Prevention Of Fire Stressed At Lions Meet

The importance of fire prevention was stressed to members of the Lions club yesterday by Fire Chief Ernest Winborne.

"Pampans are careful or there would be more fires here," he said, "but it is a problem that constantly should be kept before them." He added that because the fire department was handicapped by a shortage of help, much work had to be neglected.

Winborne asserted cigarettes were the leading cause of fires. Such things as bottles people throw away act as magnifying glasses and cause many grass blazes when the sun shines through them. "Just careless things as these cause most fires," he said.

The fire chief was introduced by Jim Perkins, Lions chairman of Fire Prevention Week, who complimented him on the outstanding work done by his department.

Special guest at the meeting was Miss Sally Rand, stage entertainer, who expressed appreciation to Lions clubs throughout the nation for the good work they are doing.

"Art is lost to man when it stops being useful to him," she said, "and the art of the theater is no means of taking people out of everyday life and giving them a little pleasure. We are public servants," she said.

Mrs. Paul Bowers, Grandview, extended an invitation to Lions members to attend the annual Halloween carnival at the new view school, Oct. 15. She explained the carnival is the only profitable program of the year, and the only means of keeping the school open.

Joe Tooley was in charge of the program.

Russ Tells Italy Get Out Or No Treaty Revision

MOSCOW — (AP) — Russia announced last night that Italy must quit the Atlantic alliance and bar foreign military forces from her soil before the Soviets will agree to revision of the Italian peace treaty.

A Russian note to the big three western powers also set a second condition for Russia's agreement to the treaty revision — Italy's admission to the United Nations. The United States, Britain, and France said the Soviets — must similarly agree to peace treaty revisions and UN membership for Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland.

Western diplomats here predicted today that, in view of the soviet stand, the westerners now will press ahead with their plans to edit arms restrictions from the Italian treaty without Russian agreement.

They forecast that such western action would create resentment here and that the Russians probably would seek some form of retaliation.

The diplomats expressed these conclusions after studying a Russian note which Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky handed, without discussion or comment, to charges d'affaires for the three big western powers.

The Russian communication was in reply to a three-power western declaration of Sept. 28 proposing revision of the Italian treaty and Italy's acceptance into the UN.

The reply set forth for the first time Russia's official position on the western plan to limit Italy's increase her arms and armed forces beyond the lightly-armed 300,000-man limit imposed by the 1947 treaty.

The Russian note said Russia could join in cutting arms limiting clauses out of the Italian treaty "only in case Italy leaves the aggressive North Atlantic pact and does not permit military bases and armed forces of foreign nations on its territory."

(The Atlantic pact nations established Southern European headquarters at Naples last June under U.S. Adm. Robert B. Carney, who also commands the big American sixth fleet operating in the Mediterranean and headquartered at Naples.)

(Italy also granted the United States permission last summer to set up a major American supply base at Lefors on the same site where the United States fifth army had a big supply dump during the war. The base already is operating, handling supplies bound for the U.S. occupation army in Austria.)

Seven Missing As Steamers Collide

GOTEBORG, Sweden — (AP) — Seven crewmen of the 191-ton Costa Rican vessel Ranna were missing after the ship collided with the Greek steamer Tharros today and sank.

The crash occurred in a dense fog 34 miles south of Goteborg on the Swedish coast.

An air-sea rescue unit, alerted by the 5283-ton Tharros, sped to the scene to search for the seven missing from the Ranna's crew of nine. The Tharros was standing by.

Egypt To Declare British Troops 'Enemy Forces'

CAIRO — (AP) — Official sources said today Egypt will declare British troops in the Suez Canal area "enemy forces" after parliament cancels Egypt's treaties with Britain.

Legislative action voiding the treaties is expected when parliament meets Monday. Britain has said she would not recognize abrogation of the pacts, which let her keep troops in Egypt and provide for joint Anglo-Egyptian control of the Sudan.

Informants said the government has completed blue-prints of measures aimed at forcing British forces from the strategic waterway. These sources said the would also include:

Ordering non-cooperation with the British. This would cut off their drinking water, fresh food and employment of Egyptian labor.

Cancellation of all British privileges such as the right of ports in the area.

Defense Officials Plan Bomb Shelters

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) is sending experts to 70 heavily-populated cities throughout the nation, to help make bomb-shelter surveys.

Five technicians will visit the cities to give advice to local civil defense authorities on measurement of the shelter facilities of existing buildings, and of the modifications needed to make them suitable.

They also will make recommendations as to construction of group-type shelters where proper shelter facilities are lacking.

The cities to be visited were not named.

You Can Stop Watch If You're Fast Enough

BERKELEY, Calif. — (AP) — Have you wanted to stop the clock when time seemed to be getting away from you? If you could get off the earth and hurtle through space at the speed of light — 186,000 miles per second — earth time would never change for you, says Dr. William B. Fretter, associate professor of physics at the University of California.

"Similarly," says the professor, "if it were possible to send your wrist watch flying through space at the speed of light, it would never tick off another second of earth time."

Boys And Girls Afloat On River More In Mood For Murder Than Romance

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — What can a double couple of unmarried boys and girls prove afloat that they can't prove on foot? Well, a male member of such a quartet says after floating 85 days on a small raft together that the experience has been "more conducive to murder than romance."

He is a 24-year-old psychology student, and his remark was made at Vicksburg during the course of an 1800-mile river voyage from New Kensington, Pa., to New Orleans.

The trip has been billed as a "sociological experiment" to see how people get along at close quarters, as if 50,000 years of human history hadn't dimly testified.

The raft is called "The Lethargia," and it measures 12-by-20 feet. The only creature aboard his frail vessel besides two two dubious guys and the two self-questioning gals is a dog named "Deilah."

What interests the average landlubber is what the dog thinks. The whole adventure is a depressing parody of Noah's boat with the flood.

But Noah took aboard two animals of each kind.

