled.

Judge Rene A. Viosca made the ruling in dismissing a suit brought against the Times-Picayune Publishing Co. and the New-Orleans Better Business Bureau by the New Orleans Diamond exchange.

The exchange sought to force the Better Business bureau to approve its advertising and the newspaper to publish its advertising the sale of diamonds at retail prices. The exchange, operated by Leon R. Hellis and David A. Kraus, is recognized as a wholesale diamond dealer.

"My appreciation," Judge Viosca said, "is that newspapers are still private industries and that they can accept or refuse to accept and publish advertising as they see fit. I know of no duty that either the Times-Picayune or the Better Business Bureau owes you (the plaintiffs). The suit against both parties is dismissed."

The plaintiffs gave notice of appeal to the state supreme court.

Making Music Is Hobby Of Pampan

Making music has long been the hobby of Paul Appleton, 331 Mary Ellen, and this includes making his own musical instruments.

His specialty is the steel guitar—an instrument known as the electric Hawaiian — and after making two single-neck guitars, he designed and made a three-necked electric steel guitar that's the realization of a life-time dream.

The table-like guitar is made of Philippine mahogany. The original block was nine feet long and five inches thick. The wood is now in three elevated, 15-inch pieces, 32 inches long.

There is a set of eight strings on each 15-inch section, with an electro-magnetic pickup.

The tapered finger board is of clear-white plastic. Originally the finger board, on which the frets are placed, was a 12 by 24 inch sheet of plastic. The sheet was cut into 2-inch strips 20 inches long and placed under the strings.

The frets were made on the plastic finger board by drilling partially through the plastic. Lines were drawn into the wrong side of the quarter-inch plastic.

Four switches control the guitar. Each neck has a control and a fourth switch may be adjusted to tune all three necks at one time. There is a separate magnet for each string on the guitar. Three sets of keys were ordered intact.

The flat guitar is mounted on three adjustable legs made of light conduit. The musician may be seated or may be standing to play the instrument.

When Appleton began the design, there was no other such guitar on the market. Now a California manufacturer is producing a similar guitar. He had not thought of patenting the guitar — he built it for his own pleasure.

George Cartwright, a local cabinet shop owner, used his power tools to get the intricate design and detail Appleton wanted on the guitar. The three sections of the guitar are glued with water-proof glue.

The mahogany is finished to a glowing color. Appleton used a coat of clear shellac first and followed that with three coats of clear varnish with sanding jobs after each application.

It took him "lots of odd-moments" last winter to complete the guitar, but his experience on two previous guitars was valuable. In making his first steel guitar, he used the neck from the first standard guitar he ever owned and attached it to a "box" of white pine.

He built the second guitar on a white pine strip. He burned frets into the wood with a wood-burning pencil and set miniature dice in the grooves.

A block of bakelite was used as a protection plate and a common magnet over the strings. He thinks they're crude now compared to his latest guitar, but they were "just the thing" then.

Appleton doesn't stop at making the steel guitars. He also made his amplifier and foot-bolts control. The amplifier, reproducing sound from the guitar, has a 15-inch Jensen speaker in it and has a control board at the top of the box—a feature only recently introduced in manufacturer's amplifiers.

Appleton makes all the carrying cases for his instruments. The chassis of the amplifier is covered with imitation snakeskin and all the cases are appropriately lined.

Other examples of his craftsmanship are about the Appleton home. His most recent handiwork is a solid walnut coffee table.

The long hours spent in making the steel guitar last winter pay off in hours of musical pleasure this winter. Appleton, who at one time played the electric standard in a band in Plainview, plays "by ear."

And he has a real feeling for the music of the steel guitar, because each tone represents long, tedious hours of work.

