Political Story Breaks Around Truman Committee

G.O.P. Charges Group Backing Fourth Term

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—Republican charges that Senator Truman (D-Mo.) was using his chairmanship to further a fourth term for President Roosevelt by a political storm today over the senate's war investigating committee.

Senator Bushfield (R-S. D.) answered Truman's plea for a continuation of the president's "wise and experienced" leadership with an assertion that the committee which has been critical of some phases of the war effort apparently was "being used now to forward the candidacy of one for president."

"I think the statement is completely partisan and out of place," Bushfield declared. "The people had hoped that the investigating committee would be entirely non-partisan but it seems now that it is being used to advance a fourth term."

In a press statement issued through the office of the secretary of the senate in his absence, Truman said yesterday that with the crucial European invasion at hand "our commander-in-chief will require prayerful understanding and vigorous support."

"I think the country realizes," the Missouriian said, "that we have wise and experienced leadership. And I am further convinced that this leadership will be continued until the job at hand is completed. No one can divide us in this supreme effort. No patriot will attempt it."

Republican members of the committee said the statement took them by surprise, inasmuch as the group only recently reaffirmed its policy of keeping politics out of its work.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) commented that Truman's statement "obviously was made for its political effect" and he and Senators Brewster (R-Me.) and Burton (R-Ohio) joined in declaring that the Missouriian was not expressing the committee's sentiments.

AS JOAN BERRY TESTIFIED

Democrats Lash Back At Mounting Tide Of Republican Criticism

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—Democrats lashed back at mounting Republican criticism today with a vociferous statement of opposition to the "isolationist" position they said would pave the way for World War III.

Declaring that a planned senate speech soon on the matter, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee took to task critics who say the administration has no definite foreign policy and is operating on a day to day basis.

"Of course we have a foreign policy and it has been well defined by the objectives laid down by Secretary of State Hull and others," Connally declared in an interview. "But the first thing we have to do is win the war. Diplomacy must be subordinated to that right now. That doesn't mean that we are not planning for the future."

"We are not going to say to our Allies here, you've got to do this now or we're going to quit the war," Connally's comment was in line with the lack reportedly taken by Hull recently in conferences with members of congress—that it is unwise to rock the boat by specific demands now on territorial and other problems.

Another administration supporter, Senator Tamm (D-De.) struck at the "isolationists" he said fought every move of President Roosevelt to increase the size of the army and navy before Pearl Harbor and "now want to take charge of America."

In an address at a "back invasion" rally in Baltimore yesterday, Tamm declared that the "isolationists" will be guaranteed and assured if the American people stack the next congress with isolationists and partisan zealots who prefer to fight their political opponents in America rather than totalitarian opponents in Europe."

Legislator 'Hops On' House Investigations

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—Whimsically suggesting a "committee to coordinate committees," Rep. Bulwinkle (D-N. C.) declared "it is unfortunate that we spend so much time investigating."

Cochran was expected to elaborate on his views when the house considers legislation soon to create a special 21-man committee to study postwar military planning.

He estimated that special committees and investigations already are costing "more than a million dollars" a year and much of the work, he said, is "overlapping and duplicating."

Aside from the committee on un-American activities headed by Rep. Dies (D-Texas), which has received more than half a million dollars for expenses, the house has groups investigating air navigation and commerce, civil service, the spread between the price paid to farmers for produce and the price paid by consumers, various phases of the war effort, newswriting, petroleum, Puerto Rico, wildlife conservation, the federal communications commission, activities of executive agencies, the problems of small business, and postwar economic planning.

In addition to the postwar military planning committee, there is under consideration a committee to investigate foreign news dissemination by the office of war information.

Emergency Plan Set up For Eggs

DALLAS, March 27—(AP)—An emergency egg support program designed to bring farmers at least 26 cents a dozen for ungraded eggs has been announced by L. J. Cappelman, regional distribution director of the War Food Administration.

He said WFA would buy eggs from dealers on a current receipt basis, if they buy direct from farmers and pay them at least 26 cents a dozen. He said he has written contracts with WFA before they can participate in the program.

Cappelman said the emergency egg purchase program is an extension of WFA's present ten-cent egg support program, adding that the ten-cent and carlot support programs of buying eggs on a graded base would continue.

(In Washington Saturday night, Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) announced the WFA would initiate an emergency egg-buying program in Texas today to assure producers a return of 26 cents a dozen.

(During a conference with WFA Administrator Marvin Jones, the Texan said he urged that producers be given a minimum of $9 a case, compared with the $8.80 which the 26-cent figure would bring.)

Nazis Say Commando Force Is Wiped Out

LONDON, March 27—(AP)—The German high command declared today that "an American commando force" had landed northwest of the naval base of La Spezia on the Gulf of Genoa, 200 miles above Rome, but had been wiped out.

The formation consisted of two officers and 13 men, Berlin said in its broadcast communique.

There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

Japs Beset By Troubles On Many Fronts

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese enemy, beset on half a dozen fronts from Burma to the Marshall Islands, enlarged his thrust toward Indian Imphal today, moving nearly 5,000 miles eastward, apparently got set for another suicidal attack on the Americans grimly holding Bougainville in the Solomons.

