Stevenson Asks Re-election

Governor To Seek Second Regular Term

AUSTIN, March 23—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today announced his candidacy for Democratic re-nomination.

The governor will be seeking his second regular term. As lieutenant governor he became governor in succession to W. Lee O'Daniel in August, 1941, when O'Daniel took his seat in the United States senate. Stevenson was the Democratic nominee for governor in 1942 and was elected to a full term in the general election of that year.

His announcement, long expected was made at press conference.

Puffing a briar pipe, Stevenson looked out the window, observed that the sun was shining and remarked:

"Well this looks like a good day to file notice of my candidacy with Charley Simons."

Simons is secretary of the state Democratic executive committee.

Answering a question the governor said he would have no platform, adding:

"I have gained the impression everywhere I go that most people appreciate the efforts made in my administration toward balancing the budget."

He was referring to the reduction in the general fund deficit which has dropped from $33,800,000 in 1941 to approximately $12,000,000.

The rate of reduction has increased in the last calendar year and may be expedited even more if courts allow transfer of unused special fund balances to the general fund. The transfers were authorized in legislation recommended by Stevenson but are now involved in litigation.

The last legislature reduced general fund appropriations in line with Stevenson's recommendations for reductions consistent with efficiency.

The governor estimated the general fund deficit may decrease to $5,000,000 by next year.

No new taxes have been recommended or voted during his administration.

The governor declared that a balanced budget was all the more imperative in view of the fact that states necessarily must increase appropriations in the postwar period. This is to provide for new buildings and repairs blocked by wartime priorities and for salary increases, he said. He estimated a general salary increase of 15 per cent for state workers would cost about $2,000,000 a year.

Stevenson said he planned no formal address, by radio or otherwise to announce his candidacy for re-nomination.

Ample Petroleum Supply Is Seen

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 23—(AP)—Belief that the world will have an adequate petroleum supply for many years, at least until the "year 2026," was expressed today by two representatives of the oil industry.

Walter L. Faust, vice president of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., and John D. Gill, economist of the Atlantic Refining Co., outlined their views in speeches prepared for some 300 industry and government representatives attending an oil-war conference of the Empire State Petroleum association.

Faust noted that "there are enormous reserves in Latin America" and "very large supplies of natural gas which can be converted into oil products."

"We have," he added, "something like three trillion tons of coal and an uncalculated number of tons of oil shale which can also be converted at a higher cost."

"Considering all these things, I still have to admit that there is going to be a crude oil shortage in this country."

Return of Exclusive Authority To Regulate Oil Industry Asked

AUSTIN, March 23—(AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has asked governors of 12 other states to join Texas in a movement seeking return of the "sovereign right" of exclusive regulations in spacing, drilling and producing oil and gas wells.

In a proposed resolution sent by the governor to other member states of the interstate oil compact commission which meets at New Orleans April 3 and 4 President Roosevelt is petitioned to leave these rights with the states rather than with the petroleum administration for war.

The essential need for the PAW, is about removed and more wells will be drilled and more oil produced under state control, the resolution declares.

Copies of the document were sent to the governors of Kansas, Illinois, Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana, Michigan, New York, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Kentucky with a letter from Stevenson declaring in part:

"It is my thought that as restrictions become unnecessary they should be promptly dropped to the end that our oil and gas development may be encouraged in every way possible."

The burden of the resolution—to be offered at the compact commission meeting by the governor and the three members of the Texas railroad commission, oil and gas regulatory body—is that PAW was created primarily to meet the emergency need of allocating steel to war training and materials construction, a need that has virtually disappeared and PAW requirements as to hearings, applications and reports should be relaxed in states with adequate regulatory authorities created by state law.

It added:

Ground Forces Take 36,000 From Air Arm

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Two branches of the aviation industry—transport and engine manufacturing—today spoke up for continued draft deferments for young skilled employees, asserting both cases that more than four of the technical workers were under 27 years of age.

Meanwhile there were these other developments in the turbulent military and civilian manpower situation:

1) The army announced the transfer to ground duty of 36,000 young men who had been earmarked for the air arm for general shortage of ground forces.

2) A high military official reported that draft boards had been called for 12 months to meet the calls of the armed forces and asserted that "the time has arrived when we must have the fighting men we need."

3) Plans were made for congressional inquiry into charges that the draft has been used as a lever to force farmers into government agricultural programs.

In transferring the 36,000 candidates for flight training to ground duty the air forces also announced new enlistments of 17-year-olds in the air corps enlisted reserve had been temporarily suspended. However, training of those already enlisted will continue and their reserve enlistments will be resumed at a future date. Applications may still be filed by the 17-year-olds during the suspension.

Parties Battle For Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 23—(AP)—Oklahoma's second district congressional campaign moved into the final stage today, with Senator E. H. Moore declaring a Republican triumph might bring the fourth term movement to an end.

The contest, watched nationally as a barometer of 1944 political sentiment, is between Republican E. O. Clark and Democrat W. G. Stigler. The election in the normally Democratic district will be held Tuesday.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex.), an outspoken New Deal critic, will follow Moore into the district today. He is scheduled to address a Clark rally at Muskogee tonight, although he said he was speaking merely against the New Deal and not necessarily for the candidate.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will speak for Stigler Monday at Okmulgee and Muskogee.

Moore took time to criticize Barkley in his address, declaring the senate majority leader's "brave and courageous stand" on President Roosevelt's tax bill was nullified "under pressure and fear when he sent 'his trucking letter' to the White House."

Please Help Your News Boy

It is very important that all subscribers pay their Pampa News carrier by the week instead of each month. Due to the manpower shortage older carriers have quit their routes and taken jobs formerly held by men. This leaves the average carrier much younger than boys we formerly used. These younger carriers must have the full co-operation of their subscribers in order that they make their profit each week.

Therefore The News is asking all subscribers to please pay their carrier either on Friday evening or Saturday morning. This will allow the younger and less experienced carrier to earn his profit each week, and assure you of maintaining a carrier in your vicinity. Thank you.

Road Center Of Imphal Endangered

(By The Associated Press)

Japanese columns invading India now threaten Imphal, key road center in Manipur, from the south and east, it was disclosed today when Allied headquarters at New Delhi told of an enemy force which has driven more than 80 miles up the lower Manipur river valley from Tiddim in the Chin hills area.

The headquarters statement said the column was 30 miles from Imphal.

This report of a second invasion of India within 24 hours by the Japanese ran counter to previous reports of activity in the Tiddim area, where earlier announcements indicated the enemy was confined within the Burma borders.

Yesterday's report said an Allied force had been dispatched to deal with Japanese outflanking units north of Tiddim, but gave no hint that the enemy had slammed 80 miles into India from the south as well as from the east.

The eastern Japanese invasion force was also reported about 30 miles away from Imphal.

The rice paddies of the Imphal plain would be readily adaptable to airstrips. If the Japanese have the planes available to use them.

