Hughes Plans 175 Houses In South Pampa

Construction on 150 houses and 25 duplexes at the southern end of Pampa by Dick Hughes will begin in a few weeks, it was learned over the weekend.

Hughes, nationally prominent Pampa builder, said survey work on the tract, to break it down into lots, streets and alleys, will begin immediately.

Hughes said his present intentions are to build 100 two-bedroom homes that will sell under $6000; another 50 two-bedroom homes that will sell between $6000 and $7000. The duplex apartments will also have two bedrooms each and are to rent for less than $50 per month. Some of the houses will have garages.

Located east of the Clarendon Hwy. and immediately north of the Letors paved cutoff between State Hwys. 70 and 273, the development will be subdivided into lots of not less than 50-foot frontages. Hughes said the depths of the lots could not be determined until after the tract is completely surveyed.

In addition to the housing planned by the Pampa builder other lots will be available to other builders in the same tract. He said building restrictions would be in effect.

Provisions are also being made (See HUGHES, Page 2)

A. J. Earp Funeral To Be Held Tuesday In White Deer

Funeral for A. J. (Jack) Earp, White Deer, who died Sunday morning in Highland General hospital, will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist church, White Deer, with Rev. M. G. Upton, former pastor and now pastor at Sunray, officiating. Rev. Upton will be assisted by Rev. M. V. Mears, present pastor, and Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the Pampa Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife, Nellie; one brother, T. J. Earp, Miami; three sisters, Mrs. Grace Sharrock, Longview, Mrs. B. E. Baines, Amarillo, and Mrs. Eunice Rappine, White Deer.

Mr. Earp was born May 25, 1897 in Rising Star. He moved 12 miles southwest of Pampa from McLean 33 years ago and lived there until his death. He was a farmer. He was a deacon in the White Deer Baptist church and had served as a choir leader. He had been ill since February, 1950, but in the hospital only a few days.

Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under the direction of Duengel, Carmichael Funeral home.

Palbearers will be Hubert Keahey, Elbert Keahey, Morley Doss, W. E. Jordan, Harvey Bates and Homer Taylor, Sr.

Child Injured In Accident

Kayleen Layne, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Layne, west of Pampa, was still being observed for internal injuries at 11 a. m. today after being struck by a car at Francis and Warren at 7 p. m. Sunday. Doctors report a punctured lung, but no broken bones.

The accident occurred just after church services were dismissed at the Francis Ave. Church of Christ.

She had spent the day with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Carter, 1187 N. Stark weather, and was crossing the street to get clothing she had left in their car.

Mrs. Carter was on the north side of Francis, and Mrs. Carter just behind the child on the south side of the street when the car struck her.

A witness reportedly shouted to the little girl to get back, but she failed to hear the warning. Her uncle turned to see the child throw up her hands as she realized the car was going to hit her. They reached her almost instantly.

Minutes before an ambulance arrived, witnesses heard the child tell her mother, "My breath is all gone, and later, 'Mama, two wheels ran over me.'"

One man who saw the accident believed the front wheel hit diagonally across the upper portion of her body, spinning her into the rear wheel which ran over the mid-section of her body.

Others who turned to see the accident were of the opinion both wheels did not pass over the child.

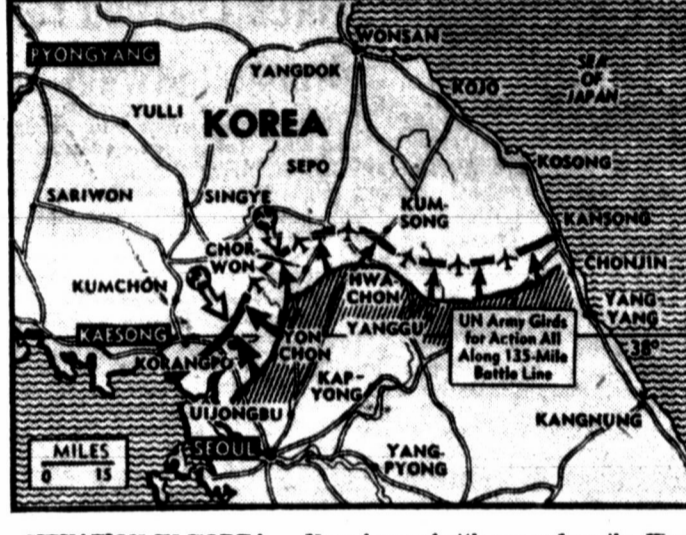

Kayleen was taken first to the Wesley hospital and moved a few minutes later to Highland General where X-rays taken showed no bones were broken.

The woman who ran over the child was in a hysterical state and driven to her home by one of the witnesses of the accident. County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, who investigated, said this morning no charges were filed on the woman, and her name was being withheld pending further investigation.

Officers said an eight-foot skid was shown in front and five feet in the rear, indicated the woman was not traveling very fast.

The Lanes' oldest son, H. A., Jr., who went to the hospital last Monday, is being treated for polio. His condition was better today, doctors said.

Kayleen started her first year in school Tuesday.

SITUATION IN KOREA—New, heavy battles raged on the Western Korean front, above Yongchoi and Korangpo, just 15 miles east of the truce conference site at Kaesong. While the U. S. Fifth Air Force kept up its constant pounding of the Red lines (4500 air strikes in one week), UN forces, all along the 138-mile battle line stood ready for any Communist assault. Allied patrols probed ahead of the lines and defenses were tightened against possible new Red blows.

Attacks 'Phoney' Offers: New Rules Issued On Down Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—New rules aimed at halting what the Federal Reserve board termed a growing tendency to make phoney "no money down" offers on household appliances were issued last night.

The board issued new regulations and other appliances under consumer credit controls. Violations may be punished by fines up to $5000 and jail sentences up to a year.

The board said the new rules do not prevent any dealer from giving "any trade-in allowances, rebates or discounts that he desires" so long as they are "not used as a cloak to conceal violations of the down payment requirements."

The board said it will consider that credit controls have been violated where one or more of these things happens:

- The dealer "in fact did not receive delivery and possession" of the article on which he made a trade-in allowance.
- The dealer applied against the required down payment a trade-in allowance on property "having a value that was nominal or negligible, or that bore no reasonable relationship" to the allowance.

There has been an "increase in the price of the article sold" to offset the amount allowed for the trade-in.

The dealer does not keep records showing the cash value allowed for trade-in, plus anything else needed to establish that it was a good-faith transaction.

Said Brought To Korea By Caucasians

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in World War II have landed behind allied lines on the east central front, it was officially reported today.

There was speculation they might have been brought to Korea by Communist Caucasian troops recently reported near the battlefield.

No allied installation was hit. Official sources refused to disclose the number of rockets that landed.

In the air war, 30 American F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 80 Russian-type MIG-15s over north-west Korea in one of history's biggest jet battles. Two Communist planes were damaged.

It was the second jet battle in two days. Sunday the Allies shot down two MIGs and damaged another. There were no allied losses in either scrap.

Army sources said tonight they have reliable but not conclusive evidence that Russian pilots have been flying some of the MIGs in battles against the United Nations.

Since rockets, it is possible those which landed on the east central front were fired accidentally. They apparently were not aimed at any specific target.

Reports indicated only a small number were fired.

Eighth army officers refused to say whether they could have been launched from a Communist plane.

Quick Okay Expected On Military Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record $41,195,256,000 military spending bill came up for action in the Senate today. No opposition was in sight, and leaders hoped for final passage by nightfall.

The giant sum, which figures out to about $400 for each man, woman and child in the country is designed to provide the United States with more of the guns, tanks, aircraft and so on which administration leaders say is the best guarantee of world peace.

Especially, the bill carries more money for planes, and it includes a directive to build up the Air Force as rapidly as possible to a strength of 95 wings.

August's Drouth, Heat Cost Texas 200,000 Bales Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Drouth and severe heat in August cost Texas about 200,000 bales of cotton, the Department of Agriculture estimated today.

The department, in its monthly appraisal of crop prospects, estimated the 1951 Texas cotton crop at 4,800,000 bales. This is 200,000 bales less than the previous estimate.

Today's figure is based on Sept. 1 conditions and this does not take into account early September heat nor scattered rains since then.

The rains generally came too late to help and in some cases they hurt the crop.

The department said Texas cotton farmers had abandoned four percent of the acreage originally planted to cotton this year, leaving 12,600,000 acres to be harvested. The condition of the crop as of Sept. 1 was estimated at 63 percent compared with a national figure of 74 percent. The yield for Texas was estimated at 183 pounds per acre, far under half a bale on an acre.

Nationally, the cotton prospect improved and a bumper cotton crop is in sharp contrast to Texas' slender crop, which was in prospect. The nation's crop was estimated at 17,291,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Oldest Miss America: Tall Beauty Didn't Expect To Win Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The 43-pound, five feet 10-inch Miss America of 1951 is a Sunday school teacher who doesn't smoke or drink.

Blue-eyed blonde Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City, Utah, didn't believe it when she was chosen queen over 50 other contestants to climax this year's city's five-day annual beauty pageant Saturday night.

"I thought I was too darned tall," the statuette beauty said in a poised cultured voice that reflects her dramatics training.

At 25, she is the oldest to wear the crown and matches the record height of Miss America of 1945, Bess Myerson of New York City. Colleen is the first blonde to win the title in 13 years.

She is not bothered by the pageant rule that she can't smoke or drink. (See BEAUTY, Page 2)

Three Persons Die In Flaming Crash Of Small Plane

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Three persons, two men and a woman, died a flaming death Sunday when their plane crashed into a forest ranger tower in the woods 25 miles northwest of Duluth.

The plane apparently had been lost for several hours in a dense fog which limited visibility in the area to 250 feet.

The victims were tentatively identified by authorities as: John P. Connelly, 30, manager of the Dayton, O. Municipal airport and a 1944 graduate of the University of Cincinnati; his wife, Janet, about 25, and Henry C. Mackall, Jr., about 25, assistant manager of the Dayton airport.

The Dayton Journal Herald said the three left Dayton for International Falls, Minn., Aug. 31 in Mackall's Piper Pacer plane, the type involved in the crash, and took off on the return trip Sunday morning.

Believe Bones Remains Of Missing Man

ALPINE (AP)—Texas Ranger Arthur Hill said two pieces of human backbone have been found near the abandoned car of the long-missing Dr. Robert H. North.

Hill said one piece of backbone was about two feet long, another about a foot.

The Monahan's osteopath's automobile was found Tuesday in an arroyo in the most rugged section of the Big Bend National park.

North and his boxer dog disappeared in the park June 6, 1947. A widespread search failed to find any trace.

A flying forest ranger sighted the car, obscured by brush. The spot was 22 miles from the basin headquarters where North was last seen.

Hill said the skull of a dog was also found near the car and a pair of pants with the laundry mark "North."

Mrs. North looked at the trousers Sunday and said, "there's his name!"

Sheriff Jim Skinner found portions of a blanket buried in the sand a half-mile down the arroyo.

Temperature Drops To 54

Blankets and quilts came out of storage last night. Here's why: the mercury which has been hovering around 100 degrees, dipped to 54 degrees at about 8:30 a. m.

June 11 was the last time the weather has been this cool in Pampa. On June 2, the temperature was 44 degrees.

The high yesterday in Pampa was 83 degrees.

Heaviest rains in more than two months fell in some North and Central Texas areas this morning, according to Associated Press, as the cool front pushed its way southward. Temperature in Austin early today was 68 degrees and a high reading of 87 was expected later.

Forecast in West Texas was for cloudy skies and continued cool weather.

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Texas' newest congressman, Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls, says he will seek reelection next year to the seat he won in a special election.

Bullets From Plane Rip Through Homes

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Set off by a short circuit, 1575 rounds of .50 caliber machine gun bullets were sprayed into an exclusive North Long Beach residential area yesterday by an anchored Air Force fighter plane.

