Argument On Eggs Ends In Arrests

BROWNSVILLE, Texas — (AP) — Four men were eating eggs and chewing the fat at the cantina of Arturo Hernandez.

They got to arguing about where the eggs came from. One fellow said they were from Rhode Island reds. Another said they were leghorn eggs.

But Hernandez said they were just ordinary eggs from ordinary chickens. He said he knew because he was acquainted with the chickens.

Then trouble started. One guy conked another with a beer bottle. Somebody hit Hernandez over the head with a bottle. Another slashed him across the hand.

That ended the argument and the men left.

They were brought in by the law and each paid a fine of $18.89 yesterday.

"I still say they're leghorns," muttered one of the fellows after paying his fine.

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Is Asia moving closer to the Communists or shying farther away?

A swing through this section brings the distinct impression that the free world has gained ground in southeast Asia.

In some places the ground gained is quite a bit; in others it is not so much, but the Communists don't seem to have gained anywhere.

This overall gain in yardage is credited by southeast observers to the Korean war, to the Japanese peace treaty, to the firm stand of the French in Indochina and to a slight increase in guerrilla fighting in Red China.

I asked Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for southeast Asia, if he thought sentiment had veered to the West in this part of Asia.

"It has shifted enormously away from Peking, especially among the Chinese in southeast Asia," he replied.

The sharpest shift of sentiment was in Indonesia. The new re- public ignored India's lead and signed the peace treaty with Japan. That breach affected the free

Malays, historically linked with Indonesia.

In Malaya one of the bitterest of the little wars against the Reds crackles and flares. British Tommies, Gurkas from India and Malay soldiers and police fight 8,000 Chinese Red terrorists whose ally is the hot, wet jungle.

The soldiers have gained some ground this year. The civilian population, which was terrorized into silence last year, is beginning to give information to the authorities.

But the main burden of the free world in this Asian half-

A-Bomb Use In Korea Shelved For Present As Bid For Peace

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The use of atomic weapons in Korea was shelved today to have been given serious consideration by U.S. military leaders but to have been laid aside for the present.

The question of using such weapons was one of the reasons for the recent hurried trip to Tokyo and the battlefield by Gen. Oscar Bradley, a well-informed government source told a reporter.

Bradley recommended against use of A-bombs at this time because he regarded the prospects for a Korean truce as brighter, said this source, who declined to be quoted by name.

Bradley, in addition to being chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, is by law the principal military adviser of the President. Thus it may be presumed his recommendation was conveyed to President Truman who, by terms of the Atomic Energy act, is the final authority for use of the bomb by the armed forces.

In addition to whatever political policies may have entered the current decision to hold atomic weapons in leash pending further truce negotiations, military considerations probably were involved.

There appears to be little doubt that the United States can use atomic weapons on the battlefield as well as against distant enemy cities.

Perhaps by coincidence, Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, was making some pretty definitive statements on the subject both before Bradley left and after he returned, although he did not connect them with the Bradley mission or the Korean war.

Testifying before a congressional appropriations subcommittee on Sept. 21, a week before the general started for the Far East, Dean said the United States has a "very impressive" capability of using atomic weapons "against men in the field, and against military targets."

Of the bomb stockpile, he said "we have many today that are deliverable, a very impressive number."

Then on Oct. 5, a day after Bradley had returned, Dean made an unusually frank public address in Los Angeles in which he spoke of the progress in atomic weapons design and development. During the course of it he also said that:

When a situation arises where he attended the University of California, where he majored in history. Julius Caesar is his idol.

One thing puzzled him about acting (he's never had a lesson). That was how to kiss Miss Hollywood in a bedroom scene. He asked director George Cukor about this.

"Kiss her the same way you would kiss a girl in Crockett," he replied. Aldo did. But after the scene, he shouted to Cukor: "Hey, I got a complaint. She doesn't kiss like the girls in Crockett!"

Mr. Hilburn founded the Wheeler Sun in 1906 and remained its editor and publisher for many years. He later sold out to the Shamrock Texan, a native Texan, he was one of Wheeler's first postmasters and was the son of a pioneer Methodist minister in the Panhandle.

He was associated with the Okla. Tribune and with Womack Printing Co. in Dallas after leaving Wheeler in 1922.

Wheeler included a son, John Aubrey Hilburn of California; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Mae McKee, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. T. O. Hall, Dallas; Mrs. Edgar Seale of Goose Creek, Mrs. Ted Bones, Amarillo; three brothers, A. M. of Amarillo, Aubrey of California; Samuel of North Dakota and three grand-children.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Hilburn were held at 3 p.m. today in Wheeler Methodist church with Rev. O. C. Evans of Borger officiating. Burial was to be in Wheeler cemetery under direction of Kirk-Mason Funeral home.

Michigan fell 3800 to 37,100, Wyoming dropped 1900 to 187,300, New Mexico lost 800 to 144,775 and Florida declined 150 to 1,500. Alabama's production was unchanged at 3,050 barrels.

Other gainers were Indiana, up 1400 to 32,300; Montana, up 600 to 25,000; the eastern fields, 400 to 58,500; Colorado and Kentucky, each 200 barrels to 78,300 and 32,800, respectively; Utah, 100 to 3,900; Arkansas, 50 to 77,300; Nebraska, 50 to 7,400.

Louisiana topped the five losing states with a loss of 6,425 barrels to 619,325.

Competing its longest development flight, the four-engine DeHavilland plane made the 7809-mile trip from London in 24 hours and 47 minutes. Actual flying time was 18 hours 51 minutes, at an average speed of 414 miles per hour.

Hemphill County Hits USO Quota

Hemphill county was the first to reach its quota and go over the top in the current $700,000 campaign for the USO in Texas, Ben H. Wooten, campaign chairman, announced today.

"H. S. Wilbur, Canadian banker and chairman of the Hemphill county appeal, conducted a whirlwind campaign and went over the drive a few days after the drive was opened," Wooten announced.

Wooten said counties all over Texas are now, or soon will be engaged in local drives to raise quotas for the Texas campaign for the USO, a part of the national United Defense Fund appeal. He added that Community Chests throughout the state also are including the USO in their local appeals for funds.

IBC Under Federal Scrutiny

NEW YORK—(AP) The International Boxing club, promoter of virtually every championship fight in the country since the demise of the 20th Century Sporting club, was under the scrutiny of a federal grand jury today.

Jim Norris, IBC president, who was threatened with a congressional investigation only two months ago, said he was not worried.

At the time he found out about the proposed investigation, Norris said he knew questions had been asked, but that no one had bothered to ask us any questions.

"My door is open all the time," he added. "As far as monopoly or conflict with anti-trust laws is concerned, we are advised by our attorneys we are absolutely in the clear. We must operate under the laws of the state in which we are incorporated."

Vivian Kellems Wishes Housewives Would Be Jailed

MARSHALL—(AP) Miss Vivian Kellems said she wished the administration would put the rebellious Marshall housewives in jail "so it would stir up the whole country."

The fiery little industrialist from Connecticut came here to meet with the Marshall women who have refused to collect social security taxes from their servants.

Miss Kellems refused to collect the income withholding tax from her employes in her cable grip factory.

About 13 Marshall women and their husbands honored Miss Kellems at a dinner Monday night and then gathered their chairs around to talk it all over.

"You have defied the criminal law, which is insurrection," Miss Kellems told them, "and you should be in jail. But they (the administration) will never assess that penalty. I would go to God they would put you in jail. It would stir up the whole country."

She said their rebellious action in the past nine months was "the most important in America since the Revolutionary war."

"Certainly you have broken the law and rebelled against authority," she told them, "but free people keep their freedom by breaking the law to resist tyranny."

Texas Non-Farm Employment Hits High In August

Non-farm employment in Texas again climbed to a new all-time high during August, marking the fifth consecutive month that previous job records have been shattered, according to the Texas Employment commission in Austin.

Defense expansion, coupled with intensified activity in the cotton harvest were the main factors affecting the job expansion, TEC said although cotton suffered major setbacks in most of the cotton belt, thousands of pickers were being used with an accompanying drain of workers from nonfarm industries.

The agency pointed out August is not normally a month in which nonfarm employment gains much momentum, but this August found some 9000 workers added to industrial payrolls pushing the state's job figure to the new peak of 2,522,800.

TEC said that by the middle of October, non-farm jobs should rise more than 25,000 over the August figure and hit well above the 2,575,000 mark.

Press Group Deplores Gag On Papers

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay—(AP) An Inter-American Press Assn. report has expressed "alarm" over the increasing tendency among certain western hemisphere governments to restrict or destroy press freedom.

The report, presented to the association's conference here by its committee on freedom of the press, noted "severe and tragic reverses" in the past year, particularly in Argentina.

It also said that in the United States there is "an increasing practice on the part of national, state and local officials to conduct the business of their offices in secret," and extend military security "into areas of news which have no bearing on the nation's security."

It mentioned, in this respect, President Truman's Sept. 24 executive order instructing department, the indictment of five discretion in withholding information on security grounds.

The report also noted the defeat of legislation in Georgia to "make newspapers subject to regulation by the state government;" the indictment of five staff members of the Lake Charles, La., American Press, on charges of defaming public officials; the banning of editors of two Elkton, Md., weeklies from town council meetings; the attack by the Corona, Calif., Independent on a city business licenses tax.

The report severely criticized the regime of President Juan D. Peron of Argentina as providing the "most flagrant examples" of press restrictions. It cited in particular the case of the independent newspaper La Prensa, seized by the Peron government.

Peronista publishers and editors have walked out of this conference, angry because most of the membership applications from Argentina have been rejected here.

The report said there is press freedom in Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Puerto Rico and the United States.

It said that in Columbia censorship was established in November, 1949, and is continuing.

Airplanes often are used to transport fish from lakes to market in western Ontario.

Big Castor Bean Crop On Way In N. Texas

VERNON—(AP) Bad news for the kids. A bumper crop of castor-oil beans is on the way from this North Texas and neighboring Oklahoma area.

Farmers expect to reap a harvest of more than $2,000,000 when the work's all done this fall. However, the kids don't get it all. Uncle Sam is stockpiling the stuff because it's used in manufacturing a special grease for jet airplanes. Its lubricating properties stand up equally well in extremes of heat or cold.

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra pounds. A rigid diet over a protracted period of time, can do harm.

Here is the Proof
"I have taken Barcetrane and gotten wonderful results," writes Mrs. B. L. Parry, 724 E. 41st St., San Angelo, Texas. "I have lost 14 pounds and I feel so much better. I got rid of all my blood and gas and now get a good night's sleep. I ate anything I wanted."
Lost 13 Pounds
"Barcetrane not only made me lose weight, but it made me feel so much better," says Mrs. Ida C. Johnson, 705 South St., Dalhart, Texas. "I have already lost 13 pounds taking Barcetrane."
10 Pounds Lost
"I am very grateful to Barcetrane," writes Opal McKelva, 263 W. 9th, Bonham, Texas. "I have lost 10 pounds taking this wonderful medicine."

How Much Does It Cost To Make Money?

*In any city, the Newspaper gets the biggest share of the advertising dollar. Why? Is it because merchants like to spend money? Is it because of habit? Far from it!

Businessmen buy advertising to get the most sales for the least expenditure like you also would do. Local businessmen buy more NEWSPAPER advertising than all other media combined because newspapers deliver the good for far less unit cost.

And the bigger, more successful their business, the greater relative share of their funds goes into low cost newspaper space. Nothing else comes within a Russian mile of newspaper space for low cost impact.

Atom Bomb Is Ace-In-Hole For U.S., Old General Believes

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the Allies employ atom bombs to shorten the war in Korea? What is behind Joe Stalin's announcement that the Russians have exploded a test atom bomb but they don't plan to use it against the United States? To get the answer to these timely questions I went to call on my old friend, Col. Amos Frothing, USA (retired).

The colonel is a frosty old cavalry officer completely imaginary—who says he quit the Army in 1909 because the administration of President William Howard Taft was so peaceful it made him nervous.

I found the old boy poring over antique war maps in his study with a glass of bourbon in his hand.

"Gad," he said, shuddering, "that General Grant was a slipshod character. With three more horses—and my advice—Bob Lee could have chased him from Appomattox clear through Abe Lincoln's bedroom in the White House."

