Mr. Chambers' body was found cremated in his three-room home about 7:15 p.m. Cause of the blaze was not determined today but some observers believe an oil stove may have exploded. Further investigation was being conducted this morning. (News Photo)

McLean Resident Burned To Death

An elderly McLean resident was burned to death last night when his three-room cabin went up in flames. Dead is C. B. (Charles) Chambers, 71-year-old caretaker of Sand Spur lake, five miles east and two miles south of McLean. Firemen found his body cremated near what had been the south wall of his cabin.

Accidental death was ruled today from a special investigation carried out by McLean authorities this morning. The group began the probe about 9 a.m. at the scene of the death. The blaze was discovered by two school bus drivers, Don Young and Bruce Smith. They saw the flames from the road about 7:15 p.m. They found the cabin roof had already fallen in on Chambers.

Fee Set For Showmen In Beef Sale

Breeders who have not shown cattle here before and have not contributed toward the building of a new hereford breeding building at Recreation park will be required to pay an extra 10 percent fee on the sale price of cattle, directors of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Assn. voted yesterday. The action took place yesterday at a noon meeting in the Schneider hotel. Except from the action are sons and daughters of those who previously have contributed to the fund. Money will go into a permanent fund for a breeders building.

A motion was carried to limit breeders to three entries for the show and sale, Feb. 4-5. Entries yesterday totaled 88. A previous limit of 70 head of cattle had been voted by the directors. A new wash rack for cattle at Recreation park will be completed in time for the show at a cost of $1389. Amount quoted will not include a foundation, Frank Carter, member of the wash rack committee, said.

Francis Hill, manager of Honey Creek Ranch, Grove, Okla., will judge animals for the 1952 show. He will be assisted by L. M. Hargrave, Lubbock, Col. Walter Britten will cry the sale. Carter said he would cook the beef for the annual barbecue, part of the activities during the show. Directors decided to charge $2 per person for the event.

There trophies will be awarded at a banquet Feb. 5, and paid for from sale expenses. They will go to owners of the grand champion bull, female and best pair of animals.

Eisenhower, Churchill Talk European Army Over Lunch

SUPREME HDQS. ALLIED POWERS IN EUROPE — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was host at luncheon today to British Prime Minister Churchill and a mid-level French official. The French official tried to sell him on the idea of supporting a unified European army. Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden heard strong arguments for the same cause from French leaders yesterday. A mid-level French official sources reported, however, Churchill was willing to enter a diluted European army plan modeled on the wartime coalition of forces, although he would not pool British troops in the army proposed by French Premier Rene Pleven — one source

Reds Turn Over Names Of Prisoners Of War

List Not Verified; Changes Possible

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — The Communists turned over to the United Nations today a list of 11,559 prisoners, including 3,298 Americans. They said the list includes all prisoners of the Korean war in their hands, the UN gave the Reds a list of 132,474 Chinese and North Korean prisoners.

Air Force Lets New A-Power Contract

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Air Force, pushing for early development of an atomic-powered airplane, has awarded a new contract for work on a nuclear engine to Pratt Whitney Aircraft at East Hartford, Conn. In effect, the Air Force appeared to be putting some of its eggs in a second basket.

Another Means — An Air Force spokesman said he did not know whether the Air Force was taking an indication that the General Electric company is not making progress. Rather, he said, a search is being made for more than one way to develop the engine.

The Air Force and the AEC, working with industry on the project, have been close-mouthed about details. But scientists have predicted unofficially that an atomic-power plan might have a range limited only by human endurance and speeds that can only be guessed at.

Last Sept. 5, the Air Force announced it had contracted with Consolidated Vultee Corp. for construction of what engineers call an air-frame — the shell of a plane without engines or instruments — for a nuclear powered plane. This was regarded as an indication of reasonable confidence such a plane can be produced.

Yesterday's announcement gave few new details. The Air Force recalled in a statement that Pratt and Whitney's parent, the United Aircraft Corp., "was one of a group of firms that participated in the postwar studies of nuclear energy for propulsion of aircraft." Those studies were sponsored by the Air Force and the AEC.

Three Escape Injury In Auto Crash

Three people escaped serious injury this morning when a car overturned after it had collided with another car. The accident happened at 8:35 a. m. at Henry and Campbell. Involved were Mrs. Nell Hyatt Turpen, 625 Brunow, a son, Tom, 17, daughter, Frankie, and Luther C. Gee, Pampa.

Patrolman Joe Wilkinson said the car which Gee was driving was going east on Campbell. Wilkinson said Gee ran a stop sign and collided with the other vehicle, going north on Henry, turning the latter over in the air and landing on its top. Mrs. Turpen and her children were taken to Worley hospital where hospital authorities said the woman had suffered a fractured right arm. The two children were treated for shock and released.

Chinese Reds Arrest Bishop

HONG KONG — (AP) — Another American bishop has been arrested by Chinese Reds. A spokesman for the Hong Kong Catholic mission identified him as Bishop Philip Cote, Lawrence, Mass. The spokesman said eight Canadian Jesuit priests in Cote's mission at Suichow had been placed under house arrest. At the same time, the spokesman added, Catholic missions on the Communist mainland have been instructed not to pay extortion money to the Reds.

Commissioners Table Request For Change In 'Butane Route'

City Commission this morning tabled for further study a request by Fort Worth and Denver railroad to change the butane trucking route through Pampa. The railroad asked that the ordinance be changed, or permitted to allow butane trucks to load out from the railroad loading platform. City Manager Dick Pepp said railroad officials told him they want to load out butane for points south. Several gasoline companies, Pepp said, have an excess supply of butane at the present time and there is a market for it in South Texas if it can be transported from Pampa.

B-29 Bomber Crashes Near Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — A B-29 Superfortress bomber, gliding in for a landing, smashed through a one-story residence and crashed late last night, killing four of its 13 crew members. Eight airmen were injured, three seriously, and another is missing, Barksdale Air Force base officials said. Witnesses said the crippled craft dipped crazily to the ground, broke off an engine, then skidded 200 yards across U. S. Highway 80 and burst into fire.

