Tojo Says History May Disagree As To Who Started Conflict

Infamous Warlord Asserts War Over, All Persons Are Friends

By MURLIN SPENCER and RUSSELL BRINES (Copyright, 1945) TOKYO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Gen. Hideki Tojo, who as Japan's wartime premier launched the attack on Pearl Harbor, declared in an exclusive interview today that the American victors now could fix responsibility for starting the war but that history might disagree.

NOW 'FARMER'

Hideki Tojo

The shaven-headed one-time terror of Asia, who now is living quietly on his comfortable farm outside Tokyo, refused flatly to discuss such questions as whether he expected to be tried as a war criminal and what defense he was preparing, but was willing to talk of many things, in moods ranging from steely-eyed impassivity to hearty laughter.

Sam Snead Fires 12 Under Par To Win Dallas Open Tournament

The answer for team travel in all sports.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

While in Italy, Hobson taught basketball to Italian coaches and spent a week at the British sports school at Bennevento. . . Italy already has hundreds of teams and got a look at some of the 1200 service teams that played last season.

Guido Grassiani, coach of the 1938 Italian Olympic cage team, told Hobson that he thinks basketball will replace soccer as Italy's leading sport within a few years and he favors importing American teams to help the game's development.

Major Geoffrey Dyson, peacetime coach at Loughborough college, has similar ideas about basketball in Britain—including the invitation to American teams. . . . And Hobby adds that air travel would make playing in Europe as easy as it now is for a western team to play in the East.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Sammy the Virginia Sneads, subbed himself down to Temple today to give a golfing exhibition for the wounded veterans of McCloskey general hospital, $2,000 in war bonds tucked in his pocket for winning the Dallas open.

Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., who finished seventh in yesterday's tournament windup, also will go to McCloskey hospital to demonstrate golf shots to the veterans, out-of-members of the touring professional tour, except Byron Nelson, who has a dinner date in Fort Worth, were on the way to Tulsa to participate in an invitation tournament scheduled to open Thursday.

Snead registered his fourth sub-par round—a four-under 68—on the Dallas country club course yesterday in finishing with a total of 276 for the 72 holes. That is 12 under par for the four rounds and the drawing Hot Springs, Va., stylist boasted a four-stroke lead over the runner-up, Harold Gupp McCosden of Sanford, Me. In their third play with 281 was Nelson, the Toledo, Ohio, umbrella man who is little Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., was fourth with 285. The fifth spot went to an amateur, Wally Ulrich of Brooks field, San Antonio, who had 287.

As a result of his victory here, which incidentally was his fifth tournament triumph of the year, Snead became the third high winner of 1945 with a total of $16,970 fourth with $13,256 and Hogan, who has participated in only four tournaments, is next with $10,733.

Other leaders are: Jimmie Hines, Chicago, $7,806; Ghezzi, $7,236; Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., $6,587; Johnny Bulta, Atlanta, Ga., $4,422.

Corcoran said these figures were only for PGA-sponsored tournaments.

After the tournament at Tulsa the professionals will go to Spokane Sept. 21-22, to Portland Sept. 27-30, Tampa Oct. 4-7 and Seattle Oct. 11-14. Then will go to Richmond Nov. 2-4 to start the fall-winter tour.

Dick Fowler, 24 Days Out of Canadian Army, Hero of Game
By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The stirring big league pennant races were forced to share the spotlight today with a 21-year-old Canadian army dischargee who returned to the baseball front only 24 days ago.

The former soldier, Dick Fowler, righthanded hurler of the Philadelphia Athletics, celebrated his first 1945 starting assignment for the Mackmen yesterday by hurling the season's first no-hitter to whip the St. Louis Browns 1-0 in the second game of a double header. The A's also won the opener 6-2.

In spinning his masterpiece, Fowler allowed only five balls to be hit out of the infield and walked four, but two of these were erased by double plays. Fowler had made two brief appearances in relief earlier in the month.