When and if the fighting breaks into the open plain, the Allied air superiority against the almost non-existent or carefully husbanded Japanese air strength in this theater is expected to play a heavy role.

Japanese pressure appeared to be growing along the whole Burma front, although headquarters here said Allied troops were converging on the enemy invasion columns in India.

Japanese activity was especially noticeable to the south on the coastal plain below Maungdaw in Arakan and in the western foothills of the Mayu mountain range, the commune said, with Allied bombers and fighters maintaining a ceaseless offensive against objectives in these areas, as well as positions in the Chinwind valley, the Chin hills and Kaladan.

In north Burma, Chinese forces were engaged in heavy fighting in northern part of the Mogaung valley after conquest of the Hukawng valley, where Japanese shipping Japanese forces northeast of Shaduzup.

There was little information in the Allied war bulletin concerning the Japanese shipping and air penetration of India. It merely stated:

"In the Somra hill tracts the operations which were reported yesterday against the Japanese column which has crossed the Chinwind valley, are continuing."

In the Southwest Pacific, the Bismarck sea, rapidly becoming a graveyard for Japanese shipping, claimed three more enemy ships. Allied headquarters today listed one destroyer and two small cargo ships sunk off the New Guinea coast near Aitape.

U. S., Finland Break Nearing

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—A break between the United States and Finland appeared today all but inevitable, the State Department said.

The only thing believed capable of preventing final diplomatic rupture would be some official word that peace negotiations between the Finns and Russia have not collapsed completely.

Hope that such word would be forthcoming was very slight to informed quarters here. Nonetheless, there was some reluctance to abandon all hope.

On excellent authority it can be said that the American policy toward Finland is based on the following principles:

The United States has maintained relations with the Finns despite the fact that they are Allies of Germany and enemies of Britain and Russia because American leaders thought that by so doing they would have more chance of getting Finland to quit the war.

When the point is reached where President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull decide this chance no longer exists, there will be no further reason for maintaining relations. One official said today that this point must now be considered almost at hand.

O'Daniel Protests 'A' Gasoline Cut

DALLAS, March 23—(AP)—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, (D-Texas) due to speak in Muskogee, Okla., tonight, told a Dallas News reporter he had received no response from Price Administrator Chester Bowles in reply to O'Daniel's protest of the reduction of "A" gasoline coupons.

(In Washington, the OPA said Bowles had telegraphed an answer to O'Daniel's protest but preferred that the Texas senator make it public.)

O'Daniel's public relations agent said that O'Daniel had sent a message of protest to Bowles on the basis that the reduction in the coupons would result in "utterly demoralizing war production and other essential business out here in Texas."

Senators Open Probe of Oil Line in Arabia

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—The senate's new 11-man oil committee today began an investigation to plan for a pipeline to transport oil products from the Persian gulf to the Mediterranean—a project determined by one senator as an attempt of the administration to get into the private oil business.

The criticism was made by Senator Moore (R-Okla.) of a program sponsored by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes.

Meanwhile, a report by a U. S. technical mission tells of enormous oil deposits in the locale of the proposed pipeline.

The report dated Feb. 1, four days before the Petroleum Reserve Corp. (PRC) announced the pipeline agreement, said that:

"The center of gravity of world oil production is shifting from the Gulf of Mexico-Caribbean area to the Persian gulf area and is likely to continue to shift until it is 'firmly established' there."

Oil reserves either actually proved or indicated by already-discovered fields in Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Qatar are between 25 and 27 billion barrels—comparable with United States reserves.

The three companies for whose oil the government intends to build a pipeline to the Mediterranean, and which have agreed to set aside a billion barrels for U. S. armed forces, are Standard of California, the Texas company and Gulf.

Britain Warns Balkans They Face Havoc

LONDON, March 23—(AP)—Maneuvering swiftly to caulk his Balkan dike against the Russian flood, Adolf Hitler appeared today to be about to kidnap the Rumanian government as already has abducted that of Hungary.

There were widespread reports that Premier Ion Antonescu of Rumania had been summoned to Hitler's presence as Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, had gone before him. There was speculation that Antonescu was likely to be kicked out because of German suspicions that he was involved in peace overtures toward the Soviet.

The British radio at once began broadcasting this warning to the Rumanians.

"Rumanian leaders have been called to Hitler's headquarters. If you oppose Germany, Germany will wreak vengeance on you, but if you oppose the Allies an even graver fate is in store. German transport is exposed and runs through Rumania. Concealed evidence of the desire to help the Allies now would be the first step toward Rumania's survival."

Germany's occupation of Rumania would be largely academic except as a measure for complete political control, for the country already is little more than a German camp area.

A German foreign office spokesman, according to a Berlin broadcast, "emphatically denied" that Horthy was being held prisoner, that Premier Nicholas Kallay had escaped to southern Hungary and had sent out an appeal for help from abroad, and that Yugoslav Marshal Tito had established contact with Hungarian forces.

In the first official Nazi announcement since German armed forces crossed Hungary's borders early Monday, the Berlin radio said yesterday a new government had been formed in Budapest under a Quisling premier and a German gaulite.

The fate of Hungary was an example for countries falling to fall in line as Hitler strove to build up an eastern wall of defense against the fast-moving Russians.

Dispatches from neutral capitals continued to refer to Bulgaria and Rumania as possibly next on Hitler's list for full military occupation and added another Slovakia, created from the carved-up state of Czechoslovakia.

A daily mail dispatch from Madrid said German airborne troops were seizing Bulgaria's railways and communications systems and had detained the Soviet ambassador and occupied the embassy in Sofia, Bulgaria and Rumania had remained at peace although on opposite sides in the world conflict.

Most informed quarters in London viewed Rumania as too weak to be other than docile, particularly since the advancing Russians are knocking against her Prut river border.

Dispatches from Ankara quoted rumors there that Rumania had promised Premier Ion Antonescu

Letuce Insecticide Blamed for Epidemic

BAY CITY, March 23—(AP)—Army authorities at San Antonio today were reported conducting laboratory tests of food, milk and water in an effort to determine the source of an epidemic which caused illness to about 2,000 persons here Sunday.

Samples were sent to nearby Camp Hulen and officials there forwarded them to San Antonio army headquarters for tests.

City and county health officials said they believed the epidemic was caused by insecticide poisoning placed on vegetables shipped here. The illness caused nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Mattress Cover

A MATTRESS COVER is a diabolical device designed by the quartermaster corps to cover the G. I. mattress. It is a long canvas sack that's supposed to be slid over the top of the mattress.

In some Army posts the MATTRESS COVER is the only object the soldier sees that resembles a sheet. Every week he has an epic struggle with it—a struggle that resembles the saddling of a bucking bronco. The soldier starts out calm, cool and collected and 15 minutes later winds up in a condition difficult to describe. It is not surprising to find a soldier who has been missing for several days all fouled up in his MATTRESS COVER in some remote corner of the barracks.