Iran Elections Begin Today

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP) — National elections began today in Iran amid high political tensions that have touched off repeated bloody riots and death threats in recent weeks. Voting is for the 136 seats in the Majlis (Lower House of Parliament). They select a Premier. Mossadegh himself is not an election candidate, and under the constitution, could not be Premier or hold other office if he were a member of the Majlis.

Military Flyers Working In Altitudes Of Night And Day

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Our military flyers are entering altitudes where day and night exist side by side simultaneously where you cannot see well inside your cabin in broad daylight unless your lights are on.

Our manned rockets are reaching for a still more astonishing place—where the thing you see out in front of you may be actually behind you.

The U. S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine here at Randolph field is studying these problems, because some of them already are of practical importance. The studies are directed by Paul A. Ciba, M. D., research fellow in the department of ophthalmology.

Where there is no air there is no such thing as the daylight we know. Our atmosphere reflects the sunlight and diffuses it so that daylight comes at us from every direction.

When planes fly very high, the patches of light made by sunshine through cabin windows appear excessively bright. They have a glare almost annoying to the eyes. All other parts of the cabin are shrouded in nighttime darkness, except where the glare reflects like a searchlight beam. There is not enough air in the small space of a cabin to diffuse the sunlight.

The remedy is either the cabin lights, or glass or plastic windows that diffuse the sunlight as it enters.

High altitude flyers have reported that even small objects seen in sunlight are annoyingly bright to their eyes.

Another discovery by flyers is the up-down treatment for improving seeing. This happens when planes are flying in dim light, with the horizon just visible far ahead and below. After a while the pilot can no longer see the horizon. He then flips his plane upside-down, and can see it again. After an upside-down flight the pilot once more can see the horizon from rightside up.

Laboratory experiments found the explanation. The dim horizon is seen by the nerves around the outside of the retina, the curtain in the back of the eye. The horizon is below the plane, so it is seen by the upper part of the retina. After long looking, this part of the retina loses its ability to see well. By turning upside down the pilot receives the horizon light on the fresh lower part of the retina. The upper retina gets a rest and then can see again.

Our fastest planes are exceeding the speed of the eye. It takes eyes about a tenth of a second to see. This is the time for the chemicals to act in the retina and send for the sight impulses to travel along the nerves to the brain.

This delay in seeing is becoming important for present flyers, and will cause risks when we go still faster. Dr. Ciba says that at 2200 miles an hour the pilot will travel about 300 feet during one-tenth of a second.

If an object that he is going to pass close by comes into view at 100 feet ahead, it will be 100 feet behind before he sees it at all. And it will still look as if it is ahead.

If he flies through a cloud nearly 300 feet thick, he will be outside the cloud before he can see that he is in it—that is, has been inside.

For dim objects the delay is longer, and the delay distracts at 2200 miles an hour are 600 to 900 feet. Already we appear to be more than half way to that speed in diving our manned rocket ships.

Present jets and bombers are giving our men occasional thrills of the frightening sort that result from their physical condition. For military flying, it is important to detect these jet-lags.

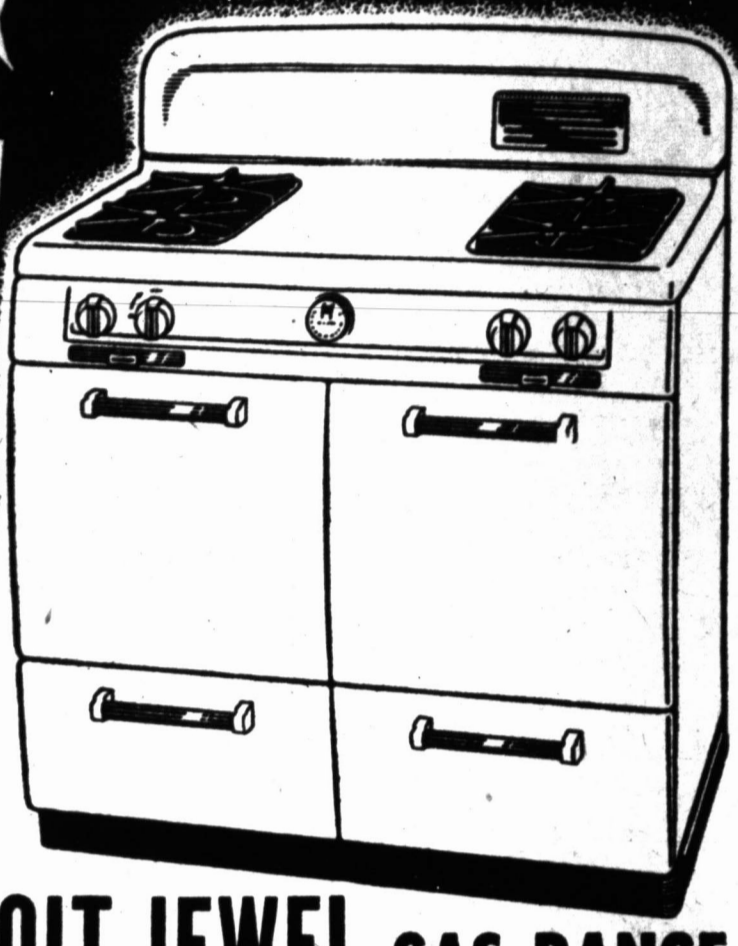

The school of aviation medicine has a test watch does exactly this.