The last previous no-hitter in the majors was pitched by Clyde Shoun for Cincinnati against Boston May 15, 1944. Bobby Feller of Cleveland was the last American leaguer to accomplish the feat, against the Chicago White Sox on the opening day in 1940.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Connie Mack manager of the Philadelphia Athletics says Dick Fowler's 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns was the first no-hitter in Shibe Park in 22 years.

The hectic American league flag race entered the final three weeks of the season with the first place Detroit Tigers only one game ahead of the persistent Washington Senators following yesterday's double triumph by the A's and a victory and tie by the Bengals.

Mickey Haerter, sturdy little Southpaw, had little trouble annexing his 16th victory in a 4-2 opening game triumph for Washington over the White Sox. But Santiago Ulrich had to come to the rescue of his fellow Latin hurler, Alex Carrasquel in the nightcap to eke out a 5-4 decision for Ossie Benge's men.

The Tigers also were forced to stage late inning rallies to vanquish the Boston Red Sox 4-3 in the first and obtain a 3-3 tie in the second. Catcher Paul Richards was the whole show for the Bengals in the opener. His three doubles socked in five of the six runs including three in the ninth, and he scored the other himself.

The feverish National league title chase remained at a stalemate when the top-perched Chicago Cubs and the second rung St. Louis Cardinals each swept their twin bill leaving the Bruins still three and a half games in front.

The Cubs made short work of the Braves as Ray Prim and Claude Passeau, in rare form, prostrated the Humbers 9-1 and 4-0.

The Redbirds had to twist their hard way. After coming from behind to sprint in with the opener 5-4, they made it two successive one-run decisions over the New York Giants by winning the second 3-2.

The season's record crowd of 72,152, 65,534 paid to see ex-cub Eob Feller outpitch ex-GI Spud Chandler to pave the way for a Cleveland 10-3 and 4-3 double win over the

Kirksey Re-Signed as Semi-Pro Executive
WICHITA, Kans., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The National Baseball congress today announced re-appointment of A. H. Kirksey of Waco as Texas commissioner of non-professional baseball for 1945.

As a result of the 14th annual state tournament, third oldest state-wide meet under sanction of the national organization, will be scheduled at Waco, July 20 to Aug. 26.

Randall Clay, Jack Dunham Will Form Nucleus of Football Team

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Sports Editor

"A fine group of boys making up in spirit and determination what they lack in experience."

That's how Head Coach Otis Coffey described the 1945 Harvester footballers as they returned from their football camp at Raton, N. M., Saturday.

Only two familiar faces—from those on the 1944 starting eleven—will be around this year when the team opens its season against Electra here Friday night.

Randall Clay, who plays at right half on Coffey's T formation, and Jack Dunham, who will play at end and alternate at center, are the only two starters retained from last year's team that won seven of 10 games and placed second in the district race.

Clay, who is considerably heavier than he was at the start of the season last year, will be the only backfield man with any amount of experience. Clay, in addition to his T formation duties, will be at back in the double wing formation and fullback in the single wing, both of which will be used this year.

Dunham, at his guard post last year, was one of the outstanding linemen in the district. Tipping the scales at nearly 190 pounds, Dunham can play any position in the line and, taking in his entire high school football career, he may be called upon to do just that.

Both Coffey and Assistant Coach "Jigger" Wittington were enthusiastic about the success of the football camp at Raton. The coaches said that the 35 boys were the finest bunch they had ever taken on any trip.

"They were supposed to be in by 9:30 every night," Coffey said, "and I am pleased to report that every one of them observed that rule rigidly. They knew that they had to have plenty of sleep to get in condition for the coming season."

Coffey stated emphatically that he had not decided upon a starting line-up for the Electra game.

"There are still a lot of wrinkles to be ironed out," he said. "We have a lot of fine boys battling for each position and it is going to be a big job for Jiggs and I to decide who will start."

However, Coffey has named about 25 boys who will be battling closely for the starting berth.