Twenty-five homes were struck by the bullets. There were no casualties.

Sam McGill, owner of one of the damaged homes, said he counted 18 slugs in his house. "I thought the Russians were here," he exclaimed.

The armor-piercing incendiary bullets were fired from an F-51 Mustang fighter plane of the 188th Fighter squadron, a unit on constant emergency alert. The plane was at its base at the Long Beach Municipal airport. It was undergoing a routine check.

The trajectory of the bullets carried them over thousands of homes between the airport and the Virginia Country club. In this area, which is on ground considerably higher than the airport, the bullets came hurtling into homes, garages and automobiles. They sheared off branches of some trees and frightened scores of persons from their beds at 5:45 a. m.

A bullet whizzed through the nursery in the Ralph Kemmerer home but missed the two Kemmerer children, Phil, two, and Dawn, four. Mrs. Kemmerer said one slug showered plaster on her bed. Another sliced through the kitchen door, penetrating the steel jacket around a water heater tank.

The Virginia Country club's 17th fairway was in the direct line of fire and scores of bullets dug destructive divots. Had the bullets been discharged later in the day there might have been several casualties on the 17th fairway alone.

The Air Force issued a warning to souvenir hunters and parents of children who may have

Boy Dies After Severe Whipping

DALLAS (AP)—An unemployed furniture repairman was held today after his 4-year-old stepson died after a whipping.

Reuben Perez Aguilar, 30, told police he whipped the boy Saturday with a doubled belt two inches wide. He denied he caused the boy's death. No charge has been filed.

Bobby Lee Harrison died after police found him unconscious in the Aguilar apartment.

Detective Capt. Will Fritz said Aguilar told him he whipped the boy for untidiness in the apartment.

The mother was at work as a waitress.

Aguilar said he and his wife had been trying to place the child in a home for indigent children. Mrs. Aguilar is the mother of four children and expecting a fifth.

Morse is co-sponsor of a resolution before the Senate Foreign Relations committee calling for a $50,000 inquiry into what extent foreign government lobbies may have influenced U. S. foreign policy.

Morse originally suggested an investigation of lobbies for Nationalist China, but the resolution he and Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) introduced in July was broadened to apply to the activities of all foreign lobbies.

The resolution has been on the shelf in the committee since it was offered.

Close Spacing Does Not Mean More Oil, Compact Is Told

FORT WORTH (AP)—Close spacing does not necessarily mean the recovery of more oil from a reservoir.

A report pointing out that the volume of recovery from an oil reservoir is normally less dependent on well density than on other factors was discussed by the research and co-ordinating committee at today's opening session of the Interstate Oil Compact commission's summer meeting here.

Four governors, headed by Texas' Shivers, compact chairman, were on hand Sunday.

The report on spacing was a summation of talks previously made before the committee by John G. Bartram, consulting geologist, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., Tulsa; C. W. Tomlinson, Ardmore, Okla., former president of the American Assn. of Petroleum Geologists; and J. Lewis Hdw., Ph. 1312.

Geologists and Dr. H. H. Kavel, Bartlesville, Okla., assistant manager of production, Phillips Petroleum Co.

The final report held with Bartram and Dr. Kaveler that well density is not an important factor in determining the total recovery of oil from a reservoir.

Tomlinson had taken the position that closer spacing would result in far greater recovery per acre.

The committee stated: "If the aim is securing control be that of securing the greatest ultimate recovery of oil from the reservoir as a whole, the question of locations of wells ceases to be that of density, or spacing on some geological pattern."

"Rather, well locations will be chosen to fit structural and reservoir characteristics or peculiarities, including the many possible variations in different sections of the same pool."

The Form Divine by HILDEGARDE DOLSON

THE STORY: Enrolling in the Beautiful You School to gain weight, Lucilla, a nervous girl, tells Arthur, her husband, details such as the name of the school, the $200 fee and that Derek Marlowe, an instructor, is very fascinating.

DEREK MARLOWE'S cheekbones, floating in her thoughts with the tantalizing nearness of a marriage, gave a new intensity to each exercise and beauty-choir that week. When Miss Willitt had the students practice picking up marbles with their toes, "for graceful, supple footwork," neither Lucilla nor any of the 15 New Girls had read specifically that Men Love a Woman Who Can Play Marbles with Her Feet, but the air at Beautiful-You was permeated with such knowledge. Surprisingly, it turned out that one man actually did love a woman who could play marbles with her feet. Paris reported that Harry, her boy friend, was enchanted with the new game. "We were playing for 10 cents a marble, and Harry cleaned me out. Honest, he's got toes like a gorilla."

Lucilla was still a little hazy in voice class, the last period that afternoon. Mrs. Heath Jones, wearing a dapple-gray trottier, announced to the students that a low resonant voice, vibrating with vitality, was the clue to a successful P.Q. or Personality Quotient. "Whereas a high voice" (here she demonstrated by pitching her tone to that of a frightened horse) "indicates that person is nervous and unstable, with acid emotions."

PREPARING ROAD BASE for State Hwy 70, this huge rock crushing machine was set up and ready for operation this morning. Its job is to crush and grind rock used in laying the stabilized base for the highway. The machine pictured above is reported to have a production capacity of 8000 cubic yards of crushed base rock per 16-hour day. The average crusher produces 2000 cubic yards of rock per 10-hour day. Actual production will start tomorrow after road graders have completed rebuilding sub-grades washed out by last week's rains. (New Photo)

Final Plans Being Completed For Carson County Fair

Final plans for the annual Carson County Fall festival in Panhandle, Sept. 15 are being completed, according to Cmdr. Frank Stephenson of the Panhandle Post of the American Legion.

The festival is being sponsored by the post. An early morning program will feature four classes of veterans taking agricultural training; the 4-H and FFA boys' livestock and grain exhibits will be housed in the Progress Implement Co. building; 4-H girls and Home Demonstration women will have exhibits in the Methodist church.

A street parade will be staged at 10:30 a. m. Amarillo Army Air Force base will have a color guard to head the parade. Lt. Col. M. D. Watson of the air base will deliver an address in Paul park on the north side of town. He will report on the activities of the air base and on the Korean situation.

A barbecue luncheon will be held in the VFW hall with homemade pies for sale. Other attractions will be the kid-pony races at the Scout Hut and the park, a softball game and a dance in VFW hall with Howard Harvey and his band furnishing music.

Cub Scout Parents To Meet Tuesday

A conference with parents of Cub Scouts, and parents of boys wanting to be Cub Scouts, will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the First Christian church, Cubmaster Garvin Elkins announced this morning.

Elkins described the meeting of parents of boys in Cub Pack 4, sponsored by the First Christian church, as being an important session and asked all parents with boys in the pack, and parents of boys wanting to join the pack, to attend the meeting.

Nine Permits For Building Issued In Pampa For Week

In Pampa last week, nine building permits were issued totaling $22,530. Louis McJenkins, 89 W. Gray, was given a permit to build a three-room residence valued at $500.

H. E. Kennedy, 527 S. Barnes, and White House Properties were issued permits to build new residences valued at $6000 and $2000, respectively.

Permits granted for remodeling include: H. E. Crocker, 319 Furlong, $5000; Rex L. Jones, 712 Naida, $300; Joe Mihalaki, 736 Christy, $1500; H. L. McCaughy, 637 N. Sumner, $100; and R. F. McCallip, 408 S. Stark-weather, $200. A permit valued at $140 for moving in at 527 Elm was also issued.

Texas construction recovered somewhat last week from its prolonged slump, according to the Associated Press.

The Texas Contractor, trade publication, reported construction awards for the week totaled $17,959,600, nearly twice the previous week's awards of $9,389,060.

Three Charged For Drunken Driving

Three men were in county court today on charges of drunken driving.

One man, James C. Hein, 40, of Shattuck, Okla., who was involved in an accident at 11:45 p. m. Saturday, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and a fine assessed at $100 and costs.

Highway patrolmen from the Pampa sub-station reported that Hein was driving on the wrong side of the highway, meeting head-on a car driven by Thurman Weathered, a Texas Tech student. Weathered pulled off the highway and the Hein car crashed into the left rear fender of the Weathered car, patrolmen said.

The accident happened four-tenths of a mile west of here. There were no injuries.

Two other men, arrested by city police over the week end, were in court on drunken driving charges at press time.

(Continued from Page One) and above the amounts which President Truman sought and which the House voted—a special fund of $5,000,000,000 for Navy and Air Force aviation.

Also in the bill is an unspecified amount to be spent on new weapons which the President has called "fantastic" and which various senators have termed "stupendous," "startling," "amazing" and "beyond imagination."

The nature of these weapons is a carefully guarded secret, but senators have said they are not atomic and are not guided missiles.

Senator O'Mahoney (D - Wyo.), floor manager for the big money bill, said "the real issue" is an expansion of U.S. air power until this country can demand that Soviet Russia decide between real peace and war.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), a member of the appropriations subcommittee which handled the bill, put it this way: "There is no use to speed up development of such things as atomic weapons and not at the same time develop an Air Force to carry them. That would be like having a wagon without a horse."

Just put them down anywhere, Mr. Wump... until we can find time to forget them.

Clerk Gulps Clams, Wins Championship

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Gulping down 100 raw clams in 20 minutes won Postal Clerk John J. Staines a champion's title yesterday.

He out-swallowed "Iray" Weintraub, a 200-pound jitney driver who had been champ clam-eater for the past seven years in the contest sponsored by the city.

Weintraub, who could take only 145 clams in 20 minutes, said he had no excuses. "I just can't eat as much as that guy,"

Extension Made In Enlistments

Voluntary enlistments in the Army and Air Force have been extended until Nov. 30 for men who have received pre-induction physicals, according to M. Sgt. Davis A. Brown, Pampa recruiter.

Sgt. Brown said the extension was granted in order to put the large group of men subject to draft call on an equal footing with students and others who are allowed to enlist in the branch of service they choose after they have received physicals through Selective Service.

Three Cars Involved In Week-End Accident

Three cars were involved in a week-end accident on W. Kingsmill, causing slight damage.

Ella Thomas Bryant, Pampa, was pulling out of a parked position around a pickup owned by John Hennig, when Annie Mae Woodward, 514 N. Cook, passed going east on Kingsmill.

Mrs. Woodward's car knocked the Bryant car into the pickup, police said.

There were no injuries and damages were estimated at $50.

Pampa Minister Is Representative At Layman's Congress

C. Herbert Lowe, pastor of the Pampa Seventh-day Adventist church, was one of the 2400 official delegates to the first Layman's Congress ever held by Adventists for all of the United States and Canada.

The convention, with attendance reaching as high as 10,000 at weekend meetings, was held on the permanent camp ground of the Adventists' Michigan conference near Lansing, Aug. 29 to Sept. 1.

During the intensive four-day program delegates met fellow members from such far away places as Newfoundland, Alaska and Hawaii. Layman representing all occupational groups marched in the procession which opened the congress.

In his opening address, Theodore L. Oswald of Washington, D. C., director of the church's international home missions department, declared "Christians need not look beyond their own neighborhood for a call to service." Eight million people in North America are without church affiliation, he said.

William H. Branson, Adventist world president, said that today "the world is lost without the gospel of Christ. Now is the time for Christian laymen by the thousands to arise and follow Christ's example of feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting the sick and giving spiritual help."

In workshops and demonstration groups, laymen received instruction in methods to prepare them to lead Bible study groups, do welfare work and hold public services.

At a special commission service, delegates who had proved their success as lay workers received emblems carrying the figure "120," symbolic of the early Christian believers.