In the rugged jungle country of the Utkul, 32 miles northeast of Imphal and 15 miles inside India, the Japanese ran into the fierce resistance of Allied troops and the harassment of Allied planes. But far behind his lines the enemy had to contend with drive of British commandos toward Myitkyina, main Japanese base above the straggle of the Imphal valley with jungle-tryed Gurkha and Kachin troops, were within 32 miles of that base.

Chinese and American troops also drove upon Myitkyina from another direction, pushing down Mogaung valley and helping clear the new Ledo supply route to China.

While the heightened warfare moved slowly toward decisions in Burma and India, the Allies dealt clean-cut blows to the Japanese in two other sectors: American troops wiped out an enemy assault suicidally flung against the Empress Augusta bay perimeter on Bougainville; heavy bombers struck again at the Kurile Islands just north and east of the Japanese homeland.

Some 300 Japanese, well-armed and well-fed, were cut to pieces in assaulting the American base point on Bougainville. They advanced almost to a command post on Hill 129 before U. S. fire killed them off.

Liberators for the first time hit Onoketani Island in the Kuriles. This strike was significant because it moved the American attack one notch closer to Tokyo from that direction. Onoketani, 29 miles northeast of Onkotani, was bombed for the sixth time. Shimushu, another Kurile island, suffered the bombs of a search plane.

A week ago, Dallas awakened to find it had slipped from second to third place in the roster of Texas cities.

San Antonio, having merged its suburbs, now boasts 390,000 population. Houston leads with the metropolitan area figure of 601,249. Dallas is third with 335,000.

Dallas advocates of incorporation of park cities, with Mayor Woodard at the head, have renewed a campaign for embracing University Park and Highland Park, separate municipalities, within the area of "Big D."

This would again put Dallas ahead of San Antonio.

A reader, in a letter published in the Dallas Morning News Sunday, however, humorously proposed a greater merger of Dallas and Tarrant counties "into another Los Angeles city-county."

Desire and admiration for more bigness is an American disease, especially rampant in Texas, said the letter.

Fort Worth and its 267,856 loyal and enthusiastic citizens are yet to be heard from.

'INVASION WILL BE SOON'—CHURCHILL

Prime Minister Churchill and General Dwight D. Eisenhower (behind Churchill) inspect U. S. paratroopers in England. In a surprise visit to the American Air Force, Churchill forecast the invasion of Europe "soon". Churchill's Sunday Review of War Radiates Confidence in Victory

Rep. Dies Charges Sinister Forces 'Using' Winchell

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—Chairman Martin Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee investigating un-American activities, and Walter Winchell, radio commentator and columnist, exchanged acid-tongued barbs last night in a staged radio debate and in a personal meeting at station WMAL.

Winchell has repeatedly criticized Dies' investigations as falling to bring evidence against those guilty of un-American activities. Dies had threatened to subpoena the columnist.

As a result, The Jergens Company, Winchell's sponsor, provided radio time for Dies following Winchell's regular Sunday night broadcast, after the Texan accepted Winchell's invitation to reply to the criticisms.

In his broadcast Winchell repeated every statement he had made about Dies, although repeating none of them last night, and challenged Dies to subpoena him, take his complaints into open court, or waive immunity so Winchell could go into court.

In his reply, Dies charged Winchell with "being used" by what he called "one of the most sinister forces in the American scene." He identified the force as "a highly organized and well-financed enterprise to destroy by vilification the character of any public man who gets in the way of the objectives of the groups who manage and finance this offensive."

Meeting in the lobby of the radio station they had spoken from separately, the two men entered into a brief verbal exchange.

"Let's get together and tell some more lies about each other," jibed Winchell.

"I'd have to go some to get even," Dies replied.

OPA Eliminates Expiration Dates On Food Stamps

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—The office of price administration said today it was eliminating the expiration dates on both red and blue food rationing stamps from now on.

A spokesman said the plan was in line with the policy already adopted on shoes and sugar, to prevent buying rushes just before the coupons expired.

Another factor, it was stated, was the tendency of consumers to cash in their unspent ration stamps for tokens, which do not have expiration dates—thus creating a heavy drain on the supply of new plastic ration currency.

The formal order will be issued probably this afternoon. OPA's regional offices, notified of the impending change in policy, were told over the week end to hold up any announcement, however, at least three OPA field offices, including that at Dallas, apparently failed to get the second message and made public the first.

Under some new change occurs, OPA's decision will make the currently valid red and blue stamps in ration book four good for an indefinite period. Red stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8 and F8 were due to go out May 20 and red stamps G8, H8 and J8 on June 18. Blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8, were dated as good only through May 20, while blue stamps F8, G8, H8, J8 and K8 which become valid April 1 were originally scheduled to expire June 20.

1,700 U. S. Planes Rip Up Invasion Coast

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor

Russian artillery shelled the soil of Rumania proper within 190 miles of the Ploesti oil fields today after the Red army had advanced to the narrow Prut river on a 53-mile front.