Why didn't the experimenters give the dog Deilah the same break? It might be too obvious to haul aboard a Great Dane called Samson. But how about taking of a long-haired male lion named Samson? That would out-Noah-Noah—noah kidding.

Then you'd have a real sociological experiment. It isn't really important whether the four people are married or not. Anybody who knows anything at all about human nature knows you can't even put four unwed Republicans in a crowded place for 85 minutes without getting two votes for Eisenhower and two for Taft. Crush four strange people together in a chockful subway and you've got a raft of trouble.

Sex has nothing to do with it. Grapes like to be bunched — but most other things don't. Everybody knows "sardines love each other in the sea better than in a can."

One sure thing about the Mississippi river: anything light floats on it, including some objects lighter than Huckleberry Finn.

Inflation Or No, You Can Still Hire A Lion For $100

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Here's one small ray of hope in the fight against inflation: you can still hire a Hollywood lion for $100 a day, the same price as in 1927.

This comes from Melvin Kootz, a trainer of cats, who supplied lions, tigers, black panthers, leopards and mountain lions for the studios. He was relaxing on the set of "The Lion and the Horse," for which he provided Pasha, a "trained" lion, and Jackie, a "tame" lion.

What's the difference? "I figure it this way," explained Kootz. "A trained lion is one which will follow certain directions, but cannot be worked at close hand; it has to be handled with a whip and chair. A tame lion can be petted and it will work at close range with the actors."

The animal trainer admitted that there was some debate about whether a lion is ever really tamed, but he added that he hasn't lost an actor yet. In more than 20 years of working with the cats, Kootz himself has been hospitalized only once.

Truman's Censorship Order Is A Big Laugh To McLeMORE

By HENRY McLEMORE
I didn't hear it first ear, so I can't swear to it, but a Blair House source tells me that President Truman put Margaret on the carpet the other evening.

"Margaret," the President is said to have said, "no more songs about the United States. Don't even sing the 'Star-Spangled Banner' because I don't want Russia to know what our flag looks like."

"But, Papa..."

"Don't Papa me, and don't Papa the President. You're a grown-up girl, but both your mother and I will spank you if you ever sing another song about Virginia, or Tennessee, or Arizona."

"But, Papa, I make more money singing than you do being President."

"You'll have to understand, Margaret. These are trying times. When you sing about Virginia it reminds the Russians of Norfolk and Newport News, and our naval bases. No more hill-filly stuff about Old Smokey. That's getting close to an atomic bomb center, and Arizona where we have missile proving grounds. No 'California, Here I Come' either, not only because it's a tip-off on airplane plants, but it reminds me of Governor Warren."

There is an outside chance that this conversation is slightly exaggerated, but this being a free country, I think we all have as much right to exaggerate as the President does. Truman, in one of his recent and well-thought-out declarations, accused American newspapers and magazines of revealing nearly one hundred percent of the nation's military secrets. By direct inference he branded publishers as treasonists. What a laugh! That makes the Hearst boys all sellers-out of America. It makes the same of Palmer Hoyt, Norman Chandler, Jack Knight, and scores of other publishers.

The fact that the maps and information published by newspapers and magazines were released by the United States government didn't seem to matter at all to Mr. Truman. I can only interpret this to mean that he has more faith in publishers than he has in himself and the Pentagon. Would it be treason to ask, who's crazy?

One thing I know for sure is that I'm not going to be held up on treason charges, or accused of revealing secrets to the enemy. This morning I burned every road map I had, ate my geography book with cream and sugar, and spiked my blunderbuss.

Five and six times within the last four or five years I've referred to Uncle Sam as Uncle Blabbermouth. The United States hasn't produced a single weapon that hasn't been almost completely explained. The best and most authentic publication in the United States Army Combat

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Here Are Signals To Partner

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"You have often referred to partnership understanding," writes a New Orleans Canasta fan, "but you haven't described the various signals that create this understanding. Can you do so?"

Gladly. I can't cover them all in one article, but I'll describe a few and write about the rest another time. Here are the signals that apply before your side has completed its first canasta.

that you want to get a base and a canasta as soon as possible (if you have only a normal number of cards in your hand). When you are asking for a base, you indicate that you will be able to complete the canasta with wild cards if only your partner can supply a base. The signal is a demand if you use two natural cards and a wild card; but a strong request rather

1. Adding two wild cards to a base of four natural cards. This play demands that your partner complete the canasta as soon as he can. If he has a natural card, he must put it down and if he has a wild card, he must use that. Your play indicates that you are able to meld out as soon as the canasta is completed, for otherwise you wouldn't dream of squandering two wild cards just to bring the meld up to the six-card level.
2. Adding one wild card to a base of five. This play is very similar to the play just described, but is not quite so strong. It is a strong request, but not an absolute demand, that your partner complete the canasta as soon as possible. The logic is that you have a good reason to add a wild card in this way, but you might do so on speculation where as you would never use two wild cards except with a sure thing.
3. Adding one wild card to a base of four. This indicates that you are very anxious to make a canasta in a hurry. Hence you have a fine play for a fast out. Your partner should make a canasta if he can; should add a wild card or a natural card if he cannot complete the canasta. Of course, if he can do the trick with some other meld, he should do that instead.
4. Putting down a new meld when you have no base. This indicates that you want to help your partner win the discard pile (if you have a large number of cards in your hand) or "Conscience On The Battlefield" I want to quote for a few days from a small booklet called "Conscience on the Battlefield" written by Leonard E. Read...

THE PROLOGUE

"My interest is the study of human energy, how to free it from restraints, and how to abolish coercion of man by man—in short, how to enlarge the area of individual liberty, economic and otherwise..."

"We, as a people, are bent on a contrary course from which there appears to be no possible return short of a willingness to make an insistent, honest-to-god examination of every tenet we now hold..."

"War is liberty's greatest enemy, and the deadly foe of economic progress. If war is evil there must be a way to avoid it; there must be a rationale, a type of thinking, patterns for living, that lead to peace..."