Congress Hears Plans for Big Postwar Jobs

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—A flock of postwar sign posts showed up on Capitol Hill this week, all pointing in the general direction of economic stability in the transition to peace.

C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corp., one of the nation's largest individual employers, told the house postwar committee his organization has it in mind to spend $600,000,000 in an expansion program, believing its after-the-war employment will be twice what it was before 1940.

John M. Hancock, co-author of the Baruch-Hancock postwar planning report, recommended to congress that America's synthetic rubber plants be kept intact after the war.

"I wouldn't dismantle a single rubber plant," he told the house banking committee, adding that the plants may be necessary to assure supply and reasonable prices.

A postwar road construction program four times as large as the $14,000,000,000 plan contemplated by the house roads committee was advocated by Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the American Road Builders Association. Upham told this committee:

"Total requirements of the federal aid system, secondary and feeder roads and city streets indicate an overall expenditure of approximately $16,500,000,000."

W. A. Roberts of Milwaukee vice president of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. said the road machinery industry is operating at full capacity and would be able to provide for a giant postwar road-building program.

State Opens Trial Against Lonergan

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—The prosecution charges that Wayne Lonergan rained blow after blow on the head of his rich young wife in a fatal attack in their fashionable apartment last Oct. 24 and that the attack was motivated by a determination to kill.

Opening the state's first-degree murder case against the 26-year-old RCAF airman Wednesday, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet declared that Lonergan's estranged wife tried vainly to defend herself even after her head had been fractured from blows as she lay in bed.

"But he (Lonergan) was determined to kill her," Grumet said. "He went after her, going around the bed, grabbed her around the throat with both hands and choked her until her body was lifeless."

Defense counsel Edward V. Broderick, in his opening, declared he would show that Lonergan had been the victim of "double-dealing, double-crossing and double-talk."

Ex-Texas Hurler Rejects Hospital To Remain With His Marine Outfit

CAPE GLOUCESTER, New Britain (Delayed)—(AP)—Though he was threatened by semi-paralysis of both legs from an illness contracted on Guadalcanal, Pfc. Robert W. Fincher, of Dalgierfield, Texas, a former professional baseball pitcher, chose to remain with his unit rather than be hospitalized when marine forces invaded Cape Gloucester Dec. 26.

The 22-year-old blond giant was in the thick of the swift four-day drive that resulted in the capture of the air field, and received a letter of commendation for his outstanding work.

Private Fincher was stricken with typhoid shortly before leaving Guadalcanal. He was unconscious when his unit arrived at a rest camp, and spent five months in a base hospital, his legs partially paralyzed.

Shortly before the invasion of Cape Gloucester, he was offered the opportunity to enter another hospital, but chose to remain with his unit, and was placed in charge of a machine gun squad.

He spent several days in a field hospital following the capture of the air field. Now he's back at his post on the front lines.

Fincher started his professional baseball career at 18, after pitching a Birmingham, Ala., team to the Southern division finals of the American Legion tournament, and was considered an outstanding major league prospect at the time of his enlistment Dec. 11, 1941.

He helped pitch the Gainesville, Fla., team to the Florida State league pennant in 1939, and moved up to New Orleans of the Southern association in midseason. The Cleveland club of the American league brought him up at the end of the season and he saw service in relief roles.

After floating around the minor leagues for two years, he attracted the attention of big league scouts by winning 11 games and losing three for Gainesville in 1941. His contract was purchased by Cincinnati of the National circuit.

"I still have a contract to pitch for Cincinnati the first year after the war is over," he disclosed.

Fincher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fincher, live in Dalgierfield.

"These should have been kept in secret archives of the patent office. They had been secret, but one admiral came along and thought there was no need for secrecy, and permitted them to be published."

The Traveler said that Hammond would not disclose the name of the admiral.

Classifying Wildcat Wells to Be Changed

DALLAS, March 23—(AP)—Dr. Frederic H. Lahee, chief geologist for the Sun Oil Co., told American geologists and geophysicists meeting here Wednesday of plans for changing the method of classifying wildcat wells in the oil industry and urged shooting the works in searching for petroleum deposits.

He said that with the possible exception of California, the system for identifying types of wells will be adopted by the oil industry standardization of terms can be developed.

R. D. Wockoff, president of exploration geophysicists, discounted to some extent the value of radar in finding petroleum, and declared that seismic methods had made no astounding record for finding oil in 1943 as compared to previous years.

Big Ship Building Earnings Are Reported

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—A congressional committee has received testimony that 19 companies operating shipyards which cost the government a total of $371,980,113 and in which the operators had a total capital investment of $22,897,276, earned fees totaling $174,984,051 as of Nov. 30, 1943.

Minimum remaining fees under existing contracts, the committee said, would bring their total earnings to $228,234,832, nearly 10 times their private capital investment.

A house merchant marine subcommittee headed by Rep. Capozzoli (D-N. Y.), named by Chairman Brand (D-Va.) of the full committee to investigate the question of profits in the maritime commission's shipbuilding program, received the figures from the committee's investigating staff.

Among those involved: Houston Shipbuilding Corp., Houston, Texas, cost to government $13,551,598; operator's investment, $889,203; fees to Nov. 30, $8,100,300; fees received plus minimum remaining fees, $10,250,300.

McCloskey and Co., operators of two yards, the San Jacinto, Texas, yard formerly operated by San Jacinto Shipbuilders, Inc., and the Tampa, Fla., yard, representing government costs of $2,864,895 and $6,236,794 respectively; operator's investment in both yards, $750,000; fees to Nov. 30, $39,775 and $127,500 respectively, and fees received plus minimum remaining fees, $7,000 and $612,000, respectively.

You, Too, Could Be House Speaker

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Want to be speaker of the house? Well, Rep. Bloom (D-N. Y.), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee and a student of the constitution, believes any citizen can be elected speaker by the house, and he doesn't need to be a congressman.

Bloom cites Article 1, Section 2, Clause 5 of the constitution which says "the house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers."

"It doesn't say he has to be a congressman," said Bloom. "The other officers of the house such as the clerk and sergeant at arms are not congressmen."

35 Welders Charged With False Records

BALTIMORE, March 23—(AP)—Thirty-five of 38 shipyard workers accused of falsifying welding work records in what the FBI described as a $1,000,000-a-year fraud pleaded innocent at their arraignment Wednesday and were ordered held for hearings before a U. S. commissioner March 30.

The one woman in the group failed to appear and U. S. Attorney Bernard Flynn reported she was ill. Two others still are at large.

Ball was fixed at $1,000 each, and eight of the men posted bond immediately.

All 38 were employed at the Bethlehem Steel company's Sparrows Point yard, which builds tankers and cargo ships for the government.

Special Agent John W. Vincent, in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, said the falsification had been practiced for at least five years.