In the backfield, Jim Wilson and Russell Neaf will be fighting for the starting spot in Merle McCracken's left half position. Wilson, a first-year man, is adept at kicking extra points and shows promise as a broken field runner.

Neaf, reserve halfback last year, is a good blocker and is usually cool when the going gets tough.

At the quarterback slot, Winfred

ELIMINATIONS START

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Undefeated Freddie Schott takes on Freddie Fideuca in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight in the first of a series of heavyweight elimination bouts that Promoter Mike Jacobs hopes will produce an opponent for Champion Joe Louis.

The end positions have not been decided upon as yet. Jack Dunham will probably be at end, end, although he will alternate at center. The other will be chosen from Co-captain Charlie Beard, Bernie Brown and Lonnie Williams. All lettered last year.

"Our guard posts are probably the most wide open of any position on the team," Coffey said. "We have Don Humphreys, Jack Hood, Bill Bain, Carlton Brooks and Virgil Fish all battling for the two guard slots and it is going to be a tough situation to pick out the starters."

The tackle problem is not so great as the others. Tackles will be chosen from Stanley Simpson, Capt. Jim Terrell, Don Rowe and Burl Williams. Simpson and Williams are the heavyweights of the entire squad, each weighing over 190 pounds.

At center, in addition to Dunham as alternate, will be Maurice Lockhart, reserve center last year, and Kelley Anderson.

Here is the complete 35-man squad list for 1945.

UPTON CLOSE: For U. S. Four Roads Lead To Unknown Future

Four roads lead into the future: 1. To side in with England (that's where American interests are) means to isolate Russia, permitting her to make secret treaties and alliances with other nations that would bolster her future position. Then throw the charge of betrayal against us. Remember the charge that America and England built Hitler against Russia.

Common Ground By R. C. HOLES

Foreign Trade and Jobs One of the customary arguments for making loans in various forms to foreign nations is that we must have foreign trade in order to have full employment.

What the people who use this argument evidently fail to see is that we do not want any foreign trade that does not work labor; that does not reduce the labor required to satisfy a human want. If foreign trade or any other trade does not reduce the working hours it is foolish to invest in it.

If we make exports, sending our wealth to other countries, we should expect to get back wealth that would take us more hours to produce than the wealth we export. That is if we produced at home, the only possible excuse for having foreign trade—to reduce labor.

We, of course, can consume all that we can produce at home if we produce the right things. We will be able to consume more, or consume the same amount with less labor, if we trade with foreign nations for things that will take more hours to produce here.

Reg Manning, cartoonist, hits the nail on the head when his cartoon shows one of the bureaucrats in Washington remarking that the only way to get him and his fellow bureaucrats out of Washington is to use the atomic bomb.

The Nation's Press ARDENT SELF-ADMIRATION (Detroit News)

The concept of the "indispensable man" is as old as human self-esteem, and it survives in all contemporary evidence of its error. In Nicaragua the strong man, Somoza, has reconsidered an earlier intention to retire from the presidency at the end of his term in 1947, and will stand for reelection.

Well, our fellows have picked up another Japanese girl who used to work on the radio as Tokyo Rose. I suppose the Japs kept a few spare around in case one of them got blown up while she was advising our soldiers to quit because they didn't have a chance. My goodness, how does this country never get in for pluralistic performers. If we had three Mr. Anthonys, we'd all have to pitch in and suffer in our spare time.

OUT OUR WAY BY J. R. WILLIAMS

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON HOLLYWOOD—Studio bosses must really be serious about re-typing Greer Garson. She's wearing a sweater for scenes in her latest opposite Gable. After clouting the King over the head in a saloon brawl scene, Greer quipped: "You know, commotion is much more fun than emotions." In no uncertain terms, his agents have ordered Van Johnson to go on a diet and lose some of the poundage he has put on recently.

News Behind the News The National Whirligig

By JOHN FISHER With General MacArthur's gimlet-eyed sentries walking their posts, the tendency here is to say, "The Japs are now under lock and key. Let's stop worrying about the Pacific and turn our attention to the home front."

