Dave Koslo Today's Hero For Winners

The amazing New York Giants, who yesterday concluded their thrilling National League pennant drive, this afternoon once again upset the dope bucket by capturing the first game of the world series from the Yankees, 5-1, in Yankee Stadium.

Tomorrow afternoon the two clubs will resume play with the Giants tossing righthander Larry Jansen against the Yanks strong-armed righthander, Vic Raschi. The game will be broadcast over KPND starting at 11:45.

Today's performance again provided an individual hero. This time it was Dave Koslo, stubby little lefthander who hadn't started a game in two weeks.

He got the opening game assignment from Manager Leo Durocher today only because the rest of the staff had been used up in the playoffs. And Koslo responded with a brilliant seven-inning effort to give the Giants a one-game lead. The losing pitcher was Alie Reynolds.

Hitting heroics were provided by Monte Irvin, who connected for four safe hits and fielded captain Alvin Dark, who unloaded a home run.

FIRST INNING GIANTS
Stanky sent an easy roller to Rizzuto who threw him out. Dark sent a soft fly to Mantle in short right. Thompson walked on five pitches. Irvin lined a single over Coleman's head.

Lockman smashes a ground rule double that bounced into the left field seats scoring Thompson, who had gone to third on Irvin's single, while Irving stopped at third.

Irvin took advantage of Reynolds' lead window and stunned the huge crowd by stealing home. Irvin had stolen home five times during the regular season. Thompson walked on five pitches.

The Yankee bullpen began stirring up Johnny Sain was seen to take his jacket off. Mays raised a high fly to Mantle in short right.

Two runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

FIRST INNING YANKEES
Thompson came in fast for Mantle's fly to short right. Mantle lined a single off the glove of Dark who made a leaping try and barely missed making a spectacular catch. Irvin raced back to the furthest left field corner to make a spectacular leaping catch of Bauer's bid for a home run in front of the 40-foot sign.

DIMaggio raised a high pop behind second base that was caught by Thompson after Stanky had almost scared him off of it. Thompson waved aside by Stanky, had to make a diving catch when Eddie caught this wind.

French Hurl Back Commies

SAIGON, Indochina.—(AP)—French forces in fierce battle have hurled back the column of Vietminh troops which was advancing on Laichau, 180 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Laichau is the capital of the Thai federation.

Announcing the repulse of the attack today, French army headquarters said that hard-bitten Moroccan fighters threw back the Communist-led Vietminh units in control of a mountain pass leading to Laichau.

The Vietminh column retreated toward Binhlu, an outpost town northeast of Laichau, which the French lost Saturday, after the Vietminh army launched its expected fall offensive.

The Vietminh drive on the key French position in the northwest corner of Tonkin halted at the entrance to the mountain pass of Pousamcap.

News Open House Runs Until Friday

Visitors to The Pampa Daily News plant increased during the last days of the week set aside as National Newspaper Week.

The News open house will be held through tomorrow from noon until 3 p.m.

Purpose of the event is "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

Among the groups visiting the plant are ten sections from the Pampa Junior High school student body. Tours are being conducted between noon and 3 p.m.

Oil Workers Call Special Meetings On Strike Threat

Two special meetings of union workers for Phillips Petroleum Co., Borger, on the threatened strike, have been called for today.

Purpose of the meetings was not announced. The strike set for midnight tonight if contract agreements are not reached between union and company officials, will affect 6000 workers.

Local Navy Man Is Unharmed In Blast Aboard Destroyer

Donald Moen, aboard the destroyer Gatling, wired his parents to say that he was not hurt in an anti-aircraft accident in Guantanamo bay off Cuba, that killed six Navy men and injured 15.

Moen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moen, 349 Sunset.

The accident occurred Monday, according to a Navy announcement, when a shell from one five-inch gun hit the barrel of another. Shell fragments caused the deaths and injuries.

An investigation is underway, and all next of kin of the dead and injured have been notified.

Moen explained in the wire, "Everything is fine." He is reportedly returning to this country in the near future.

HMM, WHAT'S THIS?—A curious pet raccoon that wandered away from his master, decided to take advantage of the open house being held this week at The Pampa Daily News in recognition of National Newspaper Week. The animal was snapped by the photographer as he inspected one of the linotype machines in the News mechanical department. The raccoon's master, who found the little pet, wandered in the News, could not say whether pet is deciding to enter the field of Journalism. (News Photo)

Five Men Chosen To Serve On Advisory Board Of Chamber

Five men were elected today by popular vote to serve a one year term on the advisory board of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Chosen were: J. C. Daniels, Lynn Boyd, Ed Myatt, Floyd Imel and R. H. Nienstiel.

The men will be installed at the annual chamber banquet, Oct. 11.

The advisory board was elected from 13 men whose names appeared on the second chamber of commerce ballot. They were chosen from the membership of the chamber.

The advisory board is considered a part of the chamber board of directors and meets the second Monday each month with directors.

Outgoing board members are Aubrey Steele, Clinton Evans, Fred Thompson, Dr. E. S. Williams and Luke McClelland.

Boy Scout Roundup Underway As Reports On Survey Made

The Boy Scout round-up of new members got underway here after more than 2800 boys between 8 and 15 years indicated they would like to become Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the Acobe Walls Boy Scout council.

At a meeting of the Acobe Walls executive board Tuesday night, reports on school surveys conducted in the 15-county area were given by W. B. Weathered, chairman of organization and extension for the council.

Names of boys who want to become Cubs and Scouts have been given to pack and troop committees, and adult leaders will call upon parents and boys, inviting them to participate in open house activities which will be presented in each pack and troop.

Farris C. Oden, vice-president of the Acobe Walls council, expressed appreciation on behalf of all Scouters, to M. K. Brown and Hugh Burdette for providing six row boats for use by Scouts at Camp Ki-O-Wah, near Canadian.

"These boats will enable us to present a much better boating program," Oden said.

Brown, Burdette and Dr. M. C. Overton, according to Oden, have also agreed to provide a storage building at the camp for boats, canoes and other camping equipment. Plans for the building are being made by Cantrell and Co. The building will likely be completed before next summer.

E. D. Kilpatrick, chairman of camping and activities, reported on the summer camping program. The summer program included five weeks at Camp Ki-O-Wah, a Canadian canoe trip

Allied Troops Burn Wedges In Red Guard

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(AP)—Flame-throwing infantrymen from nine United Nations burned two narrow wedges in Chinese defenses on the western front today in some of the fiercest fighting of the Korean war.

Red counterattacks stopped the two-day allied offensive along much of its 40-mile front.

Gains up to four miles were hammered out in the two days. At other points gains were so limited the yardage was not announced.

See-saw battles ranged over all of the shrub-covered hills in the Imjin river sector northeast of Kaesong, site of the disrupted truce talks.

The allied offensive was launched by five divisions behind one of the heaviest artillery barrages of the war. American, British, Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, Greek, Turk, South Korean and Filipino troops participated in the attack. Tanks and planes supported them.

The Chinese fought so stubbornly from their deeply dug-in positions—they've been digging in since truce talks started three months ago—they had to be burned out by flame throwers or blasted by hand grenades.

The longest gains—two miles Wednesday and two Thursday—were made by Canadians.

Russ A-Bomb Test Hints Use In Korea

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Word that Russia has exploded another atomic bomb, coupled with other developments at home and abroad, raised anew today the question whether atomic warfare might flare in Korea.

There Russia's satellite troops and United Nations forces are in stalemated battle; bitter fighting and mounting casualties bring victory no nearer for either side. Is resort to atomic arms contemplated? Here are the facts:

1. A White House announcement that "another atomic bomb has recently been exploded within the Soviet Union" and that Russia, despite pretensions that her atomic energy program is only for peaceful purposes, "is continuing to make atomic weapons."

2. An assertion by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), member and former chairman of the Senate-Atomic Energy committee, that powerful new atomic weapons are available for use in Korea; that he favors using them; but that it is a military decision.

3. The claim by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, while on a Far East war zone trip, that UN forces can fight the war to a successful "military conclusion" if truce talks fail finally. The general did not make any explanation of how this would be done against a numerically superior enemy. Bradley left Washington Tuesday.

4. The balance of the brief statement was devoted to stressing "again the necessity for that effective, enforceable international control of atomic energy which the United States and a large majority of the members of the United Nations support."

However, White House use of the phrase "atomic bomb" was significant. The President announced two years ago on Sept. 23, 1949 that evidence of a Soviet atomic bomb had been obtained. (See A-BOMB, Page 8)

Varnon Leaves Meeting Over Tax Rate Levy

A walk-out staged late yesterday morning by City Commissioner W. D. Varnon over tax rate levies split the city commission wide open for the first time since the ward system of municipal government was employed here in 1947.

Varnon, vigorously protesting the appropriation set up in the proposed $1.75 tax rate for the Board of City Development, refused to take part in balloting on first reading of the ordinance setting the 1951-52 tax rate.

Earlier Varnon balked on the second reading of the proposed $96,247 budget, thinking it was combined with the tax rate. This action plus the morning's fire excitement left the commission in a temporary state of apprehension.

When the seriousness of the Skelly Oil Co. fire was learned, Mayor C. A. Huff and all of the commissioners except Commissioner "A" Neel rushed to the fire. Shortly after commissioners returned from the gasoline fire, a residential blaze on S. Gray broke out, causing firemen to sound the siren stop the fire station. This time Commissioners Neel and Crawford Atkinson went as far as the fire station. Neel left the fire station, it was presumed, for the S. Gray blaze and from there went to his St. Cuyler store.

Once again the commission got down to work. Varnon, convinced that the budget was not connected with the tax rate, consented to cast an "aye" vote on the second reading. This made the first two readings unanimous. But, by that time it was too late to hold the third reading because Neel was absent.

After several minutes of waiting Neel was contacted by phone at his S. Cuyler store. He indicated he would not return to the commission meeting that day.

Mayor Huff then asked Varnon if he approved the budget in its proposed form. Varnon asked if it was based on the present water rate. City Manager Dick Welton said it was and the Ward 4 commissioner balked again saying the water rate was supposed to be (See PLAYBOY, Page 8)

Officials Deny Engine Spark Started Skelly Oil Co. Fire

Railway officials today denied that sparks from a switch engine ignited fumes from a 10,000-gallon gasoline tank yesterday at Skelly Oil Co., 610 E. Tynge, resulting in $50,000 fire.

F. N. Stuppi, division superintendent for the railroad at Amarillo, said there was no train in the area at the time of the fire. A section crew, working near the scene, later told Stuppi they noticed a large tank overflowing with gas and no one attending it.

Several workers rushed to the warehouse, he said, found the attendant and told him gas was spilling out of the tank. The workers then told Stuppi the attendant jumped into a transport truck, which was filling the tanks, and started to drive it away. At this time an explosion occurred, Stuppi said.

Skelly officials earlier believed the fire was caused by a passing switch engine. Stuppi explained that an engine was in the vicinity pouring steam along the tracks to stop grass fires after the fire had started. A check of records at the Sante Fe railroad depot in Pampa showed no train or switch engine in the vicinity of the fire between 9:35 and 10:30 a.m.

Estimates of damage were lowered to $50,000 today by Jack Skelly, Jr., co-owner of the business which was established last spring. Skelly said several barrels of oil in the west end of the warehouse were found salvageable but that everything else was a total loss. Insurance covered about one-third of the loss.

The fire, which started about 10:10 a.m. yesterday, spread quickly, but by 11:30 it was under control after destroying the warehouse, three oil tanks, the trailer to a transport truck, and heavily damaging a pickup truck.

No one was injured, but the heat was so intense, faces of several firemen were blistered.

Communists, Allies Exchange Abrupt Notes On Parley Site

TOKYO—(AP)—In an abrupt exchange today, Red and Allied commanders each proposed that Korean truce talks be resumed immediately—but disagreed on a site.

Gen. Ridgway injected a new note by telling the Reds to pick a new site—as long as it was in no-man's-land. If it looks okay to him, he said, armistice negotiations could resume at once.