Meathenia, Alcock and Dwight; Arthur Meathenia, Kingsmill and Ward and George Meathenia, Jr., Altus, Okla., Jack and Kenneth Meathenia and Mrs. Claude Tarbet, all of Shamrock.
Efforts by the local VFW and by the American Red Cross in Korea to find Meathenia were fruitless. The Red Cross was denied any information concerning Meathenia by the Communists. Mrs. Shaub said.
FPC Meathenia was born in Ceney community in Wheeler county and attended school in McLean. He moved to Shamrock with his parents in 1941.
He entered military service March 3, 1942, and trained at Fort Lewis, Wash.
He volunteered for service again and was sent to Camp Chaffee, Ark., Jan. 22, 1961. He was sent to Japan for Far East duty last February from Camp Stoneman, Calif.
He was a member of the Missionary Baptist church in Shamrock and of the VFW in Pampa. His body is now being sent to the United States according to a telegram from the Department of Defense. Relatives expect it to arrive shortly after Christmas.
Mrs. Shaub said she thought military services will be held in FPC Meathenia lived in Pampa 1950. He worked for Columbian about a year, coming here in Carbon Co.

county, Ariz., from there to Wywoka, Okla., about 1900. He moved to McLean from Hobart, Okla., in December, 1929. He had been at the lake since April, 1929.
In addition to Campbell Mr. Chambers is survived by a brother, Bob, who lives near Iowa Park, Texas; a half-brother, M. F. Haning of Wywoka and a son, George, whereabouts unknown.
McLean residents said Chambers had been in town about 7 p.m. and was seen again at Leant, about 6 p. m. This apparent Five-Mile station, east of McLean was the last time he was seen alive.
McLean officers said they suspected no foul play in the death but firemen said a leaf from a car spring was found lying across the dead man's neck.
Firemen could give no cause for the blaze. Chambers had electricity for lights and used kerosene for cooking and heating. A large kerosene stove was in the opposite side of the house from where the charred body was found.
Observers said it was possible the stove had exploded, enveloped the room in flames and cut off any escape Chambers might have from the house. The only door out of the cabin was from the room in which the stove was located.
His brother said Chambers had been in ill health for several years and had complained of heart trouble.
Funeral arrangements are being handled by the family. The body is in Claborn Funeral pending notification of survivors. Home at McLean. Burial is expected to be held in the family plot in Wywoka.

Wildcats Topple St. John's; Wisconsin Upends St. Louis

LEXINGTON — (AP) — You wouldn't expect it to happen to the nation's No. 1 basketball club but a stinging 81-40 defeat embarrassed St. John's today as it stepped out in front in the collegiate basketball race. Second place Kentucky hit for 44 percent of perfection and threw a tight ring around both backboards to rout the cold, bewildered Brooklyn Redmen here last night. St. John's found it had nothing to cope with the distance shooting of little Bob Watson and the deft under-the-boards work of Cliff Hazen and was out of the running before the first quarter ended. The country's sports writers and broadcasters who vote in the Associated Press poll elevated St. John's into first place over the week end ahead of Kentucky, up club but a stinging 81-40 defeat embarrassed St. John's today as it stepped out in front in the collegiate basketball race.

Harvesters Face Blackhaws Tonight

Guerillas Battle Preliminary At 7

The Pampa Harvesters go after their fifth victory of the year tonight at 7 o'clock when they go up against the ever-potent Blackhaws coached by Joe Hayes. The Hawks boast a record of five wins against two losses, and the championship of the McLean Invitational basketball tournament. Victories posted by the Hawks were over Cland and McLean, and then over White Deer, Panhandle and Canadian in the tournament, since then they have dropped their two decisions, 51-47 to Canyon and 60-43 to Amarillo.

Last season the Harvesters clipped the Hawks twice, but both times found their hands full. And again this year it could well be the same story. The Hawks have a well-balanced ball club that averages over six feet in height. The starting lineup tonight is expected to be like this — guards, Bobby Wells (6-1) and Dwayne Coggin (6-0); center Buddy Gray (6-3); and forwards Billy McDonald (6-2) and Tedd Reddick (5-11). Gray is the only returning regular from last season's team, although Wells and Coggin are lettermen. Gray was picked on the all-tournament team at McLean and was also the leading scorer of the tourney.

Last season the Hawks captured the 1-A cage crown. The Harvester starting lineup will again be the four seniors and one sophomore. Tommy Smith and Jimmy Dulaney will start at the guards; Dwayne Jeter a center; and Marvin Bond at the forwards.

PRELIMINARY GAME

Harvesters hold two wins over Stratford, and on each over Dumas and Childress. In the four games their offense has been blessed with speed and sharpshooting that has resulted in an average of 61 points per game. Smith and Jeter are currently sharing the scoring lead. A preliminary game will get underway at 6:30 o'clock with the Guerillas, consolation champions of the Shamrock tournament, meeting the Phillips B team. The likely starters for the Guerillas are Don Fagan and Ed Dudley at the guards; Doug Randolph at center; and Gale Trolinger and Ray Cooper at forwards. The Guerillas have won three and lost three thus far. The Harvesters game will be broadcast direct from the beautiful and spacious new school gymnasium, starting at 8 o'clock.

St. John's Of Brooklyn Rated No. 1 Team In Nation, But Loses To Kentucky, No. 2

NEW YORK — (AP) — St. John's University of Brooklyn was rated the No. 1 college basketball team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll, but you can't convince the University of Kentucky. The voting of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters were cast over the weekend. The weekly poll closed Monday afternoon, several hours before Kentucky and St. John's met at Lexington, Ky. The Kentucky Wildcats trounced the Redmen, 81 to 40. On hundred and three ballots were received and St. John's got 36 first place votes to only 15 for Kentucky, which was ranked No. 1 a week ago. St. John's, which had won five straight games up until the Kentucky games, was No. 2 last week. This time, the Redmen received a total of 837 points, while Kentucky got 687. The voting obviously was influenced by Kentucky's upset defeat at the hands of Minnesota last week, 61-57. St. John's had thumped Rhode Island State Saturday night, 82-62. Illinois, a favorite for the Big Ten crown, St. Louis University and Kansas State remained the No. 3, 4 and 5 teams in that order — same as last week. Kansas State was bounced out of the undefeated class last week by San Francisco, 55-52. Last night, Kansas State trounced Hamline, 92-75.

St. Louis, another undefeated team when the voting closed, was beaten last night by Wisconsin, 55-64.

There were a few other switches in the top 10, but the only one to drop out was La Salle, which slidded from ninth place a week ago to 12th. Indiana, eleventh last week, moved up to the No. 6 place, on the strength of a thrilling 57-55 triumph over Wyoming.