"Therefore, why not imagine a dialogue with myself—one character being my young, 19-year-old, and the other, an older character being even more than my present peace-loving self..."

"As suggested, I am well qualified for one part of the characterization: the above-mentioned experience during War I, ancestors and I..."

"The cost of voluntary health insurance is usually very modest—a few dollars a month covers a whole family..."

Baxter's Views

DAVID BAXTER

SUMMARY I thank Dr. Frederick S. McKay of Colorado Springs, recognized authority in the dental profession, for his opinion on fluoridating water...

First and foremost, I have always opposed compulsory measures, either in fluoridating a city's water supply or in administering vaccines or any other medication or "preventive"...

May I quote from the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR (June 11, 1951):

"In considering proposals that public water supplies be treated with fluorides to reduce decay of children's teeth, all that some authorities would require is that local dental and medical societies and health officials approve..."

"Dental health is a private affair and there are many who prefer to take the freedom to decide for themselves about their own 'relief' administrations..."

"Chlorination and fluoridation are not in the same category. The former is designed to prevent pollution of public water. The latter is an imposition of treatment on those who do not wish it..."

"Not being an authority, I can't discuss with Dr. McKay the technical aspects of fluoridating water. I can present the views of men who are authorities..."

"The first one is Dr. McKay, who admits, 'It is true that fluorine is a deadly poison'..."

"In both cases—those who laugh at you and those who go along with you—the chances are you have gotten very little help..."

The American Way

By DEWITT EMERY

Almost before we know it we'll be into 1952. History may record it as the year in which "government of the people, by the people, for the people" disappeared from the face of the earth...

I have an idea that if the American people actually want a clear-cut choice between these two diametrically opposed ideologies of government they will unite behind the candidate of their choice and will put so much heat on the delegates to the convention before the convention opens that the delegates will not dare disregard their wishes...

"This means, of course, that the Republican Party must come up with a candidate who is untainted by compromise, a candidate who is and always has been as much for the United States and American citizens as Winston Churchill always has been for England and the British Empire..."

"But, I hear someone say, the first consideration of the Republicans must be to nominate someone who has a chance to win even if he is inclined to compromise and even if he believes that a little socialism is a good thing..."

LOOKING SIDEWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

I sent a boy off to the Graduate School at Princeton the other day and the magazines for men don't any more know what they are talking about than do the magazines for women...

During the summer, when I knew I had to start putting away a buck in order to send this boy off with a shirt on his back, I bought through a set of men's fashion magazines and came to the conclusion that if I managed to save $2,000 it still wouldn't be enough...

The way it looked to me, in the parking lot where the boys were picking up their cars for the short dash down to Princeton, the requisite outfit was simplicity itself: an old pair of shoes, wool socks, charcoal gray flannel slacks, a white button-down dress shirt, a black knit tie and a crew haircut...

Nothing loud or singular, or anything that would draw attention to several suits and my memory is that we had at least a handful of different neckties, as well as some plus-fours. These were cut full, hung down below the knees like I've mentioned before...

I hope the boy does well at Princeton. I think he will. He's got the right clothes for it anyway. And I have no Christmas problem. I'll just give him a new black knit tie. Stretched, of course, until it is stringy and lank.

Football Has Spotlight This Weekend

NEW YORK — (AP) — Football gets the undivided attention of the sports world tomorrow for the first time this year and offers such choice morsels as SMU at Notre Dame, Oklahoma at Texas, Ohio State at Wisconsin, LSU at Georgia Tech and California at Washington State.

With the world series scarcely history, the football season already has advanced to the point where Oklahoma and Kentucky, Sugar Bowl rivals in January, are starting comebacks; Notre Dame has been stamped another powerhouse and Michigan State, California and Tennessee are bracketed the country's best.

Oklahoma, last year's No. 1 team in the final AP poll, was held to four puny first downs last week in its defeat by Texas A&M, now must invade the Lone Star state for a second time.

Notre Dame's teen-agers — the youngest Irish squad Coach Frank Leahy has had in nine years — are at South Bend, could have their hands full with SMU and its great passer, Fred Benner.

Michigan State and Tennessee are at home Saturday to Marquette and Chattanooga, neither mighty team worrying.

California travels up the West Coast to take on Washington State. Such a jaunt has troubled the Bears' in the past but shouldn't this season with both fullback John Olszewski and Eddie Leschke in the lineup.

Illinois invades the East to test, rapidly improving Syracuse and Ohio State barges into Wisconsin with the loser virtually assured that it will not be nominated as the Big Ten's Rose Bowl team.

The fans in Georgia have two games as good as any carded for Saturday. In the afternoon LSU brings its "four workmen" backfield to Atlanta for afternoon games at home and away.

Georgia Tech's youngsters, who have engineered a trio of upsets already this season. That evening at Athens, Maryland and Georgia collide, Maryland is a recognized southern power, Georgia was regarded the same way until it was pulled by Mississippi State.

Other games on Saturday's card: East — Yale at Columbia, Princeton at Penn. Dartmouth at Army, Harvard at Cornell.

South — Florida at Auburn, Mississippi State at Vanderbilt, Mississippi State at Kentucky, North Carolina State at Duke, South Carolina at Wake Forest at W&M.

Southwest — Arkansas at Baylor, TCU at Texas Tech. Midwest — Indiana at Michigan, Missouri at Colorado, North Western at Minnesota, Kansas at Kansas, Kansas State at Iowa State.

Far West — Oregon State at Southern California, UCLA-Stanford, Washington at Oregon. Intercollegiate — Holy Cross at Tulane, Navy at Rice, Penn State at Nebraska, Pittsburgh at Iowa.

Big Leagues Start Rebuilding Program

NEW YORK — (AP) — Major league teams have launched their 1952 rebuilding programs and it appears that one of the most spirited trading sessions in years is on tap.