While the broken German armies of the southeast reeled further back into the troubled Balkans, heavy British bombers in very great strength dumped 2,240 tons of explosives on Essen, the Ruhr home of the Krupp works. Others hammered the German rubber center of Hannover and other rich targets in the German E-boat nests at Conzra in Belgium. Only nine bombers were lost.

In daylight yesterday, 1,700 American planes beat up the French and Dutch coasts, pounded the Pas-de-Calais invasion area, shot up airfields around Paris and bombed the German E-boat nests at Conzra in Holland. The U. S. lost five bombers and one fighter.

Artillery duels were reported at Cassino in central Italy where the third Allied offensive had bogged down. The Germans shelled the Anzio beachhead and sent two small raiding parties against the center of the Allied line.

Slaughter Germans

Russian armies had liberated great chunks of the fertile Ukraine in time for spring planting, but more important, they were slaughtering the fleeing Germans by the thousands. The soviet communique announced that Larnopol and Kamenetz Podolsk were surrounded and the dozens of garrisons were being chopped up in street fighting.

Probably some Russian units already have tried for spring planting, but more important, they were slaughtering the fleeing Germans by the thousands. The soviet communique announced that Larnopol and Kamenetz Podolsk were surrounded and the dozens of garrisons were being chopped up in street fighting.

London regarded a German defense of Odessa, last Jarkie Russia's city still in German hands, as doomed. Prime Minister Churchill in his address Sunday, said of Russian victories:

"The guts of the German army have been largely torn out by Russian valor and generalship."

The war has been the many false alarms, feints and dress rehearsals before invasion, when "the whole circle of avenging nations will turn themselves on the foe and batter out the life of the cruellest tyranny which has ever sought to bar the progress of mankind."

Marshal Tito said his Yugoslav Partisans supported the Allies' planes, warships and commandos had captured Hvar Island, 25 miles south of Split. Others were said to be harassing enemy communications into Hungary.

Dallas Slips To Third in Texas

By The Associated Press

A merger of the Central and end all mergers was before the people of Dallas and Fort Worth today, with nobody taking it seriously.

A week ago, Dallas awakened to find it had slipped from second to third place in the roster of Texas cities.

NEW YORK, March 27—(AP)—FBI agents, army intelligence and police today were searching for 22-year-old Valma Matthal, daughter of John Matthal, wealthy Bombay, India, industrialist, who disappeared from her residence here a week ago.

Police said the girl, who came here last September to attend the business school at Columbia university, was last seen about 4:50 a. m., March 20, leaving the elevator of the International House, a residence here on Riverside drive used by foreign students.

Matthal is head of the Tata Chemical company of Bombay and has held several posts in the Indian government.

Retired Sinclair Head Dies In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., March 27—(Monday)—J. V. McMahan, 62, retired president of the old Sinclair oil and gas company, died suddenly early today of a heart attack. McMahan was known to intimates as "the poet laureate of the oil industry."

'Baseball' Hail Storm Has Memphis Groggy

MEMPHIS, March 27—(AP)—A groggy, panicky Memphis began recovering today from the effects of a hail bombardment which broke hundreds of windows, caused other extensive property and crop damage and sent at least eight persons to the hospital with injuries.

The freak hailstorm, "sounding like a freight train," struck the city early last night, raining hailstones as large as baseballs through windows, roofs and automobile windshields. Weather bureau officials said many of the stones measured seven to eight inches in circumference.

There Are Several Things That Proposed 'Streamliner' Tax Measure Will NOT Do, Even Though It Does Simplify

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP)—Congress will take great strides toward simplifying the federal income tax if, as expected, it passes the "streamliner" proposal now being cooked up.

It's designed to eliminate most of the complications for 40,000,000 of the nation's 90,000,000 income taxpayers.

However, before the enthusiasm gets too high, let's note some of the things the proposed law will NOT do.

1. It won't reduce your taxes unless you have more than two children or other dependents. Some persons, particularly childless couples, will be nicked for more money.

2. It won't excuse you from paying the first half of the federal income tax if, as expected, it passes the "streamliner" proposal now being cooked up.

3. It won't excuse you from filing an annual tax report—but in the average case this will be simply the slip you get from your boss showing how much he's paid you and how much was taken out for tax. For others, the forms will be a lot simpler than in the past.

4. It won't eliminate the requirement of declarations of estimated 1944 tax by April from 15,000,000 taxpayers who aren't on regular wages or salaries, or who earn more than $2,700 if single or $3,500 for a married couple, or who have more than $100 of outside income in addition to wages or salaries. But few persons would have to file declarations next year.

The proposed law would replace the present setup with two taxes:

1. A "normal" tax of 3 per cent of each person's income over $500 (regardless of marital status).

2. A "surtax" starting at a rate of 20 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income after exemptions of $500 for each person dependent on this income (husband, wife, children, other dependents).

On each tax, a person automatically would get deductions amounting to 10 per cent of income up to $5,000; automatic deductions would be $500 on incomes of $5,000 up. If he had more legal deductions, he could get them by writing them on his return.

The internal revenue bureau would figure the tax for anyone with wages or salaries up to $5,000, provided he had less than $100 additional income—and send a bill or a refund if due.

Starting next year, the whole amount of tax would be withheld on wages and salaries up to $5,000. For those who aren't on wages or salaries, the tax would be collected by the Internal Revenue Service.