The American public, the experts insist, must keep tab on the Japanese until we are convinced that their "polite submission" is not just thrown in our eyes. When a wealthy state like ours professes to give freedom of the press they may fear the scales from their nation's eyes.

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

(1) The radioactive atom of radium is actually an atomic bomb in miniature. In a thimbleful of radium salt, large numbers of atoms are constantly exploding. It takes centuries for all the atoms in a thimbleful of radium to burst because the number of atoms is beyond human comprehension.

World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst The big five council of foreign ministers, meeting in London tomorrow, will in effect constitute a clinic which will give Europe a drastic overhauling and determine the real state of peace's health.

This council was established at the Potsdam meeting of the Big Three. The nucleus, of course, is America, Russia and Britain—to which France and China were added. The task assigned the council was to continue the necessary work for the peace settlement. It was specified that the treaty with Italy would be first on the list.

Now that the very nature of this assignment means that the foreign ministers are bound to uncover any weaknesses in the relations of the Big Five. Of special moment will be the status of the relationship among the Big Three, upon whom so largely depends the maintenance of world peace. We shall learn whether the divergence of views—which certainly exists in some particulars among this mighty trio—is serious.

This is to say the affairs of Italy are so complicated that other problems likely will have to be solved before a treaty can be drawn up. The way things look now, the badly tangled skein of Balkan politics will have to be straightened out, and that is one of the hot-spots where Russia, on the one hand, and the Anglo-American Allies, on the other, don't see eye to eye.

No. 6: Cracking the Atom

(4) The powerful machines were constructed to crack the heavier elements and start them exploding in the way the tiny atom of radium explodes. These included the cyclotron. The first cyclotron was built by Ernest O. Lawrence at the University of California, in 1929. Streams of alpha particles, or nuclei of helium atoms, are shot into a cyclotron and given a whirl in a magnetic field. As they whirl they gain speed, like the stone in the sling shot that David used to kill Goliath.

Pampan Sees World, Obtains Education

Ardell Seed, 17-year-old son of Mrs. Robert Seed, Pampa, did more than his share in helping to win the war but he still thinks that a high school education is the most important thing to have.

A veteran of 15 months service with the United States Maritime Service, Seed goes to school in the winter and goes to sea during vacation.

Seed, who is starting his junior year in high school this fall, joined the Merchant Marine in October, 1943, after 11 months of duty, returned to Pampa high school.

At the start of the fall term in 1944, Seed enrolled as a sophomore, finished that year and in June of 1945 went to sea on another Liberty ship where he served as quartermaster.

He's now back in school again where he plans to complete his junior year and then—if they need him again—he will go back aboard ship next summer before his last year in high school.

Warlord Asserts

Tojo's home is new, in the Yoga district about an hour's drive from the imperial palace and a half-hour from the Meiji shrine where the U. S. First cavalry division is bivouaced.

When we first saw him, Tojo was lying back in a rickety rattan garden chair, supervising a solitary laborer who was filling in a cellar-like air raid shelter of concrete.

"You burned my three best pine trees," said the man whose armies destroyed most of Asia. We were taken to the palace by Juiji G. Kasai, a liberal parliamentarian who was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1913 and who acted as interpreter for us.

Kasai said he had visited Tojo only ten days ago to pay his respects for the suicide of the general's son-in-law, Major Koga, who committed hara kiri upon failure of a conspiracy to prevent the emperor's peace announcement from reaching the public.

Tojo's house has been built since Tojo fell from power, and the Japanese say it is far more elaborate than any he would permit to be built under his regime. The house is a strange mixture of western and Japanese architecture.

The house, some sources say, was built under the name of the politician who earlier informed us of Tojo's plan to accuse Roosevelt of war-responsibility, insisted that the former premier was roundly hated by the Japanese public because he had thus far failed to commit suicide.