Sometimes it is hard to dig Col. Frothing out of past battles. He doesn't hold Napoleon's errors against him, but he feels that whoever promoted Bonaparte from corporal to sergeant made a big historical mistake.

"I see you have a problem, Junior," he greeted me, as I tossed him a snappy Boy Scout salute.

I asked the colonel what about the situation in Korea.

"We are in a stalemate there," he said, "and I see no end to that stalemate as long as we depend upon ordinary armor and mass infantry and armored attacks. We have to pull a bigger trigger."

"Such as, sir?"

"Well, Junior, I believe we could do it either with gas or with atom bombs. Many people regard these weapons as immoral. But if you believe in what you are fighting for, there is no immorality greater than defeat."

"If we have as many atom

Controls Lifted On Home Manufacture

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has freed from price controls the products of persons who manufacture goods in their own homes and whose sales amount to $1000 or less a month.

The items must be produced without the aid of hired employees. Heretofore, the small home manufacturer had an exemption of $200 a month in sales before being subject to Office of Price Stabilization ceilings.

OPS said typical items covered by the new ruling are fishing lures, artificial flowers, baskets, ceramics, small toys, wood carvings and small rugs.

All things in common nature should produce without sweat or endeavour.

Fire Chief Speaks At Rotary Meet

CANADIAN (Special)—In keeping with Fire Prevention Week, the Canadian Rotary club had as its principal speaker, Fire Chief John Wilkinson, at a luncheon meeting Tuesday.

The chief spoke on "Do you know your Fire Department and what it means to you?"

Wilkinson explained how insurance rates are determined—explaining the charges for deficiencies such as the lack of water mains of sufficient size and inadequacies of storage tanks and other facilities. He then showed how the fire department earns credits to offset these charges by maintaining fire trucks, conducting drill meetings, and above all the holding down of insured losses through its fire prevention activities and efficiency in combating fires when they do occur.

U. S. Refinery Quota Raised

BEAUMONT (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Chapman has warned that increasing U.S. oil refinery facilities to handle a million barrels more daily may not be enough.

Chapman is administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD).

He said PAD's three big aims are the increase of production and transportation of oil and the expansion of refineries.

He said the initial goal of the refinery expansion program—and it was a minimum goal—record credit of 25 percent.

Guests at the meeting included five firemen, Dean Cook, Clark Reagan, Jack Williams, R. L. Durham and Carl Zybach. Other guests were Rev. J. J. Musick of Albuquerque; George Newberry, Pampa; Thomas Gray and Ben Ezzeil, Canadian.

was to raise the rated capacity of U.S. refineries from about seven million barrels a day to eight million.

"It now appears that this may not be enough," he said.

Even though it calls for the highest rate of refinery expansion in the industry's history," he said.

Chapman gave a recent step-up in military requirements and the shutdown of the Abadan refinery in Iran make expansion necessary.

"It is becoming more and more apparent that the million-barrel expansion we have been planning will not give us enough spare capacity to be sure that we could meet all future demands.

"The refining industry recognizes this fact. It is willing to speed up the expansion program. But materials shortages—structural steel, sheet, pipe and equipment of various kinds—are already holding back new construction. The allotments so far available to the industry will make it difficult to meet even the minimum goal."

Sunny Skies Speed Crop Harvesting In Most Of State

AUSTIN — (AP) — Harvesting of mature Texas crops progressed rapidly last week under fair skies over most of the state, the United States department of agriculture reported today. Along the upper coast, however, showers and heavy dew slowed rice combining and harvesting of cotton. East Texas farmers planted winter cover crops as well as clovers and small grains for pastures. There was good moisture for germination and early growth. Winds and high temperatures disrupted limited moisture in central and north Texas. USDA said, soils in those areas were again getting dry. Cotton harvest in the low rolling plains and southern high plains counties was rolling as rapidly as possible with a short supply of pickers and pickers. Harvest was at about the half way mark in the northern blacklands counties. Bollworm activity was cutting prospects for a top crop in northern and northeastern areas. Wheat seeding made slow progress in the northwest as dry weather continued. Land was being prepared for planting in most fall and winter vegetable areas. Range and pasture feed continued to improve in East Texas, along the coast and in southern counties. Rain was still urgently needed in western and northwestern counties.

Local Girls Enroll For WTSC Classes

DENTON — Misses Mariola Duvall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Duvall of 431 N. Hazel, and Dorothy Noree Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Jones of 1117 Clark, are enrolled for the fall term at Texas State College for Women. Students at WTSC this term represent 191 out of 254 Texas counties. Also registered are 264 students from 27 other states, and 19 students from nine foreign countries. Opening of classes this fall marks the completion on the campus of two three-story brick structures, one an upperclassman dormitory, and the other, the home of the newly-created College of Household Arts and Sciences.

Highway Projects Lowest Since War

AUSTIN — (AP) — The smallest list of highway prospects since World War II attracted low bids totaling $2,156,633 yesterday, the State Highway Dept. reported. Low bids included the following: Cherokee — farm highway 177, 4.9 miles, grading, structures, base and surfacing; from Mt. Selman to Dixon, Campbell and Kay, Tyler, $58,010. Hopkins — U. S. Highway 67, 31 miles, widening existing bridge structures; from 8.4 miles east of Sulphur Springs to 2 miles west of Franklin county line, Russell Smith, Dallas, $138,193. Navarro — U. S. Highway 75, 1.89 miles, concrete pavement widening; from underpass in Corsicans to near South City limits, L. H. Lacy Co., Dallas, $275,276.

Boyle's Column:

Baseball Umpire Like Band Leader—But Gets No Applause

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — A baseball umpire is like an orchestra conductor. He directs the players, but he doesn't make the music. Unlike the conductor, the umpire doesn't share in the applause. He has a lot of problems. No body loves him except maybe his wife. And like a not, when he returns from a hot hard day behind the plate, she says accusingly: "Why did you call that third pitched ball to Ed Stanky in the fourth inning a strike? I was watching the game on television, and that was a ball if ever I saw one. Maybe you ought to get some glasses, honey."

Merchants Look Toward Christmas After Slow Sales

NEW YORK — (AP) — Christmas can't come too early this year for the merchants — Christmas buying, to be exact. Merchants have been plagued for a long time now with over-stuffed inventories, with buying reluctance on the part of the public, rising prices, and finally by late fall. Most retailers say they expect a good Christmas trade. They may not reach the record totals of last Christmas, however, since the 1950 Yuletide was marked by the first spurt of the second round of war-scarce buying. Poppa bought momma deep-freeze for Christmas because he was thoroughly convinced there wouldn't be any to buy, come March. Retail business is picking up now whenever a cold wave hits. For example, last week men's wear sales were reported off in Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, Atlanta, Philadelphia and New York, with the same reason given in each case: unseasonably warm weather. But slightly cooler weather arrived in Boston and trade picked up. New York resident buyers for out-of-town stores report record sales increasing this week from cities where the first frost of the year has sent customers to the shops. Stores in New York, plagued by warm weather until this week, have picked up under the stimulus of price cuts to move heavy inventories. Several men's wear chains have been working that side of the street with notable success. One chain says the results strengthen its belief that clothing prices had gone too high for the average customer. (Their missing customers could have told them that some time ago.)

Young Chinese Given Mass Marriage Rate

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Young Chinese can now get married at low cost, and still with all the necessary ceremonial trimmings. The Singapore Chinese Y.M.C.A. had 18 couples at its first mass wedding in Victoria Memorial hall. The total cost was $180 or just $10 per couple. It was the cheapest mass wedding in Singapore since the liberation from Japanese occupation.

LIKE'S HOME AWAY FROM HOME—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower stands near the pool that reflects the simple lines of the general's villa in the Marnes-la-Coquette suburb of Paris. Recently redecorated for the Eisenhowers, the house and its surroundings have been planned to help the commander of West European military forces relax.

Women Legislators To Take More Jaunts With Lawmakers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chalk up another victory for women! When the men-folks in Congress go junketing off happily to remote parts hereafter, it's more than likely that at least one lady legislator will be going along. The men may not like this. Some dislike it very much, in fact. But a fast team play by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) and Congresswoman Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.) has put them squarely on the spot. Either they'll have to take the ladies on their occasional inspection trips to London, Paris and elsewhere, or a cloud of suspicion raised by Hoffman and Mrs. St. George will follow them every inch of the way. Until now these junkets, which will resume when Congress adjourns in a few weeks, have been pretty much all-male affairs. And then up rose Michigan's gray-haired Hoffman to suggest a reason for this apparent sex discrimination: "Members," he said, "have been doing something that they do not want the women to learn about." Delightfully, Mrs. St. George seconded the aspersions. "I understand," she told the House, "that some of these women are very hard-working women. They are inclined to keep other members of the committee to the grindstone. I can see for that reason they are not desired on these trips. They may spoil some of the more pleasurable moments, some of the recreation." While her male colleagues were "no-commenting" on all sides, Mrs. St. George said written on congressional junkets ask no special privileges — "they take most of the rough as well as the smooth." "They wear slacks," Hoffman inquired. "They do, indeed," Mrs. St. George assured him. "I am told they even go up rope ladders." What prompted this one-two punch was a rumor that an executive expenditures subcommittee was packing its bags for an on-the-spot inspection of war surplus dealings in Europe — and that no women were invited. In fact, Hoffman said, some members were threatening to call the trip off if they couldn't tag along. Well, the subcommittee held a quick, closed meeting after the Hoffman - St. George exchange. And today the word leaked out unofficially — the trip is on, starting around Oct. 20. As for the one woman member of the subcommittee, Rep. Cecil M. Harden (R-Ind.): "Oh, yes, I'm planning to go," said Mrs. Harden, the ranking Republican member. "No, there wasn't a word spoken about sex discrimination."

DiSalle Sees Chance Controls For Meat Will Be Dropped

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Price boss Michael V. DiSalle has told House members there is "a real possibility" price controls on meat will be dropped unless slaughter quotas are imposed again. But he said failure by Congress to give the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) quota-setting authority will not end immediately, meat price ceilings. "On the contrary we will do our best to make them work," the price control director says, "but I would be less than frank if I did not tell you that in the long run there is a real possibility that the whole program will prove unworkable and have to be abandoned if we do not get slaughter quotas." DiSalle was before the House Banking committee which is studying a newly enacted Senate bill modifying the Caperhart amendment to the Defense Production act. He urged the committee to accept the Senate's proposal to permit ceiling prices on manufactured goods to be adjusted to relieve financial hardship suffered by manufacturers or processors.

Young Negro To Be Tried For Spying In Swiss Court

GENEVA — (AP) — A tubercular young American Negro is to be tried in the federal Swiss criminal court on charges of political spying in behalf of Sen. Joseph W. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The Swiss government has accused Charles E. Davis, 24, of Pasadena, Calif., of violating Swiss sovereignty by allegedly gathering information about John Carter Vincent, U. S. minister to Switzerland until his transfer last February, and supplying it to McCarthy. Davis also was charged with leaving his landlady with a bill for more than $100 for telephone calls to the United States. His trial is scheduled to begin at Lausanne next Monday. Davis was arrested by Swiss authorities last November and for the past several months has been treated in a Geneva tuberculosis hospital, where he has been kept in the prison ward. Davis told U. S. consulate officials here that he was a correspondent for a Communist newspaper in California. Members of the consulate staff who visited Davis in the hospital said he was looking in better health after treatment for tuberculosis. The "acte d'accusation" (indictment) filed in the Lausanne federal court said Davis was paid for his information. McCarthy repeatedly has attacked Vincent with assertions he followed the Communist line, particularly when the state department sent him to China during the war.

Draft Board Quits On Deferring Policy

LEXINGTON, Ky. — (AP) — A three-man local draft board has resigned in protest of a national selective service policy of inducting childless married men while deferring college students. The board quit yesterday, labeling the order as "discriminatory and one which we could not subscribe to." Gov. Lawrence Wetherby was unavailable for comment on action. The board included accountant Sam W. Eskew; Stuart G. Levy, clothing store executive, and tobacco broker E. J. O'Brien, Jr. All three also were critical of the Kentucky draft appeal board's recent refusal to uphold the board when it rejected the deferment of 18 college students.