All those charged were "counters" in the welding section, Vincent said, and collected varying fees for crediting welders with more work than they had done.

Ex-Texas Hurler Rejects Hospital To Remain With His Marine Outfit

CAPE GLOUCESTER, New Britain (Delayed)—(AP)—Though he was threatened by semi-paralysis of both legs from an illness contracted on Guadalcanal, Pfc. Robert W. Fincher, of Dalgierfield, Texas, a former professional baseball pitcher, chose to remain with his unit rather than be hospitalized when marine forces invaded Cape Gloucester Dec. 26.

The 22-year-old blond giant was in the thick of the swift four-day drive that resulted in the capture of the air field, and received a letter of commendation for his outstanding work.

Private Fincher was stricken with typhoid shortly before leaving Guadalcanal. He was unconscious when his unit arrived at a rest camp, and spent five months in a base hospital, his legs partially paralyzed.

Shortly before the invasion of Cape Gloucester, he was offered the opportunity to enter another hospital, but chose to remain with his unit, and was placed in charge of a machine gun squad.

He spent several days in a field hospital following the capture of the air field. Now he's back at his post on the front lines.

Fincher started his professional baseball career at 18, after pitching a Birmingham, Ala., team to the Southern division finals of the American Legion tournament, and was considered an outstanding major league prospect at the time of his enlistment Dec. 11, 1941.

He helped pitch the Gainesville, Fla., team to the Florida State league pennant in 1939, and moved up to New Orleans of the Southern association in midseason. The Cleveland club of the American league brought him up at the end of the season and he saw service in relief roles.

After floating around the minor leagues for two years, he attracted the attention of big league scouts by winning 11 games and losing three for Gainesville in 1941. His contract was purchased by Cincinnati of the National circuit.

"I still have a contract to pitch for Cincinnati the first year after the war is over," he disclosed.

Fincher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fincher, live in Dalgierfield.

Inventor Says Nazis Got Glider-Bomber Idea From America

BOSTON, March 23—(AP)—John Hays Hammond, Jr., internationally known American inventor and scientist, is quoted by the Boston Traveler as saying that the Germans got information for their radio-controlled glider bombers "from our own patent office at 10 cents per patent."

In the third of a series of articles, approved by the office of censorship, the Traveler reported Hammond as saying:

"These should have been kept in secret archives of the patent office. They had been secret, but one admiral came along and thought there was no need for secrecy, and permitted them to be published."

The Traveler said that Hammond would not disclose the name of the admiral.

Terrific Blast Blows All Feathers From Pet Canary of British Warship Sailors

By JOHN R. MOROSO, 3RD
WITH THE U. S. NAVY IN BRITAIN, (P)—Bombs often do strange things when they hit ships. The pet canary of a British warship was prettying herself in a cage when a terrific blast swept through the vessel.

Every feather on the bird was blown off and all she suffered was the shivers. Months later her shipmates were watching for new feathers. Meanwhile they kept her cage warm to prevent her from catching cold.

A Boston sailor just come to sea drew a big laugh from Lieut. W. D. Daniel, when a savage storm struck our ship and sent waves and spin-drift cascading over the vessel.

ping over the top." Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander-in-chief of the American navy in European waters, is one of the busiest men in this area and about the hardest man to get news from.

The Admiral is so involved he can hardly take time to talk to anyone but key naval men, but when he does his treatment of American newsmen has been frank and simple. He tells them bluntly that a leak in Allied plans might mean the useless loss of thousands of men and he asks us not to try to find out the date and place of the invasion.

Admiral Stark is proud of the part Allied navies have played in reducing the submarine menace.

Recently Admiral Royal E. Ingersoll, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, told me this:

The whole situation in the Atlantic is the most perfect example of sea power that you have seen anywhere. With all the submarines the Germans have they have failed to stop our convoys."

Democrat From Colorado Fights 4th Term Plan

CHICAGO, March 23—(P)—Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) says the Democratic party accepts President Roosevelt's nomination for a fourth term "as a matter of course" and predicts that in the coming election "the people's liberty and the people's freedom will either regain some lost ground or slip a little closer to the apparently inevitable precipice of one-man rule."

President Roosevelt's influence in congress, Johnson said this week in an address at North Park college is "already beyond repair" and "history will name the fourth term, if it ever materializes, as the term of defeat and frustration."

One man control, he asserted, has reduced the Democratic party to hopeless impotency.

Discussing need for legislative-executive teamwork in the federal government, Johnson proposed that the executive officer give to each cabinet member control over his whole department and direct any of them to give an accounting whenever the house of representatives desire it.

Then, he said, the president might ask a vote of confidence from congress, and if it were not forthcoming, discharge the cabinet officer who has incurred the disfavor of the legislative branch.

If such a system were in effect today, Johnson maintained, "three and perhaps four cabinet officers would fall and all the other cabinet officers would sit up and take notice. The departments would be revitalized, duplication would cease, and jurisdictional quibbling would end."

Johnson predicted the Republicans, after the election, will have a majority in the house and that the political strength in the senate will be evenly divided.

Shamrock Goes Over Quota On War Fund

Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, March 23—On the basis of incomplete tabulations, the Shamrock area has oversubscribed its War Fund quota of $4,200 with prospects of adding at least $300 more when final reports are in, Thurman Adkins, war fund chairman, reported.

Rural communities already reporting over the top are Bethel, Center, Ramsdell, Kellierville and Twitty-Porter.

Chairman Adkins said he had never witnessed such whole-hearted cooperation as was shown in the present Red Cross campaign.

Negroes in the Shamrock Flat, for instance, have their own committee soliciting contributions ranging from 25 cents to $5.

So often did a landlord's edict "No Children" stymie Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ogren in their frantic search for living quarters that the couple waxed sarcastic and advertised in the Aurora, Ill., Beacon-News: "WANTED: A four or five-room house or apartment by two adults and one cute 2-year-old boy. Will drown him if necessary." Above, the Ogrens illustrate their offer, but son Barry just laughs at the gag.

Fixing Utility Rates Is Held Power of City

AUSTIN, March 23—(P)—The supreme court's affirming a judgment of the court of civil appeals, holding against Louis Kousals, et al in rate litigation against the Texas Power and Light Co., from McLennan county.

In a written opinion by Judge Brewster of the court's commission of appeals, it held that the Kousals asserted a theory of recovery which we think finds no support in the basic principles of utility rates and rate making.

The opinion noted that fixing utility rates is a governmental function, relegated in this case by the legislature to the city commission.

It held that the controlling question was: "Can a utility rate, made available by contract between a utility and the city and later by ordinance of that city to a given class of customers, be made available to a customer not of that class simply by the fact that the utility extends the rate, over a period of years, to 'one or more' or 'other' consumers who are also not of that class, but who, as to material billing factors, are similarly situated as the complaining customer?"