Communist commanders had proposed immediate reopening of talks at the original site, Reds controlled Kaesong.

The talks were broken off abruptly by the Communists Aug. 22.

The Reds started today's rapid exchange by suddenly breaking a week-long silence. As a new allied offensive roared within earshot of Kaesong, they answered a message Ridgway sent them last Thursday.

The Reds rejected Ridgway's suggestion that talks start near Songhyon, a no-man's-land village six miles southeast of Kaesong. They said the suggestion was "devoted of reason."

Two hours after announcing the text of the Communist communication, Ridgway replied. He told North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai:

"I have already made clear to you my views regarding the unavailability of Kaesong as a conference site... satisfactory communications for the resumption of the armistice talks can only be insured by moving the conference site to an area where it is not under the exclusive control of either side."

He said his sister, Patricia, 18, has fallen for Khalil Coahin, 37, who plans to follow the Kings here in late October.

"Khalil is a double for Rudolph Valentino," King said with admiration in his voice. "He is in love with Pat and she's very fond of him. We might have a double wedding in Houston."

King's fiancée is torso-tossing Samia Gama, favorite dancer of King Farouk of Egypt and a movie star. He will give up his Episcopalian faith for the Moslem belief to marry the glamorous, suburban-haired beauty, the Chronicle said.

"I am definitely disowning my son," said his socially prominent widowed mother, Mrs. Bonner King, who lives in a staid old mansion here.

She declined to say whether she will oblige Patricia, too, if (See WALK-OUT, Page 8)

Boydston Bridge Work Is Completed Judge Announces

Completion of one bridge and a 1 1/2-mile stretch of roadway was reported this morning by county and state officials.

County Judge Bruce Parker reported extensive repair work to the damaged 120-foot Boydston bridge will be completed late this morning or early this afternoon.

The span, located south of Grandview school, was seriously damaged by heavy May and June rains. The timber structure bridge was extended by removing 15 feet of one end and replacing it with 40 feet of creosoted timber structures.

At the same time the county was putting finishing touches to 1 1/2 miles of FM 749, leading toward Phillips camp south of Pampa. The road was reshaped and given a single asphalt coating preparatory to being taken over by the State Highway Dept. for maintenance.

Yesterday the state took over an eight-mile stretch of old 293 east of Panhandle.

Indications this morning pointed to the state's attempting to pave the N. Hobart stretch of State Hwy. 70 this year when an 1847-foot stretch, from Alcock to a few feet north of Montague, was given a prime coat of cut-back asphalt. Approximately 4000 gallons of the primer were used in the operation, highway engineers reported.

Prime coats are usually laid unless full scale paving operations are to follow within a few

Police Seek Rapist

CHICAGO—(AP)—Police searched today for a man who is accused and raped a four-year-old girl last night and abandoned her 22 miles from her home.

Deputy Sheriff Albert McMansfield said the girl, Irene McDonald, told him she had taken a ride about 6 p.m. with a man who had promised to give her a rabbit.

Newspaper Paintings At State Fair

"Deadline" is the name of this painting, one of nearly 50 to be exhibited free in the lobby of the State Fair Ice Arena during the 1951 State Fair of Texas. The exhibition, titled "Portrait of a Free Press," will be shown starting October 10 under the joint sponsorship of the Press Club of Dallas, the Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Times Herald. In this painting, artist R. N. Taylor has captured the tenseness of a city editor who has just three minutes between a possible news break and a deadline that is as firm and as cold as the line and color the artist has used to portray it.

Over 4000 Head Of Cattle To Compete At Texas State Fair

More than 4000 head of livestock from 15 states will compete for total premiums of $91,500 in the greatest livestock show in the 66-year history of the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21. Twenty-six breeds of beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep, swine and goats are included. Cattle and horses will be shown in the fair's new $125,000 livestock judging pavilion. Headliner of the livestock shows is the Pan-American National Hereford show, Oct. 6-11, which offers $25,000 premiums. More than 400 Herefords from seven states will be shown, and 200 other beef cattle representing Aberdeen-Angus, Brahman and Shorthorn breeds will compete at the same time for an additional $8000 in awards. Climax of the show will be the Parade of Champions on the night of Oct. 9. Four dairy breeds, Guernsey, Holstein, Friesian, Jersey and Milking Shorthorns, will compete Oct. 12-19 for $15,450 in premiums. Nine breeds of swine will vie for $11,175 in awards, Oct. 6-14, and six breeds of sheep and Angora Goats will compete for $3527. In the junior shows, Oct. 15-20, Texas Future Farmers and

Thefts Alarming, Says FBI Head

WASHINGTON — (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday described as alarming the recent series of bank embezzlements, running into several millions of dollars. Hoover said in a statement that bank embezzlements for the first eight months of 1951, involving 533 cases, showed an 8.6 percent increase over the same period of last year when 491 cases were uncovered. The report said that in embezzlement cases investigated by the FBI there have been 115 convictions, and that 367 other prosecutions are pending. The FBI director said the public can help by promptly checking bank statements and reporting to banking officials any irregularities noted in the entries, dates for deposits and withdrawals.

Texas Has Good Chance For Getting A New Money Crop

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Once again Texas stands a fair chance of getting a new cash crop in the form of natural rubber production. Back in the placid days following World War I, a then young Dwight D. Eisenhower conducted an Army survey of large tracts in southwest Texas where guayule grew wild. Little came then of his recommendation that thousands of acres should be devoted to the latex-bearing shrub. He saw such a project as natural defense insurance, in the event rubber supplies across the Pacific in the East Indies should ever be cut off.

Asks Separate Tax Agency

AUSTIN — (AP) — Creation of a separate department to collect taxes and enforce the tax laws has been recommended by State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

The suggestion came in a report to the governor and the legislature on an audit of the Comptroller's department covering the period from Sept. 1, 1945 to Aug. 31, 1950.

Collection of taxes is one of the chief functions of the comptroller.

Cavness repeated comments from a 1945 audit in which he said that penalties collected for violation of the tax laws "have been relatively small."

"After further study we are of the same opinion and that the tax collection and enforcement duties now performed by the department of taxation with a head or director appointed either by the governor or in some manner by the legislature," Cavness' report said.

"The present comptroller (Robert S. Calvert) does not agree with this theory. Of course, such would require legislation and amendment to the Constitution," Cavness informed Bentsen that World War II revived interest in guayule — pronounced yoo-lee — but with V-J day the program collapsed. Now, with the Korean war well into its second year, the issue bounds into the picture.

If and when the cultivating and harvesting of guayule does become a profitable (without government subsidy) operation, credit must go largely to three Texans — Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco and Lloyd Bentsen of Allen and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

A top-ranking member of the House Agriculture committee and chairman of its subcommittee on natural rubber production, Poage was primarily responsible for the launching of a guayule program which was just getting underway when the Japanese surrendered.

He opposed what he called "a foolish" economy policy of Congress which led to the abandonment of the program four years ago.

Early this year, when military demands for rubber skyrocketed, Johnson as head of the Senate armed services subcommittee on preparedness took a sharp look into the supply situation.

He came up with a hard-hitting charge that the Munitions board and others had fallen down on the job of stockpiling strategic materials.

It wasn't long until there was action on his recommendations... which included stepped-up output at synthetic rubber plants in Texas and elsewhere, as well as launching of a guayule seed and seedling program.

Rio Grande Valley Congressman Bentsen then got busy. He conferred promptly with Agriculture department officials who took charge of the program after the Munitions board had allocated some of its emergency funds for the work.

Soon contracts were being signed with a score or more of farmers in two counties of his district — Maverick and Zavala to plant guayule seeds on some 850 acres. They have been growing in irrigated lands under nursery conditions.

Agriculture officials have recommended that Bentsen have some 12,000 acres of unirrigated dry lands in LaSalle and Frio counties. A department official said that the sooner the transplanting is done the better, because the work can be done largely by machines if the plants are not too mature. Otherwise, considerably more hand labor is required and that runs up the costs. The guayule plants, which are later put out where they have ample growing space even though much less moisture, reach a harvesting stage in about four to five years. Under their natural growing conditions, without irrigation while seedlings, they require about six to seven years. The big question now is money. President Truman has requested Congress to appropriate $2,307,000 to carry on the guayule program. If the funds are provided the planting will be carried on in South Texas as planned. Part of the funds would be used at the guayule research center in Salinas, Calif.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS - from Zenger to Oatis (4)

Illus. by Ralph Lane

The Zenger trial had defined libel but it remained for another Hamilton—this time the famous Alexander—to define the liberty of the press. Spid Hamilton, the liberty of the press consists of the right to publish with impunity truth with good motives for justifiable ends, though reflecting on government, magistracy and individuals. These classic words rang out in New York's Supreme Court in 1804 as the statesman sought a new trial for Harry Crosswell, Federalist editor convicted of publishing an attack on President Thomas Jefferson.

Hamilton failed. Furthermore, a remark Hamilton made at the trial was directly responsible for his fatal duel with political rival Aaron Burr. One of America's greatest statesmen and most generous patrons of journalism, Hamilton left behind him a concept of press freedom that has survived almost 150 years. ### Uranium Discovered

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—Colonel Pommerie, director of industrial production at Rabat, reported today that uranium had been discovered in the south Atlas mountains at Bouazzer and Azegour. Research was continuing with the help of a mission from the French center for atomic studies.

Roadworkers Learn Boss 'A Good Guy'

MOBEETTE (Special)—Roadworkers of Precinct 1 in Wheeler county learned last week their boss is "a good guy." W. L. "Shorty" Irwin, head of the crew, passed the word around one day before for nobody to bring sack lunches, then he prepared a barbecue "fit for a king," and served it on the job. He prepared barbecued ribs with the trimmings and served home canned peaches and cookies for dessert.

Bob Hope Takes Time Out To Entertain Newspapermen

By BOB THOMAS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How does he do it?
People ask that when they see Bob Hope in action. He maintains a whirlwind schedule at an age when many men are cutting down on strenuous activities. Hope had been enlisted to entertain before the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. meeting in San Francisco. The event was the middle of a picture and 400 miles away and he was in starting his airshow, but that didn't dissuade him. He agreed to act as master of ceremonies for the show.

Texas Trumanites Call War Council Against Gov. Shivers

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Democrats who have followed the Roosevelt-Truman line since 1944 have called a council to war here Oct. 13. The action came as a challenge to the leadership of Gov. Allan Shivers who this week stepped up the tempo of his anti-Truman declarations. It is also a challenge to Attorney General Price Daniel who Monday asked Texas Democrats to throw Truman overboard and center on a candidate who won't trample on Texas' rights. Woodville J. Rogers of San Antonio, a leader in the group summoned to meet here next week, said it wasn't necessarily a "pro-Truman meeting." "It's just a meeting of a bunch of Democrats who want to keep the party in Texas out of the hands of the Dixiecrats and the Texas Regulars. It's not just for one candidate," he said. "Price Daniel and Allan Shivers both making a play for the anti-Truman votes against Tom Connally." Rogers was referring to the widely-accepted talk that both the governor and the attorney general are laying the groundwork for a race against Texas' senior senator in 1952. Rogers said the Austin meeting was called by Harry Seay of Dallas, Texas state Democratic executive committee chairman, when the Texas Democratic organization knocked down attempts of the rightwing States' Rights faction to wing Texas away from Roosevelt in 1948. Others called to the session here were Robert L. Holliday of El Paso, Mrs. Jud Collier of has been obtained of an "atomic explosion." He cautiously refrained from use of the word "bomb." This time, the American scientists whose duty it is to maintain constant vigil for such things, apparently were sure it was an actual bomb.

Apparently evidence of the release of atomic energy into the upper atmosphere, where traces are picked up by delicate instruments even though the explosion may occur thousands of miles distant, was fortified by an actual record of the explosion. A congressional source said a seismographic record, like that used for earthquakes, was obtained and showed the explosion was "very successful."