Crying Child Sets Off 'Kidnap-Hunt'

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Natalie Ann Wiselwood, 3, woke up in a strange place last night, and started crying. Her cries ended a city-wide "kidnap" hunt, started a half hour earlier when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiselwood, reported the child and their auto gone. The Wiselwoods parked their car beside the garage after coming home from the grocery store. They left Natalie sleeping in the car while they carried in the food packages. While they were gone, a finance company agent had the car moved to a garage seven blocks away. He told police he did not notice the child in the car. Natalie's presence in the automobile was not discovered until she awoke and started crying. Garage attendants called police, and the "kidnap" scare was ended. Police took Natalie home. The car remained impounded.

Senate Turns Down Fuel Pipeline Planned For Belgian Congo

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate yesterday knocked in the head two Illinois judicial nominations made by President Truman without agreement of Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat. The appointments had previously been pigeonholed in committee. They were rejected by voice vote, with no voice of approval heard. The President sent the Senate the names of Cornelius J. Harrington and Joseph H. Drucker for the bench positions. Senator Douglas had submitted two other such nominations — one to Joseph H. Harrington and one to Joseph H. Drucker. Senator Douglas called the "manner and method" of their nomination — not the men themselves — obnoxious to him. Such an objection by a senator usually inures adverse Senate action, or no action at all.

Better Wait - Than Be Sorry!

For the man or woman who wants a Cadillac, there is no satisfactory substitute in the whole wide world! So, if your heart is set on sitting at the wheel of this great and distinguished motor car—let us talk with you frankly about the matter. First of all, you should come in and place your order—just as soon as circumstances will permit. There is now—as there has been for many years—a waiting list of wonderful people who wish to own this wonderful car. And the sooner your name joins this distinguished list—the sooner your hope will be realized. And once your signature is on an order blank—hold firm to your purpose. This may not be easy—for temptation is almost certain to assail you! Cars without number may be had today—almost as soon as you agree to accept them. And, quite naturally, people who sell these available cars may ask you to shift your preference from Cadillac. But, again, we urge you to hold firm—for the sake of your own welfare and your own satisfaction. Remember—it's Cadillac you want. Cadillac—with its universal and pride-inspiring recognition as the Standard of the World! Cadillac—with such performance that owners actually think up excuses for taking to the highway! Cadillac—with such amazing endurance that its full life-span has never yet been measured! Cadillac—with economy so extraordinary that few cars, at any price, will run farther on a gallon of gasoline! Yes—if you want a Cadillac, come in and order it. And then stand firm until you get it. It's far, far better to wait—than be sorry. For, remember, there is nothing that can take its place.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

When Ceilings Become Meaningless

The present meat situation provides a perfect example of the ineffectiveness of price controls and of how the controls have created problems far worse than those they were supposed to correct.

A short time ago OPS authorized some modest increases in the ceiling price of meat. The theory was that this would permit the packers, who had been operating at a loss in many cases, to earn a little profit. But, almost at once, the price of live cattle rose again, and the legal increase in the ceiling price was thus offset.

Therefore, said the Chicago Daily News editorially, "The big Chicago packers, adhering strictly to OPS regulations, are reducing their slaughter, due to their inability to buy cattle at prices that will permit them to operate within OPS limitations."

"Since it is a political impossibility to fix ceiling prices on livestock, any increase in the wholesale and retail ceilings of meat is apparently going to be reflected immediately in the growers' price to the packers."

The principal packers have been actually losing $20 a head or more on beef slaughtering, according to the News, and it should be obvious to anyone that no business can long accept losses of that magnitude and survive. Law-abiding packers have been forced to curtail operations. It is reported that a number of small packers have found it necessary to suspend beef operations entirely.

What are the consequences of all this? The Daily News has answered that question in the final paragraph of its editorial, when it said, "In the meat industry the price of cattle is governed by the price of the product. If reputable packers become unable to operate with profit because of what they have to pay and when they are allowed to charge, the inevitable result is that less scrupulous packers will do the slaughtering. When that happens ceilings become meaningless."

Forgotten Issue

Republican party leaders from eastern and southern states met in Washington recently to talk things over. They were told by a number of speakers that crime, communism, and corruption are to be the big issues in 1952 and apparently believed it.

Now there is no doubt that crime, corruption and communism should be stressed in the next year's campaign. The Republican orators will have no difficulty in showing that the criminal syndicates, the bolshevik spies and fellow travelers, and the grafters have enjoyed the protection of the New Dealers since they received access to the White House during the New Deal era. The facts ought to be told and retold until every voter is aware of them and their implications.

But there is another issue—foreign policy — that touches the people more closely and the failure to stress it is ominous. The people want tax relief. It is idle to pretend that they can have it except thru a revision of the foreign policy that makes high taxation today and higher taxation tomorrow inevitable.

The people don't want a draft, but as long as the present foreign policy is pursued, the draft will continue. The people want the threat of inflation ended, but the foreign policy of inviting war everywhere and extending military and economic aid to an ever-growing list of nations overseas makes inflation inescapable.

The people want their liberties of speech and of the press preserved, but there isn't much hope of preserving liberty in a nation that the New Deal foreign policy is fastening upon us.

The people want the war in Korea ended but the Truman-Acheson foreign policy won't let us win or even get out of it.

Foreign policy, despite its overwhelming importance, was the forgotten issue at the conference and it is easy enough to see why. Some of the conferees were real Republicans and the rest were Truman Republicans. All could agree in the evils of crime, communism and corruption; to hear them denounced gave a feeling of unity that may have seemed genuine to the participants but it is not likely to deceive anyone else. The New Deal Republicans have had their way in the last three national conventions and have led the party to successive defeats. If once again the central

Morals And The Welfare State

This is the last of a series quoting a talk made by Dr. F. A. Harper of The Foundation for Economic Education before a group of ministers at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.

FULL-TIME CORRUPTION

If we are to accept Lord Acton's axiom about the corrupting effect of power—and also the reasoning of Professor Hayek in his book, "The Road to Serfdom"—then the worst get to the top in a Welfare state—then corruption and low moral standards in high political places should not be surprising. But we citizens, some more and more to laugh and joke about it, rather than to remove the crown of power and dismantle the throne, a nation is well on its way to a moral degeneration that will result in the fall of the Roman Empire and others.

"Nor should we be surprised that there is some juvenile delinquency where adult delinquency is so rampant and where the absence of any basic moral code among adults precludes even the possibility of their effectively teaching a moral code that will prevent delinquency in the young. If, as adults, we practice collective thievery through the Welfare State, and advocate it as right and good, how can we question the logic of the youths who likewise form gangs, steal the candy stores? If demonstration is the best teacher, we adults must start with the practice of morality ourselves, rather than hiring some presumed specialist to study the causes of similar conduct among the youngsters; their conduct is the symptom, not the disease.

"Thievery and covetousness will perpetuate the degeneration in the morals of ourselves, our children, and our children's children will continue to deteriorate unless we destroy the virus of immorality that is embedded in the concept of the Welfare State; unless we come to understand how the moral code of individual conduct must apply to collective conduct, because the collective is composed solely of individuals. Moral individual conduct cannot persist in the face of collective immorality under the Welfare State program. One side or the other of the double standard of morals will have to be surrendered."

APPENDIX

THE WELFARE STATE IDEA

The concept of the Welfare State and its everyday life in the form of a long list of labels and programs such as: Social Security; parity or fair prices; reasonable profits; the living wage; the National Labor Relations Act; education; to bankrupt corporations; and so on.

"But all these names and details of the Welfare State program tend only to obscure the general nature. They are well-meaning labels for a laudable objective—the relief of distressing need, prevention of starvation, and the like. But how is starvation and distress to be prevented? It is well, too, that prices, profits, and wages be fair and equitable? But what is to be the test of fairness and equity? No business can long accept losses of that magnitude and survive. Law-abiding packers have been forced to curtail operations. It is reported that a number of small packers have found it necessary to suspend beef operations entirely.

What are the consequences of all this? The Daily News has answered that question in the final paragraph of its editorial, when it said, "In the meat industry the price of cattle is governed by the price of the product. If reputable packers become unable to operate with profit because of what they have to pay and when they are allowed to charge, the inevitable result is that less scrupulous packers will do the slaughtering. When that happens ceilings become meaningless."

But there is another issue—foreign policy — that touches the people more closely and the failure to stress it is ominous. The people want tax relief. It is idle to pretend that they can have it except thru a revision of the foreign policy that makes high taxation today and higher taxation tomorrow inevitable. The people don't want a draft, but as long as the present foreign policy is pursued, the draft will continue. The people want the threat of inflation ended, but the foreign policy of inviting war everywhere and extending military and economic aid to an ever-growing list of nations overseas makes inflation inescapable.

The people want their liberties of speech and of the press preserved, but there isn't much hope of preserving liberty in a nation that the New Deal foreign policy is fastening upon us.

The people want the war in Korea ended but the Truman-Acheson foreign policy won't let us win or even get out of it.

Some of the conferees were real Republicans and the rest were Truman Republicans. All could agree in the evils of crime, communism and corruption; to hear them denounced gave a feeling of unity that may have seemed genuine to the participants but it is not likely to deceive anyone else. The New Deal Republicans have had their way in the last three national conventions and have led the party to successive defeats. If once again the central political issue of our times—the foreign policy of the United States—is regarded as too hot to handle in a Presidential campaign, the Republicans will lose. They will lose because they will have offered to the country no relief from present ills and because their cowardly evasion will be apparent to every voter.

Baxter's Views

DAVID BAXTER

Some time ago I mentioned that Dr. Leffers has been at the largest Chiropractic clinic and hospital in the world at Denver, Colo., had sued Collier's magazine, the largest circulator, and the largest advertiser, for libelous and defamatory statements about him in the Collier's article smearing Dr. William M. Koch and others.

The latest is that Dr. Spears a few days ago brought suit for $25,000,000 against the American Broadcasting Co. because of a broadcast on the "cancer quack" story. Spears expects to sue Winchell's sponsor soon and perhaps Winchell. Depositions have already been taken from Collier's officials and Winchell's. Winchell has gotten away with some quite inflammatory remarks in the past for the simple reason that he is very wealthy and some of his victims are unable financially to sue him. He worked at me several times and did everything in his power to aid and encourage John Rogge, the Communist-fronter, in Rogge's ill-fated attempt to defame myself and others on a trumped-up charge. The Blue Network, over which the erstwhile "Jergens' Jerk" broadcast, wouldn't give me a transcript of his broadcast in which he attacked me. When Rogge was fired from the Justice Dept. Winchell tore his hair and screamed that the Department had "blown its own brains out." He used to give Rogge and the Red Daily Worker a big hand but now he seems to be quite anti-bolshevik.

Winchell's praise of the Collier's smear of Leffers is an emphysematous and envious attack. We must remember that the radio man is connected with the Damon Runyon cancer outfit which he has regularly plugged and to which money by the bucketful has been sent to him. His cackling, irritating voice has not only referred to the Congress as the "House of Representatives" and caused people to refuse to buy the products of its sponsors but it has, along with his harsh, staccato laughter, brought untold distress upon persons who were unable to fight back. There are times when I wonder if Winchell was doing some good on specific issues but there is little doubt in my mind but what the little fellow is a big way if Dr. Spears gets around to him.

COLUMNS AVAILABLE

I am still getting letters from readers asking for back copies of newspapers which run six columns replying to the Collier's attack and discussing Dr. Koch and his treatment. Sorry I can't answer most of my correspondence personally but I appreciate, anyone who writes me. I am especially grateful to those thoughtful readers who sometimes send me clippings and information on certain subjects. It comes in handy in documenting and proving certain points. Every letter, the six columns, they have been placed together in one complete booklet which sells at 25 cents per copy or $6 for $100 and may be ordered from the Lutheran Research Society, 751 E. Grand Blvd., Detroit 7, Mich. The cooperation of the Lutheran group in this matter is greatly appreciated and I am informed that your society has a right cause are purchasing quantities of the booklet (entitled "The Big Lie") and circulating them among their friends and family doctors.