Lowe has just located in Pampa, succeeding Edward Koenig who served the local church as well as the Adventist churches of Borger and Wellington for a number of years. Elder Lowe comes to the district with a wide background of travel experience, having served the denomination for 11 years as a publishing department secretary.

The basic need of the world is spirituality. The issue between free people and Communism is not economic; — the issue is the preservation of the freedom of man as a living soul.

Margaret Hudson, William Johnson Say Wedding Vows

CANADIAN (Special) — In a simple double-ring ceremony held in the main church in Austin, Aug. 20, Miss Margaret Anne Hudson became the bride of William Franklin Johnson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Seymour Hudson of Austin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. W. B. Johnson and the late Mr. Johnson of Canadian.

Rev. Gray M. Blandy read the exchange of vows, with a small group of relatives and close friends witnessing the ceremony.

For her wedding Mrs. Johnson chose a navy woolen suit with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Hudson wore navy shantung with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Johnson wore a costume of beige shantung accented with black accessories and wore red roses.

About 60 guests attended a wedding reception held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson took a short wedding trip to Kerrville, Texas, and are at home at 2205 Northland Drive, Austin.

Mrs. Johnson attended the University of Texas, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She is employed with the Texas Highway Dept.

Mr. Johnson is attending the University of Texas, where he is a senior majoring in business administration.

Pat Walls Named To Head La Rosa

La Rosa Sorority elected Pat Walls president at a meeting in the home of Juanita Cox. Other newly elected officers are Doris Ann King, vice president; Lattitia Holman, secretary; Iris Stockton, treasurer and Elsie Housdon, reporter.

Plans were made for a week of pledging, to begin Sept. 10. Refreshments were served to Doris King, Pat Walls, Rosemary Sheehan, Iris Stockton, Lattitia Holman, Elsie Housdon and Juanita Cox.

La Rosa members entertained a group of rushees at a wieners roast and "come as you are" breakfast at the homes of Iris Stockton, 618 West, and Pat Walls, 1348 Garland.

Rushees present were Joan Rogers, Sue Boxan, Margie Holburn, Jean Green, Ginger Crocker, Connie Jo Kelly, Cequia Collins, Doris Jean Qualls, Peggy Lorgan, Ernestine Edwards, Barbara Edwards, Betty Simonton and Marilyn Frazer.

Members present were Elsie Housdon, Pat Walls, Doris Ann King, Lattitia Holman, Juanita Cox, Iris Stockton, Rosemary Sheehan, Mary Windsor and the sponsor, Mrs. Ola Isbell.

Fair To Give Five Prizes For Women

SHAMROCK (Special) — Five prizes will be awarded in each of the women's events at the State Line Free fair. Miss Jo Wylie, in charge, reports.

Prizes are: first, $10; second, $7.50; third, $5; fourth, $3; and fifth, $2.

Divisions in which women will compete include: vegetables, fruits, preserves and jellies, pickles, home-made soap, honey, textile furnishings, clothing and accessories, arts and crafts and hobbies.

Canned goods should be in standard quart or pint jars.

Other contests include a yeast bread baking contest for Wheeler County 4-H girls, a sewing contest for Collingsworth county girls.

Two Girls Honored At Farewell Party

A farewell party given recently honored Barbara and Sue Robertson, and gifts were also presented to the honorees.

Refreshments were served. Those attending were the guests of honor and Jimmy Basco, Elbert, Jr., and Shirley Daugherty, Erma Dean, Finis, Rayford and Irene Marchman, Eugene and Gerald Betty, Bobby Becker, Jerry and Sammy Jordan, Billy Simms, John Holt, Mary Ann Vreepak, Pat Woddliff and Betty Hollinworth.

Hostesses were Betty Hollinworth, Shirley Daugherty and Erma Dean Marchman.

Veteran Says He's Penniless

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — San Francisco area military and naval hospitals are searching today for records in the case of an armless Korea veteran who claims he is destitute because of Red Cross and government red tape.

Michael J. Ropczycki claims he was shunted from Bay area military hospitals and that his application for a disability pension, filed with the Red Cross, was never sent through.

Both Red Cross and military officials deny Ropczycki, who lost both arms in a mortar shell blast, got the runaround.

The 20-year-old ex-private first class sought out newsmen Saturday and said he and his wife, Patsy, 19, can't pay their rent and are faced with eviction. He said they expect utility bills are piling up and he has had to borrow money. He has also lost his temporary job.

Sunday job offers and gifts of money and groceries began coming in from sympathetic citizens.

The Red Cross says Ropczycki's application was forwarded. Both an Army and a Navy hospital in the San Francisco area promised a full investigation of the case. Their records are normally locked up over the week end.

Reds Want Iran's Oil

LONDON — (AP) — Tehran radio has a report that Communist Czechoslovakia has offered to buy 700,000 tons of oil immediately from Iran's nationalized British fields.

"The Czechoslovak government proposes to buy even larger quantities later and will undertake to transport the oil from Iranian ports," said the broadcast heard here by the teleradio monitor service.

Britain and Iran are still deadlocked over the question of how the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. will be split up into Iranian and what part British oil experts will play in running the nationalized enterprise.

The oil firm, 51 percent owned by the British government, warned last week it will take legal action against any brokers or tanker operators who try to deal meanwhile with Iran direct.

The British still hold the big refinery at Abadan, the only place in Iran where the petroleum from the rich concessions can be processed.

Millionth American Is Killed In Korea

NEW YORK — (AP) — The 1,000,000th American to die fighting for his country fell on the Korean battlefield this week.

His identity is unknown. He is "G.I.X."

He was one of the soldiers killed on Labor Day or the following day, Sept. 4 the Association of Casualty and Surety companies said Saturday.

But just which one cannot be determined because the exact order of their deaths is unavailable.

But of this much the association was certain: since the first minute man fell in the battle of Lexington on April 19, 1775, the number of American military deaths now has crossed the 1,000,000 mark.

Spearmint has been known since Biblical times.

Co-Ed Wins Ear Of Bull

JUAREZ, Mexico — (AP) — The ear of the bull she killed. That's what Patricia McCormick got for courage in the bull ring.

Patricia, blonde, pretty, shapely, 22 and from Midland, stood in the Plaza de Toros Sunday with her cape.

With grace and precision she started off on the intricate passage to taunt the bull. But soon she became mired in the very intricacies of the passes.

And she stood too close to the bull — so close that the huge beast lifted her on its horns and threw her at its feet. She was trampled, but she got up to start again.

The crowd shouted and yelled until it was near-hysterical.

"Get that girl out of there," one woman yelled.

But Patricia came back with the sword to kill the bull. On her first try she missed completely. Her second thrust was far back, but finally the bull staggered and toppled. Patricia stood in the ring, her slacks and blouse smeared with the blood of the bull.

The crowd went wild. Tolerant judges awarded her one ear of the bull. It's usually given for unusually excellent performance.

Patricia left the ring quickly and went off to celebrate at a banquet given by her friends. She's a co-ed at Texas Western college here. She grew up wanting to be a bullfighter. She had

Roberts Says Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy A. Roberts, president of the Kansas City Star, thinks Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower might be persuaded to run for the presidency in 1952, and he doubts that President Truman will run again.

Roberts expressed these views Sunday in a radio discussion in which he also came up with an answer for the question: Is Eisenhower a Republican or a Democrat?

"He's 'a good Kansas Republican, like all his forebears,'" Roberts said. His authority for that, he explained, was Eisenhower, himself — "he told me so."

Roberts emphasized that he was not speaking for the general, nor for Mr. Truman, when he said Eisenhower would accept "an honest to goodness draft for the presidency," and that he doesn't believe the President "is a cinch to run" for reelection.

Discussing the 1952 presidential possibilities with Roberts was Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer.

Daniels predicted that his intimate friend, Mr. Truman, will run for reelection — with the solid support of southern Democrats.

Roberts predicted the President would step aside to make way for Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson as the Democratic candidate. Eisenhower, he said, could win on either the Republican or Democratic ticket.

Insurance Women Plan Borger Picnic

Insurance Women of Pampa-Borger officers held a dinner meeting in Pampa to plan the September meeting, which will be held in Huber Park in Borger on Sept. 11. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Officers present were Mrs. Grace Klein, president; Mrs. M. P. Downs, first vice president; Mrs. H. W. Waters, second vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Haas, treasurer; Mrs. Maynard Johnson, secretary, and Miss Geneva Covalt, reporter.

Mrs. Grace Klein and Mrs. Ginger Young were appointed as delegates to the state convention of insurance women, to be held Oct. 26 and 27 in Dallas. Convention headquarters were the Hotel Adolphus. Alternate delegates appointed were Mrs. M. P. Downs and Mrs. Myrtle Haas.

The group will have as guests at the Sept. 11 meeting the Borger Association of Insurance Agents, the Pampa Insurance Exchange and the Insurance Women of Amarillo.

COME AND GET IT — Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club relaxed and "stuffed themselves" at a district picnic in the city park yesterday afternoon. B&PW members were present from Amarillo, Borger, Dumas, Panhandle, Miami, Plainview, Childress and Pampa.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"Do you approve of a mature woman wearing wide, so-called bouffant evening skirts for evening wear?" — Mrs. L.

The silhouette must be studied before choosing any style. The straight-line is more sophisticated and more becoming to most mature women. The bouffant skirt is better left to the young and slender.

"I have long lashes but I can't wear mascara or eyeshadow because of an allergy. Is there any way to glamorize my eyes?" — M. K. M.

You should groom your eyebrows and eyelashes to perfection. Good grooming should be the hallmark of the mature woman. Train the eyelashes into a nice upward sweep by using an eyelash curler. You might be able to use a little eye cream to give them a nice sheen.

"Is it going to be necessary for us, the After Forty crowd, to have a completely new hairdo this fall?" — L. T.

It isn't necessary ever to wear a new style just because "they say" that you should. But to comour your hair in a version of what ever style is new keeps you young and shows a flexible attitude. You can always follow fashion to a degree but don't wear any style in hair, hats or clothes unless you like it and feel happy in wearing it.

"I have a print dress for afternoon wear. I have white hair and brown eyes. The dress has pink, blue and green, with a little fuchsia in a small design. How should I accessorize it? The background is black." — Mrs. Susan E.

Play up the most striking color, which is fuchsia. Wear a black hat, shoes and bag. Tone your make up, jewelry and gloves to the fuchsia. It's attention to all of these little color details that gives you that very smartly turned out look.

Lefors Group Opens Club Year Activities

The Lefors Junior Art and Civic club opened the club year with a buffet supper Tuesday in the home of Retha Jordan.

Following supper a business meeting was held to present the activities for the coming year. Thirteen of the 15 members were present. They were Lena Cain, Gloria Casey, Francis Clemmons, Colleen Dunn, LaVaughn Fillman, Billie Gatlin, Carolyn Hughes, Peggy Johnson, Retha Jordan, Vera McDonald, Barbara Ross, Betty Seals and Martha Sublett.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 7:30 in the home of Lena Cain. The subject for discussion will be "Parliamentary Law."

Announcement Brunch Given To Compliment Miss Reneatha Little

CANADIAN — (Special) — An announcement brunch was given in the home of Miss Reneatha Little Wednesday morning honoring Miss Betty Varnell, bride-elect of Jimmy Belk.

A gold wedding band tied with turquoise ribbon was pinned on each guest as she arrived, and the bride's chosen colors of turquoise and gold were carried out in the party appointments.

Centering the serving table was an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums upon a reflector laden with rice. An impetec cloth of white embroidered lines covered the table.

The breakfast was served buffet style, and the napkins revealed the date of the wedding, Oct. 25.

The guest list included Misses Nan Matthews, Alice Rutherford, Minnie Beth Jomer, Selma Peterson and Mmes. Ruth Beightel, Betty Farnsworth, Pat McDaniel, Taft Holloway, R. N. Matthews, Paul Bryant, B. M. Bryant, Everett Couth, Frank Cook, and the mothers of the honoree and hostess, Mrs. W. P. Varnell, and Mrs. Ed Little.