It appeared to have occurred within the last few days.

And it was of the nuclear fission type, not a hydrogen bomb explosion, it was explained in other authoritative quarters.

Two Pampans "just nearly" won a trip to the World Series.

Mrs. C. W. Stowell, 815 N. Russell, was announced a winner this week in the Ted Williams and Johnson's Car-Plate a r naming contest sponsored during the summer.

Mrs. Stowell suggested "The Ah!lest" as the name for Ted Williams' car, and as one of the winners, she will receive a pocket size radio. First prize was a trip to the World Series.

V. N. Osborn, 315 N. Stark weather, distributor of Johnson's Car-Plate, will also receive a radio.

In a letter from the company sponsoring the contest, Mrs. Stowell was congratulated on her contest name.

"To win from the thousands of entries that poured in is quite an achievement," a company official said.

(Ed. Note:—The commission this year passed a resolution temporarily increasing the water rates 10 percent to meet increased salaries. The temporary increase is to automatically revert to the original rates beginning with the Nov. 1 water sales.)

Varnon made it plain he was against the BCD appropriation of 10 cents out of the proposed $1.75 tax rate.

When it was clear the commission could go no farther than the second reading of the budget, Mayor Huff asked commissioners if they wanted to pass on the first reading of the tax rate.

Commissioners Atkinson and Bob Thompson indicated they were willing to hear it. At this point Varnon said:

Rotarians Told Operation Of State Dept. Of Welfare

How the Texas State Dept. of Welfare works and the agencies it embraces, was detailed yesterday by its director, John H. Winters, speaking before the Pampa Rotary club.

Winters, a brother-in-law of G. S. Vineyard who introduced him, told Rotarians the department spends $90,000 annually in postage stamps for mailing checks to the needy over Texas.

The department also handles needy children cases and the state training school for boys and girls, besides looking after the needy aged and blind, Winters said.

He told Rotarians that in Texas as neither the father nor mother of an illegitimate child can be held liable for that child's support. If they are not taken in by some church home or adopted, the state has to support them. In adoption cases the welfare department also has the power, he said, to make inspections of the foster homes to see that adopted children are receiving the care and attention they need.

On the state training school system, Winters painted a dark picture. He estimated the situation will soon be relieved by construction of new facilities at Gatesville.

A new plant, costing about $400,000, is to be built — the site yet undecided.

This, he added, will help in segregating the "really vicious delinquent boys from those who can be rehabilitated," Gatesville, he said, has been receiving boys from cities like Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and others, putting them on farm work and then turning them back to the cities. New plans will bring the vocations and other training to the system "and help these youngsters make something useful of themselves."

Winters was a former Potter county commissioner and president of the Amarillo School board. He was appointed to his present post by former Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Parliament Closes To Prepare For Oct. 25 Elections

LONDON — (AP) — The House of Commons closed today with traditional decorum, putting aside momentarily its anger over the loss of the oil refinery at Abadan and shook at the nose dive of Britain's gold and dollar assets.

The formal preparations to dissolve Parliament in advance for the Oct. 25 elections went off without a hitch. The impartial speaker ruled out of order an attempt by independent member Raymond Blackburn to prod Labor's Prime Minister Clement Attlee on his government's handling of the Iranian oil crisis.

Iranian oil and the country's financial plight are expected to be hot issues in the elections. The House gathered after Attlee and Winston Churchill, leader of the conservative opposition had prayed together at St. Paul's cathedral for the speedy recovery of the ailing King.

White Deer Carnival Set

A down-town street carnival will be staged in White Deer Saturday night by the Lions Club. Highlight of the event will be movies of the tornado which occurred June 6, Kenneth Bruton, a representative of Southwestern Public Service, made the movies as the tornado approached White Deer, and during the storm.

Also scheduled are carnival games. Proceeds of the event will go for civic improvement.

Scrap Meeting Set By Auto Wreckers

Auto wreckers on the North Plains will gather for a "scrap meeting" at 2 p.m. Friday in the Amarillo hotel, according to J. D. Jones, auto wreckers district scrap chairman.

Iron and steel scrap is one of the most critical problems facing this country today, Jones said, and the auto wrecker's problems will be discussed at the meeting.

Austin Lauds Philip Jessup

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Warren R. Austin told Senators today the United States needs men like Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup on its delegation to the forthcoming United Nations general assembly in Paris.

Austin, former Republican senator from Vermont and now the chief U. S. delegate to the UN, testified at a Senate foreign relations subcommittee hearing on President Truman's nomination of Jessup to be one of 11 delegates and alternates to the general assembly.

Saying more mousing of Communist propaganda can be expected at the Paris meeting, in addition to the many important items on the agenda, Austin said the U. S. delegation:

"Needs a man like Dr. Philip C. Jessup and these others here who have the principles and policies of the United States as part of the fiber of their beings so that at no time during the great storm and stress we are sure to experience, there will be no failure of ability, morality, courage, or the skill to represent this great country."

Austin went before the subcommittee before Jessup himself returned to resume the day-long testimony he gave yesterday.

Dream Of Lifetime Comes True For Columnist Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Everybody has a hobby these days, from bird watching to collecting early photos of Gypsy Rose Lee. My hobby is reading Sunday newspapers. On Sunday, this hobby has been the bane of my dear wife's life for 14 years.

"If I had known about that beforehand I'd never have married you," sighed Frances, "why don't you collect butterflies? Then we could be out in the fields together and get some fresh air? Or golf? I'd be glad to carry the clubs for both of us, if you'd take up golf."

"But no, not you. All you want to do is sit upside down in a chair and read Sunday newspapers."

There are two kinds of Sunday newspaper hobbyists — the skimmers and the perfectionists. The skimmers are those who lie in bed with a handful of Sunday papers. They rip open the pages rapidly, scanning a story here, an ad there, until they are covered from head to foot by a paper tent that shuts out the light. Then they fall sleep.

I think the skimmers are people who move their lips while they read. I belong to the perfectionist, or classic school of hobbyists. We are never happy unless we read a Sunday paper all the way through — stories, ads and pictures.

One of the great sadnesses of my life is that I have never been able to do this with the Sunday New York Times. Reading it from first page to last is a goal as challenging to my fellow hobbyists as the English channel is to long-distance swimmers.

The Times has just observed its hundredth anniversary. And as a footnote to its celebration I'd like to announce that last week, after 14 years of effort, I finally read my way clear through its Sunday edition. In a single day. That's important. I've done it several times by spreading it over several days.

Just to warm up I pawed through the other Sunday papers in two hours. Then I turned to the Times. It was only 266 pages — a hopeful sign.

But noon I had zoomed through the general news sections (76 pages), the real estate section (27), and the classified ads (16). It was cheering to note that $250 a month apartments are again in good supply.

By 2 p. m., I had racked up sports (12), drama, music, art and travel (26).

Then, after 15 minutes of trotting around the room and doing full knee bends, I took on the business and business opportunities section (12 pages), and decided to leave my $500 in government bonds and let the stock market struggle on without me.

Next came my favorite, the book review section (36). It was then 9:30 p. m. My wife brought in a meat sandwich, and pleaded: "Give up, dear. You'll go blind."

Never! Groggily I attacked the magazine section (86 pages). By 10 p. m. it was done, and I fell refreshed from the pictures. I turned into the home stretch — the review of the week. Twelve pages later I sank back, exhausted but happy. I had made it — after all these years.

"My hero!" said Frances tenderly. "You must rest now, dear. Next week we'll go to the country — and no newspapers for you."

"Don't be silly," I told her. "Next week I'm going to go clear through the Sunday edition backward."

I will, too, bet you man in history ever did that.

Building Hits All Time High

NEW YORK — (AP) — American industry is doing a record amount of building this year — expanding in a $25-billion-a-year rush to build up military might.

Some businessmen are wondering today: what are we going to do with all these defense plants, once the need for so much expansion of military might is over?

Most new plants and new tools of production are for defense or defense-supporting industries. But most can be converted to making goods for civilians, when the time comes that the military doesn't need — on a keep-going basis — as much industrial plant as it does now on a building-up basis.

Business doesn't question the need for defense nor the emphasis now concentrated on tooling-up for it. It can't help wondering, though, about two things:

1. When the defense building boom stops, will other construction needs be enough to keep this major prop of the economy still standing — or will there be a building slump and unemployment?

2. If plants now being built for defense production are no longer needed for that, will civilian demands for the goods they make be enough to keep them running — or will our industrial production capacity be seriously over-expanded?

The rush to invest in new plants is already slowing down in most industries. Notable exceptions are: primary steel and nonferrous metals, non-electrical machinery, non-automotive transportation equipment and rubber.

But the momentum of plans already made indicate that building will continue at a high rate well into 1952, depending on how much material is made available for construction.

The effect on industry may not reach its greatest force until 1953 or 1954. This time lag is based on World War II experience. The National Industrial Conference Board notes: "more than half the total additions to manufacturing for the five years 1940-45 had been completed by the end of 1942, and more than three-fourths by the end of 1943. But the peak output of industrial raw materials did not come until 1944."

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The cool, dry weather of autumn can bring with it an unwelcome photo gremlin called static electricity. He is unwittingly invited by the action of briskly unrolling film, inserting or removing film holder slides and by wiping, or cleaning photo accessories. He generally leaves his footprints in the shape of "static trees" on negatives without bothering to see whether it aids the composition of the picture subject. It seldom does.

It isn't surprising in this atomic age, that some chemist could find a way to outwit nature's phenomenon of static electricity. Why they've even changed the weather itself by seeding clouds with dry ice, so attending to Mr. Static should have been a foregone conclusion.

Sure enough a harmless, colorless chemical called "Photo-Sweep" is now being marketed as a static eliminator and cleaner. It can be used on films, glass slides, binders, transparencies, lens surfaces, filters, film holder slides. It comes in 8 oz. pressurized cans for most photographic uses and is bottled for use with motion picture or strip film.

It was demonstrated for me at my desk. A 4" x 5" negative was rubbed with a piece of cotton to "clean it," then held near an ash tray. Ashes and dust leaped to the film surface, attracted by static electricity as a result of the friction of wiping. The negative was then given a spray of Photo-Sweep. This was rubbed with cotton as before and put over the ash tray. No dust leaped. The negative has seemingly lost its power of attraction.

for dust. That is good.

The cleaning action of this new preparation is provided by one of the ingredients, carbon tetrachloride, but the static-generating action of the carbon-tet has been overcome with another chemical agent. It was found that the blast of the spray whisks off any surface dust while it leaves a microscopically thin, invisible protective coating that prevents further formation of static electricity. After treatment, any lint or dust that may settle on the surface can be readily wiped off without risk of attracting more. Treating one side of the film protects both sides.

For cleaning motion picture film, a cloth is moistened with the liquid and the film passed between two layers of the cloth with a squeegee action.

It is interesting to note how photo fans benefit from discoveries in other fields. A new business and many applications in the plastic fields have been uncovered by static-removal compounds developed by the maker of Photo-Sweep (Electro-Chemical Products, East Orange, N.J.). They started out to eliminate static-born dust on vinylite records and auto seat covers and soon found the photo field crowding into their picture.

Of course if the fans took it easy unrolling film, pushing in and pulling out film holder slides and in gently brushing — instead of vigorously wiping — their equipment, they wouldn't encourage Mr. Static to make such a pest of himself. And they wouldn't have to resort to antistats.

Before static eliminators came along, it has always been essential that the eye of the camera, the lens, be perfectly clean to do full justice to subject matter. Most people are aware of the need for a clean lens so they poke their handkerchief around or wipe it with their finger, tie, shirt or towel according to what's handy. Lens experts shake their heads sadly at such going on and mutter that more harm than good is being accomplished.

Special lens tissues and soft camel-hair brushes are the remedy and they should be a constant accessory in the gadget bag at all times. Recently a new lens gauge, originally made for use only by the government according to their strict specifications, was made available for the civilian market. Called Starr Lens Gauge, it comes in a dust and water resistant plastic envelope.