"To answer in the affirmative would mean that the value of utility service is to be measured not by a rate fixed in the public interest by governmental action, but by whatever figure might result from secret misuse and abuse of that rate by agents of the utility in the interest of a few favored customers. It would take from the legislature or its delegate the function of rate making and invest same in the utility itself."

"We are constrained to hold that although the case made by the Kousals does show unlawful discrimination and preference by the utility of similarly situated customers, it does not show that the Kousals were charged more than the rate approved and agreed to by the duly constituted governmental agency; hence that they failed to establish cause of action for overcharge."

"Since the question decided controls this case, it is unnecessary to decide any other except the suggestion by the Kousals that one of the city commissioners was owner of a picture show included as one of the 11 alleged preferred customers, the inference being that his knowledge of that departure from the agreed rate was a tacit agreement by the city commission to its extension to both power and light consumption. The favored commissioner was bound by his official obligation to impart information that such unlawful preferences were being extended by the utility to the board of commissioners. Since he failed to do so, it can not be said that his knowledge was the city's knowledge and no inferences or implications can arise therefrom as against the city commission."

Wheeler Agent Tells Method Of Disposing Of Dead Livestock

Special To The NEWS, SHAMROCK, March 23—County Agent Jake Tarter today warned farmers and stockmen on property disposing of dead animals.

Tarter declared that the sanitary code of Texas demands that "any animal dying either from infectious disease or natural cause must be buried at least 42 inches deep or buried sufficient to kill all infections or disease the animal might have had."

"The penalty for not disposing of such animals is $30.70 per animal and since there is so much hog cholera and pneumonia over the county, the state sanitary commission has been notified by interested farmers and an investigation by that group may be made," Tarter stated.

This warning was issued as a pre-emptive measure to those who have lost or may lose hogs.

Declarations Of Income Forms Are Mailed Out

W. A. Thomas, collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, announced today that copies of the forms for 1944 declarations of estimated tax have been mailed out to the approximately 150,000 taxpayers who filed 1943 declarations in this district last fall.

Thomas said any other taxpayers who are required to file declarations this year may obtain them by letter request to the Dallas office, or in person from any of the field offices, including Amarillo.

The 1944 declarations are due not later than April 15. Originally scheduled to be filed on March 15 along with 1943 tax returns, the 1944 declarations were postponed until April 15 in order to include provisions of the recently-enacted revenue act of 1943.

The purpose of these declarations, Thomas explained, is to keep everyone substantially paid up on his income taxes under the pay-as-you-go plan. Most taxpayers are kept approximately paid up by the tax that is withheld from their wages, and therefore do not have to file declarations.

However, some wage earners—particularly clergymen, domestic servants and farm laborers—do not pay any withholding tax, and are required to file declarations. Other wage earners pay withholding tax but not enough to meet their total tax bill and must therefore file declarations.

Also, declarations are required to provide a pay-as-you-go method of collecting taxes from business and professional persons and large numbers of others who get all or part of their income from sources where no tax is withheld, such as business profits, dividends, interest, rents, property or stock transactions, or annuities.

A declaration is required on or before April 15 from all citizens or residents of the United States who expect to have during 1944—either alone or together with a wife or husband—

1. Wages subject to withholding exceeding $2,700 for a single person or $3,500 for a married couple living together.

2. Or, more than $100 income from all other sources if the total of such income plus wages subject to withholding is (a) $500 or more for a single person, or (b) more than $624 for a married person, or (c) $1,200 or more for a married couple living together.

The first quarterly installment of estimated tax shown to be due on the declaration should be made at the time the declaration is filed and the remainder should be paid on or before June 15, Sept. 15 and Dec. 15.

Farmers, who receive more than 80 per cent of their income from farming, may, if they desire, postpone the filing of declarations until Dec. 15. However, if they do wait until Dec. 15, the entire amount of the estimated tax must be paid at that time.

The forms mailed by Thomas include the declaration form itself, which is a short slip 2 1/2 by 8 inches, and is the only form that needs to be filed by the taxpayer. The form is accompanied, however, by two alternative worksheets for the convenience of taxpayers. The taxpayer needs to use only one of these worksheets and should retain it for his personal record.

Members of the armed forces and others who are outside the continental United States on April 15 will have the usual extensions or postponements.

Thomas announced that deputy collectors will be prevented by other pressing work, accumulated during the recent income tax filing period, from visiting various towns of the district expressly to render assistance in filing declarations. The declaration forms are simple and it is thought that most declarants will have no trouble in preparing their own forms by following the accompanying instructions. Assistance can be had by taxpayers in need of it from the field offices located in a number of cities in their district.

Bullfighting is not always so one-sided, as the unusual action photo above shows. Famed matador saved his life by holding the horns with both hands, preventing it from running through his body.

Musical Instruments Wanted for Soldiers

WANTED—musical instruments for our fighting men! In response to a request from the army, a city-wide campaign to round up all those banjos, saxophones, and other musical instruments that are lying forgotten in closets and attics is underway here through March 27.

The variety of instruments wanted is unlimited, except that pianos and bull fiddles are excluded because of their size, and phonographs because of a lack of facilities for keeping them in repair at the front.

Instruments collected in this nation-wide drive will enable the soldiers in all parts of the world to form orchestras to entertain themselves and their camp buddies. It will also enable them to engage in less formal musical recreation like gathering around in the evening and singing to the accompaniment of a banjo, harmonica, or other instrument.

Because of their distribution facilities, the army has asked the "Coca-Cola" bottlers all over the country to act as collecting agents for this drive.

Any person who has any idle musical instruments is asked to take them to any grocery store, filling station, drug store, or other place that sells bottles of "Coca-Cola." The bottling company's trucks will pick them up there and ship them immediately to the army for distribution at army camps all over the world.

"There are hundreds, if not thousands, of these instruments hidden away and forgotten in the closets and attics of homes in Pampa," said Ray Scott, manager of the Pampa Coca-Cola Bottling Co. The American soldier loves his music, but he particularly likes to make his own. Through this campaign, we shall be able to help make his life in camp and at the front a happier one."

THE Home Nurse

By MARY BEARD
Don't let the household be thrown into panic if the toddler pokes a grain of corn, a bead, or other small object into his ear or nose. There is no immediate danger, and it is important that he be not frightened by the experience. Keep him as quiet as possible until you get him to a doctor. Don't try to remove the object yourself with some improvised instrument such as a hair-pin or crochet hook. You may irritate the membranes or push the object further in.

Moisture in the nose may cause a foreign body such as a grain of sand to swell and make the child very uncomfortable. In this case, a few drops of sweet oil or mineral oil may be dropped in to relieve the irritation. Do not allow the nose to be blown violently or with one nostril shut. If the foreign body is in the ear, attempt no relief measures before the doctor is consulted.