Kansas, a 58-57 winner over Southern Methodist, moved up from No. 8 to No. 7. The University of Washington Huskies, which won a pair from California last week, 60-52 and 65-43, but dropped from No. 6 to No. 8, North Carolina State, defeated by Texas Tech earlier in the week, 63-62, won over Eastern Kentucky Saturday, 70-58, and moved up a notch to No. 9.

Seton Hall, No. 7 last Saturday, won over Iona (N. Y.) Saturday, 70-60, but dropped to the No. 10 spot this week.

- The top 10, with first place votes in parentheses: POINTS 1. St. John's (36) 837 2. Kentucky (15) 687 3. Illinois (12) 603 4. St. Louis (13) 471 5. Kansas State (3) 408 6. Indiana (5) 398 7. Kansas (15) 324 8. Washington (4) 307 9. North Carolina State 239 10. Seton Hall 228

Footfault Cry May Cause Downfall Of Aussie Cupper

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — It looked today as though agitation by Harry Hoptman over Vic Seixas' footfaulting might prove one of the finest boomerangs ever manufactured in Australia. It might cost the Aussies the Davis Cup in next week's challenge round. Hoptman, who's now full time captain of the Australian team, raised such a ruckus over Vic's allegedly faulty delivery that Frank Shields, leader of the American forces, decided to do something about it. For the past two days he has had the Philadelphia standing a full foot behind the baseline in practice matches at White City. To his intense pleasure he discovered that Vic's first service is much more effective when given this additional leeway. "Every since we got out here I've been trying to get Vic to use a medium fast service and make sure of getting it in," Shields explained. "His second serve was too short to use against a player like Frank Sedgman. The trouble was too many of his medium services were going just over the line. Now with this extra foot distance they're going in beautifully — just clipping the corners. Vic's as happy about the discovery as I am."

Though he was left out of the inter-zone final against Sweden with his own consent, Seixas still is in very strong contention for a singles job against the Australians. Since the veteran Ted Schroeder is virtually assured one singles berth it's up to Seixas to convince Shields in the next seven days that he's a better bet than young Tony Trabert for the other assignment.

Home Town Boys Make Tech Potent

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Texas Tech's Red Raiders, responsible for the biggest upset of the young basketball season, are a home grown outfit. Three of the starters in Tech's 65-62 victory over highly ranked North Carolina State in Raleigh played for Lubbock High school. A fourth played at neighboring Sudan, and the fifth came from Alvarado, in central Texas. In fact, only one member of Polk-Robinson's traveling squad played out of state in high school — reserve center Irl Brown, who went to Katonah, N. Y. High school but who moved to Amarillo with his parents a few years ago. The Raider captain, Guard Jack Alderson, who sank 24 points against the Wolfpack, and both forwards, Verdell Turner and Virgil Johnson — all live in Lubbock. Tech's showpiece center, 6-foot-1 Paul Nolan, who lapped in the winning basket with 27 seconds remaining, is from Alvarado, and alternate Captain Jim Eddins, a guard, played at Sudan. Also on the tour are Lou Martin of Dimmit, Bob Boudin of Sudan, Jimmie Sexton of Lubbock, Richard Hill of Forrester, and Brown.

'The Song Of Christmas'

The history of "O Come All Ye Faithful" is obscure, but then the actual origin of caroling itself is unknown. French historians say that Bishop Telesphorus of Rome began the custom of celebrating Christmas with songs about 129 A. D.

"O Come All Ye Faithful" is believed to be one of the old Latin carols that were danced as well as sung. We know that many carols were danced. This kept them from being approved by the church for centuries. The word "carol" comes from the Latin "carolare," a medieval ring dance accompanied by singing.

The music of "O Come All Ye Faithful" first appeared in print in 1751. Some credit it to John Reading, an English composer. Others say it was an old folk song that Reading merely arranged.

Human Body Will Not Explode In High Altitude Or Space

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Your body will never explode in high altitudes or even out in empty space. This is a surprising statement if you read some physiology books which say a human can explode.

This explosion is supposed to occur if the room where you are is suddenly emptied of air. The air pressure of fourteen-and-a-half pounds per square inch is gone, but every particle of your body is still filled with tremendous internal pressure, trying to get out.

The loss of air pressure can happen in a pressurized airplane cabin, when the cover is ripped by an accident. Civilians are not yet flying at the supposed human explosion altitudes, but military flyers are.

I saw a scientist take this explosive decompression in a vacuum chamber here at the U. S. Airforce School of Aviation Medicine. And I saw an accident.

Important As Korea

IOWA CITY, Ia. — (AP) — President Virgil M. Hancher of the University of Iowa today deplored the "furore" over college athletics, asserting there were "too many demands for coaches to resign, for universities to breach their contracts."

"You'd think intercollegiate football is as important as Korea from the way some people carry on," Hancher declared in an interview.

happen to him in this experiment, and the accident illustrates the real danger when air is gone.

The scientist is Dr. Ulrich G. Luft, physician and physiologist, who in the thirties was a famous mountain climber. He is one of the first men to subject himself to explosive decompression and prove that the old books are wrong.

Luft is a German, with a Scottish mother.

For the experiment, Luft sat in a high-backed chair, inside a one-man vacuum chamber, with porthole windows through which his assistants could look at him. Alongside was a vacuum chamber nearly the size of a locomotive. The big tank was empty of air. This meant it possible to open a valve and let the air out of the little chamber, in a single hissing second.

Luft sat at ease, wearing an oxygen mask, and in street clothes. He had swallowed a small rubber balloon, with a fine wire attached, connecting with a recorder outside the tank. The recorder was to show the actions of his air-filled stomach at the moment of explosion.

The tank was closed and the air was let out until Luft was at pressure equivalent to an altitude of 24,000 feet.

His chief assistant, talking to him through a two-way microphone, said:

"Two minutes to go — one minute — ten seconds."

At ten Luft reached out and turned a valve to let more oxygen into his mask. He had been breathing pure oxygen.

Where he was about to go, there is not enough outside pressure to diffuse the oxygen into the blood in the lungs. The oxygen has to be pressurized.

FBI Keeps Eye On Two Types Of Men Violating Draft

The Federal Bureau of Investigation may enter the affairs of the local draft board because of two types of draft violations of the local board.