All wiping action on lenses should be gentle for you can scratch a delicate surface by grinding around even a piece of dust. Or haven't you ever gotten a particle in your eye?

Don't Handle The Discard Pile

By OSWALD JACOBY
Writer for NEA Service

"Since the new rules came out," writes a Pittsburgh fan, "I've run into quite a little controversy on touching the stock pile or the discard pile."

"It's my understanding that a touched card is a played card, yet one of the printed rules says that you may examine the discard pile before you make your first play. Does this mean that you can actually look at the cards in the discard pile during the first round of play after the deal? I can't see that there would be any great advantage in that since there wouldn't be more than three or four cards in the pile."

Also, what about the stock pile? If you are holding back a good many cards instead of melding them, it is quite necessary to know when the stock pile is getting low. But here again, if you touch the stock pile don't you have to draw a card from it?"

In general, a touched card is a played card, but there are exceptions to this rule. If your intention is clearly something other than a play, the rule doesn't apply. For example, you may merely wish to straighten out the stock pile or the discard pile. The situation usually makes your intention very clear, but it is always all right to mention your purpose.

The rule about looking at the discard pile during the first round of play was written into the book to legalize what most players did anyway. At the beginning of a hand, somebody is usually shuffling, somebody else may be writing down a score, and so on. The others can go ahead with their first plays while you do your chores, provided that you can catch up on what happened by examining the cards in the discard pile.

U.S. Employment Shows 'Small' Rise

WASHINGTON — (P) — Federal civilian employment increased less during August than in any month since the start of the Korean war.

The report came from the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, headed by Senator Byrd (D-W.V.).

The committee said civilian employment in the executive branch totaled 2,807,497 persons in August, a net increase of 8899 over the July total.

FIRE WATCHERS
ELKHART, Ind. — (P) — Vernon L. Cripe, Elkhart county sheriff, has declared a one-man war on people who chase fire engines. He spent quite a bit of time recently straightening out a traffic jam caused by motorists leaving their cars parked on the road and rushing to enjoy a fire. Sixteen of them got tickets.

Old Zodiac U Man Says Gray Eyed Couples Not Compatible

By HENRY McLEMORE - Today's little literary gem deals with a letter which came to me with a Brooklyn postmark, signed "Frances M."

Here's the letter: "Dear Mr. McLeMORE: I am practically engaged to a gray-eyed brunette, born under Aquarius. I am a gray-eyed blonde born under Taurus. Are we compatible? How should I go about coaxing him to pop the question?"

"He has big ideas about making a lot of money. Are Aquarians usually successful? He doesn't care much for work, particularly if it is a nine-to-five job."

"A hasty answer in your column will be deeply appreciated."

Frances M., you have turned to the right man. I was valedictorian of my class at Zodiac U. I was cheerleader for the horoscope team, and was voted the least profane of all students at Zodiac U, having never heard to use an explicit stronger than "Great Gemini the Twins."

You asked me if you and this gray-eyed brunette are compatible. Not being a man who hedges, I'd say you aren't. I did a doctor's thesis on your problem at Zodiac U, which involved much research. The brunette does not like double feature movies, and is much more cautious, painstaking and passive than the blonde. He likes three-horse parleys, and will go out of his way to visit a museum. He likes to shine his own shoes, cut his own hair, and keep a milch cow in the guest room.

That is true of a brunette with eyes of any color. Get a brunette with gray eyes, and a woman is likely to have a problem on her hands. The gray-eyed brunette likes to do card tricks that don't quite come off, wears his gold football fifteen years after he has been a tackle, and calls a mixed fourth row center seats for "The King and I." But, Frances M., I don't think you two gray-eyed sweethearts should get together. I have known many gray-eyed couples, but have yet to know one that got along amicably.

Most gray-eyed men like to curl up in a hammock, whether it's summer or winter, and read comic books. Most gray-eyed women are good housekeepers, and are always sweeping beneath the hammock their gray-eyed husbands are reading in. It takes concentration to absorb a comic book, and the whisk of a broom more often than not puts the husband in a rage.

Frances M., you say that the man you are practically engaged to likes money but doesn't like to work. That gives him something in common with almost every man I know. If you really want him to propose, why don't you get a good job and buy him a counterfeiting machine?

I trust that my answer has been adequate, but if it hasn't you can always reach me by writing Zodiac U.

ON THE INSIDE underwear is loose and baggy. IN THE MIDDLE new wool shirt replaces sweater. ON THE OUTSIDE a fur-lined hood for fast moving.

Army Wages Hot War On Korean Cold To Miss Repetition Of Last Year's Winter Casualties

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) - UN troops in Korea should be able to stand the bitter cold winter far better this year than they did last year.

Elaborate plans for getting necessary winter gear to the troops were begun last June. Quarter master corps spokesmen say there's enough winter clothing now in Korea or on its way to keep every man warm and protected throughout the winter. Only a few items which might be needed for replacement later in the winter are in slightly short supply now.

Several of the new items of cold weather clothing, in Korea or on the way, have been greatly improved on the basis of last winter's experience.

In addition to the efforts of the quartermaster corps to make the winter in Korea more bearable, the surgeon general has been preparing for the coming cold all summer. Last year's Korean winter weather alone accounted for 5000 casualties from frostbite, plus aggravating the condition of many battlefield wounded.

Training teams have been instructing the troops on how best to prevent frostbite. This includes instructions on the proper use of the clothing, on how to keep feet as dry as possible and on how to ventilate the clothing.

Men who will be in the front lines have been instructed to rotate foxhole watch duty more frequently, giving men a chance to use warming stoves more often.

One of the newest anti-frostbite items is a foot powder which has been developed by the surgeon general and which will be supplied troops in packages of seven envelopes each, with one day's supply in each envelope. It's supposed to reduce foot perspiration at least 24 percent and is composed of a talc base with potassium alum, starch, boric acid, salicylic acid and aluminum chloride.

Feet, wet from perspiration, are particularly vulnerable to frostbite.

Another new protection against the cold to be used this winter is a casualty bag. Similar to a sleeping bag, but with numerous openings so wounds can be treated while a man is in it, it is supposed to keep a man alive against the cold down to minus 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

In the actual treatment of frostbite, new, proven techniques will be used. There will be emphasis on keeping patients from smoking during early stages of treatment. Injured parts will be washed more frequently with a non-irritant. Rooms in which patients are kept will be at 72 to 78 degrees, instead of being kept chilly, as was formerly done.

Most important, doctors have been instructed to wait longer before amputating frozen limbs. It has been discovered that frozen limbs which doctors formerly believed had to be amputated can be saved by waiting, plus the intense use of penicillin and other wonder drugs.

From head to toe, cold weather clothing furnished the troops has undergone major and minor improvements. The hat has been changed so that when the ear flaps are let down the inside size of the hat remains the same. And the fur-lined hood hats been made so it can be worn with other than the coldest weather outside garments. When a man is moving fast he needs the hood but might not need the heaviest jacket.

The "layer" principle is still the basic idea of the Army's winter clothing. But some of the layers have been improved and some eliminated. Loose or baggy underwear is the new fashion. Over that is a new heavy woolen shirt which eliminates the need of a sweater.

Wool layers no longer rub against another wool layer, or against a mohair layer. This makes the clothes easier to put on and take off and it keeps layers from creeping up on each other. A special frieze material which feels like a thin, nylon towel has been substituted for the pile mohair liner. It can be washed without matting and is much lighter.

A brand new shoe for wet cold weather will be supplied the troops in great quantities, but will not entirely supplant the old one. It is still considered in the experimental stage. It is a shoe of two thicknesses of heavy rubber with two layers of wool insulation between, and a heavy, insulated sole.

It permits a man to wear only one pair of socks. A man has to wear several pairs of socks with the present shoe and it is not as warm or waterproof as the new one.

Some of the newer items of clothing are in slightly short supply as far as their full winter reserves go. But the Quartermaster corps is not worried about anything like what happened last winter in Korea happening there again.

Texan To Become Moslem So He May Wed Belly Dancer

PARIS (AP) - Shepard King III, wealthy young Texan says that he will become a Moslem in order to marry Egyptian belly dancer Samia Gamal.

The six-foot-three, red haired Texan said he proposed marriage to the pretty, 27-year-old dancer and movie actress "only a few hours after I met her."

King, 26, from Houston and Dallas, came to Paris with his sister Patricia Sept. 16. That night they went to the Lido night club on the Champs Elysees, a few yards from their Claridge hotel.

"I saw this beautiful girl dancing with another man and I tried to figure out how to meet her and finally sent a bottle of champagne over to her table," said King.

"The man with her didn't like it a bit, and didn't want to open the bottle. She insisted, and finally invited my sister and me over to her table. I found out she was also staying at the Claridge hotel. This was about 3 a. m."

"Back at the hotel, about 6 a. m. I guess, I proposed to her. I guess she thought I was just a wild American and a little tight, but that day I bought her a ring, and so we became engaged."

King said he and Samia, who tied in a Moslem ceremony in Cairo in December and then he married again in Texas.

King said he and Samal, who has danced before King Farouk a few times - for example last year at Deauville during the King's vacation in France - had investigated the possibility of getting married in a Mosque in Paris.

"But we found the formalities would take too long. Samal is going to Cairo tomorrow to make a motion picture. And I'm going to Rome tomorrow on the rest of my vacation and fly back to the States Oct. 17. I will go to Cairo early in December."

King says he has a little oil property himself but that his main job is looking after the securities and real estate of his mother and grandmother. It isn't difficult to become a Moslem, he says.

"You just stand up and drink a cup of Turkish coffee, or something before a high priest, and then sign a statement that you're a Moslem."

King said he was raised as an Episcopalian.

King said he and Samia would marry even more quickly except that the beautiful brown-eyed girl had signed the contract for a movie in Egypt.

"She turned down, because of me, an offer to substitute for the late Maria Montez in a picture being made in Rome," said King, who was divorced from his first wife in February, 1950.

"Samia may do some films in the states, he added.

"We have no definite plans. She's very eager to see the States."

King said it was really love at first sight.

"I didn't even know who she was when I first saw her. We've been together ever since," he said.

Stassen Challenges Secretary Of State

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Harold E. Stassen has flatly challenged Secretary of State Dean Acheson to deny that in 1948 he recommended cutting off all military supplies for China.

Stassen's challenge followed a State Department reply to his testimony before a Senate hearing on Monday. He said then that the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) had told him of a White House meeting at which Acheson and Philip Jessup had proposed halting aid to the Nationalists.

Senior Girls Of Canadian High Are Guests Of PEO

CANADIAN (Special)—Girls of the senior class of the Canadian High school were special guests of the PEO sisterhood Monday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. Ruth Snyder.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Josephine Douglass, president, and Mrs. Dale Nix presented the afternoon's program, "Educational Day" was the program topic with Mrs. Marion Carr and Mrs. Maudaline Huton taking part.

The PEO educational fund was discussed by Mrs. Huton, and Mrs. Carr talked on the curriculum of Cottey college. Cottey college is a junior college for girls in Nevada, Mo., and for many years has been owned and maintained by the PEO sisterhoods.

Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Huton assisted Mrs. Snyder as co-hostesses. The entertaining rooms and tea table were decorated with arrangements of autumn flowers.

Mrs. Douglass presided at the tea table, and Mrs. Alade Isaac played appropriate music during the social hour. The 16 girls present entertained with impromptu group singing.

The senior girls attending included Sammy Krehbiel, Jeanie Job, Leslynn Webb, Nancy Alexander, Mary Lou Love, Norma Owens, Janet Conley, Barbara Hall, Joyce Cumutt, Mary Ellen Tepe, Nan Matthews, Louise Zybach, Darlene Baker, Dorothy Bernson, Marion Rupp, and Norma Bernson.