FLUORINE IN WATER

A remarkable well-documented report, "The Question of Fluorine," has been sent to me by Dr. F. H. Seubold 213 N. 15th St., Fort Snod, Ark. Containing a statement by Dr. Raymond L. Girard, president at the Detroit District Dental Society and facts and figures carefully accumulated and compiled, this report should be read by persons interested in the subject of putting fluorine in the drinking water of cities. A tremendous campaign is on to fluorinate our water, the chief argument being that it is beneficial to teeth (nothing being said about what it does to the bones and arteries or the fact that it is an exceedingly poisonous corrosive). The fluorine question will probably get around to your city eventually and it is imperative to be prepared in advance to meet this invasion by ruthless drug interests who never have shown the least regard for the lives and liberties of the people.

I strongly suggest that you write to Dr. Seubold asking for this report.

ANALOGY

I've often been asked why the apparent sympathy for Dr. William F. Koch, M.D. from Chiropractors and osteopaths.

Same reason that a flock of sheep huddled together when thunder and lightning strikes. M.D.'s who buck monopolistic union power have something in common with other practitioners who know what it is to be pushed around. All liberty-loving men have a natural affinity for one another.

In Koch's case the analogy is even clearer. He hit on the identical belief that Chiropractors and others base their cardinal dogma upon—that only Nature can cure anything; the doctor just gives a helping hand. Likewise, Koch believed that a vital point in helping Nature is to get toxins out of the system instead of putting more in by way of drugs and serums. I didn't think of bile or sick calf pus had any business in the human body. Neither do many other medical Chiropractic and osteopathic practitioners.

FAIR ENOUGH--PEGLER

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
CINCINNATI—Louis Bromfield, the literary hay-shaker, has written an essay in which he takes the line of Goldsmith's little parlor even as a Communist layout nor even a front for the cause. I do know that when I called him, in the straightforward way of a news reporter who does his own legwork by hand, he refused to discuss any of the political organizations holding forth in his apartment. Anyone that mysterious about political societies under his guidance which intrude in public elections far from the Waldorf Tower should come in the interests of public sentiment. About the "omniscient" of Joe McCarthy's "smear" are mostly fellow-travelers who are embarrassed now by proof of their pat activities and politeness intellectual vagrants, such as Bromfield, who were willing to take the bait but want to shirk the legitimate consequences.

Bromfield writes that to determine a citizen's past association with "Communist fronts, intrigue and policies" one must look back to the time when Hitler and Mussolini tried to "destroy our freedom and civilization and dominate the world."

If this brain hadn't the intelligence in those days to know that Moscow was first in the field, dedicated to the same ends by the same methods, and that both Mussolini and Hitler were direct political reactions to the brutal atrocities of Communists within their countries, he shouldn't have been allowed to vote. He takes the same line that the Washington Post and Eleanor Roosevelt took in excusing the perfidy of their friend, Alger Hiss. He knew Mussolini and Hitler were bad, but not until they were gone and Stalin had taken over, did he realize that he was "an enemy devil as vicious as the two dictators had been."

This is the most abject confession, nay profession, of stupidity that I have yet read in the course of this dragging controversy, and I don't believe it from any of them. If Louis had the candor to admit that he was a stupid fool and that he hasn't yet shown any evidence of emergence from that status, we could rate him according to his unimportance. But the whole pack of them continue to insult our intelligence with conflicting claims of enlightened political idealism and sniggering imbecility and to abuse us for exposing the very traitors who, as Louis admits, took advantage of their incompetence to turn them into fronts.

Bromfield is no Communist. He is a capitalist. But he is fond of putting his name up in surroundings which imply importance. He "joined" the Society for the Prevention of World War III, a mysterious abusive propaganda show financed and run by Isidor Lipschutz, a puppet show who owes his life to my country. This "society" howled for the Morgenthau plan in Germany, which would have given the whole country to the Soviet armies without an argument. It vilified almost everyone who disagreed with Truman, Eisenhower and several divisions of innocent American kids are disagreeing now with Lipschutz also operates the Anti-Nazi league, which runs a dirty little gasp of disreputable private tugs and other contemptible eavesdroppers.

Nevertheless, Bromfield could only remark, when I asked him, that it was getting so that a fellow just couldn't lend his name to anything any more.

If Louis is going to take sides in this home-front war on the issue of "McCarthyism" he ought to take the anti-Communist side. On his record, however, I am not sure he would be a worse house-room in our camp.

By HENRY McLEMORE
The United States should be ashamed of itself. Deeply, deeply ashamed. As the strongest nation in the world it has compromised with countries which have done nothing but kill its children.

For the United States to lose one man to China, which we can overwhelm at any time we choose, is selling out an American family.

For the United States to take even the slightest backtalk from Czechoslovakia, which it created, is a sign of physical degradation in Washington.

I am supposed to write light and humorous things "but sometimes I get so mad I can't do any more. This country has never been put to a test, and I think it's about time it was. The United Nations sits in solemn conference, and seems not to care if two or three or four thousand men die while they are talking. There is a lot of difference between going down to a dining room where food from various nations is served, and climbing a hill against machine-gun fire.

If this country is scared of Russia, let this country admit it. Frankly, I don't think Russia could beat us in a hundred years. But if battle has to be joined, let it be joined. I don't want to go Communist, let it be sheer blackmail. In short, let's line up the decent people against the bums, and see who wins. According to figures, Russia hasn't lost a man in the

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—Senator Robert A. Taft's refusal to repudiate Senator "Joe" McCarthy's questionable tactics ranks with his apparent inconsistency on foreign problems as one of his major obstacles in winning either the Republican presidential nomination next year or the election itself in the event of his selection as the GOP standard-bearer.

There are many people who admire Taft's integrity, ability and frankness, and who would be inclined to vote for him because of their utter disgust with the low morality of the Truman-Boyle group. At the same time, they reject completely what has come to be known as "McCarthyism," believing that the Wisconsin Senator has gone beyond the bounds of good taste and decency.

TAFT'S—Taft believes that his forthcoming book on foreign questions, to be published next month, will satisfy the qualms of those who think he has not been straightforward or honest on this subject. He will, he thinks, destroy the belief that he is an "old-fashioned and stubborn isolationist."

He himself may not tackle the difficult McCarthy question, but it is known that his friends are prepared to point out that lead for the Democratic party, including Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, did not dare to read shady and disreputable characters out of their party for fear of an adverse ballot-box reaction at national conventions or at the polls.

EVIL—Senator Taft, according to this theory, may have a McCarthy problem on his hands. But it is pointed out that Franklin D. Roosevelt tolerated such evil figures as Tom Heflin, the Long on Capitol Hill was the late Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. The only national politician who dared to brand Frank Coughlin for the trouble-maker he showed himself to be, was former Representative John J. O'Connor of New York, who was "purged" by F.D.R. in the 1938 campaign.

BENEFACTOR—F.D.R. even offered ex-convict "Jim" Curley the ambassadorship to Poland as a reward for the Bostonian's campaign help in 1932 and 1936. The break between them came because Curley wanted the diplomatic post at Rome, an appointment said to have been blocked by the Vatican's objections.

It is probable that there has never been a greater criminal and morally harmful politician since the Tweed days than Tom Pendergast. He permitted open gambling, prostitution and other forms of vice to exist during his regime. Kansas City was a more wide open than New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Reno or New Orleans when he controlled city hall, the county courthouse and the state house.

He was Truman's first sponsor and benefactor in politics. Even after he had served time in jail, Truman attended his funeral, and has never uttered one word of condemnation of "Pendergastism." The ex-convict's philosophy prevails today in Washington.

PRECEDENTS—It is true that two wrongs do not make a right, as Taft's friends admit in discussing this question. But they do point out that, as a fellow Senator, he has no authority to challenge the conduct of a man from another sovereign state.

When and if Senator Taft becomes the presidential nominee, he may speak out on the question of "McCarthyism." But pending several senatorial investigations into the Wisconsin's indiscretions, and until the convention gives him the right to act as the party spokesman, he feels that the Roosevelt-Truman precedents entitle him to defer action for a while.

Guerillas Battle Yannigans Tonight

The Pampa Guerillas, the onl... football team to see action this week, will face the Amarillo Yannigans A team tonight at 8 o'clock at Harvester Park.

The game will be broadcast over KFDN starting at 7:35 with Kay Fancher and Rudy Marti at the microphones.

The Guerillas will be hunting their second win of the season against three losses suffered at the hands of Wheeler, Letoras and the Borger Bullpups. The lone victory came last week over the Turkey Turks of District 1-B. The Yannigans are unbeaten so far this season.

Amarillo's team is divided into two separate squads because of the size of the B team. The team playing tonight is the A squad, while the B team will be played twice more later in the season.

The Guerilla starting lineup is problematical. Only the line seems certain. That will see Bill Peppin at center, James Peppin and Travis Taylor at the ends, Bob Prigmore and Chick Jordan at tackles and Billy Edwards and Alton Flynn at the guards. Flynn was moved up to the Harvester last weekend, but has been loaned back to the Guerillas for this game.

The starting backfield offers several combinations. Jean Martindale, regular right halfback, received a spine injury last weekend at Turkey and is a doubtful participant in tonight's game. If he doesn't run at that position it will be Richard Radcliffe or else it might mean that John Darby, regular quarterback, also may be shifted to halfback. He did some fine running last weekend and it may see him shifted to a place where he can get to carry the ball more often.

If Darby moves to halfback, J. N. Wright will be the starting quarterback. He has missed

Price Curb Must Wait

DALLAS — (P) — Milton Price will retire as president of the West Texas-New Mexico league in Lubbock Sunday.

Price, who has served the league ever since its organization in 1937, said he was leaving because of the expansion of his duties as secretary of the Texas league.

The league meeting will discuss ways of cutting expenses in view of declining attendance. One move being talked is to cut down on the number of veteran players a club may carry. The 17-player limit now provides for 10 veterans, five rookies and two limited service men.

Credit Sunday's Rain With Assist In Yankee Victory

NEW YORK — (P) — Old Casey Stengel sits atop the baseball world today with a knowing wink and three straight world championships to show for his first three years as manager of the New York Yankees.

You can bet your bottom dollar the grizzled skipper will be back in 1952 to complete his $65,000 plus contract. And probably 1953 and so on.

Unless poor health dampens the fire of this old warhorse, he'll be back as long as they want him. Right now, that's probably forever.

Sure Leo Durocher's "miracle man" Giants gave the Yanks a good wrestle before succumbing, 4-3, in yesterday's sixth game at chilly Yankee Stadium. But they couldn't quite manage another miracle against an aroused Yankee club that chalked up its 14th world championship in 18 series.

If you looked sharp you could see this coming since Sunday's postponement. Trailing 2-1 in the games without a pitcher for the fourth, the Yanks got a terrific break when a 2 1/2 - inch rainfall washed the game into the Harlem River.

Allie Reynolds gained another day of precious rest and came back to blind the Giants Monday. Then they rolled the heavy artillery into action for the 13-1 slaughter of the fifth game.

Maybe they were lucky to close it out in six. The Giants outthrew them yesterday, 11-7, and staged a rousing finish that all but saved the day.

Still Hank Bauer's 400-foot triple — a typical Yankee blast — unloaded the bases with the winning runs in the sixth. That was the ball game, plain and simple, although it took a bit of doing to keep it under control.

Will DiMag Return Again Come Back?

NEW YORK — (P) — Did the ringing double in his last time at bat tell Joe DiMaggio's farewell to baseball?

Has the greatest performer since Babe Ruth played his last big league game?

Not even Joe DiMaggio knows. That was the first question of nearly everybody after Hank Bauer had made that final catch of the sixth world series game which made the New York Yankees world champions for the third straight year.

"Are you coming back next year, Joe?"

The Clipper, who had just established a record by playing on his ninth world championship game, flashed that characteristic toothy grin of his and said honestly:

"Fellows, I just don't know. I haven't been able to make up my mind."

His teammates were as anxious as the writers to know. Some, who might have sensed that he might never be back at the Yankee Stadium, his baseball home for 16 years, took no chances.

They had Joe autograph their bats, gloves, baseballs and photographs with suitable salutations on them. Several requested and received some of his pet bats.

This is the toughest decision Dimaggio has had to make since he joined the Yankees back in 1936 as a wide-eyed, awe-struck and tight-tipped youngster of 21.

There have been rumors that Dimaggio may be asked to take a 25 percent cut from his $100,000 salary. He suffered his poorest year this season, hitting at a low .268.

His sub-normal batting, however, did not affect his fielding and base-running. And there were days when he looked like the old DiMaggio at the plate, too.