These are draft delinquents and youths who falsify their age in order to enter the service.

Eight men are being sought by the local board. These are: Charles Emmitt Shaffer, Wheeler; Leon Jasper Shields, Wichita Falls; Delmer Lee Thomas, Monticello; Leon Joseph Williams, Pampa; Cecil Ray Short, Clarendon; Manuel Fuentes, Jr., Allison; John B. Lewis, Pampa and Herman Sullivan, Twitty.

These men, if they do not report to the local board within a week, will be ordered for induction. If they fail to report for induction, their cases will be turned over to the FBI. When found, they will be inducted without any consideration of status or disqualifications.

Another group the FBI is watching is that falsifying their birth dates so they may be classified by the draft board. Local board clerks say the youths then enlist in some branch of the armed forces before they qualify by using the draft card to show they are of age.

five - four - three - two - one, it the pressure might have damaged lung tissues. His face and hands flushed.

He nodded to the assistant who set the vacuum to remain at 48,000 feet. While the instruments and the stomach balloon made records, Luft's shoulders heaved with every breath.

After nearly three minutes a watching assistant exclaimed: "Something's gone wrong."

Luft's hands had dropped from the mask, but his eyes were open.

The chief assistant spoke to Luft over the mike, and got no answer. Then Luft's head dropped back against the chair and his eyes closed.

The chief assistant turned a valve and let the air in with another great hiss. After a second or two Luft's eyes opened, he sat erect. Then he jerked one hand out, thumb pointing straight up.

He wanted up — and fast. The assistant knew why. He had dropped Luft to 24,000 feet, and the pressure there was painful on his ears. Instantly Luft was shot — via air exhaust — to 22,000 feet. There his ears eased and he was lowered slowly to sea level pressure.

"What happened?" Everyone he was becoming unconscious, until after he revived.

This was unconsciousness due to lack of oxygen, even with the mask of pure oxygen. The fine wire leading out from the stomach balloon had caused a leak, enough to reduce the oxygen pressure. Luft was suffocating without knowing it.

This is the real danger of explosive decompression. Beginning at 55,000 feet, a man can remain conscious (without pressurized oxygen) only about 13 seconds.

The safeguard is masks auto-

Father Of 13 Admits Shooting State Biologist

PALESTINE — (AP) — A father of 13 children admitted Sunday that he shot a state biologist to death when caught with two ducks killed on a game refuge.

The meek-looking little Negro, Alton Paris, 59, said in a statement to Sheriff Roy Herrington that he blasted Gus Engeling, 33, in the face with a shotgun charge last Thursday.

Engeling had caught Paris shooting ducks on the state's 9,000 acre refuge 20 miles north of this East Texas city. His body was found yesterday in a marsh where the Negro says he hid while searchers hunted nearby.

Paris tried to grab Herrington's pistol from his holster as the sheriff took a stenographer and witnesses into his cell yesterday.

terday. The Negro bit a chunk from the finger of Joe Caldwell, Palestine Herald press reporter, who helped subdue him. The Negro told the sheriff Engeling caught him with the ducks and picked them up. The Negro related he started running but Engeling cut him off as he tried to escape through marshy land. It was then he said he shot the biologist.

"I just whirled my gun around back and fired the gun and he threw my ducks up in the air and fell," he told his questioners.

Questions and Answers

about Newspaper Advertising

Q. Do you know of any measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards that a business man uses in buying merchandise?

A. Yes. In the well-known standards that have been approved and adopted by advertisers—namely A.B.C. standards.

Q. What is A. B. C.?

A. A.B.C. stands for Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative association of 3300 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada.

Q. What is the Bureau's work?

A. To audit the circulation of newspapers and periodicals so that advertisers can buy space on the basis of definite standards and verified facts and figures.

Q. How does A. B. C. accomplish this?

A. The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors. They visit the publisher members periodically and make audits of their circulation records. This information is then published in A.B.C. reports for the use and protection of advertisers.

Q. What do these reports show?

A. A.B.C. reports tell how much circulation a newspaper has, where this circulation is, how it was obtained, how much people paid for it, and many other verified facts that advertisers should know when they buy advertising.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A. B. C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is the best proof of interest and purchasing power on the part of the readers.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation and we want our advertisers to know just what they get for their money when they advertise in our columns. The audited information in our A.B.C. report gives them the complete facts.

Alhambra Club Women Hear Stories Of Christmas Celebration In Other Lands

By CLEO TOM TERRY
A series of talks on how Christmas is celebrated in other lands were given at a recent meeting of the Alhambra club which met in the home of Mrs. Joe Bill Thompson. The following discussions were given: Mrs. C. W. Wheeler, England; Mrs. Hal Brown, Holland; Mrs. Buel Gray, Norway; Mrs. Coy Stevenson, Italy; Mrs. R. L. Harlan, Mexico, and Mrs. C. R. Terry, Russia.

"The beginning of many Christmas customs is lost in antiquity," Mrs. Thompson told Alhambra club members, "but we know that the first gifts were given the Christ Child by the wise men."

"The origin of the stocking hung by the chimney dates from the times when daughters whose fathers had no dowry for them and could not marry them off were forced to see them auctioned-off into slavery," Mrs. Thompson said.

"With the advent of the American GI," she said, "France adopted many American customs, including a tree on Christmas Eve. But the traditions of the country kept Christmas Eve for children, and only the children received gifts on Christmas Eve. It was on New Year that French families visit their one another and on New Year that the adults received gifts."

"In Mexico," Mrs. R. L. Harlan said, "Christmas festivities begin December 16, and nine nights of festivities follow. The decorations are put on the 16th, the altars decorated, and it is then the candle-lighted march, the 'posada' or 'rest on the journey' is enacted.

"The pilgrims, some 'angels' carrying candles, journey to the houses of the towns and ask for rest on their journey saying they are weary. The angry voice tells them the inn is full. Another voice bids them enter the stable. Once inside all proceed to the altar in whatever home they happen to be, and look at Mary and Joseph and the donkey. On the ninth night there is another figure on the altar — that of the Nino Jesus."