Dr. Veale Speaks On Orthodontics To Parent Education

Dr. J. B. Veale, guest speaker, showed a film, "Your Child's First Visit to the Dentist," at a meeting of the Parent Education club in the home of Mrs. Albert Reynolds Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Veale gave a talk on the history and development of orthodontics, illustrating with plaster impressions of faulty teeth and impressions taken after they had been straightened.

Sandwiches and punch were served to Mrs. Tom Braly, Mrs. R. W. Clark, Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. Robert Curry, Mrs. Gene Fatheree, Mrs. Bob Gordon, Mrs. John Hines, Mrs. George Hofess, Mrs. Homer Johnson, Mrs. Joe Key, Mrs. Julian Key, Mrs. Myron Marx, Jr., Mrs. Rex Rose, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. George Snell, Mrs. J. B. Veale, and Mrs. Ed Williams.

Central Baptist Dorcas Class Holds Social Meeting

The social meeting of the Dorcas class of the Central Baptist church was held Friday night in the home of Mrs. Albert Taylor, 208 Price.

The meeting included a business session with Mrs. John Killian, president, in charge, and installation of officers.

Mrs. L. J. Prescott was installed as president; Mrs. E. B. Davis, first vice president; Mrs. Bailey Frances, second vice president; Mrs. M. T. Buck, third vice president; Mrs. J. H. Jackson, secretary; Mrs. John Killian, Mrs. C. L. Hunter, Mrs. O. E. Hussa, Mrs. D. L. Brown and Mrs. Albert Taylor are group captains and Mrs. G. C. Stark is teacher.

Mrs. D. L. Allen presented the devotional and Mrs. Stark led the closing prayer.

Spiced tea and cookies were served. Members attending were Mmes. E. R. Gower, Bob Huffines, J. H. Jackson, O. E. Hussa, Roberts Wood, Jess Hulsey, E. B. Davis, D. L. Allen, H. L. Crump, C. L. Lovely Voice Is One Of Woman's Greatest Charms

Believing that a pleasant speaking voice is one of a woman's most important assets, singer Fran Warren demonstrates some of her personal tricks for developing proper breathing techniques and lip mobility. Reading aloud before a mirror (upper left) is good for acquiring rounded vowels, and speaking into a candle flame (upper center), points up need for modulation. Diaphragmatic breathing is developed by book-on-tummy exercise (below) and measured inhaling and exhaling when taking leisurely walks (right).

BY FRANK WALKER

Written for NEA Service

There are few things, in my opinion, that add more to a woman's charm than a lovely voice. Of course, as a singer, I'm probably prejudiced, but I think a general poll would back me up. Few lists of attractive women include the nasal twanglers, the screechers and the bel-lowsers.

These are harsh terms. I realize, and it's difficult to think of yourself as fitting into any such category. If all women could hear their voices played back in records as I do, however, they would probably realize that few of us escape without at least a few minor mistakes.

If you suspect that your speaking voice could do with a bit of improvement, the first thing to do is to develop an ear for your errors. Actively listen to yourself as you speak, not for the sense of the words, but for the sound of your syllables. If the effect is more like a cement mixer than a tinkling brook, remedial steps are in order.

The key to a soothing, melodious voice is correct breathing. It's no wonder that so many vocal chords fail to react properly to the shallow puffs of air drawn in and out with chest breathing.

To improve your voice, learn to breathe deeply, filling your lungs completely each time you inhale. When this is properly done, your diaphragm, which is the large muscle separating your chest and abdominal cavities, should be pushed out with each incoming breath.

Since diaphragmatic breathing is largely a matter of conscious thought and practice, I make a point of inhaling and exhaling correctly each time I take my dog for a walk. I take five, long free steps, inhaling as I stride. Then, for the next five steps, I exhale slowly.

This simple exercise for developing voice control and endurance is one that almost any woman should be able to adapt to her own way of living. It needs no special props or setting, and works as well for the homemaker on her way to the grocery store as for the outdoor girl blithely engaged in her morning constitutional.

If you have time for a formal exercise, try this one which has yielded good results for me. Lie upon the floor or an exercise mat and draw your knees into the air until your back is level and your stomach flat. Then inhale through your nose to the count of ten. Hold that breath as long as you can, then release it suddenly through your mouth.

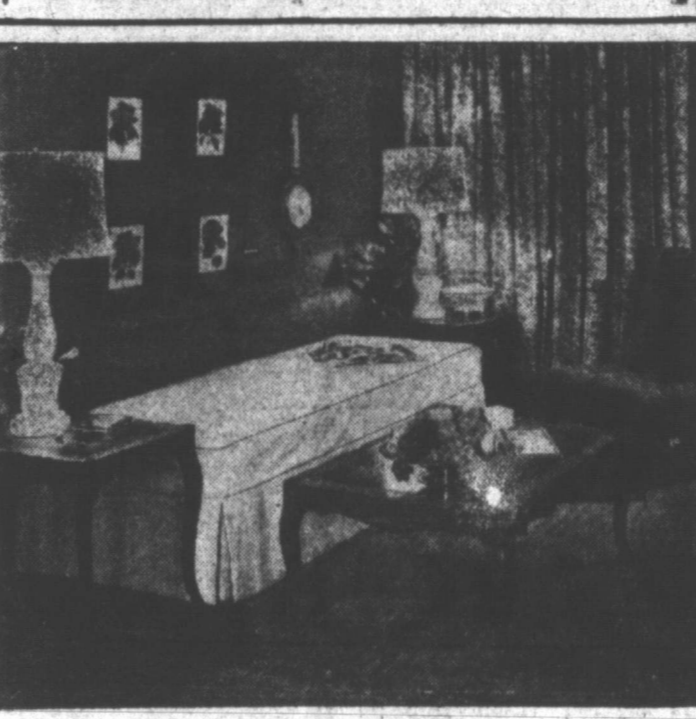

A hand, held upon your diaphragm, should be your means of checking whether you're breathing correctly. Correctly performed, this exercise causes your diaphragm to expand with each inhalation.

Books, balanced on your diaphragm, are good for checking, too. They should elevate slowly as you inhale, descend as you exhale.

Lazy lips are responsible for many vocal faults, too, particularly slurring and mispronunciations. To correct this condition, try reading aloud to yourself from a book of poetry or prose. Read before a mirror, and watch for mobility of your lips. If they are stiff and forced-looking when you speak, that's a sure sign this exercise is an excellent choice for you.

Here's a final tip for use at your dinner table whenever there are candles. Speak directly into the flame as you converse with your family or guests. If there is more than a slight flicker, chances are you are using more breath than your words require. Practice this one until you've learned to tone your volume down.

Pilot Is More Concerned Over Plane Than Royalty

LONDON — (AP) — When Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arranged a trans-Atlantic flight to start their North American tour they really picked a professional to manage the airplane.

In charge of the flight, to start from the London airport at 12:30 a. m. Monday, is the most methodical and careful of pilots — Britain's fabulous O.P. (Oscar Philip) Jones.

Should the princess and duke ask him what an Atlantic crossing is like he will be able to tell them that nothing of special interest happened on his first 250 air journeys to America.

He has had more adventure flying over the English channel, but he has done that more than 7000 times. For years he crossed the channel several times a day. Once, on a channel flight, he brought in his plane after a bolt of lightning had melted his radio transmitter.

Capt. Jones, 53, is the dean of pilots of the British Overseas Airways Corp.

Since he started in 1917 he has flown more than 3,000,000 miles, something like 120 times around the earth, a record which leaves other British fliers far behind.

He figures he has been up in the air about two years.

Jones, distinguished by his sharply-pointed goatee, said the princess' crossing to Montreal will be for him quite an ordinary flight, that he can hardly give it extraordinary attention because on every crossing he looks at every detail.

But others, not in the plane, will be checking it with the utmost concern. An admiralty spokesman said the Royal navy will have its vessels "in the right places" in the eastern half of the Atlantic, and the Canadian navy will have craft suitably disposed in the western half.

"It's not going to be a tight sea operation covering every mile of the way," it was said at the admiralty. "But of course every one is alerted, and as it's being worked out, naval and merchant vessels will be in solid radio contact with the princess' plane all the way across."

"This is not unusual. Even when the ing flies from London to Scotland, destroyers in Scottish waters are told to listen carefully for radio signals, and air bases along the route are alerted."

These precautions are outside the sphere of Capt. Jones, whose concern is the airplane. With him will be two other officers able to pilot the stratoscruiser, a second captain and a first officer of flight, a radio operator, a navigator and two engineers. That takes care of flight operations.

To look after the comfort of passengers will be three stewards and a stewardess. So Capt. Jones' team will be eleven, counting himself.

BOAC did not know how many passengers there will be in the royal party, and no list has been released. The presumption is that in addition to the princess and duke there would be ten or twelve.

Area Breeders Win Honors In New Mexico Fair

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Texas breeders took some top honors in the quarter horse exhibition this week at New Mexico state fair.

The champion among the mares was Jole Blon, a light sorrel owned by Glenn L. Casey of Amarillo. Jole Blon was the reserve champion here last year.

Sugar Bars, owned by George E. Wood of El Paso, took first in the stallion show and Choya, owned by Obed Caraway of Hereford, was second.

Fourth and fifth places in the yearling show were taken by Chubby's Red Bud and Panhandle M, both owned by Ralph May of Plainview.

In the colt show Hickory Ann, owned by O. G. Hill of Hereford, won second place and Casey's June Twist, owned by Glen L. Casey of Amarillo, won fifth.

In the yearlings division Hill's Mayflower took first and Clemaco, owned by Vernon Bradley of Plainview, won second.

Jole Blon (grand champion) took first in the aged mares show.

Zebra Dun, owned by Aubrey Rankin, Burkburnett, took second in the geldings class.

Warns Newsmen Good Newspapers Are A Necessity

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — A Texas editor is calling on the nation's newspapers to "recognize their responsibility to give the public the kind of paper they are entitled to have."

M. E. Walter, second vice president of the National Newspaper Promotion Assn., spoke Monday night at the regional meeting of the National Newspaper Promotion Assn.

Many papers in Europe had become "completely unreliable and venal" before they were suppressed by dictators, Walter said.

"Naturally, there was little public opposition to the dictators," he continued, "because the papers the public had been getting were not worth fighting for."

Walter described President Truman's recent order allowing government department heads to withhold information for security reasons as a "pernicious movement to hamper freedom of the press."

Of every 12 pounds of meat consumed in the United States one pound is in the form of sausage, says the Encyclopedia Americana.

Fire Destroys Warehouse

RAGING FIRE out of control at the Skelly Oil Co. warehouse, 610 E. Tynng, was started when fumes from a 10,000-gallon gas tank were ignited shortly after 10 a. m. yesterday. Destroyed were the warehouse, three 10,000-gallon tanks, two of which were full, and the tank on a transport truck. Above, firemen bring the blaze under control and survey the damage. The building at left in the picture is what remains of the warehouse, where several barrels were stored. The three 10,000-gallon tanks also are shown. Tragedy and grief are expressed at right by Mrs. John T. Snow, centre, as she surveys damage to her home at 539 S. Gray after a second fire yesterday. Left to right are Mrs. Emily Folley, Mrs. Snow and Mrs. Ollie Fleming. The man is unidentified.

Hero Must Chuckle At Trouble In Keeping Sword On Statue

HOUSTON — (AP) — Houston's Dick Dowling, whose favorite pastime was practical jokes, may be chuckling over this from beyond the grave.

No matter how hard they try, his home town admirers have found it impossible to keep his gray granite statue in Sam Houston park supplied with swords.

The dilemma was discussed by Tom H. Needham, former city councilman, who for the past 15 years has been the chief volunteer custodian of the statue in honor of the young Irish hero of the battle of Sabine pass.

"Since the statue was moved from its original site at the old City hall," Needham recalled, "Dick Dowling's sword has mysteriously vanished five times."

The statue has been in its present location since 1938. Needham said that the supply of swords ran out in 1947. When St. Patrick's day neared that year, it was discovered that Dowling's sword was gone again, and Needham donated his own Knights of Columbus ceremonial sword to the statue.

