

Toward A Soviet America

(The New York Daily News)

A couple of recent incidents seem to fit together as neatly as two adjoining pieces of a jigsaw puzzle.

Incident 1. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in her syndicated column "My Day" for Feb. 14, printed a part of a letter received from an American mother:

"It seems to have been necessary for both of my sons to give their lives in this war. I am willing, and able, to take it if their deaths and those thousands of others who are dying away from home can be justified by a better and more equalized world when this war is over. If we get anything like the 'status quo' or 'back to normalcy,' it can be nothing but a hideous waste."

The First Lady heartily endorsed the views of this bereaved mother, whose style is so beautifully like the First Lady's own. Mrs. Roosevelt's idea is that it will not be enough merely to win the war; that we must have some kind of revolution here to make the victory worth while.

Incident 2 may serve to indicate what kind of revolution Mrs. Roosevelt and like-minded thinkers want.

Incident 2 was the resignation of William La Varre as a special assistant to Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones. Mr. La Varre had served in a Commerce Department division which was seeking to protect and promote our foreign and domestic commerce, and to spread information about such commerce to American business men.

La Varre, however, soon saw a sea-change come over the picture: "Shortly after I joined the Department," he says in a letter to Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), "there were created by Executive Order new agencies, to which was assigned authority which Congress had delegated to the Secretary of Commerce."

Presently this new Board of Economic Warfare was doing work which La Varre had expected to do, with Vice President Wallace and Milo Perkins in charge of what La Varre calls "a constant program for by-passing the Constitutional authorities of the Department of Commerce."

The BEW later was merged "with additional expansions" (these things never contract), into the Office of Foreign Economic Administration, under Leo Crowley, who is also Alien Property Custodian.

Crowley, says La Varre, conscientiously works at both of these jobs. As head of the OFEFA he tries to build up foreign trade under control of the Government and dynamite American private business firms engaging in foreign trade. As Alien Property Custodian, Crowley, according to La Varre, tries to build up profits for the Axis firms he holds, in competition with American firms and trademarks.

La Varre's charges sum up as follows: That this Administration is trying to destroy American foreign trade as we have known it for generations, and to set up in its place Government-trolled foreign trade after the Soviet Russian pattern. If it succeeds, there will be no American foreign trade except such trade as the Government conducts, and the Government will be in business to its neck while a lot of private business concerns will be broke.

La Varre puts his conclusions in these words:

"We are looking potential catastrophe in the face—a Bolshevik Russia, with the largest victorious army in Europe, dictating the peace; a partially bankrupt and semi-Bolshevized England cooperating in an alliance, the U. S. to finance that alliance. Here some of our planners visualize a personal Utopia in business, in which everything is subsidized, all people bonused or pensioned—the cost to be sucked out of accumulated wealth and business. That would mean the end, surely, of the American system of economics, the rapid decline in the purchasing power of the dollar at home and abroad."

So saying, La Varre resigned his job with the Department of Commerce, and announced his intention to get out and fight this trend in any and every way he can. He couldn't stay on the job and fight this trend, because the President long ago ordered Government jobholders to lay off public criticism of other Government jobholders.

From Mrs. Roosevelt's frequent hints at revolution, from the Administration's persistent flouting of Congress and patent contempt for Americans' intelligence, and from the La Varre spotlight thrown on the whole situation in bureaucratic Washington, it seems apparent that the New Dealers are determined to push us into Communism.

Government Cuts Wool Purchases

BOSTON, March 9—(AP)—The government purchased only one half as much woven apparel cloth in 1943 as in 1942 while sales of civilian cloths went up 50 per cent in the same period, the National Association of Wool Manufacturers reported today in its monthly report.

The figures were based on the reports of 101 firms, the association said.

An aggregate of 602,000,000 scored pounds of apparel wool was consumed in the United States in 1943, of which about 66 per cent was of foreign origin.

Use of domestic wool dropped from a weekly average of 4,700,000 scored pounds in 1942 to 3,920,000 in 1943.