No "big deals" have been made but a number involving name players are expected. Most teams say they will trade anybody to strengthen.

The biggest deal brewing reportedly involves Ned Garver, the brilliant 20-game winner of the tail-end St. Louis Browns.

The champion New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox are dickering for him. Reports persist that the Yanks made a down payment on Garver when they sold outfielder Cliff Mays to the Browns on waivers during the season.

Second baseman Gerry Coleman and four other Yanks along with a bundle of cash are supposed to complete the transaction.

The rumors also say the White Sox will send a number of players including Jim Rivera, a rookie who burned up the Pacific Coast league and came to the Browns.

Royals played for Seattle under Rogers Hornsby, the Browns' new manager.

The Browns have been stocking up with minor leaguers. They have purchased pitchers Hal Hudson and Johnny Hitt from Toronto and obtained infielder Leo Thomas from Portland.

The White Sox also reached into the minor leagues for help. The Sox obtained pitchers Marv Grissom and Hector (Skinny) Brown from Seattle for five minor leaguers and cash.

Grissom, a 20-game winner, is a former Detroit Tiger.

The White Sox also reportedly have the inside track in a deal that will procure third baseman Hector Rodriguez from Montreal.

Rodriguez was the International's rookie of the year.

The Chicago Cubs, National League tail-enders, obtained outfielder Bob Addis from the Boston Braves in exchange for pitcher fielding but light hitting shortstop, Jack Cusick. The Cubs also swapped outfielder Bob Borzowski and catcher Smokey Burgess to Cincinnati for catcher John Frisno and outfielder Bob Usher. The Braves also released veteran catcher Ray Mueller yesterday.

The heaviest trading session is expected during the major league meetings in New York in December.

TWILIGHT OF A GREAT CAREER—The lengthening shadows at home plate symbolize the dusk of a magnificent career, that of Joe Dimaggio, who joined the Yankees in 1936. Dimaggio has been with the New York Americans ever since, except for three years spent in the Army. Still an impressive figure at 41 and in center field at 36, this could be Dimaggio's last World Series. It is his 10th, which ties Babe Ruth's record. The catcher is Wes Westrum of the Giants, the umpire, Joe Paparella. (NEA)

World Series Got Greatest Coverage

NEW YORK — (AP) — If the nation's baseball fans have cooled out from their emotional binge of the past 10 days they might like to look back and shudder at what they went through.

There never has, of course, been any sports event, or series of events, quite so compared in sustained tension and repeated dramatic impact with the closing days of the National League race, the three-game playoff between the Giants and Brooklyn, and the world series itself.

The newspapers of the nation never before gave such prominence to a single sports event. They did to the first game of the series. A check by the Associated Press disclosed that 89 percent of afternoon dailies described the Giants' opening victory on their front pages; 81 percent of the morning papers thought it among the world's most important news stories that day.

For the first time, fans from coast to coast saw every pitch thrown and every ball hit on their television screens. A Japanese broadcaster told the home folks about it play by play, even, it is safe to assume, whether the pitch was a sinker or a curve, and whether it nicked the inside or outside corner.

Throughout Latin America and in upper South America radios turned the customary siesta hours into a hideous din. In Panama huge crowds watched each play performed on magnetic boards.

The attraction of radio and television did not affect box office receipts.

Never before was a world series so thoroughly photographed. The Associated Press has a remarkable instrument called a wirephoto which sends pictures flashing throughout the country in a matter of minutes.

During the playoff and world series wirephoto whizzed a total of 200 shots into newspaper plants across the land, many of them directly from workrooms under the stands.

A lot of things happened between Jackie Robinson's 14th inning homerun in Philadelphia two Sunday evenings ago to deadlock the National League race and the pulse stirring climax at the Stadium on Wednesday, but for this observer's money, everything else paled by comparison to Bobby Thomson's story book smash in the third playoff contest.

When the flying Scot lined that ball into the Polo Grounds stands with two on and one out in the ninth inning. The world sport seemed to stand still for several seconds. It couldn't have happened, yet it had. The keys on at least one man's typewriter kept piling up and misspelling simple words for long bewildering minutes, and he made a mental note to send the thing in for a good overhaul.

The closest thing we can recall to that for raw shock was the night Joe Louis' savage first round knockout of Max Baerling in the second bout.

Possibly the biggest moment during the series itself came when the 37-year-old Joe Dimaggio finally broke the shackles and hammered his homer in the fourth game. Somehow, the suspicion struck you right there that the tide had turned, that the Bombers were on their way to a 3-145 record. He was a closely pressed by veteran Fred Schmidt of Abilene, who was back; a mere 620 of a run per nine innings, at 3.165. Lubbock's Ray Faust pitched the most innings, 283, but Carroll Dial Pampa, pitched 49 games, best mark in that workhorse department, Dial's 374 strikeouts was tops. In the "let's-forget-it" department, Dial's teammate, George Payte, walked more men than any other twirler, 199 and Joe Borrego, Clovis, had 20 losses on the mound.

Allan Maul of Albuquerque and Virgil Richardson of Pampa led the first base fielding, with Richardson holding the top percentage of .988. Earl Harriman of Albuquerque topped the second base fielding at .981, with Paul Dobkowski, Lubbock, getting 437 putouts and Frank Murray of Amarillo making 398 assists. Albert Kubski of Lubbock, with 943, Luis Suarez, Pampa, with 126 putouts, and Clarence Tuckey, Abilene, with 301 assists, led third base fielding.

Charles Schmidt, Abilene, gained only one other win, except for Fred Haller's .942 percentage. Les Mulcahy, Amarillo, Frank Calo of Clovis-Pampa, and Humberto Marti of Lamesa's 301 assists, led third base fielding.

Glenn Burns, Pampa, in leftfield, Francis Rice, Pampa, in center, and Walt Sessl of Abilene—in right, had the best outfield averages.