Find Lightning Hard On Radio, Telephone

SHAMROCK (Special) — Last week Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nunn, 208 West 10th, found out what lightning can do to radios and telephones.

A flash smashed through the roof, leaving four holes. The mighty electric current then surged into the telephone and radio, wrecking both, leaving holes in the wall behind each. A wall plug was damaged behind the radio.

Mrs. Nunn and a five-year old son received minor shocks.

PACKARD THUNDERBOLT POWER

means Performance plus...maintenance minus!

There are many things to look for, in a power plant, and the most important of all is... the name of its maker.

Packard is known throughout all the world as "America's Master Motor Builders"... and today's Packard Thunderbolt engines offer you the best all-around combination of silent smoothness... efficiency... and service-free durability.

Specifically, they give you the peak efficiency of America's highest precision engines — and the service-free simplicity of a design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power.

And durability? Fact: Of all the Packards built, in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in service... and many of them have rolled up individual records of over a half million miles.

In Packard's case, that stands for the company with the broadest range of power-building experience of any single automobile manufacturer.

Help Offered For Eliminating Drips

DAMPNESS IS CAUSED BY WARM AIR RISING FROM DOWNSTAIRS

HAVE INSULATION BLOWN BETWEEN INNER AND OUTER WALLS

INSULATE CRAWL SPACE UNDER FLOOR

TACK INSULATION BETWEEN FLOOR BEAMS

USE A STAPLING GUN

USE A MOISTURE TRAP TO PREVENT DRIPPING ON THE FLOOR, UNDER FLUSH TANK

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Condensation keeps dripping in to Mr. Fix's problem department no matter what the season.

For instance, there's one reader who has a two-room apartment on the third floor made-over attic of a brick house. The walls sweat so badly that every winter they get moldy, and she wants to know why.

Moisture in the attic (assuming the roof doesn't leak) is usually a combination of lack of ventilation and lack of insulation. The warm air rises from the downstairs, tangles with the cold roof boards, and condensation results. The effect is a lot worse if the house is insulated beneath the attic floor.

Of course, if you're living in the attic, ventilation isn't going to be the answer. Probably when it was remodeled in this case, no insulation was used. Insulation, forced between the inner and outer walls and between the rafters, will do the sweating.

Another householder gets cold feet in her kitchen every winter because there's no cellar underneath it. She wants to know how to insulate the crawl space below the kitchen now while the fall fix-it urge and weather make it possible.

Step number one is to tack batt-type insulating material in the spaces between the floor beams — from underneath, of course. Since you'll have to lie on your back for this job, use the kind of stapling gun that opens up for hammering instead of the usual hammer and nails.

Now level off the ground in the crawl space to provide good drainage, and cover it with rolled roofing paper overlapped five inches at each joint. That will keep ground moisture from rising.

And there's another reader who has trouble with condensation beneath the flush bowl in an upstairs bathroom on days of high humidity, which causes a wet spot on the dining room ceiling. A plumber checked the pipes and found no leaks, so he packed the space beneath the toilet with sawdust. It didn't do any good.

That sounds like a simple problem of warm, humid air condensing when it hits the outside of the flush tank after it's just been filled with cold water. We've had this happen in summer cottages where the water was exceptionally cold. The sweat drips off the side of the tank onto the floor, and makes quite a pool.

You can solve this by going to your hardware store or mail order house and getting a moisture trap, which clamps underneath the tank and drains into the bowl. In this case, the spot on the ceiling also suggests it might be a good idea to waterproof the bathroom floor — or, if it's already tile or linoleum, to caulk the joints around the edge of the flush bowl so water can't seep through.

Preswood Now Substituted For Metal In Traffic Signs

"A 50 percent saving in the purchase of materials for traffic parking and control signs and markers will result this year because of the use of masonite, instead of steel, for such purposes," says a recent article in the Wilkes Barre, Pa., Independent.

The story quotes Mayor Luther M. Kniffen to the effect that test signs of the masonite tempered preswood withstood weather and traffic bumps as well as metal signs.

An increasing number of cities, state highway systems and other governmental units are turning to hard pressed wood for reasons of lower initial cost, better and longer legibility of lettering, lower maintenance and replacement expense.

Among the cities which have been using this material in their traffic signs successfully is Houston, which gradually is replacing all metal signs. Silk-screened lettering weathers well and the signs remain clean, bright and legible longer than their predecessors. Practice has shown it to be cheaper to replace a few masonite signs broken by abuse than to renew the old type metal.

The New Jersey State Highway Dept. for a number of years has used this material for its "temporary" traffic signs—which because of their long life have become quite permanent. Thousands of them are in use along high-speed turnpikes, in congested areas, at junction approaches and at rotaries.

Vandalism in outlying areas has vexed traffic authorities for years. The Ohio Highway Dept. has found it cheaper to make rural traffic signs of masonite quarter-inch tempered preswood than to use metal, having learned that a shotgun blast will completely ruin a metal sign just as quickly as a sign of hard pressed wood.

Chicago is a large user of masonite for traffic signs such as those stating "No Parking," "No Left Turn" and "Stop." These signs last for years, it was reported, and are readily reworked.

Trend Spotlights Natural Loveliness Of Oak Floors

CHICAGO — Display of more oak floor area, a fast-growing trend in modern home decoration, has advantages which one would do well to consider when planning a home, according to Elizabeth Whitney, noted interior decorator.

"By exposing greater areas of her oak floors," Miss Whitney said in a recent interview, "the homemaker achieves three important results: First, she poses the natural beauty of the hardwood to work in adding attractiveness to her rooms; second, she makes a larger portion of the home subject to quick, easy cleaning; third, she saves on the cost of floor covering."

The choice of oak is a sound one for several reasons, said Miss Whitney.

"First of all," she explained, "it possesses two qualities which are indispensable from a decorative point of view. These qualities are beauty and style adaptability. This combination makes oak correct for any type of home, any style or color of decorative plan, any choice of furnishings."

"The homemaker, no less than the professional interior decorator, can select from different types of oak flooring, one of which may have greater appeal to the individual than another. In any of its three basic styles, strip, plank and parquet, the wood lends charm and dignity to a room."

" upkeep, of course, is another major consideration. One of the big advantages of oak floors is their ease of maintenance. They can be kept clean and gleaming with just a moderate amount of care. And even if neglected for years, they can be sanded and refinished like new.

"Durability and economy cannot be overlooked, either, in selecting a flooring material. On these counts, oak rates exceptionally high. One of the hardest and strongest of hardwoods, it can withstand the weight of heavy furniture without marring. It can take a great deal of traffic punishment without showing signs of wear."

"As a rule, oak floors last the life of a house. Since there generally is no major repair or replacement cost and very little expense for routine maintenance, they are truly economical in the long run."

Oak has long been the favored flooring material among American home owners, but in the past many did not capitalize fully on its functional and decorative potentialities. With more and more homemakers doing so by emphasizing floor exposure, oak has gained greater popularity than ever.

Reports of the oak flooring industry show, for example, that more oak flooring is being used today in relation to new dwelling units than was the case during the building boom of the 1920s when houses were much larger.

Oak, Product Of Nature, Remains

American home buyers, in selecting flooring for their homes, evidently act on the theory that Mother Nature knows best.

While man-made materials are being employed for various features of home construction, a product of nature is extending its leadership as the No. 1 choice for residential flooring.

Figures released by the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Assn. reveal the popularity of hardwood flooring still is rising after the record output of over one billion board feet in 1950.

Despite the fact that home building in the first half of this year was down about 25 percent from the first six months of 1950, shipments of hardwood flooring in the nation's major producing areas hit an all-time high for the period. They totaled more than 498 million board feet, one percent above the 1950 record. About 95 percent of this output consisted of oak.

An analysis of industry figures shows that use of hardwood flooring in homes is far more extensive today than two or three decades ago, even though the material was then the preferred residential flooring.

Not only is the total volume much greater, but also the ratio of use in terms of dwelling units constructed. This is particularly significant in view of the smaller size of homes today. The average new house now has less than half the floor space of its counterpart in the 1920s.

Accident Victim Is Out Of Hospital

Arthur Wilson, who was injured Thursday night in an automobile accident near Skellytown, was released Saturday from Highland General Hospital.

His traveling companion, Edgar Pavonio, was given first aid following the accident and released immediately.

Another man, Thomas Martin, was injured Thursday night when he stepped into the path of a pick-up truck.

Saturday his condition was reported "fair." He is said to be suffering from shock, multiple fractures and minor lacerations.

Work Starts On New Fire Station

McLEAN — Site of the city's new fire station was marked off last week preparatory to foundation and concrete flooring work.

The new station will be located on N. First and Rowe, facing N. First.

The pumice-block building will be 40 by 44 feet when completed. It will house the three fire trucks and a meeting room for firemen as well as a storage room for fire fighting equipment, Mayor Ed Lander said. The old fire station will be used to house other city property.

By LONORE KENT
WASHINGTON, D. C.—There's an intriguing guessing game played on TV that's called, "What's My Line?" As you probably know, it's manned by a panel of skillful questioners who strive to determine an unknown individual's line of work by firing well-considered questions at him.

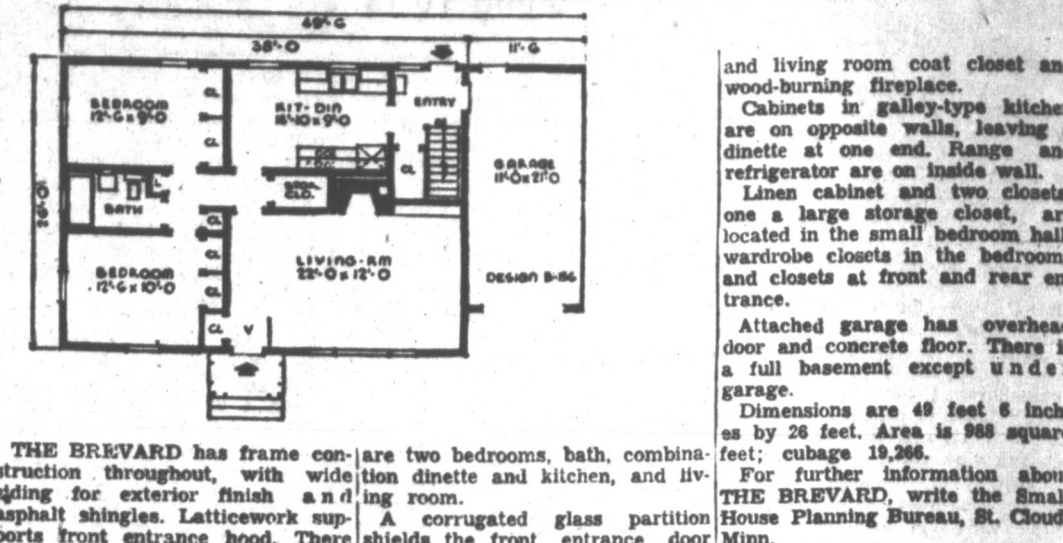

If the panel ever tried questioning an astute group of home owners, the answer would be easy to find. They could all be rightly tagged "House Detectives!" They're not the keyhole peeping variety, of course, but keen-eyed sleuths who stand constructive vigil over their houses.

In this way they maintain wise stewardship over the important investment the structure represents and they keep their homes in excellent condition, thus forestalling expensive repairs.