Throneberry Goes Back to Colorado

WAGO, March 9 (AP)—O. B. Throneberry waived extradition and started back to Colorado today in custody of Sheriff Ernest Todd of Steamboat Springs from whose jail O. B. and his brother, Randal Throneberry, escaped last August.

The Throneberry brothers were held at Steamboat Springs under a charge of murder in the slaying of a sheepherder. O. B. was captured near West, Texas, Dec. 3, and had been held in Texas for the trial of Albert Nelson Israel, who Tuesday was acquitted in federal court on two counts in connection with O. B.'s escape, but found guilty on two other counts.

Israel, a Hillsboro, Texas, junk dealer, was found innocent of failing to report to officers "as soon as may be" the fact that a stolen automobile had been carried across a state line and he was likewise acquitted of being an accessory after the fact in connection with the transportation of a stolen automobile across a state line.

The jury ruled that Israel was guilty of failing to report to officers "as soon as may be" that Throneberry had crossed a state line as a fugitive from justice and convicted him also of being an accessory after the fact in connection with the flight of a fugitive across a state line to escape prosecution.

Throneberry, charged with murder in connection with the death of a Colorado sheepherder, escaped from jail at Steamboat Springs, Colo., and was captured near West, Texas, last Dec. 3.

Foxholes Are Either Too Small or Too Deep

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA (AP)—Tales from the South Seas: Some of the boys are still chuckling over the first air raid Sgt. Michael Ratkovich of Chicago underwent, Ratkovich, who weighs better than 300 pounds, had started a fox-hole but did not have it finished when the alarm sounded. Somehow he managed to cram his big frame inside the small hole, but when the all clear sounded he couldn't get out. It took six men several minutes to pull him free.

Almost the same thing happened to tiny Lieut. Winfred Diehl, an army nurse from Allentown, Penn. Miss Diehl is slightly less than five feet tall. During an air raid she jumped into a deep hole with other nurses. When the raid was over the other nurses clambered out, leaving tiny Miss Diehl in the hole. She was unable to scale the high wall and it was an hour later that her cries were heard and she was rescued.

The Australian army maintains a military police section to preserve in photos important military scenes and events. Recently Capt. H. Nicholson was sent to the Milne bay area to photograph a sign that marked the most western point of the Jap advance in 1942. When he got there the sign was gone.

"The Yanks souvenired it," Captain Nicholson reported in a message, which continued, "but suitable action has been taken to put up another sign and to have a company dug in a defensive perimeter to hold off the Yanks while I get the photograph."

Girls Now Handle FBI Communications

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—Now it's the G-girl.

It's O. K. to report now that women have been serving for several months in one of the federal bureau of investigation's most vital activities—its communications system.

Some 50 of them are radio operators in the networks which the FBI has set up in its wartime capacity as a clearing-house in espionage and sabotage matters.

In addition, FBI has employed women to operate the short-wave station located at headquarters here and used by the FBI in the district of Columbia area.

One of the principal networks utilizing women radio operators handles communications between FBI headquarters and its territorial offices at San Juan, Puerto Rico; Honolulu, Hawaii, and Anchorage, Alaska.

The women operators are recruited from FBI clerical personnel.

Not only must they be able to operate a teletypewriter, but they must know how to assist in ordinary repair and maintenance work on a radio station.

Average age of the girls now at work, or in training is 22 to 25 years. Most are college graduates.

One girl, 23, who was engaged to marry, took the aptitude test for fun. She passed with highest grades and FBI suggested transferring her to a short-wave station.

She told her fiance he could "wait until after the war."

10 International Conferences Are On the Calendar

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—Diplomatic machinery to lay foundations for the postwar world has begun rolling, with at least 10 international conferences now on the state department calendar or in preparation.