THROAT OBSTRUCTIONS
Children are prone to get nutshells, coins and similar objects caught in the throat. Great distress results because of the partially closed air passages. Immediate relief is necessary, and the home nurse must meet the situation as best she can. If the object can be reached by passing a finger down the throat, try to remove it. Be careful not to push it farther down or scratch the throat with the fingernail. If it cannot be removed, a quick slap between the shoulders may dislodge it. A small child may be lifted by the feet and swung head down, for a minute while he is patted on the back. An older child may be placed face down on a table or bed, drawn forward so that he hangs head downward from the waist, and slapped between the shoulders. If this brings no relief, call the doctor without further delay.

HEAD COLDS COUGHS SIPTOL
The many-way COUGH and HEAD COLD reliever, Siptol gives soothing comfort, relieves tenseness and the "must-cough" feeling, loosens phlegm in the irritated throat passages and makes breathing easier. Takes Siptol, regular supply in two forms—plain and with Ephedrine. Get it at CRETNEYS.

Special To The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, March 22—Mrs. Artie Lee Hunt, district clerk of Wheeler county since January, 1941, has resigned that position to take over the duties of clerk of the Wheeler county draft board. She assumed her duties in the new office on Monday of last week.

Mrs. Hunt replaces Cliff Weatherly who is now devoting his full time to auditing and has his office in Shamrock.

Mrs. Hunt was employed for several years as deputy while the offices of county and district clerk were combined and worked in the M. V. Sanders and the Wheeler abstract offices. Later she assisted with the duties of the First State bank of Mobeetie before being elected to public office.

She had recently announced that she would make the race for another term as district clerk, but is withdrawing her name as a candidate for the office.

Assault On Congress

(The News Sentinel, Fort Wayne)

It is no longer possible to ignore the plain fact that Mr. Roosevelt and his entourage, including the fellow-traveling journalists of questionable repute, have already begun their campaign of vilification against Congress.

What happened is plain to be seen. For many years Mr. Roosevelt's popularity surged along at high levels, and the people elected Senators and Representatives who bowed down to the Executive will.

The legislative branch of the Government became all but inoperative. It was no longer the people's Congress, but became the President's Congress. Mr. Roosevelt held it in the palm of his hand, and when he cracked the whip, the legislators obeyed.

In those days, Mr. Roosevelt was loud in his praise of the Congressmen.

The worm began to turn, eventually, and New Deal Congressmen were defeated in 1940 and 1942, and replaced by men who had the interests of the country at heart. Even the old-line Democrats who had gone along with the President began to see the dangers of the route he was following, and began to rebel.

Congress is no longer the rubber stamp legislative body it was in the lush, earlier days of the New Deal. No longer do they jump when the Chief Executive whistles. No longer do they give in to his every whim, as a dotting mother gives in to a badly spoiled child.

And this, Mr. Roosevelt doesn't like.

What to do? Well, it is only natural for Mr. Roosevelt, in his limitless egotism, to believe that everyone is out of step but him. The way to bring Congress to heel, thinks he, is to discredit that Congress before the people; cause us to lose faith in our own legislators.

To do this, it is a part of his plan to accuse Congress of voting a tax relief bill "not for the needy, but for the greedy." There was no truth in that accusation and he knew it, but he is depending upon his vaunted charm, and his ability to make up catch-phrases which the people will swallow.

He accused the Congress of perpetrating a fraud when it insisted on remaining within the Constitution in granting votes for soldiers. There was no truth in that accusation, either, but what difference, if he could make the people believe it?

He made other statements which, as Senator Barkley said, constituted a "calculated and deliberate assault upon the legislative integrity of every member of Congress."

In his message disapproving the revenue bill he resorted to half-truths and to deliberate distortions. In the hope that the people, reading his statements, would not check them for accuracy.

The Left-Wing columnist Drew Pearson, mindful perhaps of Earl Browder's injunction that Communists should support President Roosevelt, has opened up his smear-guns in a fresh attack on Congress, neatly fitting in with the President's own attack.

Propaganda is being fed to the Army newspapers, and even the Army Times has fallen for some of the material, to the extent of printing, in a recent issue, a direct attack on the integrity and sincerity of Congress.

This anti-Congress campaign, in high places and low can be expected to continue with increasing intensity from now until election. If the gods would be so unfair as to see Mr. Roosevelt re-elected, the campaign would probably shriek onward to a disgraceful crescendo, before the end of another four-year term.

The mud crusade will lose much of its effect now, however, if we recognize it for what it is, and appreciate the reasons behind it.

ernment, and secondly because he considers himself a symbol of ancient French glory by which there is some hope of keeping occupied France from disintegrating into open civil war.

Petaïn has been stripped of his last remaining anti-collaboration advisers by the continued maneuvers of the German-inspired Laval.

The 86-year-old chief of state today probably is the loneliest man in France, surrounded by collaborators who have been handpicked by Laval and the Nazi occupation authorities.

He is generally admitted to be honest, even by Frenchmen opposed to his regime.

Frenchmen knew him to be a soldier, fond of discipline, who would likely impose an authoritarian regime. Many Frenchmen believed that in their country's state of collapse such a regime was necessary. They were willing to go along with him in his semi-Fascist ideas of a unitarian syndicalist state.

They remembered him as the hero of Verdun, an honest Frenchman and patriot who thought he was doing his honest best for his country.

When they forgot was that Petaïn has long been known as the defensive type of fighter, frequently vacillating, seeking the line of least resistance.

The marshal has always relied on the advice of those in whom he had confidence, often talking that of the last person with whom he talked.

So long as he was able to keep advisers who, if not pro-Allied, were at least anti-German, the aged marshal was able to exercise a steady influence against giving France away to the Germans.

Today, the story has changed and the one-time hero of Verdun has lost any power he once might have had to stem a tide of collaboration. Virtually a prisoner of Laval, he rides the current, hoping his reputation will hold France to a semblance of unity.

Today Petaïn stands alone, a symbol of what France might have been but stripped of any power to halt Laval's collaborationist policies.

France trusted Petaïn in 1940. Unfortunately, many Frenchmen still trust him today, not realizing his inability to halt Laval, hoping he still has an ace up his sleeve which will save France.

That blind trust in the marshal is Laval's main stock in the trade of government. It has sold it to the French people as a cover for his underhand deals with the Nazis.

1944 Rocket Ball Chief Talk In Cleveland Indians' Wigwam

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN LAFAYETTE, Ind., Mar. 23—(P)—Conversation in the Cleveland Indians spring training quarters today turned from I-A and 4-F draft classifications to the 1944 "rocket ball."

No one was giving much thought about the new sphere until 155-pound Jimmy Grant ups and slams a 400-foot home run. Then he ups and hits a long two-bagger. Then Pat Seery, a 222 batter in 26 games with the Tribe last year, got the urge and smacked a homer.

The immediate reaction was that all was not normal. Manager Lou Boudreau was quick to credit the up-rising to the ball rather than to any outcropping of latent power.

"If the cover was any tighter it would be a gold ball," Boudreau said as he fondled it. "It actually has a ping when it's hit."