When a doctor feels his patient's pulse to help detect his condition, wise home owners know where to check on the welfare of their dwellings. Certain sections of a house are more vulnerable to the attacks of destructive moisture than others. In these areas rot and disintegration are most likely to begin. These danger spots are mainly the framework of windows, bases of porch pillars, porch steps, under-eave areas, downspouts and siding that comes too close to the ground. If there are signs of peeling paint in these sections, it's a warning that moisture has gained entrance. To prevent further damage, it's the greatest wisdom to have the source of the moisture invasion checked by your painter, then to have the necessary repair work done and a new protective coat of paint applied.

We used to figure that moisture attacked man-made structures merely from the outside. Now we know that we must beware of moisture seeping in from inside our homes, as well. New, tight methods of construction prevent the escape of moisture pressure . . . pressure that stems from such sources as the steaming tea kettle, the laundry and the shower bath. This moisture can invade and damage the inner walls of a home unless they are amply protected against it.

Such protection can consist of moisture vapor barriers, installed when a house is built. Such protection can also take the form of smooth, moisture-repellent paint coatings on the walls, ceilings and wood surfaces of a room. All cracks and crevices should, of course, be sealed before the paint is applied.

THE BREVARD has frame construction throughout, with wide siding for exterior finish and asphalt shingles. Lattice-work supports front entrance hood. There are two bedrooms, bath, combination dinette and kitchen, and living room.

A corrugated glass partition shields the front entrance door.

and living room coat closet and wood-burning fireplace. Cabinets in galley-type kitchen are on opposite walls, leaving a dinette at one end. Range and refrigerator are on inside wall. Linen cabinet and two closets, one a large storage closet, are located in the small bedroom hall, wardrobe closets in the bedrooms and closets at front and rear entrance.

Attached garage has overhead door and concrete floor. There is a full basement except under garage.

Dimensions are 40 feet 6 inches by 26 feet. Area is 988 square feet; cubage 19,266.

For further information about THE BREVARD, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Carrying Case Is Able To 'Take It'

Recognizing the fact that portable movie projectors are often carried into all sorts of climates and that they must withstand the hard knocks incident to travel, the manufacturer of one such machine has devised a special carrying case that is able to "take it."

Built of birch and basswood, high frequency radio waves are used to set the adhesive that binds the panels so they can never pull apart. The case is then dipped in a synthetic resin sealer that checks decay and minimizes moisture absorption. It is then primed, sanded, and painted with a spatter finish. Allowed to cure for three weeks, the finish is hard and durable. Even after years of intensive service, it does not become brittle or chip away from the wood.

EYE-PLEASING KITCHEN
An inviting kitchen with a corner picture window combines powder blue with copper and knotty pine. The blue - enameled walls and cabinets set off the gleaming whiteness of the kitchen equipment. Copper pots and kitchen molds which hang on the wall above the stove supply beauty as well as utility. One wall section is paneled in pine.

It Pays To INSULATE...

"The insulation batts that this owner is so easily laying in between the joists of his attic floor will save him $40 in fuel costs this winter! That means that the insulation will pay for itself in a few seasons — he'll be money ahead from then on! Insulation makes your home cooler in summer, too, and adds to the resale value!"

Fuel prices are bound to advance — that's one big reason for insulating now. Insulation itself may get scarcer under war conditions — go up in price — that's reason number two. We sell insulation of all kinds: rock wool, balsam wool, metal oil, wall-board. It comes in batts, bulk, sections or rolls — easy to install by the owner or any qualified workman.

Storm Windows and Doors

"Cold winter ahead! And fuel may be more expensive, too, if the last war is any example. So good, draft-proof storm windows and doors are a real 'must' — especially if, at some future time, fuel is rationed. Rationing or not, it's common sense to have a home less costly to heat. Why not let us fill your storm-sash needs?"

We sell both fixed and movable storm sash, with a choice of several kinds of bracket attachments. We make them ourselves to your order — or we will supply the needed lumber to you or your contractor. Our storm windows are built to last for years; we use finest seasoned lumber. We have a plentiful supply at present and we suggest that you order now while prices are still low.

Supply at 211 North Cuyler, dis. But Give Service's speak Their motto "We Sell Merchandise for itself."

With the advent of school, football games and bright fall clothes in the shop windows one begins to realize that autumn is almost here. Homemakers begin making plans for housecleaning. Such plans usually include the storing of summer items ranging all the way from Junior's swimming suit to the lawn mower. These plans, however, may overlook (but certainly should NOT) the need to put your home and garage in tip top condition for the cold days ahead.

Perhaps this has already been called to your attention by the revelation of some tiny leaks as the result of the recent rain. Those pesky small leaks and sweat points in a building are warnings of bigger things to come. No need to point out that the bigger they are the more expensive they become. How much wiser to have Des Moore, local tinsmith, make necessary repairs early! Even if you don't know of any such leaks it is a good plan at this time of year to have your property checked in order to prepare for winter.

A more obvious item needing your attention before winter is actually upon us in your home's heating system. Any necessary work on it may be adequately and efficiently handled by Des Moore. You should remember that it isn't quite so easy these days for your sheet metal man to get all of the supplies for your job. Because it may take a little time to get ready for the work, the earlier the start, the more assured you will be of a good and thorough job.

A tinsmith is highly trained in the difficult art of working various sheet-metal products into usable items for home, business, or factory. A shop such as the Des Moore Tin Shop is equipped to care for your most exacting specifications. It will pay to investigate the services Des Moore has to offer. He is an expert at guttering, roofing, skylights, air conditioning, furnace repair, tanks, gin and mill work. Whether it's new construction or repair and remodeling of old structures, Des Moore is the man to call for sheet metal work. You will find him conveniently located on Somerville just behind Sullins Plumbing.

Pampa Office Supply Able To Outfit Any Business Office

Pampa can count herself indeed fortunate to boast such a place of business as the Pampa Office Supply. This establishment, conveniently located at 211 North Cuyler, is owned by Mr. H. R. Miller and Mr. K. I. Dunn who purchased the business in June 1947. Miller is the active manager of the store which employs six people.

The Pampa Office Supply is equipped to completely outfit any office. And at Pampa Office Supply they carry only first line merchandise. This includes Shaw-Walker office and filing equipment, Royal Typewriters, National Adding Machines and Bookkeeping Machines, and Speed-Print Duplicators and Supplies. They also have Mosler Safes and vault doors for banks.

If you are planning to open an office, then Pampa Office Supply is obviously the logical place for you to purchase all of the necessary and best in equipment. On the other hand, you may already be in business. In that case it would be worth your while to remember that at Pampa Office Supply they have the most complete typewriter and adding machine repair and rebuilding service in the Panhandle.

Perhaps, however, your needs are simple and you only want a nickel birthday card. That doesn't matter. Pampa Office Supply is the place for that too! They carry Hallmark cards, the foremost name in greeting cards. Conveniently and spaciouly displayed, these beautiful cards await your selection, and at Office Supply you may take your time, make your choice with careful deliberation. All of this without some clerk impatiently standing on first one's foot and then the other and breathing down your neck the whole time.

For the bride party you will find clever tally cards and lovely paper and ribbon for wrapping gift prizes. Beautiful paper table cloths and matching napkins are also available to make entertaining delightful and easy. Your vacation snapshots deserve a place of their own and a handsome photo album from Pampa Office Supply is just the thing. They even have the gummed corners to hold your pictures in place.

Bride's Books, baby books, and scrapbooks may be had too. These and the handsomely bound Bibles are all items which would make welcome gifts for the appropriate recipient.

To help the student do a better job, Pampa Office Supply handles everything from scotch tape, pencils and paper to fountain pens, dictionaries and globes. Whether your needs are large or small, visit the Pampa Office Supply at 211 North Cuyler.

Blind Man's Bluff OK For Children ... But Too Dangerous For Adults

Yes, Blind Man's Bluff is O.K. for children... but dangerous for adults. Did you ever stop to think how many little things can happen... that will lead you right into court. Little things like a neighbor stumbling over your child's tricycle left carelessly on your front walk... or someone being "beamed" with a fly ball your boy batted out... or the dog nipping a passerby... or someone injured in a fall on icy sidewalks in the front of your home. Don't be blinded by a sense of false security. You can protect yourself very inexpensively with one of our Comprehensive Liability Policies.

The "Comprehensive Personal Liability" policy covers you against damage suits and pays any judgement up to the limits of the policy for damage to property or injury to tradesmen, neighbors, even friends, while on your property or property occupied by your family for residence purposes. It provides the same coverage for your personal acts (including sports activities) and those of your family, resulting in injuries to others while a way from home.

It also pays attorney's fees to defend claims including court costs even though there may be no judgement rendered. A policy in the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) costs only ten dollars ($10.00) a year or less than three cents a day. Yes, LESS THAN THREE CENTS A DAY. Increased amounts may be had for an additional premium. Protect your... financial future... TODAY!

Phone one-six-five or stop by Pampa Insurance Service and see Ray Salmon for complete coverage. Ray or Walden E. Moore will be glad to talk with you and to help you with any of your insurance, loan or financial problems. A Time To Be Heard

Every thoughtful American favors a defense program that will keep the U. S. free. The big defense job we need means big taxes. However, let's leave that to one side. Let's just look at the non-defense picture.

The federal non-military expenditures of our government in 1950 were $2.7 billion. Last year they were $2.8 billions. Ten times as much! Was government 10 times as useful to the people? And every dollar of taxes comes, one way or another, from the earnings of the people.

The administration has encouraged the illusion that heavy taxation will reduce the inflation. That's the natural idea for the power-hungry politicians around Mr. Truman to adopt. They get to spend the tax money, they spend all they get, and all people can explain it themselves or save it.

Can you explain why it causes inflation for you to spend a dollar you earn, but does not cause inflation if the government spends it? Can you explain why it causes inflation for you to spend a dollar you earn, but does not cause inflation if the government spends it?

Suppose you get a government job, and from your tax-paid salary buy a pound of hamburger. Is that less inflationary?

If taxes were high enough so that the government took in as much as it now spends, more inflation would result. Why? Because everyone would try to raise his wages or prices to get enough extra money to pay his taxes. The government would take home pay the same or better. More taxes are not the right answer to inflation.

The right answer is fairer taxes and less spending, among other things. No administration voice is raised for less spending. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder insisted that the people must be encouraged to be thrifty and buy bonds. He said not a word about encouraging the government to be thrifty.

The Hoover Report two years ago showed how $5.4 billion could be saved, just by improved government house-keeping. What happened. About $2 billion worth of 30¢ deficit. Such suggestions were adopted by the last Congress. This Congress has adopted just one, and the other $3.5 billion still goes down the waste apout. Senator Byrd and other authorities say that $8 billion to $10 billion can be cut out.

Plainly, the government does not have to cost $27 billions for non-military services. But it will go on costing that much and more as long as spending goes on. The money never protest are always counted in favor of spending.

How well does the administration know what it is doing? Last February President Truman said the government would need $15 billion in new taxes to pay its way this year. In April Secretary Snyder thought $10 billion would do. The House has passed a politically designed bill for $7.2 billion. A bill that will encourage inflation, reduce the incentive toward, and that is thoroughly unscientific.

The appropriations are still to come. Will the people get out their pens and pencils and tell Congress to stop throwing their money away?

A Right And A Duty

The Exchange, a magazine published by the New York Stock Exchange, recently published an article by the head of a great American service corporation in which he said, "Industry, in order to produce, depends on capital—the savings—that people are able and willing to invest as owners. Putting savings to work is essential to production, and production is essential to maintaining our freedom. The successful defense of our liberties depends on our industrial strength, and the foundation of that strength is the capital we put into it."

"So it seems to me that ownership is a creative process. If we cannot do without and that to save money and put it to work—in short, to be an owner of productive industry—may well be regarded as not only a right but also, in my opinion, as a duty."