The Anglo-American oil talks probably will be the first of the series. Acting Secretary of State Stettinius has announced that Great Britain and the United States would discuss petroleum questions in Washington soon. The projected American pipeline from the Persian gulf to the Mediterranean is expected to form large in the talks, since the plan was announced by Interior Secretary Wicks before the state department had time to inform the British.

Next on the schedule probably will be the United Nations monetary conference, under treasury department sponsorship, for which Pinehurst, N. C., has been mentioned as a likely site.

Treasury representatives already have held preliminary talks with the British, Russians, Canadians and several others on the possibilities of establishing an international currency unit and stabilizing world money.

Definite plans for the International Labor Office meeting in Philadelphia on April 20 have been announced. The ILO was set up as an adjunct to the League of Nations and moved its headquarters to Montreal when the war broke out.

Of all the conferences in the offing, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration's second meeting, due this summer, applies to most immediate postwar problems. Montreal and Mexico City

Polygamy Cases Are To Be Defended

SALT LAKE CITY, March 9—(AP)—Defense Attorney J. H. McKnight has served notice he would challenge the validity of federal grand jury indictments filed against 20 persons as the outgrowth of a federal-state investigation of alleged polygamous practices in Utah.

U. S. District Judge T. M. Johnson told McKnight to file his motion before Friday and argued 10 a. m. (MWT) that day for argument on them. Arraignment was postponed until 2 p. m. Friday.

March 20 was set tentatively for the beginning of the trial.

Besides the 20 persons named in the federal indictments some 30 others awaited action by state courts on similar accusations.

Fly Says Japs Got Information by Cable

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—Japanese naval forces lurking off Pearl Harbor just before making their sneak attack on Dec. 7, 1941 probably got military and weather information through regular cable channels which were not censored at the time, Chairman James L. Fly of the federal communications commission testified Wednesday.

The commission had maintained constant surveillance for many weeks before the attack without finding any illicit short-wave radio stations, Fly told the house committee which is investigating the PCC.

Fly and Rep. Miller (R-Mo.), who was doing much of the questioning clashed sharply several times.

Miller asserted Tuesday that the administration is trying to "gas" the inquiry and, if it succeeded, the "real truth" about the Pearl Harbor situation might never come out.

Fly said his agency was in the clear, that the charges "would be funny if they weren't so serious."

Reverse Lend-Lease Help Is Growing

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—The volume of reverse lend-lease aid furnished to the United States by Britain is increasing steadily, Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator, says.

"The air offensive against Germany and the invasion of Europe would have been impossible on the present scale without both lend-lease and reverse lend-lease," he stated in presenting this picture.

By the first of this year, the United States was receiving reverse lend-lease aid from the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and India at a rate of $2,000,000,000 a year, compared with a little over $1,000,000,000 a year for the 12 months ended June 30, 1943.

Britain also is being received by the United States, as the need arises, from the French national committee, Belgium, The Netherlands, Russia and China.

Crowley said approximately one-third of all supplies and equipment currently required by U. S. forces in the United Kingdom is supplied by the British and reverse-lend lease without cost to us.

Students Urged To Take Army-Navy Tests

PORT DOUGLAS, Utah, March 9—(AP)—Expansion of the army special training reserve program, providing scholarships for 17-year-olds, will afford men of pre-military age an opportunity to obtain specialized training in colleges and universities, Maj. Gen. David McCook, Jr., said today.

The commanding general of the ninth service command urged all eligible youths to take the army-navy college qualifying test to be held in high school throughout the nation March 15.

"Taking the test does not constitute enlistment in any branch of the armed services because, having taken the test, a student is not obligated to enter the program if he so chooses," he said.

State Loses Appeal In Oil Lease Case

AUSTIN, March 9—(AP)—A judgment stating the general principle that it is up to the railroad commission to devise promotion orders that will conserve the state's resources without depriving holders of mineral leases of their property was in effect made final by the supreme court Tuesday.

It refused the state's application for rehearing the case of E. C. Marrs and others against the railroad commission.