"In England," Mrs. C. W. Wheeler said, "Christmas was a time when 'love thy neighbor,' a time when 'Judy O'Grady and the colonel's lady' really were sisters, even though at other times they might be as far apart as the stars. England was the place where the traditional Yule log originated. In England everyone goes to church on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day is a day for home."

"On Christmas Eve the church services start at eleven p. m. These services and song services end at midnight with the singing of 'Oh, Come Let Us Adore Him,' the taking of communion, and the ringing of Christmas bells in every church. It was in England that the 'waits' originated, too. Young people in wagons, each wagon equipped with an organ, drove around the farms and villages, singing carols, and after the singing was over they were invited into each home to be served."

Presbyterians Will Present Play Wednesday Night

A play, "In Thy Dark Streets Shined," by Harold L. Bowman, will be presented in the First Presbyterian church Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The traditional Christmas story, from the point of view of the inn keeper's family, will be the theme.

The cast includes Mrs. Max Hukill, Mrs. D. B. Jameson, Miss Evelyn Clayton, Mrs. Howard Weaver, Miss Edith Kral, Jimmy Orr, Richard Prigmore, Bob Norton, Kenneth Chalmers, Jimmy Lamb, Warren Fathere, Walter Colwell and Max Hukill.

Beta Sigma Phi Social Held In City Club Room

About 40 members were present for the annual Christmas social of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held Monday night in the City Club room.

Mrs. R. L. Edmondson and Mrs. Martin Stubbe were in charge of the program and recreation. Hostesses were Mrs. Betty Block and Mrs. Mary Cameron.

Mrs. Joyce Moore, formerly of Plainview, was introduced to club members. Her membership is being transferred to the local chapter.

Following the recreation hour and exchange of gifts, a refreshment table was served. The table was laid in a green cloth with a Christmas centerpiece. Miss Joyce Wanner presided at the silver coffee service.

Others attending were Mmes. S. L. Chittenden, David Tubbs, L. Heiskell, Ralph McKinney, John Plaster, Leonard Hall, Roy McKee, E. D. Young, J. F. Campbell, Willis Price, Jr., Kenneth Young, Bailey Salmon, Bill Bridges, Fred Meyers, Quick, Phelps, Lewis Sills, Bob Gresham, B. M. McMullin, Joe Fischer, Don L. Taylor, Norman Fuips, Travis Lively, Jr., Todd Cone, Ken Reeves and Jim Poole.

Man Tries To Save Train But Loses Life

L'ANSE, Mich. — (AP) — Death was the price Brakeman John Chapman had to pay for his heroic but futile effort to keep runaway train from piling up on an icy northern Michigan track.

Chapman, 45, died Sunday of the injuries he suffered in the Friday night wreck near this Lake Superior city. The crash also killed fireman James B. Bennett, 40, and injured two other crewmen.

The train, carrying a cargo of copper, logs and scrap metal, ran into trouble while climbing a steep grade between here and Marquette, Mich., in a blizzard. The engine and 22 cars started to skid on icy tracks, and the brakes were useless because of a frozen airline. So Chapman and a companion climbed to the top of the bounding line of cars and tried in vain to apply the hand brakes. The train's momentum was too much for them. The locomotive overturned at the curve and plowed eight feet into the ground.

Chapman's companion, Joseph

"AT HOME" — These Brownies from Troop 39 and their leader, Mrs. Johnny Spinks, put the finishing touches on wooden trays the eight-year-old girls have been making in their new Scout meeting place on the corner of Finley and Scott. The building is the property of the Pampa Rotary club, and was contributed to the troop this fall. Six Brownies attended the last Rotary luncheon meeting and invited the group to attend an open house which was held Sunday in the remodeled house. The troop held its annual Christmas party Saturday at which time the wooden trays were presented to the girls' mothers. Pictured left to right above are Donna Forsha, Geraldine Marlar, Mrs. Spinks, and Sue Allen. (News Photo)

Girl Scout Troop 39 Holds Open House For Rotarians

When a group of Baker grade school girls organized a Girl Scout troop in January, 1950, they were few in number, lacked an adequate meeting place and, in general, were not a too promising group. Now, not quite two years later, the troop is one of the largest of Pampa's troops, has a bright and shiny club house, and is truly one of the outstanding groups.

The troop's newly decorated club house on the corner of Finley and Scott belongs to the Pampa Rotary club, and was an abandoned one-room frame structure until the Rotarians gave troop 39 permission to meet there this fall. The building has not been in use in the last two years, and was in need of repairs, so the Brownies, seven and eight years of age, rolled up their sleeves, gave the building a thorough cleaning, and interested their parents in redecorating the house.

Sunday, local Rotarians got a look at the new home of Troop 39. Three walls of the house are painted green, and the wall at the south end of the room is papered in colorful plaid. Woodwork is a lighter shade of green, and the windows are covered with unbleached domestic curtains.

Mrs. Johnny Spinks, troop leader made the curtains and the Brownies painted the designs. Work tables and long benches with storage space underneath are also in green, and tall bookcases at one end of the room are painted red. An old polished stove (found in the house) was painted red and planted with ivy. The bookcases are filled with figurines the Brownies have painted, and elsewhere the interest of others is evidenced — the floors waxed and polished — an Indian head plaque made by a father — an aluminum tray donated by a mother — in short, it's a place many helping hands have built.

Mrs. Spinks explained that materials and supplies for redecorating the house cost $47.73 — about a third what the cost

Jeanne Willingham Plans Student Socials

Some of the dance studio students will appear on the program. Mrs. Willingham said, and special color and sound movies will be shown of various dances.

Drake, and Engineer John Brogan are expected to recover from the injuries they suffered. The brakeman died in the St. Joseph Medical center in Hancock.

THE STORY: Alma Conroy believes her husband Tommy when she has a new responsibility, but she is not so sure when she is asked to be a mother. She is a jewel in the rough, and she is not so sure when she is asked to be a mother. She is a jewel in the rough, and she is not so sure when she is asked to be a mother.