Oil Operators Talk Over Drafting of Men

HOUSTON, Texas, March 27—(AP)—Texas and Louisiana oil operators and drilling contractors met here today with government officials to discuss how the drafting of additional men from their crews will affect exploration work.

George A. Hill, Jr., chairman of the production committee for district three of the petroleum administration for war, called the meeting.

Representatives of the labor council's office of PAV will tabulate information secured for selective service headquarters in Austin and New Orleans.

I SAW . . .

That deserted village about the city hall and court house today, with three offices closed on the third floor, of the court house, the county rationing board with a noticeable lack of customers; Judge White alone in his office; and over at the city hall, only two persons in the city police department. Upstairs, the city hall was as quiet as a library.

Church of Saint Teresa Escapes German Shells

By GEORGE TUCKER
NAPLES, March 27.—(Delayed)—There is a church at Anzio known as the Church of Saint Teresa. The Italians say the hand of God is on it. No shell or bomb fragment has ever touched it. The other night three enlisted men were caught in a raid and tried to get to it for shelter. They were picked up in the street almost in the shadow of the church, and there were shell marks all over the vicinity, but Saint Teresa still stands.

To appreciate Anzio it is necessary to remember that the beachhead is shaped like a fan, the handle of which is a sort of funnel. The Germans are spread out all around the fan and their idea of fun is to see how many shells they can pour through the funnel.

Naturally, there are a lot of buildings at the end of the funnel and when you pour artillery fire into a bunch of buildings some of them are going to be hit.

Right now the big argument on the beach is whether those shells have a "booster" charge that explodes while they're still on their way, or whether it is a vacuum that gives off that scratching noise as they pass over your head. The subject is very controversial, and old friends have become bitter over the point.

I wouldn't pretend to know which it is, but I do know they always walk until they're right over your head before they do whatever it is they do.

During dinner the other night some captain from Boston told Ernie Pyle he knew it was vacuum. "Well," said Pyle, "it's the first time I ever saw a vacuum throw straw."

We eat well on the beachhead. Some of the mess sergeants come up with the most unpredictable menus. The other day I was out with a tank destroyer outfit commanded by Maj. Edward L. Austin, son of Senator Warren Austin of Burlington, Vt.

Austin looked at me and said, "you like meat? I mean meat that's real fresh?" When I nodded he went on.

"It's a funny thing there are cows on this beachhead. Sometimes they get killed. In spite of anything you can do some cows just won't keep out of the way of bullets."

With light hearts we strolled over to mess tent hidden in a grain field and ate all the fresh meat we could hold.

The front lines on the beach are pretty close together, so close the men on both sides can talk to each other. But they don't dare lift their heads above ground level.

One of the boys wasn't feeling so good and asked an army doctor to look at his throat.

"I think I've got diphtheria," the boy said.

"No, son," the doctor said, peering into the throat. "You haven't got diphtheria."

A German across the way yelled "the hell he hasn't." That's how close the lines are.

More Texas Oil To Be Needed in War Effort

Texas oil fields, and the oil fields of other states, will be called on for more oil than ever before according to a circular issued by William R. Boyd, Jr., President of the American Petroleum Institute, of which the Panhandle chapter is an affiliate.

Every day, 600,000 barrels of oil, one-third of America's total production, is being taken by the military.

Every oil well in the United States must produce each day an average of three barrels of oil for war, and may soon have to produce four barrels for combat purposes.

This nation is producing four times as much 100-octane gasoline as it did in December, 1941, but more oil is needed as the nation produces more bombers, tanks, and other mechanized weapons.

An 855-plane attack on Vegesack and Bremen burned 25,000 gallons of lubricating oil and a million gallons of gasoline. If those 855 planes were A card holders, they could drive for 11 years on that amount.

By RUTH MILLETT Don't forget that WACS, WAVES and SPARS also like to eat, you women who have been so hospitable about entertaining servicemen in your homes.

The girls say that since they are doing men's jobs they seem to have acquired men's love of a good hearty meal—but that civilian women don't realize the fact.

And so, when a girl is lucky enough to be invited out, she often finds that her hostess has prepared a bridge-luncheon-for-the-girls type of meal for her, when what she would like to have is a man's meal.

The same thing happens when a woman's organization decides to entertain a group of service girls. The menu is pretty and dainty but often so unappetizing that the guests have to go out and eat afterwards.

APETITES NOT FEMINE The woman who really wants to do something for the girls in uniform can't do better than to invite them to her home for dinner, and then see that they have the kind of meal she would plan for her son if he were home on leave.

Of course, the girls will be more appreciative than a man would be of the flowers on the table and of the fancy new dessert the hostess is trying for the first time.

But for the most part they'll enjoy just what a man doing their work would enjoy.

That may not make the girls sound feminine. But they say there is nothing in the least feminine about their appetites since they have started working as hard as men.

LUBBOCK FLYER KILLED

LUBBOCK, March 27—(AP)—Flight Officer Albert C. Wyatt of Houston was killed and Wight Officer Ernest E. Gill of Fence Lake, N. M., critically injured in the crash of a South Plains Army Air Field plane.