Like in the fourth world series game when he lashed a home run and two singles.

"We couldn't have won without him," shouted Manager Casey Stengel for all to hear. "And we need him next year, too."

The Old Film-Maker Man Hoople's law of planetary motion, and the law of cosines. All of these have been found to have a fly in them.

But I am carrying on, undaunted, my coat-of-arms still unaltered. This week I really have discovered what the boys in the back room are wont to term "the McCoy!"

It is DR. GOTTWALD MCGINTY'S HELIACAL HYPOTHESES! Years ago I used this to handicap polo matches and steeplechases, but I had shelled it as too complicated for football.

Claassen Likes Longhorns, Irish Over SMU, and Baylor

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK — (P) — Picking football winners:

Exeas over Oklahoma: Oklahoma made only four first downs against Texas A&M last Saturday and the Longhorn line can't be refuted as exactly puny.

Notre Dame over SMU: The Methodists will rate a contest in the rugged Southwest conference nothing more than a signal drill after this encounter with the Irish. They already have been beaten by Georgia Tech and Ohio State.

Baylor over Arkansas. Texas A&M over Trinity. TCU over Texas Tech. Hardin-Simmons over Temple State.

Ohio State over Wisconsin: both clubs lost by four points last week on last minute passes by rivals. The loser in this one can give up all hope of making the Rose Bowl trip. Wisconsin can reportedly have its time-tables after Saturday.

Georgia Tech over LSU: Tech reportedly had the best freshman football team in the country last year. It now has jellied into one of the best varsities in the South, boasting three straight triumphs.

California over Washington State: what team in the country has a better one-two punch than California with fullback John Olszewski and guard Les Richter?

Princeton over Penn: this one could go the other way if the Quakers have repaired their pass defense.

Tennessee over Chattanooga: shame on you, why don't you pick on somebody your size?

Kentucky over Mississippi State: how can a team that has two such great point makers as Parilli and Leskovar lose to a straight?

Army over Dartmouth: an 18-year-old freshman, Pete Vann, named "Big Red" last quarterbacking job but this will be the first triumph for the Army remnants.

Lumping the others: Alabama over Villanova, Fordham over Boston College, Purdue over Miami of Ohio.

East: Cornell over Harvard, Illinois over Syracuse, Yale over Columbia.

Senior Champ Is Eliminated

SAN ANTONIO — (P) — Quarterfinal play in the senior championship of the Texas Golf association open today minus a co-medalist and the association's 1948 champion.

R. Fwell Mills of Houston, who shared medalist honors with Col. E. D. Irons of Fort Worth on opening day, was beaten yesterday by Ed Tyer of Houston, one-up in 20 holes.

Ed Anderson, Houston, 1948 winner, lost 3 and 2 to J. M. Marston of Dallas.

Meanwhile champion C. M. (Chick) Trout of Lubbock kept rolling along as did Col. W. R. Stickman, the San Antonio leader. C. C. McLean of Dallas, A. C. January of Dallas, Bartlett Coombs of San Antonio and Irons.

Holy Cross Is Defensive Leader

NEW YORK — (P) — Holy Cross' overall strength and a heavy rainstorm which deluged Milwaukee last Saturday night account for the best college defensive football teams.

Charles Scores 11th Round KO

PITTSBURGH — (P) — Ezzard Charles is hot on the comeback trail today after knocking out Rex Layne in the same ring where he lost his heavyweight title to Jersey Joe Walcott.

Charles stopped the 23-year-old Salt Lake City, Utah, brawler in 2:32 of the 11th round last night in an interesting but unimpressive bout before a disappointing turnout of 6,257 fans at Forbes Field.

Charles weighed 185, heaviest of his fighting career, and Layne 195-1-2. The fight grossed $38,763, William & Mary.

Far West: Arizona over Texas Western, College of Pacific over Clemson, Denver over New Mexico, Montana over Idaho, Southern California over Oregon State, Stanford over UCLA, Washington over Oregon, Wyoming over Colorado.

Jim Martin, Detroit Lions' end from Notre Dame, has been nicknamed "Big Red" since he was a youth and wore short hair cuts. Red Birking, sophomore guard from Haworth, N. J., is the third of three brothers to play football at Colgate University.

San Antonio — (P) — Quarterfinal play in the senior championship of the Texas Golf association open today minus a co-medalist and the association's 1948 champion.

R. Fwell Mills of Houston, who shared medalist honors with Col. E. D. Irons of Fort Worth on opening day, was beaten yesterday by Ed Tyer of Houston, one-up in 20 holes.

Ed Anderson, Houston, 1948 winner, lost 3 and 2 to J. M. Marston of Dallas.

Meanwhile champion C. M. (Chick) Trout of Lubbock kept rolling along as did Col. W. R. Stickman, the San Antonio leader. C. C. McLean of Dallas, A. C. January of Dallas, Bartlett Coombs of San Antonio and Irons.

Trout, steady and right at par, defeated J. T. Abbott, San Angelo 5 and 4. It was the most sparkling of the elder statesman (championship) bracket.

Cooke sprang a minor upset when he lambasted Ed Brady, runner-up '49, of San Benito. The score was 3 and 2. Cooke played steady, clothes, the golf on his home course while Brady was erratic.

Holy Cross is a 13-point favorite over Arkansas and TCU is 10 points over Texas Tech. The Aggie-Trinity game wasn't rated. The conference boasts a 10-5 inter-sectional record and can lose six of the eight remaining games and still be ahead in inter-conference play.

Longhorn trainer Frank Medina said fullback Byron Townsend had flu. Ed Price was well satisfied with the way Richard Ochsa, Townsend's replacement, has been running. Price had the Longhorns concentrating on ball handling on a couple of new plays and testing various defenses against Oklahoma's attack.

At Norman, Okla., Coach Bud Wilkinson listed another injured player, end Carl Allison. Baylor polished passing and defensive plays and drilled on defense against Arkansas in Waco Saturday.

The Texas Aggies smoothed its potent T-formation offense. SMU looked alert against Notre Dame passing and ground plays in their long afternoon drill.

Jess Neely sent his Rice Owl charges through a rough head-knocking scrimmage. TCU was wondering if guard Herbert Zimmerman and defense-end Charles Rogers would be able to play against Texas Tech Saturday night in Lubbock.

Little Joe Due Visit

NEW YORK — (P) — Joe DiMaggio is not going to be long enjoying a reunion with Joe Paul, Jr.

Price Curb Must Wait

Still Hank Bauer's 400-foot triple — a typical Yankee blast — unloaded the bases with the winning runs in the sixth. That was the ball game, plain and simple, although it took a bit of doing to keep it under control.

Bauer, more or less of a flop in this series, emerged a double hero. His hit over Monte Irvin's head won the game from Dave Koslo. His sliding catch of pinch hitter Sam Yavors' diving liner saved the game in the ninth.

All the credit in the world belongs to the gallant Giants who clawed from last to first in the most exciting playoff series in all baseball history. They never quit when the Dodgers had them 4-1 going to the ninth in last playoff game. Any they never quit yesterday when they went to the ninth, trailing by that same 4-1 score.

"Three outs to go," yelled Leo. "Let her rip." And rip they did.

Durocher's gang put up a mighty scrap. Koslo gave him two well-pitched games until Bauer's crushing help from Sal Maglie, their ace who worked only five listless innings. Larry Jansen, their 23-game winner, failed them twice.

Still they were in there punching, reaching for the big prize until late in the ninth inning. Durocher's gang put up a mighty scrap. And ditto for Alvin Dark (.417) who played errorless ball at shortstop and chimed in with 10 hits.

After breaking his hitting streak with a single Oct. 8 in the third inning of the fourth game of the 1951 World Series, Joltin' Joe DiMaggio really got into stride by pounding a homer into left field upper stands in fifth inning of the game. Yank catcher, Yogi Berra, scored on the circuit clout which was DiMaggio's eighth home run in 16 series. Babe Ruth's all time high was 15. The Yanks won the fourth game 6 to 2 as Allie Reynolds allowed eight hits.

WARREN'S ARM UP

By Warren Hayes - News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters may have the weekend off, but to watch them at practice yesterday, one would have thought they were preparing to play the Cleveland Browns. No more vicious session has been witnessed on the practice field at Pampa High school in three years by these eyes.

All of the afternoon quarterbacks sat by on the sidelines with fingers crossed for fear of injury. But none occurred. It was definitely an all out "war" among the members of the Green and Gold. A writer who had an explanation afterward, Coach Tom Tipps explained that "the boys might as well get used to it. From now on that's the kind of games they're going to run into. Last year we did all right until we hit Wichita Falls. There it was a team that had a lot of blockers, and we wouldn't cope with it. We're getting ready now for just that kind of schedule the rest of the way. In our games so far the backfield has gotten 75 percent of the tackling, and it's high time some of these ball carriers were stopped by the linemen."

The vicious hour's workout heard leather popping like shotgun shells, and tempers got on edge. But it was all for the sake of the Harvesters' production of their fighting spirit in preparation for the tough schedule which lies ahead, starting next weekend with the Abilene Eagles.

One look at the way the clubs in district 4-A are ranked in the state and Coach Tipps' word about "that's the kind of

Goff May Move To Wichita Falls

DALLAS — (AP) — The News said today it had learned that Robert E. Goff, general manager of the Dallas Eagles of the Texas Baseball League, likely will move to the Wichita Falls club of the Big State club as general manager.

Goff came to Dallas from Wichita Falls when R. W. (Dick) Burnett purchased the Dallas franchise in 1948.

The News said it was reported the former veteran minor league player or manager would be given a two-year contract and a percentage clause.

White Sox Swap With Seattle Of PCL

CHICAGO — (AP) — Stalled in the major league trading market, General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox has dipped into the minors for two pitchers in a seven-player deal with Seattle of the Pacific Coast league.

The Sox got righthanders Marv Grisson, 33, and Hector (Skinny) Brown, 27.

Sent to the Rainiers were pitchers Marv Rothball, Jerome Dahlke, Dick Duffy and Bill Fischer, and shortstop Jim Baume.

Fort Worth Cats Sell Five To Montreal

MONTREAL — (AP) — Montreal of the International Baseball League bought five players today from Fort Worth of the Texas league and sold a sixth player to the Cats.

Sold to the Cats is Jack Lindsey, utility infielder, who played in the Texas league this year. Acquired from Fort Worth are Bill Glane and Art Fabbro, pitchers, Joe Lutz, George Freese and Gordon Hunter, infielders. Both teams are Brooklyn farms.

FIRST IN 30 YEARS—Monte Irvin broke for the plate on Allie Reynolds' full windup on his first pitch to Bobby Thomson in the first inning of the first game of the World Series. Yogi Berra had to reach for the pitch as Thomson felt away and Irvin hit the dirt. The Yankees' catcher could not make the tag in time, and Bill Summers called the Giants' outfielder safe. It was the first time a player had stolen home in a World Series since 1921. (NEA)

Odus Mitchell Returns With Strong Club Saturday Night

CANYON — (WTNS) — "North Texas State will be the best team we will face at home this season," Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State head mentor said this week as his Herd prepared for the encounter Saturday night in Amarillo Stadium.

"Coach Mitchell's Eagles are undefeated in four games," Kimbrough continued, "and they have scored 187 points while allowing the opposition only 19." Scouts who say North Texas State has taken a turn in action against East Texas State last Friday night came away with plenty of respect for the big and mobile Eagle line and the breakaway backfield which contains three members of

Glenn Lippman Very Versatile

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — How many teams have a man who can play any backfield position and substitute in the football line if needed?

Texas A&M has one. He's Glenn Lippman, who has taken a turn at all the jobs in the backfield, plus defensive guard.

Little is heard these days of Bob Smith, the celebrated fullback who is supposed to be the heart of the Aggie team. He has been injured.

Lippman now leads the Southwest Conference in ball-carrying with 254 yards on 41 carries. Last week he scored both touchdowns in the 14-7 triumph over Oklahoma.

Glenn started the game at fullback when Smith was held out because of his injuries. Later, when Smith appeared, Lippman shifted to left halfback. When Billy Tidwell, the right halfback, was hurt, Glenn went to that position.