"What?"
"He's had an important promotion. But I mean important! It's a confidential matter, Joe. He won't tell the details even to me."
"Then it isn't the photography spot?"
"No. Apparently it's something much better. But he'll still be with us at the House except when he's away on trips, like tonight. Isn't it wonderful?"
"Wonderful? It's positively uncanny!"
"I knew you'd be pleased. That's why I told you, even though please remember that it's a secret for the moment. I'm so happy and proud I'm ready to burst!"
"Dear Alma, you must be," said Joe softly, "after all these years of standing up for him."
"I knew it would come," she said simply, and was not ashamed that there were tears of happiness in her eyes.

VII
JOE DENTON motioned toward the door as he spoke to Alma Conroy. "I just took mother home and came rushing back to see if you'd like to have dinner?"
"You're taking the very food of my stove!" Alma declared. "I'd love it."
"Come on then, let's go! We'll stop at the Blue Cat Bar for a drink first."
"Gee! I'm afraid I don't look swanky enough!"
"What! With those gorgeous new furs? Who's keeping you these days, Jewels?"
She looked up at him her face glowing with pride. "Believe it or not, Tommy is!" she said, triumph in her voice. "He gave me the foxes, Joe, and they're paid for! He's got a swell position. I hate to disappoint everybody, but my husband's making good, just as I've always known he would. Joe gave a long whistle.
"What kind of a job—where?"
"I'd rather he'd tell you himself. I know he will when he gets back to town."
"Is it an out-of-town job?"
"Part of the time."
"The old so-and-so! Landing a job on the big time and never raising his lip about it to me. Is he with some important firm?"
Alma laughed aloud. "Yes, he is. Trumbull & Co."

"What?"
"He's had an important promotion. But I mean important! It's a confidential matter, Joe. He won't tell the details even to me."
"Then it isn't the photography spot?"
"No. Apparently it's something much better. But he'll still be with us at the House except when he's away on trips, like tonight. Isn't it wonderful?"
"Wonderful? It's positively uncanny!"
"I knew you'd be pleased. That's why I told you, even though please remember that it's a secret for the moment. I'm so happy and proud I'm ready to burst!"
"Dear Alma, you must be," said Joe softly, "after all these years of standing up for him."
"I knew it would come," she said simply, and was not ashamed that there were tears of happiness in her eyes.

THE bar at the Blue Cat Club was one of those chic and expensive places of which Alma had often read, but to which she had never been. It was not the sort of restaurant that people like Tommy and herself could afford to frequent. But tonight she felt expansive and glowing and in the mood to celebrate. The long, low room was dim and intimate-looking as they stood waiting for a place and Alma was already enjoying its unfamiliar luxury when she was startled by Joe's voice.
"Let's get out of here," he said, "it's stuffy as the devil!"
He took her by the arm to steer her away but by then it was too late. She had already seen what Joe was trying to keep from her. Tommy was there and Tommy was not alone.
Seated at a table for two halfway down the dim alley of the room he was talking absorbedly to one of the most exotic young women Alma had ever seen. Like a tropical fruit just ripe for eating, she thought with a sort of sickening detachment.

The long oval face beneath the dark, sleek hair was slashed by a soft, wide mouth of startling color; the low-cut dress clung over her full, pointed breasts as though part of her skin was set in black below the long white throat. There was that eternally naked look about her which certain women flaunt at all times, and the thing Alma recognized behind it, brought forth the fear, the utter helplessness with which all good women are filled by the mere presence of such a rival.
Joe Denton was tugging at her arm, but Alma continued to stare, unable to tear her eyes away from the woman.

"COME away," said Joe very softly. "Come away before they see us." And this time Alma allowed herself to be taken out into the street, scarcely knowing what she was doing, her blood beating thickly in her ears, a faint nausea swaying her.
Joe led her down the block, holding her hand tucked closely under his arm. But she scarcely knew he was there. The new world she had built up for herself had collapsed, and she was still stunned by the concussion of its falling. But she must not go to pieces, she told herself—not in front of Joe!
She began a tremendous effort at making the situation less embarrassing.
"There is probably some explanation," she said with difficulty, falling back into her old habit of finding an excuse for everything Tommy did. "Perhaps we should have gone up to them and spoken."
"Alma, don't be a fool!"
"I feel like a fool. So don't let's discuss it."
"I wouldn't dare. Right this minute I couldn't, I'm so furious. And I won't let him spoil our evening—many of them of them already! Come on, we'll go to the Italian place."

Be Careful!
Again this year the fire departments in all cities are urging people to remember that Christmas trees can be a fire hazard if care is not used. The average tree can burn in two minutes and that doesn't allow time for the fire department to get there!
The precautions to follow are:
Use a live tree wherever possible with its roots in moistened soil. Use non-flammable trimmings on the tree. Check Christmas tree lights carefully for frayed spots in the wires.
Never use lighted candles. Don't leave tree lights on when it isn't necessary and especially when the family isn't home. Check your tree regularly to see if needles near the lights are turning brown, and if they are move the lights to another spot. Finally, when your tree gets dried out, don't leave the lights on for more than a half-hour at a time.

Life-Saving Treasures Stored In Attics Over The Nation
By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — In almost every American attic today there is an old battered trunk that could save a human life far away.
The trunks contain old clothing, keepsakes of yesterday that thrifty housewives packed up for sentimental reasons — or just because they hate to throw things away.
This clothing is desperately needed by our allies in South Korea, knit to us now by almost six months of steady blood-letting.
In a war that has already cost perhaps 2,000,000 casualties the Korean civilians have been among the greatest sufferers. The battles, ranging up and down their weary peninsula, have made millions of homeless migrants. Life has become a pilgrimage of despair to them.
Existence in normal times is a matter of bare subsistence for most Koreans, and war has wrecked their bare and stringent economy.
With winter again gripping the land their chief problem is now to protect themselves against the bitter cold. A national drive is now underway to get the American people to contribute all the spare clothing possible.
What kind of clothing? Anything from a pair of museum high-buttoned shoes to dad's old golf knicker. Bolts of old material. Linen of all kinds. Blankets. Lovers' children's wear. Mufflers, gloves — anything that can help to cover a human body. The plight of the refugees has done more than anything to kindle a feeling of sympathy between the American soldiers and the Korean civilians.