The Oilers as a team finished last in hitting with Lamesa's 4-107 mark. Glenn Burnham finished second with Lubbock's 3-117 mark. Pampa tied Lubbock and Abilene for second place in team batting behind first place Albuquerque. And Pampa's pitching staff finished fifth as a unit, with an earned run average of 5.837. Abilene was first with Lubbock's second.

Mack Hyde led the Oiler staff with an earned run average of 5.603; Bill Coffey was second with 5.807 and Al Kavanagh third with 5.733. Payte finished fourth with 5.214 and Dial, with 6.023, was fifth.

The mythical all-star team picked by the sportswriters and sportscasters upon request of the National Association, was as follows: Earl Hochstetler, Lubbock; 2B — Frank Murray, Amarillo; 3B — Albert Kubski, Lubbock; SS — Charles Schmidt, Abilene; C — Art Bowland, Abilene; RHP — Edward Arthur, Lamesa; LHP — John Webb, Amarillo; LF — Glenn Burns, Lamesa; CF — Crawford Howard, Amarillo; RF — Donald Stokes Lamesa; Utility OF — Jake Phillips, Pampa; Utility IN — Morris Card, Abilene.

And named manager of the club was Hack Miller, Abilene, who led the Blue Sox to the 1951 pennant and also the playoff championship.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. — (AP) — The St. Louis Browns lost one of their promising young pitchers yesterday, Bob Turley, 21, signed a two-year enlistment with the Army.

Turley, a righthander, made his first major league start with the Browns toward the end of the season, losing to the Chicago White Sox after hurling a one-hitter for six innings.

The 6-foot-2, 210-pounder pitched for San Antonio of the Texas league, compiling a 20-5 record.

Guerillas Lose Hard-Fought Tilt To Gold Yannigans, 7-6

The Pampa Guerillas, displaying a lot of fight, lost a slam-bang ball game to the Amarillo Gold Yannigans last night at Harvester Park, 7-6. It was the fourth loss of the year for the Guerillas against one win.

Fumbles and stalled drives cost the B squad the defeat. Drive after drive was stalled by either the fumble or an Amarillo defense that got stubborn when the Greenclads threatened. Statistically, the Guerillas had the wide edge, but the ultimate difference lay in the perfect conversion by Wesley Booth after the Yans' early game touchdown.

The game was only two minutes old when the Guerillas had apparently stalled the Amarillo attack. With fourth down and 17 to go, the Yans gambled, Keith Davy Kent taking the ball on a double reverse, swinging wide around the Pampa left end and around the Pampa left end and going all the way to score. The Yannigans gained possession when the Guerillas fumbled on the first play of the game.

From then on the Guerillas played catch up all the way. And it wasn't until the early part of the fourth quarter that they scored their touchdown. It came when Wesley Booth intercepted an Amarillo pass on the Amarillo 35 and returned to the 28. In two plays Keel moved the ball to the nine. Richard Radcliff shoved it to the five and Keel and Wilhelm moved into the end zone for a first down. Keel picked up two yards to the one yard stripe and then J. W. Malone, on a quarterback sneak, scored the touchdown. The attempt at extra points, which would have tied the score, was a knocked-down pass from John Darby intended for end James Phippen.

Fumbles marred the contest, with the Guerillas fumbling five times. The Yans fumbled six times and lost the ball five of them.

Radcliff, Darby and Keel did most of the offensive work while Chick Jordan and Bill Phippen stood out defensively.

Right after the Yannigans scored in the first quarter, the Guerillas started a drive from the 40 yard line that carried to the Amarillo 7 but sputtered and finally stalled with five minutes left in the period. Two fumbles stopped other drives during the first half. Darby gave the estimated 400 yard game thrust in the final minute with long runs after faking passes.

To start the third period the Guerillas started another drive that moved as far as the Amarillo 15 before stalling. And again later in the period a muffed play by an Amarillo 13 stopped another drive.

In the fourth, after the Guerillas scored, Jordan recovered an Amarillo fumble on the visitors 33. A 15 yard penalty moved the ball way back to the 48 and before the Guerillas could regain the lead they were forced to punt the ball on downs on the Yannigan 29. After that the Guerillas had but one more opportunity to get back into the game. It came with four minutes left, and they could not even get an attack started, turning the ball over to the Yans on their own 33.

But it was a more spirited Guerilla ball club that nearly upset the Amarillians last night. Line backs ran harder and the line played better defensive ball after the first lapse on the double reserve which cost the game winning touchdown.

Guerillas STATISTICS
Yannigans
14 First Downs 9
159 Net Yards Rushing 158
4 Passes Attempted 10
3 Passes Completed 6
48 Net Yards Passing 6

Lefors Ready For Panhandle Panthers' Visit Tonight

LEFORS — (Special) — This tack centering around Delmer Tuggle, powerful fullback. The Panthers operate from a standard T formation.

Sonntag and Callan have developed their own brew of T and it looks potent on the practice field. While the local mentors don't commit themselves it is evident that Lefors' light but scrapping Pirates will have to be accounted for when the district trophies are passed out.

Shaw field, which accommodates 2,000 persons, is likely to be taxed to capacity tonight just as it was in the opener with Shamrock. Impossible for a town of 702? Not for Lefors.

The Pirates lost their opening game to Shamrock's double A Irish 26-0, but since have recovered, trampling Boys Ranch, 26-7, reserves playing the entire game. The Bucos also took the Pampa Guerillas, 22-9, and the Wheeler Mustangs with a 26-0 victory which opened the conference season in a cold rain at Wheeler last Friday night.

The Orange and Black is free of injuries and look ready to go. Between halves the Lefors band will crown its band queen during special ceremonies.

Coaches Truelove and Williams' Panthers feature a versatile attack.

Carswell Romps Over Abilene CC

ABILENE — (AP) — Jim Jeffrey, former Baylor star, and Vernon Glass, the ex-Rice Owl, pushed the Carswell Air Force base to a 47-13 victory over Abilene Christian college last night.