"When the next year came around, the Knights of Columbus sword was gone, too," the volunteer guardian continued. "So I had a length of copper pipe cut and had it cemented right under the left hand of the statue where the sword used to dangle. No one has disturbed the copper pipe since and I've given up plans for replacing it."

Needham's theory is that sovent-hunting youths throw rocks at the statue until they knock the swords loose. They were unable to do this before the monument was moved because its original location was in front of the old City hall (now a bus station) right in the heart of town.

Death Of Woman Still A Mystery

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — The death of Mrs. Katherine Roe, 36, remained a mystery today after an autopsy was termed "entirely inconclusive."

Dr. Lloyd R. Hershberger, said Dr. Roe's stomach contents have been sent to Austin in an effort to determine the cause of death. Mrs. Roe's body was found on a road near Junction, Texas, Monday.

Motorists said they saw a car run over the woman's body but officers said she had been lying on the road for some time before the automobile struck her. Sheriff J. O. Wright said there was no evidence of foul play.

Hometown Snarl Laid To Official

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Geographic society notes that William Shakespeare's birthplace is now designated on its maps as "Stratford On Avon," but recalls that the town once had a postmaster who insisted that the proper name was "Stratford Upon Avon." This official, the society says, took every letter sent to "Stratford On Avon" and returned it to the sender stamped "Address Unknown."

Yankees Made 8-5 World Series Favorites

Expect Casey Back To Bums

NEW YORK — (AP) — Did Bob Thomson's dramatic ninth-inning home run which propelled the Yankees into the world series strike a knell for Charlie Dressen's job as manager of Brooklyn?

Some baseball men insisted today it did, but the only man who could say for sure, Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley, hinted broadly the peppy little pilot would be back in 1952.

"When all the furor of the baseball races and world series has died down we'll make an announcement," O'Malley said.

Asked if the Dodgers' collapse in the final weeks, during which Brooklyn lost a 13-2 game lead, might militate against Dressen's reemployment chances, O'Malley replied:

"We made up our minds on this matter before we started losing ground. I'll say this and you may draw your own conclusions. We don't feel the Dodgers collapsed. We have to give some credit to the Giants' near-500 ball the last two months.

"Also, a manager can't hit and can't pitch for his players."

Dressen is confident he did a creditable job and is willing to bet he'll be back at Ebbets Field next year.

If there is any coolness between manager and his boss, it certainly hasn't been evident. O'Malley left the field with his arm around Dressen Tuesday when the Dodgers won, 10-0.

It's a thin line that separates the role of goat and hero in a vital baseball game such as yesterday's playoff final.

The Giants' flying Scot, Thomson, was set up for the role of goat after some wild base-running in the second. These letdowns were quickly forgotten when he hit the winning home run ball.

Ralph Branca seems to have the goat role. The National League in all its 75-year history has had only five playoff games. Branca has lost three of them.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The incredible New York Giants, miracle men of '51, charge into the world series today in the familiar but becoming role of 8 to 5 underdogs to the seasoned New York Yankees.

Floating on a pink cloud in a world all their own after the greatest comeback in baseball history, the Giants face the stern reality of Allie (Double No-Hit) Reynolds and the Yankee Stadium opener at 1:00 p. m. (EST).

To meet this challenge of the well-fed Yanks, accustomed to world series hullabaloo, Manager Leo Durocher has named Dave Koslo (10-9), a journeyman southpaw who hasn't started in two weeks. It's another gamble by take-a-chance-Leo in a series of inspired managerial moves.

Noting that lefthanders gave the Yanks fits all season — and Yogi Berra in particular — Leo reached for the only lefty starter on his arm-weary staff. Koslo spends at least half his time in the bullpen, except when his "cousins" from St. Louis are in town.

No matter what Leo does, the Yanks who watched a Giants southpaw yesterday's dramatic 5-4 clincher from Brooklyn, will not take his club lightly. The record books show the Giants often are known — but never out — Bobby Thomson's three-run homer into the lower left field seats in the ninth inning was one of the most dramatic blows ever struck. It rescued the Giants from the brink of disaster and wrenched a pennant from the grip of the desperate Dodgers.

In dollars and cents the pennant meant about $200,000 to the winning athletes in world series money.

To appreciate the full drama of the occasion you must know the background. How the giants flopped in a miserable 11-game losing streak in April. How they were given up for dead Aug. 11, trailing the Brooklyn master race by 13-2 games. How they clawed back, game by game, until they tied Brooklyn and forced the second National League playoff.

Winning the first playoff game, 3-1, losing the second, 10-0, they were backed up against the wall in the ninth inning of the final game.

After pulling up to tie in the seventh, they saw their hard work go down the drain in the eighth when Sal Maglie wild pitched one run home and the Dodgers hammered home two more with their bats.

Trailing 4-1 in the ninth with big Don Newcombe firing a four-hitter, Al Dark stirred a faint hope with a single off Gil Hodges' glove. When Don Mueller singled, the Polo Grounds settled on third on the hit. Mueller twisted his ankle and was carried from the field. On the way he passed Ralph Branca, striding in to replace the weary Newcombe.

Thomson, the goat on some bonehead base running and inadequate fielding, looked at a called strike. The next pitch was a high fast ball and the Scot from Staten Island slammed a sinking liner that just cleared the high green wall in front of the lower left field seats.

A hoarse roar echoed off Coogan's Bluff as Thomson rounded the bases with a wide grin. Wild-eyed Giants pounded Thomson's back and climbed on his shoulders as they loosened the pent up emotion of weeks of back-bending strain.

The Old Polo Grounds, which saw the great John McGraw's wilder victory celebration than it did yesterday afternoon. Thousands grouped on the centerfield grass and raised volleys of cheers toward the clubhouse windows.

They yelled for Thomson. They yelled for Durocher. They yelled for anybody. It didn't make any difference. No pennant had flown from the Polo Grounds flagpole since 1937 and they were making the most of it.

If history repeats itself, this determined Giant club could go on to win the series too.

The 1914 Boston Braves, miracle men of their day when they surged from last to first to win the pennant, swept past the favored A's in four straight games.

In 1942 the Cardinals stormed past Brooklyn in the stretch and knocked off the Yankees in a tremendous upset.

Both playoff winners — the Cardinals in 1946 and Cleveland in the American League in 1948 — went on to win the series.

And the Chicago Cubs of 1908 that beat the Giants in a 116 playoff game after the regular season, also won the world championship.

The Yanks appear all set with a solid rested pitching trio of Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Eddie Lopat to throw at the Giants. Durocher must piece together his staff after the terrific strain of the last seven weeks to face a team that has won three straight American League championships and two series.

The Giant hitting is predominantly right-handed and so are the Yankee pitchers, another factor in favor of the American Leaguers. And the Yanks have solid lefthanded batting power in Berra, Gene Woodling, Mickey Mantle, Johnny Mize and Joe Collins to throw against Giant righthanders like Maglie, Larry Johnson and Jim Hearn.

One thin plus sure this will be a more intriguing series in fan interest than a Yank-Dodger set. The fans saw that one in 1947 and 1949. They haven't seen the Giants in any series since 1937.

Since the fans found the secret of world series winning in 1923 they have beaten the Giants three in a row. They lost their first two series to the Giants in 1921 and 1922 in the fabled era of McGraw, Miller Huggins and Babe Ruth.

Because the Yanks have more pitching depth, a steeper infield, better catching and at least an even break in the outfield, the pick here is the American Leaguers in six. But then you never can figure inspiration on paper.

Hank Thompson was slated to replace the injured Mueller in right field for the Giants against the righthanded Reynolds.

NEW YORK — (AP) — How can you concentrate on football when all you hear is world series? But here are the gilt-edged winners of this weekend's big games.

Texas A&M over Oklahoma: Oklahoma supposedly has some worries about its line. And which team has better battering ram than Bob Smith of Texas A&M? Texas over North Carolina: both teams come into this sectional contest with good marks. Texas has beaten the more rugged foes and should win here.

Arkansas over TCU. Rice over LSU. SMU over Baylor. Ohio State over Michigan State: the big game of the week, possibly the big game of the season. Both teams have hordes of talent and both have plenty of incentive. Ohio State, the Rose Bowl and Michigan State the smacking of another Big Ten team. The home field and Vic Janowicz give Ohio State a thin edge.

Notre Dame over Detroit: a Friday night venture for the Irish. Notre Dame's coaches have found the fullback they needed in Neil Worden, the Irish could make their season at least 8-2.

Tennessee over Duke: Duke has a new coach, new system, new spirit. But Tennessee has that old Army man, Gene Fraley, and that experience.

Northwestern over Army: this is the wrong year for the cadets to be wandering around in Big Ten territory.

Washington over Southern California even with Don Heinrich on the sidelines with a bum shoulder, the Washingtons should have enough to get by the Trojans, who are just beginning to find themselves.

Pennsylvania over Dartmouth: Penn has the greater all-around talent, but Dartmouth's Bill Hill will average that 7 to 6 setback of a year ago.

Finishing the others in a hurry: Boston University over Louisville, Miami (Fla) over Florida State, Mississippi over Boston College, Washington State over Oklahoma A&M.

East: Columbia over Harvard, Cornell over Colgate, Holy Cross over Fordham, Penn State over Wake Forest, Navy, Yale over Brown.

South: Alabama over Vanderbilt, Clemson over North Carolina State, Georgia over Mississippi State, Kentucky over Georgia Tech, Maryland over Georgia Washington.

Midwest: Colorado over Kansas, Indiana over Pittsburgh, Michigan over Stanford, Nebraska over Kansas State, Purdue over Iowa.

Far West: California over Minnesota, Montana over Denver, Oregon State over Idaho, UCLA over Santa Clara.

The Pampa Guerillas, still seeking their first victory of the 1951 season, will travel to Turkey tonight to test the strength of the Turks of District 2-B.

Game time at Turkey is 8 p. m., and the game will be carried by radio station KPND with Kay Pancher and Rudy Marti at the microphones.

The teams enter the battle on even footing, each having dropped three games to date. The Guerillas have been overcome by the Wheeler Mustangs, the Lefors Pirates and the Berger Bulldogs. The Turks were victimized by Idalou, Petersburg and also by Wheeler.

The Guerillas last week put up their best game of the season in losing to Berger. They showed signs of rounding into a ballclub that could give the opponents a tussle the rest of the way through the schedule.

But Bobby Wilhelm, Jean Martindale, Jimmy Keel, Buddy Moore, J. T. Lamberson or Richard Radcliffe.

Coaches Frizzell and Trice have been experimenting with the boys in the backfield this week, seeking more offensive power while heavy defensive work has been the menu for the linemen.

Buffs Can Play Role Of Spoilers

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Arizona Wildcats will have a major opportunity to lead in the Border Conference title race next Saturday when they tangle in Tucson with the West Texas State Buffaloes.

The clubs are rated even.

In other games Texas Tech plays Houston here, Hardin-Simmons plays Wichita Falls, Arizona State at Tempe meets Wayne University at Tempe, Arizona State at Flagstaff takes on Whitlir College. Texas Western plays Abilene Christian at Midland and the New Mexico Aggies play New Mexico at Las Cruces.

All are night contests.

West Texas State regained prestige Saturday by downing McMurry 28 to 20. Arizona lost to Oregon 35 to 21. Texas Tech was dropped 20 to 7 by Texas A&M. Hardin-Simmons beat Trinity 20 to 6. Texas Western won over New Mexico A&M 41 to 7. Arkansas beat Arizona State at Tempe 30 to 13, and Cal Tech trounced Arizona State at Flagstaff, 28 to 14.

West Texas trailed McMurry by 13 points in the third quarter at Amarillo but erupted for three fast touchdowns that turned the tables.

Hardin-Simmons displayed a hard chalking line and a deadly aerial game in cutting down Trinity.