Widespread ownership puts the spotlight on another duty, also. That is the duty of management. When people buy shares in industry, they are expressing their faith in management. Management must justify that faith. A favorite Communist-Socialist argument is that the corporations exist to exploit the many for the benefit of the wealthy few. That is an arrant and vicious nonsense. Today's typical corporation could never exist unless many thousands of people, representing almost every income group, had bought stock and so constituted a part of their savings. It is one corporation in a management. It is a bulwark against those who would destroy our liberties. Iceland has about 100 volcanoes.

Public Schools Teaching That Declaration of Independence Is False

In the last issue I attempted to show how our public schools and many of our private colleges are peddling "dope" and that they are doing infinitely more harm than the peddlers of narcotic dope. They are peddling "dope" that poisons the minds of the American youth, if the ideologies of the Declaration of Independence and the Commandments and the Golden Rule are to be used as a spiritual and moral guide of human relations.

I quoted from the textbook "American Government" by Frank Abbott, Magruder. This book is approved by the board of education in our 48 states. It is in 65% of the high schools. It is in 25 times as many high schools as its nearest competitor. Therefore books like this one have much to do with undermining and corrupting the youth of the land as far as the belief in the spirit of the Declaration of Independence is concerned.

Now, let's see how this book is undermining the ideologies on which this government was formed. The Declaration of Independence sets forth that:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed their Creator with certain unalienable Rights—that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Note that the Declaration says "to secure" these rights to "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness" governments are instituted. Liberty is a natural right that belongs to each and every individual. It is not granted by the government. Each person is born with this right to "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Now listen to what this book teaches: "The right to life in 65% of the high schools in the United States:

"The welfare and the prosperity of the community are of sufficient importance for each individual to be willing to surrender somewhat of his liberty, somewhat of his independence, to secure the desired end."

Then it says: "It is not reasonable to require all to conform to conduct which will contribute to the general welfare."

Note that the author uses the word "surrender" and "conform" and "force to conform." Note that he is advocating the exact opposite from what is the purpose of forming a government according to the Declaration of Independence—to secure these rights or to protect these rights. And one of these rights is liberty, which we are teaching the youth of the land should be surrendered to some authority.

No wonder so many individuals are coming to believe, that the Declaration of Independence is a dead letter, and that it is not the greatest code ever written for a government. It is not the spirit of the Constitution. When the youth of the land is taught by teachers who profess to be educators and by the boards of education that the government is not the first official document of the American government a dead letter.

The author of this popular textbook contends the exact opposite from what the Declaration of Independence says are to be secured by the state.

When public schools are starting to open in the time of year it is the time to examine what will be the results of this kind of indoctrination. We are seeing the results everywhere. When the youth is taught that he can do things that are immoral for an individual to do and contrary to the Declaration of Independence, it is only natural for them to believe that the government can take away from an individual more and more and more of his natural rights.

The sole purpose of government is to protect these natural rights. To advocate that the state has a moral right to take away from an individual's natural rights is to deny that there are any principles, or any natural laws or Commandments superior to the will of the majority. And the will of the majority is not a principle of law. It is only a way of arriving at a civil law. It can change from day to day or from hour to hour. Principles never change.

When an individual is required to give up his natural rights to contribute to the general welfare, the general welfare is reduced instead of promoted. It is reduced because the liberty taken from one individual cannot be transferred to another. It is inalienable and an untransferable right. To claim that people must surrender their rights to the state is to deny the fact that it is inalienable and untransferable. Jesus and Socrates and all the prophets and sages of the ages were in error.

It is a crime of crimes in the eyes of individuals must surrender part of their natural rights when defending these rights is the purpose of government as set forth in the Declaration of Independence. It might be a training for Stalin or Hitler or Mussolini, but it is the very antithesis of education for those people who believe in the Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Baxter's Views

FILTHY RAG

One of my critics, in a news story captioned, "How Dirty This Rag" wags his head and points an admonishing finger at me for having written a story that says that the United Nations emblem was a "dirty rag". He's wrong, of course, and FILTHY RAG. As far as I'm concerned that's what it is and the least that I can do with it the better off we'll be. After all, I never took any pledge of allegiance to the United Nations or its flag and I don't intend to. The whole set-up is rotten is the core and the only comfort I get is that I am not in the business of being duped and letting our internationalists run things. They will be more and more dupes of Korea, the milking dry of our own country and finally our being ignominiously corralled into a world government. The rag that flies over this delegation of internationalist streetwalkers means no more to me than a red light over any ordinary house of prostitution.

Now, what an appropriate name for the UN's big brain, Trygve LIE. The UN never has been anything but an international hysteric, sired by Alger Hiss, wheeled by Acheson and wet-nursed by LIE. It was FDR's dream child which, in his deluge, he was too feeble and impatient to generate himself, leaving that task to the young, virile Hiss, his advisor.

This Lie is a curious fellow. Ostensibly with the western bloc in its UN jockeying against the Soviet elements, Lie was himself supposed to have at one time been a member of the old Communist Party according to the late Leon Trotsky. He is undoubtedly popular with the leftists in his native Norway, according to such papers as I've looked over. Sort of a very chummy to be heading the UN, which is supposed to be fighting a war with Reds in Korea while other Reds BELONG to the UN. Of particular significance is the fact that Lie's second-in-command is Benny Cohen, who was an FDR brain trustee and who wrote much of the New Deal's socialistic legislation.

ENGLAND One of our chief "allies" in the UN is England. A news report recently carried a wirephoto of England's top man, Attlee, giving the clenched fist salute to a parade while many of us remember that the British Communist who went to Spain to fight in the Communist-Franco civil war were called the "Attlee Brigade," just as American Red volunteers in the Spanish fray were called the "Abraham Lincoln Battalion."

England has a socialist government and thus would naturally lean more toward Russia than the United States in a pinch. She has been urging us to recognize the Chinese Communist government, and let them come into the United Nations while at the same time pretending to be our ally against them in Korea. She has been urging us to trade with China and to let them come into the United Nations while at the same time pretending to be our ally against them in Korea. She has been urging us to trade with China and to let them come into the United Nations while at the same time pretending to be our ally against them in Korea.

Miss Bourke-White could be truly regarded as a poor security risk. If there were a case for her emotional outbursts and her judgment were untrustworthy. Repeatedly the point has been made in debates on the reliability of individuals that the person who associates with Communists might disclose information in a careless way. If there were surplus photographs which Life did not publish, who has custody of them? Would that person be equally tolerant of Communist fronts? How many prints were made of such shots and are they now in reliable hands? Could they have been left unguarded long enough to permit some untrustworthy person to photograph them in an art room or to make an expert eye appraisal of the content of the American aircraft? And making that the feature in Life said some of the stuff was so highly secret that even the cooks carried guns and one photograph showed a group of them with carbines, what was the idea of permitting anyone, however reliable, to make these pictures?

The value of this magazine feature to the American lay public, who would see it in barber-shops and dentists' anti-rooms, may not have been sufficient to me that anyone outside the most intimate of friends would know of it while we support them on an international WPA. It seems to me that anyone who is permitting anyone outside the most intimate of friends to know of it while we support them on an international WPA. It seems to me that anyone who is permitting anyone outside the most intimate of friends to know of it while we support them on an international WPA.

NEW YORK — So that you may better appraise the conduct of Time, Life and Fortune and the mechanics of the re-fueling device shown so plainly in the Life layouts.

In 1936, Fred S. Ferguson, the chief executive of Acme Newspictures and of the Newspaper Enterprise Assn., had an experience with Miss Bourke-White which he recalled today under a name which he would prefer to keep secret. He had hired her under an agreement which he believed to be exclusive. Her career of association with organizations which the House committee designated "fronts" was already under way, but Ferguson was not cognizant of this fact and hired her as he would have hired any other photographer to do certain jobs. She has a reputation as a good photographer and this was why he wanted her exclusively.

BOTTOM OF THE BARREL. CALCULATED COSTS: Costs for the cold war plus the little police action in Korea are mounting fast. The estimated $169 billion in the next two years for military action and related activity is now being converted to a "under study." Additional estimates put our three-year military program above the $200 billion level and for the four-year run.

Such are the costs of the "calculated risks" taken at Tehran, Yalta, Potsdam, and in Korea, and that are still being taken today, with the promise of more to come. The cost of continued risk to be paid in blood, wealth, and our heritage of freedom cannot be overestimated.

SEARCH FOR TAXES: To pay for all this indecision, the scramble for taxes has become frantic. The $7,200,000,000 increase recently voted by Congress is not enough; not unless government curtails its domestic spending in a drastic fashion. Bits chipped off here and there will not get this job done.

There will have to be sweeping reductions if our unshakable load is to be kept off the backs of the working people of this nation. More taxes are coming, but do not be fooled by the idle chatter of politicians with regard to these taxes; nor with regard to any taxes, for that matter. However the new bill is written, wherever the burden is theoretically placed, it will be designed to get the greatest amount of cash from the masses, with the least amount of squawking.

It is clear that all new taxes must come from the middle and lower income groups. Top brackets have been drained. If the entire remaining incomes were confiscated from the $7,500 bracket up (where the tax levy rises rapidly), it would yield but relatively few millions where many billions are needed. After all, there are not many in this bracket. If you are receiving more than $5,000 a year now, being taxed, you are in the top 10 percent income group!

TAX INDUSTRY: Taxes levied against industry and business are causing losses totaling millions of dollars annually, of useful plants in the United States.

WASHINGTON — Confidential figures in the files of civilian and defense agencies at Washington disclose that approximately 30,000,000 people are drawing their pay checks, directly or indirectly, from the federal treasury. As the rearmament program accelerates in 1952, the year of a presidential and congressional election, the total may skyrocket to more than 40,000,000.

This revelation is regarded as extremely significant, both economically and politically. In estimating and forecasting the Republicans' difficulty in ousting the Democrats from power in the White House and on Capitol Hill, it is the usual practice to cite the 4,000,000 voters on the government pay roll. With the rearmament program, and assuming that a majority vote for the "ins," they are supposed to account for at least 15,000,000 votes.

This is what is known to political statisticians as a "political machine." But it amounts to no more than a corporal's guard, relatively, by comparison with the electoral total which is wholly or partially dependent on Uncle Sam's checks, money orders and currency.

EXPANSIVE — With the government planning to spend from $0 to $75 billion a year for domestic projects, routine operations, national defense procurement and foreign aid, the administration will become the largest single purchaser of the products of all private industries. In some instances it will buy the total output of many plants.

Many of our key industries — steel, building, oil, utilities, railroads, etc. — would be in the red today, if it were not for federal orders. Many of our major crops would fall far below the parity figure, if Truman dollars did not sustain purchasing power. There would be unemployment in many lines, if it were not for the Marshall Plan and the Marshall rearmament program.

In fact, it is no exaggeration to suggest that Uncle Sam has become the most important player in history. We all work for him directly or indirectly. Ferguson believed this indicated a breach of contract and asked her to explain. "She said, 'Oh, the poor things, they haven't got any money, so when they asked me to make some pictures I made them for them,'" he recalled. "These were ordinary portrait heads. Anybody could make them but they got her to do them."

It is estimated, for instance, that the government will be spending about $80,000,000,000 in one way or another in 1952. It is also believed that the total national production will amount to about $320,000,000,000. Therefore, one-fourth of the working population will be making stuff for Uncle Sam.

EMPLOYER — Since the army Life justified her selection above all others. "There are plenty of photographers in Acme International News photo or the Associated Press who could have done the job just as well," he said. "Moreover, the Army and the Air Force have a lot of fine photographers themselves and are paying for them. Why couldn't they use them?"

He said Miss Bourke-White had a practice of shooting hundreds of shots of a given object or situation whereas most others would be content with two or three. This fact led back, of course, to the question of what became of the unpublished shots. But the tag-line of this discussion must be: Why did the Communist party in 1936 choose Margaret Bourke-White out of thousands of photographers in the United States to make portraits of its candidates for president and vice president, and why did she feel so kindly toward "the poor things" who were so hard up for campaign money?