Hey, there, Mr. Applegate!

What's this about sharing our party line?

Mary'd been holding the watch on me. She said I talked eighteen minutes. And I'm the boy who's been complaining. I honestly thought we never got to use our party-line telephone.

Right then and there Mary and I decided that telephone service has to be shared these days just like food and gasoline and other things. Decided we'd do our part. Not talk too long. Allow plenty of time between calls. Give other people time to finish theirs.

The idea caught on... sort of contagious. There's telephone room for all of us... now that we're sharing our party line.

160-Pound Rookie Card Batting Star

By TED MEIER
 NEW YORK, March 27.—(AP)—He's just a little fellow, but rookie outfielder Augie Bergano, of Detroit, showed the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday he can hit.
 The 160-pounder, who sparked Columbus to victory in the Little World Series last fall, poked two triples to right center to help the National League champs beat the fourth-ferrying group from Memphis, 10-3, at Cairo, Ill. Altogether he batted in four runs after he replaced Johnny Hopp in right field.
 Meantime the world champion New York Yankees received word at Atlantic City that two more 1943 regulars—pitcher Ernie Bowman and shortstop Frankie Crosetti—had passed their pre-induction physical examinations.
 Wink Wyatt, star right hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, sent word to the Brooks' Bear Mountain, N. Y., camp that he had been reclassified 1-A and probably would be called soon for an examination.

News from Other Big League Camps
 LAKEWOOD, N. J.—Ace Adams, star relief pitcher, signed a Giant contract at what was termed a "substantial" increase in salary. He appeared in 70 games, a record, last year.
 FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Orval Groves pitched well for White Sox in exhibition against Detroit. Yielded only four hits, no runs in three-inning stretch.
 FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Manager Jimmy Wilson, of Cubs, gave this probable lineup against Reds tomorrow, other than pitcher and catcher: Bill Schuster, ss; Don Johnson, 2b; Phil Cavaretta, 1b; Ival Goodman, 1b; Bill Nicholson, rf; Ed Pete Eiko or Peanut Lowery, cf; Tony York, 3b.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Washington regulars drove out nine hits in six inning intra-camp tussle, most against Early Wynn and Mickey Haefer.
 LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Cleveland workhorses chomped from morning to afternoon: Team disappointed that game with Pirates rained out.
 BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Pitcher Ray Starr, Red holdout, scheduled to talk terms with General Manager Warren Giles and may join club.
 WALLINGFORD, Conn.—Braves still working out indoors, but Manager Bob Coleman hopeful club will get outdoors this week.

THE FILLED UP HIS PEN AND WENT HOME

Eye Bites

By JIMMY DYKES
 Manager of Chicago White Sox
 My eye-popper was the most terrific inning in all World Series history—the seventh in the fourth game between the Cubs and Athletics at Shibe Park in 1929.
 I was playing third for the A's with Chicago leading 8-0, Charley Root appeared on his way to shutout when Philadelphia struck like an avalanche.
 In vain Joe McCarthy, Cub manager, rushed in to help.

Art Nehf, Sheriff Blake and Pat Malone to stop the onslaught. Fifteen men went to bat and the Athletics couldn't hold it. The holocaust ended—10 hits, a walk and a hit batsman.

I went to bat twice. The first trip I hit the first ball pitched for a single, scoring Jimmy Fox and shipping Bing Miller to second. On my second trip with the bases full, I hit a liner to left that Riggs Stephenson couldn't hold it. Went for a double, scoring Al Simmons and Fox with the winning runs. He won, 10-8.

Mission Schools To Renew Track Feud At Relays

AUSTIN, March 27.—(AP)—Two San Antonio high schools renew a bitter track feud next week-end at the annual Texas relays here.

Thomas Jefferson has filed entries for a 13-man team headed by its ace, Charley Parker, dash man who has won 43 consecutive races, and Brackenridge brings a 16-man team to the track and field carnival.

Thomas Jefferson edged Brackenridge out of the title in the high school division at the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock show track meet at Fort Worth by a scant half point.

Thus far 118 schools have entered 118 participants for the relay carnival. Director Clyde Littlefield announced today.

Service teams preponderate among entries in the combined university, college and service team division.

From Great Lakes naval training station will come Jerry Thompson, recently transferred by the navy from the University of Texas. He is track and field star.

Whether the meeting will result in tentative organization of the play-for-pay loop—to be operated as soon as two games a week part of the season, conditions permit—or whether only spade-work will be done remains indefinite.

Roland D. Payne, Pitts-burgh sportsman who arranged it, said today.

"We may elect officers and draw up a tentative constitution. That depends. But we definitely will lay the foundation for the league," he said.

Payne said representatives from New York, Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Washington, San Francisco, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Seattle, who have expressed a desire to obtain franchises in the new league, have said they would attend the meeting.

Under tentative plans, eastern and western divisions of the league would be set up, two games a week would be played in the first two months of the season, and all travel would be by air.

"Correspondence I have had with some of those interested in the league indicates that is the type of league they want," Payne said. "Of course, these tentative ideas may be changed before we are organized, or before we actually can put teams on the field."