Pampa Golfers Try For Crown Sunday

The Panhandle Men's Golf Association will hold its final meeting of the year next Sunday afternoon at Ross Rogers golf course in Amarillo. The Pampa Country club team is currently 70 strokes in front of the field with defending champion Phillips Country club in second place.

All golfers are urged to attend the Sunday golf fest and help insure the win for Pampa. If you are planning on going, please call Johnny Austin at the pro shop 1410, no later than 10 a. m. Sunday.

George Cummins, 222-p. o. n. d. sophomore guard, is a shot putter on the Tulane track team. He placed second in the SEC track meet last year.

Reapers Move To Amarillo Tomorrow

The undefeated, untied and league leading Junior High School Reapers, with their head coach Marvin Bowman sitting on the sidelines following a weekend appendectomy, will meet the Elizabeth Nixon Whirlwinds tomorrow afternoon at Amarillo.

The game will start at 3:30 and will be broadcast over KPND at that time with Coy Palmer and Warren Hasse at the microphones.

The Reapers are expected to throw the same starting lineup into the fray as has won all of the three previous starts. Billy Fulenwider, who was a doubtful starter earlier in the week because of a foot infection that had him on crutches, was back in uniform yesterday and appeared ready for action.

In that event the starting backfield would see Bill Culpeper, Harold Lewis and Ken Hinkle filling out the backfield with Fulenwider. At the ends will be E. J. McIlvain and Gary Griffin. John Watson and Ben Sturgeon at tackles; Huey Burns and Damon Runyon at guards; and James Hawkins at center.

Lewis has been the biggest scoring threat of the junior high's defending co-champions thus far, and stopping him will be the main objective of the Whirlwinds.

Sinton Oilers Win

SINTON, (AP) — The Plymouth Oilers, national semi-pro champions, edged out the Monterey Sultans 7-6 last night in the first five-game series that stretched ten innings.

The Cowboys completed 14 of 26 passes for 208 yards at San Antonio.

Randy Turpin's grandfather was Tom Whitehouse, a British bare-knuckle fighter in the pre-Marquis of Queensberry Era.

District 1-A In Conference Play

(By The Associated Press)

The Class A division of Texas schoolboy football plunges into conference play this week with five games counting in the championship running matching undefeated teams.

There are 31 unbeaten elevens in this division but at least seven will fall out this weekend. There undoubtedly will be more but only seven games have teams with undefeated marks battling each other.

In the Panhandle-in District 1-A—Panhandle and Clarendon get together. Both are undefeated, untied teams together.

Other games in this category are: Seagraves at Abernathy, Fran at Big Lake in a District 1-A conference melee, Honey Grove at Hawkins, Mathis at George West in a District 30 conference test, and Boerne at Hondo in a District 28 conference go.

Palacios and Kennedy, which have been tied but are undefeated, get together in a District 27 conference affair.

Other standout contests have Grapeland at Elkhart and Groveton at Trinity in District 19 games matching teams unbeaten in conference play.

The undefeated, untied teams left in Class A include: White Deer, Clarendon, Panhandle, Canadian, Amherst, Dimmitt, Seagraves, Abernathy, Alpine, Big Lake, Iran, Maria, Wink, Eden and Eldorado.

1-White Deer at McLennan (conference), Panhandle at Clarendon (conference), Lefors at Wheeler (conference).

Zlobotny, de l'Isle Assist Hoopie In Picking Buckeyes

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOODLE
Author of "I Pass"

Egad! This week I am literally reeling the gait, but fearlessly, calmly and with science on my side.

The occasion is the titanic struggle between Ohio State and Michigan State, which threatens to jar the spheres.

Zillions of readers have written to ask me to be sure and forecast the result of this clash. These seem to be divided in their loyalties and desires, as well as their guesses as to the outcome, so I have concentrated especially on this one game.

And here it is, anxious ones: Ohio State will defeat Michigan State by a score of 14 to 7.

Har-rumph! Please be assured before you scoff that I have devoted hours of laborious research to this contest. I have even gone so far as to apply Dr. Rome de l'Isle's law of constant angles, and Prof. Pasquale Zlobotny's theory of the progression of voids! It's too abstract for the average reader to grasp — kaff!

My three-star specials this week are Michigan to beat Stanford, California over Minnesota and Northwestern over Army.

Now continue with your enjoyment by reading the forecast of other games for Oct. 6:

Ohio State 14, Mich State 7
Northwestern 15, Army 14
Michigan 20, Stanford 6
Pampa 27, Plainview 13
California 14, Minnesota 7
Navy 20, Princeton 14
Kansas 27, Colorado 14
Penn 27, Dartmouth 6
Illinois 15, Wisconsin 7
Iowa 20, Purdue 15
Alabama 20, Vanderbilt 14
Tennessee 21, Duke 13
Kentucky 20, Georgia Tech 7

Barons Put Buffs On Spot Tonight

HOUSTON — (AP) — Houston's Buffs stage a back-to-the-wall fight tonight in the Dixie Series. Birmingham's Barons, leading three games to two, and Houston came here for the final games — if more than the issue is needed to decide the issue.

Mike Clark gets the pitching call for Houston, opposing Mickey Hatcher, the former big leaguer who trimmed the Buffs in the first game last week.

Birmingham won the opener 7-3, Houston took the next two 1-0 and 3-0, but Birmingham came back to win the fourth 5-2 and the fifth, 4-3.

Walker Returns To Lineup As Harvesters Ready For Bulldogs

Plainview Set For Pampans

By LURON BROWN

SPORTS EDITOR, Plainview Herald

PLAINVIEW — (Special) — One of the heaviest forward walls to appear in schoolboy football in these parts in a long time will be formed in front of the Pampa travel bureau when the Harvesters and Bulldogs congregate here Friday night for their annual set-to.

That much can be said for Plainview. The frustrating part of it, for the Bulldogs and their admirers, at least, is that is about the sum of it. Lacking in speed and a pass defense, Plainview's eleven can't hope to meet the Harvesters on even terms.

It is possible that the Bulldog 250 pound tackle, Jimmy Jameson, may not see the game through. He has a badly bruised right knee. The injury kept him off the practice field Monday and unless it heals fast Jameson won't be up to par Friday night.

Tom Caskey is in prime condition and will be operating at his halfback post off Coach Bob Russ's single wing system. But Caskey is not counted on for a complete backfield. The lad has lots of driving power but is comparatively slow.

In last year's game with the Harvesters Caskey went out with an injury on the thirteenth play of the game and his absence no doubt made a lot of difference in the edge the Harvesters claimed over Plainview.

Russ will start on the offensive

Walker Returns To Lineup As Harvesters Ready For Bulldogs

The Pampa Harvesters, who have been expecting a different type of test each weekend as they go into battle, will get still another new one Friday night when they face the biting Bulldogs of Plainview at their home doghouse.

The Dogs will be the first club to outweigh the Green and Gold this year and how much difference that weight advantage is going to make in the offense of the Harvesters, which has been most potent against the lighter clubs, remains to be seen.

The Harvesters will be outweighed in the line about 15 pounds per man and in the backfield about eight pounds per man.

Some cheer was put back into the workout yesterday afternoon when co-captain and tackle Jerry Walker was back in full uniform going through contact work with the rest of the club. He missed the game last weekend because of a twisted knee which has rapidly recovered, but is still weak. His running mate with the twisted knee, center Tolle Hitchens, was in uniform, without pads, and will be sidelined until the Abilene contest.

Tom Caskey is in prime condition and will be operating at his halfback post off Coach Bob Russ's single wing system. But Caskey is not counted on for a complete backfield. The lad has lots of driving power but is comparatively slow.

In last year's game with the Harvesters Caskey went out with an injury on the thirteenth play of the game and his absence no doubt made a lot of difference in the edge the Harvesters claimed over Plainview.

Russ will start on the offensive

Reapers Move To Amarillo Tomorrow

The undefeated, untied and league leading Junior High School Reapers, with their head coach Marvin Bowman sitting on the sidelines following a weekend appendectomy, will meet the Elizabeth Nixon Whirlwinds tomorrow afternoon at Amarillo.

The game will start at 3:30 and will be broadcast over KPND at that time with Coy Palmer and Warren Hasse at the microphones.

The Reapers are expected to throw the same starting lineup into the fray as has won all of the three previous starts. Billy Fulenwider, who was a doubtful starter earlier in the week because of a foot infection that had him on crutches, was back in uniform yesterday and appeared ready for action.

In that event the starting backfield would see Bill Culpeper, Harold Lewis and Ken Hinkle filling out the backfield with Fulenwider. At the ends will be E. J. McIlvain and Gary Griffin. John Watson and Ben Sturgeon at tackles; Huey Burns and Damon Runyon at guards; and James Hawkins at center.

Lewis has been the biggest scoring threat of the junior high's defending co-champions thus far, and stopping him will be the main objective of the Whirlwinds.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hasey—News Sports Editor

(With apologies to Ernest L. Thayer, author of "Casey At The Bat.")

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Giant nine that day. The score stood 4-1 with but an inning to play. And so when Al Dark came to bat and Newcombe fired the ball a deathly silence fell over the Giant throng.

But Dark lined a single past Hodges into right. Mueller, the next man, took the first pitch for a strike. The next he met solidly, and lined into the well. It went for a single, and Dark, he ran like hell.

The action brought the fans At the Polo Grounds alive. For their Giants had done it before During their pennant drive.

With Dark on third and Don on first, Irvin fouled out. But Lockman doubled Dark home, and the Giant fans did shout. This brought on Charley Dressen, asking Don if he could go. The giant right-hander was tired; he answered with a "no."

The call went out for Branca who was warming in the pen. He nodded he was ready, just wondering where and when. As Branca strode out to the mound, the score was 4-2. With Giant runners on second and third and Bobby Thomson due.

The Scotsman took the first pitch high, outside for a ball. He tapped his bat on the plate, and eyed the leftfield wall. Branca went into his windup, his right hand the ball did fling; Thomson took a deadly aim; and unleashed a mighty swing.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright; The band is playing somewhere and somewhere hearts are light; And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout; But there is no joy in Flash-bulb — Bobby Thomson hit one out!

We couldn't resist the above attempt at poetry during our joy at the stroke taken by Bobby Thomson, a swing that will go down in baseball history as maximizing the most sensational season in the history of the game.

There have been a lot of great comebacks in the last year. Joe Louis, Citation, Ben Hogan, Ray Robinson, Joe Walcott, Bob Feller and many others. But none can compare to that of the 1951 New York Giants.

They talk about the miracle Braves of 1914. But one thing about the Braves, they didn't trail by more than 11-12 games at any one time whereas the Giants were 13-12 games behind the Dodgers. This supposedly one of baseball's all-time great teams. That feat in itself should rank the Giants among baseball's immortal teams. And to do this they played spectacular near .900 percent ball over a fourth of the season.

But despite their great late season comeback, none could be more colorful than the method in which they did it yesterday. Frank Merriwell wrote his finish too soon. It can now be changed from a "Merriwell finish" to a "Thomson finish."

Manager of the year honors will undoubtedly go to Leo Durocher, who has bounced back from baseball's doghouse after a year-long suspension in 1947 to be acclaimed one of the game's greatest. But the credit goes to the players, too; cause all he does is stand at third and wave the Giant home run hitters around.

Irvin who made the catch 380 feet away, Berra fouled out to Bobby Thomson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING GIANTS Westrum walked, the fifth base on balls by Reynolds. Koso dropped a neat sacrifice bunt and Reynolds sent Stanky to Collins. Stanky bounced out, McDougald to Collins, Westrum was forced to hold second. DiMaggio came in a few paces to get under Dark's fly.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS The lights were turned on. Bobby Hogue, a little round righthander, replaced Reynolds for the Yankees. Thomson tried to get out of the way of a pitch and accidentally tapped back to Hogue who threw him out. Mays fled to DiMaggio in deep center. Westrum raised a high foul to Berra. It was the first inning the Giant failed to get a man on base.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS Collins attempted a drag bunt past the mound, but Stanky came in fast to make a fine pickup and underhand throw to retire the runner. Bobby Brown, a left-handed hitter, batted for Hogue. Brown struck out, missing a wide curve. Mantle fouled to Westrum midway between home plate and the Yankee dugout. Koso had retired nine straight batters.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS The official paid attendance was announced as 65,873. The receipts were $311,477.06. Tom Morgan, a righthander, went in to pitch for the Yankees. Koso was called out on strikes. Stanky grounded to third and was safe when McDougald's wide throw got by Collins for an error.