VENTURE MONEY NEEDED: But this margin for expansion is not enough if we hope to improve our way of living. It is not enough for business to "plug back" its earnings for improvement or expansion of its own particular type of production. Entirely new production is needed to open new frontiers, and this kind of money is provided by individuals with a "surplus" and with imagination. Promises of gain beyond normal expectations is the incentive for this type of investment. It is sorely needed and badly lacking today.

Before we can rebuild our country, we must understand about taxes, money, and the nature of politics. We must understand the operation of private wealth and free enterprise, and the "great benefits" we all gain from such a system. We must understand the dangers of war and the necessity for meeting these dangers with courage, determination, and decisive action.

We are burdened with indefinite war, huge and mounting debt, big government, socialistic controls, "calculated risks," and indecision (except for the decision to tax and spend and spend, elect and elect). Because of these things, we are scraping the bottom of our economic barrel. Bad as all this is, we can, with understanding and courage, restore our country to a state of wealth, safety, and sanity.

There will, of course, be a price for rejection as compared with a price for continued acceptance of our present state of affairs. It is all a matter of choice; the comparative costs are not difficult to figure, but the decision will have to be made soon.

There are 20,000 known diseases, causing losses totaling millions of dollars annually, of useful plants in the United States.

Athletics Put Damper On Red Sox's Hopes; Giants Win

(By The Associated Press) It's lucky for New York and Cleveland they have so few games left to play against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Thanks to Jimmy Dykes' anti-ate A's, the American League, for the time being at least, has become a two-team battle between the front-running Yankees and the runner-up Indians.

Boston's third-place Red Sox, on the heels of the leaders, in the last few days have shattered yesterday's seventh-place Athletics.

The double defeat dropped the Red Sox five and a half games behind the Yankees and Indians. The Yankees increased their slim first-place margin to four percentage points over the Tribe by sweeping a pair from Washington, 7-5 and 2-0. Cleveland also won, 4-3, from the St. Louis Browns. The Indians have won two more games than the Yankees, but they've also lost two more.

The New York Giants kept their flickering pennant hopes alive in the National League race, defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-1, to climb back into five and a half games behind the lead.

The St. Louis Cardinals entrenched their hold on third place with a pair of triumphs over Pittsburgh, 2-1 in 10 innings, and 7-4.

Boston's Braves trounced Philadelphia's Phils twice in their battle for fourth place, 5-4 and 4-1. Chicago's Cubs emerged from the cellar, splitting a double-header with Cincinnati. The Reds won the second game, 7-0, after the Cubs had captured the opener, 7-3.

Playoffs Open Tonight For 4 Westex-Newmex Clubs

(By The Associated Press) The 12th West Texas-New Mexico League playoffs opened tonight in Abilene and Albuquerque. The pennant-winning Abilene Blue Sox take on fourth-place Lubbock at Abilene while second-place Albuquerque plays third-place Lamesa at Albuquerque.

Manager Hersh Martin of Albuquerque has nominated Don Cantrell (17-13) to open a best-of-seven series here in a stepping stone to the third straight playoff title for his Blue Sox.

Lamesa's Jay Haney will counter with Ed Arthur, a 27-game winner.

At Abilene, Hack Miller has named Fred Schmidt (22-4) to oppose Lubbock's 20-game winning Ray Faust in the series opener there.

The big question is whether Ray Faust in the series opener there.

The big question is whether Abilene can pick up where it left off after coasting to the pennant. The Blue Sox clinched the flag down a week before the campaign, ended while the other three clubs engaged in a

Quarterbacks Meet Tonight

The first meeting of the Pampa Quarterback Club for the 1951 season will be held tonight in the Cabot Auditorium on the sixth floor of the Hughes building. Meeting time is 8 o'clock.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, president of the club, has extended an invitation to anyone and everyone that desires to attend the meeting.

On hand will be the Pampa Harvest coaching staff with a rundown of the team's possibilities for this season, and more especially for the opening game with Sweetwater next Friday night.

Also, a full-length film of the Sun Bowl game of 1951 between West Texas State and Cincinnati University will be shown. Memberships for the club may be paid at the meeting tonight.

Pampa Golfers Extend Lead in PMGA To 70 Strokes

The Pampa Country club golfers extended their lead to a full stroke over the field in the annual Men's Golf Association's 11th meeting of the year yesterday at Huber golf course.

Leading by 41 strokes before yesterday's competition, the Pampa team picked up 29 more strokes with an aggregate score of 2,481, for a total of 2,411 for the year's competition. The final meeting of the year will be held Oct. 7 at the Ross Rogers course in Amarillo.

Pampa, for the third straight time, had the largest team entered in the tournament as the Pampans seek to relieve defending champion Phillips of the crown.

In yesterday's play, Phillips came in second with 945, Ross Rogers third with 955, and Huber trailed with 963.

Phillips is runner up to Pampa over the season with a total score of 2,481; Ross Rogers follows with 2,499 and Huber is on the bottom with 2,542.

C. F. McGinnis led the Pampa team with a gross of 71, even par, and a net of 69. Clare Freeman was second with a 72, followed by Max Hickey with a 73.

The 70-stroke lead virtually assured the Pampa Country club of the championship and the huge trophy significant of it.

Area Women Meeting Here

The Panhandle Ladies Golf Association will hold a meeting at the Pampa Country club all day Wednesday.

Ladies from Phillips country club, Ross Rogers and the Amarillo Country club will be present as competition continues for the Women's Panhandle's championship. Pampa is currently in second place.

Two Top Tilts On IL Card

(By The Associated Press) Texarkana plays at Fort Arthur and Waco at Temple in features of the Class AAAA and AAA divisions of Texas school football this week.

All except six teams of the 103 in the two top divisions will have played.

Texarkana and Fort Arthur are AAAA teams. Their game is as important as last week's Fort Arthur-Denison tilt which resulted in an astonishing 45-0 victory by Fort Arthur. Just how strong the Yellow Jackets are will be shown by the Texarkana test.

Waco is in AAAA and Temple is one of the highest rated teams of AAA. Their battle, which in past years was a highlight of Class AA, will show the relative strength of the two classes.

Other features send Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) to Abilene; Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs Highland Park (Dallas); Odessa at John Reagan (Houston) and Lamar (Houston) to Baytown in Class AAAA while interclass struggles will feature Breckenridge of AAA against A.M.O.N. Carter-Riverdale (Fort Worth) of AAAA; Kerrville of AAA against Thomas Jefferson of AAAA; Corsicana of AAA against Adamson (Dallas) or AAAA and San Angelo of AAAA against Midland of AAAA.

Playoff Tonight In Texas League

(By The Associated Press) The Texas League playoff bracket is incomplete. Beaumont and Fort Worth are tied for fourth.

Fort Worth moved into the fourth place tie by beating Oklahoma City 2-1 while San Antonio beat Beaumont, 4-2.

Houston and Dallas round out the top three with San Antonio; whose victory over Beaumont gave them second place. Dallas trailed Tulsa 1-2 to trail by half game in third place. First place Houston won 8-7 over Shreveport.

Beaumont and Fort Worth meet tonight in Beaumont in a one game playoff. The winner will play Houston in tomorrow's game. Dallas will be in San Antonio at the same time.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. BETHLEHEM, Pa. — If you have any doubt about the younger generation taking over in amateur golf, you should have seen Frankie Stranahan and Sammy Stranahan competing off and on at the Saucon Valley course after a practice round yesterday. The "bosky" gallery, which in the past has belonged to Stranahan, converged on Sammy and kept him signing autographs for a half hour. You can't blame the kids, at that. Besides being young, reasonably good looking and the champion, Urzetta is a personable lad who almost had the staid golf "fathers" rolling in the aisles at the tee-off dinner Saturday night. After a sincerely moving talk about what golf has done for him — "I'm employed now," Sammy said — he gave them a hilarious imitation of a British lord mayor's greeting to the Walker Cup team and he didn't bat an eye when Eugene Grace compared basketball players rather unfavorably to amateur golfers. "Sam, you remember, was quite a guy in basketball, too."

FUTURE MASTERS It isn't likely that Keith Tommy Jacobs, Jr., who qualified automatically for the tournament as 1951 USGA junior champion, or blue-eyed young Don Blipping, host of Billy Kay or Gay (Jimmy) Brewer, will go very far in this tournament — they'll probably win a match or two, or maybe three if the luck of the draw is in their favor. But don't be surprised if one of them comes to the top in a few more years. They're all teen-agers who can play real good golf. Just a few years older than this group is another bunch of kids who could really upset the dope. For instance, there's Hobart Manley, Jr., the North and South amateur champion who just got in here on a rain check. Manley, a real wallower, had an off day during the sectional qualifying but a series of withdrawals, plus the fact that the Georgia district came in on the re-allocation schedule, made a place for him at the last minute. Dave Stanley, at 20, is a good enough golfer to be in the public links title — a rugged task. No public links player ever has won the amateur title, but it isn't impossible. Billy Shields, the New York state champ, and Tom Strang and Doye Finsterwald, who shot a round of 61 in an open tournament, aren't exactly old guys, either. But maybe they'll be polite enough to let the ancients like Stranahan, Jimmy McHale, Dick Chapman, etc., have one more flick at the title.

BOWLING Poll Indicates Four New Champions, Five Repeaters

NEW YORK — Four of the nine major college football conference champions of 1950 stand to be dethroned in the new season starting this month. If the nation's sports writers and broadcasters know their business.

This was indicated today in a pre-season, nationwide Associated Press poll calling upon the press box experts to choose the top 10 teams for the 1951 pigskin parade.

The poll put Tennessee on top — and more or less on the spot — as the No. 1 outfit. Gen. Bob Neyland's Volunteers got an overwhelming 60 first place votes out of 115 cast, a total of 923 points.

This automatically projected Tennessee as the Southeastern Conference champion, replacing Kentucky.

Ohio State is figured as the new Big 10 champion, by an overwhelming point total, with Maryland rated the team of championship caliber in the Southern Conference and Texas A&M the new titleholder in the Southwest circuit. Michigan won the Big 10 last year, while Washington & Lee took the Southern, and Texas the Southwest crowns.

The five 1950 conference winners figured to repeat are Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team last fall, in the Big Seven; Princeton in the Ivy League; California out in the Pacific Coast; Tulsa in the Missouri Valley loop, and Wyoming in the Skyline Six.

Michigan State, with 18 first place votes and total of 728 points, got the nod as the top independent team in the land. The Spartans were rated No. 2 in the first ten. The 1950 poll closed with Army in the No. 2 spot, and the recognized leader among the independent outfits: Army, riddled by loss of most of the squad in the cribbing scandal, rated a 35th place in the new poll with only five points.

The top teams in the Southwest Conference, listing only tennis receiving votes:

1. Texas A&M 329
2. Texas 195
3. Baylor 142

THAT SHOT WAS NO GOOD, FRANNIE! THOSE MEN CAME OUT OF THE JEWELRY STORE JUST AS I SNAPPED IT!

THEY'D LOOK SILLY IN THE HIGH SCHOOL PAPER! LET'S TRY ANOTHER!

PERFESSOR, DAT PITCHA CAN PUT US IN DA POKEY FER A LONG STRETCH!

QUITE SO, EGGHEAD! WAIT IN THE CAR!

PARDON ME, BUT I HEARD YOU SAY YOU'RE WORKING FOR YOUR SCHOOL PAPER! I WONDER IF YOU'D LIKE TO DO A STORY ON MY NEPHEW CARLTON CLIPP?

YOU'VE NEVER MET HIM? HE'S BEDDED IN POOR BOY, BUT HE TAKES ALL THE HIGH SCHOOL COURSES RIGHT AT HOME!