In the first two games of the season — against UCLA and Texas Tech — Lippman doubles as quarterback. During the final minutes of last year's game with SMU, Glenn played defensive guard for the sole purpose of rushing Fred Benner to keep him from connecting on desperate passes. The Aggies won 25-20.

Lippman came to A&M in 1948 from El Campo, Tex., high school where he had scored 283 points in a season.

Reveal Offer To Throw 3 Games

NEW YORK — (AP) — An offer of $15,000 if the Giants would "manage to lose the next three games" was received in a letter by Manager Leo Durocher, his actress wife, Laraine Day, said.

The letter, written from Atlantic City, contained a threat, Miss Day said.

It was turned over to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick before yesterday's final game of the world series at the Yankee Stadium, in which the Giants were beaten by the New York Yankees.

"Leo's immediate reaction was that the letter was the work of a crank," Miss Day said.

Lefors-Panhandle Clash In Top Class A Game Friday

LEFORS — (Special) — The co-leadership of District 1-A chips are down for Coach since the Pirates have not lost Frank Sonntag's and Bob Callan's a conference game either and Lefors High school Pirates this came out of their muddy fray weekend. The local Bucs meet with the Wheeler Mustangs in the unbeaten Panhandle Panthers (ing fette, 36-0 victors. On the here on Shaw Field at 8 p.m. same night the Purple and Gold Friday night. Involved will be Panthers were disposing of Clarendon's Broncos, 15-0, also in the rain.

Sports Round-Up

NEW YORK — (AP) — In Yankee Stadium just before the first world series game, a visiting writer from the South remarked: "I see you folks up here haven't recognized the football season yet." That was just an opening so the guy could put in the plug for Tennessee as the best post-damn team in the country, and maybe he was right. These early-season doings (and you can't entirely overlook them on Saturday afternoons) have produced some painful results for last year's leaders and brought a lot of new teams to the top.

For instance, the Pacific Coast conference, used as a mop for the Big Ten entries to clean out the Rose Bowl for the past few years, has come up with at least three strong teams—California, Washington and Southern California. The Southwest conference looks unusually strong, too, with Texas A&M, Texas and Baylor in front. And where did those winning teams at Georgia Tech, Holy Cross and Vanderbilt come from?

A HORSE ON EVERYBODY

Ever hear of a one-horse parlay? You could have had one at the Gates track in Rio de Janeiro not long ago — a colt named Estrela de Norte was entered in two races on the same day, not an uncommon procedure. When he won the first, a 500 meter affair, without drawing a deep breath, his owners decided that instead of scratch him from the third race 45 minutes later, they'd run him back in the 1,000 meter sprint. Estrela de Norte won again and naturally he paid off in box car figures.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Pete Vann, the freshman who'll run the Army grid team Saturday, is the best ball-handler among the Cadet quarterbacks. Coach Red Blank hesitated to let a "baby faced kid" call the signals. You can't say the Giants didn't have a strong bench. It was the players on it who were weak. Two of the best backfield reserves on the Louisiana State U. football team are Leroy Laby and Ronnie Periloux — who leave from Reserve, La. — Difference between Michigan State's Bob Carey, who made nearly every pre-season all America this year, and his twin brother Bill, who plays the other end, is three inches and 25 pounds. Bill, only 6-2 and 200 pounds, is just as good except for his size.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

After Phil Rizzuto dropped that oriental home run into the Big Grounds stands Tuesday, Eddie Lopat tagged him "Phil Manchu" and after the same game, a weary reporter wisecracked: "It got so bad after the seventh inning Rube Goldstein would have stopped it." Casey Stengel (after the final out) "when Bauer caught that ball, I swallowed it."

NOBLITT-COFFEY'S FOOTBALL FORECASTS

By Pitts Smith

SOUTHERN METHODIST AT NOTRE DAME—This renewal of a bitterly contested series has all the ingredients for a first class demolition job. Fullbacks Worden of Notre Dame and Norton of SMU are two of the best sophomore blasters doing business. The Irish are slightly stronger on defense and that's the pay-off.

ILLINOIS AT SYRACUSE—The top ranking Big Ten Illini are going out of their way for trouble. Syracuse is one of the best independents in the East with a sound running attack, that will take a lot of beating. Karras and Stevens should be more than the Orangemen can handle.

Polly Shepherd Honored At Shower;
Wedding Is Scheduled For Today

Miss Polly Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enid Shepherd, 1043 S. Barnes, was honored with a pre-nuptial shower and breakfast Saturday in the home of Mrs. Frank McMorde, Sr., of Canadian.

Miss Shepherd will become the bride of George Earl Tubb, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tubb of Canadian, in ceremonies to be read here today in the First Presbyterian church.

The bride's colors of bronze, gold and green, were carried out in the decorations and table appointments, and arrangements of fall flowers and leaves were used throughout the entertaining rooms.

A painting, done by Maurice Bernson, showing the bridal party and a wedding scene, was used as a background for the buffet. The scene was lighted by the soft glow of lighted tapers. Centering the serving table was an arrangement of bronze urns and bronze and gold asters. The place cards, also done

Polished Satin For Evening Wear

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Polished satin, cut short and full-skirted, makes this season's covered-up evening dress. Pretty, and practical, too, because this dress can go from a dinner date to the theater to a party and look just exactly right.

Mostly, these dresses are worn like everything this year, with crinoline petticoats. The petticoat increases the bouffant look of the short skirt, makes a small waist look smaller.

In these short dinner-dancing dresses, satin is treated as regally as it is when it makes a ball gown. The air of formality is there, and all of the careful detail.

A short and strapless gown (left) of glowing red satin is given, by Eisenberg, a tiny black velvet bolero. Lining of the bolero is in the red satin. A fitted bodice and full skirt are traced in black velvet embroidery. Belt, too, is black velvet.

To make a zesty cheese sauce add a half-pound of soft yellow cheese shaved thin (about 1 1/2 cups) to a medium white sauce made with two cups of milk. Serve over a combination of cooked bacon for luncheon or supper.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

Years of grace are most certainly yours after forty but you must plan for that grace by devoting just a little time and thought to the study of what you should wear and how you should wear it.

The woman of Forty-Plus, of large, handsome design, is so often wrong in her choice of clothes. She so often chooses prints in huge, sprawling patterns. Prints are charming but you must consider your height and weight. For the tall, heavy figure, plain fabrics are the most flattering but when prints are preferred, small, delicate designs and scattered polka dots are more becoming. You must also give thought to the balance of color in your wardrobe. Don't, just because purple happens to be fashionable, buy it and then find that you have nothing to go with it and also that the color is very unflattering.

Plan your color scheme very carefully. You will then be always well dressed. It is true, of course, that the After Forty woman, of any shape, size or design, does look best in rich, dark, solid colors, with, perhaps, black as first choice. But for those of you who love color and find it becoming, there are many ways to do it wisely.

Have a soft fold of your favorite color at the neck of your dress, a scarf for your coat. Always avoid brilliant colors in large areas. Large women so often wear severe lines, tightly fitted. You should insist upon draped lines from shoulder to waist. This softens the bust line, giving a slenderizing effect.

Avoid broad belts and sashes, sharp bands of color at the waistline. Keep away from glittering and buck belts. If you are, fortunately, slender, you may choose wide-spaced prints in bright colors, if you are sure that they won't bore you. Emphasize your slenderness by smoothly fitted lines. If much underweight, use pleats and draperies to soften the harsh lines of the figure. Wear high necklines, long sleeves to the wrists.

The Little Woman must not emphasize her littleness by frilly bows and lace. She must dress in a small design to look attractive and not just like a little woman in children's clothes.

Dr. Cohen To Speak In McLean

Dr. H. H. Cohen, Jewish-Christian missionary who returned from Palestine in March, will speak at the Assembly of God in McLean tonight.

Dr. Cohen, lecturer, traveler and author, has spoken in more than 3,000 churches in the United States during five trips to Palestine during the last 20 years.

"These people are really living a Biblical life," he said. "That may sound like something a public relations man would say, but it's true. And as you wander through the country, this truth draws even upon the skeptic."

The lecturer is the author of two books, "The Jew and Christianity" and "The Jew and His Fascination for Palestine." He was in Palestine the day it was made a nation.

Dr. Cohen said the Israelites are voluntarily "Taxing themselves to poverty and starving themselves on an insufficient diet to build up their country."

They move over in their own homes and take in refugees of all lands. There have been three hundred thousand newcomers in the last eight months, he said.

He scoffed at any threat of Communism in Israel. Refugees coming from behind the Iron Curtain are the surest guarantee the new country won't go Red.

"They'll tell you Russia has been terrible toward the Jews in Russia. Russia is just hoping for more trouble in the Middle East so she can find an excuse to intervene," Dr. Cohen said.

The missionary is inter-denominational, and said there is no prejudice between different religions in Israel. There are thousands of Christian Jews there, he stated.

Cottage cheese, served with a salad, takes to seasoning since it is such a bland food. Mix a little onion juice and finely diced green pepper into it, or mix it with chopped canned pimiento and finely minced parsley. A little sour cream mixed into the cheese also makes it especially delicious.

MAKE-UP WON'T HIDE CALENDAR LOOK

Not this scientific way! Many avoid showing monthly strains. All the make-up in the world can't take that strain. Bitter monthly look out of your eyes. But here's a modern way that has helped many women and girls avoid calendar misery and its signs. It's Cardui, a tested medicine that builds blood strength and restores each month—many women may feel no monthly cramps at all. Low, feel your normal, happy self. Ask your dealer for Cardui.

Mrs. Pratt Reviews Michener's New Book At 20th Century Forum

Mrs. Bruce Pratt's review of "Return to Paradise" by James A. Michener highlighted the Twentieth Century Forum meeting Tuesday at the Pampa Country club. Mrs. Dick Hughes was hostess.

Michener's book pictures a group of islands in the South Pacific including Polynesia, Fiji, Guadalcanal, New Zealand and Australia. He stresses the importance of the relations of the United States to these islands.

Mrs. Pratt selected two stories from the book which give an excellent picture of the people, their customs and traditions during World War II when United States soldiers were stationed and fighting on these islands. The first story was "Povinaa's Daughter," which took place in Polynesia, and the second was "Until They Sailed" with the scene laid in New Zealand.

Dr. Emily T. Hicks, chairman of the local Cancer Control program, spoke briefly on the cancer campaign here and requested all club members to make and donate "Johnny-coats" for use of cancer patients. The coats will be placed in the Gray county loan closet, located in a part of the Red Cross office, Dr. Hicks explained.

Mrs. Frank Kelley, president, presided at the business session. Members present were Mrs. Crawford Atkinson, M. X. Beard, Roy Bourland, E. J. Dunigan, Wm. T. Fraser, J. R. Holloway, W. Calvin Jones, Raymond W. Laycock, M. McDaniel, Henry Rose, O. L. Statton, Aubrey L. Steele and C. B. Wilkinson, and Mrs. Pratt, Hughes, Kelley.

The next meeting will be Oct. 23 when Mrs. McDaniel will present a program on theatre arts.

Family night at Sam Houston grade school was planned for Nov. 1 at a PTA board meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Bob Andis, 1710 Mary Ellen.

About 486 PTA memberships were reported at the meeting, and the year's budget and city council's report read and accepted. Meeting will be held Nov. 13, at 2 p.m. in the office of the school principal, Aaron Meeks.

Hopkins PTA Meeting Today At 8 P.M.

The Hopkins PTA will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the Community Hall with Claude Zevely, school principal, in charge.

Program for the evening will be a play presented by sixth grade students. Executive board members met at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the school for a short business meeting.

To prepare green peppers for stuffing cut off the stem end of each pepper, remove seeds and white membranes, and cook about five minutes in boiling salted water.

20th Century Will View 'What's Right In America?'

A program review for the year started the 1951-52 club year for the Twentieth Century club which met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. G. F. Branson, 1009 Mary Ellen.

Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., began the meeting with the singing of the club collect, written by Mary Stewart and recently set to music by Pearl Boyce Brown.

Mrs. George Scott, program leader, opened with a quotation from Elbert Hubbard, "If I supply you with a thought you may remember it and you may not. But if I make you think a thought for yourself, I have indeed added to your stature."

Included on the program were reports by Mrs. Raymond Harrah and Mrs. Germa who both attended the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention in May. Mrs. Harrah stressed the "kiss for Korea" project and Mrs. Garman added information and interesting sidelights of the meeting.