Dark complied with a hit and run signal by throwing his bat as a loop over Coleman's head for a single sending Stanky to second. Thompson fled deep to Mantle in right-center, Stanky going to third after the catch. Irvin lined right into the hands of Collins.

No runs, one hit, one error, two left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS Rizzuto dropped a single in right-center. Bauer grounded to Rizzuto. DiMaggio sent a high fly to Irvin. Berra lashed a single past Lockman into right, Bauer stopping at second. Stanky went into short right to make a stumbling catch of McDougald's high windblown pop. Koso went down swinging.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS Lockman hit back to the mound but was thrown out, Morgan to Collins. Thompson walked on a full count. Mays fanned. Westrum lined a single over McDougald's head sending Thompson to second. Koso was given a tremendous ovation when he stepped into the batter's box. Koso went down swinging.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS Coleman walked on a full count. Johnny Mize, former Giants' lefthanded slugger star, batted for Collins. Mize popped to Dark behind second base, swinging at the first pitch. Gene Woodling, lefthanded hitter, the third southpaw-swinging pinch-hitter to bat against lefthanded Koso, batted for Morgan. Woodling was called out on strikes as Koso retired him on three pitches. Mantle fled to Mays in short center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

SWC Tapers Workouts For Big Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest Conference teams tapered off today toward a tough round of football games this weekend. Except for Texas, all squads appeared at virtually top strength.

In the conference opener at Little Rock Saturday night when TCU and Arkansas play, there'll be few missing from either squad.

TCU isn't counting on Jim Amburg, reserve fullback, who has a neck injury, but everybody else is ready. Arkansas has Jack Troxell, a halfback, and Pat Summerville, end, favoring assorted hurts but both are expected to be able to go.

Texas had an injury list a yard long. Included were fullback Phil Branch, linebacker June Davis, end Bill Georges, center Hugh Reeder and fullback Byron Townsend. All are doubtful participants in Saturday's game in Austin with North Carolina.

Rice was at full strength for LSU at Baton Rouge Saturday night. The Owls went through an hour's rough scrimmage yesterday.

SMU, which has passing aplenty but little running, spent time on its ground attack as the Mustangs polished their offense for Missouri, whom they meet in Dallas' Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

At College Station, Ray George had his Texas Aggies practicing in private. Spectators were shooed out of the stadium. All members of the squad, including Bob Smith, who had been favoring a back injury, worked at full speed. The Aggies play Oklahoma Saturday.

Baylor's Bears labored hot and heavy for their Saturday night date with Tulane at New Orleans. Ed Moak, a tackle, hasn't recovered from illness to go full duty for several weeks. That means Ken Casner will play both offense and defense.

Room Depends On Your Choice

NEW YORK — (AP) — Usually, when you walk into a hotel the room clerk asks: "Single or double room?" Today, if you walked into the Edison, the clerk would ask if you favored the Yankee or Giants. Then, you'd be assigned a room on floor with your fellow rooters.

NOBLITT-COFFEY'S FOOTBALL FORECASTS

Texas A&M Over Oklahoma In Battle of Stars

By Pitts Smith

MICHIGAN STATE AT OHIO STATE—These midwestern giants swap punches too early for comfort in the key game of the season. Although the Buckeyes new T-mechanics got off to a shaky start, they should shed enough gloom during the week to top the Spartans. But don't mortgage the house.

OKLAHOMA AT TEXAS A&M—There oughta be a law against Pier 1 brawls before the ink is dry. Bud Wilkinson apparently has another powerhouse, but so have the Aggies. It's just a question of whether Vessels' passing and running will equal or exceed that of Gardomal and Smith. We don't think so.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Play Is Logical, But Easily Missed

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"South made his contract in this hand," writes a Montreal correspondent, "but he could have been beaten. I don't say that he should have been beaten, because that's really what I'm writing to you about."

"West opened the ace of diamonds, and dummy played the queen. West thought this over for a second or two and then laid down the ace of clubs, continuing with the eight of clubs. He hoped that East would produce the king of clubs or a trump, but he was disappointed on both counts.

a diamond ruff to beat the contract. He can give the lead to his partner only with a high club or a club ruff.

When he leads the queen of clubs, West is asking East to overtake with the king if he can. After that play loses to South's king, West leads the six

"When the play of the hand had ended, West confessed that he could have defeated the contract. He could have led the queen of clubs (instead of the ace) at the second trick, forcing out South's king. South would lead a trump, and West would hop up with the ace to lead the six of clubs. This would put East in with the seven of clubs to return a diamond.

"Would a real expert make this play, or is it strictly a pipe dream?"

It's a hard question to answer. The play is very logical, but difficult to see. I can think of a few experts who might find the play in a very important match, but they'd probably overlook the play in a casual game. West can see that he needs of clubs to allow East to win if he has the seven or if he can ruff.

What if East has a singleton club and a singleton trump? That is impossible. East would have six or more cards in either spades or diamonds and would bid his long suit over the double of one club.

What if South has a singleton king of clubs or the doubleton king-seven? That would be hard luck for West—but in either of those cases the situation would be far too much to hope for.

Carolina Tobacco Struck By Disease

RALEIGH — (AP) — Tar Heel tobacco growers today face one of the greatest challenges in years, tobacco specialists at North Carolina University say.

Diseases, notably "black shank," have hit the flue-cured crop in North Carolina harder this summer than ever before. A large number of growers tried to get by with non-resistant varieties and in many cases the results were disastrous.

Research is being continued and every effort is being made to find varieties of good quality, good yields, and higher disease resistance. Tobacco experts recommend planting more acreage with a strongly resistant variety of tobacco known as "Dixie Bright, 101."

THE FORM DIVINE

DEREK went to the black portable bar and Lucilla asked for sherry, thinking it practically the same category of anti-debauchery as tea. Derek fixed himself a Pernod and came over to clink his glass against hers. "To us, darling." She sipped primly.

Derek went to the cabinet that stood in a corner to the left of the zebra-zagged draperies, and got out an album. At first, Lucilla gazed at the machine with the vagueness typical of myopics and new-born kittens.

It was a television screen. "I thought you hated it," she blurted out.

Derek had his back to her, fiddling with the record player. "Hate what?" He turned and saw her staring. "Oh, didn't I tell you? A friend offered to sell me her set and it was such a fantastic bargain I couldn't say no."

Derek was being rather poky, getting the machine started, the way he kept fussing with dials. "It's terribly important to get the bass tones right for this kind of record." Finally he straightened up. "Why don't you move over to the couch?" Lucilla said quickly. She was fine where she was, but felt aghast of her suspicions as soon as Derek explained he was afraid she might be sitting too close to the machine. "I mean, you can't get the syllabic flow of the poetry if you're right on top of it."

She lowered herself onto the couch, carefully balancing her half-full wine glass. She had assumed Derek would sit beside her, but after starting the machine, he went over and sat in one of the sling chairs. His casualness was almost too casual. Strange sounds were swelling from the record-player: "swilly to swash, Yuinness or Yennesse . . . and Lezba Lickin' like Leytha Liana. . . ."

"Isn't it fabulous?" Derek asked whereupon she gave a surprised yelp and dumped her down. They stood breathing hard at each other. "What came over you?"

She faltered and said weakly, "I'm sorry, but you know I was married."

He laughed unpleasantly. "What has that to do with it?"

"A great deal." She didn't know whether she was embarrassed because of sounding moral, or because she hadn't sounded moral soon enough.

"The bathroom's beyond the door," he said formally, "if you want to fix your makeup."

She had a confused feeling that under the circumstances, it wouldn't be cricket to use a man's bedroom mirror and bathroom. "No, I have to hurry."

Contrary to all the tenets of Beautiful-You she marched out with her back-turned-to-him to her host.

BUT after she'd ridden a few blocks in a cab, she began to wonder if she looked disheveled. Naturally, she intended to tell Arthur the man meant nothing to her, and that she'd never been anything-between-them-and-never-could-be, but if she walked in looking all-pawed, it might give Arthur the wrong idea. She added the driver if he could stop at the Lexington entrance of Grand Central. "Not to speak there," the driver droned.

"Oh." She told him to go straight down to Tenth, then got out her compact and tried to get her mouth. She felt messy inside and out. If only Arthur could be late, just this once, she thought.

Gretel let her in, and Lucilla looked eagerly over the man's shoulder into the living room. "Mr. Webb called and said he won't be home for dinner."

Lucilla's first reaction was annoyance; she only prayed for ten minutes' postponement; and now she'd even have time to kick. "Did he say how late he'd be working?"

"He didn't say he was working," Gretel announced, with sly satisfaction. "He just said he wouldn't be home for dinner."

At all, he still wasn't home.

in a hushed tone. Lucilla listened more worshipfully then, and straightened her expression of rapt intellectual, which had slipped sideways while she was thinking of the Jabberwock. By the end of the long record, she was rather bemused, and convinced that she'd adored it as much as she'd intended to.

Derek, leaning through a slim book in an orange-and-white paper binding, paused at the sling chair, then came over to the couch. "Mind if I sit here where the light's better?"

She said calmly, "Of course not," aware of an inward-bounce of pleasure.

WHEN he'd finished, several minutes later, the air still throbbed. Lucilla, without turning her finger from his, said huskily, "Oh, nobody could read it like you do."

On an intellectual level, she thought it was time to go home, but as far as her flesh was concerned, the clock had stopped at the witching hour of 1:42. He bent and kissed the hollow of her elbow: "You're so lovely." He kissed the hollow of her throat, and gave a little groan. Then he stroked her hair, murmuring, "How sweet you are." It was at this point that her mind, as opposed to her quivering flesh, detected a slightly stony note.

She pulled loose. "I've got to go now."

Derek muttered, "No you can't. You can't leave me now." With what could only have been the result of long, arduous practice, he scooped her off the side of the couch. Her legs dangled over awkwardly, and she had never felt so silly in her life. "Put me down this minute," she said crossly. Derek, who was panting with the exertion, didn't answer, but only held her tighter. She managed to squirm around far enough to kick him.

UNION MEETING
VIENNA — (AP) — The Communist-run World Federation of Trade unions (WFTU) will hold its next general council in Berlin from Nov. 15-21, 1951.

The decision was taken in response to an invitation from the Free German Trade unions, according to an announcement of the WFTU's Executive bureau in Vienna.

Other Pacific battles. Several months ago he organized King's International tours, a travel service.

Son's Engagement Is Disgusting To Mother

HOUSTON — (AP) — The reported engagement of her handsome son to an Egyptian belly dancer in Paris has "flabbergasted" his socially prominent widowed mother.

"If it is true, my son is never coming back to this house," said Mrs. Bonner King yesterday.

"I don't particularly object to his taking the Moslem faith," said Mrs. King when informed her son planned to do this. "We are Episcopals, but he has the right to take what faith he wishes. But I declare to Heaven, we're an old family here and this is all very disgusting."

Shepherd King III, flew to Paris ten days ago with his younger sister, Patricia.

"He needed the trip," Mrs. King said, "He was so worn out—his father died last July and I've been ill for months. But for this to happen, I'm heartsick."

Mrs. King said young King's grandfather was "the third largest cotton exporter in the world."

King's father built a fortune in cotton and oil.

The young man attended Southern Methodist university until he entered the Marines in 1942, serving on Guadalcanal and Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when it arrives in Moncton on the royal tour this fall.

Mayor Joseph LeBlanc will make the presentation on behalf of the local citizenry in a ceremony here.