Mel Harder, anxious to start the season, as he looks forward to reaching the select 200-game winning circle—he needs only three victories to do it—figures the ball will be something of a lifesaver to the team.

"I don't think it will make any difference to the pitchers," he theorized, "but I think the game needs something like this ball this season to make hitters out of guys who normally aren't. After all, the fans go to a game to see the ball smacked around."

And with most of the power-hitters gone, this new ball, if it is as lively as they say, has come at an opportune time and will take up the slack.

Navy Breaks Up Brother Team

NEW ORLEANS, March 23—(AP)—The navy broke up a brother gunnery team today and the three husky boys allowed as how they didn't like it.

"They'll make us sail on different ships," said Seaman First Class Eugene Howe, "because the navy no longer allows members of the same family to work aboard the same craft since there is danger of them all dying at once, like the five Sullivan brothers."

Eugene, Loren and Lorence Howe sail from Granger, Ind. Eugene is 31 and his brothers, a year younger, are twins. The boys joined the navy together in December, 1942. They went through boot camp at Great Lakes, Ill., together. They attended armed guard school at Gulfport, Miss., and finally, were able to ship out together as members of the same navy gun crew on a lumbering old cargo vessel.

But that was before the five Sullivan brothers were lost in the sinking of an American cruiser. The navy now refuses to allow Mrs. Violet Howe to place all her eggs in one basket, even if she wants to, and the boys insist she does.

This is the first time the Howe boys have run up against the navy ruling, and they are all a little wistful that brother Harold who is at Great Lakes for boot training now, "won't ever get to work with the Howe team."

Two Railroads Seek Airline Certificate

NEW ORLEANS, March 23—(AP)—Two railroads have applied for joint permission to operate air lines between Louisiana and Texas cities.

George C. Stohman, executive general agent for the Missouri Pacific lines here, announced the Missouri Pacific and the Texas and Pacific railroads have filed briefs with the civil aeronautics board asking for permanent certificate of operation for the Eagle Airlines, Inc., to handle freight, express and passengers by air as a subsidiary of the two rail systems.

The new Orleans schedules propose two daily services to and from El Paso, one of them through Baton Rouge, Alexandria, Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth, and the other through Baton Rouge, Lake Charles and Houston, and to and from Brownsville.

Stohman said the plan contemplates other stops in interior Louisiana and will provide a coordination of air and service with rail and highway operations, as well as connections with other airlines.

Willkie Disagrees With Roosevelt

MAINTOWOOD, Wis., March 23—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie says he never has had a political talk with President Roosevelt "in my life," and he contends "there is no man in public life in America who has so frequently disagreed with the president as he has."

Campaigning in Wisconsin for the Republican presidential nomination, Willkie in a speech in Green Bay Tuesday asserted that "I am in complete disagreement with the president's Vichy policy, his Darian policy and his dealings with the Fascist forces of Italy."

He gave the lie to what he described as "stories spread around that I am in league with President Roosevelt and agree with his foreign policy."

"As a matter of fact," Willkie declared, "I don't know what his foreign policy is."

Full Chemical Analysis Of Oil Lacking

DALLAS, March 23—(AP)—Dr. Thomas Oakwood of Pennsylvania State College says only 50 per cent of gasoline is known by its chemical composition and adds that there is "phenomenal ignorance" concerning the chemical analysis of petroleum.

He made his statements before a research conference of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists meeting here with the Society of Exploration Geophysicists and the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

Speaking on the same program with Dr. Oakwood were:

Dr. Claude E. Zo Bell of the University of California's Scripps institute, who said research at the institute has indicated bacteria are present and functioning in recent sediments of petroleum deposits and probably exist in more ancient deposits; and Dr. C. W. Sheppard of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who described methods of research in the study of radio-activity with respect to the origin of oil and said there were many provisos or disproofs of the theory.

Plants and animal life may both contribute components to petroleum and "beyond gasoline and kerosene we know very little concerning the composition of the rest of petroleum, although we do know that certain fractions of nitrogen, oxygen and sulphur exist," declared Dr. Oakwood.

The geophysicists heard a report on the Kuwait oil field, believed to be as large perhaps as the East Texas field. Dr. E. Nettleton of the Gulf Research and Development Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Nettleton described how a field party entered Kuwait's country about 7,500 square miles between Iraq and Saudi Arabia—in September, 1937, outlining a structure later drilled and proved to be a new, large oil field.

Nettleton and Dr. Sigmund Hammer and W. K. Hastings, other representatives of the Pittsburgh firm, reported in a joint paper to the geophysicists that a critical war metal, chrome, was discovered in a large deposit in the Camaguey district, Cuba, as the result of gravimeter survey made by the company.

The geophysicists elected Dr. W. M. Rust, Jr., of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston, president, succeeding E. D. Wycoff of the Gulf Research and Development Co. Henry C. Cortes, Magnolia Petroleum, Dallas, was named vice president, and W. Farland Taylor, Petty Geophysical Engineering Co., San Antonio, secretary-treasurer.

W. R. Berger, Port Worth, urged in a talk before the research committee of the Petroleum Geologists association that comate water—water imprisoned in sedimentary beds at the time those beds were laid down in the geological past—be examined at the time a hole is bored in search for oil instead of waiting until the hole is finished so as to reduce contamination.

U. S. Loses Fourth Sub in Eight Days

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Loss of the American submarine Scorpion, the fourth submarine listed overdue and presumed lost in eight days, was announced by the navy Wednesday.

The loss brings to 23 the number of American submarines sunk since the war started, all but three of them by enemy action, presumably while on war patrols in Japanese controlled waters.

The Scorpion carried a crew of approximately 75 officers and men, all listed as missing in action.

Loss of the 1,525-ton submarine followed the disappearance of the Capelin and Sculpin, listed as overdue and presumed lost, last Saturday and the Corvina, listed as overdue and lost on March 14.

Television-Telephone Is Practical Device

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—The announcement by A. T. & T. that it is getting ready to try out intercity radio relays for long distance telephoning and the handling of television programs could be regarded as possibly forecasting the future of the radio telephone for the home and street. Yes, even the television-telephone.

While these can come only in the orderly progress of development, they are practical. The television-telephone has been in the minds of engineers for years.

There have been forecasts that in the future even the man on the street might have his own pocket phone by which he could make calls through a central office much as is done today by wire.

For its first radio relay for telephoning, A. T. & T. is awaiting approval by the federal communications commission and progress of the war, proposed to spend $2,000,000 for a link between New York, Boston and intermediate points.