Jeffrey scored three touchdowns, two on runs and one on a pass from Glass. The former Rice quarterback also hit Bob Fletcher, of Mississippi; Lloyd Lowe of North Texas State, and Bud Sherrod of Tennessee, but the latter failed to score.

He fumbled and Ray Tallant of Tulsa, recovered in the end zone for a Carswell touchdown anyway. A Glass pass set up the seventh Bomber touchdown which Leo Dubois got with a two-yard blast through the line.

Stan Staples recovered a block punt in the end zone, Ted Sitton passed to Jerry Mullins and Red Rushing dived over from the one-yard line for the ACC scores.

The signals are called, the ball is snapped, the game is on! Twenty-two alert men trained to perfection and timed to a fraction of a second. Yes, these fellows are keyed to a high fever of expectancy. The best athletes are the fellows who live the cleanest lives on the way up. The church helps greatly in preparing men morally for just such great tests. Yes, there are Two Groups of Substitutes on the sidelines but none quite ready to deliver. Neither is there any substitute for the influence of the Church in a man's life.

There is no substitute for character and morality, for integrity of soul. The supreme demand is for the genuine and the true. You and I are on the team for goodness and for God. Our friends, our neighbors and all our classmates expect us to be ready to play to win in true sportsmanship manner. We can offer no substitute for our best. The church is a good place to learn His will for the game of life and on the gridiron. In the church we learn to live and play the Golden Rule way. Reverence and gratitude and devotion to a man's Highest Friend must be real. No substitute will do.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular church-goer and a daily BIBLE READER.

Fred Thompson Emphasizes Need "For Knowing Each Other" In Talk At Sam Houston PTA Meeting

Fred Thompson stressed the need for knowing each other in an address to Sam Houston Parent-Teachers Assn. Thursday. The association met in the school's new auditorium.

Mr. Thompson, introduced by Mrs. Gene Fatheree, pointed out the necessity for knowing each other as a means of promoting the welfare of the children, especially in parent-teacher relationships.

He said also the organization must have a goal if it is to accomplish its purpose in the community.

Prior to the address by Mr. Thompson, P-TA President, Mrs. G. H. Newberry, welcomed new parents and teachers to the organization.

Minutes were approved and reports were received from an executive board meeting held Tuesday; from study group chairman, Mrs. Joe Schroedel, who explained plans for study groups and from city council representative, Mrs. Joe Gordon.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson sang "The Lost Chord" accompanied by Mrs. Ernestine Scott.

The talk given by Mr. Thompson pointed out that people should take the time to really know each other. He said often a person is not liked merely because his neighbors hadn't taken the time to know him.

He pointed out that deterioration of public opinion results sometimes in poor public servants. People are too concerned about their own personal affairs to look into the lives of others, he said.

Punch and cookies were served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Punch and cookies were served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Minutes were approved and reports were received from an executive board meeting held Tuesday; from study group chairman, Mrs. Joe Schroedel, who explained plans for study groups and from city council representative, Mrs. Joe Gordon.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson sang "The Lost Chord" accompanied by Mrs. Ernestine Scott.

The talk given by Mr. Thompson pointed out that people should take the time to really know each other. He said often a person is not liked merely because his neighbors hadn't taken the time to know him.

He pointed out that deterioration of public opinion results sometimes in poor public servants. People are too concerned about their own personal affairs to look into the lives of others, he said.

Adult BTU Announces Programs

Theme for the Adult Training Union of the First Baptist church this month is "Choose You This Day the First Mile or the Second?"

Presidents of individual unions are J. A. Stevens, T. B. Solomon and J. C. Roundtree.

Sunday at 6:30 p.m. the assembly program will be devoted to outlining and planning the year's work. Mrs. Virgil Mott is director of the adult union for the year, and Mrs. W. A. Breining is in charge of assembly programs.

Last month's theme was "Choose You This Day Christianity or Paganism in Our Schools?" Speakers were B. R. Nuckols, Aaron Meek and McHenry Lane.

Mr. Nuckols explained what was being done individually, privately and publicly by local teachers to promote Christianity in schools.

Mr. Meek, continuing the line of thought, said boys and girls themselves could do a great work at school enlisting other boys and girls who do not attend Sunday school and church. He quoted figures from J. Edgar Hoover, seeking to show that regular attendants at Sunday school do not get involved in crime.

Mr. Lane spoke on the mind and thoughts of adolescents toward religion. He said we have to study and understand the adolescent in order to reach him religiously.

tor of the Skellytown Baptist Church, prayed the ordination prayer, and after the laying on of hands by the presbytery, composed of ordained deacons and ministers from both the local and visiting churches, Rev. W. F. Vanderburg, of the Hobart Street Mission in Pampa, delivered the message and charge to the new deacons. His subject was "The Objects, Obligations and Objectives of Deaconship."

It is believed that if a machine were built to simulate all the nerve connections of a human brain it would take a skyscraper to house it, the power of Niagara Falls to run it and all of the water in Niagara Falls to cool it.

Two things, I think, stand out boldly as we consider Abraham and Jacob. One, as we think of Abraham, is that no man should be judged by any one incident, or phase, of his life. Even good men may lapse and fall at times, and should be judged only by their whole record of character, purpose and achievement. And the other, as we think of Jacob, is that no man's character, however evil, is necessarily fixed. Even a bad man may become a good man.

The experience of passing from badness to goodness, from death unto life, as the Apostle John defines it, we commonly associate with the saving power of the Gospel. But Jesus did not invent or originate the Gospel. He proclaimed, and gave effect to, what is in the eternal nature of God and man. He spoke of Abraham as seeing His day, and in seeing it, being glad. So Jacob, in the experience of life, and in the providence of God, may be thought of as similarly anticipating the day of the Gospel.