Craig Wood Wins $5,000 Durham Open

DURHAM, N. C., March 27.—(AP)—Craig Wood's back is well again. He drove yesterday with a convincing 271 score in winning the $5,000 Durham open golf tournament.

It was the tournament for the 42-year-old blond from Mamaroneck, N. Y., since he discarded the famous brace the doctors made him wear when a lumpy sacroiliac threatened to end his career.

He won the national open and the Augusta masters this year wearing the brace.

While it was three curling puffs of 12 to 25 feet on the last five holes that got him his winning margin yesterday it was great wood play that put him in position to beat Byron Nelson. He said today he was satisfied he is right once more.

For Nelson, the pre-tournament favorite, it was just another case of a good score not being good enough. He shot rounds of 68-67-69-70 for 274 total.

"The regulars" dominated the first places, Jimmy Hines of Amsterdam, N. Y., came in with 276 and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., and Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia, the top money winner of the tour, tied for fourth at 280.

Sports Roundup

Mits Put Away By Texas Golden Gloves Champion

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
 NEW YORK, March 27.—(AP)—To fill dull training days, the Giants and Dodgers are working up another feud, this time over Branch Rickey's statement that Brooklyn players who "beaten and worn major league uniforms could whip a similar team of Giants, providing he could play Stetich Schultz at first.

Horace Stoneham, manager of the Dodgers, is claiming Buddy Kerr as an antidote to Schultz, has gone so far as to name a lineup and offers to play it against Tom Batts as a preliminary to one of the Red Cross games, April 13.

What's their hurry? By mid season, those guys probably will be the regulars.

Post-War Air Borne Football League Proposed

By JAMES JORDAN
 Pittsburgh, March 27.—(AP)—A post-war "air-borne" transcontinental professional football league, playing two games a week part of the season, is the aim of a group of sportsmen representing at least 10 cities who will gather here April 2 to discuss organizational problems.

Whether the meeting will result in tentative organization of the play-for-pay loop—to be operated as soon as two games a week part of the season, conditions permit—or whether only spade-work will be done remains indefinite.

Roland D. Payne, Pitts-burgh sportsman who arranged it, said today.

"We may elect officers and draw up a tentative constitution. That depends. But we definitely will lay the foundation for the league," he said.

Payne said representatives from New York, Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Washington, San Francisco, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Seattle, who have expressed a desire to obtain franchises in the new league, have said they would attend the meeting.

Under tentative plans, eastern and western divisions of the league would be set up, two games a week would be played in the first two months of the season, and all travel would be by air.

"Correspondence I have had with some of those interested in the league indicates that is the type of league they want," Payne said. "Of course, these tentative ideas may be changed before we are organized, or before we actually can put teams on the field."

Mits Put Away By Texas Golden Gloves Champion

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 27.—(AP)—The handsome giant who put sock and glamor into the Golden Gloves won't be donning the mitts again any time soon but it's generally agreed that when he does he'll have plenty of fellows rushing forward to back him in a championship quest.

Orlan W. Ott, 212 pounds of masculine pulchritude and with nitro in his fists, is the first heavyweight fighter to win a National Golden Gloves title under the Texas banner. But when he finished up at Chicago, that was that for the 6-foot-3, 32-year-old son of an Iowa farmer.

In his own opinion, he has hung up the gloves for the duration. He is anxious to complete his cadet training and now is nearing the end of his navigation course at Chase Field, Beaville, auxiliary station to the Corpus Christi naval air training center.

His immediate objective is to win two games a week part of the season. Ott never put on the gloves until he was a 17-year-old senior at Hartley, Iowa, high school. That same year he went to the quarter-finals of the National Golden Gloves tournament.

The following year he went to the semi-finals, then the boxing career went into an eclipse. In 1943 the rule that a man could enter Golden Gloves competition only two years in the same weight division was rescinded and Ott was about to enter the tournament at Sioux City when called to the service.

He was sent to Pasco, Wash., for primary training and next was ordered to the Corpus Christi center. This was the first year for a district gloves tournament to be held in Corpus Christi and about a week before the bouts, Ott decided to enter.

Something for the Voters

Here is unquestionably the prime man-bites-dog item of the moment: The bureaucrats are accusing our economy-minded Congress of being wasteful and extravagant with a change of political boondoggling through in for good measure. All the fuss really started last June, when Congress passed a bill appropriating for a large reprint of the 1942 Agriculture Yearbook. There has not been an edition of that monumental volume in two years. Congress refused to appropriate any more money for it in 1943, what with the paper shortage and all. Of course, there's a paper shortage this year, too, but—well, may we say, it's a thing to do with the elections coming up.

Anyway, the legislators apparently decided that this would be a good time to remember the electorate back home with a little something. So they slipped a yearbook appropriation of $178,000 into the June fiscal parade. The fact that the bill was charged, not to Congress as is the custom, but to the Department of Agriculture only makes it all the more confusing.

The whole thing seems to have brought the Agriculture Department and the Government Printing Office to a slow boil. There have been mutterings about such things as these: The 1942 Agriculture Yearbook presumably has been sent out to constituents once already, and there are around 45,000 of these volumes left over, which, since they are outdated, will probably wind up in the waste paper salvage drive.