Last winter thousands of GI's gave away part of their own equipment to help clothe shivering Korean orphans.
A year ago the population of Seoul, the Republican capital, was being evacuated in a flight of mass distress. There have been fewer scenes of greater misery even in this century of war upon war.
Everybody likes to play Santa Claus. And this year there is an easy way to do it. Simply go up to that old trunk in the attic... those closets hung with old clothes you no longer have a real use for... and bundle up everything you can find... and give it to the people of Korea.
In a very real way you may thus easily postpone death for someone... a child or a grandma... in a land where, if you forget, there will be no Santa Claus this Christmas.
P. S. If there is no local agency handling the drive in your community, the clothing bundles can be sent to one of the following "American Relief for Korea" warehouses: 5215 Flushing Ave., Maspeth, N.Y.; 3146 Lucas Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; and 10901 Russett St., Oakland, Calif.
The bundles should be sent pre-paid, as the organization has no funds to pay postal or freight charges.

Get Personal; They Love It
Christmas is always more fun if you can find gifts to give that rate a welcome out of all proportion to the actual cost. Your friends are appreciative of your thoughtfulness, and you get a lift of spirits because you're such a clever, budget-wise shopper!
If you have a long list of friends you want to remember at Christmas with gifts that are greeted with exclamations of delight, personalized gifts are the answer!
Low in cost, they have that special "just-for-you" touch that makes them such distinctive gifts.
Also starring in the gift picture are hosts of gay, knickerbockers for the person who's "always losing things." Cleverly-designed key cases, gadgets to fasten her gloves to her purse or to hang her handbag to the restaurant table make welcome gifts.

Western Europe Warned Against Soviet Pressure

STUTTGART, Germany — (AP) — U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy called upon Western Europe to take "significant steps" for unity within the next six months or face the certainty of increased Soviet pressure. In a speech delivered before the Wuertemberg-Baden state parliament, McCloy declared: "The decisions to be made in the next six months will be crucial for the future of Europe and for the future relations of my country to Europe."

He referred to the Plevan plan for a European Army and the Schuman plan for pooling Europe's industrial output as "first steps" toward European unity. He said the continued interest and support of the people of the U. S. could not be taken for granted if these measures are sidestepped. "The United States is pressing for European unification solely so that Europe and this United States can avoid war — so that Europe can live in freedom and dignity," he said.

Why Not Send Taste Of Home

There's still time to send a serviceman in this country a homey box of holiday cookies. Bar cookies, enriched with coconut and figs, are easy to pack. If there's a youngster in your family she'll enjoy making some gingerbread men to tuck in.

COCONUT FIG BARS

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine, 3/4 cup finely cut figs, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 cup shredded coconut, 1 tablespoon hot water. Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat eggs well; beat in sugar gradually and thoroughly. Mix in butter or margarine, figs, lemon rind, and coconut. Mix in flour, alternately with water. For a thin, chewy bar, spread mixture in two greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pans and bake in slow (325 F.) oven about 30 minutes. For a thick, drier bar, spread in one greased 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan and bake at 325 F. about 35 minutes. Cool and cut in 2 1/2 x 1 1/4 bars. Remove from pans. Makes 3 dozen thin bars, or 1 1/2 dozen thick bars.

GINGERBREAD MEN

Ingredients: 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup dark molasses, 1-3 cup water. Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, allspice, ginger, cinnamon. Cream margarine and sugar. Mix molasses and water together and add to creamed mixture alternately with flour. Roll dough into a ball and chill thoroughly. Roll dough out to 1/8-inch thickness and cut with a gingerbread man cookie cutter. Place on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderately hot (375 F.) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from pan immediately and cool. Decorate gingerbread men with sugar frosting made by mixing 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar with 1 1/2 to 2 tablespoons water.

Battle Gets Bloody In Mexican Street

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — A battle royal broke out in the center of Mexico City's night life district Sunday night, and so wild was the melee that firemen had to sand the bloody street when it was over.

Women Superior In Some Ways; Logic, F'rinstance

NEW YORK — (AP) — Women are superior to men in many ways. (The trouble is they know it.)

Men use logic as a crutch. They use logic like a pole vaulter. When it can lift them no higher, they let go of it — and go sailing on. They never become a prisoner of logic as men do. If it can no longer serve them, they simply rise above logic. This explains why women are mentally superior to men and why no women in history ever was proved wrong. Illogical? Of course. But wrong? Never.

Women show the same change-of-pace ability in the matter of emotion. They are great broken field runners here, too, and that is why they are emotionally superior to men.

Many a strong man will let an emotion get him down until, as he says, "I feel lower than a whale's abdomen." But a woman? When she feels that low she sets about finding a way to have a whale of a time out of it.

This difference between the sexes is most clearly shown in how they react to "the glooms." The glooms is a disease that thrives on civilization. It is the feeling you get when something goes a-wry. As civilization gets more and more complicated, there naturally are more things to go a-wry, so the glooms seem to mushroom more and more. But whether the glooms come from a broken heart, a lost job, or a traffic cop's unkind remarks, a woman knows how to rise

SENTENCES METED OUT

HONG KONG — (AP) — A Communist peoples court in Canton today handed out sentences ranging from death to probation to 81 dock workers convicted yesterday as "exploiters." The newspapers said all were ex-foremen who in most cases were accused by disgruntled workmen.

They think the time to have a gay night out on the town is after they have a raise in pay. That's when they ought to go home and relax. They feel good enough already.

You need it in money management, too. And a checking account helps control your spending because all your payments are down in "black and white". Open a checking account here and manage your money effectively.

How Much Does It Cost To Make Money?

In any city, the Newspaper gets the biggest share of the advertising dollar. Why? Is it because merchants like to spend money? Is it because of habit? Far from it!

Businessmen buy advertising to get the most sales for the least expenditure like you also would do. Local businessmen buy more NEWSPAPER advertising than all other media combined because newspapers deliver the good for far less unit cost.

And the bigger, more successful their business, the greater relative share of their funds goes into low cost newspaper space. Nothing else comes within a Russian mile of newspaper space for low cost impact.