His wrestling with the divine messenger (Genesis 32:24-30) is the widely accepted symbol of man seeking God's blessing and a better way. But the evidence in the transformation of Jacob I find in the incident of his returning, wealthy and prosperous, to face the possible, and just, vengeance of Esau, whom he had wronged. Esau appears nobly in that incident. But Jacob, by thinking only of others and their safety, sheds his selfishness and redeems his tarnished past.

The six metals in the platinum group are so rare that the average annual production could be stored in a cube less than 3 1/2 feet on a side.

THE MORNING AFTER A PARTY where the hostess spurned a little, do you telephone several women who were guests to laugh at now the hostess was trying to impress everyone.

If you have a feeling that a friend is trying to hide something, do you insist on dragging it out into the open, figuring you won't let her get by with that?

If a woman gives you an opening to take another woman over the coals do you settle back to really do a job on her, enjoying every minute of it?

If you answer "yes" to all of those questions, your cattiness quotient is so high your charm is undoubtedly slipping.

But if your answers are all "no," you're almost too good to be true—and still be a woman.

Knox Kinard Speaks On "How The Twig Is Bent"

Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa schools, spoke on the topic, "How the Twig Is Bent" at a meeting Thursday of the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Assn.

"There are many influences, other than our own, at work at all times that tend to produce good or bad effects on the youth of today," Mr. Kinard said.

"God will always prevail if we as parents set the right kind of example and use kindness, honesty and strength of character to divert the interest of our children in the right channels.

"We should help them make the right decisions and work diligently at the job so they will grow up to be the type of person we want them to be. Then our mission will have been completed," he explained.

Mrs. Ross Byars, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Loyse Caldwell, who gave the devotional on "Spiritual Hazards in the Home."

Mrs. John Branham directed group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Jimma Decker. A high school boys quartet provided special music.

During the business session, fun night for Horace Mann was planned for Thursday, Oct. 25, with serving beginning at 5 p.m. Rooms will have various sources of entertainment.

Reports from the following chairmen were given: Mrs. Odell Giddens, procedure course; Mrs. Dale Coffin, study course; Mrs. Don Humphrey, publications.

Mrs. Dora Meech gave recognition of the Texas Congress Thursday, and Mrs. Clyde Jonas, treasurer, presented her report.

Room count was won by Mrs. A. E. Berry, first, and Mrs. Jimma Decker and Mrs. Meech, second.

How catty are you?
If you suspect or know that a woman dyes her hair do you mention the fact when your husband remarks that she is good-looking?

If a married woman with children seems to be making a success of a career, do you, when her success is mentioned, speak pityingly of her husband and children?

If a woman friend pretends to be younger than she is do you delight in taking her down a notch by occasionally saying something about "people our age"?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Because God is the only creator and creates only good, He is not the maker of sin, disease, and death, asserts the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches, Sunday, October 14, titled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Corroborating this assertion the Golden Text reads (Psalms 118:14, 17): "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation. I shall not die. But live, and declare the works of the Lord." And from the Bible text (Psalms 27:1): "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

Concerning the theme, these passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" are cited: "The procuring cause and foundation of all sickness is fear, ignorance, or sin" (p. 411). "Disquisitions on disease have a mental effect similar to that produced on children by telling ghost-stories in the dark."

"As frightened children look everywhere for the imaginary ghost, so sick humanity seeks danger in every direction, and looks for relief in all ways except the right one. Darkness induces fear. The adult, in bondage to his beliefs, no more comprehends his real being than does the child; and the adult must be taken out of his darkness, before he can get rid of the illusive sufferings which through the gloaming. The way in divine Science is the only way out of this condition" (p. 77).

Catholics Build Boat For Missionary Work
MOONSBEE, Ont. — The hardy Roman Catholic missionaries who serve the Indians of James Bay and Hudson Bay have completed a major engineering job.

Three lay brothers of the Oblate Order have constructed a 50-foot, 35-ton powerboat in a shed beside the frame palace of Bishop Henri Belleau.

Christened the Notre Dame de L'Espérance (Our Lady of Hope), the new vessel returns the sagging "fleet" of the Oblate missionaries to its full complement of three ships.

Asphalt mixed with rubber is said to make roads cheaper than when no rubber is used.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR

AP Newsfeatures Recently I admired the print quality of several dozen photographs. Mostly portraits of bygone personalities, they achieved their strong characterizations with simple lighting, straightforward posing and plain backgrounds.

"What's so unusual?" you ask. "Ah, but these original prints were made from fifty to almost a hundred years ago and, with a couple of exceptions, hadn't been seen before in America. They were the work of a French photographer, Nadar, and his son, Paul Nadar.

With Paris currently celebrating its 300th birthday, it seems appropriate for camera fans everywhere to pay tribute to photography's inventors, Daguerre and Niepce, and to the Parisian trail-blazer, Nadar.

It was Nadar who brought photography, literally, to its earliest great heights. (He took the first aerial photos from a balloon in 1858) and brought light to photography in its depths. (He took the first photos by electric light in the Paris catacombs in 1859).

But on a more normal level the world can be grateful for the many intimate, close-up views he provided of 19th Century literary, artistic, dramatic and political figures. Victor Hugo, Balzac, George Sand; composers Wagner, Rossini, Meyerbeer; the divine Sarah Bernhardt and Lily Langtry; artists Daumier, Carot, Dore; Napoleon III of France, Leopold I of Belgium and Edward VII of England. These are a cross section of the personalities who paraded before Nadar's camera.

We are grateful to a top American photographer, Horst, of Vogue high-fashion fame, for bringing some of these forgotten photos to the attention of Popular Photography. You will find in the November issue a large selection of Nadar photos from Horst's private collection. These he acquired some five years ago in Paris from the present Mme. Nadar, who still maintains the old studio where father and son worked so many decades ago.