These owners of royalty interests in the important McElroy field of Crane and Upton counties filed suit in Travis county to test validity of promotion orders for March to June inclusive, 1941, claiming that these orders permitted oil to be drained northward from their leases.

The district court struck down the commission orders, but the court of civil appeals reversed the trial court judgment. The supreme court reversed the court of civil appeals, upholding the trial court's decision that the orders were invalid and permanently enjoining their enforcement.

But the supreme court also set aside the trial court's injunction directing that the commission not restrict the leaseholders from producing less than 35,000 barrels of oil daily from the portion of the McElroy field in which they were interested.

Tom Harmon Wears Silver Star, Locket

HOLLYWOOD, March 9—(AP)—Here on a 10-day furlough, Lt. Tom Harmon of the army air forces is wearing two decorations—the Silver Star from the war department and a locket from Film Actress Elyse Knox.

The locket, containing her picture, replaces a similar one he lost in a dive-bombing attack on Klauking, a Yangtze river port, last Oct. 30. Harmon is spending much of his leave in the actress' company.

The Silver Star is for gallantry in action against Japanese aircraft. The former University of Michigan football player was cited for bravery while fighting six enemy planes alone, saving his formation, shooting down two enemy planes and bailing out behind enemy lines.

Swedish Editor Aids Finnish Negotiations

STOCKHOLM, March 9—(AP)—The newspaper Aftonbladet reported today that Rickard Lindstrom, Swedish editor of Morgen Tidningen had conferred with Russian legation officials on Finnish armistice terms and was expected to leave shortly for Helsinki.

Lindstrom's newspaper is the organ of the Social Democratic party which has close ties with the Social Democratic party of Finland. He was not available for comment. A Russian legation spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the report, referring questioners to Lindstrom.

The editor recently was in Helsinki, the Finnish capital, where his visit prompted speculation that he might be acting as an intermediary between Finland and Russia.

Aftonbladet took the view that events were swiftly reaching a climax in Finnish-Russian negotiations and that some positive development was possible.

Ennylabegan Is Only Slightly Hurt by War

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN
KWAJALEIN ATOLL—(AP)—By contrast to the other islands of Kwajalein atoll, Ennylabegan is a tropical paradise.

The others—Ro, Namur, Kwajalein itself, Ebeye, Enubuj—had been wrecked, their trees blown down, their buildings smashed, their beaches lined with the bloody and stinking dead who were their defenders. Today, they are saved from being pestilential only by the bitter, retching work of thousands of American soldiers and Marines who have been burying the men they killed and cleaning up the indescribable mess made by their own bombs and shells.

The reason is simple. The Japanese did not get around to defending Ennylabegan, so we did not have to wreck it to take it.

In the center of the island the Japanese in the last two months had built a well-planned barracks, capable of housing 200 men.

There were no forts, no pillboxes, no guns. Twenty-five years had not been long enough for the busy little Japs to get any of this done.

There are other signs of war—an American cemetery with more than 100 graves under rows of neat white crosses. Most of the crosses have metal "dog tags" tacked to them giving the names of the men buried. There are a few nameless, blank white crosses.

There are some wounded Marsh-less, the little coffee-skinned natives who covered in forshales with the Japanese because they had no other place to go. There are enormous Marshallese matrons with sunshots through their flesh, big-eyed little boys naked except for bandages where their heads were cut by shrapnel. There is misery, but queery enough there seems to be no resentment.

Marshallese life proceeds without much change. Women wash their ragged clothes (the feminine outfit here consists of a mother Hubbard, often worn over an undershirt) with a fancy hem which droops below the outer garment) on a cement block outside the house. Small children whine around their mothers. Many of the men have replaced the latrines of their own garments with tacked-up, oversized American army clothes, sans shoes.

Ennylabegan had a small battle a couple of weeks ago, but it is forgotten fast.

Roberts County Makes Red Cross Quota in One Day

Special to THE NEWS.
MIAMI, March 9—Roberts county is over the top by a large margin in the Red Cross war fund drive according to the county chairman, Mrs. W. P. Locke.