Mechanical Engineers Meet In Tulsa For Conference

Petroleum mechanical engineers will meet in Tulsa Sept. 24, 25 and 26 in the sixth annual conference at the Mayo hotel.
Business meetings will feature about 40 technical papers covering matters relating to the production, refining and transportation divisions of the industry. Social events, sponsored by the Engineers' club of Tulsa will include a welcoming luncheon Monday, an inspection trip to the Phillips Petroleum Co. at Bartlesville and the Phillips museum at Woolaroc, climaxed with a buffalo barbecue at the Woolaroc ranch in the evening.
Conference banquet will be held Tuesday with R. K. Lane of Tulsa as toastmaster and H. H. Anderson of Shell Pipe Line Corp. of Houston as speaker.
Host for the conference will be the mid-continent section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Petroleum division.

Japanese Living Conditions High

TOKYO — (AP) — Japanese are spending more than they make. At least they were in May, and the sharp increase in cost of utilities, rice, bread and other necessities since then — without widespread boosts in wages — indicate they still are.
Figures on the income and output of Japan's 84,100,000 (June 1 estimate) population were compiled by occupation officials in Gen. Matthew Ridgway's economic and scientific section.
Income of city workers' families, including the head of the household and all others picking up pin money regularly, averages 15,028 yen a month. That's $41.74 American. Expenditures per family average 15,188 yen per month. That's $42.17 American.

Checks Lead In Money Exchange

NEW YORK — (AP) — Almost 14,000,000 checks are written and cashed every day in the United States, covering approximately 90 percent of all the exchange of money.
Once you cash or deposit a check to your account, machines take over, sorting, listing, endorsing or canceling in one operation. The International Business Machines Corp., builders of commercial electronic "brains," reports that one operator at a check proof machine averages 1,461 checks per hour.
In one New York bank alone, an average of more than 302,000 checks are handled daily over the entire year.

Sinclair O&G Stakes Two Deep Tests

Three new wildcat locations in the Panhandle sparked oil activity during the past week. Regular field activity showed a marked increase also.
Sinclair staked two deep tests, one each in Roberts and Ochiltree counties and Amerada Pet. Corp. staked a test in Briscoe county.
Completions in the regular field tripled over the week ended Aug. 25. New locations were increased by three over the preceding week's number. The totals show: 17 new locations; 23 completions of which three were oilers, 16 were gasers and nine wells were plugged. Total increased oil potential was 180 barrels while gas climbed to 35,316 MCF.

Oklahoma's Oil Fields Get New Life From Transfusion

TULSA — (AP) — Northeastern Oklahoma's aged and feeble oil wells are getting new life from a water transfusion.
Mounting use of waterflooding promises to help quench the world's growing thirst for oil. It will be an important factor in the Petroleum Administration for Defense estimate that the United States can add 1,200,000 barrels to its 6,800,000 - barrel daily output by 1955 is fulfilled. The petroleum industry's most important technical discovery of recent years is the fact that oil doesn't produce itself.
It must be pushed from the earth by gas or water. Reliance on these natural energies — a practice common from the first Pennsylvania oil strike in 1859 until fairly late years — recovers only between 20 and 25 percent of the oil.
In recent years, the industry has supplemented natural production by injection of gas or water into the oil formation, an operation known as "pressure maintenance."
Waterflooding, used either at the time of a field's discovery or when it reaches the "stripper" stage, brings up between 80 and 75 percent of the oil. A "stripper" well is one whose operation at a profit is questionable.
About two years ago the Interstate Oil Compact commission, aided by the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America and the National Stripper Well Assn., completed a survey showing the country in 1949 had something like 313,970 stripper wells.
This research also estimated 7,541,000 barrels of recoverable oil reserves underlie the nation's stripper fields, of which about 3,500,000 will be recovered by primary production methods. Some 4,010,000,000 will remain to be brought out by secondary recovery, including waterflooding.
Of the latter, it was estimated 63,385,000 barrels are in Oklahoma, highest secondary recovery potential of the nation's 27 producing states.
Stripper wells abound in northeast Oklahoma, an area that includes the state's oldest petroleum production. Waterflooding, first done in Rogers county in 1931, now is practiced in 25 of the 49 producing counties. The bulk of the repressuring is in Osage, Nowata, Rogers and Washington counties.
By the end of 1949, waterflooded Oklahoma holes had yielded around 33,000,000 barrels.
Sunray Oil Corp. which undertook two years ago a now highly successful waterflooding of its Weber field in Washington county, said recently it would turn 46 wells in Osage county's North Ochelata field into a similar project.
It was in Osage county just last spring that Phillips Petroleum Co. and 17 other concerns began operation of the world's largest waterflooding project, the North Burbank field. Although its widespread scientific application is comparatively new, the waterflooding principle is not much younger than the industry itself.
Around 1900, a Pennsylvania operator noted some of his wells in the Bradford field unaccount-