Nadar was born Gaspard-Felix Tournacon. Various a medical student, artist, journalist and balloonist, he opened a professional photography studio in Paris in 1853. His friendship with the most prominent people in the arts and politics made his studio their meeting place. His innate ability with the camera and his remarkable portraits brought success and fame to his adopted signature, Nadar.

An inveterate worker, he was forever experimenting. Not satisfied to depend on natural light he pioneered in the use of artificial light. With primitive arc lights he made the first photo by electric illumination in the skull-strewn Paris catacombs. A far cry from his studio portraits, it's a tribute to his imagination and originality.

Ballooning became an obsession with Nadar. He conceived the idea of aerial photography and this led to more experiments.

"It was daring enough," notes the Popular Photography article, "to leave the ground in a big gas-bag 90 years ago, but Nadar thought so little of the danger that he could devote all his attention to his photographic equipment — which, heaven knows, demanded plenty of attention in that day of the old wet plate!"

His balloon basket was converted into a flying darkroom with an opaque tent suspended from the rigging and the camera strapped to the side. Persistent efforts on more than 20 ascents met with less than a hint of success. There wasn't even a suggestion of an image on his exposed plates.

JUST A FIT—If the shoe fits, hop right in. That's what little Yvette Berger did when she spied this giant brogan at the annual leather goods exposition in Paris.

He tried again, despite seeming bad luck with his balloon. Filled with hydrogen the night before for an early morning start, he found on arrival it had shrunk. A sudden chill in the night had caused the gas to contract. Determined to go aloft anyway, he dumped all ballast, the cumbersome tent, extra equipment — everything but the camera. The balloon struggled to rise. . . hesitated. . . settled slowly back.

Something else had to go and Nadar decided it could be his modesty. Off came his clothes and shoes. That did it! The balloon rose to about 300 feet and Nadar attempted his pictures as usual.

However, this time the plates developed at the village hotel. That day was a triumph for photography for at last he had an image — a hazy image to be sure — but an image nevertheless.

The mystery of the past failures was soon solved. It lay in a small exhaust valve from which hydrogen gas normally escaped at high altitudes under a warm sun. On this chilly day, Nadar had closed the valve. For the first time his exposed plates were free from hydrogen vapor. Previously, under the developing tent, it had spoiled all his plates.

In 1870, when Paris was besieged by the Prussians, Nadar was one of the commandants of the balloon corps which kept Paris in contact with the outside world.

In 1880 Nadar retired from active photography at the age of 60. His 24 year old son, Paul, took over his studio and main tained the bold Nadar signature but never achieved the acclaim or the stature of his father's earlier work.

The elder Nadar died in 1910, his niche in photo history well established. Occasionally, it needs a little dusting off, a little retelling. This is a fitting occasion.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Right Discard Way Is A Valuable Trick

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Mid-South Regional is one of the most important tournaments of the year, so when it begins in New Orleans in a couple of weeks it's a cinch that Mrs. W. L. Terry will travel down from her native Memphis to defend the pair championship that she won last year. The hand shown today is one of those that enabled her to win the tournament in 1950.

Mrs. Terry, holding the West cards, opened the queen of diamonds. Declarer won with the king of diamonds and looked pleased until he had tried one round of trumps with dummy's ace of hearts. With a normal trump break, South would lose club. Which card should she discard on declarer's high ruff? Mrs. Terry came up with the right answer by discarding the eight of hearts. Now she still had a trump trick, and her partner still had a club trick.

If West discards the worthless club, declarer makes his slam contract. When he then leads a club, West has nothing but trumps and is therefore obliged to ruff. She must then lead away from her jack-nine of trumps, thus losing her trump trick.

It is generally believed that most strains of rahnman cattle possess greater heat tolerance than standard American dairy breeds.

Undiscouraged, declarer took the top spades, discarding a low club, and ruffed a spade with the six of hearts. He continued by taking the ace of diamonds and ruffed a low diamond with dummy's three of hearts. Then he led dummy's last spade and ruffed in his hand with the king of hearts.

At this point Mrs. Terry had three trumps and a worthless

Man Plans Suicide; Dies of Attack

YORK, PA. — (AP) — Coroner Lester J. Sell said today an aged York county man died of a heart attack while deciding whether to use a knife or a gun to commit suicide.

Guy E. Watson, 79, was found slumped in a chair at his home near Fawn Grove Tuesday with an open pocket knife in one hand and a loaded rifle across his lap. He had told a neighbor he planned to commit suicide, Sell said.

"The strain he must have endured while sitting there, making up his mind how to kill himself, must have been just too much for his heart," said the coroner.

Mrs. Terry, holding the West cards, opened the queen of diamonds. Declarer won with the king of diamonds and looked pleased until he had tried one round of trumps with dummy's ace of hearts. With a normal trump break, South would lose

Area Farmers, Ranchers Asked To Cattle Clinic In Cheyenne

Area farmers, ranchers and agricultural students have been invited to attend the Western Oklahoma Beef Cattle Marketing clinic in Cheyenne, Okla., Nov. 2. The clinic is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Cheyenne Rodeo grounds.

Purpose of the clinic is to analyze some of the problems of the cattle producer and attempt to outline a program that can be put into operation to increase net return per acre of land devoted to beef cattle.

Major portion of the program will take place with cattle which represent the specific problem under discussion shown to the audience. Six groups of cattle, covering the stock in the area, will be used in the clinic.

Points for discussion include breeding, feeding, wintering, pastures, difference in market value, dehorning, disease insect and parasite control, methods of management, market demand and bruise loss and its prevention.

Slated to lead discussion are men prominent in the cattle industry in Oklahoma, agricultural teachers from Oklahoma A&M college and state and packing company officials.

Greek Role In Pact Up For Discussion

ATHENS — (AP) — The military chiefs of the United States, Britain and France have begun conferences with Greek leaders on Greece's role in the Atlantic pact.

The three visitors are Gen. Omar Bradley of the U. S.; Field Marshal Sir William Slim of Britain and Gen. Aerienné Charles Leclercq of France.