The quota of $700 was exceeded over $300 and a wire from headquarters said Roberts county chapter was the third in Texas and seventh in midwestern area reporting in full.

The county quota was, in fact, subscribed and collected the first half day of the drive, which began March 1. All business concerns were 100 per cent in donations.

The entire amount collected will be sent to national headquarters as the local chapter has sufficient funds on hand for the current year.

Carbon Black To Be Depleted In Four Months
AUSTIN, March 9—(AP)—Whether or not an emergency need for channel carbon black used in the manufacture of tires does exist, and testimony as to the feasibility of taking the needed gas out of the Panhandle field, was heard before the railroad commission Wednesday.

Thomas J. Starkie of Washington appeared for the war production board and Ralph Davis, nationally-known consulting engineer on natural gas, appeared in behalf of the United Carbon Co., Inc., of Oklahoma.

Starkie produced figures to show that at the present rate of use, the stock of carbon black would be depleted in four months.

He was "hopeful" the railroad commission could see its way clear to allow the channel carbon black industry to use certain types of gas now termed illegal for the duration of the war plus six months.

He stated if the industry could get an additional 98,000,000 cubic feet per day it could increase the production of channel carbon black approximately 60,000,000 pounds per year, and suggested that Phillips Petroleum Co. or other producers of natural gas for the channel black industry give the industry a richer gas for the balance of this year.

C. P. Craft of Northern Gas Co., Amarillo, requested that Davis be sworn in as was Starkie in order that he might question him.

Davis reiterated that until a year ago the United Carbon Co. had manufactured carbon black; then their capacity to do so was depleted and they shut down completely.

"They were unable to start carbon black operation again because of too low pressure in their area," Davis said. In view of the "national emergency" and as a "patriotic gesture" the United Carbon Co. was willing to move the Sayre field equipment into whatever area in Texas after inquiry proved most suitable.

"And what are they doing with the gas now?" asked Craft.

"Sending it to the utilities for fuel," replied Davis.

"How much do you get per thousand cubic feet?" asked Craft.

"About 5 cents," Davis responded.

Craft indicated that that price was higher than could be obtained through the manufacture of carbon black from the same gas.

He then read from a decision handed down by the fifth United States circuit of appeals to the effect "the carbon black industry has moved from location to location whenever they ceased to be able to obtain their gas for a fraction of a cent, and this movement has been continually westward as the various states tighten their regulations, until now it is largely centered in the Panhandle."

Cotton Congress Date to Be Set

The association will hold its annual convention in Galveston March 22.

Intoxication, Traffic Violations Lead List

Intoxication and traffic violations accounted for three-fourths of the arrests made by the Pampa Police department in February, according to the monthly report released today by W. C. deCostova, city manager.

All arrests totaled 126 of which 49 were for intoxication, 11 for speeding and 17 for other traffic.

Out of $1,171 in fines assessed, $1,044.50 was collected.

February's prisoners evidently didn't like the idea of work, as there was only one day's labor performed while days served in jail totaled 79 and prisoners ate 237 meals.

Besides drunkenness and traffic, other arrests were: gaming, 17; disturbance of the peace, nine; health, eight; vagrancy, six; affray, burglary, indecent exposure and resisting arrest, one each.

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

by James Marlow and George Zielke

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The number of persons who left their war jobs in 1943 by quitting or being fired, drafted or laid off for lack of work—increased over 1942 by less than 1 per cent.

This figure, based on a labor turnover study by the office of war information, is for the country as a whole. It looks mild. Mixed up in it is a story involving some vital war centers.

Government officials are worried and puzzled and are trying to find the causes for the turnover in places like the San Francisco bay area and Baltimore.

Two OWI and WMC officials offered the following as part of the explanation but not all:

Some workers, thinking the war is about over, have gone hunting jobs that won't end with the war. Others, seeing the father draft operating and expecting to be called took their families back home to leave them there for the duration. Others, fearing the father draft, went off seeking a farm job that carried draft deferment.