The informant begged that he remain anonymous, saying, "If the people knew I visited him, they would kill me." Quoting a friend in the foreign office, this informant said Tojo intended to commit suicide as soon as he had made his expected court defense.

When we arrived at Tojo's house our interpreter wrote our names on a card and asked the young man to deliver it to Tojo. He departed with a deep bow, but returned quickly to say that Tojo would not see us.

Kasai refused to take no for an answer from the man who once could have thrown him readily into secret torture chambers. Carrying the card, he walked into the garden and motioned us to follow. Tojo, sitting on his chair, had his back to us and was unaware of our approach until we were within a few feet. Kasai then told him the purpose of our visit.

Tojo shook his shaven head vigorously. His face was set and stern. We stood there. Finally, with a slight shrug he permitted introductions and held out his hand.

This would-be Napoleon of the Orient is only 5 feet, 4 inches and appears to weigh about 120 pounds. Nevertheless, he is stocky, and appears strong for his 61 years. He was wearing a white sports shirt and white flannel trousers which had been cut off to make shorts held up by both suspenders and a belt.

He had on brown, scuffed shoes of the three-button variety with brown socks. Tojo obviously was still highly displeased by our intrusion and curty declined to discuss the war.

Then he apparently decided to make the best of the situation by employing repartee. Throughout life he has done this, with a mental keenness and ability to subterfuge that won him the army nickname of "razor brain."

"I am filling in my foxhole because there's no more need for it," he said, gesturing to the laborer in the air raid shelter. "I am a farmer now and no more concerned with politics."

I. Brines remarked that Tojo's soldiers had captured me in Manila, and he replied: "Well, you turned around and captured them." When Tojo told about almost being burned up in an American air raid, I. Spencer, said I had dodged Japanese bombs many times.

and minus from nothing leaves nothing. Everything is even now." We told Tojo that he was more widely known in America than any other Japanese except the Emperor.

With a keen glance he shot back, "For good or for bad?" He threw back his head and laughed lustily, showing a mouthful of gold teeth.

After the cigarettes, he rose and escorted us to the road where he immediately expressed interest in our jeep, saying it was the first he had ever seen and asking immediately, "Can it be carried by airplane?"

We assured him that it could and drove off. Quisling (Continued from Page 1) mans, and on the day of the invasion, April 9, 1940, it was charged he went to the government offices and personally telephoned certain garrisons and gave instructions not to resist the nazis.

Japanese were ordered to disarm and to continue their civil administration. Patrol boats and carrier planes circled alertly, pending the arrival of occupation troops.

MacArthur simultaneously issued two statements from his new headquarters in the U. S. embassy in Tokyo. One pledged that Japanese militarism would be eliminated. The other assured his troops they would go home as soon as peace could be made secure.

In his first statement he explained that the Japanese would rule themselves, subject to his orders and with occupation troops ready to enforce his decisions if necessary. He warned his own troops to respect the rights of Japanese: "Looting, pillage, rape—would be but a stain on your own high honor."

Occupation troops will be sent home, MacArthur said, "as speedily and as effectively as the consolidation and securing of peace can be accomplished through orderly occupation of Japan and the denobilitation of Japanese armed forces."

Navy would abide by the committee's decision whether any unpublished documents should be made public.

Aussie Commander Accepts Surrender

MELBOURNE, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Australian commander-in-chief, accepted yesterday the surrender of thousands of Japanese troops in the eastern East Indies.

In the presence of Dutch, American and Australian forces on the small island of Morotai, 315 miles southeast of Mindanao, Gen. Blamey told the defeated troops: "I don't recognize you as an honorable, gallant foe, but you'll be treated with due courtesy in all matters."

The direct recipient of his blunt remarks was Lt. Gen. Tishima, commander of the Japanese Second army. Japanese troops were reported laying down their arms in all sectors, from Bougainville in the Solomons to Wewak in northeast New Guinea, following the surrender of an estimated 140,000 enemy troops.