Congress has ordered 231,250 copies, the maximum number allowed by the law. That is 550 for each senator, and 400 for each representative. Each book contains 1296 pages; total paper requirement, 440 tons. The order also would require 40,000 yards of high-priority blue vellum for the covers.

Every one of the book's chapters, some 200 of them, is already available in pamphlet form. The bid is reported between $75,000 and $100,000 above the amount appropriated. Well, our Congress is a great and valuable and indispensable institution. So is our custom of quadrennial elections. But sometimes their zodiacal conjunction produces the damnest results.

There is a relatively small force of New Zealanders with the Allied armies in Italy, but they are the kind of soldiers who keep finding their way into the news. They fought all the way from El Alamein to Cap Bon.

Almost all the original members of this New Zealand outfit have become casualties. But there must still be some soldiers for whom we can all be thankful, without detracting from the bravery of our own.

A STRIKE THE LABOR DRAFT DIDN'T STOP
(The Chicago Tribune)
More than 100,000 coal miners in Britain went on strike. Coal production had been reduced seriously by a slowdown attributed to the fact that, while minimum wages recently were increased, piece work rates were not raised. The miners contend that they can get the minimum wages without they work hard or not, while skilled workers, because of the lower piece work rates, can boost their pay by only a negligible amount by producing more.

U. S. Chamber President

Confused

Eric A. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is very much confused. In a speech at Boston the other night in regard to union labor he said, "Right now you're just where we of management were ten years ago."

If there was ever a statement that is not true, it is that statement, Mr. Johnston cannot name a single law that management had ten years ago that discriminated against other citizens. Many laws can be named that now give union labor rights the employer never had.

Union labor is not in the place that management was ten years ago because it has laws that give it rights without responsibilities. There is all the difference in the world between the position of union labor now and management ten years ago.

Union labor is permitted to combine and punish and fine some time to remember the electorate back home with a little something. So they slipped a yearbook appropriation of $178,000 into the June fiscal parade.

The Worst Kind of Government Competition
Government competition against private business has crept upon us so gradually that we do not realize its dangers. It started many years ago.

The most important business in America, or in any country, is the education of the youth of the land. Government competition has largely driven private educational institutions for the younger youth out of business. It is driving the educational institutions for the older groups out of business.

And when the government controls our educational system it is only a question of time until it competes with every other line of private business and drives it to the wall.

Yes, the worst kind of government competition is our state schools. It leads to competition every other line. also has coal strikes. The slavery bill is not needed in this country, nor would it be effective in stopping strikes. It is an act to put every civilian worker in the country in a position where he could be regimented and punished for his political opinions by an administration bent on following the totalitarian government on the United States.

Around Hollywood

By ESKINE JOHNSON

Male dressmakers are a little out of our line but when one of them shows up in Hollywood after working as a waiter in a New York hotel for six months it is time to brush up on hemstitching.

In pre-war London and Paris, Ray Driscoll designed clothes for the Duchess of Kent, Lady Castlemead, Mrs. Frank Buck, Diana Churchill and Magda Lupescu. He has the sketches to prove it.

For Diana Churchill he designed a gown with a gold leopard peaking in at the bust. The dress was brought up the stairs by the Frank Buck there was a little number featuring a man's garter, dyed gold, which she wore on the sleeve.

All his gowns, were like that, he said. "Lady-like but witty." Anyway, after war broke out Driscoll returned to New York. He'd been gone five years. People didn't remember him. About a week he went to work as a waiter at the Hotel Pierre.

"It was funny," said 27-year-old Driscoll, a lot of people I knew in London and Paris were living there. They sort of rediscovered me."

Within a few weeks there were going-on such as no hotel had ever seen. Friends would invite Ray Driscoll out to lunch at the Colony Club or some other smart restaurant and then he'd come back to the hotel in the evening and serve some of the same friends their dinner.

CELEBRITY'S CELEBRITY
The local newspapers got hep, he became a celebrity. They took photographs, columns followed his movements.

Then one evening he delivered an order to the Baroness Kurt von Pantz in her room. She insisted that he remain and have dinner with her. "But it's a little irregular," protested Ray.

"The presence of so many national political reporters and other newsmen as we are in a position to help him. Most of them accompanied W. W. on his special train four years ago. They respond to his charm and in his corner ever since.

When he visits the capital, they usually tender him a dinner or cocktail party at which he talks off the record. He has a number of friends in the name fellowship club which proved so advantageous to Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover, Alfred E. Smith and the present occupant of the White House.

"ROOM SERVICE"
Driscoll was in room service at the Pierre. "You see some funny things in room service," he said. The funniest was when he was serving a film studio boss in his room. "He ordered steak and asparagus," Driscoll said. "I served the steak first and then the asparagus. There were three pieces of asparagus left on my serving plate and I started to put them back in the little stove we carried to keep things hot. The studio boss yelled, 'Oh, no you don't. Bring that back. I ordered it and I'm going to get it.'"

Now determined to make a name for himself in Hollywood, Driscoll hopes to do something about the ladies' lunch driven private educational institutions for the younger youth out of business. It is driving the educational institutions for the older groups out of business.