Girl Back Home Complains She Had Perfect Right to 'Brushoff' Inconsiderate G.I.

BY EDWARD KENNEDY
ANZIO BEACHHEAD, March 2—(Delayed)—(AP)—Among letters to reach me on the Anzio beachhead is one from a young lady in Philadelphia in reply to an article by Hal Boyle on the Brushoff Club, a misery-loves-company organization of servicemen ill-fed by their sweethearts. As Columnist Boyle is now on leave, the letter was turned over to me.

"I did the brushing-off, yes after a year and a half of faithfully attending to a soldier's wants. Sweet, buy my family's Christmas gifts for me. Sweet, send me a subscription to my favorite morning paper; send me good new books, I've got lots of time to read." (I work practically eight days a week at war work). During the whole time his gifts to me consisted of one small Christmas gift and a stunningly magnificent air cushion received also by all members of his family. Of course, if something was urgently needed, like consolation, I received a tender long distance call collect!

"Once I became very hopeful at one of his letters. 'Sweet, I'm sending you a package. Look for it in a couple of days.' Oh, joyous day, I was getting a remembrance! It came—a box of my old letters." I read the letter to several soldiers here and they agreed that no soldier should treat a girl like that.

300,000 Beds Needed For Veterans in '45

YORK BEACH, Me., March 9—Thirty-one years from now—in 1975—the veterans administration expects to be handling its peak load of hospital cases resulting from the present war and from the last world conflict.

Brij Gen. Frank T. Hines, head of the veterans administration told the house appropriations committee during hearings on a deficiency supply bill, 300,000 hospital beds are expected to be needed for veterans in that year.

He estimated that the 300,000 beds would be filled by 207,000 veterans of the present war and 91,400 men of past wars.

Angott Whipped But Juan Zurita Still Not Happy

HOLLYWOOD, March 9—(AP)—Discouraged by a split-decision loss to Luther (Sluggo) White here last summer and inability to get a light-weight championship bout, Juan Zurita returned to his native Mexico City, determined not to box in the United States again.

Today he holds the NBA title. He whipped the clever, rugged and stout-hearted Sammy Angott last night in Hollywood baseball park. It marked the first time in Sammy's long career that he had lost a fight at the lightweight limit.

But Sammy lost, and he lost by a wide margin. After the first round, when Zurita seemed puzzled by the titleholder's style of attack, the Mexican settled down, took the aggressive, and beat the Pennsylvania Italian to the punch through the next 14 rounds.

It was not an especially good fight. The 11,300 spectators clamored for more action and late in the contest Referee Mushy Callan implored the fighters to speed up things. It was not Zurita's fault, however, that there were not more exchanges. Angott clinched after nearly every lead, and in the infighting, where usually he excels, he came out second best.

Angott looked nothing like the champion who came out here last fall and slammed Sluggo White all over the ring in the same ball park to win every one of the 15 rounds. He was away off in his timing and he landed very few clean and solid punches.

Gloves Fighters To Renew Battle Friday

CHICAGO, March 9—(AP)—After a 10-day respite, 32 fighters will put up their dukes in the Chicago stadium ring tomorrow night to seek amateur boxing's greatest honor—that of winning a Golden Gloves national title.

These survivors of earlier preliminary rounds in the tournament will run through 16-semi-final bouts, with the winners then battling for the titles of the eight weight divisions. The eight champions will represent Chicago in the annual inter-city bouts at New York March 17.

A total of 26 bouts is on the Golden Gloves windup tomorrow night and a crowd of about 20,000 is expected to jam the stadium.

Although the individual championships are the objective of the fighters, a team title and its accompanying trophy also is of high importance. Cleveland, coached by Johnny Papke, has won six trophies since the first team award was put up in 1933 and again is one of the favorites.

Other favored contenders for the team crown are St. Louis and Port Worth, each represented by three fighters.