R. B. BROWN ... guest speaker

Brown Is IPAA Guest

AUSTIN — Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America — will be a guest speaker before the Texas independent group in Tyler, September 28.
Occasion is the mid-year directors meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and a Royalty Owners Assn., to be attended by approximately 200 directors from every part of the state.
In his speech, Brown will stress the importance to the nation of active oil trade associations and the need for cooperation among independent organizations such as IPAA and TIPRO. In analyzing industry problems, he is expected to deal at some length with the difficulty independents are experiencing in securing sufficient steel tubular goods to meet emergency oil demands.

"Everywhere I found the moral high and appreciation for American help," he said.

Activity Takes Dip In Oklahoma Fields

TULSA — (AP) — Oklahoma oil field activity dipped as the thermometer rose last week.
The Tulsa World's survey found but 114 completions against 120 a week ago and 103 new tests compared to 106.
Among the week's finals were 63 oil wells, four gasers and 47 dusters with an average initial daily production of oil at 6347 barrels; of gas, 164,962,000 cubic feet; and 411,328 total feet drilled.

Chinese Opposed To Red Overlords

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — The president of Wayland college says he had been told in Formosa that the people on the Chinese mainland are overwhelmingly opposed to their Red overlords.
"We were told that if the Chinese Nationalist forces land on the mainland, 80 percent of the people would join them in sabotaging the Reds," J. W. Marshall said in an address to a joint meeting of all Plainview civic clubs.
Marshall returned recently from a tour of the Far East. On Formosa he interviewed President

Despite Worries, Auto Makers Post Record Production

DETROIT — (AP) — The nation's auto makers seem always to have something to worry about, yet few suffer very seriously from stomach ulcers.

Since the end of the war they have been concerned about materials or manpower shortages, production costs or taxes. More recently they have worried about retail credit restrictions.

The record shows that in a little more than six years they have built and sold 23,000,000 cars and trucks. They have built this tremendous volume despite materials problems and labor troubles and sold them at skyrocketing prices and credit curbs.

Right now the car manufacturers are worrying about what materials controls will do to their production and employment. They already have built almost 3,000,000 vehicles this year and they are virtually certain to make 1951 the second best production and sales year in industry history.

Last year's record total output of 8,603,000 vehicles probably never again will be attained unless demand has built up by a prolonged suspension of civilian output.

Probably the manufacturer and retailer are closer to a normal operating level than they have been since the world war.

THE CALENDAR SAYS
It is time to put your ad in the want ads to rent your house or apartment. Each bright day brings more readers of classified ads seeking a place to live.

THE WINNAH-AH-OH!—Clare Lippert, of Tarentum, Pa., smiles happily after being named Miss Pennsylvania of 1952 at the state beauty contest at Harrisburg. Next month she'll compete in Atlantic City for the title of Miss America.

END OF A HAMMY PERFORMANCE—When 35 hogs broke loose at a slaughter house in Philadelphia, it took 10 policemen and a host of packing-plant workers an hour to round them up. Here, the last of the renegade porkers is hauled back to the pens as a cop in background mops his weary brow.

WOULD-BE SWEATER GIRL—Eight-year-old Marilyn Dolan, with sweater and all, tries to strike a pose like that of Pat Garner, 14-year-old Rockville Centre, L. I., beauty, who was judged winner of the fifth annual "Sweater Girl" contest at New York City's Rockaway Playland. Given eight more years, maybe little Marilyn will measure up.