Mrs. Joe Gordon gave a short parliamentary drill. Mrs. Scott, in reviewing the year's program, said, "Your program committee decided to stress those things that are right with America and selected as our year's study, America the Beautiful."

Starting with our American heritage, we have some programs that are heavy, such as those on the significance of truth in the present crisis, and on inflation. Then we go to a lighter vein and study American china as it has developed through the years. Mrs. Fred Neslage, president, presided at the meeting. During the business session, Dr. Emily Hicks, chairman of the cancer committee, presented the idea of "Johnny-coats" for the cancer loan closet that is to be established in the Red Cross office in the city hall. Members voted to cooperate in filling the closet and each will make and bring a "Johnny-coat" to the next meeting. Seventeen members were present for the meeting.

Hog Prices Drop Nearly 15 Percent

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Hog prices have declined nearly 15 percent since mid-summer, but little of the drop has been passed along to consumers on the price of pork, the Agriculture department says.

A further decline in hog prices was forecast between now and December, a period of seasonally increased marketings. But again there is no indication, the agency says, that there will be any retail price reductions.

Hogs are now bringing farmers an average of slightly less than $20 for 100 pounds. In mid-summer, they brought an average of as high as $22.60. Present prices are nearly $2 below quotations a year ago.

Beef cattle prices, on the other hand, are still holding close to price ceiling levels and are likely to continue to do so, with possible exceptions of a few times this fall when seasonal increases in marketings may cause some temporary declines.

The fact that hog prices have declined and pork prices have remained stationary is reflected in wider margins for slaughterers. Department reports show, for example, that the slaughter margin at Chicago last July averaged about $1 on 100 pounds of hog. That is, the slaughterer sold the pork and pork products from 100 pounds of hog at $1 more than he paid for it.

In the last week of September, the margin had increased to $2.13, the department said.

The government has price ceilings on pork and beef and on beef cattle, but not on hogs. There is nothing in the controls law that requires slaughterers or retailers to adjust their prices downward when prices of livestock decline.

Officials said, however, that it is customary for slaughterers to take wider margins in heavy livestock marketing seasons. Often it is necessary for them to do so, officials told a reporter, to offset insufficient margins in periods of small livestock marketings, when competition is sharper.

The department said there has been some increase in marketings of beef cattle in recent weeks, particularly from Texas and Oklahoma where dry weather had damaged pastures. But most of this increase has been bought by cornbelt feeders, who place cattle on a heavy ration of grain feed to add weight for future marketing.

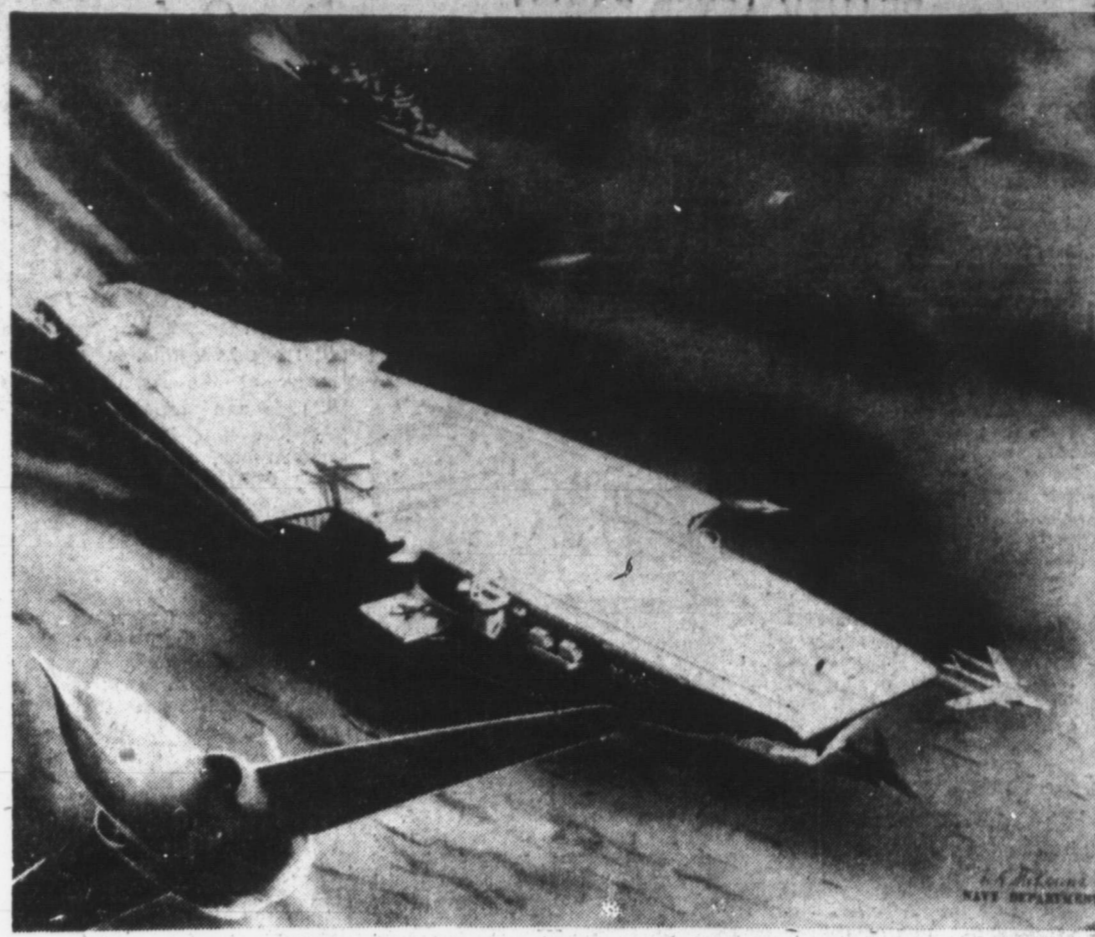

However, a noticeable increase in sale of cattle for slaughter was forecast for the next 10 or 12 weeks.

Nevertheless, cattle slaughter for 1951 will likely total no more than 18,000,000 head. This would be the smallest annual slaughter in at least eight years. Farmers are holding back increased numbers of cattle for breeding purposes and for further fattening.

ARTISTS DRAWING OF CARRIER USS FORRESTAL — This picture envisions the ultimate appearance of the Navy's forthcoming aircraft carrier which will be named in honor of the late Secretary of Defense, James V. Forrestal. The keel of the 89,900-ton, flush deck vessel is expected to be laid at Newport News, Va., next summer. With an overall length of 1,046 feet, the big flight deck will be adequate for the heaviest carrier-operated aircraft. The ship is designed to accommodate 3,500 men. She will have air conditioned quarters, will cruise at a speed of more than thirty knots and will be capable of remaining at sea three months. (AP Wirephoto)

U. S. Navy Building Up Its Strength With 180 New Ships

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States Navy, already the world's biggest, is building about 180 more ships for the fleet, ranging from a huge carrier to radically new design destroyers and submarines.

A survey of available records today showed, among other things, that 13 submarines are being built now, not counting the experimental atomic-powered undersea boat recently authorized by Congress. This is the largest submarine building program since the mass production days of World War II.

There are about 450 combat ships in the operating fleet now, not including several hundred amphibious, supply and auxiliary craft.

Much of the buildup of the operating fleet has come from pulling laid-up ships from the mothball fleet, although some of the expansion includes new carriers, destroyers and other major combat craft.

The mothball fleet of vessels built for World War II numbered at one time about 2280. It still is a sizeable force in reserve, about 1600 craft, despite withdrawals for return to the active fleet, transfer to navies of other friendly powers and dispositions by sale or other means.

Included in the reserve fleet are 11 battleships and two battlecruisers, a type built specifically for matching a similar design of the German navy, the Scharnhorst class ship. The American battlecruisers, however, were completed too late for use in the war and were put into reserve almost immediately.

The Navy now has all four of its 45,000-ton Iowa class battleships back in commission or being readied for operation. The 11 battlewagons in the reserve fleet include the thoroughly modern but smaller 35,000-ton class ships as well as several older battleships built during World War I and subsequently modernized.

Biggest of the ships under construction is the Forrestal, a 66,000-ton carrier to cost an estimated $218,000,000. It will include such ultra modern gadgets as a retractable "island" to make the carrier a true flush-deck flattop and a television set to enable landing to see planes approaching the flight deck when the island superstructure with its bridge is retracted into the deck.

Building also are two experimental type ships, one an "ocean escort" vessel of destroyer lines apparently designed for high speed, anti-submarine work under any sea conditions and the other a secret, highly specialized destroyer type. The Navy now has seven "AGC" (amphibious command ships) in operation.

They are used as they were during World War II — as the flag ships for big-scale landing operations on an enemy beach where a complex fleet of carriers, battleships, cruisers, destroyers and landing ships and tanks work as a single team under direction of the command ship.

About half of the 13 submarines being built are intended as standard long range, fleet type operations, but they include improved or entirely new design engines and target detection systems.

Building also are more than 115 minesweepers to cope with the constant release of mines by the enemy — on river mouths, as well as to sweep in operations such as the Inchon landing last year.

For the first time since the war, the Navy has gone back into construction of the PT boat. Three such craft are being designed, essentially experimental designs. They are substantially larger and faster than the old PT boats which operated so successfully against the Japanese in the Pacific island campaigns.

Many Homes In Pampa No. Tied On To New Sewer Lines

Individual sewer connections are lagging about 16 percent behind individual water connections despite recent long-range sewer extension projects, a chart in the city engineering offices disclosed.

Although sewer extensions have kept pace with water lines, many householders have failed to tie on to them.

City Engineer Ray Evans said the majority of houses tied to water lines, but not to sewer lines, are in the Talley and Wilcox additions. Both additions have had extensive sewer lines laid since 1948 and 1949.

On the other hand, the chart showed a steady increase in water connections from 1934 to 1951. Sharpest upturn in water connections took place during the 1947-48 period when the number increased from 3551 connections on Jan. 1, 1947 to 4245 by Jan. 1, 1949, an increase of 714.

The overall growth of water customers for the city shows an increase of 3136 connections from the Jan. 1, 1934 total of 1801 to the present total of 4937.

"It's still climbing, and will continue to climb," Evans said, as he pointed to the area south of the city recently named Prairie Village.

Even with those houses not tied to sewer lines, the city has continued to increase the number of sewer connections. Starting with July 31, 1945 and coming through to July 31, 1951, the chart tallied an increase of 1519 connections. The starting point of the chart shows 2829 connections in 1945 and winding up with 4048 by July 31 of this year.

According to those figures here are today approximately 889 more houses tied to water lines than there are tied to sewer lines.

Evans predicted these would increase as Prairie Village begins taking on population and other additions bring in more residents.

Baseball Bringing More Crises This Year Than United Nations

NEW YORK — (AP) — Baseball has had more crises this year than the United Nations.

If America survives these present world series, nothing should ever get it down.

For the national pastime in 1951 became a national disease. It is doubtful whether anything has stirred the people more since the sinking of the battleship Maine or Civil war more since the Civil war.

The world series itself comes as something of an anti-climax to the whining-ding playoff games in the National league between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Special Section For NTSC Ex-Students

With Amarillo AFB band furnishing pep music, North Texas State college ex-students from the Panhandle will sit in a special section for them at Amarillo stadium Oct. 13 when NTSC plays West Texas State college.

Tickets will be sold at a special NTSC window and seating is on the west side of the stadium. Persons wanting to sit in the special section should request NTSC tickets. NTSC cheerleaders are coming from Denton to lead yells, and the Amarillo AFB band of 35 members will sit in the section to play school songs and other music.

An ex-student association, formed recently in Amarillo, is planning to serve coffee and cake (following the game) at one of the homes of an alumni. It will be announced definitely at the game.

hold of the Giants, a 13-year-old girl paid her six-year-old sister and four-year-old brother a nickel each to play for her team. "I can't pray myself," she explained. "I have to listen to the game on the radio."

Oh, well, in another few days it will be over. Then if you cut up the head of the most rabid fan, you wouldn't even find a single baseball.

You'd find a football.

Time Will Tell Whether Reds Gained By Peace Talk Break

BY JOHN RANDOLPH — Eighth Army, Korea — (AP) — Only the future will tell whether the Communists gained by breaking off the Korean peace talks Aug. 25.