GEE, THAT'D MAKE A YARN TO LOVE TO MEET HIM!

Blondie

BLONDIE - LOOK-- THE MENUS ARE QUARRELING-- SHE JUST HIT HIM WITH A FRYING PAN!

YOU SHOULDN'T LOOK IN ON YOUR NEIGHBORS' QUARRELS!

PULL THAT SHADE DOWN THIS INSTANT!

IT'S ALL RIGHT TO PEEK-- BUT YOU SHOULDN'T LOOK!

Alley Oop

THIS IS AN OUTRAGE! I PROTEST! WE'VE DONE NOTHING TO WARRANT ARREST!

AFTER OOP AND FOZZY HAD BEEN WARNED THAT GENERAL SOANOCUS WOULD STOP AT NOTHING TO GET HIS HANDS ON GLADIATOR, THEY STEPPED OUT OF THE OFFICERS' CLUB INTO THE ARMS OF THE MILITARY POLICE.

THAT'S RIGHT, BUT AS OWNER OF GLADIATOR, YOU'RE RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS CRIMES!

CRIMES? WHAT'S HE DONE?

LOTS OF THINGS, COLONEL. HE'S RUNNING AMUCK!

WHY DIDN'T YOU PICK 'EM UP?

HE GOT AWAY-- WE COULDN'T FIND 'EM.

BUT WE'D BE GLAD TO RELEASE THE LIEUTENANT IF HE'D LEAD US TO HIS HIDE-OUT!

LOOKS LIKE THEY GOTCHA, PAL!

WE BETTER LEAD 'EM!

UN-OH, YEH I GUESS WE HAD!

Bo

THE NEIGHBORS HAVE GROWN CARELESS ABOUT PUTTING THEIR GARBAGE CAN LIDS ON TIGHT WHILE WE'RE AWAY AT GRAMP'S FARM THIS SUMMER.

I'M WORRIED ABOUT TRIX NOT BEING HOME AT BEDTIME.

THAT BUM CAN TAKE CARE OF HIMSELF. COME ON, LET'S GO TO BED.

LISTEN! I HEARD SCRATCHING AT THE DOOR.

STOP WORRYING ABOUT TRIX AND GET TO SLEEP.

WELL, I WON'T HAVE IT OUT IN THIS TINY YARD! DO YOU THINK I LIKE A HURDLE UNDER THE CLOTHES LINES OR IN FRONT OF THE GARBAGE CANS?

IT'S FROM YOUR PRECIOUS BROTHER, JAKE. HE SAYS, "AM SHOOTING ALONG A LITTLE PRESENT FER YOU, MARTHA-- AND SURPRISE! I'M A-COMIN' TO SEE YOU WONDERFUL FOLKS!"

HERE'S THE 'PRESENT, A GRAY, LADLE MARKED "BENNY'S BOHEMIAN GROVE"-- WONDER WHERE HE SNATCHED THE STAMPS?

NO, HE MIGHT HAVE WIPED IT ON THE TABLE-CLOTH.

MY WORD, MARTHA! MUST YOU BE SO SUSPICIOUS? JAKE MAY HAVE PURCHASED THE GIFT AT A SALE OF ANTIQUES!

UM! COULD HE HAVE THRUST IT INTO HIS POCKET, GRAMP, AND ALL?

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation (5)

Illustrated by Ralph Lane

Occupying 66 per cent of the total land area, the forests on Japan's mountainous terrain provide important watershed protection. Over-exploitation has increased the incidence of floods; damage to crops, transportation and communications has been severe. Extensive soil erosion has also been reported.

Still another gloomy aspect of the forest problem: SCAP experts estimate that the timber destroyed by pine bark beetles each year is more than enough to supply Japan's annual need for railroad ties. Full-scale war on the pine bark beetle has been waged by SCAP with information and education programs.

SCAP experts, however, assert that Japan's forests are not irretrievable. A reforestation program that envisages the planting of 8,000,000 acres of trees by school children, private owners and government employes holds forth great hope. But it may be 80 to 100 years before the new-born democracy can give its forests a bill of clean health.

$1200 Purse For State Line Fair's Amateur Rodeo

SHAMROCK (Special) — Something new has been added to the list of events in connection with the State Line Fair here Sept. 20-22, sponsored by the Shamrock Lions. Seven events are slated, with a purse of $1200 to amateurs only. The events: saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, team tying, bulldogging, bull riding and girls sponsor contest. Rodeo events will be held at the new park site on West Hwy. 66, northwest Shamrock. Rodeo performances will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Sept. 20-22 and at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Opening gun in the rodeo is a street parade to be held at 4 p.m. Thursday afternoon. I. M. Bullock is chairman of the rodeo committee. Tom Hatland is furnishing stock for the four-day rodeo. Amateurs have until 5 p.m. Thursday afternoon, Sept. 20, to enter. W. B. Smith Magazine and City Shop is the place to register for entrance. Proceeds will go to the city park fund, a drive established last spring by the Lions club.

Sportsmen Warned

SHAMROCK (Special) — Shamrock sportsmen were warned to purchase new hunting and fishing licenses to replace those that expired Sept. 1. P. Davis, game warden, issued the warning.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Watch For Players' Human Reactions

Written for NEA Service
You may be tempted to deny it at times, but the simple truth is that bridge players are human beings. I do not point this out to win your sympathy for them, but just to show you how to take advantage of them.
Let's take a simple example. Today's hand was played in the recent national championships in Washington. The bidding was identical at two tables, but one declarer made his contract and the other lost it. The reason is very instructive.
At the first table, South won the first trick with the ace of hearts, laid down the ace of spades and followed with four more rounds of trump in rapid succession. West had some trouble finding three harmless discards, but he eventually released a club and two hearts. East discarded a low club and a low diamond. The net result was that South had discovered nothing.

The first declarer then continued by leading his singleton club toward dummy. West unhesitatingly played low, naturally enough. South thought about this for a while and decided that West was a good enough player to play low even if he had the ace. So South decided to put up dummy's king of clubs.
The rest of the defense was easy. East took the ace of clubs

Worker Burned In Industrial Mishap

Rex Newkirk received a slight electrical burn Saturday morning at the General Atlas Carbon Co. plant, west of the city, as he cleared an insulator above an amplifier.
His hand touched a live wire and burned his left hand slightly. He was rushed to Worley hospital by ambulance and released shortly afterward.
Newkirk, about 28, lives west of the city, and is a worker in the electrical department of General Atlas.

State Financial Condition 'Good'

AUSTIN (AP) — The state's financial condition is good and getting better.
Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported a gain of about 5 million dollars in the general fund between Aug. 1 and Aug. 31.
On Aug. 31, the cash balance in the state's all-purpose revenue fund was $29,375,319.
Collections of taxes on crude oil, natural gas and motor fuel were all up in August. The general fund took in a total of $4,970,355 more than it paid out during the month.

Fines Levied

Fines were imposed Saturday on two men in corporation court after they pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication.
One man was released to leave town and the other must pay $15 by Sept. 22.

and returned a diamond at once. Dummy was permitted to win with the king of diamonds, and then South had to lose two diamonds and a heart. Down one.
At the other table, South was no technician. He just knew human nature. He won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led his singleton club at once.
At this table also West unhesitatingly played low, naturally enough. But at this table West's lack of a problem was very revealing.
The second declarer said: "When I fired that club right at him, West wasn't expecting it. If he held the ace, the chances were better than even that he'd play it right away. Even if he didn't play his ace, he might still hesitate or indicate in some way that he had a problem. But when he played a low club without batting an eye, I would have bet ten to one that he didn't hold the ace."

Irish Pep Club Is Reorganized

SHAMROCK (Special) — Shamrock high school has reorganized the pep club, with Mrs. Dorothy Jo Taylor again the sponsor.
Last year the organization followed the gridmen to games away from home and also cheered them on the home field. They wear white blouses and green skirts or slacks.
Pep girls accompanied the team to Childress Friday night and are expected to be at Leflore next Friday when the Irish meet the Pirates.
Three pep rallies were held the first week of school.

Irish Firemen Cited For Record

SHAMROCK (Special) — Firechief Abe Glasgow has received a letter commending the local volunteer fire department for an outstanding record for the past 34 years.
Olin Culberson, representing the State Firemen and Fire Marshals' Assn., said, "you have a fine record and I am sure your citizens can be justly proud."
Department efficiency has resulted in a saving of many thousands of dollars in fire insurance costs, Culberson said.

Rodeo To Boost Irish Park Fund

SHAMROCK (Special) — Shamrock Lions have abandoned the selling of merchandise coupon-books inaugurated last spring in the hope of raising money to finance their purchase of a new city park in northwest Shamrock. Lions also made attempts to raise the money in fund-raising drives, but finally decided on use of a rodeo Sept. 20-22 to help.
They bought the 26-acre site for $3500. Shamrock has limited recreational facilities and the Lions agreed to light the park and the city to landscape it and furnish other utility needs.
Lion leaders expressed the hope

Irish Delegates Return From Meet

SHAMROCK (Special) — Gerry and Mollie Kay Mayfield are back from Purdue university campus, where they attended the fifth annual Convention of Methodist Youth.
More than 5000 delegates were present from all states and some foreign countries. Speakers included an English clergyman, Donald O. Soper of London.
Gerry and Mollie were accompanied as far as Chicago by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mayfield.
Gerry is a junior and Mollie a freshman at the local high school.

X-Rays To Be Taken During Irish Fair

SHAMROCK (Special) — Plans are nearing completion for the use of the X-ray machine at the Shamrock State Line Fair, W. R. Ritter, county sanitarian in charge, announced this week.
Furnished by the State Dept. of Health, the machine will be in use from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. opening day, Sept. 20. The two following days, Friday and Saturday, it will be open continuously from 9:30 to 6:30 p.m., including the noon hour both days.
X-rays will be given at the local Community building.

Band Leaders Named By Irish Director

SHAMROCK (Special) — Robert C. Reeves, Irish band director, has chosen his leaders for the 1957-58 year. They include: Colleen Payne, band major; Jane Stimmer, Junelle Sims, Joan Stevens, and Patsy Thompson, majorettes.
Bandmen attend all football games at home and away. They also headline the various pep rallies.
Other civic clubs would join in promoting the park.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Unsafe Discard Is A Bad Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"Please tell me the correct play in the following situation," requests a Chicago reader. "Both sides needed 120 points for the initial meld. Everybody began by throwing sixes and fives and fours with a few assorted high cards that fortunately got by."
"Eventually the pack contained natural canastas of sixes and fives together with some other valuable oddments. At this stage my right hand opponent melded the following cards from his hand: Joker-K-K-K-Q-Q-2. Then he discarded a four, which happened to be quite safe.

probably discard safely by throwing kings and then whatever is safe by that time. Your partner can surely discard safely to a four-card hand. At worst, the enemy will meld out and catch it on the next hand.

"I drew from the stock and then held: A-A-K-K-K-Q-J-7-7-2-2. Assuming that everybody in the game was a good player, what was the correct play?"
"I actually melded A-A-2-K-K-K-J-J-2 and discarded a seven. If this is not the best play, would you say that it is reasonable, poor, or horrible?"
The correct play is to discard a deuce, except getting the pile or, at least, making sure that the opponents don't get it. It's better not to meld at all and to let the opponents go out than to meld and lose a pack of that size.

Let's suppose that the next player has a seven and a wild card or a pair of sevens. If he picks up the pack with either of these holdings, he will get two natural canastas and an excellent start towards two or three more canastas. His side will probably score at least two or three thousand points and will surely win the game. That's the worst that can happen if you meld and discard a seven. What's more, it's very likely to happen.

Now let's see what can happen if you freeze the pack. You can