Successful tests over short distances already have been made.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—The stock market faltered today after attempts to advance under the leadership first of first, then of lower-priced oils, and was firmer at the finish.
Heavy turnover, in blocks of 1,000 to 2,000 shares of carrier and petroleum issues kept volume well ahead of Tuesday's at about 1,400,000 for the full five hours.
Active and fractionally higher in the forenoon, the rails slumped under the weight of profit selling and gave way to oil and a handful of liquor issues. International telephone enjoyed a mid-day flurry that lifted it to a new 1944 high.
Peaks for the year or since 1937 were numerous in the transport list, although in most cases the finish was well under the best. Backing away from such levels were New York Central, Lackawanna, Erie, Southern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio.
Above water most of the time and touching 1944 tops were Sinclair, Ohio Oil, Pure Oil, Houston Oil, Schenley, Glendon, and Goodrich.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"They hang it out every time one of them comes back from a two-day leave!"

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

by James Harlow and George Zielke

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress now has this to think about: What was George Washington's name before the Washington name was Washington?
Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) has produced an authority who traces Washington's ancestry so far back it gets out of the world by way of Scandinavia.

This happened when Hoffman, tilling with grand Commentator Walter Winchell, charged Winchell with charging that Washington changed his name.
Apparently bent on providing that any change in Washington's name happened before George got it, Hoffman has offered congress a statement by a Mr. T. G. Abbott.

Abbott, who Hoffman says is "an authority on matters relating to Washington's life and ancestors," lives in an apartment near the capital with a picture of George Washington crossing the Delaware on the wall.
Says Abbott, and we quote: "Of all the noble families in England that of Washington's is the most ancient and is traced back through the royal line of Denmark to the great hero, King Odinn, the founder of Scandinavia, in 70 B. C."

This was pretty exciting and we called one of the Scandinavian legations but were told the Scandinavians never had a king named Odinn.
The legation said they did have a mythical god named Odinn but his address was Valhalla, which is Scandinavian for heaven.
But Abbott goes right on, skipping about 1,000 years of history and family details, and concludes that Odinn's "direct descendant" Thorfin, the Dane, was born of the 32nd generation from Odinn in the year 1010 A. D.

Once he gets down to Thorfin, Abbott proceeds rapidly, naming the descendants one by one and showing how Thorfin's name finally got changed around to Washington.
It was that 1,000-year gap between Odinn and Thorfin that had us worried. We went looking for Abbott to find out about it. He wasn't in. He's been in the hospital a few days.

The only thing we could do then was to worry about the names of the American Revolution to recommend another authority. They did: "The Washington ancestry," a huge study by C. A. Hopkin.
We were pretty startled. Hopkin

O'DANIEL OF TEXAS
"I never saw so many people who want to be taxed." With the galleries jammed and hundreds outside unable to get in, this was the humorous way W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas summed up the over-riding of the tax veto by Congress.

As the country gets to know O'Daniel it will find that it has been looking at him through the wrong end of the telescope. He knows that people like hill-billy music, but he is not a country clown. He knows how to pass the biscuits but he is well baked. He is as smart as Huey Long but is not a political con man.
Two terms in a governor's chair ruin most men, but O'Daniel went on from there to win two elections to the United States Senate in a Democratic state over New Deal opposition. Everybody was "agin" him except the people. They chipped in to his campaign with "two-bits" and dimes. You can't write off a record like that.
After selling flour by radio for years, his customers demanded that he run for governor. "If I had refused, I'd have lost my customers" is the way he excuses his entry into Big Time.

A boy in Ohio, a youth in Kansas, and a man in Texas, he says, when denounced as a Yankee, "What, a man named Lee?"
In his race for the Senate, he was attacked on the ground that he would exercise remote control over Texas politics. So he wrote himself a little song, "I'll be under your bed, I'll hear what you said—you politicians!" When he hummed this on the platform over the radio, the folks were happy. They were fed up with the many run of flunkies and fixers who wear shoestring neckties and assert they are statesmen. At his meetings, he passed out little barrels marked "Not Pork." He found there were more citizens than hogs.

Yes, Lee O'Daniel knows how to win friends and influence people. He was a success in business and a success in politics, and by the same method. He has never confused himself with God at any time, even in Washington.
A big chunk of a man, he thrives on campaigns. He enjoys the thrust and parry of politics, as a healthy fullback loves to hit the line. He can take it, and dish it.
He says that after Senators and Congressmen have served six years they ought to be made to go back home and try to earn a living under the laws they have written. He is against life tenure in any office, including the presidency. He is against the fourth term. I predict the country will hear more of him.

Of the spenders, he says they work in two shifts. The day shift taxes you and the night shift borrows you into debt. All told, the two shifts spent $76,462,449,828 before Pearl Harbor, which he says should be charged against the "social gains."
He thinks an administration which does not protect the right to work of every citizen, against violence or forced tribute for freedom to exercise that right, cannot be trusted with the Constitution of the United States.
As he says, "I was fortunate enough to have been born in poverty, and most of my life I have trod the rocky road, but thank God, that road was always open." Whatever his faults may be, O'Daniel really believes in free enterprise and is against a totalitarian State and all its evil works; he would keep America the land of opportunity, of work, thrift and sober living. In short, he is a Democrat and an American. There was a time when these were honorable titles beyond the boundaries of Texas, and that time may return.

says of Washington: "He was a lineal descendant of six kings and queens of England and of the Emperor Charlemagne."
Charlemagne was kinging in about 750 A. D. so this was pretty far back, although not as far as Abbott goes.

But we wanted the very latest word. Hopkin's book appeared in 1932. We looked up the Encyclopedia Britannica's 1939 edition. It's even more conservative than Hopkin. It says:
"Little is known of any member of the family until the time of Washington's great-grandfather, Augustine, who came here in 1657."
But Hopkin apparently isn't impressed by the connection between Washington and Charlemagne. He says quite frankly:
"What of it? Thousands of living Americans, in all walks of life, had similar or the same ancestors. Many other American families are of similar derivation, though not all of them know it."

If you think you're related to Washington or Charlemagne, we can tell you a good place to start looking. The genealogical section of the Congressional Library.
It's not too crowded. When we were there checking up on these things we found maybe only a dozen old ladies poking around there among the family trees with magnifying glasses.

Germany Report Hourly on Raids

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—United States government monitors said today a "spectacular change" in the pattern of German home broadcasts occurred this week when the German radio announced it would report to the German people on "the air situation" each hour—"at every hour of the day and night on all transmitters of the Reich."
At 7 p. m., the first announcement appeared as scheduled. Throughout the evening, the Nazi "air situation" reports appeared as the number one news story on all home news broadcasts and as spot announcements at the beginning of other broadcasts.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, March 22—(AP)—Wheat and oats prices generally held steady today, but rye eased toward the close following a higher opening. Good demand for cash wheat at all markets and the relatively light supply imparted strength to futures. Selling of rye came from both commission houses and local traders.
Flour prices are now noted about 10 to 12 cents under the ceiling, the northwestern miller, a trade publication, reported, but home-made continues very dull. Most domestic buyers are covered for 90 days ahead and there is a complete absence of government purchasing, the publication stated.