They already have paid a high price — Nearly 80,000 Chinese and North Korean soldiers killed, wounded or captured, says the 8th army. (Allied losses for the period have not been disclosed.)

Up to 250 square miles of North Korea, representing allied gains of nearly 15 miles in the east and four miles in the west.

Several — perhaps eight or 10 — Communist divisions have been cut to pieces and knocked out of the war for months. Vast amounts of war material have been destroyed. The fifth air force has ranged daily over North Korea, smashing at the Communist rail and road net, wrecking trains and truck convoys.

The battles of the last 48 days were not decisive. The Eighth Army Commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, and his most optimistic staff officers would not claim they were.

The Red setback does not mean that the Communists cannot launch another major offensive — although it certainly reduces the chances of one starting, or of getting very far.

It does mean that the Communists have a lot less than they had on Aug. 23 — perhaps enough less to bring them back to the armistice table.

The last 48 days have cost the Allies something, too. American soldiers have been killed and wounded — and so have South Koreans, British, French, Turks, Greeks, Dutch, and men from other United Nations.

He figures still are a military secret.

Beaumont Planning Big Celebration For Oil Industry

BEAUMONT — The year's anniversary celebration of the birth of Texas' booming petroleum industry begins here Monday when the state's oil and gas operators assemble for the 32nd annual meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

Oil and gas operators, industry leaders and high government officials from over the nation will be drawn by a combination meeting which includes the annual get-together of the state's largest oil man's organization, the dedication of a new engineering building at Lamar State College of Technology, and an important statewide meeting of the Texas Railroad commission.

The event will pay tribute to the famous Spindletop discovery of 1901, the year the Texas petroleum industry was born.

Speakers will include Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman; Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr.; W. Alton Jones, president of Cities Service Co. and chairman of the American Petroleum Institute; L. S. Westcott, president of The Pure Oil Co.; Ladd Haystead, agricultural counselor for the American Petroleum Institute; and R. B. Anderson — "Seeds of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn."

Monday morning speakers and their subjects will be: R. B. Anderson — "Seeds of Texas Prosperity"; and W. Alton Jones — "Communism is as Communism Does."

The association's Distinguished Service Awards will be presented during the morning session. Monday afternoon speakers will be Ladd Haystead, who will present "What's Ahead for Petro-Agriculture," and L. S. Westcott — "Can Petroleum Do Its Job?" Election of officers will be held during the afternoon session, also.

Secretary Pace will speak at the annual directors' dinner, Monday night. Secretary Chapman will dedicate the new Lucas Engineering building at Lamar Tech Tuesday morning. Following the ceremonies, members will inspect refinery and chemical plant facilities en route to Port Arthur for lunch. Others will participate in

Army, AEC Mum On Next Atomic Tests

LAS VEGAS — (AP) — Only the Army and the Atomic Energy commission know when the next series of blasts will be touched off at Frenchman's Flat proving grounds northeast of here, and they aren't saying.

But there's no law against guessing, and a lot of people in this gambling resort are indulging in the privilege.

Some signs point to a starting date early next week. Bookmakers are betting that way. Carroll L. Tyler, AEC test manager, isn't scheduled to arrive until later this week.

Also, construction is still going on at Camp Desert Rock, headquarters for the 1000 troops who will participate in the tests.

The annual golf tournament at the Beaumont Country club. The Texas Railroad commission will hold a statewide hearing in Beaumont hotel, Tuesday. The annual membership dinner — the Spindletop Boom Town jamboree will be held Tuesday night in the Harvest club at the South Texas Fair grounds. Atmosphere at the dinner will be in keeping with early Spindletop boom days.

Filibuster Has Provided Block Against Action On Civil Rights

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Democrats and Republicans, sensitive to the size of the Negro vote in northern cities, made promises about pulling through civil rights legislation if they won the 1948 election.

But the whole subject of civil rights in Congress, where the Democrats won and have held a majority since 1948, has been pretty dead except for a brief but unsuccessful flurry by the Trumanites in 1949.

When that attempt was made two years ago the Southern Democrats, as they had in the past and will do it again, broke away from their northern Democratic brothers and filibustered the move to death.

There were at the time some critics who felt the Trumanites' attempt was feeble to begin with and that they could have smashed the filibuster if they had tried hard enough.

At any rate nothing much has been said about civil rights since the time. But now some talk, but only talk so far, about civil rights is beginning again. It can be expected to pick up again.

This is not unusual. We are moving into another election year when both parties once again will hold pre-election conventions and once again undoubtedly make promises about civil rights if they are elected.

It will be indeed unusual if they make good on the promises. It has been this way for years. And there's no reason to believe it won't continue like that.

Meanwhile it has been the Supreme court, not Congress, which has actually been doing something about civil rights. It has been widening them by court decisions. The court can't legislate but its decisions have the effect of legislation.

But to understand what's cooking now, and eventually may be the cause of a lot of dispute in Congress, here is a little background.

A filibuster simply means talk without limit. A filibuster is an attempt by a member of Congress, or a group of members, to talk so long against some measure that the others will give up trying to pass it. In short, a filibuster is an effort to block legislation by talking it to death.

It takes the votes of 64 senators—two-thirds of the Senate—to stop a filibuster.

There can be no filibusters in the House of Representatives. There is a time limit on how much any member can say. So

Money To Purchase Land For Housing Project Is Approved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Money to buy land on which to build housing near two Texas Air Force bases is contained in a supplemental appropriation bill expected to be taken up today by the House.

The two bases are Perrin at Sherman and Reese at Lubbock. Rep. Mahon (D-Texas), a member of the appropriations committee, which approved the bill, said the money is contained in a lump sum item of $14,800,000 for acquisition of land at Naval, Army and Air Force centers throughout the country.

Plans have been ready for some time to build a $3,500,000 development at Lubbock, but work has been held up because of the land purchase problem, said Mahon. He gave no estimate of the amount to be provided for land purchases at the two Texas bases.

The construction is planned under the Wherry Housing act program. Under it private investors build the housing through loan arrangements with the federal housing authority, to relieve crowded conditions at permanent military installations.

The FORM DIVINE

by HILDEGARDE DOLSON

XXXV.
MISS MEADOWS entered the Hall of Mirrors and walked gravely down the aisle. She was wearing another of her impeccable city blacks, yet she gave off an almost overpowering suggestion that a train bearer followed behind her. She halted in front of the basket of diplomas, blocking Miss Dottle from view, and swiveled a brilliant smile at the audience. She began, in an opulent contralto, "We at Beautiful-You wouldn't dream of having a graduation without our students' favorite people looking on, and that applies above all to husbands."

She swiveled the smile again. "Because husbands pay, and you're all smart businessmen, so I know you want to be sure you got your money's worth. Tell me honestly, aren't you men pretty well satisfied? Do any of you want to trade in the new model for the old one?"

"A man's voice said huskily, "It's too late now," but this was taken as a joke.

Confidentially, Miss Meadows went on, in an intimate, just-among-us-50 tone, "we don't have any complaints about the menfolk, either." Her eyelashes registered affection, as she lowered her sights toward the students. "Today you'll go into the world as alumnae of Beautiful-You, and I want you to say to yourselves, 'I'm so healthy, so well groomed and so poised that from now on I can do anything.'"

A few of her students seemed not to hear the wondrous words to success; Mrs. Coips was staring beyond the speaker, perhaps seeing the face of the woman downstairs. Lucilla was thinking of Arthur.

"To start the program, one of our most successful cases, Miss Green, will give you a brief demonstration of how our students learn to carry themselves."

Paris carried herself safely, even regally, across the platform. Nobody, seeing her, would have guessed she'd been the recent recipient of a black eye.

"And now Miss Green will say..." At this point Miss Dottle nudged her employer, to indicate Miss Green was not one of the talking models. Miss Meadows shifted suavely: "Please accept this diploma with my personal congratulations."

DARIS took the beribboned object and grinned toward the far wall. As she went back up the aisle, she leaned over and motioned to Lucilla, then pointed a thumb across the room. Lucilla thought Paris must be pointing out Harry, and pretended obligingly to look in that direction.

"Next, Miss Cleary," Miss Meadows said. While she was speaking, the lights in the Hall of Mirrors went out; the motion-picture screen flickered into action. Lucilla, squinting at the screen, could just make out the rump-sprung outline of Mrs. Cleary's Before. When the lights came on, the black-velvet shower curtains at the opposite end of the platform were being drawn apart by Miss Dottle, to disclose Miss Willitt ducking out the back, after having arranged the exhibit: Mrs. Cleary stood in the flesh, while a soft pink spotlight shone on her.

Mrs. Coips came next. "And this student receives a special prize for Devotion to Diet," Miss Meadows announced. "A handsome crystal flask of our own Fountain of Youth, astringent." As she presented this token of esteem, there was a burst of clapping that sounded like a claque. That must be Harry, Lucilla thought, beating her own hands together until the palms stung. Paris must have told him about Mr. Coips. The rest of the audience joined enthusiastically.

ally fit the occasion, until the mirrors vibrated with sound. Mrs. Varsney was cited for having lost the most pounds. "Does my mind if I say something?" she asked Miss Meadows, as she clutched her diploma. While Miss Meadows looked uncertainly, the big woman said, with a touching kind of directness, "I just wanted to say I used to be so ashamed of my figure I didn't care whether I lived or died, and I sat home alone most of the time. But now—well, everything's different, and my husband is proud to take me out again—and—and I'm so happy I just had to tell you."

The audience, sensing an unelicited testimonial of purest hue, responded warmly. Miss Meadows was at her gracious best as she dismissed Mrs. Varsney, who had apparently frozen to the platform. "Now last—and last in poundage only—our attractive Bony, Mrs. Webb! She will demonstrate the way the Hollywood stars and Beautiful-You graduates descend a staircase."

Lucilla wasn't conscious of any feelings in her legs—they might have been stilts—as they carried her to the center of the platform and up the nine steps. She was on the top one when she heard the clear little voice that rose like a bird cry: "Daddy, look, it's Bony!"

Lucilla's eyes didn't actually pick out Hoopy and Arthur in the front row, her heart recognized them in one violent beat. She stood on the top step, smiling at them tremulously and unbelievably.

"Start down now," Miss Willitt hissed, from behind the draperies. Lucilla obeyed mechanically, but she was too giddy with happiness to have any notion of where or how she moved. Halfway down she skidded, missed a step altogether, reached out desperately to save herself, and landed like a dog on her hands and knees. There was a concerted gasp from the audience; Miss Dottle was stupefied with horror. Miss Meadows' mouth sagged open; perhaps she was thinking no Hollywood star had ever descended so low.

President's Censorship Order OK'D

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Secretary of Commerce today defended President Truman's recent order on security information and said some protests against it are "emotional outbursts about censorship."

Sawyer said the United States is waging "a hot war and a very real war" and too military information is getting out. "Our object," he said, should be not only the utmost freedom consistent with safety but the utmost safety consistent with freedom."

Draft Postponed For Reserves Enlisting After Feb. 1, 1951

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Selective Service has ordered draft boards to postpone induction of certain reservists who enlisted in the reserves after Feb. 1, 1951.

The move is to keep reserve units at their present strength. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, mailed the orders to boards last Friday to halt induction of members of the organized reserve who enlisted in a reserve component between Feb. 1, 1951 and July, providing they enlisted before taking the armed forces pre-induction physical examination given all potential selective service inductees.

The law also must be attending regularly scheduled drills, and meeting other requirements.

Under the new policy, local boards will postpone the induction of these registrants for whichever of the following periods is the shortest:

1. The remaining period of his current reserve unit enlistment or appointment.

2. For one year.

3. Until he attains the age of 25 years and nine months.

Hershey said if a registrant's unit has been specifically ordered to report for active federal service on a fixed date—or if the individual has been alerted—his local board will allow him to remain if his unit has been alerted. Hershey said.

1. The remaining period of his current reserve unit enlistment or appointment.

2. For one year.

3. Until he attains the age of 25 years and nine months.

The registrants affected by the new policy will be recent enlistees in the federally recognized National Guard or Air National Guard, and those who are members of an organized unit of the regular Army reserve, the Air Force reserve, the Coast Guard reserve, or the Public Health Service reserve.