Peter Edson's Column: REPORT ON NEW ERA OF MAGNESIUM
By PETER EDSON
The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

First full report of the American people on the production of the new, war-born magnesium industry is contained in a special report of the Senate Truman committee investigating National Defense Production, which has just been released.

In 1939 only 3350 tons of magnesium were manufactured in the United States, 2100 tons of which were sold to Germany and Japan. In 1943 U. S. production was 195,000 tons and for 1944, estimated at 285,500 tons. This tremendous increase is one of the production miracles of the war, but it also points towards the possible uses for this production after the war, in what has frequently been hailed as the coming "light metals revolution."

Some 46,000 tons of this year's production of magnesium are being set aside for a War Department experimental program to find new uses for the metal, especially in aircraft.

Development of magnesium production in the U. S. has been involved by 10 years of legal battling, on which the Truman Committee has now thrown new light and makes some new conclusions tending to absolve the two principal pre-war American producers, Dow Chemical and American Magnesium Development Corporation—the last two being Aluminum Company of America subsidiaries—of much of

MAYBE IT'S HERE: Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

The FBI found it necessary to move in on the growing abuses resulting from the wartime liquor shortage. Both blacking and black marketing have increased alarmingly. It is none too soon for the federal sleuths to lend their help to the limited forces of local authorities and the limited authority of the OPA in curbing these evils.

However you may feel about prohibition, this wartime shortage has reiterated the lessons taught us by the 18th amendment. People who want to drink will do so, laws, shortages or high prices notwithstanding.

Snoutage or absence of legally manufactured and distributed liquor brings an augmented supply through illegal channels. These illegal channels pay rich dividends, and invite criminal competition which will stop at nothing to control them.

Republican Chairman Harrison Spangler has urged political convention fans to stay away from the party's Chicago meeting in June. With travel and hotel accommodations what they are, the request will probably be heeded.

But Stalin didn't collapse. The Reds struck the Hungarians such a blow that two-thirds of the Second Army division was wiped out. The remainder was so badly mauled that Budapest censors even now refuse to tell what happened to it.

MUNICH—The result was internal dissension. Liberals, Smallholders, Social Democrats and other factions openly debated in parliament the last legions be brought home. The Peace party, chiefly farmers, recently flooded the country with anti-German leaflets exhorting "Sell no products. Pay no taxes. Refuse to serve in the armed forces."

Frightened by this uprising the cabinet has used pure management for additional aid. Then Hitler retaliated. Today's occupation is an extension of the Nazi control. The Banat section has been under Nazi civil administration for months.

Strong Brownshirt garrisons have been long established in the Novi Sad sector. War Today

One of the most remarkable and significant events of the week-end was the complete absence yesterday of any defense by German warplanes during the widespread assaults on western Europe by 1,700 American and British planes.

Yankee Thunderbolts even attacked Nazi airdromes within sight of Paris without bringing a single Hitlerite fighter off the ground. Now that's an amazing failure for Hitler's great Luftwaffe which has ruled Europe, and it undoubtedly had the Allied air chiefs in London with their heads together last night.

The answer to this strange development is of the utmost importance to us; and one which shouldn't be jumped at. We should be most unwise, it seems to me, to let the Luftwaffe get a foothold in the east. The Luftwaffe has been vastly reduced in strength by losses in battle and through Allied bombing.

There has been such wholesale destruction of Nazi warplane factories that Hitler no longer can replace his losses. The Luftwaffe has been reduced in strength by losses in battle and through Allied bombing.

London said since January 1 Germany's twin-engine fighter production had been cut 60 per cent and single engine production reduced 80 per cent by bombing. Since then there has been further heavy destruction of German warplane factories. Also the tally of casualties among Nazi planes has been great.

Meanwhile, the American and British air forces have been growing apace. Premier Churchill in his broadcast yesterday called attention to the fact that United States air power in Britain now exceeds that of the Royal Air Force. He predicted that the two forces would produce results "which will certainly be of enormous advantage to the cause of the Allies."

had been in the gulch. He could make out the forms of low trees silhouetted against the sky. But it was too dark to carry on his hunt. Damn the calves. He would go back to the house now.

He was about to turn north when he heard a sound. At first he thought it was the bawling of a distant calf. Then it was clearer. It was a human voice.

"Quick, quick!" it said. Startled, the man looked in the direction of the sound. He could see nothing. He moved to the fence, grasping the strand of top wire, peering into the darkness beyond.

"Hello," the man yelled. "Hello, who's there?" "Quick, come quickly," the voice replied.

THE man crawled between the wires and followed the voice at a rapid pace. In a moment he could make out a dark form. It was standing at the side of the dusty country road which skirted the low, breaking hills. When the man reached the side of the dim figure, in the darkness he could see but few features. Whoever the person was, he was of average height. He was not emaciated, but the unusual size of his head made his body look thin to a point of weakness. And when he came upon him, this illusion was exaggerated for the shoulders appeared weary of their task. They were slouched forward, the neck bent. Both hands were over the face.

"What's the matter?" the farmer asked. "I don't know," came a hoarse voice. (To Be Continued)
